Voters visit polls Tuesday

ST. JOHNS—The presidential race has captured the bulk of headline space most of the summer but Tuesday in Clinton County the big political news focuses on a four-man race for sheriff and several commissioner contests.

Voters will pick the new Clinton County Sheriff from among the four Republican candidates on Tuesday's ballot. No Democrats are seeking the office and the present Sheriff, Percy Patterson, is retiring after 25 years of service to the county.

Sheriff candidates include: Tony Hufnagel, Clinton County Undersheriff; Larry Floate, Clinton County Sheriff's Deputy; Bruce Angell, DeWitt Township Police Chief; and Ray Terpening, Shiawassee County Sheriff's Deputy and former Clinton County Sheriff's Deputy. Terpening was defeated by Sheriff Patterson in the last election.

THE RACE for 11 county commissioner seats finds a list of 33 candidates seeking this office. Only Harold L. Martin, Republican candidate from Commissioner District Three which includes the townships of Bengal, Riley and Westphalia, is running unopposed and becomes a cinch to win election.

Redistricting to balance population figures among the districts as shown by the 1970 census has matched four incumbent county commissioners against each other in Tuesday's primary. Duane Chamberlain and Claude Underhill both seek re-election and both are running in the new Commissioner District Six which includes Ovid and Victor Townships. In District Two, incumbents William Hufnagel and Walter Nobis seek another term from a new area which covers the townships of Lebanon, Essex and Dallas.

Other interesting commissioner races include the District One contest where incumbent Derrill Shinabery is opposed by fellow Republicans Bruce Amos and Charles Sills. Two other incumbent commissioners, Republicans Maurice Gove and Robert Montgomery, have competition from within their own party during the primary. Gove's re-election bid to represent the western portion of St. Johns and Bingham Township is opposed by Bruce Lanterman. Matched against Montgomery who presently represents the district covering Eagle and Watertown Townships are fellow Republicans Richard Noble and Dyle Henning.

THE RACE for a seat being vacated by Robert Dittmer who is seeking a state office involves two Republicans, Donald Gilson and Jeanne Rand. This District Five Commissioner seat represents the city of St. Johns.

The full slate of candidates for county office will likely overshadow the one state proposal on Tuesday's ballot. It's a proposed constitutional amendment to allow trial by a jury of less than 12 jurors in all prosecutions in all courts for misdemeanors punishable by imprisonment for not more than one year.

Presently Article One, Section 20 of the Michigan state constitution reads in part: "In every criminal prosecution, the accused shall have the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury, which may consist of less than 12 jurors in all courts not of record."

THE PROPOSED amendment would make the following change: "In every criminal prosecution, the accused shall have the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury, WHICH MAY CONSIST OF LESS THAN 12 JURORS IN PROSECUTIONS FOR MISDEMEANORS PUNISHABLE BY IMPRISONMENT FOR NOT MORE THAN ONE YEAR."

According to backers of the bill, the proposal aims at giving persons charged with serious crimes tried in district court the right of a 12-member jury. Presently district courts are not considered a "court of record" and therefore six-member juries are acceptable.

Also, two townships will have local proposals on Tuesday's ballot. Voters in Eagle Township will be asked to approve 2.7 mills for one year to match funds planned to construct a bridge over Looking Glass River on Hinman Rd. In Watertown Township, voters are being asked to approve three mills for three years to improve roads within their townships.

Tower topplers at work in St. Johns

High level work

ST. JOHNS--A crew of "tower topplers" were in St. Johns this week to bring a 325-foot metal structure to the ground.

The tower was being used in testing a new microwave hook-up between General Telephone facilities in St. Johns and a new Michigan Bell Telephone system planned in Lansing. Michigan Bell's new facility is slated for completion by 1975 and current testing was described by officials as preliminary engineering.

According to Dennis Dufford, a General Telephone engineer involved in the project, "it was necessary to erect the temporary tower so the test could be conducted without interfering with existing service."

County residents express views on Eagleton issue

It's now official. Senator Thomas Eagleton has resigned as vice-presidential candidate on the Democratic Party ticket.

The news was announced Monday night following a conference between Eagleton and Democratic presidential candidate Senator George McGovern. It was a decision made in the midst of public opinion which seemed divided on the question of whether or not Eagleton should remain in the race after he revealed a past medical history of treatments for nervous fatigue.

When the news came to light last week, the NEWS conducted a random telephone survey among Clinton County residents to obtain a sample of their reactions to this startling political development. Persons contacted were asked: "Do you think a man with a history of mental illness should seek the second highest political office in our government?"

"I DON'T think he should have to give it up," was Mrs. Harold Johnson's answer. A resident of 12716 Longspur in DeWitt, she continued to say that as long as Eagleton doesn't have a drinking problem it shouldn't stop him. Anyway, she inserted, we all have mental problems to some extent.

Mrs. John A. Hayes, 904 S. Lansing, St. Johns, said she wasn't quite sure of all the facts. "As the doctor couldn't give the complete facts because it would be against his ethics," she ventured "I don't know what the extent of his illness was." But, she concluded, there's several others to choose from and I don't think we need to select someone who might present problems.

GOING ALONG with Mrs. Hayes was Robert A. Brock, 702 W. Baldwin, St. Johns, when he stated, "I don't think a man in that capacity should have a background with mental illness. But who's to say, he announced, because there's a lot of people already in government with mental illness whether it's in St. Johns, Lansing or Washington. It just doesn't come out in the open. If you look around, it's there.

"Mr. Eagleton's private life has been pruned in and brought out into the open," Brock decided. "You can't be in the limelight without people looking in to your background."

Spicer of 304 N. Main, had two thoughts. "The thing is nobody knows for sure whether it was mental illness or just fatigue. Nothing is for sure, but most are saying it was just fatigue. There's a big difference as far as I'm concerned. If it's just fatigue, that's all right, but if it's mental illness, I'd say no."

Mrs. Charles Ernst of 708 W. Park in St. Johns, felt the important thing is that he's not now on drugs and is not dependent on them. "But," she added, "if he's sought medical treatment and has been able to snap out of it that's the important thing. It depends on many factors because every situation is different."

Family seeks unknown rescuer

CRYSTAL—A dramatic event involving several St. Johns residents unfolded Sunday afternoon at Stu's Beach on Crystal Lake in Montcalm County as a 3-year-old boy was rescued from drowning.

The youngster, Tommy Cressman of St. Johns, was attending a picnic at the park with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Cressman, and his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Paksi of Ovid.

According to Mrs. Paksi, the family was at the picnic table when they saw a man carrying Tommy from the water. A call quickly went out around the park area for anyone qualified to administer first aid.

MRS. SARAH Homant of 407 S. Prospect St. in St. Johns, a former Life Guard, offered to help and by using mouth-to-mouth resuscitation she revived the unconscious youngster. During excitement of the moment, the family was unable to learn the man's name who rescued Tommy. They only remember his last name as "Weber," and he said his home was in St. Johns.

Tommy was taken to Carson City Hospital for further examination but was later taken home.

Mrs. Homant said although she worked as a life guard for one year and had received first aid instruction "this was the first time and I hope the last time" she had used mouth-to-mouth resuscitation on a drowning victim. "I was very happy I knew how," she said. "I didn't think about it until afterwards and then I was pretty shook up."

MRS. PAKSI said "it's a nightmare and we're so thankful people reacted so quickly." She added that now the family would like to contact the unidentified man from St. Johns who pulled Tommy from the water and thank him personally.

Tri-County gains certification

LANSING—The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) recently certified the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission, 535 N. Clippert, Lansing, as an active agency satisfactorily carrying out comprehensive planning for Clinton, Eaton and Ingham counties.

HUD granted the certification after the Commission was found to be in compliance with HUD planning requirements.

Herbert D. Maier, Executive Director of TCRPC, and Chairman Gordon L. Swix of Ingham County, emphasized the significance of certification.

"WE NOW qualify for federal grant and loan programs," Swix said, "especially those administered by HUD and complementary agencies, such as the Environmental Protection Agency and the Department of Transportation."

Certification is in effect until March 31, 1973, at which time the Commission will be eligible for recertification.

Political signs a no-no on state highways

LANSING—Political campaign signs and state highways don't mix, State Highway Director Henrik E. Stafseth has advised candidates and their supporters who are eager to hit the 1972 campaign trail.

"All campaign signs placed on state highway right-of-way will be removed immediately by maintenance forces," Stafseth said.

State highways are designated by "M," "US" or "I" letters, followed by numbers.

State highway right-of-way is public property and cannot be used for campaign purposes. Placement of unauthorized signs along highways also is dangerous and confusing to motorists.

Soil Check

Don Oderkirk (left) and John Magyar, sanitarians from the Mid-Michigan District Health Department, examine a soil sample taken during a site inspection in Clinton County's central area. The men determine suitability of a site for construction of a sub surface sewage disposal system by deciding how will the soil in a given area soak up water. Heavy soil in many areas of Clinton County frequently leads to rejection of requests for a building permit requiring a private sewage disposal system.

Local sanitarians explain inspections

ST. JOHNS—Rapid population growth in Clinton County is making the problem of sewage disposal increasingly complex and personnel at the Mid-Michigan District Health Department report the area's soil composition is a critical factor.

"It's generally acknowledged Clinton County has one of the heavier soils in Michigan," says Don Oderkirk, a sanitarian assigned to Clinton County. "By this we mean a clay sub soil."

Oderkirk and his partner, John Magyar, go on to explain a clay soil is undesirable for construction of a septic tank system or as they call it a "sub-surface sewage disposal system."

