Deputies wrangle 2 rustlers

Clinton County Sheriff's Dept deputies and area farmers begin the long task of processing stolen cattle discovered on the Lyle Mayers farm, 2808 N Lowell Rd. After receiving a report of stolen cattle Friday at 6:30 am, deputies found tracks on the farm matching those found where cattle were reported stolen. A search warrant was issued and 22 stolen Holstein calves were discovered in a herd owned by Lyle and Keith Mayers. Both were arrested and waived examination Tuesday in District Court. They will be arraigned Aug 27 in Circuit Court in St Johns. Value of the stolen cattle recovered was set at about $5300.

By Jim Edwards
County News Editor

ST JOHNS -- An observant individual, fresh tracks and an identification tag Friday morning led the Clinton County Sheriff's Dept on their way to solving 6 of 12 complaints of larceny of livestock. Following a complaint to the Sheriff's Dept Friday morning at 6 am, 2 Clinton County brothers, Lyle Mayers, 31, and Keith Mayers, 25, were arrested by Sheriff's Dept deputies. They were arraigned in District Court Friday before Judge Fred Lewis at 6 pm and were released on $1000 bond each.

Tuesday morning both waived examination in District Court and will be arraigned Aug 27.

Value of the 22 head of Holstein cattle recovered at the Lyle Mayers farm, 2808 N Lowell Rd, was valued at approximately $5300.

The Sheriff's Dept got the lead on the stolen cattle when Douglas Eldridge, caring for his vacationing father's cattle, reported a theft at the farm on W. Kinley Rd.

SHERIFF'S DEPT officials went to the scene and discovered fresh foot and tire tracks.

Later investigation at the Lyle Mayers farm revealed tracks there matched those found on the Eldridge farm.

A search warrant was obtained on the basis that at least 1 calf, was believed to bear an identification tag.

After the search warrant was issued, deputies found the calf with the ID tag and discovered 22 stolen calves mixed in with 90 head of cattle owned by Mayers.

Farmers who had reported missing cattle were contacted and, after identifying their stock, were allowed to claim their calves.

Two Sheriff's Dept officials, Detective Sgt Richard May and Deputy John Criswell have been assigned to further investigate the larceny of cattle in the area.

AT THE SCENE of the arrests Friday morning, Sheriff Anthony Hufnagel, told members of the news media that he didn't feel the arrests were going to completely end livestock rustling in the county.

The arrests recovered no sheep or hogs that have been reported stolen and all calves stolen have not been recovered.

Following the arrests, the Sheriff's Dept received calls from police agencies and farmers throughout the central Michigan area who are seeking cattle missing from their areas. The Sheriff's Dept reported, however, that all cattle recovered Friday belonged to farmers in Clinton County.

Currently, the department is cooperating with other agencies in an extensive investigation which is hoped to end cattle rustling in several counties.

HUFNAGEL HAS again asked farmers in the area to cooperate with the investigation by reporting any suspicious vehicles and, if possible, obtaining descriptions of vehicles and drivers and license numbers.

Asked by the County News about reports of farmers threatening to "take matters into their own hands" if suspected rustlers are found on their property, Hufnagel said, "Such emotion is understandable, but we feel Clinton County farmers are aware of the possible consequences of such action and we really don't think any action will be taken other than notifying us and having us do our job."

Currently an investigation, joined by Clinton officials, is taking place in Gratiot County in an attempt to stop the same situation.

The Sheriff's Dept has reason to believe there are some thefts in both counties which have not been reported and individuals who have been victims of cattle thieves are urged to contact their Sheriff immediately.

Thieves break into 2 homes - - net $2000

Two homes on E Leahman Rd, rural Laingsburg were broken into over the weekend and over $2000 in property was stolen.

The thefts were reported to the Clinton County Sheriff's Dept after owners of both homes had returned from out-of-town trips.

Several valuable firearms were included in the items stolen. Those firearms belonged to Lynn Miller, 3725

E Leahman Rd.

Stolen from his residence were $130 in coins, a Winchester 348 caliber rifle, a Winchester 16 gauge shotgun, a Remington 22 rifle, an Ithaca 20 gauge magnum, a Colt 22 revolver, a Rohm 22 caliber pistol, a Remington 12-gauge shotgun, Kaiser 12 gauge shotgun, ammunition, 16mm movie camera, 50 blank checks from the Owosso State Savings Bank (Numbers 501-550) and 2 bottles of liquor.

Total value of the items taken from the Miller home was set at $1685.50.

The residence of Jeff Suckles, across the road at 3748 E Leahman Rd, was also broken into and taken were a portable color television, 35mm camera, $20 in Kennedy half dollars, a set of field glasses and a shotgun. Total value was set at $605.

DeWitt voters to fill positions vacated by recall election

DEWITT -- Voters in the city of DeWitt go to the polls Tuesday, Aug 21 to elect 2 city councilmen and a mayor to fill vacancies created by a recent recall election.

Recalled in that election were Raymond DeWitt, mayor; and councilmen Robert Ballard and Stanley Tenney. Councilmen Frederick (Bill) Shaver was also on the ballot, but DeWitt residents voted not to recall him.

Six candidates are listed on the ballot for council seats and 2 candidates are running for the mayor position.

Seeking election as mayor are Murl Eastman, 509 E Webb Drive, and Sarah Fike, 121 W Main.

Eastman, pastor of DeWitt Community Church, is a member of the DeWitt Police and Fire Departments, DeWitt Lions Club, VFW and Southern Michigan Law Enforcement Association.

Born in Flint in 1921, he attended school in Port Huron and is a graduate of Brown City High School.

He attended Highland Park Junior College and Taylor University in Upland, Ind.

He served in the US Navy during World II with a destroyer unit.

Eastman has served in the ministry with the Michigan Baptist Convention for 26 years and also has served part time in protective services with police, fire departments and Civil Defense for 15 years in Grass Lake, Mason and DeWitt.

He is currently chaplain and special deputy of the Ingham County Sheriff's Dept, a position he has held for 9 years. He has also served as superintendent of the shelter home for neglected children, Ingham County Probate Court, for 1 year.

A 2-year veteran of the DeWitt School Board, he was recently re-elected for 4 years.

In stating his reasons for seeking the mayor's office, Eastman said, "Others were not showing any interest in the job and interested citizens were asking me to run.

"I have always been interested in local government where I have lived. I hope, if elected, to lend support to the City Council as they work toward unity in DeWitt. I want to see progress at a pace we can afford."

Sarah (Sadie) Fike has stated she is "interested in the growth of the city, both in the business district and suburbs" and feels "one is dependent on the other."

"Our city is growing faster than many," she stated, "And I feel we need serious planning to cope with this situation. We need to consider plans for further growth of the city, and do it now."

She favors the hiring of a competent city manager to make sure "our tax dollars are spent to the best advantage of everyone."

She currently owns and operates a dress shop, The Hen's Nest, for nearly 5 years, and is also employed as a real estate sales person for Stan Loomis and Associates in Lansing.

Mrs Fike is a graduate of Elsie High School, and owned and operated Sadie's Shop in Ovid for 11 years. Prior to that time, she owned and operated a restaurant at Houghton Lake for 4 years.

J Dale Bohm resides at 1024 E Geneva Dr with his wife and their 3 children, who are attending DeWitt schools. He feels that the city of DeWitt, like most small communities located outside major cities, is experiencing growth opportunities and must expand services to meet the needs of its citizens.

According to Bohm, paved streets and sewers are examples of these needs. He feels the major problem will be financing these services while staying within the budget. He also believes communication between city officials and citizens must be improved.

Bohm, age 40, served in the US Navy until 1953, and prior to moving to DeWitt was active in the Rotary, PTA (president), served as Council Finance Chairman of the Boy Scouts, and participated in other fraternal and civic organizations.

