Earth's "7 moons," as seen from courthouse lawn

In a time of flying-saucer reports, this picture might at first give the impression of a whole flight of UFOs. Actually each one of the objects "flying" past the dome of the Clinton County Courthouse is the moon. Seven exposures on a single frame of film over a period of an hour traced the moon's path across the sky. Clinton County News Editor Lowell Rinker gave the picture an exposure of 10 seconds at f/8 every 10 minutes. The picture was taken Friday evening when the moon was about three-quarters full, although it appears full here.

Car hits truck on East M-21, "pickles" highway

M-21 got pickled last Wednesday morning when a car hit the rear of a loaded pickle truck about 600 feet west of Krepps Road. Two women passengers in the rear seat of the car were taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital and later transferred to Flint, but they were not seriously injured. They were Emma McQuarter, 68, and Lillian Mae Detzler, 92, both of Flint. The car was driven by Herman Ellis, 62, of Flint. He hit the rear of the pickle truck driven by Juan Saul Ruelas, 28, of Weslaco, Tex. The impact turned the rear axle of the truck to a 45-degree angle and dumped most of the load of pickles onto the highway and shoulder of the road. Ellis was ticketed for failure to have his vehicle under control, and Ruelas was ticketed for having no valid operator's license.

Ovid-Elsie vote on new millage set Monday

OVID — Ovid - Elsie Area Schools District voters will head to the polls Monday to decide on a school board request for four additional mills for operational purposes.

The millage is needed to balance the budget for the coming year, the board says. It would bring in $100,444 based on the present valuation of the district.

School officials said analysis of the financial situation compared to last year shows an anticipated increase in operating expenses of about $175,000 and an increase in state aid revenues of only about $70,000.

SCHOOL POLLING places are Elsie High School for voters in the old Elsie district and the former Bannister district; and Ovid High School building for those in the former Ovid district.

There is only one other way to raise the necessary operating money, but it would only delay and increase the amount needed from the district voters, officials pointed out. That would be to borrow the funds against future tax levies for operation.

"Quite apparently, such borrowing would not only cost more because of interest charges, but it would also mean that future operating millage would need to be even higher in order to repay funds borrowed for the operation of the district during the 1966-67 school year," the school board said.

THE VOTE ON the operational millage is more significant than on a bond issue, Supt. Robert Beauchamp pointed out.

"In a building program, refusal of future bonding proposals would only mean that new buildings or repair programs would not be started. Operational millage, though, since it is used for daily expenditures, is necessary. Turning down a millage issue doesn't turn down the expenses of operating a school—maintenance, salaries, bus transportation, etc. They continue."

The largest part of the increase in proposed expenditures this year is for teacher salaries and additional teachers for new additions to the curriculum.

"IT IS IMPORTANT to be certain that citizens do not feel that these monies to be raised by such a tax levy as ours Sept. 12 have any bearing on the building of our new facilities," Beauchamp said.

"One example of the difference would be that bond issues for a building program extend over a period of years and constitute a form of "mortgage" against the real estate of the district. Thus, only property owners are allowed to vote on the issue.

"In an election such as operational millage, all voters are allowed to vote on the issue."

Latest Traffic Victim

The air over a driveway where it entered the cornfield, it rolled through the field a total of 93 feet before stopping upright. Mr. Ike was thrown out about 33 feet from where the auto stopped.

OBITUARY DETAILS can be found on Page A-9.

Six persons were injured in a two-car collision Friday morning at Lowell and Jason roads in Riley Township. Two were still in Clinton Memorial Hospital Tuesday morning, both reported in "fair" condition.

They were Fred Hopp, 76, of R-4, St. Johns, one of the drivers, and Frank Farias, 15, a passenger in the other car involved.

Treated and released from the hospital Friday were Louis Farias, 18, the driver of the other car, and passengers Mike Villareal, 18, Carlos Villareal, 14, and Richard Villareal, 15. All six of the injured people lived on R-4, St. Johns.

SHERIFF'S OFFICERS said Hopp was going west on Jason Road and Farias south on Lowell Road when the cars hit in the middle of the intersection.

About 4:30 p.m. Friday, two cars collided on Watson Road south of Hall Road in Duplain Township. A car driven by Sadie Ann Treat, 80, of Watson Road, R-6 St. Johns, reportedly came out of a driveway in front of a northbound car driven by Earl Greenwood, 75, of 411 E. Steel Street, St. Johns. No one was injured.

About 9:50 a.m. Saturday, Richard L. Rewerts, 24, of R-1 Elsie, escaped injury when he fell asleep and his car went off

DeWitt recount shows no errors

A recount of local ballots in the DeWitt Township primary Aug. 2 turned up absolutely no changes in the totals, County Clerk Paul Wakefield reported last Wednesday.

Ballots for supervisor, treasurer and trustee were recounted, Wakefield said his count coincided exactly with that of the official canvass report made shortly after the election.

In the supervisor race, Reginald Nelson maintained his 17-vote margin over incumbent Oliver Angell, and Ronald Zeeb won over William A. Johns for treasurer. William J. Purves and Herbert Hardtke were winners in the two trustee races. All are Republican party nominees.

Wakefield said part of the reason for the call for a recount was that preliminary figures from one of the four township precincts was 100 votes in error when reported to the Clinton County News for publication. The canvassers report was correct, however.

Robert R. Begley Sr., 34, of Northridgeville, Ohio, and William E. Cummings, 54, of Jackson were drivers of two autos which collided Monday evening in the homebound rush on US-27. Begley reportedly stopped for a car making a left turn from the passing lane, and he was struck in the rear by Cummings' auto. No one was hurt.

Another US-27 accident Monday afternoon about 2:30 resulted in injuries, and a ticket for one of the drivers.

A CAR DRIVEN by Lloyd C. Clark, 39, of 408 N. East Street, Ovid, was crossing US-27 at Hyde Road when it was hit in the right rear by one driven on US-27 by Stanley J. Mudgett, 46, of 711 Spring Street, St. Johns. Mudgett complained of pains; Clark and his daughter, Jerry Ann, suffered bruises and his wife and daughter, Judy, complained of pains. Clark was ticketed for failure to yield the right-of-way.

'65 legislative act provides rules for sanitary land fills

An age-old problem of man is the proper disposal of his wastes in such a manner as to control disease. The Mid-Michigan District Health Department points out that this basic fact demanded the Michigan Legislature in 1965 to pass Act 87, an act to license and regulate solid waste disposal areas, or "dumps."

Adopted into Act 87 were "Regulations Governing Solid Waste Disposal Areas" which establishes minimum standards for the operation of a sanitary landfill. The purpose of this article is to explain Act 87, and the main points everyone should know.

It requires that every disposal site in Michigan be licensed, bonded and attended by an operator which has the power of attorney over the disposal operation. It provides for disposing of all solid waste within a sanitary landfill. A sanitary landfill is where waste material is compacted into levels and covered with a thin soil layer.

NO BURNING is allowed in the landfill, except for trees and parts thereof which may be burned at the site. All waste material must be placed so it is not in contact with ground or surface bodies of water. Act 87 has established as law the most satisfactory means of disposing of our solid waste material.

A controlled solid waste disposal area which includes a sanitary landfill has unlimited value over the common day open dump. A sanitary landfill will eliminate rodents, insects, and air pollution, where the old fashion open dump only generates these public health hazards.

A sanitary landfill operation can be used to fill in waste lands within cities and urban areas and make these lands useful as parks and building sites. The values of a controlled solid waste disposal area far exceed the costs of its operation.

The cost of a sanitary landfill operation has required some operations to close except for a few days each month. These same costs have demanded that some hard-to-compact materials, as woven wire fence, be excluded from the operation, and disposed of at a local metal yard.

ST. JOHNS SCHOOL NOTES

The St. Johns School District has received a federal grant of $48,798 for a reading and health programs - 85 per cent of the amount received last year. It is hoped that within two months an additional 30 per cent will be received. The 85 per cent includes a reading program at all levels, teacher aides and the hiring of a half-time instructional materials person.

Several changes have been made in the bus routings at the Eureka School.

Mrs. Grace Ormston has been hired to teach grades kindergarten, one, and two at Richmond School until 1:30 p.m. daily. All rural vacancies in the school system have been filled.

ing millage, however, no such "mortgage" or claim is involved. Since all residents have a concern in the immediate operation of the school district, and since those who do not own property are involved by means of higher rental rates, all voters who are properly registered and who reside within the school district are eligible to vote.

"MONIES RAISED by a bond issue such as those the district has voted during the past two years may be used for the stated purposes (building, repairing, etc.) only. These monies are in a fund separate from operating revenues. In the same way, operating revenue, such as the four mills extra requested on the Sept. 12 ballot, may be used only for that purpose, i. e., the operation of the school."

If approved by voters Monday, the new four mills will appear on the December 1966 tax roll. Ovid-Elsie now levies 2 voted mills for operations.

Good crowds turn out at Fowler, Wacousta

Fowler and Wacousta Labor Day celebrations were well attended Monday despite chill winds and — they say — chilly water. The Conservation Club picnic at the park south of Fowler was reported a huge success. Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3733 presented the club with an American flag at noon ceremony. The flag is now flying proudly at the park on its new pole. The Lions Club had a booth, the proceeds of which will help the needy with glasses. The baked goods booth, manned by the Sections and Corner's Extension group, was a busy place.

IN THE AFTERNOON the pony pulling contests were a real crowd puller. Six teams were entered in the featherweight class and eleven in the lightweight. A stoneboat, with the load of cement blocks gradually increased, was pulled by each team until they had reached their limit. Tom Johnson of Perrinton took first place in the featherweight class with a load of 2,200 pounds; David Huhn, R-2 DeWitt, came in 2nd, followed by Terry Gibson of Stanton, Elwin Ketchum of Laingsburg, Ed Rademacher, and Ambrose Martin, in that order. The lightweight teams, starting at 700 pounds, worked up to 3,400, and featured some beautifully matched ponies. Tom Johnson again took first place with a pair of calm and patient ponies who just got in there and pulled. Other teams placed in this order: 2, Forrest Vance, Hershey; 3, Clara Speerbrecker, Laingsburg; 4, Alvin Bucholz, Stanton; 5, Fred Rademacher; 6, Gayle Thurlow; 7, Gordon Schroeder; 8, Gerald Witt; 9, Harold Witt; 10, Gordon Denning; and 11, Bill Buri.