Magyar points out their work involves only requests for a subsurface sewage disposal system and says "the minute public service sewers come in we're out of the picture except for nuisance complaints."

The first step required by anyone seeking a building permit is a stop at the Mid-Michigan District Health Department in St. Johns to obtain approval of the proposed sewage disposal system. This approval is obtained or denied following a site inspection by a health department sanitarian.

"Due to the increasing desire to build in Clinton County, we're kept extremely busy on site inspections," related Oderkirk.

The two sanitarians explain the percolation test which measures the rate water soaks away into any certain soil is only one phase of the site inspection and a technique being used less all the time.

According to Oderkirk, the trend is moving away from "perk tests" because they often prove unreliable. "There are some areas in the county," he explains, "that would be underwater in the spring but could still pass a perk test in the summer."

Magyar agrees and stresses the importance of determining the seasonal water level of building sites being inspected. "Seasonal water level is probably more important in this county because the clay subsoil tends to hold the water up," he adds.

Other factors involved in site inspections besides the seasonal water level determined by periodic observations of an area are soil borings and a study of the soil profile.

The soil boring is accomplished by using an auger and going down into the subsoil about four feet. By examining the soil sample, sanitarians learn the composition through coloration and compaction of a sample taken.

They explain coloration of soil signals at what depth the water saturates the subsoil during the spring of the year. Compactness of the soil indicates what per cent of clay prevails in the area. Both factors weigh heavily in their decision whether or not to grant permission for a subsurface sewage disposal system at a site being inspected.

"A sample taken at four feet which is grayish in color and balls up in your hand usually means rejection for a request," says Magyar. He points out such soil is simply unable to accommodate the sewage disposal from any type of dwelling and therefore a septic tank permit is denied.

The two sanitarians report site inspections throughout Clinton County are running about 30 to 40 per cent rejection. They add that in Riley Township where the soil is heavier this figure is closer to 50 per cent.

Oderkirk and Magyar have no clear cut answers to this growing problem of sewage disposal facilities needed to handle new housing. They simply cite Clinton County's heavy soil as a critical factor and stress that the ultimate answer in the future rests with public sewer systems connected to a central waste treatment plant.

Fire destroys barn at Elsie County schools receive first aid checks

ELSIE—An investigation by Shiawassee County Sheriff's Deputies has revealed youngsters playing with a lighter were responsible for touching off a blaze Sunday afternoon which completely destroyed a barn near Elsie.

According to Deputy Fred Moore, an eight-year-old girl and her six-year-old brother and sister apparently set a pile of hay ablaze and were unable to extinguish the fire. The children's father, Gordon Hubbard, is an employee of Green Meadow Farms and rents the home from his employer.

Fire units from Elsie and Ovid were called to the scene about 2 1/2 miles southeast of Elsie at around 1:30 p.m. Sunday. Efforts by firemen to save the barn proved futile and the structure was considered a total loss.

Merle Green of Green Meadow Farms estimated total damage to the structure and its contents at more than $15,000. He said one cow, 1,000 bales of straw and miscellaneous equipment were lost in the blaze.

MR. AND MRS. MELVIN MC CUMBER

50th anniversary

FLINT—Mr. and Mrs. Melvin McCumber of 4101 Race Street, Flint celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, July 2 at the home of William and Flossie Fuller, also of Flint.

Mrs. McCumber, the former Doris Russell, was born and raised in St. Johns, and married Melvin McCumber June 29, 1922. The McCumbers moved to Flint 32 years ago where McCumber worked until retirement in 1960.

Before retirement in 1960 the couple worked for the management of the Flint Park Amusement Company where Melvin owned and operated a modern 4-car miniature train for twenty years.

Mrs. Shinabery hosts old fashion tea party

The W.S.C.S. of the Greenbush United Methodist Church, met at the home of Mrs. Derrill Shinabery on July 26, for an "Old Fashioned Tea Party."

Helen Post was co-hostess for the event. Among the ladies present were Mrs. Evelyn Slagel of Arizona and Ward of Florida, who were visiting relatives in the area.

Grace was given by Mrs. Everett Love, the new minister's wife, before tea was served from a white linen covered table, complete with linen napkins.

Mrs. Elmer Swagart poured tea from an antique silver tea service, consisting of teapot, sugar bowl, creamer and spoon holder. This tea service belonged to Miss Post's mother and it is 80 years old. Tea was served in hand painted cups with saucers belonging to Mrs. Shinabery.

Mrs. Earl Whitlock poured lemonade from an old pitcher, into crystal glasses. Old fashioned cookies were served on hand-painted plates. Mrs. Shinabery used her old grape pattern teaspoons. After the refreshments, each lady dipped her fingers in a blue thumb-print fingerbowl which belonged to Mrs. Shinabery's grandmother.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Swagart.

The program opened with the ladies listening to the Blue Danube Waltz by Johanne Strauss. Mrs. Love was the first to recognize the title. The group sang "Long, Long Ago."

Following group singing, each lady read an appropriate, captivating poem about cherished yesteryears. Some of the titles were: "If You Could Dream Awhile," "Horse and Buggy Doctor," "The Old Family Bible," "The Old Trunk," "My Mother's Quilt," "The Old Kitchen Range," "Saturday Night," "The Old Dasher Churn," "The Old Family Album," "The Old Time Sunday Sings," "Remember," "Back in Nineteen-O-Five," "Old Times and Old Friends," and "Don't Count the Years." Mrs. Love and Mrs. Ward sang "Love's Old Sweet Song."

Devotions were given by Mrs. Ward from an old Bible, using verses containing the word "old."

The ladies had ransacked their attics and trunks and had brought some antiques or heirlooms to briefly "show and tell." Among the many interesting things displayed were dishes, tin-types and daguerrotype pictures, silhouettes, old Bibles and very old hymn books, wedding invitations from the 1800's, old dresses, homespun shawl, a beaded cape, beautiful old watches complete with chains, old pins, gold bracelets, castor sets, old reunion pictures, a teapot with an alcohol burner, beautiful pen drawings and fluting iron, dated 1871.

The ladies came dressed in gowns of the past. Many were authentic. Jeanette Rosekrans was in her Centennial dress, Mrs. Emma Whitlock was gowned in a long black calico dress, complimented by a wide brimmed hat, trimmed with black ostrich plumes, and Mrs. Ila Whitlock wore a long white summer gown. Both these ladies wore linen dusters. Hazel Beebee looked very quaint in her bonnet and shawl. Many wore long calico skirts and white waists. Edith Stockwell exhibited a very old dress worn by her grandmother, Alice Davies.

Helen Post and Katherine Ward were attired in gowns belonging to their grandmother, Mrs. Mary Ann Davies Goddard, who brought them from England in 1865, when she came to America. Miss Post wore a changeable blue and brown taffeta, full skirt with a blue skinned satin waist. She wore needle-pointed brown shoes. An antique gold watch, dated 1882, hung by a four-strand chain, completed her costume. Mrs. Katherine Ward was dressed in a green and silver striped taffeta dress with a very full skirt and a lace fissure or collar and hand embroidered wristlets. She wore an opalescent brooch, belonging to her grandmother Goddard. She displayed a handpainted picture of her grandmother. All thought Mrs. Ward resembled the picture as her hair was styled the same as her grandmother's.

Mrs. Ward gave a brief history of her maternal grandmother's immigrating to this country from England. Her great-grandfather, Robert Davies, fought in the Battle of Waterloo under Wellington. He was decorated for bravery by Queen Victoria. He was also the great-grandfather of Edith Stockwell and Jeanette Rosekrans.

The evening program closed with singing "Good Night, Ladies."

The ladies departed with a deeper understanding and appreciation of their past heritage.

Ag in Action

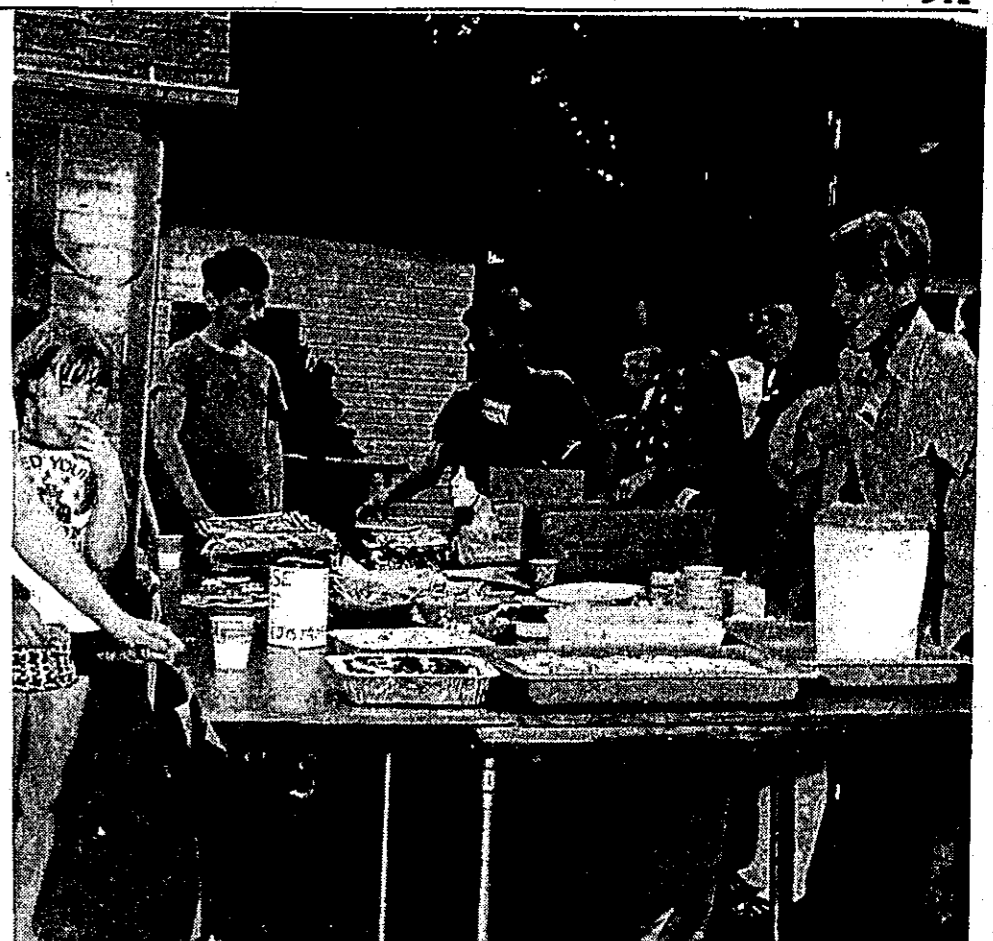

Many farmers are living in a state of apprehension these days, wondering what is going to happen to them next.

