

Aerial view of the controversial Watertown Township sanitary landfill project (within dotted lines) that will begin operation Sept. 15. Located between Interstate 96 and Grand River Avenue, one-quarter mile west of the interchange, the landfill is owned by Vector Construction Company of Clinton County. In lower left corner are two homeowners, but main source of opposition has been voiced from residents to the north (left top area). The site will be turned into a golf course when the landfill is completed, according to public officials.

Watertown landfill

Citizens to give up fight?

The fighting might be through in southern Clinton County. It appears that the new Watertown sanitary landfill will begin operation Sept. 15, on schedule, without a bitter court struggle between Vector Construction Company and Watertown residents.

The landfill site will be in operation for up to seven years before the land is reclaimed as a recreational area. The company's plans call for the construction of a nine-hole golf course once their seven-year special permit expires.

Bruce Love, of Vector Construction Company, had told the Clinton County Board of Commissioners in August that the project could be completed in five years, speeding up the golf course construction plans.

Watertown residents have been protesting the landfill project since May when township trustees voted to squelch the plan.

However, the Clinton County zoning administrator William Coffey approved the area for landfill purposes and was supported by the county planning commission.

The landfill became a county-wide issue when representatives from the construction company and area residents met head-on during a county board of commissioners meeting June 15.

Coffey presented the plans for the 80-acre tract along Grand River near the Interstate 96 interchange. The first step was to change the zoning from residential to agricultural and to secure a special use permit for a seven-year period.

After Coffey's explanation, the opposing sides bombarded the commissioners with pleas and counter-charges.

Representatives from the Watertown area told commissioners that the project would be too far south to benefit Clinton County, but would be an asset to the metropolitan Lansing area.

Richard Wells, a St. Johns attorney who represented the citizens called the landfill a "dump." "This dump will greatly impede the value of the property and homes in that area," he said. "You are asked to go against the decisions of both the Watertown Township board of trustees and the Watertown Township planning board and the people in the area," Wells told the board.

He said that tax base would suffer since "people just won't be building homes in the area." Wells said that there were no provisions for traffic control in the landfill area, and that the tract in question would be visible from Interstate 96.

Louis Smith, an attorney representing the construction company, told commissioners at the time that there were sanitary landfill laws in effect to govern this type of operation. When the final arguments were completed the board voted 8-3 to overrule Coffey and the planning commission and refuse to issue the permit.

The decision was challenged at the Aug. 5 commissioners meeting when Love spoke to the board assuring them that all of Clinton County could be included in the project.

He said that his firm had posted a $40,000 bond to assure completion of the work.

Representatives from the Watertown area again sat in on the meeting protesting the reopening of discussion on the landfill plan.

This time three commissioners, Claude Underhill, Rex Sirrine, and Gerald L. Lankford, switched their "no" votes to "yes," and swayed the vote 6-5 to approve the project.

During the Aug. 26 commissioners meeting, citizens and officials from the landfill area arrived to protest the switching of votes by the three commissioners.

No formal action, outside of hearing the complaints, was taken.

Bike day Sept. 19

Bicycle safety instruction, check points highlight week

A comprehensive bicycle safety program is underway in St. Johns, backed by a local civic group, police department and the school system.

A bicycle safety check program will be held Sept. 19 at four St. Johns locations, in an effort to teach young bike riders road safety rules and maintenance of a safe machine.

Mrs. Paul Maples, spokeswoman for the civic group People Who Care, said Thursday that each bicycle will be individually checked and those passing will be issued a certificate stating the bicycle is in safe riding condition.

The four city locations for the safety check are Swegles Street School, East Ward School, Perrin Palmer School and the St. Johns Park swimming pool parking lot.

In addition, Rev. Hugh Banninga of the St. Johns Episcopal Church and city police Sgt. Lyle French will travel to each elementary school talking with students about bicycle safety.

French will explain the rules and laws of safe bicycling. Each student will receive a bike care pamphlet, rules of riding, and a decal for the bicycle.

The week of Sept. 13 has already been declared Bicycle Safety Week by St. Johns Mayor Robert H. Wood.

In proclaiming the special week, Wood said, "I earnestly call upon all residents of St. Johns to join in a vigorous and organized effort to promote greater safety for all bicycle riders in this city."

"I seek the cooperation of all owners of bicycles in having their vehicles inspected to assure proper operation of their wheels while in motion. I urge them to make the necessary adjustments upon discovering any defects in their equipment.

"I further urge police and school authorities to support this effort to make every street in the City of St. Johns as safe as humanly possible and thus add to the happiness and enjoyment of all members of the community.

"It is only through the alertness, vigilance, and interest of every citizen of St. Johns that Bicycle Safety Week can achieve its worthy end, and I therefore call upon every citizen to give their voluntary and wholehearted support to this collective effort."

Mrs. Maples said that the children will be taught 12 basic safety rules during the program. She said the rules were to observe all traffic regulations, keep far to the right, ride in a straight line, be alert, listen for traffic, give pedestrians the right of way, slow down at intersections, have and use a clear, loud horn or bell, never hitch rides on other vehicles, never carry other riders or packages that obstruct vision, keep the bike in good mechanical shape, and see and be seen.

Mrs. Maples indicated that if parents would explain some of these bicycle safety rules to their children many of the problems encountered by the 1,600 bicycles in the city could be eliminated.

She cited some city ordinances that prohibit the riding of bicycles on downtown streets and demand that all vehicles be registered with the police department and should be equipped with reflectors, lights and horn.

Violators could end up paying a $25 fine or 30 days in jail for disregarding the ordinances.

A former Clinton, Ia. (Clinton County) resident, McEleney, 24, joined the Clinton County News editorial staff last week as a general assignment reporter.

Before coming to St. Johns, he was the editor of the Jackson Citizen-Patriot youth page and a reporter for the Flint Journal.

McEleney attended high school at the Marmon Military Academy in Aurora, Ill., and was a journalism student at St. Thomas College at St. Paul, Minn., and the University of Iowa.

He plans to finish his degree work at Michigan State University.

McEleney will cover the St. Johns city and school governments, police, sports and civic affairs.

'For those who gave,' DAV flower sale theme

"Give a little for those who gave a lot."

These words will be the theme for the annual forget-me-not drive sponsored by the Clinton County Disabled American Veterans.

Volunteers will offer the tiny flowers for donations on the streets of St. Johns, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 11-12.

"The coil or bill you drop into the forget-me-not canister will be used to show our gratitude in a way that means something to disabled veterans right here in Clinton County," Carl G. Light, commander of the DAV, said last week.

He said contributions provide funds for rehabilitation work and service work among deserving disabled veterans in the county. All funds collected will be used for emergency work, he added. The DAV gives free assistance to all wartime disabled veterans through compensation, hospitalization, employment and other areas.

The forget-me-not has been the official flower of remembrance for the local group since it was organized in 1920.

Cycle-truck crash injures Perrinton man

A motorcycle-truck crash Friday afternoon resulted in injury to a Perrinton man along U.S. 27 near Kinley Road.

Injured in the accident was James Iler 35, operator of the motorcycle traveling south on the highway.

State Police at Ithaca indicated that Iler apparently locked his brakes and skidded across the median striking a pickup truck operated by William Ondrusek, 58, 2634 E. M 21, St. Johns.

The truck was stopped in the crossover waiting for traffic to clear, when the accident occurred.

Iler was admitted to Clinton Memorial Hospital and later transferred to a Lansing hospital although his condition was not revealed.

115th Year, No. 19 ST. JOHNS, MICHIGAN — WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1970 15 CENTS

Part of the debris littering the countryside, the aftermath of a spectacular car-truck collision on Meridian Road near Price Road in Ovid Township. This bumper is all but identifiable which was thrown more than 50 feet from the point of impact. Only visible identification on the license plate is "Lake State."

Ovid Labor Day crash injures three seriously

It was a quiet Labor Day weekend in Clinton County. The sun was shining and many families took the free day to drive in the country.

But the quiet was shattered Monday afternoon for a Clinton County man and an Ann Arbor couple.

None as yet have died, but all are hospitalized in serious condition the result of a head-on car-truck collision on Meridian Road, one-half mile north of Price Road.

Dozens of curious spectators lined the road watching ambulances and wreckers do their unenvying tasks, as Clinton County sheriff deputies tried to aid the injured and control the crowd.

Injured in the accident were George Bunce, 58, R-5 Shepardsville Road, St. Johns, George Hager, 67, 114 E. Davis St., Ann Arbor.

According to sheriff's deputies, Bunce was allegedly traveling at a high rate of speed when he saw an auto ahead on northbound Meridian Road making a left turn.

Deputies said Bunce locked his brakes in an effort to avoid a rear-end collision and skidded off the road, but swerved back into the path of a camper-truck operated by Hager. The crash splattered debris over a wide area of the roadway, leaving the camper on its side in the ditch.

All three victims were taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital where their condition was not made public, however sheriff's deputies believe their injuries serious.

Det. Sgt. Richard May, of the sheriff's department, said he is waiting to question Bunce, who has remained in a semi-conscious state since Monday afternoon.

No violations were cited pending further investigation.

In another crash near St. Johns Monday, Robert Hall, 25, 2110 Miller Road, Niles told deputies that a coat slipped off his motorcycle and became tangled in the spokes.