He is a graduate of a Canton, Ill, high school and studied insurance courses at Bradley University. He is currently executive vice president and general manager of the Michigan Association of Mutual Insurance Agents.

William E Drouin, 46, is seeking the position of councilman, because he "is very interested and concerned with the betterment and development of the community."

He is a past member of the National Association of Postmasters and the Mich Association of Postmasters.

Barbara J Warren, 36, resides at 1220 Sandhill Dr, DeWitt, with her husband Richard, and daughters Vicky, 17, and Bonny, 11.

Mrs Warren says she has always been interested in civic affairs and has actively supported union activities, including responsibilities as coordinating organizer for Michigan State University's Employees Union prior to, and at the time, the union first gained contractual status. In addition to union organizing, she attended several union conventions and served as recording secretary for the MSU local union.

In addition, to union activities, she has served as precinct delegate, precinct captain, and State Convention Delegate for the Democratic Party. Her underlying political philosophy centers around the belief that government should be responsive to the needs and basic desires of those it serves.

Sealed Power declares dividend

The board of directors of Sealed Power Corporation today declared a common stock dividend of 10% to be distributed September 17, 1973, to stockholders of record on August 24, 1973.

The board also declared a regular quarterly dividend of 18 cents per share to be paid on both the present shares outstanding and the additional shares to be issued. The dividend will be paid Sept 10, 1973, to stockholders of record on Aug 24, 1973. Gordon E. Reynolds, chairman and president, said it was the intention of the board, providing business conditions warrant and Cost of Living Council regulations permit such action, to continue the 18 cent quarterly dividend-rate on the increased shares. In effect, this would provide a 10% increase in annual dividends.

Reynolds said the company will issue one share of common stock for each ten shares held by a stockholder, with special arrangements made to avoid the issuance of fractional shares. He added that the stock dividend would increase share outstanding to 3,360,655 from 3,055,141 and that stockholder approval was not necessary because the company has sufficient authorized shares.

The company effected a 3-for-2 stock split through a 50% stock dividend in mid-1972. The previous split, also on a 3-for-2 basis, was in 1964 and stock dividends of 10 per cent were issued in 1961, 1962, 1963, 1965, 1968, and 1969.

"The increase in the dividend rate reflects a continuation of our corporate growth," Reynolds said. "Sales and earnings for 1973 are expected to show improvement over last year, when we reported record volume of $99 million and all-time high earnings of $6.8 million, or $2.25 per share. We also anticipate that satisfactory operating levels will be experienced during 1974."

Sealed Power, headquartered in Muskegon, is a leading manufacturer of piston rings and precision metal parts for the automotive and other industries. It has manufacturing facilities in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois and Texas, as well as in Canada and Mexico. Its first overseas facility is currently under construction in Liege, Belgium.

James Pelham is new County Extension Director

CLINTON COUNTY -- Clinton County has a new County Extension Director. His name is James Pelham, and he comes to this county following 2-1/2 years as Barry County's Agricultural Agent. Pelham replaces Earl Haas, who joined the Clinton County staff in April of 1955.

Before working in Barry County, Pelham managed the State Prison Farms in Ionia and Jackson.

Pelham, who says his specialty is dairy, will primarily work with adult agriculture. His other duties include responsibility for administration of the Extension Office as well as supervising 4-H activities and homemaking education.

Pelham's educational background includes a BS in general agriculture and MA in agricultural education, both from Michigan State University.

When asked if he plans any changes for Clinton County, he noted that there is going to have to be an expansion of the extension's educational program over the coming years because the county is growing so fast.

"I'm more than happy with the people here," he observed, "and the jobs they're doing."

He stressed that it is his desire to maintain the "fine program" which presently exists in the county.

Pelham and his wife Marty will be moving to St Johns soon from Hastings, and plan to reside at 1301 S Lansing St. They have 3 children, Marcia Garrison, who is married and lives in Battle Creek; Carol, who is studying to be a nurse in Battle Creek; and Jim, who will be a junior at St Johns High School this fall.

Lunch and milk prices to change in St Johns schools

ST JOHNS—The cost of hot lunches and "special" milk will be a bit higher this year due to increased costs to the St Johns School District.

Lunches will go from 40 cents to 45 cents, the 1st change in 4 years. "Special" milk, or more than 1 carton with a hot lunch purchased without a lunch, will go from 5 cents to 8 cents.

That change is due to the state's announcement that they will no longer reimburse schools 3 cents for each 5 cent carton sold.

St Johns School board members were told last Wednesday that labor and food costs have increased each year and "considerable" increases are expected in food this year.

As an example, it was stated that hamburger cost the district 63 cents a pound last year, with the cost this year expected to be over 91 per pound.

St Johns residents get more than water bills

ST. JOHNS—St Johns residents got more than just a water bill last week. Included with the bills were brochures explaining the need for new sewers in the community. Six points were discussed in the brochure: the increase in public comfort and convenience, improvement of business opportunities, health protection, increased property values, and encouragement of a more attractive community and other dividends derived from a modern sewer system. The brochure was distributed in support of the city's Sept 11 special election to decide the fate of new sanitary and storm sewers in St Johns. Cost of the proposed projects would be $4,510,000 for the sanitary system and $1,499,900 for storm sewers. The city's share for the sanitary system would be $902,000 with 5% of the funding coming from state sources and 75% from federal sources. The city will fund locally the entire storm sewer project. Members of the City Commission have said the proposal will not exceed 4.42 mills.

Higher insurance payments, for one thing. Property tax payments, for another.

And maintenance, and repair service don't go with the phone so you have to make arrangements for that.

We don't sell phone equipment at General Telephone. But we do provide just about any kind of phone equipment you want at the lowest possible rates.

And we service it for nothing extra. Replace worn or broken parts at no extra cost. And come running the minute you need us.

Reunion highlights vacation trip

A reunion of 5 former "Chapin kids" and their spouses was the highlight of a 15-day vacation for Mr and Mrs Leo Bensinger of 7450 E Wildcat Road, Ovid who visited Mr and Mrs Don Marten and family in Bellingham, Washington.

The Bensingers left Lansing Airport on July 16 by way of Chicago. Cruising at 35,000 to 39,000 feet, as they were coming into Seattle, they said it seemed they could almost reach out and touch the majestic Mt Rainier.

They were met by Mrs Marten (the former Nonabelle Hall of Elsie-Chapin area) and her daughter, Angela. The next day they went sightseeing and saw Mt Shuksan and the Twin Sisters Mt, but the road to Mt Baker was closed as the snow was not plowed out yet.

It was a hot day but a cool breeze came off the snow covered mountain and they cooled their pop in the snow. They spent the evening at the Marten's Cottage at Birch Bay near the Canadian border. The Michigan visitors were amazed that no screens or screen doors were in evidence and learned there were no flies and mosquitoes.

The following morning the tide was out so they enjoyed clam digging until they had enough for clam chowder and clam fritters that night.

Marten joined the group for a two-day trip by way of the North West Cascade Highway, which was only completed a year ago. They stopped at a rejuvenated ghost town, Winthrop and found 106 degree temperature and went on to Grand Coulee Dam that night. The lights were not on since it was necessary to conserve the power as it had been so dry this year.

The following day was spent touring points of interest at the enormous dam. They noted the construction of more dams was underway to secure more power for the west. They returned to Bellingham over the mountains on an old pass. On the summit, they were at 4,061 feet in the clouds where it was so foggy they scarcely could see a car length ahead.

Later when the sun came through, they saw the logging trucks that bring in a load off the mountains every six minutes.

A boat trip to Vancouver Island was a special treat as they toured the Parliament Building in Victoria, British Columbia's Capital city. Quite by coincidence, the Bensingers met a Massachusetts lady and her daughter who were also passengers on the plane from Chicago to Seattle. They toured the fabulous Butchart Gardens for nearly three hours and enjoyed the three-hour boat trip from Sidney to Bellingham. Friends of their hosts will be interested to know that Mrs Marten will be worthy matron and Don Marten, the worthy patron of their home Chapter, O.E.S., for the coming year, in Bellingham.

