The postman is a lady!

Dogs along the route keep the life of a postman interesting and exciting.

Few postmen have the same experience with wolves. One in St. Johns does, however. The postman is a girl.

"The dogs are pretty good," comments pet and pretty Linda Horanburg, 19. "It's just these guys with the wolf whistles all the time."

Miss Horanburg has been packing mail around St. Johns on a part-time basis this summer, and during the course of the last three months she's gotten a lot of wolf whistles. "It's kind of funny," she admits.

Though she's relatively alone out on her postal routes around town, the wolf whistles don't bother her. "I just kind of shuck it off," she says, "because they don't mean anything by it."

MORE PERSISTENT than the loud wolf whistles have been the soft whistles of amazement and amusement by the postal patrons on the routes that Miss Horanburg walks.

"Most of them just don't believe it," she said, "and they'll tell me 'I never heard of girls doing this before.' They're really surprised."

Miss Horanburg has had occasion to surprise almost everybody in St. Johns. She was hired as a seasonal assistant the middle part of June, and she's worked about 20 hours a week, on the average, substituting for carriers who are ill or helping out when there's more mail than one guy can handle on one route in one day.

Last Friday, for instance, there was an extra batch of mail to distribute from the post office, and Miss Horanburg helped deliver it on three different routes.

That's a lot of walking. She said she didn't know how far it would be "but it feels like about 500 miles!" Postmaster J.D. Robinson said last Friday's three routes probably covered close to 10 miles. The average day's route will be between five and 10 miles for her.

It doesn't seem to bother her, despite having to lug a mail bag that sometimes weighs 40 pounds.

"I remember the first day I worked," she says on that day in June. "I was really goofy. I wore old loafers and no socks, and after about two hours out I had blisters all over my feet, and when I came back I had my shoes off carrying them. Everybody was really laughing. I was really embarrassed."

NOW THAT SHE'S GOT herself used to the job, it's about to end. Miss Horanburg was hired for the summer only and this week will be her last. Next week she'll return to Michigan State University where she's a sophomore majoring in nursing.

Miss Horanburg lives on Stoll Road in DeWitt Township. She developed an interest in the job when "most of the guys I know who have been in it really make good money, and I thought if they can make good money so can I. I didn't know if girls could get into it, but I applied and got in."

On her federal civil service application she listed the post offices she would be available to work in, and St. Johns was assigned to her.

"The people I work with at the post office are really nice, and I'm really glad I got this job this summer," she said. "It was a real experience. I'll never be impatient anymore when my mail doesn't come."

P-W cuts morning bus runs

By MRS JOSEPH FEDEWA
Our Westphalia Writer

WESTPHALIA — A number of cutbacks, including elimination of morning bus runs for the entire Pewamo-Westphalia School District, have gone into effect as the result of the recent millage defeat.

On Aug. 28 P-W voters turned down for the second time a 3-mill tax increase for one year for school operational purposes.

William Steinke, superintendent of Pewamo-Westphalia Schools, said the board last week authorized the following cut-backs in an effort to prevent deficit spending:

*MORNING BUS runs for all students in the district are eliminated, with parents responsible for transporting youngsters to school. Afternoon bus transportation home will be continued.

*A 25 per cent reduction in spending for the current year for capital outlay, furniture and equipment, library and departmental budgets, teaching supplies and visual aid equipment.

*All night activities, such as dances and other extra-curricular events, will be eliminated. *Canceled was the purchase of a new bus ordered last February.

*Buses will no longer be used for field trips, athletic events, educational functions, and all extra trips will be eliminated. Under the new policy, buses will be used only for contracted athletic events and for players only.

*A SIMILAR MILLAGE proposal had been defeated here in the annual election in June, with this district the only one in the county suffering a millage defeat at that time. After the June defeat, and faced with an increase of about $42,000 in operating costs for the current school year, the board decided to put the issue back before the voters.

Anticipating a favorable vote so they could continue school programs as in the past, the board was faced in recent weeks with (See P-W CUTS, Page 2-A)

Fowler man killed

Clinton County's eighth traffic accident fatality of 1967 was recorded about 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when Elmer Witt of Fowler was killed at the intersection of Lehman and Francis roads in Riley Township.

Seriously injured in the accident was Connie Sue Henry, 20, of 221 N. Maple Street, Maple Rapids. She was taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Mrs Henry was reported in "fair" condition at Clinton Memorial about 4:45 p.m. Tuesday.

Mr Witt's body was removed to the Osgood Funeral Home, where funeral arrangements are pending at presstime. He was 67 years old.

Deputy Sheriff Hilary Hafner said Mrs Henry was driving south on Francis and it appeared Mr Witt's eastbound car pulled out in front of her. Mr Witt's car was hit broadside on the driver's side, and the auto careened against a ditch and fence on the southeast corner. Mrs Henry's car spun around in the intersection.

CHARLES FROST

Charles Frost, Clinton County civil defense director, submitted his resignation Monday to the county board of supervisors, making it effective Sept. 1. The board acknowledged receipt of the letter of resignation but took no formal action accepting it. No replacement for Frost was named. Frost could not be reached Tuesday for comment on the resignation.

Bloodmobile

Sept. 20

OVID — No goal has been assigned to them, but the Ovid-Duplain Library Club is hoping to surpass the 65 pints of blood donated last summer when the Red Cross Bloodmobile visits the Ovid-Elsie area next week.

The library club is sponsoring the bloodmobile visit and will take charge of the canteen next Wednesday, Sept. 20. The bloodmobile will be set up at the Veterans Building in Ovid between noon and 6 p.m.

The bloodmobile visit is designed to serve the residents of both Ovid and Elsie communities. Co-chairmen of arrangements are Mrs Earl M. Slag of Elsie and Mrs Willard G. Wittenberg of Ovid.

A-negative AB-positive types of blood are particularly needed between 12 and 2 p.m. to be used in heart surgery the following day.

Persons who gave blood at the last St. Johns bloodmobile visit are eligible to give blood at Ovid.

Franklin W. Smith, MD, of St. Johns will be the Clinton County Medical Society's delegate to the Michigan State Medical Society House of Delegates convention in Grand Rapids Sept. 24-26. Dr. James M. Grosz, MD, is alternate delegate. The physicians will act on a wide range of subjects relating to health and welfare.

Child, 2½, drowns in pool

A 2 1/2-year-old child drowned Monday afternoon in her parents' murky backyard swimming pool south of DeWitt.

The victim was Patricia Ann Driver, 2 1/2, daughter of Mr and Mrs Clayton Driver of 4118 Jerry Road, DeWitt.

She was dead on arrival at St. Lawrence Hospital in Lansing where she was taken after two uncles, Nelson and Howard Driver, discovered her body in four feet of cloudy water in the 18 x 8 x 5-foot backyard pool.

The two men were using a fishing net to drag the bottom of the pool, which they couldn't see because of the water, when they discovered her body about 5:15 p.m. The little girl's doll was found on a cement slab adjacent to the pool. The pool was not fenced.

The child had been missing for about an hour before police officers were called. The mother said the girl never played around the pool and was last seen in the front yard. She, neighbors and one of the uncles searched the neighborhood before finally calling police.

Before Clinton County deputies arrived, the two uncles had found the body.

COMING AUCTION SALE—Saturday, Sept. 23, 12:30 p.m., farm tools, household furniture and appliances. Henry Mizga, 3 miles south of Shepardsville on Shepardsville Road.—Adv. 21-1

Clinton County Deputy Sheriff Hilary Hafner and a state police officer check over notes at the scene of a fatal accident in Riley Township Tuesday afternoon. The car in the foreground was driven by the victim Elmer Witt of Fowler; the other auto was driven by Connie Sue Henry, 20, of Maple Rapids, who was seriously hurt.

Only $620,890 planned for operations

County chops '68 budget

Clinton supervisors plan to operate the county government next year on a budget of only $620,890 — $240,280 less than was budgeted for 1967 operations.

The county board adopted the 1968 budget Monday. Although the operational cost will be drastically cut from this year, the board must raise a total of $24,890 to meet the expenses and pay off $204,000 in loan and interest needed to finish out operations this year.

Tax receipts in 1968 are estimated at $696,341, while $46,100 is anticipated from the state income tax, and county office fees should bring in another $82,449.

BUDGETS FOR THE various departments include:

Circuit court and court reporter, $15,300; assignment clerk, $5,400; prosecuting attorney, $16,200; probate court, $18,000; county clerk, $21,600; county treasurer, $15,300; register of deeds, $13,500; equalization and addressograph departments, $16,200; drain commissioner, $10,800; sheriff's department, $52,000; jail, $14,400.

propriations, $4,950;

Tax allocation board, $900; general office supplies, $2,700; recording of births and deaths, $180; insurance, social security, gasoline, other miscellaneous, $19,800; temporary relief for veterans $900; and Grand River Watershed $1,530.

What about the zoo?

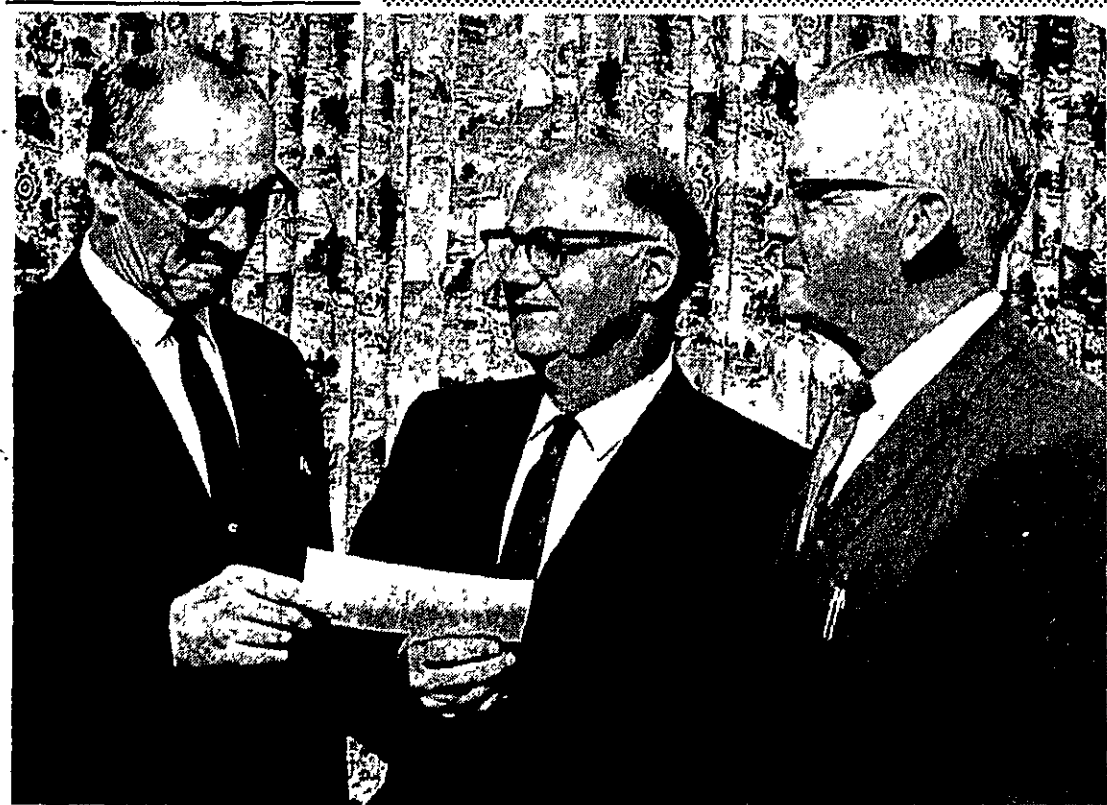

What's to do with the zoo?

St. Johns city commissioners are asking that question, and last Tuesday night they asked the city manager to prepare a report and his recommendations on the future of the zoo at the city park.

Several commissioners reported receiving complaints from park area residents concerning odors coming periodically from the zoo, which is at the north edge of the park adjacent to West Park Street.

There was some talk of eliminating the zoo entirely, but no action was taken except to call for a report on the situation, along with the possibility of improving sanitary conditions around the zoo or moving the entire operation to another area of the park.

The zoo involves a deer pen, rabbits, fowl of various kinds and several other small animals. There is also several ponies and a goat.

GENERAL TELEPHONE CO. DONATES TO HOSPITAL FUND

William Graef (left), district manager for the General Telephone Co., presents a check for $2,500 to Clinton Memorial Hospital for use in the hospital's million-dollar building program. The check was termed a gift from the stockholders and employees of the telephone company. Accepting the donation are Roy Briggs (center) and Lorenz A. Tiedt, directors and trustees of the Clinton Memorial Hospital Assn.

the task of eliminating some $42,000 in expenses when the issue was again rejected, by a margin of 358 to 291, on August 28.

Late in August the board approved an operating budget of $335,663 for the 1967-68 school year, which represents a 14-per cent increase over last year. Of this, increases in both elementary and secondary education and teachers' salaries account for the greatest increase—about $33,844—over last year.

Fulton student enrollment up

MIDDLETON—This year's enrollment of the students in the Fulton district schools has reached a total of 1,196, an increase of 38 over last year's figure.

The Middleton elementary school currently has 185 students in kindergarten and grades one and two.

Enrolled in the Perrinton elementary school's third through seventh grades, plus a special education class, are 316 pupils.

LANSING MAN HURT IN KREPPS ROAD CRASH

Marvin Trumble, 25, of Lansing suffered cuts and bruises Saturday night when his auto went out of control on Krepps Road north of M-21, went off the road and hit an irrigation pumping unit in a field. He was hospitalized overnight at Clinton Memorial Hospital and then released Sunday.

St. Johns counts 3,626 in school has a student load of 266 children. Twenty-seven students in kindergarten and grades one through three, are enrolled in Ola elementary school.

Fulton High School, which includes a special education class and grades eight through 12 has a student population of 401.

People who stop to argue seldom have time enough left to accomplish anything.

Enrollment in the St. Johns Public Schools on the first day last week was almost 200 students higher than last year.

School officials counted a total of 3,626 pupils enrolled after the first day, and this compares to 3,440 after the first day last year. The number of students is expected to increase still farther during the next week or so.

The high school has 1,068 students so far this year, while there are 281 at Central junior high, 325 at Central elementary (including St. Joseph rooms), 192 at East Ward, 312 at Swegles, 330 at Perrin-Palmer, and 1,118 in the rural schools.

There's always a vacancy for the man who has made good.

2 fires keep firemen busy

St. Johns firemen answered two calls at opposite ends of last weekend—one for a major fire and the other for a potentially major blaze.

The first call was Friday afternoon about 4 o'clock. Firemen went to the Richard Ettinger farm on East Townsend Road where a barn was on fire, having evidently been started by children playing with matches. Firemen managed to put it out with only a small amount of hay lost and some damage resulting to the barn itself.

About 5:15 a.m. Monday firemen went to the Sally McClintock home at 800 W. State Street where fire did considerable damage to an upstairs apartment. One bedroom was gutted by the fire and the rest of the apartment suffered smoke and water damage.

Kenneth Wilson, 27, occupant of the upstairs apartment, was awakened by the smoke. He and Mrs. McClintock's son, Van, who lives next door, then aroused Mrs. McClintock, 82, and Fanny Hall, 80, who lived in the downstairs portion of the home.

All escaped without injury. Fire Chief Clare Maier said cause of the fire wasn't known. The residents told of smelling smoke some time earlier, which led firemen to believe it may have smoldered for some time. Firemen were on the scene about two hours.

US-27 crash injures none

A station wagon driven by Daniel Graham Ruby, 30, of Mead Road, R-3, St. Johns, was struck from behind by a car driven by Clarence Lee Rademacher, 27, of 3039 County Line Road, St. Johns, Tuesday, Sept. 5.

The accident occurred on US-27 near the Hyde Road intersection.

Ruby told Clinton County sheriff's officers that he had just passed a farm implement while driving on northbound US-27.

He then slowed his vehicle, intending to make a left turn across the southbound highway and into the parking lot of Beck's Fruit Market.

Looking through the rear-view mirror, he recounted to the police officers, Ruby noticed the Rademacher auto fast approaching from behind.

Hoping to avoid the collision, Ruby accelerated, but not in time to avoid being rammed by the other car.

Ruby claimed that he had his turn signals operating at the time of the mishap.

Neither driver nor their passengers were injured in the accident.

Passengers in the Ruby car were: Elizabeth Ruby, 30; Larry Ruby, 2; Shane Ruby, 4; and James Ruby, 5. Mrs. Rademacher passengers were: Robin Rademacher, 2; Ronnie Rademacher, 5; Roger Rademacher, 8; and Ricky Rademacher, 9.

August water use tops 45 million gallons

St. Johns got its first fully automated recording of water consumption last month, and it showed residents using a total of 45,764,000 gallons of water during the 31 days of August.

That's an average of 1,476,260 gallons per day.

City Manager Ken Greer said the figures on water usage are accurate for the first time, having been recorded by automatic devices at the city water treatment plant. Previous readings had been a combination of meter readings from several pumps and estimates from others. Now all pumping is metered.

The most water pumped any one day was Aug. 1, a Tuesday, when 1,752,000 gallons was used. The smallest amount pumped was 914,000 gallons on Aug. 13, a Sunday. There were only three days when water use fell below 1 million gallons, and those were all Sundays.

Raw water being pumped from the ground averaged 55 degrees F. during the month, and water leaving the plant averaged 59 degrees F. During the month, the treatment process involved 2,066 pounds of lime per million gallons of water, 4,180 cubic feet of natural gas per million gallons, and 17.3 pounds of chlorine per million gallons.

AUTO VANDALIZED
Roy Ryan of 600 S. Clinton Avenue told police Saturday someone smashed two windows in his car, apparently with rocks, and splattered melon pieces and seeds over the vehicle. The vandalism occurred during the night before.

Supervisors set up new county records department

Clinton County supervisors had one of their long sessions Monday, finally wrapping up a long order of business about 5:30 p.m. During that time the following items were taken care of and a lot of other topics given consideration.

*The board adopted a resolution setting up a new county department, to be known as the Records Department, to operate for the convenience of all other departments in the reproduction of records. The resolution placed County Clerk Paul Wakefield in charge of the department.

*George Eberhard, social services director, appeared at the meeting with several representatives of Consumers Power Co. pertaining to a changeover in the heating system at the courthouse annex on South Oakland Street. The board approved a changeover to gas, if the welfare board wishes, but cost of the change would be paid out of welfare funds.

*THE BOARD acknowledged a new petition from the City of DeWitt for annexation of a portion of the township south and west of the village. The original petition introduced in August was withdrawn last week when an error was discovered in the description of the proposed boundary. The new proposed annexation does not include the land south of Herblison Road in section 18. The new petition will now be checked over by the county clerk, and the board will not act on it until at least the October meeting.

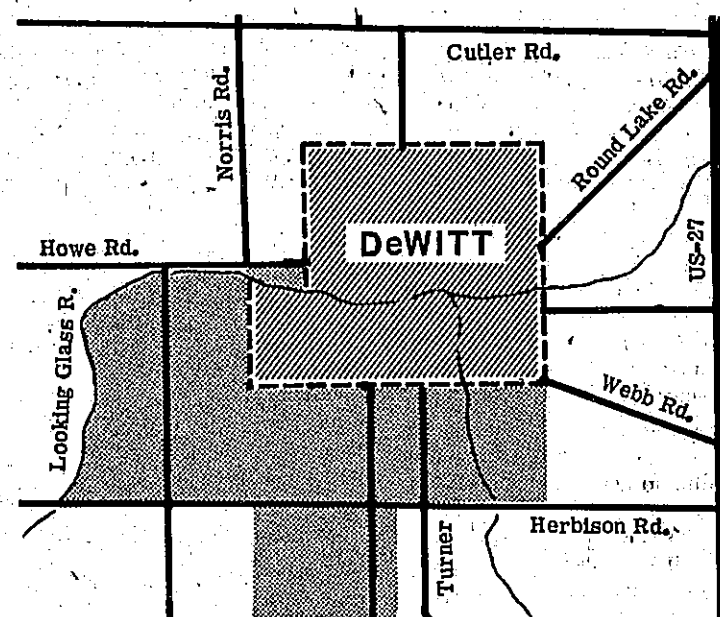

*Woodrow Womack was hired as assistant zoning administrator effective Sept. 1. He will work under new Administrator William Coffey.

*A letter from Don Ewing, county road commission clerk who recently resigned, suggesting higher salaries for the members of the road commission was read to the board.

*Pointing up a lack of funds, the board spent some time considering possible sale of the Clinton County farm and infirmary, or any part of it. The question was referred to the finance and appropriations committee for a later report.

*THE BOARD was appointed as a committee of the whole to attend a tax assessors' conference in Lansing Oct. 2 and 3 and the 6th District Assn. of Supervisors meeting at Ithaca today (Thursday).

*Register of deeds Marie Belknap reported to the board concerning a metering machine that will be needed to stamp deeds after Jan. 1 when federal revenue stamps are no longer needed on deeds recorded. The board referred the matter to the records and equipment committee.

The board of supervisors received a revised petition from the City of DeWitt Monday seeking permission for a vote on annexing the shaded area south and west of the present city limits. An area of section 18 south of Herblison Road and west of the shaded area was dropped from the original petition, which was withdrawn last week because of a technical error in the description.

*Dale Chapman, county drain commission, told of new plat act requirements taking effect Jan. 1. They were referred to the zoning and drain committee.

Dad says that if he and mom were not in the PTA they'd just have vexation without representation.

157 cases fill calendar as new court term opens

The September term of circuit court for the 29th judicial circuit opened in St. Johns Monday, and another record of 157 cases filled the docket.

That's one higher than the number of cases on the docket for the June term. On Judge Leo Corkin's schedule for the September term are 20 criminal cases, 110 civil cases and 26 divorce cases. Many are hold-over cases from earlier terms of the court.

A jury trial has been demanded in 51 of the 110 civil cases. According to the court calendar, Judge Corkin will be alone in making the decision on the criminal and divorce cases.

On the court calendar for the September term are these criminal cases: the State of Michigan vs.