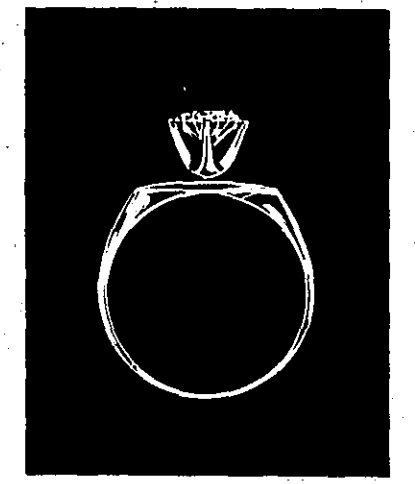

for the log rolling contest, though a few hardy souls did try it before it was called off. No one could spin it for more than a few seconds. Richard Epkey, son of Mr and Mrs. Louis Epkey of R-2 Fowler, was the lucky winner of the $5 atop the greased flagpole. He was also a very generous winner and shared his money with some of the boys who had spent the whole afternoon climbing and sliding up and down until they had most of the grease on themselves and their clothes.

THE TURKEY shoot drew 52 rounds with 10 men shooting each time. The chicken barbecue was all sold out and the coffee did a booming business in the chill night air. The 12-gauge Remington automatic shotgun was won by John Wieber of Fowler; second prize, a set of Walkie-talkies was won by Charles Smith, R-2 Fowler; and Ray Smith, 1813 Melrose, East Lansing, won the folding table. Tony Starmed of Lansing and Mrs. Gordon Warren of Maple Rapids won cash prizes. In the horse shoe contest Al

Aspersez of Portland and Henry Witt of DeWitt won trophies; Ronnie Schneider and Bernie Thelen of Fowler, runnersup, won cash prizes.

DOWN AT WACOUSTA, some 530 persons had chicken barbecue during the day. Winners of the various events were: Little League baseball: Lions 18, Indians 7. Bike parade, Kathy Smith first, Randy Deldey second; tricycle parade, Mark Burgess first, Kim Vandecastel second; bike race, Don Wiseman, Rollie Harlow, Mike Brandell, Peggy Trommater and Randy Harlow were winners; tricycle race, Gienna Baker was the winner. Adult sack race, Joel and Dolores Deldey; children's sack race, Mike Classen and Dave Peters; greased pole climb, Mike Griffin; shoe scramble, Kathy Loveberry; tug of war between boys and girls, won by the girls. Adult egg toss, Joel and Elaine Deldey; children's egg toss, Penny and Peter Walter; watermelon eating contest, Jerry Day; pie eating contest, Sarah Clark and Wayne Havens.

MR AND MRS GLENN A. LARSEN

Cobb - Larsen vows repeated Aug. 27

ELSIE—In a gown designed and made by herself, Miss Shirley Anne Cobb was married to Glenn A. Larsen of Flint, the bride's parents are Mr and Mrs Andrew Cobb of Elsie while the groom's parents are Mr and Mrs Oscar Larsen of Escanaba.

They were married at the Elsie Methodist Church Saturday afternoon, Aug. 27, with the Rev Gordon Showers performing the double ring ceremony.

The altar setting included candles and arrangements of white gladioli and gold and bronze mums. Mrs Duane Davis of St. Johns played the traditional wedding music and Mrs Donivan Williams was soloist.

THE BRIDE WORE an embroidered tulle gown featuring a boat neckline, elbow-length sleeves and a-line skirt with unpressed side and back pleats. Bands of eyelet embroidery edged the sleeves, skirt and detachable train. Small self-covered buttons formed the back closing of the bodice and also secured the train with loops of white velvet ribbon. Her veil of illusion was held in place by a single strand of pearls. She carried yellow roses and chrysanthemums on a white Bible, which was a gift of the groom.

Martha Cobb, sister of the bride and a student at MSU, was the maid of honor. Mrs Lee S. Cobb of Grand Rapids, sister-in-law of the bride and Miss Barbara Hess, cousin of the bride were bridesmaids.

They wore gowns of turquoise chiffon over taffeta fashioned with empire style bodice and sleeves overlaid with lace. The floor length gowns featured a floating back panel of chiffon. Matching pill box hats and cascade bouquets of white and yellow mums completed the ensembles.

The bride's mother wore a two piece turquoise shantung and a feathered hat while the groom's mother, a two piece ensemble of peacock blue tulle and lace with matching hat. Both had corsages of yellow roses.

Alan S. Cobb, young brother of the bride, served as the acolyte.

Special guests were Erhardt Kohling of Beberbeck, Kr. Hofgelsmar, Germany and the

MRS DUANE ZUCKSCHWERT

Pair honeymooning at Niagara Falls

Now on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and New York are Duane Zuckschwerdt and his bride, the former Constance Irving, both of Elsie. They were married Saturday evening, Aug. 27, in a candlelight service in the Elsie Methodist Church with Rev Gordon Showers performing the double ring ceremony.

Mrs Donivan Williams sang "Wedding Benediction" and "The Lord's Prayer" with Sharon Dunham as organist.

The bride, daughter of Mrs Esolda Irving and the late Don Irving, was given in marriage by her brother, Lieut. Thomas Irving of Ft. Bliss, El Paso, Texas. The groom's parents are Mr and Mrs John Zuckschwerdt of Elsie.

FOR THE CEREMONY, the bride wore a white Southern Belle gown of silk organza with overskirt edged in wide Chantilly lace, and fashioned with long lace sleeves and lace-trimmed bodice with seed pearls outlining the neckline. A detachable wattleau train with wide lace edging the tiers and a shoulder length veil secured by white orange blossoms completed the bridal gown. Her all-white cascade bouquet was centered by an orchid.

Mrs Dianne Watson of Flint was her cousin's maid of honor. She wore a green floor length sheath designed with an empire brocaded bodice and a brocaded Bishop's coat. A matching pill box held the shoulder veil in place and a cascade corsage of beige shaggy mums with a lighted candle completed the dress.

Miss Vickie Onstott of Elsie, Mrs Larry Jones of Saginaw and Mrs George Besko, Jr. of Flint, a cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. They were gowned identically to the maid of honor but in antique gold and maize with matching flowers.

Annette Zuckschwerdt, sister of the groom, was the junior bridesmaid and wore a pale green and white gown designed the same as the bridesmaids. She carried gold mums.

THE GROOM chose his brother, William, as best man and Mike Gutshall of Owosso, Larry Jones of Saginaw and Jim Carroll of Elsie as other attendants. Ushers were George Besko of Flint, and Fred Bliesner of Chesaning, cousin and uncle of the groom, respectively.

The bride's mother wore a pink knit sheath and jacket with paisley design in silver thread and the groom's mother wore a three piece ensemble. Both had corsages of pink rosebuds and beige chrysanthemums.

Special guests were the grandmothers, Mrs Ed Bliesner of Chesaning and Mrs Anna Irving of St. Johns. They were presented with corsages of gold orchids.

A RECEPTION was held in the Fellowship Hall immediately following the ceremony with Mr and Mrs Don Lidle as host and hostess. Three hundred guests were registered by Miss Louise Carmack of Lansing. They were from Holland, Detroit, Flint, Lansing, Saginaw, Grand Ledge, Owosso, Chesaning, Laingsburg and Ovid.

The heart-shaped bride's cake centered the serving table. Also assisting were Cathy McKone of Owosso, Sue Besko of Ovid, Mrs Esther Stastik of Holland, Paula Onstott and Becky Smith. The Marie Circle of the W.S.C.S were in charge of the kitchen arrangements.

Mrs Penny Davis recorded the gifts and Marsha Smith, Sue Besko and Louise Carmack assisted at the gift table.

The bride wore a plum colored dress with black accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet as her going away outfit.

The newlyweds will live at the Owosso Trailer Park, after their return Sept. 5. The bride, a graduate of Farthing's Beauty College, has been a hair stylist at Trumble's in Lansing the past year. Waterfalls tend to destroy themselves by severe base erosion; it undermines them and causes their collapse. The undermining is a result of the great energy suddenly released at the point of impact. May ask extension of ZIP deadline

Volume mailers can now start filling out forms seeking extension of the Jan. 1 deadline for mandatory conversion of second and third class bulk mail to ZIP code, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien has announced.

Extensions will be granted, he said, to those mailers who can demonstrate they have made a genuine effort to pre-sort their mail according to the new regulations but will be unable to meet the deadline because of circumstances beyond their control.

"WE WILL BE fair and objective in granting extra time for legitimate hardship cases," the postmaster general said. "But at the same time we must play fair with those mailers who went ahead with the conversion process with the understanding that Jan. 1 was a firm deadline for adopting ZIP Code."

"These mailers—and there are a great many of them, large and small—put in a great deal of time, effort and money to convert their mailing lists and pre-sort to ZIP Code."

"Obviously, it would be unfair to them if we were to extend the deadline indiscriminately."

The mandatory regulations apply to newspaper and magazine publishers in the second class category and to advertising matter in third class. Some 285,000 mailers operate under permits allowing favorable bulk rates for these two categories.

THE APPLICATIONS are now available at first class post-offices and the Department's 15 regional offices, O'Brien said. Mailers must fill them out, with supporting documentation, and submit them to their local postmaster, at the office which handles their mail.

The forms will then be forwarded to the appropriate regional director for a decision. If the extension is granted, he sets the time limit based on the merits in each case.

To qualify for the extension, the mailer must submit his application no later than Sept. 15.

