

Free textbooks will cost Clinton schools $100,000-plus

By RON KARLE
Editor

More than $100,000—that's the price tag Clinton County's six school superintendents put on a recent ruling by the State Supreme Court requiring that students be provided with free textbooks.

The court's order also requires that fees be eliminated but it is still not clear how far-reaching that decision may be since fees could cover almost anything from pencils to football tickets.

Among several other questions still unanswered is where will the money come from.

"Damned if I know," said one superintendent.

Although all superintendents favored the idea behind the ruling, all were concerned with its timing.

For one thing, all districts have pretty much set their budgets for fiscal 1970-71 and have been into the new year since July 1.

Another problem is that state aid has been fixed for the current year and all millage requests have been planned around budgets which do not include a provision for free textbooks.

Although it was not readily clear just when the decision would take effect, it was feared that it would probably be in the fall.

In order to supply textbooks to Clinton County's more than 11,000 students, the superintendents have estimated the cost at $114,000.

DeWitt's Supt. James Ritchie said of the timing,

"It's really rotten," but he added, "this has been in the courts for years. I don't think it was purposely timed for now."

The DeWitt District, with approximately 1,600 students, will be least hardest hit by the decision—but only because the schools have been providing free textbooks for the last three years.

"Textbooks could cost a family $10, $15 or $20 per student," said Ritchie. "It's kind of hard to turn to a taxpayer and ask them to pay this after everything else. Take a family with five kids and this can add up."

Ritchie did estimate it would cost $7,000 to supply workbooks, however, an item which students have paid for in the past.

"We are really worried about it," said Ritchie. "Where do I get the $7,000 which is not in my budget. Do I eliminate the workbook or something else?"

Of additional concern is the cost of fees charged in the past.

"If it comes down to the decision of eliminating some of these charges or looking at the budget and eliminating others," he added.

The St. Johns District, meanwhile, will be hit with the biggest bill for textbooks—an estimated $48,000.

The district is the largest in Clinton County with more than 4,000 students.

"We don't yet know what it means or how far it's going," said Supt. Earl Lancaster. "Does it include gym shoes and sweat socks for gym classes or is it limited to textbooks?"

"In the past, books for grades kindergarten through sixth have been provided free per se," said Lancaster. "This didn't mean that everything was free. There were some fees for workbooks and other supplies."

This cost averaged about $6 per child and adds up to 12,000.

In grades seven through 12, the school sold books to students at cost plus a five or 10 cents handling fee. In the spring the books were depreciated one-third (figuring the life of a book at three years) and students were issued credit slips to be used in the purchase of the next year's books. Seniors were given the book's value in cash.

"We have $14,000 out in credit slips," said Lancaster. In addition, the district has ordered $22,000 worth of new books for this fall.

"What happens? I don't know," said Lancaster. "We've had no directive. I hope they give us a year."

"If the ruling is just for textbooks, I would say it would cost us in the neighborhood of $20,000," said Ovid-Elsie Supt. Robert Beauchamp. "If it goes on to include other items that we have charged for in the past, it could easily run as high as between $35,000 and $40,000."

Beauchamp said Friday that he had just received a letter from the Michigan Association of School Administrators which said a full interpretation of the ruling was not yet available.

"The Department of Education and the attorney general are going to have to get involved in interpretation so that we're all doing the same thing," he said.

He said that in the past, the Ovid-Elsie District has charged a rental fee for textbooks with a five-year depreciation.

"Fees, of course, did not pay for all textbooks, by all means," said Beauchamp. "But they helped the board to supplement the cost."

He also expressed concern about the timing of the decision.

"This is what often happens in education," he said. "There isn't sufficient time to cycle it in and you just can't convert that rapidly."

"The Legislature has a responsibility to which they had better address themselves," he said responding to the suggestion advanced by some that the lawmakers may possibly consider additional state aid to meet the financial demands of the ruling.

"I don't know where we go from here," he said when asked where his district would get the money. "I guess we'd have to rob Peter to pay Paul."

The Ovid-Elsie District has about 2,500 students. Bath's Supt. Roger Carlson said, as all did, that he had not been officially informed of the decision nor what it specifically covered.

"I'm not too excited about it," he said estimating the cost of textbooks at about $10,000 for his district's 1,450 students.

"We own all the books and we loan them to the Migrant school in St. Johns featured on area television

By TIM YOUNKMAN
News Staff Writer

The new school in town operated by the Michigan Migrant Education Program has been growing and receiving some statewide publicity.

A recent television newscast featured the school as a positive step in the education and cultural advancement of the children of migrant and ex-migrant workers in the Mid-Michigan area.

The program, which will run through Aug. 21, is designed for children two and one-half years of age and older through junior high school.

The programs are designed to aid the children in learning and communicating effectively in English, according to center coordinator J. Michael O'Connor.

He said that since the children are mostly from Spanish background and have limited control of standard English, the program will address itself primarily to providing the children with the language skills they need for a school setting.

Besides teachers and aides, the program features several persons who function as "outreach" workers.

These people will assist the parents in problems at home that influence their children's learning behavior.

The outreach workers at the school are Joe Gonzales and Pedro Rojas Jr.

The St. Johns program, located at St. Joseph's Church and school, includes three full-time teachers.

They are Rosalinda Villegas, of Donna, Tex., John Arheart of St. Johns and Terry Cornwell of St. Johns.

Teacher aides, all of St. Johns, include Judy Fowler, Stella Salazar, Elpidia Marquez, Linda Friesen, Norma Kimmel, and Lyn LeBlond.

The center nurse is Roberta O'Connor and the center's cook is Mary Cornwell. Theresa Fedewa is the cook's aide, and all three women are from St. Johns.

O'Connor said that future plans call for the establishment of a parent-teachers organization to allow the parents to become more involved in the school.

He said that several field trips have been planned.

Election will delay next week's News

In order that we may bring you complete results from the primary election Tuesday, delivery of the Clinton County News will be delayed next week.

We expect to have unofficial returns in the races for county commission, township boards, state representatives and senator, plus the vote on village propositions.

Man escapes jail; same car stolen again

Robert Smith, 23, who was held in the Clinton County jail on charges of auto theft, escaped early Saturday morning—and the auto he was charged with stealing was missing a second time from Hettler's Auto Sales.

Sheriff Percy Patterson said Smith was awaiting a preliminary examination set for July 29 when he apparently jammed the lock on his cell door with a small piece of metal stripping.

Smith, who was arrested at Thunder Bay, Canada and returned to St. Johns July 21 after allegedly taking a late model car from the Hettler parking area.

Patterson said that Smith waited until the early morning hours and quietly opened his first story cell, proceeded to the basement where he changed his clothing and escaped through a

DeWitt officials fear delayed school opening

By TIM YOUNKMAN
News Staff Writer

DeWitt school officials indicated Friday that there is some doubt that the DeWitt schools will open their doors on time this year.

School Supt. James Ritchie said that the teacher contract negotiations with the DeWitt Education Association (DEA) "have not been very smooth meetings."

"Their contract is so unreasonable," he said. "We can't begin to negotiate."

Ritchie indicated that the DEA representatives, Raymond Unger, Gary Roberts and Lucile Missner, presented a contract that called for full reimbursement for college courses and related materials while under employment by the DeWitt schools.

He said they asked for additional reimbursement for members attending selected professional meetings.

Ritchie said the DEA told him that they would seek mediation through the Michigan Employment Relations Commission, which would set up a formal meeting to determine if mandatory arbitration is necessary.

Thus far, the DEA has not offered a salary proposal, Ritchie noted.

If the negotiations continue into September, Ritchie said the schools would remain closed.

"It is up to them to decide if they want to withhold their services," he said.

By law, the schools must be open 180 days during the year to be eligible for state aid. Ritchie said that if the school opening is delayed, the children would be forced to attend without a Christmas or spring holiday.

He also noted that the fall sports program could be ruined by a strike or lengthy bargaining meetings.

"Some of the coaches could come back to operate the program," Ritchie said. "But with the head football coach on the bargaining team, I don't know."

The DEA has filed unfair labor practices charges against the board's refusal to open personal files on teachers and release personal financial statements.

School Board President Willard J. Reed said Friday that he did not have any knowledge of the charges until the News reported trouble if they did show the files.

"What would happen if we had a teacher with a garnishee order?" Reed asked.

Reed indicated that the school board would comply with any court order delivered on behalf of the DEA rather than appeal the decision.

"This would relieve us of legal responsibility, I believe," Reed said.

With the contract negotiations stalled and the board charged with unfair labor practices, the outlook for a school opening on time seems grim.

The press was barred from the contract negotiations by the DEA, which they can do legally under state laws, and both parties agreed to offer press releases unilaterally.

"The Board of Education wants the press to attend," Reed said.

The board, which must approve any contract agreement made between Ritchie and the DEA, will discuss the labor charges and stalled negotiations at their regular meeting July 28.

July 22.

"I really don't feel that this is the sentiment of the majority of the teachers," he said.

"The records are tough to open up," he added indicating that the board could in legal

Single county-wide millage issue on ballot

Only one county-wide question will be presented to the Clinton County voters in the Aug. 4 primary election.

Voters will decide a 1.5 mill levy for the improvement of county roads, bridges and culverts on local roads and matching funds for the townships.

The millage levy, if passed, would extend for a five-year period, although most of the road work could be completed on a rush-schedule within two years, according to the plans issued by the Clinton County Road Commission.

The proposed millage would furnish .75 mills for road improvements, .50 mills for bridges and culverts on local roads and .25 mills for matching funds for townships.

The proposed schedule issued by the road commission calls for 66 miles of road construction and improvement, plus bituminous surfacing at a total estimated cost of $3,148,000.

The roads affected by the schedule in 1971 are Grange, from Dexter Trail to Grand River; Howe, from the western county line to Wacousta; Alward,

It was not known how he met his death.

Earlier this year, Pfc. Benny Sloat, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Sloat, of Ovid, was killed when the armored personnel carrier he was riding in struck a land mine March 19.

New plant viewed for St. Johns Development group shows plan to city

By RON KARLE
Editor

Plans for a new industry which could bring up to 200 new jobs to St. Johns were unveiled before the City Commission Monday night.

The St. Johns Area Development Corporation told the commission that Style-Master Homes, Inc., of Fort Wayne, Ind., is keenly interested in locating a new plant on the city's west side.

The company, which builds modular homes, has also indicated an interest in Hillsdale but members of the non-profit development association indicated that if the city moved quickly to assist them, Style-Master would likely chose St. Johns.

In making a presentation to the commission, James Leon, vice-chairman of the development group and sales manager of Saylor Beall Mfg. Co., requested that the city finance the cost of water and sewer lines, curb and gutters, plus sand and gravel for a roadway. He estimated the cost at $20,381.

The company is interested in 25 acres north of Morton Street to the city limits between the railroad and Gibbs. Eventually the company would like to add another 25 acres outside the city limits.

The commission said it would consider the request and called a special meeting for Thursday evening when a decision is expected to be reached.

"I don't think anybody here opposes this," said Commissioner John Hannah. "We've got to do some scratching to find some money. Our budget is set and austere."

"I think the amount involved in view of the harvest we would reap, is minimal," said Rollin Huard, chairman of the development group. "I realize the city is in a financial pinch, but if we can't handle this we may as well call the whole thing off."

If approval is granted by the city, it must be known by Aug.