Each time the Price Commission and the Cost of Living Council start talking about rising food prices, farmers expect the worst.

The second scare came when the President issued another executive order extending price controls to fruits and vegetables, eggs and seafoods after the first sale.

Egg producers, who have been suffering from drastically low prices for two years, are puzzled as to why their product was included in the new order.

There is also some concern that the controls over fresh produce at the distributor level could work their way back to the farm level, as wholesale buyers might put increasing price pressure on farmers.

Jeff Washburn, Roxanne Rogers, Bonnie Eisler and Mike Kanaski used their salesmanship to raise funds for Muscular Dystrophy when they sponsored a neighborhood project last Friday.

Plant girdling

EAST LANSING, MICH. - Hungry mice, wire nooses, plant competition, self-strangulation and the cowboy activities of homeowners with riding mowers are all common causes of girdling, says Harold Davidson, extension horticulturist at Michigan State University.

When a wire noose is placed about the main stem of a tree to aid in transplanting, also causes girdling.

Parents of a new baby or children up to a year old find themselves often asking many questions about the youngsters behavior or growth.

An easy to read series of four short bulletins on "You And Your Baby" has recently been printed by the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University.

No child grows and develops exactly like another. There are general patterns of all of them follow.

Waking him to feed him merely because it is four hours is no more fair than making him wait because it isn't yet "time to eat".

It is not too long before a child's cries take on meaning. Mother knows which is an "angry" cry, a "hunger" cry or a "wet" cry.

Solid food presents new challenges to both baby and Mother. Babbling is the beginning of speech and exploring everything he sees is natural.

These and other phases of development are discussed in the above mentioned bulletins. Ask for your free copies at the Cooperative Extension Office in Ithaca.

Chamber plans golf outing

ST. JOHNS—Plans for a St. Johns Area Chamber of Commerce fun day golf outing are nearing completion and members of the committee staging the event anticipate upwards of 60 members and guests to register for the Aug. 23 affair.

According to Co-chairmen Barry Dean, Roger Beebe and Ralph Lebrato, the activities will begin at 4 p.m. with a "best-ball, best-ball" tournament followed by dinner and card playing. Members and their guests will fry their own steaks and prepare their meal from a buffet table.

The "best-ball, best-ball" type of play is a novel method which tends to equalize players of all abilities. The pattern of play calls for all members in a playing group to advance their balls after each shot to the spot where the best ball comes to rest. This is followed even onto the green and provides for some interesting results. The idea for the tournament was advanced by Lebrato who has participated in similar play in Indiana.

THE FUN-DAY activities and dinner are open to all Chamber members and their guests and tickets are $5.50 each. Registration forms will be mailed in advance of the event and members who may not receive these forms

Second Flight winner, was Mary Jean Schoendorf, St. Johns and Lena Kegene, Alma was runner-up.

Winner in the Third Flight was Barb Stiffler, St. Johns with Janet Sullivan, Alma runner-up.

Julie Olney named for Deaf Olympics

SWARTZ CREEK—Julie Olney, 18, of Swartz Creek has been selected as a member of the U.S. Deaf Olympic team and will compete in the World Deaf Olympics in Malmo, Sweden, during the summer of 1973.

Miss Olney was picked for the team on the basis of her winning the javelin throw at the finals held recently at Morganton, N.C. and where she broke the United States record.

She has thrown the javelin within a couple of feet of the world mark, also qualified for the discus throw, where she came in third at the U.S. finals.

Julie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Olney, both graduates of Elsie High School, and is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin of Elsie, Mr. George Olney and the late Mrs. Florence Olney, who now makes his home in Brooksville, Fla.

Miss Olney is also a member of the Flint Track team, where she is the only deaf girl. The Flint team competes in meets throughout the mid-west.

In Canada recently, Julie won four first places—in the javelin, long-jump, 100-meter dash and in the 440-yard relay. She has also participated in four CANUSA games, a competition between athletes in Hamilton, Ontario and Flint. Julie is a senior at the Michigan School for the Deaf, and plans to enter college and become a physical education teacher.

Golf outing will benefit Lansing catholic schools

LANSING—A benefit golf outing to establish a Catholic school scholarship fund locally will be held Saturday, August 12, at Highland Hills Golf Club, North US-27, announced Thomas Bouman and Richard Kinder, co-chairmen of the event.

Gus Gannak, Michigan State's head basketball coach, is honorary chairman.

"A Golf Day with the Chancellor" — referring to Father James Murray, chancellor of the archdiocese of Lansing — is being conducted by the Lansing Non-Profit School Foundation to develop scholarship funds for use by local Catholic schools.

The outing, first project undertaken by the Non-Profit School Foundation, will begin with a buffet lunch at Highland Hills at noon-time on August 12. An afternoon of golf will be followed in the evening with a cocktail party and dinner. Door prizes and prizes to winners in various golf competition categories will be awarded later in the evening, the co-chairman announced.

Bouman, is handling arrangements among participants residing on Lansing's east side and Kinder is in charge of west-side arrangements. Tickets are $20 for the entire program, including golf, or $15 for just lunch, the cocktail party and dinner. Tickets can be obtained from parish chairman.

Organized half a year ago to provide special support to Lansing's Catholic school program, the Non-Profit School Foundation is headed by Frank Hand. The Foundation's board of directors already has begun planning a community-wide dinner-dance to be held in downtown Lansing in the fall. Profits from the event will also go toward the local Catholic school scholarship fund, Hand said.

Seven college students provided the spiritual program which was based upon the "Four Spiritual Laws." Colleges represented were: MSU, Olivet College and Adrain College.

The event was sponsored by the Michigan churches of the Conservative Congregational Christian Conference. An earlier youth rally for Senior High youth was held at Silver Lake State Park in conjunction with the Orchard View Congregational Church of Muskegon.

The pastor of the local church, Rev. Paul R. Jones will be attending the annual meetings of the Conservative Congregational Christian Conference, held this year at Gordon College, Wenham, Mass. August 9 through 11.

Ballenger strongly denies turning back on farmers

LANSING—State Senator William S. Ballenger (R-Ovid) Friday refuted criticism of House Republicans by State Rep. James Bradley (D-Detroit) as "completely untrue and absurd."

Earlier last week, Bradley expressed "shock and disappointment with the decision of a majority of Republican House members to turn their backs on the plight of Michigan's farmers by blocking House consideration of Senate Bill 1225," the so-called Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining Act.

"Rep. Bradley's charges are not true, and he knows they're not true," said Ballenger. "It just so happens that SB 1225 was introduced by Senator Charles O. Zollar and myself, both of us Republicans. The bill passed the Senate way back on April 18 with strong bipartisan support—in fact, more Senate Republicans voted for the bill (11) than did Senate Democrats (10). The bill was immediately referred to Mr. Bradley's committee on June 28, just when both houses were embroiled in trying to pass the last of the 1972-73 budget bills and just two days before he knew the Legislature was due to recess until after Labor Day."

"In the dying minutes of the session on June 30—without any debate whatsoever—Mr. Bradley then tried to leapfrog SB 1225 over scores of bills on the House calendar which had been waiting for action for weeks. Quite understandably, House Republicans balked at the incredible railroad tactics which have come to typify Democratic control of the House," said Ballenger. "There has not yet been any vote on SB 1225 in the House," Ballenger noted. "There was only a vote on a brazen attempt by House Democrats to turn SB 1225 into a political football. Any responsible student of government would cringe at what the Democrats were trying to do. House Republicans acted correctly in scuttling Mr. Bradley's power-play. When SB 1225 comes to a vote after full and orderly debate this fall, I'm sure Republican votes for it will be there."

"Mr. Bradley's accusation that Republican House members blocked consideration of SB 1225 because they are depending on contributions from big agribusiness (which largely opposes SB 1225) to finance their campaigns' is a bald-faced lie," Ballenger retorted. "I'm probably as closely identified with agriculture in this state as any other legislator," said Ballenger, who is chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Consumer Affairs. "I have never received a contribution from what Mr. Bradley calls 'agribusiness' and I doubt very much if any of my Republican colleagues have, either. And it goes without saying that nobody connected with agriculture in his right mind would contribute to a House Democrat's campaign."