He said it caused him to lose control and run into a ditch along U.S. 27, one-half mile north of Kinley Road.

Injured in the accident was his wife Janet, 27 who was taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital and later transferred to a hospital in Niles. No violations were cited.

Bee's open house to show Astro-Vette

One of the sleekest designed "dream cars" in the nation will be on display Saturday during Bee's Chevrolet and Oldsmobile Inc. grand opening festivities. Featured attraction will be the Chevrolet Astrovette, a special experimental Corvette designed as an aerodynamic study car. Latest wind tunnel experiments inspired the configuration of the Astro Vette with its extremely clean lines and surface.

The low sloping nose is intended to enhance aerodynamic lift characteristics in the front of the vehicle. Its long flowing rear deck and flush, protuberance-free shape are designed to reduce form drag, the resistance created when the airstream separates from the body surface. Chevrolet officials indicate the pearlescent white and blue auto will provide useful information in yet another area of automotive design investigation.

Besides the Astro-Vette display, the grand opening celebration will feature dancing in the showroom from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. with music by the Musicmakers.

There will be a computer to provide car buying information and free cokes and refreshments for guests in the lunchroom.

In an interview Sunday, Bernard Feldpausch, owner of Bee's, explained the unique design and operation of the auto complex on U.S. 27 at Townsend Road.

"In 1964, Bee's looked for expansion and bought and financed 80 acres after the location was approved by Chevrolet," he said.

He said that about 20 acres were annexed to the City of St. Johns.

Feldpausch said that he had held a meeting with his managers and employees to hear their ideas on the plans for a new building.

He said they sat down and planned the building on three pieces of cardboard, and it was then that the new building was on its way.

After three years of planning, the actual building job was given to Fedewa Builders and Belhen Manufacturing Co.

He said that after workers had three-quarters of the building completed, the money ran out. He said that it took some time to get refinanced and back on the construction work.

The new complex will house a car wash, diagnostic and dynamometer center, body shop and salesrooms.

He said that each salesman has a sound-proof air conditioned office for privacy and comfort.

The elevated showroom can feature eight automobiles, Feldpausch added.

The parts department is centrally located with double deck construction when completed. There will be room for drive-through shipping and receiving for the IBM controlled inventory.

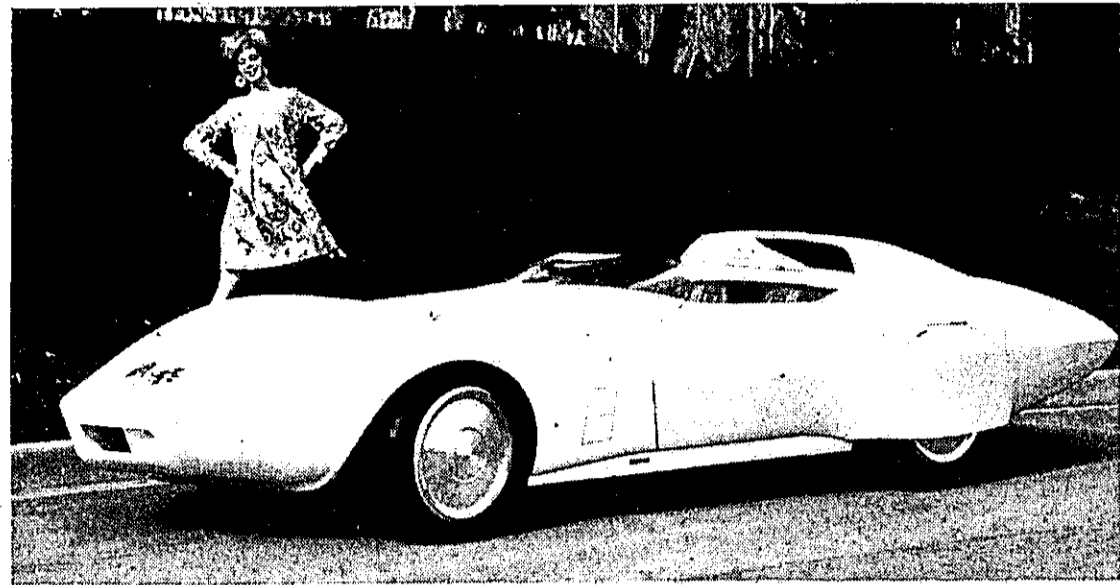

The offices are on the lower level, with air conditioning, modern control communicators and a background music-paging system. This complex also houses the computer data.

The service department features the drive through concept, he said, with dynamic balance and modern analyzing equipment, pressure parts cleaner and sanitizer, pressurized heating, and each lane has an outside drive through hoist.

The complex covers 50,000 square feet, on 10 acres with parking for 800 cars. He added that there are 50 doors in the building, and it can house 70 cars.

Clinton County Zoning Administrator William Coffey, left, and Bruce Love, of Vector Construction Company discuss the operational plans for the sanitary landfill site in Watertown Township. Coffey has been under fire by several county commissioners and Watertown residents after originally approving the landfill operation. The county board reversed itself on Aug. 3 and voted to approve the site, and has since been besieged by angry residents.

Chevrolet's Astrovette

Landfill

In an interview Thursday, Coffey told the News that the project will be a "credit and a service" to the area.

He said the land reclamation by the use of a landfill would take a detriment away from the township.

He pointed out that Vector Construction Company had operated a similar service at Airport Road and old U.S. 16 (Grand River) for industrial uses.

"I've worked closely with them to see the thing laid out," Coffey said. "I have received full co-operation."

He said that the company had to clear seven separate governmental agencies including a geological survey test, health authorities from the state and tri-county area, county zoning and planning and board of commissioners.

Love, in the same interview, said that his firm was already past the local agencies and into the county planning level before the township had a planning board.

He noted that he had the approval of the county drain commission and the state board of economic expansion.

"We've spent two-and one-half years of research on people, refuse and costs," Love said. "The property, equipment, fencing and the rest of the work cost about $250,000."

Plans call for a green belt and tree line between the site and Grand River Avenue. A paved boulevard entrance will present the appearance of a parkway, Love said.

The green-belt idea is part of the long-range golf course plan, and work will begin in the fall on planting and landscaping.

Thus far, no petitions have been issued to the courts for a decision on a possible injunction. Some petitions were circulated earlier, but no public knowledge of their use has been disclosed.

Further anger arose last week when rumors spread through Watertown Township that the two present small dumping sites used by area residents would be closed due to unsanitary conditions by the Mid-Michigan Health Department.

Clinton County sanitarian Darwin Root, told the News that he has not closed down the other sites as yet.

"If we get a good operating landfill, then the others would not have to be utilized," he said.

He was referring to two sites in Watertown and Eagle Townships.

The sites do not meet the landfill act on sanitation, he said, and it might be necessary to close them later.

Root had told commissioners at an earlier meeting that there was not one single landfill in Clinton County that was up to specifications, and that he could legally close all of them immediately.

He said that he had to allow them to operate for the time being since there were no immediate alternatives to the problem.

He also noted that about 70-80 per cent of all Clinton County rubbish is hauled to landfill sites outside the county.

VA increases benefits

Clinton County disabled veterans will receive extra benefits this month as part of a bill signed by President Richard M. Nixon increasing monthly payments, according to the Veterans Administration Friday.

Robert M. Fitzgerald, director of the Detroit regional office, stressed that since the increased payments are automatic, veterans need not contact the administration's office to receive them.

He said veterans will receive their regular monthly checks for August on September 1, computed at the old rate. Later, in early September, most veterans will receive another check which will reflect the retroactive increases for July and August. The following month regular checks will include the increases.

He said the 12 per cent increase goes to totally disabled veterans, including those who also receive additional compensation for such disabilities as deafness, blindness, and the loss of—or loss of use of—arms and feet.

Under the new rates, compensation to veterans with a 100 per cent disability rating will be raised from $400 to $450 a month.

Those with a 90 per cent rating will be increased from $226 to $250 a month; 80 per cent disability, $201 to $223; 70 per cent, $174 to $193; 60 per cent, $147 to $163; and 50 per cent, $122 to $135. (The additional allowances for dependents of veterans rated 50 per cent or more, also are being increased.)

Other increases are as follows: 40 per cent, $89 to $96; 30 per cent, $65 to $70; 20 per cent, $43 to $46; and 10 per cent, $23 to $25 a month.

Today is the age of progress—move along with the times or get motioned off the track.

Military wives hold potluck

Benefits and procedures involved in the use of military ID cards for military benefits plus a question and answer period will highlight a meeting Sept. 11 of the mid-Michigan Red Cross Chapter for wives and fiancées of servicemen.

The meeting, starting at 6 p.m. at the chapter center, 1800 E. Grand River, Lansing, will feature a representative of the civilian Health and Medical Program for Uniformed Services (CHAMPUS) of Detroit and Lt. Robert Seeley, senior Army advisor in Lansing.

All wives of any member of the armed services are urged to attend, according to Greta deWolf of the chapter.

Preceding the discussion, a potluck supper will be held at 5:30 p.m. and a babysitter will be available.

She said that anyone in need of transportation may call the American Red Cross at 484-7461.