They also visited other friends in Seattle and attended church one evening. The next day they drove through the University Campus and all points to see Mt Baker in its beauty in the evening and Mt Rainier on a clear night in the distance.

After sightseeing in Seattle, Tacoma and Olympia, they met with Harold Kremer, David Labo and Ralph Batchelor and their wives. The 5 couples visited for four hours about "old times" around Chapin, school days together at both Banner and Booth rural schools and where their old classmates are today and who the old-timers are now.

As the 5 couples met for dinner at Tyee Motor Inn near Olympia, the capital of Washington, it was found that three of the men had birthdays within a few days which they celebrated. They continued to visit about "back in Chapin" and "old Elsie High". Those honored were Harold Kremer, Ralph Batchelor and Don Marten. All were entering the 60-61 age group.

Outside their motel was a collection of Vintage cars which they remembered quite well from he years 1926 through 1930.

As the Bensingers readied for their flight home from Seattle, they all enjoyed the Mono Rail, sightseeing busses, lunch at the Food Fair and also a ride up in the Space Needle.

They brought back many colored pictures to share their long planned vacation with friends.

Bensinger also added a note that many former classmates and other friends here would appreciate the addresses of their western couples who were formerly from this area.

They are:

Harold Kremer, 9402 Fruitland Ave, Puyallup, Washington 98371.

Mrs Donald (Nonabelle Hall) Marten, 2601 N. Park Drive, Bellingham, Washington 98225.

Ralph Batchelor, 3720 N W Van Buren, Corvallis, Oregon 97330.

Howard Labo, Route #6 Box 230, Port Orchard, Washington 98366.

Looking for something different? Try making rose petal jam

ROCHESTER—Here's a cooking idea for rose petals from your garden. Use them to add color, fragrance and taste to your version of a new jam.

"Use only petals in fullest essence," says Jane Windeler of Drayton Plains, co-chairwoman of Oakland University's Meadow Brook Hall flower arranging committee.

Ms Windeler, who devised this new jam, adapted it from the recipe for Violet Jam in "Stalking the Wild Herbs" by Euell Gibbons.

Meadow Brook Hall Rose Petal Jam

Using a blender, blend 1 cup firmly packed rose petals, 3/4 cups water and 2 tablespoons lemon juice, using 1/2 cup rose petals at a time. Add 2 cups sugar, adding 1 cup at a time. Mix 1 package of powdered pectin and 3/4 cups water in saucepan; bring to a boil and boil hard for 1 minute. Put in a closed container. Refrigerate or freeze. Makes about 4 small jars. Keeps for 6 months.

St Johns Commission tackles 2 old problems

ST JOHNS -- Two old problems accented an otherwise routine session of the St Johns City Commission Monday night.

The problem of gravel truck noise on Scott Road came up again and, although most agree the noise caused by numerous gravel trucks using Scott Rd is a legitimate nuisance, there seemed to be no obvious solution.

Attorney Paul Maples told the Commission they have no control over North Scott Rd and the "old problem" of dealing with the county faces the city. Maples told the Commission the "old story" was, "if it costs money, the county doesn't want it." He was referring to the section of the road controlled by the county now traveled by trucks causing considerable noise moving over ruts in the road.

One resident present at the meeting said the gravel trucks are using Scott Rd in the early morning hours disturbing elderly residents of the area. He also said he has counted as many as 30 trucks passing through the area in a half-hour period.

The other "old" problem facing the Commission was an upcoming hearing by the Public Service Commission concerning extensive repaving of railroad signal facilities in St Johns.

The Public Service Commission, following a fatal accident, suggested several thousand dollars worth of changes within the city, but the Commission resisted the changes saying they were unnecessary.

Attorney Maples, in the words of Mayor Robert Wood, was authorized to attend the hearing and "resist their effort with all of his efforts."

A report from that hearing will be published in the County News.

DeWitt Twp tables bids

By Laurie Kipp
County News Writer

DEWITT TWP -- The agenda was a large one at Monday night's DeWitt Twp Meeting, but not much in the way of action was taken on any of the items except to send them back to various committees.

Bids were opened for the utility building to be constructed in the park. Three bids with prices differing as much as $5500 were submitted. Trustee Jack Kzeski moved that the architect meet with the Parks Committee and make a recommendation to the board at their next meeting. Motion carried.

William Purves, chairman of the Planning Commission, told the board a public hearing will be held Sept 18 beginning at 7:30 pm at the township hall to consider the new land use map.

Purves also told the board of the Planning Commission's recommendation that Don Bohil be appointed to fill the vacancy on the commission. Supervisor Dale Emerson said he opposes such a move because so many members of the commission live in the same basic area already. He emphasized that his objection was not a question of Bohil's capabilities. The matter was returned to the Planning Commission stating the board's apprehensions about having so many members from 1 area.

Clerk Donna Syverson again brought up the question of Frank Horvath's absence from Planning Commission meetings, and noted that the by-laws call for resignation of members having 3 or more unexcused absences.

"If we're going to have by-laws," she said, "We should abide by them."

She noted that Horvath has missed the last 6 meetings, and has been warned twice already.

Treasurer Oliver Angell questioned the authority of the by-laws because of State Planning regulations. Since the position is a 3-year appointment, he expressed doubt that a resignation could be requested.

Trustee Kzeski moved the board check with township attorney F Merrill Wyble to see if the commission can ask for his resignation. The motion further stated that the commission do so, if it is permissible. Motion carried unanimously.

The board expressed its disapproval of plans submitted by Mick and Rowland, contractors for the township's proposed storm drains. Trustee Kzeski asked Mick if he considered the plans approved by all agencies involved, such as the County Road Commission and Drain Commission, and received a vague answer.

Trustee Purvis told the contractors that he had taken a day off work to discuss changes in the preliminary price, which the board felt was too high, and that the plans submitted had not changed.

"I wasted a whole day," he told them. Kzeski added, "I find it inconceivable that we can accept these as complete, detailed plans."

The board voted to request Mick and Rowland resubmit a more detailed billing for their consideration.

In other action, the board voted to continue their appeal with the State Tax Commission. Emerson reported that the commission will come in and reassess the entire county.

Emerson told the County News of the board's feeling that the rest of the county is under-assessed, while DeWitt Twp is over-assessed.

Open Letter

from VAN W. HOAG

Dear Friends,

It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral service, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected - these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family.

The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made.

Respectfully,

Van W. Hoag

DeWitt parish breaks ground

Members of DeWitt's Community of St. Jude gathered to break ground for their new Catholic church at 3 pm, Sunday afternoon, Aug. 12. The building will be erected on a 10-acre site on North Bridge St in DeWitt, opposite the DeWitt Cemetery. Expected completion date for the parish building is spring 1974, with the structure's cost estimated at approximately $285,000. Morris H. Stein, of Stein Associates, Inc., Lansing, is the architect who designed the multi-purpose building. The new functional community building will be utilized for worship services, social and educational activities. It will house a chapel, coatroom, kitchen, visual aids room and preschool room, as well as a large, all-purpose room with folding doors which can be divided into 10 classrooms.

Nearly 4 years ago, on Sept. 28, 1969, some 300 people attended the first mass in the gym of Furstenau School, DeWitt, with Fr. John Shinnars, then pastor of St. Therese Church, Lansing, officiating. By diocesan action, the Catholic Community of DeWitt became a mission parish on July 1, 1970, and priests from St. Therese continued to service its 247 families. Members of the first parish council were: Lloyd Ballard, Robert Ballard, John Lennemann, LaVern Lerg, Marian Malenfant, Arden Pierson and Paul Reuter.

By the first anniversary, mass was being celebrated in the new DeWitt Middle School, and parish members voted to select the permanent parish name - the Community of St. Jude. In July 1971, Fr. Jerome Schmitt was assigned as the first pastor, coming to DeWitt from St. Mary's Church, Morrice.

