St Johns to vote Tuesday on bond issues

ST JOHNS -- St Johns voters go to the polls Tuesday (Sept 11) to determine the fate of a sanitary and storm sewer issue proposed by the City Commission to cure problems suffered by community residents for several years.

The projects total $5,959,900 with $4,510,000 estimated to update the sanitary sewer system.

A total of 75% or $3,382,500 of the project is to be financed with a federal grant with another $225,500 coming from a state grant.

Local funding for the sanitary system will be $902,000, or 20% of the project.

Total cost of the storm sewer proposal is $1,449,900, to be financed completely locally.

manager, said the city can no longer efficiently handle storm water with the current storm sewer system and said the sanitary system is rapidly nearing its maximum capacity.

He said standing water in many parts of the city during moderate or heavy rainfalls and during the spring thawing season are visual evidence of the inadequate storm sewer system.

WEATHERWAX said the need for improved and added sanitary sewer equipment is needed to handle the increased population in the city and to meet standards set by the State Water Resources Commission.

In a release to the press earlier announcing the proposed bond issue, it was stated: "The expansion of the Wastewater Plant recommended by our plant engineers, Hubbel, Roth and Clark, has 3 important elements.

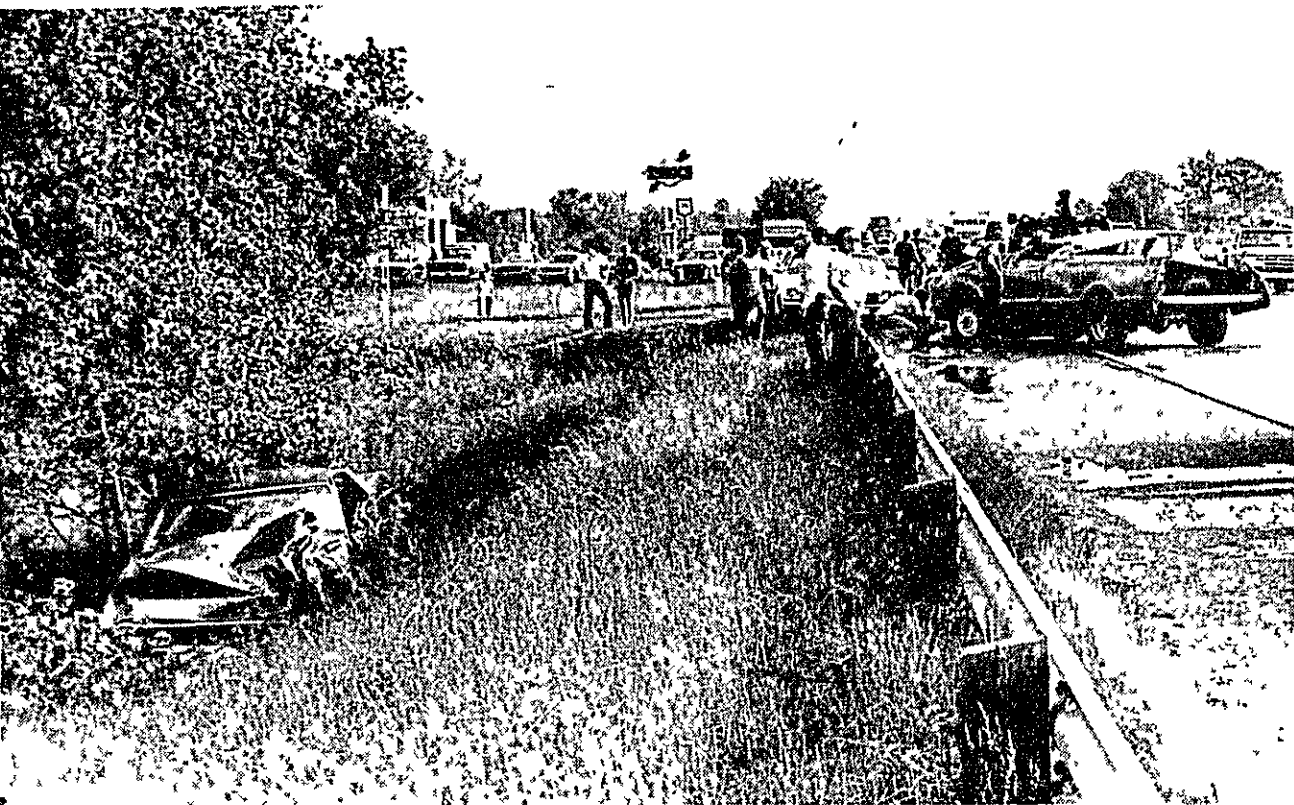

"The 1st is the higher quality treatment which the State Water Resources Commission has ordered us to do. This method of treatment would include removal of phosphorus and tertiary treatment of solids.

"The 2d element is the adding of a capacity to the plant in general. The new design is formulated to serve the projected population of 13,000. The 3d element is the construction of an equalization basin at the plant to eliminate flooding of the plant and eventual backups during peak periods."

"Upon the recommendations of our engineers, the city has filed for another EPA grant for a southern sewer system. This project includes a new lift station and force main from the south side of the community Wastewater Plant.

"THE PURPOSE of the system would be primarily to alleviate the flooding experienced in the city's southern sections and to service those areas of the city not presently served by municipal utilities."

IT WILL COST $830,126 for trunk sewers, $172,453 for lateral sewers, $351,321 for replacement sewers and $96,000 for holding ponds.

If approved Tuesday, millage to finance the work in St Johns will be about 4.42 mills.

City Commissioners have not announced an exact millage rate, but announced earlier it would not exceed the 4.42 mark.

Ballot goof requires 2d vote

BATH -- Just when school officials had relaxed and figured a new high school was on its way a mistake in the wording of the school election ballot was discovered.

Now voters must return to the polls Oct 15 and vote on the $2.9 million bond issue a 2d time.

The school board discovered last week that the ballot proposition did not include a part of the resolution which read "to erect, furnish and equip a new high school." The board noticed the mistake when it was preparing papers to send to the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission, which is required before bonds can be sold.

The money has already been approved. At stake is the actual construction of the new school.

Miller, Paddock, Canfield and Stone, the school's attorneys located in Lansing, are apparently responsible for the goof, and have volunteered to finance the Oct 15 election.

The mistake in the bond issue's wording went unnoticed by the 911 Bath voters who turned out for the election.

A citizens' committee, actively working toward the construction of a new high school had emphasized this as the major part of the election issue.

Voters apparently thought the bond issue, as it appeared on the ballot, included the construction of a new facility.

In a statement released by the school board, it was noted that the sole purpose of the October election is to allow the use of monies already voted to build the new school.

Parolee pleads guilty to cattle rustling charge

ST JOHNS -- Orvin D. Forbes, 34 year-old parolee from Jackson State Prison, pleaded guilty Aug 30 in Circuit Court to a charge of larceny of livestock. Earlier that morning he waived preliminary examination and declined the assistance of an attorney in District Court.

Forbes is charged with the theft of a Charolais-Holstein cow valued at $750 on Aug 27, from the farm of Eldoris Hahn, 7186 W Chadwick Rd in Riley Twp. The animal was found butchered the next morning by Hahn, who called the Clinton County Sheriff Dept.

Its throat had been slashed and the 4 quarters removed with a hand saw, which was left at the scene. Subsequent investigation revealed that the cow had been shot between the eyes with a 22 calibre rifle. The cow was one of a herd of 8 cattle and 1 calf.

Neighbors secured a description of Forbes' car and a partial license number. Clinton County Detective Sgt Richard May and Deputy Ray Graham learned that a warrant had been issued for Forbes' arrest on a parole violation, and the search began.

Assisting in the search were the Livingston County Sheriff Dept, Washtenaw County Sheriff Dept, Lansing Police, Portland Police and the Clare County Sheriff Dept. Forbes was arrested in Ann Arbor where he was then charged with livestock larceny and transported back to St Johns by Det May and Deputy Graham.

Following Forbes' guilty plea, he told District Judge Leo Corkin he did not want a lawyer. In a statement to the Court, he said he stole and butchered the cow because he needed the money to pay for a specialist for his ill son.

He said he got scared after he put the 4 butchered quarters in his car, threw the rifle in a ditch and the meat in the Grand River. Forbes said he was drunk earlier in the day, but was not at this time.

Forbes was paroled from Jackson Prison at Christmas, where he had been serving time for breaking and entering. He failed to post $2000 bond, and is being held in the county jail on the larceny of livestock and parole violation charges.

Sentencing will take place Sept 10 at 1:30 pm in Circuit Court. The Mayer brothers, who pleaded guilty to larceny of livestock on Aug 27, stemming from a separate incident, will also be sentenced at this time.

Go into mediation

DEWITT -- Negotiators were waiting to either go into mediation or hear from DeWitt School superintendent James Ritchie as school officials began Tuesday with no contract agreements.

A mediation date has been announced for Wednesday night at 7:30. Ed Connors is the mediator.

According to Robert Holzhei, chief negotiator for the DeWitt Education Association, a conflict had developed between the negotiation team and the superintendent.

Holzhei said that Ritchie had earlier said that he would agree to a proposal if the education association would meet him half-way.

According to Holzhei that's what was done, but he said Ritchie "backed off" and indicated, as far as he was concerned, that he had never made a salary proposal.

It was also said that Ritchie threatened termination for teachers if they went on strike.

HOLZHEI SAID the proposal presented in behalf of the DeWitt teachers was "consistent with other systems in the state and county and was not high nor out of range."

He added the conflict came over a possible difference of $20 per each teacher.

Lucille Mismar, president of the DeWitt Education Association, said that when negotiations broke off, the primary stumbling block was the salary difference.

When contacted Tuesday afternoon, she said that 2 usual procedures on the 1st day of school for teachers had not taken place.

She said teachers received no forms for insurance or for salary payments to indicate how many pay periods in which teachers wished to have their pay checks divided.

"If we don't get paid or our insurance premiums are not paid, there's no telling what might happen," she said.

SHE SAID, as of the previous week, the teacher's insurance premiums for September had not been paid and she had not been informed since then that payments were made.

Tests continue on Bath Twp's Park Lake

BATH -- Once again business centered around whether or not Park Lake is polluted at Monday evening's township board meeting. Present to answer questions and evaluate test results were Robert Barnes from the Mid-Michigan Health Dept, assisted by David Cracker and Donald Oderkirk.

