Court rules on Bath Twp sewer installation

By Jim Schmitz
County News Writer

Bath is back in its old bind of having no where to put its sewers once they're installed because of a Circuit Court decision Monday that reaffirmed the Court's January decision that Bath must first get DeWitt Township's approval before they can hook their sewers into the sewer treatment plant on Herbison Road.

DeWitt Township won't do that until they, Bath, DeWitt City and Water Township agree to form a wastewater treatment authority or until the County Board of Commissioners approve the DeWitt Township-Bath Township sewer pact.

Bath Township Supervisor Thomas "Woody" Woodruff is worried the 4 municipalities won't agree on the authority until after Sept. 15, when the sewers are supposed to be in the ground and when Bath must begin to collect user and tap in fees to meet its second interest payment of $100,375 on the sewers in May 1976.

Because of this, he and the Bath Township Board of Trustees have sent a letter to the 11 County Commissioners asking that they sign the DeWitt Township - Bath Township sewer agreement, creating a temporary authority of Bath and DeWitt Townships.

Bath has told them in the letter that their financial consultants, Stauder, Barch and Associates, Lansing have advised them if they can't hook in by Sept. 15, they won't be able to raise enough money to make their second interest payment in May 1976.

Bath is hoping that the commissioners will realize if Bath can't make that payment, the County will have to assume its full faith in credit and do so themselves.

The County Board of Commissioners have shown their reluctance in the past to approve the DeWitt Township - Bath Township sewer contract because they don't like the idea of the temporary 2 township authority.

A particular provision of the contract some commissioner have objections to is the part which calls for DeWitt Township to have 4 members on the new authority to Bath's 2 and DeWitt city and Watertown Township's 1.

If, however, the Commissioners don't change their minds at their Sept. 2 meeting, Bath will find that it's quickly running out of options.

Bath School Dist. voters turn down millage request

BATH - Bath school district residents voted down a proposal Monday that would have asked them to pay 8/10 of a mill for school additions by a close margin of 363 to 330. The total vote of 693 represented only about half of the district's near 1200 voters.

Bath Community Schools Superintendent Roger Carlson said that if the voters would have approved the 8/10 of a mill, the state would have loaned the district 90 per cent of the $1,950,000 the district wanted to sell bonds to pay for the additions. The state, under its bond loan program, will offer to finance 90 per cent of all school construction costs if the district's residents are paying over 7 mills. Bath school district property owners are currently assessed at 8 mills per year, and according to Carlson, the 8/10 of a mill would have meant only 80 cents for each $1,000 of property valuation.

Carlson said the money would have been used to finance the following: construction of an auditorium in the new high school on Clark Rd., an outdoor swimming pool for the use of the schools and the entire community, a bus maintenance and storage facility, an administrative building that would have been added to one of the three schools, outdoor athletic facilities at the new high school and additions to and remodeling of the new middle school, the old high school.

Carlson also said he has no plans at this time to ask for another election, but thinks it will be discussed at future school board meetings.

Little progress in St. Johns school contract negotiations

ST. JOHNS - Little progress was reported following mediation last Wednesday between the St. Johns Education Association and the school board. A mediator had been called in to mediate the stalled talks.

The most recent offer by the board was to be presented by the St. Johns Education Association to the general membership at a meeting Tuesday night.

At this point, there are 3 avenues for the St. Johns teachers to take: 1. Ratify the contract. 2. Strike or 3. Request fact finding, at which points, the teachers would report for the opening day of school operating under the provisions of last year's contract.

4-year-old receives serious injuries

DEWITT TWP - A 4 year-old boy was seriously injured, Aug. 20 when he was struck by a car near his home.

Tracy Lynn Killingbeil, 106 W. Bennet, DeWitt Township, entered the street in front of a car driven by Richard L. Stevens, 21, 304 Bennet St.

Stevens applied his brakes but couldn't avoid hitting the boy who then landed on top of the car, which traveled 80 feet to the front of the boy's home.

The boy was then taken to Sparrow Hospital in Lansing where he is listed in very critical condition.

DeWitt Township Police are still investigating.

Downpour gives storm sewer rude christening in St. Johns

by Jim Edwards
County News Editor

ST. JOHNS - The new St. Johns sewer system was christened with 5 inches of rain in a 24-hour period last week, not exactly a joy filled affair.

Handling, at one point, up to 3 1/2 inches of rain that fell in a 2-hour period, the new system was simply unable to handle the large volume of water pouring through the city.

It is believed to be the most rain to fall in St. Johns in, at least, 15 years.

Adding to drainage problems was the fact the city's sanitary system has not yet been completed, resulting in several reports of sanitary, as well as storm water, backing into residential basements.

Randy Humphrey, St. Johns city manager, explained to upset citizens at Monday night's City Commission meeting that engineers from Williams & Works were in town Friday following the Thursday storm to inspect the sewer system.

In most cases, the storm sewer was reported to be functioning properly with back-ups attributed to the large volumes of rain that came from, what was described by Williams & Works as a 100-year storm.

Humphrey also explained that outdated sanitary systems caused several back-ups that should be cured when the new sanitary system is completed.

The sanitary system will include renovation of the existing treatment plant to provide a higher grade of treatment as well as additional capacity. A new lift station facility will be installed in the south end of the city to take pressure off in that area to prevent back-ups. Cost of the system is approximately $4 million, of which the city's share is approximately $900,000 as approved by a 1973 bond issue election. It is projected the federal grant will be received this fall with construction to begin next spring.

The subject of surface waters going into the sanitary system was also discussed again.

Although many attempts have been made to eliminate private residences from running storm water into the sanitary system, Humphrey said it has been almost impossible to eliminate it entirely.

He added that it is possible to inspect a home to insure the lines don't run into the sanitary system only to have the owner change it once the inspection has been made.

As thorough a check as possible on problem areas was made Friday as city officials and employees received reports of flooded basements and recorded them.

City officials and engineers then visited the sites of complaints to check the operation of sewers in all areas of the city.

Following that inspection, the opinion seems to be - the sewer is functioning properly contingent on 2 things - final completion of the sanitary system and no 5-inch rainfalls in the immediate future.

Call mediator to stalled Ovid-Elsie school negotiations

ELSIE - Negotiations between Ovid-Elsie school teachers and school Superintendent Don Kenney have apparently stalled and if the Michigan Education Association (MEA), the teacher's union, and the school administration can't reconcile their differences soon, the slated Sept. 3 school opening in Ovid-Elsie could be threatened.

Kenney said he has offered $300 raises for teachers at the top of the pay schedule, but the bargainers from the MEA haven't answered his proposal.

Barbara Roberts, executive director of the MEA Council 8-1, (which handles negotiations for Ovid-Elsie and other county school district teachers, told the County News in a phone interview Monday the teachers want the $300 salary increase equalized throughout the 12 pay levels. She thinks the reason Kenney is offering raises only at the top 3 levels is because these are the levels the administrators belong to.

Ms. Roberts thought the teachers would be meeting with the administration on Thursday, but Kenney said Ed Connor, the state mediator that has been working with the 2 opposing forces, told Kenney he is so busy working with other school districts this week who have the same problem, that he might not be able to get back to Ovid-Elsie till Monday.

