DeWitt sewer ordinance OK expected

VALLEY FARMS - The DeWitt Township Board will hold a public hearing next Monday evening on two proposed ordinances which would provide for the sale of bonds to finance the township's $2,580,000 sewer system construction.

The ordinances are required for two separate bond sales. One provides for the sale of $1,650,000 in bonds, maturing in 40 years, to pay two-thirds of the cost of the sewer plant and interceptor line construction and one-half the cost of construction of the collector lines.

The other ordinance is for special assessment bonds totaling $584,000, maturing in 20 years. This represents 3 per cent of the assessed valuation of the township, and the amount is about half of the total cost for constructing the collector system.

FEDERAL FUNDS have already been offered and await only the sale of bonds by the township. Federal funds would total $346,000. DeWitt Township is presently living on "borrowed time," as far as its sewage problem is concerned, Supervisor Reginald Nelson explained last week. On July 28, 1966, the Water Resources Commission of the Michigan Conservation Department issued a final order of determination against DeWitt Township ordering the township to stop unlawful pollution of drains tributary to the Looking Glass and Grand rivers.

"We have been granted an extension of time for construction to begin, with respect to the federal grant," Nelson said. "This is conditioned upon our monthly reports satisfactory to the Water Resources Commission."

The ordinances up for adoption next Monday night will likely provide the report of "satisfactory progress" needed, Nelson felt. But he pointed out that even though the board adopts the two ordinances, they would be subject to a petition for referendum for 30 days after the publication of the ordinance.

NELSON POINTED out the pitfalls of public rejection of the ordinances. Rejection at an election would halt all progress to date, he said, and would terminate the federal grant offer and cause the township to violate the final order of determination. Court action would then be likely, with the court having the power to order the sale of bonds without such sale being subject to a referendum or vote of the people.

"At such time we would anticipate a minimum of additional (See DEWITT SEWER, Page 2-A)

Teachers ratify pacts

Fulton contract signed

MIDDLETON - Opening for all schools in the Fulton School District took a step closer to reality Monday night, Aug. 28, when a new one-year contract between teachers and the Fulton Board of Education was penned.

For the more than 100 teachers in the consolidated district, the signing of the contract meant an across-the-board pay boost of more than $700—from just under $5,100 to $5,800.

For those Fulton instructors having a master's degree, an additional $500 will be added to the basic figure, meaning they will receive a starting salary of $6,300.

RAISES WILL BE computed at 4 per cent of the base salary each year, for 10 years. That is, a teacher with a bachelor's degree can in a decade advance from the base salary to a maximum income of $8,120 under the terms of the new contract.

As was noted by Ronald L. Farrell, president of the Fulton Education Assn., negotiations between the teaching and administrative factions of the district began Jan. 18 and took all of six months to complete.

St. Johns budget anticipates deficit of $119,505 this year

A $1,626,929 St. Johns Public Schools budget that anticipates a deficit of $119,505 this year was given preliminary approval by the board of education last Wednesday.

A public hearing on the budget will be held at the board's regular meeting next Wednesday, Sept. 13. Final approval is expected after the hearing.

Expenditures this year are expected to be about $122,992 higher than last year when $1,503,937.09 was spent. Revenues for the coming year are expected to be about $1,507,424, compared to total revenue of $1,409,514 last year.

The revenue picture is the only thing that could substantially affect a change in the overall budget, school officials point out. There's a possibility—not a strong one, however—more state aid could come to school districts, which would only reduce the expected deficit.

Last year the school operated at an actual deficit of about $11,000, considering the federal monies and other funds that did not arrive until after the fiscal year ended.

EXPENDITURES, school administrators said, are being cut down as much as they can and still have an efficient operation. But rises in cost of operation continue to push the budget higher. The increases are apparent in all but a couple of major categories.

Salaries normally increase every year, and this year is no exception. For teachers alone, the cost is going up from $556,179 last year to $640,500 this year in elementary grades, and in secondary education regular teachers will be paid a total of $304,000 combined. (See BUDGET DEFICIT, Page 3-A)

Late-hour OK caps Ovid-Elsie negotiations

OVID-ELSIE - The Ovid-Elsie Area Schools administration and teachers reached agreement on a contract for this year Friday afternoon, and ratification Monday evening by the teachers ended apprehension about the start of school in Clinton County.

All schools are starting sessions on schedule.

The Ovid-Elsie agreement was the last of the agreements between teachers and school districts in the Clinton County area. Last week Fulton and St. Johns contracts were finalized.

Five-man negotiation teams for the Ovid-Elsie School Board and the Ovid-Elsie Education Assn. reached agreement late Friday afternoon. The last three or four sessions were with Ed Connors of the State Labor Mediation Board.

THE ONLY TOPIC OF the negotiations this year was over professional compensation. All other areas of the contract had been covered last year in a two-year contract, with only the professional compensation area open for change this year.

Ovid-Elsie's new salary schedule will start at $5,800 for a beginning teacher with a bachelor of arts degree and work up to $8,323 on a yearly percentage basis over 12 years. Teachers with a master's degree will receive $6,264 to start and up to $8,787 at the end of 12 years.

The primary concern of the two groups was over a lack of finances in the district, and both agreed to the need for additional millage, according to Supt. Robert Beauchamp and Rodney Tulloch, president of the Ovid-Elsie Education Assn.

MEMBERS OF THE teacher negotiating team were Thelma Rule, Marian Clark, Albert Ackley, Virginia Chamberlain and Tulloch. The school administration negotiation team consisted of Beauchamp, Earl Seybert, Elaine Lentz, Hugel Leonard and Larry Nicholas.

Teachers in the Ovid-Elsie district met Labor Day evening and ratified the contract, Tulloch said. The school board has not yet ratified it, but Beauchamp said this would be brought up at the board's regular meeting next Monday night, or possibly this week if a special meeting is needed for other purposes.

The teacher-school contract at St. Johns was ratified last week when a tabulation of absentee votes from teachers who were out of town Aug. 27 showed more than the two-thirds majority in favor of the contract. The tabulation was made Thursday evening. Twenty-four hours earlier the school board had put their stamp of approval on the contract.

At St. Johns, too, salary was the prime stumbling block to an earlier agreement. The St. Johns schedule calls for a starting salary of $5,900 for a beginner with a BA degree, going up to $8,614 over a 10-year period.

A good breakfast is essential to good education, and that holds true for teachers as well as students. Teachers and administrators in the St. Johns system met for breakfast Tuesday morning at St. Joseph School social hall prior to starting orientation meetings in preparation for the opening of school today (Thursday).

Prime and double seal for 20 blocks

Paving starts this week in city

The prime and double seal portion of St. Johns' street paving program is scheduled to get under way this week.

About 20 blocks of this type of paving will be done by Hicks & Co. of Alma, who moved in their equipment Tuesday in preparation for the start of the work.

About 12 other blocks will get a bituminous two-inch mat at some later date this summer, and 15 blocks of presently-paved street will get a single seal.

Just where Hicks & Co. will be working at any particular time while they are on the prime and double seal project can't be definitely stated, City Manager Ken Greer said. Blocks of streets will be done according to the moisture conditions and the number of cars parked on the street at those times.

GREER SAID THE Hicks crew will probably start in the north portion of town, then work around to the east side, down to the south and over to the west side of town. He asked the cooperation of residents along the affected streets in watching for the work crews and in staying off the street while it is being processed.

Greer said the procedure would be that the Hicks Co. will spread a prime coat of liquid asphalt on the affected streets during an afternoon period. This will then be covered with a light layer of rock chips as a safeguard against people walking across the fresh tar. Pedestrians are asked to keep off, however.

Saw horses will be placed at the ends of the affected streets when this prime coat is down, and residents are asked to refrain from driving across it while that condition remains. City police will not issue tickets for overnight parking on the street in the areas where the work is going on, so residents blocked off by the work may park on a neighboring street.

THE OVERNIGHT wait is necessary for the good prime and double seal program, Greer said. Hicks Co. will return the next day to put down the double seal on the new pavement, which then can be driven on. Persons who drive around the saw horses and use the road while only the prime coat is down stand a good chance of getting a lot of tar on their autos.

Twenty blocks of presently-gravel streets will get the prime and double seal paving this year. Fifteen others which are already paved will receive a single seal during a maintenance program. The Hicks Co. will do this probably at the conclusion of the new paving work.

Also involved is "strip sealing" of small areas along curbs and at intersections. A number of locations on streets, and particularly at intersections, have broken up to the point that they will have to be repaved. This will be done later when the bituminous mat paving is done.

NEW PAVING WITH a prime and double seal will be done on the following streets starting this week, Greer said:

OTTAWA from Gibbs to Floral; OAKLAND from Lincoln to Gibbs; OAKLAND for a short distance north of Mead; MEAD from Lincoln to Gibbs; SWEGLES from Steel to Lincoln; TRAYER from Higham to Railroad; BAKER from the south end of Meadowview Drive south to Sturgis Street; KIBBEE from Trayer to Sturgis; CIRCLE DRIVE from Buchanan to

LABOR DAY HOLIDAY PLANS SMASHED BY COLLISION

This smashed-in trunk ended the Labor Day holiday plans of Mr and Mrs Douglas J. Relyea of Mt. Clemens. They were driving north on US-27 at Hyde Road Saturday morning and slowed in the passing lane for another car turning in at Beck's Farm Market (background). Another auto driven by Elaine Beck, 17, of Ft. Wayne, Ind. (car shows on median strip) hit the Relyea car from the rear. Miss Beck was treated at Clinton Memorial Hospital and released. A passenger, Emma Beck, 55, also of Ft. Wayne, was hospitalized until Sunday. Neither of the Relyeas nor their 3-year-old daughter, was hurt. Miss Beck was ticketed for failure to stop in assured clear distance ahead.

The seventh accident fatality was chalked up for Clinton County Friday when a Fowler man died of injuries he sustained from an auto accident.

Frank Pung, 83, of 353 N. Sorrell Street, Fowler, was a passenger in a car that collided with an auto driven by Betty Faye Slim at the intersection of Lowell and Centerline Roads in Riley Township last Thursday.

Pung was thrown free of the wreckage by the impact and as a result was seriously hurt.

TAKEN TO CLINTON Memorial Hospital, Pung was treated for his wounds. He appeared to be recovering satisfactorily but died around nine hours after the accident, at approximately 2:15 a.m. the next day, from internal injuries and shock.

Expect seasonal rise in shoplifting incidents

St. Johns' downtown businessmen are expecting an increase in shoplifting incidents this fall, and they're tightening their guard to prevent as much of it as possible.

Shoplifters will be prosecuted, they promised.

That promise was made last spring when members of the Retail Division of the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce voted to crack down on shoplifting by prosecuting all persons caught in the crime.

"And the situation is the same now," said Alan R. Dean, a member of a special committee working on the problem.

HE SAID THE shoplifting situation has continued to be a problem. "Of course it isn't anywhere near as bad during the summer time because we don't have the hoard of school kids in here.

"As far as what's going to be done with those that are caught, it's the same: they're going to be prosecuted. Where the judge and police are concerned, they are as firm as they were last spring."

Probate Judge Timothy M. Green and St. Johns police assured the merchants last spring when they started their crackdown that the businesses would get all the cooperation possible in keeping shoplifting to a minimum.

Storeowners, too, remain firm in their effort to stamp out shoplifting. Employees of all stores are being trained to be on the lookout for shoplifters and to recognize the methods shoplifters use. They're also being informed on how to handle the situation should they catch a shoplifter in the act.

THE RETAIL Division decided the best way to knock out the problem is to prosecute each offender, regardless of the circumstances or age of the offender. Most storeowners are going along with that.

"Shoplifting concerns every customer in every store," the Retail Division committee pointed out. "Every loss must be counted in the cost of doing business and thus becomes a part of the total sales price.

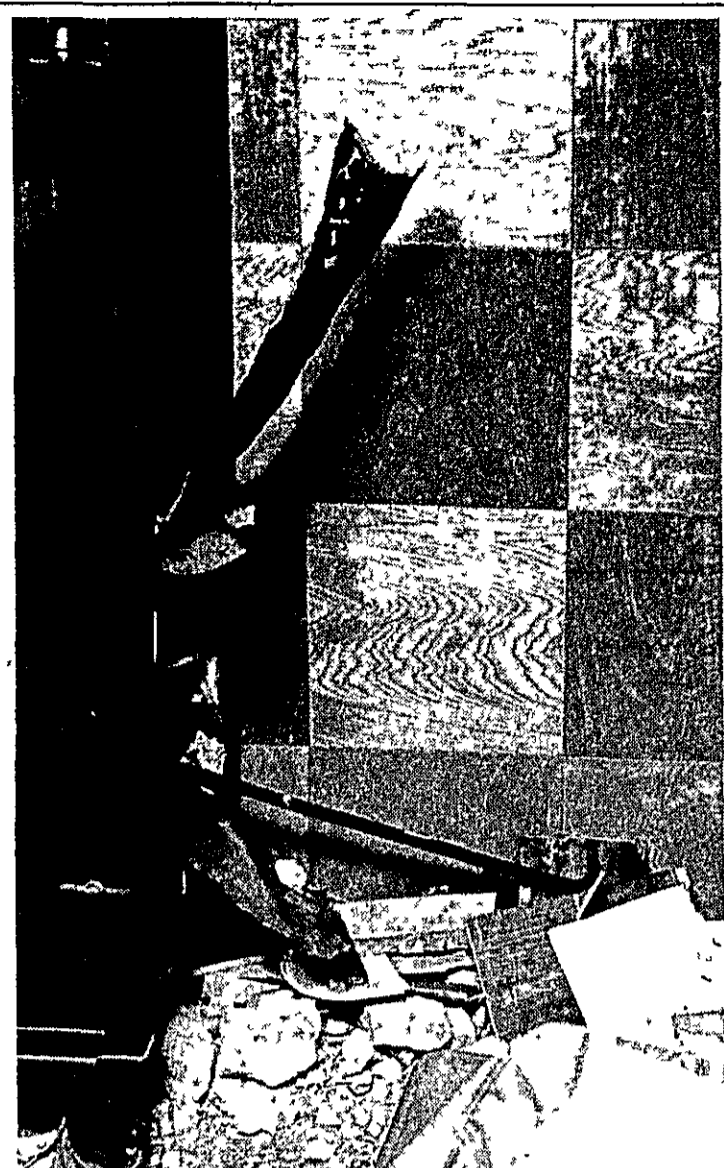

"The overwhelming majority of people who are honest must help pay this cost. So in a sense shoplifters are actually stealing from their fellow honest customers."

Juveniles are a big part of St. Johns retailers' problems. Particularly during the noon hour, youngsters on their lunch break from the high school and junior high mill around downtown in great numbers. Many wander through the stores, and retailers are positive considerable merchandise is picked up and carried off during that time.

MUCH OF THE shoplifting is done "for kicks," the committee points out, by youngsters who have more than enough money to buy the items they steal. But, the committee points out, the "kicks" could be costly if the youngsters are caught—more costly than the actual items they take.

Youths under 16 caught shoplifting will be prosecuted through probate court, Dean said; youths over that age and adults will be handled through justice court.

cost representing approximately 30 per cent above the current estimate due to the average increase in cost plus any additional treatment designs," Nelson said. "And we would be constructing without the federal grant we now have and at that time would not qualify for."

Cost of the township sewage system is already considerably higher than when township voters rejected a sewage system in 1965.

THE PROPOSED system for DeWitt Township now would be, according to Nelson, "the most modern, updated, sophisticated treatment system in the state, barring none. It would have unlimited expansion capacity, for even third-stage treatment when necessary, because of the acreage and location."

The treatment plant site is on the south side of Herbison Road at the Looking Glass River. It is on an 80-acre site previously owned by the Clinton County Road Commission. The township is in the process now of transferring ownership to the county on an 80-acre site on Herbison east of Turner where the plant was to be located prior to objections from the City of DeWitt, in exchange for the river site.

