Zoning request prompts City Commission hassle

ST JOHNS -- An item that prompted 3 tie votes at the last St. Johns City Commission meeting led to more voting confusion Monday night and angry verbal exchanges between commissioners.

The whole matter concerns land owned by James Prince who requested the land be rezoned commercial because he wishes to interest a commercial firm in the land. The land is located west of US-27 and North of Townsend Rd.

Because no plan was submitted with the request, it was the recommendation of the Planning Commission to deny the request.

At the last Commission meeting, Prince asked the Commission to consider tabling the entire issue until he submitted a definite plan for the area.

A vote to table failed by a 2-2 tie with Commr. Jeane Rand absent. Another vote was taken on a motion to approve the Planning Commission's recommendation of denial. That also failed 2-2 and another motion was made to refer it back to the Planning Commission. When that, too, failed by a 2-2 vote, the matter was left to the next meeting.

During the Monday night meeting,

Roy Ebert moved to accept the Planning Commission Recommendation. At the same time, Jeanne Rand moved to table the matter.

Mayor Robert Wood then seconded Ebert's motion and the subsequent vote failed 3-2.

John Hannah then moved to table the motion, but Ebert said it couldn't be tabled because the 3-2 vote had, in effect, denied the Planning Commission's recommendation.

However, Rand said she had attempted to table the motion right after Ebert made his, "but the mayor stopped me by supporting your motion."

She then said the mayor was out of order by seconding the motion after her motion to table.

Attorney Paul Maples said Rand was correct that the mayor was out of order, but she didn't raise the question until she had already voted on Ebert's motion.

After some discussion, Hannah withdrew his motion to table and Dr. James Grost withdrew his support.

Grost then moved to refer the matter back to the Planning Commission with no action pending a future request by Prince for re-zoning consideration. It was then that sparks flew between Grost and Ebert.

Ebert said the city should not get into the practice of re-zoning for profit. He was referring to owners of land selling property for development.

Grost said he disagreed with Ebert's "scope of thinking."

Ebert reported that he was disappointed if the City Commission thought zoning and planning was for profit.

Grost pointed his finger at Ebert and said, "Don't be putting words in my mouth." Ebert fired back telling Grost, "Don't point your finger at me, I've got the same vote as you."

The mayor's gavel then brought the meeting back to order and the matter ended with Prince's request for any action to be tabled approved by a 5-0 vote.

In other action the Commission voted to approve a low bid by Cornwell Construction Company of $2980 to repair the concession stand foundation at the city park.

The award was made on the condition that Cornwell would complete that and another job previously awarded him by the city within 60 days.

Bath voters to decide school bond issue July 30

BATH -- Voters in the Bath School District will go to the polls July 30 to decide the fate of a proposed bond issue for expansion and remodeling of existing school facilities, and construction of a new high school.

Proposal #1 reads, "Shall Bath Community Schools... borrow the sum of not to exceed Two million nine hundred thousand dollars ($2,900,000) and issue its bonds there for the purpose of erecting, furnishing and equipping a new high school; erecting, furnishing and equipping additions to and remodeling and re-equipping the existing high school for middle school purposes, constructing and equipping athletic fields, acquiring additional land for its purposes and developing and improving sites."

A similar proposal was defeated Jan. 29 by a record turnout of voters. The cost has risen $100,000 since then due to increased construction costs.

THE SCHOOL BOARD decided to try once again to get a new school built after the State Fire Marshall's office inspected the Couzen's Building and termed it "unsafe." The building which previously housed junior high students, was closed early this spring.

Since that time, the high school has served both as a junior and senior high, with the students attending half days.

The new proposal calls for a levy of 2.4 mills as compared with 3 mills in the January election. For each $1000 of assessed valuation, a property owner's taxes would increase $2.40 per year.

This decrease in mills requested is due to an increase in the assessed valuation of the school district as a whole.

PROPOSAL #2 is identical to the one defeated in January. It calls for construction of a swimming pool at the proposed high school, costing $350,000.

All voters in the district will vote at the Bath Township Hall on Webster Rd, so the voting machines can be used.

Frederick Lewis appointed new District Court judge

FREDERICK M. LEWIS

ST JOHNS -- Frederick M. Lewis, attorney with the Kemper, Wells and Lewis law firm in St. Johns, was appointed District Court Judge by Governor William Milliken on July 23. He will fill the vacancy left by the death of Judge Roland Duguay.

The 49-year-old Lewis has been in practice approximately 23 years. He was county prosecutor for 12 years, a part-time position at the time, and practiced law with Kemper, Wells and Lewis. Lewis then accepted a position as corporate lawyer for Clark Equipment Co in Buchanan for 3 years, before returning to private practice in St. Johns for the past 3 years.

Lewis and his wife Helen resided at 2883 Loomis Rd, St. Johns. They have 4 children, Mrs. Linda Williams, 28; Jeremy, 23; Maureen, 20; and Nancy, 18.

He received his law degree from the University of Michigan and has done special work at William and Mary, and the California Institute of Technology.

Lewis' appointment as District Judge is effective until Jan. 1, 1975, when an election will take place. He was sworn into office July 25.

Cattle rustlers at it again

ST JOHNS -- The cattle rustlers are at it again.

Two Holstein calves have been reported stolen from the Don Harper residence, 5808 W Parks, St. Johns. Taken July 20, the calves are valued at $300.

Leon Walton, Maple Rapids Rd, St. Johns, also reported the theft of 2 calves July 17, valued at about $200.

A previous report to the Sheriff's Dept listed 6 Holstein calves stolen from the Leon Thelen farm July 8. The value of those calves was listed about $1200.

The Clinton County Sheriff's Dept are investigating the thefts and have asked area farmers to be as observant as possible to prevent continuing thefts.

Motorcycle accidents claim 2 more lives

EAGLE -- Motorcycle accidents near here claimed the lives of 2 men during the past week.

Keith Gary Lickert, 29, Route 1, Eagle, died at St. Lawrence Hospital in Lansing July 22 as the result of injuries sustained in a motorcycle accident the previous day at the Grand River Ave and I-96 interchange.

According to East Lansing State Police reports, Lickert was traveling west on Grand River Ave when he attempted to turn north on I-96. He lost control of his motorcycle, traveled approximately 300 feet off the side of the entrance ramp and crashed into the embankment.

Earlier in the week on July 17, Lee Roy Hart, 24, of Grand Ledge, was driving his motorcycle in a cornfield in Eagle Twp when he struck a large rut in the field and the cycle fell over on top of him.

He was discovered an hour later by a farmer working the field. Hart died July 22 at Sparrow Hospital, Lansing. His 4-year-old son, Todd, a passenger at the time of the accident, was uninjured.

Program meets problems of migrant workers and families

(SEE RELATED PICTURES ON PAGE 10A)

ST JOHNS -- As the harvest season comes to the Mid-Michigan area, so do large numbers of migrant agricultural workers and their families. The mobility of Mexican-American families, as they travel great distances for employment harvesting crops, can create a unique set of problems for them.

Attempting to help migrant children cope with the disadvantages of this lifestyle is the Region VI Migrant Program. The Clinton area office is located at St. Joseph School in St. Johns. Region VI also serves those workers in Gratiot, Ionia, Isabella, Mecosta and Montcalm Counties.

The program has basically 3 goals -- to meet the educational needs of the children intellectually, physically and on an emotional basis as participants in modern society.

THE INTELLECTUAL PORTION of the program is designed to keep students from continuing to fall behind, national norms in listening, speaking and reading English, as well as in math and social studies.

The physical aspect is geared to provide them with activities which develop their bodies, encourage good nutrition and safety habits, and instill a spirit of competition and individual participation.

An effort is also made to help migrant children develop a positive self-concept, respect and admire their cultural heritage and develop appreciation, empathy and respect for others.

The St. Johns center is in its 4th summer of existence, beginning operations in July of 1969. At that time it served youngsters between 2-1/2 and 13 years of age. The program was expanded during the summer of 1970 to include infant day care services.

THIS SUMMER, in conjunction with the Cooperative Extension Service, new night school courses for young adults, and parents of children in the daytime program have been added.

The center is staffed by a group of people who all hold Michigan Teaching Certificates. Included is a full-time registered nurse, teachers, 1 teacher's aide for each 5 youngsters, 4 high school students who serve as bus aides (transporting students to class), a cook and assistant, and the center coordinator and his secretary.

By the middle of July, 63 young people were enrolled in the program. Average daily attendance has been approximately 36, according to Mike O'Connor, coordinator. An enrollment of about 100 is expected by August, he noted.

Five basic age groups are served, including day care, 10 days - 5 yrs; preschool, 2-1/2 yrs; primary, 6-7 yrs; upper elementary, 8-15 yrs; and special night school groups set up for those unable to attend the daytime sessions.

PROGRAM TEACHERS attempt to deal with several handicaps which sometimes narrow a migrant child's chances of success in the classroom. Problems most commonly encountered include a limited familiarity with the English language, constant mobility, a poor self-image, and lack of motivation. Also encountered is poverty, resulting in malnutrition and the need for medical attention.

In addition to the medical and nutrition services offered, and standard daytime academic subjects such as oral language, reading and writing in English, evening adult education classes in sewing, carpentry and English are open to those wishing to increase their skills in these areas.

The program is an off-shoot of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, and is funded by state and federal government. No local school funds are used. Donations are accepted, however, from local organizations for special projects.

The Migrant Education Program contracts with the St. Johns Public Schools and St. Joseph Catholic School for use of their facilities and transportation.

Mr and Mrs Peter J Motz at home in Lansing

MR & MRS PETER MOTZ

ST JOHNS -- Mr and Mrs Peter J Motz are at home in Lansing following their honeymoon in northern Michigan. The former Christine Beechler, daughter of Mrs R W Beechler, 309 S Oakland, and the late Mr Beechler, and Peter J Motz, son of Mr and Mrs Francis Motz, 2422 W French Rd, were united in marriage June 2 at St Joseph Catholic Church.

The Rev Fr William Hanked performed the double ring ceremony. The bride and groom walked to the altar together, which was graced with white glads, yellow roses and palm greens. Jacqueline Schneider provided organ music.

The bride selected a Victorian-style gown of white floor-length silk sateen with a high neckline and Bishop sleeves and bodice. Her chapel length veil of imported illusion was edged with Venetian lace attached to a lace covered Camelot cap, and she carried a white lace basket filled with white miniature carnations, yellow sweetheart roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and assorted greens.

Janice Workman of Lansing was matron of honor, while Jackie Mitosinka, Melinda Sillm and Marcia Motz, all of St Johns, were her other attendants. They wore mint green princess style gowns accented with old fashioned white lace and buttons down the front. Each wore a picture hat and carried a basket of yellow mums, daisies, miniature carnations and baby's breath with assorted greens.

Mrs Beechler selected a mint green, blue and lavender floral print gown and wore a corsage of blue miniature carnations and sweetheart roses accented by baby's breath for her daughter's wedding.

Jim Brasseur of Flint served as best man. The groom's other attendants were David Motz, Tom Motz, brother, and Bill Motz, a cousin, all of St Johns.

A reception was held at St Joseph School gymnasium that evening for 400 guests. Serving at the reception were Mr and Mrs Dick Kenfield and Mr and Mrs Martin McCausey.

Special guests present were the groom's grandparents, Mr and Mrs William P Smith, Pewamo; and Mrs Christina Motz of St Johns.

S R Schrader

ORLAND, FLA -- Navy Seaman Recruit Bernard J Schrader, son of Mr and Mrs Bernard F Schrader, 303 N Bridge St, DeWitt, graduated June 20 from recruit training at the Naval Training Station here.