Kenney said he had last met with the teachers and Connor on Aug. 20 and "unless we meet Sunday or Monday, we might not meet before school is suppose to open."

Holiday deadlines

Due to the Monday Labor Day holiday, County News deadlines will be Friday for the Sept. 3 edition.

Display and classified deadline is Friday at 5 p.m.

News deadline is 5 p.m. Friday with the photograph deadline at noon.

Kenney thought he had offered all he could in the $300 yearly raises and added that though salary increases wouldn't be offered at any level, teachers who move up from 1 level to another will get the raises that automatically come with advancement.

Equalized salary increases at all levels aren't the only things the teachers are asking for.

Ms. Roberts said the teachers want to retain their present insurance package while the administration wants to switch to another program.

DeWitt Twp critical of county departments

Now dissatisfied with Road Commission

by Jim Schmitz
County News Writer

DEWITT TWP - DeWitt Township has been having its differences lately with the County Department of Public Works (DPW) and at Monday night's Board of Trustees meeting the County Road Commission also took it on the chin for what Transportation Committee Chairman Jack Kzeski, Jr., labeled an inadequate explanation of the commission's work on upgrading and maintaining roads in the township.

Kzeski told the Board his committee met with the commission Aug. 18 and discussed 9 matters pertaining to road improvement and maintenance in the township.

Kzeski said his committee got satisfaction on some of the matters, but not with the others.

The committee didn't get any answers, according to Kzeski, on why the north section of DeWitt Road, between State and Stall Roads, hadn't been patched before blacktopping.

At Johns, a committee member, also found the commission nearly speechless when they couldn't tell him whether or not they're going to fill a 150 foot dip in State Road, west of Valley Farm Supply. Then they couldn't tell Johns if the sewer had been damaged when the road caved in near the area.

Two other matters Kzeski found the commission negligent on were the commission's failure to install speed control signs in the township as they had promised and the sending of a bill to the Township without stating specifically what it was for.

After listening to the committee's final complaint, the board voted to send a letter to the commission stating the Transportation Committee can't act on that bill until they are told exactly what it's about.

In other action the board:

- adopted a zoning ordinance that will govern the construction of pole frame buildings.
- voted to send a letter to County Administrative Assistant Gerald Ambrose, stating they will join the Miss Dig Utility Communication System if the township's costs don't exceed 25 per cent of the total.
- agreed to invite the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission to a township board meeting to present their plans for a Tri-County planning committee for wastewater treatment plants.
- approved a letter from Township Supervisor Dale Emerson to the DPW

Cardiac monitor enables Clinton Memorial Hospital staff to measure a patient's heart beat at all times.

Clinton Memorial Hospital Auxiliary provides cardiac monitoring system

A new cardiac monitoring system at Clinton Memorial Hospital is helping provide the community with even more advanced and comprehensive medical care. The equipment is a gift to the hospital by the Clinton Memorial Hospital Women's Auxiliary.

The Hewlett-Packard Cardiac Monitor, the most modern and sophisticated of such devices, allows the medical staff to evaluate visually a patient's heartbeat at all times. A few small wires attached to the patient send a graphic picture of his heart's activity to television-type receivers in both his room and the nurses' station. If any seriously abnormal rhythms occur, the monitor will automatically sound an alarm to alert the nurse.

While providing all this vital information, the monitor wires cause the patient no discomfort; they do not even confine him to bed. The monitor itself is portable and available to the special care unit, the emergency room or whatever department needs it.

Special skills are required by nurses using the cardiac monitor. A nurse must understand the complex equipment as well as be able to interpret the graphic data and respond promptly and knowledgeably. At Clinton Memorial Hospital, several nurses have undergone intensive training and others will be able to deal with most crises which might arise.

This vital addition to Clinton Memorial Hospital was made possible by the generous donation of $19,000 by the Clinton Memorial Hospital Auxiliary. This fine organization from the Clinton County area has worked hard for many years sponsoring projects to raise money for the hospital. Mrs. Jean Anthes, the presiding Auxiliary chairwoman, cited just some of the projects which helped raise money for the monitor. In February of this year, the Heart Ball was held, and later the Auxiliary sponsored a fashion show and several theater parties. Year round activities provide televisions for patients, hospital sewing and mending and the gift shop. Mrs. Anthes also stressed that the community itself should be applauded for its support and donations.

Paul McNamara, Hospital Administrator, expressed his enthusiasm. "Clinton Memorial Hospital is always in the process of evaluating and improving. This cardiac monitor is one more modern, scientific service we can offer the people of Clinton County, and we have the Women's Auxiliary to thank for it."

Search for safety award winner

Division, Safety Council of Greater Lansing, P.O. Box 1136, Lansing, Mich. 48904.

Phone directory changes must be made by Sept. 5

General Telephone customers in the communities of Fowler-Pewamo, Maple Rapids, Muir and St. Johns who want to make corrections or additions to the telephone directory must contact the company's service office before Friday, Sept. 5.

Norm Krievins, division manager for the company has announced.

Most changes can be handled by telephone and a personal visit is usually not required, he said.

Letters to the Editor

Upset about "no sale"

Dear Editor,
We just experienced our first year of beef at the 4-H fair. We have raised holsteins for years and didn't know it was necessary to buy cross breeds for the market sale.
Our boy raised a holstein steer for a year, put a lot of time and money into the steer and wasn't allowed to sell it. He was told it didn't weigh enough. Yet they sold 16 cross breeds weighing less (some just over 800 lbs.). Wouldn't you think people would rather buy meat and be able to eat it — than fat and have the butcher trim 1 to 2 inches off? They pay good money for all that fat that has to be trimmed off.

There was even a man asked us if that was the only kind of meat they had to sell and when we told him yes he walked out!
He was told his animal wasn't ready for market. However a 145 lb. hog was sold. It has been my experience that 145 lbs. does not constitute a market hog. It is obvious certain parties connected with the fair are against holstein as beef. If the statistics were available you would probably find a good share of the meat butchered and consumed by area farmers are holstein and not the exotic fat calves.

Raelle Corliss and Kim Jorae exchange vows

Mr. & Mrs. Kim Jorae

Raelle Corliss and Kim Jorae exchanged their wedding vows on Saturday, Aug. 2 at the First Presbyterian Church in Albion. The Rev. Fred Cunningham conducted the double-ring marriage service in which the

The bride's father escorted her to the altar, which was flanked on both sides by baskets of white gladioli, yellow roses, and blue carnations. She wore a gown of eyelet embroidered lawn, which she designed. An empire waist and princess skirt with an oval neckline were trimmed with lace, and a small cap sleeve of eyelet ended in a full sheer sleeve with lace cuffs. The short train was edged in lace. Her waist length veil was attached to a lace covered band trimmed with white tea roses and baby's breath. She carried a nosegay of tiny white and pale gold rosebuds and baby's breath.

Connie Overhiser of Saugatuck was the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were her sisters, Janet Petrak and Rosalie Corliss. They wore identical light blue gowns with off-shoulder neckline and short puffed sleeves, and were trimmed in off-white lace. They each wore a small cluster of white daisies in their hair, and carried sprays of white daisies and blue cornflowers.