The new plant will be a secondary treatment plant, meaning the discharge from the plant will be up to 90 per cent pure water. Primary treatment plants treat to 50 per cent purity.

The sewer system's main collector area, where homes will be tied in, is in the Valley Farms area, as far south as Sheridan Road and along the trunkline north. Sewerage will flow by gravity northward from the collector lines to the interceptor line along the old Michigan Electric Railway right-of-way, curving north to Herbison Road at Prairie Creek. A lift station will be constructed there to pump the sewerage over the high point in Herbison, where it will again flow by gravity west under Herbison Road to the plant site, according to current plans.

Nelson said the current site and plans have the blessing of the State Health Department and Water Resources Commission.

The township has a federal grant offer for $275,000 to help in the construction of the plant and interceptor line and is reapplying for the extra amount above the most-recent estimate.

2 nabbed in store, charged as burglars

Charges of breaking and entering in the nighttime and possession of burglar tools were lodged against Harry Gene Susdorf, 38, of Crystal and James Paul Overla, 23, of St. Louis early last Thursday morning, Aug. 31.

The two men were apprehended inside the Valley Farms Lumber Co. on US-27 south of State Road in DeWitt Township about 2:45 a.m. Thursday. Clinton County sheriff's deputies Richard May and Ray Terpening, DeWitt City Police Chief Charles Anderson, DeWitt Township Chief Bruce Angell and state police were in on the capture.

May was on patrol near the hardware store when he was dispatched there after a phone call to the sheriff's department about a burglary in progress. He kept the building under surveillance while calling for reinforcements. Terpening and Anderson came from DeWitt and Angell from patrol in the township.

While the others surrounded the building, May knocked out a window in the store's office where the two men were at work on a safe. One man jumped up to run but halted at May's verbal warning.

One of the two safes in the office being ripped open by the burglars was not locked. There was no money in either safe. The burglars apparently entered the building through an upstairs window that had been knocked out.

Susdorf and Overla were charged with the two offenses and were taken before Justice of the Peace Gordon Willyoung where they pleaded innocent. They are being held in the Clinton County Jail under $5,000 bond for each of the two counts against them.

Pair of bridge tourneys planned

A regular bridge tournament, plus a duplicate bridge tournament, will start in October under the sponsorship of the St. Johns Jaycees.

The tournaments are open to all interested players, according to Chairman Roger Feeman of 207 S. Prospect Street.

The duplicate bridge tournament is new this year, being started as a result of high interest shown by players last year. Duplicate bridge will start Oct. 7 and will be played the first Saturday of each month through May.

The regular bridge tournament play-off periods have been extended from two to three weeks this year, with the first round scheduled for the first three weeks of October.

Persons interested in playing in the tournaments are asked to contact Feeman.

O-E hires 5 teachers, sells schools

OVID-ELSIE—The Ovid-Elsie Board of Education has announced the hiring of five new teachers and the sale of four rural schools.

New teachers hired include Mrs. Sandra Nutter, who will teach at the Bannister School; Ann McDougall for third grade at Ovid; Leota Kajdas for third grade at Elsie; Elizabeth Hess for sixth grade at Elsie; and James Crockett for high school English.

Nate Frey of Ovid was the successful bidder on the Sherburne and Soule schools, both in Ovid Township; Wayne Mead of Elsie bought the Mead School in Duplain Township; and John Ladiscki of Elsie purchased the Fox School in Fairfield Township in Shiawassee County.

Bids on the Jesse School in Ovid Township were still being tabulated.

The school board last week awarded fleet insurance for all school vehicles to Frank Bernath of Elsie, representing State Farm Insurance. He was low bidder at $2,739.81 for the package.

Albert Ackley, agriculture teacher, was given permission to attend the national FFA convention in Kansas City, Mo., in October. The board also voted to install abutments in the parking lot at the high school.

NYC promotes William Parish

William L. Parish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Parish of 301 S. Whittemore, St. Johns, has been appointed suburban trainmaster for New York Central Railroad's Hudson and Harlem divisions. The announcement was made recently by Robert K. Pattison, division superintendent.

Parish joined the Central in 1947 as a telegrapher in New York City. He was promoted to train dispatcher at New York in 1958 and in 1966 he was appointed transportation assistant in the New York district transportation office. Prior to his present position, Parish served as supervisor of freight transportation for the New York District.

In his new post, Parish will be responsible for planning and coordinating schedules and equipment with respect to suburban service.

SJHS education board approves new rules for class wear

New fads in men's and women's clothing has resulted in a change of rules and etiquette governing school wear by the St. Johns High School Board of Education for the coming school year.

Under the board directives, girls must wear dresses or skirts—not mini-skirts—with blouses or sweaters. Slacks or bermudas, shorts, kilts or shifts that are split on the sides may not be worn in school.

Bermudas and slacks are permitted to be worn by girls at football and basketball games.

"HEAVY, FORMAL or exaggerated makeup is not acceptable during the school day," the board has ruled. "Hair styles, as well, should be neat and clean at all times." Not considered in good taste by the board is hair extremely teased or ratted.

The girls are not the only ones wearing long hair styles these days. Boys too are asked to keep their hair styles neat and trim. Long hair over the forehead, ears and or back of neck is not pleasing to an academic atmosphere noted the board.

The board has further ordered that "Boys should wear clean slacks or jeans with a belt line above the hips and with belts when slacks provide for them."

Hip-hugging or leg-hugging slacks are termed as improper wear by the board.

ALL SHIRTS—sport and regular dress—should be kept buttoned, except for the top button. "All shirt tails must be tucked in," says the board members.

"Students in violation of the dress code may be temporarily suspended until the matter is corrected," the board has cautioned.

As far as smoking and drinking goes—there will be none allowed in and immediately around the school, the board has legislated.

Also, visibly carrying cigarettes in and around the school is forbidden and drinking of alcohol at school-sponsored activities will not be tolerated.

AS WAS MADE so emphatic by the members of the board,

"Violation of smoking and drinking regulations will place a student in the position of immediate suspension from school for the remainder of the school year.

In passing these regulations, the board took pains to point out that compliance with the rules will benefit the students, in that a high moral, ethical, social and academic climate will prevail.

Morrill joins therapy staff at hospital

BATH—Gary Morrill, son of Mr and Mrs Gaylord Morrill of Bath, joined the physical therapy department at Munson Medical Center at Traverse City Aug. 28, according to Harvey Norris Jr., chief physical therapist.

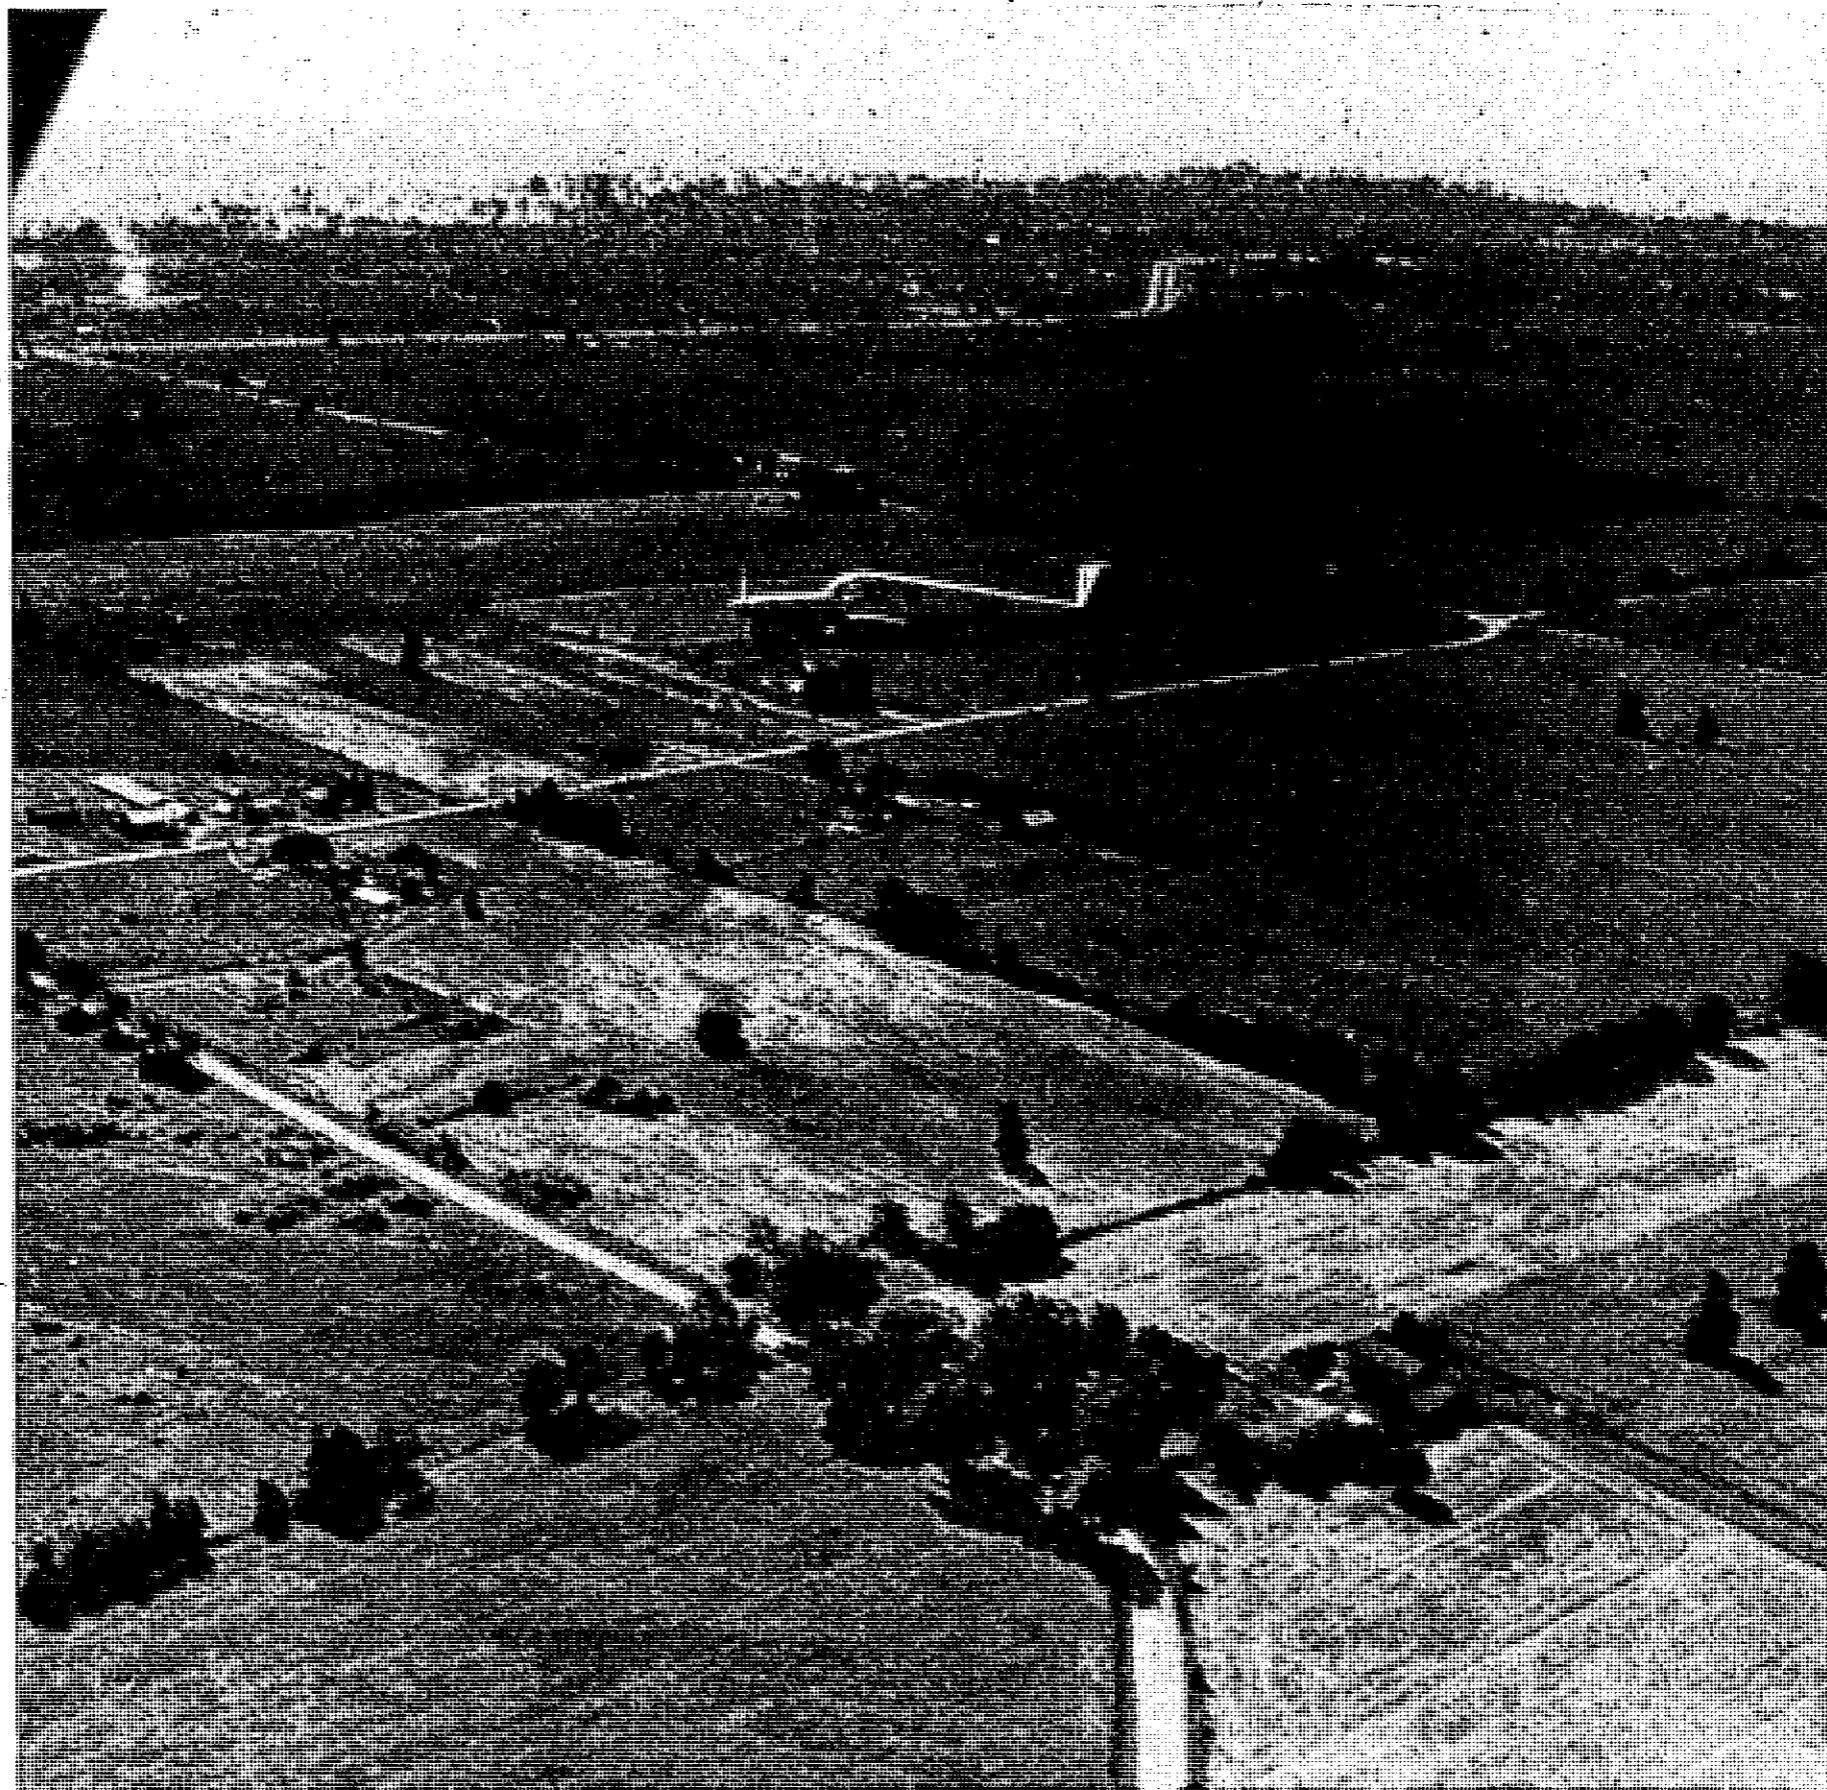

Morrill came to Munson from Garden City, Mich., after graduating from the School of Physical Therapy at the University of Michigan and qualifying for registration.