Servicemen's Wives Club sponsored by the American Red Cross holds regular meetings every second Friday of the month. Wives or fiancées of servicemen from any branch are welcome, she said.

4-H day ends on tragic note for Ricky Fink

The thrill of victory was spoiled by tragedy for a Fowler boy during the awards ceremonies at the 4-H Youth Exploration Days when he learned that his father and brother had been killed in an auto crash.

Ricky Fink, 12, won a blue ribbon and an entomology book for his top-rated demonstration in insect identification exhibited Aug. 25-28 on the MSU campus.

While the show was in progress Ricky's father, Richard C., 31, and brother Scott, 5, died when their car was struck by another auto on Grange Road near M 21 west of Fowler.

The family was returning from a softball game when the accident occurred. Ricky's mother and another brother were seriously injured in the crash and remain hospitalized in a Lansing hospital.

Other Clinton County youths displayed top-notch exhibits.

Harry L. Moldenhauer, 14, R-6, St. Johns, rated first place in the area of entomology. He will receive an educational trip to Petoskey.

Kathy Louise Davis, 18, 4480 W. Cutler Road, DeWitt ranked first with her demonstration in arts and crafts. She will receive an educational trip to Chicago.

Gary Steve VanVleet, 14, 1754 W. Price Road, St. Johns gave the top exhibit in photography and will receive an educational trip to Petoskey.

The contests were among a variety of educational and recreational activities for young persons drawing on the facilities and resources of MSU.

Ricky Fink receives 4-H award.

St. Johns little leaguers to attend world's champ Charlotte rodeo

St. Johns little leaguers will be treated Friday night to a World's Championship Rodeo at the Fairgrounds near Charlotte, sponsored by Oldsmobile's Outdoor Club. They received free complimentary tickets Thursday when they gathered at the little league field for official invitations. The second annual event, set for Sept. 11-13, will feature 85 professional cowboys who will compete in bareback bronc riding, calf roping, saddle bronc riding, steer wrestling and Brahma bull riding. In addition, fifteen Western girls will compete in a barrel race during each rodeo performance. Points won by male contestants during the Olds Outdoor Club rodeo will count toward the world's championship rankings maintained by the Rodeo Cowboys association. At the end of the year, the cowboy with the most points is proclaimed the world's champion all-around cowboy. Performances will begin at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday evenings with a 2 p.m. show on Sunday. Reigning champ is Larry Mahan, of Oregon who picked up $57,000 in prize money. According to Oldsmobile officials, there is a possibility that Mahan will compete in the Charlotte rodeo along with national challengers Bob Berger, of Kansas and Ace Berry of California. Officials indicated that they hope to see more than 9,000 spectators attend the three day event.

Yes, Mrs. Homemaker, you can freeze eggs

By HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

If you want to buy a quantity of eggs when the price is right but there is no room in your refrigerator - freezing can solve your problem.

Freezing is a convenience. Follow directions carefully and this convenience can be yours. First, remove the eggs from the shell. This is necessary because the water in the egg will expand and burst the shell when freezing takes place.

Check the eggs carefully to be sure they are all high-grade eggs. Don't combine low grade with high grade. That lowers the quality of the whole batch.

Egg whites can be frozen just as they are. They thaw nicely. The yolks don't behave so well they become gummy and lumpy after thawing and won't blend well with other ingredients unless you add a stabilizer.

Common sugar or salt makes a practical stabilizer. To prevent the gumming and lumping add one teaspoon of salt to every two cups of yolks that you will use later in things like noodles and salad dressing.

If you plan to use the eggs in baked goods, add a tablespoon of sugar, corn syrup or honey to every two cups of egg yolks. When you add the salt or sweet ingredient mix it into the yolks thoroughly, but don't beat in air. (Mix, don't beat.)

If you want to freeze yolks and whites together, you'll still need a stabilizer. The amounts needed for two cups of eggs will remain the same - one tablespoon of sugar, corn syrup or honey or one teaspoon salt. Mix the eggs to just break the yolks - mix, don't beat.

When you're freezing eggs, be extra careful about cleanliness, but work fast. Freeze in amounts that you think you'll need for foods which you prepare most often. Use moisture and vapor-proof containers. You could use paper cups - place them in muffin tins for support until the eggs are frozen. Then you can remove cups from the tins and pack in larger storage containers.

You can leave the eggs frozen eight to ten months.

When you thaw them, use them quickly. If a recipe calls for one egg yolk, use one tablespoon of thawed yolk. But you'll need to use two tablespoons of white for each egg white called for in the recipe. One cup of thawed whole eggs is equal to about five fresh eggs.

Use frozen eggs just as you would fresh eggs. Just keep in mind the salt or sweetening you've added.

SP/4 RICHARD E. PRICE

Sp/4 Richard E. Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Price of 505 South Clinton Avenue, St. Johns was recently awarded the Bronze Star Medal with "V" device.

Price distinguished himself by heroism in connection with ground operations against a hostile force on April 15 while serving as a radio-telephone operator in Vietnam. His element was suddenly engaged by an enemy force and in the initial moments of contact several men were wounded. Price maneuvered to the side of two wounded men to give them first aid, and at the same time, he also helped another wounded man. Then, with complete disregard for his personal safety, he maneuvered towards one of the enemy positions and effectively eliminated it with a hand grenade. Afterwards, he returned to his radio-telephone to adjust effective artillery fire onto the enemy.

His address is Sp/4 Richard E. Price, 363-56-5371, C Btry, 2/4 Arty, 3rd Bde 9th Inf, Div, APO San Francisco, Calif. 96371.

Public invited

St. Johns Olympic pool to splash open Monday

Indoor swimming for the general public will be available for the second time during the next nine months at St. Johns High School, according to Wayne Morrison, swimming director and physical education instructor.

"A lot of people didn't know about the pool being open last year," said Morrison. "The swimming is open to the public provided those under four feet six inches tall are accompanied by an adult."

Monday is the opening date for the pool facilities. Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays are the days for public swimming throughout the school year.

Monday nights will be designated as group swim nights when the pool will be rented to groups at a cost of 25 cents for people living within the St. Johns School District and 35 cents per person for those living outside the district.

Pool hours on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays will be from 6:30 p.m. to 9:45 p.m. In order to alleviate overcrowding of the pool on Mondays, two separate swimming periods have been set up. They are 6:30 to 8 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. to 9:45 p.m.

Tuesdays and Thursdays will be open swim nights for students, adults and entire families. Admission prices for both of the open swim nights will be 25 cents for students, 50 cents for adults and a $1 charge for families. Swimming lessons will be given on Saturdays beginning at 9 a.m. with beginner lessons.

Beginner lessons will run from 9 to 9:40 a.m., advanced beginner lessons from 9:45 a.m. to 10:25 a.m., intermediate lessons from 10:30 a.m. to 11:10 a.m. and swimmer lessons from 11:15 a.m. to 12 noon.

Lessons will cost $4 per person for an eight-week period and there will be four periods during the school year. These will begin on Sept. 19, Nov. 14, Jan. 30 and March 27. Interested persons may call 224-2394, ext. 222 to sign up for the swimming lessons or to rent the pool on a Monday night.

There will be a full staff of lifeguards and a pool director every night including rent night on Mondays, according to Morrison. Morrison also said there will be masks and snorkels available for children in addition to balls that may be used to play water basketball.

The pool itself is an olympic size pool measuring 75 feet long, 46 feet wide, 11 feet 6 inches deep at the deep end and 3 feet 6 inches deep at the shallow end. The shallow area will be divided off from the deep end of the pool.

There is a stereo record player available for music to be played and a balcony for parents and other spectators to watch the swimmers during the public swimming hours.

Girl Scout NEWS

Area girls attending camp this summer at Camp Deer Trails were: St. Johns-Tracy Chalmers, Janie Hinton, Constance Cornell, Lorraine Goff, Madelyn Staples, and Mary Hinton.

DeWitt-Karen Cornell, Nancy Welsh, Paula Rice, Elizabeth Willard, Andrea Malenfant, Dawn Prowly, Sabrina Butler, Kim Butler, Sharon Anger, Diane Anger, Debra DeLine, Patty Costello and Nancy Jensen.

Bath-Cindy Ricks, Laingsburg-Carrie Curtis, Cathy Curtis and Karen Curtis.

A bit of Ireland was included in the Michigan Capital Girl Scout camping program at Deer Trails this summer in the person of Gillian Pitcher, a counselor from a small village outside Belfast on the coast of Northern Ireland.

Nicknamed "Eeyore", a name derived from the Christopher Robin stories, Miss Pitcher served as a general counselor and unit leader on the Deer Trails staff and taught campcraft skills and archery. "Eeyore" is an experienced camper, having been a Girl Guide since Brownie age and troop Guider (leader) for three years in Northern Ireland.

Camping at Deer Trails is more "civilized" than what she is used to, she says. In Northern Ireland Girl Guides always sleep on the ground and do all their cooking over open fires. Camping is done only by troops, and a resident camp, such as Deer Trails, where girls may register as individual Scouts, is new to her. Local Scouts have assured her that Michigan Girl Scouts can and do camp as troops with fewer conveniences as well.

