Prison pass ends in arrest

OVID -- On April 27, 1975 Gary W. Wilber, 24, of Ovid was in Clinton County on a weekend pass from the Muskegon Facility of Jackson Prison.

Last week, in District Court, he stood mute to charges of breaking and entering and safe breaking, an offense that occurred the same weekend at the Avery Squires residence Ovid.

Wilber was arrested by the Clinton County Sheriff's Aug. 14 at the Muskegon County Jail where he was being held on heroin use charges, an offense that reportedly took place on the same April 27 weekend pass from prison.

Following his mute plea before District Judge Frederick Lewis, a bond of $5000 was set, but not posted. Wilber is currently in the Clinton County Jail and will be transferred to the Muskegon facility where he is due for sentencing on the heroin charge.

Wilber is the 2d individual arrested in connection with the breaking and entering and safe breaking incident. The first arrested was Michael Mead, 19, of Ovid.

Investigation continues by Clinton County Sheriff's detectives, Richard May and Arthur Hopp and Sgt. Robert VanGieson.

Debbie Enderle took Grand Champion steer honors at the Clinton County 4-H Fair. Her steer was purchased by St. Johns Co-Op, represented by Stu Watt and Art Romig. The steer auctioned for $2.20. Complete auction and fair results are in this week's County News.

They want it on the ballot

By Jim Schmitz
County News Writer

Petitions could soon be circulating in DeWitt Township asking that a referendum be held on the newly created special assessment district if the Township Board of Trustees don't promise at tonight's (Wednesday) public hearing to return the Township to the millage election process in 1976.

Many Township residents, according to DeWitt Township County Commissioner Max Calder, are willing to go along, for 1 year, with the Board's June 23 decision to levy a special assessment on Township residents which would raise $40,000 to $45,000 for the 1976-1977 Police and Fire budgets.

The Board feels they need that amount to make up for the 1 mill that expired with its collection this past winter. That mill had been bringing in $41,940, half which went to the Police and the other half to the Fire Dept. budget.

What people don't want, according to Calder, is a permanent special assessment district that would prevent Township residents from going to the polls to decide the number of mills they want the Township to spend on Police and Fire.

If the Board isn't willing to put the millage issue back on the ballot in 1976, (and so far they haven't given any indication they are) Calder believes petitions asking for a referendum on whether or not there should be a permanent special assessment district will soon be making the rounds.

To get the issue put on the ballot, according to Township Clerk Donna Syverson, 10 per cent of the Township property owners would have to sign petitions favoring such action.

When however, Township residents could begin to circulate petitions isn't specifically spelled out by State statutes governing referendums.

Presumably they could begin after tonight's (Wednesday) public hearing though the statutes also don't say how much time citizens are allowed to gather signatures asking for a referendum.

When audience members at the Aug. 13 Board meeting questioned Township Attorney J. Richard Robinson about the referendum procedures, he said: "I will have to make a ruling and ultimately, a Court might have to decide."

That ruling might have to come soon if the audience and Board debate at the Aug. 11 meeting was any indication of things to come.

At Johns, Joan Calder and other audience members were adamant in telling the Board they don't want to permanently give up their right to vote on millage issues.

Johns questioned the legality of the special assessment and Mrs. Calder indicated petitions asking for a referendum would be inevitable if the Board doesn't limit the special assessment to 1 year.

Dale Emerson, Township Supervisor, didn't like the tone of their arguments and said: "I don't think I or any other Board member are going to sit here and be threatened."

He also said that having referendums and recall elections (such as the 1974 recall election) discourages people from moving to the Township.

Talks stall in St. Johns

ST. JOHNS -- A state mediator has been called into stalled talks between the St. Johns Education Association (SJEA) and the Board of Education according to a news release from the SJEA.

The mediator has been assigned by the Michigan Employment Relations Commission.

In the news release, Ted Slicer, chief negotiator for the SJEA stated, "Because it is so close to the beginning of a new school year, we have mutually asked for an impartial third party to get negotiations going so we can have an orderly start of school."

It was also stated in the release, "The SJEA wishes to inform the community that there is no need to sound an alarm. The use of a mediator is not uncommon; in fact, the same course of action was used last year to reach an agreement."

Lot of 'pot'

Clinton County Sheriff's Deputies Michael Winn and Tom Wolston were on patrol recently when they noticed this hountiful crop of thriving plants. Suspecting it might be something other than decorative ferns or exotic herbs, they took a closer look and returned to St. Johns with 105 marijuana plants, some growing to heights of up to 6 feet. Glenn W. Saxton, 32, 13550 S. Wacousta Rd., Watertown Twp., where the marijuana plants were harvested, was issued a misdemeanor warrant for possession of marijuana.

P-W players set "Anything Goes"

On Sept. 5, 6 and 7, in the Pewamo Elementary Gym, the 1940's will return to the Pewamo - Westphalia communities. The P-W Community players are presenting the 3-act 1940's hit musical "Anything Goes." The satirical humor of P.G. Wodehouse and the catchy tunes of Cole Porter are a wonderful part of the rush to revive the nostalgia of the 40's. "Blow, Gabriel Blow!" "I Get A Kick Out Of You," "You're The Top," "Friendship," and "It's Delovely," are among the 15 Cole Porter hits in "Anything Goes." The proceeds of the play will be donated to the Wm. Steinke

Memorial Scholarship Fund. There have been donations of nearly $6,000 in the last 5 years to the fund which the players initiated as a memorial to former P-W schools superintendent, Wm. Steinke. The players group was initially a project of and is still aided by the Pewamo - Westphalia Education Association.

The P-W players project has really mushroomed in the 5 years of the groups existence. The cast and crew of "Anything Goes," according to director Kaye Pimore, "really represents a multiple community effort. We have people involved from not only Pewamo and Westphalia, but from Fowler, Middleton, Matherton, Lansing, Eagle and Grand Ledge as well."

as he years for Reno Richard Harr of Westphalia, as would-be gangster "Moonface Martin," and Beth Schneider of Pewamo as his gun moll, provide delightful comedy and vocal support.

Reservations may be made by calling 593-2265 or 593-2481. Tickets will also be available at the door.

The Vanishing American

About half of the U. S. dairy farmers in business five years ago no longer are. In Michigan, the nation's sixth-ranking dairy state, the number of dairy farmers has dropped from about 14,000 in 1964 to 7,700 last year. The number is expected to be 4,500 by 1980.

Why?

Feed prices have increased some 72 per cent in the past two years. The cost of fertilizers has doubled. The price of fuel is nearly twice what it was in 1973. Interest rates for loans to enable farmers to expand their operations and update their equipment are higher than in 1973.

And dairy farmers' incomes have not kept pace with those increases in their production costs.

While the number of dairy farmers—and dairy cows—is dwindling, output per farm is increasing through a trend to larger, more efficient dairy farm operations. This is what today's dairy farmers are doing to help meet the needs of the American consumer and to help ward off dependence on other countries for such milk products as cheese, butter and nonfat dry milk.