A few local residents tried to get Barnes to say the lake is safe for swimming, but were unsuccessful in their attempts. Barnes stated repeatedly that the health department must make a series of tests over a longer period of time to decide the question.

Currently the department has tested 8 different stations on the lake. "We can talk cholorform counts at each station," Barnes said, "but it wouldn't be accurate yet."

"SO FAR," he added, "The counts have been quite high. We need a series of at least 10 samples."

Barnes stated that the 8 sites were chosen because of the activity near them. One station, located near Mel's Bait Shop, showed an "introduction of waste, oil slick and build-up of silt."

Donald Oderkirk noted that another station near Rikark Park on the east end of the lake showed raw sewage on the lake's surface.

WHEN QUESTIONED if a sewer would clean up Park Lake's problems, Barnes replied that it would "clean it up to about 99% pure."

He added, when pressed, that "I can't say close up (post no swimming signs) at this point, but I'd like to based on what I've learned."

Barnes promised the health department would do as much testing as possible, but noted that other activities such as a food inspection had to be done as well.

Oderkirk came to Barnes' defense toward the end of the discussion. "Water samples, on the whole, are borderline," he stated.

"A LOT OF people are looking for yes or no answers," he continued, and explained that these cannot be provided until more testing is done.

"We have areas I certainly wouldn't swim in," he added. "I don't think any of these sites looked good... the question is 'the degree of pollution.'"

Virginia Zeeb, a member of the health department's board of directors informed the township board that they have asked the department to find those guilty of dumping sewage in the lake and "put the arm on 'em."

Tuesday accident fatal

ST JOHNS -- A St Johns man was killed and a Chelsia man is listed in fair condition following a 2-car crash late Tuesday night on US-27 near Price Rd.

Pronounced dead at the scene by the county medical examiner was Thomas Dean Cox, 21, 506 S Lansing St, St Johns. Clinton County Sheriff reports indicate Cox was heading north in the southbound lane of US-27 at the time of the accident.

ST. JOHNS - During the past few weeks, St. Johns city officials have attempted to explain through the news media and other informational sources the details of the proposed storm sewer and sanitary bond issue.

With the Sept 11 election now less than a week away, Randy Humphrey, city administrative assistant, capsuled for the County News the intent of the bond issue.

"The major aim," he explained, "of the proposals is to eliminate the water problems city residents have suffered over the years."

"The proposed storm system will allow for the handling of rain water in a manner that will eliminate the flooded streets of the past.

"The emphasis will be to service the old existing areas of town with new adequate sized outlets for their water. The beneficial effect of the new system will be felt city-wide."

DISCUSSING THE sanitary sewer proposal, Humphrey said, "The sanitary proposal will allow for the needed capacity for the treatment plant as well as the level of treatment required by the state and federal pollution agencies.

"The new sanitary system would end the flooding of residential basements and allow most of those homes already with the city who now have to maintain their own septic tanks to gain the benefit of city utilities."

Responding to questions about whether or not the proposed systems are designed to service private developers, Humphrey explained, "The city's Subdivision Control Ordinance in Section 15 requires in a new development that the subdivider has to provide for the extension and placement of the sanitary and storm sewers at the subdividers expense.

"Therefore, in response to question in this regard, the bond issue is not designed to service such developers."

"The aim is to cure the water problems that have plagued the city and provide the required treatment of sewage."

"THE DESIGNING of capacity for the future is the wise and prudent outgrowth of these, the real reasons, which make the proposal necessary today."

Chamber offers welcome and congratulations

ST. JOHNS - The goodwill arm of the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce, a group calling themselves "The Ambassadors" made 3 calls last week welcoming 2 new merchants to the city and extending congratulations to a 3d for completion of a remodeling program and business expansion.

Under the direction of board member Roy Ebert, the group visited St. Johns Music Center and Town and Country Carpets, 2 recent additions to the city's business community.

Jobs available through MESC

CLINTON COUNTY--Beginning this week the County News will publish a listing of job openings in the area provided by the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC). Persons interested in these positions should apply in person at the MESC St. Johns office, located at 911 E State St, between the hours of 8 am-noon.

Another aide is needed in the St. Johns area. Pay and requirements are the same. Also in the Ovid area is an opening for a part-time cleaning person. No experience is required, and this job pays $1.60 per hour.

Openings this week include 1 full-time and 1 part-time service station attendant in the St. Johns area. The positions pay $1.85 per hour and require some experience in service station work.

Five salesperson-drivers are needed in the DeWitt area. Requirements include a chauffeur's license. Those hired will be paid on a commission basis.

A sales clerk position is open in the St. Johns vicinity. Some experience in sales is required. The job pays $1.60 per hour. Also needed is a material handler for the Lansing area. This position pays $2.00 per hour, and applicants must have a driver's license.

Two resign in DeWitt

DEWITT - Following the announcement by 2 DeWitt City Council members Tuesday night, it appears there are going to be 2 more vacancies on the Council.

Dorothy Keck, city clerk, read letters of resignation from both at the Tuesday night meeting of the Council.

Wilcox said he is moving outside of the city limits and Mull said he did not have the time to devote to Council matters.

Both will become effective Sept 13 and are expected to be acted upon by the Council at the Sept 17 meeting.

In other action the Council said an attempt will be made to meet with DeWitt Township in an effort to establish a policy to allow hook-ins to the township sewer line in the southern portions of the community.

Members of the DeWitt Development Corporation were present at the meeting and explained their difficulty with delays concerning a golf course proposed by the Corporation.

Tom Clayton told the Council he felt the township wanted an agreement worked out with the city for a combined system.

In other business, the Council was informed that a traffic radar being used by the City Police has resulted in the stopping of 72 drivers and warnings had been issued.

The need for a full-time patrolman was also discussed and Ronald Mulls said, "We really don't have the funds this year, but at the earliest date in the spring, we should take a real close look to see what we can do about the situation."

A new building and zoning administrator, Gary Newcomb was named to replace Orla McGuire who resigned from the position at the last council meeting. Newcomb will be paid a $3.50 per hour starting salary.

New Relief For Arthritic Sufferers

Oconomowoc, Wis. - Millions of sufferers from chronic aches and pains can look forward to relief of much of the pain and suffering. The U.S. Government has approved and is now using a home health and therapy method invented here.

William Sholin, a local area engineer, feels he has made a real health breakthrough. The product is called Percuss-O-Whirl. Its relaxing and soothing effect is wonderful for relieving pain. Best of all it is accomplished without having any electricity or even metal in the bathtub.

PERCUSS-O-WHIRL HELPS LOCAL PEOPLE

Rev. J.H. DeHaan of Waupun says, "We have had our Percuss-O-Whirl for about 3 months and my wife uses it daily. It is very helpful in alleviating the pain and stiffness of her arthritis. We feel that anyone suffering from arthritis can benefit greatly from this treatment and recommend the Percuss-O-Whirl heartily."

Mrs. Bernice Barchett, Registered Nurse, of Watervliet, Mich., writes, "We use it every day. I haven't taken any cortisone since starting the baths. I just can't believe it is so effective."

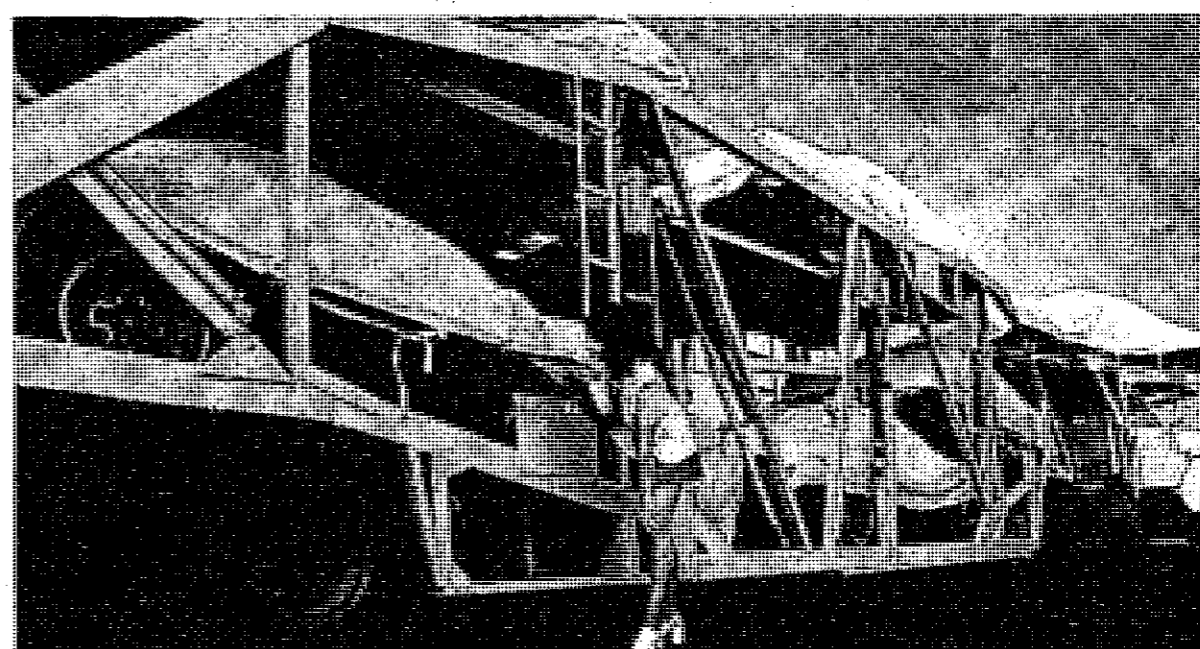

Additional information can be received by writing Sholin Mfg. Co., P.O. Box 106, Dept. 299 Oconomowoc, Wis. 53066.

Diann Delcamp; Thomas Foerch wed in Owosso

Recently returned from a honeymoon in the southern states are Mr and Mrs Thomas E. Foerch, who were married Aug 3 at the West Owosso Church of Christ.

The bride is the former Diann Lee Delcamp, daughter of Mr and Mrs John J. Delcamp of Owosso. She is a graduate of the Owosso Beauty Academy. Parents of the groom are Mr and Mrs Gail Foerch of Maple Rapids. He attended Ferris State College and is a graduate of Lansing Community College.