In filling out the form he must describe how his mailing lists are obtained, explain what he has done to try to comply with the deadline and give a further explanation why compliance would involve undue hardship.

He must also certify the date on which he expects to convert fully to ZIP Code.

Those whose applications are turned down, or who delay beyond the extension given them, will no longer be eligible for the bulk rate but must pay the single piece third or fourth class rates, the postmaster general said.

Under the regulations, all mailers applying for new permits must be advised by their postmaster that after Jan. 1 all bulk mail must be pre-sorted by ZIP Code.

The ZIP Code program was inaugurated on July 1, 1963, and volume mailers were notified of the mandatory regulations in February, 1965, thus giving 23 months notice before the deadline.

Cars tangle on East State Street

Both drivers were ticketed in this accident, which sent the driver of the car in the background, Robert L. Hathaway, 78, of West M-21, R-2, St. Johns, to the hospital for treatment of mouth cuts. He reportedly made a left turn into Nick's Fruit Market on East State Street in front of the rear auto, driven by Roger A. Parks, 22, of R-2, Elsie, who was going west on State Street. The impact spun the Hathaway car around, and Parks' auto went off the highway and hit a pole. Parks was ticketed by city police for failure to have his car under control. The accident occurred last Wednesday afternoon.

Welcome to September

September is the month when it really begins to feel like fall, and the first week of September 1966 has had all the earmarks of fall weather. Last Thursday morning's heavy fog, which engulfed the entire mid-Michigan area, was indicative of the clash between warm and cool air that takes place this time of year. It was mid-morning before the fog burned away. The rest of the week was warm and humid, but the weekend turned out cool, with rain frequently spilling from clouds that appeared to threaten snow more than anything else. Here the camera looks south toward the fog-cloaked Clinton County Courthouse last Thursday.

St. Johns football players are getting down to brass tacks this week in their practice sessions leading up to the opening game of the season Sept. 16. The squad has been practicing twice a day last week and this prior to the start of school. The Redwings will host Mason Sept. 16.

Swears to direct PP&K activity Oct. 8; clinic set

Bill Swears, St. Johns High School basketball coach, has been named competition director for the St. Johns Punt, Pass and Kick competition Oct. 8. His appointment was officially announced this week by Bruce Fowler of Egan Ford Sales, Inc. of St. Johns, sponsors of the program here, and the co-sponsoring St. Johns Jaycees. It will be Swears' second year as competition director.

IN THAT CAPACITY, he will be responsible for all arrangements for the competition in which boys of 8 through 13 compete against boys of their own age in punting, passing and place-kicking accuracy. The St. Johns competition will be held Saturday, Oct. 8, at the city park athletic field.

A PP&K clinic is scheduled for the evening of Tuesday, Sept. 20, at which time Swears and the high school football coaching staff will give pointers to youngsters on punting, passing and kicking. A movie film on PP&K is also being planned. The clinic will be held in the high school gym.

Gene Downing will be the assistant competition director and is the project chairman for the Jaycees. Starting officials will be Bill Smiley, head varsity football coach at St. Johns High School; Asst. Coach Frank Rosegren; and junior varsity Coach Doug Japinga.

DOWNFIELD OFFICIALS will be Jack Downing, Roger Freeman and Shane Smith; official scorers will be Bill McCarthy, Don Roesner and Roger Hammon-tree.

Swears, in accepting the directorship of the PP&K competition, urged local boys to begin practice early in preparation for the Oct. 8 program of events.

"Stan Musial, consultant to the President on physical fitness, has said we must establish physical fitness programs as an integral part of our way of life," Swears said. "I know all the boys who enter will have a lot of fun in improving their skills and striving for the many prizes and trophies offered by this great national competition."

REGISTRATION BEGAN Sept. 1 at Egan Ford Sales, 200 W. Higham Street, and will continue through Oct. 7, the day before the competition. Last year 178 boys competed in the contest in cool, damp weather; that number was an increase of 48 over the first year of PP&K competition in St. Johns.

Boys signing up for PP&K must be accompanied by one of his parents or a legal guardian.

Winners in the local competition will be competing for trips to National Football League games for district and area winners, culminating with a "tour of champions" to Washington, D. C., and to the annual National Football League play-off game for 12 finalists.

Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn. He will undergo four years of instruction and training which will lead to a bachelor of science degree and a commission as an Ensign in the Coast Guard. During the remainder of the summer, he will be engaged in orientation classes which will include a short cruise aboard the Academy's Training Barge, the Coast Guard Cutter Eagle. Cadet Tethal is a graduate of Elsie High School.

They were trained in map and compass reading, land-mine warfare, and firing the M-14 rifle and the M-60 machinegun. They also learned the techniques of jungle warfare, including survival, escape and evasion, and counterinsurgency operations. Pvt. Powers is the son of Mr and Mrs Harold K. Powers, R-1, and Pvt. Harris is the son of Mr and Mrs Fred A. Harris, 109 S. Morton.

Marine Pvt. RONALD J. FITCH, son of Mr and Mrs Luther V. Cleland Jr. of 104 S. Whittemore, St. Johns, has completed the motor vehicle operator's course at Motor Transport School, Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

The month-long course teaches selected Marines to operate and maintain all types of government motor vehicles, from the small "Mechanical Mule" and "Mighty Mite" to the largest trucks. Driving safety and driver's preventive maintenance are the two subjects stressed most. Combat cargo loading and unloading, amphibious landings with motor vehicles and "blackout" driving are also covered.

Marine Pfc. STEPHEN L. DAVIDSON, son of Mr and Mrs J. D. Davidson of DeWitt is serving in Viet Nam with the 3rd Battalion, 1st Marines, an infantry regiment of the 3rd Marine Division, based near Da Nang, Viet Nam.

As an unofficial "overseas ambassador," he may participate in his unit's Civic Action Program, helping to build bridges and roads, and dig wells in underdeveloped villages within his unit's area.

Finds illness, drinking link in auto deaths

"The nut behind the wheel" may be more common—and more sick—than many people think, says a University of Michigan psychiatrist.

Melvin L. Selzer, M.D., has been combining psychiatry with highway safety since long before the public paid much attention to the rising traffic toll.

IN A RECENT study, which is now being extended and refined, he found that 36 of 72 drivers responsible for fatal traffic accidents had serious chronic drinking problems. And 42 of the 72 suffered from some mental illness or alcoholism.

Dr Selzer's research is one example of the kind of programs planned for U-M's new Highway Safety Research Institute. Other subjects, involving other faculty members, will range from steering wheels to sociology and from tires to trauma. The institute was established with a $10 million grant from the automobile industry to the U-M to develop a comprehensive approach to highway safety. It derives in part from each program as Dr Selzer's.

ALREADY DR Selzer is making plans for developing an "alcoholism test."

"We want to see if there is some way to identify an alcoholic at the time he applies for a driver's license, or at least when he is called in for excessive violations. If some kind of fool-proof interview clearing the streets and highways of a real menace," he said.

BUT WITH alcoholics and other mentally ill persons on the road, other drivers are like ducks sitting in a shooting gallery. Getting tough will not protect us because these are not accidents but inevitabilities."

Dr Selzer's findings are subject to opposite interpretations. One view supports the argument that only remedying drivers will lower the traffic toll. The other view is that driver-oriented safety programs are futile and so that the best answer lies in making cars themselves safer.

IN HIS MOST recently published report Dr Selzer examined the records of 72 fatal accidents in Washtenaw County. The responsible driver was interviewed, if he survived, and his family and friends were interviewed. His driving record was also examined.

Of the 72, Dr Selzer found 29 to be alcoholics and seven to be definite psychopaths. All but one had been drinking just before the accident. In addition, 11 of the 36 nonalcoholics had been drinking.

OF THE 29 alcoholics, 17 had a passive-aggressive personality that could be identified by a psychiatrist. Six had a sociopathic personality. Five others had various psychiatric disturbances.

Among the 36 nonalcoholics, however, only 13 had detectable mental illness. DR SELZER also found a close relationship between alcoholism on one hand and paranoid thinking, depression, violence, and suicidal acts or thoughts on the other.

The alcoholics, in addition, had been involved in about twice as many accidents, before the fatality, as the nonalcoholics.

Ashley school construction bids approved

ASHLEY — The controversial new Ashley Elementary School will be built finally.

The school board recently approved a $185,000 low bid by Karstens Construction Co. of Grand Rapids for the nine-room building which will be constructed directly north of the present school. School officials said construction would start immediately.

And eight alcoholics had been convicted at least once of drunken driving. Sixteen of the 72 had been arrested at least once for driving while their licenses were revoked.

WHAT IS TO be done? Dr Selzer says:

"The alcoholic driver today, even when repeatedly apprehended, is neither effectively restricted from driving nor required to seek treatment. The result is that he continues his deprecations until he removes himself by way of fatal injury—Only a program designed to detect, restrain and rehabilitate the alcoholic driver will protect us from the inevitabilities which are now mislabeled accidents."

The school won't have, however, all the features originally planned when voters approved a $215,000 bond issue in June 1965. A court fight since then delayed the letting of bids, and construction costs soared. A multi-purpose room and kitchen had to be dropped from the plans; the new building now contains only nine rooms.

The court wrangle started when a dissenting group which wanted its children to attend Ithaca schools 15 miles away went to Gratiot County Circuit Court for an injunction to delay construction. The injunction went as far as the State Court of Appeals in Lansing and later was dropped.

Youth jailed on 2 violations of law

Robert A. Kennedy, 18, of 1159 Primrose Lane, DeWitt, was charged with two violations of the law last Tuesday and is in the Clinton County Jail because of one of them.

Justice of the Peace Gordon Willoughby fined Kennedy a total of $40 for driving on a denied operator's license, and a total of $72.40 with 30 days in jail, on a charge of minor in possession of alcoholic beverages.

Nearly 150,000 Michigan high school students took driver education last year.