And that's part of the reason we at MMPA think this Vanishing American is important and it's why we think this great natural resource—the dairy farming industry—is worth preserving.

Peggy Ringle now Mrs. David Avery

Peggy Dear Ringle became the bride of David Arthur Avery on May 31 in the Wesleyan Holiness Church in Lansing, with the groom's brother, the Rev. Paul Avery, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Richard Ringle, 400 E. Wieland Road, Lansing. The groom's parents are the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Avery of rural route Milan.

On the arm of her father, the bride wore a princess-styled gown of white screen print satin with long sleeves and ruffle at the wrist. The skirt extended into a chapel train and her shoulder-length veil was attached to a hand crocheted crown with sequins.

She carried a white Bible adorned with red roses and permanent orange blossoms with streamers flowing to the floor.

Annette Grace Ringle, Lansing, was her sister's maid of honor in a blue, dotted swiss gown with lace over yoke and long sleeves. She also wore a blue headpiece and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Shelbie Avery, Milan, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and Mary Purchase, Lansing, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

They wore similar blue, dotted swiss gowns with headpieces of miniature yellow and blue roses and carried nosegays of yellow roses.

Phillip Avery, Milan, acted as his brother's best man. Kenneth and Mark Avery, brothers of the groom, acted as groomsmen. The miniature couple, Melissa Halbrook, Lansing and Andrew Purchase, nephew of the bride, carried a basket of rose petals and dropped them down the aisle.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Richard Purchase, sang the wedding songs, accompanied by Mrs. Carl Hoffman, Vestaburg.

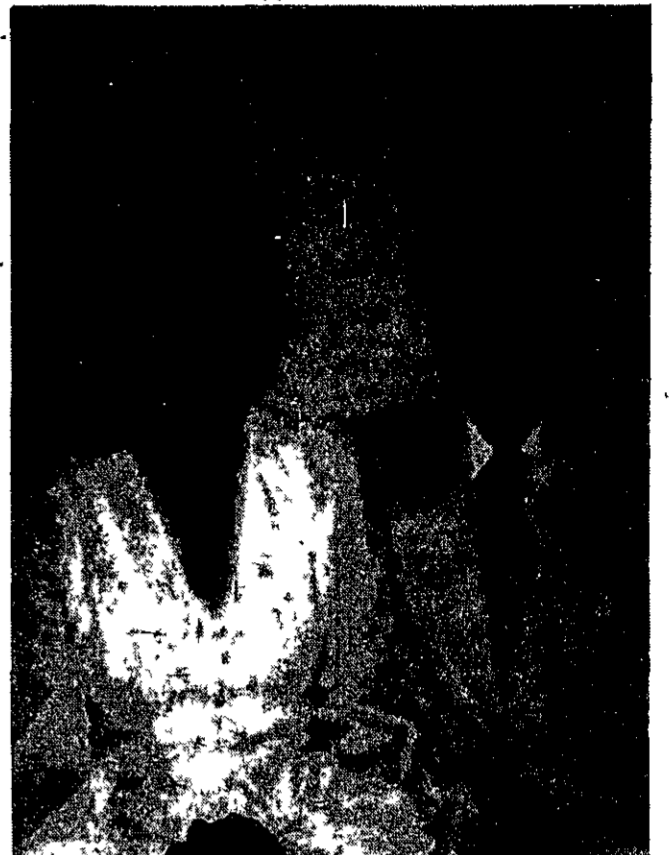

Thomas Jones, Greenville, and the Rev. Wayne Combs, Ann Arbor, ushered the 200 guests.

Blend your furniture tastefully. Realizing that it is sometimes necessary to add a piece of furniture or an accessory from time to time, one must still consider if it complements what you presently have and also important whether it will go with the future look you will want.

It would be nice periodically to change a whole room as, for example, you change a whole car. You don't keep the rear seat of an old car and try to match it with the new car. Likewise a room.

The staff of Bell Furniture will show you how to add life to your rooms by it through a new accessory or a completely transformed room.

Small towns are attracting more people

We're used to reading about the booming population of the South-west and of Florida. But we were suprised to read there is a part of Michigan that ranks second in the U.S. in a new kind of growth.

The word comes from Calvin Beale, a population expert with the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"Americans are flocking back to the small towns," says Beale. "For the first time in this century, the rural areas are not only keeping their people, but they're attracting new ones from the cities -- a complete reversal of everything we've known in this century."

Beale named the four rural areas in the U.S. that in 1970 began attracting the most people. They are:

- (1) Eastern Kentucky.
- (2) Northern Michigan.
- (3) Ozarks from north Texas through Oklahoma, Arkansas and Missouri, and
- (4) The Rocky Mountain area from Idaho to New Mexico.

Florida, Alaska, Hawaii and Arizona lead in statewide growth, but much of the growth in those areas has been in urban areas.

Beale listed three major reasons for the movement back to the country:

- The development of more jobs in small towns and rural areas.
- The development of major resort, recreation and retirement areas.
- A change in the attitudes and values of where and how people want to live.

"Of them all, I'm thoroughly convinced that the major reason has been the change in values--about what people think is important," said Beale.

"Every survey taken in the last 10 years has shown the increasing dissatisfaction on the part of the people living in big cities. They're troubled by crime, drugs, delinquency, congestion and pollution."

He said the flight from the urban rat race involves people of all ages and income levels, and even young people raised in the cities feel small towns have more to offer in the way of a better life.

Beale is one government expert most people in Arenac County will agree with. Except most of us didn't change our minds. We always felt that way.

Thoughts through a typewriter

It'll soon be time for millions of Americans to be returning to the classroom. Unfortunately, many who should be returning to the classroom to learn valuable lessons are among those shunning the education that could enrich them.

Take, for example, Ralph Houk -- He could attend "Winning 101," a class explaining how to win ball games with a squad of players not old enough to shave or vote.

Or Ted Kennedy might enroll in "Shallow Water Diving, Introductory Course."

Members of Congress should find invaluable, the course in "Passing Bills That Don't Come Back Vetoed By The President."

Ron Lefore of the Tigers should be interested in "You Too Can Learn to Bunt."

Elsewhere in baseball, Billy Martin could learn from the course entitled, "Public Relations in Baseball Management Made Easy."

Speaking of sports again, Woody Hayes might benefit from "It's A No-No To Punch Fans." It is possible to waive that course if the student passes, "If You Can Beat Michigan, You Can Beat MSU."

The hierarchy of the Michigan Dept. of State Highways could offer a course for other highway departments billed as "You Don't Have To Build A Highway -- Just Conduct Studies."

General Telephone employees could attend a course entitled, "What To Tell Irate Customers When They Can't Complete A Direct Dial Call On The Third Attempt."