Continued Ballenger: "I can't really blame Mr. Bradley for trying to deceive the public on this particular issue, however. House Democrats are so desperate to divest themselves of their anti-farmer image—an image which they richly deserve—that they're willing to stoop to almost any kind of smear and falsehood in this crucial campaign year. I hope Mr. Bradley will realize that Michigan farmers aren't as dumb as he apparently thinks they are and will think twice in the future before he resorts to outright falsehood and character assassination."

Open Letter

from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,
It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral service, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected - these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family. The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made.

"See the U.S.A. Day" gave Foods Club 4-H members an opportunity to taste and hear about the foods in 11 different states.

The program on July 25 started off with the film, "Happy Holidays Anywhere in Michigan." After the travel spirit was established, the members present divided into groups.

Then everyone had a chance to hear presentations prepared about each of the states with a tasting session after the short talk.

THE ELEVEN states and clubs represented were: Hawaii, Fowler Busy Bees; Wisconsin, Westphalia 4-H; California, Stoney Creek; New Jersey, Happy Hustlers; Idaho, Victor; Louisiana, Olive 4-H; Pennsylvania, Kountry Cousins; Kentucky, Orchard Glen; Washington, Family Affair Club; Michigan, Bengal Community Club; Florida, All Thumbs Club. Some of the unique ideas presented were: Potato Candy, Cranberry-Lime

Sherbet Punch, Apple Cake with sauce and Sweet Potato Cake.

WEEKLY RECIPE

If you're planning a swimming party, here are some suggestions for ingredients which can be setup on a serving table. Let each guest assemble his sundae in a colorful paper cup or glass.

Pool-Side Sundaes

- Ice Cream Cubes (Several flavors)
- Fruit syrup, any flavor
- Chocolate syrup
- Chopped nuts
- Maraschino cherries

4-Hers sell livestock

ST. JOHNS—A year-long effort by Clinton County 4-H members goes on the auction block next month when the Livestock Sale is held during the County Fair in St. Johns.

Purpose of the sale is to provide 4-H youngsters an opportunity to sell their livestock after judging is completed. The sale starts at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, August 16. Approximately 40 steers, ten lambs and ten market hogs will be offered for sale. The steers will weigh in at 800 to 1,000 pounds, the lambs from 75 to 100 pounds and hogs between 190 and 220 pounds.

According to Clinton County 4-H Agent John Aylsworth, this is a fine chance for area residents to save money on the rising cost of meat. He stressed that this savings can be nearly 22 cents a pound based on current retail prices.

People are invited to visit the livestock exhibits during the fair which runs from August 14-16. Further information on the auction is available by calling the Clinton County Extension Office at 224-3288.

Water is everyone's business

ST. JOHNS — Water is everyone's business, according to Lloyd B. Campbell, Work Unit Conservationist for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service.

How we manage the raindrop from the time it hits the ground to its journey to the stream, river, or lake will be largely responsible for the quality and quantity of water we have available for all uses. Water not managed causes erosion, floodwater, and sediment damages in the watersheds of our rivers and streams.

These damages are not only occurring to agricultural land, but to homes, industry, roads, railroads, and shopping centers, according to Stanley Bald, Chairman of the Clinton County Soil Conservation District.

The watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act, better known to the people as Public Law 566, has provided the opportunity for local leadership to carry out water management programs. In Michigan, six projects are completed; these projects include construction of 31.4 miles of multiple channel improvement for flood prevention and agricultural water management, five floodwater retarding structures, and many acres of conservation land treatment practices by landowners within these watersheds.

Two of these are in the Clinton S.C.D. — Catlin Waters and Muskrat Creek. Also in Michigan, 17 additional projects have been approved for operations. The East and West Upper Maple River Watersheds are in this group, and are in Clinton County. These projects include the construction of eight floodwater retarding structures, eight grade stabilization structures, 1,320 erosion control structures, and 204 miles of multiple channel improvement for flood prevention and agricultural water management.

In addition to these measures, conservation practices such as grassed waterways, cover crops, strip cropping, tree and hedgerow planting, farm ponds, and drainage practices are being applied throughout the watersheds. The construction of the structural measures, coupled with the land treatment measures, will approximate 18 million. These projects are and will continue to have a tremendous impact on the communities and the State.

Small watershed projects in Michigan have come to mean protecting, managing, improving and developing the water and related land resources of a watershed through a project-type undertaking. A project is planned and carried out jointly by local, State and Federal agencies with the full understanding of a large majority of the landowners and citizens of the community.

It can include many purposes: flood prevention; agricultural water management; recreation; fish and wildlife development; and municipal and industrial water supply, both for present and future use. A watershed project is based on local initiative and responsibility, Federal technical cost-sharing, and credit assistance and State review and approval of local proposals for watershed development.

A watershed project under Public Law 566 bridges the resource development gap between the soil and water conservation work of individual landowners and large State and Federal public works projects for water resource development in major river valleys.

The Soil Conservation Service has been given the primary responsibility for carrying out the small watershed program. Facts about multiple purpose watershed projects, how they get started, how they are constructed, financed, operated, and maintained; what the Federal government does; and what the local people can do, can be obtained from any of your Soil Conservation District Directors or the Soil Conservation Service office at 100 S. Ottawa St., St. Johns, Mich.

Annual flowers add instant color

EAST LANSING—Annual flowers can add a new dimension in gardening to your home — "instant color." "Your imagination is the only thing that limits you if you plan to brighten up your home landscape with annual flowers," says Dr. William H. Carlson, Michigan State University horticulturist.

"There are many interesting and unique ways to use annuals," says Carlson. "You can plant them in wooden dividers, chain link fences or old shoes, bathtubs, sinks, tires, washtubs or other containers."

"The more conventional ways, of course, are in flower beds, urns, patio boxes, window boxes and in rock gardens. They can also be trained to grow like small trees or shrubs," he says.

Carlson points out that it is usually best to plant many of the same type and color of flower in one area. "Annuals look best in large groups or masses," says Carlson. "Two good basic flower bed arrangements would be (1) a center of red geraniums with a border of blue ageratum or (2) a center of pink petunias with a border of white alyssum."

Literally hundreds of different annual flowers offer a wide choice of colors, heights and shapes. "Use color, height and shape wisely and you will add a new dimension of gardening to your home," says Carlson.

HANCOCK INDUSTRIES, INC.

SUBSIDIARY OF ITT

ELSIE PLANT

This is the west view of Elsie's own Hancock Industries, Inc., ITT Subsidiary, located on Park Avenue. Occupying 55,000 square feet, the present site was built in 1969, moving from its former location at the "old creamery". Geared 100% to the automotive industry, Hancock is one of the nation's largest producers of seat adjusters, electric and manual window regulators, hood locks and hinges and parking brakes. This is just one of the three Hancock plants. One is located at Roscommon, Michigan while the main plant and corporate offices are at Jackson, Michigan.

Bob Cleary, Hancock Industries Plant Manager (left) explains some of the company's operational procedures to Central National Bank President Harold Wellman. The Elsie plant is practically self-sufficient, needing to rely very little on the other two divisions. Equipped with gigantic expansive potential, the Elsie Division of Hancock Industries hopes to be totally independent in its operation soon.

One-Third of the Market Produced Here

AUTOMOTIVE SEAT ADJUSTER

AND

TRACK MANUFACTURER

Hancock Industries, Inc. of Jackson, Elsie and Roscommon became a subsidiary of International Telephone and Telegraph (ITT) in May of 1972.

The action came about after a meeting in which shareholders of Hancock voted 645,077 to 700 to merge with ITT as a wholly-owned subsidiary.

Terms of the transaction called for an exchange of .388 of a share of ITT common stock for each share of Hancock common stock.

The Hancock firm, established in 1906, is a producer of parts and assemblies principally as original equipment for automobiles and trucks. Among the three divisions, approximately 750 persons are employed. About 130 are presently employed at the Elsie location, a gain from an original 37 employed at the creamery location.

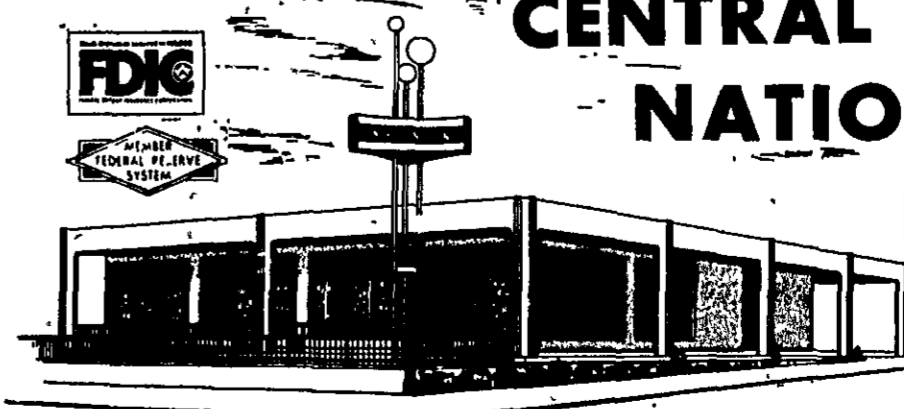

Direct shippers of their products to the Big Three, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, Hancock is subject to continual change-overs and improvements. However, this hasn't affected the Elsie operation to any serious degree of layoff. There has only been one layoff period over the past three years and this was due to the automotive strike.