ON TARGET
with the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce
By BETTY MINSKY Secretary-Manager

Did you know, for instance, that Among the interesting folders we stock here in the Chamber office is one titled, "You're Always Welcome in Michigan."

Published by the Michigan State Highway Department, it provides information on traveling in Michigan. While a big help to tourists, it can be interesting to those of us who live in this great state, too—especially for those of us who travel in Michigan.

Travelers on 1,200 miles of Michigan and Interstate freeways can enjoy Michigan hospitality at 45 freeway rest areas, each equipped with rest rooms, picnic tables and grills, telephone service, drinking water and informational bulletin boards?

There are seven travel information centers operated by the Highway Department at these locations: New Buffalo on US-12; Monroe on I-75; Ironwood on US-2; Menominee on US-41 Sault Ste. Marie on I-75; Mackinaw City on I-75; and Clare on US-277.

At these centers counselors are on hand to direct travelers and guide people to points of interest in the area. Over 600 different pieces of literature are stocked for distribution to travelers?

MICHIGAN IS A LAND of blue waters, gold sand beaches, green forests and a 9,200-mile state highway system, every mile of it paved, to carry travelers in ease and comfort.

Travelers will find 23 state forests and three national forests, together covering more than 12 million acres and containing 150 campgrounds.

There are 68 state parks in Michigan with nearly all of them equipped for camping. All are shown on official state highway maps.

ALTHOUGH WE HAVE given out all of the 3,000 1966 Michigan highway maps we ordered and received in March, we still have some of the 1965 maps left. Anyone who desires one may pick it up at the Chamber office, which is now over Parr's Drug Store. Sorry—but we have been informed no more 1966 maps will be printed, so we'll have to wait until early 1967 to get the next one.

We are also stocking and distributing Clinton County maps, provided us by the County Road Commission. And, these are free to anyone who wishes to stop by for one.

And, just recently we reprinted our city maps, so these are available too.

just a little bit south-east of us. If this were located 100 miles or so north of us, it would be a must as we traveled. But, because it is right in our own back yard, so many of us have neglected to look it over.

OR, HOW about a ride through some of the back roads off of North US-27 in the Maple River area? A few weeks ago we spent an enjoyable Sunday afternoon riding around in that area. Quaint little bridges cross the river and there are even a few ducks now and then.

And, with the fall color season just ahead, don't forget our own area which abounds in some spectacular color. Take a little drive around country roads in the Maple Rapids area; or a jaunt over Bath way around Rose Lake.

It's superb! Or, a nice evening stroll through some of our residential areas right here in St. Johns. Talk about fall color—we'll be in the midst of it right here in St. Johns in just a few weeks.

But, regardless of where you go, here in Clinton County or in Michigan, you will do so on some of the finest roads in the country.

MRS BRIAN J. BOUTS

Pair wed Saturday

Jean Ellen Riley and Brian John Bouts were married Saturday evening at the Concord Methodist Church. Rev Dale Crawford officiated at the double ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Jay S. Riley and Beryl E. Riley, both of Concord. Her husband is the son of Mr and Mrs Hugh Bouts of DeWitt.

For the candlelight service, the bride selected a floor length gown of taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice, lace sleeves which came to a point over the wrists, a round neckline and a court length train. Her double shoulder length veil of silk illusion was secured with a crown of pearls and crystals. The bride made her own gown and veil. She carried a large white chrysanthemum and greens.

THE MATRON of honor was Mrs Patricia Shearer and the bridesmaids were Carolyn Can-field, Rebecca Bouts, sister of the groom and Janet Riley, sister of the bride.

They wore floor length gowns of blue bridal satin styled with fitted bodices, round necklines and soft unpressed pleats at the waist. Their headpieces were bows of matching satin with blue tulle veiling. Their bouquets were large white chrysanthemums with greens.

MRS PATRICIA Shearer, the matron of honor, was also the soloist and Mrs Dean Richardson was the organist.

Serving as best man was Robert Bouts and the groomsmen was Dennis Locher. Seating the guests were John Gottko and Richard Coln, cousin of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs Riley wore a beige lace suit. Her corsage was of pink roses. The mother of the groom was attired in a light turquoise dress with a brocade jacket and

Rainbows try garage sale

"I think we ought to be able to get about a dollar for that sweater," Judy Ripple (second from right) says. The price of each article will cause some discussion from each of the officers (from left to right) Nancy Ann and Martha Jean Locher, Lorinda Lambert, Miss Ripple and Jamie Bargar.

Instead of the usual bake sales and dances to raise money to meet expenses for St. Johns Rainbow Assembly No. 21, Judy Ann Ripple, worthy advisor, decided to try a garage sale.

The sale will be held at the home of her parents the Gordon D. Ripples of 506 W. Higham Street, St. Johns, Saturday, Sept. 10. It will begin at 9 a.m.

MISS RIPPLE said there will be clothing, furniture, jewelry, books, records and toys offered for sale. Judy will end her term as Worthy advisor the last Wednesday of this month.

On hand to help with the preparation for the coming sale were Martha Jean and Nancy Ann Locher, daughters of Mr and Mrs Raymond Locher of DeWitt; Lorinda Lambert, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Lambert of St. Johns and Jamie Bargar, daughter of Mr and Mrs James C. Bargar of St. Johns.

Average consumer helps food costs up

by Helen B. Meach Extension Home Economist

Are you clutching tightly to the family "food funds" at your house? Well, at least do you know where those food dollars fly as you complain about the rising cost of food?

Who's responsible for the higher food costs we've encountered in recent months and years? Farmers? . . . Middlemen? . . . Wholesalers? . . . Retailers? . . . Consumers? Probably each group has made a contribution of sorts to the total picture.

TAKE MRS Consumer, for example, for we seldom point the finger at her as a responsible member of the food distribution team . . . and yet she certainly is. Consumers, on the whole do an excellent job of selecting from among the six to eight thousand items in the average supermarket just the ones her family will most enjoy and that will make the best contribution to their health and well being. But what happens after she gets her food choices home. USDA studies suggest that approximately $200 worth of food is lost in the home each year due to spoilage. This is $200 per household and it's a sorry fact of food shopping life that the food we throw away costs us just as much at retail as the food we eat.

Another drain on the family food purse that can be traced to needless throw-away is the pile-up of returnable empty pop-bottles in American basements and garages. A large Detroit soft-drink company estimates Detroit area homes alone are cluttered with 24 million returnable empty soft drink bottles of all types and brands worth 2 to 5¢ each to the consumer. If the consumers can afford a 2 to 5 cent premium on each soft drink they consume, well and good. . . but it makes complaints about the high cost of eating and drinking a little unreasonable.

ACTUALLY, THERE are several very constructive steps a food shopper can take to help control rising food costs as they apply to her own situation. The first one is to allow a little more time for food shopping - time to calculate cost-per-serving rather than cost-per-pound at the meat counter, for example. They are NOT the same thing and they can result in substantial savings for the home-maker who makes the distinction. Time spent reading and listening to food ads can pay off in actual dollars and cents, too. The USDA has estimated that a shopper could save 10 per cent on her weekly food bills if she were able to take advantage of ALL the specials and features offered by her food market. A more realistic figure might be 5 per cent for it is unlikely that a given family would want or need everything put on special in a single week.

SOMETIMES shoppers wonder if the items featured at special savings are foods of low quality which the grocer just happens to have left over. The truth is that grocery store features are foods of a quality equal to the grocer's usual stock. They're being offered in the hopes that their attractive prices will lure you into the store and that you'll do the rest of your weekly shopping there too. Sometimes the cost of the special product promotions are borne by the food manufacturer to encourage you to try his product. He, of course, is sure you'll like his product better than that of his competitors and so will become a regular customer.

These techniques do help keep food spending down and if you refrain from counting laundry soap and toothpaste costs in with the money you spend for food, the totals will slip even further.

An average, healthy 7-year-old boy may take 30 thousand steps every day, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. That adds up to about 10 miles a day and more than 300 miles a month. His mother, on a busy shopping day, may walk 10 miles. A policeman walks about 15 miles on his beat.

Articles for the garage sale start to arrive at 506 W. Higham Street, St. Johns. Martha Jean Locher, Chaplain and Judy Ann Ripple empty the car trunks.

Jamie Bargar, faith; Lorinda Lambert, worthy associate advisor and Nancy Ann Locher, hope, display some of the clothing that will be available at the sale.

School building bonds approved

The Municipal Finance Commission has approved $5,400,000 of school building and site bonds for the St. Johns Public School District. The announcement was made last week by Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, chairman of the commission. Proceeds will be used to defray the cost of erecting, furnishing and equipping an addition to the Eureka Elementary School, as well as erecting, furnishing and equipping two new elementary school buildings and a high school building, remodeling the high school farm shop for junior high school cafeteria, constructing and equipping playgrounds, acquiring additional land for site purposes and developing and improving sites.

THE BONDS WERE authorized by electors on May 9. They are unlimited tax bonds and will run until 1992. The school district has been authorized to levy whatever taxes are necessary to pay principal and interest, Kelley said.

The bonds are also qualified by the superintendent of public instruction under the School Bond Loan Program.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The Board of Clinton County Road Commissioners held their regular meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 6. Bids were opened for the September-October requirements of gasoline. Two new subdivisions from Bath Township were discussed, as was an industrial development in Watertown Township.

The officers of Local 794 and their district representatives met with the commission in the afternoon. The grievance procedure section of the labor contract was taken up at this meeting.

FINAL FIGURES for the blacktopping program and for dust control show 1966 to be an all-time high for both programs. With a small amount yet to be spread, we have used 1,104,000 gallons of calcium chloride solution. The blacktopping program consumed 155,700 gallons of cutbacks and 325,350 gallons of emulsions for a total of 481,050 gallons of asphalt materials. The Eiten Engineering Co. reported on 10 bridges in Dallas, Essex and Lebanon Townships. The gross vehicle weight carrying capacity of three of these was 4 tons, five were rated at 6 tons, one at 7 and one at 10 tons.