Motion picture producers, having already completed the first course, would be able to enroll for the advanced course of "There's Fun and Profit In Fire, Earthquakes, Man-eating Sharks and Gangland Killings."

On the same token, television program producers should profit from the Level XIV course of "Give Me A Doctor, Lawyer, Policeman and Private Detective and I'll Make Your Cash Register Ring."

World Football League management should find enlightening a class subject on "World Football League Competition Doesn't Pay--Just Ask The Players."

Members of the Central Intelligence Agency and the Federal Bureau of Investigation could join with the Pentagon for a class seminar on "You Tell Me Your Secret And I'll Tell You Mine."

Oil companies could offer a course to Senate investigators and call it, "You Can Fuel Some Of The People All Of The Time, All Of The People Some Of The Time, But, You Can't Fuel All Of The People All Of The Time."

Doctor or mechanic?

Editor, Lapeer County Press

"by Jim Fitzgerald

Last week was confusing. Both my wife and my car were laid up for repairs and I kept getting the mechanic mixed up with the doctor.

There were incredible similarities in the 2 cases. At one point I told a worried daughter her mother had a fever because there was something wrong with her thermostat. And my son just nodded when I told him the car air conditioner wasn't working because there was something wrong with its pancreas.

The mechanic told me to bring the car in early Thursday morning and he would get right at it. I could probably pick it up that evening, he said. 5 days later he hadn't touched the car. It just sat at his shop and got dirty. Apparently he liked to have it nearby to wipe greasy rags on.

MY WIFE entered the hospital on a Friday "for tests." The doctor thought it might take a couple of days. She was still there a week later. The doctor kept scheduling X-rays and blood tests that never came off on time because somebody forgot to tell somebody. But it was handy having her nearby so they could make sure she didn't eat anything she liked.

At least she didn't get dusty, like the car. But nobody woke the car up at 5 a.m. delivering wilted roses that had "somehow" been in the wrong hospital room for 2 days. Honest, it happened.

I usually couldn't get the mechanic on the phone. I most often talked with his assistant who might have been a recording. He always said the same thing: "I don't know. You'd better call back. Yes, I'll tell him you hate him and that I could hear you sobbing over the phone."

When I did talk to the mechanic, I never understood a thing he said. If I knew what all those queer words meant, I could fix the lousy car myself. The only message that came through clear was that several other poor owners were having the same trouble with the same model car. This was as comforting as being told I should cheer up because I was dying of something contagious.

I ONLY tried to phone the doctor once but it was his day off. It was also his nurse's day off. I told the girl on the switchboard I was dying and she put me on hold.

It really wasn't necessary for me to talk to the doctor because my wife could tell me what he was saying. This is one advantage in marrying a woman instead of a car. What he was saying was that they should take some more tests tomorrow. Which really meant 2 days later because the person responsible for arranging tomorrow's tests was busy trying to find a new place to hide roses. If I never do talk to the doctor, I am going to thank him for starting me on a 2nd career. I am going to open a pharmacy and sell the medicine my wife can no longer take because it makes her sick. A pill usually makes her sick a few hours after she's filled his $20 prescription at the drugstore in the doctor's waiting room. So he says don't take anymore of these pills, buy some new ones. I now own 5 million pills which I am willing to sell at a loss. Each pill is accompanied by a sworn testimonial from my wife. She guarantees it will make you sick.

I trust the mechanic and the doctor realize all this is really good-natured kidding, ha ha. I am only writing about them so as to have an excuse to say something romantic to my wife.

I WANT to say publicly that I missed her a lot more than I missed the car. Of course, I own a 2nd car . . .

Bath Twp wants county funds for tiling project

BATH—Bath Township wants to install 850 feet of 12 inch cement tile blocks to absorb water that has been running through a culvert under Webster Road and flooding Bath's cemetery, just north of Township Hall.

The only problem is that they want the County Road Commission to pay for 50 per cent of the tiling.

Trustee James Cronk, Jr., explained at Monday night's Board of Trustees meeting that the Township had contributed more than its share to the cost of work required on primary and secondary roads in the Township.

R. Jay Hebner, superintendent, manager of the Road

Commission, promised Supervisor Thomas "Woody" Woodruff, that the tiling, which would flow from just east of Webster to Drumheller Road, could be installed before the cold weather sets in.

The Board decided that not only did they want to make sure the tiling is done, but that the Road Commission should contribute half of the cost.

Cleo Friend, a member of the Road Commission from Bath, told the Board he couldn't say how long it would take for the 2 Commission members might vote on Bath's proposal.

He did say he would give serious consideration to it but thought the Commission might have too many other projects they feel need funding.

The Clinton County Intermediate School District has announced the policy for Free Meals and Free Milk or Reduced-Price Meals, for children unable to pay the full price of meals and meals served under the National School Lunch, Special Milk Program, and U.S.D.A. Donated Foods Programs.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility:

Total Family Size	Scale for Free Meals and Free Milk	Scale for Reduced-Price Meals
1	$ 3,230	$ 3,231 - 4,520
2	4,240	4,241 - 5,930
3	5,250	5,251 - 7,350
4	6,260	6,261 - 8,770
5	7,190	7,191 - 10,060
6	8,110	8,111 - 11,360
7	8,950	8,951 - 12,530
8	9,790	9,791 - 13,700
9	10,550	10,551 - 14,770
10	11,310	11,311 - 15,840
11	Each Additional 12,060	Each Additional 12,061 - 16,890
12	Family Member: $750. 12,810	Family Member: $1,050 12,811 - 17,940

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for (free meals and milk, or reduced-price meals). In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy your local superintendent (or administrator of parochial school) will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the rule of the official, he may take a request either orally or in writing to your local superintendent or administrator of parochial school for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an Outline of the hearing procedure and each school and the office of the superintendent or administrator of parochial schools has a copy of this complete policy which may be reviewed by an interested party.

Lowie UMW meets

The Lowie UMW met at the home of Emily Davis for their noon meeting and were served a delicious salad luncheon by the hostess, and her co-hostess. The meeting was called to order by our president, Al Bast, at 1 p.m. and after the regular business, various reports were given concerning the successful Guernsey sale luncheon, the various meetings different people had attended during July, and their suggestions as a result, and Ruth McGuire's week at Albion sponsored by the society.

In discussing the paper shower for the Grand Rapids Community House, Marbeth Hynes suggested we have a field trip to Grand Rapids and deliver our goods in person. Marbeth was appointed to check on an available date in October and to make arrangements.