A large modern home at 409 N. Wilson was purchased as the rectory, and daily mass has been offered since in the former family room. Currently, masses continue to be said each Sunday and holy day at the Middle School location.

FR. JEROME SCHMITT SHOVELS THE FIRST BIT OF SOD WHILE SURROUNDED BY PARISHONERS DURING GROUND-BREAKING CEREMONIES IN DEWITT SUNDAY.

An Aug. 9 fire caused $20,000-$25,000 to this home at 16815 DeWitt Rd., owned by Beulah Peplow. The fire was started when gasoline being poured into a power generator ignited and was fueled further by acetylene and butane tanks. The DeWitt Twp Fire Dept sent 4 units to the fire and was assisted by the DeWitt City Fire Dept. DeWitt Twp Police and the Clinton County Sheriff's Dept were at the scene to control traffic.

casey at the bat

by Ernest Lawrence Thayer

(1863 - 1940)

The outlook wasn't brilliant for the Mudville nine that day;
The score stood four to two, with but one inning more to play;
And so, when Cooney died at first, and Barrows did the same,
A sickly silence fell upon the patrons of the game.

A straggling few got up to go in deep despair. The rest
Clung to the hope which springs eternal in the human breast.
They thought, if only Casey could but get a whack, at that,
They'd put up even money now, with Casey at the bat.

But Flynn preceded Casey, as did also Jimmy Blake,
And the former was a pudding and the latter was a fake.
So upon that stricken multitude grim melancholy sat,
For there seemed but little chance of Casey's getting to the bat.

But Flynn let drive a single, to the wonderment of all,
And Blake, the much despised, tore the cover off the ball.
And when the dust had lifted, and they saw what had occurred,
There was Jimmy safe on second, and Flynn a-hugging third.

Then from the gladdened multitude went up a joyous yell,
It bounded from the mountain-top and rattled in the dell.
It struck upon the hillside, and recoiled upon the flat,
For Casey, mighty Casey, was advancing to the bat.

There was ease in Casey's manner as he stepped into his place,
There was pride in Casey's bearing and a smile on Casey's face.
And when, responding to the cheers, he lightly doffed his hat,
No stranger in the crowd could doubt 'twas Casey at the bat.

Ten thousand eyes were on him as he rubbed his hands with dirt,
Five thousand tongues applauded when he wiped them on his shirt.
Then while the writhing pitcher ground the ball into his hip,
Defiance gleamed in Casey's eye, a sneer curled Casey's lip.

And now the leather covered sphere came hurtling through the air,
And Casey stood a-watching it in haughty grandeur there;
Close by the sturdy batsman the ball unheeded sped.
"That ain't my style," said Casey. "Strike one," the umpire said.

From the benches, black with people, there went up a muffled roar,
Like the beating of the storm-waves on a stern and distant shore.
"Kill him! Kill the umpire!" shouted someone on the stand.
And it's likely they'd have killed him had not Casey raised his hand.

With a smile of Christian charity great Casey's visage shone,
He stilled the rising tumult; he bade the game go on;
He signaled to the pitcher, and once more the spheroid flew,
But Casey still ignored it and the umpire said, "Strike two!"

"Fraud!" cried the maddened thousands, and the echo answered, "Fraud!"
But a scornful look from Casey, and the audience was awed.
They saw his face grow stern and cold, they saw his muscles strain,
And they knew that Casey wouldn't let that ball go by again.

The sneer is gone from Casey's lips, his teeth are clenched in hate,
He pounds with cruel violence his bat upon the plate;
And now the pitcher holds the ball, and now he lets it go,
And now the air is shattered by the force of Casey's blow.

Oh! somewhere in this favored land the sun is shining bright,
The band is playing somewhere, and somewhere hearts are light;
And somewhere men are laughing, and somewhere children shout,
But there is no joy in Mudville—mighty Casey has struck out.

Ballenger's office is responsive

"An open line of communication" is a nice phrase. But, whether it means anything or not is often a different matter.

We feel at times that office holders like the phrase, but are not particularly inclined to use the intent to make their office as open as possible to the public.

An example of a man and his staff who believe in the phrase is the office of Sen William Ballenger. A recent telephone call to his office by the Clinton County News once again made our staff appreciate the responsiveness of Sen Ballenger and those who work for him.

In the latest instance we talked to Carole MacIntosh, a "right arm" to Sen Ballenger. When we called her, we had sketchy information about a bill, about which we wished to obtain more information. All we could supply was the general intent of the bill: we did not have the name or number of the bill and were very hazy on the content.

Taking what little information we supplied, she said she would return our call the same day and, hopefully, would be able to supply us with what we wanted to know.

Within 2 hours, she had returned our call, supplied us with the facts we sought, plus some we had not requested.

There are several other instances of such responsiveness from Sen Ballenger's office.

We commend him and his staff for taking the right of the public to know at heart and supplying the citizens in his district with a responsive service genuinely interested in doing the best job they can for the public.

Involved people improve community

As summer looks toward fall, there are some St Johns people who deserve our gratitude in making the summer months a little more enjoyable and meaningful for young people in the community.

Talk about Little League and Pony League and who else, but Jack Downing, are we speaking of -- a man who, through his hard work and many hours, has made organized baseball in St Johns a fun and rewarding proposition for all those who played and their families.

But, Jack had help. We couldn't possibly mention all those who helped him, but the community is aware of the neighbor gone so many nights assisting Jack in both programs and we thank all of them.

The Jaycees play a big part in the summer activity of St Johns with their Soapbox Derby. Besides their hours of work in staging the annual Derby, this year without Chevrolet sponsorship, they are now involved in taking the 1973 winner and 20 others to the national race in Akron, Ohio.

The Jaycees have also been on hand at all the Little League and Pony League games operating the concession stand.

Hours of work for high school students without summer jobs brings to mind 2 more St Johns citizens. Bernard Feldpausch and Bev Archer have done great things this summer in establishing a youth work program. Through their efforts Job-O-Youth has provided hours of summer employment for community young people, plus providing a service for those people with jobs that need to be done.

As is Job-O-Youth, the girls' softball league in St Johns is another new program born in 1973.

The league is the product of organizing and extensive work by Diane Kanaski, who handled the whole project on her own while home from university studies for the summer.

Her efforts proved so successful the St Johns Jaycettes have moved to sponsor a girls' softball league in the coming summers.

On a county-wide level, this week is 4-H Fair Week and those individuals in the Extension Office with the help of parents, businessmen and organizations are to be commended for their part in providing a showplace for our young people to display their talents at their finest.

From all of the above to those who ran the swimming pool activities, The Redwing Shop, 4th of July Fireworks with the Carnival and special day for kids and others we may not have mentioned here -- a from-the-heart thanks for the hours of work away from home to do something for others.

Fancy words and complicated phrases are not capable of describing the value of such people to a community.

ONE YEAR AGO

Aug 15, 1963
Circuit Judge Paul R Cash appointed St Johns attorney Jack Walker as defense counsel Monday and remanded to justice court the case of Orvin D Forbes, 25, of 411-1/2 N Ottawa Street, who admitted the brutal beating July 22 of a Lansing woman.

Sale of six Men-A-Mart stores in St Johns, Owosso, East Lansing and Lansing to the Guildcrest Corp. of Chicago was reported this week to The Republican News, but principals involved in the transaction could not be reached for comment.

St Johns area residents received a freighting jolt about 10 am Saturday when a jet plane involved in a tactical exercise somewhere "upstairs" cracked the sound barrier.

One person was hospitalized and two others received minor injuries about 9 pm Saturday in two separate accidents, indirectly connected to each other, which occurred on US-27 just north of Parks Road. Ewing's Store at Bath operated by members of the Ewing family for the past 38 years, has been sold to David L Van Sickle, 36, a former Elsie resident.