Prior to entering the University of Michigan, Morrill took his BS in education at Central Michigan University and taught junior high science and mathematics for a year in Lakeview, Mich.

At Munson, after orientation and study of procedures in the department, he will assist Norris with patients who come for the clinical treatments. Like Norris, Morrill believes in the team approach to rehabilitative medicine and care and hopes to make use of all facets of his education treating patients.

Both Morrill and his wife, the former Claudene Kime of Jackson, have known and liked the Grand Traverse area, even before they met at Central Michigan University. Mrs Morrill is a school teacher and expects to do some substituting in the Traverse City school system. They live at 113 Beach Street, a short distance from the hospital.

Special Bath election Monday

BATH—Bath School District voters will make a decision next Monday, Sept. 11, on a $650,000 bond issue to finance a large addition to the Bath Elementary School Building.

The bond issue would cost voters about 1.2 mills over this year's assessment.

The new addition would include three kindergarten rooms, nine other classrooms and a multi-purpose room. Bath school officials termed the addition a "much-needed" one.

Voting on the bond issue will take place from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the James Couzens Building gymnasium in Bath.

Budget deficit seen . . .

pared to about $282,060 last year.

Major categories showing increases this year are:

- *Elementary education up to $714,716 from a total of $646,160.67 in 1966-67.
- *Secondary education up to $405,136 from $380,968.04 spent last year.
- *Special education up to $42,230 from $40,902.21 last year.
- *TRANSPORTATION up to $124,237 from $109,330 last year.
- *Administration up to $78,940 from $72,283.04 last year.
- *Operation of plant up to $125,000 from $112,779.42 last year.
- *Maintenance of plant up to $60,700 this year from $47,812.83 last year.
- *Fixed charges up to $61,170 from $48,575.30 last year. This amount includes insurances, workmen's compensation—all of which are on a bid basis—and rental of land and buildings. The rental charges include cost of the protable classrooms (there are 10 this year) plus four rooms at St. Joseph School.

Only two of the major categories showed decreases in budgeted amounts.

Capital outlay is being chopped drastically from $24,713.13 spent last year to $6,500 budgeted last year. Last year's expenditures included a lot of new furniture and equipment for the rural schools in the district; thus the higher-than-normal cost last year. Much of that furniture will be used in the new neighborhood schools when they come into use.

THE HEALTH SERVICES budget is also to be cut back—on paper, anyway. Last year's expenditure under the operations budget was $17,133.09; this year's budget is for $6,200. The $6,200, however, does not include part of the expenses of nurses and nurses' aides being paid under separate-from-the-budget federal programs.

Anticipated revenue under the 1967-68 budget amounts to $1,507,424. That includes $555,000 in current operating taxes, delinquent taxes, interest on delinquent taxes and other taxes; $4,550 in miscellaneous receipts; $15,000 from county special education; $3,500 from National Defense Education Act Titles III and IV; and $929,874 from state sources.

The state sources are broken down to include $815,374 for state school aid; $63,000 for transportation aid; $39,000 for special education; $8,500 for driver education; and $6,000 for vocational education.

Direct state aid, anticipated now at $815,374, would likely be the figure that changes should the Legislature decide to give schools more aid than the formula now calls for. Last year state aid totaled $753,069.12.

Apart from the regular budget, St. Johns Public Schools will spend another $99,636 during 1967-68 on federal programs under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act Titles I and III. But that money will be fully reimbursed by the federal government and is not included in the budget for the general operation of the school system.

DAV 'forget-me-not' campaign here this week

Disabled American Veterans will again this year ask the citizens of Clinton County to "give a little for those who gave a lot."

This permanent slogan will be the inspiration for the annual DAV Forget-Me-Not campaign this Friday and Saturday, Sept. 8 and 9, in St. Johns.

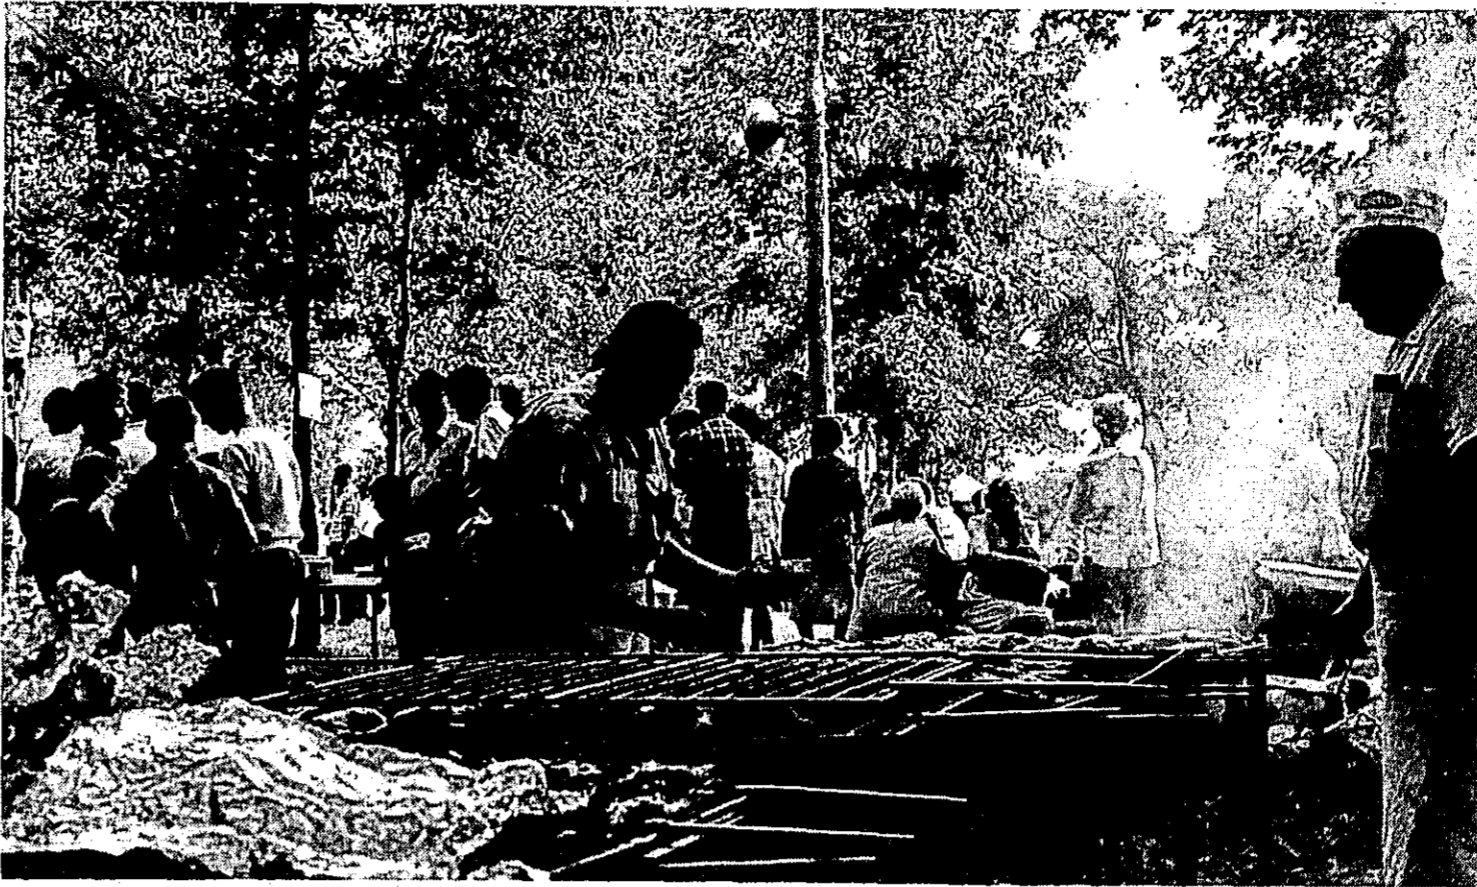

Carl G. Light, commander of Clinton County Disabled American Veterans, said today that "it's easy to show you remember the sacrifices made for all of us by our wartime disabled—by wearing a Forget-Me-Not this Friday and Saturday. The coin or bill you drop into the Forget-Me-Not canister will be used to show your gratitude in a way that means something to the disabled veterans in Clinton County."

Commander Light added that "Contributions for the little blue flowers provide funds for the chapter to carry on its rehabilitation work and service work among deserving disabled veterans in this county." He emphasized that all funds collected, will be used for this work.

The DAV also gives free service to all wartime disabled veterans in matters of pension, hospitalization, employment and many other problems.

"The Forget-Me-Not has been our official flower of the DAV since 1920 when our organization began," Light said. "We count all those who wear it as sincere friends of our nation's disabled veterans. Give a little for those who gave a lot—get a DAV Forget-Me-Not Friday and Saturday in St. Johns."

LOOKS DELICIOUS, DOESN'T IT?

Laboring on Labor Day? These two men and a few more like them found themselves in such a position at the Labor Day picnic Monday at the Fowler Conservation Park. Otherwise, the annual picnic, sponsored by the Fowler Conservation Club, provided respite from the cares and bustle of the ordinary workday for the record-setting crowd that attended the event.

Pre-Labor Day mishap not serious

The Clinton County Sheriff's Office was unusually quiet over the weekend with respect to traffic accidents in contrast with the rest of the state. But right up to the beginning deadline of the Labor Day holiday at 6 p.m. Friday, the local office had its quota and more of road mishaps.

In one, a car driven by Carl Alfred Hovey, 45, of 322 N. Ovid Street, Elsie, was struck by a car driven by Robert David Wilson, 27, of R-1 Elsie.

The accident occurred on a curve on Maple Rapids Road, near the intersection of St. Clair Road in Duplain Township.

THE HOVEY AUTO was rounding the curve when it was met by the Wilson vehicle in its right-of-way. To avoid a head-on collision, Hovey drove his car off the road, but not in time to keep the left-rear side of his car from being hit.

Neither driver, nor their passengers—Ellen Hovey, 46, Mary Jo Hovey, 14 and Mrs. Wilson—were injured.

HOMECOMING REPORTS

The Maple Rapids Improvement Association met Monday evening. A report of the Homecoming was given by Wendall Blomaster, chairman, who said that a profit of only $106 was realized by the MRIA. The damp, chilly weather was blamed, as much work by all the committees was put into setting up and arranging a Homecoming. The members voted to sponsor a local news letter to be sent out locally every two weeks. The fund raising committee appointed by Vice Chairman Larry Floate is as follows: Al Bruner, Jim Stewart and Lyle Parkinson. A motion was carried to investigate the cost of a new plaque for the Veterans memorial and to see who would help with it.

Wendall Blomaster was appointed program chairman and it was suggested to have all special programs the second Monday evening of the month.

The new tennis court has been poured but no report could be given as all costs are not tabulated. Eight new members names were added to the membership list. Mrs Robert Miller Sr, chairman of the membership drive, said she would hope to have a much larger list at the next meeting.

The community wishes to welcome Mr and Mrs Hubert Janousek, who have purchased Milo and Opal's Grocery and also the Lauren Parks home.

To discuss building new church at Elsie

Plans for a "New Elsie Methodist Church Crusade" program have been underway for several months and many meetings have been held by the official board of the church and the executive committee for the Crusade.

A "Let's Talk It Over" evening has been set for Thursday evening, Sept. 7, at 8 in the Fellowship Hall. All members and friends of the church, the official board and all Crusade committees are invited to attend and share ideas. The purpose of the "talking it over" meeting is to discuss together any questions, answers, problems and matters concerning the Crusade.

OPPORTUNITIES will be given for written or oral questions and a consensus will be taken as to the wisest way to proceed in the building program; whether an entirely new unit should be planned or to retain the present educational unit and build a new sanctuary only.

A panel of representatives from the official board, building committee and Crusade committee will attempt to clarify any matters.

Following is a list of committees as released by Rev Gordon Showers and the official board of the church: General chairman and assistants—Merle Baese, Clifford Dunham, Leslie Sturgis and Bryon Green (representing youth); visitation—Robert Justice, Elwin Whitaker, Phillip West and Miss Sharon Dunham (youth); advance leadership—Dr George W. Bennett, Stanley Loznak and Charles Kridner; production—Mrs William Furstenau, Mrs Phillip West and Mrs Harold Heffer Publicity—Mrs Sidney J. Keys, Mrs O. L. Allread and Mrs Durward Conklin; spiritual emphasis—Leonard Tillotson, Mrs Howard Whitaker, Larry Nicholas and Sandra Grubaugh (youth) and fellowship chairman—Mrs Lyle Dunham.

Large-type books available

Librarian Mrs Hila Cross reports that Bement Public Library has available for people with substandard vision the Keith Jennison Books in large type.

The books are printed in three different types of print—36 point and 24 point and 18 point—depending on the strength or weakness of a person's vision.

The number and variety of such books are extensive. They range from children's stories to biographies, mysteries and adult dramas.

IF A PARTICULAR title is not available at the local library the desired copy can be acquired from the State Library as a service offered in conjunction with the Central Michigan Library System, of which Bement Library is a part.

The Jennison books are not restricted to the use of those who have poor vision. Anyone may sign out one of the large-type volumes. It's a good way to avoid eye strain when reading.

Also available to those with weak vision and to the blind at St. Johns Library are talking books and braille books, according to Mrs Cross.

Jehovah's Witnesses Bible conference opens Friday

OTTO KUGLER

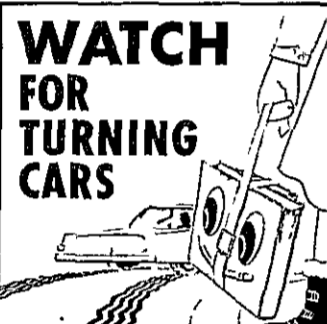

The local presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses, Raymond Parker, said the final arrangements for the three-day Bible Conference to be held at the 4-H Club Building are underway. Otto Kugler, circuit supervisor of 16 congregations in lower Michigan, is in charge.

The principal speaker for the conference, L.E. Reusch, district supervisor, is expected to arrive this week. The conference opens Friday with an address of welcome by Reusch on the theme, "Walking Orderly by Spirit." A model ministry school, like that held in the St. Johns congregation each week, will follow the opening address. Concluding Friday's session will be a program outlining methods of effective public teaching based on the theme, "The Need of Making Disciples." On the program will be R. Kriser (East Lansing), H. Furry (Lansing), R. Dembowski (Lansing), and A. Dominie (East Lansing).

SATURDAY'S PROGRAM begins at 9 a.m. with the delegates meeting to organize their morning door-to-door visitations. An invitation will be personally extended throughout the St. Johns area to attend the conference. At 1:30 p.m. the baptismal address will be given by Reusch. The evening session will begin at 6:45 p.m. Featured will be demonstrations of displaying "Fruits of the Spirit" in the ministry.

Sunday at 3 p.m., all residents of St. Johns area are invited to attend the lecture given by Reusch on the subject, "Will God Intervene in Men's Affairs?" The final session starts at 4:30 p.m. and ends at 6 p.m. Speakers for the final session will be R.O. Ridenour (Lansing), Kugler, (circuit supervisor), and Reusch.

