

Fowler council acts to prolong sewer system life

FWLER—Fowler councilmen took some steps Monday night to prolong the life of the village's present sewer system . . . and they also wondered about a sewage tax.

The council approved the replacement of dry beds at the present plant in a project estimated to cost roughly $1,000. The new dry beds would be either blacktop or concrete surfaced and would slope toward tile-lined furrows covered with peastone and sand for proper drainage and filtration.

The proposed new beds would be similar to those at Grand Lodge. All this, however, is contingent upon approval of Kenneth Fishbeck, engineer with the Lansing firms of Fishbeck and Thompson, Civil Engineering.

Action was taken Monday night to enable a fast start on the work if Fishbeck gives his approval. City employees would do as much of the work as possible with local contractors to be hired as necessary.

FWLER HAS BEEN considering a lagoon-type sewage system for several years, and the feeling is that eventually there will be a need for one. About a year ago, the Farmers Home Administration advised Fowler officials requested loans and grants totaling $100,790 toward a $150,000 system could not be provided because of a lack of FHA funds.

Fowler councilmen feel the replacement of the dry beds may save off the necessity for a lagoon system for a few more years. The sludge beds now being used were designed for a 400-person system, but more than 1,000 presently benefit from the sewage system.

The proposed changes would reportedly allow cleaning of the beds four to six times a year—twice as often as is done presently—and would increase sewage plant efficiency about 50 per cent.

The Fowler sewage treatment plant was constructed in 1938 and was revamped about 10 years ago.

In a related bit of non-action, village councilmen discussed the possibility of a sewage tax, but there was no action taken. Councilmen figured such a tax might be used to offset costs of operating the system and provide a little backlog for the expenses and repairs they all know will come someday.

Presently the water department is the only source of revenue for the sewage operation, other than about $1,000 in sewage hook-up charges. Water revenue amounts to about $15,000 a year.

VILLAGE PRESIDENT Martin Edinger noted that not many villages of Fowler's size even have sewage plants, let alone systems for which there is no charge made.

There were other items of business of a more routine nature on the agenda for the council Monday night. Water plant operator Leonard Thelen was commended by the Michigan Water Pollution Control Assn. for having no accidents and for efficient operation of the plant during the past year. President Edinger was named the village's delegate to the Michigan Municipal League Convention in Lansing Sept. 17-20.

The council discussed a recommendation from Thelen that several inches of gravel be placed on roads which will be resurfaced next year, so that the gravel can settle over the winter before the blacktop is applied. The council will study possible costs, probable revenue available and will determine which roads will be done before taking action on Thelen's suggestion.

The council also took no action

Charter status up to voters

HORSES WERE POPULAR AT 4-H FAIR THIS YEAR

Bigger than ever this year was the horse show at the Clinton County 4-H Fair, going on through Wednesday in St. Johns. Among the many young horsemen and women are Janeth Harte and Dan McMaster of the Victor Pathfinding 4-H Club.

School opening details studied; staff members still needed

School-opening details took up a lot of the time at the St. Johns Board of Education's regular monthly meeting last Wednesday night. They reaffirmed the existing dress code, opened milk bids, made a few changes in the methods of handling absences from school, adopted a proposed calendar for the year and looked over the teacher needs.

Commissioner to be named next Tuesday

A replacement for resigned City Commissioner John Furry will be named by the commission at a special meeting next Tuesday night, Aug. 20.

The date was set Monday night after commissioners decided to delay the appointment until all their current members are present. Commissioner Mrs. Jeanne Rand was on vacation and was absent from this week's meeting.

According to a ruling by City Atty. William Kemper, the person appointed will fill out the rest of Furry's term of office—about four years—and will not face election this November. The commission must make the appointment by Aug. 21—30 days from the date of Furry's resignation as provided by the city charter.

The special meeting Aug. 20 will be at 8 p.m. in the commission chambers.

Public praise for police

When policemen receive a public compliment, that's news!

That's what Police Chief Everett Glazier thought last Saturday, and that's what the city commission thought Monday night, too. The commission read publicly a letter from Jack M. Hilley of 4884 County Farm Road pertaining to an accident his son had in St. Johns recently.

Said Hilley in his Aug. 7 letter to Chief Glazier:

"I would like to commend your department for the courtesy extended my son Patrick Hilley and myself on Pat's recent accident downtown involving a young girl that walked out between cars in front of him.

"The officer responding to the accident impressed me tremendously with his fairness, wisdom and his sincerity to see that the matter was handled properly. The boy was not hurt but was shaken up mentally (scared). His first experience with the law taught him the law was there to help and not 'hang' him as so many young people believe . . .

"Situations such as this make us proud to be a part of this community . . . As a father of seven sons, it is of utmost importance to me that my boys respect law and order."

Chief Glazier said he checked the accident reports and found the officer to be Robert Ott, a veteran St. Johns policeman.

Sickles sidewalk assessment roll approved at $2.61 per ft

The assessment roll for the oft-discussed sidewalk on the south side of Sickles Street west of Lansing Street was approved by the city commission Monday night.

Two resolutions did the trick, with the second one providing for a reduction in the cost to three privately-owned parcels because of a $338.57 contribution from the St. Johns School District.

The official assessment, however, remains the same — $2,610.52 per front foot, based on a total cost of $1,648.50 for the 550 feet of sidewalk. Using that figure, two parcels owned by A.J. Weseman were assessed a total of $603.03 and one parcel owned by William Moon was assessed $189.47.

The school district's share of the cost worked out to $385, and the city absorbed $471 of the cost.

Mrs. Weseman was in the audience Monday night and questioned whether or not the city had told the property owners that it would pay for the extra two feet in width that the sidewalk to the school was being built. It is a seven-foot walk, whereas the normal width is five feet.

City Manager Harvey Weatherwax said the city's share of the cost of the walk is roughly 2/7 of the total cost, or enough to take care of the extra two feet in width. The school district is paying about 3/7 of the cost, leaving property owners roughly 2/7 of the cost, the manager said.

The extra contribution from the school was forwarded to the city to be applied on the assessments against the private property owners, because, as the school letter said, the walk was being installed primarily for the school's use and it would carry mostly school pedestrian traffic. The contribution lowered the net Weseman assessment to $345.46 and the Moon assessment to $108.47.

Another public hearing scheduled for Monday night was postponed, was rescheduled and will be readvertised for the commission's Sept. 9 meeting. It involved a request for sanitary sewer on Sickles Street between Lansing and Church streets, requested by Andrew Kuhnmench. The commission explained that the hearing date had been set during a period between city managers, and the new manager, Weatherwax, had not been notified of the request and so had no information to present.

Also scheduled for the Sept. 9 meeting is a public hearing on a proposal to rezone a 350x1,000-foot strip of land to the east line of vacated Baker Street from light industrial to R-2, multiple family. Such was the recommendation of the St. Johns Planning Commission, which suggested that such a zone would act as a good buffer zone between existing light industrial and residential properties along Walker Street.

In other miscellaneous business Monday night:

*The commission tabled a request from citizen David Husted to use the city dump for a couple of extra hours on evenings before regular dump hours to dispose of 13 trees he is cutting down for the St. Johns School District. The request was tabled to allow the city manager time to check the cost of the extra time. "We can't open it for one without opening it up for everybody," Mayor Charles Coletta commented, unless a specific charge is made against the user.

*Keith Canfield, the city's garbage and rubbish contractor, requested permission to send bills to owners of apartment houses in which there are more than three dwellings. He said his contract with the city provides for pickup of garbage and rubbish from no more than three dwellings in one place. Mayor Coletta suggested Canfield and the city meet soon to discuss negotiating of a new contract.

*Clinton County Chapter 64, Disabled American Veterans, were given permission to sell forget-me-nots on the streets of St. Johns Sept. 6 and 7.

*City Manager Weatherwax and treatment plant Manager Chan Woodbury were authorized to attend a public hearing by the State Water Resources Commission in Kalamazoo Aug. 28 to obtain information on which to base possible future sewage treatment needs.

*City Manager Weatherwax reported that information he has now on the Scott Road sanitary sewer indicates it has sufficient capacity to handle anticipated sewerage from a proposed nursing home at the corner of Walker Street and Scott. He said this does not take into consideration increased sewerage from the high school through the Scott Road

St. Johns youth plans MD carnival

By CLAUDIA McLOUGHLIN
News Staff Writer

For more than a month, 10 neighborhood youngsters have pooled their ideas, time and efforts for the benefit of Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America. The end result will be Thursday, Aug. 15, at 206 West Gibbs Street at 1:30 p.m.

Richard, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe VanRooyen, has led his neighborhood in organizing a MD Carnival as advertised on national television.

The carnival is a fund raising project promoted by the MDA to capture the interest of youngsters and is a "fun project" that can keep kids busy for hours during the summer months.

Rick and his friends from the block presented a carnival to the kids in the surrounding area last year and earned over $28 for the cause. This year, he has recruited more help and plans a bigger and better carnival. The workers for the carnival had collected $10 last week. The money, Rick says, will go for prizes.

Merchants of St. Johns have helped too. Rehmann's Clothing contributed several boys' belts to be given as prizes. Lake's Jewelry gave a pair of earrings, Woodbury's donated a vase and Parr's let the kids pick out a book.

On the agenda for the afternoon's carnival at Rick's home will be various games. A sponge toss, apple dunking, and penny pitch will be among the entertaining events the youngsters have lined up. Also included will be the awarding of a door prize. The kids who attend the carnival will be able to purchase tickets. At the end of the afternoon, one from the group putting on the carnival will draw the name of the lucky winner. Rick added that it is not necessary for the winner to be present to claim the prize. Rick says that he or one of his helpers will contact the winner if he is not present.