Louise Dershem presented the following slate of officers for the year 1975-76: President, Al Bast; V.P. Eileen Plowman; Secretary, Caroline Anderson; Treasurer, Connie Henry; Chrmn. of Personhood, Annie Findlay; Chrmn. of Supportive Community, Mabel Frost; Chrmn. of Social Involvement, Helen Murton; Chrmn. of Global Concerns, Ruth McGuire; Program resources, Mary Kingsbury; Chrmn. of Membership, Emily Davis. The slate was unanimously approved by the women. The nominating committee was named and consisted of Louis Dershem, Emily Davis, and Eileen Plowman. Eileen Plowman was appointed as publicity chrmn. in place of Doris Shinabery who is ill. The president complimented Doris on her excellent job in the past. Alvina reminded us all of our upcoming smorgasbord supper and bazaar on October 9th, and our duties in connection with it, as listed in our booklet.

Marbeth moved that we allot the money from the Betz reception which is to be a VFV Hall to the church building fund. Helen Murton moved that the MYF's meet on an Ice Cream Social, if it would meet with their approval, and with the assistance of all the members of the UMW.

Al announced the following events: District Annual Meeting, Sept. 22; Bible Study at Helen Murton's on Aug. 26; Next UMW meeting at Bee Cook's, Sept. 10th. Caroline announced in connection with the board meeting and potluck dinner on Aug. 31st, a baptismal service to rededicate ourselves to the Lord.

Helen Murton presented our program based on Mrs. Bing Crosby's service to humanity. She had been inspired by a fellow named HUGH who had been horribly mutilated in the war, but whose spirit was undaunted, and she resolved through nursing to do what she could to help victims. After 5 years of preparation and study, she received her degree in nursing and followed her mother's code for living "LIVING IS GIVING". Helen reminded us all that we need scrupulous self-examination for our purpose in life and we need God's guidance in serving others, how would we act if Jesus came to our place?

Mary Kingsbury gave us our worship, dealing with prayer (conversation with God). She asked us each, in turn, to whom we addressed our prayer. After a discussion of the trinity, she suggested we get on speaking terms with Jesus and the Holy Spirit. Our meeting ended with the blessing in our membership circle.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Object to "R" rated previews

Dear Editor:

We wish to let it be known to the manager of the Clinton Theater that we object very strongly to the showing of "R" rated movie previews at a children's film showing.

We took our young sons to the theater last night to see "Bambi" but we were not expecting to have them exposed to wide-screen, living color, semi-mute sex scenes and suggestive dialogue of which the previews of the "R" rated movie "Shampoo" consisted.

We fail to see the purpose of showing previews of a movie for adults to an audience composed mainly of young children.

When we take our children to a "G" rated movie, we feel we have the right to expect the entire program to be suitable viewing for children. Therefore we feel that the theater should adopt the policy of not showing any previews of movies with other than a "G" rating at a children's show.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Charles Olson, Jr.

Senator Richard Allen

Report from the Senate

All those favoring political reform please stand up!

The legislature recently passed an omnibus 71 page political reform bill. It corrects (and attempts to conceal) longstanding improprieties in the political arena from high rolling lobbyists to fund raising dinners. While it has many deficiencies I am willing to admit in total it is a step forward except . . . for one glaring omission . . . gerrymandering! Left untouched!

THE BIGGEST political boondoggle in Michigan . . . and most other states! The dirty, nasty, cunning process by which the party in power redraws district lines to elect a disproportionate number of its own! The scheme by which those in power within a party can discipline members of both parties in the legislature with the threat of elimination of their districts! Besides the damage done through giving disproportionate power to the party in power, and a near stranglehold over legislators to non elected party functionaries there are other problems inimicable to democracy.

The people can't figure out who represents them (or who is supposed to). Lines running in a jogged manner down rural roads and back city streets make a program necessary to tell the players at election time. You may live in one city or county in the same neighborhood as a state legislator only to discover at the polls that he is not on your ballot! Your senator or representative lives two cities or counties away in another area of the octopus like district.

This also causes problems for the elected official. He is expected to represent pieces of numerous cities and counties with divergent interests. He represents only certain members of local bodies such as school boards, county commissions and city commissions. Just the process of trying to meet with local officials becomes confusing and cumbersome.

One other seldom considered result of gerrymandering. It makes incumbents hard to beat! No one else becomes as well known throughout the nooks and crannies of a district that has nothing in common, except that it composes a legislative district.

I AM disturbed that Common Cause in its big reform push has so far ignored this area. I do not intend to. I have made the decision to make Constitutional reform of the legislative reapportionment process my major goal until it is accomplished.

Why Dick Allen you might ask? Let me remind you no one has had more first hand experience with gerrymandering. I used to represent a House district that was split into five pieces with the district line running down the rural road I lived on. I now represent a strangely gerrymandered Senate District running from Alma to Jackson.

Next week my plan.

Mayor, Muri Eastman, was in Rochester, N.Y. Sat., Aug. 9, to receive an award presented to the city of De Witt by Sister Cities International for including De Witt's sister city, Punta Gorda, Belize, in our Bicentennial plans. Punta Gorda's Mayor, A. Vernon will be in De Witt the last week in August. At this time the Bicentennial Commission will be hosting a picnic in Riverside Park for everyone in town to meet and greet the mayor and will be presenting him with inscribed pens to take back to the school children of Belize. WELCOME to Historic DEWITT founded Oct. 4, 1833

DeWitt streets were packed Saturday with upwards of 3000 people who attended the Ox Roast.

Crowds flock to DeWitt Ox Roast

It was a warm, sunny Saturday, just perfect for the DeWitt Ox Roast.

After the parade at 10 a.m., 2,000-3,000 people jammed the downtown area for an old-fashioned carnival that included an ample collection of amusement rides, booths and exhibits.

Adults and kids alike got into the spirit of things and a whole tent of people could be seen munching on generously-piled

Ox burgers and washing it all down with a can of cold pop.

Many people said the day was a success and look forward to another similar get-together next Summer.

Council meeting is short and sweet

DEWITT - It was short and sweet for the DeWitt City Council Monday night as they convened at 8 p.m. and adjourned at 9:30.

Among action taken was a motion to start work to alleviate drain problems on Shavey Rd. Orla McGuire, city engineer, told the council that he is interviewing applicants for the assistant city engineer, a position to be funded by CETA.

The council announced city crews will scarify Lake Geneva Drive, a process that breaks the blacktop into tiny particles. It was also announced the city has hired 2 new patrolmen under the CETA program. Due to the hiring of the new patrolmen, use of part-time officers will be cut back.

Gunman is obedient

DeWitt Township Police Chief William Nash reported is force encountered, what he called, a "shaky gunman", this past week.

A young, white male, about 6 feet, 150 pounds, with a white nylon mask over his head, came into Domino's Pizza, 3608 N. East St., Aug. 13, around 3 a.m. and pointed a .22 caliber pistol at the employee behind the counter, demanding money.

When, however, the employee told the would-be robber to leave, the robber did just that.

DeWitt Township Police also reported a breaking and entering at the residence of Robert L. Miliken, 218 W. Sheridan Road, between 7 a.m. and noon on Aug. 13.

The culprit, forcibly entered through the front door and took a colored television and Zenith stereo.