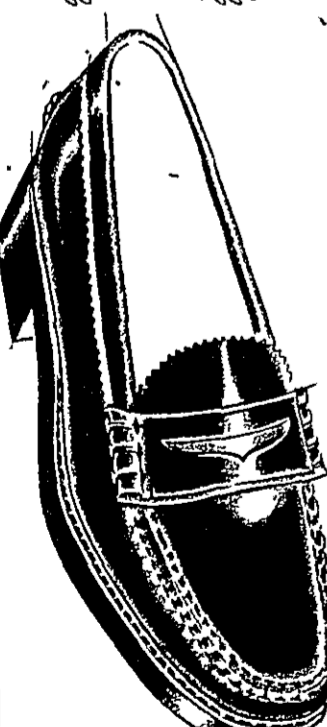

A special note: There will be a film showing prior to the opening session of the assembly. The film "God Cannot Lie" will be shown Wednesday, Sept. 6, at 7 p.m. at the St. Johns Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses, 1993 N. Lansing Street. The public is welcome.

YOUR SAVINGS BOND QUIZ

Question: Why aren't the new freedom shares sold "over the counter" the same as savings bonds?

Answer: A main purpose of freedom shares is to attract additional dollars - from current income - into the savings market without disturbing existing savings programs. Therefore, the Treasury makes them available only to regular buyers of series E savings bonds.

Question: I am self-employed steady purchaser of savings bonds. Why can't I also buy freedom shares?

Answer: You can. But you must sign up under the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank or save. Only persons who are enrolled in a regular, formal plan for the purchase of U. S. savings bonds are eligible to buy freedom shares.

Question: Is the interest of freedom shares subject to tax?

Answer: Yes. Freedom share interest is subject to federal income tax, but not to state or local income taxes! Tax liability may be deferred until the freedom shares mature, are redeemed, or are otherwise disposed of. However, the same method of reporting must be used for freedom shares and for all series E bonds owned by an individual.

FASTEST MAN IN ST. JOHNS

Bud Barnes is probably the fastest man in St. Johns - at least when it comes to driving a car. Barnes drives a fuel dragster, owned jointly by himself and Robert Gladstone, and while driving at a British drag strip in June while participating in the English-American Drag Racing Festival he broke his personal elapsed time record by going a quarter-mile in only 8.04 seconds, for an average speed of 197 miles an hour. This picture was taken of Barnes making smoke in England.

GOOD REASONS FOR NOT PICKING UP WILDLIFE BABIES

1. YOUNG ANIMALS NEED THEIR REAL MOTHERS TO LEARN THE BEST CHANCE OF SURVIVING. DON'T MISTAKE THEM FOR BEING ORPHANS - IF YOU FIND THEM ALONE IN THE WILD.
2. IT'S AGAINST THE LAW TO POSSESS GAME ANIMALS OUT OF SEASON.
3. IT COULD BE A THREAT TO YOUR FAMILY'S HEALTH. SOME WILDLIFE DISEASES CAN BE PASSED ON TO PEOPLE.

Fowler wins state 'A' softball title

FWLWLER-Fowler's class A softball team won four games at Muskegon over the Labor Day weekend to emerge as state class A softball champions.

Inspired by superb pitching by Rudy Karkau who allowed only two runs in four games, the Fowler squad finished the season in grand style, wrapping things up with a 46-14 overall record.

All of the games were close at Muskegon. Friday night Fowler edged Plangiers Furniture of Benton Harbor 2-1. Saturday they came back for a 2-0 victory over McCordel's Pontiac of Midland and then faced Ging Bar of Marquette in the finals.

It was a double elimination tournament, and Fowler had to beat Ging twice. Both games went extra innings. Sunday Fowler won 2-1 in 11 innings, and Monday the contest went 12 innings before Fowler won it 1-0.

Manager Melvin Sehke said everybody on the team hit well during the series and it was a team championship all the way. The squad included starters Russ Edger in center field, Al Thelen at first base, Hub Waite at third

Tri-Ami to run preliminaries for TV bowling

OVID-Tri-Ami Bowl in Ovid has been selected as the qualifying house in this area for the television bowling show "Beat the Champ," which is seen on WWJ-TV, channel 4.

Tony Sinicropi, co-owner of Tri-Ami, said the first 180 bowlers to sign up for the competition to appear on the TV show will be eligible to roll in the preliminaries at Ovid. One winner every two weeks will go to Detroit for television competition for what Sinicropi said were "fabulous prizes."

Bowling for the preliminaries is being limited to weekends, with 38 men on five different squads. The competition will run for 20 weeks, meaning 10 men will appear on TV in Detroit from the Ovid scores.

Bowlers will roll three games each weekend, and their six-game totals over two weeks will be added to with a 75 per cent handicap to determine the local winner. Bowlers must roll at 10 p.m. Friday, 1 or 4 p.m. Saturday and 1 p.m. Sunday. Entries for the competition close Sept. 15.

Additional information can be obtained from Gene Dunkel in St. Johns or Tony or John Sinicropi at Tri-Ami Bowl.

Notes to hunters

This year's duck hunting rules include a few changes from a year ago:

A 40-day season (Oct. 9-Nov. 17), five days less than 1966; reduced kill quotas to one-a-day on wood ducks and canvasbacks (two a day last year). Sneak shooters will not have to remove outboard motors from transoms any more, but propellers must be out of the water while they're hunting.

Goose hunting rules set the season opener for Oct. 1 in the Upper and northern Lower Peninsulas and Oct. 9 in the southern Lower Peninsula. Last day for shooting geese, statewide, is Nov. 30.

at Spring Arbor College, Drew Reeves will enter Community College.

Mr and Mrs Tom Granchorff, Mr and Mrs Earl Stoll and Mr and Mrs Bruce Hodges were Wednesday supper guests of Mr and Mrs Ray Stone of Grand Ledge.

Sportsmanship, awards, glory - all part of Punt, Pass, Kick contest

Registration for the seventh annual Punt, Pass and Kick contest, to be held locally Saturday, Oct. 7, at 6:30 p.m. at St. Johns High School athletic field, is continuing "after having started last Friday."

The sign-up, which will continue through Oct. 6, is being held at Egan Ford Sales, Inc. at 200 W. Higham Street, St. Johns.

The contest, sponsored nationally by the Ford Dealers of America and the National Football League, is being co-sponsored locally by Egan Ford Sales and the St. Johns Jaycees.

ELIGIBLE to enter the competition are lads of 8 through 13 years of age. It is hoped, as has been noted by Competition Director Eugene Downing, that approximately 350 boys will register for what could be a very rewarding experience.

All boys, when they register, will receive a free booklet of competition tips written by Green Bay's star passer, Bart Starr; the Baltimore Colts' punting specialist, Dave Lee and the Los Angeles Rams' place-kicking leader in 1966, Bruce Gossett.

The booklet includes exercises for better physical fitness oriented to boys of PP&K's competition ages.

Either one of the parents or a guardian must accompany the prospective entrant to registration.

AS ALWAYS, the competition is free and all equipment, such as footballs and kicking tees, are provided for. No body-contract is involved in PP&K competition.

Unlike previous contests, the awards to be presented to the 18 local winners are trophies - gold ones for the first-place finishers, silver for the runners-up and bronze for those coming in third.

A pre-competition clinic, to get the boys in "shape", will be held locally Saturday afternoon, Sept. 30. Then the following Saturday all the fun and excitement begins.

CONCLUDING THE local contest, the 18 top placers, three for each age group from 8 through 13 years of age, will be crowned the winners.

It will be the privilege of these 18 fellows to compete in zone contests, where they could be part of the 2,160 victors who will advance to district competition.

The 228 district winners in turn will compete in area contests to be held in 16 NFL cities. After the area competition, the number of eligible contestants will have been pared down to 96.

THESE 96 CHAMPIONS will next go against one another in the NFL-area events competition, which will be divided equally to conform with the East-West alignment of the National Football League teams.

Forty-eight Western-NFL area winners will compete in San Francisco Saturday, Dec. 16. The remaining 48 contestants will clash in Philadelphia Sunday, Dec. 17.

The father of the 48 competitors in each of the two divisions will accompany his son to the site of the division contests with all expenses paid by the Ford Divisions of Ford Motor Company.

FROM EACH CITY will come six winners - the six western and the six eastern division champs - one for each age group in each division.

The 12 lads, accompanied by their mothers and fathers, will next go on a "tour of champions" to Washington, D.C., followed by a trip to the Orange Bowl in Miami, Fla., for the national finals of PP&K during the half-time of the annual NFL Play-off game. The national champions for each age group will be presented before a nationwide television audience.

All this, plus the learning of sportsmanship and fair competition, can belong to one or more of the local winners.

Vinegar! What color, kind, for pickles. By HELEN MEACH Extension Home Economist. It's harvest time. Our corn is as high as the Rogers and Hammerstein "Elephant's Eye". Just now we have a running battle going with the clever corns who seem to enjoy the corns as much as we do. Every day is harvest day—the garden is a jungle and we love it—the corn, beans, cucumbers, tomatoes, peppers, parsley. The melons and pumpkins are ripening fast. Your questions add additional profit to the time. Each year with the beginning of pickle time the same question comes into the office, "Is beet sugar as good as cane sugar?"

Sugar is sugar regardless of whether it comes from a beet or sugar cane source. You can take advantage of the price differential if one exists. About vinegar—what is the difference between brown and white vinegar available in stores? The "brown" vinegar is cider vinegar. This vinegar is made by fermenting the juice of apples. It is the staple of the industry and is considered the standard for household purposes. Its color varies from a light brown to a deep brown. "White" vinegar is distilled vinegar. This vinegar is made by fermenting diluted distilled alcohol. It is usually colorless, although sometimes it is very pale yellow in color. Because of its superior preserving qualities, it is the most generally used vinegar for pickling purposes. Distilled vinegar is also known as white vinegar and as spirit vinegar. Actually there are several types of vinegars classified according to the types of materials from which they are made and method of manufacture as cider, malt, distilled, sugar and corn-sugar vinegars. In addition to "white" and "brown" vinegars we're apt to see flavored vinegars on the store shelves. Tarragon vinegar is an example. This is vinegar that has been flavored with tarragon, an aromatic garden herb. It has a pleasing fragrance and agreeable flavor and is generally used in salads, especially those composed of vegetables. When using vinegar for pickling there are some words of caution. Use a high-grade cider or white distilled vinegar of 4 to 6 per cent acidity (40 to 60 grain). Vinegars of unknown acidity should not be used. Cider vinegar, with its mellow acid taste, gives a nice blending of flavors, but may darken white or light-colored fruits and vegetables. White distilled vinegar has a sharp, pungent, acetic acid taste and is desirable when light color is important, as with pickled pears, onions and cauliflower. Do not dilute the vinegar unless the recipe so specifies. If a less sour product is preferred add sugar rather than decrease vinegar.

eligibility for donated foods is based on need. In most individual cases, the county social welfare agency determines eligibility. Institutions as hospital medicare units, schools, some camps, etc., are eligible for some supplies. What's in the pantry? There is quite a variety, depending upon which foods are in the most abundant supply. The program serves a dual purpose. These foods, if they can make a contribution to the health and basic food need of the receiver, are purchased from the producer to relieve a would-be marketing problem. Some of the commodities are consistently present on the availability lists—dry beans, cornmeal, flour, dry milk, rice and rolled wheat. Sometimes, cheese, lard, butter and peanut butter are also available. Meat, as canned luncheon meat, pork or beef, is available in some instances. Dried whole eggs have been included. At times, school lunch programs have available to them turkey, chicken or hamburger often in the frozen state. Some fruits are usually available in the canned or fresh forms. The availability list varies from month to month. Who pays for these foods? We do—all of us who are taxpayers. Tax money is used in the original purchasing, at the state and at the county levels. The receiving agency, when it is not an individual family, is often required to pay a small fee—often this covers no more than delivery cost. Most of us feel that it is a sin to waste food. Since we taxpayers foot the bill for the food in the huge pantries to be "donated" to those in need, then it becomes our responsibility to see that these foods are utilized. There are those who regard their quota as having no value and make little use of them. There are others who realize the value of their donation and use it in the manner which was intended. Each of us has a responsibility to see that this investment of ours is a worthy one. Though we refer to it as Uncle Sam's pantry, it is yours and mine. It is our job to keep it full and to help see that the best use is made of it. And thanks to the capable hands that are doing the management job for us.

This is where County News 'goes to press'

This is the new Greenville Daily News printing press used in the final production of each week's Clinton County News. It's a seven-unit Goss Suburban press. Three new units and a folder have been added in recent months and the press speeded up. It can produce a 24-page newspaper section, with color, at 21,000 per hour, or two 12-page papers at 42,000 per hour. The paper is fed through the press on a continuous roll (right), and the finished newspapers come out folded and in a neat line, ready to stack. Each 25th paper is also kicked out of line, making the papers easy to count.

ASC PROGRAM

1967 crop corn price support loan rate revised

W. M. SMITH
County ASC Manager

Revision of loan rate basis as well as schedule of premiums and discounts in corn Price Support Program, effective with 1967 crop, announced by USDA Aug. 21, 1967. The change provides that No. 2 grade corn now will be the quality upon which loan and settlement values will be determined. No. 3 Grade with modifications was used previously.

The change to higher grade basis (No. 2 grade) places price support rates on the same basis as corn as it is normally quoted in the market. This increases county loan rates for 1967-crop corn by 2 cents per bushel in relation to national average loan rate. Thus along with 5-cent increase in national average loan rate to $1.05 per bushel, this means all basic 1967 county loan rates will be higher than in 1966 by 7 cents per bushel, but discounts will be based on No. 2 rather than No. 3 grade. No other changes are made in relationships from 1966 county support rates.

IN THE CASE of farm-stored corn, where grade determination since 1963 has been waived at loan-making time, the new loan rate will apply in full. Loans for ear corn will continue to be on not more than 85 per cent of the total eligible volume. However, if settlement of loan is eventually made by delivery of grain, all eligible volume will be acceptable. The revised schedule of premiums and discounts will be used at that time to determine settlement value of corn.

In the case of warehouse-stored corn, loans will be made on total quantity and actual grade and quality of eligible corn as shown on warehouse receipts. Premiums and discounts for grade factors will be applied at time loan is made. Resulting value will serve as settlement basis in case of eventual delivery of corn by producer.

For 1967-crop, corn grading No. 3 or better will continue to be eligible for warehouse-stored loan but may contain not more than 15 per cent moisture—one-half per cent below No. 2 grade maximum. The new moisture requirement is relaxation from previous maximum of 14 per cent and is being made to moderate drying expense for producers as well as to lighten the load on warehouse dryer equipment at harvest time. For meeting or exceeding modified moisture requirement, warehouse-stored corn will qualify for premium of at least one-half cent per bushel.

THE TEST WEIGHT requirement for loan eligibility warehouse-stored corn has been raised to No. 3 minimum of 52 pounds from previous No. 4 level of 49 pounds. Discount will apply if test weight is 52 through 53.9 pounds, that is, below No. 2 Grade minimum of 54 pounds.

In general, in the event of loan settlement by delivery of corn, evaluation under new No. 2 grade basis will be a little more advantageous for below-average corn.

New premium and discount schedule is also patterned after that used in actual market trading. New schedule conforms to recommendation last September of House subcommittee on special investigation of small business problems that department should provide discount schedules for its sales, comparable to those used by commercial firms.

Basic county loan rates in Michigan for 1967 corn vary from $1.07 to $1.11 per bushel. Clinton County's loan rate for No. 2 corn will be $1.08 per bushel with moisture from 15.1 to 15.5 per cent.

Father Julian—pebble rippling the world's pool with faith

DeWitt—If he were not a priest, he probably would be a university professor or perhaps a doctor. But then, the Rev Julian Fuzer, OFM, is all of these and above all, is a "modern man."