Gillian was born in London, but moved with her family to the Belfast area when she was eight years old. Last year she received her Pass Degree (Bachelor of Science) from Queen's University in Belfast, where she majored in chemistry. She will return to Queen's again this fall to work on her Honors Degree (Master's) in chemistry. She hopes to go into food and drug research, preferably in a job involving travel.

This was Miss Pitcher's first trip to the United States. Her hobbies include mountaineering, so she was well qualified to take a group of Deer Trails campers on a five-day back-packing trip along a hiking trail in northern Michigan recently.

She applied for a camp position in this country through an organization that matches applicants with camps in the U.S. seeking foreign counselors. She came to America in a chartered plane with other camp counselors from Great Britain and will be returned home at the end of August. During her two free weeks following the close of Camp Deer Trails she visited friends near Detroit and toured parts of Michigan.

Asked if she saw any differences between Irish girls and American girls she replied, "Kids are kids, aren't they, no matter where you go?" She admits she finds Americans different than she thought they were before she came, and enjoyed her counseling so much this summer she hopes to be able to return next year.

Tri-County mental health center plans week-long public inspection

A new $4 million, 122 room mental health center serving Clinton County residents, will be opened for a one-week public inspection before formal dedication ceremonies next week in Lansing.

The 61 bed tri-county facility, called the St. Lawrence Community Mental Health Center, will guide visitors on a special tour through the four story complex and arrange special meetings with the center personnel.

The tour of the clinic, located at 1201 W. Oakland, Lansing, will be held Sept. 12-13 from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and Sept. 14-17 from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

The new health center is one of the first three in Michigan under a federal program for community mental health centers designed to provide complete services for those needing them closer to their homes and communities.

The announcement of the clinic open house came from Sr. Mary Janice Belen, hospital administrator at St. Lawrence and Dr. W. Donald Weston, medical director.

They indicated that this will be the only time the public could visit the facility on an inspection basis before patients are admitted.

They said the purpose of the new facility is to provide the five main clinic services of inpatient care, partial hospitalization, outpatient care, 24-hour emergency service and education and consultation services.

The clinic offers continuity of care, places the emphasis on health rather than illness and allows for individuals to seek help earlier with problems, they said.

It is the only comprehensive mental health center in the state affiliated with a medical school—the Michigan State University College of Human Medicine.

The center will replace the fifth floor psychiatric unit at St. Lawrence hospital and many activities now in Meroy Hall, behind the hospital complex, will be transferred to the new building.

Under federal legislation passed in the early 1960's, communities could apply for aid for construction and staffing of centers.

The Ingham County Mental Health Board, which later became the Community Mental Health Board on a tri-county level for Clinton, Eaton and Ingham counties, worked with St. Lawrence Hospital to develop a full range of services.

The center and one other located at the Ingham Medical Hospital began by merging the Lansing Mental Health Center, the Lansing Child Guidance Clinic, St. Lawrence's Psychiatric Unit and the Lansing Consultation Center.

An outpatient branch of the center, the Clinton County Mental Health Center is located at 300 E. Sturgis St., St. Johns.

This facility, serving the entire Clinton area, will have an open house on Oct. 4 from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Further details will be announced at a later date, officials said.

It's going to be some season for Michigan duck hunters this year with 55 days on the schedule (Oct. 7 - Nov. 30) and a basic limit of six per day and 12 in possession, according to the Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

Mallard limits of two per day, four in possession, will double last year's quotas.

In addition, two blue-winged teal may be taken from Oct. 7 through Oct. 15; two scaup from Nov. 1 through Nov. 30.

The state DNR indicated that goose hunting regulations will remain unchanged with the U.P. season from Oct. 1 - Nov. 30 and Oct. 7 - Nov. 30 in the Lower Peninsula. Bag limits here are five per day and five in possession.

The DNR reported that over 2.7 million brook, brown, rainbow, splake and lake trout are being released into 290 lakes and 80 streams. The figure is about 500,000 more than one-year ago.

The department added that the releases are being made in southern as well as northern Michigan waters.

There will be no changes in the general rules for fishing in the state next year. This was decided at the August meeting of the DNR commission.

CHEVROLET'S NEW LITTLE CAR OPENS ITS DOORS THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 10.

And it's got a lot of doors to open, too. Because our new little car, the Vega, is actually three little cars. A coupe, a sedan, and a wagon.
 Plus there's a fourth Vega: a little panel truck. We'll open our doors for Vega business on September 10. We invite you to come in and see why we call this the little car that does everything well.
 And while you're here, pick up a Vega catalog. It's good reading.
 Then talk to our salesmen. It's good conversation.
 Bring a friend.

VEGA. IT DOES EVERYTHING WELL.

SO DO WE.

I read a pamphlet recently that said something about girls contacting a Social Security Office when they marry. Why is this necessary? Answer: If a girl plans to work after marriage, her employer will be using her new name on his wage reports to social security. She must change her name with the Social Security Administration so that they can credit these wages to her earnings record.

I heard that it is possible to conduct much business with the Social Security Office by telephone. Will you tell me how I can save a trip to the office? Answer: Those planning to claim social security benefits can speed-up the process by telephoning the office several months before filing a claim. A telephone call will help the claimant in gathering required proofs so that he can obtain his benefits soon after he retires. The office can provide information about sources where necessary documents may be obtained.

Also, when the individual is ready to claim benefits he can file the claim over the telephone and it will be sent to him for his signature and the proofs which will be required.

Question from News reader is answered

My husband is retiring soon. I have worked over 20 years but will not be eligible for Social Security for six more years. If I quit work when he does, will I lose what I have contributed? Will the amount I draw be cut because of the last 10 years? Can I freeze the amount until I'm 65 so I can draw more?

ANSWER: When a wife, who has worked under social security, becomes eligible for benefits, we have her file for benefits based on her own work and on her husband's account. Social Security then determines which of the two is greater and pays that amount. If her benefit based on her own work amounted to $100.00 per month, but her benefit as a wife (approximately 1/2 of her husband's benefit) were only $65.00, Social Security would pay the greater or $100 per month.

Your own benefit could be increased if you continue to work and your earnings are higher than those of 15 or 20 years ago. Your benefit is determined by the amount of earnings over a period of time, the higher your earnings the higher your benefit can be.

A freeze on wages can only be accomplished if the worker becomes unable to work because of a disabling condition and files an application for a freeze on wages.

My husband is retiring soon. I have worked over 20 years but will not be eligible for Social Security for six more years. If I quit work when he does, will I lose what I have contributed? Wow, what a week. If it hadn't been for Dick Coletta we'd be all trussed up in a straight jacket sitting in a rubber room. Dick, who will be a junior at Michigan State this fall, has spent the summer with us working on the News' Progress Edition. But when rep Carla Vincent decided to have her appendix removed Dick stepped in and did an excellent job. If he were 21 we'd buy him a beer.

Clinton National's balloons came home and a total of $110.00 in gift certificate and cash rewards were issued to the senders and finders of the furthest flying balloons. Theresa Butler of St. Johns and Greg Hazle of St. Johns were awarded first and second prizes for their balloons long flight. Mike Smith, St. Johns; Betty Leland, Ovid; Shane Shepard, Ashley; Roger Hansen and Steven Smith, St. Johns also received awards.

Bee's Chevrolet and Oldsmobile are having an Open House at their modern new home on south U.S. 27 Saturday, Sept. 12. For their ad a picture of the new building was needed but because of its size the only way to get a picture was by airplane. Jim O'Conner of O'Connors Dairy Equipment took us up Tuesday afternoon and we tried our hand at aerial photography. We weren't scared but of all the pictures we took the only one to turn out was a close-up of our nose. So Friday Jim took our photographer, Ed Cheney for a second and successful try. Ed's pictures of Bee's are much, much better than ours, but golly we've got a goodlooking nose.

Chevrolet's entry into the "Small Car" field happens Thursday when the Vega will be introduced.

The Big M is at it again. She's trying her best to poison us. We hit the scales at 195 at the St. Johns Co-op the other day. When we announced this at home she smiled knowingly and since then hasn't prepared an edible meal. She claims she's just trying to help us reduce but even our boys have taken to eating at the neighbors.

CHURCH NEWS

The Congregational Christian Church in Eureka will pour concrete in the floor of its new Sunday School building on Saturday, Sept. 12. The men of the church have been working on Tuesday and Thursday nights all summer to complete this project. A concrete slab roof was installed on Saturday, Aug. 22. This roof required over 87 cubic yards of concrete and will become a foundation for the later addition of a new church auditorium.

This Saturday work will begin at 7 a.m. and there will be a potluck dinner for the entire Church family at 12 noon.

Today Mercury introduces a new and better small car. 1971 MERCURY COMET

1. Take the best small-car ideas.

Comet has them all. Easy parking and turning: the 2-door can turn in a circle only 35.6 feet in diameter! Low price: Mercury's lowest-priced car. Gas mileage: rivals imports. Simple servicing: a handy repair manual is available with dozens of do-it-yourself tips.

2. Add the styling and performance of a bigger car.

Notice the big-car grille with dramatic power-dome hood. Big-car luxury, too, with rich, wall-to-wall carpeting. And this all-new Comet gives you a lot of that big-car get up and go. The standard "6" has 100 horsepower. And you can get up to a 210 hp V-8.

3. Result: a better small car.

A choice of 6's or V-8.