The very special, added attraction of the afternoon will be a boxing match between "Killer Mike" VanRooyen and "Sluggo Steve" Wadsworth. Rick himself will referee the match. The rough and rugged six-year-olds will meet to battle in a tent at the carnival at 3 p.m. A small admission will be charged.

On hand to help will be Mrs. VanRooyen assisted by the mothers of the neighborhood with refreshments to serve to the children and parents who will come to the carnival.

Assisting Rick with the preparations were Andrea Boyce, LeAnn, Sheila, and Steve Wadsworth, Missy Bancroft, Connie Cook, Brenda Verdonk, Cindy Mazzolini and her brother, Mike.

He says that the kids have put in a lot of work to make the carnival a success. Neighbors and merchants have contributed and the afternoon should be well worth anyone's time.

Thelen new P-W principal

Roy Thelen, science and mathematics teacher in the P-W high school for the past four years, was appointed high school principal by the Pewamo-Westphalia Board of Education to replace Chester Casari, who resigned to accept a position in the Ionia Public School.

Thelen received his B.S. degree from Michigan State University in 1964 and completed the requirements for the M.A. degree this summer from the same university.

Thelen is married and the proud father of a new baby girl born July 30. He received his high school education in the former St. Mary's High School of Westphalia. Mrs. Thelen is a former graduate of the P-W high school.

Thelen began his new duties Aug. 1.

BINGHAM HALL TO BE SOLD

The 63-year-old Bingham Township Hall will be sold at public auction within the next month or so. The hall was seriously damaged in a late-June windstorm, and township activities, including the recent election have been shifted to the Lamb School. Supervisor Maurice Gove said a date for the auction will be set later; electors of the district decided on the sale Aug. 1. The property—.81 of an acre—was deeded to the township in 1905 by Sarah Atkinson and the hall was built soon after. It's at the corner of Scott and Wildcat roads.

*The city manager was named as delegate to the Michigan Municipal League meeting in Lansing Sept. 17-20, with City Clerk Tom Hundley as alternate.

*A request from the fire department for a pay adjustment for fire drills was tabled for further consideration and will be on the agenda at the commission's Aug. 27 meeting. The firemen are requesting an increase from the present $1 an hour to $6 per drill. Drills normally last two hours, and there are about eight a year. Fire Chief Clare Maler was quoted as saying he felt better pay for the drills would bring out better attendance of firemen at those sessions.

*The city manager was named street administrator for St. Johns under state Act 51, which provides a portion of the money for St. Johns street work.

Bakita, Nickel get new school assignments

The St. Johns School Board last week announced a slight shift in duties for administrative assistants Walter Nickel and Steve Bakita.

Nickel will be director of the TASS (Team Approach to Special Services) federal pilot project, will take charge of public relations duties and will be in charge of teacher recruiting. He formerly was in charge of rural schools, but with the completion of the neighborhood schools and the appointment of principals for each of them, the necessity of that job is no longer as strong.

Bakita will continue to handle school transportation and federal programs and will also work on food services—in preparation for the high school—junior high lunch programs and eventually the rural neighborhood hot lunch programs.

Ashley tables bids on street work

ASHLEY—Ashley has tabled bids on curb and gutter work on a couple of blocks of village streets because the cost was higher than funds available. The work was scheduled for this summer.

Dr. William E. Berndt resigned as a member of the village council; an appointment to fill the vacancy is expected next month.

Redwing marching band at MSU camp next week

The St. Johns Redwing Marching Band leaves for band camp at Michigan State University Monday. They will be on campus with eight other bands for one week, returning home Saturday afternoon, Aug. 24.

During this pre-season camp the band will march and practice for seven hours a day perfecting style, musicianship, and attitude. The freshmen will be indoctrinated to the marching and playing style of the band, giving them an opportunity to become a regular member.

Saturday morning, each band gives a demonstration of what they have been working on during the week.

Several counselors, who will also act as section leaders and instructors, will be attending camp along with the directors. MSU will be furnishing a drum major and percussionist as instructors in addition to the staff that the band is taking with them.

The band will load equipment from the sidewalk in back of the high school at 7 a.m. Monday and will leave at 7:30. Mail sent to bandmen can be addressed to Shaw Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing 48823.

"Band camp is extremely important to the band this year because of two engagements that come early in the season," Director Walter P. Cole remarked. "One is the Chesaning Marching Festival Sept. 7 and the other is MSU Band Day.

"The St. Johns band has been invited to perform a special feature in the first post-game show ever presented at MSU, a great honor for the band," Cole said.

"We are looking forward to a great week at camp."

Oct. 4, MEA regional conference, Nov. 28-29, Thanksgiving recess, Dec. 20 (noon), Christmas vacation begins. Jan. 2, school resumes. Jan. 17, first semester ends. Jan. 20, second semester begins.

March 28 (4 p.m.), spring vacation begins. April 7, school resumes. May 30, Memorial Day. June 9, commencement. June 11, school closes.

Most of the teaching staff for the current year has been hired, but there still remains a need for a shop teacher, high school counselor, two girls' gym teachers (one for high school and the other for elementary), a speech therapist, and a type A elementary special-education teacher.

All rural schools are staffed except for a second grade and the gym instructor.

THE FOUR NEW rural neighborhood elementary schools will be used fully for the first time this fall, but until the new high school is finished, several one-room schools near St. Johns will continue to be used—but for one or two grades each only.

The Greenwood school on DeWitt Road will be used for Type B special education students; Lamb school for first grade; Stone Creek School for second grade; County Farm School for first and second; Gardner School for third grade; Cramer School for fourth; Sage School for fifth; and Krepps School for sixth grade.

Space continues to be somewhat of a problem for school officials, although a mobile classroom has been removed from Perrin Palmer School and from East Ward School. At the high school, the former study hall on the second floor has been converted into two classrooms, and study halls will now be held each hour in the balcony of the auditorium.

The school board last week granted a diploma to Joan Carol Ostrowski.

The board is investigating their title to land and buildings for 11 rural schools which it tentatively plans on selling a public auction later this fall.

Flames destroy Elsie barn

ELSIE—Flames destroyed a large centennial farm barn on the Leon and Glenn Williams farm northeast of Elsie early Monday morning.

Flames were visible as far away as St. Johns at the height of the blaze. It was discovered about 1:10 a.m. when it "lit up" the bedroom of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Williams at 8804 Allen Road in western Shiawassee County.

The fire burned to the ground a 36 x 60-foot barn and 20-foot lean-to. Victims in the fire were 10 heifers and two cows and 80 tons of new-crop hay. There was some heat damage to equipment parked outside. Most of the cattle on the farm were housed in another nearby barn.

The destroyed building was a two-story hip-roof structure built by the Williams' grandfather. It is located about three miles east of Elsie. The Elsie Fire Department had two rigs on the scene, and the Ovid department assisted with two trucks. They concentrated their efforts on wetting down nearby buildings to prevent the spread of flames.

Consumers Power Co. crewmen were called to the scene.

Elsie Fire Chief Durward Conklin said the cause of the fire is unknown.

But there's no need to hire anyone. It's a job we can do for ourselves. All of us. Every family that spreads a picnic lunch. Every boatman who cruises the lakes and waterways. Every motorist who uses our roads and highways.

Clinton road report

Two big summer projects were completed this past Monday, the road brining and the re-sealing of black-top roads.

The magnitude of these jobs can be gauged by the amounts of material used. A grand total of 1,805,600 gallons of 38 per cent liquid chloride solution was spread on county roads in 14 townships. When the gross weight of this is considered, it makes an even more impressive figure of 1,046,345 tons—a lot of weight or a lot of liquid any way you measure it.

Some 786 tons of hot asphalt and over 7,100 cubic yards of fine pea stone were spread in re-sealing old black-tops and in putting down nearly four miles of new road. I only wish we could have applied as much asphalt as we did chloride then we would all have black-top roads.

On Thursday of this week, work will start on the reconstruction of Taft Road between County Farm Road and DeWitt Road. The clearing, grubbing and sub-grade will be completed this fall and the black-topping will be done next year. This mile and a third extension of black-top will complete the connection for Bingham Township of Chandler and DeWitt Roads, the two north and south primaries in the township.

Now that the brining and re-sealing is finished we will be able to concentrate all our efforts on new construction and on other maintenance work that has been of necessity neglected to this point. Bridge repairs will be made, ditching, grading and all the many other jobs that must be done to properly maintain roads will receive attention from now until cold weather sets in. Gravel trucks will be especially busy hauling fill for the various construction jobs around the county.

Henrik E. Stafseth, state highway director, said net Highway Fund receipts during April, May, and June totaled $67,060,769, and increase of $11,133,623 or 16.6 per cent more than the same period of 1967.

Keys receive Miami visitor

ELSIE—Miss Jennifer Keys of Miami arrived Monday night to spend five days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Keys and family. She was met at Detroit's Metropolitan Airport by her parents, Stephanie Wilson of Miami, Jack Keys and Terry Latham.

Jennifer reported that the Richard Nixon party arrived at the crowded Miami International Airport just as her plane was scheduled for departure. It was delayed for 30 minutes and as it neared Ohio and Michigan encountered the storms that were bringing tornado warnings to this area. It was a very frightening close to the non-stop flight.

Jennifer visited her family, former schoolmates and teachers. She had just completed the summer session at Miami-Dade Junior College and will begin her new work at "Burdin's" in Miami this week.

14 new marks established

6 swim records fall

Six existing records were broken Sunday and 14 new records were established as 31 youngsters braved cool air temperatures for the sixth annual Jaycee-sponsored swim meet in St. Johns.