David Wyrick of Ovid was the groom's best man. Ushers were the groom's brothers, Nicholas Jorae of Williamston and Mitchell Jorae of Laingsburg. The groom was dressed in a pale gold tuxedo and his attendants wore light blue. Also assisting as usher was John Petrak, nephew of the bride.

Jolie and John Petrak, niece and nephew of the bride, lighted the candelabra, and James Petrak, another nephew, rang the church bells. Laurie Avery was organist, playing Purcell's "Trumpet Tune in D" as the processional. Purcell's "Trumpet Voluntary" was the recessional. Philip Mason of Albion College played two violin solos, the slow movement of Mendelssohn's Violin Concerto, and Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring". Herbert Glahn sang "Follow Me", accompanying himself on the guitar.

The bride's mother wore a light green gown and her flowers were a white orchid and pink tea roses. The mother of the groom wore a pale gold gown and her flowers were a white orchid and gold tea roses.

Following the ceremony a reception and buffet dinner were held in the church and Fellowship Hall. Denise Jorae of Laingsburg, sister of the groom, served the wedding cake, and Jolie Petrak presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Dennis Cornwell of Los Angeles, Calif., another sister of the groom, was in charge of the guest book. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bormann of Warsaw, Ind. were host and hostess.

Dancing followed in the evening at the Albion Conservation Club House with Al Schoetinger's orchestra furnishing the music.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner Friday evening at Gilbert's Steak House in Jackson.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Jorae are graduates of Michigan State University. She holds a B.S. in zoology and also in animal husbandry, and he has a B.S. in animal husbandry. He is a herdsman for Ox Valley Farms at Brownstown, Ind. where they are at home on Route 1.

Mrs. Bruce Denovich

Joanne Marie Galecka weds Bruce Denovich

Joanne Marie Galecka became the bride of Bruce Steven Denovich at St. Cyril's Catholic Church, Bannister, with the Rev. Thomas Kowalzyck performing the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. Frank Winkler, godmother of the bride, played the organ. On the altar were placed yellow mums and white glads.

The bride wore a Victorian gown fashioned with a high-ruffle neckline, bishop sleeves and full A-line skirt. The gown was further accented by 3 types of lace, brussel, venise and chantilly.

A double ruffle ringed her hemline and extended to a chapel-train sprinkled with seed pearls.

The veil was designed and made by the bride's mother and was fashioned with a flower headpiece with lace around the edge of the veil, 3/4 of the way down the train of the dress.

The maid of honor was the sister of the bride, Sharon Galecka and bridesmaids included: Mary Fabus, Lansing; Michelle Denovich, sister of the groom; Melissa Denovich, sister of the groom; Rosemary Beldyga, cousin of the bride, Chesaning and Judy Kuripila, Lansing.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore identical white dacron, polyester and cotton gowns with a miniature blue rose print. A lace ruffle defined their bodices and puffed sleeves that were accented by tiny blue velvet bows.

Mrs. Galecka was presented with a corsage of pink roses to wear with a pink gown, fashioned with an accordion-pleated skirt and chiffon sleeves.

The groom's mother was presented with a corsage of white carnations to wear with her blue A-line gown, fashioned with cap sleeves and trimmed with tiny white daisy brocade.

DeWitt Schools to open Sept. 3

All DeWitt schools will be opening Sept. 3 with a full day of classes scheduled for all, except the David Scott Elementary School. The Scott School will start at 9 a.m. and both a.m. and p.m. kindergarten classes will meet. Fuerstenau elementary school will start at 8:50 a.m. and book deposits of $3.00 for grades 2 to 5 can be paid at the school office. Hot lunches will be served at all DeWitt schools except the Scott School and those who wish to enroll at the Middle School can do so this week at the office. All middle school students are required to pay a $5.00 book deposit, which will be refunded when books are returned in satisfactory condition. All middle school students who want to participate in athletics or cheerleading must take a physical examination that will be available on the first day of school only. DeWitt High School students can also enroll and pay their $5 book deposits this week and new students can meet with guidance counselors to plan their schedules. All 9th graders must have their physical examinations on file with the High School.

Safety is the message for DeWitt elementary students

A new campaign to get DeWitt elementary school students to be more safety-minded is being kicked off by DeWitt Police Cpl. David Wilcox, who will be talking to students at the David Scott Elementary School and the Fuerstenau Elementary School once school gets underway. The campaign is an outgrowth of an Aug. 20 meeting at David Scott school where concerned parents met with DeWitt Police Chief Wendell Myers and DeWitt Elementary School's principal, Don Powell, to discuss how to get the kids to think safety. They came up with what they call, "The Green Flag program" which will work with the Greater Lansing Safety Council. Under the program, Wilcox will present the kids with a green flag which will be flown, beneath the American flag at both elementary schools. The kids will be able to keep the flag unless a student gets in some kind of accident where his lack of safety caused it. The flag will then be taken away for 30 days. The purpose of the program, according to Wilcox, is: "to let them know we're safety-minded and to make sure they're safety-minded also."

General Telephone announces improvements in DeWitt area

DEWITT -- General Telephone Company is installing additional central office equipment in its office for the DeWitt area, according to N. Krievins, Owosso division manager for the company. This project, which will cost over $90,000, is scheduled for completion by the end of August. Krievins stated that the project provides for the addition of 400 lines and 400 terminals along with 2 additional power cells to provide for growth in the DeWitt exchange. Krievins explained that 1 piece of line equipment is required for each private, 2-party or 4-party line in use. The line equipment provides dial tone when the hand piece is lifted. The terminals provide the final connection between the calling and the called party. One terminal is required for each telephone number.

Pit falls of grantsmanship

As the federal government gives -- or withholds -- large amounts of money in various fields a self-imposed silence ensues from those who are afraid they will lose it. We are fast becoming subservient, obedient, self-committed captives in the fields of education, agriculture and local government.

We are dancing to the tune of federal tax dollars. Alden H. Sypher, retired editor, noted this "government by fear" in an article written a few years ago.

He said that "highly qualified people are withdrawing from public discussion." This "inclination toward silence," he declared, "is restricting the exchange of ideas that could result in honest consensus. It is the product of fear -- the fear of a vastly increased central authority with tremendous power and little restraint in its use."

"The fear of farmers whose livelihood is largely controlled in Washington and whose product prices have been affected by stockpile manipulations and sale controls.

"Of businessmen who have seen controls become effective not by law, nor uniform patterns, but by unbearable pressure of central power and authority.

"Of educators who have seen sudden withdrawal of federal funds for failure to conform -- and just as sudden replacement of the funds through intervention not by educators, but by political figures.

"Of city leaders who see in the grant power new political alignments that may be directed or at least greatly influenced by Washington.

"Of little people who rest uneasily under the benevolence of power they have seen unleashed, over which they have no control."

Back Through the Years

ONE YEAR AGO

Aug. 29, 1974

Four counts of manslaughter have been charged against a Bath Township man, following an Aug. 7 accident that took the lives of Duane Abbott DeWitt and his 3 young daughters.

Vandals caused extensive damage to 6 vehicles belonging to Maclean Construction Company of Ludington last Monday night at Sleepy Hollow Park. The incident occurred at the corner of Upton and Price Roads in Ovid Township, where Lake Ovid is being constructed for the new state park.