This is one small car that offers you exactly the power you need or want. You have a choice of 3 thrifty "sixes" or a high-performance V-8. The standard engine is a 170 cubic inch "six" with 100 horsepower. One optional "six" is a 200 cubic inch engine with 115 horsepower. The second optional "six" is a 250 cubic inch power plant with 145 horsepower. Or you can get Comet's biggest engine option, a 302 cubic inch V-8 with 210 horsepower.

A choice of 2 doors or 4. Even a bucket-seat GT.

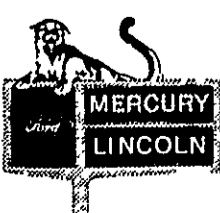

Comet offers you 3 ways to own a better small car: the 2-door sedan seats 4 adults, a slightly larger 4-door sedan seats 5 adults, or a GT with buckets, hood scoop, special GT striping, the works. Options include automatic transmission, power steering, even air conditioning.

1971 Mercury Comet (4-door sedan and GT models also available)

Mercury. Better ideas make better cars.

A better idea for safety: Buckle up.

PROPERTY AND MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE

Old DeWitt Republican: gold mine of Clinton history

"Ocean Depths—a Diver's Tale,"

The statement doesn't exactly cause chills to run up your back, does it?

But in 1856, before Jules Verne's fictitious inventions were proved feasible, this was news.

In fact, it was the lead story in a small newspaper called the DeWitt Republican.

On Wednesday, July 9, 1856 this tale of a deep-sea diver's hair-raising experiences in a completely uncharted and alien world, was widely read and circulated throughout Clinton County.

More than 114 years later,

DeWitt residents and last week's Ox Roast visitors had the same opportunity to read the watery tale. That July edition was preserved and displayed during the Memorial Building Art Show, Aug. 20-22.

Another topic that interested DeWitt readers was the first Republican national convention held in Philadelphia. Editor Seth P. Marvin deluged the columns with accounts of party issues and national problems that Republicans were to face.

He listed the main planks of the party platform as the opposition to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, opposition to the administration (Franklin Pierce), favored the admission of Kansas into the Union as a free state, and sought to restore the principles of government as held by Washington and Jefferson.

There were accounts of the "civil war" raging in Kansas as antislavery and proslavery forces sent their representatives into the territory.

The life of the Republican nominee for president, John C. Fremont, was recounted in graphic, if highly partisan, terms. The newspaper billed him in the headline as the "Pathfinder of the Rocky Mountains."

In DeWitt, then the county seat, the Fourth of July celebration in 1896 was the community event making news.

"The celebration of the Glorious Fourth in this village passed off in a manner highly pleasing to all concerned. The sun rose in the unclouded splendor, when the booming of cannon rode musically on the morning breeze and awakened in the minds of all many pleasing reminiscences of the past," the article noted.

"At the appointed hour a procession formed in front of the Clinton House, and headed by a military escort composed in part of the governor's guard of Lansing—proceeded to an adjacent grove and listened to the reading of the Declaration of Independence by J. H. Adams, Esq. of this village . . ."

The DeWitt Republican, of course, supported the Republican ticket of Fremont and William L. Dayton as vice-president, which was noted in an advertisement.

Apparently demonstrations and rioting are not new to our history.

The newspaper informed DeWitt readers about a "riot . . . at a Fillmore demonstration in Washington on the First."

During the fighting "Mayor Magnier and several of the police were attacked with stones and bludgeons. The mayor was badly injured. The mob followed him half a mile with cries of 'Kill him!'"

"The mob was finally dispersed and one or two arrests made."

Another local bit of nostalgia cropped up in reading the Republican, great-granddaddy of the Clinton County News.

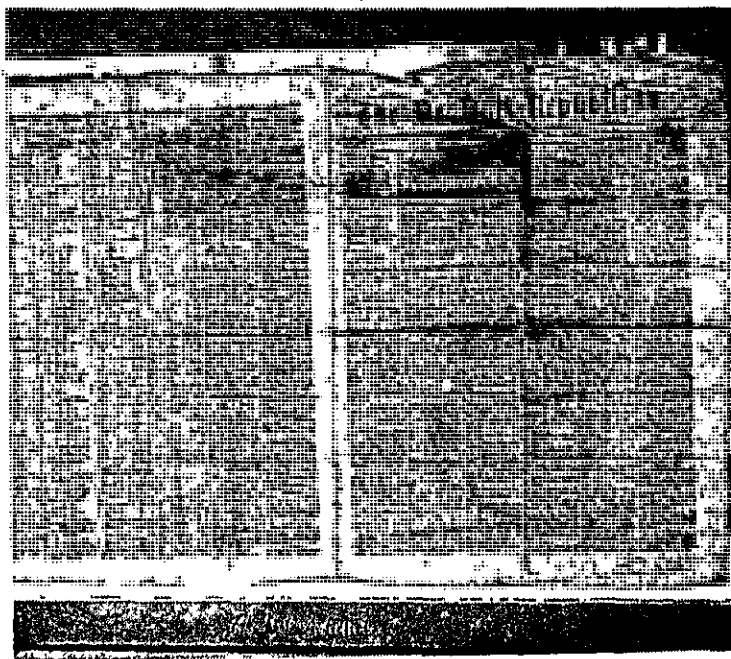

"We have two daily lines of stages running from Jackson via Lansing and the other running to Owosso, the present terminus of the Detroit and Milwaukee railroad, with which it connects."

The old newspaper, encased in glass and in good condition was found in the attic of an old building in DeWitt and turned over to the library for public observation.

Much of the memorabilia of that era was destroyed in 1931 when a fire swept the city leaving only one or two original structures unscathed.

Mrs. Faye Hanson, librarian at the DeWitt Public Library, invited any interested Clinton residents to stop in and view the newspaper display at the Memorial Building.

By MRS. ROBERT VALENTINE — Phone 862-4342

The Chippewa Chippers 4-H Club met recently at the Bannister school. Kathleen Moore conducted the business meeting. Roll call found 8 members present. Kay Shank won the attendance prize. The group played softball until dark when Mrs. Carole Hammond served refreshments. She invited the club to have their September meeting at her new home. It was also noted that the members orders have been sent to National 4-H Supply and should be ready to distribute soon.

The annual Crowell reunion was held Sunday at McCurdy park in Corunna. 53 persons were present for the potluck dinner. President Dick Crowell called the meeting to order and secretary Mrs. William Rando read the minutes. New officers elected were Roger Crowell, president; Bill Crowell, vice-president and Mrs. Timm Crowell, secretary-treasurer. The oldest member present was Dr. O. E. Geib with the youngest being Jodi Lynn Rando. It was decided to have the reunion next year at McCurdy Park the last of August.

Special music Sunday morning at the Bannister United Methodist Church was a solo by Mrs. John Schlarf with Mrs. Elmer Leydorf at the organ. Mrs. William Cox conducted Junior Church for 12 young people while Rev. Cox conducted the regular service. Joe Hinkley and Brian Valentine served as ushers.

Mint farming - - a St. Johns specialty

This square-stemmed mint plant, ready for harvest, soon will offer oil for candies and gum and the menthol extract is used in certain medicines. The process of making mint can be traced through these photos by News photographer Ed Cheeney on the Robert Woodhams mint farm, Scott Road, rural St. Johns.

In late July or early August, the mature mint plants are swept up by a "chopper" and sprayed into the large bin wagon. The process is little different from the harvesting of other crops.

Here farm workers Jack Woodhams and Carlos Iza help prepare the crop for steam processing by smoothing down the mint, making an even load, ready for the "pressure cooker."

Clinton County News

North Bengal

By Mrs. Wm. Ernst

Sunday, Aug. 30 dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Moritz and family were: Mrs. Edna Damon of St. Johns, Mrs. James Phinney and children of Tucson, Ariz. and Mr. and Mrs. Clare Moritz and Randy of rural Grand Ledge.