Fourteen-year-old Cathy Stoddard, daughter of Mrs Dorothy

THIS IS THE END

Judges Roger Hammtreee and Roger Beebee of the Jaycees snap their stopwatches as a young swimmer touches the end of the pool.

Stoddard of 410 W. Walker Street, stole the show again, breaking three of her own records of last year and swimming on relay teams that broke two other records dating back to 1963 and 1965.

She was named the meet's outstanding girl swimmer, and a similar honor for the boys went to Bob Weber, 12, of 606 E. Cass Street, who placed first in six individual events and was on one of two winning relay teams.

Both received engraved trophies from Mart Livingston, co-manager of the swim meet with Rod Brown. All contestants received first-, second- or third-place ribbons according to their finish in each heat.

THE WARMER POOL waters of this year were thought to have slowed down some of the time, but two records that went back to 1963 were snapped, Sally Durner, Mag Kuntz, Cathy Stoddard and Billie Jo Benson broke the senior girls medley relay record with a time of 1:47.5, knocking 30.7 seconds off the old mark. And the intermediate girls medley relay team of Marcia Pierce, Theresa and Carol Huard and Colleen Woodhams knocked 12.2 seconds off the 1963 record with a time of 2:27.8.

Cathy broke three of her own records in the 100-foot backstroke, 100-foot side stroke and 200-foot free style. She was nearly 3 seconds faster in the side stroke and almost two seconds faster in the 200-foot free style.

Girls broke the only records at the meet. There were some records established by both boys and girls in two new divisions set up for the first time this year. Youngsters 8 through 9 years old were enrolled in a junior division, and the previous junior division became known as the intermediate division. One girl and two boys were entered as juniors.

Another division new this year was the open division, in which Scott Bennett swam alone in seven events. It is for 16 and 17-year-olds. The free-style relay team in the girls intermediate division also established a record, since no teams had participated in this event in past years.

Speakers filled two sets of bleachers outside the pool fence for a major part of the meet, which ran from about 1:40 to near 6 p.m. The meet is sponsored each year by the St. Johns Jaycees, who provide ribbons for all the participants as well as a snack afterward.

Here are the top three finishers in each event:

LOWELL—Everything is all set once again for Lowell's event of the year! Next Monday evening, the Lowell Showboat rounds the bend of the Flat River and heads for the dockside-stage for the first performance of its 36th annual week of nightly performances.

It's a far cry from the original amateur minstrel shows of the olden days to the star-studded cast headed by Dinah Shore and The Dukes of Dixieland which opens Monday night. But a lot of the nostalgia and the rousing entertainment of the original Mississippi River showboats still is in evidence in today's shows at Lowell.

The performances get underway at 8:30 p.m. each evening with the docking of the big Showboat, the Robert E. Lee XXXVI, and its cast of well over 100 singers, dancers, musicians, emcees and professional stars. All seats are reserved and tickets are available at box offices in several surrounding cities as well as at the Lowell Box Office on Main Street.

Kelly's 378 short of requirement

Republican write-in candidate Patrick Kelly polled 378 votes in the Aug. 6 primary, but according to County Clerk Ernest Carter, that's not enough to earn a place on the November ballot.

Carter said that in order for a name to be printed on the ballot in November, a write-in candidate must receive at least 15 per cent of the number of votes cast for the county officer receiving the highest number of votes in the primary.

That was Treasurer Mrs. Velma Beaufore, who got 5,363 votes. The 15 per cent would mean Kelly needed 804 votes to have his name printed on the ballot in November. He is still eligible, however, to run as a write-in candidate, and if he gets the highest number of votes he would be elected.

State inspectors guard consumer milk supplies

Half a hundred men and more spend all their working hours as guardians of Michigan's milk supplies, to assure housewives and their families of a wholesome high quality product.

These are the 52 men of the Michigan Department of Agriculture Dairy Division who conduct state-wide milk inspections under the supervision of Kenneth M. Van Patten, chief of the dairy division.

Undergoing frequent and regular inspections are about 10,200 Grade A milk producers in Michigan, 97 plants that bottle milk and milk products, and 54 plants manufacturing dairy products such as cheese, butter and nonfat dry milk powder. Also scrutinized regularly are almost 2,000 ice cream plants, including soft serve stands and restaurants which operate malt machines, 11 Grade A transfer stations, and about 1,100 bulk haulers.

Some of Michigan's milk laws date back into the 1880's, so inspection of milk is not new in this state. But only since 1966 has total responsibility for inspection been vested with the Department of Agriculture.

In earlier years a consumer with a complaint about his milk called his local health department. Now, on the rare occasions when complaints are registered, they are referred to the department's dairy division. Van Patten reports that since state inspection went into effect, consumer complaints have dropped sharply and dairies are happy with the improved acceptance of their products.

DeWitt studying sewer rates for school extension

DeWITT—Recommendations for sewer rates for DeWitt institutions and schools are being prepared by Councilmen Keith Blizzard and DuWayne Ziegler for presentation at the next city council meeting.

DeWitt is studying the extension of the present sewer system to the high school property on Herbison Road, and Mayor Elden T. Smith says it will take 3,800 feet of pipe to do the job. The school board has asked for the extension. Fifty lots at Lake Geneva, recently annexed to the city, would also benefit.

Speaking of Lake Geneva, lot owners there are being notified of a city ordinance which requires laws to be kept mowed.

Councilman Ziegler was named supervisor of the sewage plant, succeeding Blizzard. Russell Hanes will represent the city at a State Water Resources Commission hearing Aug. 28 in Kalamazoo.

January sales tax take told

A total of $132,998.96 in sales taxes was collected by 500 Clinton County businesses during January, 1968, the Michigan Department of Revenue reported this week. The money was turned in to the department during February.

Taxes from automotive sales topped food sales for the first time in many months. Automotive sales taxes totaled $41,852, while food sales tax amounted to $39,522.

Other tax categories and the amounts collected were: building material, $17,852; general merchandise $5,491; apparel $2,439; furniture, $5,029; miscellaneous retail, $5,113; and non-retail, $15,699. Total use taxes amounted to $5,056.49.

Clinton moving toward mental health board affiliation with Ingham

Two meetings this week and next are moving Clinton County closer to an affiliation with Ingham and Eaton counties for care of mental health cases from this area.

Legislation passed recently provides for merger of existing mental health boards or additions of new areas, and the emphasis of the Clinton County Board of Supervisors' health committee has now shifted to possible merger with Ingham County.

Mental health care for Clinton County patients is presently being handled by Ingham, but there is no representation on the Ingham Mental Health Board for Clinton County. Under provisions of the new law, the existing 12-member Ingham board could be expanded by two members from Clinton until such time as terms in office for two existing board members expire, and then the board would drop back to its original 12-member size.

Health Committee Chairman, Maurice Gove, Ingham Township supervisor, said one of the two meetings will be held in St. Johns this Friday with two officials from the Ingham board. This will be to iron out difficulties which Clinton County Prosecutor, Roland Duguay, says he is having in getting emergency cases admitted at St. Lawrence Hospital in Lansing.

Another meeting will be held Aug. 23 with the Ingham board to discuss implementing of the merger plan. Eaton County is also considering merging, and they, too, would have two members on the board, raising it in size temporarily to 16 members.

Prior to the enabling legislation, Clinton County health committee members had been seriously considering an affiliation with Shiawassee County, which had expressed an interest in disbanding their board to form a new joint board with Clinton.

State police auction set for Aug. 23

The 14th annual Michigan State Police auction of confiscated and unclaimed merchandise will begin at 9 a.m. Friday, Aug. 23, at department headquarters, 714 South Harrison Road, East Lansing.

More than 2,000 items grouped in about 500 lots will be offered. The sale will continue until all merchandise has been sold.

Among the articles will be 57 boys and girls bicycles, television sets, a lawn mower, boats motors and trailers.

Usual offerings will include cameras, watches, radios, rings, clothing, hunting, fishing and other sporting equipment, hand and power tools, car accessories and parts, purses and wallets.

The auction is authorized by law to dispose of confiscated and recovered articles whose owners could not be identified, items and equipment lost or abandoned at state parks, and the personal effects of persons who died in state institutions without leaving heirs.

Last year's auction netted the state treasury $2,086.21.

A great many people are out looking for a four-leafed clover when opportunity knocks.

THOMAS HUNDLEY

St. Johns City Clerk Thomas Hundley was seated last week as the newest member of the Clinton County Board of Supervisors and was assigned to vacancies on the records and equipment and the civil defense committees by Chairman Walter Nobis. Hundley replaced Don Clark as city clerk July and is also taking Clark's place on the county board for the remainder of the year.

Special license plates a 'bargain'

Looking for a bargain in Michigan license plates?

The question is largely academic, because it's hard to qualify, says Secretary of State James M. Hare.

But if you are a member of the consular corps, which centers in Detroit, you will get your license plates without cost... a courtesy extended to foreign governments.

"If you are the owner of a historical vehicle, you pay only $6 (plus $1 uninsured motorist fee) for a permanent plate," Hare notes. "Most of the special plates however, go to units of government. These are charged only a nominal registration fee of 50 cents."

Each year the special licenses section of the Michigan Department of State issues more than 100,000 sets of plates in eight categories, Hare said.

For the 1967 licensing year, these plates totaled about 101,000

For 1968 plates, the total will be about 6,000 more.

NEARLY HALF OF the special plates issued each year go to automobile dealers. This year dealer plates will total an estimated 52,000, an increase from about 48,000 this year.

To qualify, franchised new-car dealers and all vehicle dealers, except junk dealers, must post a $10,000 bond with the Secretary of State to protect those with whom they do business against monetary loss through fraud, cheating, or misrepresentation as determined by court action.

Hare said dealers also must pay a $10 fee for a license to do business. This license is also issued by the Department of State.