Harry J. Burns, 33, a native and former resident of St. Johns, died Monday, Aug. 19, at his Marina del Rey residence, apparent victim of a heart seizure.

The Historical Society of Greater Lansing has selected a program of marking historical sites for the Society's contribution to Heritage '76 in celebration of the nation's Bicentennial. The initial marker will bring attention to Joshua Simmons, a Continental soldier serving Massachusetts in the War for American Independence. Research on the family reveals Joshua II was born on Aug. 3, 1762 or 1763 in Dighton, Mass., descendant of a long line of New England farmers.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Westley of Ovid suffered multiple bruises and were hospitalized last week at Clinton Memorial Hospital when their car and house trailer overturned on US-27, just south of Ithaca.

Between $700 and $800 was reported stolen Sunday from the Retreat House just east of DeWitt.

The population of the Clinton County Jail rose to near record heights over the weekend and early this week, with 29 "residents" taking their meals and lodging there at the law's insistence.

Dr. Russell M. Kraft, St. Johns dentist for 37 years, announced last week he is retiring for health reasons, but that he has obtained a dentist to fill his vacancy.

Visitors at the St. Johns V-J Day celebration last week showed a great deal of interest in the hand-operated pumper, which was pulled around during the evening by Herm Rademacher's fine team of horses. A PERSONAL LOOK AT THE NEWS

Did County News interview Howard Hughes?

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story is a complete fabrication. There is not a word of truth in it and is a product of the editor's sometimes warped mind.

ST. JOHNS -- Howard Hughes, multi-billionaire and recluse for the past several years, has been sighted in St. Johns and, for the 1st time in 23 years, agreed to an interview with the press.

That interview was exclusive with the Clinton County News and took place in Brad's Grill, while Hughes played cribbage with Dick Miller, County News pressman.

Hughes told the County News he is in St. Johns to investigate the possibility of purchasing Ranch Roller Rink.

Hughes, whose hair after years of living in seclusion has grown to reach his ankles, chatted amiably with the County News and card players in Brad's.

Asked about his interest in Ranch Roller Rink, Hughes explained the building and site is ideal for his proposed plan to establish a professional sport of pig racing.

Midway through the interview, Hughes requested that a more private location be used to avoid lookers on who gaped as they spotted the 14-inch long fingernails of Hughes.

To avoid detection, Hughes and the County News editor traveled from Brad's to the game room of the American Legion in a hearse supplied by Osgood's Funeral Home.

Some complaints were registered by the Legion about their loss of business, quoting several would-be customers who spotted the hearse and said, "things must be dead at the Legion tonight."

Although wishing to avoid publicity or controversy, Hughes and the County News ran into a legal tangle when the game room was closed to carry on the rest of the interview.

Local attorneys protested the closing of the game room, an act which disrupted the 1975 St. Johns pinball and pool championships.

Hughes compromised by promising to purchase new pool tables and pinball machines and award the winner an 18-year trip to his villa in Spain.

Asked why he granted an interview to the County News, Hughes answered, "Yes, it is true, that I avoid publicity at all times. However, in my negotiations with Ranch Roller Rink, it is necessary that the St. Johns community completely understands my motives in establishing professional pig racing.

"It is a sport not widely known and some are not aware of the social significance of this type of racing. Because of the relatively small track used in the races, a building such as Ranch Roller Rink would be ideal.

"Of course, we would remove the roof to install 89,000 theater seats to accommodate the large crowds we are expecting to view pig races."

The details of pig racing were then explained by Hughes, who said, "It is much like dog racing. However, instead of a mechanical rabbit that runs in front of the dogs, we use an airborne corn cob which flies just in front of the pursuing pigs. It's impossible to describe the excitement of proud pigs pounding pig after pig powerfully past paying patrons persistent in pursuit of parlaying pig winning profits. I tell you, it's profound."

Hughes added that, by necessity, the sport is an open air activity.

When questioned on the length of his stay in St. Johns (again seeking complete privacy, he established business and sleeping headquarters on the 3d floor of the burned-down Steel Hotel), Hughes said he had planned to stay 2 weeks, but had to jet south to sign the papers on his purchase of Cuba.

He explained that he is purchasing Cuba to harvest their sugar cane. The sugar cane fiber is used as strings in a new line of Italian sports car horns known as sugar beeps.

An urgent telephone call abruptly ended the meeting, but Hughes parted saying he would see the editor at a quartz mine in Bolivia. As he boarded the jet helicopter waiting on the courthouse lawn, he said, "See you in quartz."

Attend WMU summer orientation program

KALAMAZOO -- Karen L. Foo and Barbara J. Renix, both of St. Johns, have attended the Western Michigan University orientation program for those who will be freshmen this fall. During three day periods which began June 22, the new students visited the campus in groups of 180 to meet with faculty advisors, register for classes, take a battery of tests and generally familiarize themselves with the University. They were assisted by 40 student leaders of the get-acquainted program headed by Normal Russell, director of the orientation and assistant to the vice president for Student Services.

The first classes for the fall semester at WMU begin Sept. 2.

To attend orientation session at Alma College

ALMA -- Members of the freshman class at Alma College who will participate in a four-day orientation session beginning on Sunday, Sept. 7, include Sherwood D. Russell of St. Johns.

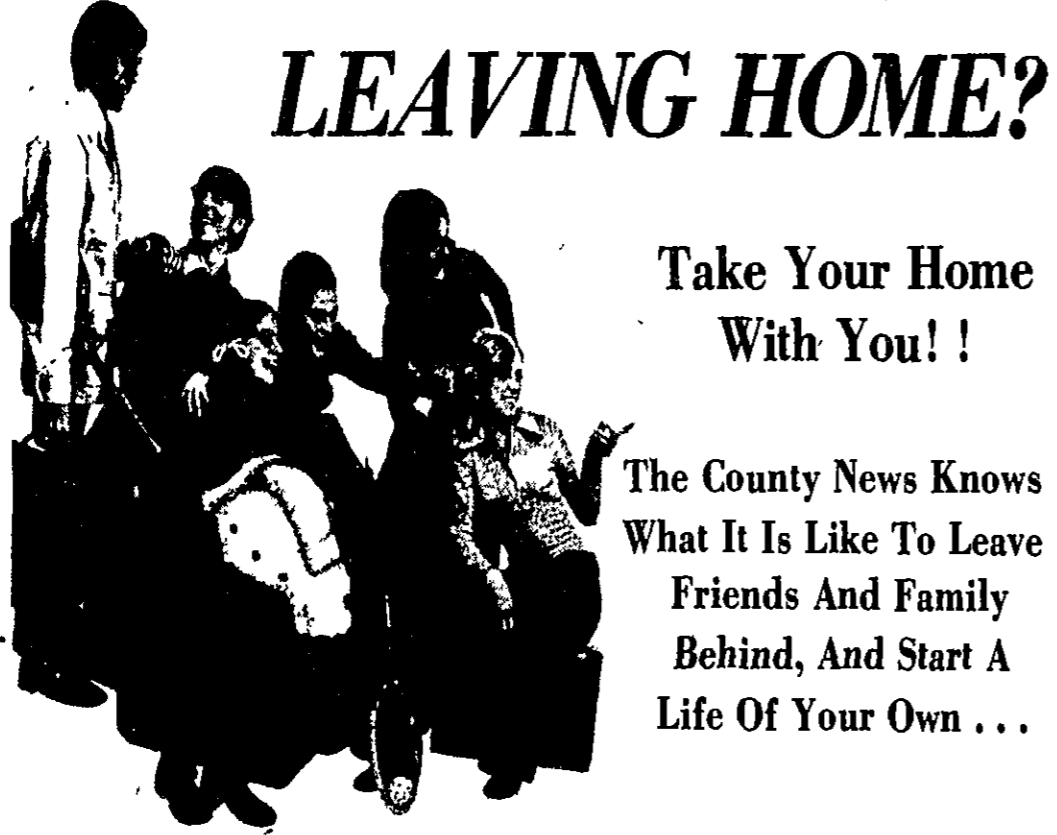

A graduate of Gwinn Senior High School, Russell is the son of S.Sgt. and Mrs. William S. Russell of 304 E. Walker, St. Johns.

