DeWitt teachers ratify contracts

DeWITT—The DeWitt Board of Education will meet Monday night to discuss ratification of the teacher contracts for the 1971-72 school year.

According to DeWitt School Supt. James Ritchie, there will be "no problem" in having the board ratify the contract.

The DeWitt Education Association (DEA) has already ratified the new contract by a 78-0 vote Aug. 30.

"This is basically the same contract as last year," Ritchie said. The only significant change was a salary increase of $400 at the first level, making the base salary $7,800.

The new contract calls for a 10th level top salary of $11,130 for a teacher with a bachelor of arts degree. The Master of arts degree will receive a base of $8,540 with a top rate of $11,870. A master of arts-plus 30 category will receive a base of $8,910 with a ceiling of $12,240.

Ritchie said all of the teachers were affected by the Presidential price-wage freeze since the DEA did not ratify the contract before Aug. 15. "It was the same contract we submitted to them on July 26," Ritchie said. "They could have acted on it then but they chose to wait until Aug. 30. It was the same one they accepted."

Ritchie led the negotiating team for the board of education while the DEA was represented by Lucille Missimer and Charlene Schaar.

School districts helped by Nixon price-wage freeze

ST. JOHNS—The Presidential price-wage freeze hasn't really penetrated much of the banking interests in the area, according to a St. Johns bank executive.

Brandon C. White, vice-president of Clinton National Bank and Trust Company, indicated last week that the only area the freeze has affected so far has been the yield of bonds. "That's the only thing it has affected at this point," he said.

"There has not been an increase or decrease in automobile loans," White commented. "There have been almost the same amount of auto loans in August as there were in July."

White said the rate cut in the bond interest will benefit several area school districts for the 1971-72 school year. "We have bid and won two school district bonds, the St. Johns and Fowler districts, and it will give them a break in their borrowing rates."

The current bond interest rate has dropped to 3.5 per cent from about five per cent, White said. This will mean a savings of better than $1,000 per $100,000 borrowed, he added.

The real estate mortgage money is still in high demand so interest rates are not likely to drop, although they will stay at their current level.

Another interesting area of President Nixon's economic program, White said, was the lifting of the dollar from the gold standard, floating it on the market. White called the policy of backing dollars with gold a "fictitious" program and noted that the dollar will remain the best monetary base in the world's markets.

When asked about the severity of the President's policy, White called it "necessary."

"These are adequate measures. Several months ago, Mr. Nixon would not have had the cooperation of business and labor. Now the working class will cooperate with very few exceptions. The major corporations and the unions, too, have been very cooperative."

Boy dies in farm accident

ST. JOHNS—A five-year-old rural St. Johns boy died Thursday, Sept. 2 when he apparently fell into a grain chute on the farm of his parents.

Dead is Mark Joseph Thelen, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Thelen of R-2, Wacousta Rd., St. Johns.

The lad was missing for approximately two hours before being found by his parents.

He was born April 21, 1966 at St. Johns, son of Alphonse and Marie (Platte) Thelen. He attended Waldron Elementary School at Fowler. He was a member of Most Holy Trinity Catholic Church of Fowler.

HE IS SURVIVED by his parents, five brothers, Brian, Daniel, Kevin, Darryl and Andrew and two sisters, Judy and Lori, all at home. He is also survived by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Aloysius Platte of Westphalia and Mrs. Andrew Thelen of Fowler.

Funeral services were held Monday September 6 from Most Holy Trinity Catholic Church of Fowler with Rev. Fr. Albert Schmitt officiating. Rosary was recited at the George Chapel of the Osgood Funeral Home. Burial was at Holy Trinity Cemetery.

O-E bloodmobile drive goal to 'beat St. Johns' said, however, that the negotiating teams were still not close to a settlement.

The two groups were to meet again Tuesday night and could possibly discuss salary increases, a topic that has not been brought up since the President's economic freeze went into effect.

Representatives from the Fowler, Ovid-Elsie and Bath school districts were unavailable for comment on the negotiations Tuesday morning, however all teachers in those districts are working without a new contract.

OVID-ELSIE—"Beat St. Johns" is their battle cry. No, its not football this time, but the annual Bloodmobile drive.

According to Carol Bashore, chairman of the Ovid-Elsie Jaycee Auxiliary, the O-E area blood drive will try to top the 165 pints donated by St. Johns area residents Aug. 26.

The Bloodmobile will be open from 12 noon to 6 p.m. at the Veteran's Memorial Building in Ovid.

"It's going to be a real challenge," the chairman said. "To accomplish this feat, the Auxiliary will need the response of at least 166 people in the Ovid-Elsie area."

She added that the goal was more than double the amount the group received during the last Bloodmobile visit. Also, she pointed out, the drive could be helped by the fact that 18-year-olds do not need parental consent to give blood.

"We urge the community to support the Jayceets in this effort to beat St. Johns," she said.

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA district teachers are continuing to work without a contract, according to Supt. Roy Thelen. He FOWLER—One Clinton County youth was killed and another seriously injured Aug. 31 when the car in which they were riding ran off of M-21 west of here and struck a tree head-on.

Killed was the driver, Gary R. Pung, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Pung, R-2, W. Kinley Rd., St. Johns. Injured and listed in serious condition at Carson City Hospital, was Donald E. Evitts, 17, of 9550 Walker Rd., St. Johns.

Sheriffs Deputies said the vehicle was apparently eastbound on M-21 when it left the roadway, crossing over the west-bound lane and striking a tree head-on. Deputies said Pung was dead at the scene.

Deputies and volunteers had to free Evitts from the smashed vehicle, which was totally demolished. A witness to the accident told Deputies the Pung vehicle had been travelling at a high rate of speed just prior to the accident.

FUNERAL SERVICES for Pung were held Friday September 3 from the Most Holy Trinity Catholic Church with Rev. Fr. Albert Schmitt officiating.

Pung was born July 5, 1952 at St. Johns, the son of Donald W. and Bernadette (Thels) Pung. He attended parochial school and was a 1971 graduate of Fowler High School.

Pung was a standout member of the Eagles Basketball team of 1970-71 and was named to the Clinton County News All-Star team of 1971.

He was a member of Most Holy Trinity Catholic Church.

HE IS SURVIVED by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pung of R-2, St. Johns, two brothers, Dale and Randy and two sisters, Susan and Sharon, all at home and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pung of Fowler.

Rosary was said at the George Chapel in Fowler and burial was in the Holy Trinity Cemetery.

Pung was the 11th person to die this year on Clinton County Roads.

Contributions are being accepted at the offices of the Clinton County News and radio station WRBJ in St. Johns to the Dr. Paul Stoller Memorial Fund.

The fund is being established by a group of local citizens who wish to recognize the contribution Dr. Stoller made to the St. Johns community. Dr. Stoller died of an apparent heart attack Aug. 28.

A special meeting of all contributors will be held once the fund drive has been completed to determine a fitting memorial. According to a group spokesman, all ideas on the memorial will be considered at the meeting, which will be announced at a later date.

Chamber of Commerce plans award banquet

ST. JOHNS—The St. Johns Area Chamber of Commerce will hold its first annual awards banquet Tuesday Oct. 5 at Daley's in St. Johns.

According to General Committee Chairman Bill Patton, the 7 p.m. dinner will provide the occasion for the initial presentation of awards under the Chamber's newly created recognition program designed to honor Chamber members and non-members for their community activities.

Patton explained that the newly adopted program will include officer service recognition, individual committee and general participation. In addition two major awards will be presented to the "Outstanding Chamber Member" and for "Distinguished Community Service."

"We're hopeful," Patton said, "that our citizen award for community service will become a coveted recognition and, through the years, those who receive it will take pride in knowing that it was only because of strong efforts toward a better and more closely knit community that the award is made."

Tickets for the dinner can be obtained from Chamber members or at the Chamber office. Admission to the event is $3 per person.

Phone expansion hearing Tuesday

LANSING—A public hearing will be held Sept. 14 on General Telephone Company's application to combine its Fowler and Pewamo exchanges in Clinton and Ionia counties and to provide toll-free service between the new exchange and its St. Johns Exchange.

General Telephone told the Michigan Commerce Department's Public Service Commission that its present Fowler and Pewamo central offices have limited facilities and that it plans to replace them with a new central office with modern electronic switching equipment.

The proposed new central office would be built in the southwest corner of Section 10 of Dallas Township.

Rates for nearly 900 customers in General Telephone's Pewamo and Fowler exchanges would be increased because the proposed new exchange will be in a higher rate band. There would be no increase for the utility's St. Johns exchange customers.

In addition to merging the Pewamo and Fowler exchange, General Telephone proposes to add approximately 4.5 square miles of territory along M-21 between the two exchanges to the new combined exchange.

The public hearing will be held at 9:30 a.m. in the Commission's offices in the Seven Story State Office Building in Lansing.

Ballenger backs moves to streamline state legislature

LANSING—State Sen. William S. Ballenger told the seventh Annual Republican Youth Conference today that while he doesn't support the concept of a unicameral legislature, he does support reforms to streamline the present bicameral system.

"If the people of Michigan are truly interested in good government, in making the legislature more 'accountable', in saving the taxpayers' money, they shouldn't misplace their confidence in the spurious cure-all of a unicameral legislature," said Ballenger. "They should support changing many things that need changing and must be changed, or else — one-house legislature or two-house legislature — it won't make any difference. We'll still have a very defective legislature."

Speaking at Camp Copneconic near Fenton, Ballenger argued that a unicameral legislature would not necessarily save taxpayers' money; that it would erode important checks and balances in the legislative process and pave the way for increased control by lobbyists and special interest groups; that it would open the door to domination by a powerful "Speaker" or clique not elected by and hence not accountable to the state as a whole but only to a provincial constituency such as present House Speaker Ryan's in the inner city of Detroit; and that it would reduce the number of legislators whom constituents can turn to for help.

"In the 30th Senatorial District, for instance, the six voices you now have in Lansing in the persons of Dick Allen, Jim Brown, Dale Warner, John Engler, Doug Trezise, and myself would be reduced to two," Ballenger noted.

Ballenger suggested a sweeping series of reforms to streamline the current system including:

--Adoption of deadlines governing the flow of legislation, the absence of which during the past two years is the main reason for the incredibly sluggish performance of the Legislature so far in 1971;

--Reduction of committees to 15 in each chamber (the Senate now has 15 and the House 32);

--The establishment of a Washington, D.C., office for the Legislature; and

--A requirement that interim legislative committees render formal reports concerning the topics they're charged with investigating.

"For the citizens of Michigan to hitch their wagon to a petition drive for a unicameral legislature is to cop out," emphasized Ballenger. "It's also dangerous, because it panders to the basest in all men and women, not the best. It fans the flames of bitterness, anger and frustration with public servants generally. It says this: Let's sock it to the politicians."

"Let's punish them. Let's eliminate them. But there are so many other things that need to be improved in the Michigan Legislature that to sweep them all under the rug and point dramatically to the panacea of a one-house legislature is simply to blind oneself to the really urgent reforms that need to be implemented."