Floyd Rowland on a charge of larceny from a building; Robert J. Skinner on a charge of larceny from a motor vehicle; Charles D. Walford, appeal; Raymond Russell for statutory rape; John M. Bisalski, arson; Vernon W. Todd, breaking and entering; Lawrence Hufnagel, appeal; Richard L. Sayles, appeal; Linda K. Storey, murder (second degree); Robert J. Wright, appeal;

Charles Arty, armed robbery; Ralph E. Cloy, armed robbery; Wardell Current Jr., armed robbery; Anthony R. Holt, armed robbery; Luther L. McMullen, insufficient funds; Ray Wygant, appeal; Rodney W. Antes, larceny; Jerome Powers, gross indecency; Richard M. Clark, appeal; Richard K. Patterson, drunk and disorderly.

The circuit court calendar also shows 26 civil cases on which no progress has been made for more than a year. There are 12 such divorce cases. There are 10 paternity cases pending.

Mayor proclaims Layman Retreat Day at DeWitt

DeWITT — Mayor Elden T. Smith of DeWitt has proclaimed this Sunday Layman Retreat Day in DeWitt in honor of the Michigan Retreat Day being held in the city.

Said the mayor: "The DeWitt City Council joins me in proclaiming Sunday, Sept. 17, as Layman Retreat Day. Rev. Julian Fuzer, resident retreat master, and his staff are to be congratulated for the planned program."

"Layman Retreat Day will start at 10 a.m. at DeWitt High School on Herblison Road. A tour of the retreat house on Howe Road will conclude the one-day event. Best wishes for a successful day," the mayor said in conclusion.

SIGN OF THE TIMES ON WEST SICKLES STREET

There's no doubt in anyone's mind that Sickles Street west of Lansing Street is closed. The reason is installation of sanitary and storm sewer in the street preparatory to curb and gutter base gravel and possibly even paving yet this fall. Contractors finished the storm sewer (right-hand ditch) last week and were scheduled to finish up the sanitary sewer this week. The two projects will then be backfilled and the road cut down to construction grade in preparation for the curb and gutter. The whole project is in connection with the high school construction on West Sickles.

Brock appointed to planning unit

The city commission went through another relatively uneventful meeting last Tuesday night and wound up making several appointments and several referrals.

Robert Brock of 702 W. Baldwin Street was named to the St. Johns Planning Commission, filling a vacancy left by the recent resignation of Edward Sulka. Sulka has moved to Mexico City. Brock's term on the planning commission will expire November 1969.

Brock was at the commission meeting, although for another purpose. He again asked the commission to consider a reduction in what he called an excessively high water bill for the first quarter of this year. The commission, however, declined to take any such action after reports from factory representatives and city administrators determined that the meter was apparently working satisfactorily.

IN OTHER miscellaneous business:

*The commission referred to the planning commission a request from Mark Eaton of 705 E. Railroad Street to rezone his property from residential to commercial so he could locate a dog kennel there.

*Commissioner Rex Sirrine and Police Chief Everett were named to attend the annual meeting of the Regional Traffic Safety Committee in Lansing Sept. 11.

*Mayor Charles Coletta proclaimed Sept. 17 as Federal Constitution Day in St. Johns.

*Andrew Kuhnmuensch requested sanitary sewer service on Sickles Street between Lansing and Church streets, and City

Mrs Rand attends municipal meeting

St. Johns City Commissioner Mrs. Jeanne Rand and her husband, Robert Rand, of 206 Oak Street attended the Municipal League Convention, Wednesday through Saturday of last week at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island. About 1,200 representatives of cities from all over the state were in attendance.

ROBERT BROCK

Manager Ken Greer was directed by the commission to prepare cost figures and other information on the project.

*Transfer of the SDM license from Mrs. Margaret Christensen of Chris' Party Store at 224 N. Clinton Avenue to Richard and Barbara Fenby was approved by the commission.

*The commission decided to continue enforcing the noxious weed ordinance with summons to be issued to violators when deemed necessary to the enforcement.

Chicken barbecue by GOP Women tonight

The annual chicken barbecue sponsored by the Clinton County Republican Women's Club will be held this evening (Thursday) in St. Johns.

Serving will be from 5 to 8 p.m. at Smith Hall adjacent to the city park. Several legislators will be on hand for the dinner.

Rick VanRooyen has MD carnival

Rick VanRooyen held a Jerry Lewis MD carnival at his home at 206 E. Gibbs Street, St. Johns, last Saturday afternoon. The $28.50 from the carnival will be donated to the MD fund drive.

Extension holding open house

An open house is being held Wednesday and today at the Clinton County Extension Office's new quarters at 1003 S. Oakland Street in St. Johns.

The open house is from 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. each day. The new quarters are in the remodeled basement of the welfare building, now known as the courthouse annex, just south of Clinton Memorial Hospital. Entrance to the offices is on the east side of the building.

All of the Extension agents — F. Earl Haas, George McQueen, Helen Meach and John Aylsworth — will be present to explain the Extension program and answer questions. Coffee, punch and cookies will be served in the conference room of the office.

A few drawers to replace wall of shelves

CCN newspaper files going on film this fall

Past and future issues of the Clinton County News will be preserved on microfilm, thanks to a project developed by John Cumming, director of the Clarke Historical Library at Central Michigan University.

The County News is one of a number of weekly newspapers around the state that will be microfilmed in the project that Cumming considers "one of the most important efforts at historical preservation attempted in the state."

The project is being financed by a grant from the Kresge Foundation, supplemented by gifts from individual donors, newspaper firms and the McGregor Fund of Detroit.

THE BOUND VOLUMES of the newspaper will be stored at the Clarke Historical Library, and microfilmed copies will be available for inspection at the News office through use of a microfilm projector—reader.

Past issues of the Ovid Register—Union, which ceased publication July 1, are also being microfilmed under the Clarke Historical Library project, but the bound volumes of that paper will be kept at the new Ovid—Elsie High School library.

Weekly newspapers all over the state are to be microfilmed in the project. "The newspaper is probably the most important single source of historical information," Cumming points out. "Even the poorest of newspapers yield information through advertising and bulletins."

Many states and libraries have recognized the importance of the newspaper as a historical record and for years have collected and preserved the files of all newspapers. As a result, these states have excellent historical records which are continually being consulted by researchers and historians.

PRIOR TO THE Clarke Historical Library effort, no such attempt had been made to collect and preserve the newspaper files in Michigan. Cumming says that one does not have to pursue a research problem in history very far before he encounters a void created by a lost newspaper file.

Fire, carelessness, general neglect or lack of interest have all played a part in the destruction of newspaper files in Michigan. Going back into the 19th century, there are very few newspapers that can produce complete runs. Most of the gaps have been created by fire. Many files have disappeared completely.

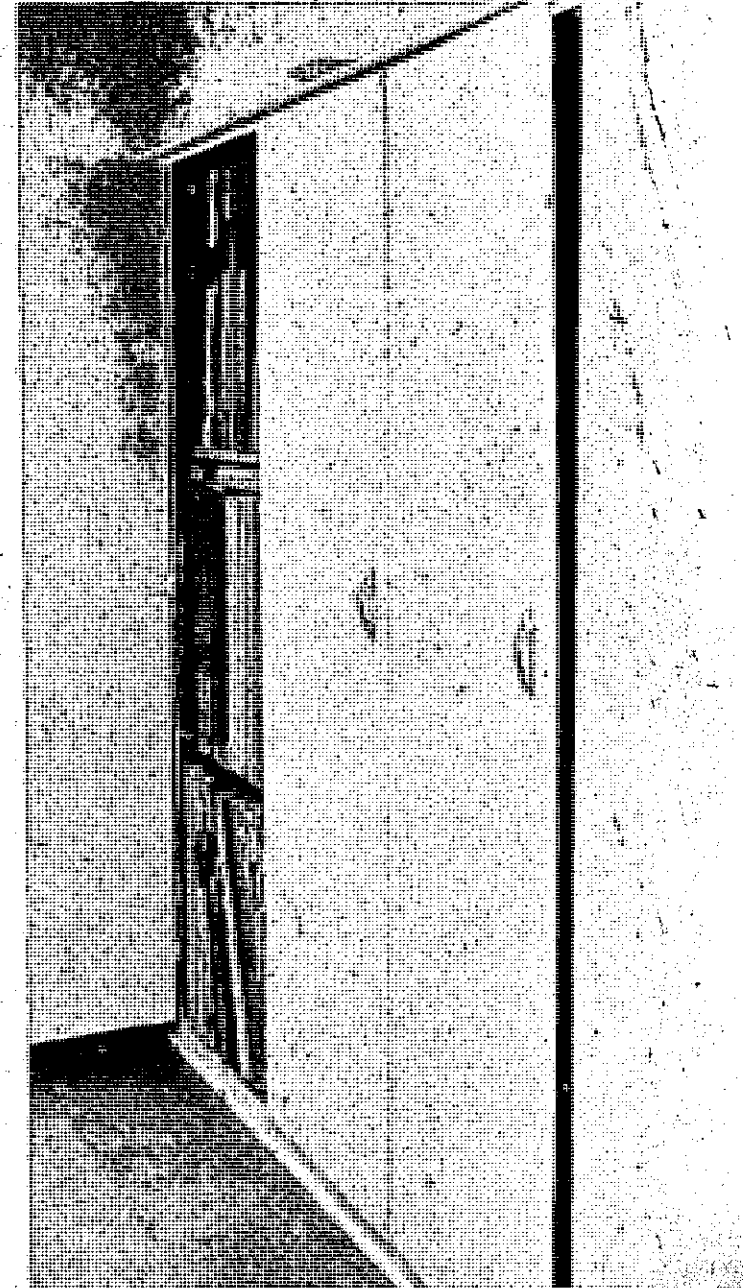

Only a fraction of all of the newspapers published in the past 100 years have complete files. In the past 10 years alone, Cumming points out that a half-dozen newspapers in the state have had their files destroyed by fire. Others are threatened since they are stored in newspaper offices or libraries where they are in danger of being lost by fire or flooding.

MODERN ADVANCES in photography make the preservation of these files possible through microfilming. Unfortunately, the process requires funds which most weekly newspaper publishers cannot afford. This prompted the acquisition of funds by the Clarke Historical Library for the preservation of the files.

The project is expected to get underway this fall, according to Cumming. He said that weekly newspapers will be microfilmed on a regional basis first and then other newspapers in the area will be collected and microfilmed. It is estimated the complete project will take at least five years. The emphasis will be on the week-

John Cumming, director of the Clarke Historical Library at Central Michigan University, stands in front of a microfilm reader holding a copy of one of Michigan's oldest newspapers, "The Northern Islander," published on Beaver Island. The library is launching a project this fall to microfilm the files of the state's weekly newspapers, including the Clinton County News, in order to preserve them for their valuable historical interest.

Two hundred fifteen bound volumes of the Clinton County News and its predecessor newspaper are stored in the upstairs office of the CCN Building. On microfilm the amount of space needed for the information will be reduced to a few drawers. One volume in the file dates back to 1866.

2 men jailed for driving on revoked licenses

Raymond Keith Saurbek, 30, of Lansing, was arrested in Olive Township Tuesday, Sept. 5, and charged with driving with a revoked operator's license.

Taken before Municipal Judge Alba Werf, Saurbek was fined $50 and ordered to pay court costs of $19.30, plus spend 10 days in confinement.

In almost a similar situation, Terry Dean Schulz, 28, of Ludington was nabbed Tuesday, Sept. 5, in Greenbush Township, for driving with a revoked license.

Further investigation by the arresting officers showed that Schulz was carrying a concealed weapon.

Schulz was brought before Judge Werf, who fined him $50 and sentenced him to pay court costs of $51.30 and spend 10 days behind bars on the first charge.

The second charge brought with it a fine of $25 and court costs of $21.80 or 15 days in jail.

ly newspapers since most of the state's dailies have their files already on microfilm.

Cumming inaugurated the plan for microfilming newspapers three years ago when he approached the Kresge Foundation with the request for $50,000, which he estimated would get the job done. The Foundation offered to give $20,000 if Central Michigan University could raise the balance of the $50,000 within three years.

THE KRESGE DEADLINE was reached on July 1 of this year. The Clarke Historical Library entered the month of June with $8,000 short of the goal to qualify for the Kresge money. Then the McGregor fund of Detroit added $5,000 and other donors came through with gifts ranging from $25 to $1,500, enough to push the project over the top, just short of the July 1 deadline.

The state library at Lansing will also make an effort to collect and microfilm newspaper files and will cooperate with the Clarke Historical Library in the project.

2 youths hurt in 1-car crash

Jon E. Tatroe, 18, of 610 E. State Street, and Mark Field, 18, of 409 E. Higham Street, were treated at Clinton Memorial Hospital early Saturday and then released following a one-car crash.

Tatroe, the driver, told Clinton County sheriff's deputies he failed to see a curve on Island Road north of Fowler, and his car went out of control and rolled over.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

The funeral directing profession dates back to the Pharaohs in ancient Egypt and requires extensive study and preparation. Today a funeral director often takes periodic post-graduate work to maintain the highest professional standards.

Besides a special talent for service—a great deal of dedication and patience is required.

Respectfully,

Van W. Hoag

MRS PAUL JOHN BIERSTETEL

Newlyweds tour western states

Presently honeymooning in the western states are Mr and Mrs Paul John Bierstetel, who were married Saturday afternoon at St. Mary's Catholic Church of Westphalia.

Father Miller officiated at the double ring service.

The bride is the former Miss Kathleen Mary Thelen and the daughter of Mr and Mrs Herman J. Thelen of R-1, Pewamo and her husband is the son of Mr and Mrs August Bierstetel of R-2, Fowler. They are both graduates of Pewamo-Westphalia High School.

FOR THE 1 p.m. ceremony, the new Mrs Bierstetel chose a full length gown of organza and Chantilly lace. It was styled with a lace bodice, long sleeves, a Sabrina neckline and a detachable court train of organza trimmed with Chantilly lace. A cabbage roses headpiece secured her shoulder length veil and she carried red roses and white chrysanthemums.

The attendants were attired in floor length sheath gowns fashioned with aqua chiffon skirts and white lace bodices. Their shoulder length veils were caught with two roses and their bouquets were of pink roses and white chrysanthemums.

THE BRIDE chose her sister Susan Thelen, to act as her maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Carol Kavanagh and Andrea Thelen, sister of the bride.

The mother of the bride, Mrs Thelen, pinned her pink rose corsage to her blue dress with a matching lace top. The mother of the bridegroom wore a gold dress with matching accessories.

Her corsage was of yellow roses. BEN BIERSTETEL served as his brother's best man and groomsmen were Bruce George and Bob Bierstetel, bridegroom's brother. Seating the guests were John Thelen and Dave Bierstetel, brothers of the couple.

Honored guests included Mr and Mrs Hilary Snitgen and Mr and Mrs John A. Thelen, grandparents of the bride; Mrs Lena Lenneman, grandmother of the groom and Mrs Mary Simon, great-grandmother of the bride.

ABOUT 500 were present for the reception which was held at 5 p.m. at St. Mary's Hall of Westphalia.

The newlyweds will make their home in Westphalia after Sept. 23.

41st reunion held here

Sept. 8 the NYBS Club held its 41st annual reunion at the L & L Restaurant with 13 members and three guests present. Out of town members were Mrs Ivah Bond Grof from Chippewa Lake, Mrs Theora Tinkham Wood of Jackson, Mrs Jennie Wyckoff McNutt and Mrs Alice Holmes Sammons of Port Huron, Miss Winifred Cross of Flint and Mrs Nettie Taylor Buck of Lansing.

It was most inspiring to see two of the out of town handicapped members, one even in a wheel chair, make the effort to be present.

In spite of increasing years and dwindling numbers those present voted to return to St. Johns and the L & L Restaurant in 1968.

Mrs Agnes Baker and Miss Carmen Tranchell were re-elected to the offices of president and secretary-treasurer.

Constitution Week declared

Constitution Week will be observed throughout the United States next week—Sept. 17-23—and St. Johns is no different. Mayor Charles Coletta of St. Johns has declared the week as Constitution Week, and the observance is getting the wholehearted backing of the DAR here.

"Never before have justice, domestic tranquility and concern for the general welfare been of greater significance to us," said E. O. George of Detroit, general chairman for Constitution Week.

"But freedom is not static; it is a way of life, and it demands our constant vigilance in exercising our unalienable rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

"I urge all citizens to join in making Constitution Week Sept. 17-23 a time of rededication to American patriotism and the highlight of our year-around commitment to upholding our liberty under law."

Constitution Week is proclaimed each year by the President of the United States to commemorate the formation and signing of the United States Constitution on Sept. 17, 1787.

Sept. 17 this year has been declared Citizenship Day. All citizens are urged to display their flags throughout the week.

Mrs Pearl Blank and son Murrett attended the funeral of Mrs Gordon Clark in Grand Ledge Friday.

MR AND MRS GARY LEE PYLES

Newlyweds living in Grand Rapids

Now at home at 600 Parkwood N.E., Grand Rapids, are Mr and Mrs Gary Lee Pyles, who were married Aug. 19.

Rev Roger Harrison officiated at the double ring service at the First Baptist Church of St. Johns. Soloist for the ceremony was Valeta Pyles, sister of the bridegroom. She was accompanied by Lois Bos.

THE BRIDE is the former Miss Bonnie Louise Stockwell and is a graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School. Her husband was graduated from Lew Wallace High School of Gary, Ind. They are presently juniors at Grand Rapids Baptist Bible College.

Mr and Mrs Oscar Stockwell of 304 N. Kibbee, St. Johns and Mr and Mrs Max Pyles of 4161 Harrison, Gary, Ind., are the parents of the newlyweds.

THE NEW MRS Pyles chose a floor length satin gown for her wedding. It was styled with a round neckline, long sleeves tapering to points at the wrists and a court train attached with a bow at the shoulders. The train and bodice were trimmed with lace and pearls. A pearl crown secured her single veil edged with lace. She carried an arrangement of carnations and stephanotis attached to a white Bible.

Miss Mildred Stockwell, sister of the bride, of St. Paul, Minn., was the maid of honor and she was attired in a mint green lace over taffeta sheath dress fashioned with three-quarter length sleeves. Her headpiece was a matching taffeta bow and veil. She carried a single white rose.

The bridesmaids were Miss Lois Dodway of St. Johns and Miss Kay Southwell of Mancelona and they wore dresses of the same style in blue and yellow.

Tammy Lowe was the flower girl and Keith Pyles, brother of the bridegroom, was the ring-bearer.

MRS STOCKWELL wore a pink lace over taffeta dress with a matching three-quarter length jacket. Her corsage was of white carnations and pink roses. The mother of the bridegroom chose a blue bonded lace ensemble and her corsage was of white carnations and yellow roses.

Mike Judkins acted as best man and groomsmen were Dick Jamelson and Dennis Thompson. Seating the guests were Chuck Stockwell, brother of the bride and Dennis Thompson.

ABOUT 125 GUESTS attended the wedding and the reception which followed the ceremony and was held at the First Baptist Church.

Mrs Judy Forbes and Miss Karen Stockwell, cousins of the bride; Miss Janice Berkhausen and Miss Valeta Pyles assisted at the reception.

St. Johns TOPS plan Sept. 14 picnic

About 20 members of the St. Johns TOPS Club met Thursday night. Plans were made for a low calorie picnic to be held Sept. 14. Members will meet at 6 p.m. at the home of Mrs Helen Eldridge. Mrs Bonna Acre was welcomed to the club as a new member.

The club has a supply of dish-cloths which may be purchased from any club member or from Mrs Violet Pakst at the Volunteers of America store.

2 local women at state music club meet

The executive state board of the Michigan State Federation of Music Clubs met at Interlochen for their annual weekend from Friday through Sunday. Interspersed with sessions of the board were; concerts given by the orchestra, chorus and programs by the students who were Interlochen scholarship winners.

These scholarship winners include two given by the National Federation of Music Clubs, four by the Michigan Federation, two from Indiana, two by Wisconsin, one from Ohio, three from Illinois and one from Texas. The Readers Digest also gave two very large scholarships to high school students who participated from Virginia, Arizona, Florida and Paris, France.

THE HIGH SCHOOL Operetta Workshop with the High School Concert Orchestra presented the Mikado by Gilbert and Sullivan Saturday evening. The student choir presented the music at the church service held Sunday at Kresge Auditorium.

David Zischke, winner of the scholarship given by the St. Johns Morning Musicals, attended the Interlochen Camp for three weeks and also attended Michigan State University for three weeks with the St. Johns High School Band. Brian Campbell, last year's winner from St. Johns, won an Interlochen scholarship and attended school there this past year. He also played in the orchestra for the Musicals.

MRS GEORGE H. Brooks won commendation for her work as state chairman of the Parade of American Music with Mrs A.H. Bruce of Traverse City, chairman of Who's Who in Michigan Music and also past president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. There were 1,000 awards given nationally of which Michigan went over the quota.

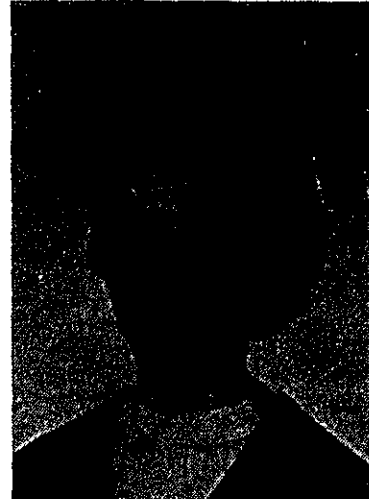

Mrs Brooks and Miss Marjorie Brooks spent Friday through Sunday noon at Interlochen and visited Mr and Mrs James H. Whittaker Sr. at Higgins Lake Sunday night and Monday.

Adult education meeting Sept. 21

An organizational meeting for adult education for credit is scheduled for next Thursday evening, Sept. 21, at 7 p.m. at St. Johns High School.

Albert LeFevre, counseling director, said a representative of the American Schools correspondence courses will be present for the organizational meeting. It will be in Room 105 at the high school.

Class sessions will be held on each Thursday thereafter. Credit obtained through the American School correspondence courses can be applied toward a high school diploma.

Gulliver is a graduate of Okemos High School and served three years in the US Navy. He is an electronics technology major at Lansing Community College. No date has been set for the wedding.

Don't expect happiness to come to you—go out into the world and create your own.

Priest-Leslie vows said at Reed City

Reed City Methodist Church was the scene of the Aug. 19 wedding of the former Miss Virginia Gayle Leslie of Reed City and Van Eugene Priest of Maple Rapids.

Rev Charles Fulmer officiated at the 3 p.m. double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr and Mrs William Leslie of 311 S. Sears, Reed City and Mr and Mrs Richard Priest of 119 W. Washington, Maple Rapids.