The first classes of the 1975-76 academic year at Alma will be held on Thursday, Sept. 11. The Alma academic calendar features 14-week terms in the fall and winter and a four-week term in the spring. Since most Alma students take four courses during each of the longer terms and only one course in the spring, the program is referred to as a 4-4-1 plan.

The first classes for the fall semester at WMU begin Sept. 2.

Landscape Workshop

Jim Pelham
Clinton County Extension Director

Our office gets a lot of requests for technical assistance in landscaping. Most of them are too technical for our agents, who tend to specialize in agriculture and have only a general knowledge of landscaping and lawns. So what do we do with these questions? We have only one landscape specialist to help extension throughout the state so he can't spend a lot of time working with individuals.

We think we have come up with the best alternative available to us. Joe Cox, our extension specialist in landscape architecture has agreed to conduct a workshop to teach you how to improve your landscape. It is strictly an educational endeavor, but if you turn out to be a good student you will learn a lot about principle and design. There will be no charge and we think you will have a lot of fun learning—not only that, but your plan will reflect a part of you!

There will be no course fees and the series of four meetings will be held on successive Tuesdays beginning September 16, in the Community Room of Central National Bank. Meeting time will be 7:30 until 9:30 p.m.

The first meeting will emphasize "Basics in Home Landscape Design." The September 23, meeting will emphasize "Landscape Materials and Composition" and the third program will be "Maintaining your Shrubbery and Altering your Plan in Keeping with Changes in Buildings and Grounds." A final meeting will be held featuring lawn establishment and maintenance including seed varieties, fertilizers, and weed control.

Pre-registration is not absolutely necessary, but a call to the Extension Office indicating your intent to attend will reserve a place for you. There is a lot of interest in this and its possible we might get more people than we can accommodate.

Fall Area Day

Clinton County Home Economist Chloe Padgitt.

Fall Area Day will be held September 10, at the Casino in Corunna. This is an annual event sponsored by the Michigan Association of Extension Homemakers. All women are welcome to attend.

This year Area Day will focus on the Bicentennial and You. On display will be 58 state and historical flags. Household antiques will be arranged in kitchen, living and bedroom settings.

The morning program on "Life Planning and Goal Setting" will be presented by Dr. Eugene Peisner, Extension Specialist in family life. This session will provide an opportunity to reflect on what's really important to you, and how to achieve. Many of you may remember Dr. Peisner from College Week where he frequently offers classes.

The luncheon will, of course, feature old-fashion recipes. Reservation forms may be obtained by contacting the Extension office.

Following lunch, group singing will be led by the Edgewood Trio from Gratiot County. Old-time favorites will be highlighted.

The finale of the day will be a fashion show. Men's, women's, and children's fashions from the last 200 years will be included. A decorated stage and background music using old records, will add to the Bicentennial atmosphere.

I hope you'll consider fitting Area Day into your Fall schedule. It's your chance to learn more about yourself, get the Bicentennial Spirit and make new friends.

Plan now for woodlot

Plan now for your woodlot's future. Improved forest stands can grow profits. Proper thinning through a selective cutting program can often eliminate as much as thirty years from the timber growing process.

Lloyd B. Campbell, District Conservationist for the U.S.D.A. Soil Conservation Service said, "Our soil survey information shows the forestry potential of each soil and areas best suited for tree growing. When assisting a landowner to develop a conservation plan we encourage woodland improvements and tree planting as an important part of their total operations."

Private woodland owners in Clinton County Soil Conservation District (SCD) interested in cash payments for planting trees and/or improving their timber stands may obtain information and assistance from any of the following offices: Clinton County Soil Conservation District office; the local Michigan DNR forester, Fred Wuerthele, phone 641-6000; the Cooperative Extension Service; the county ASCS office; local consulting foresters; local industry foresters; and local contractors in forestry services.

Michigan State University is first in the Big Ten and sixth in the nation in the receipt of National Science Foundation Graduate Fellowships.

Senator Richard Allen Report from the Senate

If I could do just one thing in my life I would like it to be... that's a commonly heard statement generally followed by some grandiose plan of personal or public accomplishment!

Well I think it helps to focus on some major goal and make it a supreme effort. If I never accomplished anything as a State Senator except reform of our apportionment process I would count my career as highly successful.

And here's my plan. The guidelines for apportionment must be written in stone in the constitution so no political party or segment can manipulate boundaries to their benefit. My proposed constitutional amendment includes the following:

An allowable population deviation. Districts would be allowed to deviate five percent from the mean or 10 percent from lowest to highest. Nothing has been used to wreck more havoc on the democratic process than carrying one man one vote to an absurd conclusion. Eight of our present Senate districts have exactly 233,753 people by 1970 census. 24 of 38 districts deviate by two persons or less and the rest by only a few more! No wonder lines run down back roads and alleys.

A requirement that a city, county or township must have as many seats as its population allows with only fractional left over populations to be combined with a bordering district. This provision not only guarantees residents of an area of concentrated population their full representation but also protects rural and low population areas from numerous districts radiating out from a city to dominate considerable additional territory.

A restriction that local boundaries could be broken only if it was necessary to stay within population guidelines.

The total vote in the last gubernatorial election as the population base. My present district includes over 5,000 Jackson prison inmates who cannot vote in the population base. College students should be counted where they vote rather than where they reside on census day.

A reduction in the size of the Senate from 38 to 33 and the house from 110 to 99. The present size is cumbersome and of course expensive. With compact, logical, districts better representation could be achieved and a great deal of money saved with a reduction in size.