"Dealers in junk automobiles from which they sell parts pay the same fee. But they are entitled to no special plates."

New-car and used-car dealers are entitled to a minimum of two plates, which cost $30. The third plate costs $15 and each additional plate $5 ($8 starting with 1969 registrations).

With dealer plates, registration is not required because they are assigned to no particular car. Dealer-licensed cars do not include demonstrators, which must be registered and licensed in the usual way.

Manufacturers, transporters, in-transit repair, and repossessed vehicles are issued special licenses under a similar schedule of payment.

Hare said the biggest group entitled to special licenses under state law is made up of municipal fleets of Michigan cities. Fewer than 9,000 such vehicles will be issued plates in the current licensing year... and only to replace worn out plates or for new vehicles. The total in operation, however is more than 60,000.

"THEY CARRY permanent plates, set apart by an 'X' design. They differ from other plates since they still carry 1966 colors... beige and navy blue," he said.

Under a 1939 amendment to the corporation laws, owners of resorts may incorporate as a "body politic." Thus they are entitled to municipal plates at the 50-cent rate for police and service vehicles.

According to Hare, there's still another group of motorists who qualify for special plates. Ham radio operators get plates bearing their call letters for a $2 extra charge.

But there's even a cloak-and-dagger class. You couldn't even check up on their license plates even if you knew the numbers. They belong to FBI, even CIA. See SPECIAL LICENSES page 2-B

'Dear home economist'

Do you have a good buying problem? Maybe your 'Dear Home Economist' has the answers. These following questions are just for fun, but the answers are for real.

Dear Home Economist: I have been married for six months and the one complaint my husband has is that I don't fix chicken. He is always bragging about his mother's chicken dishes and I don't even know how to cook by chicken. Please help me to keep my husband happy. New-Lyned.

Dear New-Lyned: When you buy a chicken, look for the U.S. Grade A shield—an indication of the highest quality.

Grade A chickens have a better appearance and usually more meat than those of lower grades.

You can be sure that a chicken bearing the grade shield is also wholesome because only birds which have been USDA inspected for wholesomeness may be graded. Remember, though, that the grade is not a guide to tenderness. That depends on age of the chicken. Words like "young," "broiler" or "royster" indicate a young, tender bird. "Stewing Hen" means the bird is older and will have to be cooked with moist heat to make it tender.

Dear Broken Hearted: Fancy names like "his 'n her" are not nationally recognized names for steak. So, it's possible that your steaks came from one of those tender parts of the carcass and were not suitable for broiling.

Because of this, you should consider two things in buying beef: the cut and the USDA grade. Tenderness varies for any given cut. The higher the USDA grade, the more tender, juicy and flavorful that cut is likely to be. U.S. prime, choice and good are the grades usually sold at your store or supermarket. If Joe calls again, ask him over—and this time why not serve a porterhouse steak? It's a great steak for special occasions—many people consider it the best! And because it is a more tender cut, a porterhouse steak of U.S. prime, choice or good grade is great for broiling.

Friends and neighbors of Mrs Ella Mae Beck are invited to attend an open house to be held by her children in honor of the recent completion of her master's degree in education at Michigan State University. The open house will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. at the County Line EUB Church Sunday, Aug. 12.

After returning to the Brewbaker home in Elsie, a business meeting was held with seven members and three guests present.

Farmers Petroleum to open St. Johns branch Sept. 15

Farmers Petroleum, Inc., a Farm Bureau affiliate, will open its new St. Johns branch on M-21 west of town by Sept. 15, Manager Gene Felgenhauer announced Friday.

The branch is located about half a mile west of DeWitt Road on the north side of the highway. The 40 x 100-foot building and storage tanks behind will be used by the corporation in dealing in "just about everything" in the agricultural-mechanical lines.

The St. Johns branch will cover four counties - Clinton, Ingham, Shlawassee and Ionia. It is actually a transfer here of the Lansing branch of Farmers Petroleum, which will be discontinued.

Felgenhauer said the move is being made to locate the branch office more nearly in the center of the district, and since St. Johns is in a good agricultural area the local site was selected.

Felgenhauer said the St. Johns branch will provide storage for about 85,000 gallons of fuel oil, diesel fuel and gasoline. A new 1,800-gallon tank wagon has been purchased to service customers in Clinton County only. The branch will employ six or possibly seven persons, but that number includes persons stationed in the other counties of the district.

FELGENHAUER, who now lives in Holt, said he will plan to move to St. Johns eventually.

Construction on the building, which will have a pair of curbed driveways leading to it from the highway, began about July 1. Farmers Petroleum may start to use the new building before Sept. 15, Felgenhauer said, but all construction probably will not be completed at that time.

The St. Johns branch is one of 10 branch offices of Farmers Petroleum, Inc., around the state. The four-county district last year had a business volume of 1.5 million gallons of fuel, 20,000 gallons of motor oil and 1,300-1,500 tires.

Streamlined test available

Farmers can now use a streamlined soil test to find out if they are doing a good job of fertilizing their land.

The short test, which costs only $1 and includes a determination of soil pH and available potassium and phosphorus, is intended to serve as a "follow-up" for the standard test. It is available through the Michigan Soil Testing Program.

Dr. John C. Shickluna, MSU soil scientist, says the test will help technicians make more precise recommendations for lime and fertilizer on other crops in each individual's cropping sequence.

The more complete standard test should be run on every new field before the first crop is planted. It is also recommended for troubleshooting in fields which show starvation symptoms or low response to fertilizer.

Further information on this and other soil tests is available through county Cooperative Extension Service offices.

NEW FARMERS PETROLEUM BUILDING

Workmen are rushing completion of the new St. Johns branch of Farmers Petroleum, Inc., on M-21 a mile and a half west of St. Johns. The 100 x 40-foot building is expected to be ready for occupancy no later than Sept. 15.

ASC PROGRAM

1969 wheat program diversion clarified

W. M. SMITH
County ASC Manager

Wheat producers can take part in the 1969 wheat program by planting within their allotments and maintaining in conservation use the conserving base acres plus an acreage equal to 15 per cent of the 1969 farm allotment. This 15 per cent represents the difference, nationally, between the 1968 allotment and the smaller 1969 allotment.

No diversion payment will be available for this minimum diversion, but it will meet the wheat program's eligibility requirements for wheat price-support loans or purchases and for wheat marketing certificates.

Wheat marketing certificates were worth $1.38 per bushel in 1968. We anticipate the marketing certificate will be near this amount for the 1969 program. The marketing certificates are earned on 43 per cent of the farm's allotment, so to be eligible for the full certificate payment a producer must plant 43 per cent of the farm allotment and meet other program requirements.

Farmers who wish also to earn wheat diversion payments will divert additional acreage below the 1969 effective farm allotment. The maximum additional acreage which may be diverted is the larger of (a) 50 per cent of the effective 1969 farm allotment, or (b) the difference between 25 acres and the minimum required diversion, but not to exceed the farm allotment.

THE PAYMENT rate per acre for additional diversion will be 50 per cent of the 1969 county loan rate for wheat multiplied by the projected wheat yield for the farm.

A 15 per cent qualifying diversion (of the base) also applies in cases where a barley farm base is requested for purposes of wheat substitution under the 1969 wheat program. However, this 15 per cent of the approved base is subtracted from the base when determining the permitted acreage on which wheat may be substituted. No diversion payment is authorized for this acreage diverted from barley.

A farmer substituting wheat for barley would lose wheat program benefits unless he (1) participates fully in the feed grain program by not planting corn and grain sorghum in excess of the feed grain permitted acreage if his farm has a feed grain base, or (2) produces no corn or grain sorghum if the farm has no feed grain base.

Wheat producers who wish to get more information about how the program will work on their farm should call at our office and have the program explained.

WE HAVEN'T received any word as to when the sign-up period will be. In past years it has been in February and March.

I want to remind oat producers that the support rate is 66 cents per bushel.

Oat producers are eligible for a price support loan without participating in any other program. The oats must be in good condition and in good storage. For more details please contact our office.

Hidden hunger

By GEORGE McQUEEN
Extension Agricultural Agent

Do you have areas on your farm where the crops show no hunger signs but where top yields are seldom attained?

If so, you are in need of a good soil testing program to isolate and build up such areas.

By following a regular program of soil testing you can avoid low yields caused by hidden hunger.

Before soil testing reached its present development, farmers had to wait for deficiency symptoms to tell them they are running out of a plant nutrient—an inefficient, dangerous method. When plants reach this stage, profits have been declining for some time.

Most farmers who use soil tests today are not interested in recommendations for just average production. The fact that they use soil tests indicate they are above average farmers, interested in producing top yields of high quality crops to keep up with our present economic situations.

To get top yields they should have their soil tested every 3-4 years and use sufficient fertilizer to build up and maintain a high fertility level in their soils. Such a method will help adjust fertilizer use to fit the individual situation.

Don't guess - soil test.

Ovid - Elsie wins Brown trophy at FFA Livestock School here

Ovid-Elsie's FFA members had a pleasant surprise Friday morning. They found out that instead of finishing second to Merrill in the annual FFA Market Livestock School and Sale Program last Tuesday, it was indeed Merrill that finished second to them.

So Ovid-Elsie was the winner of the George A. Brown Memorial Trophy, ending a string of five straight Merrill chapter wins at the annual show in St. Johns.

An error in the tabulation of points was discovered Thursday, and Albert Ackley, Ovid-Elsie vocational agricultural instructor, was notified of the change of events Friday morning.

Schools were awarded points based on the number and quality of livestock brought to the school and sale. Ovid-Elsie had a total of 314 points, which originally was thought to be some 20 points shy of Merrill's total. But a check of the tabulations by state officials Thursday disclosed that Merrill had accidentally been given too many points, and so top honors went to Ovid-Elsie, with Merrill second.