The Rev Eldon Carlson officiated at the wedding in which the bride wore a gown and veil designed and fashioned by her mother, Mrs Delcamp also fashioned and designed the attendant's gowns.

The bride's gown was white organza over white satin featuring a high neckline applied with lace, which also formed a yoke. A wide organza ruffle hemmed the gown and extended up the back to the waist and was topped with a large bow. A petal headpiece decorated with seed pearls secured her waist length veil and she carried a cascade of yellow daisies and baby's breath. Matron of honor, Mrs John Delcamp, Jr, of Mt Clemens, wore an orange acrylic cotton with white forget-me-not trim accented by a ruffled hemline and sashed waist. She carried a closed parasol of the same material and had a corsage of yellow daisies and white baby's breath. Identical gowns and flowers adorned the bridesmaids, Darlene Howe and Joyce Humphrey.

Glenn Foerch of St Johns attended the groom as best man. Groomsman were Curt Swanson of Houghton and Dennis Halsted, Maple Rapids. Mack Logsdon of Perrinton and Paul Avery of St Johns seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs Delcamp chose a pale green polyester crepe gown with organza sleeves and seed pearl trim. Her flowers were yellow rosebuds and baby's breath. Mrs Foerch wore a yellow chiffon gown with olive green ribbon trim. She was presented with a corsage of sonora roses.

The bridegroom is a tool and die maker at Toledo Commutator. The bride designs wigs at her shop in their home.

MRS THOMAS FOERCH

Linda Redman weds Detroit man

ST. JOHNS -- Linda Jean Redman, Route 1, Kinley Rd. and Eugene David Noble of Detroit exchanged marriage vows Aug 11 at First Methodist Church. The Rev. Francis Johannides and the Rev. Charles Sutton of Blissfield officiated at the double ring and communion service. Parents of the couple are Mr and Mrs Merle Redman, Route 1, St. Johns, and Mr and Mrs Kenneth Noble of Farmington.

Barbara Davis accompanied Sally and Jim Roach, who sang "One Hand, One Heart," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Bless This House." Pink glads and white mums adorned the altar.

The bride selected a floor length gown of white silk sheer trimmed with mabelle lace. Her attached chapel length train was trimmed with white bows, and her silk illusion veil was secured by a floral frame of lace. She carried a semi-cascade of pink roses and white mums.

Lola Lauro of Owosso was her sister's matron of honor. Vickie Shaw, cousin of the groom from Farmington; Carole Stoy of St. Johns, and Pokie Green, East Lansing; served as bridesmaids. Miscela Shaw, cousin of the groom from Farmington, was flower girl.

The bridesmaids wore long white and pink rose print gowns with high necklines and puffed sleeves. Each had a large white lace hat with pink velvet streamers and carried 3 pink rosebuds with white streamers.

Mrs Redman selected a floor length pink chiffon dress with beaded trim for her daughter's marriage. The groom's mother wore a long blue knit dress with ruffled trim. Each had a corsage of baby white mums and pink carnations.

Dr John Safran of Detroit served as best man. Groomsmen included Dr Robert Handlesman of Southfield; Greg Shaw, cousin of the groom from Farmington; and Porter

Redman of St. Johns, brother of the bride.

A buffet luncheon and reception were held at Niles Hall following the ceremony for the couple's 150 guests. Assisting were Dorothy Sloat, Lucille Ambrook, Mrs Donald Shaw, and Dianne Waltz. Mr and Mrs David Lockwood were host and hostess.

Special guests included Mrs E. J. Redman, grandmother of the bride; Hugh Marsh, and Mrs Donald Shaw, uncle and aunt of the couple.

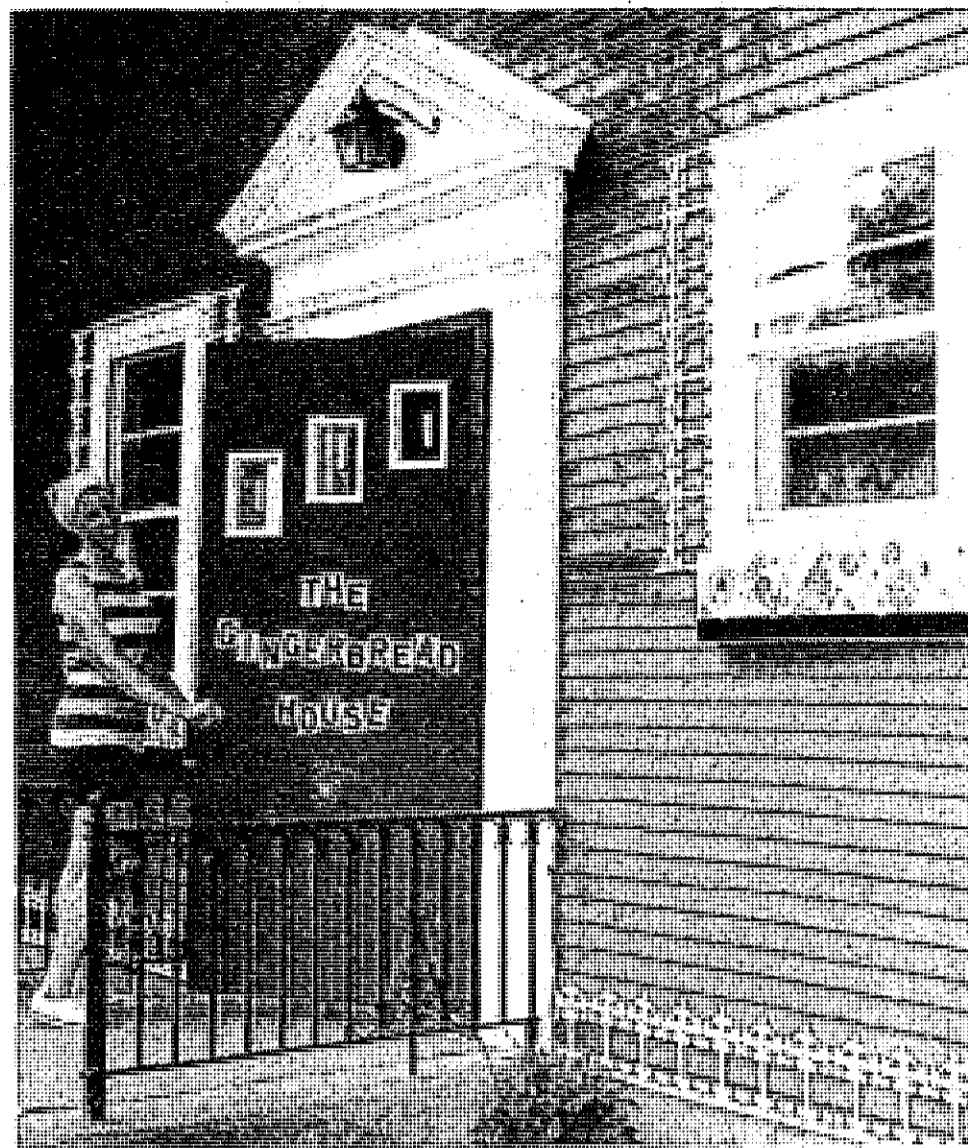

Following a honeymoon in Washington, DC, the couple will reside at 221 Grand St, Michigan Center. The groom is employed by the Michigan Employment Security Commission and the bride by the Northwest School District, Jackson.

The new Mrs Redman is a graduate of Rodney B Wilson High School, Western Michigan University and Ball State University. Her husband graduated from Shaw College.

MR AND MRS EUGENE NOBLE

Gingerbread House to open next week

Karen Valentine, owner of the soon-to-open Gingerbread House in St. Johns, smiles for the County News camera. The new nursery school is scheduled to open next week.

Chris Howe entertains County Senior Citizens

Twelve year-old Chris Howe of DeWitt entertained Clinton County Senior Citizens with a musical program at their meeting on Aug 28.

He sang several songs, accompanying himself on the electric guitar. Chris plays several other instruments in addition to the guitar.

The group's next meeting will be held Sept 11, with a potluck dinner at noon. All senior citizens are cordially invited to attend.

ST. JOHNS--Local residents strolling down west Walker St will find a new addition to the 200 block called The Gingerbread House. One may expect Hansel and Gretel to pop through the door, but beginning next week the quaint brown house will be filled with nursery school children instead.

Owned by Joan Valentine, the philosophy of the school centers around the belief that more than 80% of learning takes place before a child reaches the age of 4. Mrs Valentine said she will plan and direct activities so that children always have something to do which provides a learning experience.

She and her 2 assistants, Joy Tennant and Sharon Randall, plan to guide the children and help in providing stimulating learning experiences.

Mrs Valentine holds a BS degree in early elementary education from Eastern Michigan University, has taught kindergarten for 3 years in St. Johns, and previously taught in Guam. She recently completed a class in comparative education between British and American schools in England, and feels that the US lacks a great deal by not offering more nursery education.

The Gingerbread House has been remodeled to meet State health and fire regulations, and is licensed by the State Dept of Social Services. It will be open between 8 am and 4 pm.

Mrs Valentine's husband, Donald, is a high school vocal music teacher. They have 2 children, Kristin, age 10; and Karin, 9, and reside at 207 E. Baldwin St., St. Johns.

OVID-ELSIE

EAST LANSING - Practice makes perfect. Ovid-Elsie High School displays their musical and marching talents at Michigan State University's annual marching band clinic. They were participants in the "parade of bands" held Saturday morning.

O-E raises lunch prices

Hot lunches for students in the Ovid-Elsie School System are going to cost 5¢ more this year. Following the example set by many other school systems across the state, the Ovid-Elsie School Board voted Aug 27 to raise the price to 45¢ each with a meal ticket, and 50¢ for lunches purchased separately.

The price of milk not accompanying hot lunches was also raised to 8¢. Superintendent Don Kenney explained that there is no federal reimbursement for milk purchased separately. The 8¢ price will cover the cost of milk and handling expenses.

The board also voted to participate in the National School Lunch Program for free and reduced priced meals as outlined in federal and state guidelines.

A millage resolution was passed by the board, stating that:

WE, the undersigned members of the Ovid-Elsie Board of Education do hereby certify that the spread of the following rates and amounts have been duly and legally voted by the electors of the district and have been authorized by resolution of the Board of Education at the meeting on Aug 27, 1973.