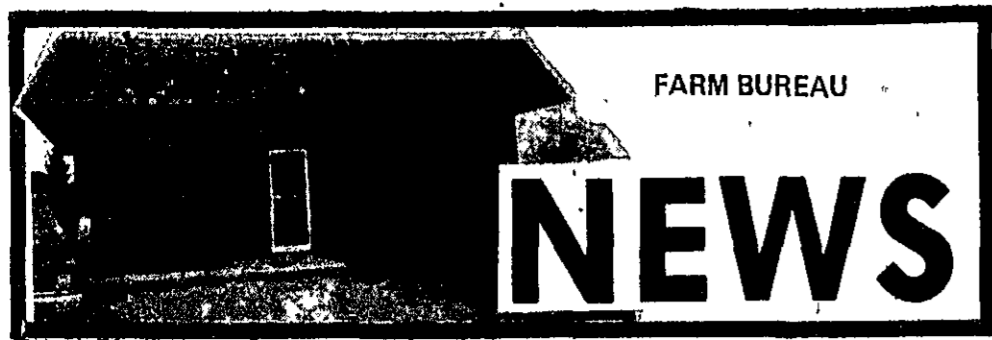

A non-partisan commission to replace the present one selected by party leaders. My commission would be composed of one judge from each of the three appellate court districts. These judges, unlike our Supreme Court, are nominated and elected on a non-partisan basis. Besides the constitutional guidelines would not allow much manipulation.

In my opinion nothing could do more for Michigan politics than the adoption of this constitutional amendment.

County annual meeting Oct. 14

Smith Hall will be the location of the 56th Annual Meeting of Clinton County Farm Bureau. In late September notices will be mailed to the 1532 county member families announcing the October 14 date.

A family style ham dinner will be served and tickets will go on sale through Community Groups, County Board Members and the county office beginning September 2. On the agenda will be election of directors for Bath-DeWitt, Dallas, Westphalia, Duplain-Greenbush and one at large. Also a slate of resolutions is being compiled by the Policy Development Committee who is urging Community Groups and other County Farm Bureau Committees to submit final resolutions this month.

A special bicentennial observance is being planned by the Citizenship Committee and awards will be presented to the two county F.F.A. Chapters who participated in the Soybean test plot projects. The County Farm Bureau Feeder of the Year will be announced by Farm Bureau Services.

A highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the County Queen and announcement of the Discussion Meet winner by the Young Farmer Committee. Door prizes will be awarded and a contest for table centerpieces will allow Community Groups to win cash awards. The dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. and the business meeting will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Bath student tells why she "Prefers America"

For the past three months winning essays in the 1975 Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar competition have appeared on this page. This month's essay was written by Jody Doerner who will be a Junior at Bath High School this fall. She attended the Citizenship Seminar in June along with 5 other students from county high schools.

Spouses guests at August board meeting

A steak fry was held at the County office preceding the regular August board meeting. Guests included spouses of the board members. Chairman Bill Kissane called the meeting to order at 9:30 p.m. with all directors present except Way Peck who was on vacation at the time.

Among the items on the agenda the board voted to accept the recommended changes in the A.D. and D. Coverage provided all Farm Bureau members as a part of their membership. Presently the husband wife each have $1,000. Accidental Death benefits. The new coverage would raise the benefit to $2,000. on the Farm Bureau member, $1,000. on the spouse and $500.00 on each child in the family.

The present policy gives no coverage on the child. It will be necessary for 70% of the 69 county Farm Bureaus in Michigan to approve this change for it to take effect.

New Committee appointments were announced and accepted by the board and the new changes in the county Relationship Agreement were read, approved and signed. Communications were read regarding The Communicator of the Year Award and Farm Bureau Feeder of the Year award. Also a letter to announced and reports heard from Farm Bureau Women, the Young Farmer Committee and from Don Keim, County Insurance Manager.

Secretary of Agriculture Butz was read which commended him for his stand in favor of agriculture on a recent Face the Nation program.

Farm Bureau women promote agriculture at State Fair

In cooperation with other Farm Bureau Women's Committees in Southeast and Central Michigan, Clinton Women were on hand at the Michigan State Fair in Detroit last week to promote agriculture to the urban population.

The Women's Committees jointly sponsored a booth located in the Agriculture Building which features a 10' x 20' billboard with a shopping cart in the foreground and a farm in the background. Floor space was utilized by four stations.

The first area was devoted to a model farm, in which machinery bears a price tag talk about costs of production, need for equipment, investment, debt load, short term equipment is used per year and many other subjects. The second stop a cow's dairy ration - mostly in plastic bags, to be seen, felt, and smelled by passersby - opportunity to talk about the value of a livestock industry, value of meat and milk in the diet (financially and nutritionally) need for realistic environmental regulations (waste disposal) in addition to answering questions about production and livestock.

The 3rd area, will show the breakdown of the consumer's food dollar. It is planned to create some understanding of where the dollar goes, that there is no one "middleman" taking advantage of both farmer and consumer.

Fourth area contains 2 display posters with a shopping cart with groceries between them. This points out that for every $20.00 spent at the grocery store, over $6.00 is for non food items. Consumers will be given information about % of net income spent for food, the value and diversity of Michigan agriculture and other items of interest.

Assisting in the Farm Bureau booth from Clinton County were Mrs. Adaline Dershem, County Women's Chairman, Mrs. Fern Brandt, Mrs. Oral Tolles, Mrs. Lucille Fox, Mrs. Wilda Becker, Mrs. Betty Morris, and Mrs. Rosie Swagart.

Announce Queen Contest and discussion meet

By Mike Borton

This year the Clinton County Farm Bureau Young Farmers are holding their queen's contest and Discussion Meet the same evening. That date is Thursday, September 25, at 7:45 p.m. at the Clinton County Farm Bureau office.

The queen contest winner will be the county representative to the State Farm Bureau contest to be held at the State Annual Meeting in December. Hopefully our county winner will go on to the national contest in St. Louis in January. This will be a part of the American Farm Bureau Federation Convention. In the coming year the county queen will participate in and be guest of honor at many activities in the county such as parades, dinners etc.

Qualifications for queen contestants are as follows: 1. single or married, 2. 17 years to 31 years prior to December 1, 1975. 3. Farm Bureau member or daughter of Farm Bureau member if single and under 21. 4. All eligible except Farm Bureau Young Farmer Committee members who are on the State Committee.

The Discussion Meet is an excellent chance for young farmers or farmerettes to sit down and discuss issues and policy important to Farm Bureau.

County winners advance to the District and the district winner will go to the State Annual Meeting and the national convention in St. Louis in January. Contestants don't have to be orators - just willing to say what they think. Qualifications are: 1. male or female, 2. 17 years to not over 31 by December 1, 1975. 3. Farm Bureau member or a son or daughter of a Farm Bureau member if under 21. 4. There will be 3 county contestants who can go to the district contest.

The following topics have been selected and one will be selected: 1. What Role, if any, should American agriculture play in the maintenance of world grain reserves? 2. What should be the role of the American Farm Bureau Federations in International trade? 3. What role should Farm Bureau and its members play in consumer relations programs and activities? 4. What changes, if any, are needed in Farm Bureau, its committees and its programs to meet the changing needs of American agriculture?

Calendar of events

Farm Bureau members inspect soybean plot.

County soybean members tour FFA test plots

Sixteen members of the Clinton County Farm Bureau Soybean Division toured two soybean test plots on August 14, 1975. The test plots were planted and cared for by the Fulton-Middleton and Ovid Elsie F.F.A. Chapters. They were sponsored by the County Soybean Division.

At Fulton-Middleton members were able to compare 4 varieties all planted May 17. The varieties were Beeson, Multibar 40, Multibar 50 and Corsoy. At Ovid-Elsie they observed Amsoy, SRF/50, Beeson and Teweles.