INAUGURATES NEW ROAD

This newly paved stretch of U. S. 27, north of DeWitt was christened with its first auto accident Friday when a truck van passed this trailer pulling it sideways and causing it to overturn. Driver of the small truck, Arthur G. Smith, 39, (far right) of Columbiaville, Mich. Moments after this photo was taken, the walls collapsed, spilling the trailer's contents over the highway. I 69 corridor through Clinton approved by highway commission

Approval of a corridor for the proposed Interstate 69 Freeway in Clinton and Shiawassee counties has been announced by the State Highway Commission. The recommendation is the result of an extensive study by the Department of State Highways and followed discussion of alternate corridors at a public hearing in Bath in June, 1969.

Approval by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads will enable the Department to begin work on a specific location for the freeway. A second public hearing will be held on the design features.

The freeway will run from I 96 northwest of Lansing to the existing M 78 Freeway northeast of Perry. The corridor selected runs east from I 96 to U.S. 27 south of DeWitt and follows a course between Bath and Park Lake to the existing M 78 four-lane, divided highway near Peacock Road northeast of Lake Lansing. From there it will follow the M 78 corridor northeast to the existing M 78 Freeway near Perry.

The Commission said the recommended corridor will provide more effective service to overall travel desires in the area than an alternate corridor, which would have taken the freeway on a direct easterly route north of Bath and M 78 to the existing freeway near Perry.

It also will offer good service to commercial and non-commercial interests generating traffic and will cause minimum disruption to the state's Rose Lake Wildlife Research Center. Additionally, the corridor ties in well with the long-range highway plans for the area, the Commission said.

The U. S. Department of Transportation has authorized extension of I 69 from its present terminus at Interstate 94 north of Marshall, north and east via Lansing to Interstate 75 at Flint, incorporating existing M 78 between Perry and Flint.

Ballenger attends Florida conference

State Rep. William S. Ballenger, R-Ovid, has returned from a week-long national seminar for outstanding young legislators held at Marco Island, Fla.

The seminar was sponsored by Rutgers University's Eagleton Institute of Politics and was financed by a grant from the Carnegie Corporation.

Also selected to participate in this year's seminar was Republican State Rep. Dennis Cawthorne of Manistee.

The seminar brought together promising state legislators from all states of the Union to discuss common problems and was designed to improve the functioning of state legislatures.

The lawmakers met with outside experts and, in particular, focused on ways that state government, particularly state legislatures, can become more meaningful participants in the federal system of government.

The Eagleton Institute, located at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey, was created to advance and promote knowledge of government and public affairs.

Ballenger, currently concluding his first term in the House, representing the 87th District, is Republican candidate for the 30th State Senatorial District seat being vacated by Emil Lockwood (R-Elm Hall).

students," he said.

He said the schools in the past charged fees ranging from $5 to $10 covering books and art supplies, etc.

"We were in good shape with state aid, but this puts us back where we started," said Carlson.

"We had budgeted the fees," he added. "This is where it hurts."

Supt. William Stienke, of the Pewamo-Westphalia District said he hadn't done any specific figuring on the cost, but "off the cuff, I'd guess that books would cost us pretty close to $15,000 or $17,000."

Approximately 850 students attend school in the Pewamo-Westphalia District.

Stienke said that in the past, the schools rented books to students in grades one through eight. Rental fees were charged to pay the cost of the books. High School students purchased their books.

"At this stage in the game, we'll just have to tighten our belts a little tighter," he said when asked where the money would come from.

When asked if a year's time to implement the ruling would be helpful, he said, "Oh, yes, naturally it would."

But he was pessimistic over prospects for getting that year.

Fowler's Supt. Don Smith said he could not determine the effect of the ruling "until we get a real assessment from the State Department of Education on its ramifications."

He estimated it would cost more than $12,000 to provide textbooks to the district's 860 students.

"We never furnished textbooks before," said Smith. "People paid for them in the past."

In addition, he estimated that the loss in fees to the district would be $2,500.

When asked where this money would come from, Smith said, "Probably from deficit spending. What I hope is that the courts will defer the effect of its decision to a year from now."

"It happened after a vote on millage and after the state aid," he added. "It's a very, if not ill-timed, inopportune time."

Doc Sauders with some of his "trophies."

A quiet legend

Doc Sauders a special guy to his young athletic patients

By RON KARLE
Editor

Doc Sauders is quietly becoming some sort of a legend in St. Johns.

Doc, who has been a chiropractor in town for approximately 30 years, has a special interest in the young athletes and their aches and pains and sprains.

And special interest has been returned many times from his young patients.

In his office at 204 N. Oakland, Doc has a display of football team photos and signed balls presented to him by the boys. Underneath the glass top on his desk are graduation pictures given to him by many of the athletes.

"He's done a great job," says Jeff Smith, head football coach at St. Johns. "He's good for the kids and he's good for the coaches."

"He's just like one of the coaches," Smith adds. "He understands the coaches' problems."

"He's head of psycho-therapy, too."

During an average week in football season, Doc will give more than 40 treatments to players.

"It's just a great big lot of fun and interest in associating with these boys," says Doc in explaining his work with the players.

"Some of the enthusiasm rubs off," he adds. "And I enjoy watching these kids develop."

He says that he's been treating the boys for sprains, knee, ankle, back and shoulder injuries "probably for 15 or 20 years."

"When they started coming in, I think they saw what happened to the others and just kept coming," says Doc.

He says former coach Bill Smiley, who was with the Detroit Lions at one time, was actually instrumental in the growing number of patients back in the early 60s.

"He was used to the equipment like I had," says Doc.

When Smith took over as coach two years ago, Doc made a believer of him, too.

He has taken several courses dealing with athletic injuries and he says he is able to apply this knowledge to the rest of his practice.

After graduation in 1939, Doc says "I just looked around and I particularly liked St. Johns and there was no practice here."

So he settled in town and raised two girls, Jan and Sue.

He says the closest he's ever come to having a boy of his own on the football field "was when Jan was crowned homecoming queen one year."

But, indeed, Doc has many boys.

"You would be surprised how many of these guys in college stop by just to say hi when they're home on vacation," he says.

"It makes you feel good," These days, even though it's only July, Doc is already looking to fall and another football season.

"I'm getting excited already," he admits.

It's hard to tell if the enthusiasm is rubbing off on Doc or if his is rubbing off on the players.

But at any rate, Doc and his boys are a hard combination to beat.

And a lucky one for St. Johns.

Outgrow Bedwetting
When?

Half the children wetting the bed at age 5 will still be wetting at age 11. And bedwetting can go ON and ON. Walter C. Alvarez, M.D., Prof. Emeritus, Mayo Clinic, says: "What can the doctor prescribe? He can send the child to a urologist or psychiatrist, but rarely can they help. We physicians should know that 1 in 100 Navy recruits are quickly dismissed because of enuresis." Pacific International has ended bedwetting for tens of thousands in the past two decades, and it not caused by organic defect or disease, we can end the problem for both children and adults. Exchange student returns to France

Concluding a year in St. Johns as an exchange student, Xavier Millet this week returned to his hometown, Lamoignon, France. Millet, completed his junior year at St. Johns High School and was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Lambert, 808 W. Park. He was in this country as part of the Youth for Understanding Program, a private organization associated with the Council of Churches.

His hometown, population 4,000, is about 20 miles north of Paris.

"It was easier for me to be a junior here than it would have been in France," said Millet. "You can't choose subjects there like you can here."

He said French schools allow little deviation from required courses while in St. Johns a student has several choices among his elected courses, thus allowing study in subjects which interest the student.

He said sports are of relatively minor importance in French schools. He said the main sports are basketball, soccer and handball.

"There's nobody around to cheer them up," he said. "If they lose or win, it's just in the record book."

In sharp contrast is the emphasis on major sports in St. Johns, he said.

"I think it's quite exciting... like you have the cheerleaders. That was new to me," he said.

While at St. Johns he participated in tennis.

When asked how it happened that he came to the United States, he said, "My mother saw an ad in the newspaper and asked me if I was interested and I said OK."

He said he had very preconceived notions about this country before he arrived.

"I don't think we have a good picture of Americans just as I don't think Americans have a good picture of us," he said.

In addition to hosting Millet during his stay, the Lamberts have a son, Luane, also a junior at St. Johns High last year. They have a daughter, Lorinda, who attends Albion College.

"There's one thing we've done in France that he hasn't done," said Mrs. Lambert. "We've been to the top of the Eiffel Tower."

"I plan to go there when I get back," said Millet.

XAVIER MILLET

Precinct write-in votes urged by Ballenger

State Rep. William S. Ballenger is urging Clinton County citizens of both major political parties to launch write-in campaigns for the position of precinct delegate at the Aug. 4 primary election.

"Despite a flurry of irate letters I've received from constituents concerning campus disorders, hardly anyone really cares enough to become involved in the process by which the men and women who run our tax-supported institutions are selected," said Ballenger.

"Those elected precinct delegates on Aug. 4 will be in a position to name their party's nominees for positions on the State Board of Education; the MSU Board of Trustees; the U-M Board of Regents; and the Wayne State University Board of Governors."

Ballenger notes that it takes a minimum of only three write-in votes per precinct to be elected to a two-year term as delegate provided the person whose name is written in is among the leading vote-getters in that precinct.

"You could be the leading vote-getter in your precinct with only two write-in votes and still you would not be elected," Ballenger said. "You must have three votes or more, and then, of course, you must be a leading vote-getter."

According to Ballenger, only 14 Democrats filed petitions of candidacy for precinct delegate by the May 26 filing deadline. Their names will be printed on the August 4 primary ballot, and they will almost certainly be elected for the simple reason that, barring a write-in, they have no competition. But because the Clinton County Democratic Committee has allocated 111 Democratic precinct delegate positions, there will be 97 positions remaining to be filled by a write-in.

Likewise, only 36 Republicans filed petitions of candidacy for precinct delegate by the May 28 deadline. Since the Clinton County GOP Committee has allocated 102 precinct delegate positions, 66 remain to be filled via write-in.

Ballenger emphasized that if there is no write-in at all for the position of precinct delegate in some precincts, there simply will be no precinct delegates elected for a two-year term from those precincts.

This means one of two things:

Deputy Hilary Hafner investigated the attempted safe job. Papers were strewn across the floor as vandals ransacked office.

Farmer's Petroleum vandalized

A breaking and entering at the Farmers Petroleum Co-op, Inc., netted thieves $550 in new tires and a suit of men's clothing.

According to the sheriff's report, entrance was gained by climbing over a fence at the rear of the building and then breaking a hole in the fibre glass overhead door, reaching in and unlocking it.

A wooden door between the warehouse and office was also forced open.

The safe had been tampered with and the combination was removed but entry to the safe was futile.

Deputies speculate that a hacksaw was used to cut a chain on the gate at the rear of the building.

Reports indicate that 16 tires were stolen. The building is located about two and one half miles west of St. Johns on M 21.

DISTRICT 10 DEWITT TOWNSHIP

DISTRICT 11 BATH TOWNSHIP

ROY F. ANDREWS

GERALD E. SHEPARD

Republican incumbent Gerald E. Shepard, 56, remains unopposed in his district's race for the board of commissioners.

Shepard, a Bath Township supervisor for 13 years, is a member of the Farm Bureau, Bath United Methodist Church and the Community Mental Health board.

He is the first vice president for the Michigan Association of Counties.

He and his wife Ila have four children. They are James, 36, of Bath, Russell, 33, of Grayling, Mrs. Dan (Linda) Cogswell, 18, of Battle Creek and Mary, 18.

New high

In 1969, the number of white-collar workers reached a new high of 36.8 million. This comprises about one half of the Nation's work force. Gains were made almost entirely in professional, technical, and clerical occupations.