Police say the suspect was believed to be driving a pickup truck and they are now investigating.

One accident-3 cars

One individual got careless with his driving in downtown DeWitt Saturday night around 9:10 p.m. when he hit a parked car on Bridge St. that smashed another parked car, that, in turn, rammed still another parked car.

The negligent driver and his automobile were last seen driving north on Bridge Street. DeWitt Police, following a trail of leaking radiator water, found a vacated auto on Chadwick Road, between Lowell and Grove Roads.

Police still are investigating and will charge the individual, once he is found, with hit and run.

Also on Saturday, the Police arrested Charles Alan Ebmeyer, 20, 15891 Burton St., Lansing, around 11:45 p.m. when he was stopped for a traffic violation and was found carrying Secobarbital, a barbiturate. Police Chief Wendell Myers said a warrant is now being obtained for his arrest from the prosecuting attorney's office.

The fall meeting of Thorney Acres Sportsman Club will be held Sunday, Sept. 7.

Mr. and Mrs. James Miller and two sons returned to their home at Lolo near Missoula, Montana after spending three weeks with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Miller and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kaufman accompanied them to Detroit's Metropolitan Airport.

In the meantime, another brother, Charles Miller, who had been spending a vacation here with his parents drove back to Montana and was accompanied by his younger brother, Mark Miller, who will spend three weeks vacationing there before returning home for school opening here next month. Charles, a junior at Montana High School University and a graduate of Ovid-Elsie High School, is majoring in coaching and health education and working part time at a large ranch as irrigator. It was here that he met Stephen Ford, the son of President Gerald Ford as he also worked on the same ranch. Young Ford will further his education at a larger ranch north of that area this fall.

Last Sunday (August 10), Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Mead were hosts to the family potluck dinner at their home on West Main St.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvel Grable of 12 Mile, Indiana were also guests from out-of-town. Mrs. Helen Grable, Mrs. Wilma Miller and Mrs. Irene Mead are sisters.

The dinner was enjoyed by 82 relatives and friends with much visiting and reminiscing. The young people found the playground facilities of nearby Elsie Park an ideal place to spend the time.

spend the time.

Mrs. Margaret Edwards of St. Johns, Donald Willard of Ovid, and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Keys of Elsie were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Dorothy Kaspar at "Andy's" near Charlotte.

The Elsie Senior Citizens will resume regular meetings at the American Legion Building Thursday, Sept. 4, at noon, with potluck dinner. With many plans for this Bicenennial year, all are urged to attend.

Completing long term conservation agreements

Dorn Diehl, State Executive Director of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office, says that county committees in Michigan are now in the process of completing long-term agreements with landowners under the 1975 Agricultural Conservation Program.

The agreements are for not less than three years or more than ten years. This is the second year these long-term agreements have been available to farmers under the conservation program.

Generally, the same type of permanent practices are available for long-term agreements as will be offered under the annual program. Diehl said the long-term agreements assure landowners of cost-sharing for carrying out needed soil and water conservation practices during the length of the agreement. A conservation plan of operation, designating the practices for each year to be completed by the farmer, is required. Diehl says this information is available to landowners before they sign the agreements. This plan may include required conservation practices to be carried out without cost-sharing.

According to Diehl, landowners have shown more interest in the LTA program for 1975 and he expects more soil and water conservation practices will be carried out which will improve our environment, reduce soil erosion, sedimentation and water runoff. These conservation measures will benefit the public as well as the landowner.

Old tractors will do their thing

Those interested in seeing old tractors in action will have the opportunity Aug. 22-23-24, 2 1/2 miles west of Oakley of Ridge Road.

The old tractors will be threshing and baling, camping is available and spectators will be able to tour a tractor museum.

Lunch and refreshments are available and door prizes will be awarded.

Tickets are $1 for adults with children under 12 admitted free. For information, call 661-2311 or 661-2258.

O-E School Board report

The meeting was called to order at 8:16 p.m. by Vice President Webster with the following members present:

Charles Bracey, Richard DePond, Merle Green, Frank Rivest and Glenn Webster. Members absent: David Hill and Thomas Winkler.

The meeting was opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

Motion by M. Green, supported by F. Rivest to dispense with the reading of the minutes of the regular meeting of July 14, 1975, and approve them as printed. Motion carried.

Motion by R. DePond, supported by C. Bracey to approve payment of general fund bills represented by checks numbered 2206 thru 2242 in the amount of $50,363.25. Motion carried.

David Hill entered the meeting at 8:20 p.m. and resumed his role as president.

The financial report for period ending July 31, 1975 was read, discussed and approved as read.

President Hill read a letter from Mrs. Janet Bates, vocal music teacher at E. E. Knight Elementary. Mrs. Bates is recuperating from injuries received in a bicycle-car accident.

Mrs. Judy Volz, President of the Elsie P.T.A., and William Price, parent from Elsie, were present to discuss with the Board the contribution of $400 from the P.T.A. toward four basketball backboards for the two Elsie school playgrounds.

The Board authorized Superintendent Kenney to study the possibilities of basketball backboards and make a recommendation to them at the August 25th meeting.

Waste lagoon design, management important

EAST LANSING -- Swine waste lagoons can decompose large amounts of organic matter and, if designed and managed properly, are satisfactory storage units.

"Lagoon design should be based on a minimum volume determined by total pounds of animals contributing waste to the lagoon. Total volume needed is equal to the minimum volume plus amount of waste and rainfall accumulated during the storage period," says Dr. Ted Loudon, Michigan State University agricultural engineer.

For Michigan conditions, minimum volume should allow two and one-half to three cubic feet per pound of animal. Adding waste and rainfall, total volume needed will equal three and one-half to four cubic feet per pound of animal. Required volume is usually less in areas with milder winters.

Lagoons should be as deep as possible with minimum surface area for odor control. This also provides for better mixing because gas bubbles are released from the lagoon bottom and move up the entire depth.

Minimum depth should be seven feet and 18 to 20 feet depths where soil conditions will allow. Side slopes inside the excavation should generally be 2:1 with 3:1 slopes outside.

"Single cell lagoons will be more satisfactory than multiple cells. If more cells are considered, they should operate in parallel rather than in series," Loudon says.

If the total design load is to be introduced immediately after the lagoon is first put in operation, it should contain clear water to the minimum design volume before any wastes are added.

If possible, a lagoon should be filled gradually, starting with waste from several animals in about two feet of water. This promoted growth of algae which help prevent odors during the first months.

"New lagoons should be loaded in spring so warm weather can promote bacterial growth. The pH should be carefully watched during start-up and kept above 6.7. Hydrated lime or caustic soda may be added if necessary," according to Loudon.

Lagoons should be loaded at least once a week and preferably once daily. A slug load is a shock on the lagoon and may drive the pH too low to maintain a balanced bacterial population.