MR AND MRS EDWARD ROGERS

Stewart - Rogers vows spoken June 9

A bouquet of multicolored flowers decorated the altar of the Bannister United Methodist Church Saturday, June 9th, for the ceremony uniting Mr and Mrs Edward Rogers in Marriage.

Parents of the couple are Mr and Mrs Raymond Stewart of Bannister and Mr and Mrs Luther Rogers of Sterling Heights, Michigan. The double ring ceremony was performed by Mr Rogers, the father of the groom.

For the wedding the bride designed her gown of creped chiffon overlying soft polyester satin. The dress was of empire design featuring a belero of heavy crocheted daisy lace. Adorning the madarin collar, cuffs and deep hem ruffle was white lace threaded with pink chiffon and accented with tiny clusters of pink and green flowers. Her veil of both chapel and shoulder length was trimmed with the same lace as the dress and decorated with the lace of belero. The bride's bouquet was a large nosegay of pink roses accented with baby's breath and greens.

Mrs Sharon Showers of Wilmore, Kentucky, attended her sister as matron of honor. Her gown was designed of pink creped chiffon over satin. It high ruffled collar, long gathered sleeves, and a deep hem ruffle. A brightly flowered belero of pink, orange, green, yellow, and white was worn atop the empire waistline gown. In her hair she wore pink roses and baby's breath and carried a nosegay of flowers reflecting the colors of the belero.

Brides matron, Mrs Donald Boggia of Sterling Heights, sister of the groom and bridesmaids Miss Louise Heinze and Miss Fran Fowler, both of East Lansing wore identically styled gowns. They also wore roses in their hair and carried multicolored nosegays.

Mr William Valentino of Bensenville, Illinois attended the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Ron Baker and George Noel, cousins of the groom and James Stewart, brother of the bride.

Mrs Stewart, chose a floor length lavender crepe dress for daughter's wedding. Mrs Rogers wore a floor length gown of powder blue for the occasion. Organist Miss Juva Wilkins accompanied Mr David Showers as he sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

Special guest of the bride and groom was Mr Will Calhoun, grandfather of the groom Cadiz, Kentucky. The guestbook was attended by Mrs William Valentino and Miss Mary Zuk.

The reception for approximately 250 people was held at the Ovid-Elsie High School cafeteria. It featured a buffet meal and was hosted by Mr and Mrs Kenneth Tarrant. Mrs AnaBel Peck also helped with many areas of the wedding and reception. The wedding cake was designed with three heart shaped cakes surrounding five tiers all decorated with multicolored flowers and topped with a gold Christogram.

The couple are both graduates of Western Michigan University. Ed is employed by Borman Food Company of Detroit and works as an assistant manager of a Farmer Jack food store. After a trip to eastern Pennsylvania, the couple will be living in Sterling Heights, Michigan.

Open House

BATH -- Mr and Mrs Newell Churchill, 11669 Watson Rd, will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary July 28 with an open house at the Park Lake Improvement Hall, beginning at 2 pm. The event will be hosted by the couple's children. Friends and relatives are invited.

DHS class of '33 holds reunion

LANSING - The 1933 graduating class of DeWitt High School held its 40-year reunion June 23 at Bill Knapp's restaurant. Eight members and their spouses attended.

After dinner members reported on their families and occupation. A few have retired; several have traveled abroad, and related interesting reports of their experiences.

Pictures of the graduating class and the school as it looked in 1933 were on display. Marguerite Dalman drew the door prize.

The possibility of making the reunion a yearly affair is being considered since DeWitt no longer has alumni banquets.

Those in the class not present for the picture were Albert Talksdorf, Dale Bishop, Howard Gingrich, Marie (Klaver) Schneberger and Ernel (Excell) Parshall. Two members of the class, Dyle Cole and Paul Lerg, are deceased.

Feted at shower

ST JOHNS - A bridal shower was given Wednesday evening, July 11 in honor of Linda Redman in the parlor of First Methodist Church. It was co-hosted by Lois Lauro, Pokey Green and Carole Stoy, bridal party attendants.

The gathering was attended by relatives and former high school and college classmates of Miss Redman.

Games were played and the bride-elect opened her many gifts. The door prize of a candle and flower centerpiece was given to Sally Roach. Cherry cheesecake and fruit punch were served.

Miss Redman will become the bride of Eugene Noble of Detroit on Aug 11.

MR & MRS PATRICK DURNER

Mauk - Durner vows recited July 7

SHELBY — On Saturday, July 7, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, Nanette Christine Mauk and Patrick Thomas Durner were married. There were 225 guests who witnessed the midsummer afternoon ceremony held in the Congregational Church. The Rev Ernest Cummings officiated.

The bride wore a Victorian-style gown of Sanapeau with bishop sleeves and a bell skirt adorned with Venice lace. Her train was cathedral length and the veil was of Impatient Illusion. The floral theme was miniature roses accented with mixed daisies.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Arthur Mauk of Lansing and Stony Lake. The groom's parents are Mr and Mrs James M. Durner of St Johns, Michigan.

The groom's best man was his brother, Tim Durner, and his groomsman was Robert Cochran, both of Lansing. Special guests were the groom's grandmothers, Mrs Dwight Durner and Mrs T R Taffee. The groom's sisters, Sally, Nancy, Mary Jo and Sue, were all in attendance. The soloist was Mrs Edwin Anderson of Big Rapids and Stony Lake. Lana Smith of Shelby was flutist.

Following the ceremony, a beach reception was held at the summer cottage of the bride's parents. The newlyweds will reside temporarily in Ithaca where the new Mrs Durner will do her practice teaching. She is a special education senior at Central Michigan University, Mt Pleasant. Her husband is employed by Oldsmobile in Lansing.

MR & MRS ROBERT LADISKI

PEWAMO — St Joseph Catholic Church was the scene of the June 23 wedding uniting Joanne K Heckman, daughter of Mrs Joseph Heckman and the late Mr Heckman, with Robert F Ladiski, son of Mr and Mrs Frank Ladiski, Route 1, Elsie.

The Rev Fr Robert Deland, a friend of the groom, performed the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with glads and mums. Mrs Ernest Schafer accompanied Edwin Schneider, uncle of the bride, who was the soloist.

The bride chose a sata-peau over taffeta gown with long Bishop sleeves and chantilly lace bodice. Her veil was a long mantilla with chantilly lace. She carried a multicolored cascade of pink sweetheart roses, carnations, baby's breath and daisies.

Mrs Edward Ladiski of Pewamo, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs Louis Schafer, Fowler; Mrs Lawrence Fernholz, Warren; both sisters of the bride; and Krystn Gromek, Maynardville, Tenn, sister of the groom; were bridesmaids. Terri Fernholz niece of the bride, was flower girl.

The attendants wore chiffon skirts in Nile green, aqua, maize and apricot, respectively, with white bodices. Each wore artificial flowers in her hair and carried a hand cluster of mixed flowers. The flower girl wore a white and green empire waisted dress.

The bride's mother selected a floor length pink polyester gown with chiffon sleeves, while Mrs Ladiski wore a pink double knit with silk organza gown. Each had a corsage of pink and white sweetheart roses.

Edward Ladiski was his brother's best man. Groomsman were Laurence Ladiski, brother of the groom and Joseph and Kenneth Heckman, brothers of the bride. Joseph and Frank Ladiski seated the guests. Mark Horax served as ring bearer.

A reception was held at the Pewamo 21 Club later that afternoon for the couple's 400 guests. Jamie Horax, Camilla Stasa, Patricia Ladiski and Joyce Hafner assisted with the serving.

Following a wedding-trip to upper Michigan and Canada, the newlyweds are residing at 8319 Island Rd, Route 1, Elsie.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Pewamo-Westphalia High School. Her husband graduated from Elsie High School in 1965 and St Bernard College, Culman, Ala, in 1970.

"Two generations of Brubeck" Show at Ionia Free Fair

IONIA -- The Dave Brubeck Trio and Chris Brubeck's group the New Heavenly Blues will be at the Ionia Free Fair Grandstand Wednesday evening, August 1. The "two generations of Brubeck" show is a unique musical presentation combining the well known jazz style of the Dave Brubeck Trio with the contemporary sound of New Heavenly Blue, blending rock, pop, country, and jazz.

This musical ability and variety is not accidental. Dave Brubeck earned a music degree from the University of the Pacific and began composing and performing in the early 1950's.

His long career is unprecedented in jazz history as a concert artist playing college campuses, concert halls, and State Department tours through Europe, the Middle East, South America, Australia, and Japan.

He is the first jazzman to appear on the cover of TIME (1954), recorder of the first jazz single to sell a million copies (TAKE FIVE, 1963), first jazz artist to perform at a state function at the White House, and first jazzman elected to Playboy's "Hall of Fame."

Dave Brubeck has several talented children who are fast making their own reputation in the music business after securing a sound education in the fundamentals of music. Chris is a music student at the University of Michigan and his New Heavenly Blue was formed at Interlochen and at the University.

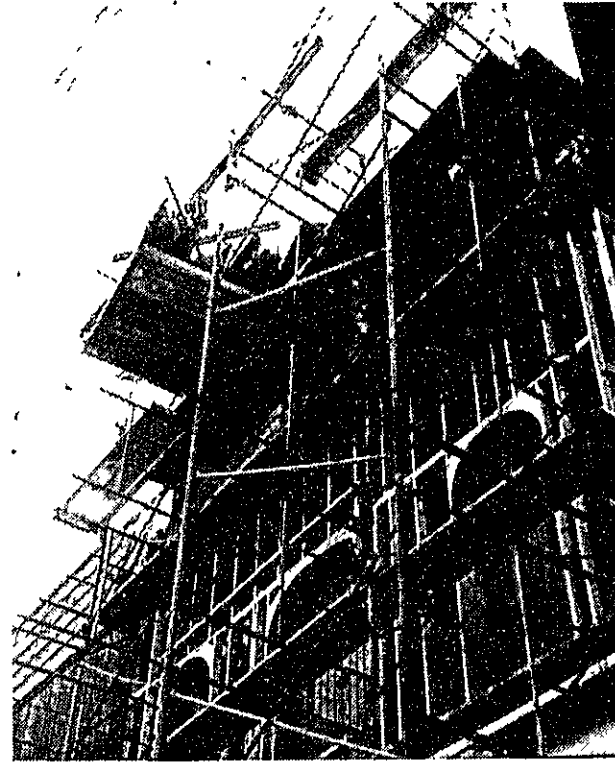

The six musicians, age 18 to 22, play 25 instruments and have starred at the Ann Arbor Free Concerts and other college campuses. They have also played at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center (with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra), Philharmonic Hall in New York City, Heinz Hall in Pittsburgh, and many leading festivals.

Their background and musical ability makes possible a wide variety of musical styles and they play mostly original compositions written by Chris or other members of his band. They are all in music because it is fun, and the fun they have performing is transmitted to their audiences.

"Two Generations of Brubeck" will be making a first appearance at the Ionia Free Fair and their program will please all generations of fairgoers.

Robert Conn displays the metal building marker, which reads "1880", that was removed from the cornice of the building housing DePeal's Music Store in downtown St. Johns. Owner of the building, Conn said he plans to paint the marker and put it back up after remodeling is complete.

Announce pond safety campaign

Thirty years ago farm ponds were typically stock watering holes, choked with weeds, stagnant water and serving as breeding grounds for mosquitos. Today's pond, on the other hand, can frequently be used for swimming and fishing as well as providing water for irrigation or fire fighting.

But in order to choke out aquatic weeds and provide recreation potential, ponds are built deeper with a drop of up to one foot for every three to four feet into the pond. A child or poor swimmer can get into trouble quickly should he slip off the bank and into a pond that drops to over-the-head depth within a dozen or so feet from shore.