Incumbent Roy R. (Jack) Andrews, 54, the lone Democrat in this year's commission election, said that after serving his first term he feels "well grounded in the county activities."

Andrews, owner of the PX Store and branch manager of the Secretary of State's office in St. Johns, said that there are many issues facing the commission during the next term.

Andrews pointed out the proposed Airport Authority and the Tri-County Planning Commission as two major points that need settling during the next term.

He called for the commissioners to settle their differences regarding these issues which "are useful for both the Lansing and Clinton County areas."

He said that pollution and sanitary landfill projects are necessary soon.

"I am also concerned about bringing in more industry and an industrial complex for the county," he said.

Andrews, a former Lions Club member, is on the Deacon Board at the South Baptist Church.

He and his wife Frieda, who reside at 585 Mayfield Drive, Lansing, have two children Nancy and Michael both of Lansing.

District questionnaire released by Brown

U.S. Rep. Garry Brown (R-Mich.-3rd) has announced the results of the tabulation of answers to the questionnaire he recently sent to all residents of the Third District, which includes Clinton County.

Brown said that more than 20,000 responses had been received.

Highlights of the poll show: The President's Cambodian action is supported by better than 70 per cent of those who responded.

Most tend to agree that more needs to be done in the anti-pollution effort with the greater number (70 per cent favoring tax incentives to industry to encourage the provisions of pollution control devices and programs; and, the least support (43 per cent is given to the banning of use of materials, fuels, and ingredients which may cause air and water pollution.

Third District residents think peaceful student protests should be permitted (71 per cent; student strikes and sit-ins should not be permitted (92 per cent; and, authorities have not been too tough in the handling of campus disorders (88 per cent).

Respondents feel draft deferments should be limited to hardship cases (66 per cent; in the absence of a declaration of war, feeling is mixed on whether draftees should be required to serve in a combat area—(47 per cent no; 46 per cent yes); and, the draft should be replaced with an all volunteer military service (59 per cent).

Opposition to the 18-year old vote continues but may be weakening; 62 per cent presently opposing the change regardless of how it would be decided; and, more prefer the Constitutional amendment route if a change is to be effected (58 per cent).

Milliken supporters invited to party

Gov. Milliken's son Bill will host a "Primary Night Fund Raiser" party for Mid-Michigan area residents on Aug. 4.

Johns H. Stahlin, treasurer of the Michigan for Milliken Committee, said the proceeds from the $25-a-couple event will go to the Governor's election campaign.

"This party will provide an opportunity for residents of the Lansing area to get together to watch important primary returns and help the Governor at the same time," Stahlin said. "This is strictly a fund-raiser. There will be no fancy dinners or speeches."

Tickets for the event are available from the Michigan for Milliken headquarters, 100 W. Washenaw, Lansing, 48933, or by calling 489-3781. The party will begin at 9 p.m. in the Red Room, MADA building, 1500 Kendaale Boulevard, East Lansing.

Results of local and statewide races will be reported by volunteers and through television and press reports.

Low bid announced for road project

A low bid for a 1.3 mile Clinton County Road project was announced July 17 by the Michigan State Highway Commission.

Milbocker and Sons of Allegan submitted a low bid of $116,911 for construction of grading and drainage structures, shoulders and aggregate surfacing on 1.3 miles of State Road east from 1.7 miles east of U.S. 27.

The low bid on the road project scheduled for a July, 1971 completion must be approved by the State Administrative Board before contracts can be awarded.

The commission announced low bids on 26 other state-wide road projects, including the first two projects in Michigan to qualify for federal matching funds under the Traffic Operations Program to Increase Capacity and Safety (TOPICS).

Low bidders on these projects were Davco Inc. of Lansing with a bid of $322,452 for improving 1.3 miles of Wayne Road and Valley View Construction Co. of Port Huron with a bid of $22,002 for improvements to the intersection of Allen Road and Ecorse Road in the city of Allen Park.

Business notes

By MIKE PREVILLE
News Advertising Manager

The second annual car care and vacation special is included with this week's County News. We don't know about you but we're going to read it. . . we've been averaging over 100 miles a day and the little Malibu needs some servicing.

Hoo boy, are we in for it. Paul Koenigsnecht at Mathew's Elevator is going to dust us with a "Purma" cattle duster. "Purma," is the way we printed Purina. It wouldn't be so bad if this were the first time. . . but about a month ago we did the same. . . and at that time we were warned of dire consequences if it ever happened again. P-U-R-I-N-A. See, Paul, we can do it right.

190 pounds. We've been on a diet now for six weeks and so far we've gained 10 pounds. Well, that settles it. The Big M is going to start cooking again. She really isn't a bad cook. She's an unlucky cook. Things happen. She's the only person we know who makes lumpy jelly.

County News Advertising rep Carla Vincent found a friend in DeWitt this week. Cliff Loesch of G & L Sales took a look at her car when she told of strange noises coming from where she thought the engine was. A quick check of the motor showed less oil than in Crisco fried chicken and Cliff explained the noise was the tappets tapping. For his kindness the News will go along with Cliff's being 39 two more years.

Mrs. Irene Beeman, of St. Johns, was first place winner in Andy's IGA 34th anniversary celebration contest. Ed McDowell, assistant manager, presents Mrs. Beeman with her prize, a portable television set. Second prize winner was Kenneth Fedewa, of St. Johns, who was awarded $10, and third prize of $5 went to Mary Gillespie, also of St. Johns. Dan Ritter, of St. Johns, won the booby prize—a wheel barrow full of toilet tissue.

Dr. H. A. Burkhart announced this week the relocation of his office to the Briggs Building at 200 W. State Street. We've never thought about it before but can you imagine the work that must have involved. We mean every dentist's office we've ever been in looks as if the equipment has been set in cement and the office built around it.

We didn't win the portable TV given away by Andy's IGA during their anniversary celebration. We didn't win it, Mrs. Irene Beeman did. We think it's nice Mrs. Beeman won, but we think it's terrible we didn't. So terrible that. . . well, take a look at Andy's ad on page B-12. . . we squashed it.

Be sure and take in St. Johns Sidewalk Days Thursday and Friday. You may be lucky and catch a glimpse of our Big Mama. You see, all the stores will be offering excellent bargains and the Big M is the biggest bargain hunter of them all. So, on what ever day she can find where we buried the check book she's going to get all gussed up in hose and men's galoshes and hitch hike into town.

We received a postcard from our youngest son, Joel, "the Animal" who is vacationing in the U.P. with his brother and "Granny Goodwitch." It read as follows: "Dear Pluto, (our dog) I miss you. It rains every day. Grandma cries a lot. My toad leaks. Sweet Joel."

Does anyone know how to prepare fresh water (like we find around here) clams? We were snorkeling in Loon Lake this past weekend and caught enough clams to feed an army. We put them back when no one could offer any suggestions on how to cook them or even if they were good to eat. If you have a recipe for clams we'd appreciate it if you would send it to: Big Mama c/o Clinton County News, St. Johns.

General Telephone Co. expansion progressing at office in St. Johns

An expansion project at the General Telephone Co. office in St. Johns costing nearly $800,000 is showing signs of completion within the next few months.

Recently completed at the office was a 2,030 square foot extension to the rear of the building costing $250,000.

Equipment is being installed in the new area at a cost of $510,000. An additional $32,500 will be spent for outside cable.

"This new equipment will provide 800 new lines," says Bill

Graef, district manager. "A great many people will change from party lines to private. We will be ready for it."

Graef said the expansion will also mean 500 new telephone numbers.

Construction began on the expansion in November. It measures 58 feet across by 35 feet deep.

Installation of equipment began in February and is expected to be finished by the end of the year.

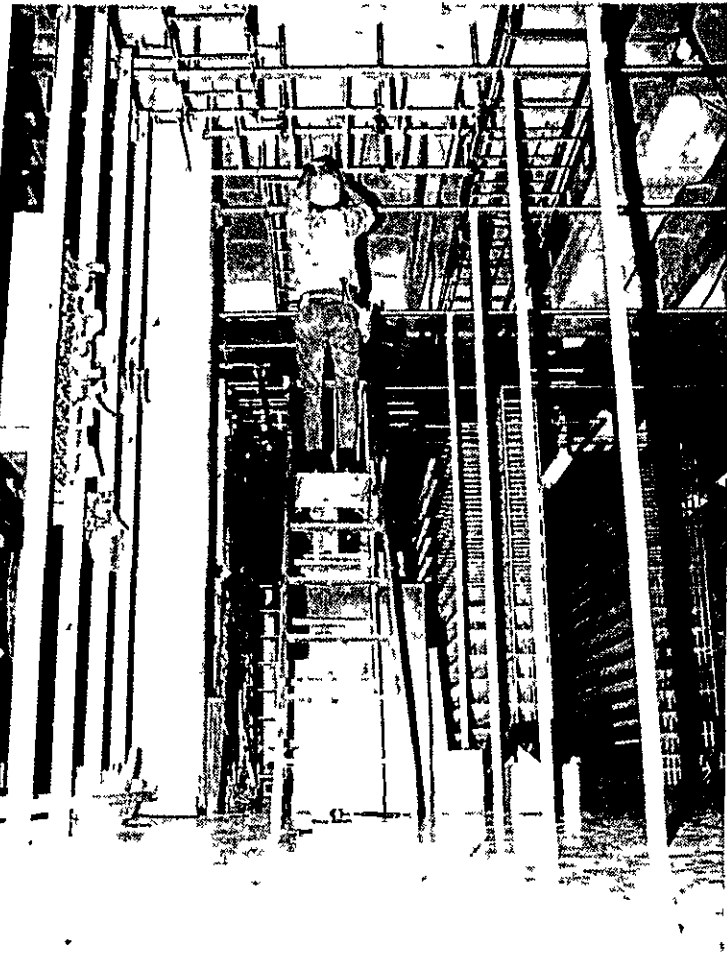

Graef said the new equipment will also provide long distance channels to Crystal, Westphalia, Pewamo, Pompeii, Maple Rapids and Lansing.

"We are now placing a new long distance cable between Ovid and St. Johns," says Graef. "This will provide facilities for more long distance channels east of St. Johns."

Among the new equipment are 24 new ticketers which brings the office total to 74. Ticketers are memory storage units which make records of calls.

Four more switchboard stations are being installed which will bring the number of stations to 15.

Scharnweber completes Gen Tel L-D course

Merritt B. Scharnweber, of St. Johns, a switchman for General Telephone, has completed an advanced course on the operation, testing and maintenance of automatic "toll ticketing" telephone equipment, the equipment which makes possible the individual dialing of station-to-station long distance telephone calls (Direct Distance Dialing).

The specialized course taken by Scharnweber is part of General Telephone's continuing program to provide constantly improving service through well-trained, highly skilled employees.

He was among employee-trainees from all parts of the United States during the training session which was held at Automatic Electric Co., Northlake, Ill., a suburb of Chicago.

Automatic Electric, the telephone equipment manufacturing arm of the General System, and General Telephone are both subsidiaries of General Telephone and Electronics Corporation.

Scharnweber joined General Telephone in 1960. He and his wife, the former Dorothy A. Henning, have six children: Kathryn, Merritt, Candice, Margaret, Paul and Mary Jane.

St. Johns' Eldridge is in music program

John Eldridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Eldridge of Rt. 2, St. Johns, is among 80 high school youths participating in the Youth Music on Campus program at Michigan State University this summer.

Eldridge is a sophomore at St. Johns High School.

The Youth Music program offers the students an intensive four-week study of vocal and instrumental music, involving them in individual study as well as in group performances.