"Help effect some of the reforms I've outlined and you'll have done a lot more to further the ends of good government than you will by pursuing the mirage of a panacea that will do little good and perhaps irreparable harm," Ballenger concluded.

By Mrs. Neva Keys

The Green School Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Bethel Engbretson on Thursday, Sept. 2 at 1:00 p.m. A luncheon was served before the meeting, as is the custom of this club. Mrs. Helen Wiltsee, the new chairman presided for the meeting.

Response to roll call was relating something funny about school experiences, and many very amusing incidents were recalled. There were eleven members present. Several members had been in school together and two had graduated together. Mrs. Hilda Schumacher and Mrs. Engbretson were both in classes here in school and also at Central Normal.

Minutes of previous nice trips were read, recalling the July picnic at Friendship Park at Rochester Colony with several husbands also in attendance. Mrs. Eleanor Thornton, Committee Woman furnished home made ice cream and Mrs. Ann Praay brought the cake.

The August meeting was an annual trip. The group gathered at the home of Mrs. Wiltsee and proceeded from there to the Antique shop at Eureka. The ladies found that they had many valuable things at home which they had overlooked and also, to their sorrow, that they had discarded many which they should have kept.

From there they went to the Art Nook west and south of St. Johns where they found many delightful pieces of art craft and viewed paintings of a member and friends.

Later they met for refreshments at "Jeanne's Beans" in St. Johns for dessert which had been arranged previously. During the business meeting cards of thanks were read and correspondence of the summer was also taken care of by the members. Plans for the Christmas Workshop were discussed and the meeting adjourned until October 14 when the lesson will be "Care of Carpet and Upholstering". Plans were also made for attending the Area Deco Day at Corunna for Sept. 14.

Dividend payments announced

ST. JOHNS—Stockholders of the St. Johns Co-op will receive dividends according to their volume of purchases whether or not the company shows a profit under a new volume incentive program launched July 1, 1970. Manager Art Romig said, "This is a different program than our regular dividends, in that our stockholders will receive dividends according to their volume of purchases whether or not the Co-op shows a profit."

As of the end of the fiscal year, the Co-op had issued dividends under the new program totaling more than $10,000 to 144 patrons.

"If you're not receiving your share stop in and find out about the program," Romig said. "We will be continuing this program this year."

Lt. Governor injured in county accident

ST. JOHNS—Michigan Lt. Governor James H. Brickley received minor injuries in a Clinton County traffic accident Labor Day. Brickley and one son Brian 10, were hurt in a three-car pile up at the Looking Glass River bridge Monday afternoon.

Clinton County Sheriff's Deputies said Brickley was the driver of one of the cars involved in the mishap. Deputies said a northbound auto driven by Dorothy G. Kearns, 48, of Dearborn, skidded out of control on the bridge after striking a deep water hole. The auto careened into the southbound lane where it was struck by the Brickley auto which in turn was struck by a third auto, driven by Richard A. Woodward, 24, of Midland.

Mrs. Kearns was hospitalized at Lansing Sparrow Hospital with a fractured pelvis and a passenger in the car, Joan E. Kearns, 18, was hospitalized with a fractured leg.

Brickley received a bruised face and his son Brian complained of stomach and back pains. Another son in the auto was not hurt deputies said. The driver of the third auto and three passengers also escaped injuries.

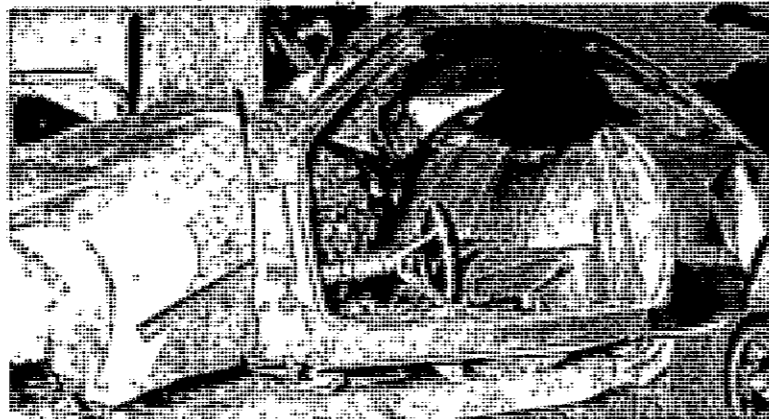

IN OTHER WEEKEND mishaps Ricky L. Mercer, 16, of 300 No. Swegles, and a passenger escaped injury Sunday when the car in which they were riding went out of control and rolled over on Colony Rd. at Krepps Rd. Mercer was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law.

Two drivers were injured Sept. 2 in a two vehicle collision at Island and Shepardsville Rd. Deputies said Robert E. Warner, 23, of Leslie received bruises and Theodore C. Thornton, 85, of R-1, Elsie, received cuts and bruises in the mishap. Thornton was admitted to Clinton Memorial Hospital for treatment of his injuries. He was also ticketed for failure to yield the right of way. Patrick G. Thelen, 3, of Thelen Rd., Fowler, was admitted overnight to Carson City Hospital for observation Sept. 1 after he was struck by a car in an alley in ST. JOHNS—The St. Johns Football Club will hold their first meeting of the 1971 season Wednesday Sept. 8 at the High School. The meeting will get underway at 7:30 p.m.

Grid club

Special guest for the evening will be the new head football coach Ernie Becker.

The club will discuss future fund raising projects at the meeting. All members are urged to attend.

SHOOTING CHAMPS

Winners of the 1971 Clinton County 4-H Gun Shoot were Judy Schwark, Spring Valley, Tim Quine, Spring Valley, Greg Hazle of Bengal Community and Scott Wing of Prairie. (See 4-H Chatter for story).

All stars trim V.F.W.

ST. JOHNS - O'Connor Dairy came out on top of the City Slow Pitch League this summer, but the team did not participate in the touted all star game.

It wasn't because they were afraid of getting beaten, but they had a previous commitment to the Fowler Jaycees and their slow pitch tournament currently underway.

So the All Stars, one man from each of the league teams, met with the VFW and promptly drove them into the ground, winning easily 21-9.

Al Dutcher was the winning pitcher for the All Star while Charlie Edwards took the loss for the VFW.

Redwing Grid preview set

ST. JOHNS - Local football fans, Redwing boosters and parents of the 1971 football players will get a sneak preview of the St. Johns football teams Tuesday Sept. 14 when Coach Ernie Becker hosts Meet the Redwings night at the Stadium.

Coach Becker will have the varsity, junior varsity and freshman teams in full uniform on the field at 8 p.m. For those parents who would like to get pictures of junior in his football suit, they should come a little earlier.

Coach Becker promises there will be ample time for picture taking prior to the program.

Becker will start off the evening by introducing himself. New this year to St. Johns and the Redwings, Becker was formerly at Haslett, where in three years he brought the team from winless seasons to second in the league two years in a row.

Which isn't too bad, considering Haslett with 500 students was the smallest team in the Capitol Circuit League, competing with schools of 1,000 to 1,700 students.

BORN AND RAISED a few miles north of here in Ithaca Becker graduated from Ithaca High School and Central Michigan University. He served as an assistant coach under the Chips' Roy Cramer for one year and also coached high school sports at Big Rapids.

Becker will introduce his assistants Joe Gonzales and Steve Beckholt and the members of the 1971 Redwing Varsity football team.

Junior varsity coaches Mike Young and Hub Waite will introduce the Little Redwings and freshman coaches Al Werbish and Roger DePaape will introduce their teams.

Following the introductions of the team there will be demonstrations of the offensive and defensive formations.

Hunting course starts Saturday

ST. JOHNS—All area boys interested in taking the hunter safety course should report to the cafeteria at the St. Johns High School Saturday at 9:30 a.m.

There will be two hours of instruction plus one hour lunch period. Each boy has been asked to bring a lunch with him.

After the two-hour instruction period and examination, the boys may go to the Sleepy Hollow Club on Mead Road for actual firing instruction. They will be instructed in the course by four St. Johns Jaycees, including Bud Jarvis, Larry Slade, Dave Humirek and Jack Downing. The men will also supervise the shooting.

Grid tickets sale Sept. 15

ST. JOHNS—To guarantee that you don't miss any of those exciting Redwing football games this season, members of the varsity club and varsity and JV's football teams will be visiting your house on Wednesday evening Sept. 15.

The gridders will be selling season tickets to their favorite sport, with the money earmarked to aid non-revenue fall sports programs at St. Johns High School.

The tickets, $4 for adults and $2 for students, will include one free game as opposed to buying separate tickets for each of the Redwing home football games.

The boys will be canvassing the town for ticket sales beginning at 7 p.m. Wednesday. So if some lad in a football jersey rings your doorbell, don't turn him down.

HE'S JUST making sure you don't miss any sellouts this year.

OUTDOOR NOTES

JOHN TODD of Canton, Ohio, on August 20 claimed title as Michigan's new coho fishing king and came within a few pounds of making a name for himself worldwide when he hauled in a 27-pound, 13-ounce silver salmon offshore from Manistee.

His new state record coho, 38 1/2 inches long with a girth of 24 inches, is within 3 pounds, 3 ounces of the world champion silver salmon caught in British Columbia waters in 1947.

Todd, of 5373 Huckleberry N.W. in Canton, took his lunker coho on a fly trolled behind a red herring dodger in about 100 feet of water. The fish hit his bait about 80 feet below the surface. Todd's catch was verified as the record coho for Michigan by Ludwig Frankenberg, the Department of Natural Resources' district fisheries biologist at Cadillac.

THE DEPARTMENT of Natural Resources' September 1 plan to start charging a $2 service fee for each of its film loans has been postponed indefinitely by the federal wage-price freeze. Since announcement of the scheduled new fee was made by the DNR last week, a new interpretation was made under the freeze order, ruling out the film service charge while the current wage and price controls remain in effect.

As a result, schools, sportsmen's clubs, and other organizations may continue to obtain free loans of movies from the DNR's film service center until further notice. They also may write for free, revised folders listing available DNR films. Those request should be addressed to the DNR's film loan section in Lansing which is listed under Zip Code 48926.

INCREASES in Michigan's 1971 hunting license fees are not covered by the national wage and price freeze, state officials have been advised by the federal Office of Economic Preparedness.

As a result, the legislature-approved license hikes will take immediate effect should they be signed into law by Gov. Milliken. Federal OEP spokesmen explain that Michigan's hunting licenses come within the regulative authority of the State and, therefore, the scheduled raise in these fees is not subject to the 90-day wage and price deadlock which took effect August 15.

If and when Gov. Milliken signs House Bill 4364, Michigan's hunting licenses will carry these new rates:

Resident: Small Game—$5., Deer (Firearm)—$7.50, Deer (Archery)—$7.50.

Non-Resident: Small Game—$25., Deer (Firearm)—$40., Deer (Archery)—$20.

Compared with the previous levels, resident licenses will be increased $2 for small game and go up $2.50 for both firearm and archery deer hunting. Each of the three types of non-resident licenses listed above is marked by a $5 raise.

Another change written into H.B. 4364 provides for a special $1 deer license covering Michigan residents who have reached the age of 65. That new license is valid either for the state's firearm deer season or for the archery deer hunting period, but it does not cover both under a single $1 fee.