BECAUSE MERRILL had retired the old Brown trophy last year after five straight successes, a new revolving trophy will be given to the O-E chapter. It is provided by the Block and Bridle Chapter of Michigan State University in the name of Professor George Brown who helped start the educational FFA activity. It has been held at Wolverine Stockyards in St. Johns for many years.

Emphasis at the FFA event last Tuesday was on FFA careers.

"Many challenging careers are open to young men in the livestock industry either in production of meat or in the many services connected with the industry."

This message was spoken to some 250 students, parents, and teachers of vocational agriculture attending the 34th annual FFA (Future Farmers of America) Market Livestock School and Sale Program at St. Johns Tuesday, Aug. 6.

The speaker was Graydon Blank, Extension specialist in the animal husbandry department at Michigan State University. Also from the same department, Ed Miller, swine specialist, predicted a bright future for swine producers willing to adjust their practices to changing conditions.

A third member of the team, Mitchell Geasler, told of the economic advantages of raising corn silage for feeding livestock as compared to the income potential from raising corn and wheat as cash grain.

Students and teachers from 35 Michigan communities converged on St. Johns for the one day livestock school and sale. Some 82 students brought their livestock for the sale, while all the group plus teachers and parents learned of new marketing standards as well as new practices in production and marketing.

Potato Day to feature irrigation

Special reports and demonstration plots showing the effects of irrigation on corn, beans and potatoes will highlight the 1968 State Potato Field Day today (Thursday) at the Montcalm Experimental Farm, one and one-half miles west of Entran on McBride Road.

Tours of experimental plots will begin at 10 a.m. Included will be a corn irrigation experiment said to be one of the best controlled experiments of its kind in the state.

Also included among the tours will be trials on potato breeding, planting and management, seed and row spacing, weed control, fumigation, irrigation, fertilization and plant disease.

Two other stops will show research to increase the protein content of potatoes and some special projects on weed and insect control in field beans.

The field day is being presented by Michigan State University's departments of soil science, entomology, botany and plant pathology, horticulture and crop science.

1968 feed grain payments being made

The 1968 feed grain payments will be made starting Aug. 14 to over 55,000 Michigan farmers participating in the program.

These farmers diverted some of their normal acreage of feed grains from production. The payments compensate them for the loss of income on the acreage they diverted from income producing feed grain crops.

Participation in the program is voluntary. Feed grain producers had the choice of restricting their production for the diversion payment and a guarantee of a government price support on their feed grains. The other alternative was not to participate and to plant unlimited acreage without any government assistance, thus taking a chance that the market price for their crop would be favorable.

In 1968 approximately 49 percent of Michigan feed grain farmers found it advantageous to enroll in the feed grain program. Based on preliminary reports, these farmers will divert 836,922 acres from feed grains in 1968.

The estimated coal resources of the United States remaining in the ground total about 3,210 billion tons, reports the Department of Interior. About half is considered to be ultimately recoverable.

Want a Big Milk Check?

Let Purina help you get it!!!

Milk prices influence the size of your milk check. So does the amount of milk you sell. The Purina Dairy Program promises to help dairymen get lots of milk to sell.

Now, with milk prices on the rise, it's just good common sense to feed your cows the Purina Dairy Chow that best fits your herd and your roughage. More milk from the same cows can make your milk check grow bigger and bigger. Keeps down the overhead expense of adding more cows.

Feed Purina Dairy Chows... Complete or concentrates. They are backed by Purina Research and proven by leading dairymen in this area. Ask us for details of the Purina Dairy Program. It's designed to help produce big milk checks.

THE STUDENTS assembled 165 beef animals, 279 swine, and 61 lambs as the basis for the one-day educational event.

A demonstration of livestock grading was conducted during the day, followed by a grading contest in swine and in beef. Awards were presented to the winners by James Prince, president of Wolverine Stockyards Co., to the following in the swine contest:

Jim Stacey, Byron, first; Larry Lathwell, Benzle Central, second; and Dave Paksi, St. Johns, third.

In the beef grading contest awards went to Jim Stacey, Byron, first; a double win; Dave Zettler, Merrill, second; and Randy Frost, Dansville, third.

John Harrington, marketing specialist with the Wolverine Stockyards Co., shared in lamb grading demonstration and pointed out the special attention needed in the producing and marketing of top quality lambs. He also shared in the grading of the beef entries by FFA students.

The next schools ranked after O-E and Merrill were: Corunna, Hemlock, Byron, Ithaca, St. Johns, Fremont, Chesaning, Pigeon, and Ashley. Other schools which traveled some distance to the event were Montague, Benzonia, Rudyard (Upper Peninsula), Harrisville, Reading and Onsted.

As announced last week, the Ovid-Elsie chapter was named by the ag teachers as one of the top three chapters in the state, along with Cassopolis and Corunna. The three chapters will represent the state at the 1968 national chapter awards program at the national FFA convention in Kansas City, Mo., in October.

3 gold awards, other honors for O-E chapter

Not only were they named as one of three state chapters to represent Michigan at the 1968 National Chapter Award Program, but they received three gold awards and won the state farm safety contests and its $100 first prize.

The awards were made at the annual vocational agricultural teachers' conference. The Ovid-Elsie FFA, with chapter advisor Albert Ackley accepting the awards, received gold awards for fire prevention, tractor safety and safe corn harvest projects.

They also won the state farm safety contest and will get a $100 prize from the State Association of FFA. The O-E chapter will be a representative of Michigan at the national farm safety competition later this year.

Proceedings of the Clinton County Board of Supervisors

MONDAY, JUNE 3, 1968

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors met on the above date at 10:00 A.M. Prayer was offered by Supervisor Gove. A pledge of Allegiance was given to the flag. Roll was called and a quorum reported. Minutes of the last meeting were read. It was moved by Underhill, supported by Walter Thelen to delete from the minutes the amount of the addressograph equipment and then approve them. Voted and carried.

Sheriff, Patterson, appeared and spoke to the Board on the functions of the Sheriff's Department. He announced that he will plan to run again for the office of Sheriff and he does request additional help in the Jail.

Supervisor Shinabery, commented on Sheriff Patterson's devoted service as Sheriff and moved, supported by Shepard, to grant Sheriff Patterson additional help to maintain the Jail in a capable and efficient manner; Voted and carried. Discussion followed on the present lawlessness prevailing and the need for increased police protection.

A request from the Michigan Assessor for subscription renewals in the amount of $50.00 was on motion by Hufnagel, supported by Mayers, motion tabled.

Apportionment of County Boards of Supervisors came up for lengthy discussion.

A Resolution from Kalamazoo County on re-apportionment was read, moved by Gove, supported by Shepard, to concur with this Resolution. Voted and carried.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS: Act 261 of Public Acts, 1966 provides for the Apportionment County Board of Supervisors on a one man one vote basis, and

WHEREAS: Much confusion has been caused by the Advisory Opinion of the Michigan Supreme Court first holding that the aforesaid statute was violative of the Michigan Constitution and then subsequently reversing itself as a result of the United States Supreme Court decision applying the equal protection of laws clause to County Board of Supervisors, and

WHEREAS: Act 261 of Public Acts, 1966 set forth certain guide lines to be used by the apportionment Commission in reapportioning the County into Supervisor Districts, and

WHEREAS: It is impossible to comply with these guide lines for various reasons as set forth as follows

(A) The Districts shall be single member districts as nearly of equal population as practicable and the 1960 census is inadequate to comply with this guide line; although other governmental census figures of population may be used, the latest official published figures of the United States official census must be necessarily used in determination of the Supervisor Districts, because time will not permit the obtaining of more adequate census figures. This 1960 census does not include the estimated increase of 20,000 people within the County and therefore, Act 261 of Public Acts, 1966 does not implement a true one man one vote principle.

(B) The Official United States census of 1960 was not conducted in view of reapportionment of County Boards of Supervisors and the Districts cannot, therefore, be nearly square in shape as practicable.

WHEREAS: It is this Board's opinion that the United States Supreme Court in its prior one man one vote decision has given the State reasonable time in which to reapportion their state legislature, and

WHEREAS: To hastily enforce apportionment of County Boards of Supervisors in order to meet the deadline for the filing date or candidates for this County Board of Supervisors will cause the apportionment commission to make hasty judgments which could create districts which are not in the best interest of the people, and

WHEREAS: The issue of compatibility or incompatibility of the Township and City Supervisors to the County Board of Supervisors is yet undetermined which could open the doors to "would be" candidates, necessarily the best qualified or most competent candidates to the County Board of Supervisors, and

WHEREAS: It is this Board's position, the County Boards of Supervisors should be given reasonable time which should be after the United States 1970 official census figures are available.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That the Clinton County Board of Supervisors urge upon the Legislature of the State of Michigan and other persons concerned with the implementation of act 261 of Public Act, 1966 to repeal said Act or amend it to delay implementation until the official 1970 figures of the United States census are published.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That copies of this Resolution shall be sent to the following persons: Governor of the State of Michigan, Attorney General of the State of Michigan, Representatives of the Legislators representing the County of Clinton

The Chairman appointed the Board as a Committee of the whole to attend the 6th District Meeting of Supervisors to be held at Smith Hall, June 26th.

A letter from Elizabeth Hess, Chairman of the County Library Board, asking for per diem pay for board members was read. It was moved by Moore, supported by Norman Thelen, to concur with the request. Voted and carried.

In the matter of sending representatives to a Bargaining Relationships and Practices Conference, to be held at Southfield, Detroit, June 10 and 11. It was moved by Lankford, supported by Howe, to pay the expenses of our representatives Shepard, Carter and Haske. Voted and carried.