The Clinton County Soil Conservation District will place summer-long emphasis on farm pond safety as part of its recognition of National Farm Safety Week, July 25-31, announces Chairman Stanley Baird of DeWitt. About 15,000 ponds have been installed in Michigan with Soil Conservation Service assistance. There are many more. Baird estimates that Clinton County has a total of about 153 ponds.

Why is action on pond safety needed? There were 18 drownings in farm ponds in Michigan during 1972, Baird reports. An analysis made by the Marine Safety Section, Department of Natural Resources shows that ponds and gravel pits were equally involved in the 90 drownings reported in such areas during 1970 to 1973.

All types of activities, including diving, wading, falls from banks, falls off docks, and even breaking through the ice resulted in fatalities. The most typical drowning in a farm pond involved 15 to 19 year old male swimmers, but there were victims of various ages and sex. "It can happen to anyone, especially when there is lack of supervision and rescue equipment," Baird says.

from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral service, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected - these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family.

The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made.

Respectfully,

Put-take pheasants: how to get permit

LANSING -- With Michigan's first extensive put-take pheasant hunting season just around the corner, applications are beginning to pile up in Department of Natural Resources' Wildlife Division.

The new DNR program, approval of the Natural Resources Commission at its July 12-13 meeting in certain portions of 15 State Cadillac game and recreation areas, begins September 29 and lasts through March 1, 1974 (with certain exceptions). The put-take season will serve two purposes:

(1) To provide pheasant hunting recreation over a long (five-month) period of the year on State-owned lands--most of which have been purchased through hunting license revenue, and which have marginal pheasant populations.

(2) To partially replace for hunters the sharp annual pheasant bag loss resulting from the considerably reduced population of wild birds over the last 10 to 15 years.

Wildlife officials say some 70,000 birds will be released during the 1973-74 put-take season, which gained the special, free permits required to participate in the program may be obtained by sending a self-addressed, government post card (making sure to leave the message side of the card blank) in an envelope addressed to: Put-Take Pheasant Program, PO Drawer M, Lansing, Michigan 48926. Only mailed applications will be accepted.

There is no limit or quota on the number of permits to be issued.

The Thornton families got together for a weekend campout recently. Thirty-six members of the family accepted the invitation of Mary and Russell Libey to camp at their cottage at Silver Lake.

They began arriving Friday evening and came with cots to sleep in the garage, tent, camper and trailer. Some of the older folks drew a bed or davenport inside the cottage. The last couple to arrive Sunday and just in time for dinner was Judy and Bruce Call who had ridden for 3-1/2 hours on their motorbike from Lansing.

All meals were eaten in the out of doors including a Sunday morning breakfast of pancakes. Mary Libey and Sharon Thornton the chefs for the morning, were able to keep up with the cry for more pancakes but one youngster insisted on having dry cereal and Russell Libey had to make a quick trip to the store for more syrup.

Recreation included walking the channel, hiking, swimming in Lake Michigan and Silver Lake, canoeing, and riding the dunes in addition to a ballgame on TV.

Libey kept his dune buggy busy all day giving rides to everyone. He was very popular with 7 little nieces and nephews who piled into the buggy every time they found it idle and waited for Uncle Russell to show up to take them for another ride.

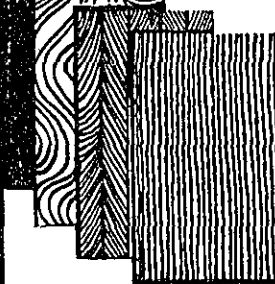

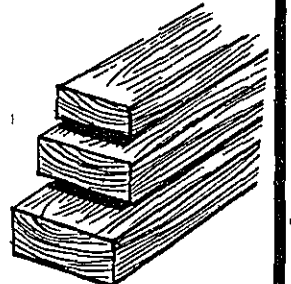

The women supplied homemade cookies, pies, cakes, salads, and potatoes for roasting in the coals.

Thornton families came from Lansing, Ludington, Perry, Ovid, East Lansing, Duplain and Grand Rapids.

Land developer gets answer - sort of...

By Laurie Kipp
County News Writer

DEWITT TWP - If land developer Gordon Long expected to get any definite commitment from the DeWitt Twp Board of Trustees Monday night on his proposed water system for the future Country Meadows land development, he went home a disappointed man.

The issue, whether the township will agree to administer a system for the development which includes a 250,000 gallon elevated storage tank, was sent to the township's consulting engineer and attorney for study, and will be considered at the board's next meeting on Aug 13.

Because of a new plat act, complications have arisen for Long. He must get the plat recorded before construction can begin, and he must have this accomplished within 30 days.

THE STUMBLING BLOCK, Long said, is that until a water system is approved by the State Health Dept, no letter can be issued to record the plat. And, a public agency is required to take over control of the water system.

A spokesman for Long explained the developer's proposal that the township operate the system. Long, he said, is prepared to spend $1,300,000 for storm, sanitary sewers, roads and telephone hookups, plus an estimated $450,000 for a water system. The system's capacity would be 2500 units.

In return, the township would handle the administration aspects such as tap fees. Long would want lots #23 and #24 plus 7 acres of commercial property to have fee tap fees for 15 years. The township would be given approximately $2,464 to hire a maintenance man, and if the cost for maintenance were greater, Long would pay it for the 15 year period.

LONG ALSO REQUESTED that he be allowed to reserve 1100 units for possible future development of land he recently purchased next to the Country Meadows site on Herbison and Schavey Rds for a period of 15 years.

If this were not within 15 years, the township would assume all rights to the capacity. In the meantime the township could use any of these 1100 units they wished, and would replace them if Long develops the new property.

Long guaranteed the township a minimum of 400 units available from a capacity of 2500.

LONG'S REQUEST for action on the water system will be discussed again at the board's next meeting. In the meantime he was told it would be permissible to proceed with final plans for the plat.

The Country Meadows development will be an approximately $20 million investment, with an estimated $15 assessed tax base.

In other action, the board considered leasing a Pageboy alerting system for the fire dept. The units cost $14 each per month, and the dept would need 24 of them. The walkie-talkie appearing devices would enable firemen to travel freely throughout the township when on call, instead of having to stay near the telephone in case of a fire.

THE TOTAL COST for the devices, leased on a 12-month basis, would be $336 per month. The units, if acquired, would be dispatched by the County Sheriff's Dept in St Johns, and would require installation of special telephone lines at an additional cost of $124.60 per month, plus a 1-time installation charge of $50.

The board expressed interest in the proposal, and directed the fire chief to obtain a letter from the Sheriff stating the dept's intent to dispatch the system before action is taken.

Redwing Shop - learning and job experience for students, oasis for hungry and thirsty

Carol Parker prepares a hot sandwich for a customer at the Redwing Shop at the St Johns City Park.

ST JOHNS -- Thirsty, hungry youngsters at St Johns City Park are just a short walk away from refreshment thanks to members of the St Johns High School Distributive Education Club and their advisor, Richard Kramer. For the 4th year, members of the class operate the Redwing Shop at the city park and before and after school during the school year. Kramer has been advisor for 2 years. During the summer, 4 full-time jobs for students are made possible by the refreshment stands.

Six students operate the refreshment stand during the summer. The 6 are needed to fill the 4 full-time jobs because of vacations, additional part-time jobs, etc. Each student works approximately 4 hours, a shift during the week and 1 worker operates the Redwing Shop all day during the weekend. Shifts during the week are from 9 am-2 pm, 2 pm-6 pm, and 6 pm-10 pm. The shop is open from noon-9 pm weekends. Operating the shop this summer are Leon Parker, sophomore; Carol Parker, junior; Doug Woodhams, senior; Joyce Buggs, senior; Kalem Latimer, junior and Bob Halmo, senior. Kramer said any scheduling problems that arise are handled by the students themselves, who are responsible for making sure a replacement is available if a worker cannot report for his shift. The purpose of the stand is 2-fold. On one hand, it offers high school students summer employment while giving them valuable work experience, practice in selling products and the responsibility of handling money. To the youngsters in the park, the other purpose is the foremost in their minds when hungry or thirsty—a place to get a soft drink or a snack. Moderately priced snacks include everything from bubble gum and candy bars to sandwiches and pizzas. The shop takes in about $45 a day this summer and the little kids with their pennies are a big part of the trade—the shop is selling an average of 1200 pieces of 1 cent bubble gum a day. Currently, the shop is located in a trailer loaned the class by the Boy Scouts. The shop was formerly in a cement block structure just across the park road, but foundation problems forced them to temporarily relocate. Bids are being taken now by the St Johns City Commission and work is expected to begin shortly after a bid is let. The Redwing Shop will finish out the year in the temporary location and, hopefully, will open up in the permanent facility next year.

This Is
Arnold Stevens Week

To many people in the mid-Michigan area the name Arnold Stevens voluntarily recalls pleasurable moments of musical entertainment from a bygone era. For over 40 years Arnold was active in musical groups - founding one, "The Music Makers", which continues today - and was perhaps the most popular saxophonist throughout central Michigan. Last Sunday former members of his groups and fellow musicians gathered to honor Arnold with an open house at Round Lake where the talk and sounds not only recalled those past years but also praised a man important to that time. We too wish to share in those honors by naming Arnold as our citizen of the week.

THOUGHTS THROUGH A TYPEWRITER

Watergate isn't the only place that's been "bugged." Now it's the DeWitt City Hall Council meeting room. The bugs, however, are mosquitoes who buzz in an open door unprotected by a screen. It does offer a diversion, though, during those slow times in the meeting. In 23 tries, I bagged 7 mosquitoes and 3 other flying creatures of undetermined species. That's almost 500, a lot better than the Tigers are doing.

For those of you who make it to work on time by driving with a heavy foot, be warned. The Clinton County Sheriff's Dept is on the scene with radar in many areas where traffic continually exceeds the speed limit. When, they first started, many speeders received just warnings and an explanation of the radar system.

According to the Environmental Protection Agency, much of the nation's pollution is coming from the mouths of cows. Seems the EPA feels that burping cows pose an actual pollution hazard. My question is, how to tell a cow not to burp.

Those who simply hang up with no explanation when they've evidently reached a wrong number are some of life's most irritating people.

Somehow, the chatty, breezy, humorous buddy system on television news programs appears in rotten taste when they giggle their way through 1 story and go right into a report of a tragedy.

It's not easy -- a girl seen in St Johns certainly believes in doing more than 1 thing at a time. She was riding a bicycle, holding a kitten and eating a piece of licorice.

PUNS ARE FUN: A doctor couldn't understand why his shoes hurt his feet. The shoe repairman noticed both heels were missing and advised, "Physician, heel thyself."

PARDON MY YAWN: The telecasting of the Canadian Professional Football League's pre-season exhibition games this summer hasn't exactly captured my interest.

LIFE'S LITTLE FRUSTRATIONS: Reaching for that first cup of coffee and realizing you never plugged in the pot.

Betty and Aunt Clara

Editor, Lapeer County Press

By Jim Fitzgerald

There they went, 2 chunks of my childhood, both in the same week. Betty Grable and Aunt Clara Embury. In the wake of their wakes, I am not pleased with myself. I did not drip a tear.

Not cry at the death of Betty Grable? How could that be? I loved her.

About 1941, I saw her in "Down Argentina Way" 14 times by actual count. It was a contest between me and a kid named Tom Studer. He insisted he loved her more than I did. The only way a guy could prove his love was by how many times he'd pay a dime to see her movies.

I WOULD TELL Studer I was going to stay home and study algebra that night. Then I'd run to the Pine Grove Theatre and watch Betty make Alice Faye look like an old bag again.

And someone would whack me on the back of the head and there was Studer sitting behind me.

This was not lustful after a pinup, ala the soldiers who made Betty Grable a latrine legend during World War 2. I was no soldier when I fell in love. I was a 15-year-old kid just beginning to wrestle with life's problems; just beginning to make the important decisions which would determine the pattern I would follow the rest of my years.