Any senior resident who wishes to hunt whitetails during both of those seasons must buy one of the special licenses for firearm hunting and pay another $1 for a license covering his action with bow and arrow.

H.B. 4364 makes no change in Michigan's sportsman's license for residents which continues to be priced at $18.50. Also unchanged is the state's bear license which costs residents $5.10 and non-residents $25.10.

Michigan's small game and deer licenses for this season are being mailed to local dealers and the Department of Natural Resources hopes to complete distribution to all of these outlets by September 3.

Copies of 1971 rules covering small game, deer, and bear hunting are being shipped with the licenses.

The deer rules carry instructions for filling out antlerless deer permit applications which must be postmarked by September 30. As in the past, forms for those applications may be obtained by sportsmen when they buy their firearm deer licenses.

LAKEPORT STATE PARK in northern St. Clair County was re-opened to public use this week after being shut down since Aug. 22 for storm repairs and clean-up work, reports the Department of Natural Resources.

DNR parks officials announce that water and modern sanitary facilities have been restored at the park's campground. Dangerous trees blown down or half toppled by the storm of Aug. 22 have also been cleared from the campground by DNR crews.

However, park workers at Lakeport have not had time to remove unsafe trees which the storm damaged in the wooded area behind the campground, and they are urging campers to stay out of that tree-tangled part of the park.

Campers will have to do without electricity at the park's individual campsites for the rest of 1971 because the campground's power system suffered extensive damage from the recent storm.

MICHIGAN'S proposed Great Lakes fisheries zone management plan for 1972, featuring recommendations to prohibit small-mesh gill nets in Saginaw Bay and to establish a new commercial fishing area in northern Lake Michigan, await action by the Natural Resources Commission at its September 9-10 meeting in Manistee.

Department of Natural Resources fisheries officials are calling for a ban on all commercial gill nets of less than 8-inch mesh in Saginaw Bay to reduce the harvest of seriously-depleted perch stocks in those waters.

DNR findings indicate that commercial gill netting operations have accounted for the sharp decline in the bay's perch populations. Those stocks, say DNR fisheries men, have been cropped to such an alarmingly low level that they no longer can support an intensive gill net fishery.

Under another proposed change, the DNR is recommending that a new commercial fishing zone be added in a north-central sector of Lake Michigan which roughly covers waters shoreward from Point Detour to Point Patterson.

As part of that plan, com-

Deer Hunting Format for '71

Of Michigan's 98 permanent deer management areas, the 64 shown here will be open to antlerless deer hunting during the state's Nov. 15-30 firearm season on whitetails. Hunters are reminded that Sept. 30 is the deadline to postmark applications for permits to hunt antlerless deer in these areas where the collective take of these animals is expected to total about 19,000. Sportsmen may pick up permit application forms at local license dealers when they buy their 1971 firearm deer licenses. Instructions for filling out those forms are carried in copies of Michigan's rules for deer and bear hunting, also available at license dealers.

State-wide, 89,500 antlerless deer hunting permits are offered for this season. Of those, about 32,920 will go for Upper Peninsula hunters whose expected take of antlerless deer is scaled at 6,120 animals. For the northern Lower Peninsula, where this fall's antlerless kill quota has been chopped nearly in half from 1970; some 37,340 permits are open to applications. The harvest quota for that region is 8,760 antlerless animals. Some 19,240 permits will be issued to hunters in southern Lower Michigan where this season's antlerless deer take is programmed at 4,140 animals.

mercial fishing for whitefish in the area would be limited to the use of larger mesh nets to boost natural reproduction of that species in those waters. DNR fisheries men explain that the netting restriction would give juvenile whitefish maximum protection from commercial harvests until after the fish have reached spawning size.

The third major adjustment proposed in the Great Lakes zone plan for 1972 would expand the sport fishing development area in northwestern Lake Michigan to cover Green Bay plus Little and Big Bay-de Noc. Under that change, waters lying west and south of Sac Bay Point, which are now part of a commercial fishing zone, would be added to the sport fishing development area.

DNR fisheries men would like to see those waters transferred to the sport fishing zone to promote their plans for rehabilitating trout, salmon, and walleyes in northwestern Lake Michigan. Besides gaining those additional waters, the sport fishing area would be consolidated into one larger zone by combining 3 such areas. Some commercial netting of smelt and whitefish would be permitted in the adjusted sport fishing zone.

GOVERNOR MILLIKEN has declared September 11-18 as Hunter Safety Training Week in Michigan and urged this state's citizens and organizations to observe the period with renewed interest and effort to "develop the proper safety attitudes in gun handling, both in the field and at home."

He also called upon all persons and groups to take an active role in supporting the efforts of conservation officers and more than 2,400 volunteer instructors who have been instrumental in training nearly 175,000 Michigan youths in hunter safety since 1960.

Gov. Milliken's special declaration pointed out that hunter safety training is now mandatory for youngsters under the age of 17 who account for over 100,000 of Michigan's one million hunting sportsmen.

Hunters in that age group were responsible for 22 per cent of this state's 212 hunting accidents in 1970, Gov. Milliken observed. On the positive side of the target theme for Sept. 11-18, he noted that this figure could show a "dramatic drop" through the hunter safety efforts of the more than 2,400 dedicated sportsmen who are serving as volunteer training instructors for young hunters-to-be.

In a special letter to those instructors, Department of Natural Resources Director Ralph A. MacMullan drew attention to Gov. Milliken's hunter safety declaration and urged each of these volunteers to "make training programs available to the youth in your community."

He encouraged them to let the week of Sept. 11-18 exemplify the willingness of all certified instructors to involve themselves in the hunter safety program.

Teachers are under scrutiny

EAST LANSING—In a recent article exploring the ethical implications of his work, a Michigan State University psychologist reported:

"It now seems to be within man's power to experimentally alter another person's basic values and to control the direction of the change."

Dr. Milton Rokeach, writing in Psychology Today, said "Scientists have urged us all to consider the consequences of research in this area, warning that we are on the brink of breakthroughs that will demand new levels of responsibility."

Dr. Rokeach said it has always been assumed that a teacher has an obligation to shape values as well as impart information, but as advances in research techniques make it possible to actually see such changes, the teacher comes under new scrutiny by the community to exercise this function carefully.

Dear friends,

It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral service, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected - these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family.

The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made.

Respectfully,

Maple River shooting

LANSING—Michigan waterfowl hunters are reminded that September 1 marks the first day for them to mail applications for shooting reservations this fall at the Swan Creek Highbanks unit of Allegan State Game Area and the eastern portion of Maple River State Game Area.

The new pre-registration requirement will cover the entire October 21 - November 14 goose season at the Swan Creek Highbanks in a move to eliminate much of the past confusion and hunter disappointments there.

Mailed-in reservation requests are necessary only for the October 6-10 period at the Maple River site to control overcrowded conditions early in the season which have greatly cut down the potential duck harvest and contributed to gun accidents in the area's 200-acre diked sector east of Highway US-27.

Registrations to hunt there must be postmarked between September 1 and September 15. Those for the Highbanks unit must reach the Department of Natural Resources no later than 5 p.m., September 27.

On the other side of the postcard, the applicant must designate which of the two areas that his request covers, and sign his name in ink. In case of party applications, each member of the group must ink his signature. Also to be written on this side of the card is the individual's or party's first choice as a hunting date. A second-choice date may also be designated. Individuals or parties applying for the Maple River site must specify with those dates whether they prefer to hunt in the morning or afternoon.

Envelopes carrying each application must be addressed on the top line either to Maple River Waterfowl Hunt or Highbanks Waterfowl Hunt. The rest of the mailing address for both areas is the same—P.O. Drawer M., Lansing, Michigan 48926.

DNR wildlife officials explain that no hunter may submit his name or more than one application—either individually or as a member of a party—for a reservation to hunt in each area.

THE DAILY RESERVATION quota at the Highbanks Unit is 58 and permits there will be issued only to parties of two or three hunters. Reservations for the Maple River Flooding will be offered on a half-day basis, with 50 of them available for morning hunting and another 50 going to different sportsmen for afternoon action.

Hunters may seek reservations

Student spending

EAST LANSING—College and university students are assets rather than liabilities, especially in the communities where the schools are located.

For example, Michigan State University students will spend approximately $132 million during the fiscal year over and above tuition, on-campus room and board and other fees.

Dr. Gordon E. Miracle, MSU advertising professor, made the predictions based on several years of study of the student market.

The student market should not be overlooked, he emphasizes, and notes that the student population accounts for about 13 percent of the population of the Lansing area.

Although most of the 40,000 students at MSU are single, he said, more than 5,000 are married, and many have children.

Citing other market statistics, Dr. Miracle said that students will spend more than:

- $10 million on food, accounting for about 8 percent of area food store sales.
- $1 million in liquor and party stores, an average of about $30 per student.
- $5.5 million in eating and drinking establishments, accounting for about 13 percent of the Lansing area total.

- $5 million on gasoline and other items from service stations, an average of about $2 per week per student. About half of the MSU students own a car, accounting for 10 percent of area service station sales.
- $11 million in department stores. A substantial portion of this amount, he said, is spent in their home communities rather than in the Lansing area.
- $4 million in apparel stores, again, much of this is spent in their home communities, especially in September before returning to school.

In compiling the data for his studies, Dr. Miracle said that nearly 1,000 students report their exact incomes and expenditures on a daily basis during various time periods.

The basic information on the study, he said, was obtained during the 1968-69 year and updated to reflect rising incomes and inflation.

EAST LANSING—Michigan State's football team kicks off the 1971 season against Illinois Sept. 11 at Spartan Stadium. Family Day prices of $4 for head of household and $2 each for other family members will be in effect.

Cereal vocabulary

"Three terms to look for on a cereal package are 'whole grain,' 'restored' and 'enriched,'" says Ada Shinabarger, Michigan State University food information agent.

When the package promises "whole grain," it tells you that the cereal contains all the nutrients of the whole, unprocessed grain, Miss Shinabarger explains.

If the cereal is "restored," it means the nutrients lost in the processing have been put back in their original proportions.

When cereal is "enriched," more vitamins and minerals than were originally present have been added to the product, Miss Shinabarger explains.

Meal planning

By Helen B. Meach Extension Home Economist

So you have a problem planning meals for the grandparent who is an important part of your family.

Balanced meals for the older person can be a problem when the kids want pizza and coke while Dad enjoys the prize winning rich desserts which mother makes. All may be too rich for grandfather's diet, so problems-problems.

The older person often needs fewer calories because of reduced activity. But the same nutrients are needed all life long, only in different amounts.

THE FIRST THING to do is consider the needs of the older person in your home. What are his particular needs? If you prepare meals and snacks that add up to extra calories, sooner than you think the excess shows up as fat.

The process of digestion slows down as the years fly past so meals need to include fewer rich fatty foods like pastry, whipped cream, fat meats and gravies. The secret here is cut down not cut out unless one has been advised to do so by their doctor.

It is often better to serve frequent small meals rather than large meals less often. Plan for foods which can be easily eaten such as ground or chopped meats and fish, soft foods and beverages which contain more than calories. Milk drinks and cream soups are important to this diet as are chopped raw vegetables.