Supervisor Shepard, complimented Supervisor Kemper, for his capable and efficient representation of the Budget and Finance Committee, at the Allocation Board. All expressed their thanks to him.

In the matter of State Conventions, it was moved by Shepard, supported by Barks, to authorize Sheriff Patterson, to attend the State Sheriff's Association, June 23-25 and also for Clerk Carter to attend his State Convention July 21-24. Moved by Shepard, supported Barks. Voted and carried.

Moved by Walter Thelen, supported by Shepard, to pay expense accounts as presented. Voted and carried.

Norman Thelen, reporting for Resolution Committee, read a Resolution on Roadside Cleanup. It was moved by Norman Thelen, supported by Barks, to adopt the Resolution.

WHEREAS: a number of Clinton County youth leaders volunteered their time and equipment in a Spring 1968 roadside clean-up program; and

WHEREAS, "Operation Clean-Up" greatly enhanced the beauty and pleasantness of the Clinton County countryside; and

WHEREAS, this project again demonstrates the value and significance of voluntary group participation in community improvement.

THEREFORE, The Board of Supervisors of Clinton County, State of Michigan, hereby commend and thank all those youth and leaders of Clinton County who participated in this highly successful "Operation Clean-Up".

Voted and Carried.

A Resolution for Alan R. Dean, commending him for his service on Tri-County Planning Commission, was read.

WHEREAS, the Counties of Ingham, Eaton and Clinton recognized their common interest and the need to join in community planning. The result of this thinking was the Tri-County Planning Commission which was formed in 1966. The Clinton County Board of Supervisors determined that we would be well represented on this Commission; and

WHEREAS, Alan R. Dean was chosen and represented Clinton County on this important commission for twelve years, and served ten years as its chairman; and

WHEREAS, Alan R. Dean faithfully and competently served Clinton County for this extended period with great personal sacrifice, without remuneration for his time and cooperated with everyone involved with diligence and courtesy.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: The Clinton County Board of Supervisors, in assembly do recognize and commend Alan R. Dean, for his exemplary leadership in contribution to the progress of our community.

Moved by Norman Thelen, supported by Sistine, to adopt. Voted and carried. The Chairman then declared a recess for lunch.

P. M. SESSION

Supervisor Barks, thanked Betty Minsky, for her articles in the paper, calling the Public's attention to exercise care in purchasing land to build on. He then called on William Coffey, who further enlarged upon this subject. He asked for more warning to the public. Moved by Barks, supported by Hufnagel, to place an ad in the Clinton County News and the State Journal once a month for the next three months. Moved by Nelson, supported by Austin, to table. Voted and carried.

As the appointment of Max Loudbeck expires July 16, it was moved by Shepard, supported by Settingrington, to reappoint him to the County Zoning Board. Moved by Shinabery, supported by Norman Thelen, to close nominations and reappoint Max Loudbeck to the Zoning Board for a 4-year term. Voted and carried.

A bill for $98.90 for services, rendered for promotional services for Michigan Week was read. Moved by Hufnagel, supported by Moore, to pay billing for Michigan Week for $98.90 to Betty Minsky. Voted and carried.

George Eberhard, reporting to the Board on the Surplus Commodities Food Stamp Plan. He thinks it will be an improvement over the present system. He then introduced Mr Alan Nichols, who explained the program and answered questions, also Helen Meach, who assisted by showing slides relating to the project.

MOSTLY For MEN

by CHUCK FLYNN

Time was hen turkey held the center of the table only during the holiday seasons of Thanksgiving and Christmas. Today both fresh and frozen turkeys are plentiful and economical at any time of the year.

So, when you plan a rotisserie cookout, try barbecued turkey. Size of the bird will be dependent upon how many you plan to serve, but choose a turkey in the 6- to 12-pound range for best results.

Cooking time over charcoal will vary from 2-1/2 to 5 hours for these sizes, and most rotisseries in use by amateur chefs are not built to take any more weight than a dozen pounds.

Start the charcoal at least 30 minutes before cooking and when the coals are grey, arrange them in the rear of the firebox about 3 inches deep. You will have to add an occasional piece of charcoal during the cooking.

Directly under the rotisserie rod place a drip pan which you can mold from heavy aluminum foil. This will prevent juice from dousing your fire and also provides drippings which can be basted on the turkey.

To prepare the turkey for the rotisserie, remove giblets and neck. Wash, then dry with paper toweling. Sprinkle the body cavity with salt. Push the drumsticks under the band of skin at the tail and tie them securely with heavy cord. Fasten the neck skin to the back with a metal skewer. Flatten the wings over the breast, then tie heavy cord around the breast to hold the wings securely.

Insert the spit rod through the center of the turkey and secure the bird with the rod skewers. Test for balance. The turkey must be balanced on the spit rod to turn smoothly and cook correctly. Rub the turkey with a mixture of equal parts of melted butter and fresh lemon juice. Keep this mixture warm and use it to baste the turkey about every 20 minutes during the cooking. For additional flavor put moistened chips of any fruit wood (apple and cherry are excellent for this purpose) on the charcoal for smoke.

I don't care for a highly seasoned barbecue sauce on turkey, but if you use one, apply only during the last 30 minutes of cooking. Used earlier it will blacken and spoil the appearance of your product.

The turkey is done when a meat thermometer inserted in the thickest part of the breast registers 185 degrees or you can test by twisting the drumstick which will move easily in the thigh joint when the turkey is done.

Bannister

By MRS. ROBERT VALENTINE — Phone 862-4342

The Gratiot County 4-H Fair was held this past week at Alma. The two Bannister area 4-H clubs, the Busy Green Clovers and the Chippewa Chippers, spent a week presenting their efforts of the past year. Many blue ribbons were won by the groups and State Show winners were announced.

Members of both clubs participated in the pig scramble held on Monday night and the demonstrations given on Thursday.

Mrs. Elmer Schurlov, a lay speaker from the Clare United Methodist Church was the speaker for the Sunday morning worship service at the Bannister United Methodist Church. Special music was presented by the Methodists of Elsie. They are Sandy Grubbaugh, guitarist for the group, Dana Lanneh, Mary Jo Hovey and Sharon Dunham. They sang a new song written by Miss Grubbaugh which the Bannister congregation was privileged to be the first to hear. Lori Miller and Debbie Hinkley served as acolytes for the service.

Mr and Mrs Ivan Scott and Mr and Mrs Clifford Casler returned recently from an eight week's trip to Alaska. They reported a wonderful trip with no car trouble, not even a flat tire. Each couple have a pickup camper which provided the transportation and sleeping and eating facilities.

Don't forget the Ice Cream Social at the Bannister Methodist Church Friday, Aug. 16. Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m. until all are served. Homemade ice cream, sloppy joes, cake and pie will be served.

The churchwide Sunday School picnic of the Bannister Methodist Church will be held Sunday, Aug. 18, at the home of Dale Randolph. A potluck dinner will be served at 1 p.m.

Let's talk dry cleaning!

by Dana Antes

We are often asked, "What causes a garment to change in size or shape?" In other words, what makes it shrink or stretch?

Many fabrics, by virtue of their fiber content, weave and the finishing treatment given them, have a certain amount of potential shrinkage. Wool fibers, for example, are extremely sensitive to high temperatures. The weave of a fabric is responsible for the greatest shrinkage factor. Most wools today are pre-shrunk. But even so, your cleaner must take great care to determine and maintain as far as possible a garment's original size and shape.

Crape weaves have a marked tendency to shrink or stretch. The crepe effect is formed by tightly twisted threads running in one direction. How much a crepe fabric will shrink or stretch depends on whether the fibers have been overstretched during the finishing process. If overstretched the fabric is almost certain to shrink. If too little stretching has taken place to give a heavy creped effect, the fabric will most likely stretch from ordinary wear and cleaning.

Sizing a garment is one of the many "extras" in our cleaning service. We try to return every article you send us thoroughly cleaned and "sized" to its proper measurements.

SMALL 'CAT' WAS REALLY MIRE'D

This small crawler-type tractor with an end-loader was tossed off a Searles Excavating Co. truck last Wednesday night when the driver swerved and successfully avoided hitting a motorcyclist who had just turned onto Francis Road from M-21. The truck was pulled out of the ditch that evening, but it required about three hours work Thursday afternoon to get the deeply mired tractor out.

Farmers' economic health essential

The National Farm and Power Equipment Dealers Assn., representing the farm machinery dealers of the nation, serving the largest single group of producers in our economy, is convinced that unless the farmer receives his just share of the national income the welfare of our country will suffer.

Since more people are directly engaged in agriculture and since agriculture is the largest single consumer of goods and services, it logically follows that the economic health of the farmer is essential to the prosperity of our country.

To continue to deny the farmer a fair return on his labor and investment is to invite economic disaster. NFPEDA's members are alarmed at the farmer's steadily worsening plight. The rate of consumption of machinery, fertilizer, building materials, automobiles, trucks and other goods and services by the farmer must be maintained if we are to have full employment and expanding job opportunities for the nation's workers.

The farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar must be increased if his buying power is to be improved and a balanced economy achieved.

School bells again

For tens of millions of the nation's youngsters, the official closing of summer will be signaled by the ringing of the first school bell. In days past, when a majority of our people lived in rural areas and scattered small towns, that bell often rang in the typical one room schoolhouse calling youngsters from the dusty lanes, the fields, the swimming holes where they worked and played, learned and grew during the days of summer. Answering its call, they came to resume, often with considerable reluctance, the regimentation of school hours and the traditional pursuit of at least a passing proficiency in the 3 R's. For most people, an education was something you got through "when you were a kid" so that you could get on about the business of making your way in the world.