Such decisions as: breasts or legs? Jane Russell or Betty Grable?

AS CONSTANT READERS (Mother and Aunt Madeline) well know, legs won out. Betty Grable made a legman out of me when I was 15 and I have never since wandered from my chosen path. Show me a pretty girl and I'll show you a girl I'd rather walk behind than toward.

Ask me today what has been mankind's greatest advancement, the moonshot or the Salk vaccine, and I'll have to tell you the mini skirt. The world's greatest perversion is Shirley Jones in elephant pants....

But most of you are probably wondering about Aunt Clara Embury. She was no movie star. In fact, I'm certain she and Betty Grable never had 1 thing in common until they died the same week.

MRS EMBURY wasn't really my aunt. She was simply a neighbor, in the 1930's, who had no children of her own so she adopted the Fitz kids as honorary brats. She called me "Jimmie Dugan" but I can't remember why. No one else ever called me that.

Mrs. Embury's husband was blind. I suppose, my sisters and I, brought some "welcome cheer" into their gloomy little home, but I never looked at it that way then. I was, there for Aunt Clara's rhubarb and pecan rolls and whatever else I could glom onto. I used to force my younger sister to beg the blindman for candy -- "or I'll throw you in front of a truck." I was a real sweetheart.

I was 40 years old before Aunt Clara stopped mailing me $2 on my birthday. I guess she finally decided I was never going to write her a thank-you note. Once I wrote a column about how I'd owed her a letter for 30 years. I meant it as sort of an apology but I don't even know if she read it.

When I heard about Aunt Clara's death, I phoned my mother and said I thought I should drive over for the funeral. "You wouldn't visit her the last 15 years she was alive, so it seems silly to come look at her when she's dead," my mother said.

MOTHERS SAY THINGS like that to sons who don't grow up all the way.

I feel worse about Aunt Clara than I do about Betty Grable. You can say that for me. And you haven't said much.

It's personal

Ah yes, sunny Phoenix, right in the heartland of the old southwest. I flew into the old sunny heartland recently right in the middle of a thunderstorm, and was told I had just witnessed half of their annual rainfall. I believe it.

Now I know why people don't walk around the streets there. It's not because of robberies, rape or murder. It's the heat.

The first morning I was there it seemed like a good idea to do a little sightseeing. So, I donned my standard bluejeans and T-shirt and set out on foot to look around. Two blocks later I was ready to die.

HOW ALL THOSE pioneers ever made it across the desert in covered wagons is beyond me. That particular day was gray and cloudy, but it was still 95 degrees -- cool for July out there. I vowed silently never to complain about Michigan weather again.

The residents have figured out all kinds of ingenious ways of coping with the heat. It's really hard to have a lawn out there and be able to pay the water bill too, so some people have just given up. One place I noticed had a front yard consisting of orange stones with cactus planted in it. Another place had fake grass.

Every house, trailer and habitable shack had a huge metal thing on the roof. I was informed that these were central air conditioning units. When I asked why they weren't in basements, the reply was that there are no basements. Well, at least they won't flood then.

AN AIR-CONDITIONED car is a must. Those who can't afford them drive around with the windows rolled up anyway so it looks like their car is cool inside.

The most ingenious thing I saw was a place called, "Big Surf." There was a commercial on TV showing a nice, big beach and lots of nice, average-looking folks enjoying themselves in what looked like a lake.

Hah! What it amounted to was a cement hole dug out of the desert, complete with imported sand and fake waves made by a big machine. For $3.50 you could climb up a cement ladder and wait in line for 10-20 minutes, and then go down a cement slide into the fake lake as many times as you could stand the climb and wait in 110-degree heat.

THEY EVEN RENTED surfboats to ride the fake waves. The wait for these was a little longer.

It's good to be back in Michigan. The lakes may be polluted in some places, but at least they're real. And I can sit outside in the shade and wiggle my toes in the nice green grass.

Items stolen from car at Muskrat Lake

Theft of an 8-track tape player, purse, $10 and a check book from a car at Muskrat Lake has been reported to the Clinton County Sheriff's Dept.

Terry Morrison, 5229 reported to police officers the items were taken from his car at Jason and DeWitt roads July 7 and that entry was apparently gained by breaking a window.

Proposed speed limit 50

It was suggested at the most recent Clinton County Board of Commissioners meeting that a speed limit be established for county roads.

Although we are not certain we agree with the proposed limit (50 miles per hour) we are in agreement with the usefulness of such a proposal.

Our county roads are not built for the high speed traffic propelling along highways such as US-27.

However, there are many drivers traveling the county roads at the same rate of speed they drive on US-27 or M-21.

An opposing argument suggests such a motorist is responsible to himself for his own action if he hurtles out of control on a county road and winds up impaled against a tree or abutment.

It is true he is responsible to himself in such a case, but who is protecting the driver of a car coming at him or pedestrian and children along the side of the road?

With the condition of roads in much of the county, 65 miles per hour is just too fast to drive safely.

Although 50 miles per hour is slow enough to tempt drivers to ignore the speed limit completely we encourage the study and enactment of a county speed limit.

Ballenger pedals support for bike popularity

LANSING -- State Senator William S. Ballenger today stated his strong support for the growing popularity of bicycling in Michigan. "Bicycling is economically and environmentally beneficial," said Ballenger. "Besides, it's great for your health!"

Ballenger's statement came in conjunction with his announced support of DALMAC '73, a 285 mile, four-day bicycle tour from Lansing to Mackinaw City. This is the third of what is becoming a major national bicycling event. This year's honorary co-chairmen are Mrs Helen Milliken and Mrs Jane Hart. Sponsoring organizations are two of Michigan's leading bicycle clubs, the Tri-County Bicycle Association from the Lansing area and the Little Traverse Travelers of Petoskey.

DALMAC stands for the "Dick Allen Lansing to Mackinaw Bicycle Tour," named after the former legislator who originated the event to promote bicycling legislation.

Ballenger urged interested individuals in his district to participate in DALMAC. "It will help bring favorable attention to bicycling and to Michigan," said the Senator. "And it will help us in state government to promote needed legislation for safe bicycling."

DALMAC runs from August 30th to September 3rd, culminating in an early morning ride across the Mackinac Bridge to lead the Governor's traditional Labor Day Bridge walk. Additional information and entry forms are available through Senator Ballenger's office, c/o the State Capitol, Lansing 48902, or by writing DALMAC '73, P.O. Box 2, Petoskey, Michigan 49770.

The Untold Tale of Shred

There's many a printed story
Unlike a spoken word
That rates as honest evidence
When charges are preferred;
But action promptly taken
Nowadays prevents the spread
The tales they would have spoken
Are untold tales of shred!

Case documents are handy
When issues are at stake,
But often they embarrass
If the foe be given a break,

So "accidental wastage"
Put many a story to bed.
By quick and ready access
To the paper mill that shreds.

Why trust specific papers
When stories would be told?
And sometime make the headlines
If safe within the fold?
So have it read, oiled
Prevent those flagrant spreads,
By means of quick consignment
To the paper tool that shreds

88th District Report by Stanley Powell State Representative

There hasn't been much definite progress made on the 1973-74 fiscal year budget for the State of Michigan since we last wrote on the subject except that all budget bills on which agreement could not be reached between the House and Senate are, at this writing, in conference committees.

The score stands at 11 bills pending in the conference committees to which they have been referred and 13 on the Governor's desk awaiting his signature or veto.

The 11 bills in conference committees are considered to be the major budget bills (they cost the greatest amount of money).

AGREEMENT HAS NOT yet been reached on budget matters for the departments of Education, Higher Education, Mental Health, K-12 school aid, Agriculture, Social Services, General Government, Natural Resources, Grants and Transfers, Restricted Funds and Military Affairs and State Police. These remain in conference.

Submitted to the Governor are Capital outlay for junior and community colleges, capital outlay for public recreation projects, and budgets for the departments of corrections, public health, Community and Junior Colleges, Drug Abuse and Alcoholism a bill creating the Substance Abuse Office, Capital Outlay, Capital Planning, Commerce, Labor, Licensing and Regulations, Revenue Sharing and the Supplemental Budget.

The Governor also has the interim budget bill that allows departments to operate at their present level until the new budgets are approved.

TWO IMPORTANT bills agreed to last week in both the House and Senate are the Capital Outlay bills for community and junior colleges and for public recreation projects.

The Senate accepted the House amendments to both by unanimous vote.

As amended by the House, the Capital Outlay bill for community and junior colleges calls for an appropriation of $152,750 compared to the original Senate version of $167,750. The Governor proposed $92,750.

The House version of the Capital Outlay for public recreation totals $4,614,156 as opposed to the Senate version of $3.7 million and the Governor's recommendation of $3.78 million. The major change in the House was the inclusion of a recreation program for state urban projects which totals $909,000.

INCREASED PENSION BILLS PASSED IN THE HOUSE

In a midnight oil burning session, last week, the House of Representatives passed 3 bills increasing retirement benefits for public school employees, state workers and State Police employees.

The 3 bill package totals $58.5 million and provides for a $25 per month increase in health insurance benefits and a continuing 2% annual cost of living increase in the pensions.

While the bills were passed by an overwhelming majority, several of my colleagues voiced warnings that the increase would in their judgment create fiscal chaos by throwing the 1973-74 state budget irresponsibly out of balance.

THE BIGGEST objection most House members had was that the increased pension bills came out of the appropriations committee shortly before the session began and we were asked to vote on the bills without having an opportunity to analyze their content.

In addition to increasing pension benefits, the bills also call for an increase in the contributions to the pension systems by current employees. Currently school, state and state police employees contribute 5% of their annual salaries to the retirement systems. Their contributions will be increased to 6%. These bills have now been referred to the Senate.

Use of CCC loans wheat marketing tool

Last year's experience on commodity markets pointed up to many producers the advantages of an orderly marketing policy, Walter Wittenbach, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, stated when discussing marketing 1973-crop wheat.

Michigan harvest has progressed rather rapidly in the last week or ten days with three-fourths of the soft red winter wheat acreage harvested. Yields, he stated, have been disappointing up to date, however, prospects for a better yield on much of the soft white wheat crop are anticipated.

The July 10 crop report indicated Michigan's production about 800,000 bushels over the 1972 crop. This was primarily based on the increase in acreage for 1973 of about 35,000 acres.

Wittenbach pointed out that market prices throughout the 1972 marketing year made a steady advance from the time of harvest through June, 1973. Much of this, he pointed out, was undoubtedly due to increase export demand created by sales to Russia.

Wittenbach stated that many Michigan wheat farmers are taking a long look at their 1973 crop with the object of holding for selling later in the marketing season. He reminded producers that 1973-crop wheat may be eligible for price support loans only if the producer has signed up under the Wheat Set-Aside Program.

He pointed out that use of the price support loan program permits the producer to obtain low cost financing at harvest which allows him to hold his crop until later in the season when the market price is usually more favorable.

Wittenbach said that the Commodity Credit Corporation loan program has been used by many producers to considerable advantage over the years. He noted that the interest rate has been increased to 5-1/2 percent effective with the 1973 crops, but also pointed out that this is a much more favorable interest rate than from many other sources.

Wittenbach also mentioned that the 1972 crop corn and grain sorghum loans mature July 31 and under present market prices, producers have a significant advantage and opportunity to redeem their loans as compared to the market price at harvest time last fall.

He emphasized that producers should be sure to obtain prior written authorization for movement of the grain when it is being sold to repay the loan. Authorization will be issued promptly by the county ASCS offices upon request by the producer, he stated.

View from the Senate

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Only 33 weeks old, Michigan's new lottery system can perhaps make a valid claim that it's already the most efficient agency in state government -- it was designed to make money and that's exactly what it's been doing.