Robert Clark, assistant professor of music at MSU and director of this year's program, says, "Most of the youngsters are very serious, advanced music students and have come here for a very concentrated musical experience."

During their stay on the MSU campus the young musicians prepare and perform three concerts. In addition, they receive applied music lessons and training in music theory from members of the university's music faculty.

Farm program payments stick to early schedule

By WILLIAM M. SMITH, Executive Director, ASCS, Clinton County

About 90 per cent of the 1970 farm program payments earned by producers in Clinton County have been made, according to L. J. Hart, Chairman of the Clinton County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. "Thanks to the fine cooperation of participating farmers, we are well on the way to completing payments in the Feed Grain and Wheat programs," he said. "The U.S. Department of Agriculture this year made a commitment to make farm payments earlier than ever before—and we are keeping that commitment."

Budget restraints this year made it impossible to make any farm payments before July 1, the beginning of the Government's fiscal year.

"As soon as that date arrived, however, farm program payments began," said Hart. "We expect to complete them within the next three weeks here in Clinton County, which will be the earliest date we have ever completed farm program payments."

He said that producers participating in the farm programs have earned payments by helping stabilize markets and by giving up the use of productive cropland that would otherwise have been put into cash crops or other income-producing uses.

Instead, they maintain the land in conserving uses which prevent soil erosion and air and water pollution.

The farm programs in which they participate help achieve a balance between commodity supply and demand. They also help producers work together to curb excess production and strengthen markets.

Hart said, "Success of the early-payment plan has hinged on close cooperation by farmers, and results have been gratifying. Virtually all Clinton County participants accurately certified their compliance with farm program requirements as soon as they could."

"Spot checks made by ASCS personnel on individual farms throughout the county have revealed a very low degree of error in reporting of planted and diverted acres and conserving-use acres by producers in the Feed Grain and Wheat Programs."

It's the 'udder' truth

When Pa wasn't around the boys used to get into milk squirting fights.

Often times they used to make the barn cat smile with a shot of the creamiest milk this side of the next cow. Fact is a fellow could get pretty expert and accurate in milking chores and splashing targets up to ten feet away.

A good milker could finish a cow in six to ten minutes. An amateur—15 to 20 minutes if you first. Moreover, squatting and milking from the edge of a short log or from a fancy three-legged stool didn't make it easier.

Back then, without refrigeration, only dairymen who lived near town marketed drinking milk. Other rural area farms marketed cream because it held up longer.

Time changes. Here in the '70's milk in the dairy case comes from a highly skilled, sanitized and mechanized operation. One of the few things which has not changed, however, is the twice a day milking at 4 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Today the cows are producing more too, more than 9,000 pounds annually. More select cows produce 12 to 14 thousand pounds yearly. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture the big showcase cows milk as much as 20,000 pounds. That's more milking than anyone from a stool wants to tackle, we're sure.

During the '60's great strides were made in dairy. It was an era of innovated marketing and packaging including plastic cartons, plastic bags and advertising.

The USDA says that the '70's will emphasize new product development. For example, we may be seeing iron fortified milk, fruit-flavored milks, and the more exotic fermented or cultured milk foods not now generally available.

In Michigan dairy products account for the largest sold item of all agricultural foodstuffs. In our state's near billion dollar ag-industry, dairy claims 28 per cent. The nearest competitor is cattle and calves at 13 per cent.

Dairy farms in the U.S., however, are thinning ranks and in another ten years, says the USDA, only about half of the now 400,000 farms will be able to stand the economic squeeze. Dairy farms will be larger and herds will average 80 to 75 cows instead of today's average of 30. Cows will also be even more productive.

But of all the predictions by the USDA, a most gratifying one is that dairying will retain its personality as it will essentially remain a family affair.

Michigan wheat growers referendum postponed

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin has announced postponement of the National wheat referendum previously scheduled for July 27-31, according to Nick Smith, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee. The action was authorized by Congress.

The postponement permits the USDA to delay holding the referendum not later than Oct. 15, 1970, or 30 days after Congress adjourns, whichever date is earlier.

Accordingly, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's ASCS, which administers the wheat, feed grain, and similar programs, has instructed its state and county offices across the nation to withhold ballots and other referendum materials, Smith said.

Most wheat growers will remember that Congress postponed the scheduled referendum in 1965, and then passed the Agricultural Act of 1965 which suspended marketing quotas, said Nick Smith, Chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee.

However, the Agricultural Act of 1965 expires at the end of 1970, which means that legislation that was in effect prior to 1965 will apply next year. While the 1965 law was in effect, there were no wheat referendums. Now that the law that was on the books before 1965 applies, we are planning to hold a referendum the last week of July, the Chairman explained.

County ASCS offices expect to send out 1971 wheat allotment notices and ballots, along with an information leaflet, to growers before the referendum.

If two-thirds or more of the producers voting in the referendum indicate "yes" to marketing quotas, the National average price support loan rate will be $1.15 per bushel for all wheat grown on allotted acres. Domestic marketing certificates, applicable to 47 per cent of the allotment, will have a value of $1.39 per bushel, so that the total price support on the domestic-use portion of the crop will be $2.54 per bushel or 90 per cent of parity as of July 1, 1970.

If more than a third of the producers vote "no," wheat grown within allotments will be supported at 50 per cent of July 1971 parity (about $1.41 a bushel). In both cases, the percentage specified is the maximum authorized under the law.

Whatever the outcome of the referendum, substitution between wheat and feed grain acreages, which has been in effect under the 1970 and earlier programs, will not be in effect for 1971 since there is no legislation making this possible.

If marketing quotas for the 1971

crop are approved by a "yes" vote:

1. Domestic wheat marketing certificates will be paid on 47 per cent of the projected production on the allotted acres of participating producers. Price-support loans will be available for all wheat grown on allotted acres.

2. Required diversion will be 36.5 per cent of the producer's 1971 allotment (it is 30.3 per cent for 1970). This diversion of land to non-crop use is required by applicable law.

3. Marketing quota penalties will be applicable on wheat produced on acreage in excess of the farm allotment, amounting to 65 per cent of May 1, 1971 wheat parity plus a seven per cent loss of allotment in 1973 and subsequent years. However, if excess wheat is delivered to the Government, or is stored for release in a subsequent year by underplanting or underproduction, the producer can avoid the monetary and acreage penalties and qualify for price support on production from the allotment, as well as for certificate payments, provided other program requirements are met. Additionally, under some circumstances, a land use penalty may also be assessed if a crop is harvested on acreage required to be diverted.

4. Export marketing certificate payments will be made to producers if the total value of export certificates collected by Commodity Credit Corporation from exporters exceeds the total export subsidies paid by CCC to exporters. Any such excess will be made available pro rata to participating producers at the end of the 1971 marketing year.

If marketing quotas for the 1971 crop are not approved:

1. The National wheat allotment of 43.5 million acres will remain in effect.

2. Price support loans at 50 per cent of parity will be available to producers who stay within their allotments and comply with applicable terms and conditions.

3. There will be no marketing quota or land use monetary penalties.

4. Wheat acreage harvested in excess of 1971 farm allotments will result in a seven per cent loss of allotment in 1973 and subsequent years.

A "yes" vote by two-thirds of those voting is required by law in order for marketing quotas to be put into effect.

The 1971 National wheat marketing quota has been set at 1,210 million bushels, and the National allotment at 43.5 million acres. A farm allotment is the farmer's share, as reflected in its wheat acreage history, of the National allotment. The farm marketing quota is the full production from the farm allotment.

State milk production is up one percent

Michigan milk production in June was estimated 412 million pounds, according to the Michigan Crop Reporting Service.

This was one per cent below June of 1969 and one per cent above June of 1968.

Milk production per cow was 880 pounds, the same as a year earlier.

The number of Michigan cows on farms in June was 468,000, a decrease of one per cent from a year earlier.

United States milk production in June was estimated at 10,750 million pounds, about the same as a year earlier.

Daily average production for June was up about one per cent from May, the same gain as a year earlier.

June output provided 1.74 pounds of milk per person daily for all uses, compared with 1.73 pounds a month earlier and 1.76 pounds a year earlier.

Production during the first half of 1970 was about .3 per cent more than a year earlier.

Of the five leading milk-producing states, production was up in New York, California and Pennsylvania, but down slightly in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Agri-auto

The economic value of Michigan's agricultural complex is exceeded only by that of the automotive industry. Michigan tops the list in the production of red tart cherries, navy beans and blueberries. Michigan also ranks high in the production of peaches, cucumbers, potatoes, milk, mint, maple syrup, sugar beets, poultry and soft white winter wheat.

1970 crop wheat loans key to orderly marketing

Weather permitting, the Michigan wheat harvest should be in the full swing in the next few days according to Nick Smith, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The small quantity of wheat, he stated, that has already been harvested is of good quality with medium moisture but has been largely the soft red wheat variety. He reminded producers of the orderly marketing feature of the price support loan program. Smith cautioned producers to keep currently informed on market conditions because of the anticipated short crop of Michigan soft white wheat.

The 1970 wheat crop is estimated to be about 23 million bushels which is down about eight million bushels from Michigan's average crop and the second year in a row for a short crop of Michigan white wheat.

Current market prices, he added, are above the support loan levels but may dip as harvest gets in full swing.

About 59 per cent of the Michigan wheat farms, Smith stated, have been signed up under the Wheat Program. However, since some producers have diverted all of their wheat allotment, only about 34 per cent of the eligible farmers will be growing wheat and will be eligible for price support loans.

Many 1968 and 1969 crop wheat producers who stored their wheat benefited handsomely from the increased market prices in the spring of 1970. Orderly marketing, Smith added, can be the key to more profitable wheat prices.

Eligible farmers can obtain price support loans through their local county ASCS offices on wheat stored either on the farm, in acceptable storages or in approved warehouses. Loan rates for U.S. grade No. 1 wheat in Michigan's heavy wheat producing areas vary from $1.12 to $1.27 per bushel.

If the wheat harvest is delayed because of poor weather, wheat may be seriously damaged. Loans will still be available, Smith pointed out, at a discount even for damaged wheat if it will keep in storage. Smith emphasized the fact that the ASCS program bene-

State Crop Report

By MICHIGAN CROP REPORTING SERVICE

WEEK ENDING JULY 18

Wet weather continued to slow field work in much of the state. Heavy rains and standing water caused additional damage to dry beans. However, the heavy rains in the Upper Peninsula relieved dry soil conditions in that area. Soil moisture supplies range from surplus in many East Central and Southeastern localities to adequate to surplus elsewhere. The state averaged 3.7 days suitable for field work.

Rains and wet fields delayed the start of wheat harvest on many farms in the Central and East Central counties.

Considerable lodging and some sprouting of wheat has occurred. Wheat harvest progress ranges from about 45 per cent harvested in the Southeast to one-third in the Southwest and only 20 per cent in the South Central.

Harvest is just starting in the East Central portion of the State. About 45 per cent of the State's wheat acreage is ripe, but only 17 per cent has been harvested. About five per cent of the oat acreage is ripe and a few fields have been harvested.

Some dry bean acreage has been lost from flooding while excessive moisture has retarded growth in areas not drowned out. Early planted beans on well drained fields have made a good vine growth.

Corn and soybean growth ranges from good to excellent on well drained land. Some corn has been drowned out in low spots or growth retarded by excessive moisture.

Heavy rains in the Upper Peninsula were beneficial to potatoes in that area. Potatoes have developed well elsewhere. Some early potatoes have been dug in Bay county. Sugar beets continue to develop well.