1. Allocated for operating purposes - 8

2. Voted for operating purposes - 14

3. Extra voted for operating purposes - 0

4. Voted for debt retirement services - 6

The total number of mills comes to 28.

Tuition costs for non-residents of the district will remain at the same level as last year - $120 for high school students, $100 for junior high, and $90 for elementary students.

The board read a letter from William Morris regarding the leasing of the Carland School. No action was taken, pending further consideration of his request. Superintendent Kenney will send a letter to Morris informing him of the board's decision.

A leave of absence, not to exceed 1 year, was granted to Orlo Jones. Jones requested the leave until his health permits him to return to work.

In other action, the board accepted the resignation of Robert DeMarco, high school math teacher. The resignation was accepted with regrets.

Contracts were approved for Mary K. Bateman, high school math teacher; and Donald Gaul, high school science teacher.

April Hughson, 11, Route 1, Elsie, won the Ayrshire grand championship and senior championship at the 1973 State 4-H - Youth Dairy Days' dairy show held August 23 at Michigan State University. Awards were sponsored by the Michigan Ayrshire Breeders' Association.

Greenbush Church observes 75th anniversary

The Homecoming and 75th Anniversary of the Greenbush, United Methodist Church was held on Aug 26 with a very large attendance of former members and friends coming from Owosso, Flint, Eaton Rapids, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Hastings, Grand Rapids, Midland, Elsie, Ashley, Middleton, Eureka and Winter Haven and Sanford in Florida.

During the worship service, faithful members who were born the year the church was dedicated, in 1898, were honored, namely: Hazel Beebe, Clarence Burk, Jeanette Rosekrans, Mable Swagart, and Flossie Wakefield. Emma Whitlock was honored as the oldest member of the church.

A sermon of inspiration entitled "An Everlasting Covenant" was given by Norman Wood to the present and future leaders of the church.

The choir furnished musical numbers for both morning and afternoon services.

Unique offering boxes with long handles dating back to 1898 were used for the morning service.

A dinner was served at 1 pm. The afternoon program opened with greetings by the District Superintendent, Gerald Pohly. Former ministers responding were Kenneth Griswold and Bill Schaer.

A memorial service was conducted by Norman Wood.

Musical numbers were the following: Duet - Joyce Beebe and Jerry Beebe; Trio - Doris and Laura Shinabery and Katherine Ward; A humorous reading, Judy Romig; Trio - Adona Wood, Mary Love, and Katherine Ward; Solo - Ann McNair; Solo - Phyllis Rice; Duet - Mr and Mrs Wood; Guitar Music - Jim Fleming. Letters from former members and pastors were read by Mable Swagart and Helen Post.

Reminiscences were given by Clarence Burk, Rolland Russell, Jessamine Grain, Cecile Davis, Ida Williston, Burt and Verna Whitlock, Doris Shinabery and Katherine Ward.

The Lowe Church presented the Greenbush Church with a beautiful bouquet and the Wood family brought 3 floral arrangements and an anniversary cake.

Souvenir folders with the picture of the church and a brief history were given by the Stockwell family. Booklets containing the entire history of the church from 1849 to 1973 were passed out to the congregation at the close of the service.

Calendar of Coming Events

SEPT 9 - Bingham Grange will meet at the hall at 12:30 pm for a potluck dinner and annual Booster Day meeting. All members may come and bring a friend.

SEPT 15 - Horton Pamona Grange meets at Grove Congregational Church, 11 am, for the 4th Degree to be followed by a potluck dinner at noon. All members are asked to attend.

Newlyweds bicycle to Mackinac Island

Following problems with their motorcycle, newly married Mr and Mrs Vincent Pouch took their honeymoon trip to Houghton Lake and Mackinac Island on their 10-speed bicycles instead.

The couple, the former Susan Estelle Cheney, 14314 White Oaks Dr, Lansing, daughter of Mr and Mrs Glenn Cheney; and Vincent Wallace Pouch of Bath, son of Mr and Mrs John Pouch, 403 E Walker, St Johns; were married Aug 4 at Edgewood United Church in East Lansing.

The Rev Paige Birdwell performed the double ring ceremony, and the couple each lit a candle and exchanged them, signifying the uniting of their lives. They spoke their vows facing the guests.

Miriam Smith played "The Wedding Song" by Paul of the Peter, Paul and Mary folk trio.

The bride chose a long white gown with a bussel effect which gave it an old fashioned look. It was created with layers of lace which draped to form her train. A white picture hat covered with crepe and lace fringe, and a long satin bow completed her ensemble. She carried a colonial bouquet of white miniature mums and baby's breath, surrounded by red roses with a single large red rose in the center.

Karen Lou White of Lansing was matron of honor. She wore a floor length yellow dress with braided fringe on the bottom, a white picture hat with yellow streamers, and carried yellow roses and baby's breath. Tracey Britten of Westminster, Colo, was flower girl, and wore a pale green eyelet gown with matching hat and satin ribbon. She carried a white straw basket of yellow rose petals.

Mrs Cheney selected a 2-piece ensemble while the groom's mother wore a powder blue sheath. Each had a corsage of yellow roses.

Jeffrey S. Pouch was his brother's best man. Kenneth Pontius and Kim Bancroft seated the guests. A reception was held following the ceremony in the church social hall for the couple's 100 guests. Assisting were Elizabeth Cheney, Lorri Pouch, Jennifer Britten, Ruth Nessman, who prepared the food; Pat Parkinson, who made the bride wedding cake; and Elizabeth Pouch.

Special guests were Andrew S. VanHalteren, grandfather of the bride; Mr and Mrs Leo K. Pouch and Mr and Mrs Wallace Frayer, grandparents of the groom.

The newlyweds are residing in the Lansing area. The bride is a 1970 graduate of Eastern High School. Her husband graduated from St Johns High School in 1970. Both attended Lansing Community College.

MRS WILLIAM ORDWAY

Holden-Ordway vows spoken in St Johns

ST. JOHNS — Londa Louise Holden, daughter of Mr and Mrs Lloyd J. Holden, 16200 Fenmore Rd, Bannister; and William George Ordway, son of Mr and Mrs Aaron Ordway, 703 Kibbee St, St Johns; exchanged marriage vows Aug 18 at St Joseph Catholic Church.

The Rev Fr William Hankerd performed the double ring ceremony. Jackie Schneider accompanied soloist Paul Witgen.

The bride chose a sheer nylon organza gown, trimmed with delicate rayon acetate embroidered lace accenting the empire waist. Her A-line skirt had a wide ruffled hem which extended around the full, chapel length train. A Camelot style cap of sheer nylon organza and pearls secured her fingertip veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of orchid daisies, white sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Marvalee Wirt of Henderson was her sister's matron of honor. Another sister, Patricia Wirt of Chesaning, served as her other attendant. They wore floor length chiffon over satin gowns with lace brocade trim, in orchid and mint green respectively. Each wore a matching picture hat and carried a colonial bouquet of orchid daisies and baby's breath. Mrs Holden selected a black and white print dacron and polyester floor length gown for her daughter's wedding. The groom's mother wore a peach floor length doubleknit gown. Each was presented with an orchid corsage.

Terry Ordway of St Johns was his brother's best man. James Ordway, also a brother, was groomsmen. Gerald Holden of Bannister, brother of the bride; and Jeff Barrett, St Johns, cousin of the groom; seated the guests. Mark Ordway of St Johns, nephew of the groom, served as ring bearer.

A reception was held later in the day at the ZCBJ Hall in Bannister for the couple's 300 guests. Assisting were Shella Ordway, Judy Ordway, Linda Willson, Jan Anderson, Loretta Willson and Sue Shepard. Special guests, included Mr and Mrs W. E. Mesler and Mrs Minnie Holden, grandparents of the bride; Mrs Lottie Ordway, Marie Ewing and Mr and Mrs Raymond Ewing.

Following a southern wedding trip the newlyweds are residing at 609 Morton St, lot 40, St Johns.

The bride is a graduate of Ovid-Elsie High School. Her husband graduated from St Johns High School and is employed at Oldsmobile in Lansing.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends, It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral service, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected - these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family. The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made. Respectfully, Van W. St Johns marching band completes MSU clinic

EAST LANSING -- St Johns High School's marching band was among 24 bands from across the state which participated in Michigan State University's Marching Band Clinic held Aug 6 - Sept 1.

The clinic was lengthened this year to four 1-week sessions to accommodate more bands. Counsel was provided from MSU band directors and graduate students to prepare the bands for football season.

The students were accompanied by chaperones from their hometown, lived in university dormitories and used MSU's facilities. Each Saturday morning at 10 am, participating bands presented a part of their half-time show for the public. MSU band directors Kenneth Bloomquist and Dave Catron taped a critique for each director to use at home.

B STANLEY POCUS

Don Kenney, superintendent of Ovid-Elsie Area Schools, was recently elected president of Region VI, Michigan Association of School Administrators. Elected secretary was B Stanley Pocus, superintendent of the Clinton Intermediate School District. Region VI is an organization of superintendents and assistants covering Clinton, Eaton, Ingham, Livingston and Shiawassee Counties. MASA's purpose is to promote dialogue, idea flow and action on matters concerning schools in the state. Region VI deals with these matters at a more local level, and feeds back information and ideas to MASA through its representatives on the executive council.

Intermediate District working on agreement

ST JOHNS -- Mediation for the Clinton County Intermediate School Dist has been set for Sept 11 with employees of the district now working under an informal working arrangement. Currently unsettled are fringe benefits and salary, mileage for specialist personnel and maintenance of standards.

Because of the Lansing teachers strike, the district was instructed Tuesday to keep home any special education students utilizing Lansing facilities. Local districts will inform the parents of the students and will contact them again when teachers go back to work.

St Johns season tickets available

ST JOHNS -- This year the St Johns High School Athletic Dept will offer pre-sale season tickets in several ways. First a $20 adult ticket which will allow the holder into any athletic event during the school year. At the same time a student can buy a $10 ticket which will allow them into all athletic events. If an adult wants to come to all fall sports they can buy a ticket for $10 and the student can buy one for $5. On winter sports they can buy another for $10 and $5.

The regular season football tickets will also be available at $5 for adults and $2.50 for students. These tickets will be available at the high school office and on sale at various business places. They will also be on sale at the various gates on the first home game. In addition all senior citizens will be issued a school activity pass, this will allow the holder into all athletic events, musicals and plays. These may be obtained at the high school office anytime during the day.