TEN YEARS AGO

Aug 16, 1972
Wages paid to volunteer firemen was the "hot" topic during Monday night's meeting of the St Johns City Commission but it appears a pay hike for the parttime smoke eaters will be delayed until the next fiscal year.

Tony Hufnagel topped a field of our Republican contenders seeking office of Clinton County Sheriff in last week's primary and appears a cinch to replace the retiring Percy Patterson.

The Clinton County Republican party will conduct their fall convention tonight at 8 pm in the Circuit Courtroom of the courthouse in St Johns.

A 31 year career in banking came to an end August 9 in the retirement of Arden (Mike) Cook from his post as assistant cashier with the Clinton National Bank and Trust Co.

Pre-schoolers wearing graduation caps and carrying diplomas waved goodbye to teachers and aides as they boarded school buses to return home to wait the opening of school in September when their Head Start program closed Friday after a seven week session.

25 YEARS AGO

Aug 12, 1948
Lynn Heinlen, 38, of R4, St Johns, was reported "out of danger" by his attending physician at Clinton Memorial Hospital Monday morning. His condition was reported as "very good". Heinlen was the most seriously injured of 20 persons hospitalized for varying periods after a speeding race car hurtled into the stands at the Owosso Speedway last Wednesday night.

The flow of wheat to area elevators tapered off this week but 120,000 bushels remain in storage in St Johns, Fowler and Ovid.

The second 32-cent increase in the wholesale price of milk within five weeks was announced last week by Howard F Simmons, secretary manager of the Michigan Milk Producer's Association. The latest raise being Class I milk, used for fluid consumption to $5.54 per hundredweight.

With the building nearly completed, the fund for the erection of the new addition out at Clinton Memorial Hospital is running low. Hospital association treasurer L.W. Wolf estimated this week that an additional $4000 will be needed to pay off the contractors and buy necessary furniture and equipment.

THOUGHTS THROUGH A TYPEWRITER

...I've mentioned it before, but it's still frustrating to observe the speed limit on US-27, only to have the traffic continue to whiz on by you at 10-15-20 miles over the speed limit.

...There's nothing like having the editor of the local newspaper living in the neighborhood. That way you expect to be on top of all the good stuff happening in town--right? That is unless the editor is such a sound sleeper a stampede of elephants playing "Your Red Scarf Matches Your Eyes" on bagpipes couldn't wake him. My neighborhood was the scene of a traffic accident involving an automobile and utility pole. The mishap occurred almost in my front yard, power was lost for quite a while and much activity surrounded the incident. You guessed it -- I slept right through the whole thing.

"If It Fitz . . . Adding to Watergate wisdom

Editor, Lapeer County Press

By Jim Fitzgerald

Worrying and wondering about Watergate.

H. R. Haldeman reminds me of every lieutenant I had during World War 2. John Ehrlichman reminds me of every captain. And John Dean reminds me of the sniveling corporals who always told the sergeants when the privates goofed off.

Of course, I was in the German army. Sauerkraut on a shingle.

PRESIDENT NIXON may not be a burglar but he certainly has been running around with a lot of weird types. I think he hires his help the same way they do on the loading dock. Whoever is first in line at 5 am gets a day's work.

A lot of people wonder why Nixon has handled Watergate so stupidly from a public relations standpoint. If he is so innocent, why won't he release those tapes to Top 40 disc jockeys? People are bound to be suspicious.

I think I have the answer. Nixon wants you to get so steamed about Watergate you won't notice what else is going on. Right now he's probably sorry he wasn't caught driving the get-away car at Watergate. That would have caused such an overwhelming stink you wouldn't have noticed a secondary odor when it was revealed that we bombed Cambodia for 14 months and almost no one knew it except the people getting killed and they never told.

If you weren't so hypnotized by Sen Ervin's eyebrows, you might be wondering what else we've been bombing. Has anyone heard from Castro lately? Or Massachusetts?

It's personal

I'm really excited. My domesticated weed patch has finally begun to show signs of producing what it's supposed to. Although it isn't very big, it does provide a sense of accomplishment.

Gardens are good therapy. Music is said to soothe the soul. Well, I'm a firm believer that poking around in the dirt can be equally soothing.

The whole thing started back in March when it seemed like spring would never come to Michigan. There I was in a grocery store, checking out their seaskick fresh produce, when I spotted a display of garden seeds complete with pictures of tomatoes the size of basketballs.

Aha, I thought, I'll plant a garden and grow my own. No more fainting at the checkout counter for me! (Stores have great psychologists who know just when to put seeds in those pretty packages on the shelves.)

I bought a few packages of cherry tomatoes, lettuce, radishes, etc. and planted them that night. My strategy was to start them inside, and transplant them when the weather warmed up outdoors.

A few days later some teeny little green things started to pop out of the dirt. Just when they were beginning to look like healthy seedlings something happened, and they disappeared. It seems that my cats decided they were pretty, tasty little morsels and ate them.

Undaunted, I started over and made sure the pots were out of reach of those 2 beasts this time. The next step was to dig up the sod in my chosen garden site.

outdoors but this didn't work either. Dumping water on plants like that just flattened them.

The solution was found when the lady in the house behind me offered to let me use her garden hose. Here's where the adaptability comes in -- the hose is about 4 feet too short. I discovered that by sticking my thumb in the middle of the spray, I could water half the block if I wanted to.

Weeds are no problem. I pull out a few in part of the garden, and ignore those under the tomato plants. I figure they throw so much shade, the weeds will eventually die out. (They haven't yet.)

Last week saw the harvest of my first lettuce, and I couldn't resist pulling up a few radishes even though they were only about the size of a dime. Now the cherry tomatoes are beginning to show up and I may even have a few stringbeans by December.

Yeah, it's a good feeling poking around in the dirt. After an especially trying day, I just go home and talk to my plants. And, they don't talk back.

View from the Senate

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Michigan will be facing some intriguing questions in the environmental field during the next few years. The state's Natural Resources Commission long has been noted for facing tough policy decisions but, with the recent reorganization of several state government departments, the issue of "environment vs. natural resource development" appears to be sharpening even more.

Years ago, the old Conservation Department was responsible for forests, fisheries, wildlife, state parks, and geological resources. Then, when the new 1963 State Constitution went into effect, management of water resources, boating, marine safety, tourism, and the Mackinac Island State Park complex also were placed under the Department, which was renamed the "Department of Natural Resources."

Another change was made in April of this year when air pollution control activities, land use planning, watershed management, solid waste control, and municipal wastewater management were shifted from other departments. The Department then was reorganized internally and now includes two major branches -- natural resources and environmental protection.

All these growing pains make it appear that the agency, which has kept the name "Department of Natural Resources", might now be a huge and confusing organization. In actual size, however, the DNR still employs less than 3,000 of the state's 52,000 classified public employees.

The DNR's annual budget of $63 million is less than 2.5 percent of the total $2.6 billion state general fund budget.

But when people want to complain about problems of the outdoors, our natural resources or our environment, the DNR is the first place they go. And they've been going there in steadily increasing numbers recently as public concern over these issues mounts.

"We are a very public Department, and we aim to stay that way," says DNR Director A. Gene Gazlay. "Our monthly Commission meetings are always open to the public and usually there are plenty of citizen delegations at every meeting."

"At the July meeting in Cadillac, the Commission adopted a policy guaranteeing public involvement in all of our activities. Other commissions -- water resources, air pollution control, waterways, tourism, and the Mackinac Island State Park -- and all associate boards and councils will be asked to do the same," notes Gazlay.

Gazlay says these citizen delegations cover a broad range of subjects, but they normally focus either on a hope that the environment can be preserved or that natural resources can be developed.

The complicating factor in these two positions is that they usually wind up in direct opposition to each other.

"Sometimes issues that come before us can be resolved rather easily," says Gazlay. "But very frequently we are faced with the tougher kind."