TWO COMMISSIONERS, the engineer and clerk will attend a road conference at Tawas on Thursday, Sept. 8.

The next regular commission meeting will be held Monday, Sept. 19. Bids will be opened on a tractor-loader-back-hoe, two salt spreaders and an air-compressor.

State now has fewer than 1,000 school districts

LANSING — The number of school districts in Michigan has dropped below the 1,000 mark for the first time since shortly after Michigan became a state.

"As of July 1, there were 977 school districts in Michigan," State Superintendent of Public Instruction Ira Polley said. "Ten years ago, Michigan had more than 3,000 districts."

The major impetus to school district reorganization during the past two years, Polley said, has been the School District Reorganization Act of 1964 which was aimed at providing kindergarten through twelfth grade (K-12) programs in all school districts.

"The State Legislature passed this law because of the need for consolidation of facilities and personnel and a broader tax base necessary to meet the growing demands of an increasingly complex and varied school program," Polley said.

and others that take effect on July 1, reduced the number of districts from 1,046 to 977.

Michigan had 55 school districts when it became a state in 1837. By 1840, it had 1,506 districts and in 1844 Superintendent of Public Instruction Oliver C. Comstock called attention to the defects already apparent in the primary (kindergarten to eighth grade) system.

In 1860, State Superintendent John M. Gregory criticized the lack of high school education opportunities in rural school districts and in 1883 State Superintendent Herschel R. Gass made a plea that something be done to correct the situation.

But steps taken to slow down the organization of new school systems were ineffective and by 1912 Michigan had 7,341 districts.

THE NUMBER of districts dropped to about 6,200 by the start of World War II. The improvement of county road systems and availability of school buses were major reasons for the elimination of nearly 3,000 districts between the end of the war and 1956.

Today, more than 870,000 are transported to and from school each day, mostly in rural areas.

Driver "blind" to turn by other; cars crash

Two cars collided on M-21 east of St. Clair Road in Ovid Township last Thursday morning, but no one was hurt. The autos were driven by Sandra L. Meridith, 24, of 204 E. Clinton Street, Ovid, and Ronald P. Hart, 26, of Pontiac.

Sheriff's officers said both were going east on M-21, when another car and trailer between them. Mrs. Meridith reportedly put on her turn signal and started to make a left turn, at which time her's and Hart's cars collided as Hart was in the process of passing.

Hart told deputies he could not see the turn signals because of the other car and trailer which he passed first.

Kick-off college day scheduled Sept. 14

With the youngsters starting back to school, mom and grandmother also have a day of classes, designed just for them, at a Home Economics-Family Living Education College Day. Women from Shiawassee, Clinton and Gratiot counties will join for a Kick-Off College Day Wednesday, Sept. 14, in the Casino of McCurdy Park, Corunna. All Extension Home Economics group members are invited to attend and to bring other interested homemakers with them.

Luncheon and class pre-registration is necessary so that adequate food and space may be arranged. Such pre-registration is due at the Extension Office, County Road Commission building, Corunna, by Friday, Sept. 9.

The day begins with registration and getting acquainted at 9:30 a.m. Mrs. Loa Whitfield, Extension Director for Family Living Education from Michigan State University, will highlight the morning program.

A FEW MINUTES have been set aside in the morning for the organized Home Economics-Family Living group officers to secure their supplies for the year. This will also be an opportunity for members to have their names in the program and see what is in store for them in their studies during the approaching months. Immediately following the luncheon, the women will adjourn to their classes. Each will select one class for a 2 hour study. Information from these classes, besides being valuable to those present, will provide additional materials for group discussion later in the year for members not able to attend College Day.

MRS SHEILA MORLEY, district extension agent in marketing of Saginaw, will conduct a class "A Day in the Super Market." With the small grocery store, meat market and dairy store of a few years ago now combined under one roof and becoming a modern super market, our shopping habits as well as available products are considerably different. Mrs. Morley, in her class, can help us to become wiser and more efficient shoppers.

AN ETERNAL FORCE

The wind is like the power of God. It is invisible — you can neither see nor touch it. And yet it will carry a sailboat skimming across the waves with all the beauty and grace and freedom of a sea-gull. But whereas the wind may die and leave you drifting aimlessly and helplessly with the tide, the strength of God remains eternally steadfast. It is through the Church that man is given understanding of this Power. For by worshipping God he can acquire the spiritual insight which gives fuel to his soul and purpose for his pursuits.

Clinton County Soil Conservation District directors and their wives picnicked this summer at the Keith Wright farm near Maple Rapids and discussed responsibilities of soil conservation districts and the program of work for the Clinton District. Left to right are: William Mayers, district treasurer; Clarence Manning, secretary; George Baird, former director; Keith Wright, vice chairman; Ray Bradley, former director; Stanley Baird, director; Robert Moore, chairman; and William Parker, former director. The picture was taken by Lloyd B. Campbell, work unit conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service, which assists the SCD. The Clinton County district is 12 years old and has 716 cooperators who operate over 122,856 acres of land.

Research reported at Beef Cattle Day

More than 400 Michigan beef producers attended Michigan State University's Beef Cattle Day Friday, Sept. 2. Here are some highlights from experiments reported at the event:

— It doesn't make any difference whether beef cattle are raised in fully covered feed lots or lots that are only 40 per cent covered.

— Trials conducted by MSU animal husbandry researchers Hugh Henderson and H. William Newland showed that cattle in the two different lots showed no difference in rate and efficiency of gain or carcass quality. And, over a year's time, there was no difference in bedding costs between the two lots.

— BEEF CATTLE fed Sudex silage will need extra concentrates to get the same gains as cattle fed corn silage.

— Trials showed that steer calves given a full feed of Sudex plus 1 per cent of their body weight in daily concentrates gained 18 per cent slower than cattle getting a full feed of corn silage plus the same amount of concentrates. MSU researchers concluded that Sudex fed cattle should receive an additional 1/2 pound of concentrates daily per 100 pounds of body weight in order to get about the same gains as cattle fed corn silage.

— CATTLE GAIN faster on high energy corn silage than they do on regular corn silage, but the gains are more expensive.

'No cure' for elm disease

There is no known cure for Dutch Elm disease, but each rash of telephone calls and letters to the Michigan Department of Agriculture in Lansing is a signal that some new quack "cure" has aroused desperate but unfounded hope in elm lovers.

One of the latest treatments to receive publicity is application of turpentine. There is no foundation for claims that this will help, say department plant officials.

DUTCH ELM DISEASE was first brought to the United States about 30 years ago, when elm logs were imported for veneer, according to C. A. Boyer, chief of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's plant industry division. Since then, the disease has spread to many states and Canada. The disease affects all species of elms in the United States and is a fungus. Elm beetles spread the disease fungus, which is also spread by root contact. Symptoms are rapid wilting and yellowing of leaves followed by death of branches, progressing until the tree is dead.

There is no known cure—only prevention of spread, according to Boyer. This is accomplished by spraying for beetle control, removing dead and infected trees, and on occasion, measures to prevent root grafts. In control areas where local programs are in effect, the state is charged with enforcing removal of dead and diseased trees.

REMOVAL IS OFTEN expensive, Boyer said, and some owners turn to last-ditch treatments at this point. In addition to the turpentine treatment, other so-called "cures" reported to the department include iron filings, aspirin, ground corn cobs, seaweed, cosmic rays, high voltage electricity, and even vinegar. None of these is effective.

Michigan spud growers had a good year in 1965

Michigan potato growers had another good income year in 1965, according to records of the Michigan State University Telford program. An analysis of 18 farmers, primarily potato growers, showed they earned 14.1 per cent of their investment which averaged $132,000. They also earned $2,823 for their labor.

The eight farmers with investments from $60,000 to $100,000 earned $2.61 an hour for their own labor and 5 per cent interest on investment while 10 farmers with more than $100,000 investment earned a higher amount.

MICHIGAN'S POTATO industry has become highly specialized with a large investment in machinery required. Larger operators were able to produce potatoes at a lower cost per hundredweight than those with smaller investments.

For example the per hundredweight cost for farmers with under $100,000 investment was $2.69. Those with more than $100,000 investments produced potatoes at a cost of $1.85 per hundredweight.

Larger farmers also produced higher averaged yields per acre with 273 hundredweight compared to 225 hundredweight an acre for the small farmer. Average cost of production of an acre for small farmers was $605—just $100 an acre more than for the large farmer.

Although potato farmers in 1965 did not have as good a year as 1964, it was well above the average for other types of farming in Michigan, the Michigan State University report showed.

Grandstand shows top feature of Saginaw Fair

Entertainment spectaculars to please every member of the family will be presented at this year's Saginaw Fair Sept. 10-17. Eight great days of top-flight, live entertainment will be presented in front of the grandstand.

On Kids' Day, Saturday, Sept. 10, the grandstand attraction will be the Hanneford Circus. Highlights of the afternoon and evening performances include the Martel Duo whose balancing act combines comedy with breathtaking daring; Miss Kay and her performing pets; and the internationally famous Sangers Riding Academy. Tajana, the Indian princess of flight, will perform on the flying trapeze, showing the grace and skill that have made her a favorite on the Ed Sullivan and Hollywood Palace television shows.

STARS OF THE circus are members of the George Hanneford Family, known as the Royal Family of the Riding Ring for their many command performances in England. Equestrian performers for five generations, the Hannefords were brought to this country by the Ringling Brothers and have appeared in several movies as well as circuses, pageants and the top TV shows.

Next on the fair's list of attractions is the Aut Swenson Thrillcade with its suicide stunts by world-famed driving daredevils. Performances of the Thrillcade will take place in front of the grandstand the afternoon and evening of Sunday, Sept. 11, and evenings of Monday, Sept. 12, Tuesday, Sept. 13, and Wednesday, Sept. 14.

Noted Hollywood stunt drivers will deliberately wreck cars in rollover exhibitions, flying head-on crashes and "dive bomber" events. A featured performer will be Holzer Rasini and his jet-propelled rocket car.