All 4 varieties in the first half of Ovid Elsie's test plot were planted May 16 and the second half were planted May 30. Yield checks will be made on all test plots at harvest and the results will be forwarded to the Soybean Division members.

The evening tour concluded with a potluck supper held at Rochester Colony Friendship Park with wives of the Soybean members as guests. During the course of the evening discussion was held on the merits of the different varieties of beans and how they will perform in Clinton County.

Dave Wolfe, marketing specialist for Michigan Farm Bureau was also on hand for the tour. The State Soybean Division is conducting a tour to Ohio Aug. 27-28. Stops on the tour will include some soybean fields in southern Michigan, Michigan Elevator Exchange at Ottawa Lake, Central Soya, Bellevue, Ohio and the Anderson River Terminal in Toledo. Several county Soybean Division members will be attending the tour.

Fruit sale success

Over 735 individual items were ordered during the recent sale of Michigan frozen fruit by the Michigan Agriculture Cooperative Marketing Association, (MACMA) an affiliate of Farm Bureau.

The fruit was delivered to the county office this week and cartons of cherries, strawberries, blueberries, frozen peaches, apple slices, dark sweet cherries, apple cider and from Florida, Hi Density Orange concentrate.

The County Farm Bureau Member to Member Sales Committee assisted in the sale. Mr. and Mrs. Mike Borton, Chairmen, represent the county at a dinner meeting to plan the 1975-76 sales program tonight (Wednesday) in Lansing. Other Committee members are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kissane and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mayers.

CCC loans still available to producers for storage, dryers

Financing of farm storage facilities and dryers by Commodity Credit Corporation through the local county ASCS office is still available to eligible producers according to Robert Zeeb, chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The number of loans financed by CCC in the fall of 1974 and spring of 1975 decreased from previous years, Zeeb said. This was due primarily to an increase in the downpayment to 30 percent of the cost. The interest rate was decreased effective April 1, 1975, to 6-1/8 percent per annum under a new provision for variable interest on facility and dryers, allowing CCC to adjust its interest rate semi-annually to the current cost of funds to CCC. Zeeb also pointed out that the cost of foundations, concrete work, wiring and on-farm labor could not be included in the amount to be financed.

Over 1,135,000 bushels of on-farm storage and 67 dryers were financed through the CCC Farm Storage Facility and Dryer Loan Program during the past 12 months. Some of these loans, he noted, were started prior to October 1, 1974, when the interest rate was 8-3/4 percent.

With the anticipated increased production of most field crops in Michigan, fluctuating market prices and possible increased exports, more producers may wish to hold their crops or at least part of them for marketing later. Adequate on-farm storage, Zeeb said, provides the producer with the option of storing for sale at a later date when the market prices may be more favorable.

He noted that CCC loans administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service are available to farmers who produce any of the following crops: wheat, oats, barley, rye, corn, grain sorghum, soybeans, dry beans, flaxseed, rice, sunflower seeds, and honey. Loans for storage of wheat, corn, barley and grain sorghum no longer require that the borrower sign up under the 1975 Wheat and Feed Grain Program and crops are not limited to being eligible for price support loans.

Loans may be used for dryers, bins, augers, legs and other components of a farm grain handling and storage system.

Producers interested in a facility and dryer loan should contact their local county ASCS office before any purchase of any storage or drying equipment, Zeeb emphasized.

Ovid woman participates in "American Spirit" project

Every man, woman and child in Michigan is invited to join in a gigantic nationwide renewal and rededication of the "American Spirit" during this Bicentennial year. Chief coordinators for the "Get-The-Spirit" are Mrs. Orval Walter, 8120 W. Main Road, Ovid, Michigan VFW Auxiliary President (left) and Mrs. Glenn Grossman, Chicago, National VFW Auxiliary President (right). Assisting will be Mrs. William Bishop, Allen Park, National Director of the Auxiliary's Cancer Aid and Research Program. The program will be enthusiastically conducted by over half-a-million Auxiliary members in 6,782 units in all 50 States and District of Columbia.

Displaying the Proud American Eagle, the project's emblem and emblem of our Country's strength and solidarity, the leaders emphasize that the real greatness of America is in the spirit of her people.

"Over and over again, throughout our 200 year history, the SPIRIT OF AMERICA has demonstrated that it is the SPIRIT OF ALL OUR TIMES - yesterday, today, and tomorrow - resilient to meeting changing needs. Now, new crises face our nation - energy, pollution, unemployment, inflation, rising tide of crime, drug addiction, relationships with other nations. At no time has the American Spirit been needed more," Mrs. Grossman said. "We hope that every citizen will GET THE AMERICAN SPIRIT. The strong voice of the people of America must ring out throughout our Land, with UNITY and POSITIVENESS, rekindle faith and confidence in America, and in ourselves. This contagious spreading of patriotism and concern may very well be exactly the antidote our Country needs. There can be no more powerful weapon for apathy, disunity, and crises," Mrs. Grossman emphasized.

Mrs. Grossman reported that as a catalyst for patriotism and service, VFW Auxiliary members during the past year of voluntary service plus $15,436,433 in contributed dollars.

The Elsie Public Library needs your help as soon as possible. The new Historical Room, recently completed adjacent to the Library, is bare, aside from the furnace, lighting fixtures and carpeting.

It has been used for a local exhibit of the community's talent in Art, which was viewed by over 560 visitors last Mother's Day weekend. Then, too, the vacation "Story Hours" were held during the summer.

Now there is a need for furniture, cabinets, shelves and equipment for cataloging and displaying the many gifts to the Library pertaining to the Elsie area community over the past century and a half.

This is the help we need: Your contribution to a bake sale, which will be held Friday afternoon, Sept. 5, beginning at 1 p.m. in front of Darling's Store. Your donations of baked goods and garden produce will be greatly appreciated as well as your patronage.

This is the first in the plans for the Historical Room Committee headed by Mrs. Thelma Rule with Mrs. Zella Brewbaker as treasurer. Other members are Mrs. Jean Cobb, Mrs. Nida Dunham, Mrs. Catherine Green, Mrs. Elizabeth Hess, Dr. George W. Bennett and Jim Dorman.

Elsie recently sold their home to Mr. and Mrs. Patrick H. Flanner. Saturday afternoon, August 23, the Bashore's held a household and antique auction sale and left the same day for Naples, Florida, where they have a mobile home.

Mr. Bashore recently was a patient at the Saginaw and Ann Arbor Veteran's Hospital for several weeks, and due to ill health will make their home permanently in Florida.

This is a reminder that old nylon hosiery and Eggs from the Leggs panty hose are needed throughout the year by Memorial Hospital Auxiliary. They may be left at Dancer's Store in Elsie or given to Mrs. Helen Latz. It is a year round project.

The United Methodist Women of the Elsie United Methodist Church will resume monthly meetings Wednesday evening, Sept. 10 with a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Harold Hehrer of 8993 Meridian Road, Elsie.

Members and guests are to bring own table service and a hot and cold dish to pass. Mrs. Lyle Dunham and Mrs. Gerald Carroll will assist the hostess.

The program that follows will include summer church camp reports and election of officers.

Mrs. Orpha Clement, librarian, has already received several valuable displays, many pictures of historical interest and other memorabilia.