The Elsie Division of Hancock Industries started with about $150,000 in sales in 1967 and has tripled since that time with over $450,000 currently. The local firm contributes a one-million dollar payroll to the Elsie and Clinton area based on a good labor market.

The Elsie plant produces from 3-1/2 to 4 million seat adjusters per year or just about one-third of the market with all the products being subject to Federal Safety standard and quality control procedures.

Park offers fun

Bigger and better things are developing for the already attractive recreational facilities available in the city of St. Johns.

Tuesday city fathers broke ground for a $100,000 parks improvement project which will take place at five recreational areas in St. Johns.

The City Park has long been an area of pride for local residents and the new project makes it even more attractive.

State and federal grants provide the bulk of funds necessary to carry out the project with the city's share representing a normal budget appropriation.

A unique feature of the extensive project is that it offers something for all age groups. Two "tot lots" are earmarked for improvements aimed to satisfy recreational needs of the younger set. For senior citizens, the park on Ottawa St. will get a shuffleboard court and horseshoe pits. The age group between "tots" and senior citizens will have four lighted tennis courts, new lights and bleachers at the softball diamond and a much expanded picnic area to enjoy.

The entire package makes for more attractive recreational facilities for everyone and a park system St. Johns residents should be very proud of.

Shakes confidence

By the time this reaches print, the predicament of Senator Thomas Eagleton should be resolved, probably not in his favor. At least that was the growing indication Monday morning.

The fact that Thomas Eagleton, handpicked candidate for the Democratic vice-presidency, has had a history of mental treatment is not the main issue here. As we see it, the error was in the pre-investigative stages by the McGovern camp. The efficiency in which the McGovern campaign machine had been operating up to this past week doesn't reflect the stumbling action that has resulted since the Eagleton revelation of his past illnesses.

Despite all the miracles modern psychiatric techniques have accomplished, they still haven't conquered the negative image of mental illness in the minds of the public.

As the Daily News, Greenville, editorialized: "Our own view is that malfunctions of the mind can be cured and the persons involved can emerge as normal as everyone else (whatever that is) and assume their fair share of responsibility. The burden of assuming the presidency, however, may be more than a fair share."

Had McGovern and his aides done a more thorough job of knowing his running mate this apparent obstacle, this shaking of confidence of a newly formed team, could have been avoided. The Democratic party still appears to be on the defensive.

I'll tell you one thing, Buster. No one ever shot the star on fivesies by mail. You had to be there.

I mean, how about that Bobby Fischer? He won a chess game and he wasn't even there. He wasn't even there sitting in his special chair flown from New York to Reykjavik because there wasn't a chair in Iceland that fit Bobby's rump right.

Fischer wrote a chess move down on a sheet of paper flown from Sweden for the occasion. He put it in a sealed envelope and had it delivered to his opponent, Boris Spassky, at the chess arena where hundreds waited to watch the big match. Thousands more wanted to watch on TV.

Spassky read the note, conceded defeat, and left. Fischer showed up an hour later to take a bow and drink some orange juice flown in from Florida. There was no one there except Gudmundur Arnlaugsson, deputy referee of the match. He was still trying to get his name spelled right on the official score sheet.

Sort of reminds you of the time Ty Cobb mailed that stolen base to the New York Yankees, doesn't it? Or that time Arnold Palmer sent a birdie to the National Open via Western Union (of course it was never delivered because it was a weekend but that wasn't Arnie's fault).

Jacks is my game. (The Birds is coming). My children always look a little ashamed when I tell them I was jacks champ of my block 35 years ago, edging Mary Margaret Moriarity in a showdown match that lasted 3 weeks and delayed the opening of the yo-yo season.

My kids share the popular opinion that jacks is a girls' game. Which is nonsense. They should just ask Mary Margaret, if she has come out of seclusion yet. Championship jacks takes a lot of stamina and gut-level coolness. I'll never forget that battle with Mary Margaret . . .

First there was a terrible argument about the playing field - wood, concrete or Reynolds Linoleum? We finally compromised and played on our kitchen floor which had all 3 surfaces. The roll of the jacks determined how the ball would bounce and whether your knuckles were scraped, splintered or waxed.

Then there was posture. I favored the kneeling position because it allows greater reach. But Mary Margaret insisted that we sit on 1 buttock each, and play side saddle. We finally compromised by alternating the 2 positions during the first 2 weeks and sitting Indian style the 3rd week. It is terribly difficult to play jacks sitting Indian style, unless you don't have any knees.

Mary Margaret wanted to use red jacks and a blue ball. This was spite. She knew I detested red and blue. I wanted green jacks and a white ball. Again, we settled the dispute by alternating. But it wasn't easy. The arguing went on 15 weeks and finally went to binding arbitration by Johnny Miller who was deputy referee until 8 o'clock each night when his mother made him go to bed.

Once the match began, Mary Margaret's dad started taking pictures with his Brownie while I was doing eggs-in-the-basket. I walked out and didn't return until he agreed to crouch in the kitchen cupboard and shoot his pictures through an opening in the breadbox.

That'll give you an idea of the strain I was under. But I won, mostly because Mary Margaret was no match for me in the impromptu, or free figure competition. She conceded defeat when I tossed the ball high, put all 5 jacks in my mouth, spit them into my shirt pocketed one at a time, and then caught the ball before it hit the floor.

I'd like to see Bobby Fischer mail that in.

Letters to the Editor

We must have good leadership

Dear Editor,

Next Tuesday, August 8th is the Primary Election, and we would like to take this opportunity to express our concern involving our local election.

Although there are candidates running for several positions, we feel one office in particular will be of great importance to the citizens of Clinton County. That is the office of Sheriff. We have been fortunate to have had good Law Enforcement over the past years and it is of great concern to us that we continue to do so by having a man in office who will continue to give us good Law Enforcement.

Therefore we feel the man elected to be Sheriff should be Honest, Understanding, Friendly, Noble, Aggressive, Generous, Experienced, Loyal.

Stick to your guns

Dear Editor,

I would like to take this time to "kill two birds with one stone" as the saying goes.

In reference to the controversy between Mr. Powell and Mr. Dittmer, from what I've read and observed I tend to go along with Mr. Powell.

As far as Mr. Dittmer saying, (C.C.N. 7-19-72) "He (Mr. Powell) has apparently chosen to attempt to smear my name hoping to enhance his chances of defeating me (Mr. Dittmer) on Aug. 8th by making a public issue of this matter." I tend to find that a rather petty statement!

Politics have been shoved down our throats, and it's things like this that certainly stand out in my mind when I go to the polls and vote! And what a pleasure to read the C.C.N. (7-19-72) and not find anything in it about the "Concerned Citizens Group". I hope they have given up, I think I would if I were they.

Irene McCabe marched to Washington and got nothing but sore feet and publicity, and now you don't hear or read a thing about her, except in my mind I remember what a lot of work she did for apparently no gain!

Let's hope the group have read enough about themselves because I sure have, and I'm sure they're many others who agree with me.

Again I say to the staff and all concerning parties of Clinton Memorial Hospital, "STICK TO YOUR GUNS!"

Sincerely,
JAN WORKMAN
3260 W. Clark Road
Lansing, Michigan 48906

Again, we urge every registered voter to vote August 8th and make sure we get a man in the Sheriff's office, who will continue to give us good leadership.

There's no wrecker monopoly

Dear Editor:

We have a wrecker service in the southern part of Clinton County. We have had emergency calls from the State Police, the Clinton County Police, the DeWitt Township Police Department, DeWitt and Laingsburg and Bath over the past twenty two years.

We have never been asked or ever paid a kick back to any officers at any time. We have always felt that our wreckers received a fair share of work.

If the Clinton County Sheriff's Department has formed a monopoly with three wrecker agencies we are unaware of it.

New directory info sought

General Telephone is compiling directory information for Fowler-Pewamo, Maple Rapids, Muir and St. Johns; and customers who wish to make corrections or additions to the directory should contact the company's business office, William Graef, district manager for the company.

"We want to be sure that our residential and business customers have an opportunity to change their listings for the new directory," Graef said.

Representatives of the General Telephone Directory Company will contact business customers within the next few days to insure that they have an opportunity to review and discuss their Yellow Pages listings, he said.

The publication and distribution dates for the new directory will be announced later.

MSU GRADUATES FIRST MED CLASS

When Michigan State University graduated the first class from its College of Human Medicine, recently, the 30 new doctors became the first in modern times to receive practically all of their clinical training in community hospitals not under university control.

The medical students received the bulk of their instruction from community physicians in hospitals in Alma, Flint, Grand Rapids, Jackson, Lansing and Saginaw.

An ounce of prevention

By Jose J. Llinas, M.D.
Director of Community
Mental Health for Clinton,
Eaton and Ingham

Remember the last time you were in the hospital?

Some people, I am told, manage to keep away from the friendly community institution for most of their life.

"If you still have your tonsils and appendix by the time you are thirty," a somewhat critical friend of mine says, "no doubt you must be a physician".

I happen to still hang on to those two different body parts, but I am sure the fact that I am a doctor is pure and unadulterated coincidence.

And I have no illusions about it. My father kept stubbornly away from surgeons for most of his adult years, but four years ago he had to have an emergency appendectomy, in his early sixties.

The controversy about whether one should have treatment at one's local hospital, or go away to the prestigious university center, is likely to go on for some time.

My wife, whose only expertise in this field comes from the six different minivacations she has taken in delivering herself of a corresponding number of children, is clearly undecided in her preference. She cannot make up her mind as to where her care was best: Foote Hospital, in Jackson, where Lizzy was born, or the University Hospital, in Ann Arbor, where Margie first saw the light of day.