Since it went into operation last November 13, the lottery has contributed about $38 million into the state's general fund, which helps to finance many of the state's services, especially education.

In addition, the lottery has returned about the same amount to ticket purchasers in prizes -- including million dollar prizes to four persons and $200,000 each to 33 other persons.

Agents -- the people who sell the tickets -- have earned more than $4 million (they get a commission of 5% on their sales) and banks have been paid about $850,000 for handling money turned in by ticket sellers. The remainder -- about 4% -- has gone for operation of the lottery system.

In addition to the eye-catching million dollar prizes -- which have been won by Hermus Millsaps and Mrs. Christen Ferizis of Detroit, Mrs. Mary O'Dell of Sterling Heights, and "our own" James Fisher of St. Johns -- and the $200,000 and lesser cash prizes, four automobiles were awarded as special Michigan Week bonuses and, recently, a special $1,776 bonus was split up among several persons.

The fifth million dollar prize is due to be awarded August 2 at a drawing scheduled to take place in Ionia.

When the lottery was being set up by the Legislature last year, some of the rosier predictions were to the effect that it might contribute as much as a million dollars a week to the state's general fund.

Somewhat surprisingly, that's exactly what's happened -- and officials can't be anything but pleased at the way sales have held up over the past eight months.

Since last November, ticket buyers -- primarily Michigan residents but also people from other states and from Canada -- have purchased (up to July 5) more than 170 million tickets, giving the operation a gross of $85.5 million.

The average weekly ticket sale has been 5.2 million ducats with the peak being reached the week of May 17 when 6.9 million tickets were sold.

Strangely enough, the low sale was the second week of operation -- the second in November -- when 3.6 million tickets were sold.

Lottery officials had anticipated a drop in sales during the summer months and over holidays, but they haven't been disappointed with the way things have been going so far.

Astute scheduling of drawings and presentation of bonus awards at various points around the state have done much to sustain interest. The "1776" bonus awards were presented in front of Independence Hall at Greenfield Village in Dearborn, for instance.

Last week's lottery drawing was held in Traverse City in conjunction with the National Cherry Festival, and the elimination drawing to choose the 120 semifinalists for the August millionaire drawing was scheduled for this week at Bay City.

State selects Richard Allen to head Mich Tourist Council

LANSING -- Subject to legislative approval of the 1973-74 budget, Richard J. Allen, 39, of Ithaca has been selected director of the Michigan Tourist Council, Department of Natural Resources, it was announced July 5 by Robert F. Reynolds, Council chairman.

Reynolds said, "We on the Council realize that tourism still faces many problems, including the current alleged gas shortage and the question of compatibility between the tourist industry and the aims of some environmentalists. We are looking to Allen to take a leadership role in helping the Council with its problems now and in the future."

Allen was selected for the unclassified position from a field of 33 applicants.

When informed of his selection, Allen said, "Tourism is Michigan's second largest industry and having a leading role in the development and execution of public policy in this area is an exciting prospect."

A native of Michigan, Allen served on the Alma College faculty for nine years, owned and operated an animal hospital for 10 years and served two terms in the Michigan House of Representatives. During his House tenure, Allen was author and primary sponsor of the 1972 Transportation Act provision for $3 million annually for facilities for paths, lanes and trails for bicycles, horseback riding, hiking and other forms of non-motorized transportation. Since 1965 he also has served as vice president-treasurer of Bon Accord Farms, Inc., Gratiot County, a family-owned enterprise.

Born August 6, 1933, he received his bachelor of science and doctor of veterinary medicine degrees from Michigan State University.

He is a member of the American Museum of Natural History, Michigan Historical Society, Sierra Club, Audubon Society, Michigan Veterinary Medical Association and American Association for the Advancement of Science. Allen is an enthusiastic participant in skiing, bicycling, hiking, golf, tennis and other outdoor sports.

Allen and his wife, JoAnn, reside in Ithaca with their children, Lester James and Carri Jo.

He succeeds Phillip A. Brady who left the Council last November to become a Lansing public relations counselor.

The interim period has been filled by acting director Aurey Strohpaal, Grand Rapids, retired secretary-manager of the West Michigan Tourist Association.

TIME TO ORGANIZE COOPERATIVE HUNTING CLUBS

LANSING -- Farmers and other private landowners in southern Michigan are being encouraged by the Department of Natural Resources to organize their holdings into cooperative hunting clubs for this fall's shooting seasons.

They are urged to enroll their lands under the long-standing co-op plan by September 1, using application forms supplied by the DNR's Wildlife Division in Lansing. September 1 has been set as the sign-up target date to give the DNR adequate time to help landowners carry out pre-season preparations aimed at promoting the type of sport which will best benefit themselves, their fall hunting guests and local game populations.

In 1972, 14 clubs involving an estimated 150 or more southern landowners were in operation. The co-op clubs made 38,000 private acres available for orderly-planned public hunting.

Those interested in taking advantage of the program this year should soon meet with neighboring landholders to single out which acreages they will block together into co-op hunting clubs. In working out such boundary details, they will also be able to set hunter quotas for their clubs to keep gun pressure within desired levels on their lands.

Farmers enrolling under the program after making these decisions among their own club members will be supplied signs and guest tickets by the DNR well in advance of the fall hunting opener. They will post the signs to designate boundaries of their hunting club lands.

Landowners interested in the 1973 hunting club plan are urged to contact their local conservation officers or district wildlife biologists of the DNR. They also may write the DNR's Wildlife Division Office in Lansing (Zip Code 48926).

4-H members, leaders, parents and friends are invited to attend a Flower Arranging Workshop Thursday, July 26 1:30-3:30 pm at Smith Hall in St. Johns. Mrs. H. T. Loyster from the Michigan Branch of National Farm and Garden Association in Saginaw will present the flower arrangement workshop. She will cover how to select specimens for show, how to condition them for show and the best way for exhibiting. Mrs. Loyster will show several designs in flower arrangements as well as how to use flowers in different ways. Members are urged to bring a flower specimen, along for her to evaluate at this meeting. Flower garden members 12 years and older will have an opportunity to test their skills learned in the flower arrangement class at the County 4-H Fair August 14. Mrs. Loyster will be one of the Fair flower judges so members are urged to attend so they will know what the Fair judges are looking for in flower exhibits.

The County 4-H Demonstration and Action Exhibit contests will be Wednesday, August 1, 1:00 pm at Smith Hall in St. Johns. All members planning to enter this contest should notify the Extension Office by July 27 with their title. The top five demonstrations and top five action exhibits will receive rosettes and be asked to give them during the county fair for cash premiums. Each club is encouraged to have one or more entries in these contests. Anyone wishing more information should contact the Extension Office in St. Johns.

"Let's All Go to the Ball Game" on Saturday, September 1 is the theme for 4-H members, leaders and parents going to 4-H youth day in Detroit. The Tigers play Cleveland Indians starting at 2:15 pm. Tickets are 50¢ each and will be available at the same cost on the ratio of one adult to 5 youth. Money must be turned into the County Extension Office in St. Johns by August 1. We plan to take the St. Johns Community Bus if enough people want to go. The cost for the bus use is $1.00 per person.

The Trall Breakers 4-H Club donated $25.00 to the fair bleacher fund to help purchase additional bleachers for the fairgrounds. Several rear sections of bleachers have been purchased and will add additional seating capacity at the Fair.

42 of the Bengal Community 4-H members enjoyed a tour through the Kellogg Cereal Plant July 11th at Battle Creek. The club decided not to have a float in the county fair, but will enter the Fair Litter Barrel contest. Kathy Simon was appointed Chairman of the litter barrel committee. Reservations for Detroit Tiger 4-H Day game on September 1 was discussed. Workers for the fair food stand were appointed. Debbie Thelen told about the County Demonstration and Action Exhibit Contest on August 1. Two of the club's members and leaders attended the Hawaiian Luau dinner and program for the older 4-H foods members and leaders.

The Willing Workers 4-H members were reminded of the flower arranging workshop for 4-H members and leaders July 26 - 1:30-3:30 at Smith Hall in St. Johns. The members decided not to have an entry in the Fair Litter Barrel contest. The County Fair was discussed and 4 members may help Charles Gang with the October 4-H glass collection. Anyone wishing to attend the Detroit Tiger 4-H baseball game on Sept 1 should have their ticket money into the Extension Office by August 1.

The Trall Blazer's 4-H Club members are practicing their animals for the County 4-H Fair. A demonstration was given on saddling Western and bridling with a "full" English bridle. One member in the club is learning English equitation - Hunt Seat. The club plans to enter the DeWitt Ox Roast Parade Contest. Last year the club received a second place ribbon and we hope this year they will do as well or better.

The Nimble Fingers 4-H Club members received their Fair Books. Ideas for the Fair Litter Barrel and Float Contest were handed in. A committee was appointed to select the best ideas. Bicycle safety

KMB wants to recognize involvement

Dear Sir:
Due to my health, the Clinton County Chapter of Keep Michigan Beautiful has not been very active this summer. We are still willing to help any organization with any project (environment-wise). Next spring we would like to hold an organic-garden contest. This contest is open to schools, local governments, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, 4-H'ers any group who wishes to participate. During the fall and winter months are good times to plan for this type of projects. We can get speakers, literature anything needed to help. If they wish, contact me at Bath 641-4497 or Mrs Penni Fortier, Ovid or Mrs John Briganti, Fowler 593-3657. Also, I would like to inform you that Clinton County took a national award from Keep American Beautiful for their efforts in cleaning up the environment - this is more or less in conjunction with the Junk Car Clean up we had two years ago.

If there is anyone who (or any organization) that has done something this year to help improve our environment in Clinton County, please let me know so that I may award them our County Award and submit their name or names to our State organization for possible statewide recognition. Thank you for your help. I remain, Yours truly, Clinton County Chapter Keep Michigan Beautiful Sylvia M. Eitelbus, Chairman

Many roles, many needs

By: ELAINE CINCALA
County Extension Office

"Hello, I'm Betty, Don Smith's Wife."
"Hi, I'm Susie Smith's mother."
"I'm Betty Smith, club secretary and this is..."
Wife, mother, homemaker, community member, employee - which of these describes you? Chances are that more than one applies. And with each label comes a host of specialized roles.

As a wife you are your husband's companion and partner in the difficult business of making a marriage work. As a mother you are an angel of mercy who's always ready with kisses for scraped knees and elbows or a soothing soda bath when Johnny's measles itch. You're a teacher, and sometimes you're a mediator - or referee.

As a homemaker, your roles are legion. You're a meal planner, purchasing agent and chief chef and many other things. In the community, you play a number of roles: voter, club members, taxpayer, letter to the editor writer, church member, volunteer.

As an employee, you are a contributor to the economic well-being of your family as well as your community. You are all these - and you may sometimes feel you're so divided into these many roles that the real you, the total person, has gotten lost somewhere along the way.

An important part in finding yourself again is to realize that while you have a big role to play in meeting your family's needs, you have needs that have to be fulfilled, too. Some compromises and small sacrifices are necessary factors in getting along in the family, but the sacrifice should not be one-sided. Every family member, from Grandpa to the newest newborn, has these basic needs:

-The need for affection. Every person needs to feel liked or loved.

-The need to belong to a group of people and to contribute to the group.

-The need for self-direction, to be independent and to decide things for oneself.

-The need to grow and achieve, to feel successful in what one attempts.

-The need for new experiences.

-The need for values to live by.

You do things every day to meet the needs of your family. To meet the need for affection, you hold, cuddle and smile at the baby, set aside some special time for the older children and plant thoughtful surprises in their brown bag lunches. You try to be pleasant and considerate and you refrain from snapping and scolding.