Gazlay uses the Pigeon River State Forest as one example of a recent conflict.

Oil exploration has shown that sizable deposits of petroleum lie beneath that forest area. State Geology laws require that the Department help private industry recover as much of this petroleum as possible so that none is wasted. On the other hand, the Pigeon River Forest also is one of Michigan's most scenic regions and petroleum production conflicts with other legal mandates of the Department to protect wildlife, water quality, and scenic values.

"Unfortunately, there's no right or wrong way to resolve such issues," says Gazlay. "If we leave the oil in the ground, we violate one principle of natural resource management and contribute to the growing energy shortage; if we take it out, we endanger other values. In this case, the Commission voted to recover the oil under strict environmental controls that, hopefully, will cause least danger to the environment. We had to proceed this way to safeguard our environment and carry out resource development possibilities."

Gazlay sees many of these conflict-oriented decisions ahead, but he also has hopes for satisfying long-range answers.

"We are determined to find creative solutions to human needs of environment and natural resources," he says. "Present conflicts are giving us much deeper insights into land use, the urban environment, human needs for the outdoors, and many other natural resource matters. There is a central direction to human needs in this area of our lives, and we feel confident we can shape public policies to meet those needs."

Gazlay and the Commission plainly have their work cut out for them. Hopefully, there will be enough public understanding of the problems they face that their problem-solving abilities won't be hampered any more than is absolutely necessary.

"May or shall"

REP DOUGLAS TREZISE 87th District

"May" or "Shall". Two relatively minor words in the English language, but it doesn't take long around the Legislature to recognize them as two of the most important words in any piece of legislation.

Many of the fiercest battles in the process of forming new laws are fought over those words. The whole thing boils down to whether the state should mandate certain things to be done or whether the decision-making authority be left to others including school boards, city councils, county boards and the court system.

Probably most of the battles are fought over education bills where everyone seems to have an idea of what should be taught in the public schools. In the last few years we have had bills covering environmental education, venereal disease, birth control, the biblical story of creation and several others. In all cases, the sponsors wanted to require that their subject be taught in the public schools.

It came as a surprise to me to find the list of subjects which are already required in the curriculum. These include the Constitution and civil government, "the modes by which dangerous communicable diseases are spread", "physiology and hygiene with special reference to the nature of tobacco, alcohol and narcotics and their effect on the human system", as well as to the "humane treatment and protection of animals and birds."

It's a funny thing, though, I can't find any specific reference to the legal requirement for teaching "reading, writing and 'rithmetic" in our lawbook. The closest I can come is to learning that classes be conducted in the English language at least through the eighth grade. (Maybe that's why I have trouble understanding my teenage kids -- they've been using a different language since high school).

The problem of "shall" versus "may" hits us again in local government legislation. Shall we require local units to do certain things or should we allow for local latitude on questions of local government functions? I think that in city government we have gone a long way toward local options but our township and county governments are still rigidly shackled by the many "shalls" in state law.

A third area of "shall" versus "may" is law enforcement and it brings up the whole question of mandatory sentences for specific crimes. It's tempting to say that mandatory sentences would put an end to lenient judicial sentencing and would help in the fight against crime. But, there are those who believe they have just the opposite effect.

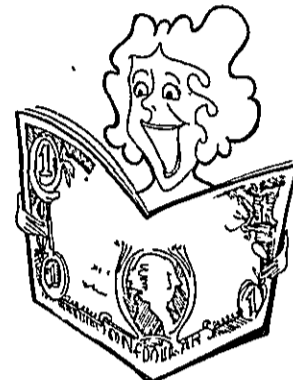

Take the Drunk Driving offense, for instance. We have a mandatory suspension of a driver's license on conviction for drunk driving. Yet, how many convictions have you read about lately? The loss of a drivers license could cause a person to lose his job and put his family on the welfare rolls so judges and juries are reluctant to find a person guilty unless he is a repeated offender. The accused in this case will almost always ask for a jury trial and jurors have been known to view those cases with a "there, but for the grace of God, go I" approach.

So what actually happens, even though there may be a good case but little chance of conviction because the penalty is too severe, many drunk driving charges are reduced to "impaired driving" and a more appropriate penalty can be imposed after a plea of guilty.

Would the same thing happen if we had mandatory sentences for all our crimes?

It's hard to set down a hard and fast philosophy on the question of "shall" versus "may". I tend to be a supporter of local people, be they on a school board, county commission or judicial bench. I am inclined to give them the latitude to do the job for which they were elected in the way their constituents want it done. Yet, we are all human ourselves and have our own special views which we feel should be imposed, if necessary, so the battle of the "shalls and may's" will continue to be a lively part of the legislative scene.

Seed alfalfa now

By WILLIAM LASHIER Extension Agriculture Agent

Summer seedings of alfalfa made now will yield about as much next year and for several years as spring seedings made in oats.

Summer seeding dates would be between late July and August 30 for south central Michigan.

MSU tests at East Lansing from 1969 through 1972 showed that spring seedings of alfalfa in oats yielded seven tons the next year, and summer seedings made on August 12 yielded 6.2 tons the next year. In the second harvest year, yields were the same from both seeding dates, in the third and fourth years the summer seedings outyielded spring seedings.

About one out of four alfalfa seedings is made in summer. Seedings made in July or August are generally successful on fallowed ground or after wheat stubble has been plowed under and prepared by disking, dragging, and cultipacking before seeding. Seedings on wheat stubble properly plowed and prepared have been much more successful than seedings made in the spring on top of winter wheat.

OTHER SUMMER seedings are generally successful when seeded on fallowed ground to control quackgrass and other weeds or after oat harvest.

If soil pH is below 6.8 it should be corrected by liming to help insure success of summer seedings. Soil tests will indicate the phosphorus and potassium needed. Generally, 400 pounds of a high analysis fertilizer as 0-26-26 is recommended when seedings, if yields of 5 tons or more of hay per acre is expected.

Band seeding is preferred to broadcast seeding because of greater seedling vigor and winter survival. The soil should be cultipacked before seeding. Press wheels or a cultipacker after a seeding are a "must" - they help emergence and almost insure a stand. Seedings without cultipacking are likely to be failures.

Eight to twelve pounds of seed will give maximum yields of alfalfa seeded in spring or summer.

Generally the twelve pound seeding rate should be used so that as the stand is three to four years old, an adequate number of plants will be present for high yields.

INOCULATION before planting is always recommended. The inoculated seed purchased this spring should be re-inoculated before seeding.

Saranac, a French-type wilt-resistant alfalfa is one of the best varieties for stands to be left for two to four years because of its wilt resistance, moderate winter hardness, and high yields. For long term stands -- five years or more -- or for pasture, Vernal and other wilt-resistant, winter hardy North American varieties are recommended.

Wilt-susceptible are not recommended for Michigan.

Cutting food costs

By: ELAINE CINCALE
County Extension Office

TEN PRACTICAL WAYS TO CUT FOOD COSTS -- Does cutting food costs sound like an impossible dream? It can be done. The first and maybe most important step is to plan ahead. Incorporate grocery store specials into your meal plan whenever possible.

But be sure specials are really money-savers. Here are several practical suggestions:

Get to know the regular prices of the items you usually buy so you'll know whether "four cans for 89 cents" is really a bargain. Shop from list and avoid impulse buying. If possible, shop alone when you're not hungry.

Select from cuts and types of meat, poultry and fish that provide the most cooked lean meat for your money. Best buys include ground beef, beef liver, pork shoulder, whole chickens, turkey and some kinds of fish.

Several days a week serve meat, poultry or fish at only one meal. At another use an egg, cooked dry beans or peas, cheese or peanut butter as your source of protein.

Evaporated and nonfat dry milk are less expensive than fresh fluid milk. They are most often substituted for fluid milk in cooking. When buying fluid milk for drinking, your best bet is a gallon or half-gallon containers bought at a grocery or dairy store. Containers usually cost more.