She thinks the University Hospital had a more friendly atmosphere, since more acquaintances kept coming into her room to cheer, her up.

As a then psychiatric resident in Ann Arbor, I of course knew a lot of the doctors and nurses and other personnel; whereas, as a physician beginning practice in Jackson, I hardly knew anybody.

NERVOUSNESS AND HOSPITALIZATION

Intrigued by the clashing opinions of those who prefer the community hospital, versus those who like to go away to the big medical center, a physician at Yale, Dr. Frank A. Lucente, carried out a study where he interviewed 408 medical and surgical patients, in four different types of hospitals, including a large teaching institution and three community hospitals.

He confirmed the idea that most of us, when admitted for hospital care, get pretty shook up about the situation.

Perhaps to no one's surprise, as he classified the patients into different groups, according to age, sex, ethnic background and religion, he found the degree of anxiety was not the same.

For instance, younger people tended to be more upset than older patients. THREE BASIC FACTORS

Fear at the hospital was clearly connected with three different areas.

One is our previous experience with hospitalization. People who had been in before did better, but if they had been hospitalized more than seven times, they weren't so happy about it.

Two, people were less nervous in their own small community hospital; somewhat more upset in the nearest large city institution; anxious to the greatest degree in the largest teaching center.

Three, the type of illness we suffer from. Individuals admitted for bone and joint surgery, or female trouble, were more tense than general surgical patients. THE OUNCE OF PREVENTION

There are sometimes advantages in going away for treatment to a large and prestigious medical center.

When we are familiar with the institution prior to admission, however, and we know some of the personnel, research shows we are much more relaxed, and less upset.

Letters to the Editor

A drug problem does exist

Dear Editor, Being a student at the University of Michigan, drug center of the Midwest, I read with great interest your articles concerning the drug arrests. Both John Furry and your newspaper reporting typify why the drug problem will not be stopped. Both parties refuse to believe that a problem exists.

Your newspaper stated when the drug survey came out that only 17 per cent had smoked dope (marijuana). You failed to point out that almost 40 per cent of the 17 and 18 year old males had smoked dope and if the survey had included 18 year old college freshmen it probably would have been 50 per cent or higher. In my dorm alone 80 per cent had smoked dope.

To the parents of college students, there exists an even chance or better that your children have tried dope one or more times. John Furry in the same way is wrong in believing that no problem exists. A counselor or teacher is the last person a student would talk to concerning drugs. In fact, the teachers and counselors are in one of the worst positions to know and judge students on a personal basis. This includes National Honor Society and these such awards. These awards in the long run hurt a student more than it helps and in an indirect way sometimes leads a student to drugs.

take you away from your wife, family and personal interests.

It is very easy for a candidate to say I favor economy in government and will work to save tax dollars when the candidate doesn't know where the property tax is used.

I firmly believe that we as electors had better take a good look at what we have now in our county government and keep the large majority of them working for us.

By and large they are a fine, dedicated sincere Commission with an average service to you and the County of at least 15 years.

They stand for progress and every one of them have a sincere desire to keep our government at a local level. Another fact, each township Supervisor must, according to recent laws be a certified assessor to complete an assessment roll.

They do their job and then turn the Assessment Roll over to the County Board of Commissioners who have every right to do as they see fit with it. They can give any unit a factor which could raise the valuation and taxes on every parcel in that unit. Let's keep qualified assessors and appraisors on that County Board. They have the knowledge and experience to be fair to all of us.

Any new Commissioner, as on any job, will have to learn from the bottom up. It could cost us a lot of tax money if the change is too great in the makeup of the Commissioners.

If your Commissioner is a good reliable man, willing to work and has proven ability I hope you will cast your ballot for him and by all means get out and VOTE AUGUST 8th Primary as this is when the election for LOCAL PEOPLE will count not at the general election in the fall.

Sincerely, J.A. TERWILLIGER Craig Street Clinton County Lansing, Michigan

EARLY FOOD HABITS SET PATTERN FOR LIFE

What a child gets in the habit of eating as a preschooler pretty much indicates what he will eat in later years. And those early eating habits are generally picked up by imitating parents.

Those are the results of a recent study at Michigan State University.

For her master's thesis, Miss Nancy Beyer studied the food habits of a group of healthy, middle-class, elementary schoolage children who had been studied as preschoolers. Her findings indicate that food habits established among preschoolers remain consistent into the elementary school years.

The study also emphasizes the importance of training children to eat nutritiously at an early age.

A survey of snacking habits among the children showed that the patterns set up by the preschoolers tend to remain consistent. Those who snacked on "empty" calories—soft drinks, sweets, potato chips, etc.—continued to do so, and those who ate nutritious snacks were also consistent.

Other food likes and dislikes showed some changes during the two to four years between studies. The children, at the elementary school age preferred meat and mixed dishes more than they had at the younger age. Their dislike for vegetables remained about the same and the popularity of liver declined.

Miss Beyer's study points out that children learn their food habits by imitating their parents. Therefore it is necessary, she says, that from the start, parents provide children with an example of good nutrition. It is much easier, she says, to establish good food habits in young children than to try to correct poor ones later.

Miss Beyer will soon submit a report of her findings for publication in a professional journal. She conducted her research under the direction of Dr. Portia Morris, Associate Professor of Food Science and Human Nutrition.

Clinton courthouse: keep off the grass

by
Lee Peters
Staff Writer

ST. JOHNS -- Clinton County has one of the most beautiful courthouse lawns in the state. . . . And they intend to keep it that way.

THIS WEEK new "Keep Off The Grass" signs were pounded into the ground once again. It's not the first time R. G. Becker has made several signs for the 450 square feet of green.

Superintendent of building and grounds, Becker surmises past warning posters were stolen. It's worse during the summer months, the St. Johns man admits. In his six years as a county employee, Becker says he has never had any trouble with local people.

"I can keep ahead of the locals," the head maintenance man states. "But we get transients from the Flint, Lansing and Detroit areas," he continues.

Becker, who has a fulltime and one parttime employee, shakes his head. "They sat on the slop and dug it right down to the dirt. One night we had a gang that tore the phone out of the booth and threw it through a window." Other wrongdoings included cutting down the flag and uprooting a newly-planted tree.

After such vandalism, Becker reports the Clinton Sheriff and St. Johns Chief of Police decided to erect the signs. "Then we could get them for trespassing," he explained, "but for our action, we were ridiculed and slandered by townspeople."

BECKER ANNOUNCES he has no objection to local people using the lawn if they have a legitimate reason and need it for a certain amount of time. He refers to the Memorial Day and Soap Box Derby. "I know it makes a nice place to stand," he suggests, and all that's needed is written permission. It does trample the ground, but in about a week's time I can get it looking good again."

The county used to provide benches on the courthouse lawn for passerbys. "But if the benches were full," Becker relates, "they'd sit on the grass and the language was terrible."

In years past, the courthouse lawn has been a gathering spot for area youth. Baker answers "yes" and "no" when asked if the problem has been eased since the building of the new high school. "When the school was behind us," he says, "three to four hundred kids would go downtown. They'd take a shortcut and walk across the lawn. And then about 25 would always come inside and five or six would just steal you blind."

"Don't get me wrong," Becker inserts, "I'm for the young people and we've got some wonderful kids today. But there are always those who don't get along in their society and give problems."

And do you know where I'm finding these people today? Right over in the county jail."

Becker reports there's nothing that can be done lawfully to those who enter the courthouse because it's a public building. As to the trespassing offense, Becker thinks it has not had to be enforced yet.

BUT RAINS FALL IN GRATIOT

Clinton rainmakers seeding clouds

By LEEPETERS
News Staff Writer

CLINTON COUNTY--It looks like a little silver suitcase.

But they call it a silver iodide vaporizing unit, That's scientific talk for rainmakers.

Two of the aluminum boxes have found homes on Clinton County farms. One is located in Dallas Township west of Fowler while a second can be found near Grand Ledge in Eagle Township.

CLINTON'S RAIN-MAKERS are among 22 placed from Zealand to Bay City and from Tustin to Morris by Ivan P. Krick, Inc. The Palm Springs, Calif. Company has a yearly contract with Gratiot, Montcalm and Isabella Counties, plus four townships in Kent and one in Mecosta to drain more drops of rain out of clouds.

Farmers want clouds seeded from June 14 to Aug. 15. That's the critical time in crop growing in Michigan, the driest state east of the Mississippi. Around 1,000,000 acres are involved, at a cost of $60,000.

John Baker, Gratiot agriculture agent, was instrumental in pooling funds for the rain-making project--the first on a large scale basis in the state. Baker reports Clinton's rainmakers are turned on only when conditions are right. That's when the clouds plume and the wind is out of the south or southeast. The resulting rain, he assures, should neither rob Clinton County or add to it, but fall in Gratiot to the north.

The rainmaker is actually an electric generator operated by a magnetic switch. Two electrodes burn silver iodide crystals with the resulting fumes released. Lighter than air, the crystals collect more and more moisture as they rise and eventually freeze. As they enter the clouds, they condense and fall as rain.

The call to activate the rainmakers can only come from the Krick Company, which works directly with the U.S. Weather Bureau, in Dallas, the generator has been turned on twice, generally for a 24-hour period each time. Eagle's rainmaker was used only one time for approximately 12 hours. They are kept locked at all times.

THE FARMERS in Clinton who agreed to place the rainmakers on their land were hired by the Krick Company. As employees, they not only turn on the rainmakers when given the go-ahead but check the device weekly to make sure it's in working order.