THE BRIDE designed her beau de soie floor length gown fashioned with a natural waist and long pointed lace sleeves. Her veil was a matching wrist length mantilla. She carried a Bible bouquet of trailing ivy, stephanotis and a lavender orchid.

Miss Joan Leslie of Reed City was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids were Linda King of Lake Odessa and Jill Rogers of Reed City.

THEY WERE COSTUMED in lilac taffeta street length dresses with daisy trimmed short sleeves and carried nosegays of white daisies.

Keith Tait of St. Johns was best man and groomsmen were Jerome Smith of Perrinton and Peter Meyer of Vernon, Conn. Brothers of the couple, John Leslie and William Priest, seated the guests.

A RECEPTION followed the wedding ceremony, and was held in the church parlors.

Mrs Priest is a graduate of Alma College and will teach in DeWitt Junior High School this fall. Priest is presently attending Michigan State University and will be commissioned in the US Army following his graduation next March.

WRC met Tuesday

The WRC held a regular meeting and thimble party at the Abbott-Woodhams home Tuesday, Sept. 5.

Following the lengthy business session, cards were in play, with high score going to Hazel Beebe and low to Nora Beebe.

The next regular meeting and thimble party will be held at the home of Ruby Bishop of 304 W. Walker Street, St. Johns, Sept. 19.

City Brevities

Mrs Cora Bowen of 124 Floral Avenue, St. Johns, was visited last Saturday by her daughter, Mrs Lottie Miller. She was accompanied by Mrs Bowen's two youngest grandsons.

Mr and Mrs Raymond Thornton of family and T. C. Thornton of Elsie were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs Julia Thornton.

MRS GARY W. LOCHER

Locher-Corl rites held Saturday

The Saturday evening double ring ceremony which united June Louise Corl and Gary Wayne Locher in marriage was performed by the Rev Norman Beck, assisted by the Rev Ronald Corl, brother of the bride, at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church of Monroe. Mrs Ronald Corl was her sister-in-law's soloist singing "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer" accompanied by Mrs George Whitaker on the organ.

The bride's parents are Mr and Mrs Kinsey E. Corl of 925 Adams Street, Monroe. Mr and Mrs Max L. Locher of 9443 S. DeWitt Road, DeWitt, are the parents of the groom.

The bride wore a floor length gown of satin peau de soie. It was designed with an empire waistline, long sleeves, with a bow at the back which secured her detachable chapel length train. Alencon lace and pearls decorated the bodice and sleeves. An open cluster of orange blossoms and pearls held her elbow-length, veiling of French silk illusion. She carried a free-flowing cascade of white daisy chrysanthemums with a detachable corsage of white orchids and sweetheart roses, accented dracena-sanderiana.

MRS LAVERNE Rothman was her sister's matron of honor in a floor length, empire waist gown of Tahiti and petal pink. It was designed with a Venice lace bodice and a crepe skirt with Venice lace trim cascading down the back. A headpiece of flowers and petals secured her four-tier veiling of French illusion. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisy pom-pom chrysanthemums, tinted pink and coral sweetheart roses accented with a Tahiti pink ribbon.

Miss Pat Kettinger was the maid of honor and Mrs Harold Arendt, sister of the bride and Miss Gail Lambert were the bridesmaids. They wore gowns and headpieces identical to those of the matron of honor. They also carried colonial bouquets of pink tinted daisy pom-poms with ribbons to accent their dresses.

Randy Locher, brother of the groom, served as best man. The groomsmen were Pfc. Keith Thurston of Ft. Carson, Colo., William Tommelein of Ann Arbor and Larry Coloando of Fort Wayne. Guests were seated by Douglas Eldridge of St. Johns and Frank Rose of DeWitt. The ringbearer was Brian Rothman, nephew of the bride.

FOR HER daughter's wedding, Mrs Corl chose a light pink bonded crepe sheath with a lace bodice. She wore a pink lace trimmed hat and matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a parsley imported silk princess style gown with long sleeves and matching mandarin coat. Her accessories were of the same color. Both mothers wore corsages of cymbidium orchids.

A reception for 350 guests followed immediately after the ceremony at Hickory Park Hall in Temperance. Serving the 3-tiered wedding cake made of nine individual hearts, were Mrs William Knabusch and Mrs William Bjeslow, sisters of the bride and Mrs Marion Janssens and Miss Pat Bickling. Mrs Robert Smith, Mrs Jerry Hardman and Mrs Vernon Kowalk, aunt and cousins of the groom, served the groom's cake and coffee. Misses Vicki Corl and Pam Knabusch, nieces of the bride, were in charge of the guest book. Host and Hostess for the wedding were the groom's godparents, Mr and Mrs Dow Gillison of Lansing.

The honored guest was the bride's grandmother, Mrs Minnie Plath.

THE NEW MRS Locher graduated from Monroe High School and attended Monroe Community College. She graduated from University of Detroit and is employed at the Institute of Social Research of the University of Michigan.

Her husband graduated from Rodney B. Wilson High School and Ferris State College. He now attends Cleary College in Ypsilanti as a full-time student and is employed by the Ford Motor Co, there.

After a northern honeymoon the newlyweds will reside at 3375 S. Michigan Avenue, Lot 91, Ypsilanti.

Miss Roof feted

Miss Pamela Jean Roof has been the guest of honor at two recent bridal showers.

Thursday evening, Sept. 7, the home of Mrs Delbert H. Conklin of 404 S. Ottawa Street, St. Johns, was the scene of a linen shower for Miss Roof. The 15 guests present were co-workers of the bride-elect at the Clinton County News, members of the bridal party, the mother of the bride—to-be and the mother of the future bridegroom. Miss Roof was presented with a yellow and white chrysanthemum corsage from Miss Kathy Salter.

THE SISTERS of the bride-elect, Mrs William Irer, Mrs Paul Ritz and Mrs Terrance Reynolds, hosted a miscellaneous shower Sunday afternoon which was attended by 26 family members. A yellow, green and brown color scheme was used for the affair held at the home of Mrs Irer. Mrs Donald Pratt cut the cake and Mrs Robert Pratt served the coffee.

Miss Roof, the daughter of Mr and Mrs Paul W. Roof of St. Johns, will become the bride of Clifford M. Martens of R-2, DeWitt, Sept. 23.

ArtCarved WEDDING RINGS

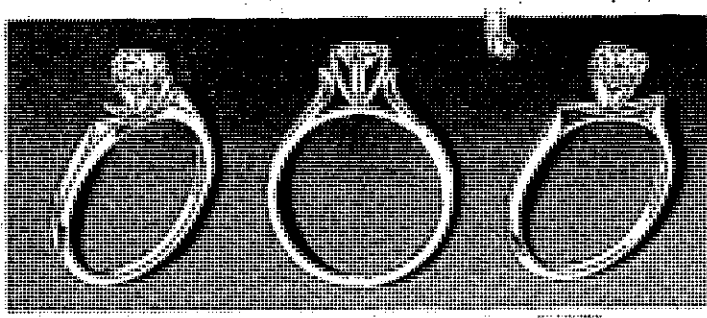

That's a good question.

Traditionally, the bride has always had a good deal to say about the choice of wedding bands, although etiquette decrees that the groom buys them.

Today, with the increasing popularity of matched sets for both bride and groom, a girl's style preference and a guy's concern for price and quality don't always match up.

To solve that problem and to avoid any chance of disagreement come in together and see our ArtCarved collection today.

ArtCarved offers a wide range of styles from stunning sculptures and facets to soft florentines and hammered textures... backed by a proud heritage of over 117 years of dedicated ring-making craftsmanship.

'Friends of Library' group being formed

To bring about growth in the support and service potential of Bement Public Library, a St. Johns chapter of the Friends of the Library is being established.

A nation-wide organization, Friends seeks to encourage understanding and appreciation of the work of the library and help in the future development of the community which it serves.

The organization is also instrumental in obtaining bequests and gifts of books, manuscripts and other appropriate materials such as works of art, rare books, musical recordings and magazines, for each public library with which it is affiliated.

THE LOCAL CHAPTER, just recently begun and already receiving the enthusiastic support of the library board, will hold an organizational meeting Thursday, Sept. 21, at 7:30 p.m.

The chairman of the charter group is Mrs. R. W. Sleight. Members include Mrs. Roy David, Mrs. Lawrence Fish, Mrs. Cerelda Hicks, Mrs. Van Hoag, Mrs. K. L. Jones, Mrs. James Post, Mrs. Leo Pouch, Mrs. William Richards Sr., Mrs. John Rumbaugh, Mrs. Joseph Spouta, Mrs. Marion Walling and Mrs. Brandon White.

Men and women alike are invited to attend the organizational meeting and become part of an active effort to build Bement Public Library into a more effective and superior source of civic service.

Mr and Mrs William Merrill of Port Huron were recent guests of Mr and Mrs Howard Dennis.

By STANLEY WEBER, CCN Staff Writer

The official unveiling of a new football season will occur this coming Friday night when many state high school teams, including all those in Clinton County, take to the gridiron.

Who will be the champions, the contenders and the also-rans when the final whistle is blown in November has yet to be decided on the playing turf and in the record books.

But this has in no way inhibited the fans, players and coaches alike from indulging in that favorite pastime known as pre-season prognostication.

FOR THE PAST FEW weeks the teams, their weaknesses and their strengths, have been weighed, quantified and qualified and then predictions made as to how they will finish compared with one another.

Whether these predictions stand like the Rock of Gibraltar or fall like a house of straw, only testing under actual game conditions and time will tell.

Yet the coaches, although they too enjoy playing the guessing game, must go beyond the pollsters and their somewhat oversimplified prophecies and clichés.

IN PRACTICE, as the players tune up for the long, hard grind ahead, it is the coach who must evaluate and scrutinize. It is he who must find the square peg that fits into the round hole.

The coach is on the hot spot, for next in importance to fielding a team is fielding a winning team.

How successfully the man in the coaching position is able to fulfill that expectation depends of course on his experience with the game, his ability to communicate and to lead and, just as important, his familiarity with other competing teams — whether from first-hand observation or through the reports of scouts.

It is on the latter point that three of the county varsity football mentors already have a strike against them.

GARY ROBERTS is the new coach at DeWitt High School; William Marks is beginning his first year at the P-W coaching helm and Al Fisher is the first-year mentor at Fulton High School.

Whether these three men can overcome the first-year handicap remains to be seen.

But the obstacles don't stop there. More and more will have to be overcome by the coaches and the players now and after the playing season begins.

To the team that jells the quickest will come the honors and TRYING TO BETTER their won-lost record this year will be the Ovid - Elsie Marauders, coached by Mark O'Donnell.

The school's "11" competed for the first time last year in the Mid-Michigan 'B' League and ended with a mark of 1-2-2 in conference play and 2-2-5 overall.

Returning this year are 13 lettermen, led by the tri-captains of the '67 season—Don Wilson, L. D. Jones and Jerry Gazda.

The offensive and defensive alignments for the Marauders has not as yet been set by O'Donnell. But he is not alone, for every coach in the county is in the same situation.

COMPETITION FOR the first string at nearly every position on the O-E squad remains intense.

Looking real good for O'Donnell is the offensive line, coached by Robert Foreback. The guard and tackle slots particularly have a lot of heft and depth. Backfield coach Joe Thering will have tested players at every position.

"The team looks sound and should come along if there aren't any injuries," O'Donnell said.

THE FULTON HIGH Pirates will be led this year by all-star Randy VanSickle, who was the top scorer in the area last season with 132 points and 21 touchdowns to his credit. VanSickle, a senior, will play one of the halfback positions for Fulton mentor Al Fisher.

The '66 Pirate squad was one of the tri-champs, along with Portland and Central Montcalm in the newly established Tri-Central Conference. Each team chalked up a league record of 5-1 and Fulton finished the year at 6-2.

IN ADDITION to VanSickle, Fisher and his assistant, Chuck Polling (he is varsity backfield coach), will have five additional lettermen returning this year.

With the obvious inexperience that will dominate his team, it was no surprise when Fisher described the coming season by replying, "It will be tough."

But he was quick to add, "Whenever we play, they will know they had a ballgame against Fulton."

The big surprise in area football competition last year was the impressive 6-2 record churned out by the Bath "11".

BATH, ALONG WITH the remaining Clinton County squads is a member of the Central Michigan Athletic Conference (CMAC), now beginning its second year of organized competition.

The BHS Bees had all but the conference crown wrapped up when they ran into the high-flying Fowler Eagles in the last game of the season, losing 25-12.

Back from the "cinderella" team are 12 lettermen, led by captain Terry Barnard, senior guard, and Elias David, senior quarterback. Barnard was selected as second team all-conference guard last year.

Though by no means destitute of good experienced players, coach Ron Skorich still considers his offensive line and backfield the vulnerable part of his team.

"WHAT WE ARE going to do offensively, that will be the question," Skorich bemoaned.

"We are pretty strong defensively," Skorich commented. He has two big boys to anchor his line at the tackle slots—Gary Resdon, a 265-pound senior and Russ Ordiway, 210-pound senior.

Skorich, in the opening contest with Dansville High School Friday at 8 p.m., hopes to field a varsity squad of 27 fellows.

When asked to pick the team or teams to beat in the CMAC this year, Skorich answered, "Fowler would have to be the one to beat . . . they have a football winning tradition."

COMMENTING further, Skorich said, "St. Pat's has a real good backfield, and if their line comes through they'll be real strong."

Skorich also praised the potential of the Potteryville club.

"Our major weakness is that we've never had a winner/over here at P-W," coach William Marks said when describing the football outlook in "Pirate" country.

Marks, along with assistant coach Ken Christensen, have a lot of gaping holes to fill in the team ranks. Whether they have the materials among the 27 members of the football varsity to do this with is doubtful.

THE BIG GUN for the P-W Pirates in '67 will be Jim Bengel, who last year was honored as an all-conference linebacker.

The football horizons at P-W look pretty bleak. But, optimistically, Marks injected, "I would say we'll do better than we did last year."

Possibly one of the better small high school football squads in the state last year was the Eagles of Fowler High School.

SPORTING A 7-0 record going into the last game of the season (this one for all the marbles), the Eagles romped over the only remaining contender for the league championship, Bath, and in process became FHS's second undefeated, untied team along with the 1963 grid-gang.

This year, according to coach Blaine Douglas, the team has another goal—that of staying out of the basement of the league standings.

"It looks as if it will be a tough goal to meet," Douglas added.

EXCEPT FOR THREE slots, all of the positions on last year's team belonged to seniors. This year a total of seven lettermen are back to offer their services, and of these, only three were starters last season.

George Goerge is the Eagle quarterback, and it is to him that the rest of the squad members will be looking for leadership.

Also helping to carry the team will be two other seniors—Stan

Pohl at tackle and Martin Miller at guard.

"I feel that our biggest weakness this year will be our defense," Douglas offered. "We don't have one starting defensive ball player returning from last year's squad."

AND WITH THEIR first game with Fulton—a team boasting the fabulous VanSickle and a loser to Fowler last year by 7-6 score—just days away, it looks like a rough start for the Fowler club.

Douglas, in judging the league race this year, sees a four-way battle between Potteryville, St. Pat's, Bath and Webberville, with Potteryville the probable winner.

"With all-league quarterback Hinz back, and with the most game-tested line, I pick Potteryville as the team to beat," Douglas emphatically stated.

Like Fowler, another heavily laden senior football team last year was the Laingsburg squad.

THE WOLFPACK, coached by John Connolly, has only nine lettermen returning for the non- (See LOTS OF IF'S, Page 10-A)

St. Johns football Coach Bill Smiley (left) listens in as players call a new play in the huddle during a practice session late last week.

1st cross country meet next Tuesday at country club

While most athletic attention this fall is focused on football, 11 other athletes at St. Johns High School are working out daily for cross country competition which starts next Tuesday.

The sport, long established but seldom played in the public eye, involves a two-mile run by athletes over usually rolling or even hilly terrain. Scores are calculated according to the order of finish by each runner, and the team with the low score wins the meet.

The cross country team of Coach Linden Lade has been running as much as five to 10 miles each night in preparation for the first meet with Mt. Pleasant Sept. 19 at the Clinton County Country Club.

ELEVEN BOYS ARE OUT for the team, and of the three veterans, only one — senior Armando Rositas — is a letter winner. He's the captain of the team this year.

"Now that school has gotten under way, I have hopes of getting a few willing and able boys from the new freshmen class," Coach Lade says.

The team will be seeking to improve further on last year when they won three of their meets. Helping out Rositas in the long-distance running this year will be veterans Victor Holcomb, a junior, and Dick Price, a sophomore.

Out for cross country for the first time this year are senior Sid Lounds, juniors Lee Schavey and Mike Heuer and sophomores Tom Hungerford, Dennis Schultheiss, Jon Pierson, Frank Makl and Gary Markman.

At the present time 11 meets are scheduled, and Coach Lade hopes invitational meets may be added to give the younger boys the opportunity and experience of real competition.

KNOWLEDGE OF THE cross country sport is not widespread, Lade pointed out, and this results in his major concern:

"It is difficult to encourage young men to participate in an unexciting, unsupported athletic event which has only the concern of those individuals who are directly participating," he said.

"Cross country is not a time-lighting opportunity like football—at least not here, not yet."

"It takes a real athlete to go out and run five to 10 miles each night knowing that only his few teammates and his coach really care... furthermore, that they are the only ones that will ever know."

Five out of the seven top runners from last year are gone this year, but Lade is hopeful the squad can rebuild.

Redwings have good depth, good prospects for 'repeat'

Opener tough!

Two of the St. Johns Redwings' toughest games this year — in Coach Bill Smiley's estimation — will be the first two of the year against Mason and Greenville.

Both will be in St. Johns. The Mason opener will be played this Friday night at 8 p.m. at the city park athletic field.

Mason reportedly walloped Waverly in a weekend scrimmage, and with a psychological edge of revenge a defeat last year, the Bulldogs could be real tough.

They'll be big, too, both in the line and in the backfield, and they'll have an edge in speed. "If they're up for the game we'll have our hands full," Smiley said.

As of Monday, the Redwings have managed to stay healthy, with no injuries threatening a full-strength showing Friday night.

of quality in their running attack from last year and emphasis will be on passing, Smiley's efforts will include a balanced ground attack.

Junior full back Mike Green has given a steady performance at that position during the first two weeks of drills, and he'll be getting running help from senior Bob Cochran.

JOHN MARKMAN, a 154-pound senior, will likely get the nod as starting left halfback, if only because of a year's experience over juniors Kurt Hildorf and Chuck Romig and senior Cary Hambleton. All four boys still have a shot at the starting berth.

On the other side of the backfield, John Salemi has the most experience at right half (he's a 143-pound senior) and has been performing well in practice. He'll likely get the starting nod, although Maier has been showing up well, and senior Brent Law and Dave Howe are looking good.

In the line seniors Ken Kurnez (174 pounds) and Ken Jakus (220 pounds) hold a big key to the Redwings' success this year. They'll be at right and left tackle, respectively, and Smiley said he is expecting the play at tackle to be a lot better than it was last year. Backing up the tackle starters will be Doug Thurston.

TOM RADEMACHER, a 162-pound senior who was in the backfield last year, now looks like a starter as left guard this season. Prospective starter at right guard is Joe Kielen, a 168-pound senior.

Center Dave Peck, a 208-pound senior, played a number two man last year behind all-conference Rick Liszewski. Smiley says Peck has shown tremendous effort this year and will get the starting nod, although junior Craig Bartholomew is putting up a fine show.

What it boils down to—and what makes Smiley perhaps more enthusiastic this early—is that the Redwings appear to have more depth this year than in past seasons. "There's only 11 spots out there," he said in looking over the lineup, "for all these guys."

DEFENSIVELY, Smiley thinks the Redwings will be much better this season. "I expect we'll be better because of experience and a little bit of size."

The defensive size includes Jakus at 220 pounds, Peck at 208, Rick Moore (a junior) at 258, and Love at 184 pounds. On defense the possibilities are Love will be at end; Howe and Salemi or Hildorf at halfbacks; Markman or Maier at safety; Green, Rademacher or Hart as linebackers; Jakus at end; and Moore, Molnet, Peck, or 173-pound senior Steve Rennells at guards.

The sparrow hawk is so named, because of its size and not its diet, which consists mainly of large insects and small rodents.

West Central OKs Waverly as new member

Waverly High School will replace Greenville in the ranks of the West Central Conference during the 1968-69 school year.

The announcement was made Monday night following the league meeting in Ionia. Greenville is dropping out of the conference at the end of the current school year. The schools of the conference accepted Waverly as the replacement. They'll compete in all conference sports.

Members of the West Central Conference now are St. Johns, Hastings, Greenville, Alma, Charlotte, Lakewood, Ionia and Grand Ledge.

Jaycees offering football programs

The St. Johns Jaycees will again this year sell football programs at St. Johns' five home football games. The 28-page program will contain lineups for the game as well as individual pictures of the players, team pictures, action shots and other pictures of the band and cheerleaders.

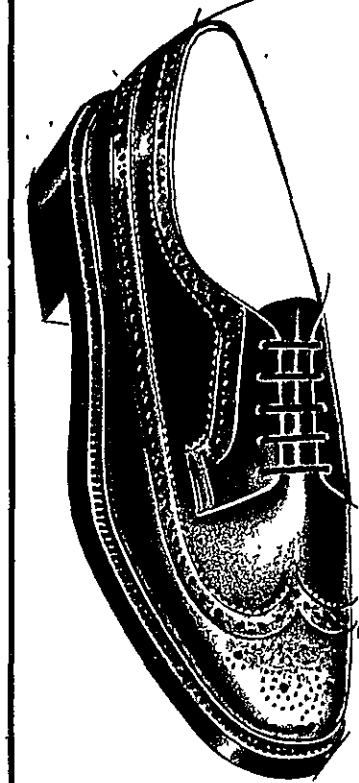

The price of the program has been raised this year, to meet production costs and to insure successful carrying out of Jaycee projects that include sponsorship of Little League, co-sponsorship of Punt, Pass and Kick and the Soap Box Derby, and other projects. All proceeds from the sale of the program and the advertising in it go toward those Jaycee projects, President Jack Downing pointed out.

Mr and Mrs Chester Davis of Tucson, Ariz., and Miss Rita Washburn were Sunday dinner guests of Mr and Mrs Don Craig and family.

The Middlebury Extension group will meet Monday evening, Sept. 18, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs Florence Garber. All members are urged to be present to help make plans for the coming year.