The rains of the week damaged some cut hay, especially in the Upper Peninsula, where only about three-fourths of the first cutting has been made. Some second cutting hay was damaged in Southern Michigan.

Lower Peninsula pastures are supplying average to above average amounts of feed. Some Upper Peninsula pastures supplied less than average amounts of feed because of previous dry weather.

Heavy rains hampered the harvest of vegetables in the Imlay City area. The fresh market tomato harvest has started in Monroe county.

The pickle harvest has started in the Southwest, and in the Lansing area started July 20 in the Saginaw area. The celery harvest continues in the Muskegon-Zeeland area. Other vegetables continue to develop well.

Michigan cattle on feed up 14 pct.

Michigan cattle feeders had 150,000 cattle and calves on feed July 1, 1970, according to the Michigan Crop Reporting Service.

This was down seasonally from last quarters 209,000 head, but 14 per cent above the 132,000 head on feed one year ago.

Placements of feeders during the April-July quarter totaled 25,000 head, up 19 per cent from the same quarter last year.

Movement of fat cattle out of feedlots during this same period totaled 84,000, 18 per cent more than a year earlier.

By weight groups, 15 per cent of the 150,000 head on feed weighed under 700 pounds and 85 per cent weighed over 700 pounds. This compares to 20 per cent and 80 per cent for these respective weight breakdowns on July 1, 1969.

Steers made up 89 per cent of the cattle and calves on feed July 1—four per centage points more than the July quarter last year and two points more than last quarter. Heifers accounted for 10 per cent of the total on feed—down four per cent from last year.

Expected marketings during the next quarter are estimated at 84,000 head.

If realized, this will be 14 per cent more than the number shipped in the July-September quarter in 1969.

Cattle and calves on feed in the United States July 1 for slaughter market totaled 10,596,000 head in the 22 major feeding States, two per cent more than a year earlier.

Cattle and calves on feed July 1, 1970 in the North Central Region totaled 6,219,000 head, one per cent more than a year earlier.

Iowa, the largest feeding state, had three per cent less cattle on feed than a year earlier.

States showing increases from a year earlier were Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, South Dakota, and Kansas. The remaining states showed declines.

The largest percentage increase—18 per cent—was in Kansas. Missouri had the greatest percentage decline in number of cattle on feed—11 per cent below a year earlier.

There were 4,377,000 cattle and calves on feed in the 10 Western States, three per cent more than a year earlier.

Texas, the largest feeding state in this region had 1,353,000 head, 13 per cent more than a year earlier.

California showed a 12 per cent decrease.

Decreases were also reported in Montana, New Mexico, Arizona, Washington and Oregon while Oklahoma, Idaho, and Colorado had larger numbers on feed than a year earlier.

It takes shopping sense

By HELEN B. MEACH Extension Home Economist

Everybody likes a bargain, but there's more to shopping sense than bargain hunting. Shopping sense involves knowing what, how, where and when to make purchases for your family.

As a good shopper you need to take time to know what you and your family really want. It sounds simple.

But how many times have you bought a certain kind of dress for your daughter and then found out it wasn't what she wanted? Or, how many times have you bought something for the house that didn't fit in, or was hard to care for, or left no money for something else you wanted?

You are rare if you can buy everything you want. Most homemakers must carefully choose which things and services to buy with their scarce dollars.

This decision is the basis of good shopping sense.

The "how" of shopping sense includes planning ahead and discussing the plan with the family, especially if the purchase is a big one.

It includes getting information about quality and performance, and comparing products and prices. A shopping list will save time and confusion. It will also help avoid excessive impulse buying.

Choose a store that stands behind its products. Which store has the right price for you? Which offers price savings that more than balance the cost of traveling to get there? Are savings worth the cost in time? Do you forfeit a guarantee or store backing with price savings? What services are important to you? Are they worth the cost?

Answers to these questions will help you decide where to shop.

In deciding when to shop, take advantage of sales that offer real value for reduced prices. Seasonal sales, such as white sales, annual anniversary sales in long-established stores, some year-end sales and weekly grocery "specials" are this type. Buy if the goods offered meet your needs. But check to be sure prices really are sale prices.

Shop early in the sale to be sure of good color and size selection. Early in the day and early or mid-week is a good time to shop. This helps you avoid the frustration of crowded stores and difficult transportation.

Try to avoid shopping when you are tired. It's hard to make decisions, and your judgment isn't at its best when fatigue takes over.

Contrary to some people's beliefs, shopping sense isn't a natural endowment. It's a skill you build with thought and experience. The rewards? Satisfaction and pleasure in shopping and the knowledge that you're using whatever resources you have to the best possible advantage for your family.

Questions to ask yourself about carpeting the kitchen

By LORRAINE SPRAGUE Extension Home Economist

More and more people ask—"Should I carpet my kitchen floor?" It's a question each homemaker must answer for herself. However perhaps some of the facts about requirements of satisfactory kitchen carpeting and some questions to ask oneself may be helpful in coming to a decision.

For carpeting to perform well in a kitchen there are a few basic requirements to keep in mind when making such a purchase.

They must be composed of stain-resistant fibers. No fiber is stain-proof! Nylon, acrylic and polypropylene olefin fibers all resist staining with each perhaps resisting one type of stain, better than other types. So a homemaker needs to know her carpet fiber, know the stain and know how to care for it. She needs to be knowledgeable before a stain occurs.

Successful kitchen carpet fibers have low water absorbency which means spills remain on the surface and give you time to blot them up.

Smooth surfaces, or low, tightly packed pile are easy to clean. Crumbs and dirt remain on the surface instead of hiding deeply.

Backings must be mildew-resistant. In general sponge rubber backings or synthetic primary backings are not damaged by moisture.

Color does much to conceal soiling. You'll find medium value colors (neither light nor dark) and mixtures of colors such as you find in tweeds are the best for this job.

Now some questions to ask yourself. Does the back entrance lead directly to my kitchen, or is there some kind of arrangement whereby some soil will be removed from dirty shoes before they step into my kitchen?

Are my children old enough so there will be few spills? Are our household pets likely to cause stains? Am I a careless cook, frequently dropping food or other soiling substances on the floor? Do I have the habit of wiping up spills and stains at once? If this isn't a part of your house-keeping system perhaps you should ask yourself "Will I learn to clean up spills as soon as they occur? And finally, ask, am I willing to vacuum daily?"

Honest answers to these questions, plus knowledge of the requirements for satisfactory kitchen carpeting will give you your own answer to the question "Should I carpet my kitchen floor?"

You're invited to an old-fashioned "Savings Celebration" for Kroger's 87th Anniversary Sale

Way back in 1883, on a street facing the Ohio River in Cincinnati, a tiny grocery store opened its doors. That was Kroger's modest beginning. Our founder lived by the principle "be more particular than your most particular customer". That principle has been the guideline on which Kroger has grown and prospered.

Today, as we celebrate our 87th Anniversary, we can offer you the advantages in savings, convenience and efficient service that only a giant multi-billion dollar organization can. At the same time we try to run each store on a personal basis, as our founder did - with a friendliness and helpfulness you might expect only in a small neighborhood store.

'Yes' to road plan

We support the Clinton County Highway Commission proposal for a one and one-half mill levy for the improvement of county roads.

In our judgment the request is realistic and based on sound planning which, if granted, will provide county residents greatly improved roads in a much shorter period of time.

The road commission and entire staff have worked diligently toward a constantly improved program in the county. This interest should be matched by similar concern among the voters who reap the benefits.

We encourage a yes vote on the millage proposal August 4.

Eternal optimists

Hope springs eternal they say. Those may not be the exact words of the ancient expression, but they at least serve to illuminate the deep-running strain of optimism that keeps American businessmen going despite the odds.

What is there for a businessman to do but plan to move ahead? It is as instinctive as breathing. After all, people have to eat, they have to live and, in spite of all the fiasco theories, they will continue to work to achieve these ends.

Generations of change

If each new generation failed to start out with high ideals and an urge to improve upon the past, civilization would indeed be short-lived. The only trouble is that each succeeding generation seems to believe it is the first to awaken to a need for change.

Youth today must build on the progress of the past. Those who recognize that there has been progress in the past are the best qualified builders of a better future.

Deadlines

Because we haven't heard of a newspaper that suddenly materializes with all news, advertising copy and pictures in place and in A-1 condition, it becomes necessary for the Clinton County News to impose deadlines to insure a smooth flow of copy so that as much material as possible may be printed in proper form.

Drive-in violence

By JIM FITZGERALD

This is about violence or the generation gap or, maybe, just bugs. You figure it out.

On the fourth night of a beach vacation, our family finally grew tired of telling lies about how nice it was without TV. We decided to go to the nearest drive-in movie, no matter what was on.

The marquee said "The Losers", which meant nothing to us.

"It must be a movie about husbands," I told my wife.

If it is, the children shouldn't be allowed to see it," she answered.

As it turned out, no one should be allowed to see it. It's one of those motorcycle films that are currently turning kids on. I'd never seen one before. Gee, I thought, this is my chance to broaden my perspective and reach out across the generation gap. Maybe I'll learn what that kid was trying to tell me last month when he tore up my lawn with his motorcycle.

(Also, I thought very quietly, maybe there'll be a little nudity for turning older men on.)

But no, no, no. It was all shooting and slugging and bombing mixed in with a great spinning of wheels and roaring of motors. There was a little sex but every time a guy found the right-on girl, he got a bullet in the head and she got his blood all over her best skin.

The plot was about how these guys on motorcycles won an important battle in Vietnam. Only maybe they lost it. It didn't really matter, because no one knew whose side they were on anyway.

The important thing was the moral: the uptight establishment shouldn't misjudge these muddy youths simply because they wear earrings and continually kick people in the groin. Everyone must do his thing.

But I couldn't stomach all that violence. My attention wandered to the car windows where many bugs were bumping against the glass, trying to get inside. These are power windows which can be controlled by the driver. I began to play a fascinating game. I'd lower a window a crack. When a bug would start to enter, I'd shoot the window up, trying to squash it.

This gave me a feeling of real power. By employing great dexterity, I could work 4 windows at once, thus tantalizing and abusing dozens of bugs. They had no way of knowing they were up against a master fiend, heh, heh, heh.

My wife and kids wanted to know what the devil I was doing.

"I'm doing my thing," I answered. "Besides, I don't like the movie. It's too violent." I'd never kick a mosquito in the groin.

TAKING FIVE

The Tiger trip

By RON HUARD

Half the young people in Clinton County must have been at Tiger Stadium last Saturday and they couldn't have picked a finer day for the trip. To the delight of DeWitt Little Leaguers, St. Joseph Altar Boys and a million 4-H'ers, the Bengals bombed the White Sox.

I happened to be along as a driver for the altar boys and after seeing the number of lads in that group I couldn't help but wonder why we so frequently end up with missing acolytes on Sunday. . . maybe we oughta hold batting practice after each mass, . . . or at least serve hot dogs. . .

Nevertheless, a day in the ball park has become a traditional outing for leaders of young groups to arrange and as near as I can tell there are few other things that would satisfy quite as readily. They really have a wee of a time.

Aside from eating and drinking tons of stuff they seldom sit still for a full half inning. One golden ager who had the misfortune of having a seat in the middle of three-four hundred kids truly had a haggard look at game's end. In addition, he might have passed for a pantry shelf what with all the mustard, ketchup and ice cream spots on his clothes. I hope for his sake he had a long memory to recall younger days of his own. . . if not he's probably in some intensive care unit right now.