Gratiot farmers feel they've got their monies worth. In its first test, two to three inches fell June 14, the first measurable rainfall since May. Rainmakers claim the amount was double or triple to what it would have been.

Next year, Baker hopes to have more farms in a greater area covered. This year $20,000 was collected from 350 farmers in Gratiot at a cost of about 30 cents an acre. In the future, he thinks some sort of tax on all the land in the county is needed. It would cut cost to 7 cents or 8 cents an acre and that's quite a bargain, says Baker.

Farm Bureau report

Lansing--New railway shipping rules which took effect July 15 permit containerized rail shipment of Michigan beans from the huge Michigan Elevator Exchange's Zilwaukee terminal to Canadian ports for overseas markets.

Edward R. Powell, vice president of the Exchange division of Farm Bureau Services, said the new regulations are expected to open new opportunities for delivery of Michigan navy beans to European markets.

The new tariff schedules will permit shipment of containerized beans to Canadian ports via flatcars. Previously, shipments have been made to Detroit via truck from loading onto Great Lakes barges and delivery to Canadian ports accomodating ocean ships. This procedure, however, had required expensive rehandling of bean cargoes.

Powell said the new flatcar shipment rules for containerizers will simplify shipping problems for the overseas market.

Each container accommodates 400 of the 100-lb. bags of beans.

The Michigan Elevator Exchange, in cooperation with the Michigan Bean Commission and Michigan Bean Shippers Association, has been a leader in developing European markets for Michigan-grown beans.

Butz releases wheat provisions

Major provisions of the 1973 Wheat Program have been released by the Secretary of Agriculture, Earl L. Butz. This announcement was made by W. Arthur Rowley, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

According to Rowley, it is important that wheat producers be informed of these provisions in order for them to make their planting plans for their 1973 wheat crop. The Secretary has determined that the 1973 National domestic wheat allotment will be 18.7 million acres, which is one million acres less than last year. The National allotment is based on a National average yield of 31.0 bushels per acre. In 1972 the allotment was 19.7 million acres and the National average yield was 29.8 bushels per acre.

IN 1973, participants in the program must set aside an acreage equal to 86 per cent of their domestic allotment, compared to 83 per cent in 1972. This increase is necessary because of the increase in yield per acre. In addition to the set-aside required for participation, a producer may earn payment for setting aside additional acreage up to 150 per cent of his 1973 domestic wheat allotment--twice the amount of additional acreage allowed in the 1972 program. Producers will again be allowed to substitute feed grains or soybeans for wheat to preserve allotment history. Barley will be a feed grain again in 1963 with a required set-aside of not less than 25 per cent of the barley base. Other major provisions of the 1973 Feed Grain Program will be announced at a later date.

For 1973, there will be no limit or restrictions on the wheat acreage that can be planted for those setting aside only the minimum acreage. Rowley noted that the changes in the 1973 program providing for setting aside additional acreage up to 150 per cent of a producer's 1973 allotment at a payment rate of 88 cents per bushel is aimed at encouraging retirement of additional land to prevent excessive wheat production.

ASCS county offices will soon notify wheat producers of their domestic allotments and the applicable set-aside acreage for their farms.

Philip M. Fox of New Brighton, Minn. spent Sunday afternoon and evening with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Thelen. He had attended a seminar at the National Archives in Washington, D.C. Mr. Fox has been working on a family tree for the Fox family and has gone back as far as the great-grandfather of Mrs. Thelen. He sent her a copy of the marriage certificate of her great-grandfather which was written in French as Napoleon had control of the Rhineland from 1806 to 1815 and Mrs. Thelen's great-grandfather came from that area. Mrs. Thelen learned from Mr. Fox that she has many relatives in the states of Washington, Iowa, S.

Dakota, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota besides Michigan. Some still go by the name of Fuchs. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fernholz and family of Warren are spending 10 days with their mother, Mrs. Dorothy Heckman. During the past week, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Schafer were visitors of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rademacher of Charlotte. Mrs. Roy Simon and family of Lansing spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Myron Schafer. Mrs. Carl Shangraw of Grand Rapids spent three days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wood. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Silvernall were visitors at Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids Tuesday, where they visited their nephew Roy Fox of Ionia. Raymond Barkus has been transferred from the Ionia County Memorial Hospital to the Ionia Manor. will leave for the Navy in August. The trio left Corunna June 23 for St. Louis, Mo. Upon arrival, they learned by T.V. that a plane had been hijacked and as it returned to St. Louis they heard the sirens and found their motel was within a mile and a half from the Airport. They saw the Gateway Arch to the West and the Meramec Cavern claimed to have been Jesse James hide-out. In one part of the cave, the stalagmites and stalactites formed a stage by different lights and formations and they heard Kate Smith sing "God Bless America" for the dedication of the American flag as it was lighted. Their next stop was Joplin, Mo., where they traveled the Turner Turnpike and visited the National Cowboy Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City. The Center is sponsored by 17 western states to honor men and women who made contributions to the development of the West and to preserve its heritage. They spent the night at Tucumacari, N. M., in a region now under cultivation with water for irrigation supplied by the Conchas Reservoir. Crossing New Mexico, they saw Pronghorn Antelope. In northeastern Arizona, they saw the Petrified Forest and the vividly colored Painted Desert. This wide area of plateaus, buttes and mesas is almost destitute of water and vegetation, they said and it was remarkable for its bright colors of its sandstones, shales and clays. In the petrified forest, it is believed that many of the trees grew where they lie today. In Triassic time, 190 million years ago, this area was a swamp basin near sea level. Streams flowing into this basin carried sediments rich in volcanic ash. Slowly the wood of the logs was impregnated with mineral solutions of silica which filled the wood cells until the logs are now virtually solid stone. They stayed overnight in Winslow, Arizona where the motel owners were originally from Alma, Michigan. The next morning, they drove through the Coconine and Karbab National Forest to the Grand Canyon. They saw a cowboy herding cattle and passed the Joe's Burro Wagon. They noted that the Grand Canyon is becoming very commercialized. They were about to open a new motel and novelty shop and there were over night cabins for the tourists. The following night they stayed in Needles, Calif. It is one of the oldest towns of the Mojave Desert which they crossed the next morning, leaving at an early hour. They passed nearby Fort Irwin, the U.S. Army's Tank Training Station and the U.S. Marine Corps Supply Center, near Barstow, Calif. They found most of the highways were four-lanes and in a very short time, all would be completed as 4 lanes. That noon they arrived in Ventura at the home of Mrs. Wilson's son, Douglas and his wife, Madeline. In the afternoon they walked the three blocks to see and wade in the Pacific Ocean. The temperature is always cool, there, they said. They went to Disneyland and saw the electrical parade and fireworks at night, besides the many attractions during the day. They also went to Lion Safari near San Diego. The animals are not in captivity and they drove through the area with windows closed. On Sunday they went to Santa Barbara and attended a Polo Game. Jimmy Rogers, son of Will Rogers, was one of the Polo Players. This was a new game for the Wilsons to see. They also went to the San Diego Zoo, the largest in the world with animals of the rarest specimens in captivity. It has one of the largest free-flight bird cages in the world. They visited Sea World in Mission Bay Park, an oceanarium and marine life show center in 80 acres of Polynesian and oriental landscaping. They also went to the Japanese Village, Deer Park and Knott's Berry Farm, all interesting places to see. They rode the stagecoach and experienced a run away team. The rooms in the Old Mission Santa Barbara are still the original and also the living quarters. The statue of St. Anthony above the door is the oldest wood carving brought here in 1790. In the Mission Church are examples of the 18th and 19th century Mexican art. The two marble plaques on the floor bear the names of the early missionaries and laymen buried the crypt below the sanctuary. Before leaving Ventura, they visited the Botanical Gardens, then traveled north to San Francisco where they crossed the Golden Gate Bridge. From there they went 17 miles to the Muir Woods National Monument. Here they saw the beautiful redwoods towering 200 feet over the shaded floor. Ferns were regarded as associate of the redwood while black-tailed deer are the large animals of Muir Woods along with the western gray squirrel and Sonoma chipmunk. When Redwood Creek is swollen by winter rains, it is provided by silver salmon and steelhead trout. These fish leave the ocean and fight their way upstream to spawning beds. One of the most interesting places was Salt Lake City, where they visited the Temple Square. The church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. This was a guided tour, along with pictures and the stories. Temple Square attracts travelers from all over the world each year and more than a million people pass through its gates in a year. Idaho Falls, Idaho was the next stop but it was difficult finding motels as there were many tourist at that time. The next day they drove to the Yellowstone National Park where they watched "Old Faithful" spout. They saw Mammoth Hot Springs, the Paintpots, and Yellowstone Lake. They saw three bear and some elk, also. Before leaving the park, they stopped where snow was still at the base of a mountain and Jeff threw a snowball at Sue saying, "Funny, as hot as it is, that snow was cold." They crossed Shell Canyon and Big Horn Mountain after leaving Yellowstone. They were between 8 and 10 thousand feet above sea level. They stayed at Rancho, Wyoming for the night just a few miles away from Sheridan where they were preparing for a rodeo. Their last night was spent at Sioux Falls, South Dakota. They left early the next morning and arrived in Owosso that evening, at 8:15 p.m. They had 4-lanes all the way but a few mile on M-69 in Michigan.