Spring odors may be lowered by decreasing the lagoon level early in the year and diluting with clean water. Sludge removal from the bottom of the lagoon should not be necessary for 7 to 10 years after installation.

The area around the lagoon should be fenced and landscaped. A belt of shrubs or trees helps hide the lagoon and will promote air mixture.

Motion by R. DePond, supported by C. Bracey to award the milk bid to Sealtest Foods. Motion carried.

Motion by F. Rivest, supported by G. Webster, authorizing Superintendent Kenney to request bids for fleet insurance. Motion carried.

At this time President Hill recognized the visitors which included Eugene Becker, from Ithaca, teacher-principal at the Elsie Junior High School.

Also present was Donald Gilbert, parent, and Scoutmaster of the Boy Scout troop in Elsie and Lawrence Peterson from Elsie, representing the Scoutmaster from the Boy Scout troop in Ovid. Their petition was to have the flag raising ceremony at football games conducted by the two local Boy Scout troops.

Superintendent Kenney is to review this flag raising ceremony program and make recommendation to the Board at the August 25th meeting.

John Tribelner from Elsie was present as a visitor.

Mark O'Donnell, Athletic director, football coach and high school teacher was present to discuss the transfers within the coaching staff.

Charles Kridner, farmer from Elsie area was present with his wife, Mrs. Thelma Kridner, teacher at E. E. Knight Elementary offered a complaint about the leaking roof at the E. E. Knight building.

The Board plans to meet in a group at the E. E. Knight building preceding the August 25th meeting to view the roof problem.

Mrs. Shirley Baese and Mrs. Carolyn Lockwood, both from Elsie, were present to discuss the attendance problem as it related to student James Lockwood. A lengthy discussion ensued. It was obvious that a difference of opinion existed which could only be cleared by a discussion with the teachers involved. It was moved by G. Webster, supported by M. Green authorizing Superintendent Kenney to have Principal Lentz and the teachers of James Lockwood in attendance at the August 25th meeting. Motion carried.

Pastor David Litchfield was present to present a study and alternate plan for the present married student policy. After an extensive discussion, this matter was tabled. Superintendent Kenney was authorized by the Board to check with neighboring school districts regarding their married student policy and report to the Board.

President Hill called for an executive session at 10:44 p.m. The meeting reconvened at 11:00 p.m.

Motion by C. Bracey, supported by M. Green to adopt the following resolution: We do hereby certify that the following rates and amounts for the 1975 tax spread have been duly and legally voted by the electors of the district and have been authorized by the resolution of the Board of Education:

County allocated for operating purposes — 8.00 mills = $378,432.49

Voted for operating purposes — 18.75 mills = $886,951.16

Debt retirement services — .75 mills = $35,462.35

Motion carried. (This is of a mill increase in the total school tax rate from last year.)

Motion by R. DePond, supported by F. Rivest: (1) Resolved to apply for State Aid Reimbursement for Debt Retirement in the amounts described in this application to assist the District in meeting the payments of principal and/or interest on qualified, non-qualified and building and site levies.

(2) Agreed that in the event State Aid is obtained from the Debt Reimbursement Program to levy a tax as prescribed in Section 27, Act #101 of the Public Acts of 1973, on the state equalized valuation of the District.

(3) Read this application and approved all statements and representations contained herein as true to the best knowledge and belief of said Board.

(4) Authorized the Treasurer and Secretary of the Board of Education to sign this application and submit same to the Superintendent of Public Instruction on behalf of the District. Motion carried.

Motion by G. Webster, supported by R. DePond authorizing Superintendent Kenney to commence process of borrowing on tax anticipation for operating purpose. Motion carried.

Motion by C. Bracey, supported by M. Green to adjourn meeting at 11:30 p.m.

Charles Bracey, Secretary.

District Report

by Stanley Powell State Representative EDUCATION SNAFU Governor Milliken's veto of the teacher strike bill occurred at just about the same time as the State Board of Education was reporting on teacher contract settlements around the state. Together, these two things serve to point up the failure of the Democrats to provide leadership in this respect, and the effect that failure has had on the educational situation in Michigan. The State Board reported that as of August 4, only 199 or 37.5 percent of the state's K-12 school districts had teacher contracts for the coming year. This compares to 221 districts or 42 percent that had contracts on the same date a year ago. This increased lack of contract settlements and therefore increased threat of teacher strikes - is due to two things, both the result of Democrat dawdling and inaction in the Legislature. FIRST, of course, is the protracted drama the Democrats have made out of efforts to find a solution to the problem of teacher strikes. School boards and teachers have been waiting to know exactly what new conditions, if any, they would have to negotiate under. Of course, as Governor Milliken pointed out in his veto message, the Democrats came up with no solution at all. So we're back to ground zero in that respect. Second, and much more important, is the fact that the School Aid Bill was recently approved by the Legislature only three weeks before the opening of school. This bill sets the amounts which local school districts are to get from the state; it should have been passed by June at the latest. Naturally, school boards cannot effectively negotiate wage levels or adopt budgets if they don't know what their income will be. So they have been waiting and waiting for the Democrat majorities in the House and Senate to act. Now, if any difficulties develop in districts which haven't settled yet, the reality of a strike is just two or three weeks away. Based on previous years, I must sadly conclude that some strikes will occur. And when they do, I just hope the public will realize that the Democrats in the Legislature have, by their actions and inactions, created the basic uncertainties which led to those strikes.

Farming and 4-H - - - in Clinton County

EPA may ban 2 pesticides

EAST LANSING -- The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) may ban chlordane and heptachlor, pesticides widely used in farms and homes, leaving no effective registered replacement for consumer use.

"Chlordane is the only registered pesticide available for protection from vegetable wireworms and white grubs. It is used on spiders, ants and millipedes in the home," says Dr. Donald Cress, Michigan

State University extension entomologist.

The EPA is holding hearings to determine if the pesticide causes any imminent danger to human life. During the hearings it is legal to manufacture, distribute, sell, buy or use chlordane according to the manufacturers instructions.

"Chlordane is also used to prevent damage to turf grass and home lawns. There is no registered replacement for many of its uses," he says.

MSU swine day set for Sept. 19

EAST LANSING -- Michigan State University's annual Swine Day will begin at 9 a.m., Sept. 19, at the Swine Research Farm two miles south of campus on Forest Road.

"The morning session will be an open house at the farm including tours of the facilities and discussion of present research projects," says Dr. Elwyn R. Miller, MSU swine specialist.

Dr. J.A. Hofer, associate director of the Agricultural Experiment Station, will open the afternoon session at 1 p.m. in 109 Anthony Hall. Speakers will include Dr. Miller on highlights of MSU swine research and Dr. N.L. First, University of Wisconsin, Department of Meat and Animal Science, on improving swine reproductive efficiency.

Dr. D.R. Redman, Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center, Department of Veterinary Science, will discuss control of diseases that influence reproductive efficiency. A question and answer period will conclude the session.