Since food likes and dislikes are well established in middle and later years it is important to take time to learn what foods the grandparent considers as favorites. Include those well liked nutritious foods often.

HEALTH PROBLEMS MAY necessitate changes in the diet so it is important to follow the instructions of the physician and dietitian.

It is important for older folks to have regular meals and to have more easily digested foods at night. A part of the family meals may be reserved for a mid-morning or mid-afternoon snack.

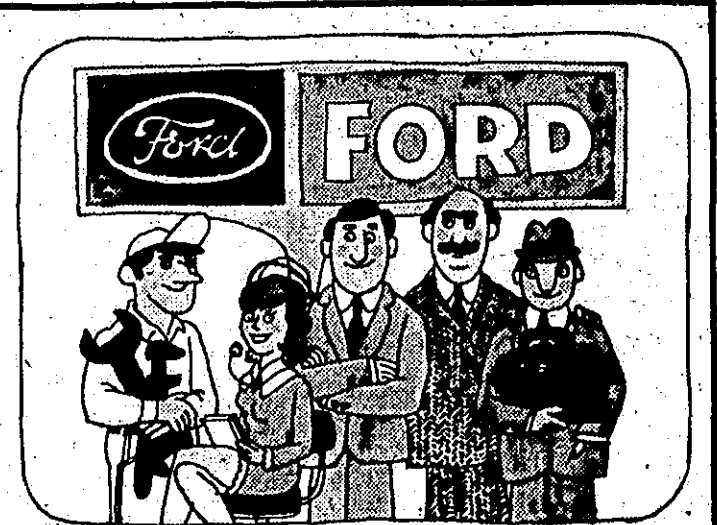

Being well fed is such an advantage and being poorly fed is such a handicap that it is worth the effort to move into the ranks of the wise food planner and provider of nourishing meals.

Arm yourself with a basic food guide. The time you spend planning can pay off in better health for your family.

The first meeting this fall of the Girl Scouts of Pewamo will be held at the Pewamo Elementary school on Tuesday Sept. 14 at 3:30 p.m. The Brownies and Juniors will meet together for a few minutes before going to separate troop meeting. There are a few vacancies in both troops so all visitors and parents are invited to attend. Mrs. Silvernall, the new organizer, will be leader of the Junior troop and for 2 weeks Mrs. Meade will come back from Lansing as leader of the Brownie troop. Mrs. Ambrose Fox is the new full time co-leader for the Brownies, but unless a full time leader can be found the Brownie troop will have to disband. Cadettes will form a troop as soon as possible. All girls in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades are invited to join. A cadette leader is also needed.

On Saturday, Sept. 4 Mr. and Mrs. David Meade entertained with a dinner at their home, the old homestead of the Pierce family. All the Pierces attended and all six children of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Pierce were born in Pewamo. Mr. and Mrs. David Meade are moving to Lansing on Sept. 5 and 6.

The weekend of Aug. 28 and 29 Mr. and Mrs. David Meade, daughters, Melody and Michelle Meade, along with David's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Russell A. Meade of Lansing, traveled to Niagara Falls, Canada. Bargains By LORRAINE SPRAGUE Extension Home Economist

Everybody likes a bargain, but there's more to shopping than just bargain hunting. Real shopping involves knowing what, how, where and when to make purchase for your family.

To be a good shopper you need to take time to know what you and your family really need and want. It sounds simple. But how many times have you bought a new dress for your daughter only to learn it isn't what she wanted at all? Or have you purchased some household items, bath towels for instance, just because they were on sale only to find there was an adequate supply in the linen closet at home? Maybe on impulse you bought something for the house that didn't fit in, or was hard to care for or left no money for something else you wanted.

It's a rare person who can buy everything she wants. Most of us must choose carefully those things and services we most need and want.

Others get quick results with Clinton County News classified ads—you will, too!

THE "HOW" OF shopping includes planning ahead and discussing the plan with those family members who will be involved. This is especially true when making big purchases. Such planning will include getting information, about price, quality, performance and comparing of products and prices. A shopping list saves times and confusion. It also helps avoid excessive impulse buying.

A good shopper selects a store that will stand behind its products. She'll select a store that has the right prices for her and will provide the services she may need.

Certainly, a good shopper will take advantage of seasonal sales when the goods meet her needs. But she'll include in the cost of the item, any traveling expense to reach the sale or any other individual expense such as babysitter, meals away from home and such. She'll also know the original price to be sure it is a bargain. She'll also recognize quality.

End-of-summer sales, carefully studied can offer some real savings. "White" sales, for some people. Just be sure you want what you buy and can use it.

Mussel tests check pollution

EAST LANSING—The fresh water mussel (fresh water clam) can give conservationists a good measurement of pesticide residues, says Matthew Zabik, Michigan State University entomologist.

Commission is using the mussel to monitor all Michigan streams and lakes for pesticide residues. Other countries also use this technique.

The midge, a tiny fly, could also prove useful for measuring pesticide levels in streams, says Zabik. It concentrates residues to 20,000 times the level in the water.

Business notes

By MIKE PREVILE
News Advertising Manager

The Coho are hitting out of Manistee, I know, I was there. So was Dan Beck, R.G. Hyde and Gale Boron.

If the Beck and Hyde sound familiar, that's because that's what they call the Farmarina. And so to say we were well equipped would be the understatement of the year.

That's the kind of business to be in . . . you get to field test all the latest lures, ideas and equipment. We had everything . . . lures, rods, reels, downriggers, fishfinder, beautiful Starcraft boat with twin 50's, a cooler filled with iced tea . . . just everything . . . except the most important ingredient of all . . . luck. Not that we had had luck . . . we didn't. We just didn't have the good kind.

Now the day before, Derrill Shinabery and R.G. had good luck by hooking and landing two nice Coho. And Bill Higgins and brother Gene did right well both days.

We arrived in Manistee in time to visit with many successful fishermen. Walking around the cleaning stations, it seemed like everyone was cleaning 8 to 16 pound Coho.

Nothing fires up a fisherman like someone else's success so the next morning we were going to show them how it's done. We had three fish on during the day. Gale, after a spirited 10 minute fight, brought his along side and Dan lifted a 17 pound Coho into the boat. Earlier I watched a 30 pound (would you believe maybe a 12 pounder) straighten out the "safety-pin" and disappear with my Manistee wobbler still in its lip.

All during the day we watched as other boats landed and lost the big salmon. One boat in particular, with two men and four poles had two fish on at the same time (they landed two.)

It was great fun.

I'm a brook trout fisherman by nature and I've caught pike and bass but nothing compares with the thrill of fighting with Coho.

I tried to swing a deal with Dan for his complete rig. No deal. Dan said he'd take cash or finance it for me but he already had a wife and family.

Wednesday at Andy's IGA is wacky. Why? Well, every Wednesday Andy's offer special savings by reducing the price on many selected items. The items and special prices aren't advertised in advance but they include meats, canned goods, produce and many others.

"Ooh, is he ever going to get his".

That was the Big M's considered opinion after a dirty, unshaven, black-hatted villain had shot his way through the opening minutes of John Wayne's latest flick, "Big Jake".

She was right.

After being shot two or three times, attacked by the film's animal hero, a dog called appropriately enough, "Dog", stabbed and shot a couple more times, the screen's evilist nasty since "talkies" was done in by Big Jake and a pitchfork. And a dirty pitch fork, at that.

In between a total of 12 good-guys and 15 bad-guys were the victims of knives, pistols, rifles,

In between a total of 12 good-guys and 15 bad-guys were the victims of knives, pistols, rifles, shot guns, dogs and bells. Right, bells. One of Richard Boone's hand of unsavories was done to death in a belfry.

But it was good fun. Except for one thing. I was rooting for the wrong side. Now I know that admission is like saying I'm against apple pie and motherhood . . . but darn it, I'm a Richard Boone fan and even if he didn't pass out any of those cards, I still rooted for him.

And besides that, Big Jake himself wasn't exactly Mr. Nice. It never was explained why Maureen O'Hara had thrown him out ten long years before.

Rubella vaccine free at clinic

ST. JOHNS—Luella Canfield, R.N., of the Mid-Michigan Health Department last week urged parents of pre-schoolers to bring their children to the next free immunization clinic set for Thursday morning.

A special request has been issued by the state health department asking parents to have their children inoculated against measles with the Rubella vaccine. Rubella, or commonly called three-day measles, has been identified as one of the chief causes of birth defects.

Responsibility

By REV. HUGH BANNINGA

In his concern for the Ephesian Christians, that they might attain spiritual maturity, St. Paul wrote the following words to them according to the J. B. Phillips translation (Ephesians 5:15): "Live life, then, with a due sense of responsibility..."

St. Paul was disturbed to find that many of the Ephesian Christians were as morally indifferent as the pagans. The situation was pretty bad in Ephesus, so when Paul heard about it from one of his messengers, he wrote to them in no uncertain terms concerning their lives as Christians.

This is what he told them according to Phillip's translation: "But as for sexual immorality in all its forms, and the itch to get your hands on what belongs to other people—don't even talk about such things; they are not fit subjects for Christians to talk about."

"The keynote of your conversation should not be nastiness or silliness or flippancy, but a sense of all that we owe to God. For of this much you can be quite certain: that neither the immoral nor the dirty-minded nor the covetous (who is in effect worshipping a false god) has any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God. Don't let anyone fool you on this point, however plausible his argument."

It is these very things which bring down the wrath of God upon the disobedient.

Immorality, covetousness, dirty minds, silliness, and flippancy were the sins of many of the Christians in Ephesus. The Christians who were indulging themselves in these sins were not living their lives "with a due sense of responsibility." Whenever they could, they tried to avoid responsibility by appealing to the circumstances that surrounded them.

They probably said, like many people today, that "we are doing only what everybody else is doing." Instead of Christian love and concern for others, they were only concerned for themselves and their own earthly pleasures.

MANY OF THE Ephesian Christians thought that all that was required for their salvation was to believe in the Lord Jesus Christ. They thought that what they did in their earthly life had no bearing on their eternal life. So they did as they pleased.

Many people in the Church today act as though they believed the same way as the Ephesian Christians. They say they believe in Jesus Christ, but then they live their lives as though there were no connection between the

"here-now" and the "here-after." Paul told the people in his day, and he tells us today that we are to live our lives with a due sense of responsibility. He tells us that we are members one of another and that what we do in this earthly life will have a considerable effect on our future life in eternity.

To live our lives with a due sense of responsibility means that whatever we do as individual Christians has a definite impact upon those around us. It was Dostoevski who said, "Each of us is responsible for everything to everyone else."

A vivid illustration of this is the following incident which happened on May 24, 1950 in Brooklyn. A mother and her child visited a ship where one of the mother's friends worked. On the way up the gangplank, 4 year old Diana fell into the narrow water between the side of the ship and the pier. Her mother screamed when she saw Diana hit the water 18 feet below.

A number of longshoremen came running and realized that the little girl would either drown or be crushed if the ship drifted against the pier. So the men lined up alongside the ship, throwing their weight against the hull. They strained with all their might to keep the ship away from the pier.