The kids don't have much time for chit-chat, either. I stopped two or three youngsters from the DeWitt Little League to ask how many were in their group. "I dunno," was the first reply and it came from the back of a head five steps up into the stadium. "Geez, don't ask me," was the second answer and the third kid simply stared at me and continued walking up the steps. Later, however, I did collar another lad and while he didn't know how many there were he sort of answered a different query.

"Whose in charge of your group?" I asked.

"Uuuuhhh. I dunno. . . Oh, yea, Mr. Sanchez. . . I guess."

I'm not sure where all this rambling leads us, but I do know one thing for certain. The kids knew where they were and why they were there. . . to cheer the Tigers to victory and to spill their goodies on old folks who happened to choose seats nearby.

Another 'mandate'?

By TIM YOUNKMAN

With the primary election day approaching, we, perhaps unwittingly, will be duped once more.

We will fall into that semantic trap that newsmen and victorious politicians use to describe their election to office. They declare that they have received a mandate of the people.

The word mandate means simply to receive authorization from the voters to represent them in the government.

But, the word has been used as something akin to a landslide victory and a license to act as though any action taken by the victor will be with the automatic approval of the voters.

As you know, the man that is voted into power does not always act or perform in the manner desired by his constituents.

It is also possible to assume that the person elected may not have the support of a majority of his constituents.

For example, the 1968 Presidential election results indicated that a majority of those who voted preferred someone other than Richard Nixon. Even though Mr. Nixon has many of the same ideas and goals favored by most of the voters, there was a sharp division at the time of his election regarding the method of achieving the results. It is obvious that during the past two years, the division has developed into polarization.

To ignore the wishes of a large minority of the population, in favor of another minority, especially in these immensely complex times, is committing social suicide.

A mandate, rightly or wrongly administered, in 1776, caused world-wide implications even though the number of voters and the number of citizens were small. Today, a minority of the people possibly could reach over 100 million people. And that is quite a bit of power to ignore.

Our own history testifies to the fact that Revolutions have been fought with relatively small numbers. Imagine what would happen with 100 million people, simply because one word or one small idea was misinterpreted.

When we go to the polls Tuesday, we should know the candidates we vote for and evaluate their sincerity in dealing with the problems of government.

We must know what the real issues are, not what someone tells us they are. We must in short, think for ourselves. It is the duty and obligation of the person elected to include the feelings and problems of ALL those he represents, not just those who voted for him.

It's the duty of his constituents to vote, scrutinize and criticize the performance. This process must supercede party lines, racial lines and religious lines.

It is the duty of both the voter and the official to sincerely define the problems and solve them together.

Whether your candidate wins next week or loses will depend on your voting franchise.

Whether he serves the majority of his constituents or a favored fraction depends on your courage and intelligence.

COMMENTS FROM OTHER PAPERS

ALAMO, Tex., NEWS: "On the basis of test runs, 'Census officials expect about half of the questionnaires returned will be inaccurate or incomplete. . . Press report. It seems that people who often charge the Government with inefficiency don't rate very high in efficiency themselves."

KING FERRY, N.Y., TRIBUNE & NEWS: "If our elected representatives wish to act in good faith, then they should first endeavor to do the job for which they were elected. . . to effectively represent without thinking whether the vote they cast will be a political issue in the next election. We need representatives who are secure in the knowledge that regardless of the outcome of any coming elections, that they have acted, in their opinion, in the best interests of their constituents. View from the 87th Final survey report

By REP. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

This is my final report on the response to my 1970 legislative questionnaire.

When asked if they felt the penalty for possession and/or use of marijuana is too harsh (up to 10 years in prison) and should be substantially reduced, only 20.7 per cent said Yes; 68 per cent said No; and 11.3 per cent were Undecided.

But 71.4 per cent favored a compulsory course for elementary or junior high school students on the subject of narcotics. Only 18.2 per cent opposed this idea, and 10.4 per cent were Undecided.

When asked if they felt the state should screen contents of courses in sex education rather than continue to leave such decisions to local school officials, 42.1 per cent said Yes; 45.5 per cent said No; and 12.4 per cent were Undecided.

In the field of education, 50.8 per cent of my 1,981 respondents felt the Legislature should provide more state money for "vocational-technical training" programs in our K-12 schools than is presently being spent. 35.4 per cent felt enough or too much was being spent and 13.8 per cent were undecided.

There was general support of two planks in Gov. Milliken's educational reform program and general opposition to two others.

For example, 64.4 per cent agreed that there should be a statewide pupil testing program in reading and mathematical skills in grades 1, 2, 4, 7, and 10, while 24.8 per cent felt there shouldn't be and 10.8 per cent were undecided.

Also, 54 per cent thought the idea of some sort of teacher incentive pay plan a good one while 25.2 per cent didn't and 20.8 per cent were undecided.

On the other hand, only 25.2 per cent favored amending the Constitution to eliminate the elected State Board of Education, replacing it with a State Director of Education or an appointive board by the Governor with Senate approval. 54.9 per cent didn't, and 19.9 per cent were undecided.

Also, Clinton and Shiawassee Counties—with a host of small

K-12 public school districts—didn't like the idea of reorganizing and consolidating all local districts so that there would be a minimum of 2000 students in each one. Only 18.5 of my respondents favored this idea, while 61.4 per cent opposed it, and 20.1 per cent were undecided.

I concluded my questionnaire with six general questions on a wide variety of topics.

First, should the property tax exemptions on church-owned properties, other than church buildings themselves, be removed? A strong 66.6 per cent said Yes; 27.6 per cent said No; and 5.8 per cent had No Opinion.

Under present law, the secretary of state's office reaps substantial revenue selling vehicle registration lists to anybody, including solicitors and mail-order houses, at a rate of $10 per 1,000 names.

When asked if they felt the Legislature should pass a law prohibiting the secretary of state from this practice, 77.5 said Yes; 15.8 said No; and 6.7 were undecided.

When asked if they felt legislative out-of-state study trips (sometimes unflatteringly referred to as junkets) can be beneficial to good government, only 35.1 per cent said Yes; 46.4 per cent said No; and 18.5 per cent were Undecided.

When asked "if they felt the purposes of these field trips" have in any way been abused, 78.5 per cent said Yes; only 3.9 answered No; and 17.6 per cent were Undecided.

I am happy to report that a nearly unanimous 97 per cent said they felt their state representative should send questionnaires and newsletters from time to time, to his constituents. Less than 1 per cent (8 per cent to be exact) felt he shouldn't, and 2.2 per cent were Undecided.

76.1 per cent said they felt better informed about the Legislature and state government than they did a year ago, perhaps in small part because of the newsletters, but 13 per cent said they did not feel any better informed and 10.9 per cent were undecided.

Listen . . . He's hip

By REV. HUGH BANNINGA

Do you know where the following quotation comes from?

"No one can be a slave to two masters; he will hate the one and love the other; he will be loyal to one and despise the other. You cannot serve both God and money. . . . This is why I tell you: do not be worried about the food and drink you need to stay alive, or about clothes for your body. After all, isn't life worth more than food? And isn't the body worth more than clothes? Look at the birds flying around; they do not plant seeds, gather a harvest, and put it in barns; your Father in heaven takes care of them! Aren't you worth much more than birds? Which one of you can live a few more years by worrying about it?"

"Anyway, why worry about clothes? Look how the wild flowers grow: they do not work or make clothes for themselves. But I tell you that not even Solomon as rich as he was, had clothes as beautiful as one of these flowers. It is God who clothes the wild grass—grass that is here today, gone tomorrow, and burned up in the oven. Will he not be all the more sure to clothe you? How little is your faith! So do not start worrying: "Where will my food come from? Or my drink? Or my clothes?" (These are the things the heathen are always after). Your Father in heaven knows that you need all these things. Instead, give first place to his Kingdom and to what he requires, and he will provide you with all these other things. So do not worry about tomorrow; it will have enough worries of its own. There is no need to add to the troubles each day brings."

Now suppose, for a moment, that you didn't know that it was Jesus who spoke these words. Pretend that you are hearing them from a shabby and bearded student on the campus of MSU. You are a member of the Establishment and the student is anti-Establishment and he is trying to tell you what life is all about—and how your life is all wrong. He is telling you that you are "up tight" about food, drink and clothes—that you are too concerned about keeping a steady and abundant supply of groceries, drinks and new clothes coming your way.

As you listen to this "hippy" character, you begin to get a little irritated, because of his ridiculous logic. He tells you that the birds don't go around planting seeds and harvesting crops—God takes care of the bird's needs. So God will take care of your needs. Then he says that the flowers don't make clothes for themselves and they are more beautiful than any of the clothes that King Solomon had in his closet.

This student concludes his speech with the simple directive that all we have to do is to obey God's commands and He will see to it that we are adequately fed and clothed.

Yes, this student has life all figured out. It is a simple, uncluttered existence. Don't be "up tight", be loving. It's as simple as that. But you and I, members of the establishment, know it's different, don't we? We know it's ridiculous for us to believe that if we just sit around all day "loving" everybody, God will provide three square meals a day and new outfits of clothing every three or six months.

No, life just isn't like that. People have to work for their food and clothing. So after listening politely to this student's philosophy of life, we turn and walk away from him, shaking our heads.

We have turned away from this student, because of his long hair and his radical ideas. But we know that Jesus spoke those words quoted in the beginning of the article and He had long hair and many of his teachings were radical. Do we, then, turn away from Jesus? Do we turn Him off, because he was anti-Establishment?

I don't know about you, but I don't turn him off, because He is different from our hypothetical student, Jesus couldn't have been advocating a "no need to work" policy, because He himself was a master carpenter. He learned the trade from his father. He knew that we must earn our livelihood if we would eat.

Besides this fact, I don't turn Jesus off, because He is the Son of God and my personal Savior. This is what makes Him different from the student, and so I'll listen to His words, because they are grounded in divine truth rather than in man's truth.

is now open on Tuesdays and Thursdays, from noon to 5 p.m.

UAW organizer, Bill Cross, will be in the office on those days to talk to workers interested in possible organization of their plants. He is particularly interested in seeing employees of Federal-Mogul and Sealed Power. Cross also can be contacted at the UAW Owosso Office, Ph. 723-5186.

IT'S JUST GOOD BUSINESS TO JOIN THE UAW

The Rt. Rev. Bernard J. Sheil Catholic Bishop once said: "If a Non-Union worker in a partially organized industry is receiving a good income, it is quite probably because his Non-Union employer, in order" to keep the Union out, "meets, or nearly meets, the higher wage and hours standard of Union establishments. Clearly such Non-Union employees are eating the fruits of others sacrifices. The workers in the Union shops perhaps risked their jobs to get their Union recognized, and pay monthly dues to keep it going. It is a categorical injustice for Non-Union employees, enjoying the common benefits, to refuse to carry their share of the common burden".

Credit Cards Can Ease Way To Pay for Car Maintenance

The familiar sign "We Trust in the Lord—All Others Pay Cash," is becoming increasingly rare in automotive service facilities. A growing number of facilities and the motorists they serve are putting their trust in credit cards.

The trend is having a significant effect on the service industry. The motorist need no longer delay vital repair work until he can raise the ready cash. And the facility owner has a list of benefits including simplified billing procedures. Also, it is no longer necessary to keep large amounts of cash on the premises.

Gasoline stations, more than 200,000 of them, are the most common areas of credit servicing. Virtually all oil companies offer credit cards to customers, primarily for gasoline, oil and minor repair services. Also, oil companies are allowing such service as tune-ups to be charged on credit cards.