IN ADDITION, the Thrillcade will present such popular performers as singer Jody Miller, whose "Queen of the House" is a recent best-selling record; Burger's Animal Revue featuring a 3-round boxing act with Afghan hounds; and Senor Miguellito, comedy plate spinner from south of the border.

Thursday, Sept. 15, will find one of the fair's most popular attractions taking place before the grandstand when the National Lightweight Horsepulling Contest begins at 7:30 p.m. Fans of this rare sporting event are expected to pack the grandstand to see teams of perfectly coordinated draft horses pit their powerful muscles against unbelievably heavy weights as they vie for premiums totalling $2,070.

EQUALLY INTERESTING is the World Mulepulling Contest scheduled for Friday evening, Sept. 16, with excitement and also plenty of comedy provided by the bally beasts.

On Saturday, Sept. 17, young farmers of Saginaw County will offer their steers to the highest bidder at the Annual Junior Livestock Auction.

Outdoor living areas, parks, and campsites are ideal places for picnic tables. Concrete picnic tables—set in foundations—provide years of service and are safe from theft and vandalism.

Picnic tables that last . . . and last . . . and last

High interest in outdoor living and rural recreation has led to the development of a new plan for an essential item—the ever-popular picnic table. Agricultural engineers have come up with an unusual idea for forming, casting, and assembling table and seating components into an attractive, practical, and durable picnic unit.

The table top and benches (as well as their legs) are cast in nine parts in a flat position. Forming is unusual because no nails are needed and only eight pieces of lumber are used. The form lumber is notched to keep it in place and drilled to hold reinforcement. Form lumber consists of 2 x 4's that have been cut to 2-3/4 in. and set on edge. The lumber is cut to reduce unnecessary weight and thickness.

THE CONCRETE table and benches are ideal for parks, camping areas, and backyards or patios of farm and city homes. Where they are used by the public, they have the distinct advantage of being practically indestructible. And they can't be carried away very easily. (Vandalism and theft are real problems. One highway district in an Eastern state reported that 10 picnic tables were stolen each year before concrete tables were installed.)

Each picnic table and bench set required about 3/4 cu. yd. of concrete. This includes the foundations in which the table and bench legs are set. A free information sheet with construction photos and drawings, is available from Portland Cement Assn., Dept. PWT, 33 W. Grand Avenue, Chicago, Ill., 60610.

BOY CUT AT POOL

Raymond Kinney, 9, of 510 N. Ottawa Street, hit his head against another boy's teeth last Wednesday at the St. Johns swimming pool at the park, and he had to be taken to the hospital and then to a doctor's office for treatment. City police reported the boy was walking on the deck of the pool when he turned and hit his head on another boy's teeth.

When should a boy drive the farm tractor?

All young farm boys look forward to the day when they can drive the tractor. Parents often ask "when is a youngster old enough to drive the tractor?" Richard G. Pfister, Michigan State University Extension safety engineer gives this answer.

"Physically he should weigh over 90 pounds and be 4 1/2 feet tall so he can reach the controls and handle the operation. But judgment is more important. He should be able to prepare the tractor before going to the field. Would you feel that you would have to check things before you turned him loose? If not, then he has the kind of judgement needed."

PFISTER THINKS parents sometimes overrate maturity—except when their offspring are to start dating, taking the family car, or other independent activities.

With all boys having a desire to drive the tractor and dad needing help, it often turns to be a bad combination. "Statistics show that 10 to 16 year olds have 4 to 10 times more tractor and farm machinery accidents than do 16 to 50 year olds. More than half of the fatal highway accidents involving a tractor are to youngsters under 16 years old," Pfister related.

Pfister advises that farmers should start out all new tractor drivers by having him read the operators manual and then discuss the contents with the boy. He should have him help with tractor maintenance.

TRACTOR DRIVER training should be more like professional auto driver training. There should be dry run driving on a level field. Some stakes should be set up and the young lad told to stop with the front wheel or back wheel axle centering on the stakes. Have him back up and center the hitch over a stake.

The first field work should be on a level field with no ditches, and at a slow speed.

"Until he is licensed to drive an automobile on the road, no youth is ready to take the tractor on a highway or a rural road," concluded the farm safety specialist.

William Howard Taft said: "To obey the law is to support democracy. If every man thinks every law must suit him in order that he shall obey it, he does not support democracy, but destroys it. The basis of good government lies in the fact that the people are willing to obey the law as they have determined it to be."

Dependable grain storage facilities begin with durable floors to reduce spoilage and prevent rodent damage. A concrete floor over gravel fill and moisture barrier will save grain for feeding or marketing.

Take care with floors in building for grain storage

Whether you are a cash grain or livestock producer, adequate grain storage facilities are important. They allow grain farmers to store in order to take advantage of improved markets. For livestock producers, on-farm grain storage saves home-grown feeds or reduces cost of purchased feeds.

Properly constructed concrete floors protect grain from spoilage or rodents. Here are some essential rules to follow in constructing durable floors for grain storage:

—A 6-inch layer of coarse granular fill should be placed and compacted on the subgrade.

—COVER THE FILL with a moisture barrier—such as a 4-to 6-mil polyethylene or 55-pound asphalt paper. Joints between strips of the barrier should lap 4 inches.

—Quality concrete is a must. If ordering ready mixed concrete, specify 6-bag air-entrained mix with a maximum of 6 gallons of water per bag of cement. If you mix your concrete, use a 1:2-1/4:3 mix with air-entraining cement. Use 5-1/2 gallons water if the sand is "average wet."

—Take extreme care not to break the moisture barrier when placing the concrete.

—CURE AND PROTECT for 5 to 7 days after it's placed to ensure durability.

If grain is to be stored on the floor immediately after curing, cover the floor with a 2-mil plastic sheet to prevent any chance of grain being spoiled by moisture in the new concrete.

Van Burger is well known in Clinton and Shiawassee counties for his work on farms, with contractors, dredging, bridge building and landscaping.

Future tourism developments needed

BAY CITY, MICHIGAN—East Michigan Tourist Association manager James Hall, of Bay City, has given full endorsement to the tourism proposals of Michigan State University Professor David Milstein which appeared recently in an Associated Press story.

The story revealed that imaginative developments such as Interlochen and the Mackinac Straits area in Michigan, Colorado's Aspen and California's Palm Springs are needed throughout Michigan in order to face increasing competition for tourist dollars.

SAID HALL, "The future of Michigan tourism depends a great deal on new resort-recreational complexes built to a year-around tourist trade. Small business will continue to do well, but only when larger attractions and facility-centers are built to complement them. No longer are our woods and waters enough to attract the increasingly sophisticated vacation traveler."

Ten years ago, the EMTA began to feel the pinch of competition from other resort areas of this country and Canada. A potential Michigan vacation customer today is baraged by invitations from all fifty states, Canadian provinces and more than forty foreign countries.

INCREASES IN regional association and state Tourist Council budgets since 1960 have helped Michigan to barely keep abreast of the national increase in vacation trade, averaging ten per cent each year. "We need more year around facilities and additional local and individual tourist promotion efforts if we are to continue our healthy tourist business levels," Hall commented.

AT STAKE IN the future of Michigan tourism are nearly 150,000 jobs of Michigan citizens. Also at stake is some $85 million in tax dollars going to federal, state and local governmental units.

The EMTA, along with the West, Upper and Southeast Michigan tourist associations, are working to establish expanded technical programs to help aid development of tourism facilities. Included would be a development department of the state tourist council.

"TOURISM development in the future will come about only if we are geared to a program to attract new investment and re-investment in tourist facilities and attractions," Hall reported.

Dairymen must save calves to expand herds

The bigger they are, the harder they fall.

That's an old expression and it has some relation to dairy calf raising in Michigan.

L. H. (Hi) Brown, Michigan State University Extension agricultural economist, analyzed the TelFarm accounting records of 281 southern Michigan dairymen.

He found that calf losses increased from an average of 11.9 per cent in herds with less than 30 cows to 18.4 per cent in calves born in herds with 100 cows or more.

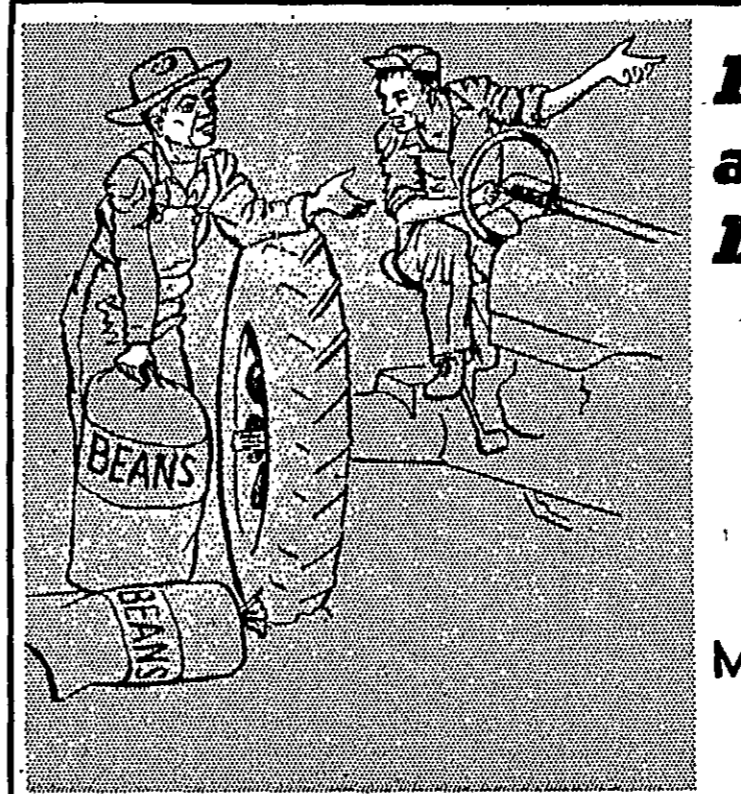

DEAD CALVES represent a big loss of marketable income to dairy farmers.