THEN THREE men formed a human chain to rescue the child. Joseph Zapulla said he should go first, because he was the youngest. John Balzano seized Joe's ankles, and then Giuseppe Sabino took a firm grip on John's ankles and lowered his two friends until Joe could reach little Diana.

After much pulling and straining Giuseppe pulled the three to the top of the pier. One of the men gave Diana some milk and cookies from his lunch pail. Diana's mother, with tears in her eyes, thanked the men over and over.

When a newspaper called Joe at home later, he was in bed with minor bruises, but said, "The main thing is that the child is all right. I was just doing what I had to do. Why, it was all part of my day's work."

It is all part of our day's living to have a "due sense of responsibility." How do you live your life? Do you live like an irresponsible Ephesian Christian or do you live your life with a due sense of responsibility?

St. Paul goes on to say that a sense of responsibility grows in us when "we know the meaning and purpose of life." More about this next week.

THE ROBERT BOGDAN FAMILY

meet Bob Bogdan, our mortgage finance man

If you're thinking of chatting with us about a home mortgage, chances are pretty good you'll meet Bob Bogdan somewhere along the line and you'll find out what we found out—that Bob knows quite a bit about mortgage financing. Perhaps that's why he's assigned to our mortgage department and is in the process of reorganizing it into one offering complete customer service.

Bob began working with the bank in 1969 and since then his progression has included a period of management training, loan officer and, earlier this summer, promotion to assistant cashier.

Along with all this Bob has completed American Institute of Banking study courses in personnel supervision and marketing-public relations. Recently he completed the first of a two week program in mortgage finance at Ohio State University and before he finishes up next summer he will have had many hours of home study as part of the course.

Bob has a background in economics, having studied that field while gathering graduation credits at Jackson Community College and Michigan State University. He is a native of Jackson and graduated from high school there. But St. Johns is now the Bogdan's home and Bob and wife, Sue, and their children—Angelynn, David and Sara—reside at 1200 S. Oakland. He has been active in local Jaycee work and has served that group as its secretary.

They say that everybody has to be somewhere and if someday you find yourself in our mortgage department you'll learn why Bob is there—because he knows how to get people places through mortgage finance.

Succotash

By GEORGE McQUEEN

ST. JOHNS—Succotash. That's the apparent harvest from many bean fields in Clinton County this year. Volunteer corn is growing like a weed.

Buyers and processors of beans say it could be a serious problem. They cannot separate corn from dry beans except by hand labor. Their only solution is to not buy edible beans contaminated with corn.

Contamination in soybeans can be tolerated in small amounts but sellers will be discounted on weight and price.

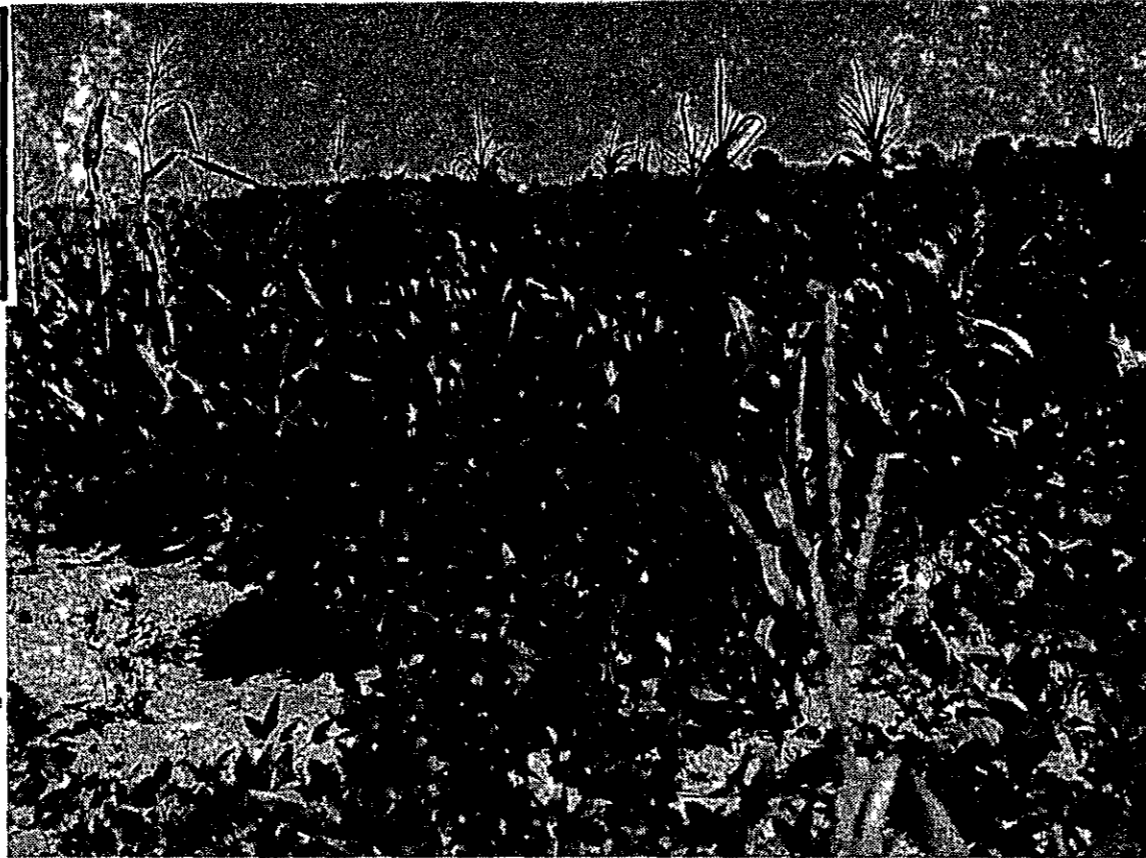

Various actions may be used to prevent contamination of beans by corn. Most obvious is start with clean beans and keep them that way.

fields? Some farmers have harvested the soybeans—corn as green chop feed or as silage. It makes excellent feed either way but is useful only to livestock growers.

Some farmers have pulled or cut the corn out by hand. This is very effective but—

This year some have cut tops off the corn with self propelled combines or mowers raised to clear the beans. Should dry beans be harvested early before the corn kernels harden down chances are they will be separated by the combine. However, corn juices could make the beans sticky and be contaminated by dirt and dust.

Any way you look at it corn in beans costs like any other bad weed. Hopefully corn harvest this fall will be more complete and we will have no succotash next year.

SUCCOTASH?

Some of the bean crop in Clinton County this year could be considered succotash. Wild corn grows in this bean field.

Land treatment measures spelled out by government

EAST LANSING—One of the programs of the United States Department of Agriculture that helps our nation's farmers perform conservation work on their land is the Rural Environmental Assistance Program, known as the Agricultural Conservation Program prior to 1971.

This program shares with farmers the costs of carrying out approved conservation and pollution abatement practices on their land. Specifically, it helps them with land treatment procedures and structures to control and manage water.

Nick Smith, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said that watershed conservation and development work benefits everyone. Reduced to its simpler terms, a watershed is an area of land from which water drains towards a single channel so every home, farm, lot in every town or city is within the natural boundaries of some watershed.

Small watersheds are natural, social, and economic units suitable for community development and conservation of water, soil, woodland and related resources especially including wildlife. Such development involves individual farmers and woodland owners who own or control the agricultural lands that constitute the headlands of a watershed.

Voluntary cooperation of these landholders in proper management of land is essential to the success of watershed conservation and development programs.

SMITH SAID THAT assistance obtained through REAP cost-sharing is authorized only for needed farmland conservation work properly installed. Conservation measures carried out on individual farms contribute to the total conservation accomplishments within the watershed where they are located.

Many farmers use REAP cost-share assistance along with their own resources to help advance the progress of organized watershed work and to accomplish more needed watershed conservation at a faster rate than would be possible using their own resources alone.

This upstream work on farm—EXTRAVAGANCE The easiest way to gum up a budget is to let your yearnings outstrip your earnings.

land has many downstream benefits. Erosion control on the uplands keeps sedimentation to a minimum, protecting streams and reservoirs from choking and pollution. Holding water on the land keeps our water supply cleaner. Also, a major contribution to flood prevention is accomplished by holding water on the land and keeping creeks and rivers within normal channels.

USDA has estimated that it is not uncommon for the cost of removing a unit of sediment from roads, reservoirs and harbors to be twenty times the cost of keeping it in place on the land.

Smith said that under the 1970 ACP alone, about $19 million of cost-sharing was invested on 98,000 farms in Public Law 566, pilot and flood prevention watersheds.

About $235 million of ACP cost-sharing, along with a comparable amount of farmers' own funds, was invested in these watersheds during the sixteen years 1955-1970.

Farm exports set trade record

EAST LANSING—The export of farm products in the past fiscal year reached $7.8 billion which is a new record according to Nick Smith, Chairman, Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. Of this total commercial sales for dollars amounted to $6.8 billion which set a record for the second straight year.

The President has set a goal of $10 billion. Japan continued as the leading single country market for U.S. agricultural products taking $1.2 billion.

The recent announcement to expand or to remove some of the trade barriers with China and Eastern Europe and Russia is encouraging. Smith stated that we hope exports will stay high and grow as the productivity of American agriculture grows. As yields go up and farmers produce more we must find a market for more or prices will slip.

The international market is working well in soybeans. In the past 16 years we have increased soybean production by 764 million bushels. Of this we are exporting over 500 million bushels as beans or meal—almost two-thirds of the increase in use. We now have 55 per cent of the entire world market for oilseeds, cake and meal, Smith added.

The market is working in grains. Wheat prices are the highest they have been in almost a decade and our commercial wheat exports are the largest in history.

Our corn exports are running behind last year's totals due to corn blight but exports of barley, oats, and grain sorghums are at a higher level.

Smith pointed out that ASCS farm programs have a stabilizing effect of eliminating large swings in prices which could force many efficient farmers out of business.

Horse book

Horse housing -- simple sheds to elaborate barns -- is the subject of "Horse Handbook: Housing and Equipment," a 60-page publication prepared by a team of Midwest agricultural engineers.

The publication (MWPS-15) is available at your county extension office, or by writing to the Plan Service Office, Room 225, Department of Agricultural Engineering, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich. 48823. Cost to Michigan residents is $1.

The American people are more dependent than perhaps they realize on a relative handful of farmers being able to produce efficiently so that people can get their food and fiber at a very economical cost.

Costs high for part time farmer

ST. JOHNS—If part-time farmers are having trouble making money with their farm operation, it could be because their labor and machinery costs run higher than those of their full-time neighbors.

A study of Michigan farmers participating in Telfarm (MSU computerized record keeping system) showed labor and machinery costs for cash crop farmers with more than 400 acres ran about $10 less per acre than for part-time farmers. Average labor and machinery costs were $43.11 per acre for part-time farmers and $33.77 for farmers with more than 400 acres.

Machinery investment per acre was $52.15 for the big farmers and $64.67 for the part-time operator.

Farmers reporting less than 1,000 hours of operator and family labor spent on the farm were classified as part-time. These farmers average 175 acres.