Father Fuzer—or, as he insists, "Father Julian"—is one of those persons whose sturdy optimism and confidence (he calls it faith) ripples outward, rocking all around him—like the pebble lobbed into the pool.

His "pool" these days is the entire State of Michigan and his "pebble" is Michigan Retreat Day, Sept. 17—or, perhaps more properly, just the very notion of "the lay retreat."

Hungarian-born but speaking in precise English with an enviable accent you would expect to find in a distinguished professor visiting from Europe, Father Julian is proclaiming up and down the land that the lay retreat is not a spiritual luxury "but an absolute necessity for living in close unity with Christ."

Father Julian — the Rev Julian Fuzer, OFM, resident retreat-master at Portiuncula in the Pines Franciscan Retreat House at DeWitt, will host Michigan Retreat Day Sept. 17.

A RETREAT, HE will tell you, is a "going apart" from the world and the things of the world for a few days of special communication "with God, our Father, our Maker, our Source of all life, without whose help and direction we are like rudderless ships foundering in a stormy sea."

Father Julian, as resident retreat-master at Portiuncula in the Pines Franciscan Retreat House at DeWitt can tell you about countless instances in which a retreat has been the means used by God to help lay people grow in the spiritual life, "in a living union with Christ."

"I can tell you that we have saints living among us," the frail (148 pounds) Franciscan glows, his bright, beady, blue eyes flashing. "It is really a shocking experience—and I mean shocking—to have a person so filled with special graces from the Lord, come to you for counsel, for direction."

"AND YOU KNOW—his sanctity shows him to be so much higher. These people who live and move and work in the presence of the Lord—they communicate graces to us."

There is no such thing as "a typical retreatant," according to Father Julian. There is no common denominator, "unless it is that those who come to us do have a spiritual life. Those who come back, those who return year after year, those are the people of virtue."

Father Julian believes that those who do make a retreat do so as a special gift from God. "Many of our retreatants wonder 'why am I here?'"

The key person in any retreat is the retreat-master—the priest whose personality, knowledge, wisdom, psychology—and above all, this virtue—combine to challenge, inspire, stimulate the modern layman.

"THE LAYMAN TODAY is different from the layman of a few years ago," Father Julian observes. "He is a modern man, and the retreat-master, to be effective, must also be a modern man."

The retreat, itself, has evolved changes in the past few years. While there is a definite place and value for silence in today's retreat, emphasis is now on dialog, exchanging ideas among the retreatants and between them and the retreat-master.

New techniques—including audio-visual aids—have changed the retreat from yesterday's passive immersion in silence and meditation. "And, of course," Father Julian smiled, "there can be quite a variance in retreats today, depending on the style and personality of the retreat-master."

And how do you describe an ideal retreat-master?

WITHOUT A THOUGHT about himself, this 52-year old Hungarian—provincial of the Franciscan Order in the United States for eight years (1950-58)—holder of several degrees, including a PhD in sociology from Gregorian University in Rome—matter-of-factly murmured:

"The ideal retreat-master should be a highly spiritual man. He should have ideas, imagination. He should be close to Christ. He should be well-read. He should be modern. He should have a good personality—smiling, cheerful, outgoing, open—but humble."

Father Julian, his family of some 18,000 retreatants who have enjoyed the quiet beauty and artistry of Portiuncula are quick to say, "is all of these, but even more."

As provincial of the Franciscan Order in the early 1950's, with headquarters at Roebing, N. J., Father Julian founded Portiuncula in the Pines at DeWitt.

"He not only founded it, but he actually designed the building," a colleague volunteered. DeWitt is a long way from Hehalom, Hungary, where Father Julian was born May 30, 1915, the second of three children.

FOLLOWING ELEMENTARY and secondary education in Hungary, where Father Julian began studies for the priesthood in Rome, leading to his ordination July 13, 1941. As the top theology student in his class, he received the "Golden Medal" personally from Pope Pius XII.

In 1946 he came to the United States and enrolled immediately in the Berlitz School of Languages in New York where he studied English. He served as pastor of an Hungarian parish (St. Emerick's) in Milwaukee for several years before being tapped for the top post of the Friars Minor, OFM, in 1950.

Although as provincial he founded Portiuncula Retreat House at DeWitt in 1953, he did not become resident retreat-master until 1960, two years after completing his term as provincial.

Retreats for lay persons have never been more needed or important than now, according to Father Julian. "Persons involved in the retreat movement are convinced that retreats are THE response to church renewal initiated by the Second Vatican Council."

"In order to understand the beauty and magnitude of their Christian vocation in this time of renewal, lay persons need the experience of the retreat."

SO THAT AS MANY people as possible might hear Father Julian's message, he and a small army of retreatants have organized Michigan Retreat Day. It will be conducted in the auditorium of DeWitt Public High School in DeWitt, starting at 10 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 17.

Bishop Alexander Zaleski of the Diocese of Lansing will be the chief speaker "but we also will have several interesting, informed speakers and panelists who will explore various phases of the retreat."

Elsie solons rap cyclists, noise

ELSIE—Police Chief Leonard Burdick received a "vote of confidence" from the village council Monday night, Aug. 28, in his effort to uphold the recently passed ordinance clamping a 10 p.m. curfew on the operation of motorcycles on this community's streets.

The statute was enacted during the last regular meeting of the council to relieve the village of excessive noise and reckless driving during the nighttime.

When informed by Burdick that some of the transgressors of the ordinance were going to repeal the tickets they received, the council members shouted their support of the local law enforcement agency with regard to the matter.

ONLY THOSE PERSONS who use the bikes to go to and from work and those "passing through" are exempt from the prohibitive regulation.

The Elsie Council also extended the payment period for curb and gutter being installed on the Frank Bernath property on Knowlton Street to three years.

Bernath requested the extension of payment time for approximately 300 feet of gutter and curbing to be laid on his parcel at a cost of about $660.

The $660 represents 50 per cent of the cost that, under village regulations, must be paid by the property owner. The community treasury pays the remaining 50 per cent of the price tag.

IN GRANTING the extensions to Bernath, the council gave notice to Richard Sturgis that if he should request it, he could receive equal measure. Sturgis owns about 550 feet of land along Knowlton Street.

Finally, the village fathers allocated $140 for the purchase of a roto-tiller by the cemetery committee.

English 355 is required on the elementary teaching curriculum and has as a prerequisite English 102. Biology 494 may be used on a biology major or minor at the undergraduate level or as a cognate credit at the graduate level.

School bus costs not that high

Bus transportation costs in the St. Johns School District aren't going up as radically as last week's Clinton County News story on Page B-1 might have led you to believe.

Two separate typographical errors were involved. Money budgeted for transportation is being increased TO about $124,000, rather than being "increased $124,000 for this school year."

In the seventh paragraph there was another typographical error. The story said the transportation budget is going up from $111,000 last year to around $214,000 this year. The correct figure again is $124,000 rather than $214,000.

THE STEEPLEJACK

Look closely . . . in this picture a man is risking his life!

An old and respected trade is his. It had its beginning centuries ago when Christianity first began to express its devotion in unique forms of architecture. How could Christians proclaim constantly their faith in Christ? How could they lift the eyes of others to behold the Lord of Life?

Soon, over gabled village roofs rose gleaming spires. And men who tilled the fields, and men who trod the lanes, rejoiced to behold the symbol of Faith.

Then one day cities replaced villages . . . skyscrapers dwarfed the spires of God. And so, on the day this picture was taken, ten thousand people passed by and never raised their eyes. Only a few looked upward and thought in mild surprise, "Why, isn't that a man way up there on the steeple?"

Yes. A MAN. One of hundreds of millions whose skill and courage continue to be needed as the Church fulfills its mission.

Maybe your church doesn't have a steeple. But it has a task to challenge your skills . . . your courage.

Occasionally numbers, in the "Bingo Bug" symbol, may be found elsewhere in the newspaper. IF YOU CAN MATCH (JUST CIRCLE OR "X" THE MATCHING NUMBERS) ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ANY ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS - YOU HAVE A "BINGO" - AND YOU ARE A WINNER!

AT LEAST $50 WEEKLY WINNERS will share a weekly prize of $50 issued in "Bingo Bucks" that spend like cash at any of the sponsoring merchants. If there is only one winner, he or she wins all of the $50. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $50 in equal amounts. If there are no winners any week, the $50 weekly prize money will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE CLINTON COUNTY NEWS: Each game is complete in each week's issue. A new game will start each Thursday and be completed the following Monday. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published each week in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper and these new numbers only must be used. A new color of Bingo cards will be available at the participating stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced on this page.

IF YOU ARE A WINNER: If you have a winning Bingo card, ON WHICH ALL 24 NUMBERS HAVE BEEN MATCHED WITH THE NUMBERS APPEARING EACH WEEK IN THE CLINTON COUNTY NEWS, write your name, address, phone number, and the name of the store where you got your winning card on the back of your card and mail to The CLINTON COUNTY NEWS. The envelope containing your card must be received by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week; or bring your winning card to the office by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week.

Rules of the Game

NO OBLIGATION OR PURCHASE NECESSARY: There is no obligation or purchase necessary. A copy of the paper is available for playing the game at the office of this newspaper - also at the public libraries. You may play as many cards as you wish—they are free. Get additional cards—one at a time—each day of the week—from the friendly merchants listed below (adults only, please).

DIFFERENT COLORED CARDS EACH WEEK: The color of the cards changes each week. To be a winner, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week. Mutilated or altered cards will not be honored. ALL 24 NUMBERS ON A CARD MUST BE MATCHED TO WIN.

CHANCE DETERMINES NUMBERS: Bingo numbers for each week's game are drawn at random from a revolving Bingo number dispensing cage at the office of this newspaper. Some duplication of Bingo numbers may appear in the merchants' ads. This duplication does not affect the game or the total numbers drawn. All numbers for each week's game will be someplace in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper. Employees of this newspaper and their families are not eligible to win any of the prizes.

Boy Scout News

Boy Scouts of Troop 71 of St. Johns and several parents made a 25-mile canoe trip down the AuSable River Saturday, Aug. 26. Although several canoes tipped over and some clothes were lost, the 33 canoeists reported a very enjoyable trip.

Measles on decrease

Measles cases are decreasing, according to the American Medical Assn., which sees an indication of success for the anti-measles campaigns being conducted.

There were fewer reported measles cases in the first half of this year than in any comparable period since U.S. record-keeping began in 1912.

Extension training program set Sept. 13

September brings many changes from summer time activities. Among the changes are back-to-school days for the youngsters and the more routine living for all the family. To help homemakers get in-tune for their Extension Home Economics-Family Living Education programs a special training session will be held by Mrs. Helen Meach and Miss Lorraine Sprague, area extension home economists, Extension Home Economics group officers—chairman, vice-chairmen, secretaries, treasurers and project lesson leaders should plan to attend an officer-leader session in Smith Hall, City Park, St. Johns, Wednesday, Sept. 13, at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Meach will meet with all group chairmen, vice-chairmen, secretaries and treasurers to discuss both their duties as group officers and the Home Economics educational program as it is planned for the year 1967-68. At this time groups will also receive packets of the necessary organizational supplies. Knowing how to use the supplies makes each officer's job easier and more effective. Simultaneously, Dr. Pearl Winterfeldt, home economics program assistant from Michigan State University, will meet with all group project leaders and conduct a session "Teaching Leaders To Teach". Representatives from other organizations with teaching responsibilities will find Dr. Winterfeldt's presentation stimulating and helpful. Such "teachers" are most welcome to attend the training. Teaching others can be a rewarding experience to the teacher as well as meaningful to the learner when a few simple techniques are employed. An understanding of how learning is stimulated and accomplished helps a teacher "get the message across". Such discussion will be the basis of Dr. Winterfeldt's part of the meeting.

THE MORNING meetings will close at 12:30 p.m. when group chairmen, vice-chairmen, secretaries and treasurers will be dismissed. Project leaders will remain for a 1:30 p.m. project training lesson "The Conquest of Living Spaces". Leaders may, if they wish, bring a sack lunch and share in the cost of coffee that will be prepared. Miss Lorraine Sprague, area extension home economist, will teach this leader lesson as the introductory lesson in a series of four "house home and equipment" studies to be offered during the year as a part of the Home Economics-Family Living Educational Program.

Loan kits consisting of teaching suggestions, 35mm colored slides, mounted pictures and informative comments have been prepared to assist leaders in re-teaching the lesson to their group members. Though the loan kits are "self-teaching" a leader will benefit from the training session. However employed leaders who cannot attend the training meeting may borrow a kit from the extension office and with her group members have an enjoyable and enlightening lesson discussion.

Both the morning and afternoon meetings are of great importance to effective Home Economics-Family Living Education study groups, say Mrs. Meach and Miss Sprague. All officers and project leaders will find their responsibilities to their group more meaningful after the training. If it is impossible to attend, each officer and leader is urged to have a substitute who can relate the information and pick up organizational supplies.

3 Lansing men commit 3 crimes

Lynn Becher Clark, 27, of Lansing, was arrested Monday, Aug. 28, for having no chauffeur's license. Taken before DeWitt Township Justice of the Peace Gordon Willyoung, Clark was sentenced to pay a fine of $25, costs of $10, plus spend three days in jail.

A three-day jail term was handed out to Robert Charles Eddy, 17, of Lansing, Monday, Aug. 28, after having been arrested for being a minor in possession of alcohol.

In addition to the confinement, Eddy was ordered by St. Johns Municipal Judge Alba Wert to pay a fine of $14 and court costs of $20.80.

A THIRD LANSING man, Michael H. Morofsky, 20, was arrested Monday, Aug. 28, and tagged with a charge of maliciously destroying a mail box. The incident took place in DeWitt Township.

As restitution for his crime, Morofsky was ordered by Justice Willyoung to spend seven days in jail, pay a $48 fine and restore the mail box.

Top crop production pays off

Success in any livestock farming enterprise depends greatly on top crop production, according to George McQueen, Clinton County Extension agricultural agent.

"Farm account records compiled throughout the years by Michigan State University show that those dairymen, beef cattle feeders and swine growers with high crop production per man have a better chance to show profit in the livestock enterprise," McQueen related.

WHEN CRIPS are marketed through livestock, the farmer has two chances to earn on income.

The county agent suggests that farmers who want to keep up-to-date on modern crop production techniques may want to attend the Crops-Solls Field Day at Michigan State University Aug. 31 from 9:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. It will be held at the crop science farm on Mt. Hope and Beaumont roads on the MSU farm south of the academic campus.

Four stops will show efforts to grow 200 bushels-an-acre corn, experiments with different fertilizers on corn and soybeans, forage crop experiments including alfalfa, birdfoot trefoil and sorghum-stud hybrids.

Bement Library
Book Shelf
 By Hila Bross

Two new books at Bement Public Library are of the kind that can be picked up and enjoyed for a few minutes at a time. One is entitled BEST FROM

THE FARMERS' ALMANAC and it consists of a collection of excerpts from this time-honored publication which still sells for the large sum of 25 cents. The book's foreword gives the history of the Farmers' Almanac, which was started by David Young in 1818 and has been published yearly ever since. The collection consists of capsules of wisdom and wit, and a great deal of quotable material.

The other book is ALL ABOUT THE MONTHS by Mamie R. Krythe. Miss Krythe has done a tremendous amount of research and presents much material about each month in our calendar, its history and a description of its flower and birthstone. This book will certainly prove useful too.

FUN WITH NATURECRAFT by Avery Nagle and Joseph Leeming is one of several books recently given to the library in memory of Mrs. Zora Randall. This book contains numberless ideas for making things from natural materials, such as wood, weeds, nuts, etc. Local church fairs will benefit from this book. The Children's Department can never have too many copies of Mother Goose, and although we already do have a number of them, there is a new one which is particularly beautiful. It is illustrated by Tash Tudor whose figures and colors are so appealingly delicate. Something else to recommend this book is its size. It is not too big!