Brown commented "It is difficult to upgrade a dairy herd even if all heifer calves are saved. If losses are higher the difficulties increase.

"Many dairymen are in an expansion program. At best it is difficult to expand without home raised heifers. Dairymen should remember it takes a replacement per year for every 3 or 4 cows in their milking herd."

DAIRY EXTENSION specialists say there is much room for reducing calf losses in all herd sizes. It may be more important because the number of dairy small herds, with a surplus of heifers for sale, is declining.

Greater attention to freshening cows and new born calves and providing better starter facilities could do much to lower the calf loss, dairymen say.

Please, no tailgating!

It is no wonder people are scared to drive nowadays. It's dangerous enough getting on the highways, but it is just about as dangerous getting off the highways.

Rear-end accidents are the chief proof of that fear, and Clinton County has had a number of them in recent months, including a fatal crash Aug. 6. Without a doubt rear-end crashes come from tailgating—driving too close for safety to the vehicle ahead.

Drivers of all types of vehicles are at fault in this respect. Some appear to be chronic offenders, violators probably until they meet their death crammed against the rear end of some other vehicle.

The worst offenders are truck drivers. While they may be among the best drivers on the roads, we can't help but feel awfully uncomfortable when a big truck looms up just beyond our back bumper as we zip down the highway at legal speeds.

It seems inconceivable that a loaded truck close behind a car could keep from running over the car if the driver stopped or even braked suddenly. The fatal accident Aug. 6 involved a truck which couldn't stop in time and which swerved and tipped over on the car.

Truck drivers are no doubt confident as they sit high in their cabs, surrounded by heavy metal and having the psychological advantage of size. But to the auto driver, who sees and feels a big semi truck breathing down his neck, there is little confidence and considerable fear. This compounds the problem, and makes the auto driver a less able and alert driver.

And so we make a plea: DON'T TAILGATE, particularly if you are a trucker. Just the thought of a tailgating accident leaves us cold. And it could!

Capsule comments

SEVERAL WEEKS ago TV news carried a portion of Senate hearings in which Sen. Robert Kennedy of New York was pumping his brother-in-law, R. Sargeant Shriver, about why poverty funds weren't being spent as fast as he (Kennedy) thought they should be.

IT HAS BEEN MOST ENCOURAGING and heartening to a large number of St. Johns people to see the high quality, and good selection, of motion pictures playing at the new Clinton Theater in downtown St. Johns.

Hooray! We're almost to the end of summer TV and all the commercials about TV shows starting in the fall. What a relief to finally be able to see the other segments of the shows.

For six weeks the networks have been hounding us TV hounds about the "great line-up of fall shows on NBC" and telling us "why there are so many stars on one network."

I SUPPOSE SOME of the new shows will turn out alright and be fairly entertaining, but you couldn't prove it by the commercials they've been running. And TV in general has a long way to go to replace some of the shows of last year which were killed off or dropped out.

If it hadn't been for the constant plugging of the fall shows, summer TV would have been comparatively enjoyable. Some of the summer replacement shows were real good—John Davidson, John Garry, The Avengers, and Continental Showcase were among them.

But however the new season shapes up, I undoubtedly will spend many evenings, plunked down in front of the tube and probably can have a pretty good rating system worked out on the shows before the season is very far along.

THERE ARE ALWAYS the movies on TV in case nothing else in the regular programming impresses you. One of the other of the networks has a not-too-ancient movie on just about every night, and the local stations usually have the older ones on to supplement the fare.

But so many movies are shown on so many stations that it is hard to find one you haven't seen somewhere before, either at the theater or on another channel. And the movies you particularly want to see are nowhere to be found.

BUT I HAD SUCCESS on this score a couple of Saturdays ago. Back in the early 1950s my dad and I had seen a movie, "Island in the Sky" about an airplane that had to make an emergency landing in cold northern Canada and the search that took place for the guys. It was a good movie, so much so I've been scanning the TV movie guides for a couple of years looking for it. Finally it was on. But of course just after it started the local fire whistle blew, and when duty calls I grab the camera and go. So I missed part of it.

But "Island in the Sky" will probably be around again on TV. Everything else is rerun, and there's no indication the coming TV season will be any different.

The American symbol of Justice is always pictured as blindfolded because this symbol represented her as being disinterested and scrupulously impartial.

As of late though, things have happened in our great country to make one wonder if perhaps there was some other reason for this blindfold.

SO MANY times lately we have read of events where criminals seem to have the upper hand over law enforcement agencies. This is because the supreme court has handed down maxims that give the criminal the benefit of doubt over law abiding citizens and law enforcement officers.

Today, in some of our American cities, the law enforcement officer is considered some kind of public enemy.

WITH MORE frequency it is the policeman who gets hauled in for brutality, for false arrest and for harassment. The presumption being that he is guilty and the criminal is innocent. Or, if there seems occasionally to be overwhelming evidence that an individual is a criminal, then what about due process? Did he get to see his lawyer? Was he informed of his legal rights?

There have been many more maxims handed down of late that are more detrimental to the police and the law abiding citizen than to the criminal, making one wonder about the blindfold on our symbol of Justice.

THERE HAS been a cartoon published in many papers lately that shows a policeman on a corner using the police phone. The caption reads: "Send me a lawyer, I want to make an arrest!" This could be closer to fact than fiction.

But, don't put all the blame on the supreme court. We as citizens, at least in many cases publicized lately, are not helping the law enforcement agencies. We shun our duties as American citizens and as human beings.

THIS IS brought to mind with more frequency as we read of people who will witness a crime and then act as the three famous monkeys. Hear nothing. See nothing. Do nothing.

This is their right as citizens. But this is not the human way of helping ones own kind. This also is not the way to help our police units, whom we hire to protect us.

THEY WILL protect us to the best of their ability, but sometimes a little help from a citizen can mean more to the citizen because it will help the police to take the law breaker out of circulation before he can do more harm.

On the other hand we have those who will interfere with the police when he is trying to do his duty. The other day we heard of the incident where a police officer chased a lady, at speeds up to 80 miles per hour, through a residential area.

WHEN HE finally brought her to a stop, he was almost mobbed. See HOPPER page 13

School needs to tighten rules on dress for girls, reader says

I just finished reading Principal B. Stanley Pocus's and the school board's reminder of "high school proper dress and behavior rules" (Aug. 25 issue of the CCN). Last year I was disgusted many times when I thought of it, and I guess this year I just couldn't contain my feelings on this subject any longer. Even though this letter may not be printed, I will at least get the satisfaction of writing it.

FIRST OFF — on boy's shirts. They must be sports shirts or regular dress shirts, must be buttoned all but the top button, and all shirt tails must be tucked in. I agree tails should be tucked, but there are many shirts made to be worn out, and the shirt jacs they make for boys now are very neat looking and nearly impossible to tuck in.

I have one boy in high school and one in junior high, and they have both had orders to tuck in their shirts.

Yet on the other hand, it says girls may wear blouses, sweaters or dresses. Note no mention that her blouse should be tucked in or how many buttons to be buttoned. And why is it permissible and proper for a girl to wear an overblouse out and not for a boy to wear his shirt that is made to be worn outside his pants out? The girls' overblouse is equal to the boys shirt jac.

AND ALSO NO mention of girls' slaters is made, as to how tight they can be. Are they still considered proper if they are two to three sizes too small?

Next — boys' pants are not to be tight or pegged and must be worn at the waist. This sounds good to me, and I approve of it completely, but by the same token it says girls can wear skirts (with no mention of the style). They could wear hip-hugger skirts, three to five inches above the knees (quite often the lace on their petti-pants shows) and so tight you wonder how they dare sit down.

And tell me, Mr Pocus and members of the school board, do you consider this the proper dress for a young lady? When girls' rules were stated in the paper, it said (I quote) "Girls should wear skirts and blouses or sweaters or dresses." You note no mention of how tight, how short, and that they should be worn at the waistline, nor how many buttons to be buttoned, or whether the blouse is to be in or out.

NOW ON TO THE hair department. Boys are not allowed to wear their hair (I quote) "hanging down over the forehead, ears, and/or the back of the neck." I approve whole heartedly that long hair on a boy is very unbecoming, but I have seen some of the high school girls and junior high girls with bangs down over their eyebrows and sometimes into their eyes. But yet no rules are set up for them to get their hair cut, and more often than not they get a nod of approval from parents and teachers. At least I have never heard of a girl being sent home from school because her bangs were too long; but I know some boys who were, not that they shouldn't have been. But let's help keep the eyesight of some of our girls, too. I agree with all the rules set up for boys except the shirt being tucked in; there are many nice shirts made to be worn on the outside, and they look very neat and tidy, so much so my boys wear them to school.

AND I ALSO AGREE on enforcing all your rules for proper dress, but let's keep the girls of our community looking respectable and proper, too, at least while they're in school. I would imagine it would be rather hard for a boy to concentrate on his studies with girls around with Cleopatra eyes and skirts already to short coming up an additional two to three inches when they sit down.

Ad's letter not for political purposes

I RECEIVED A LETTER FROM Mrs Laura Shinabery, Clinton County, questioning if the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service was or was not sponsoring Joe Hanus for a political office.

Mrs Shinabery's question resulted from a recent ad used in your paper which contained a reprint of a letter I had sent to Mr Hanus on May 4, 1966.

MR HANUS SERVED for a number of years on the Gratiot ASC County Committee. Our ASC community committees are elected by farmers in their community. These elections are never held concurrently with any political election. The community committees elect a three-man county committee to administer the various federal farm programs.

Both county and community committees are required to resign whenever they decide to run for a political office. When Mr Hanus decided to be candidate for the office of state representative, he submitted his resignation.