Independent service outlets numbering more than 114,000 are climbing on the credit bandwagon in ever growing volume. Many honor credit cards from banks, travel organizations and individual facility credit card set-ups.

The more than 33,000 auto dealership service departments are also showing increased interest in financing repair work through a wide variety of credit sources.

Many banks will extend personal loans for needed repair work at going commercial rates consistent with state usury laws.

As a result, there is no need for a person with established credit to risk driving an undependable, unsafe car because he doesn't have the ready cash.

For him, good transportation is in the cards — credit cards.

THINK

Driving with a burned out headlamp or broken tail light is thoughtless and dangerous. Give your lights a thought and light the way. Check them for condition and aim. Make sure you are seen in the right places.

About 80 percent of all families own at least one automobile. One out of three own more than one car.

HOT NEWS ON BRAKES

In an average day's driving — and stopping — your car's brakes build up enough energy to heat your home. Can your brakes stand up to this kind of torture? Have them checked frequently.

Your Car Acting Up?

When your old, faithful car still acts old after a good tune-up, the problem may lie in deep in the heart of its engine. Valve work, rings, bearings or a combination of these services may be indicated.

What are the symptoms of needed engine work and how much might it cost? The engineers of McQuay-Norris Manufacturing Company, a major manufacturer of engine components, offer the following guide lines. Price estimates are based on a popular, standard sized car.

SYMPTOMS: Engine jumping or loping, Lack of power, Poor Gas mileage.

POSSIBLE WORK NEEDED: Valve Job — A simple (and usually free) vacuum test will show if one or two valves are badly burned.

Costs: $70.00 to $100.00 depending on engine type (6 cyl. or 8 cyl.) and amount of work needed.

SYMPTOMS: Low key rumbling sound in engine, Oil consumption.

POSSIBLE WORK NEEDED: New Bearings.

Costs: Between $35.00 and $50.00.

SYMPTOMS: Using too much oil, Power loss, Car stalling, Fouling spark plugs.

POSSIBLE WORK NEEDED: Ring Job.

Costs: $100.00 to $155.00 depending on engine type (6 cyl. or 8 cyl.).

SYMPTOMS: Low key rumbling sound in engine, Oil consumption, Using too much oil, Power loss, Car stalling, Fouling Spark Plugs.

POSSIBLE WORK NEEDED: Ring and Bearing Job.

Costs: $125.00 to $185.00 depending on engine type (6 cyl. or 8 cyl.).

Our Sport Fury more than makes it. Because we make it with more.

Our big 318 cu. in. V-8 is standard. But you can have an optional 383 (2-barrel or 4-barrel) or a 440 4-barrel just by saying the word.

Our basic Unibody has over 4000 individual welds to make it strong and quiet.

Standard. No one else in Plymouth's class can say that.

That "shiny-limousine" finish is not only beautiful, but practical. Fury's 7-step dip-and-spray treatment is a real rust resister.

And the two coats of acrylic enamel can be buffed back to showroom lustre even after years of exposure to the elements. That

Chance of Mishap Is Estimated By Safety Council

What are a driver's chances of having an accident in his lifetime? According to the National Safety Council, it depends partly on the distance he drives.

A person who drives 12,000 miles a year has one chance in three of having some kind of an accident. There is one chance in four that damage will be limited to property, one in 40 that there will be at least one injury, and one in 1,300 for a fatality.

One who travels 8,000 miles a year stands one chance in five for any accident, one chance in six for a property damage accident, one in 55 for an injury accident, and one in 2,000 for a fatal one.

A driver who goes 4,000 miles a year has one chance in 10 for any accident, one in 11 that only property will be damaged, one in 110 that there will be personal injuries, and one in 4,000 that it will result in death.

A driver must keep his car — and himself — in the best possible traveling condition to improve those odds, the Council says.

Wise Driver Keeps
Fire Extinguisher
In Car

The wise motorist carries a fully-charged fire extinguisher in his car at all times. When you need it there is no substitute.

The preferred extinguisher is the stored pressure dry chemical type. This type can be used on any kind of fire and does not create toxic gases as do vaporizing liquid types. It should have at least 2½ pounds capacity.

Two kinds of such extinguishers are available. One uses a throw-away refill cylinder. The other must be taken to an extinguisher service shop for recharging. Either is suitable.

The extinguisher should be reserved for emergency use only. If you intend to use an extinguisher for other purposes, such as putting out a campfire, carry spares.

Car Care Calendar

No one ever planned a car breakdown. The annoying inconvenience a breakdown produces makes them as welcome as an overdrawn notice from the bank.

Conversely, few people ever plan a maintenance schedule to insure against breakdowns. However, the wise car owner will schedule his car's servicing needs on a routine basis to avoid a sudden and sometimes expensive loss of transportation.

Here's a list of necessary services, listed according to when they should be performed. Items preceded by an asterisk (*) are based on normal wear or service cycle.

MONTHLY — check radiator level, fan belt, transmission oil, tires, battery, windshield washer fluid, lights.

EVERY TWO MONTHS — in addition to the above, change engine oil, test anti-air pollution system.

EVERY FOUR MONTHS — Change oil filter, clean air filter.

EVERY SIX MONTHS — Have an engine check, *lubricate the chassis, test battery, check wiper blades, brake system, wheel alignment, wheel balance, rotate tires.

EVERY TWELVE MONTHS — *Flush cooling system, *install new antifreeze, *repack front wheel bearings, *replace anti-air pollution elements, major engine tune-up.

EVERY 24 MONTHS — *Replace fan belt, *radiator hoses, *radiator cap, *thermostat, *wiper arms, *exhaust system, *universal joints, *shock absorbers, *major brake service.

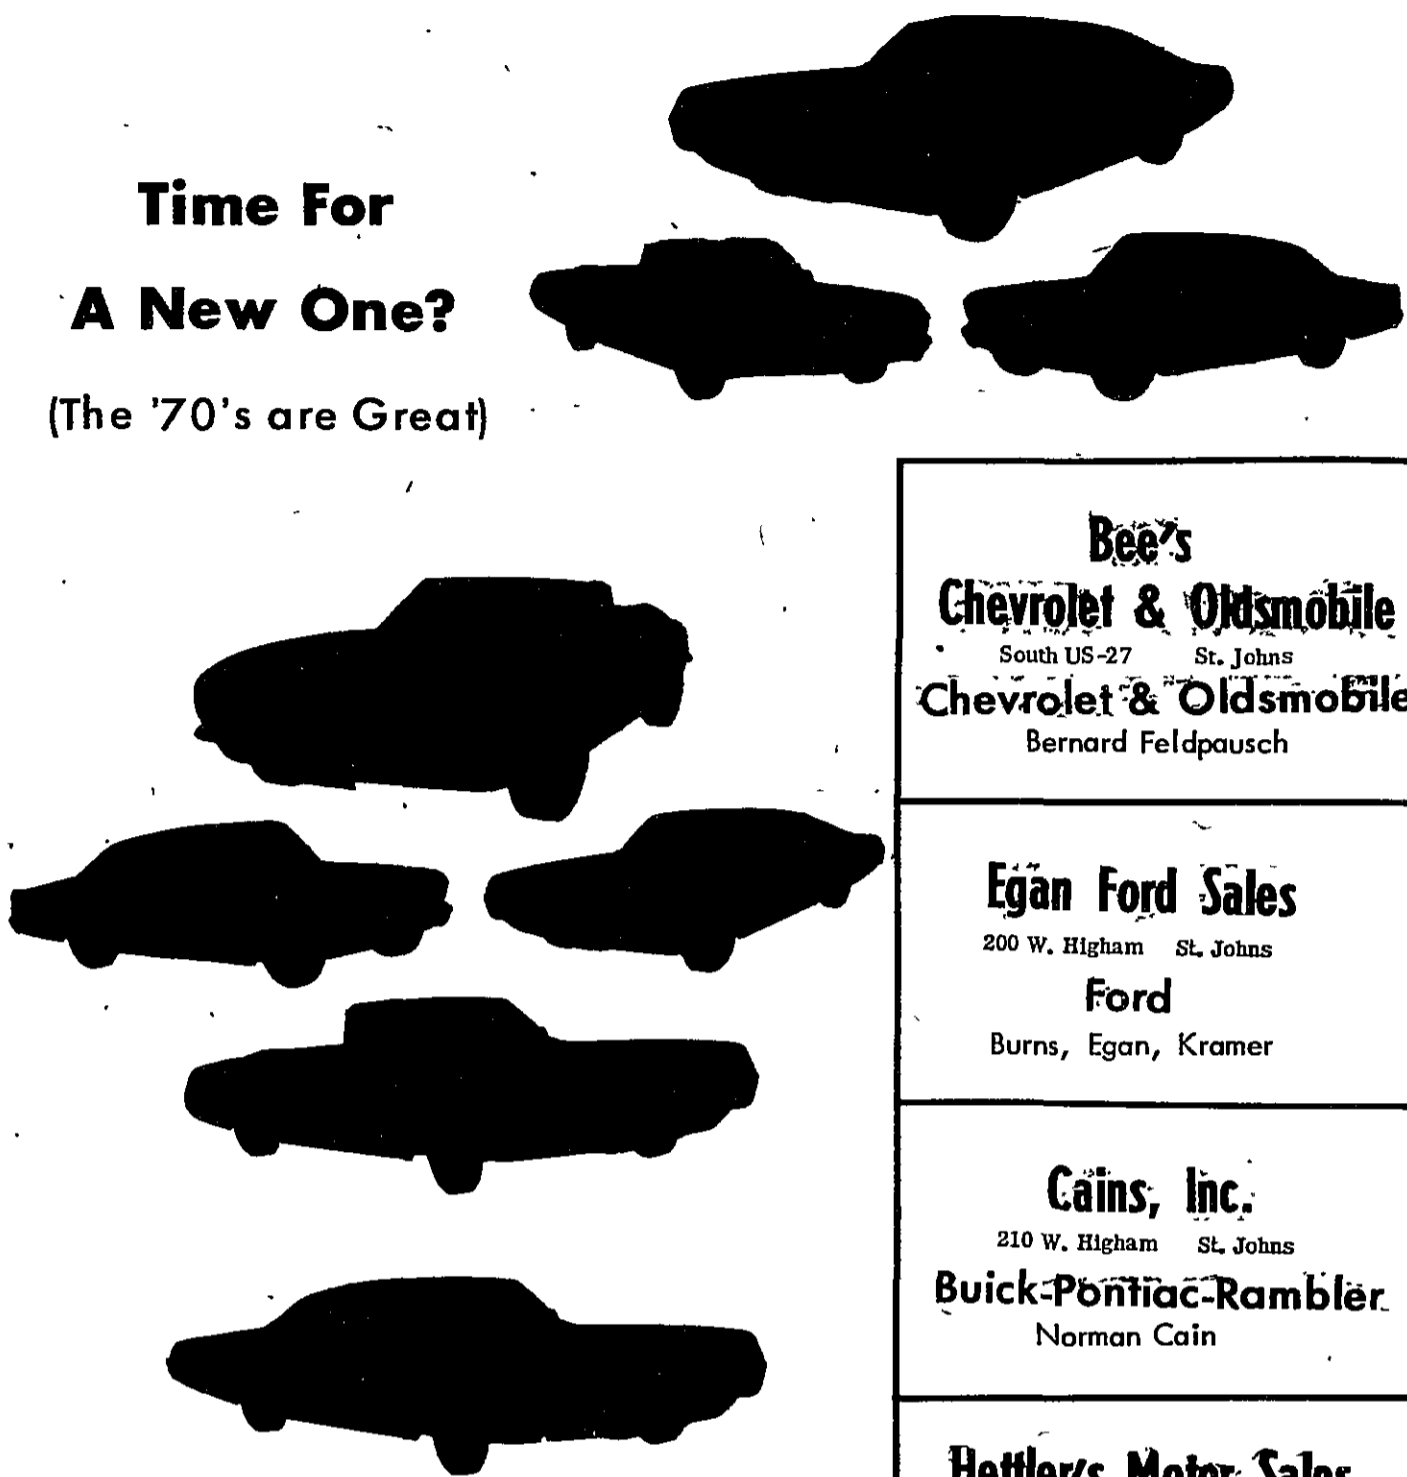

EVERY 30 MONTHS — *Replace battery and cables, *adjust transmission linkage, *replace tires.