THE PENDULUM is constantly swinging back and forth, and with its last trip comes the idea that it is good for children to play in dirt. A new book by Janice May Udry is entitled MARY ANN'S MUD DAY. It includes specific directions for playing in the mud, and making mud pies. And as if the instructions weren't enough, the book is lavishly illustrated! Mothers, aren't you going to like us for buying this book.

We've just replaced an old, worn-out favorite, ON THE BANKS OF PLUM CREEK by Laura Ingalls Wilder. It is interesting to know that Miss Wilder has had more books given the John Newbery Award for the best children's book in a given year than any other one author.

Jehovah's Witnesses
 to show film

A film, "God Cannot Lie," was to be shown Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. at Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses at 1993 N. Lansing Street, St. Johns.

D. E. Reusch, who will show the film, will also speak this Sunday at 8 p.m. at Smith Hall on the topic "Will God Intervene in Men's Affairs?" The public is invited to the meetings.

Understanding your HEALTH

By Albert E. Heustis, M.D.

It is sometimes surprising to discover how much faith the public may place in the single fact that an individual or an organization may be licensed by the state of Michigan.

All of us understand that having a driver's license does not necessarily mean that a person is a good driver. Yet we often fail to carry over this idea into other situations.

A case in point is the license which septic tank cleaners must have in order to operate in this state. To qualify for it these operators have to meet certain health standards concerning their equipment, their cleaning methods, and the disposal of the wastes which they collect. They are bonded to comply with the requirements of their license in a workmanlike and hygienic manner, and if their work is faulty, to make the necessary corrections.

THIS LICENSING by the state health department is to assure that service is rendered in a manner not detrimental to the public health, that the wastes are disposed of so as not to create a public nuisance or health hazard, and that the property is left in a sanitary condition. The license has nothing to do with the price these septic tank cleaners charge or the amount of work they do.

Now, it's been our experience that a reputable septic tank cleaner will check your tank without charge (except perhaps where he must do a lot of digging to reach the tank inspection cover). He will tell you frankly whether or not it needs cleaning, and he will be willing to give you a clear statement of the actual charges that will be made for the services—preferably a total price for the whole job. We are told that a fair price might be in the neighborhood of about thirty to fifty dollars per septic tank, for the average home (depending on the distance to a disposal area). At least this should give you a rough idea of what to expect. In areas within 15 road miles of an available sewage plant which will accept septic equipment, their cleaning methods, and the disposal of the wastes which they collect. They are bonded to comply with the requirements of their license in a workmanlike and hygienic manner, and if their work is faulty, to make the necessary corrections.

MRS. RICHARD D. ALLEN

Allen-Lott vows said at Ovid

Ovid United Church was the scene of the 4 p.m. Aug. 26 double ring ceremony uniting the former Miss Sarah Jane Lott and Richard Doyle Allen in marriage. Rev. Gordon Spalenka officiated.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arley Lott of 9188 W. Wilkinson Road, R-1, Ovid. Mrs. Shirley Steward of Owosso and Ed Allen of Owosso are the parents of the bridegroom.

The bride appeared in a gown of crepe and Chantilly lace. It was styled with an empire waist, a floor length a-line skirt, a high round neckline and lace edged bell sleeves and wateau train which attached at the shoulders. Her illusion veil fell from a petal and rose headpiece trimmed with pearls and sequins.

MISS LENNIS LEE Sloat was the maid of honor and sister of the bridegroom, Miss Michelle Allen was the bridesmaid. Niece of the bride, Lauralee Lott was the flower girl.

They all wore empire styled gowns of sky blue linen. Chantilly lace edged the bell sleeves and waists. Their headpieces were blue cabbage roses with veiling. They carried single roses with white ribbon and the flower girl had a small basket of red roses and white chrysanthemums.

ORVILLE Terlan of Owosso was the best man and Paul Wesley Ruggles of Owosso was the groomsmen. Seating the guests were Larry Welsh of Owosso and Pfc Paul Sherman, brother of the bride, of Ft. Sill, Okla. Leslie Diebolt, nephew of the bridegroom carried the rings.

The mother of the bride chose a blue taffeta with white Chantilly lace dress and pale blue accessories for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother chose a brown crepe dress with a matching coat of English lace and beige accessories. Their corsages were of pink rosebuds and white chrysanthemums.

Richard Sherman, brother of the bride, was the soloist for the wedding and he was accompanied by Roger Matties.

ASSISTING AT the reception which was held in the basement of the church were Mrs. Gary Whitesell, Mrs. Millard McCreery Jr., Miss Cheryl Watson, Mrs. Larry Mohr, Mrs. Lester Kravetz and Miss Janene McGinna.

Farm dairy outlook is improving

"The outlook in the dairy business is about as good as any type of farm enterprise and is much better than some," contends L. H. (H) Brown, Michigan State University extension agricultural economist.

The recent increase in prices for milk at the farm will go a long way toward helping "what's wrong with the dairy business," Brown believes.

The dairy farm management specialist points out that this will help dairy farmers meet the non-farm competition for workers.

"What most non-farmers don't realize is that income from dairying from the early 1950's through 1965 provided little for investment in capital that was needed to keep dairy operations efficient.

"MANY OF THE BETTER AND MORE successful farmers have recently made investments that were necessary to make their production plant modern and efficient. Others will follow, or they'll find other income opportunities," the economist predicted.

With modernization comes expansion. The "40-cow dairyman" soon finds it becomes more economical to go to 120 cows. Many farmers have had to increase their investments by $120,000 to $150,000 to modernize and expand. Brown claims this cost is eliminating many of those who are a little uncertain, hesitant or of an age they would sooner go out of dairying. That, too, is why the number of dairy farm operators has dropped from 7 to 10 per cent a year for several years, he says.

There's something about a lighthouse--it's appealing

Something about lighthouses—those silent, stalwart guardians of the shoreline—appeals to everyone. They attract tourists with their picturesque beauty. To the sailor they are a friendly sight, warning of danger. Some 75 lighthouses watch over Michigan waters and the state's 3,000 miles of shoreline. Forty-eight are on shore or close enough offshore to be seen by the motorist.

For the benefit of those planning trips about the state this summer, Jerry E. Fisher, Automobile Club of Michigan touring manager, has pinpointed the locations of lighthouses in both peninsulas that can be viewed by tourists, together with the main roads that lead to them.

A TOUR TO ALL would cover 2,284 miles, but probably most persons will want to visit only those in certain areas. Some lighthouses can be approached only by winding, dirt roads and sometimes the surrounding area is restricted. Some are now owned by the state or private individuals. But all can be viewed, at least at a distance, and photographed. A local or county map is sometimes helpful in finding an exact location. Some 40 of the state's lighthouses are still manned. Automation has come to the rest, and probably the time is not far off when all stations will be automatically controlled.

Visits to several lighthouses offer a good summer weekend tour, Fisher pointed out.

"Go ahead, take your family to see these unique attractions," he urged. Recalling Auto Club's current "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" traffic safety campaign, Fisher cautioned, "But even if you get intensely interested, don't make the mistake of trying to cover too great a distance all at once. Make frequent rest stops and otherwise observe the rules of good motoring."

WHILE SOME MAY seem similar in appearance, each lighthouse is unique, with its own signal pattern recognized instantly by mariners.

The first lighthouse in Michigan was Fort Gratiot, just north of Port Huron's Blue Water Bridge. The present tower, of brick, was built in 1861. The tower is 86 feet high and displays a flashing green light visible for 17 miles.

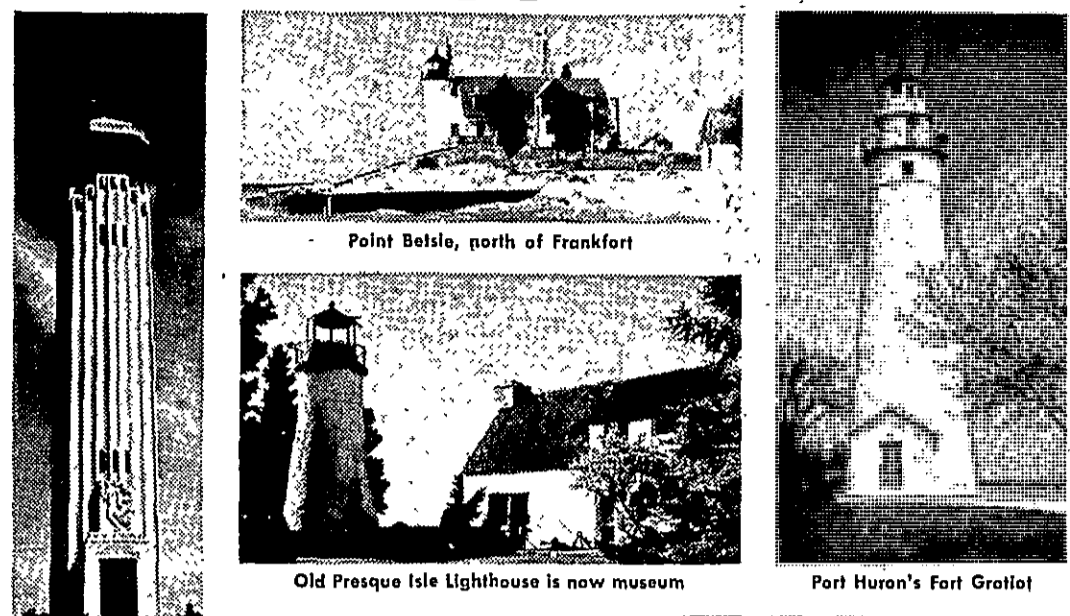

The Detroit area has three lighthouses, two of them on Belle Isle. The Belle Isle Light, at the southeastern tip of the island, was the only Belle Isle light for navigation between 1882 and 1930 when the Livingstone Memorial Lighthouse was built at the eastern tip on reclaimed land facing Lake St. Clair. The only marble lighthouse in the country, it also is the only one dedicated to an individual, it honors William Livingstone, for nearly a quarter of a century president of the Lake Carriers Assn. Members and citizens subscribed the $100,000 cost and presented it to the government. The flashing white light from its 58-foot tower is visible 15 miles.

JUST NORTH OF ALPENA is the privately-owned Old Presque Isle Lighthouse, dating from 1838. It is owned by Francis B. Stebbins of Lansing who has turned it into a museum and makes a small admission charge. He bought the old lighthouse some 35 years ago.

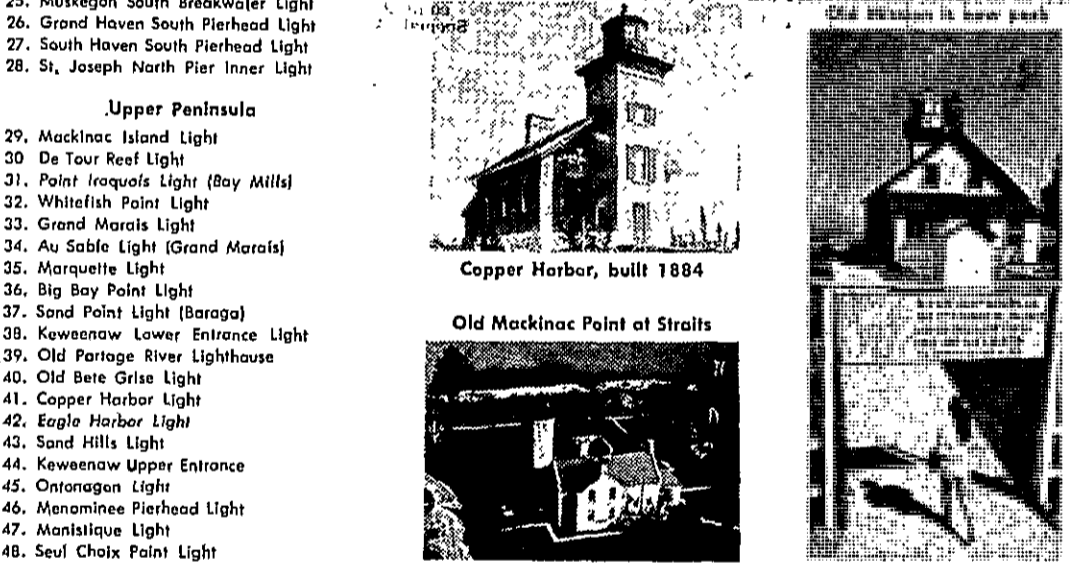

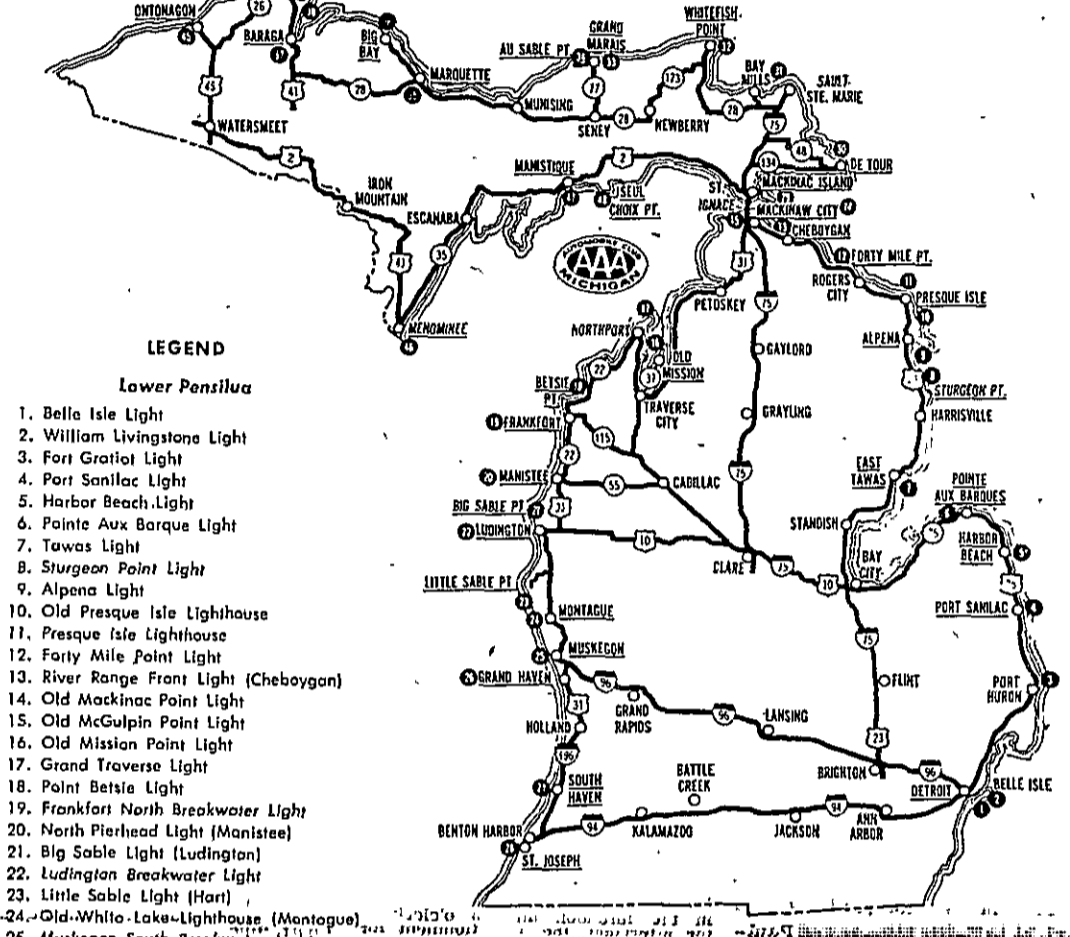

The Old Mackinac Point Lighthouse, built in 1892, lost out when the Mackinac Bridge was completed. The lighthouse was decommissioned in 1957 and turned over to the state for an historical museum and recreation area.

Two miles west is the McCulpin Point Lighthouse, predecessor to the Mackinac Point Lighthouse, owned for the last 30 years by Mr and Mrs Ralph Shaw. They welcome visitors.