ELECT LARRY FLOATE
REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR CLINTON COUNTY SHERIFF

MESSAGE TO THE PEOPLE:

My fellow citizens of Clinton County:

I wish to express my sincere thanks for the support of Sheriff Percy J. Patterson, who for 25 years has served with distinction as Sheriff for the people of Clinton County. A man who has saved the taxpayer a great quantity of money, I am moved by his support, and realize now that all I was taught while being Deputy Sheriff had merit and purposeful meaning.

As this campaign primary draws to a close, let us be mindful that we live in an ever changing and complex world of which this county is a part. That men not conditions are responsible for our progress or our decay. Remembering that through your vote at the local level, the very fiber and foundation of sound and constructive government begins.

You, the people of this county, will go to the polls this Tuesday and decide who will be the republican nominee for the office of Sheriff.

I wish to clearly state, that I am prepared to meet that challenge and face that responsibility in discharging the duties of Sheriff for Clinton County. I ask for your aid and support when making that selection. I realize with a personal realization, that we meet at a time when a great sense of urgency exist in the hearts and minds of our citizens throughout this county.

We meet at a time when old ways must yield to change and a new order of programs must begin to meet the growing challenges and concerns of our people throughout the hamlets, villages, towns, and cities in which they reside, school and work.

We meet at a time when taxation has become the order of the day and the only answer to our problem rather than seeking avenues of alternations.

We meet at a time when crime and lawlessness touches and grips the very community in which we live. A time when the very balance of justice and law enforcement are shackled by the courts and the educated criminal.

For me meet at a time when true rehabilitation from crime should be a concern programed by all of us, programed from within the home, the schools, and from within the churches. Jailed isolation or confined solitude is not true rehabilitation.

We assemble at a time when we must begin to utilize and coordinate more of the State and Federal assisted programs in the fields of Public safety, Police training and technique, and the availability of surplus equipment so as to insure that the health and welfare of the people of this county is preserved.

We are not the largest county in this state and by no means the smallest, but we are a county comprised of some 50 thousands of people. Each deserving the pursuit of his happiness and the right to the peace.

In my 7 years of law enforcement I have gotten to know many of these people, and traveled the length and breath of the 16 townships that comprise this great county. Yes, I have arrested many people from drunken driving to robbery while in the performance of my duties. I have sensed their likes and dislikes from new traffic lights to stop signs. And I can also truly say, that not a week goes by that someone doesn't stop me or call my wife Virgilene and ask: what am I going to do with this child of mine?, where have I failed?, or we have given them everything we never had? Well as a father of 6 children myself, the answer to that problem usually lies between the interest and attention shown towards their children and of giving them too much, too soon, too fast.

My fellow voters, I say to you that as a person who was born here, reared here, schooled here, working and living here in this county: I am not a person who believes in false hopes and empty promises. But this I do know, given your support and a chance to serve as your Sheriff, I readily assure you that I will not falter nor fail in my duties and responsibilities to that office. That I will be continuously aware of the confidence and trust you have placed in me by your vote this Tuesday, August the 8th. That I will exercise the principle of equal protection under the law, without timidity or fear of political reprisal. That with Gods blessings, I pledge myself to be a true and reliable guardian of the peace.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tillotson returned from an eight-day trip to Pennsylvania where their son, William recently underwent eye surgery at Well's Eye Hospital in Philadelphia. A month ago he had surgery on one eye and his parents went there to be with him when surgery was required on the other eye. They stayed in Philadelphia until they could take their son to his home as his wife, Gail was slowly recuperating from surgery also and not able to accompany her husband to the hospital.

The younger Tillotson moved to Pennsylvania a year ago and are building a new home near Leesport. They are both teachers. Bill will be able to resume his duties as a math teacher at Garden City, near Lancaster by fall. They were in the flood area but their home was not harmed. A covered bridge two miles from them was swept away and six persons lost their lives at nearby Lancaster, where Mrs. Tillotson was a counselor at the high school. The Tillotsons have a three year old son, David Mark.

"Thank you Jack Downing"

For the past nine years many, many young boys have benefited because of a man named Jack Downing.

Nine years ago the St. Johns Little League program was started. It was largely through the efforts of Jack that the program became a reality. He has also been the major force in developing the activity toward what it is today.

This type of dedication and involvement, in a worthwhile community project, has earned Jack Downing the title of Mr. Little League in the minds of many youngsters and their parents.

A special issue dedicated to St. Johns Little League could not be complete without a special section commending Jack.

At this time the Clinton County News would like to convey a special thanks to you on behalf of the St. Johns community.

St. Johns Little League nine years old

ST. JOHNS—Nine years ago two St. Johns men, Jack Downing and William Smiley decided to start an organized baseball program for boys in the community. After placing an ad in the paper for managers, four persons responded and four teams were formed to handle the 45 boys interested in the program. The first four teams formed were the Sox, Tigers, Cubs and Yankees. As interest grew, new facilities were sought and the four managers decided to seek a service club to help purchase equipment and take on the sponsorship of the program.

Downing sought the aid of the St. Johns Jaycees and was told that if he would join their organization they would embark on the project.

The program was then moved from the park to a location along Scott Road on land owned by Saylor-Beall Manufacturing Co. and a number of local business firms and individuals had a hand in the preparation of the field for play.

Managers, coaches and fathers of the boys put in long hours to keep the diamond in shape for the Little Leaguers.

Four more teams were added, Indians, Orioles, Giants and the Spartans.

In 1968 there was so much interest in the program that larger facilities were needed. Civic leader, Bernard Feldpausch donated a three acre parcel of land and the action moved to its new location on Townsend Road, in back of Bee's Chevrolet and Olds. Two more teams were added that summer, the Twins and the Cougars.

In the years that followed the field began to shape up and with the help of the St. Johns Rotary Club who headed up a committee a lighting project was completed. With the new lights two games an evening could be played. Three more teams were added, Cardinals, Reds and Pirates.

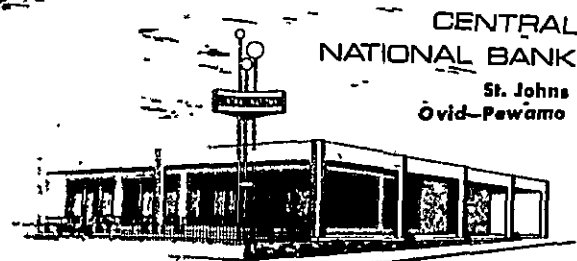

This year plans are underway for the construction of a permanent building at the field designed to house a concession stand, bathroom facilities and a meeting room.

With the addition of the Astros and the Mets this year, a total of 15 teams with 15 boys on each were involved in the program.

casey at the bat

by Ernest Lawrence Thayer

(1863 - 1940)

The outlook wasn't brilliant for the Mudville nine that day;
The score stood four to two, with but one inning more to play;
And so, when Cooney died at first, and Barrows did the same,
A sickly silence fell upon the patrons of the game.

A straggling few got up to go in deep despair. The rest
Clung to the hope which springs eternal in the human breast.
They thought, if only Casey could but get a whack, at that,
They'd put up even money now, with Casey at the bat.

But Flynn preceded Casey, as did also Jimmy Blake,
And the former was a pudding and the latter was a fake.
So upon that stricken multitude grim melancholy sat,
For there seemed but little chance of Casey's getting to the bat.

But Flynn let drive a single, to the wonderment of all,
And Blake, the much despised, tore the cover off the ball.
And when the dust had lifted, and they saw what had occurred,
There was Jimmy safe on second, and Flynn a-hugging third.

Then from the gladdened multitude went up a joyous yell,
It bounded from the mountain-top and rattled in the dell,
It struck upon the hillside, and recoiled upon the flat,
For Casey, mighty Casey, was advancing to the bat.

There was ease in Casey's manner as he stepped into his place,
There was pride in Casey's bearing and a smile on Casey's face.
And when, responding to the cheers, he lightly doffed his hat,
No stranger in the crowd could doubt 'twas Casey at the bat.

Ten thousand eyes were on him as he rubbed his hands with dirt,
Five thousand tongues applauded when he wiped them on his shirt.
Then while the writhing pitcher ground the ball into his hip,
Defiance gleamed in Casey's eye, a sneer curled Casey's lip.

And now the leather covered sphere came hurtling through the air,
And Casey stood a-watching it in haughty grandeur there;
Close by the sturdy batsman the ball unheeded sped.
"That ain't my style," said Casey. "Strike one," the umpire said.

From the benches, black with people, there went up a muffled roar,
Like the beating of the storm-waves on a stern and distant shore.
"Kill him! Kill the umpire!" shouted someone on the stand.
And it's likely they'd have killed him had not Casey raised his hand.

With a smile of Christian charity great Casey's visage shone,
He stilled the rising tumult; he bade the game go on;
He signaled to the pitcher, and once more the spheroid flew,
But Casey still ignored it and the umpire said, "Strike two!"

"Fraud!" cried the maddened thousands, and the echo answered, "Fraud!"
But a scornful look from Casey, and the audience was awed.
They saw his face grow stern and cold, they saw his muscles strain,
And they knew that Casey wouldn't let that ball go by again.

The sneer is gone from Casey's lips, his teeth are clenched in hate,
He pounds with cruel violence his bat upon the plate;
And now the pitcher holds the ball, and now he lets it go,
And now the air is shattered by the force of Casey's blow.

Oh! somewhere in this favored land the sun is shining bright,
The band is playing somewhere, and somewhere hearts are light;
And somewhere men are laughing, and somewhere children shout,
But there is no joy in Mudville—mighty Casey has struck out.

The wide-awake bank' makes it all so easy.