This Is Beverly Archer Week

While Mrs. Archer has been involved in a long list of community activities one of her most recent pursuits has brought to fruition a long-standing idea of her boss, Bernie Feldpausch (Citizen of the Week, Dec. 1971). Mrs. Archer this past spring assumed the directorship of the Job O Youth program and it has been through her determined efforts that many young people in our community have been assisted in finding work during the summer months. Mrs. Archer has worked diligently to match jobs with youth and her efforts have been most successful. For these successes in the Job O Youth program and for all her other community activities we are pleased to honor Beverly Archer as our citizen of the week.

Car-pickup accident injures Lansing woman

ST JOHNS -- A Lansing woman is listed in good condition at Clinton Memorial Hospital following a car-pickup truck accident late Saturday afternoon at the intersection of Maple Rapids Rd and US-27. Injured was Delores Vanderley, 47, 840 Attwood, Lansing, a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Ray, age 50. The accident is still under investigation by Clinton County Sheriff Deputies, who report Vanderley was unable to stop when a pickup truck driven by Roy O Davis, 33, 8151 N Scott Rd, pulled in front of him on US-27. Davis reportedly was heading east in the median crossover when he entered the north-bound lane in front of the Vanderley vehicle. Another passenger, William Vanderley, 13, was uninjured.

Back Through the Years

From the Clinton County News files of 1971, 1962, 1947

ONE YEAR AGO
Sept. 6, 1972
Clinton County Intermediate School District is getting some much needed room with the construction of 2 buildings on US-27 2 miles south of St. Johns. A pre-engineered 72x48 foot unit to house 26 special education students will be ready for occupancy by the end of this month. Work on a $126,000 administration building is scheduled for December completion.

Terry Pfaff, son of Mr and Mrs Carl Pfaff, of Westphalia, Derby champion from St Johns arrived in Akron, Ohio, to a hero's welcome as he prepared to compete in the 35 anniversary All-American Soap Box Derby Aug. 26.

Gus Ganakas, head basketball coach at MSU will be the featured speaker Tuesday Oct 17 when St Johns area Chamber of Commerce members and guests gather for their annual awards banquet. The event serves as the occasion for announcement of the community's outstanding citizen of the past year as well as presentation of honors to the Chamber's most active member.

25 YEARS AGO
Sept. 2, 1948
Four Owosso youths, all with previously clear records, last Wednesday night smashed windows in three Clinton county schools, damaged the Victor town hall, removed a radio from a farmer's tractor and tore the flexible tubing off a crop duster in a series of depredations that resulted in at least $500 worth of damage.

State Highway Commissioner Charles Ziegler told the Republican News this week that the remaining 10 miles of the divided two-lane highway between Lansing and St Johns will be completed next year.

The official opening of St Johns Bowling Alleys Friday evening proved a highly successful event as several hundred people visited the new establishment during the course of the evening.

Clinton County young men began registering for the peacetime draft in St Johns Monday. The first three days of registration enrolled all youths in the 24-25 year-old age group.

Frank Kus, one of the county's pioneer muck farmers and onion growers, died early Saturday morning at Clinton Memorial Hospital after a long illness.

Three Mt Pleasant people were injured on US-27 near the north city limits of St Johns when their car overturned Sunday about 11:45 am.

A single bolt of lightning killed 12 registered Holstein cows early Friday morning on the Del Chase farm in Essex township.

TEN YEARS AGO
Sept. 5, 1963
The body of Charles J. Aver, 44, of R1, Eagle, was recovered from beneath a pile of burning hay at 11:45 am last Thursday after fire leveled the barn on his farm on Wright road early Thursday morning.

While Michigan and the rest of the nation were setting a record for number of traffic deaths on a Labor Day weekend, Clinton County came through the three days of highway carnage relatively unscathed.

Leo W. Corkin, 48, St Johns attorney, was named by Gov. George Romney Wednesday morning as judge for the 23rd judicial circuit which includes Clinton and Gratiot counties.

Seven criminal actions, 41 civil cases and 20 divorce actions are listed on the calendar for the September term of Clinton county circuit court, scheduled to open Monday, Sept. 9.

A PERSONAL LOOK AT THE NEWS Between the lines with Jim Edwards

A citizen of France provided the theory awhile back that, due to the word and phrase structure of the French language, it is difficult for persons to lie in French.

It seemed he was drawing a direct comparison between French and the English used by Americans.

I partially disagree that our language provides an avenue for lies, but who can deny our language in modern times is a remarkable tool to say 1 thing when you really mean something else.

Not to pick on Watergate yet another time, but out of the whole affair comes the old reliable word, "inoperable."

Rather than say previous statements were downright false, they are "labeled" inoperable.

IT REMINDS me of the Army days when a piece of machinery was broken beyond recognition, it was never broken, it was always "inoperable."

Another word making the rounds today is "scurrilous."

This word is used when I am not sure or not whether or not another really has the goods on him. You can't say he's lying, because, in your heart, you know he could be telling the truth.

Because of that chance, it just wouldn't look good to call his statements lies. Instead, label his remarks as "scurrilous." It means vulgar or coarse, but there's nothing in the word that means "lie."

Words in the English language are also wonderfully versatile in that you can replace an everyday run-of-the-vocabulary word with another that's a bit more impressive.

FOR INSTANCE, it wouldn't have sounded very impressive during the early days of space travel to say our astronauts (a wonderful word in itself) were up in the air "going around in circles." Instead every elementary school student who reads Weekly Reader knows the astronauts "orbit the earth."

Business people are also fond of using words to improve upon awkward circumstances.

"Breakdown in communications," many times could indicate they know your order hasn't been filled in 2 years and it may be another 2 years.

A 2-word phrase that seems to creep into all facets of business or government is "meaningful dialogue," but what they could have been meaning is something like, "We're gonna knock your block off and we mean it."

Of course there is 1 phrase that comes close to its own meaning, but there's really a lot more to it.

THAT PHRASE comes when the official says his agency is involved in an "exhaustive study." It seems that's just another way of saying a study for which taxpayers are going to get tired of paying.

Voters: it's up to you

St Johns voters have the opportunity Tuesday, Sept 11, to cure problems which have faced the city for several years. They can cure those problems by supporting the city's bond issue asking for approximately 4.42 mills to finance sanitary sewer and storm sewer projects.

Few can question the need for extensive storm sewer work in St Johns.

Standing water throughout the community after moderate to heavy rains has not only caused inconvenience, but, in many cases financial loss to homeowners faced with flooded basements.

While the majority of the storm sewer work needed is in the north part of St Johns, the south part of town is without adequate sanitary sewer systems.

After construction of the projects, some benefits will be realized by several areas immediately, but as the years pass the entire community will benefit from both an economic and health standpoint.

At this time, we have the right to choose ourselves whether or not to finance such work.

The time may not be far away when the state and federal government will do as they have in so many other areas—that is to say, "We don't care whether or not you can pay for it -- do it."

At this time St Johns voters have the opportunity to vote for a vast improvement in the community and we encourage all to make the best of that opportunity

—JE

View from the Senate

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

For people buying or selling property, Oct 1 is an important date to remember.

For prospective buyers, the date will be welcome. For sellers of 10 or more parcels of subdivided land over any period of time, it probably will not be so welcome.

The date -- Oct 1 -- marks the effective date of Michigan's new Land Sales Act, which is designed to protect the public from unscrupulous developers who, oftentimes in the past, have been guilty of misrepresentation or false promises in advertising as well as other questionable sales practices.

IT'S ESTIMATED that more than 2,000 Michigan developments must be registered by the new deadline. Penalties for failure to do so include a $2,000 fine or 90 days in jail for engaging in a deceptive act or practice and a $25,000 fine and 10 years imprisonment for knowingly using false or fraudulent statements in advertising.

In addition, a purchaser may rescind a sales contract for unregistered, non-exempt property and receive a purchase price refund, 6% interest, costs and "reasonable" attorney's fees.

For their own protection, citizens purchasing property before the Oct 1 deadline -- when the tougher regulations go into effect -- should beware of misleading offerings, misrepresentation and false promises, and of purchase agreements that do not contain all the terms of the transaction.

Prospective purchasers should inspect the property personally and check on the water supply, septic systems and permits, the availability of utilities, accessibility to the site, availability of a clear and marketable title, and all finance or service charges, taxes, special assessments, closing costs, and association or maintenance fees.

FOR THE SELLER, the new law is complex. Application forms run to 15 pages, as do the instruction sheets, and emergency rules cover 13 pages. The law requires conformity to financial, legal, promotional, advertising, sales and other restrictions before a parcel of land may be sold.

Necessary information may be obtained from the Director of Land Sales Division, Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation, 1008 South Washington Avenue, Lansing, 48926.

Fees are basically $250 for registration; $200 for consolidation registration; and $100 for an annual registration renewal, with varying smaller fees for each lot, unit, parcel or interest included in the application or added to the original application.

Information which must be made available by Oct 1 includes detailed data on ownership and general description of subdivided lands; encumbrances, easements, liens and restrictions; intended use of the property; and information about existing or proposed improvements.

REGULATIONS governing operations by developers and others acting on their behalf are numerous and complex but, basically, they may not:

- 1) Induce a purchaser to sign a contract without all spaces being filled or with all inapplicable spaces not clearly stricken.
- 2) Alter or deface a document or writing without the voluntary consent of the purchaser.
- 3) Discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin in an offer to sell, finance, or otherwise dispose of land.
- 4) USE A METHOD of rebate of interest or finance charge which requires or results in a purchaser paying more interest or finance charges on prepayment than he would have if he had financed for the shorter period.
- 5) Make a promise with no intent to perform it.
- 6) Fail to reveal to the purchaser or prospective purchaser all terms, conditions, notices or amount of any contract, agreement, option, deed, property report or other evidence of the purchaser's indebtedness.
- 7) Falsely misrepresent the land, utilities available, restrictions or conditions.
- 8) REPRESENT THAT a prospective buyer must act quickly to purchase land at a savings because the price is to rise soon.

9) Represent that he will buy back or otherwise dispose of purchased property unless this is true.

10) Engage in misleading or fraudulent promotion or advertising schemes.