John Craig, who has been accepted into the Michigan State University Marching Band, left Sunday to begin working out with the band. He will begin his academic work at MSU the following week.

The first meeting of the fall season of the Middlebury MYF will be held at the church Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m.

Mr and Mrs Russell Potter were hosts to the Burton Farmers Club Thursday evening, Sept. 7, at the Middlebury Church. About 25 members and guests enjoyed the cooperative supper. The business session was conducted by the president, Russell Potter. The Charles Posters were program chairmen for the evening and they introduced Carl Sexton who showed slides of his recent trips to Expo 87 and to the western part of the United States.

Tour travels M-21 on Sept. 21

Hundreds of old cars coming here

"Notice! During the day of July 14, 1909, exercise care to keep unattended children, pets and livestock off the highway. Automobiles will pass through your town in the annual Glidden Tour. Participants will not exceed the legal speed limit on any road."

So read a typical sign posted along the route of an early Glidden Tour. It was a warning that something special was in store for the town that day. It also was a plea for cooperation.

Although no signs will be up along M-21, it will be a special day for residents along the mid-county trunkline, including St. Johns. The Glidden Tour of about 250 antique automobiles will make its first visit in history to central and western Michigan from Sept. 18 to 22, and it will pass along M-21 on its way from Grand Rapids to Flint.

THE ORIGINAL Glidden Tours, sponsored by the American Automobile Association, were conducted between 1905-13 to prove to the public that automobiles were not merely rich men's toys but were a practical and reliable means of transportation.

The tours were abandoned after 1913 because they had served their purpose. Thirty-three years went by and then they were revived by the Antique Automobile Club of America as a sentimental gesture and for fun.

But the revived tours have proved bigger in every way than the original. Sponsored in alternate years by the AACA and the Veteran Motor Car Club of America, the participants tour various sections of the country in a festive mood, using restored vintage cars from the turn of the century through 1929. This is the first time that the revived Glidden Tour has visited out-state Michigan.

The Automobile Club of Michigan has planned a route over state highways with the least traffic for the Gliddenites so that the slower vehicles will not hamper modern-day cars.

CONFETTI WAS thrown from a lead car on the original Glidden Tours to mark the route for the participants. Auto Club will use special red and white printed signs to point the way for the 1967 tourers.

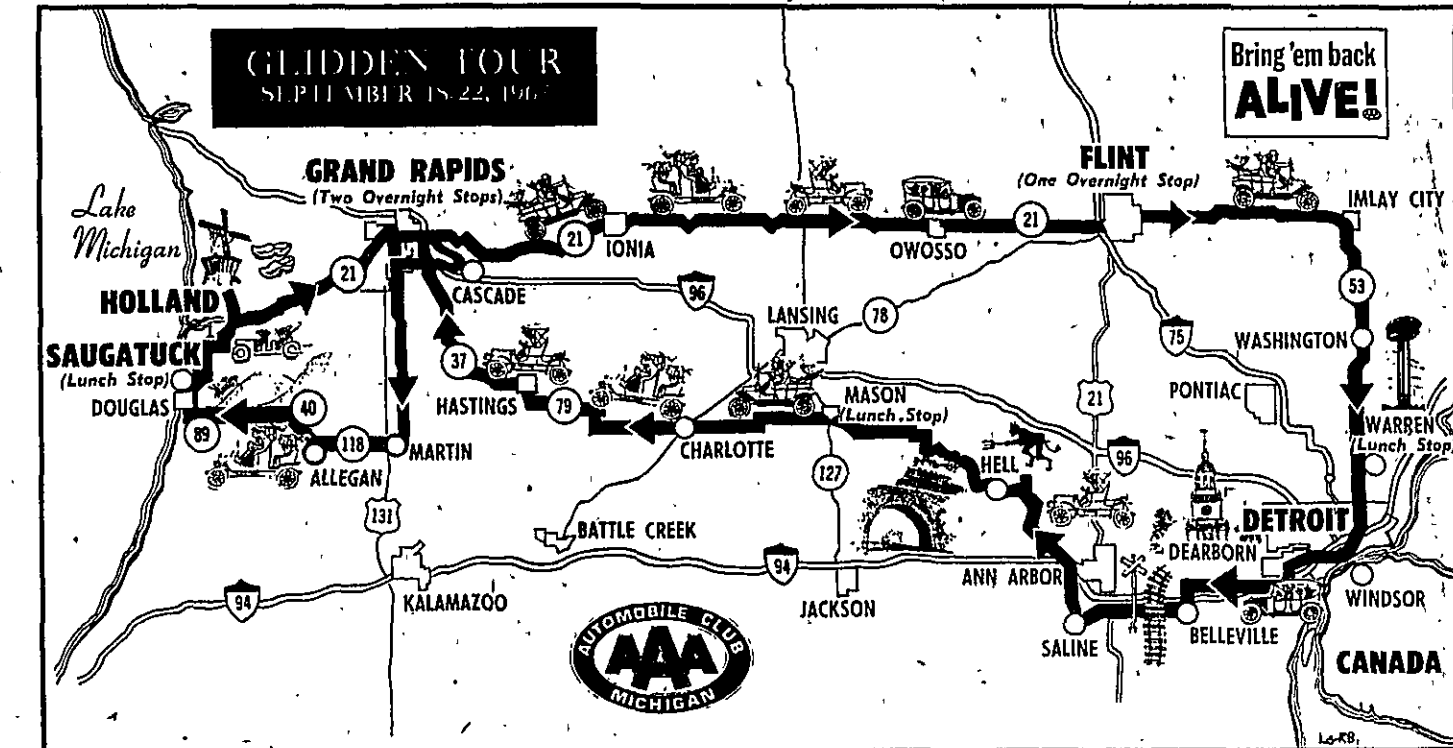

Many of the Glidden entries will take part in the 17th annual Old Car Festival at Greenfield Village, in Dearborn, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 16 and 17, the nation's largest meet for antique cars. The 1967 festival is expected to attract some 350 cars from the midwest, east and south.

Leslie R. Henry, curator of transportation at Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village, is general chairman of the 1967 Glidden Tour. Henry, one of the country's leading authorities on antique automobiles, is a vice-president of the Antique Automobile Club of America, largest antique car organization in the world with more than 21,000 members.

After a "crank-up" dinner Sunday night in Detroit, the Glidden tourists will visit Windsor, Ont., in their cars on Monday.

ON TUESDAY THE tour begins. The 540-mile route starts at Greenfield Village, goes through Belleville, Hell, Mason, Charlotte, Nashville, Hastings and on to Grand Rapids for the first overnight stop. This is the longest leg of the tour, covering around 188 miles. Tour headquarters in Grand Rapids will be the Pantlind Hotel.

The next day the Gliddenites

The famous Glidden Tour of antique automobiles will make Central Michigan its touring grounds Sept. 18-22, and the tour of about 250 antique cars is scheduled to pass through St. Johns on M-21. According to the plan, the cars will be here sometime the afternoon of Sept. 21. The cars will be spread out at intervals over the route.

will make a circle tour, through Wayland to Douglas and Saugatuck on Lake Michigan and back through Holland to Grand Rapids for a second night.

An early start the third day will put the tourists in Flint that night. Enroute they will go through Ada, Lowell, Ionia, St. Johns and Owosso, covering about 111 miles. They will stay that night at the Durant Hotel.

Friday the tour will head back to Detroit by way of Lapeer, Ionia, Ionia, Utica and a stop for lunch at the General Motors Technical Center in Warren. The tour will end with the awards banquet that night at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Detroit.

THE GLIDDEN TOUR participants will not travel in a caravan when they leave Detroit but will spread out at intervals over the route. Departures are based on the driving time of the cars. The slowest, with a top speed of 28 miles an hour, will require eight to 10 hours for the trip to Grand Rapids.

conference opener against Byron Friday.

"The lack of size and speed will be weakness of ours," Connelly noted. This situation is quite a contrast from former Lainsburg clubs, which had been particularly recognized for possessing both size and speed. Lainsburg High was considered one of the better if not the best ball club in the CMAC last year. Yet at season's end, the gridders touted a 3-4-1 record.

"We hope to do better," Connelly said. "I think we can do it . . . if we can make up for a lack of physical size and numbers."

THE BASIS FOR such optimism comes because of the Wolfpack defensive line, anchored by senior Roy Halcomb, a 280 pound middle guard.

Looking at the conference race, Connelly conjectured, "Right now, it appears to be Portland St. Pat's. They had the best ball club at the end of the season."

The DeWitt Panthers, still reeling from a 0-8 season last year, are almost sure to improve this season. How much remains to be seen.

Said Gary Roberts, coach, "They (the team members) will surprise a few people. We are building, but probably a year away."

TO HELP HIM build, Roberts will have the assistance of Tom Isanhart, the last football all-star from DeWitt, who will work out with the ends and tackles.

Frank Deak, formerly of the St. Pat's coaching staff, was hired to train the center and guards.

The leaders among the players will be the co-captains Mike Shooltz and Bill Ballard. Shooltz is stationed at left tackle and Ballard is the right end.

The team is well-balanced, but we lack depth, Roberts said. "I feel we got a pretty good backfield."

ROBERTS TOO THINKS the CMAC race will go down to the wire. "I don't think anybody is going to get through with less than two losses."

Although cars as late as 1929 are permitted to participate, only cars of the Glidden era, 1905-13, are eligible for the top award, a miniature of the original AAA-Glidden trophy, and other prizes. The original Glidden trophy is on display at AAA headquarters in Washington.

As on the original Glidden Tours, today's judges aren't as tough, however, and the awards will be based on reliability and general performance instead of a race against the clock.

While car trouble along the route probably will be minimal, Auto Club will cover the entire route with its Emergency Road Service just to assure a safe trip for all.

THE MODERN GLIDDEN Tours started in 1946, the year of Maps of counties available from state

The State Highway commission's most popular publication is the official state highway map. But it also publishes hundreds of other maps, and many of them are available to the public.

Among the best sellers—especially with sportsmen—are detailed maps of each of Michigan's 83 counties. These black-and-white maps come in two sizes—three-eighths of an inch to the mile and on inch to the mile.

The actual size of the three-eighths inch map is 13 by 18 inches, while the one-inch-to-a-mile map is 36 by 42 inches in size.

The county maps show all state highways and most county roads. In addition, they show section and township lines, airports, railroads, and lakes and streams.

The small county maps sell for 25 cents each or $10 for an entire set of all counties. The large county maps are 75 cents each.

the auto industry's Golden Jubilee. Since then, the tours have covered parts of Pennsylvania, Indiana, Colorado, West Virginia, New York, Ohio, Florida, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Virginia and Ontario.

The Glidden Tours of 1905-13 are regarded today as one of the classics of early motoring.

In 1904, the American Automobile Association sponsored a run from New York to St. Louis for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, a distance of 1,218 miles. Fifty-nine cars reached St. Louis.

During the tour, Charles J. Glidden, a participant and member of the committee, offered a $2,000 trophy to the AAA to sponsor a competition for automobiles. Glidden, a wealthy industrialist, made motoring his hobby.

Glidden's name was first used on the 1905 tour. The trip covered 870 miles, from New York to Bretton Woods, N.H., and return. Twenty-five cars of the 33 that started finished.

THE 1909 TOUR started from Detroit amid much fanfare and went 2,636 miles to Kansas City by way of Denver. Going to Chicago, the route went near some of the roads which will be covered by the 1967 Gliddenites. As on some of the earlier runs, Pierce-Arrow cars dominated the 1909 tour and posted the only perfect scores.

The tour was canceled in 1912 due to lack of interest, but revived with more fanfare than ever the following year. Among the features was a hotel train which accompanied the tourists and offered a mobile garage.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bancroft and family were dinner guests of his parents Sunday, to celebrate his birthday. Miss Adele Zamaron was also a guest. Afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Blank of Williamston and Mrs. Mildred Matthews of Texas. Miss Bonnie Bancroft returned with her parents after spending the weekend with her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Orrison Bailey and Sgt. and Mrs. Darryl Stanley and son called on Mr. and Mrs. George Brown of Grand Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Schmidt of Grand Haven. On the way they enjoyed a picnic dinner and viewed the Falls Burg covered bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Orrison Bailey, Mrs. Ruth Cludy and Sgt. and Mrs. Darryl Stanley were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Podalak Saturday evening.

G. H. Mac Laren of Charlotte spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Ruth Cludy.

The Volunteer Firemen and their families had a steak roast and picnic at the fire hall Sunday. The weather was too chilly to have it in the park as was planned. All the children were treated to rides on the fire-truck in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Bancroft attended the golden wedding celebration for Mr. and Mrs. John Jorden of Ithaca Sunday.

Road Commission Weekly Report

Administrative officials of the road commission attended the governor's regional Traffic Safety conference on Monday of this week. Various workshops were conducted on education, enforcement, highways and licensing. Laws and programs of 1967 were discussed as well as top priorities for the programs of 1968.

At the bid opening last regular meeting, the contract for September and October requirements of gasoline had to be awarded by a toss of a coin when there turned out to be a tie on low bids. Marathon Oil Co. and Standard Oil Co. submitted identical bids and the coin toss gave the contract to Standard. Decisions on the equipment bids were postponed until next regular meeting. The board voted to hold the next regular meeting on Friday, Sept. 15 as the county officials' session of the American Road Builders conference takes place on Sept. 18.

In addition to equipment purchases other items to be discussed at the Sept. 15 meeting are plans and plat specifications and construction plans for next year.

Communities Chest goal set at $27,000

A $27,000 goal has been set for this year by the Clinton County Communities Chest board.

The goal is $500 higher than last year and about $3,500 more than was actually received in donations last year.

Agencies involved in the Communities Chest this year, and the amounts budgeted under the $27,000 figure, are:

Michigan United Fund, $5,900.
Michigan Children's Aid Society, $600.
Red Cross, $10,000.
St. Vincent DePaul Society, $1,000.
Lansing Mental Health, $700.

Salvation Army, $2,200.
Boy Scouts, $3,700.
Girl Scouts, $2,100.
Chamber-4-H Fair, $500.

THREE HUNDRED dollars is budgeted for operations of the Communities Chest campaign this year.

The board will meet Sept. 20 to decide on the dates of the 1967 drive and to name chairmen of various divisions. Mrs. Marie Thelen is president of the Clinton County Communities Chest this year.

New speed measuring unit in use

The Michigan State Police have begun speed law enforcement with the use of a new mechanical speed measuring device known as "Vascar," Col. Frederick E. Davids announced.

One of these timing units is now being used in the department's first district with headquarters at East Lansing and the area covered is Ingham, Eaton and Clinton counties.

Subsequently the department plans to have 20 of the Vascar units on a selective enforcement basis throughout the state, Davids said. Troopers are specially trained to use the device.

THE DEVICE enables officers to accurately measure the speed of vehicles in front of or behind them, those approaching from the opposite direction and those crossing their paths. It permits speed checking day and night and generally in any kind of weather. It can be used whether the patrol car is moving or parked.

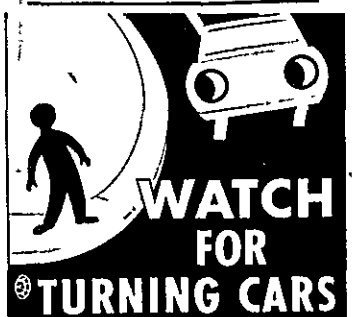

The Vascar unit, an abbreviation of "visual average speed and computer and recorder," performs three mechanical functions: It accurately measures distance, records time and then computes the mile per hour rate.

The self-contained device, about the size of a cigar box, is mounted in the patrol car linked to the speedometer cable. Tests have shown it can be so accurately calibrated that its margin of error in the 30 to 100 mile an hour range is no more than a mile and a half per hour. The principle of operation is based on the formula that distance divided by time equals speed.

IT CLOCKS THE speed of vehicles by measuring the distance between two fixed markers or reference points along or on a highway and the time taken by the vehicles to traverse this selected distance. Markers may be bridges, signs, guard rails, utility poles, even cracks or expansion joints in pavement, almost any stationary object.

Prosecutors and court officials in the area where first use of the device will be made have been briefed in its operation.

The state police are one of the first departments in the nation to use this speed measuring device. One of its advantages is that the patrol car does not have to speed up to match the speed of a car ahead in order to check on how fast it is going.

SUCCESSFUL BEAR HUNTER SHOWS STRIPES

Some successful bear hunter who shot and brought his bear home showed the kind of stripes he wears when he ditched his catch into Stoney Creek from Lowell Road, on the Stephen Yurco farm. The bear was found by Jean Ferden and her younger brother and sister who had been swimming in the neighborhood swimming hole about 50 feet below where the bear was abandoned. This hunter's trophy, in all probability, became a little ripe by the time he returned home and rather than bury it he simply ditched it, not caring where or on whose property. The animal was picked up and disposed of by Earl Goff, Clinton County conservation officer last Saturday.

Tours, film, ZIP lists planned at post office here

Postmaster J. D. Robinson announced plans today for a local celebration of Postal Services next Tuesday, Sept. 19.

In addition to a number of events designed to tell the vital role the St. Johns Post Office plays in St. Johns, city and rural carriers will dramatize the day by distributing kits made up of eight postal cards which will enable St. Johns residents to update their mailing lists by having ZIP Codes added.

Each completed card will be sent to the post office which serves the address needing a code. There, the proper five-digit number will be added before the form is returned to the owner, Postmaster Robinson explained. "No postage will be needed."

"I FEEL THAT a day dedicated to the importance of the Postal System in our growing city will be of considerable public value. Unfortunately, many of the services we offer today are little-known to the public. A discussion with city officials and service clubs prompted me to announce the local observance of a day in which all St. Johns can become more intimately aware of the services provided by St. Johns post office's employees.

"They felt," the postmaster explained, "that many of the advantages of our city have been advertised often, but rarely have we directed attention to the excellent postal facilities St. Johns provides."

He noted that the St. Johns post office this year is marking its 115th year of public service, having started in 1852.

"LOCALLY, the St. Johns post office today serves 15,000 people with 26 employees," he said. "Mail volume has now reached a total of over 3 million pieces annually. During the past year service has been expanded to provide delivery to a number of new city and rural homes."

The film "A Straight Line — Story of ZIP code" will be shown to both Exchange and Rotary clubs by the postmaster. All Clinton County postmasters are invited to view the film at the Rotary meeting Sept. 19. Conducted tours of the St. Johns Post Office will be given to all patrons, school classes, or any other interested groups on Sept. 19 at 10 a.m., 11 a.m. and 2 and 3 p.m.

Robinson feels that this will be an appropriate time to call attention to "the dedicated services of our employees, whose performance day in and day out is largely taken for granted."

Sewer plant man at DeWitt resigns

DeWITT—Kenneth Kelly, DeWitt sewer plant operator for two years, has resigned, and the city council has authorized the hiring of a replacement. Kelly told the council he is leaving the position to continue his formal schooling. Mailing of notices to 10 property owners ordering them to remove weeds from vacant lots or be fined for non-compliance with a city ordinance was authorized by the council last Tuesday night.

Coin show planned Sunday at Fenton

Area coin collectors are invited to attend a coin show Sunday, Sept. 17 at the Fenton Community Center, 150 South Leroy Street, Fenton. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Admission is free. Dealers from Detroit, Saginaw, Ypsilanti, Midland, Owosso, Cass City and other Michigan localities will be on hand to sell, buy and trade coins, answer questions and appraise coins.

COHO FISHING REAL GOOD FOR ST. JOHNS MEN

Everett Martin, Howard Marten and Charles Horman came back from Coho salmon fishing in Benzie County over the Labor Day weekend, and they had these prizes to show. The biggest catch was 14 pounds 2 ounces, and other fish hauled in amounted to 8 1/2 pounds, 4 pounds and two 1 1/2-pounders. The men were trolling in the lake at the mouth of the Platte River, using silver flat fish bait. They all live in the Riley area on R-4, St. Johns.

Mrs Bartholomew to head Bement Library board

Members of the Board of Bement Public Library met in the library Thursday evening, Sept. 7, for their annual meeting, electing Mrs Ladd Bartholomew president and Mrs Fraser MacKinnon secretary and treasurer.

Individual members of the board were appointed to act as consultants with the librarian in the following fields of library interest: book selection, Mrs Bartholomew and Anthony Kuntz; equipment and circulation, Mrs R. L. Wohlers; children's library and decor, Mrs Roger Feeman; business and personnel, Mrs MacKinnon.

Mrs Manning Brown, librarian, presented the annual report, noting a total circulation of 32,708 during the fiscal year of 1966-67. The library has a registration of 4,479 patrons, of which 2,429 live outside the city of St. Johns.

Expenses for the year totaled $12,961.13. Of that amount $4,417.00 was paid to the City of St. Johns for a pro-rata share of the maintenance expense of the municipal building and a pro-rata share of city administrative expense. Some $8,544.13 went for books, salaries, equipment, and operating expense of the library itself.

FOR THE FIRST time in its history the library has operated during fiscal year 1966-67 without any local tax support, and none is expected for 1967-68. Its chief source of income is from penal fines, which by Michigan constitutional law must go for the support of public libraries.

Penal fines for the last two years have been unusually generous, being $20,123.60 for 1966-67. Bement Library also received state aid to libraries in the amount of $281.45, book fines and rents totaling $285.69, interest from bonds of $101.45, and several money gifts for memorial books.

The library's money is kept in bank accounts separate from the city's general fund, but it is dispensed by city officers upon vouchers authenticated by the library board.

Penal fines of $23,162.49 were received this summer for the year 1967-68, making the library's present balance $51,379.82.

MISS ELIZABETH Lindsey, Consultant from the Michigan State Library for this district, is expected to meet with the library board at its next monthly meeting Oct. 6. At that time a Guests at the luncheon were Mrs. Collin McGregor and Miss Sheila McGregor of Mason, Mrs. Leslie Edmond and Crystal Hanson of Lansing, Mrs. Gary Hanson, Mrs. Lawrence Keck and Mrs. Baulat.

Mrs. William Walter and Mrs. Dan Putney and Joey of Drummond Island visited with Mr. and Mrs. Philip Walter this week.

Mr. and Mrs. William O'Shaughnessy returned Friday from a trip to Bermuda.

Mrs. Leo Hanson left Monday for Glasgow, Scotland, where she will visit Dr. and Mrs. Albert Christie and go on to Edinburgh and London. She will also visit Belgium, Germany, Austria, Liechtenstein, Switzerland and France before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ward had a telephone call last weekend from their son, Leonard, who is stationed in Viet Nam. He was on a rest leave in Singapore.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Soltow leave Thursday on a four day trip to Acapulco.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Coco of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Klebler of Houghton Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Klebler of Webb Road attended the Silver wedding in Grand Lodge Friday night, Sept. 8.