The school bells of today carry a far different message and challenge to the nation's present generation of young people. The store of man's knowledge is increasing so rapidly that no one can estimate what it may hold 10 or 20 years from now. In such a world, the schoolroom has become not a place of dull drudgery, but a vital and broadening bridge of understanding and knowledge spanning the present range of man's accomplishments and offering the young people of today the capacity to build a future beyond our present imagination.

Our young people have a new enthusiasm for education, and this is our greatest national asset. But, they must learn of our heritage and the roots of our freedom, as well as the wonders of our technical accomplishment and capacity. As they return to school this fall, they deserve all the encouragement and opportunity which we can give them.

Flag symbolizes our role, our pride

Newspapers have traditionally been regarded as one of the defenders of freedom in the United States. We take pride in this tradition and vow to uphold it, small though our own contribution may be.

One of the great symbols of pride is the American flag, and so we are happy to display on the front of our building the Stars and Stripes of the United States of America.

It is a symbol of how we feel about our role in freedom and how we feel about our country.

GRANDFIELD, Okla., NEWS: "If you don't have an overriding purpose and life ambition and goal in what you are presently doing—you better change jobs or careers and get into something else. The guy who has little enthusiasm for his work and passes it over with comments like 'It's something to do' or 'It makes me a living' somehow leaves us cold. We figure he'd just as soon be digging ditches. It is a reflection on himself, his lack of ambition and lack of faith in himself that he can really do something he feels is worthwhile. . . . In this day and time nearly any kind of work can be highly technical and interesting when people who have a dedication to it and a sense of serving their fellow man, work at it and self-educate themselves beyond formal schooling to do the best possible job."

RAMBLIN' WITH RINK

America's favorite pastime

By LOWELL G. RINKER

The first couple of rounds of Clinton County's favorite biennial pastime—politics—are over, and now we can settle down and wait without much excitement the final round in November.

I have never been able to get worked up to the fever pitch about politics like a lot of people. To me most of the pre-election campaigning is meaningless, the waste of a lot of good people's time and the spending of a lot of good money.

Particularly trying is national level politics. Here we are in a presidential election year, and within three weeks of each other the two major political parties are nominating their candidates to run against each other in the November election. How exciting.

For some people, I can't say that I'm not interested in the outcome, but I certainly don't find myself interrupting normal life to learn what time the candidates went to bed, what they had for breakfast on their morning of glory, and other such nonsensical details. The only bright spot of the whole Republican convention last week was that ABC saw fit to delay their television coverage until 9:30 in the evening so there could be some semblance of normalcy in front of the idiot box.

AFTER THE Democrats name their candidate in a week or so, politics will take on a new direction. Everything, practically will focus on the national contest for president, and die-in-the-wool party members will work themselves into a frenzy for their man because he is a Republican or he is a Democrat. To too few will the real message of best qualification come through.

But I must admit that, despite my political passiveness, there is a certain amount of electrical charge in the air as the final voters cast their ballots and the election workers start their count.

Keeping an eye on the returns as they come in provides about all the excitement I get out of politics. This is an all-night job at the Clinton County News, because in order to get results to you while they're still news, we have to stay up late and print our paper late.

Being a local paper, we're more interested in local political races; the state and national contests don't mean so much because what our county does doesn't necessarily mean the rest of the district or state will do.

BUT THERE IS certainly some excitement in watching the local races and seeing a candidate's lead widen, then shrink, then spurt ahead as precinct after precinct reports in. I suppose that even if we didn't do it because it is our job, we would be extremely interested in how our friends were doing in their political ockeying with each other.

We were up until after 6 a.m. last Wednesday morning getting the results of the election, making charts, writing stories, setting type and making up pages. Ron was up even later, because he had to drive to Greenville with the front and back pages.

As has been their custom in the past two years, Jim Moore and Jim McKenzie forsook the legal and insurance professions to become newsmen, joining us voluntarily to help compile the results so you could read them the next day. They wander in about 10 p.m., make themselves comfortable, give us good company in the between-precinct-reports lull, and give us valuable help when folks start coming in and phones start ringing all at once.

Other people wander up now and then (the door is open election night) to see what's going on and chat for a while when we've got time.

It's all an interesting evening and one that goes quite fast. We were able to report most details of all precincts in the county before we had to

Wicker wacky wives are wicked

By JIM FITZGERALD

When I heard it was going into the bathroom, I couldn't help wondering how many marriages have been busted by furniture.

"It" is a smallish wicker chair. I came home from work unex- pectedly to discover my wife pulling it out of a Sears crate.

It should be inserted here that my wife Pat has gone wicker wacky. It started with one of those huge, incredible wicker chairs that were popular in California in 1928—the kind Morticia had in the TV show "The Adams Fam- ily." Someone gave it to me as a camp joke and my goofy wife remodeled our porch around it. Everything is wicker, includ- ing the flower boxes. People think I whip my wife and kids with a belt but those are really wicker marks.)

So I was not surprised to see another wicker chair arrive and I reacted with great calm.

"Good lord; woman," I screamed, "there is not room on the porch for another one of those backbreaking chairs. What you are going to do with this one—unravel it and knit yourself a new wig?"

"It is not going on the porch," Pat said, "it is going in our bathroom."

"Hey," I said, "that's funnier than knitting a wig out of it. Keep it up and I'll let you write the column some week. A wicker chair in the bathroom! That's a good one. What are you really going to do with it?"

"It is going into the bathroom," she said, "I am not kidding."

I could tell she meant it. I could tell by the way she trampled and turned red when I fell on the floor laughing. I asked her what she was going to do with a wicker chair in the bathroom.

"I am going to sit in it," she explained.

"Why can't you sit where the rest of us sit?" I asked sensibly.

"It will be handy for when you come out of the shower," she explained further.

"A guy could get marked for life," I said.

"I will put a cushion on it," she said.

And she did. A purple cushion to match the toilet paper.

That is just one example of my furniture trouble. Let's move into the family room. Pat no longer likes the furniture there. She bought it but now she hates it. She doesn't come right out and say she wants new furniture in the family room. But I get the message . . .

The other night Eddie was bouncing his 10-year-old frame up and down on the living room couch. A couple of times he grazed the ceiling on the upbeat. This is usually a mortal sin, cruel punishment to be pre- scribed by a wrathful mother who puts slipcovers on her slip- covers.

But: "Isn't he athletic?" she asked me. And to Eddie she said: "Try jumping on the chair, too, dear. I think those springs will give you a bigger bounce."

And then there's the business about our checkbook. A while back I began to notice that there was never any money in it. No matter how many deposits were made, the balance was always two skips out of the poverty program. Past experience prompted me to examine the checkbook closely, page by page. I found what I was looking for on the back of the blotter inside the book cover. There was a column of figures totaling $890. At the top of the column was printed "F.F."

ZEBULON, GA., PIKE COUN- TY JOURNAL: "Some weeks ago it struck us that a vast amount of mail was crossing our desk bearing the return address of the Office of Economic Opportunity. Our first thought was to tally the cost of mailing of all these pieces, but that possibility was thwarted by the fact that the en- velopes bear no stamps. In lieu of the familiar six cent stamp there is a little box edged in black (an appropriate color) which states "Postage and Fees Paid— Office of Economic Opportunity. How much has been paid is not stated. . . ."

MOVILLE, IOWA, RECORD: "Consider the many liberties we enjoy in this nation and be thank- ful for their existence. Be thank- ful of our freedom to achieve, work and advance; for our 'freed- om to worship' for our right to free speech and free elec- tions. . . . Truly there is much for which we can be thankful.

MESA, ARIZ., TRIBUNE: "If you don't think American politics are funny, where else can you see the spectacle of men spending millions of dollars to get elect- ed to a job that pays only 100 grand a year."

I hit her quick with it, before she could think:

"F.F." means Furniture Fund and you have $890 in it, right? I snarled into her ear just as she was dozing off one night.

"You are a sneak," she said, "I am a sneak. She has milked me for $890 in hidden deposits and phony withdrawals. She prob- ably juggled those figures in the dark of night, in the basement behind the furnace, while wearing a black cape and a stealthy look. But I am a sneak.

So that's how I found out we're getting new furniture in the fam- ily room. I can only pray it won't be wicker. There's also going to be a new bedroom suite some day soon. I discovered this the other day when my Mt. Healthy sister came calling. Pat showed her around the house and little sister remarked that she like our bedroom furniture.

"Would you like to buy it?" Pat asked her.

Onward and Upward.

Anti-sheriff advertising makes her mad

Dear Editor:

The election is now over and I would like to express my opinion on the type of advertising used in the campaign for the office of sheriff. I am referring to numerous items published in a local paper the last week of the campaign, casting doubt upon the truth of Mr Patterson's statement of having been 42 years in law enforcement.

This type of vicious campaign- ing, coming out too late for rebuttal, has long been practiced in politics, but I never expected to see it at the county level. It is usually of help to the person attacked.

Many of us who have lived in the vicinity of St. Johns more than 40 years know that Mr Patterson has been in law enforcement as long as he stated.

My congratulations to Mr Pat- terson.

MRS LEON CRAMPTON
R-4, St. Johns

(Editor's Note: We whole- heartedly agree and are proud to point out we were NOT the "paper" that accepted such advertising.)

'Well, done'

Dear Editor:

I am writing in regard to your "Salute to our Servicemen" sec- tion that was included in the Aug. 1 edition of your paper. Several people I have talked to including myself, thought it was very well done as far as it went. We would have like to have seen something honoring the men from our coun- try, have given their lives for us. Also I personally know of sev- eral men who have completed their tours of duty and are now at home, I am sure it would be a much more thorough salute if these two items were added next time.