To make each person feel needed, important and worthy, you give praise for a job well done, treat each person courteously and respect their ideas. You show you are interested in their doings, and you consult all the family members when planning group activities. You provide for and respect the need for privacy and personal belongings.

To encourage independence, you offer the children opportunities to make choices in matters affecting them, though, to limit frustration and conflict, you set limits on the choices they may make. You recognize that children become more independent as they grow older and you don't try to hamper their growth. You resist the temptation to say "I told you so" when a decision proves unwise.

To meet the need for growth, and achievement, you encourage each family member to develop his own interests and to accomplish according to his own abilities. Recognizing that each person has his strengths, you do not measure one against the achievements of another.

To provide new experiences, you plan special activities: a walk in the woods, a trip to the fire station, a visit to a construction site or a band concert. You encourage the whole family to meet new people, read new books and try things they haven't tried before.

To satisfy the need for values to live by, you clarify your own thinking on moral issues and you practice what you preach, because you know that children learn from what you do as well as what you say.

Helping to meet the needs of your family can satisfy many of your own needs. It probably will not satisfy all of them, however, and you should not feel guilty about seeking satisfaction outside the family. If you can't find new experiences in the family setting, for instance, seek them outside; join a club, volunteer your time to a worthy cause, take a class, develop a new hobby and exercise it.

If homemaking gives you very little sense of achievement, tackle something that will: take up refinishing old furniture or wallpaper a room, learn to drive or swim or arrange flowers. Or go back to school and train for a job that will make you feel that you're making a real contribution somewhere.

Both you and your family will be the better for it.

Farm Bureau hosts tour

ST JOHNS -- What is your total investment? How many man hours have you saved since installing your new set up? How much net income do you realize per animal? Questions such as these were asked by urban people as they visited 3 different farming operations in Clinton County last week. This was part of a Rural Urban tour sponsored by the Clinton County Farm Bureau Board of Directors.

Farms visited were those of Mr and Mrs Dick Woodhams, who raise beef cattle and mint; Mr and Mrs Ray Mayers, dairy; and Mr and Mrs Bob Exelby a sheep and cash crop operation. About 90 persons joined in the tour which left from the County Farm Bureau office on Gibbs street in St. Johns. At noon the group joined in a chicken barbeque at Sleepy Hollow Conservation Club on Mead Road.

While the youngsters were engaging in games and swimming in the pond their parents heard comments by Larry Ewing, director of information and public relations for the Michigan Farm Bureau. Ewing stressed the importance of the lessening of restrictions on exports to keep a balance of trade and a health climate in which farmers can expand production and insure ample supplies of food to the consumer. Farm Bureau has 1465 members families in Clinton County with a membership of over 2,000,000 nationwide. The goal of Farm Bureau is to improve the opportunity from farm and ranch families to earn a satisfactory income in a competitive economy and under a government designed to preserve individual freedom.

Dick Woodhams, mint and sheep farmer, explains how farmers are caught in the price-cost squeeze.

Marie and Dick Woodhams join with an exchange student from the Philippines and other friends in a chicken barbeque following the Farm Bureau tour.

William D Stoy elected to American Angus Association

ST JOHNS -- William D. Stoy, St. Johns, has been elected to membership in the American Angus Association at St. Joseph, Missouri, according to Lloyd D. Miller, executive secretary. There were 338 memberships issued to breeders of registered Aberdeen-Angus in the United States during the past month.

Food A series explaining "how much" and why What about vegetables?

Next week's weather, last year's processed vegetable supply and this year's environmental control legislation are just a few of the factors affecting retail vegetable prices, according to Michigan State University Agricultural Economist Tom Pierson.

Seasonal Effects on Fresh Prices

Each season, fresh vegetable prices are determined primarily by crop size, or supply, compared to consumer demand, Pierson explains. Since consumer vegetable consumption patterns change very slowly, demand is fairly predictable. In some cases, a small supply of one major vegetable not only increases its price but also boosts consumer use of other crops. A small crop of peas may mean more consumer use of corn, broccoli and snapbeans, tending to raise their prices. Crop size depends on the number of acres and the yield per acre. The amount of acreage a farmer devotes to a particular vegetable depends on prices paid the previous season, how much land he thinks other growers are planting with that vegetable, and what he considers the likelihood of making a profit from the crop, Pierson says.

Yield, on the other hand, primarily depends on the weather. This is crucial because some crops are grown in relatively small geographical areas. In recent years, about 15 percent of the nation's onions, for example, have been raised in New York state. So, effects of weather prevails, 1973 spring and summer growing seasons could bring prices down. To understand the impact of weather on yield, consider that 1972 harvested vegetable acreage nationwide was one percent more than 1971, but 1972 total vegetable production -- fresh and processed -- was three percent less than 1971, Pierson points out.

California, Arizona and Florida lettuce crops; cabbage in New York; Texas and New York onions and Florida winter tomato crops all suffered last season from adverse weather. Increased celery acreage in California and Florida, however, resulted in prices below a year ago. Texans increased onion acreage, but poor weather has again hit. This may mean small onion crops and continued high prices through summer. Imports can also affect price. In mid-January, for example, fresh tomato imports from Mexico supplemented a Florida crop that suffered weather damage.

Seasonal Effects on Processed Vegetable Prices

Retail prices for processed vegetables such as tomatoes, sweet corn, peas, snapbeans, pickling cucumbers and potatoes are also affected by crop size. Stocks carried over from the previous season can affect prices. If favorable weather prevails, 1973 vegetable crops for processing are anticipated to be 16 percent larger than last year. This could mean lower-priced canned and frozen vegetables. Processed vegetable stocks carried over from last year are low, however, which may offset that price decline.

Long Term Effects on Vegetable Prices Over the years, improving technology has helped maintain large vegetable supplies at relatively low prices compared to many nonfood goods. Varieties that resist disease and are suited to specific climates and soils have been developed. Fertilizers, irrigation, pesticides and better mechanization help reduce costs and hold down consumer vegetable prices.

Environmental controls will increase costs, however. Requirement of ecologically improved waste disposal systems for processors will boost consumer's prices of canned and frozen vegetables.

Changing consumer preferences also affect vegetable prices. During the past 20 years, the average American has increased his annual vegetable consumption from 200 to 213 pounds. And he is tending to shift from fresh to processed vegetables. In some cases, this lowers cost. A simple bag of frozen peas may cost less than fresh peas. But frozen butter-sauced peas in a plastic cooking pouch and other such added conveniences can boost the price the consumer pays for a given quantity of peas.

Further, eating away from home -- an increasing trend -- ups the final price a consumer pays for food. Cost of labor is also increasing, as long-time low wages in the food industry are increased.

There is an abundance of suitable vegetable-growing land. If crops remain profitable, new areas will probably be drawn into vegetable production. Supplies will remain adequate, tending to keep prices down.

Visiting youngsters found a friendly sheep who loved to be petted.

Porcupine Mountains ski lift to offer summer sightseeing

LANSING -- Beginning July 4, sightseers enjoying the rugged beauty of Michigan's Porcupine Mountains Wilderness State Park will be afforded a bird's-eye view of the park's striking terrain, the picturesque village of White Pine, and the shimmering waters of Lake Superior beyond. They'll gain this lofty vantage point aboard the ski chair lift which, for the first time, will be operated experimentally this summer and fall. This season's new use of the lift as a sightseeing service for park visitors will be put into gear through the combined efforts of State Representative Russell Hellman of Dollar Bay and the Department of Natural Resources' Parks Division. The chair lift will be making its runs up and down the ski area's slopes throughout the week from noon to 8 pm until Labor Day. It will continue to be operated in the fall to give Forkie visitors a sweeping view of the countryside's splashy autumn colors. Rates for the chair lift ride have been set this summer at 50 cents for adults and teenagers, and at 25 cents for children six to 12 years old. Children under six will receive a "free lift!" The park's concession, with food and restroom facilities, will be operated jointly with the chair lift.

Service stations roll back prices

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- The investigations showed 741 independent and 365 company-owned stations charging above freeze price levels. All the stations readily agreed to roll back prices when contacted by Economic Stabilization Program agents of the IRS. The average overcharge was 2 cents a gallon. Under the regulations, the freeze base price is the highest price at or above which at least 10 percent of a product's sales were made during the June 1 through June 8 period. The largest total overcharge so far discovered was based on a half-cent-a-gallon increase charged by a Connecticut gasoline wholesaler on 500,000 gallons. The wholesaler is refunding the $2,500 overcharge to the customers affected. Freeze Group Compliance and Enforcement agents will continue checking service stations as well as all other types of businesses for compliance with the freeze. Businesses found not in compliance, and who refuse to roll back prices, are subject to penalties of up to $2,500 for each instance of non-compliance.

Kelley asks court not to interfere with gas petitions

LANSING -- Attorney General Frank J. Kelly today urged the Michigan Court of Appeals not to interfere with State Board of Canvassers proceedings relating to the certification of petitions aimed at putting last year's two cent gas tax increase on the ballot for voter approval. The Board of Canvassers will meet on Monday. At that time the Board is scheduled to consider certifying the petitions which have been filed asking for a referendum on the two cent gas tax increase. If the Court accepts the Attorney General's position and the Board of Canvassers determines that the petitions have a sufficient number of valid signatures, the gasoline tax paid by Michigan drivers will drop from nine cents to seven cents per gallon. Attorney General Kelley's pleadings in the Court of Appeals are in opposition to a request by the County Road Association of Michigan and six county road commissions which have asked the Court to issue an order which would permit continued collection of the increased gasoline tax regardless of whether the Board of Canvassers determines and certifies that there are sufficient number of signatures to require a referendum. The Attorney General said he opposed the County Road Association and the various county road commissions' request for a stay because: "Among the rights Michigan citizens reserved for themselves when they adopted the state's constitution in 1963 was the referendum -- the power to approve or reject laws enacted by the legislature. One exception to the right of referendum is an act which provides appropriations for a state institution. It is my opinion that Public Act 326 of 1972 which provides for a two cent gas tax hike is not an appropriation act for a state institution because it merely raises the gas tax from seven cents to nine cents per gallon. Therefore, I believe Act 326 is subject to referendum if the Board of Canvassers certifies that the petitions have a sufficient number of valid signatures."

REP DOUGLAS TREZISE
87th District

I suppose it was inevitable that my personal resolve to oppose any spending bills this year which would jeopardize the tax cuts we approved earlier would put me at odds with one or more groups in the state. If that is what happens as a result of last week's House of Representatives action I'll just have to accept it as part of the hazard of trying to be fiscally responsible.

I am referring to a bill, which was approved by the House, granting significant increases in pension benefits to school employees, both those presently retired and those who will retire in the future. It provides for a cost-of-living adjustment annually in the computation of all pensions and a flat $25 per month allowance to cover health and hospitalization insurance costs.

In addition, for the already retired teacher, it increases existing pension payments by from one to 15 percent per year — depending on how long ago the person retired — and assured that anyone who retired prior to 1956 (the year teachers were brought under the Social Security System in addition to their retirement) a minimum pension of $3,000 annually.

The benefits for the presently retired person are identical with legislation passed by both houses last year with an effective date of July 1, 1972 but which were never put into effect because a question of their constitutionality was referred to the Supreme Court. A decision was never rendered. Because of this lack of action on the part of the court, present retirees have probably been cheated out of a full year of these increased benefits.

The total price tag on the proposed new retirement package is $65.5 million. Of this, $14.8 million would be raised by increasing the amount contributed to the pension fund by the active employees, to a flat 6% of salary. Presently they contribute at a 5% rate. The balance would have to be provided from the state's general fund, your taxes and mine. That balance exceeds $50 million.