Bridgeville

By Mrs. Thelma Woodbury

Mr. and Mrs. John Woodbury were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jay DeLong of Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Rohn and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Glen McComber.

The Bridgeville Community Aid will serve a ham supper Friday, Sept. 22. Serving to begin at 5:30.

WIN THE $20⁰⁰ JACKPOT!
Clinton County News
FOOTBALL CONTEST

Join in the fun! You can win $20 cash, paid by The Clinton County News each week to the person who guesses the most winners of the high school and college football games listed on this page. Shop the ads and read the rules to find out how you can cash in!

1. Read every ad on this page. An important game will be listed in each ad for your selection.
2. On a separate sheet of paper, write the name of each merchant on this page and after his name, the name of the team you select as the winner of the game listed in his ad. List in sequence 1 to 20.
3. Be sure and print your name and address plainly on your entry.
4. Mail your entry to Contest Editor, The Clinton County News, St. Johns, before 6 p.m. Friday or deliver it personally to The Clinton County News office before 5 p.m. Friday. Mail must be postmarked no later than 6 p.m. Friday.
5. Contest winners will be announced each week in The Clinton County News.
6. Only one entry per person is allowed.
7. Remember—Your guesses plus the names of the merchants, must be on a SEPARATE sheet of paper . . . not on this page.
8. See copy at left for tie breaker.

Bands go to Chesaning Saturday

Marching bands from St. Johns High School and Ovid-Elsie High School will participate this Saturday in the sixth annual Central Michigan Invitational Marching Band Clinic and Parade of Bands at Chesaning.

A 10 a.m. parade through downtown Chesaning will kick off the day of education and enthusiasm for over 1,000 area bandmen.

The parade will be followed by clinic sessions for each individual band, conducted by William Root, director of the marching band at Ferris State College. Several members of the Bulldog Marching Band will assist Root. The big spectator attraction of the day is the parade of bands performance that starts at 7:30 p.m. on the Chesaning High School athletic field. It will feature individual shows by the participating bands, followed by a massed-band performance.

Admission to the parade of bands, as well as the other events of the day, is free.

In addition to St. Johns and Ovid-Elsie bands, other schools participating will be Chesaning, Breckenridge, Flushing, Linden, Davison, Corunna, Merrill, Swartz Creek and Buena Vista.

P-W adopts 9-week reporting period

PEWAMO - WESTPHALIA—The report card issuance period for P-W has been changed to a nine-week reporting period.

Report cards will be issued on the following dates: Nov. 8, 1967; Jan. 24, 1968; March 27, 1968; and May 31, 1968.

Mid-way between reporting periods, a special report will be mailed to the parents of the students who are doing "D" or failing work at that time.

Students are encouraged to check with their teachers at any time concerning their status in any given class.

Clinton communities facing sewerage problems

'Rapids seeks grants

MAPLE RAPIDS — The village of Maple Rapids will seek federal grants and loans to help in the financing of a lagoon type sewerage treatment for the community.

Village President Elston Hicks was authorized last Wednesday by the council to sign the application. The village is asking for a $298,800 grant from the Farmers Home Administration to cover cost of the collection part of the system and a $109,200 grant from the Federal Water Pollution Control Agency to cover cost of the treatment portion.

Because chances for receiving grants are slim, application was also made for a loan from F.H.A. Ralph Stadler of Williams and Works, a Grand Rapids engineering firm, told the council chances of receiving the grants are practically non-existent because funds presently aren't available from the two agencies.

STADLER DISCUSSED with the council preliminary engineering studies on Maple Rapids' sewer project. The recommendation made was for an eight-acre lagoon for treatment of wastes, sewer mains, a lift station and a force main.

Cost of the sewer portion of the project was estimated at about $239,000, with the ponds, lift station and force main to cost another $59,000. Land, legal, administration, engineering, inspection and miscellaneous costs would bring the total cost of the sewer project to about $408,000.

The Maple Rapids council also took steps to expand the water system. Councilmen authorized the purchase of 1,200 feet of pipe, fixture and other equipment for water main installation on Adelaide Street and other areas to be determined later — if the cost for pipe is still comparable to the $1.92-per foot paid last year. The work would be done by the village.

Use of the village hall for 13 Thursday evenings starting tonight for a Michigan State Police school for officers from Maple Rapids, Fulton Township and Ashley was approved by the council. Councilman Wendell Blomaster was asked to obtain cost estimates for installing a dropped acoustical ceiling in the village hall. The council's thought was that a lower ceiling would cut heat costs and noise.

Building permits were approved for: Kenneth LaBar to locate a house trailer at 211 Mill Street; Norman C. Klug for an addition to his home at 131 E. Mill Street; and James H. Stewart to remodel a home at 221 N. Mill Street.

Immunization clinic Sept. 20

The monthly free immunization clinic in Clinton County is scheduled for next Wednesday, Sept. 20 in St. Johns, the Mid-Michigan District Health Department announces.

The clinic will be from 1:30 to 4 p.m. in the basement of St. Joseph Catholic Church. Infants as well as adults are welcome. Children must be accompanied by an adult, since signed permission for each child is mandatory.

The clinic is free and will be held for immunization shots (including measles vaccine), vaccinations and tuberculin skin tests.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF

New football stadium press boxes are being built at Ovid-Elsie High School and Fowler High School in Clinton County. The Fowler Jaycees are building the one there, and are also equipping the field with a scoreboard.

Twenty-year service awards from General Telephone Co. have been given to Elsie Smith and Rhoda Russell, both working in St. Johns.

The Fowler Jaycees will host to the District 11 Jaycee fall board meeting Oct. 2.

USDA help for soil and water resource work in Crawford and Roscommon counties has been authorized by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman for the new Crawford-Roscommon Soil Conservation District.

DeWitt sewers called vital to township growth

VALLEY FARMS — The DeWitt Township Board passed two sewer bond ordinances, as expected, Monday evening following a public hearing that drew a good-sized crowd to the township hall.

Supervisor Reginald Nelson explained that the ordinances will allow the sale of bonds to help finance a township sewer system, a system he said will have the greatest impact on potential growth of the township.

Most of the hookups to the currently proposed system will be in the Valley Farms area north to Northerest Road. But Nelson sewer will certainly be a factor in what I think will be substantial commercial growth around the intersection.

Nelson said the population of DeWitt Township is expected to grow 100 per cent in the next 20 years, but he said a 10 per cent growth per year will be likely after a sewer system is put in.

"DeWitt Township is the only area open yet to growth around Lansing," he explained, pointing out that residential growth in other directions out of Lansing has extended well beyond the radius that would take in DeWitt Township.

A NEW SEWER SYSTEM will not only be a drawing card but will make the inevitable growth healthy and orderly, he said. A companion factor in Nelson's optimistic look at the township's growth possibilities is the current formation of a township planning commission, being set up to keep the growth from turning into chaos.

Although the sewer bond ordinances have been approved by the township board, they will remain subject to public petitions for a referendum for 30 days following the formal publication of the ordinances in the Clinton County News.

One of the ordinances provides for the sale of $1,650,000 in bonds, maturing in 40 years, to pay two-thirds of the cost of the sewer plant and interceptor line construction and one-half the cost of construction of the collector lines.

THE OTHER ORDINANCE is for special assessment bonds totaling $584,000, maturing in 20 years. The amount is about half of the total cost for constructing the collector system.

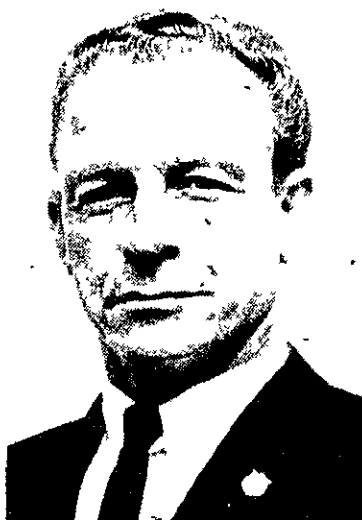

The total sewer project cost is figured at about $2,590,000. Federal funds totaling $346,000 will be applied for — and reportedly are available for DeWitt Township — to pay the portion of the costs that the bonds sales do not cover.

The treatment plant on Herblison Road at the Looking Glass River will be a secondary treatment plant capable of turning out discharge that's 90 per cent pure.

"It will be the most modern, updated, sophisticated treatment in the state, barring none," Nelson said.

The plant would be build to take care of 8,000 to 10,000 customers, although only about 3,500 would be connected as the system is built. The excess provides for considerable growth of the township before any additional facilities would be needed.

REGINALD NELSON

said the presence of the interceptor line from that point north-west to the proposed treatment plant on Herblison Road at the Looking Glass River should help spur growth.

"WITH THE TRUNK line starting at the south end of the township, it covers two-thirds of the strip commercial growth along US-27," Nelson said. "And it will pass within a half mile of the proposed intersection of US-27 and the extension of US-127 just north of Clark Road. The

Westphalia talks of sewer needs

WESTPHALIA—Nearly 100 townspeople jammed into this community's civic hall to witness and partake in the proceedings of the Village Council meeting last Tuesday night, Sept. 5.

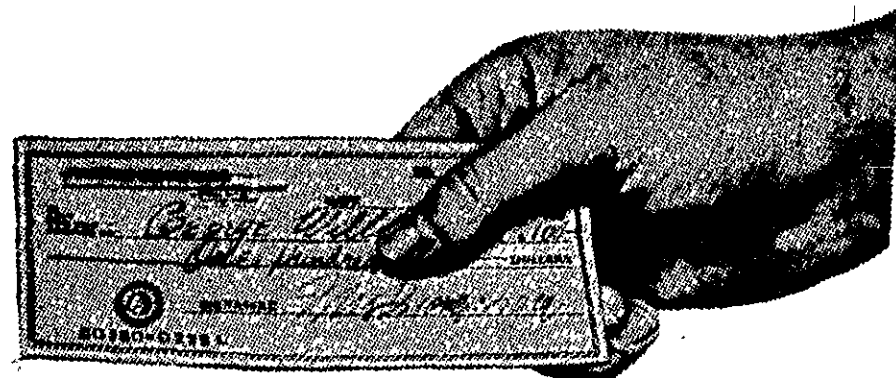

The discussion centered on the status of the village's sewerage facilities and the future needs of the system to meet an expanding in-city population.

It was finally decided that studies on a treatment facility be instituted, with the council taking the initiative in preparing cost estimates and recommendations.

THESE IN TURN would be regularly put before the electorate in a series of public meetings in lieu of a formal vote on the issue.

Village President Elvin Pohl noted that in 1964 similar studies indicated that from $400,000 to $500,000 would be needed to construct a treatment plant.

The people were warned by representatives of R.W. Petrie See WESTPHALIA, page 6-B

TAKE ME, DADDY

Little arms reach up. I stoop and lift the precious weight of baby son into my arms and smell his sweetness. Prayers of praise and thanks fill my heart.

Cuddling him close, I remember the night of his birth when Mary and I were told that our baby could not live until daybreak. How we prayed in those early morning hours, holding hands and clinging fast to our belief that God in His goodness would spare our son. How grateful we were for the courage and strength God's love and nearness supplied. How glad we were for the Church where we had learned to love and worship the God who gives us all life.

Do you wonder that Sunday morning finds us both in church joyfully worshipping and giving thanks to God?

Attend the church of your choice. Whatever your need, it stands ready to help.

At DeWitt this Sunday

Bishop Zaleski to cite lay retreats' importance

DEWITT—The importance of lay retreats in renewal of the Church will be the theme discussed by Bishop Alexander Zaleski of the Diocese of Lansing when he addresses more than 1,000 persons expected to attend Michigan Retreat Day here Sept. 17.

The day-long program, to be held at DeWitt Public High School, will explore various aspects of "the modern retreat" and how it can be one of the principal responses to the call for renewal.

Bishop Zaleski, is also the chairman of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops' Committee on Doctrine, has authorized a five-year diocesan program to study and implement the Vatican Council documents.

LAST YEAR, more than 15,000 persons in the Diocese of Lansing participated in the program for the study and implementation of the Constitution on the Church. This year, as estimated 25,000 persons will be involved in the study and implementation of the Decree on the Apostolate of the Laity.

Bishop Zaleski is scheduled to give the main address starting at 11:30 a.m.

Sam W. Obrecht of Lansing, general chairman, said the program will begin at 10 a.m. with registration, to be followed by greetings and introductions.

Father Julian Fuzer, OFM, resident retreat master at Portiuncula in the Pines Franciscan Retreat House at DeWitt and host for Michigan Retreat Day, will open the program with a prayer.

FOLLOWING A NOON (box) luncheon, State Rep Dale E. Kildee of Flint will talk on "The Apostolic Layman and the Retreat." Mrs. Steven Hopko of St. Johns will discuss "The Experience of the Retreat;" and a five-member panel will discuss "Retreats for Laity and Modern Times."

The Very Rev Maximus J. Mandl of Reobling, N.J., provincial of the Franciscan Order, will be the main celebrant at Mass in the high school auditorium at 3:15 p.m.

The program will conclude about 4 p.m. with a public tour of Portiuncula in the Pines Franciscan Retreat House. Obrecht said that Michigan Retreat Day is open to all persons interested in the retreat movement.

Last year, over a quarter million owners of other low-price cars were won over to Plymouth.

It started a movement, a momentum,
a beat.

And the Plymouth win-you-over beat goes on.

Inside, Fury's options don't have that "added on" look. The Auto-Pilot is on the turn signal lever. Air conditioning outlets are part of the instrument panel. And the beat goes on.

Plymouth Fury has the biggest brakes in its class. And the biggest trunk. It's also the heaviest. And the most solid. And the beat goes on.

This is the 1968 Plymouth Fury. It still looks long and low and wide. Only richer. And much more beautiful. And the beat goes on.

We made our 2-door sedans look like hardtops. And we created a new low-cost, high-performance car called the Road Runner. Its horn goes "Beep-Beep!" And the beat goes on.

There are 64 new Plymouths for '68. Full-size, mid-size, sports cars, wagons and compacts. We could build a car a minute for an entire year. And never build two exactly alike. And the beat goes on.

This is the 1968 GTX. One in a whole new line of mid-size cars for '68: GTX, Sport Satellite, Satellite, Belvedere, Road Runner. We've given them all-new styling for '68. And the beat goes on.

9th Big Week
Starts Today!

9th. Game Ends
Monday, Sept. 18

Green Winning Cards Must be turned into this Newspaper by Monday 5:00 p.m.

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS:

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS: Each week (adults only, please) pick up your FREE Bingo cards from any of the sponsoring merchants listed below. Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. However, you may make as many visits as you wish each day of the week. THE MORE CARDS YOU PLAY THE BETTER ARE YOUR CHANCES OF WINNING.

HOW TO PLAY: To play, check the ads in each week's issue of the CLINTON COUNTY NEWS. The ads of the merchants listed below will contain one or more "Newspaper Bingo" numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol (shown above). Occasionally numbers, in the "Bingo Bug" symbol, may be found elsewhere in the newspaper. IF YOU CAN MATCH (JUST CIRCLE OR "X" THE MATCHING NUMBERS) ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ANY ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS - YOU HAVE A "BINGO" - AND YOU ARE A WINNER!

AT LEAST $50 WEEKLY! Winners will share a weekly prize of $50 issued in "Bingo Bucks" that spend like cash at any of the sponsoring merchants. If there is only one winner, he or she wins all of the $50. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $50 in equal amounts. If there are no winners any week, the $50 weekly prize money will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE CLINTON COUNTY NEWS: Each game is complete in each week's issue. A new game will start each Thursday and be completed the following Monday. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published each week in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper and these new numbers only must be used. A new color of Bingo cards will be available at the participating stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced on this page.

IF YOU ARE A WINNER: If you have a winning Bingo card, ON WHICH ALL 24 NUMBERS HAVE BEEN MATCHED WITH THE NUMBERS APPEARING EACH WEEK IN THE CLINTON COUNTY NEWS, write your name, address, phone number, and the name of the store where you got your winning card on the back of your card and mail to The CLINTON COUNTY NEWS. The envelope containing your card must be received by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week; or bring your winning card to the office by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week.

Rules of the Game

NO OBLIGATION OR PURCHASE NECESSARY: There is no obligation or purchase necessary. A copy of the paper is available for playing the game at the office of this newspaper - also at the public libraries. You may play as many cards as you wish - they are free. Get additional cards - one at a time - each day of the week - from the friendly merchants listed below (adults only, please).

DIFFERENT COLORED CARDS EACH WEEK: The color of the cards changes each week. To be a winner, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week. Mutilated or altered cards will not be honored. ALL 24 NUMBERS ON A CARD MUST BE MATCHED TO WIN.

This Is How A Winning Card Looks

CHANCE DETERMINES NUMBERS: Bingo numbers for each week's game are drawn at random from a revolving Bingo number dispensing cage at the office of this newspaper. Some duplication of Bingo numbers may appear in the merchants' ads. This duplication does not affect the game or the total numbers drawn. All numbers for each week's game will be someplace in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper. Employees of this newspaper and their families are not eligible to win any of the prizes.

4-H Club Chatter

By JOHN AYLSWORTH
Extension 4-H Youth Agent

National 4-H Club Week—September 30—Oct. 7—is less than three weeks away as we pay honor to Clinton County's 1,500 4-H members and 228 4-H leaders.

The 4-H members have achieved many things during the past year, not only in their project work, but also in leadership, citizenship, community service and working together as a group. The adult volunteer leaders give many hours of their time to work with the youth in developing the future leaders of tomorrow. The leaders do this work because they believe in the 4-H club program and the opportunities the program provides for the youth.

During this week I hope the clubs will plan on setting up some displays in stores and schools showing other people what they have done or can do in 4-H club work. Many clubs can promote "Join a 4-H club" during this week and hold their organizational meeting at that time. 4-H Club Week posters and brochures are available at the county office; they can be used in these displays.

Club enrollment cards are now available at the Extension office so leaders can secure them for enrolling their members for the winter program. The deadline for club enrollment is Nov. 1. Members should know if they plan to belong and what projects they are going to take by that date.

Last Thursday evening, Hans Ederle, the IFYE from Germany, spoke to the 4-H junior leadership club and showed slides of his home and country. I'm sure the members learned a lot about his country and customs from the slide-talk. Hans left Clinton County Saturday and his next family will be in Livingston County. While in Clinton County he stayed the Mahlon Nichols family of DeWitt. I'm sure the Nichols family enjoyed Hans' visit and learned much about Germany. His visit in the county was sponsored by the Clinton County 4-H Council.

During the State 4-H Show at Michigan State University a number of Clinton County 4-H leaders were honored for outstanding service to the 4-H Club program.

I would like to congratulate Lilah Sibley of DeWitt, Ilah Rose and Ann Burnett of Eagle who have completed 20 years as 4-H leaders. They each received a 4-H diamond pin. Four leaders were recognized for 15 years of service as 4-H leaders. They were Ilah Wood of DeWitt, Melba Mohnke, Leonard Koelgsknecht and George Hazle of St. Johns. They each received a pearl 4-H pin. Congratulations to these leaders for their leadership with the 4-H club program.

The Trail Blazers 4-H club members participated in the DeWitt Ox Roast parade, wearing western outfits. The members evaluated the county fair and discussed how it could be improved.

The County 4-H Council will be meeting on Monday, Sept. 18, at the home of Jeanette Bergans starting at 8 p.m. Leaders should contact council members on topics they would like discussed at this meeting.

The Nimble Fingers 4-H club members picked up papers one day at the county fair. Keeping the paper picked up improves the looks of the fair facilities and exhibits. Our thanks to the Nimble Fingers 4-H club for their work. Maybe next year we can have several clubs each day to help keep the fair grounds neat and clean from litter.

The St. Therese 4-H club members collected seven large boxes of goods for the VFW to be sent to our servicemen in Vietnam. The members were thanked for the time spent in collecting these items. I'm sure the servicemen in Vietnam appreciate their work also.

The junior foods girls served as dish washers at the church parish open-house. The girls taking the "food for fun" project held a very successful dinner on Aug. 29. Each member was asked to tell what they had learned from the project. Linda Danfield showed the members how to make table favors from empty spoons and home made flowers. The members then made 227 table favors for two convalescent centers. I'm sure the patients will appreciate the members thoughtfulness and know they are not forgotten. The club's next meeting will be a record night Sept. 19.

Several members have asked about how many steers they will be allowed to take for the fair sale next year. Each member may have two steers for the sale. The two animals may be of the same breed or of different breeds. Financing of 4-H steer projects, if needed, can be made from the local lending agencies in the county. What size steer you will buy depends upon how fast you feel your steer will gain. Steers should weigh around 500 pounds by the end of November. All steers for the sale should be on feed by Jan. 1 and be registered at the Extension Office.

Anyone interested in taking an automobile 4-H project? The 4-

H Automotive program is open to members 14-18 years of age. The 4-H program is not a driver training program. It is designed to supplement school driver training courses by teaching driver responsibilities, traffic laws, safety and desirable driver attitudes. Simple mechanics and car care also are covered. Anyone interested in taking this project or serving as a leader for this project should contact the Extension Office.

TOWNSHIP BOARD REPORT

The regular meeting of the township board was held Tuesday September 5, 1967 at the township hall 14480 Webster road.

All board members were present.

Meeting was called to order by the supervisor at 8 p.m. Minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved. Supervisor advised the board that Justice of the Peace Gordon Willyoung was acting for the township in the illness of T.B. Simpson.

Supervisor reported that the planning commission had received a request for a trailer court in section 30 of the township. Applications for peddler's licenses were reviewed by the board. License for L.B. Price Merc. Co. was approved. Application of Michigan Water Softener Co. was denied.

Board approved the raising of the sexton fee to $45.00 for the opening and closing of graves.

Board agreed that bids for snow removal from the township building parking lot and drives should be received.

Supervisor was instructed to work with the county treasurer to acquire the monies on deposit for the Dyer Estate cemetery upkeep.

Unsafe building ordinance and drunk driving ordinance was read by the supervisor. These ordinances were referred to the board by our attorney. Supervisor to work with the attorney for wording before adoption.

Supervisor presented the proposed 1968 budget and it was reviewed by the board. Several suggestions were made and the supervisor to review the suggestions in mind and present it to the board again for adoption.