As a rule, buy fresh vegetables and fruits in season and canned or frozen out of season. A supermarket's own brands or private labels are often cheaper than highly advertised national brands of canned goods, and there's no loss in quality.

Buy the quality appropriate for the use you have in mind. Apples you're going to turn into applesauce don't have to look good enough to give to teacher. Likewise, tomatoes for spaghetti don't have to be as red, plump and firm as the ones you'll slice for sandwiches or also salads; and bananas for banana nut bread can be the overripe, marked-down specials that wouldn't do at all in a brown bag lunch.

To get your money's worth in nutrients, buy only enriched or whole grain pasta, bread, cereals and rice. Breakfast cereals you cook yourself are cheaper than ready-to-eat ones in family-sized boxes cost less than cereal in serving-size packages. Plain white or whole wheat or rye bread will be less expensive than fancy dinner rolls.

Weigh carefully the cost of the built-in convenience of foods like frozen dinners, grated or individually wrapped slices of cheese, frozen vegetables with sauces and other convenience foods. If you have the time to prepare it, the same dish you make yourself may be cheaper. Compare the homemade and the convenience item and you may find that the difference in preparation time is negligible.

Our thanks to Marilyn Mook, Foods and Nutrition Specialist Michigan State University for providing these suggestions.

It costs 16.5 cents for every mile you drive

With today's inflationary economy, it shouldn't come as a surprise to Michigan's six million motorists that the cost of owning and operating a car has increased 14 percent the past four years, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"It now costs state motorists 16.5 cents a mile to operate their cars compared to 14.5 cents per mile in 1969," Auto Club Touring Manager Joseph Ratke points out. "For the motorist who drives 10,000 miles annually, his operating costs in 1973 will jump to $1,647, a rise of approximately $200 in four years," states Ratke. "An auto driven 20,000 miles will cost its owner $2,247, or roughly 11.2 cents per mile driven, Auto Club points out. The reason for the lower cents-per-mile figure at 20,000 miles is that fixed costs (insurance, depreciation and license fees) are basically the same as for 10,000 miles.

Figures on owning and operating an automobile are contained in the 1973-74 issue of the AAA pamphlet, "Your Driving Costs." The 16.5 cent figure is computed on 4.74 cents a mile variable costs (gas, oil and maintenance) and 11.75 cents a mile for fixed costs.

DATA CONTAINED IN THE report is based on driving a 1973, eight-cylinder four-door hardtop Chevrolet Impala with standard accessories, including automatic transmission, power steering, power disc brakes and radio. According to the report, motorists can figure an additional .15-cent-per-mile and 20-cents-per-day increase for air conditioning. The pocketbook appeal of compact cars also is given a review in the AAA report. The report shows the total per-mile cost for an eight-cylinder, standard-size car equipped with automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes and radio was computed at 5.25 cents; for an intermediate car similarly equipped at 4.95 cents, and for a compact equipped with radio and automatic transmission at 4.20 cents.

Fixed costs were $1,365 for the standard car, $1,177 for the intermediate and $1,040 for the compact.

"ON THE BASIS of 10,000 miles driven annually, total costs (fixed and variable) for the intermediate would be $218 lower than the standard model and $430 less for the compact," Ratke points out.

The report also shows that vacation costs for two people have increased a whopping 32 percent in just four years. It now costs two persons traveling by car $52 daily as compared to $39.50 in 1969.

The daily figure is based on 300 miles of daily travel, with the car averaging 13 miles per gallon of gasoline.

Auto Club breaks down the daily travel budget as follows: $18 for meals, as compared to $14 in 1969; $19 for lodging, compared to $14; $10 for gas and oil, compared to $8.50 and $5 for tips and miscellaneous compared to $3.

AUTO CLUB points out that the $19 average for lodging would be less in resort areas during the off-season. And by picnicking along the way, meal costs could be reduced as well.

Farm storage for grains

Dorn Diehl, state executive director of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, says the USDA recognizes the value of having adequate on-the-farm storage and drying equipment.

The facility loan program has assisted many farmers in obtaining on-farm storage and drying facilities. Diehl says that since the beginning of the program in 1949 through 1972, approximately $640.9 million dollars have been loaned to farmers through 356,650 loans. These loans included farm storage structures with storage capacity of almost 1.8 million bushels.

Forty-nine percent of the total storage capacity built under the program has been completed since 1967. He said farmers will be able to buy Government grain bins and equipment at two public auctions in August.

Sixty-two round bins, with a capacity of 3,250 bushels each, will be sold at Middleton in Gratiot County on August 16 and 84 bins rated the same capacity at Bronson in Branch County on August 23.

Each purchaser will be required to certify that the bins will be used in connection with the storage or handling of agricultural commodities, Diehl states.

Farmers interested in purchasing bins or obtaining a loan should contact their local county ASCS office.

88th District Report by Stanley Powell State Representative

Understandably, there was so much attention given to the fact that the Legislature had adopted a budget, a number of other bills which also received approval before recess went unnoticed. The House alone passed 18 other bills on Tuesday and Wednesday, none earth-shattering, but most relatively important, to at least some people.

One bill which should be of special interest to women and young people would prohibit discrimination in extending credit, making loans or rating credit worthiness. Proponents of the bill say it can be factually determined that more stringent financial requirements are imposed on racial minorities, single or divorced women, young adults, the aged and others than would otherwise apply.

This bill, passed nearly unanimously by the House has gone to the Senate for approval when they return in the fall. Nothing in the bill would alter the ability of a financial institution to refuse a loan or credit based on financial factors indicating an ability to repay, so long as all persons similarly situated have credit extended or withheld on the same basis. This would hopefully end the practice of denying rights to a certain group of people because of the actions of a few, or the outmoded social values which established the practice to begin with. Statistics show that 50% of all American families receive 40% or more of their salary from women and yet many institutions refuse to extend a woman credit based on her own salary. Another statistic indicates that over half of the adults between the ages of 18 and 20 are married and hold regular jobs, yet credit is frequently denied them because of their age, and ironically, their lack of a credit rating.

MORE LANDLORD-TENANT REGULATION PROPOSED

Presumably also of interest to a large number of people is another bill passed by the House which stipulates that a tenant be required to pay only 75% of the monthly rental due on a lease, after the tenant gives written notice of termination 30 days in advance, and after he vacates the premises.

The object of this bill is to encourage a landlord to make a greater effort at finding new tenants when present tenants must vacate prior to the termination of their lease. Upon rental of the property to another tenant, the first leaseholder would be relieved of further rental obligations.

Proponents say that 75% is a reasonable rental rate, even if the property should remain empty, since less utilities are used, and physical deterioration of the property, due to normal usage, would be nonexistent.

Opponents feel that the landlord should be able to rely on the rental payments specified in the lease, and that the effect might raise costs for some consumers as landlords raise rents to recoup losses or to guard against them.

NO U.P. DOES THIS YEAR Northern Michigan legislators were successful in pushing through a provision which establishes a "no-doe" season in the Upper Peninsula for the 1973 season. The legislators have felt that the DNR's refusal to establish a no-doe season in the UP was allowing the herd to become too small in that part of the state. The Senate replaced the 3-year moratorium as proposed by the House with a one year moratorium effective only for the 1973 season, but they also added language which beginning in 1974, requires that any change in DNR rules and regulations pertaining to game hunting in Michigan must automatically be submitted to the legislative rules committee for approval.

Many legislators view this as a significant improvement in our handling of the game laws since these rules and regulations must now be approved by legislators who have close contact with the problems and needs in their districts. Governor Milliken has signed several bills into law which affect local governments, including three to increase the exemptions included in the allowable bonded indebtedness of a number of units, of local government.

Agriculture in Action

"Try the udder uncola-drink milk," a large billboard proclaimed. This is one of the methods milk and dairy promoters have used to increase the consumption of nature's most nearly perfect food in order to help bring down the surplus that had built up due to overproduction and lower usage.