Copies of the voluminous rules may be obtained from the Division of Land Sales in Lansing.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. Several weeks ago, I left my summer job to return to school. I earned a total of $1700 from the job. I won't have any more income for the remainder of the year. Does this mean that I won't have to file in 1974?

A. In general, if you are single, you don't have to file a return unless you made more than $2050. However, if income tax was withheld from your pay, you must file a return to have that tax refunded to you.

Q. My husband works, and now that I'm two children are in their teens, I also plan to take a job. If I hire a maid to clean the house and keep an eye on the children when they are home, can I get a tax deduction for her salary?

A. If your dependent children are under 15, you may be entitled to a deduction for amounts you pay a person for household services necessary to the operation of your home and for the well-being and protection of your children.

There are a number of limitations on the child care deduction. For instance, for a full deduction, you and your husband must not have more than $18,000 in combined income. For every dollar your income exceeds $18,000, your deduction is reduced by 50 cents. This means that if your income reaches $27,600, your deduction will completely disappear. For information on other limitations on the deduction, write your local Internal Revenue office for a free copy of IRS Publication 503, "Child Care and Disabled Dependent Care."

Q. I've taken out thousands of dollars worth of life insurance on my life with proceeds payable to my wife and children. If something should happen to me, will the proceeds be included in my estate and will federal estate tax have to be paid?

A. First, no federal estate tax is due if the value of the estate on the date of death is $60,000 or less. Secondly, the insurance proceeds on your life are included in the estate only if they are receivable by the estate or by another for the benefit of the estate or you possessed an incident of ownership in the policy.

This last requirement is especially important. It means that if you hold legal title to the policy or have the power to change beneficiaries, revoke an assignment, pledge the policy for a loan or surrender or cancel the policy, the proceeds of the policy will be included in your estate.

For more details, see IRS Publication 448, "A Guide to Federal Estate and Gift Taxation." It's available for 50 cents from your IRS district office or Government Printing Office bookstore.

Q. I had to pay interest and a penalty for filing a late tax return. I know the interest is deductible. What about the tax penalty?

A. Although the interest charged on tax payments is deductible, tax penalties are not.

TODAY'S Real Estate

by HANK FURMAN

The Roman influence in house architecture was obvious in Europe right through the Middle Ages. The castles were heavily fortified, but the houses of serfs and peasants were usually simple structures of one or more rooms with masonry walls and thatched or sodded roofs. More elaborate farmhouses were built later usually in the form of a rectangular farmyard enclosed by sheds, barns, etc. The house was generally of two stories. In rural America, there is something of the Roman influence to be seen even today!

From a simple to elaborate, FURMAN REALTY CO., 1515 North U.S. 27, 224-3236 has a fine selection of homes available for you to choose from, and we will be happy to help you find the one best suited to your needs, taste and budget. And whether you're buying or selling, we make sure you understand every last detail of your transaction. Hours: 8:30-5 Mon-Fri; 9:30-3 Sat; & by app't.

"If It Fizz . . . How to butter corn

Editor, Lapeer County Press
By Jim Fitzgerald

My wife claims normal people wouldn't believe how it is that I can state, without fear of contradiction, that I always sit exactly 1 yard away from the TV set.

But what does she know? She doesn't even know how to butter corn on the cob.

The corn business really surprised me. And I live in a house ruled by cats, so I don't surprise easily. I guess the surprise came from the fact that she waited until we had been married 18 years before she criticized the way I attack corn on the cob. She usually doesn't wait 18 seconds before telling me what is wrong with me.

I WOULD RATHER eat corn on the cob than anything you could name, except possibly fresh peaches on ice cream. I mention this only to stress that this is no trivial subject I am laying on you this week. As President Nixon might say, let our people fret about the small, unimportant things. We big people will get on with the business of running this country and eating corn on the cob.

I was preparing to attack my 3rd ear the other evening when my wife suddenly said: "You butter all of your corn at the same time!"

She said it the same way she might have said: "You just cut off your son's head!"

And she continued: "You are supposed to butter only the rows you are going to eat on -- trip along the cob. Then you butter and salt some more rows, and eat them, and so on. That way you don't drip butter all over your chin and my furniture."

"I WANT a divorce," I said.
And I continued: "I have always eaten my corn this way, I cannot butter particular rows and then eat them, and then butter some more rows, and then eat them. This is because I do not chomp evenly along the cob, like a typewriter. I sometimes spy some particularly luscious-looking kernels, perhaps above the rows currently under attack, or maybe below. I will often bite up, or dip down, as the case may be, to eat those kernels. I do this for fear the world might end before I reach that particular row under the normal scheme of things, and I would never get to eat those choice kernels. A man never knows what the future holds. You can't be too careful. Naturally, I don't want to eat any unbuttered kernels, so . . ."

"DIVORCE GRANTED," she interrupted. And, as she left the room, she muttered a snide and typically irrelevant remark about how I reach the TV set.

Actually, my TV habit makes good sense, the same as my corn buttering. There is something wrong with the channel switch, but not much. The picture disappears every once in awhile but all you have to do is touch the switch and the picture returns. Naturally, I am not going to get up out of my chair every time that switch needs touching. So I jab it with a stick.

That's how I know for sure that I sit 1 yard away from the TV set. I use a yardstick.

My wife insists this is strange behavior. But I am not offended. I am not sure she is a good judge of strangeness. The other day, so help me, I overheard her asking the cats if they believed Nixon was telling the truth.

ONWARD AND UPWARD, and it is OK to jump rows.

Ed's crazy. I don't mean insane -- he just does some weird things. Like making Aunt Matilda's Annihilator. The recipe comes from an ancient book with yellow pages and a musty smell -- predecessor of Betty Crocker's Cookbook and What To Do 'Till the Doctor Arrives, all rolled into one. Ed found the moth-eaten old thing at a junk sale, along with his alligator wallet bearing a 1923 silver inscription.

Guaranteed to cure gout, constipation and heart disease, the stuff is also supposed to be a terrific shampoo, gentle enough for even the most delicate tresses, and a good preparation for cleaning newborn swine.

I first decided he was going to blow the roof off his house last week when I stopped by and found him pouring over the list of ingredients to make sure he hadn't omitted anything. Whew--you need Ammonia, ivory snow flakes, saltpeter, boric acid, a potato masher, and a bunch of other stuff I can't remember or never heard of.

I told him he was crazy. He just laughed, "Haw, haw, haw," slid his glasses back up on his nose, and handed me a root beer.

Out of the refrigerator came a Coke bottle full of ammonia. He mixed the cold ammonia with some other white gunk strained it through cheesecloth into a coffee can, and stuck it under my nose for inspection.

The smell of that concoction was hard to believe. After a few sneezes I managed to reiterate my belief that he was nuts. Annihilator sure was an appropriate name for the stuff. I'll bet Aunt Matilda didn't live very long.

Well, the project took several days to complete, what with all the different steps to be completed and various stages where it had to "set a spell." The annihilator was a success, or so he says. He tried it on his hair, and it's still on his head, so I guess he's right. And the roof on his house is sturdier than I thought.

Don't ask for it, to be advertised in the Sears catalog, though. I think he's planning to give it away as Christmas presents.

Crusade scheduled

An evangelistic crusade will begin Wednesday, Sept 5, and continue through Sunday, Sept 16 at the First Assembly of God Church, located at the corner of US-27 and E Baldwin, St Johns.

Basell and Brown Evangelistic Team will be ministering in these services. Rev Andrew Basell of Lansing, Mich, is featured speaker. He has traveled extensively over 23 years in the evangelistic ministry, and has served pastorates in Michigan and Ohio.

The services will be held nightly at 7:30 with the exception of Monday and Saturday. Each service is highlighted by preaching, prayer for the sick, inspirational congregational singing and special music.

Lila Basell Brown who plays the electric Hawaiian guitar, accordion, piano and organ is a soloist and a children's worker.

The pastor, The Rev Joseph F Eger, Jr and congregation extend a welcome to the public.

Barbara Magee is Club's rodeo queen

Barbara Magee of DeWitt, Oldsmobile's Outdoor Club Rodeo Queen, will be among those heading up the Fronter Days Parade in Charlotte on Saturday, Sept. 8. The parade begins at 11 a.m.

Ms Magee is a 1966 graduate of DeWitt High School, was a member of the cheerleading team for 3 years, and also was a member of the Queen's Homecoming Court for 2 years.

Prior to her employment at Oldsmobile, where she is a secretary in the fleet sales dept, she worked as a secretary for an attorney, a doctor, stock brokerage firm and for Paramount Pictures in New York City.

Her personal hobbies include decorating, cooking, sports and travel.

Rotary officer visits St Johns

ST JOHNS - The St Johns Rotary Club played host to the district governor Tuesday and his visit to the city was marked by a day-long program of events.

One of his biggest assignments during his term in office will be to host a conference for all the clubs in his district. Plans for that event, scheduled for April 19-20, 1974, are already underway.

While in St Johns Dean Lavey met with White and other Rotary officials to discuss the local club's activities and administrative matters. These meetings were supplemented by his attendance at the Rotary luncheon at Colonial Restaurant and an evening gathering for Rotarians and their wives at Daley's Restaurant.

REV. LAVEY

The Very Rev Benjamin V. Lavey of Kalamazoo was welcomed to St Johns by Rotary President Brandon C. White, Jr and White escorted the governor to the various business and social events the club sponsored throughout the day.

Father Ben, as he is known to many, is the Dean of the Episcopal Cathedral in Kalamazoo and is one of 344 Rotary governors through the world who are serving as representatives of Rotary International in districts composed of member clubs. He presides as governor of District 636 of which St Johns Rotary Club is a part.

Dean Lavey is a member of the Rotary Club of Kalamazoo and a past president of the Rotary Club of Sturgis. He was elected to office at the Rotary Convention in Lausanne, Switzerland in May 1973 and will serve until June 30, 1974.

A seasoned Rotarian before his election to the office of district governor, Father Ben attended an international assembly last May in Lake Placid, NY at which all Rotary governors attended in-depth seminars to prepare for their terms.

Seasonings can make or break a dish. Keep in mind that it's always best to under-season. Dried herbs and spices are stronger than fresh. For the most part, 1/4 teaspoon will do the trick for four servings. Butter, of course, enhances and blends the flavors of your seasoned and spiced vegetables, sauces, meats, soups, etc.