No one has any real quarrel with assisting the person who retired several years ago and finds it hard going on a pension based on the much lower salaries which prevailed for much of the sixties. I recognize that problem and am willing to appropriate funds for some adjustment. But I am not sure we should, at the same time, provide for increased benefits for those who will retire in the future at pension figures based on today's much higher salaries. And that's exactly what has been done. Actually something in the neighborhood of $11 million of the $64 million price tag on this bill is going to assist those who are presently retired. The remainder, or 80% of the cost, will be used to fund these benefits for those who will retire in the future.

It is estimated that the increase in contributions by the active teachers will total $14.8 million in the coming year. But we are still left with the need for 50 million tax dollars to supplement the pension fund this year — with even greater contributions required in the years ahead.

Remember too, that Social Security payments have been increased dramatically in the past few years and today's retiree is sharing in those increases while his employer is paying higher and higher taxes to support them.

This bill to expand pension benefits was put before us at a time when we already face a budget some $113 million above the Governor's recommendations. If passed by the Senate, it will assure that any surplus left in the treasury this year will be gone and we will be facing increased taxes next year.

No suggestion was made during the debate that any other bills be reduced to provide this money. I think it would be logical to deduct this amount from the regular school appropriations bill since these costs are really deferred educational expenses.

Naturally, once the school employee's pension benefits were increased, the same benefits had to be extended to other employee groups. The general state employees and the state police pensions have been modified by the House in a similar manner so that the entire cost is over $80 million, with only $22.7 million being provided by employee contributions.

And I'm not convinced the people of my district are ready to pay more taxes to support this kind of budgeting.

Dutch children's choir to visit St Johns

ST. JOHNS — Kinderkoor Apen, a children's choir from the Netherlands, will be visiting St. Johns this summer, arriving July 30, according to local chairman Water Cole.

The young musicians, age 10-17 will be guests at a reception Monday, July 30, beginning at 8 pm at the United Methodist Church. They are sponsored in part by the Dutch government. Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp is also a sponsor of the international exchange program.

The approximately 40 singers and their chaperones will be staying with host families in the area. St. Johns is the last stop on a tour before the group returns to the Netherlands.

PREVIOUS CONCERTS were performed in Toronto, Canada; at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City, in Washington D.C., and Pittsburg, Pa. In the nation's capital, they were guests at a reception which Mrs. Patricia Nixon attended.

The Dutch Consulate is expected to be in St. Johns with the group, along with 6 television people who are covering the tour. Kinderkoor Apen is under the direction of Joost Meijer.

A free concert will be held Thursday, Aug 2 at 8 pm in Pocuis Auditorium. A formal reception will be held following the concert. Cole emphasized that the public is invited, and said he hopes to see a good turnout from area residents to make the musicians feel welcome.

TUESDAY WILL BE a free day for the group, and Wednesday has been scheduled for a trip to Kalamazoo. Friday they will attend the International Seaway Festival in Muskegon, go sailing, and perform at North Shore Jr High School at 8 pm.

Saturday morning they will depart for the Netherlands.

Warning issued on waterproofing

LANSING — Many Michigan homeowners find the summer months the best time to end leaky basement problems, but before doing so, the Michigan Consumers Council advises homeowners to contact several waterproofing companies first, since claims and guarantees are as varied as the methods used.

Homeowners generally have 2 methods to choose from in waterproofing their basements. One method consists of injecting a mineral substance into the soil around the house, while the other involves excavation around the outside of the house or inside the basement to find the leak.

Companies using the injection method claim that when the substance comes in contact with water it expands to form a seal around the leaky spot in the basement wall, making it impermeable to moisture.

WHILE THE MAJOR attraction of this method is that it does not require extensive digging, there is some speculation as to its effectiveness, since the operator cannot see the leak he is supposedly plugging. Exterior or interior digging to expose the foundation allows the contractor to see the leaks, which he can then plug with a waterproof substance.

Guarantees issued by waterproofing companies also vary in length and effective date. Some guarantees ask consumers to wait 90 days after installation before complaining about the job, while others go into effect immediately after installation. Length of protection can vary from 1 to 5 years.

BESIDES CHECKING claims and methods, the Council advises prospective buyers to ask for references from other buyers or ask to see completed work. Reputable firms are always willing to supply prospective buyers with names of satisfied customers.

Asking for bids and full disclosure of all work to be done and any additional charges that may be incurred is a must in any home improvement transaction, the Council advises, and of course, get it in writing. Consumers are also advised to withhold final payment until job is completed to satisfaction.

TO CHECK on the reliability of home improvement firms, interested persons should contact their local Chamber of Commerce, the Better Business Bureau in Grand Rapids and Detroit, or the Michigan Consumers Council, 525 Hollister Building, Lansing, MI 48933. Complaints may be registered with the Consumers Council or the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office, Law Building, Lansing, MI 48933.

Farmers will produce only for fair return Elton Smith warns

"The day is over when farmers will be satisfied to produce more without a fair return for their labor, risk and investment," Elton R. Smith, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau said last week in response to the Administration's announcement of the Phase IV program. In a free, capitalistic economic system, farmers must be allowed to earn a profit."

Calling Phase IV a "step in the right direction," Smith said the plan will encourage a return to normal food production patterns where economics — not politics — guide production. He expressed disappointment, however, that beef will continue to be kept under the price ceiling.

The agricultural spokesman pointed to the higher labor costs, increased prices of fuel, equipment and taxes which producers are paying, and warned that farmers will not be satisfied to work harder and produce more for less net income.

"Inflation and prices will only be held in line when persons in responsible positions take responsible fiscal action. Congress should assume responsibility for a sound fiscal policy by holding down federal spending," he concluded.

Soil Conservation District offers pond building advice

A farm pond, like any body of water, attracts people. It is a natural recreation center for those who live near it, and is often used for swimming, fishing, boating, hunting and ice skating. The unfortunate feature of a farm pond is that it is also a body of water in which injuries or drownings can occur.

The demand for water has increased tremendously in recent years and although there are other sources of water, ponds still remain one of the most reliable and economical. Farm ponds are a valuable asset and have many uses. Private landowners have built in the excess of two million ponds in the United States and many more will be needed in the future.

You may be making plans to build a pond or you may be one of the private landowners who has built a pond with technical assistance provided through the local Soil Conservation District. You may have wanted or are in need of water for irrigation, livestock watering, or fire protection. Possibly your family, friends, or neighbors may want to use it for swimming, fishing, ice skating, or to picnic beside. The small child passing by may do most anything. Your pond has the potential of being a pleasure, but only if the proper steps are taken to make it safe.

The Clinton County Soil Conservation District realizes that due to manpower limitations, technical assistance cannot be provided for the construction of every pond; however, it does provide, through the Soil Conservation Service, recommended designs and specifications with safety measures that can be applied before, during, and after construction.

Most states have laws on impounding water and on the design, construction, and operation of ponds. One should become familiar with those that apply to his own particular state.

It is important to find out what the community or state laws are regarding liability in the case of injury or death resulting from use of a pond, whether permission was granted for use or not. This is of particular importance if one intends to open the pond to the public and charge a user fee. It may be discovered that additional protection, through insurance, will be needed.

It should be definitely decided what use is to be made of the water so proper safety measures can be planned prior to construction. For example, placing guards over conduits where swimming will be allowed, or where diving facilities are to be provided, establishing a minimum water depth for safety.

Additional safety measures that the contractor should take during construction is the removal of stumps, snags, big rocks, trash, wire, rubbish, junk machinery, and fences from the reservoir area that are potential hazards to swimming and boating. Sudden dropoffs, steep side slopes and deep holes should be eliminated. escape ramps should be provided where side slopes are steeper than 3:1.

After completion of the pond, safe swimming areas, should be designated and appropriate warning signs placed near specific danger areas. The addition of a rescue station with life saving equipment is a very economical method of improving safety. Equipment such as a ring buoy, rope, inner tube, wooden plank, long pole, or a screw cap gallon plastic jug with about one inch of water in it, anyone of which if located in plain sight for use, can reduce injuries and perhaps save lives.

According to Stanley Baird, Chairman of the Clinton County Soil Conservation District, 12 farm ponds were constructed last year. The privilege of having a pond on his property gives the owner additional responsibilities, states Baird. Posting the pond against trespassers DOES NOT relieve the owner of these responsibilities. Each pond owner has the MORAL obligation to his family, friends, and neighbors to make his pond as SAFE as possible by providing appropriate safeguards that can prevent an incident from becoming an ACCIDENT or even a FATALITY, continues Baird.

Your farm pond can be a source of pleasure as well as profit but only if it is SAFE; it's all up to you!

Agriculture in Action Emergency - burping cows

The highly-contested duel between farmers and the U.S. Department of Labor is currently between innings. At this stage of the game, the score shows farmers have a slight edge. They've won two legal battles to have the Labor Department's "emergency" re-entry pesticide standard delayed and will continue to fight against the imposition of what they consider "totally unnecessary and unrealistic" rules.

The skirmish started back in May when government officials reacted to emotion rather than facts, and hoisted upon farmers an emergency standard which would have resulted in financial impossibilities for agricultural employers, unemployment and agricultural workers - and higher prices to consumers. Farmers were not complaining about doing their part to keep our air safe and clean; they knew the dangers of certain pesticides and handled them accordingly. But they did object to being forced to comply with emergency standards when no emergency existed. The fact that no emergency existed was backed by reports of scientists, poison control centers, a task force on occupational exposure to pesticides, and even the Labor Department's own subcommittee on pesticides.

Although farmers have won two "battles" - a delay of the original emergency standard which was to go into effect June 18, and another delay of an amended version which was to be effective on July 13 - they are hopeful, but not overconfident, about their chances to win the "war." They have long been apprehensive about decisions, made by uninformed or misinformed people, which interfere with their operations - decisions on environment, land use, price ceilings, export restrictions. They know that when they lose - so does the consumer.

Take, for example, the newest pollutant "discovered" by the Environmental Protection Agency - cow burps. The EPA ranks burping cows as the number-one source of air pollution in the United States - 50 million tons of hydrocarbons burped into the atmosphere every year. Farmers wouldn't be surprised to be issued another "emergency" standard requiring anti-acid tablets for their burping cows - perhaps followed by one more order prohibiting the use of such a tablet, based on its possible contamination of milk.

Suit seeks to halt expanding dairy imports

A lawsuit filed Thursday (July 19) by Michigan's largest dairy farmer cooperative seeks to halt the Nixon Administration's expansion of dairy product imports.

It is the second such suit filed in recent months. Michigan Milk Producers Association (MMPA) and Glenn Lake, a North Branch, dairyman and MMPA president, are plaintiffs in the suit filed in U.S. District Court in the District of Columbia.

Defendants are U.S. Treasury Secretary George Schultz, the Bureau of Customs, U.S. Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz and members of the U.S. Tariff Commission.

Other plaintiffs in the suit are the National Milk Producers Federation, a Washington D.C. - based organization of dairy farmer cooperatives; Land O'Lakes, Inc., of Minneapolis, Minn.; and Consolidated Dairy Products Co. of Seattle, Wash.

The suit challenges the validity of a July 19 presidential proclamation which used Section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act to justify allowing importation of 80 million pounds of nonfat dry milk above prevailing quotas.

Plaintiffs in the suit also have secured a Monday (July 23) preliminary hearing on a temporary restraining order to prevent any dairy imports for 10 days. The order is sought to give the court time to rule on the lawsuit based on the merits of the case.

The court dismissed a similar suit filed May 24 on grounds that the additional imports referred to in the suit had already entered the country and, therefore, no conflict existed.

The current additional imports are to be in the country by August 15.

The July 19 presidential proclamation was the fourth major action affecting dairy farmers taken this year by the administration. A total of some 150 million pounds of above-quota dairy products - the equivalent of about two billion pounds of milk - have been imported under separate presidential orders so far this year.