Now things have changed. Consumption of dairy products is up and it's become a problem to get enough produced.

US MILK PRODUCTION in the first five months of this year was down two percent from the same period last year. This was the first drop in production in four years. Another significant drop in the second half of this year could put the dairy output considerably below present demand for milk and dairy products, and hence bring on some shortages. The problem faced by dairymen is the same faced by other agricultural producers. Their costs have increased faster than their income, and an alarming number are discouraged to the point of calling it quits. The favorable beef price encourages farmers to cull their herds closely. That means a cow not paying her way through milk is sold for beef.

For a dairyman to earn an average living wage, he has to risk approximately $200,000 and work at least 60 hours a week. This huge investment is in land, buildings, equipment and cattle. It does not include his home, or personal living items such as the family car. What is a little disconcerting is that most factory workers can earn more in a 40 hour week with no investment whatsoever.

It's no wonder some dairy farmers are selling out. They can put their investment in a savings account and make more on the interest than they can by milking cows twice a day, 365 days a year.

IF CONSUMERS put the "udder uncola" in their shopping carts and complain about its price tag, it's because they don't realize the investment and effort it took to put it in the dairy case. Politicians find it hard to tell consumers the unvarnished truth and make promises they can't fulfill about lowering food prices. Farmers believe they should be told the facts -- that the days of cheap food are over. They believe consumers will understand that nobody is willing to invest 10 cents to produce something the government says he must sell for a nickel.

Enrollment time for military retirees

Congressman Elford A. Tenth Congressional District Cederberg of Michigan's reminded military retirees

that, during the 92nd Congress, Public Law 92-425, establishing an equitable survivor benefit plan for military retirees was passed.

A vital provision of PL 92-425 is that all military personnel retired prior to September 21, 1972 have only one year in which to elect into the new Military Survivor Benefit Plan (SBP). This enrollment period will end on September 20 of this year.

The Congressman noted that the provisions of PL 92-425 are complex and because of this, as of June 15, 1973, only one-third of the eligible military retirees have enrolled in "SBP." "In a nationwide effort to inform the retired military community of the enrollment deadline, I have joined with the Fleet Reserve Association in launching PROJECT PASS 'THE WORD,'" he continued.

Residents of Children's Home to visit Cedar Point

CLINTON COUNTY -- Thanks to the generosity of many people in the St Johns area, the residents of the Clinton County Children's Home will be making a trip to Cedar Point amusement park this month.

Customers of the Burger Chef and Carolyn Frink, Burger Chef manager, made donations of money which will enable the children to visit the amusement park.

Also contributing to the home was Marie Devereaux 501 E Buchanan St, St Johns, who made donations of yarn and other handcraft materials.

"The children, Mrs Nobis, housemother, and the staff of the Juvenile Court wish to express their thanks and appreciation to everyone who helped make the trip a reality," according to Helen L Johnson of Juvenile Court.

"This kind of thoughtfulness assures the children that people care," she added. "And are willing to help them have a happy experience."

Q. My state has a lottery. If I should win one of the cash prizes, do I have to pay federal income tax on it?

A. Yes, proceeds from lotteries are gambling winnings and must be included in your income. However, if you itemize your deductions, you can deduct your gambling losses, such as the cost of losing lottery tickets, from your total gambling winnings, up to the extent of your winnings. If you have no winnings, you can't deduct your gambling losses.

If you should win a valuable prize in a lottery, it might be to your advantage to "income average." This permits an unusually large amount of income obtained in one year to be taxed in the lower brackets of your previous tax years. More details are available in IRS Publication 606, "Computing Your Tax Under the Income Averaging Method." Write your nearest IRS office for a free copy.

Q. The local police boys club is sponsoring a benefit showing of a movie. Tickets are $10. Can I deduct the ticket price as a charitable contribution?

A. A portion of the ticket price is deductible, namely, that portion that exceeds the fair market value of the showing. For example, if the regular price of the movie is $3, your deduction would be $7.

Q. I understand that the IRS winds up with thousands of undelivered refunds each year. How can this happen?

A. The great majority of refund checks go astray because taxpayers moved and left no forwarding address with the Postal Service. Still other taxpayers neglected to correct the label attached to their tax return. This includes, for example, changing a label to show a new address or name resulting from marriage.

Errors or omissions in tax returns have delayed refunds to some taxpayers. They should follow the instructions provided with the notification they received from the IRS to help speed their refund.

Taxpayers contacting the IRS about their refund should be able to give the name and address as it appeared on the return, the present name and address, social security number and the type of form filed.

Often, IRS employees can find out almost immediately what happened to a refund check through a computer system available in many IRS offices. The system indicates, for example, when the Postal Service has returned a check.

Undelivered refund checks can be remailed almost immediately to the new address. After October 1, however, all undelivered refund checks are cancelled. Issuing checks in response to inquiries received after that date takes considerably more time because special processing is required.

As for refund checks lost or stolen in transit, those who have information on these checks should contact their nearest Internal Revenue Office immediately.

Food A series explaining "how much" and why

Practical ways to cut food costs

As of March 1 farmers showed intentions of planting 7.2 percent more acres of corn in 1973 than they actually planted in 1972. Corn is the principal feed grain in the U.S., supplying three-fourths of total feed grain production. Changes in farm prices of both corn and soybeans can be expected to be felt later in food prices.

Normal yields and an expected 900 million bushel carryover on Oct 1 should provide a total supply of corn available for the 1973-74 marketing year that will be about three percent higher than 1972-73, according to George Dike and Henry Larzelere, Michigan State University agricultural economists.

If exports continue at a substantial level, Dike predicts an annual 1973-74 average price slightly higher than the 1972-73 level. Corn prices paid by central Michigan elevators moved from $1.18 on Nov 15, 1972 to $1.43 on Dec 15 and stayed in the $1.30s from January through April 1973. In May, prices have moved into the $1.60s.

Third quarter prices for 1973 are expected to be in the $1.50s or about 40 cents above last year's.

Dike points out that the forward contracting price of corn for harvest delivery in central Michigan is about $1.57 a bushel, 55 cents above a year ago. The hedged, locked-in price is $1.62.

Soybeans moved steadily from a low of $3.06 a bushel at the farm in October to about $9 in May. Soybean stocks in April were down 8 percent from a year earlier. Planting intentions were 14.5 percent above a year ago, suggesting a U.S. farm price of around $4.50 for 1973-74. The forward contract price in May was $5.11 a bushel in central Michigan.

Soybean meal prices also rose dramatically from $109 a ton in October to $305 in May, 1973. A significant decline in meal prices will not occur until the new crop beans are processed in early fall.

Elsie

MRS. NEVA KEYS
Ph. 862-4301

Mr and Mrs William B Cross recently sold their home at 7008 Maple Rapids Road, rural Elsie and have been moving to Higgins Lake, the past week where they will both enjoy retirement with some plans for future travel.

Bill Cross, UAW Regional Representative, called it a career after 48 years in the automotive industry as he was recently presented a watch from members of UAW Local 754 in his Westown Owosso office at informal retirement ceremonies with friends, representing both labor and management.

Ellen Cross, his wife of 46 years was also present. She was a former teacher in the Elsie school system for many years.

Kroger X-TRA LOW DISCOUNT PRICES And More

KEEPING POSTED

WHEN IT'S UP TO US... Kroger has full variety at low prices!

Right now, due to conditions beyond our control, you may not find every item you want on our shelves. The reason: shortages caused by government-imposed price controls and unfavorable market conditions. During the June 15 - July 18 price freeze, farmers cut back production of crops and marketing some products because processors and retailers selling prices would not cover their expenses. Many food processors curtailed or shut down production resulting in shortages at the supermarket level.

Thank you for your patience and remember: when it's up to us you'll find complete variety at low discount prices at Kroger.