What to do if you lose your dog

by Jose Llinas

If you have never gone through the agonizing pain of losing a dear family pet, a companion of many years, this note will probably not interest you.

But if, like many of us, you own a dog or a cat or even a hamster, you may want to understand and take away a few pieces of important knowledge about the problem, which I found in a new publication from the Geigy pharmaceutical company.

Dogs do get lost, for instance. That in itself is bad enough. But dogs get stolen in frightening numbers by independent and organized types who steal for the reward, or to sell them to laboratories for experimental uses.

Few, if any dog owners, have any organized plan to recover their dogs, and a concerted plan of action is mandatory.

But, before we go into that, is there any way you can prevent the catastrophe, in the first place? Dog tags and licenses are of course a help, but not all dogs are licensed, nor do they all wear a collar.

A young doctor at Princeton University, who had lost his own dog, created some years ago the first tattoo service and dog registry (the tattooed number is registered with a central agency). Today there are several registries and more than one method of tattooing, which your local veterinarian or Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals may know about.

It is inexpensive, safe, painless, and provides your dog with lifelong identification. Thieves won't steal a tattooed dog, because the labs won't buy them.

Now, what to do if your dog disappears, whether identifiable or not?

1. Once you find the dog missing, make two immediate phone calls - to the police and to the local shelter.

2. Sit down and write a lost dog notice, with a detailed, clear and accurate description. It is essential to mention a reward. If your dog is stolen, the dog is likely to be destroyed if the thieves don't learn of a reward.

Have the notice reproduced and order a lot of copies because you'll have to plaster the neighborhood.

3. Consult your neighbors, especially the children, local merchants, policemen on the beat, and the news vendor. If possible, distribute pictures of the dog.

4. Prepare an ad for the local newspapers - being sure to mention a reward. Try your local TV and radio stations - some may have a lost-pet service.

5. Go to the local shelter and look for yourself. They are too busy for the most part, to take pains. Patrol the neighborhood yourself and remember that most recovered dogs are found in the first 48 hours.

This is about all you can do, except for these two final tips from experts:

1. Spayed or neutered dogs rarely get lost because they don't tend to roam.

2. If you find your dog missing while you are out on a picnic or in a rustic setting, leave a sweater or a blanket in a secluded spot.

Often a dog will locate the familiar scent and stick around until you get back.

DeWitt Township Meeting

Synopsis of the Regular meeting of the DeWitt Township Board held on August 27, 1973 at the Township Hall, 780 E Wieland Road, Lansing, Michigan.

The Supervisor and the Transportation Committee will check on Mr Forrest's complaint. Dick's Barber Shop will be informed that the sewer factor cannot be less than one. Adopted a resolution on the sewer billing for Code # DE 1863.

Discussed the compensation for the acting Police Chief. The amount will be decided at another meeting.

It was decided that Daggott Road should not be deleted from the sewer system.

A general discussion took place. Adjourned at 11:59 p.m.

Respectfully submitted, Donna B. Syverson, Clerk. Approved Dale S. Emerson, Supervisor.

88th District Report by Stanley Powell State Representative

As I mentioned last week, our recent study of economic programs in other states reveals that Michigan ranks 49th in financial incentives offered to industry.

Those states having the best programs operate under some form of industrial development authority which can either make direct loans or loan guarantees to new or growing businesses. The authority enables states to pass the benefits of tax exempt bonds on to borrowers. Thirty states now have varying types of such an authority.

Our proposal consolidates many of the best features of other states' industrial development programs into a Michigan Economic Development Authority. It would be authorized to make direct loans when financing is unavailable from conventional sources. It could also make guarantees in support of loans made by a business or industry from private commercial lending institutions and could act as insurer guaranteeing the repayment of such loans. The Authority would be authorized to borrow money and issue bonds and its transactions would be exempted from state and local taxes. An operational ceiling of $200,000,000 is established and a 40-year maximum duration is set for bond issues in the proposed legislation.

THE AUTHORITY would be located in the Michigan Department of Commerce. It would be administered by the commerce director and supervised by a seven-member advisory board. The Authority would be divided into three divisions as follows:

A. Industrial Development Division

The Industrial Development Division would provide a means of state subsidized industrial financing for plant construction, conversion, or expansion within Michigan. This financing would include direct loans and loan guarantees as well as the acquisition of property for lease or sale to business enterprises for industrial purposes. These services are vitally needed in Michigan today to promote economic growth since conventional loans are often not available from the private lending sector in sufficient amounts, at reasonable rates, or of adequate duration. The IRS places a $5 million loan ceiling on loans made to any single project and the interest on revenue bond issues up to that amount is exempt from federal taxes.

B. Pollution Control Finance Division

Because of different internal revenue implications and because there is no IRS lending ceiling on loans that can be made to finance pollution control facilities, a separate pollution control finance division is created. Michigan is one of only nine states that does not offer a state financing program for purchase and installation of pollution control facilities. Our 1972 pollution financing act did, however, allow local governments to finance and operate pollution control facilities via revenue bonds. The law permits cities, townships, incorporated villages, counties and port districts to issue revenue bonds to finance the repair, improvement, or construction of air and water pollution abatement facilities. This is helpful, but cannot be as beneficial as a full scale statewide program.

C. Product Development Division

The purpose of the Product Development Division is to provide financing for the development of ideas into industrial concepts. The division would endeavor to generate more new jobs in Michigan by boosting industry's ability to undertake well-conceived research and development projects by underwriting capital loans at cheaper rates than offered by conventional commercial sources. In return, the state would receive the guarantee that any product line developed would be manufactured in Michigan - thus creating new jobs and providing a stimulus to the state's economy. Only research undertaken by existing corporations doing business in Michigan could be subsidized.

The need for authority of this nature is becoming more acute with the rising record prime interest rates.

NEXT WEEK, I will discuss possible tax incentives as a tool to create jobs through economic growth in Michigan.

FUEL CRISIS CONCERNS EXPRESSED BY GOVERNOR

Governor Milliken, in expressing his concerns over a possible winter fuel shortage, last week called for cooperation to provide adequate winter fuel and urged a federal mandatory fuel allocation program.

The Governor said government agencies must begin immediately a cooperative effort with the petroleum industry to insure that sufficient fuel oil will be available this winter.

"We must be assured right now - well before cold weather - that there is no danger of homes, hospitals, schools, or business places going cold because they can't get sufficient fuel oil," the Governor said.

GOVERNOR MILLIKEN also urged John Love, Director of the U.S. Energy Policy Office to immediately implement the mandatory fuel allocation program.

"Whether large or small, both fuel consumers and producers would benefit by a more forceful federal role in dealing with gas and oil shortages through this program," he said.

"Implementation of the Mandatory Fuel Allocation Program offers the best guarantee of cooperation by all producers, and the best possibility of a reduction in the workload - and a concomitant improvement in the responsiveness - of the office of Oil and Gas," the Governor concluded.

Milliken pointed out that petroleum industry data forecasts a one per cent deficit in supply, if this winter is no colder than normal.

NOBODY KNOWS how severe the winter will be, but there are already indications that the industrial and commercial demand for fuel oil will be higher this winter than ever before.

This is a problem about which I feel we should all be concerned.

GOVERNOR SIGNS 9 BILLS

Governor Milliken signed 9 bills last week, including a bill providing for an increase of nearly $20 million for mental health programs.

He also vetoed, for technical reasons, a bill (HB 4967) which would have made a number of changes in the Revenue Bond Act to meet problems raised by the Supreme Court in the Wayne County stadium decision. The word "not" was inadvertently omitted by the Legislature in one section of the bill.

The Governor signed these bills:

-S-139, I.E., Providing $238,462,400 in 1973-74 general fund allocations for the Department of Mental Health, which is an increase of $19,834,100 over 1972-73.

-H-4162, I.E., providing for appropriations of $617.7 million from state restricted funds, including the General Transportation Fund portion of the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund, the State Trunkline Fund, the Aeronautics Fund and the State Lottery.

-H-5010, I.E., provides an amendment to the Workmen's Compensation Act permitting all employers at a large construction site to be covered under one policy of workmen's compensation insurance.

-S-614, I.E., authorizes incorporated villages, townships and cities to enter into contracts and agreements for the purchase of equipment for public purposes, in addition to land and property.

-S-483, I.E., provides for the elimination of the 1/10 of 1 mill limitation on the amount of property tax revenue that can be used by a County Board of Commissioners for building programs. The Commissioners would still be held within the 15 mill limitation rate so that no additional revenues would be made available but greater latitudes would be provided for use of the funds available under the Property Tax Limitation Act of 1933.

-S-560, I.E., provides clarification of the borrowing authority of townships and requires such borrowing for purposes of construction of public buildings be in accord with the provision of Act 202 of 1943.

-S-369, I.E., provides amendments to Act No 246, P.S. 1931 which is concerned with the construction or maintenance of sidewalks along public highways outside of cities or villages.

-S-561, I.E., clarifies certain provisions dealing with the security on county issued bonds and increases the allowable interest ceiling from 6% to 8%.

-H-4321, no I.E., provides for a new procedure, standards and definitions governing the licensing and regulation of child caring organizations and institutions. The Department of Social Services will be given a much stronger role in coordinating and evaluating such programs prior to their licensing.