Next meeting to be held Tuesday October 3, 1968 at 8 p.m. at the township hall 14480 Webster Rd.

TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Sunday afternoon, Sept. 24, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Platte will be honored at an open house to be held at St. Mary's Hall from 2 to 5 p.m. in honor of their 40th wedding anniversary. Hosting this celebration will be the honored guests' children, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Koster of Grand Ledge, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hengsbach, Mr. and Mrs. Elvan Pohl, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Platte Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bengel and Mr. and Mrs. William Thelen of Pewamo.

Sympathy is extended to the families of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald J. Thelen and Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Thelen on the loss of their mother, Mrs. Revala Becker of Fowler, who passed away Sunday morning at Carson City Hospital. Besides her two daughters, she also survived by her father William Bohr, two brothers Casper Bohr and Edwin Bohr and one sister Mrs. Robert Platte Sr. all of this community. Funeral services were held at Most Holy Trinity Church in Fowler Wednesday morning at 10 a.m.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Perry Trimmer, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Trimmer, Mrs. Katherine Enders of DeWitt and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hengsbach were dinner guests of Mrs. Adele Fink.

Many from this area attended the picnic at Fowler Conservation Park in Fowler Labor Day, Wednesday evening the Pedro Club held their monthly gathering at the home of Mrs. Pete Wilgen.

During the past weekend Mr. and Mrs. John Lehman and family moved into their new home on Pine Street.

All those from this community who have made a Retreat are urged to attend Michigan Retreat Day at DeWitt High School Sunday, September 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Belen and family of Munising, spent some time with their mother, Mrs. Anna Belen recently.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fedewa entertained his mother, brothers and sisters in honor of their wedding anniversary.

Tuesday evening Mrs. Aloys Droste entertained the Set-Back Club.

WILLIAM BOHR IS 85

Sunday afternoon, Sept. 3, the family of William Bohr gathered at the Club 21 in Pewamo for their annual family reunion. This occasion also marked the 85th birthday anniversary of William Bohr. Also to celebrate this event were Mr. Bohr's 34 grandchildren and 70 great-grandchildren.

The annual HorseShoe Tournament was held Sunday at the Joe Schueller residence.

Jon Trimmer recently called on his mother, Mrs. Adele Fink.

Mr. and Mrs. Roman Feldpausch entertained relatives Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Weber and family of Saginaw visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Weber over the Labor Day weekend.

George Rochon of Lansing spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Hilary Hafner. Also guests that evening were Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Rochon of Ludington and Mrs. Rose Selbach of Ionia.

Mrs. Opal Miller entertained Wednesday with a dinner for her guests, Mrs. Mildred Matthews of Texas, Mrs. Lula Boak of Fowler, Miss Marie Roberts and Dr. Norma Eleson of Maple Rapids.

New times effective in Methodist schedule

The First Methodist Church of St. Johns has begun its fall schedule of worship services and meetings.

Church school and morning worship will be offered at 9:30 a.m. each Sunday, and there will be a second worship service at 11 a.m. Church school classes are available for everyone from 3 years old on up.

Members of the official board and commissions will meet Tuesday evening, Sept. 19.

Clothing collection planned on Oct. 2

Church World Service has announced that the next collection of clothing will be Oct. 2, according to the First Methodist Church's Tower Chimes. Good, clean, lightweight (cotton) clothing, especially children's, blankets and light quilts, children's and men's shoes and bar soap in original wrappers are the items most urgently needed. Towels and wash cloths are in great demand. The clothing appeal gives aid to persons in great need in more than 30 countries every year.

Be practical—listen to reason and reason while listening.

Westphalia

and Associates, consulting engineers for the proposed Westphalia project, that federal monies were not available.

SEVERAL SUGGESTIONS to avoid having to build a sewage treatment facility were offered but immediately dismissed.

One such suggestion was to curtail building in the village, which, it was quickly pointed out, would inhibit growth of the community in other areas.

Another suggestion was to open a county drain in which the sewage could overflow. This too proved an unsatisfactory answer since there are state laws prohibiting such action, and if caught, the village would be under a time limit to correct the situation.

To ease the situation, it was advised that before it expired next month, an option the council has on approximately 25 acres of land for $10,000 be picked up.

A five-acre lagoon would first be prepared on the site and as they were warranted, two more lagoons of equal size could be added. Together they could handle the community's sewage needs for many years, Pohl said.

To pay for the land, the council approved a resolution calling for an appropriation of $5,000 from this year's general fund and the remaining $5,000 from next year's general fund—if financing could be obtained until then.

POHL SAID HE would check with the Municipal League to determine if the village could borrow the extra funds needed for the site purchase without going to the voters for approval.

The council also held that reminders be printed to inform residents that building permits must first be obtained before any on-site excavation or construction begin.

The appointment of Harold Schmitt as building inspector was OK'd by the council.

The council granted an appropriation of $190 for half-payment of mobile equipment for the Westphalia township fire truck. The township is obligated to pay the other half.

A FLAT-RATE charge of $1.50 per foot for copper tubing for water service from the curb box to the house was passed by the council.

Bath Elegance

Like elegance in the bath? Panel walls with rough-sawn, tongue-and-groove Douglas fir siding lumber which has been dipped in clear water repellent at the lumber yard. No additional finish is needed.

Rev. Keith Bovee has listed the following sermon topics for the next two Sundays at the First Methodist Church: Sept. 17, "What Did Jesus Teach About Marriage and Divorce?" Sept. 24, "What Did Jesus Teach About Money and Poverty?"

West Bingham EUB to mark 100 years

Members of the West Bingham EUB Church will observe the 100th anniversary of the organization of their church on Sunday, Sept. 24.

The regular worship service will be held at 9:30 a.m., with Sunday school at 10:30. A potluck dinner will follow at noon. There will be a special centennial program in the afternoon.

The public is invited to attend.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF

St. Johns firemen quickly put out a small grass fire outside the Beechem Laboratories at 1102 W. State Street last Thursday about 1 p.m.

Donald T. Proko of Fulton and Dick Creese of St. Johns are among the 134 members of the Central Michigan University Chippewa Marching Band who started intensive pre-season practice last Friday. Proko plays the trumpet and Creese is a percussionist.

St. Johns police apprehended two boys Sept. 6 behind Swagles School as they were playing with fireworks. The boys were aged 13 and 12. The fireworks were confiscated and the boys were released to their parents.

Car goes off road, man badly injured

William Prince, 29, of Lansing, was seriously injured Thursday, Sept. 7, when the pickup he was driving ran off the end of the Bennett Road in DeWitt Township and struck some trees.

Prince was taken to Sparrow Hospital, Lansing, where he told sheriff's officers he could not remember the circumstances surrounding the mishap.

Prince was ticketed for having no operator's license.

Recall camper trip to 49th state

Sixty days of seeing this country and Canada on a 12,000-mile round trip from Elsie to Alaska were recently completed by Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Rumbaugh and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hess, daughter, Susan, and son, Richard, of rural Elsie.

They traveled by means of their campers, spent nights at neat and clean public campgrounds, cooked on the "cute" outdoor barrel stoves, used picnic tables and community shelters.

For the Rumbaughs this was their first long trip and it had been planned for five years.

THEIR FIRST night was spent at the Soo with the "hoots and toots" of freighters from all over the world passing through the locks and the ringing of buoys as the fog moved in.

The next morning, the campers traveled through Canada on the King's Highway. In Ontario they made an interesting tour of a large wood pulp and paper factory in Marathon. They found the scenery of the provinces quite different as they passed through colored rock formations, scattered farm lands to Manitoba where there were better roads, large wheat fields, huge grain elevators and small peaked grain houses on the prairie farms.

Saskatchewan had more rolling acres of land where most of the trees were found as windbreaks for the buildings and large rectangular holes served as catch basins for water to irrigate the fields.

IN ALBERTA, they saw more cattle farming, many wild antelope and the Canadian Rockies in the distance. They spent three days at Banff and Jasper National Parks where they saw black bear, moose, elk, deer, mountain goats, sheep, timber wolf and Canadian geese.

As they entered British Columbia at Dawson Creek, they found themselves on the Alaska Highway. Here they prepared for a 1,200-mile ride over gravel roads, the roughest part of the entire trip. They purchased "bubble" covers for their headlights, taped doors and windows to seal out dust, covered clothes with plastic bags and restocked their supplies.

In spite of all this, the dust from many s-curves and chuck holes here and there, had to be cleaned out each of the three days before reaching the 49th state.

Along this route, where the speed limit was 50 mph and they drove with lights on, the mountains were black and barren but the wild flowers made up for it in colors with deep purple, red and pink roses, yellow daisies and blue bell-shaped flowers.

Midway from Dawson Creek to Alaska, they enjoyed swimming at Liard Hot Springs, where the water was 80 degrees. They learned that sometimes it reaches as hot as 120 degrees. They hung up their name-boards on the milepost at Watson Lake upon entering the Yukon Territory as many hundreds of others had done on their way to the new state.

AT NIGHT THEY built fires in the oil drum stoves with welded pipe chimneys and sat around and talked although it never was dark there. Fishing for pike, grayling and trout was enjoyed along the many streams. At Klunene Lake their overnight camp was invaded by a large grizzly bear looking for food.

Upon reaching Alaska, they had "cleaning bees" of their campers and themselves at Tok Junction. In Fairbanks, they viewed the site of the Exposition, museum at the University of Fairbanks, Air Force and Army bases and found large shopping centers including Sears, Woolworths and Penney's Stores.

They parked their campers next to the Chamber of Commerce on the banks of the Chena River, where it has since been the cause of disastrous floods.

While in Alaska, they attended church at Delta Junction and then drove to Mt. McKinley National Park. They camped at one of the highest points but were unable to see the peak of Mt. McKinley because of a heavy fog. Here, Mrs. Rumbaugh baked her own birthday cake.

ON THE WAY TO Anchorage, they passed through the Matanuska farming valley. They drove out to Earthquake Park and met Mr. and Mrs. Gale Yauconsant of St. Johns. At Anchorage they visited the Methodist University and watched the Eskimo Dances. They saw three of the Blue Glaciers at the point where the town of Portage was swept away by a tidal wave in the 1904 earthquake.

At Seward they caught more than 40 trout and cod in an hour and also toured a Navy boat anchored there. They returned to Anchorage and then to Tok Junction where they followed a steep and narrow road to the Yukon River which they ferried to Dawson City, built on piling because of the permafrost. Here they saw the Gold Rush Follies and heard some of Robert Service's great poems read, panned for gold and visited the museum of the town made famous by the gold rush. The temperature reached 104 degrees while they were in Dawson City.

At Whitehorse, they toured a large museum and then back on the dusty stretch of Alaska Highway again to Dawson Creek where they faced another "cleaning bee" for their campers. At Clinton, British Columbia, they took a side trip through Marble Canyon, which is a paradise for rock hounds and there were two in the group.

The next stop was Chelan, Washington, where both families enjoyed swimming, sight-seeing and visiting with Mr. and Mrs. William Hess. The two camping groups separated here to meet again in Yellowstone Park.

The Hesses drove to Pullman, Washington, for a couple of days visit with Mr. and Mrs. Mike Worth and family, former Owosso residents, then crossed Idaho into Montana where they followed the Lewis and Clark Trail.

Horses, cattle and sagebrush were very common in this region, they noted, and also that Virginia City and Nevada City of Montana were being restored to their original appearance in the 1800's.

They visited Earthquake Park where many tourists were killed in 1959 from a mountain slide into the canyon where they were trapped.

Meanwhile, the Rumbaughs toured Grand Coulee Dam where they saw a wall of water 1650 feet long and 17 feet thick plunge over the dam in a 320 foot fall. They also visited relatives (the O'Hares) owners of a large Hereford ranch near Livingston, Mont. They camped at the historical point of the Missouri River Headwaters State Park where the three rivers (Jefferson, Gallatin and Madison) come together to make the mighty Missouri. This is the same spot where Lewis and Clark camped at the same time in 1805. They toured the Lewis and Clark caverns, where they rode in a small train car run by a pulley and then down through the dimly lighted cave.

BOTH FAMILIES met again in Yellowstone Park where they saw its scenic points of interest and also the beauty of the Grand Tetons.

At Cody, Wyo., Buffalo Bill's home, they visited the Cody Museum and Art Center. Custer's Battlefield where the Battle of the Little Big Horn took place and hillsides dotted with white headstones were better understood as they toured the nearby museum.

Devil's Tower, Deadwood, the Badlands, the Passion Play at Spearfish, S.D. were followed by the Corn Palace at Mitchell, Mt. Rushmore and many lakes of Minnesota and Wisconsin.

In Michigan, Copper Harbor and Fort Wilkins and a few days at the Hess cottage on Bradford Lake brought to an end a wonderful trip but many pictures and memories will help them relive their long summer vacation.

To make dry, brittle hair manageable and glossy, give it a simple oil treatment before shampooing. Warm half a cup of salad oil and apply with cotton cosmetic balls to scalp. Part hair at intervals to soak roots with the oil. Wrap your head in a towel for about fifteen minutes. Then shampoo with three latherings.

FAMILY NIGHT SET

Friday evening, Sept. 15, at 7:30 a potluck supper will be the beginning of family night meeting held at the Church of Christ. Group I with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harden as chairmen will be in charge of the arrangements and program for the evening. Slides of their trip to Alaska this summer will be shown by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hawes.

FELLOWSHIP MEMBERS TURN IN

Women's Fellowship of the Church of Christ met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Dale Schultheiss at her home on Lewis Street, St. Johns. Election of officers for the coming year beginning Oct. 1 was held with the following results: Mrs. Dale Schultheiss, president; Mrs. Roy Thornton, vice-president; Mrs. Wayne Holden, secretary; Mrs. Keith Kimball, treasurer; Mrs. Jack Hawes, missionary reporter and Mrs. Jack Schwark, corresponding secretary.

Money from personal projects was turned in and totaled over $200 which will be used for the kitchen in the new church building. This money represented proceeds from each member's own initiative in deciding on something they could do to earn money specifically for this cause. As each turned in their money they told how they earned it. Some sold greeting cards, did housework, fixed hair for a neighbor, or friend, crocheted dollies, baked goods and various other projects.

Arthur Bond of Osgoods showed the film on "Child Molesting." Mrs. Keith Kimball had devotions to close the meeting. The October meeting will be with Mrs. Jack Hawes in Elsie and installation of the new officers will be held.

WORK BEE HELD

Seven women from the church fellowship gathered Saturday at the Church of Christ parsonage to wash windows and clean for

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Woodard. Both Mr. and Mrs. Woodard have been recuperating from illnesses this past year and so the help was doubly appreciated. Mr. Woodard suffered a concussion in a fall on Christmas Eve last year and Mrs. Woodard underwent surgery at U of M hospital last March and was in a cast until the latter part of June. She spent several weeks in the hospital when she had the cast removed and is able to get about some at the present time.

COLLEGE STUDENTS PRESENT

Youth Fellowship at the Church of Christ Sunday evening found the college people presenting the program to the younger group. Following a rousing song service led by Miss Pat Burnham, a special number in song was presented by Miss Janice Levey, Miss Celeste Buck and Miss Pat Burnham.

A panel discussion on Christian Character was led by Mike Burnham with each giving their thoughts on the subject. Miss Janice Levey then led a discussion on temptations a high school student might meet with the youth group members participating.

Mike Burnham concluded the program with several more problems and then summed up the evening's program. Refreshments were served by Miss Levey and Miss Buck.

Mr. and Mrs. James Burnham and family spent the weekend at Carp Lake visiting the Jeanne Burnhams. Mr. Burnham recently spent a week in a Petoskey hospital and is improving at this writing.

Miss Celeste Buck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Buck of Elsie and Miss Janice Levey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Levey of Elsie, have returned to their studies at Central Michigan University in Mount Pleasant.

MR AND MRS LESTER HARRINGTON

Silver anniversary

The family of Mr and Mrs Lester Harrington is hosting an open house Sunday, Sept. 17, from 3 to 5 p.m. at their home at 128 E. Front Street, to honor their silver wedding anniversary.

Lester Harrington and the former Dorothy Guild were married Sept. 12, 1942, in Oklahoma.

They are the parents of four children, Lester Jr. of Mason, Mrs Eugene (Ruth) Woodruff of Ovid and Patricia and Raymond at home and two grandchildren, Wayne Woodruff and Angela Jill Harrington. They have lived in Ovid for the past 14 years.

Ovid

By MRS. APHRA FIXLEY, Correspondent.

The annual Frisbie family reunion was held Sunday at the Ovid Park. Fifty-two guests came from Detroit, Fenton, Rosecommon, Orchard Lake, Le Roy and the Ovid area. Following a potluck dinner, a business meeting was held with the following officers elected: Ira Frisbie, president; Harold Frisbie, vice president and Mrs Doris Housnecht, secretary-treasurer.

Mr and Mrs George Austin were hosts for a potluck dinner last Sunday celebrating the 84th birthday of Mrs George Sillaway and the 14th birthday of her granddaughter, Beverly Rust. Those present were Mr George Sillaway of the Ovid Convalescent Manor, where Mr and Mrs Sillaway are making their home. Others present were Mr and Mrs Earl Comstock, Mr and Mrs Frank Sillaway of Lansing, Claude Sillaway of Okemos and Mrs Clara Rust and daughters Joan and Beverly of Cedar Springs.

Mrs David Zell was the guest of honor at a stork shower last Thursday evening. Mrs Gary Garlock and Mrs Donald Hlar were co-hostesses at the Hlar home in St. Johns. The evening was spent playing games after which the honored guest opened her many gifts which had been placed in a bassinet. Refreshments were served by the hostesses. The guests, all former classmates of the honored guest, came from Flint, Lansing, Carland, Laingsburg, St. Johns and Ovid.

The annual banquet to kick-off membership and class enrollment in the Lansing chapter of the American Institute of Banking was held Sept. 12, starting at 6:15 p.m., at the Steinhaus, according to an announcement by David C. Walsh, chapter president. Sixteen area banks are represented in the chapter's membership. This A. I. B. is the educational arm of the American Bankers Association, and teaches four courses each year in what it terms

"the largest adult education program in the U.S."

Mrs Frank Rivest, formerly of Ovid, is convalescing in Clinton Memorial Hospital following surgery.

Mrs Ruth Romsbery of Alma spent last Thursday, with her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Aldrich, in observance of her 91st birthday. Mrs Euna DeGurse has gone to make her home near Evanston, Ill. Her address is Bethany Terrace, 8425 N. Waukegan Rd., Morton Grove, Illinois, 60053.

Mr and Mrs Forest Abbey and Mrs Edith Herman of Grand Rapids were Tuesday guests of Mrs Florence Phelps.

Mrs Ellis Watson is a patient in Owosso. Her room number is 148. Mr and Mrs Walter Clock attended the Farwell High School Annual banquet last Saturday evening. There were six graduates in Mr Clock's graduating class of 50 years ago and four of the five living members attended. Also honored was the class of 1907 with two of the three graduates living and present for the occasion.

Mr and Mrs Roy Moe of Grand Rapids spent last weekend with her parents, Mr and Mrs Millin Stephens.

Mr and Mrs John Valko are spending several days at Drummond Island.

Mr and Mrs Harold Smith accompanied Mr and Mrs Gene Brunsma of Wayland to Cedarville to spend this week.

Mrs Effie Wilson spent last week with Mrs Kathryn Richardson.

Mr and Mrs Raymond Fitch of Hastings were last Sunday guests of Mrs Mabel Fitch.

Mr and Mrs Merle Carpenter are vacationing on Drummond Island.

James S. Briggs spent last weekend with his son, James and family at Inkster.

Mr and Mrs David Ziegler, Mrs James Fariello and son James of Grand Junction, Col., Mr and Mrs Hal Boughton and Mrs Luella

Shaver of Roseville were called here by the death of Alfred Ziegler and are spending some time here.

Mr and Mrs Jerry Morgan of North Manitou Island were last weekend guests of Mr and Mrs Harry Hunkton.

The third annual Higgins family reunion was held Sunday, Sept. 3, at the Ovid Park with 45 present. Those attending were from Columbus, Ohio; Boulder, Colo.; Lansing, Hastings, and Ovid. Mr and Mrs Earl Higgins, who came from Columbus, will spend some time here with his parents, Mr and Mrs George Higgins, and their son, Victor and family.

The Acme Society will resume their fall meetings Sept. 21, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs Harold Mead. Co-hostess will be Mrs Ralph Wilson.

David Das, son of Mr and Mrs Mitchell Das, graduated from radio and relay repair course at Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi, Miss., recently after spending 30 days at home, he left Aug. 24 for the San Pablo Air Base near Sevilla, Spain, for three years duty. His address is A/2c David Das 16926704, Box 13376 2186 Conn. Sq. C50, APO New York, 09284.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs Nellie Gibson, a former resident of this area. Mrs Gibson was the mother of Mrs Charles Swender, Mrs Lee Swender and Mrs Oliver Nicholas. She passed away Sunday at Phoenix, Ariz.

Guests of Mr and Mrs Steve Komives last Sunday were Mr and Mrs Bill Muller and family of Detroit, also a cousin of Mrs Muller and their children and Pete Muller and children of Livonia.

Mr and Mrs Russell Waters and family spent last weekend at Half-Moon Lake near Riverdale. Mr and Mrs Clare Alderman and family spent Sunday at Edenville at the Blackcock cottage.

Mr and Mrs Ray Miller entertained at a family supper last Wednesday evening in honor of Mr and Mrs Frank George of Fort Myers, Fla. Guests were Mr and Mrs Archie Miller, Mr and Mrs Jack Miller, Mr. and Mrs Max Miller and their families. Mr and Mrs Frank George have returned to their home in Florida.

Mr and Mrs Avery Squiers had as guests last Sunday Mr and Mrs Roger Karris and family of near Pawam.

Sunday Mr and Mrs Squiers called on Mr and Mrs Clarence Keek and family of Laingsburg.

Elsie

By Mrs Neva Keys

Charles Crell was the first of coho fishermen reporting his catch while spending the Labor Day weekend in northern Michigan. His 12 pound, 20 1/2 inch coho salmon was caught about 10 miles out of Manistique in Lake Michigan. He said it was his greatest fishing thrill in five years. Prior to returning to live in Elsie, Crell and his family lived at Key West, Florida, where he was stationed with the Navy and there had many opportunities to go deep-sea fishing.