"Anyone interested in the swine industry is invited to attend this event. Swine Research Day reports will be available to participants," Miller says.

The State Farm Management Tour in Ionia County, August 21, is intended for the farmer, the nonfarmer and for the homemaker, too. Since it's so close to Clinton County this year, I hope you'll plan to attend.

There are two special homes which are going to be open to homemakers who would like to learn more about their country counterpart.

Mrs. Betty Clover, 2412 State Road, Ionia, will have open house from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. for all visitors who would like to see her extensively remodeled 100-year-old home.

She and her husband, Lyle, operate a 3,700 head capacity swine operation on 467 acres. Appropriately, Betty is going to offer free samples of "whole hog" sausage cooked in a microwave oven. Free pork recipes will also be available at the house.

New outbuildings and the well landscaped grounds provide a pleasant setting for the farm operation. Betty and Lyle were neighbors on farms near Francesville, Indiana, before they married and moved to Michigan in 1953.

They rented for awhile, then bought the present farm site in 1961. They sold their 15,000-pound average dairy herd in 1956 and started raising pigs.

Betty and Lyle share equally in the farm management operation and find the country life enjoyable. Betty is president of the local United Methodist Women's Club and district officer of United Methodist Supportive Community.

She served as executive secretary of the Billy Graham film "Time to Run," is active on the state and national pork queen committees and is secretary of the Ionia County 4-H Council.

Another interesting open house will be at the home of Mrs. Linda Harwood, 5339 South State Road, Ionia. She and her husband, Quentin, operate a 407-acre beef and cash crop farm.

Linda's home was constructed in 1972. In keeping with a western motif interior, the Harwoods have made extensive use of old barn wood and beams.

They did their own interior decorating and used many antiques to blend with Linda's paintings. Even the basement is decorated in western fashion.

Linda's home will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Linda shares equally with Quentin in the farm bookkeeping and management besides maintaining her 50 purebred Hampshire flock. She shows and judges sheep at fairs -- including the State Fair.

Her interest stems from her girlhood days and influence of her father, H. D. Wetzel, who has been a prominent livestock exhibitor of sheep and swine the past 60 years.

Linda and Quentin married in 1961 and started out on 87 acres of land. At first Quentin drove a truck and worked one winter in a shop to supplement the farm income. Linda also worked off the farm.

During this period while they were struggling to get started, Quentin borrowed his father's machinery to plant crops. At this time they had 10 cows, a ram and five ewes.

But through hard work together and good management, they were able to buy 160 acres in 1964 which is the present farm site.

In 1967 they obtained a long-term lease on 200 acres across the road, buying 160 acres of the tract in 1973, to bring them to the present 407 acres owned.

It has been a struggle for both the Harwoods and the Clovers but today they are securely on top of good commercial farm ventures.

Their efforts are typical of young farm families throughout Michigan and will be willing to discuss their farms and family management with visitors.

4-H Chatter

4-H Fair - a success

By JOHN AYLSWORTH

The 1975 Clinton County 4-H Youth Fair is now history and it was very successful. Many compliments were received on the quality and quantity of exhibits shown by the youth. A number of people commented that the 4-H Fairs in the past were great, but this year's fair was the greatest yet. Leaders, members and parents put a lot of work in making our fair a successful event in the lives of the Clinton County youth and adults.

The Clinton County 4-H Youth Fair is one of its kind that puts the youth in the limelight instead of a carnival midway or commercial exhibits. The 1,690 4-H youth enrolled in 4-H this past year entered nearly 4,700 entries in different classes for the three day event. This was an increase of about 500 entries over last year, which was a record then, too. With the increase in entries a tent was rented to handle the poultry and rabbit exhibits which was really needed due to the hot weather. The craft exhibits showed the greatest increase with ceramics increasing alone from 114 to 244 entries. Most all areas showed an increase in entries due to the interest of members and leaders as the 4-H program is really growing in Clinton County.

It has been suggested that the 1976 4-H Youth Fair be extended to four days so special activities or events could be held to celebrate the Bicentennial.

To the 4-H leaders, members and parents who assisted in making the 1975 4-H Youth Fair a successful event, I would like to add my thanks as it takes a lot of effort and work by many people to conduct an event of this size. Very few really know the amount of time and effort given by various leaders to make the fair go, but it is freely given to make the fair a success. It would be hard to single out a few without missing others so I would like to say thanks to everyone who helped with the 1975 Clinton County 4-H Youth Fair.

For many the County Fair is the climax of the year, but others will be participating in State events this week such as the State 4-H Dairy Days, Horse Show, Softball, Public Speaking, Horticulture Judging and Demonstrations, Gun Safety, and Photography activities.

Abstract

Jim Pelham
Clinton County Extension Director

The Role of Livestock in a Hungry World (1)

I recently read this abstract of a speech given by Dr. J.A. Hofer, Associate Director of the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station. Dr. Hofer is a Professor of Animal Husbandry and was one of my more interesting teachers at M.S.U. when he first began work there, nearly 25 years ago. I thought our readers might like to share his observations.

Animals make a unique contribution to the food chain. However, to put things in proper perspective, their role must be viewed in the light of the very complex world food situation. Too many simplistic solutions have been advanced by "experts" who do not fully understand the complexities of the food production and distribution system.

It is frequently stated that to increase food supplies for humans, priority should be given to using grains for human consumption - that the animal is a direct, inefficient competitor of the human for energy and protein. Data are cited that in the U.S. the per capita consumption of grain is from 1500-2000 lbs., whereas in the disadvantaged nations the per capita consumption of grain is approximately 400 lbs. It is then concluded that an animal food economy is highly inefficient, immoral, and should be eliminated.

There is some truth and logic and likewise many flaws in the conclusion that animals should be eliminated from the food chain. Animals make a number of unique contributions to society, thus filling niches in the food production chain that can't be occupied by plant foods. Animals produce foods of the highest quality protein known - meat, milk and eggs. Animal products also provide about 25 percent of the total energy, 80 percent of the calcium, 67 percent of the phosphorus, and significant amounts of other minerals plus riboflavin, niacin and vitamin B-12.

In addition to food, animals provide many other useful products, such as leather, wool, hair, lanolin, certain enzymes (rennin), and many pharmaceuticals (insulin).

Animals eat foods we cannot or will not eat. They thrive on grasses (pastures, hays) that are the only thing that will grow on over 60 percent of our farm land. Worldwide, there are two acres of non-cropland for every acre capable of producing grain. Animals recycle wastes and utilize non-protein nitrogen. A fantastic amount of stored cellulose energy would go to waste without animals.

Animals are relatively inefficient converters of feed to food when concentrated (grains) are fed. Feeding programs are being changed to less grain and more roughage in response to economic shifts.

Companion animals as well as recreation animals will experience increasing pressures as the demands for food (and feed) increase, resulting in short supplies and high prices. Agricultural research, particularly in the areas of reproduction, disease control, selective breeding, nutrition, physiology, waste management, and environment control has shown much promise in increasing the productivity and efficiency of animals.