Following are the institutions included in the mental health appropriation:

Food

A series explaining "how much" and why

System can be improved

Farmers, processors, wholesalers and retailers must recognize and treat the movement of food from farm to table as a single system of interrelated activities, Michigan State University agricultural economist John Allen stresses. This cooperation is essential since single farms cannot cure problems affecting the industry as a whole, he says. Allen cites the following potential steps toward industry-wide improvement:

By warehouses: More automated devices an improve warehouse receiving, storage, selection and replenishment. But the changeover will be costly and slow, in part because many innovations can't be built into existing structures. By meat processors:

Central meat cutting -- removing extensive meat cutting activities from the backroom of stores -- is underway, but progress has been slow. The shift in meat processing is from the retail store to retailer-owned distribution centers and to meat packers. Central meat cutting makes it easier to control the quality of meat cuts and to use mechanized equipment. Meat shelf-life is lengthened due to better refrigeration and sanitation. Handling and packaging cost less. Central cutting also makes it easier to supply various stores with meat cuts their customers prefer. Currently, probably less than 5% of all meat is centrally packaged in the final consumer package. About 30% is centrally cut into sub-rimal cuts (beef carcass cut into about 20 cuts), which saves 1.2 cents per pound compared to conventional methods. By distributors: Loads from manufacturer to wholesalers and retailers should be "unitized." This means shipping meat on uniformly-sized pallets. It takes four hours to unload a "deadload" (no pallets) trailer compared to 30 minutes if the meat is on pallets. Also, varying sizes of pallets require excessive rehandling, Allen says. Allen also suggests standardized shipping cartons to reduce excessive rehandling, save shipping space and foster automatic warehousing. One large chain's grocery warehouse contained 2,587 shipping carton sizes and shapes. The same size consumer package was packed in at least six different-sized shipping cartons. Furthermore, the fruit and produce industry uses 1,400 different container sizes. And because cartons don't match pallet sizes, present shipping of fresh fruit wastes as much as 40% of total shipping space. For maximum efficiency, Allen suggests a "completely modular system" to standardize retail packs, cartons, pallets, railroad cars and trailers. By manufacturers and retailers: Most supermarkets will probably be using electronic checkouts by 1980, Allen projects. A new system called universal product code (UPC) source-marking of food packages by manufacturers will make electronic checkout systems possible and will cut costs of price-marking merchandise in the store. The system could mean $150 million savings to retailers a year. The UPC symbol, marked on grocery products by the manufacturer, indicates the manufacturer and describes the item in his product line. Store cash registers hooked to computers will retrieve product prices as the UPC symbols are scanned at the checkout. Electronic checkouts will mean faster checkout, easier accounting for cash, checks, coupons and pilferage, and more efficient store ordering and shelving. Someday -- perhaps as soon as a decade from now -- the supermarket may be obsolete, Allen points out. It is conceivable that the shopper will view a television screen and order his groceries electronically.

HOW WELL DOES THE INDUSTRY PERFORM? Allen recognizes that among developed nations, the American food system offers the greatest amount of food per capita, best sanitation, lowest costs to the average consumer and highest per capita consumption of essential nutrients. He also praises easy access to stores, nearly year-round available products and numerous brands. Furthermore, the food industry employs about one in four persons in the nation's work force. These significant benefits seem largely to be taken for granted by a public which has developed a "psychology of entitlement."

Despite these valid benefits, the recent furor over food price hikes and proclamations of a state of crisis in the food system may also be valid, Allen says. Calls for expanded nutrition programs, food labeling, improved meat inspection unit pricing and price controls reflect food industry shortcomings. Allen laments that for the sake of efficiency, the food industry offers shoppers large and often impersonal retailing and discount centers; more and more fast food outlets whose buildings and signs mar the landscape; substitution of lower quality brands for old-fashioned bread, cheeses and preserves; and less human contact during the shopping experience. Other indications of shortcomings, according to Allen, are hot dogs not labeled for high fat content, unsanitary restaurants, high-cost foods in disadvantaged neighborhoods, and widespread nutritional ignorance. He objects to promotions that stress fun, status and convenience while ignoring the responsibility for encouraging sound nutrition. Record food sales are not proof of consumer acceptance of industry behavior, Allen says. Instead, he suggests an "industry-wide systems approach" to satisfy the wants and needs of the consuming public. He suggests the following steps by the food industry to better meet consumer needs:

- Advocate new laws and guidelines to educate consumers about nutrition content.
- Revise grading standards to reflect consumer taste preference and health needs.
- Use clearer language on packages to better communicate with the consumer.
- Establish enforcement procedures for grading and other regulatory requirements.
- Develop educational programs in dietary habits.
- Review and revise regulations to improve food sanitation.

Give your lawn a head start against next year's weeds by spraying to control weeds now.

If you spray your lawn between now and Oct 15, before the ground freezes, and weeds that are killed, will be replaced by grass which is growing at its best this time of year.

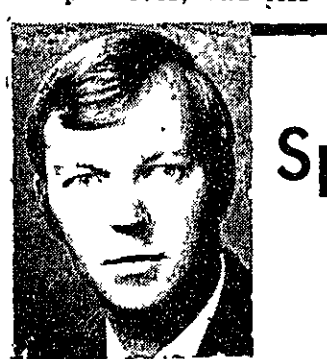

Delaying your spray program until next summer will mean that the dead weeds will be replaced by crabgrass or other annual weeds.

Fall spraying is better from the standpoint of shrubs which might be in the way of chemical drift. Their growth is at its lowest and they are least susceptible to 2,4-D.

If you can't get the spraying done before the ground freezes you can tackle the chore in early spring.

Then shrubs will not yet have budded out and most weeds can be stopped before they get started.

In both fall and spring, use the amine salt form of 2,4-D for best results. If chickweed and clover are a problem mix some Silvex or MCPP with the 2,4-D. Three teaspoons of each per 1000 square feet, for spraying the chemical should be mixed with about a gallon of water for each three teaspoons.

Act now to keep such pests as spiders, centipedes, millipedes, crickets, wood cockroaches, and springtails out of your home this winter.

Caulk tightly around the building foundation, windows and eaves. If possible, dry out the basement and under porches. Control plumbing leaks and install insulation to correct condensation problems.

If necessary, use fans or dehumidifiers to dry closets and bathrooms.

Outdoors, make sure shrubs and flowers are far enough away from the foundation to allow sunlight and wind next to the building. For more information ask for a copy of Extension Bulletin "Casual Home - Invading Pests" at our office, 1003 S. Oakland St., St. Johns, Michigan 48879.

pleasing combination. And what an opportunity for learning.

"The outdoors is one big science lab," says Michigan State University Child Development Specialist Jeanne Brown, "and you don't have to be a scientist to help your child learn and discover."

Your part is to provide the child with the opportunity to get acquainted with nature and to encourage his questions and curiosity, says Mrs. Brown.

Something as simple as a walk through the woods, along a creek or riverbank or across a vacant lot will turn up a hundred wonders. Take the time to stop and look at pretty rocks or funny bugs, sniff the flowers -- even if they're just weeds to you -- listen to the calls and songs of birds, watch a bee working in a flower, touch a fuzzy leaf, see how close you can get to a turtle sunning on a half-sunk log. Use a magnifying glass to enter a whole new world. Look at salt and sugar crystals, leaves, fabric, rocks, insects, wood, flowers, grass, hair.

"Why does he do that?" "What makes grass grow up?" "Where does it go in the winter?"

You may not know the answers to all your child's questions, but you can encourage him to ask them and you can use them as springboards to further talk, thought and investigation. Let them lead you on an expedition to the library or look for the answer in your home reference books. You'll help the child satisfy his desire to know, and acquaint him with ways he can use to find out on his own.

Collections are one way youngsters can bring nature home to study, Mrs. Brown suggests. Children are natural collectors of pretty things, feathers, pine cones, weed seed pods and the like, and they enjoy watching caterpillars or tadpoles as they grow and mature into adult butterflies and frogs.

For an all-summer project, set aside a part of your vegetable or flower garden for the children and let them plant what they want.

St Johns Co-op students learn and earn

ST. JOHNS -- A number of St. Johns High School students are not only "back to the books" this fall -- they'll be earning money and valuable work experience at the same time.

Those students, expected to number about 30-35, are participants in the St. Johns Cooperative Occupational Training program, a program offered students for about 10 years.

As a member of the Co-op training program, St. Johns seniors and some juniors pursue subjects of their interest during much of the school week, but are also on the job up to 28 hours a week with a local business.

Currently the high school Co-op program seeks employers to participate in the program to employ students interested in office and retailing, drafting metals, health and automobile fields.

While getting credit for their employment with area businesses, students also gain valuable on-the-job experience in a field they're interested in, as well as earning an average minimum wage of $1.60 per hour.

MANY FORMER students who gained their first experience in a field have now graduated and are employed in a vocation they began while still in high school.

Employers are asked to supervise the student-employees and to make regular evaluations of the student's performance. Those evaluations later provide valuable reference sources.

To be eligible for the Co-op program, students must be 16 years of age, have a satisfactory school record, a good attendance and punctuality record, have the approval of their parents and be approved by a work coordinator.

Work coordinators are Larry Button and Dick Kramer.

Employers interested in participating in the Co-op program are urged to call Button or Kramer. Telephone 224-2394 and ask for extension 262 (Button) or extension 257 (Kramer).

THOSE EMPLOYERS who feel the work they have available might not fit into the fields mentioned earlier are asked, nevertheless, to call 1 of the coordinators. The coordinator will then attempt to make arrangements so a student may participate in a Co-op program with the employer.

Fowler VFW Auxiliary meet

FOWLER -- A meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to Fowler VFW Post 3733 was held Wednesday, Aug. 22.

It was announced that a District 9 meeting will be held at Hemlock-Merrill Post on Sept. 23. Several local Auxiliary members will attend.

The annual inspection of the Auxiliary will be done Wednesday, Oct. 24. Chairmen are reminded to get their books in order for the inspection.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 26. Marie Miller and Marge Kramer will furnish lunch, and Rosie Feldpausch and Marge Schomisch will be in charge of entertainment.

KROGER'S LOW-PRICE POLICY

In coming weeks, you may see substantial price increases on some favorite items at your Kroger store. The government allows all food stores to pass along increased food costs (except beef) from suppliers. But in Kroger's case, permission granted will not always mean permission exercised. We may pass along increases from suppliers. We may absorb some. And there are some items that will come down in price. Kroger's policy for 90 years remains in effect: to bring you a wide variety of quality foods at low prices. . . a policy 90 years old and still going strong.

WE HEAR YOU...and we're trying to help!

Ready-mix Concrete
We use Heavy Media Stone in our concrete. The Heavy Media process removes the lighter stones and so reduces holes and popping to a minimum. So for the best concrete

Blocks, Sand & Gravel
We deliver concrete & lightweight blocks. We also deliver mortar sand, drainfield stone, road gravel, peastone, float stone, cement gravel (60/40), fill sand, black dirt and oversize stone, in a 10 yard dump.

How Big Is BIG MONEY?

To some people it is making $1,000 a Month. To others $5,000 a Month, right in their own hometown. — We have both kinds.

So it's Opportunity if you qualify for the STROUT Team. Not everybody does. But ask yourself if you are ready for your real estate license to start bringing you Important Money. Ask too, do you really Like People? And do you have Common Sense?

If yes, then ask for information on the "People-Business." It's mailed without obligation. Could be the start To Something Big — with the World's Largest.