Mr and Mrs Harry Purvis of Tucson, Ariz., spent Friday and Saturday with Mr and Mrs Ward Lewis. Friday night they all visited Mrs and Mrs Elmer Thornton at Duplain. Other guests were Mr and Mrs Lorraine McCullough and Mr and Mrs Dennis Flagel and daughter of Elsie and Mr and Mrs Henry Howard and family of Eureka.

Mrs Dora Lowery spent a few days with her son and family, Mr and Mrs Eugene Lowery in Midland. Upon returning to her home in Elsie she was taken ill and returned to the Midland Hospital. She is much improved and expects to be home soon.

Marriage announced

Mr and Mrs Carl A. Hovey announce the marriage of their daughter, Janice, to David L. Gillum, son of Mr and Mrs Henry Gillum of Detroit.

The couple were married July 29 at the First Methodist Church in Mount Pleasant with the immediate families present. Their attendants were Judy Allen of Kalamazoo and Richard Garaschia of Ypsilanti.

They spent a few days in northern Michigan and are now residing in Detroit. Janice will graduate from Central Michigan University in January.

Mrs Carl Morley and daughters, Mrs Kenneth Fields and Mrs Kelley Carter attended funeral services for their cousin, Harold Jolley, at Grand Lodge last Tuesday.

The general meeting of the Shepardsville WSCS will be Thursday evening, Sept. 14, at 8 p.m. at the church. The Afternoon Circle will be in charge of the program and devotions.

PROGRAM PLANS FOR

The Ovid Duplain Library Club met Friday, Sept. 9, at the home of Mrs Clarence Kaltrider for their first meeting of the new club year. Sixteen members and one guest enjoyed the potluck dinner.

During the business session, the Collect was read and the Pledge of Allegiance was given to the flag. The president, Mrs. Charles Walker, greeted the members and told something of her plans for the coming year. Roll call was answered by recalling an interesting summer's vacation experience.

ALL OF OUR SICK folks were remembered with a card signed by all the members. Mrs Clayton Sherwin acted as secretary, due to the absence of the regular one.

A card of thanks was read by Miss Loretta Lang for the cards and flowers she received while in the hospital. Mrs Ralph Baker gave a resume of the year's program which will include a trip to the Consumer's Power Kitchen in Owosso, a travelog to Alaska, a book review by Mrs James Whittemore of her book "Early recollections of Ovid," a Christmas program at which time we will bring gifts for the patients at the Traverse City Hospital, Michigan hi-ways and by-ways, May coffee, election of officers, and finally the picnic in June.

On Wednesday, Sept. 20, the Ovid Duplain Library Club will sponsor the visit of the Bloodmobile at the Veterans' Hall. Volunteers were asked for help and money was solicited to purchase the necessary articles needed.

A memorial was given for Mrs Mary Ella Gleason, who passed away last May. Mrs Gleason was 95 years old at the time of her passing. A brief biography was given by the president, telling of Mrs Gleason's work during her years as a member of the Library Club. A book will be presented to the library in Ovid in her memory. A medley of Stephen Foster songs were sung by Mrs Chandler Gleason, her daughter-in-law.

The next meeting of the Library Club will be the trip to the Consumer Power Kitchen in Owosso Oct. 6. More details about that later.

CHURCH NEWS NOTES.

A number from the church attended Mission Sunday Services at the Price Church Sunday evening.

Thursday at 7 p.m. the Senior Choir will resume its practice for the fall season.

Niles Ferden, Marcy Malitz and Diane Waters received Bibles from the church.

Mr and Mrs Duane Allen (Sally George) are the parents of an 8 pound 4 ounces baby girl born last Tuesday. Mrs Allen is the daughter of Mrs Frank George, the former Betty Miller, so the Ray Millers of Kinley Road are great-grandparents for the first time.

Saturday evening, Sept. 16, Miss Patricia Knight and Mrs Dennis Henderson will be united in marriage at the Shepardsville Church by the Rev John C. Huhtala. There will be a reception for the invited guests immediately following the ceremony.

New battery

A new, lightweight storage battery that could prove to be a superior portable power source has been developed at Argonne National Laboratory. The battery, called a lithium-tellurium cell, has extremely high power characteristics and could be used to operate a wide variety of portable electrical equipment. In addition, it can be completely recharged in 15 minutes.

The City Manager explained the two letters from Mr. Daye Griffith representing Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May, to the Healy-Ruff Co. and Fox Electric Co. with reference to the Water Plant main control panels. The letter expressing appreciation from Mr. and Mrs. Engle, Breckenridge, Mich. for the trailer house sanitary flush disposal located at the city waste water treatment plant site, was presented to the city commission.

The City Commission discussed the proposed changes as suggested for the personnel rules by the department heads. Said changes to be considered in new personnel rules and regulations.

Mark first anniversary at new nursing home

She keeps a pace that would have many 20 to 30 years her junior worn out all of the time. Her average working day is about 12 hours long and in addition is on call at all times. It was about a year ago that Mrs. Hazel Dietz opened the 58 bed Ovid Convalescent Manor. She has been caring for the elderly since 1946 and got into the business almost by accident.

IT WAS several years earlier she opened a maternity home at 211 E. Williams Street, Ovid. During the four years she operated it 500 babies were born there. Seventy per cent the graduating class of 1963 of Ovid High School was born at her maternity home. The following year 50 per cent of the class had been born there.

Mrs. Dietz had to close the maternity home for three months in 1946 due to her own health and when she reopened she took geriatric patients exclusively. She operated the 27 bed Ovid Nursing Home at Williams Street address until moving to new quarters last year.

THE NEW nursing home located on M-21 is licensed for 58 patients but only 55 beds are in use. There are four private rooms, eight four-bed wards and the rest are semi-private two-bed rooms.

Most of the 35 member staff reside in the Ovid area. Included are two RNs, two housekeepers, three laundry workers, 23 aides and five working in the kitchen. Mrs. Dietz is an LPN. Of the 55 making their home there about 50 per cent are 90 or over. The oldest in residence is 97.

MRS. DIETZ, who was 70 last week, is not even considering the possibility of retirement yet. Keeping active, she maintains is what keeps her young and in good health.

She is the mother of three; a son, Charles F. of Arkansas and two daughters, Wilma Fivecoat of Florida and Mrs. Robert Lee of Shaftsbury; the grandmother of 13 and the great-grandmother of eight.

SHE WAS BORN and lived in Hersey until 1910 when she moved to Ovid and made her home with her sister and brother-in-law. She attended Ovid High School and was one week from graduation when she accepted a civil service job.

During WW I she worked for the government in Washington, D.C., as a clerk for the Surgeon General Medical Division.

She later moved to Philadelphia and lived there until 1927 when she and her husband moved to Ovid. Mrs. Dietz was then employed as a bookkeeper by the Express office for the next two years.

WORKING IN A doctor's office took up the next eight years and the office work was followed by private duty nursing. She continued home nursing until she opened the maternity home.

The maternity home lead directly to the nursing home.

Her dedication to her vocation makes it easy to understand why she was selected by the Ovid Business Association and Lion's Club last spring to be honored for her untiring work for the community. She received the plaque during Michigan Week last spring.

Helping Hands operational

With school beginning, the Jaycee Auxiliary of St. Johns is busy bringing their Helping Hands project into working order again.

They will again be sending the information sheets home with the school children.

Their cards holder's file will be brought up to date and checked for accuracy.

MRS. RODERICK Brown, chairman of the community service project, said in order to keep this a continuing project each spring they will go to the schools and have the teachers explain the rise of the wordless signs and each fall the lists will be brought up to date.

Helping Hands or Block Parent Plan, as it is known in some areas, was started in St. Johns to provide children of the community a place of safety to turn to when they are in danger. The homes they can seek shelter in will be easily identified as an 8 inch by 9 inch placard with a hand in dark blue on a white background placed in a window easily seen from the street.

The homes selected for placement of the Helping Hands cards is based primarily on the location of the home. There must also be someone there during the hours children are normally enroute to and from school.

THE GOAL SET by the Jaycee Auxiliary is to have 500 homes in St. Johns displaying the cards.

Anyone who was contacted last spring by the Auxiliary about having a card placed in their home and then didn't receive one has been placed in their files and may at some later date receive one.

Anyone interested in having a card in their home who was not contacted can volunteer but they must be recommended by either their minister, priest or school principal.

Mrs. Brown said that final determination will be made on location of the home, however, the Auxiliary plans to have two cards per block throughout the city.

The updated list which will be put on file at the St. Johns Police Department is expected to be completed by Oct. 1.

THE RESPONSIBILITIES listed on the back of the card include: Call the police immediately in any case no matter how minor, involving a crime of an adult against a child; If you should call the police, be absolutely sure to write down the name and rank of whom you talk to, the time and date; Helping Hands signs are not to be transferred to another person or another home. When and if you are not able to participate in the program, contact a Jaycee Auxiliary member and a replacement home will be arranged; Do not administer first aid; Do not give food and beverages; You are not expected to break up fights or give medication etc.—only to bring the situation to the proper authorities and parents; If you suspect the presence of a molester, call the police immediately; Children are not to use volunteers' homes merely as toilet facilities.

Try lamb - it's good, easy on the budget

By HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

Have you discovered the wonderful world of lamb?

Learning to cook lamb is a skill that many home-makers have overlooked. And yet, lamb may provide many quick, delicious meals that can be easy on the budget.

too. One thing to remember is that lamb is not just leg and chops! These are what most homemakers are acquainted with. Consider shoulder roasts, stew meat, neck slices, lamb breasts, ribs, shanks... even ground lamb.

What can you do with lamb? There are hundreds of possibilities. From the Middle East, where lamb is the chief meat, many tasty dishes have appeal to Americans—marinated lamb chops, shish kebabs, braised lamb, lamb pilaf, lamb curry, and there are many more.

ALL LAMB CUTS—with the possible exception of the shank—are tender. This means they can be prepared by such fast, dry-heat methods as broiling and roasting.

They also can be cooked by moist-heat methods, such as braising, stewing and simmering. These take longer, but require little watching and free your oven. An added advantage to these methods is that they can be held—at the peak of goodness—should dinner be delayed. However, you prepare your lamb selection, be sure to serve it hot.

For the most economical lamb cuts, look to the shoulder. This will provide arm and blade shoulder chops—which are as tasty as, and often meatier than, rib or lean chops. Cubes of shoulder meat also make excellent kebabs or stews.

THE SHOULDER roast itself can be boned and rolled for easy slicing. Many meat packers now bone and roll both leg and shoulder roasts, packing them in netting or tying them with cord.

A cushion for stuffing also can be made in a boned shoulder roast. This is often referred to as the cushion-shoulder roast. It is especially good when stuffed with fruit (softened, dried prunes and apricots) or a fruit-flavored bread stuffing (pineapple chunks or tidbits, cranberries or orange segments added to your favorite recipe). Herb, celery or mushroom are delicious as well.

Breast of lamb is another money-saving cut. It is delicious when stuffed or when used in stews, curries, or braised with vegetables. Like all other fresh meats, lamb should be stored loosely wrapped in the coldest part of your refrigerator. Use within a few days of purchase. In the freezer uncooked lamb may be stored for six or seven months with maximum flavor retained.

Cotton is the most washable of fabrics.

Junior Holstein members bring honors from Fair

Once again this summer Clinton County's Junior Holstein members did an outstanding job in the showing at the State Fair at Detroit.

Bryon Green of Elsie showed his junior yearling heifer to first place in the open class and first in junior show and was later made reserve junior champion of the junior show. Bryon's three year old cow was third in open class, second in the Michigan class and first in the junior show. She went on to be the senior and grand champion of the junior show.

Bryon also placed 18th in the open class with his aged cow and was third in junior show.

CHARLES GREEN of Elsie placed fifth in the open class with his junior calf and was second in the junior show. Charles' senior yearling was first in the open class and first in junior show and went on to become junior champion of both the open classes and junior show.

Dana Sue Hazle of St. Johns had a junior heifer calf place seventh in the open class and third in junior show. Dana Sue's two-year-old cow placed third in the open class and was first in junior show. Her three-year-old cow placed 11th in the open class and third in the junior show.

Dana Sue combined her two- and three-year-old cows with a senior yearling owned by her sister Kathy to have three best females bred and owned by exhibitor, which placed 10th in open class. Her two cows were sixth place in the produce of dam class and combined with two other daughters of Zeldens Royal Pontiac to place fifth in the senior get-of-sire class.

KATHY HAZLE of St. Johns had a senior calf place 14th in open class and fourth in junior show. Her senior yearling placed 13th in open class and third in junior show.

Jim Miller of St. Johns had his aged cow place sixth in junior show.

Robert Miller of St. Johns showed his four-year-old cow to fifth in the junior show and his three-year-old cow to sixth in the junior show.

David Miller of St. Johns had his junior heifer place 10th in the open class and sixth in junior show. His three-year-old cow placed 18th in the open class and fifth in junior show.

Showmanship classes were held before the individual classes. Bryon Green of Elsie placed first in senior showmanship and Dana Sue Hazle of St. Johns placed fourth.

CHARLES GREEN of Elsie placed first in junior showmanship, Kathy Hazle of St. Johns placed fourth and Robert Miller of St. Johns placed fifth.

The Michigan Holstein Assn. awards pewter pitchers to junior members who place first in the junior show at the Michigan State Fair in the individual classes. Four of the eight pitchers awarded came to Clinton County. Bryon Green of Elsie received two, Charles Green of Elsie one and Dana Sue Hazle of St. Johns one.

TIP TO MOTORISTS
Many highway accidents could be avoided if everyone knew and obeyed the traffic laws.

Posing with his wet-nosed friend, Bryon Green, 15, of Elsie reflects on how his animal became senior and grand champion Holstein at the 118th Michigan State Fair this year. Bryon named her Radiance Ashley Voleman. He also had the first-place junior yearling and was first in senior showmanship.

New ideas for cutting soybean harvest losses

Would you believe 12 pounds of soybeans could cost $3,000? It did for Ray Beason of Hamburg, Iowa, who was entered in Elanco's National Soybean Yield Contest.

Beason harvested a bumper crop and when he weighed at the local elevator, the yield exceeded all guesses — 92.98 bushels per acre when adjusted to 14 per cent moisture — more than 10 bushels per acre over the reported world's record.

Eight days later Harry Pick of Chenoa, Illinois, mounted his tractor and began making his way through his stately crop of soybeans. When he weighed in at his elevator, his yield was 93.02 bushels per acre; that was .04 bushels more than Beason's record yield harvested the week before. On the whole field it totaled 92.98 bushels per acre.

NEEDLESS TO SAY, Pick was first prize winner and was awarded a new International Harvester 400 self-propelled combine and Beason, as regional winner, drove away an International Harvester 656 tractor. The difference in the prizes, $3,000.

It was immediately apparent that the difference was not who had grown the most soybeans, but who had harvested the most soybeans. Bean moisture was definitely a factor. In Beason's case the moisture in his beans had dropped to 11.35 per cent under the noonday sun, while Pick's had dropped all day and had then risen with the oncoming dew at nightfall, to a moisture content of 12.08. But more important than bean moisture was the fact that dew had made Pick's stalk and pod less brittle which reduced shattering. Gathering losses amount to about 84 per cent of total losses, and shattering accounts for one-half of all gathering losses. Elanco had recognized the importance of harvest losses when they asked Dr. William Johnson, research agricultural engineer at the Ohio Research and Development Center to speak on his work involving soybean-harvest losses.

DR. JOHNSON describes the difference in the fall forecast issue of The Farm Quarterly. He says "I would expect that with proper harvesting methods this loss could be reduced to 5 per cent. This would save U.S. farmers $125 million per year."

Make more beef per corn acre with silage

Cattlemen can produce about 700 pounds more beef per acre of corn by feeding steers just corn silage instead of corn silage plus shelled corn.

Recent experiments at Michigan State University's Beef Cattle Research Center showed steers given a full feed of corn silage plus added supplement produced 1,976 pounds of beef per acre of corn. Another group of steers given a full feed of corn silage, some supplement and one pound of shelled corn per 100 pounds of body weight produced 1,283 pounds of beef per acre.

"The main reason for this is that one-half the energy in corn is in the kernel, while the rest is in the stalk," explained Dr. Hugh E. Henderson, MSU animal husbandry researcher who conducted the experiments.

"BY FEEDING THE corn as silage, the animals can get more nutrient energy from an acre of corn, and the cattlemen can produce beef at a lower cost."

To show the difference in cost, Henderson figured the feed cost per 100 pounds of gain for the cattle fed all corn-silage vs. corn silage plus shelled corn. Figuring what MSU paid for the feeds—$7.50 per ton for the corn silage and $1.22 a bushel for the shelled corn—the cost per 100 pounds of gain was $10.70 for the cattle fed all corn silage and $13.30 for those that got the shelled corn.

"Both groups of cattle were sold on a carcass weight and grade, specification basis (grading middle choice) and brought 45 cents a pound," said Henderson. "In terms of live weight, this would be about $26.50 per hundredweight."

Lime farm land for better crops

Nearly 1,500,000 acres of Michigan farm land needs lime, and fall is a good time to do the job, says Lynn S. Robertson, Michigan State University soil scientist.

Although not all Michigan soils need lime, much of the central and western areas of the state are lime deficient, the Extension specialist explained. Most of the lake plain soils in eastern Michigan do not need lime applications very often.

In 1966 Michigan farmers used 425,000 tons of lime on Michigan soil for which they received ASCS payments. Soil scientists say three times this much could be effectively used yearly.

Low yields of alfalfa and other legumes are most often the result of a lack of lime rather than inadequate fertilizer, Robertson believes.

Soil tests are the only way to accurately determine the amount of lime needed. If the samples are taken now, test results can be back in time for lime application yet this fall. Fall application gives lime time to act and land will be in condition to yield better crops in 1968.

County extension offices, local elevators and fertilizer dealers or lime dealers can give farmers full instructions on taking soil samples and getting tests made.

High alfalfa yields demand high fertility

High alfalfa yields demand heavy stands, and require high fertility. It's as simple as that, says Frank Schaller, Iowa State University extension agronomist.

Alfalfa is an extremely heavy user of plant nutrients . . . and, although some Midwest soils are highly fertile, the continual drain of high yields requires annual fertilization to replenish nutrient supplies.

FALL IS THE ideal time for alfalfa fertilization. In statements reviewed by National Plant Food Institute, Schaller says the starting point for profitable fertilization is an accurate soil test.

Phosphate and potash are the main fertilizer nutrients needed, he adds. Most soils need phosphate at time of alfalfa seeding as well as annual applications.

Potash needs, Schaller says, are more variable, ranging from small amounts of the loess soils to high amounts on till soils—the lighter-textured soils. Potash should be applied annually.

Also, points out the Iowa agronomist, alfalfa is a lime-loving plant and, for best growth, soil pH level should be near neutral.

Take time to think—and above all try to reason right.

County price support rates on '67 soybeans announced

County price support rates announced for 1967-crop soybeans reflect the national average support price of $2.50 per bushel. This is the same as for the 1966 crop.

County rates are for No. 2 grade soybeans with adjustments for moisture, foreign material, damage, and other factors. The rates are based on historical market price relationships throughout the soybean producing areas.

Some of the factors influencing market price relationships are the accessibility to crushing and export facilities, cost of transportation to market outlets and the existence of adequate storage which permits more orderly marketing.

INDIVIDUAL county rates have been established for the first time in 14 additional counties in Virginia in line with the Department's policy of establishing county rates in areas where soybean production has reached significant proportions and where there is considerable variation in market factors. In Michigan, county rates are identical with those for the 1966 crop. Premiums and discounts are the same as for the 1966 crop.

Loans are available through June 30, 1968, and will mature on July 31, 1968.

County rates are available at ASCS county offices where soybeans are produced. Rates in Michigan counties vary from $2.44 to $2.53 per bushel.

Clinton County's price support rate for No. 2 soybeans and containing from 13.8 to 14.0 per cent moisture is $2.46 per bushel.

SOYBEANS achieved the title of "No. 1 Dollar Earner Among U.S. Agricultural Exports" with the 1965 crop. Exports of soybeans and products are expected to exceed one billion in fiscal 1967.

There is a change in the 1967 feed grain regulations; the period restricting grazing on acreage diverted for the 1967 feed grain program has been modified; grazing is now permitted beginning September 1. Grazing originally was prohibited before October 1.

Wheat a major state cash crop

Wheat is a major cash crop in Michigan and one of the few planted in the fall for harvest the following summer.

In 1967 wheat income in Michigan may exceed that of pea beans, although in recent years Michigan beans have been the top cash crop income producer.

Wheat income in Michigan from 1963 through 1966 ranged from $38,000,000 to $70,000,000. Acreage for 1966 harvest was 766,000—lowest in a quarter century. But in 1967 the harvested acreage increased materially—1,100,000 acres.

EVEN THOUGH the 1967 crop was large, the low price per bushel has kept total income down.

For 1968, Dr. Milton H. Erdmann, Michigan State University crop scientist, thinks the acreage planted this fall may be near 900,000. Allotments have been cut back about 13 per cent.

Soybeans have taken over some of the acres in southern Michigan where most of the wheat is grown, Erdmann says.

Wheat fits well into the Michigan farming picture according to George McQueen, Clinton County Extension agricultural agent. In different parts of the state wheat goes on ground which had been in field beans, soybeans, silage corn and potatoes.

Fallow land where a good program of summer quackgrass control has been practiced is ideal for wheat planting, the agent says.

SMV emblem use restricted

There is some question among farmers when the triangular red "Slow Moving Vehicle" emblem is used on the highways.

According to George McQueen, county agricultural Extension agent in Clinton County, many farmers have mounted the emblem on the back of wagons that are pulled behind both trucks and tractors. The emblem must be visible when the wagon is pulled by a tractor or other vehicle with a normal maximum speed of 25 miles per hour or

Combining hormones boosts beef heifers

Beef heifers get an extra boost when they are fed both MGA (melengestrol acetate) and DES (diethylstilbestrol) instead of just one of these hormones.

Experiments conducted by Dr. Hugh E. Henderson, Michigan State University animal husbandry researcher, show that the two hormones actually have an "additive" effect. In other words, MGA and DES fed together increase daily gains in heifers as much as the total increase of the two fed separately.

In his trials, Dr. Henderson found that heifers receiving no hormone gained 2.05 pounds daily; those fed DES alone gained 2.21 pounds; those fed only MGA, 2.30 pounds; and those getting both DES and MGA, 2.40 pounds daily.