The latest Nixon proclamation also seeks to lift all restrictions on dairy imports and requests approval of the U.S. Traffic Commission for such action. Some 600 million pounds of nonfat dry milk and comparable amounts of butter and cheese in foreign markets are available for import into the United States.

The suit argues that Congress intended Section 22 to limit the importation of agricultural commodities when they interfere with the effective operation of various domestic agricultural programs. The suit says the "emergency condition" clause of Section 22 does not authorize an expansion of imports.

The so-called "emergency condition" is an alleged shortage of domestic dairy products, according to the Nixon Administration.

"The alleged emergency condition doesn't exist," Lake said, "and this move by the administration can only be considered a means to deny prices which are necessary for U.S. dairy farmers to stay in business."

"To consumers, the arrival of imports may look good," he said. "They've been sold the idea that foreign products can meet their demands and help hold down prices in the domestic market place."

"Nothing could be farther from the truth. Dairy farmers, as well as this nation's consumers, cannot stand by and watch our domestic production capacity be destroyed, making Americans dependent on an uncertain foreign supply which isn't subject to the same high production standards as are dairy products in this country," he said.

Lake said the massive imports of dairy products, which often are subsidized by foreign exporting nations, threaten to render the U.S. dairy industry incapable of continuing to serve the American consumer. As a consequence, thousands of dairy farmers could be forced out of business, creating shortages in the domestic supply.

Three attend MMFA, 4-H milk marketing tour

Attending from Clinton County were Charles Green, Elsie; Steve Conklin, DeWitt and George Hazle, St. Johns.

The tour, sponsored by MMPA in cooperation with the Michigan State University extension service, is designed to give 4-H members, more familiarity with milk marketing procedures and the duties and operations of a dairy farmer cooperative.

The 4-H members toured the MMPA Detroit office and visited the large Kroger Dairy in suburban Livonia.

Glenn Lake, MMPA president; Jack Barnes, general manager; and Norm Peterson, director of membership relations, explained the association's marketing and price bargaining efforts and how the co-op is organized.

Tour participants also attended a banquet at the Pick-Fort Shelby Hotel in downtown Detroit; and saw the Detroit Tiger baseball team in action against the California Angels at Tiger Stadium.

In a problem-solving session, the 4-H members divided into groups to discuss and solve situations like those confronting the board of directors of a dairy cooperative.

MSU staff participants included Dr C.A. Lassiter of the dairy department and Ray Gillespie of the 4-H department.

Two of last year's top tour participants, Mike Murphy and Herb Schoenborn were junior leaders. As such, they chaired various sessions during the two-day event.

Wholesale milk prices to go up

The wholesale price of milk used for bottling purposes in Michigan's Lower Peninsula will be raised 45 cents per hundred pounds effective July 30, Michigan Milk Producers Association (MMPA) has announced.

The increase follows President Nixon's July 18 ease-off on the price freeze he announced June 13. The latest Nixon move permits retail food prices to be raised to reflect the increased cost of raw agricultural products. It allows dairies, for instance, to pass along to the consumer the MMPA milk price increase.

MMPA announced a price increase early last month, days before the president's June freeze announcement. The increase was held in abeyance because a pass-through to the retail level was prohibited.

The MMPA action breathes new life into the

What We Could Do
Right now, without learning a new thing from the research laboratories we could save over 100,000 additional lives this year from cancer, if everyone got the American Cancer Society's message about the importance of early diagnosis and prompt, proper treatment, and had regular health checkups.

Alan C Davis commissioned

Alan C Davis, 5605 N US-27, St Johns was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Michigan Army National Guard June 30.

He was one of 55 graduates from the Michigan Military Academy at Custer Reserve Forces Training Site near Battle Creek.

The Michigan Military Academy was established in 1957 to provide training for qualified individuals to become officers in the Michigan National Guard and the United States Army Reserve.

The graduation address was delivered by Colonel Arthur E. Lomax, Chief, US Army Readiness Group, Selfridge ANG Base, Mt Clemens. He was formerly Senior Army Advisor to the Illinois Army National Guard.

The military oaths of office were administered by Brigadier General Joseph H. Ritzheim, Assistant Division Commander, 38th Infantry Division and Brigadier General L.N. Carmichael, Deputy Commander, 123 ARCOM, of the U.S. Army Reserve. Diplomas were presented to the cadets by Major General C.C. Schnipke, the Adjutant General of Michigan and LTC A.E. Powis, Jr., Assistant Commandant, Michigan Military Academy.

state's gasping dairy industry by permitting farmers to get somewhat higher prices for milk to partially overcome skyrocketing feed prices and other farm costs.

The increase announced by MMPA will bring the price charged to dairies in Zone 1, as defined by federal milk marketing regulations, to $7.95 per hundredweight. Dairies in the Detroit area pay an additional 8 cents per hundredweight, bringing their price to $8.03 per hundredweight. Dairies in the central, west and north parts of the L.P. pay somewhat lower prices.

The increase represents about a 14 per cent increase in the wholesale price of milk over last year's $6.90 per hundredweight.

Glenn Lake, a North Branch, dairy farmer and president of MMPA, cited rising production costs paid by farmers as a major reason for the price increase. A decrease in milk production was a factor, too, he said.

"The price increase is necessary to provide some encouragement to farmers to continue to produce milk," Lake said.

The price increase applies only to that portion of milk sold by dairies as packaged fluid milk. Milk processed into butter, cottage cheese, cream or other products brings dairy farmers lower prices in accordance with federal milk marketing regulations in the state.

Farmers are being forced to buy larger volumes of feed because of adverse weather last fall which prevented them from harvesting their own crops, Lake said. Bad weather this spring has made "it" impossible to complete planting on schedule in most areas, making next fall's yield highly uncertain, he said.

Prices paid by farmers increased by about 16 per cent between June 1972 and June 1973, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture figures.

Milk production in Michigan has declined about 4 per cent since last year, Lake said. One factor is the economic incentive to put dairy cattle on the beef market.

"Greater consumer demand for beef has escalated beef prices to the point that many dairymen have chosen to sell off portions of their herds," Lake said.

"There is no question but what that is and will continue to be a factor in the decreased milk production," Lake said.

The ol' come-on can prove costly.

"Save 6c on Fryers." "Save 3c on Pork and Beans." "Get a Melamine cup and saucer free."

At Kroger, we have come-ons, too. We call them Bonus Bargains. We identify them with an "X" in our ads. Our Bonus Bargains are made possible by special purchases or manufacturers' allowances or favorable market conditions.

Sound exciting? You bet they do - on the surface. But whether they really save you money or not depends on what's underneath the surface.

The important part to remember is: along with our come-ons we have Xtra Low Everyday Discount Prices throughout the store. Since they are planned to save you money on your total food bills in themselves, our come-ons - Bonus Bargains - really mean additional savings for you.

If the store that offers these "specials" jacks up a lot of other prices, these come-ons could cost you more in the long run.

X What are Bonus Bargains?

When you see an "X" next to an item in Kroger's ads or stores, it means a Bonus Bargain, good for a limited time and made possible by a special purchase or a manufacturer's allowance or a favorable market condition.

The Clinton County News staff finds it impossible to attend meetings of all clubs and organizations that take place in busy and active Clinton County. And there are insufficient hours to chase the president or secretary of each group to get the stories that arise out of their meetings. Club secretaries are requested to drop us a card or give us a call at 224-2361 and fill us in on the highlights of their meetings and especially about special upcoming activities.

If we could financially afford it, we'd employ enough reporters to follow you around and report what you do... and take your picture, too. But our bankers insist on our remaining solvent, paying our interest on time and occasionally making a payment on the principal.

Memoriam 31

THELEN — In loving memory of our dear husband, father, and grandfather, Anthony J. Thelen who passed away 4 years ago July 21, 1969. Memories are treasures no one can steal.

Death is a heartache nothing can heal,
We won't forget though he is gone,
But we will remember no matter how long.

Mr and Mrs Leo Deming were among the guests at the Todd-Walling reunion held, Sunday, at the home of Mr and Mrs Bill Bissett on north M-27. Mrs Deming's parents, Mr and Mrs Lewis Walling of Elsie won the honors of having the most people of their immediate family present.

The eldest of the 61 relatives present was Mrs. Aura Conditt who is 94 years old. She attended the first reunion held in 1937 and has not missed a reunion since.

The youngest present was Nicole Wood, daughter of Mr and Mrs Douglas Wood of Grand Ledge, and great-granddaughter of Mr and Mrs Lewis Walling.

Mr and Mrs Pete Crowell's grandson, Mark, came the farthest, as he came from Florida.

A business meeting followed a delicious potluck dinner held in the Bissett's front yard, with officers for the coming year elected as following: President, Paul Todd of Carson City; vice president, Bill Bissett; secretary and treasurer, Mrs Scott Walling of Deckerville; and historian, Robert Walling of St Johns.

The historian, Robert Walling displayed a large family tree for all to view and trace each ancestor as well as pictures and books shared with all present.

Games were played in the Bissett back yard such as ball, darts, pitching horse-shoes, and croquet while others sat in the shade visiting.

The Todd-Walling reunion will be held next year the third Sunday in July at the same place with a cooperative dinner at 10 o'clock.

Relatives attended from Carland, Elsie, St Johns, Owosso, Grand Ledge, Ann Arbor, Deckerville, Florida, Interlochen and Chelsea.

Mrs Clara Horn entertained guests for the weekend in her home in Carland: Mr and Mrs Paul Lowrey, Mrs Horn's sister and their daughter Patricia of Midland and Mr and Mrs Farnham Haeger of Southfield.

The Carland United Methodist Church Women's Society of Christian Service sloppy-joe dinner was well attended Wednesday evening at the Carland church house.

Serving began at 5 pm and they continued serving until were fed. The bake sale held at the same time, did well also.

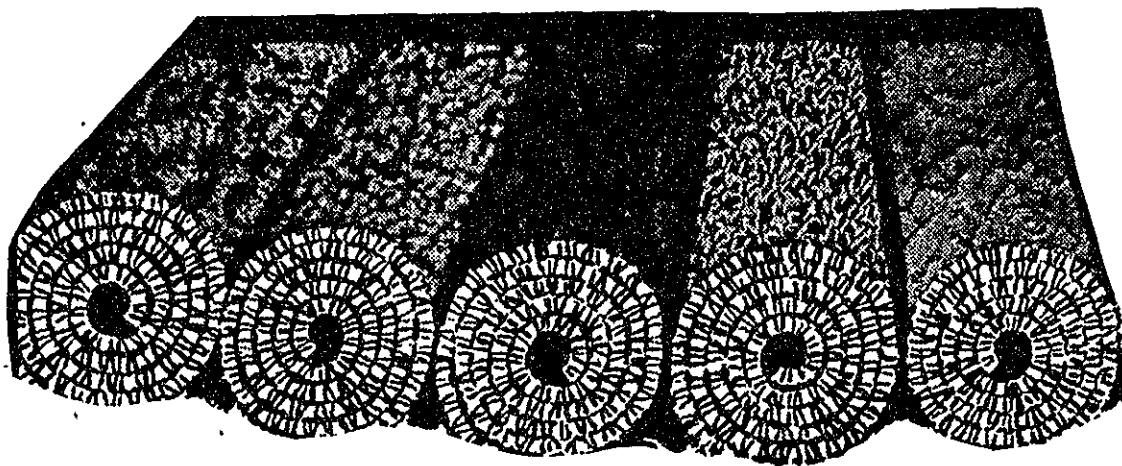

Lisa Stinson, daughter of Mr and Mrs Grant Stinson, celebrated her birthday Wednesday with a cookout for family and friends.

Mr and Mrs Richard Mead and son, Brian, had Saturday night dinner with her parents; Mr and Mrs Leo Deming in Carland, before the Meads left for the northern part of Michigan for a few days vacation.