On the western shoreline is the Mission Point Lighthouse, about 15 miles north of Traverse City. Now a public park, it is situated on the 45th parallel, equidistant between the equator and the north pole.

Another colorful structure is the Sand Hills Light at Five Mile Point on the southern Lake Superior shore of the Keweenaw Peninsula. Used for only 20 years, it was reactivated by the Coast Guard during World War II, closed again in 1954, and is now privately owned. Another, the Eagle River Light, discontinued in 1908, is a few miles away.

AMONG MICHIGAN'S tallest lighthouses are Big and Little Sable, south of the Lake Michigan town of Pentwater. Oddly, Little Sable is the taller and also claims distinction of being the last kerosene-powered light on the Great Lakes, being electrified in 1954. Big Sable was commissioned in 1867, seven years before its nearby companion.

Point Betsie Light, north of Frankfort on M-22, was commissioned in 1856, and shipwrecks visible in the waters nearby testify to its need. It is a favorite subject with artists and photographers.

You'll need a boat to see three of Michigan's most spectacular lighthouses. They are Stannard Rock, lying 23 miles southeast of Manitow Island in Lake Superior, farther from shore than any other American lighthouse; Spectacle Reef Lighthouse, 10 1/2 miles from Bois Blanc Island in Lake Huron, the best specimen on monolithic stone masonry in the United States; and Rock of Ages Light, about three miles off the west end of Isle Royale in Lake Superior, the most powerful on the entire Great Lakes.

SCD state tree plantings show good results

Tree plantings by soil conservation district cooperators in Michigan are showing remarkable results, according to Jacques J. Pinkard, woodland conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service at East Lansing.

Over one-third billion trees have been planted on private lands in the state, he said. This is two trees for every man, woman, and child in the United States and represents 1,910 trees planted per Michigan woodland owner.

Here in the Clinton County Soil Conservation District, some 377 acres have been planted to trees. Cooperators planted 46, 100 conifers during the spring of 1967.

Michigan records date back to 1936 when 130,000 trees were established. Peak year so far has been 1958 when 32 million trees were planted. The current average approximates 10-15 million a year.

MOST OF THESE trees are evergreens with about one-third planted for Christmas trees. Some plantations have grown into pulpwood size, and a few are approaching sawlog size. Wood products which can be made from these trees are having an economic impact on Michigan's future.

It has been noted that these recent changes have affected the number of American black walnuts planted. Eight times as many were planted in 1967 as were planted in 1963.

A CONSIDERABLE investment has been made in trees with an eye to the future. The cost of nursery stock is only part of the investment. There are other costs, such as labor, roads for access and protection, thinning, and other work carried out to maintain the planting.

Obtain wheat seed early

Right after harvest is the "right time" for farmers to line up their seed wheat needs for September planting.

George McQueen, Clinton County agricultural Extension agent, recommends planting of certified seed for best results.

Local elevators or producers of certified seed in this area can provide high quality seed with varietal purity, free from weed and other crop seeds, that has a high germination test.

Only Grade A milk is sold in Michigan

Only Grade A milk is retailed in Michigan. There is no other grade.

This statement of Director B. Dale Ball of the Michigan Department of Agriculture contradicts a sales pitch reported to the department that "Our milk is Grade A milk but our competitor's isn't."

All fluid milk for bottling in the state must meet Grade A standards, which is part of the department's consumer protection program.

The Dairy Division in the department is responsible for milk and milk products at all levels—from farm to store. The Dairy Division has a trained staff whose responsibility it is to check some 11,000 farms, haulers, and processing plants.

MILK MUST BE produced, processed and distributed under sanitary conditions in order to carry the Grade A designation that appears on each container.

Milk also must come from healthy animals, and it must be free of harmful organisms, pesticides, antibiotics and other chemicals. Meeting all requirements in transportation and processing in plants, the finished product reaches the consumer under the Grade A label.

In Michigan most milk sold is Vitamin D homogenized whole milk that must contain at least 3.5 per cent butterfat. For persons seeking lower fat content there also is available under proper labeling skim milk, 2 per cent low fat milk and buttermilk. But all of it must be Grade A.

Michigan was the first state to adopt by law the 1965 version of the U.S. Public Health Service Pasteurized Milk Ordinance. It spelled out requirements for Grade A milk. This was not the first innovation either. Michigan was the first state to have a compulsory milk pasteurization law.

Fall plowing is a triple-threat tool

Plowing at the right time is to soil what proper exercise is to human health. By fall plowing, a good grower may boost corn yields 5 to 10 per cent, help control insects, and reduce dead soil compaction.

Spring pressures can make even the best grower do desperate things: rush a heavy spreader into a wet field, plow too wet toward early planting for best yields.

HE USUALLY FAVORS plow-down over disked-in fertilizer. Radioactive nitrogen tests showed 11-week-old corn feeding only where moisture was.

Plants must have moisture to take in nutrients. Plow-down phosphorus boosted corn yields 10 bushels over disked P, while plow-down potassium raised them 9 bushels per acre.

A good grower may gradually plow to 11 inches rather than 7 inches over a four or five years, giving his crop an extra week's feeding in dry summer and a cushion between rains.

Fall plowing sets up early planting with field cultivator on planter or a till planter. It insures warmer soil quicker. Frost can leave a dark, sun-absorbing plowed soil 10 days ahead of an unplowed field insulated by light-colored crop residues.

THE GOOD GROWER can fight insects with his plow. Plowed fields expose larvae to wind,

Haylage feed value higher for calves

Haylage apparently has a higher feed value for beef calves than it has for yearlings, reports Hugh E. Henderson, Michigan State University animal husbandry researcher.

In recent experiments, he found that calves fed a full feed of haylage plus 1.5 pounds of shelled corn daily for every 100 pounds of body weight gained just as well as cattle fed a full feed or corn silage plus one pound of shelled corn per hundredweight of body weight.

But when a similar trial was conducted with yearlings, there was a significant difference in favor of the ration which included corn silage and a pound of shelled corn. Cattle on this ration gained 2.27 pounds daily compared to 2.27 for those that were given a full feed of haylage plus one and one-half pounds of shelled corn for every 100 pounds of body weight.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF

Three Clinton County people were among 253 students to complete degree requirements at Central Michigan University at the close of the six-week summer session July 28. They were Sharon M. Schultz of 6790 Vincent Road, Elsie, who received a BS degree in education; Douglas R. Japinga of 404 E. Park Street, St. Johns, who received a master of arts degree; and Barbara A. Blair of R-3, St. Johns, who got a BS degree in education.

Blanche Bissell of DeWitt was one of nearly 100 cosmetologists who took part in a recent five-day workshop at Ferris State College in Big Rapids. Instruction covered subjects ranging from salesmanship to business and personal finance.

Control apple disease with new fungicide

A "massive" dose of an experimental fungicide, Difolatan, has controlled apple scab up to two months in recent Michigan State University experiments.

Dr. Edward J. Klos, MSU plant pathologist, said apple scab control with this single application should mean a great cost savings to growers who now have to spray about 12 to 15 times a year.

"The 'massive' dose, applied when you can see the green tissue of the first buds that open in the spring, controls primary scab and thus controls the disease for the entire season," reported Dr. Klos.

"The fungicide has also been successful in Pennsylvania and California."

Klos has also been getting excellent scab control in which sprays (including a systemic) are applied at regular 14-day intervals, starting with the first tree growth in the spring. While growers generally apply three to four sprays in that period, Klos' aim is to reduce the number to just one.

He forecasts that the total seasonal scab control program could be reduced from the present 12-15 sprays to only 2-4 if the compounds he is testing are cleared by federal agencies.

Commercial farms increase rapidly in rural Michigan

Each day during the past five years, Michigan has been losing about nine "census farms" but gaining three "commercial farms," according to John Doneth, Michigan State University agricultural economist.

Commercial farms are those with $20,000 or more gross income while census farms can be a rural tract of land with little or no farming operations. The agricultural economist thinks it is important to distinguish between them because the total business volume on commercial farms is rapidly increasing. Meanwhile, the small farm tracts with little commercial farm production are fewer in number. "By 1980 we expect 55 to 60 per cent of all our farms to be commercial in contrast to less than 5 per cent five years ago and only about 10 per cent today," Doneth commented.

Doneth says they are going to need and will demand business practices, procedures and record requirements never known by their fathers. Better records, better files, more office or business centers and adoption of sounder business practices and methods are coming fast for farmers.

A STUDY OF FARM records shows that expenses and investments are increasing at faster rates than gross income. This means the farmer is faced with narrower margins of net income on each bushel of grain, hundredweight of livestock or milk, or ton of fruit.

While the trend toward narrower margins is welcomed by 95 per cent of the American people who benefit by low cost food, farmers do not like it but cannot stop it.

"They must learn to adjust to it," Doneth believes. The "new breed" of commercial farmers is younger, more willing and daring and make changes that are necessary to meet the situation.

Dairy farm technician course planned

Beginning in the second half of September, a dairy farm technician class is being offered at Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Mich., as part of Manpower Development Training Act, said Ray Yeutter, crop area supervisor of Farm Labor Services of the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

This class is divided in two sections. The first 16 weeks will deal with milking, sanitation, milk testing and artificial insemination. Students completing the first section who have the ability and interest will be asked to stay for a second 16-week section where the skills associated with herdsmanhood will be taught, Yeutter stated.

The desirable qualifications are: age 17 1/2 minimum, farm background preferred, interest in dairying, should possess communicative skills of a typical high school graduate (high school graduation preferred, but not required), willingness to accept job on dairy farm of Dairy Herd Improvement Assoc. of artificial insemination organization at completion of training.

Training allowances will be granted depending upon work experience, length of time on labor market, number of dependents, etc.; travel and subsistence will be granted if student does not commute daily.

Draft deferment remains a matter for local boards to decide.

Prospective students for this class may contact Manuel Chluntz, Farm Labor Services of Michigan Employment Security Commission, 3215 S. Pennsylvania Avenue, Lansing, Michigan from 8:15 to 5:00 Monday through Friday.

Farm expansion answers not easy

Any poorly managed or inefficient business—including a farm—is difficult to improve through expansion. On the other hand, many efficient operations may need to be expanded in order to maintain a competitive position, thinks Dr. Leonard Kyle, Extension agricultural economist at Michigan State University.

The farm management authority thinks the key question which will eventually decide the expansion issue are more personal than most farmers or businessmen will admit. For those considering expansion, he suggests they honestly answer these questions:

- 1) Are you under 50 or do you expect to operate an efficient business for another 10 years?
- 2) Do you expect to maintain your competitive position?
- 3) ARE YOU IN the upper quarter in production efficiency?

4) Do you need to expand to meet your business and personal goals?

Kyle thinks if the answer to the above questions is "yes", there should be little hesitation about expanding on a planned basis.

Very few farmers would appraise a doctor or hospital which did not administer various tests in determining their illness. Yet, the agricultural economist points out, many of these same people operate sizeable farm businesses without adequate records available for analysis, planning and making decisions about expansion.

The new star in the calf growing program

NEW PURINA CALF GROWENA

Purina's New Calf Program brings you extra energy in Purina Nursing Chow, higher energy and lower fiber in Purina Calf Startena, and an all new Purina Calf Growena.

It can help you grow herd replacements fast, breed them early, and freshen them between 22 and 24 months—and help you take advantage of future high milk prices.

What's new about the program?

Based on recent findings that show heifers need increased protein and energy during their first six months, Purina has developed NEW Calf Growena. This is a 16% protein ration with an improved protein-energy balance. It's fortified with essential minerals and vitamins. And it's coarse—the way young calves like a ration to be.

The new Purina Heifer Growing Program is better because it now satisfies the growing heifer's needs for protein at the time when she needs it most.

It's time to start your calves on the NEW Purina Calf Growing Program featuring New Calf Growena. Stop in and talk to us about it. You'll find us where you see the Checkerboard sign.

Putting the skids to the dropout rate

More than ever, this country needs trained, educated people to continue the progress America has made and to take their rightful places in the society that is developing.

Much of the poverty and unemployment that exists today is directly related to the lack of education and preparation by previous generations.

Right now there are 2 million youngsters in this country in the 16 to 21 age group who dropped out of school before earning their high school diploma.

Large gains have been made in the fight against ignorance, unemployment and poverty during the past several years.

The education campaign of the past two years has helped in this progress. It has paid big dividends by inspiring dropouts to return to the classrooms and encouraging the undecided to finish their education. In 1960 the dropout rate was 25 per cent. Last year it had decreased to 18 per cent.

But 18 per cent is too high for a nation to tolerate. The frightening fact remains that at the current dropout rate by 1975 there will be 32 million adults in the labor force without a high school education—32 million who will be unqualified for most of the jobs available then.

This newspaper supports the efforts being made to keep our youth in school and help them from becoming future victims of deprivation and poverty.

But it takes more than our support. It needs and commands the support and effort of every citizen.

Youngsters who have already dropped out of school need special help. They need to be counseled and guided into training that will help them develop skills for today's jobs.

You can serve your country best by helping to insure that tomorrow's leaders are educated today.

An encouraging report on our traffic situation

Automobile Club of Michigan General Manager Fred Rehm points out that so far this year Michigan has compiled one of the most favorable traffic records in the nation.

In part, he said, it's because the good driver appears to be taking that small, but important, extra measure of caution and forethought that's needed to prevent accidents or keep an injury from developing into a fatality.

To date in 1967 Michigan deaths on the highway are down 17.3 per cent over last year, while the death rate in the entire U. S. has shown no change.

Even the 102-hour Fourth of July weekend fatality rate—up 7 per cent over 1966—was the lowest of eight major states in the U. S. And the July 4 weekend hourly death rate was down 18 per cent from the July 4, 1966, weekend.

Lessons of history are being ignored

Everyone is in favor of progress and a constant striving toward improvement—in short, a higher form of civilization. The trouble is that many of us, ignoring the lessons of history, have become followers of centralized government leadership in all important matters.

The new president of the American Medical Assn. Dr. Milford O. Rouse, has expressed some fundamental thoughts on his profession and the American system. He says, "Capitalism, free enterprise, is a great deal more than just a system for seeking financial gain.

Dr. Rouse has said, medicine has made outstanding progress in the U. S. "because practicing physicians, researchers, academicians—all members of the medical profession—have been free to follow their pursuits as they saw fit.

The "Low Down" From the Congressional Record By Joe Crump

Jobs first; then a man on the moon

Senator Wayne Morse (Ore.) "I voted again against the foreign aid bill this afternoon. I shall continue to vote against foreign aid bills until my government reforms foreign aid, because my position on foreign aid is determined in no small measure by the findings of the comptroller general of the United States in report after report which he has filed with the Congress of the United States as, really an agent of the Congress..."

"I CANNOT VOTE for foreign aid at this time until my government recognizes that domestic needs should come first, and foreign aid second. Yet we have been pressured by this administration, through its State Department and its AID and White House lobbies, to try to get a foreign aid bill through the Senate, in this historic hour, far above the figure that the Committee on Foreign Relations brought to the floor of the Senate, with AID lobbyists even occupying an office in the capitol building of the United States, for the first time in our history in connection with a foreign aid bill..."

"We have an administration which is about to unleash its powerful lobby forces upon the Congress of the United States to increase the taxes imposed on American taxpayers with a 10 per cent surtax increase. They have made no case for it..."

"THE RUSSIANS haven't put anyone on the moon yet, and I do not care if they do..."

"In the light of the testimony of the under secretary of state this morning, I should say that any more testimony from any high official of the Johnson administration of that nature, ought to give me the votes for the resolution that I intend to offer, in due course, to rescind the Tonkin Gulf resolution..."

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

The most effective public (Affairs) relations departments appear to be those of the Department of Defense (DOD), and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

The lease effective appear to be the PR people in the Agency for International Development (AID). If AID is doing the job that the taxpayers hope they are

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

This has been the year of the frisbee.

Back in June while we were on vacation over Hart way, we bought "for Kathy" a frisbee—a 10-inch circular object with rounded edges that form a concave disc that behaves the same way as a tin pie pan upside down.