By having all these services performed and by taking normal care of the appearance of your car, you'll do more than have dependable transportation at all times. You'll be driving a car as good as new when that final car payment is made. And that will help you from getting those overdrawn notices from the bank.

Use Caution When You Remove Radiator Cap

The simple act of removing the cap from an overheated car radiator can lead to painful, sometimes disfiguring, scalds and burns.

Cooling systems in modern autos are often under such tremendous pressure that the sudden de-pressurization which occurs when the safety radiator cap is removed can cause a cloud of scalding steam to erupt into the face of the person removing the cap.

If your car's engine overheats, steam or smoke emerges from under the hood, or you detect a smell of burning rubber, stop driving as soon as safely possible. Then turn off the ignition. Don't release the radiator cap until all evidence of overheating subsides! You may have to wait several minutes for it to cool.

You should also protect your hand by wearing a glove or applying a heavy padding of rags between your hand and the radiator cap.

If the cap has a pressure release device (such as a lever, a button, or a turn knob), activate it to allow any excess steam to dissipate itself.

Turn the cap in a counter-clockwise direction until you feel the seal release. When the hissing sound subsides, the cap can be removed safely.

If it is necessary to add water to the radiator, do so with the engine running! Add water very slowly so it can warm up in the radiator before passing into the engine block. If water is added too quickly, the abrupt change in temperature could crack the engine block.

Following an overheating experience, your car's cooling system should be thoroughly inspected by an experienced mechanic. Overheating can seriously damage metal parts.

NOT DIRTY CHEAP

A dirty air cleaner on your car's engine can cost you up to thirty-two dollars a year in wasted gasoline — to say nothing of extra engine wear from added grime. Let your engine breathe easy — check the carburetor air cleaner often and replace when recommended.

QUIET BUT DEADLY

A faulty exhaust system is called the quiet killer. It can allow deadly monoxide fumes to enter your car, make you drowsy and impair your driving judgment. Don't take chances. Have your car's exhaust system checked.

"Lube Job"

Chances are you're also getting "anti-breakdown" insurance with every one when service station makes

These Checks

When you get that pre-vacation lubrication at your favorite service outlet, you're likely getting more than a freshly-greased chassis. Chances are you're also taking out an anti-breakdown insurance policy.

According to Chek-Chart Corporation, more service outlets are conducting safety inspections every time the car is on the hoist for a lubrication. The importance of such inspection is increasing since extended lubrication intervals recommended by manufacturers mean that cars are on the hoist less frequently.

Chek-Chart recommends the following components be inspected during a lubrication and any necessary defects be corrected:

- Brake system
- Steering and suspension
- Shock absorbers
- Tires and wheels
- Exhaust system
- Fuel system
- Cooling system
- Drive line units
- Threaded fasteners
- Seat belts
- Electrical system
- Lights and horn
- Locks and latches
- Visibility items such as glass, wipers, washers, mirrors and defrosters

In inspecting these systems, a trained mechanic will check for various fluid leaks or low levels of lubricants. Particularly sensitive areas are brake fluid reservoirs, master cylinder leakage, power steering fluids, shock absorber and drive line lubricants.

If you spot any leakage on your driveway or garage floor, bring it to the attention of your mechanic.

Make Safe Skid Recovery With These Moves

Henk de Vries cites the following procedures to get the wheel rolling again:

Cut engine power but not so violently as to worsen the skid. The technique is the same for a rear wheel skid where the rear of the car tends to swing frontwards or the four wheel skid where all wheels are sliding.

In a car with manual transmission lift your foot off the gas and declutch (depress the clutch pedal). With an automatic transmission, all you need to do is take your foot off the gas and the torque converter will slow you down.

In a front wheel skid, usually induced by cornering too fast, the technique is different. With an automatic transmission, gear down and with manual shift, do not declutch.

Then, in all skid conditions, countersteer out of the skid by turning the front wheels in the same direction the rest of the car is skidding. Immediately turn the wheel around in the opposite direction or you risk a dangerous second skid.

If you had tried to get out of a skid in the time it took you to read the above paragraphs, it would have been too late to help. That's why the skid school is so important to its students.

DRIVE A SAFE CAR!

With children out of school for the summer, and popping out in the darndest places, it's important for your automobile to be running correctly. Here at Egan's our expert mechanics are trained to make sure when your car leaves our garage, it's in tip-top condition. There are many aspects of driving to be considered, but if your car is untuned or your brakes out of adjustment you could be in more trouble than you ever bargained for, so to be sure, let us check your car over so you can have a fun yet safe summer.

Drive Carefully . . .
Accidents Are No Laughing Matter!

An automobile is no place for you to be the life of the party or play the clown! Every time you get behind that wheel you take upon yourself the responsibility for your life as well as the lives of others . . . that's why driving is a privilege not a right. Don't abuse your privilege by risking human lives through silliness or carelessness . . . remember, there's no fool like a dead fool. An untuned car is also a menace to you and others. Be smart, not dead. Make sure your automobile is in condition for safe driving.

Most Mileage Is Clocked In Summer

After a dry spell, a light rain or drizzle creates a thin, greasy film on smooth road surfaces. It is slick, and it is dangerous, because drivers are not concerned about skidding at this time of the year.

Bald tires increase the danger. More miles are driven during the summer than at any other time of the year and without realizing it, tires may wear beyond the safe point. When there is less than 2/32" of tread remaining, according to tire experts, your tires are unsafe.

Under dangerous driving conditions, reduced speed and extra caution are obvious accident prevention measures. However, a double measure of safety is to keep your tires in good condition.

Rotate Your Tires

You can substantially increase tire life by having them rotated about twice a year. By putting tires in different positions on the car (left front to left rear, left rear to right front, and so on around the car — according to instructions for your make and model), your tires, including the spare, eventually will have taken their turns in all positions, thereby equalizing wear.

This semi-annual procedure also provides a good opportunity for your automotive serviceman to look for cuts, bruises or other damage.

Another part of semi-annual tire care should be a check of wheel balance and alignment. Both have a serious bearing on tire wear and will affect your car's handling ability and driving comfort.

Once a month, have the air in the tires checked. An underinflated tire will wear rapidly at the outer edges; overinflation causes wear at the center.

One final tire care fact especially important during the summer: excessive heat is a tire's worst enemy. It results from a flexing of the tire body. The faster you drive, and the more load you carry, the more your tires will flex.

Highway Driving Requires Same Car Care as Racing

Mechanical Efficiency Of Vehicle is Vital To Both

By FRED AGABASHIAN,
Champion Spark Plug Co.
Highway Safety Team

Is highway driving in any way the same as race track driving? In my experiences I've found many similarities.

For example, there isn't a race driver in the world who would go out on a track knowing that his car is not 100% mechanically sound. Shouldn't the average motorist also have this confidence in his own car?

Once you know the vehicle is perfect, you can concentrate on driving skills, without worrying about whether the brakes are going to grab, or whether the tires are safe, or whether the steering components are going to give out at a crucial time.

When your car is in excellent condition, you have confidence in it, and your driving ability reflects this confidence.

Escape Route Plan

Another similarity I find between highway driving and race driving is what I call "the escape route plan." Planning ahead while driving helps keep me alert and helps keep my mind on my driving. In my own mind I've been on the shoulders of expressways and in ditches all over the country. In fact, I've always "driven" the grass infield of the Indianapolis Speedway with every circuit, and several times, having an escape route like this has helped me and saved my car.

Driver attitude also plays an important role, whether on the highway, or on the race track. The racing driver with an immature attitude, one who loses his temper, one who "gets even" with other drivers or one who shows off, soon finds himself out of the racing business — in one way or another.

Similarly, immaturity catches up with the motorist on the street. They are the ones who leave a stretch of rubber at traffic lights, who pass on curves and hills, and weave in and out of traffic, and ones who have unnecessary—and distracting—doodads hanging around the rear window and mirrors.

Word of Caution

I'm not saying that an ex-

Get Sizzling Hot

Tires can get sizzling hot at high speed on a summer day. When they hit 250 degrees (considered their critical temperature), wear is rapid and you may be in danger of complete tire failure.

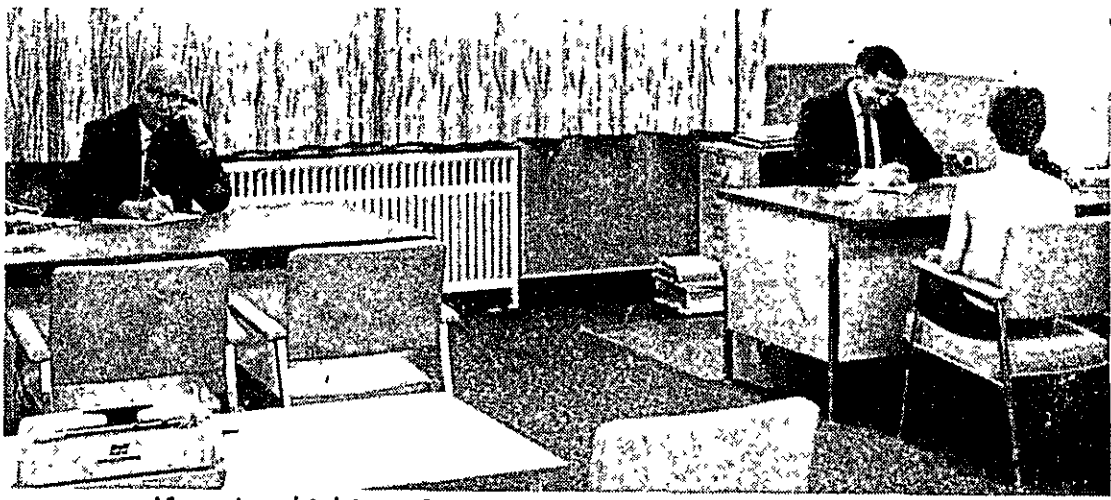

Your tires are the only contact between you and the road. Should they fail, you are in danger. Also, they represent a substantial portion of the total value of your car. So, both in safety and in economy, proper tire care is like money in the bank.

PCV — PLEASE CHECK

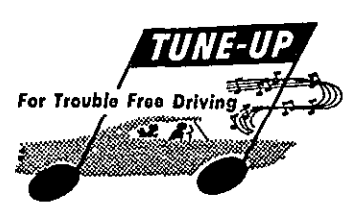

When the positive crankcase ventilation valve on your car's engine gets stuck, it's like plugging up a boiling tea kettle — something's got to give. Pressure builds up in the crankcase forcing oil and unwanted fumes through bearings and seals. The PCV valve should be checked periodically, replaced yearly.

To be a safe driver you must take heed to warnings when you are faced with them. If you don't your family might be having supper alone tonight because you won't be able to make it.
You might just have an accident and have to spend the evening elsewhere.