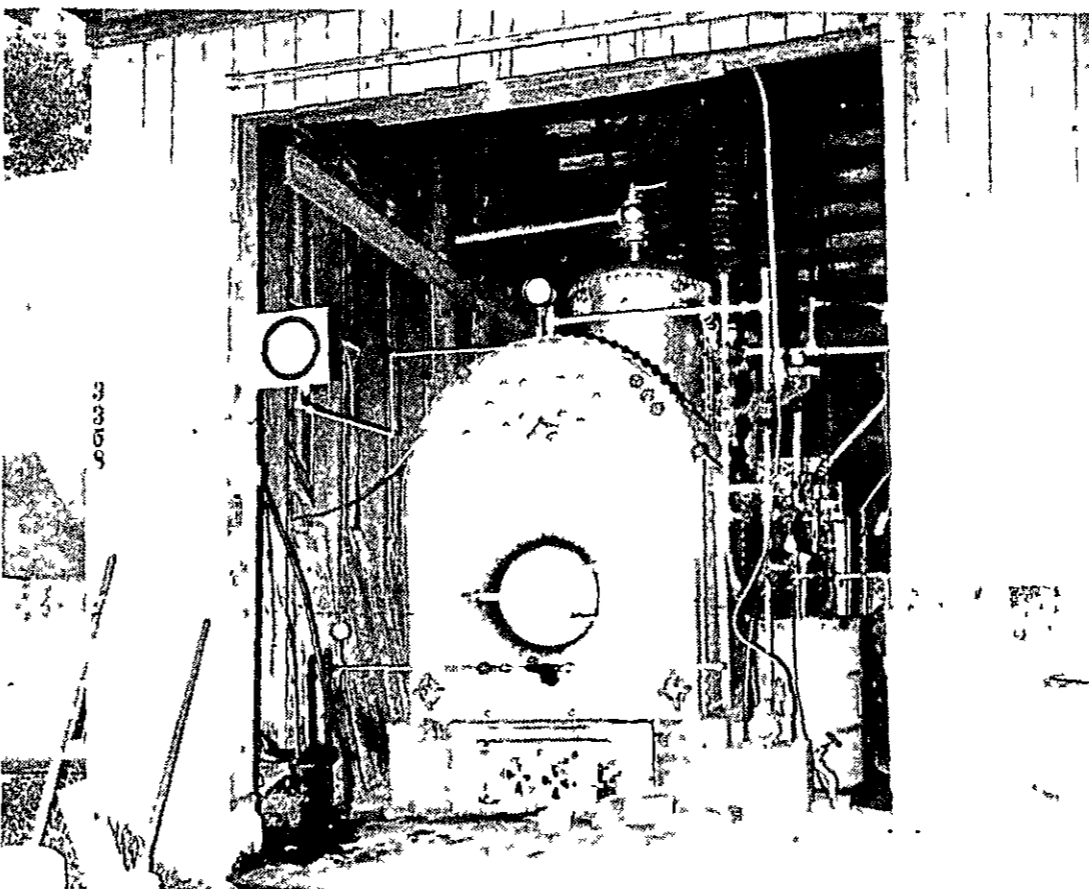

Mrs. Elva Lechner of Crystal and Mrs. Edna Watamaker were Tuesday, August 25 visitors of Mr. and Mrs. William Ernst and Maxine.

Kathy Moritz spent a couple days recently with her grandmother and aunt, Mrs. Edna Damon and Mrs. James Phinney and children of St. Johns.

Agnes Beardt and Peggy Lee Mowhat of Lakeview were Monday, August 31 dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Ernst.

Mrs. Edmund Falk visited her sister, Mrs. Arthur Martens and niece, Mrs. Melvin Argeringer and children of St. Johns on Thursday, Aug. 27.

Ann Moritz was a guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Moritz and Randy of rural Grand Ledge from Monday until Thursday, Aug. 24 to 27.

The boiler, a vital instrument in producing mint, will force about 80 pounds of steam through a pressurized bin containing the mint plants, vaporizing the mint oil in the leaves.

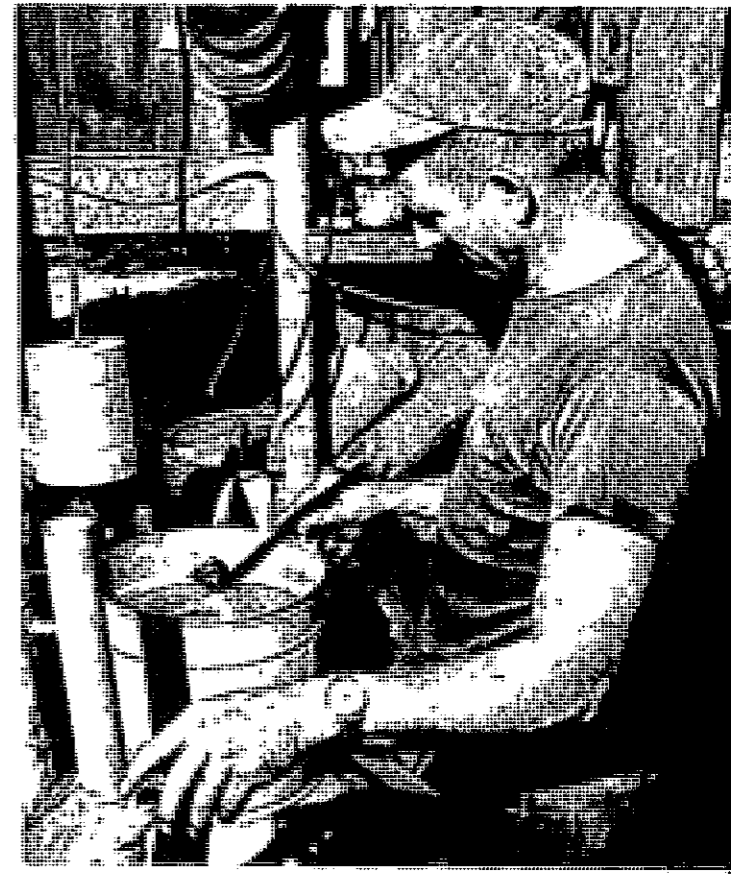

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rossow have been spending sometime with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Rossow and David and his grandmother, Mrs. Herman Rossow. They will both teach in Flint this school term.

Mrs. Louis Schmitt has been assisting in the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard VanElls and family. Mrs. VanElls, the former Rose Schmitt, is getting about on crutches after undergoing knee surgery at the Carson City Hospital recently.

Methodist men gather for weekend retreat

Methodist men and their sons from Clinton County will join representatives from other central Michigan districts Saturday for the 15th annual retreat at Lake Louise Sept. 12-13.

Guest speaker at the retreat will be Dr. Norman K. Elliott of St. Paul, Minn. discussing "A Study in Personal Living." Laymen from all parts of the district will take part in the program while special music will be given by a youth quartet. A special plaque will be awarded to the church having the most men and boys in attendance.

Condensed vapors are deposited in a separation unit which forces the oil to the top. The oil is then drained into waiting barrels, ready for shipment as demonstrated here by Richard Woodhams.

RESOLUTION

The City Commission, recognizing the plight and effect the phosphate content of sewage effluent has upon the lakes and streams of the State of Michigan, and the City being mindful of the actions taken by the State of Michigan Legislature, through its Department of Natural Resources and other departments, commissions and agencies, to cause municipalities treating such sewage, to remove a great portion of the phosphate content thereof; and,

The City Commission being informed from other independent sources that a large percentage of the phosphate content running through municipal sewage systems, emanates from the high phosphate content of many detergents and laundry products,

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, the City Commission hereby requests the Michigan State Legislature and particularly its legislators for this District, to investigate or cause an investigation to be made, into the phosphate content of such laundry detergents and the feasibility of regulating said phosphate content with an eye toward reducing the phosphate content finally emanating into the lakes and streams of the State of Michigan.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the City Clerk be directed to transmit this Resolution to the respective persons and governmental bodies.

Yeas: Commissioners Coletta, Rand, Hannah, Grost, Wood.

Nays: None

RESOLUTION DECLARED CARRIED THIS 9th DAY OF MARCH, A.D., 1970.

I hereby certify that the above resolution is an excerpt of the City Commission Meeting Minutes on March 9, 1970.

THOMAS L. HUNDLEY,
City Clerk.

The total cost of the project was $103,141.00. Engineer Consultants - $33,000. Contributed Services - $23,000. Tri-County Regional Planning Commission Services - $47,000. Mr. Wilcox also pointed out some mistakes in the report and discussion followed.

HUD is requesting the following:

1. A break-through on low-cost housing, with emphasis for low-income minority groups.
 2. Minority group representation on the Commission.
 3. Encourage minorities to secure proper training.
 4. Cooperation with the Lansing Model Cities program.
- Planning Commission member, Almond Cressman also commented on Tri-County Regional Planning Commission projects. He indicates there appears to be a reasonable basis for the confusion and dissension which seems to exist. He also spoke of the availability of Federal funds for a Regional Law Enforcement Program.
- The Board then recessed for lunch.

GOP candidates 'strong'

By REP. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

While the Legislature is scheduled to convene Tuesday, September 15, for what is expected to be a two-day session, the focus of most lawmakers in the next few weeks will be on campaigns for the November 3 general election.

As a result of two major party conventions in the last two weekends, the battle lines are drawn.

Profiting from a Democrat mistake of not tending the shop, Republicans at Detroit last weekend adopted a carefully-planned platform that permitted no such "guff" as the "amnesty-for-draft-dodgers" plank that ultra-liberals pushed through the Democratic convention the previous weekend when party leaders were busy elsewhere in Grand Rapids.

Without any real surprises, the Republicans now have a strong slate of candidates headed, of course, by Governor William G. Milliken and including three of his preferences for top jobs—Mrs. Lenore Romney for U.S. Senator; James H. Brickley of Detroit for Lieutenant Governor; and William Farr of Grand Rapids for Attorney General.

The Governor, who spoke strongly for all three, declined to take sides in the race for the Secretary of State nomination, which was narrowly won by State Senator Emil Lockwood of Elm Hall, whose present district embraces Clinton County and whose political acumen had much to do with the passage of many Romney-Milliken programs in the Legislature.

Lockwood narrowly edged out Rep. Weldon O. Yeager of Detroit in one of the tightest convention contests in years. The Clinton County GOP delegation supported Lockwood 6-3, incidentally.

Incumbent Justice John R. Dethmers and Circuit Judge Edward S. Piggins were nominated for the State Supreme Court without opposition.