It's a fun game, harmless up to the point that it develops sore muscles when one over-indulges in both time or distance of the frisbee throw.

My first experience with the frisbee was during my freshman year in college when another fellow and I hooked up in a triangular match with the state police driver of Illinois' then-Gov. William G. Stratton.

LIKE THE seasonal cycles, frisbee sailed out of my field of interest for several years, made a brief reentry in the form of an old pie-pan and peanut butter can lids, and disappeared again.

THERE'S SOMETHING fascinating about a life-less frisbee whirling toward you. It is thrown with a backhand flip of the wrist, which causes it to spin flatly toward your target.

By tilting the frisbee slightly one way or the other as you release it, it will develop a curved path to keep the game from becoming dull. By playing frisbee with just a slight breeze, the disc sometimes dips and zags as it comes to you.

There doesn't seem to be any particular set rules about frisbee. Sometimes we try to get it to the other guy but make him drop it. And sometimes we attempt to see how many successful tosses we can make to each other without a miscue.

it for Kathy. She smiled knowingly and said she'd get it for me if I would let Kathy play with it, too.

Fortunately I am not the only frisbee player on our block, nor do I have the only frisbee. Dads behind me and to the south of me have frisbees "for their kids" and they play with the discs with their children quite often, as I do.

Kathy has reached the point in frisbee control where she can call the disc where she wants it about two times out of 10 at a distance of 10 yards or so. This takes some patience to go chasing across the yard after eight of every 10 throws, but she is getting better.

... But always on the lookout for a frisbee-playing neighbor. Two fellows who can cast a long-distance frisbee with comparative accuracy can have a whale of a lot of fun. Several mid-evening confrontations in our neighborhood have lasted until it got so dark the frisbee would sail past you before you could see it coming.

Somehow I compete with myself in a game of accuracy from one end of the yard to other. But I'm a born loser and that game has never worked out satisfactorily.

Should I hear of a definite set of rules, it might be interesting to set up the first annual Clinton County Frisbee Championships for this fall or next spring. For the real frisbee nut we could even schedule one the afternoon of Jan. 27.

Meanwhile, should you hear of reports of flying saucers on the east side of town, just discount them as being a mistake on the part of some unknowing soul who wandered past Rinker's block.

A chuckle or two

A book called "The World's Funniest Off-beat Humor" has been published by Paul E. Lowney of Seattle, Wash. Sample:

"A man was bitten by a dog, and eventually was told by the doctor that he had rabies. The patient took out a pad and pen, and started writing.

"No need to write your will," said the doctor. "We'll pull you through."

"It's not my will," said the man. "It's a list of people I'm going to bite."

"In London, The Times reports a shortage of maternity beds in the Midlands area.

"One person was told at a hospital, 'I'm sorry, sir, but if your wife needs a bed in March it should have been booked 10 months in advance.'" —Jerome Beatty Jr., in the Saturday Review.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

'Hard core' unemployed in U.P. get 'pilot' help

Michigan's "hard core" unemployed in the Upper Peninsula were picked for a unique retraining-educational pilot program. Although job retraining has been conducted at many locations for quite some time, the UP project combines basic education and prevocational training with the teaching of only job skills.

A federal program passed in 1964 provides funds for attacking hard core poverty. The Michigan Department of Social Services and Northern Michigan University, at Marquette, pooled their talents to provide a more flexible program, based on individual needs, than is normally found in retraining.

The 201 enrollees were first given thorough medical-dental examinations and underwent extensive counseling. Factors which become apparent—and which could affect the trainees' successfully completing courses—including organic problems, drinking habits, marital difficulties, low reading and mathematical competencies.

TRAINEES, HOUSED in special quarters at Northern, received specific help on these individual problems. During this period social services staff visited homes, explained the program and asked for cooperation and support from families.

Once a vacancy developed in the job training classes, a trainee was "promoted" from basic education to job skills. No class schedule was set; trainees graduated from classes as employment was found or when they entered a more highly-skilled course.

Programs planned for 10 week intervals actually averaged 11 1/2 weeks. Maximums and minimums ran from one year to one day. Some men spent the entire periods in the basic education program and increased general education levels. Others spent less time in classroom, but acquired skills in welding, wood-working, auto mechanics, and other fields.

At the end of the year's program, 94 of the 201 originally enrolled planned to continue their education or vocational training, 52 had or were promised employment, 27 were unemployed, 14 were in work-experience projects, eight were under medical care, six were in jail, unknown or dead.

Estimated trainee cost was $1.62 per hour, although exact figures will not be known until the books are officially closed. Results of the program were felt to merit its continuation for another year.

MOTORISTS traveling north on US-27 near Mt. Pleasant or Clare and those northbound on US-23 between Ann Arbor and Flint, will note blue markings for exit ramps.

Both projects are part of a "color-coding" experiment by the Michigan State Highway Department.

Previous tests in Minnesota and Florida prompted Michigan to add a third color code to the existing yellow and white-on-green interstate signs on its freeways.

High-speed freeway travel requires "glance" notification of interchange areas to permit advance positioning for exit maneuvers. The need is greater when exit ramps are approached from left lanes and look identical to the thru-way.

Erratic driving maneuvers were observed at such interchanges with drivers switching lanes two and three times before deciding whether to exit or continue on the freeway.

The erection of blue signs and edgemarkings at Mt. Pleasant and Clare reduced erratic maneuvers 38 per cent. Data from 30,000 driver interviews is now being processed. The highway department has received many letters from motorists expressing favorable reaction to the coding system.

Results on US-27 showed enough merit to justify a similar experiment on an extended length of freeway. In 1965 color coding was established on US-23.

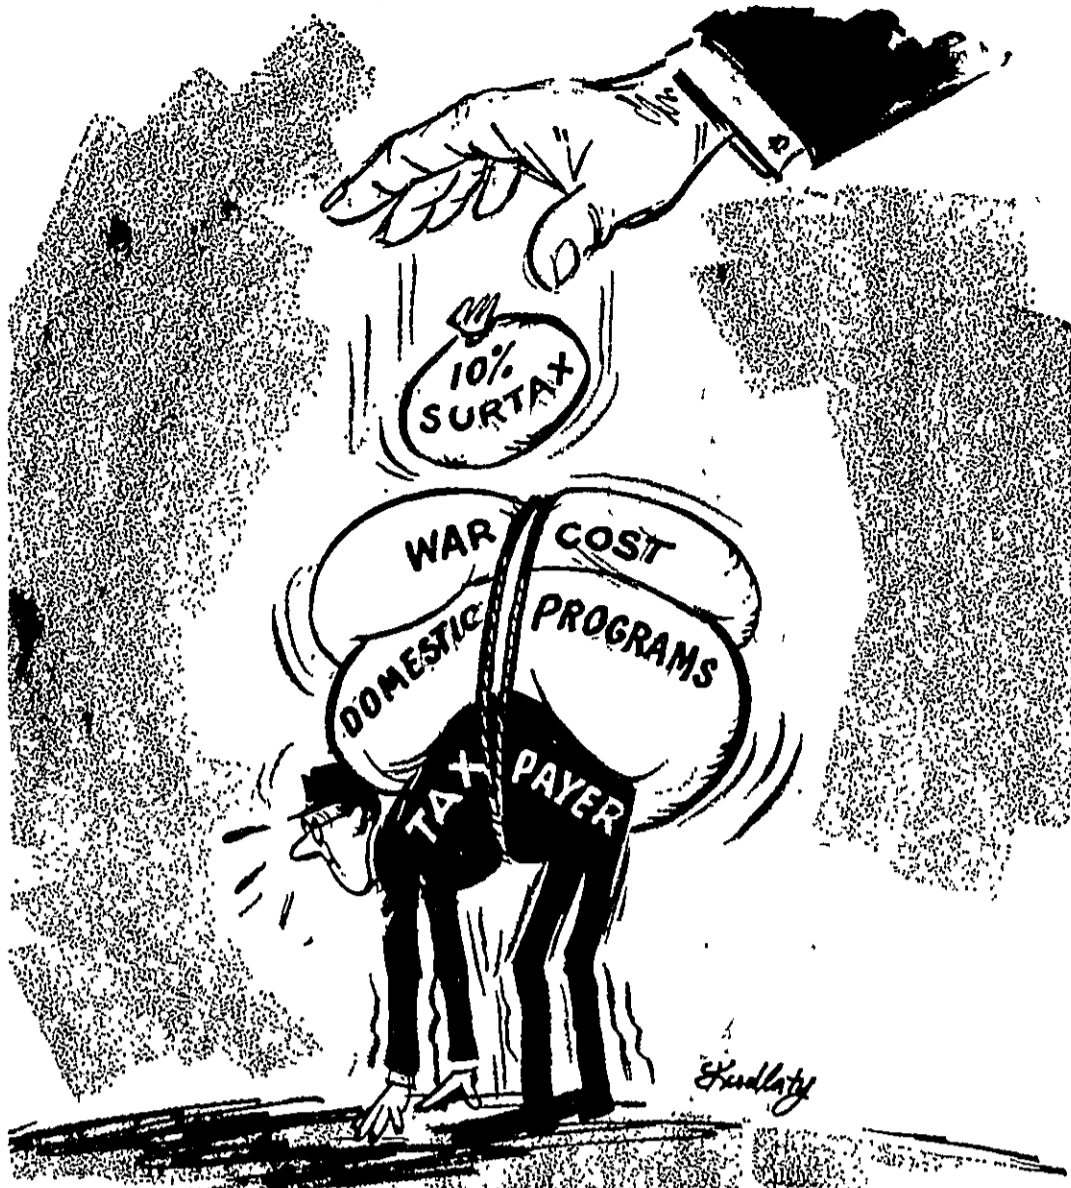

NATIONAL ADOPTION of the system could result if tests continue to show favorable results. The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads contributes 75 per cent of test funds and watches the experiment closely.

Although there is considerable red tape involved, the Michigan system stands a good chance of becoming a standard for all interstate highways. Research data should be processed by next July.

How Many Straws Can He Take?

from the HOPPER

By STEVEN HOPKO

The last long holiday of summer, this is the way the Labor Day weekend has been billed. This is very true if you consider summer as that time between when school lets out and school begins.

But as for the weather that comes to our area after Labor Day, these are the days that are hard to beat. For it is this time of year, from Labor Day until the end of October, that we enjoy some of the best weather, plus some of the most beautiful scenery of the whole year.

I should clarify that remark about beautiful scenery. For in Michigan, especially northern Michigan, the scenery in many areas is always beautiful. But, in the later part of summer and early fall these same areas will take on an added touch of beauty as the leaves begin to turn to the many colors and hues of the rainbow.

So summer, that time between when school lets out and begins, may be over. But there will still be many more days of fine weather to enjoy our golf, fishing, boating and many other sports. Add to this the coming football season and another chapter in the year is just beginning.

Speaking of golf. A week ago we ended our Thursday night league for the past season. My partner, Ken Penix Sr. and I were lucky to finish, but as it was we ended up some where about the middle of the pack. It was a good league and a lot of fun to play in.

The week that I returned from my vacation was the last night of play. I hadn't seen my partner until meeting him at the club that evening. We met opponents for the last day and began to play.

COMING DOWN number two fairway, I was chatting with my partner and he mentioned something about his birthday. When I inquired as to when it was, he informed me that it had been while I was on vacation.

When I asked him if his family had been nice to him in the gift line, he sort of winced a little. I asked if something was wrong and he said, "No," but he had to start deciding what to get his wife for her birthday. When asked if that day was near at hand he stated, "It wasn't but this would give him more time to decide what to do."

By this time I thought the conversation was getting beyond me so I asked why he was so concerned about his wife's birthday if it was not near. (Of course, there was the possibility that he wasn't like most of us who wait until the day before.)

It was then that he told me what his wife had given him for his birthday. Mrs. Penix (Betty) had given him a new automatic dishwasher for his birthday. Now he was in the throes of trying to return (maybe I should say retaliate) her gift with something as appropriate.

All I can add to this is, "Good luck, Betty."

In the August 28 issue of one of the daily papers that infiltrate our area were two articles pertaining to the coming congressional probe on the use of X-ray in medicine and dentistry.

Both of these stories had bylines and were written by men stationed in Washington. Seeing that both articles were on the same subject and on two adjoining pages, it would have seemed that this was a topical subject to those who do not read the Clinton County News.

FOR, IN THE August 3 issue of the Clinton County News, one of our regular columnists, Joe Crump, whose column is entitled, "The Low Down from the Congressional Record" had the same story.

The main difference in the three stories, all on the same subject, was that Mr Crump's story indicated that this material had come from the Congressional Record. The other two columnists made no reference as to where their material came from.

SO WE COMMEND Mr Crump for his articles and it just goes to show that a daily will not give you all the news at the best possible time. So read the news and you will know, the Clinton County News, that is.

This country needs a system of control for double talk.

Writer lauds sheriff's office, deputy

To Editor:
This is a note of appreciation and heartfelt gratitude to the Clinton County Sheriff's Department and especially to Deputy Richard May. We would like to say "Thank you" for a job very well done.
Last week someone shot and killed our family pet in the front yard of our home. Within 10 minutes of my call to St. Johns, Deputy May was in our yard getting the sketchy details of what happened. Within an hour of that time the two men who murdered our dog were apprehended.
Deputy May handled our complaint with speed, efficiency, cleverness and diplomacy. He followed through, more than his job and duty demanded (in our opinion) until the dog had been buried and paid for by the men responsible.
Money won't replace Captain—or make our children feel any better about losing him—but it might make these men think twice before pulling a stunt like this again. And with the speedy response of the sheriff's department and the fast action of Deputy May, it might make others think twice before breaking the law in this county.

Double or nothing dairy

There are many ways for a dairyman to expand his business. The most direct is to increase his milking herd. However, more cows usually mean adding to existing buildings, milking facilities, and feeding programs. This calls for capital, sometimes more than one man can raise.

There is another way to grow—by merging. Farm Quarterly editors interviewed two farmers near Lancaster, Ohio, who have taken this route to combine individual assets into a single money-making unit that is larger now than the total of the two individual farms.

BEING BROTHERS helped ease the way for farmers Bob and Paul Ety. Their combined forces permitted them to develop a modern efficient dairy operation from two not-so-efficient units. The formula called for increasing milk production while reducing per-unit costs. Results are showing up in the form of greatly reduced labor and machinery costs, in spite of the cost-price squeeze.

One of the major problems in merging was to find ways and means of consolidating the existing debt and of financing the construction to mold the combination into a profitable single unit.

The brothers' parents, John and Ethel, lived on the home place from 1917 until the time of John Ety's death in 1949. Bob and Paul then took over, buying out their two sisters' interests.

Bob and Paul Ety have built additions to their dairy housing until they were able to increase their herd from 65 to 125. The increase was gradual, however, as they grew from their own helpers. The planning for doubling started in 1961 and now the goal has almost been attained. The income has more than doubled.

THEY NOW wonder how much more they should expand, and how. At the present they seek to increase their income through sale of registered heifers. But in the future they will follow their path of expansion, as they have for the past 18 years.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The Board of Clinton County Road Commissioners held their regular meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 5. Bids were opened for several pieces of equipment and for gasoline.

Don Haske, county road engineer, submitted a list of recommendations to improve county road operations.

Robert Eldridge, newly appointed clerk of the road commission was in on his first regular meeting.

Expenditure for August reached an all time high as bills for dust control and bituminous materials, used in our summer projects, boasted totals to $169,965.47. Income for last month was $181,386.84 as the quarterly Motor Vehicle Highway Fund payment of $154,840.33 was received. This fund shaved an increase of 1.96 per cent, considerable less than the yearly 6 per cent increases of the last two years.

With costs up 6 to 8 per cent, present revenues indicate less highway work when much more is needed. County and Township appropriations are expected to be far less this year and present levels of receipts and disbursements show that operating expenditures will be more than $100,000 over income this year.