For full-time farmers with under 400 acres—average of 298 acres—labor and machinery costs averaged $40.60 per acre and machinery investment $53.38 per acre.

Total advantage over the part-time farmers was $747.98 for the full-time farmers with under 400 acres and $6,790.18 for farmers with more than 400 acres (average 727 acres).

"The disadvantage of small cash grain farms will intensify as machinery becomes larger and more efficient and as opportunity cost for labor rises in an industrial labor market," predicts Leonard Kyle, Michigan State Agricultural Economist. "Operating units are already being consolidated and will proceed rapidly."

Read seed label with extra care

ST. JOHNS—To get the most out of what you put into the ground, read seed labels carefully, says George McQueen, Clinton County Agricultural Extension Agent.

"If the seed isn't good, your land, fertilizer and work all go to waste and all you get is a poor stand of poor plants." State and federal laws require that all seed lots be tagged. These tags tell the quality of the seed, what kind it is, where it was grown and who sold it.

Other information on seed labels includes the pure seed content, percent of other crop seed and percent of foreign material and weed seed. Germination percentage is also listed.

Michigan law requires that the name and number per pound of all noxious weeds be listed on the tag, says McQueen. According to the law, if weed seed content is greater than set levels, the seed lot may not be sold for planting.

If seed is treated to control seed-borne disease, a special warning tag will also be attached. If the treatment is poisonous, the tag will be marked "POISON TREATED" in red letters. Certified seed is a good bet. It must meet the high standards of the Michigan Crop Improvement Association including varietal purity, good germination and freedom from weed seeds.

Meeting a deadline

Even though you keep singing "Summer Time and the Livin' is Easy" there are still some jobs that must meet a deadline each week, year around.

One of these for me is the writing of the Home Economist's Newsletters and News Columns. So to make "easy" reading for you and "easy" writing for your Home Economist here are some "did you know facts". Try them out on your family or the gals at your next "Coffee Klatch".

What's a honey ball? It's similar to the honey dew melon, except that it is much smaller; is very round, and slightly and irregularly netted over the surface.

Black turtle soup beans? Maybe they're not familiar to you—but they're often used in thick soups and oriental dishes. How about great northern beans? They're also used in soups—sometimes salads and casseroles too.

What is the difference between mayonnaise and salad dressing? Mayonnaise is a stable emulsion of oil, driplets in water and it doesn't separate because it is stabilized with egg yolk. Salad dressing contains less oil and a cooked starch paste which substitutes for part of the egg.

Who was he? In the summer of 1790, one man reportedly bought over $200 worth of ice cream from a shop in New York City! That man was George Washington. It is said that the "Father of our country" doted on ice cream, and that seems to be the tradition of fathers.

Who was she? A clever gal by the name of Nancy Johnson invented the first hand-cranked ice cream freezer in 1846. One hundred and twenty-five years later, we're still enjoying the talents of this creative woman—with relatively few changes in design. Right on, Nancy!

What to buy by the "eyes". Swiss cheese grades are based on the size and gloss of its eyes. The larger the eye in Swiss cheese, the higher the quality grade. Next time you buy, look and compare. The eyes tell you.

How many calories or what's in it for you? One 8 ounce glass of homogenized milk contains 160 calories, fresh lowfat (1 percent) 110, fresh skim (non-fat) 90.

Sunrise semester

EAST LANSING—Don't say you never had a chance to go to college.

You can take university courses, even earn college credit, while you breakfast, shower and shave.

The University of the Air, a facet of Michigan State University's Continuing Education Service, is offering two Sunrise Semester courses over the airwaves this fall.

American Urban Politics and Classical Mythology in Literature, Art and Music, will be offered in late September. You can dial them on your breakfast room TV.

Either may be taken for university credit or without credit to increase personal knowledge and enjoyment or improve professional competency.

The urban politics course will spotlight the role of blacks and other minorities, the effect of the suburban ring around the cities and the importance of schools and school affairs in the cities' political conflicts. It will discuss these matters against a backdrop of the political structure of cities, the political behavior of officials and intermeshing organizational arrangements.

America's mythological heritage from Greece and Rome will be explored in the classical mythology course. The course is a journey through the myths and legends which are background for much of the literature, music and art. It will carry the student from the mythological creation of the universe through the rise of the Olympian gods and the great heroic legends which were once part of every lad's education.

Information on registration, credit, fees, location and times may be obtained from the University of the Air, 12 Kellogg Center, MSU, East Lansing, telephone 517/355-8326 or from any of MSU's Continuing Education Centers in Benton Harbor, East Lansing, Grand Rapids, Marquette, Saginaw-Flint, Rochester and Traverse City.

EAST LANSING — Bantam-weight Don Behm and heavyweight Jeff Smith, former Michigan State University wrestlers, recently won gold medals at the Pan American Games in Colombia.

Chocolate milk made from whole milk and chocolate, 210 calories in an 8 ounce glass. The same measure of chocolate flavored drink, made from lowfat milk and cocoa equals 190 calories.

One cup yogurt made from partially skimmed milk yields 125 calories.

One average size piece of pecan pie provides 490 calories—if you're watching your weight. However, it provides 190 units of vitamin A, according to USDA nutritive values.

A few years ago not many people had even heard the word ecology. But today it is almost a "sacred" subject. Consequently a stampede is on to join the safe and right side of the ecology issue. As usual, when there is a stampede, the innocent "chuck wagon" may get damaged.

American farmers are something like the chuck wagon. They feed the nation, and yet they are being caught in a cross fire of controversy over the use of farm chemicals such as pesticides that indispensable to high food production.

For many years farmers have been bombarded with literature on how to produce their crops with the use of farm chemicals. For many years tax dollars have been spent through federal and state funded programs on research programs to develop farm chemicals. Reams of written material have been printed instructing the farmer on how to increase his crop yield, reduce his labor and produce a better product for the consumer through the use of farm chemicals.

THE FARMER HAS benefited from this vast research and instructional program and today one man in agriculture can feed himself and 47 others. It is estimated that by 1975 he will feed himself and 55 others.

The consumer has benefited also from the tremendous progress made by agriculture. He is now able to buy his food needs with a smaller percent of his weekly wage than he did a few years ago. The produce he is purchasing in the supermarkets today is of the finest quality.

Each year there are fewer farmers, so we should all understand that although the world population will double by the year 2000, simple doubling of agricultural productivity will not meet food demands. We must understand that in agricultural research one must keep running simply to remain even as environmental hazards catch up with yesterday's successes. Much remains to be done if consumers are to be assured an adequate food supply in the future. Farmers will look to researchers for new ideas and will have to use farm chemicals if we are all to eat.

Michigan is blueberry king

EAST LANSING—Michigan is the blueberry king, taking over the number one spot in 1970.

Last year Michigan growers harvested 29 million pounds of the big blues. This year's crop is expected to be slightly below that, reports Ada Shinabarger, Michigan State University extension consumer information agent.

When handling blueberries, Miss Shinabarger suggests sorting before refrigerating. Use the ripest fruit first, she says.

Wash all berries just before using—moisture hastens mold and spoilage.

When freezing blueberries, just sort and place them in freezer containers. Leave a half inch headspace.

"They don't even need to be washed—they'll keep better if they aren't," Miss Shinabarger says. "When it comes time to use the frozen berries, they need only to be rinsed after thawing."

Let common sense be your guide for your daily conduct.

Buying furniture isn't easy

ST. JOHNS—Buying furniture is not always an easy task. Determining the colors to use when decorating in the home, selecting curtains or draperies, or even arranging furniture and accessories can all pose problems for many homemakers.

Deco-Day, sponsored by the Family Living Education Program of the Cooperative Extension Service, is designed to help solve these and similar problems for those women who are interested in attractively decorated homes.

Deco-Day will be Tuesday, September 14 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. in the Casino, McCurdy Park, Corunna. It is open to all homemakers in Clinton, Gratiot and Shiawassee counties. The only requirement is that a pre-paid ($1.75) luncheon reservation MUST be made by Friday, September 10 with Mrs. E.J. Bottum, Route 1, St. Johns, Sorry no refunds on unclaimed reservations. "There is no other charge for the event, but since the program continues with a presentation on Color, through the luncheon hour, we know you'll want to remain," say Helen Meach and Lorraine Sprague, Extension Home Economists.

Two Interior Decorators will speak, colored slides will be shown and there will be a few displays - all to help make this a fun day and also a learning day.

DAV launches campaign

ST. JOHNS—Sept. 10 and 11 are important dates.

They are important days for the Disabled American Veterans of Clinton County, Chapter 64. On that day, volunteers will sell Forget-Me-Not on the street corners. The Forget-Me-Not campaign uses contributions to finance the Chapter's program of assistance for war handicapped veterans in this community.

"It's easy to show you remember and appreciate the sacrifices of these disabled men and women," said Carl G. Light, DAV Chapter commander. "The Forget-Me-Not you wear will show that you haven't forgotten."

Ballenger praises move for property tax relief

LANSING—State Senator William S. Ballenger (R-Ovid) today became the first legislator to publicly declare support of Governor William G. Milliken's statewide petition campaign to place a property tax relief proposal before voters in 1972.

Said Ballenger: "WHEN I FIRST RAN for the State House of Representatives in 1968, the people were crying out for property tax relief and I committed my life as a public servant to secure it for them. For three years I have tried, and for three years I have failed despite the fact that I have supported any and every property tax relief idea that's come down the pike. I even supported the highly controversial House Resolution GG, despite the fact that it included an undesirable section to repeal the present ban on a graduated income tax.

"I'm convinced that the people of Michigan are completely fed up with the vacillation and procrastination of the Michigan Legislature on this issue. My constituents deserve something better. I've waited three years for my colleagues to pull together, but it's now apparent that they never will. So we're simply going to have to circumvent the legislative process altogether and go directly to the people.

"While I support the Governor's petition drive and expect to be part of it, I want to make several things clear. First, I will continue to support any sincere effort to secure property tax relief by statute here in the Michigan Legislature for the simple reason that, if it chooses to, the Legislature could effect property tax relief more quickly than could a statewide referendum which will not take place until 1972. Secondly, nobody should be deceived that property tax relief, if it's finally secured, will mean less taxes overall. Quite clearly, it won't. The slack in lost revenue will have to be taken up with an increase in other taxes, chiefly the state income tax, so that, on balance, the general populace may end up actually paying more in taxes than they do now. But there's no question but that property tax relief will greatly aid the retired, the elderly, those on fixed incomes, and hard-pressed farmers. It will also shift the best for financing education from an increasingly unpopular, inequitable tax to one more closely based on ability to pay.