The rest of the slate includes:

State Board of Education—Dr. R. Robert Geake, a Northville psychologist, and David Robinson of Inkster, admissions officer at the University of Michigan's Dearborn branch.

University of Michigan Board of Regents—Paul G. Goebel, Jr., a Grand Rapids insurance man, and Jack H. Shuler of Orchard Lake, a telephone company official and president of the University of Michigan Alumni Association.

Michigan State University Board of Trustees—David D. Diehl, a Dansville farm operator, and Richard Ernst, a Bloomfield Hills businessman.

Wayne State University Board of Governors—Raymond E. Hayes of Pontiac, an automobile company public relations executive, and Earl Kennedy, a Detroit tourist agency operator.

Headed by Mrs. Romney, who was chosen earlier in the August 4 Primary Election, and by former U.S. Attorney Brickley, the slate is heavily oriented toward the thickly populated southeastern section of lower Michigan.

Control of both houses of the Legislature will be extremely important to the people of Michigan.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return for the year ending 12/31, 1969, or other taxable year. U.S. Treasury Department—Internal Revenue Service. Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q I'm separated from my husband and have gone back to work. What do I do about my tax return this year?

A) If you are not legally separated, you have a choice of filing a joint return with your husband or filing a separate return for yourself. If you are separated under an interlocutory decree of divorce you may also file a joint return.

On a joint return, your income and expenses are combined with your husband's and the tax is figured on these totals. Although you and your husband may reach agreement for each of you to pay a part of the tax, legally you and your husband are each responsible for the whole amount. Should either of you not pay the share agreed upon, the other is liable for the full amount.

On a separate return report just your income and compute the tax on that. However, you must both handle your deductions the same way. If either itemizes, so must the other.

Details on preparing returns for 1970 will be available early in January. If you have any questions after reading the tax instructions contact your local IRS office. They will be glad to help you.

the return was filed. If you have moved since you filed also give your former address.

If it is more convenient, call your local IRS office about the refund.

Q I've been given a fellowship so I can complete work on my graduate degree. Do I have to pay tax on it?

A) Income from a fellowship is usually tax exempt. If you are a candidate for a degree there is no limit on the amount of income you can receive tax-free from a fellowship or scholarship grant.

However, if you teach or perform other services in connection with the award, the portion of the award that represents payment for this work is generally taxable. This rule does not apply if all candidates for the degree, whether they have a fellowship or not, are also required to perform these services.

The Rt. Rev. Bernard J. Sheil Catholic Bishop once said: "If a Non-Union worker in a partially organized industry is receiving a good income, it is quite probably because his Non-Union employer, in order to keep the Union out, meets, or nearly meets, the higher wage and hours standard of Union establishments. Clearly such Non-Union employees are eating the fruits of others' sacrifices. The workers in the Union shops perhaps risked their jobs to get their Union recognized, and pay monthly dues to keep it going. It is a categorical injustice for Non-Union employees, enjoying the common benefits, to refuse to carry their share of the common burden".

The policeman

It is horrible to consider the possibility that an organized program exists against law enforcement agencies across the country, but that belief is shared by a growing number of citizens and officials.

The steadily increasing incidents of indiscriminate slayings of policemen appear to be confined to the larger urban areas of the country but isolated cases have been reported from non-metropolitan areas.

If, as suggested, a conspiracy does exist, perhaps we as common citizens have unwittingly added to its development. It is only natural to resent, to some extent, the voice of authority, and unwittingly this resentment sometimes is expressed in a manner which suggests deeper feelings than what may exist.

Most of us at different times have commented negatively about the traffic cop and we've become irritated when stopped by a highway roadblock. Our temper is challenged when a policeman stops us for speeding even though we know well his action is justified.

These are minor incidents but they reflect an underlying asperity in most of us when dealing with law officers. Perhaps if we were to consider some of their encounters we might think a bit differently.

Take again the routine, day to day activities of the policeman. When conducting that roadblock he knows there is a potential danger with any approaching vehicle, but how many officers have lost their lives for performing the routine function of stopping a speeder? While officers are trained to be constantly alert, there is no way of telling what type of person sits behind the wheel of a halted vehicle.

We are discussing here only a minute segment of the law enforcement sphere but in most any area citizens look upon the badge as a nuisance and only in time of need do we appreciate its influence.

Now - today - more than any other time in our country's history, we are in a time of need. A time when we as private citizens need effective law enforcement supported by respect for those who must do the job.

There is one thought more horrible than that of a conspiracy - the possibility that past attitudes have left the foundation of law enforcement so weakened that the structure it supports will become like an abandoned house - rotted and of little use.

Call them pigs if we must, but regard them with the concern of the farmer who knows well the value of his investment.

Deep sadness

The community of Fowler has experienced deep sadness this year for in the short span of a few weeks four lives have been snuffed out by motor vehicle accidents.

In times of misfortune life provides us with some degree of acceptance when the whys and wherefores are sifted and understood, but the tragedy of loss of life can never be eased. No explanation can erase the gnawing pain that accompanies the void created by the loss of loved ones. No words or actions—only time itself—can make the days more bearable.

To the families and the Fowler community we join with others from across the county to express our sense of loss.

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark., LEADER: "We have only to look at the day's headlines to see signs of how disaffected much of our youth has become. But it seems worthwhile, even so, to ask ourselves whether or not we have made a hard, genuine attempt to involve them in real comprehension of the American system. We cannot lay all the blame on the youngsters. We need to kindle their interest, Responsible participation will follow."

TINLEY PARK, Ill., TIMES: "A sage remark printed in a local . . . bulletin arouses deep thought. It said: 'A child cannot read the Bible in school, but it can be read in prison.'"

A look into the past

Tri-County air authority planned, Community Chest drive underway, end to meat rationing announced

ONE YEAR AGO Sept. 10, 1969

A steering committee of supervisors from Clinton, Ingham and Eaton counties met and drafted in rough form a bill that would transfer Lansing's Capitol Airport to a Tri-county authority. Representing Clinton County was Roy Andrews of DeWitt, Robert Montgomery of Eagle and Maurice Gove of St. Johns.

A plea for sidewalk construction was issued by the St. Johns City Commission to all city residents. The request sprang from a discussion on sidewalks or the lack of the same in the area of Swegies school. This lack of sidewalks had caused the school children to walk home in the roadways.

St. Johns Mayor Robert Wood and the city commissioners commended residents for their response to the city's request for tax pre-payments. City records verified that 90 per cent of the taxpayers had paid based only on letters issued earlier in the summer.

Critical comments from officials and citizens of Bath Township over a survey conducted by the State Water Resources Commission were touched off when the Commission stated that both Bath and Park lakes were found not to be contaminating any state waters. The survey lasted 2 1/2 hours.

The go-ahead on contract proposals for the rental or rental purchase of a street sweeper for St. Johns was given to City Manager Harvey Weatherwax.

Chris Gentry, 16, a new resident of Clinton County, alerted local officials and news media of a line of severe thunderstorms and a possible tornado and gave the approximate time of arrival at between 3 and 4 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 6. Gentry plotted the speed and path of the severe storm and, in turn, notified local weather bureaus and radio and T.V. stations in the area.

TEN YEARS AGO Sept. 8, 1960

A goal of $33,500 was set up for the annual Clinton County Communities Chest Drive which was scheduled to open on Sept. 15. Roy Ormsby, R-5, St. Johns, was named chairman for the rural area of the county and John C. Cary, Jr., a local attorney, agreed to head the drive within the city of St. Johns. General Telephone cut into their new million-dollar telephone service and told local users that this new operation provides the best service in the country. Direct Long Distance service was one of the chief improvements to come into being with the opening of the new service. St. Johns city commissioners voted to ask for a pay increase that would boost the present $72 they receive annually to a maximum of $240. A proposal for the pay hike was scheduled for appearance on the Nov. 8 general election ballot. St. Johns' five commissioners were reported to be among the lowest paid municipal legislators in the state. . . . Clinton County 4-H club members walked off with numerous honors in statewide livestock competition at the annual 4-H State Show on the MSU campus in East Lansing. Leslie Warner of Bengal captured two grand championships in sheep classes. Other county entries also placed first in beef herdsman and the county's Ayrshire and Milking Shorthorn exhibitors were awarded first place herd in those breeds.

Ground was broken for St. Mary's Church in Westphalia. The new $700,000 church was needed to replace the former church that was lost in a fire on the previous date of April 20, 1959. . . . returned from a week of work and fun at the Interlochen National Music Camp. Band director Frank Jilka said that the session was highly successful and that the weather was most accommodating. Editorials: "No cussing. . . . Come hell or high water, there's at least one man in St. Johns who won't cuss. Neighbors to Rolan Sleight, 812 West Park St., St. Johns, found that out a couple of weeks ago.

"Rolan and his missus have suffered patiently all summer through a myriad of troubles growing out of city improvement projects in the area: "Why?" "Your neighbor speeded victory the day he sold you that bond. "He volunteered his services to the Treasury Department as did six million other men and women all over the land, so that the cost of selling war bonds turned out to be the cheapest underwriting ever conceived. . . . one-third of one per cent. "If you sell your bonds too soon, all of that good work will be undone. "Your government still needs your loan more than you need that money. A normal economy cannot be expected to spring up overnight. "Industry is not yet ready to sell you all the goods that you expect. . . . it may take two years instead of two weeks to deliver all the cars and radios and electric gadgets you're dreaming of. "It's good business, too, to hold onto your bonds. They grow into money every day. "Don't sell yourself and your country short now that the war is over."