Respectfully,
MRS B. BAIRD

R-1, Dewitt

(Editor's note: your sugges- tions are gratefully received. We would like to have done something like that this time, but we'll make an extra effort on our next "salute.")

Thinks salute was 'great'

Dear Editor:

I am writing in regard to your paper last week (Aug. 1) saluting our local boys in the service. I think it was great; so often we tend to forget what a few are doing for us here at home. People get busy with everyday things, and really we shouldn't forget these young men.

It was 25 years ago when another group of young men went away to war, and someone re- membered us, I'm sure.

Sometimes when this conflict is all over, let's salute those who gave the full price and won't be able to read about their deeds.

OLD TABLE FACTORY BUILDING IN ST. JOHNS

Among a batch of old-time pictures recently contributed for publication was this, identified as being the old building that used to house the St. Johns Table Factory and the old Hayes Wheel Factory. It was believed taken around 1918; the building was located near the railroad tracks about where Federal-Mogul is now standing.

The "Low Down"

From the Congressional Record

By Joe Crump

Senator Philip A. Hart (Mich.) . . . The investigation of the "high cost of dying" by the subcommittee on antitrust and monopoly was one of the more stormy chapters in my tenure as subcommittee chairman . . . "Basically, Senator Dodd, Senator Kennedy, and I concluded that two things needed to be done if consumers were to be equipped to buy funerals wisely. "First, we saw the need for the removal of the restriction against price advertising by the largest association of funeral directors, the National Funeral Directors Assn. If this were not done voluntarily, we suggested the Department of Justice take a look at the practice as a possible infringement of the antitrust laws. "Last week Justice announced a suit against the NFDA (National Funeral Directors Assn.) had terminated with a consent decree. NFDA will no longer prohibit its 14,000 members—three-fourths of the profession—from advertising price . . .

CONSUMERS buying funerals are disadvantaged enough by the emotional trials of the time. If any consumers deserve a break, they do. But price advertising alone is not going to do the job. "What the consumer also needs to know is that—as developed during our investigation—the price of the total funeral often is determined by the casket selected. Although the services are generally the same, the package price for the funeral goes up in increasing multiples of the wholesale cost of the casket. "This is something rather peculiar to the funeral business. Therefore, it is likely that consumers do not know or understand it. "Personally, I think funeral directors would do the public a great service—and ultimately themselves—if they split their charges into two; the casket and the services. "Until they do, consumers must be educated to the facts of funeral pricing. They must understand that, as developed in the hearings, in one funeral home, for example, they would pay $417 more for the funeral if they chose a casket that cost the director $53 or more. In other words, if the wholesale casket cost $16, the funeral sells for $298; but if the wholesale casket cost is $95.50, the funeral sells for $715. "Frankly, I seriously doubt whether many consumers would decide a bit of trim or a different color lining was worth paying for so handsomely. "Naturally, I hope senators will at every opportunity join me in educating consumers to this pricing method."

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT It shouldn't be necessary for the federal government to investigate the business of funerals. But, it's unlikely that anyone would go shopping for a funeral that would fit their financial circumstances. Dignified price advertising by the funeral directors, would appear to be in keeping with ethical business practice.

'Golden Rule' membership renewed

Osgood Funeral Home, 104 E. Cass Street, St. Johns, has been accorded membership in the Order of the Golden Rule for the 10th consecutive year. Included in the membership also are two branch homes: George Chapel in Fowler, and Abbott Chapel in Maple Rapids. Official notification of the firm's reacceptance by the order stated: "Your organization has again been proven, after careful examination and evaluation of your past year's services and prices, to be completely trustworthy. We are exceedingly proud to count you among the approximately 1,400 funeral firms throughout the world who now belong to the Order of the Golden Rule." The order was founded in 1928 with the purpose of screening funeral establishments on a global scale and recommending one which is found to be dependable in each community. Membership is granted for one-year periods only. At the end of each period, the firm must undergo another extensive investigation to insure that its standards have remained above the accepted level. A plaque denoting membership and a copy of the official "credo" of the Order of the Golden Rule may be seen at Osgood Funeral Home or either of its branch locations at any time.

Open Letter
from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

Grief at the passing of a loved one is both natural and normal. Even Jesus wept at the death of Lazarus, the Bible tells us. Death brings loneliness and emptiness — one with whom so much was shared no longer is sharing with us. Good friends will not belittle one's grief, but rather will help the bereaved, thru new interests, to gradually overcome their grief.

No passing signs on left of highways being sought

Dragging its feet would be an improvement over present movements of the Michigan State Highway Department in erecting "no passing zone" signs on the left side of highways. This is the opinion of Midland Municipal Judge Henry Hart who has begun a one-man campaign to improve the warning system for motorists. Judge Hart points out that the present do-not-pass signs do not provide sufficient visibility for the motorist. Vision may be obstructed by vehicles ahead. Motorists, when passing, must look to the left lane. Snow plows throw snow to the right. He maintains that the only "logical" place for the signs is on the left side of the highway. Studies conducted by the highway department, as well as those in other states, agree with his logic: the trouble is, no one except Judge Hart does anything about it!

TWO TEST LOCATIONS in Michigan proved that driver attention to the no passing zones was improved with special pennant-shaped signs mounted on the left. The improved signs have been used in Iowa for some time, and other states are ready to adopt the system. Judge Hart wonders out loud why Michigan drivers do not receive the same service. Highway department officials agree the signs are effective, but they question whether accidents on hills and curves are reduced by their use. Harold Cooper, director of the traffic division, doesn't think so. Officials also feared loss of federal highway funds since left side erection was "non-conforming." Iowa, which did not wait for federal approval and just installed the signs, did not lose funds. State police favor the new signs and cite traffic violations as well as accident reductions as influencing factors. Sgt. Donald Calcaterra, traffic analyst, said that state police records for 1967 show 617 accidents occurred on curves and 1,769 occurred on hills. Improper passing violations were recorded as causing 9,275 accidents in 1967. Reports of other law enforcement agencies are not included in the totals. Sgt. Calcaterra recalls earlier service at the Gaylord post, which wrote more tickets for passing violations than any other post in the state. In 1960-61, the new system was installed on old US-27. "Our citations fell to practically nothing," Sgt. Calcaterra stated. Cost of implementing the system state-wide has been estimated at $175,000 to $250,000. Cooper states that if the system were adopted, installation would occur only at "selected locations" not throughout the entire state. What is needed, the judge maintains, is enough people demanding the change to force the highway department to get off its present location and begin installation. FARM JOBS PAYING as much as $500 per month plus such fringe benefits as free housing have gone begging in Michigan during the past year, reports the MESO. The condition is a comparatively new development which began about 1963. That year the average pay for agricultural workers was $210 per month for married men; $108 per month for single men, including fringe benefits. By 1966, pay for married men had increased to $311 per month and $139 for single men. The figures represented a 47 per cent and 28 per cent increase respectively. To compete with factory jobs and city employers, farmers have upgraded salaries, housing facilities and fringe benefits. Current figures for $500 per month for married men and $260

10 from here on MSU honor list

Ten former Rodney B. Wilson High School students were named to the honors list at Michigan State University this month, high school Principal B. Stanley Pocus reports. A 3.50 grade-point average is necessary to make the honors list. The honor students include: Lorraine Anderson, Dennis J. Becker, Michael J. Burnham, Margaret Cortright, Alberta S. Jumper, David C. Kloockner, Stephen P. Lietzke, David Pocus, Linda D. Rasdale and Karen A. Rumbaugh. You may have the right-of-way in traffic, motorists, but there's very little satisfaction dying to prove it. For single employers reflect this pressure, the MESO says. The move should improve the situation in the long run and relieve the manpower shortage within the foreseeable future.

Civil defense & you

Home Study Course, Civil Defense, U.S.A., is now offered by OGD Staff College, Battle Creek as a correspondence type of training. It provides an opportunity for many to get instruction who would be unable to attend Staff College. The home study course is intended for those busy people with CD assignments representing business, industry, government employees and officials and professions. Also, any citizen who wishes to know more about civil defense and cannot avail themselves of local programs and the programs conducted by Michigan Technological University may enroll. There is no enrollment or other fees. The course is divided in five units of programmed instruction and requires about 12 hours of study to complete. It is supposed to be completed in 30 days. A "certificate" is awarded at completion of the course. The study units include: "Why Civil Defense?" explains the relationship between military defense planning and civil defense planning in the nuclear age. "Nuclear Weapons Effects" presents basic information about nuclear weapons and their effects as related to defensive countermeasures. "Fallout Shelters" is the subject of unit three. The final two units include "Warning," "Emergency Operations," "Support Programs," and "Governmental Responsibilities for Civil Defense."

asked to fill in a blank by writing a word, a phrase, or a complete sentence. The information you will need in order to fill in the blank will be supplied by the connected paragraph, or from previous questions, or a reference is made to the panel book. After you answer the question, you turn the page and there is the correct answer. Naturally, you can cheat like the dickens, but you won't learn very much about civil defense! At the end of each unit is a "test booklet." The test is multiple choice questions. Postcards are furnished and as you answer the question you mark your answers on the card and mail to Staff College. Even the postage is paid. There is a classic introduction to the course that includes an examination of the history of armaments from the spear to the bomb and a brief historical background of civil defense. "Every citizen should know the personal preparations required for individual survival, but those of us in a position of responsibility should also be knowledgeable about the overall scope of the civil defense organization. Only in this way can we provide the leadership necessary to convert "plans" into actions, "ideas" into concrete facts, lukewarm support into "active support." I hope many people will become interested in this course. When you have completed it, not only should you know what you want for yourself and family, but you will know what is best for the community in which you live. Interested? Contact me at the Clinton County Civil Defense Office—I'll get you enrolled!