Cathy McGuire of Bannister and LouAnn Tomasek of St. Johns, both graduates of Ovid-Elsie High School, were recipients of scholarships of $150 each toward continuing their education.

The scholarships were awarded by the Woman's Literary Club as part of their youth projects each year.

Cathy will attend the Bible College of her choice to major in religion and music, while LouAnn has enrolled at Western State University in Kalamazoo to study Social Services.

Representing the Woman's Literary Club as the committee on Grant-in-Aid, to present the scholarships, were Mrs. Robert Elbomel, Mrs. Lawrence Hess, Mrs. Durward Conklin and Mrs. Rodney Ginther.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren O. Bashore of 248 E. Main St.,

Wholesale milk prices to go up Sept. 1

The wholesale price of milk used for bottling purposes (fluid milk) in the Lower Peninsula will go up 30 cents per hundred pounds effective Sept. 1.

The increase, designed to give dairy farmers some financial relief from rising production costs, was announced this week by Michigan Milk Producers Association (MMPA).

In the Upper Peninsula, a 30-cent-per-hundredweight increase effective Sept. 1 will move the wholesale price of fluid milk from $8.83 to $9.13 per hundredweight. That price change corresponds to an increase announced in the Chicago milk marketing area, to which milk prices in the U.P. relate directly.

The announced increase in the L.P. will bring to $9.70 per hundredweight the price paid by dairies in the southeast part of the state for milk sold in fluid form. Dairies-in-outstate areas pay somewhat less.

The newly-announced Class I (fluid milk) price level is 20 cents per hundredweight short of the price effective in January 1975.

Milk prices traditionally increase during the autumn months when milk production conditions are less favorable than at other times of the year.

The announced 30-cent increase in the L.P. conforms to recent action by the board of directors of Great Lakes - Southern Milk, Inc., a 15-state bargaining unit of which MMPA is a member.

"Dairy farmers, as big consumers of a variety of such commodities as motor vehicles, farm equipment, power fuel, electricity, feed and farm labor are fully aware of the critical pressures generated by increasing costs," said MMPA Pres. Glenn Lake, a North Branch dairy farmer.

He said the U.S. Department of Agriculture's recent index of prices that farmers must pay shows an 11 percent increase over last year. Reliable data show that most dairy farmers find themselves in a financial "loss" position with current milk prices, Lake said.

Tangible results of that kind of a cost squeeze include a market reduction in the number of dairy farms, a reduction in the number of dairy cows per farm and a decrease in milk production per cow as farmers adjust their operating patterns to keep their cash outflow in line with their incomes. The overall result has been a decline of 1.4 percent in national milk production from a year ago.

"Dairy farmers must have increases in the price of milk if adequate supplies of milk and other dairy products are to be assured," Lake said.

MMPA is a milk marketing cooperative serving some 5,400 dairy farmer members in the state.

Elsie youth in presentation ceremony

William G. Meese (left), Detroit Edison Company board chairman, has been named an Honorary State Farmer by the Michigan officers of the Future Farmers of America. Presentation ceremonies, which took place in Detroit, were attended by Kendall Nash of Pittsford [center] and Charlie Green of Elsie [right]. The degree was conferred in recognition of Meese's understanding of agriculture's role in present-day society and the professional interest he has displayed in farm problems. The presentation was included in a day-long program during which FFA officers met with Detroit Edison officials, toured the company's downtown Detroit facilities and attended a Tiger baseball game. The company sponsors an FFA Recognition Day annually. Charlie Green of the Ovid-Elsie FFA Chapter served as vice president of Region IV during the 1974-75 year while studying dairy production at Michigan State University. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Green. Kendall Nash has just completed a one-year term as FFA State Secretary.

Thwart petition threat in DeWitt Township

by Jim Schmitz
County News Writer

DEWITT TWP - Threats that there would be petitions asking that a referendum be held on the newly created special assessment district were starved off at the public hearing Aug. 20 when the DeWitt Township Board of Trustees promised to hold a public hearing March 6, 1976 to give everyone a voice in deciding if the township should return to the millage election process.

Several township residents had strongly hinted to the board at the July 16 public hearing and at recent board meetings they weren't happy with the board's May 27 decision to create a special assessment district to make up for the 1 mill that had expired with its collection this past winter. That mill had been bringing in $41,940, half which went to the police and the other half to the fire department budget.

Township Supervisor Dale Emerson said he had forgotten to put the mill on the 1974 ballot and to replace the money the mill raised. The board decided to create a special assessment district for the 1976-1977 fiscal year, which in DeWitt Township runs from April to April.

The several township residents weren't upset with paying the 1 mill, but were disenchanted because under the special election process (as opposed to the millage election process) they couldn't say yes or no at the polls.

Consequently, County Commissioner Max Calder, Joan Calder and Al Johns indicated to the board petitions asking for a referendum on the issue would circulate if the board didn't promise to return the township to the millage election process in 1976.

At the Aug. 20th hearing, the board reiterated their rationale behind their asking for a special assessment.

Eileen Corr, chairman of the public safety committee, once again told the audience her committee thought a millage election would be too expensive (about $4,000) and that the special assessment route would save the township money.

Township Treasurer Nancy Cheney backed her up.

"It seemed silly," she said, "to spend $1,500 to $4,000 on an election to get the $40,000 to $45,000."

After Township Attorney J. Richard Robinson emphasized that legally, it was too late to hold a millage election this year (taxes have to be spread on the roll by Sept. 15), Calder suggested to the board he was willing to give up his right to vote on the issue this year if the board made a verbal promise to return to the millage election process next year.

Things then got hot and heavy for a while as the unusually large 30-40 audience members and the board boxed around the idea.

The board, in their July 28 resolution, designated the assessment as 1 mill and stipulated that, within a year, they would review the special assessment and decide whether or not they wanted to return to the millage election process.

The audience wasn't satisfied with that and wanted the board to make a definite commitment that evening to reinstate millage elections for police and fire in 1976.

Finally, a peeved Emerson groaned that if the people were in favor of that, he would vote to do so after the last tax collection date, Feb. 28.

Robinson, however, cautioned the board against making a definite statement to rescind the special assessment in 1976 until next year's taxes are collected. If the board did that, he said, people might get the wrong impression they don't have to pay the special assessment for the 1976-1977 fiscal year.

As the often rough and rocky hearing came to a close, there seemed to be general audience consensus for the suggestion that a public hearing be held in March 1976 to find out which method township residents favor in deciding their police and fire millage.

Mrs. Calder also indicated she and others would circulate petitions to get a cross section of opinion on how township residents feel on the issue.

Middlebury

A baby shower was held Wednesday evening in the dining room of the Middlebury United Methodist Church to honor Janet Kunding and infant daughter, Karen Joy, with about 48 guests present. Readings were given by Lucile VanDyne and Clarice Semans. Callista Reed presented an evening with the "Baby Dolls" from her large doll collection. She also had a display of old fashioned baby clothes, shoes and dishes. The gift table was decorated with pink and white streamers and stuffed animals. An old fashioned sled, walker, doll buggy and doll bed completed the decor of the room. The honored guest sang an original lullaby she has been using on her new daughter, after which she opened her many lovely and useful gifts. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses, Clarice, Lorna and Bunny Semans.