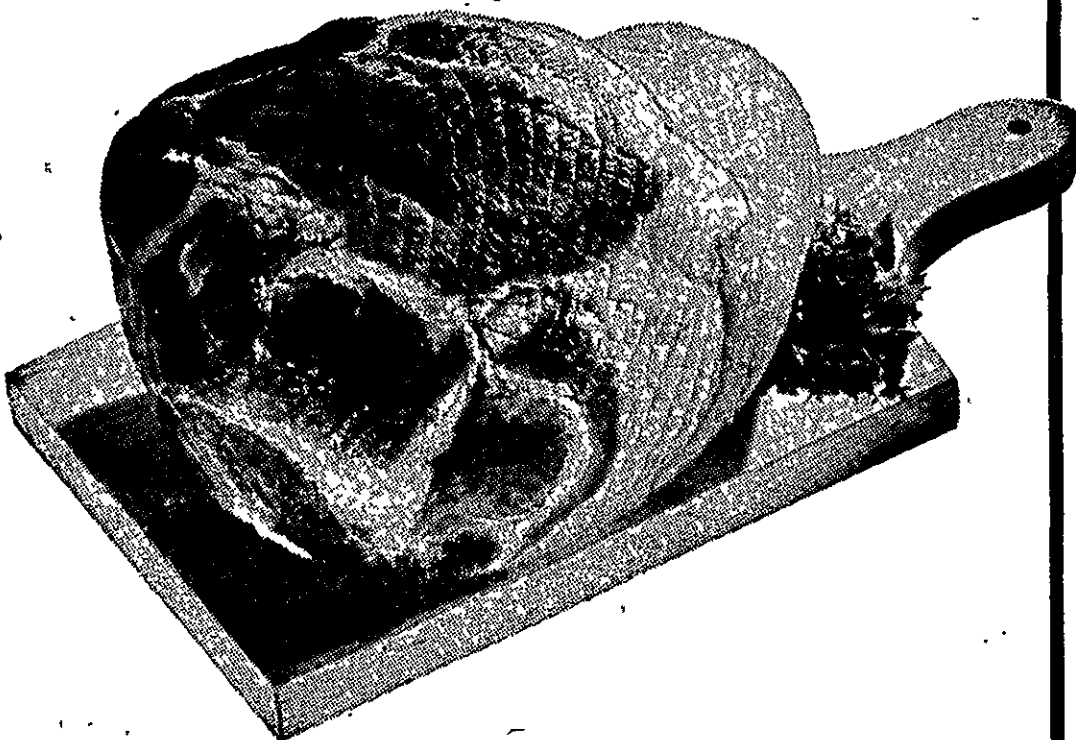

"I should add that I have received assurances from the Governor's office that the property tax relief ballot proposal which he's now formulating will encompass property tax relief only—and not a repealer of the current ban on the graduated income tax. On that basis do I support his efforts."

St. Johns adopts rates

ST. JOHNS—Stephen A. Bakita today announced a free and reduced price lunch policy for St. Johns Public School children unable to pay the full price.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income scale to assist them in determining eligibility.

| Total Family Size | Federal Scale | State Scale |
|-------------------|---------------|-------------|
| 1 | $2040 | $2220 |
| 2 | 2870 | 2900 |
| 3 | 3310 | 3595 |
| 4 | 3940 | 4280 |
| 5 | 4530 | 4920 |
| 6 | 5110 | 5550 |
| 7 | 5640 | 6125 |
| 8 | 6170 | 6700 |
| 9 | 6650 | 7225 |
| 10 | 7120 | 7740 |
| 11 | 7600 | 8260 |
| 12 | 8080 | 8780 |

Each additional family member: Federal ($480) State ($620)

FAMILIES FALLING WITHIN these scales or those suffering from unusual circumstances or hardships are urged to apply for free or reduced price lunches for their children. They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year.

The form itself is simple to complete and requests information needed to determine economic need based on the income and number of persons in the family and any unusual circumstances or hardships which affect the family's ability to pay for school lunches.

The information provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility.

Under the provisions of the policy Bakita will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the local official he may make a request either orally or in writing for a hearing to appeal the decision.

Supt. Earl R. Lancaster has been designated as the hearing official. Hearing procedures are outlined in the policy.

The policy also provides that there will be no identification of or discrimination against any student unable to pay the full cost of a lunch.

A complete copy of the policy is on file in each school and in the office of Bakita where it may be reviewed by any interested patron.

Drought hits state corn

EAST LANSING—Drought, instead of corn blight, has emerged as the major factor limiting 1971 Michigan corn yields. Dry weather is now widespread throughout the Lower Peninsula and reports of total crop loss in isolated fields have been received for the first time this year.

According to scientists at the Michigan State University Corn Blight Information Center, the moisture shortage has now caused some damage to an estimated 75 percent of the state's corn crop.

In the hardest hit areas, an increased number of farmers are chopping corn for livestock feed in an effort to prevent total loss.

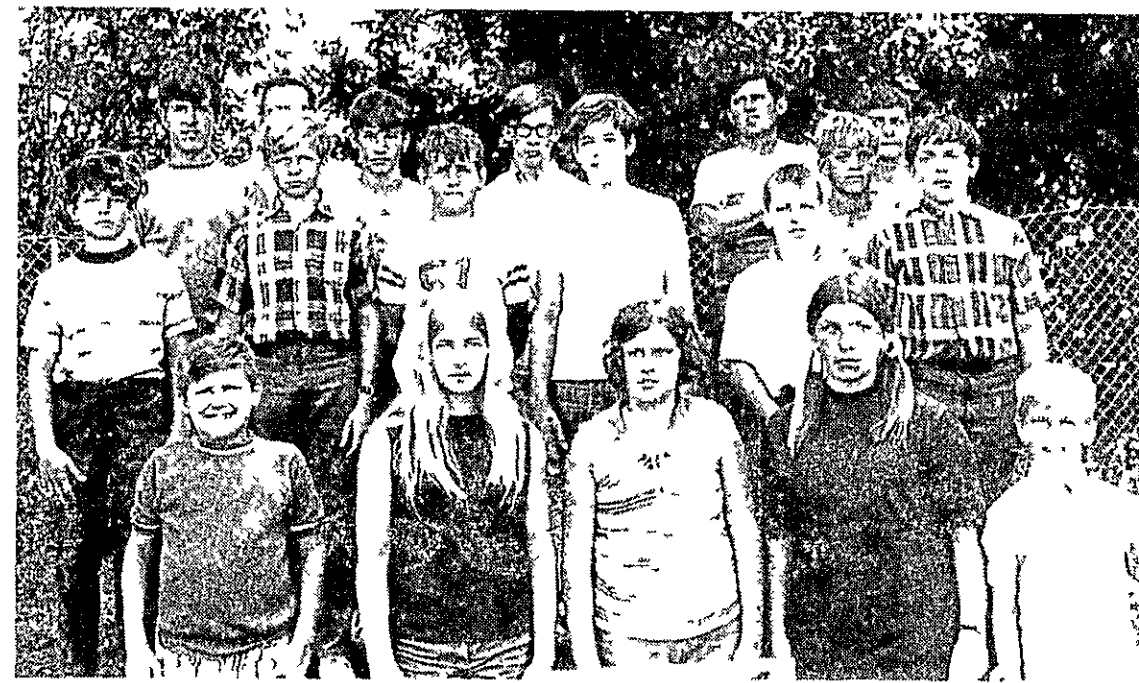

As a result of the dry weather, leaf blight infection levels did not increase during the past week (August 16-22). The only changes noted were reported in the southern two tiers of counties where insignificant increases in the numbers of blight lesions on husks were noted.

Reports from individual counties throughout the state show that corn maturity is rapidly approaching the stage where leaf blight diseases can no longer pose a threat to yields.

Diesel fuel: Keep it clean

ST. JOHNS—Buy diesel fuel from a reputable source, don't store it too long and keep it clean.

Michigan State University agricultural engineer Robert White says the slightest bit of dirt can cause excessive oil contamination, cylinder deposits, crankcase dilution, rapid pump and nozzle wear, hard starting, low power output and general dissatisfaction with the diesel tractor. He has these tips:

Buy from a good dealer who sells a lot of fuel and has a high rate of inventory turnover. Buy only as much fuel as you can use in a few months.

Keep dirt and moisture out of fuel. The fuel metering equipment is, in most cases, hard lapped to tolerances of less than .00001 inch (1/100,000ths). It doesn't take much of a dirt particle to ruin an injection pump.

Keep Diesel fuel in closed containers at all times.

KEEP THE FUEL in a clean and, preferably, new tank which has not been used for other purposes. White says it's not a good idea to use old gasoline storage tanks for diesel fuels. Even though they appear clean, the tanks usually contain considerable amounts of fine dust which will be picked up and carried into the tractor by the diesel fuel.

Equip the fuel tank with a trap for sediment and water and drain the trap frequently.

Install a filter on the tractor tank filler hose.

Avoid drawing fuel from the storage tank immediately after lapped to tolerances of less than .00001 inch (1/100,000ths). It up by refilling or moving the tank. (If possible, wait 24 hours after filling before removing fuel from the tank.)

Use a clean, tightly capped container when transferring diesel fuel.

FOLLOW THE PROPER procedures for changing tractor filters. They are usually equipped with from one to three filters which, if properly maintained, prevent dirt from getting directly into the pump. That's why many injection pump manufacturers supply a sealed filter as the final stage filter, and it cannot be changed until the pump is removed for service.

If possible, flush the fuel system after the fuel filters have been changed. Be sure that dirt particles which may have gotten past the filters are removed before they reach the pump.

Back to work, Dick

We are not impressed with State Representative Allen's publicity tactics of late. Perhaps we are old fashioned enough not to appreciate these so-called modern trends.

It would be nice if we had designated roads in Michigan for hiking and cycling. But it would seem as though there are more pressing issues facing our state at this time and all efforts should be focused in on these.

If our State Representative Allen wants to spend several days bicycling to Big Mac to call attention to a bill he has introduced, it is obvious he isn't attending shop in Lansing.

We know he has more maturity than is being exposed at this time, we certainly feel the office for which he was elected deserves a rather large amount of dignity. (The pay ain't bad either, Richard!)

And if reports are correct filtering out of Lansing, we don't think wearing hot pants at a legislative meeting is showing too much good common sense, or maturity.

But as we said before, perhaps we're too old fashioned to appreciate such goings-on.

Understanding the freeze

Big labor, in its initial response to President Nixon's announced price-wage freeze, was disappointing. The response from the average working man was not, adding emphasis to our long-standing conviction that big labor leaders were not in tune with their people.

Extensive interviews with wage-earning people have shown that over 70 percent are solidly behind the President's action. Their main concern is that the first announced rules will not be enforced, that exceptions granted will ruin the effectiveness of the effort.

WAGE EARNERS, small businessmen, those depending upon pensions, the average middle income man throughout America has become terribly discouraged over skyrocketing inflation. He has become discouraged and frustrated because it was beyond his power to do anything about it.

The wage earner looking for a wage increase might be very willing to accept less. But if prices are soaring and those about him are getting big increases he has no choice but to push for a big increase in order to stay even with the times.

MOST CERTAINLY pre-negotiated increases should not go into effect during the freeze. If they do the freeze is useless. If pre-negotiations are ignored, the freeze should have read "effective for all except those who bargain in advance."

There was talk about letting teacher raises go into effect but now it appears as though reason has been prevailed.

THERE IS no difference between a teacher's wage scheduled to go into effect September 1, a union contract calling for an October 15 effective date and a price increase scheduled by a business for September 8. None can be allowed to go through and we think the average man on the street understands this. He may be unhappy about the income he will lose but is familiar with the luck of the draw. He knows exceptions will kill any worth the program might have.