25 YEARS AGO Sept. 13, 1945

It was announced that meat rationing would be ended on Oct. 1 so that the nation could soon eat their fill of steaks and chops. The announcement further stated that the rationing of shoes, nails and lumber would also be curtailed. Fats, oils and sugar continued to be rationed. Deaths caused by Tuberculosis were reported to be on a declining rate in Clinton County. The continuing downward trend was called "a major public health victory" by Dr. William DeKlein, state commissioner of health.

St. Johns High School football team had 63 boys report for practice under Coach Chalmer Young. Young's previous two years as grid mentor produced an unbeaten eleven in 1943 and a four-game winner last year. This year, however, seems to be "a horse of another color." A Michigan State College Entomologist gave recommendations on how an insecticide called DDT should be used. The insecticide was just released for public sale. He pointed out that common sense should be employed when using the chemical.

This week at the movies: "Betrayal from the East" starring Lee Tracy and Nancy Kelly, and "The Affairs of Susan", starring Joan Fontaine, George Brent, Dennis O'Keefe, Don DeFore, Rita Johnson and Walter Abel. Editorials: "Ever let a neighbor down? No! You'd never think of doing such a thing. Yet, if you sell a single one of your bonds today, or even tomorrow, you'll be doing just that. . . . letting a neighbor down.

'IF IT FITZ . . .

A cut-up

By JIM FITZGERALD

On the day the war ended in Japan, I was aboard an old Liberty ship, seask on the Atlantic. In the brig, headed from Germany to Japan via a 30-day orgy at home.

25 years later, almost to the day, the U.S. Army again made splendid use of an old Liberty ship. The Pentagon brains loaded the ship with nerve gas and sank it in the same Atlantic.

Was it the same Liberty ship? Maybe. Unfortunately I can't remember the name of the ship that brought me home. But no matter.

The important thing is that it is the same U.S. Armed Forces. While military scientists were littering fish to death, the Air Force was also involved in a magnificent operation. At Lackland Air Force Base in Texas, 15 airmen were spending the day cutting out 10,000 pictures of their commanding general.

The base newspaper had printed a photo of the general, showing only his head. You couldn't see his stars and decorations, for goodness sakes. So the officer in charge ordered that 10,000 newspapers be distributed with 10,000 holes in them. He also fired the editor, always a wise move in such cases.

You are probably wondering what happened to the 10,000 offensive clippings. Well, I'll tell you. They were stuffed into a steel foot locker. The locker was put aboard an old LST landing craft. The LST was pushed to the middle of the Mississippi by 2 Pfc's in GI swimming trunks. A helicopter then dropped a small atom bomb on the craft, sinking it and the clippings forever.

But getting back to my Liberty ship, you are probably wondering what a nice fellow like me was doing in the ship's brig (that's the jail, landlubbers). Well, I won't tell.

Rest assured, I was an innocent victim of circumstances. And the circumstances were much crueler than they might have been. That lousy brig was in the bow. There was a terrible storm on the North Atlantic and you can't believe how that bow went up and down, up and down. Seasick? Those were the most miserable 5 days of my life.

So I hope it was my Liberty ship that carried the nerve gas to the bottom. But that was only 1/2 of the U.S. supply of the deadly gas. What's going to be done with the other 99%?

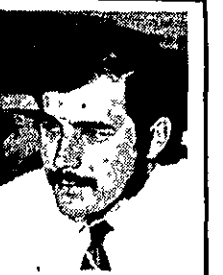

The gas is a marvelously inhuman weapon and any self-respecting fiend would be proud of creating it. But the nerve gas is indiscriminate and leaky. It could turncoat and kill us all simply because we can't find an enemy we hate enough to spray with the stuff.

It is a military mess and an ordinary, exasperated civilian is tempted to ask: "Why don't they just cut it out?"

Ah. Obviously a job for the Air Force officer who ordered the 10,000 cut-outs. Onward and Upward.

Economic quicksand

By TIM YOUNKMAN Editor

Another Labor Day. Another 500 killed on our highways trying to take quick holiday trips, in hectic traffic and heat in an effort to escape the big city's hectic traffic and heat.

That is about all that Labor Day means to most people. Some statistics in Tuesday's newspaper or two minutes on Walter Cronkite's show.

If we reflect a moment, Labor Day is a day honoring the laborers. It is a laborer's holiday.

What better day to discuss the Women's Liberation Movement's gripe on discrimination by sex in the labor force.

I certainly don't want to encourage those first-waving, screaming mercenaries that ran through the streets of New York several weeks ago demanding everything from equal pay to test tube babies.

I am 100 per cent behind the gal's demand for "equal pay for equal work." It seems a pure waste of talent when millions of women are forced to work at menial jobs when they could step into most men's jobs and compete adequately.

If they want to sell insurance, run an office, or operate heavy machinery and can do the job, then a double pay scale is grossly unfair.

Hopefully by next Labor Day, some of the militancy will shake up those employers who habitually discriminate.

Other thoughts come to mind at Labor Day.

Muskegon, I remember as a small boy - used to celebrate with a huge Democratic picnic, with Soapy Williams, brass bands, and thousands of workers.

It seems that, even in those days, the workers stood up and voiced opinions following their conscience and not some national chairman's personal interest.

On this Labor Day we are threatened with a devastating auto strike that could send this country into a recession, faster and deeper than President Nixon's "controlled recession" could hope to accomplish.

The economic drought that will develop in another month or two will strike into every family in this county and state.

We already face a 10 per cent unemployment rate in Michigan. Money is still tight. And it seems that we are just heading into the woods.

Another interesting sidelight—the Great Depression's unemployment rate was in the neighborhood of 15-18 per cent. It certainly isn't the time to sing "Happy Days are Here Again."

The national leaders of the labor force do not hide the fact that they disagree with the President's economic blueprints. So do I.

But it's a bit late to try to sabotage the bridge, once the army's across. To cause a nationally paralyzing strike now would render the "controlled recession" impotent. We might not come out of its effects for years, just in time for a new contract.

This Labor Day should let us think about our labor policies in the areas of discrimination and politics. And what to do next time instead of leaping into the economic quicksand and hoping someone will throw us a rope in time.

TAKING FIVE

Back to school

By RON HUARD

I could tell fall was coming the minute I saw them. The entire family was up before I left for work. This startling development could only herald the opening of school.

There they sat, every last one of them, fully dressed, hair neatly combed and mumbling excitedly over their nutritionless cereals. It was the first time they had all sat together at the breakfast table in about three months. If these kids are any indication of the upcoming breed, Don McNeill better start looking for another job.

There were the routine "shut-ups," "hey, that's mine," and juice spills but behind the activity a festive atmosphere prevailed. It was kinda like a family reunion. What with summer vacations, side trips and baby sitting jobs our most effective communication in recent weeks has been the U.S. mails.

In fact, one of the verbal flares started cuz son Joe didn't recognize his oldest sister and thought a stranger was reaching for his cinnamon roll. I suppose if he had recognized her there would have been a really good fight.

Nevertheless, we're all back to our school year morning routine now. I suppose it's too much to hope for that the good natured chatter of these early days will continue through, at least, the first semester. I'm surprised it continued through the first breakfast.

There are a few serious drawbacks to this back-to-school thing tho. For almost three months I've had sole reign over the bathroom during the early daylight hours. Now this is being challenged and it's almost too much to take.

"Dad, Joe's using the upstairs bathroom, can I come in and brush my teeth?"

"Yeah, Dad. Can I rinse my hands while she's brushing her teeth?"

"I need to comb my hair. Hurry up."

"Aw, cumon, gang," I reply. "There's only two basins in here."

"I know," squeals the hand-washer, "but I'll use the tub." "Forget I asked," sputters the toothbrusher. "I'll brush my teeth in the drinking fountain at school."

By this time Joe appears and wonders why no one is using the up stairs bathroom. "Cuz you were in there," squeals the hair comb.

"I was not. I've been in the basement catching spiders." "Whattaya gonna do with spiders?"

"Take em to school."

"Whattaya gonna do with em at school?"

"Let em loose in the bathroom."

The kid's gotta pretty good idea, I'm tellin' myself.

Don't tell us that you mean it
It really can't be true
Is your arithmetic O.K.
'Er slipped a cog or two?
Do you mean it Honest Injun
Or give'n us a line
When you speak out now in meetin'
Of eighty-one plus nine?

We know you've graced the corner
Of Lansing and Wood Roads
Fer quite a spell of seasons
'N carried your big loads,
You've seen a lot of melons
A clinging on the vine,
But we still are hardy buyin'
That eighty-one plus nine.

Just what is the prescription
That you rise up and bless
Is Hadacol or Geritol
Or Stomach Bitters best?
We wouldn't dare dispute it
Since it's served you all so fine
But isn't it a lot to claim
Fer eighty-one 'n nine?

You've witnessed many sunsets
From the big window in the West
'N there are folks to tell us
The last ones are the best.
So while we are celebrating
And things are going fine,
We hope you add a lot to those
Eighty-one years and nine.