Animal products are not likely to be eliminated from menus even if world food shortages became extremely critical.

Offer hunter safety course

A hunter safety course will be held on August 27 and 28 for boys and girls 11 years and older, at Sleepy Hollow Conservation Club.

The club house is located 5 miles north of St. Johns on US-27 to Mead Rd., then 1/4 mile west on Mead Rd., on south side.

Classes will be from 6 p.m. to approximately 9:30 p.m. All students must attend both nights.

Boys and girls interested must sign up at either Dean True Value Hardware or the PX Store in downtown St. Johns.

We're waiting for you to call

The Clinton County News staff finds it impossible to attend meetings of all clubs and organizations that take place in busy and active Clinton County. And there are insufficient hours to chase the president or secretary of each group to get the stories that arise out of their meetings.

Club secretaries are requested to drop us a card or give us a call at 224-2321 and fill us in on the highlights of their meetings and especially about special upcoming activities.

If we could financially afford it, we'd employ enough reporters to follow you around and report what you do... and take your picture, too. But our bankers insist on our remaining solvent, paying our interest on time and occasionally making a payment on the principal.

Bath Twp upset with construction date default

By Jim Schmitz
County News Writer

BATH -- Bath Township's fight to get their sewers installed and hooked into the County Department of Public Works (DPW) - DeWitt Township sewer treatment plant on Herbison Road entered another round Monday night when the Bath Township Board of Trustees hinted very strongly they will withhold the $42,000 instalment due Tuesday to Fisher and Municipal Construction.

The reason is Bath is perturbed that Fisher, the main contractor out of Midland, and Municipal, the sub-contractor out of Troy, have defaulted on their promises to have the sewers installed first by Dec. 6, 1974 and then by Aug. 8.

Those sewers still aren't in the ground and now the 2 contractors have gotten the DPW, which has control over the work, to extend the completion deadline, once again, this time until Sept. 15.

At the Monday night Board meeting, Paul Thompson from the engineering firm of Fish-bank, Thompson & Carr, Lansing, (who have been working with Bath on the sewer project) read a list of various completion dates he had gotten from Fisher and Municipal Construction.

Those dates indicated that parts of the sewer installation project would be completed at the end of the month and during the early weeks of September.

The Board was understandably skeptical and Richard Hawks, Bath's representative to the DPW, blasted the contractor's latest completion promise.

"The contractor looked at the calendar and made up completion dates out of his head," he said.

After discussing the problem for over an hour, the board decided they wanted a written commitment from Fisher promising if Municipal, which is doing the actual work, doesn't finish the work, that they (Fisher) will complete it themselves.

Getting that, however, might not be that easy.

Fisher has already written a letter to the DPW saying that if Bath withholds any payment on its $4.2 million contract, they will stop working altogether and go to court to force Bath to pay portions of the money the DPW has committed them to paying.

Fisher also told the DPW they don't think legally, they can finish the work of Municipal without having to pay them for any work they might do.

Bath doesn't buy the contractor's story and plans to push the DPW into enforcing the contract that insists the contractor pay a penalty fee of $11,500 for every day they run past their promised completion date.

Yet, the Board members appeared to solemnly agree with Township Clerk, June Burnett that: "if it's up to the DPW, they will not collect the penalty fee."

The end result of the Township's reticent dispute with the 2 sewer contractors is they are "right back where they started" without sewers.

And a big worry to Township Supervisor Thomas "Woody" Woodruff, is that if the sewers aren't installed and hooked in to the treatment plant pronto, the Township won't be able to collect tap in and usage fees they desperately need to pay the second bond and interest payment of $100,375 in May 1976.

Mark and Dave Pung earned top honors with their rabbit exhibits at the Clinton County 4-H Fair last week.

casey at the bat

by Ernest Lawrence Thayer

(1863 - 1940)

The outlook wasn't brilliant for the Mudville nine that day;
The score stood four to two, with but one inning more to play;
And so, when Cooney died at first, and Barrows did the same,
A sickly silence fell upon the patrons of the game.

A straggling few got up to go in deep despair. The rest
Clung to the hope which springs eternal in the human breast.
They thought, if only Casey could but get a whack, at that,
They'd put even money now, with Casey at the bat.

But Flynn preceded Casey, as did also Jimmy Blake,
And the former was a pudding and the latter was a fake.
So upon that stricken multitude grim melancholy sat,
For there seemed but little chance of Casey's getting to the bat.

But Flynn let drive a single, to the wonderment of all,
And Blake, the much despised, tore the cover off the ball.
And when the dust had lifted, and they saw what had occurred,
There was Jimmy safe on second, and Flynn a-hugging third.

Then from the gladdened multitude went up a joyous yell,
It bounded from the mountain-top and rattled in the dell.
It struck upon the hillside, and recoiled upon the flat,
For Casey, mighty Casey, was advancing to the bat.

There was ease in Casey's manner as he stepped into his place,
There was pride in Casey's bearing and a smile on Casey's face.
And when, responding to the cheers, he lightly doffed his hat,
No stranger in the crowd could doubt 'twas Casey at the bat.

Ten thousand eyes were on him as he rubbed his hands with dirt,
Five thousand tongues applauded when he wiped them on his shirt.
Then while the writhing pitcher ground the ball into his hip,
Defiance gleamed in Casey's eye, a sneer curled Casey's lip.

And now the leather covered sphere came hurtling through the air,
And Casey stood a-watching it in haughty grandeur there;
Close by the sturdy batsman the ball unheeded sped,
"That ain't my style," said Casey. "Strike one," the umpire said.

From the benches, black with people, there went up a muffled roar,
Like the beating of the storm-waves on a stern and distant shore.
"Kill him! Kill the umpire!" shouted someone on the stand.
And it's likely they'd have killed him had not Casey raised his hand.

With a smile of Christian charity great Casey's visage shone,
He stilled the rising tumult; he bade the game go on;
He signaled to the pitcher, and once more the spheroid flew,
But Casey still ignored it and the umpire said, "Strike two!"

"Fraud!" cried the maddened thousands, and the echo answered, "Fraud!"
But a scornful look from Casey, and the audience was awed.
They saw his face grow stern and cold, they saw his muscles strain,
And they knew that Casey wouldn't let that ball go by again.

The sneer is gone from Casey's lips, his teeth are clenched in hate,
He pounds with cruel violence his bat upon the plate;
And now the pitcher holds the ball, and now he lets it go,
And now the air is shattered by the force of Casey's blow.

Oh! somewhere in this favored land the sun is shining bright,
The band is playing somewhere, and somewhere hearts are light;
And somewhere men are laughing, and somewhere children shout,
But there is no joy in Mudville—mighty Casey has struck out.

The wide-awake bank makes it all so easy.