A demand for control of dividends is ridiculous. If they aren't paid now they could be later and there is no way in the world to tell any business, forever, how much it can pay in dividends. The profits, if any, would be stored and paid out sometime.

PROFIT controls might be in order, if for no other reason than to pacify those not directly involved with profit. But it would appear an "excess profits tax" that was not too restrictive would be the only answer.

Price control is the control we want. Controlled prices will control profits to a degree, with the business still granted an incentive for efficient production. Control profit and there is no reason for efficiency. The object becomes to spend rather than forfeit money to the government.

UNLESS WE are ready to turn all private business over to government and make a completely socialistic nation, let us not control profit.

As enjoyable as we've found Scandinavia, we are in no way ready for Scandinavia's socialism. Take away profit and the only thing left is government-run business and socialism.

Using small claims court

LANSING—Mrs. S. contracted to have insulation installed in her home, but the work was never completed—even though she paid the $325 as agreed.

When Mrs. S. was unsuccessful in getting action from the company she contacted the Michigan Consumers Council, a state agency which handles individual complaints. The Council persuaded the company to complete the job. However, during the process the hot and cold air vents in the heating system were plugged with insulation.

The Council then suggested that Mrs. S. have another contractor estimate the repair costs, and gave her information about small claims court where she could pursue the matter without a lawyer. She did take the matter to court, told her story to the judge, and recovered the $30 it took to correct the problems.

According to Professor William Morrison, chairman of the Consumers Council, a free bulletin is available entitled "How To Sue Someone in Small Claims Court." It explains that the court will handle grievances under $300 and that a consumer can pursue his claim without a lawyer.

TO OBTAIN THE bulletin, send a stamped self-addressed envelope to the Michigan Consumers Council, 525 Hollister Building, Lansing, Michigan 48933.

The Economic Picture

Death dream

By TIM YOUNKMAN

The liberals have known it for years. The leftist radicals have felt it even longer.

The law tends to favor our political opponents on the right. You don't agree? Then, take the case of Mr. Donald Lobsinger (I've used the Mr. in the most liberal sense of charity).

Lobsinger is the leader of Breakthrough, that radical right-wing element that brings to mind the Brown Shirts that once helped elect Adolf Hitler to Chancellor of Germany in the '30's.

Lobsinger, it appears, has avoided a possible 90-day jail sentence. Last week, after telling Wayne Circuit Judge John M. Wise he has submitted to two psychiatric examinations.

He was ordered to take psychiatric examinations by Wise after a Circuit Court jury upheld a Grosse Pointe Municipal Court conviction for disturbing the peace. Lobsinger was found guilty of disrupting a Lenten lecture at St. Clare deMontefalco Catholic Church a year ago.

After his conviction, Lobsinger was placed on two year's probation and ordered to undergo psychiatric testing. He was ordered back into court when the probation department had no record of his visiting a psychiatrist, in which case his probation would have been revoked causing a jail sentence.

Lobsinger indicated he had undergone testing with two psychiatrists, one from Syracuse N.Y. and another in Detroit. Neither doctor indicated that Lobsinger needs psychiatric treatment.

The judge seemed sympathetic. "That's all I want to know," Wise said. "I'm glad to hear it because I didn't want to send Mr. Lobsinger to jail." That hardly sounds impartial to me.

Take, for a moment, the case of an equally unsavory character—perhaps a Weatherman member (the radical-bomb throwing-hate element of the SDS). The Weatherman movement and the Breakthrough movement are equally disgusting, and on opposite ends of the political spectrum.

Had a judge, or at least this one, had the opportunity to have one of these members in his midst, I doubt if the evidence would have been good enough. There probably would have been a court order for the defendant to see several court-appointed doctors. There would have been a good chance in this case that the person would have been put away.

We have seen evidence of this in several bombing incidents of late.

The Brown and Lemm districts, in Olive Township, accepted the proposal, as did the Simmons district in Riley Township. Voters in the Kincaid district, also in Riley, defeated the proposal.

'IF IT FITZ . . .

Answer me this

By JIM FITZGERALD

The latest gimmick in column writing enables the columnist to tell you everything he always wanted you to know but you'd never ask, you jerk. The columnist interviews himself, answering his own questions:

Question: The mayor of your favorite town just opened a new freeway by sawing a log. This is just the latest take-off on the traditional ribbon-cutting ceremony. Banks now cut ribbons of $5 bills when they open branches, and grocery stores cut strings of balloons. Can you add anything to this bit of Americana?

Answer: Certainly. The other day, soon after our family checked into a motel, I noticed my 13-year-old son taking a full bottle of gin from my portable bar. He headed for the bathroom with it. I asked him what he was doing. His explanation revealed that he has combined ribbon cutting with the christening of ships. He said he was going to use the bottle of gin to break the sanitary ribbon on the toilet seat.

Q—You and your wife and son recently spent 3 days in Detroit watching the Tigers play baseball. Earlier this season you went on the road, watching them play in Cleveland and New York. How come you go to so many Tiger games?

A—Because I can't stand to stay home and listen on the radio, or watch them on TV. Announcers George Kell and Ernie Harwell and their assistants are the biggest honnumers on the air. It is bad enough that they are boring. But their blatant partisanship is even worse. They never knock a Tiger. Tigers are all great players and fine human beings. Once this year Dalton Jones was playing right field and TV showed plainly that he messed up 2 fly balls that a crippled infant could have caught. Kell didn't even mention the awful goofs. What kind of reporting is that? The trouble is that Kell and company are Tiger em-

Mrs. Mable Cook attended the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fedewa of Westphalia.

Aurelia Cook returned Friday, Aug. 27, from a 23 day escorted Africa safari organized by the North America School of Travel. She visited California, East and South Africa, Rhodesia, Kenya, Malawi, Uganda, Capetown, Kruger National Park, Amboseli National Park, Kenya Game Parks, Bantu areas, Victoria and Muekeson Falls and Lake Nakuru. There were seven in the group. Miss Cook has many interesting and exciting things to tell about this wonderful tour which included ideal weather.

employees and it is poor business to knock the boss in public. Sports announcers should be employed by their radio and TV stations, not by the home team. Would you trust a labor reporter if he were on the GM payroll?

Q—Read any good books lately?

A—I just finished Frank Beard's diary of a year on the professional golf tour. It is not so good as it is incredible. Apparently without realizing it, Beard revealed himself to be 1 of the world's great cheapskates. He took his wife and 3 small children on tour and insisted that they all stay in 1 motel room. He complained bitterly about the noise and diapers but refused to rent 2 rooms "because I just can't see wasting the money." That year Beard won more than any other pro golfer, over $125,000. He could have rented 3 rooms and hired Howard Johnson to make the beds.

Q—Currently, what is your most favorite TV commercial? A—That one where the boob housewife refuses to trade her box of Tide for 100 boxes of anything else, no matter how hard the huckster coaxes her. You can worry about crime in the streets. I worry about stupidity in the supermarkets.

According to TV, the A.P.'s are full of giggling women with mush for brains. They are constantly pursued up and down the aisles by smiling men with TV cameras hidden in their noses. I say bring back the old-fashioned grocery store where you simply handed the grocer your list and you didn't have to slap his hands for squeezing your toilet paper.

Q—Is it true that you celebrated your 45th birthday in an old-fashioned ice cream parlour?

A—Yes, at Farrell's, in Flint; a great place where everyone sings happy birthday and they give you a free Sundae. The experience in clean living didn't hurt me a bit but the walls of the Alibi Bar crumbled that same night. Onward and Upward.

View from the 30th Importance of due process

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

At the outset of this, my final article in a four-part series on state legislatures—and the Michigan Legislature in particular—I would like to dispel the notion that all we need to do is elect "good men" to the Michigan Legislature and all will be well, or that we need simply to focus directly upon "issues" and forget the process by which they are decided upon and resolved.

Because this "process" (some call it a "system") can neutralize or frustrate "good men"—assuming that we know who they are in the first place—and it can make it all but impossible to deal intelligently with the issues.

Faced with a legislative structure that must remind him of the Mojave Desert, the "good man" finds that he has neither the time nor the information he needs to really come to grips with complex issues and critical problems. The result is that what he accomplishes is in no way commensurate with the agony he undergoes and the effort he makes. To the extent that he accomplishes anything it is too often in spite of the system, not because of it.

What might be done to make the Michigan Legislature better? Drawing on my own three years of experience in the Michigan House and Senate, my conclusions come to roughly the same as those reached by the book The Sometime Governments, written by the Citizens Conference on State Legislatures. The main recommendations are as follows:

1) Reduce the number of committees in the House. Ideally, there should be from 10 to 15 committees in each House, parallel in jurisdiction. This would reduce the general complexity of the Legislature and would permit reducing the number of committee assignments per member.

At present there are 32 committees in the House and 15 in the Senate. The House should reduce the number of its committees to 15, as in the Senate, making them parallel in jurisdiction.

2) Adopt deadlines. There should be deadlines governing the flow of legislation between the two houses of the Legislature—deadlines for introducing bills, reporting bills out of committee, passing bills in the House of Origin, etc.

In the past, the Michigan Legislature has adopted joint rules, including such deadlines. During the past two years, however, the joint rules adopted contained no such deadlines, and that's been the main reason for the sluggish action of the Legislature so far in 1971. It's important that, next year and every year thereafter, such deadlines be adopted on the first day of the session or during the first week of the session at the very latest.

3) Record and publish proceedings of committees. Record and publish the record of committee hearings, proceedings, and votes. At present, only the roll calls are published from committee proceedings.

4) Strengthen minority party role. Internal accountability as well as the capacity of all legislators to represent their constituents effectively depends upon the opportunity of minority party members to have an effective part in internal legislative affairs.

Minority representation on committees, especially the potent appropriations committees, should approximate the proportion of minority representation in each House. Minority party members on committees should be appointed by the minority leader in each House. Although this has been done in the Senate, the requirement should be incorporated in the rules of both Houses.

5) Establish Washington, D.C., office for the Legislature. With the large and growing volume of activity generated by state-federal relationships, the Legislature, beyond merely reacting to federal legislation, should be in a position to influence the development of new programs in accordance with the interest of the state.

To do so, the Legislature should have an office in the nation's capitol to represent it and to be its most direct liaison with the Congress.

6) Require interim committees to file formal reports. Interim committees should be required to render formal reports concerning the topics they were charged with responsibility for investigating. Reports should cover the committees' recommendations, including drafts of proposed legislation where appropriate.

Although the rules in Michigan's Legislature presently require interim committee reports, too often practice fails to conform. This requirement should be enforced and committees which fail to file reports should not be provided budgets for further investigations.

7) Electric roll-call record. An electric roll-call recorder should be installed in the Senate, as in the House.

In closing, let me say that only to the extent that the citizens of Michigan urge the adoption of these reforms and others can new life be breathed into our state Legislature—and into the entire federal system of governments well.

We do, after all, get the kind of government we deserve. If the Michigan Legislature is in sorry shape, it's because the people of Michigan have simply sat back and let it get that way. The further reform of the Michigan Legislature is not simply a job for me or other legislators.

It is primarily a job for you and all the other people in the state.