By HILA BROSS Librarian Bement Public Library

Those readers who enjoyed Harry Kemelman's book, FRIDAY THE RABBI SLEPT LATE, will be happy to hear that Bement Public Library has his newest one, SATURDAY THE RABBI WENT HUNGRY. Like the first, this novel deals with a situation of mystery and suspense with a Jewish Temple of an eastern American city as the center of the action. Again, Rabbi David Small is the amateur detective who solves the mystery, using the logic he has learned from his extensive study of the Talmud. This is a fun book, as well as an informative and absorbing one.

THE FIXER by Bernard Malamud is the latest choice of the Literary Guild. It too has a Jewish hero, but there all similarity to the Kemelman book ends. THE FIXER takes place in Czarist Russia and deals with a particular form of injustice peculiar to that time and place. Yakov Bok, the book's central character, is arrested for a crime he did not commit.

DURING THE LONG ordeal Yakov undergoes, his character develops until he who started out as a little man emerges as a big one. Critics are hailing THE FIXER as a great book. Two more new books on India

ASC committeeman. He served very ably and effectively. He represented Gratiot County farmers by submitting recommendations for federal farm programs to best meet the needs of Gratiot County.

We were sorry to lose Mr Hanus as an ASC county committeeman. I wrote my letter of May 4 to him as I would for any member of our Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service who has served in such a manner.

In this case my letter was written three months prior to the primary and six months prior to the November election. It was written purely for service to ASCS, not for political purposes.

Free Fair officials send their thanks

WE WANT TO THANK the St. Johns Clinton County News and you for the coverage of this year's Ionia Free Fair.

The success of the Ionia Free Fair is dependent on the support that we receive from the press. Without the cooperation of newspapers, this event would not be the great attraction that it is. The St. Johns Clinton County News was definitely responsible for a large portion of the 550,000 people who visited the Ionia Free Fair.

We will always strive to keep the newspapers well informed of developments at the Free Fair, for there are thousands of people throughout the state who are interested in our activities.

Best wishes to the St. Johns Clinton County News.

A Look Into The Past . .

Harvest time at the turn of the century

Mrs Earl T. Smith of rural Laingsburg recently loaned us this picture taken at harvest time on the farm of her father, G. E. Showerman, in southeast Victor Township in 1908. The thresher machinery belonged to Fenners east of Laingsburg. According to information on the back of the picture, the bare-headed man in the middle is Dad Showerman, and Glen is standing in front of him. Earl Showerman is the second lad from the extreme left with a large hat. Alva West stands at the left of Dad Showerman leaning with both hands on a pitchfork. Earnie Scarrett is next, and Eddie Acker is at the end of the line by the wheel.

Another identification has been made in the picture of the St. Johns musical group in the Clinton County News of Aug. 25. The man second from the left is Fred Patterson, the late father of Clinton County Sheriff Percy Patterson.

Michigan joins others to preserve roadside beauty

BY ELMER E. WHITE Michigan Press Assn.

Michigan joined several other states this year in enacting legislation to help preserve natural beauty along the roadways.

A highway billboard bill passed by the Legislature was the result of agreement between the advertising industry and the highway department, the latter largely representing the viewpoint of the nature lovers.

Under the new law, not fully effective until 1968, many of the scattered signs now in place will come down.

BILLBOARDS of specified size will be allowed only in business areas, unless the signs give directions, mark historic spots, or advertise a business or activity on the property.

Motorists will no longer see a beer or supermarket billboard five miles from town unless the store stands next to the road.

Provisions of the bill allow for a sizable number of signs within the designated business areas, however.

LEGISLATORS debated various forms of billboard regulations during the past six years.

It was not until this year that the highway department and outdoor advertising industry got together on legislation, now required to comply with the federal highway beautification act.

Doubts have been expressed whether Michigan's new law will meet federal standards, some of which are yet to be spelled out.

Highway and advertising spokesmen are adopting a wait-and-see attitude.

DISCLOSURE BY two public officials of recent threats on their lives focused attention on one of the newest units of state government: the State Commission on Crime, Delinquency and Criminal Administration.

The commission, like several before it, was appointed to do a specific job, but likely will be in existence for a considerable time because of the breadth of its assignment.

Reports from Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley and Wayne County Judge and Grand Juror Edward Piggins that their lives were threatened because of their anti-crime activity will certainly become part of the commission's concern.

OFFICIAL ASSIGNMENT of the governor was to seek additional ways of preventing crime, and improving law enforcement, administration of justice and rehabilitation of offenders.

Nearly a year ago, many months before the commission was formed, state police intelligence Chief Lt. Raymond H. McConnell described organized crime as possibly a greater threat to American society than communism.

A big part of this threat, he said, is the large amount of money available nationally (and presumably in Michigan) for corruptive purposes with judges, police, courts and other public officials.

KELLEY'S AND Piggins' disclosures brought out McConnell's point distinctly. Apparently the threatening parties decided money would not deter these two men from their public responsibilities.

National statistics on crime and delinquency rise annually. Michigan is no exception.

The 47-man commission hopes to have some recommendations ready by the end of this year. Despite its seemingly unwieldy size, the commission's makeup tends to encourage the idea that some progress might be forthcoming.

PART OF THE emphasis during the 1967 Michigan Week observance will be on youth. Robert Miller, chairman of the Greater Michigan Foundation's Council on youth programs, convinced the entire sponsoring organization of the annual brag week that there is considerable need for this emphasis.

He has called for a young people's conference in every Michigan community on Youth Day, the final day of Michigan Week.

"WE HAVE BEEN losing some of our best youth talent to other states," says Miller. "Every effort must be made to see that they find the opportunities they seek right here in Michigan. We must get close to them and through their own expressions find out just what they seek in Michigan."

The past two years, the Youth Day programs throughout the state have been focused on the school dropout problem.

In 1967, Miller's plan for youth forums at the community level could bring to light any number of problems involving teenagers who are considered average or above, rather than those at the dropout level.

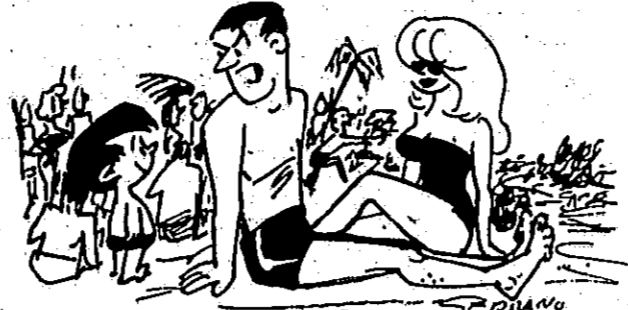

Miller envisions the 1967 community forums as possibly leading to a statewide conference in 1968, a similar to a state meeting held in Flint last year on the dropout situation.

THE MORE one thinks of it, maybe this is why the symbol of Justice is blindfolded. To keep from seeing, what is morally wrong with too many of our citizens today.

Uncontrolled pollution killing the Great Lakes

Sen. Gaylord Nelson (Wis.)... "I send to the desk a comprehensive water pollution bill, entitled the 'Clean Waters Act of 1966.' This bill is the fourth bill in a comprehensive package of water pollution control legislation which includes S. 2940 on waste disposal research; S. 1908 on ship pollution; and S. 1479 on detergent pollution."

"As you know, Lake Erie is already well on its way to becoming a polluted swamp. Southern Lake Michigan is so badly polluted that experts believe it may be 100 years—if ever—before it can be reclaimed. Bathing beaches have been closed for years along Lake Michigan, and the blight is steadily spreading up the western shore. In Green Bay a tide of pollution is moving up the bay, year by year, ready to engulf and destroy millions of dollars in recreational resources. Dense clouds of algae are forming along the western shore of Lake Michigan, choking water intakes and providing a grim warning that the cancerous explosion of algae which is killing Lake Erie is also well advanced in Lake Michigan."

AT THE FAR end of Lake Superior, the biggest and purest fresh water lake in the world, the Superior City Council is facing a pollution crisis, and scientists are sounding the first warning of a river of pollution oozing out into this sparkling lake, sowing the shores of the Apostle Islands wilderness and depositing green scum on the scenic beaches of northern Michigan.

"The pollution crisis is deepening so rapidly that the federal government cannot any longer sit back and insist that other units of government solve the problem. The fact is, the job is not being done and never will be done unless we make this an urgent responsibility of the federal government."

Condensed editorials from three area newspapers follow: THE SUBURBAN Economist: Contamination at the south end of the lake (Michigan) is so great that the beaches of Hammond and Whiting have not been permitted to reopen this year. When the winds are from the south, the pollution is carried into the area of the Chicago beaches.

Chicago Daily News: The pollution is a by-product of the $1,000,000-a-year dredging operations conducted by the U. S.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

Lighting of the candles signals the new season

HAYDN PEARSON

The staghorn sumac has lighted its candles and the glowing panicles on scraggy candelabra paint pictures on thin-solled upland pastures, along country roads and in the field corners. From New Brunswick to Minnesota, and south to Georgia and Mississippi, the chunky candles add depth to the royal colors of autumn.

It is not an impressive tree, rarely growing more than 30 feet high. It has little commercial value, but since pioneering days men have used the stems for splices when tapping maple trees. Campers like the dry twigs for quick kindling. The Indians smoked the leaves. Both Redmen and early settlers used sumac tea for medicinal purposes.

THE STAGHORN is aptly named. The velvety covering of the younger branches reminds one of the soft fuzz on bucks' horns. Early in summer the flower panicles appear at the ends of the short branches. Pollen bearing and seed bearing blossoms separate. The seeds ripen in September.

It may be the name is Arabic. Or perhaps it refers to the fact that a century and more ago the finest leather was cured with sumac and the word is derived from "shoe maker." We do not know the answer, and it is not important now that a season is ending and the humble shrub-tree has lighted its candles to add to autumn's color.

WE DO NOT COMPARE the Staghorns with oaks and pines, beeches and ash. But among the humbler species that add interest and beauty to the country-side, the Staghorn plays a worthwhile role. The countryman looks at the candles along the pasture fence and knows that when the candles are lighted, it is a sign of longer nights and a new season.