Similar trials conducted with steers showed no effects from MGA when fed separately or in combination with DES. However, the DES alone increased daily gains from 2.36 pounds to 2.68 pounds daily.

MGA is not cleared for use by FDA but its manufacturer expects it to be on the market soon.

Fall-winter fertilization may answer demands

Today's commercial type farming demands more fertilizer than a grower can apply at planting or by sidedress. Many scientists and top growers call fall-winter fertilization the answer.

Phosphorus (P) and potassium (K) can be plowed down in fall on all but the most sandy soils or spread on frozen or snow-covered level land to await spring plowdown. They can also be applied to frozen or snow-covered slopes up to 5 per cent with corn stalks, stubble, or sod cover.

Both nutrients (P & K) cling to soil particles like magnets, stay about where they are put unless moved physically by plowing or disking.

ON A SILT LOAM soil, potassium loss averaged only 2 pounds per acre yearly under 40 inches annual rain during a long testing period.

Even on a loamy sand, 460 pounds of potash applied annually for nine years moved very little below plow depth, with 30 inches annual rainfall plus 10 inches irrigation.

Heavy phosphorus applications increased P soil tests from 8 to 170 pounds per acre in some Midwest tests.

Nitrogen can be plowed down with corn stalks or stubble on dark colored fairly level soils or applied to frozen or snow-covered level fields and slopes up to 5 per cent with heavy stalk, stubble, or sod cover.

Fall N, decays crop residues which hold part of it in bacteria bodies ready to give corn an early spring start.

Fall N should be applied after soil temperature tests 50 degrees F or cooler, when nitrifying bacteria virtually stops working. Check by burying a soil thermometer four inches for an hour.

Most of the small amounts that may leach will remain in the sub-soil to give moisture-seeking roots a bonus in dry summer.

Here's quick moisture test

Ensiling of forages and storage of grain at the correct moisture content will help to eliminate storage losses, improve quality and poor performance of livestock. A new Michigan State University Extension bulletin explains a simple moisture test for forages and grain.

The publication is Extension Bulletin 441 - "Easy Moisture Test for Forages and Grains," prepared by Don Hillman, Extension dairyman. It can be obtained without charge from the county extension office.

The procedure was developed by Dr. Steven T. Dexter, MSU crop scientist. It requires a diet scale that weighs in grams (cost - about $15 to $20), a light seamless aluminum pan, a piece of one-eighth inch hardware cloth, some vegetable oil and a thermometer.

Farmers may find the use of this equipment in making their own simple moisture test may save many trips to town to have moisture content of grain and forages checked. However, it is recommended that the process be double checked occasionally by having moisture tests made at an elevator or elsewhere in the county and comparing them with home test results.

Low wheat price could result in use as beef feed

The low price of wheat during the 1967 harvest season has caused many farmers to ask how competitive the grain is with shelled corn as a source of energy for finishing feed lot cattle.

Drs. Hugh Henderson and Terry Greathouse, beef cattle specialists in the Department of Animal Husbandry at Michigan State University, say if there is a price dockage in wheat due to garlic or other foreign material, farmers may profit by feeding this low-priced wheat.

They point out that in total digestible nutrients that shelled corn and wheat have very little difference. Wheat is higher, however, in crude protein.

"WHEN SWITCHING beef cattle from shelled corn to wheat substitute one pound of wheat for one pound of shelled corn. However, the level of protein supplementation can be adjusted downward," Henderson commented.

From a practical standpoint, most cattle feeders substitute rolled wheat for shelled corn on a pound for pound basis. "Wheat should be rolled or coarsely ground and never fed whole," Henderson added. He believes that one pound of wheat daily per one hundred pounds of body weight of animal is adequate.

Greathouse says in comparing values, if the shelled corn price is $1.20 per bushel (56 pounds) and the wheat price is $1.38 (60 pound bushel), they are of equal value, with the exception of wheat being higher in protein content.

'Anti-freeze' can fight winter - kill

The top grower now asks his alfalfa to produce 6 to 10 tons and his wheat to give him 60 to 100 bushels per acre.

To do this, all perennial forages and winter annuals must be fit for winter. The unfit rarely survive winterkill. What is winterkill?

1) It is heaving. Freezing-and-thawing soils literally heave plants from the earth, breaking and exposing roots.

2) It is smothering. Plants can't breathe, actually smother from ice sheets formed over the soil with little snow cover. A fast-breathing plant will choke on the toxic products of its own respiration or breath when those products can't get out.

3) It is drought. Plants can't get enough to drink from a frozen soil that is like a dry soil.

4) It is rupture. Plant cells rupture as the plant freezes; its cells lose water, and ice crystals form to rupture cell walls.

THE GOOD GROWER winterizes his crop with fall fertilizer—a right balanced grade that lowers the freezing point of cell sap, insures stronger roots, and reduces respiration and water loss.

In a severe Midwest winter, 90 per cent of poorly fertilized alfalfa died compared to only 20 per cent of the well-fertilized crop. And well fertilized and limed wheat produced a deeper, stronger, denser root system that increased spring yields 30 bushels per acre.

On Canadian peach trees struggling through -8 degree F periods, 60 per cent more fruit buds survived at high potassium levels than at lower potassium.

Top alfalfa growers, cutting early and often for 6 to 10-ton yields, are demanding more potassium to replace the higher amounts removed by younger cuttings.

A 3-YEAR STUDY of alfalfa-orchardgrass showed more frequent cuttings of younger plants removed some 1,100 pounds of potassium, about twice that applied in fertilizer. To survive winter and maintain high yields, frequently cut alfalfa might well contain 3 to 4 per cent potassium rather than the traditional 2 per cent some specialists suggest.

Greater London, including the 28 metropolitan boroughs, comprises 443,455 acres. The original old city consists of 675 acres.

Let Purina help you get it!!!

Milk prices influence the size of your milk check. So does the amount of milk you sell. The Purina Dairy Program promises to help dairymen get lots of milk to sell.

Now, with milk prices on the rise, it's just good common sense to feed your cows the Purina Dairy Chow that best fits your herd and your roughage. More milk from the same cows can make your milk check grow bigger and bigger. Keeps down the overhead expense of adding more cows.

Feed Purina Dairy Chows . . . Complete or concentrates. They are backed by Purina Research and proven by leading dairymen in this area. Ask us for details of the Purina Dairy Program. It's designed to help produce big milk checks.

Hoe and strong back are not enough today

Living and progressing are one long succession of risks. Eliminating all risk is hardly possible in life, and pursuing this goal exclusively would make us about as productive as fungus and a dead tree. Controlling electricity for universal use involved risk. Developing life-saving and pain-killing drugs involved uncertainties. . . And so on down a countless list of products, services and foods that we accept like the air we breathe.

Today, many authorities tell us that overpopulation will cause tens of millions of the world's people to starve to death in the comparatively near future. Nature used to control the population question by famine disease, etc. Advantages in medicine have worked to lengthen life expectancy and increase the rate of population growth.

Now, science is coming to the aid of population control and food production. To increase food production on available farmland, we must control plant disease and insect pests. Pesticides were developed to do this job. Just as with electricity, medicine or gasoline, the question is how, when and where to use them. Millions of people have been spared sickness and untimely death through the use of pesticides in health programs. Quantity, quality and diversity of farm crops have been multiplied manifold. Much more must be done on a worldwide scale.

Senator Ribicoff's subcommittee of the committee on government operations was able to state in its report: "The testimony balanced the great benefits of disease control and food production against the risks of acute poisoning to applicators, occasional accidental food contamination, and disruption of fish and wildlife. The conclusion is that no significant human health hazard exists today."

The world's population can no longer depend on a hoe and a strong back for its future food supply. Significantly, it has been shown that proper use of pesticide chemicals vital in modern agricultural production goes hand in hand with utmost purity of food supplies.

Minimum wage may hinder rather than help

Everyone is in favor of a living wage, but this cannot be achieved successfully by government mandate. The minimum wage laws tend to do the greatest damage to those they are supposed to help.

Writing in the scholarly journal Daedalus, James Tobin, former member of the Council of Economic Advisers in the Kennedy-Johnson administration, offered an opinion widely shared among economists:

"People who lack the capacity to earn a decent living need to be helped, but they will not be helped by minimum wage laws, trade union wage pressures, or other devices which seek to compel employers to pay more than their work is worth. The more likely outcome of such regulations is that the intended beneficiaries are not employed at all."

For example, in Mississippi the cotton growers in order to lessen the impact of the new $1 an hour minimum wage for farm workers are planning to use chemical weed killers and increased use of mechanical cotton pickers, according to the Delta Council.

A mandatory wage dries up private employment opportunities, and adds to pressures for enlarged public expenditure programs by the federal government. Since people thus deprived of jobs may not become employable unless average prices are driven up enough to make it profitable to hire them again, efforts to maintain low employment rates necessarily involve inflationary measures, according to the First National City Bank of New York monthly economic letter.

KEEP THINGS "ALIVE." Motorists in Clinton County are compiling a commendable record this year in reducing the number of fatal accidents, but the effort must be a constant one. Drive with care at all times.

You can wave
writer claims

Editor:

I have just read your article on the editorial page, "Can We Wave the Flag Too Much?" (Aug. 31). Being a regular buyer of your paper I feel entitled to answer when opportunities such as this present themselves.

I feel people can and do wave the flag too much. Here are some things I have seen done that make me feel so:

*Cheating on income tax and also avoiding payment.

*Using ANY means to "gracefully" keep themselves or their sons out of service but NOT being AGAINST anyone else going.

*Bribing people with money for votes (see article by Drew Pearson in the Aug. 23 issue of the Detroit Free Press).

*BEING AGAINST people because of skin color, even murdering them to attain their desires.

*Inciting and engaging in riots for the sole purpose of looting. This reminds me of an incident in another city concerning a fireman — a "public servant." He said openly that when he left scenes of fires he took home anything he could conceal. His wife remarked that "He brought home some sheets but I wish he would try and get bigger ones as they didn't fit our bed."

A real "flag waver" — on the surface being a real hero to help his fellow man and stealing their few remaining possessions after their homes were destroyed.

To go on . . .

*Using the roads and highways to litter with beer bottles, etc. Many farmers are fearful the bottles thrown off the roads will go through the choppers, causing deaths to their animals from ground glass. It also causes tire trouble and accidents.

*Driving very carelessly and dangerously, sometimes well over speed limits (set by the country represented by the flag they are waving VIGOROUSLY) and often under the influence of too much alcohol.

*NOT WANTING equality for others because of the skin color. Not wanting them to have good jobs and education. Yet the Constitution claims "All men are created equal." Are they?

I am NOT a flag waver; don't have one but do my utmost to prove to my country and my God that I am a good citizen by NOT doing these things.

Which would the government or our fellow man prefer — a "vigorous" flag waver who does so, or a non-flag waver who tries his very best to do right so as not to cause trouble and unhappiness to his country and fellow man?

These are but a few things happening to help drive home the point I'm trying to make. Let's prove to our country, God and fellow man and ourselves. Wearing out arms waving flags yet doing things such as ones written above are not going to end in anything good. The world's state of affairs PROVES this.

Most Sincerely,
JOAN MATTER

Low ag prices means loss to our economy

Dear Editor,

In a recent edition of the Clinton County News I read a very interesting article titled "Looks like a 'very good year' for ag crops here." John Hall, secretary-treasurer and manager of St. Johns Co-Op, said receipts for wheat at the co-op represent about $331,000 for farmers in the central Clinton County area. He pointed out this means a tremendous potential business for St. Johns merchants because of the normal interchange of a dollar is seven times before it leaves the community.

It is a known fact that the raw material dollar interchanges seven times in the economy. So that $331,000 paid for wheat is actually a potential $2,317,000 for the central Clinton area. Recently I received a letter from the A.S.C. office stating that partly for wheat was $2.61. This is a revised parity. True parity is $3.08. However, at $2.61 the farmer in central Clinton County was still about $331,000 short of a just price. This also means that in the central Clinton County area the businessmen of St. Johns also lost a potential $2,317,000.

I also have an article, "On Target with the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce." In it they state they welcome suggestions. Also that they need more business. If the Chamber of Commerce would "attract a business that would hire 10 people with a payroll of about $60,000 per year" they would be very happy. A labor dollar interchanges only $3.64 into the national economy and would be a potential of $218,400.

Wheat is one of the minor agricultural products of Clinton County, but yet one area of the county was underpaid about $331,000. So it is a safe estimate that the county's farmers were underpaid over one million dollars on wheat alone. Agricultural prices are at 72 per cent of revised parity. In 1967 Clinton's farmers will again be underpaid many millions of dollars and for every dollar being underpaid to Clinton's farmers the economy suffers a loss of $7.

The "On Target" article closed with the paragraph, "You can help your business and community by joining with your neighbors and working with the Chamber for a better St. Johns and Clinton County."

Will you? My answer is yes. I cannot think of a better way to help Clinton County and America than by earnestly striving for "Justice at the marketplace" for the nation's largest business, agriculture.

Can you?

Sincerely,
DON MILLER

QUITE A CHANGE IN COURTHOUSE OVER THE YEARS

Recognize the Clinton County Courthouse? Modernization over the years has changed its appearance considerably, but this picture is familiar to a lot of people around the county. The picture apparently was taken looking north from Cass Street at the back of the building. It's on a post card belonging to Steve VanVleet of 1754 W. Price Road, a young chap who has a collection of old post cards. Another card about the same age carries a 1908 post mark.

The files of the Clinton County News are going on microfilm. These files are stored in cabinets on the second floor, here at the News and most are in bound volumes.

Through the cooperation of the Clarke Historical Library at Central Michigan University in Mount Pleasant, these volumes will be sent to Mount Pleasant for the microfilming.

THE CLINTON County News files date back to the late 1800's and are a historical record of the county in both news and advertising.

John Cumming, Director of the Clarke Historical Library at Central Michigan, has spent many years in research on weekly newspapers and has now received a grant from the Kresge Foundation to microfilm the weekly newspapers of Michigan.

THE CLINTON County News will be the first of these weeklies to be microfilmed. Cumming's reasons for picking the Clinton County News were stated in a letter I received from him a short time ago.

In his letter Cumming stated, "The Clinton County News is an especially significant newspaper from the historical point of view. St. Johns for many years was the gateway to the north. It was the railroad terminal for towns and villages of Gratiot and Isabella Counties. It was also on the main route across the state from Grand Rapids to Detroit."

"OVER THE YEARS St. Johns has had seven newspapers: The Clinton Democrat, Clinton Independent, Clinton Republican News, St. Johns Republican, St. Johns Union-Democrat, Clinton County Republican News and the Clinton County News; Maple Rapids had the Messenger, and the Dispatch; Elsie had the Sun and Yankee Clipper; and Ovid had the Union, the Register and the Western Cyclist. Fowler had a newspaper called the Register."

Cumming further stated, "It is unfortunate that few of these files have been preserved. Their loss creates an irreplaceable void in our history. Perhaps copies of these newspapers, or even bound volumes of them, are hidden away in someone's attic. If so, the Clarke Historical Library would like to acquire them for preservation."

If anyone has any old newspapers, or bound volumes from any of the past newspapers of Clinton County, Mr. Cumming would greatly appreciate having them to microfilm. These would be returned to the person owning same or kept at the Historical Library for safe keeping.

If you have something in this line that you think would be of value to the historical library, a note to either John Cumming, Clarke Historical Library, Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant, Michigan 48858 or a note or phone call to me would be appreciated.

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

You don't have to be crazy to walk five miles on concrete and steel over open water, but it helps.

The only consolation I have (and I didn't get much consolation from my wife) concerning my Labor Day walk across the Mackinac Bridge was that more than 10,000 other people were just as crazy as I was, including at least seven others from St. Johns.

After two years of planning, I made a definite commitment to walk the bridge this year. John and Hattie Hannah invited us to "spend the weekend" at their cottage near Mackinaw City, and Ann, Kathy and I spent Sunday of the weekend over on Mackinac Island.

IT WAS A GREAT weekend, weatherwise and company-wise, but the highlight was to be the bridge walk. When I went north I was the only one out of the group at the cottage that was going to take the walk. But by Sunday night Mrs. Hannah and her daughter, Miss Sally Haddock of Ann Arbor, decided they might try the walk, too, and Monday morning John couldn't stand it and he came along.

It was a beautiful day right from the start. We got into Mackinaw City about 7:15 a.m. and were fortunate to get into a short line waiting for bus transportation across the bridge to the starting line at St. Ignace. We arrived on the U.P. side five minutes ahead of Gov. George Romney who walked south to north in slightly over 47 minutes—a new gubernatorial record.

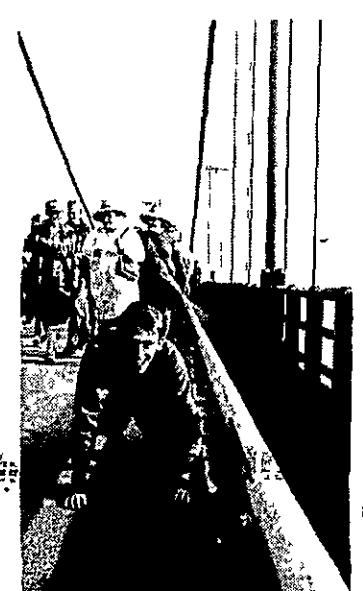

There was the expected amount of speech making, an Indian dance by some visiting Indians from the Southwest and then the walking races for those who were racing the clock across the bridge. We regular people who were walking for the pure fun of it got started at 8:30 a.m., right on schedule.

The walk across the bridge was uneventful. We did note at the halfway point that we were walking twice as slowly as Gov. Romney had done, and it was noticeable on the downhill final phase that more people were passing us than we were passing.

EXCEPT FOR THE center spans, walking across the bridge was no different than walking on any highway. Over the center span, it is possible to walk on the steel grating that makes up the center two lanes of the four-lane highway. This is different walking and though not difficult is hard on the bottom of your feet. When this became a problem, we switched back to the outside lanes.

The normal northbound lanes of the bridge were blocked off to vehicle traffic, and it used the two southbound lanes for two-way traffic, while the walkers used the two northbound lanes to walk south.

Dale Robinson of St. Johns and his family were among the early starters on the bridge walk, and just beyond the halfway point Gayle Vauconsant whipped by me and was gone after a brief conversation.

The view from the bridge is, of course, tremendous. And the people who walked the bridge were tremendous to watch. There were elderly people—one lady was 74—and there were young people; one little girl who was just barely able to walk was seen pushing her buggy and hanging on to her dad's hand, and she had the biggest grin on her face. Another guy was being pushed over in a wheel chair, unable to hike it on his broken ankle.

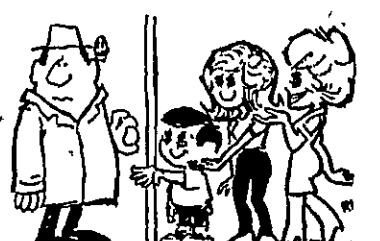

THE SPIRIT of the people reminded me of the spirit people showed last winter after the big snow. Then everybody had trouble getting somewhere, so everybody was good natured about it. Labor Day morning everybody coming off the bridge had sore feet but everybody was good natured about it.

My experience in walking the Mackinac Bridge will lead me to try it again next year. And in order to relay any wrong impressions about my walking pace the day after the bridge walk last week let me say I was not limping but was merely practicing my heel-and-toe stride—in slow motion—as I got warmed up for next year's bridge walk.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Impressive traffic mark for Michigan . . . so far

Unless Labor Day drastically altered the picture, Michigan motorists have an impressive traffic record for 1967.

Michigan traffic deaths on holidays, weekends and during the week have dropped sharply from last year's levels while they remained unchanged nationwide says the Automobile Club of Michigan.

In its continuing study of traffic mishaps, AAA reported that during the first six months of this year, including the July 4 holiday, highway fatalities were down more than 17 per cent. Injuries dropped an estimated 10 per cent. Traffic volume remained at 1966 levels.

WHAT ACCOUNTED for the improvement? Auto Club General Manager Fred Rehm attributes a major share of decrease to better driving habits of the state's 41 1/2 million motorists. "Michigan motorists are getting the message . . . the vast majority of good drivers appear to be using that extra bit of carefulness and alertness to safety that is all they need to get them home safely. And more of the bad ones who've shown by their past records they are unfit to drive seem to be off the roads . . . on holidays at least," Rehm said.

Michigan's July 4 death rate was down 18 per cent from last year. Among the seven largest states, in terms of vehicle registration, Michigan listed 30 deaths, up 7 per cent over the last year. This in comparison to Texas which recorded 71 deaths, up 73 per cent from 1966.

Much room for improvement remained, the study notes. Nine-tenths one per cent of all highway accidents which occurred in Michigan during the July 4 weekend involved "driver error." The four top "errors" were excessive speed, loss of vehicle control, right-of-way violations and drunk driving. Drivers with unsatisfactory driving records again contributed heavily to fatal accidents. Nine of the 28 known Michigan drivers involved in traffic deaths had more than the so-called-average life-time record of four points.

ANNUAL REPORT of crime in the United States, released by the FBI, shows another significant increase in crimes of all types. Currently the increase in crime they need to get them home safely.

In Michigan, a total of 182,045 crimes were committed in 1966. Burglary accounted for 78,353; larceny for 47,552; auto theft, 29,277; robbery, 13,061; aggravated assault, 11,411 and forcible rape, 1,988. Murder and non-negligent manslaughter totaled 393.

Michigan's Highland Park led the nation in total crimes committed in cities from 25,000 to 50,000 population. A total of 2,848 crimes were reported there in 1966. Lowest in the nation in that population category was South Euclid, Ohio, with only 67 crimes.

THE 10-HOUR DAY, 54-hour week limitations for women employees will be lifted Nov. 2. The 1909 statute which set the labor ceilings for females was repealed this year when the legislature decided the law had become outmoded by other statutes, particularly by the Federal Equal Opportunity Law.

Scheduling of hours should become easier for employers with women on the payroll, but other statutes still protect females from working under conditions which the State Labor Department may consider injurious.

The Michigan State Chamber of Commerce backed the move to scrap the 1909 law. The Chamber represents hosts of employers of women throughout the state. "Progress has to be made," said William A. Wickham, legislative counsel for the chamber.

By June of this year, 62 Michigan communities were involved in building and planning 7,898 units. Eighteen communities now have 1,132 units in operation.

A growing problem has been the shortage of trained personnel to manage housing projects. This is partially solved by new training programs instituted at Wayne State University and U-M.

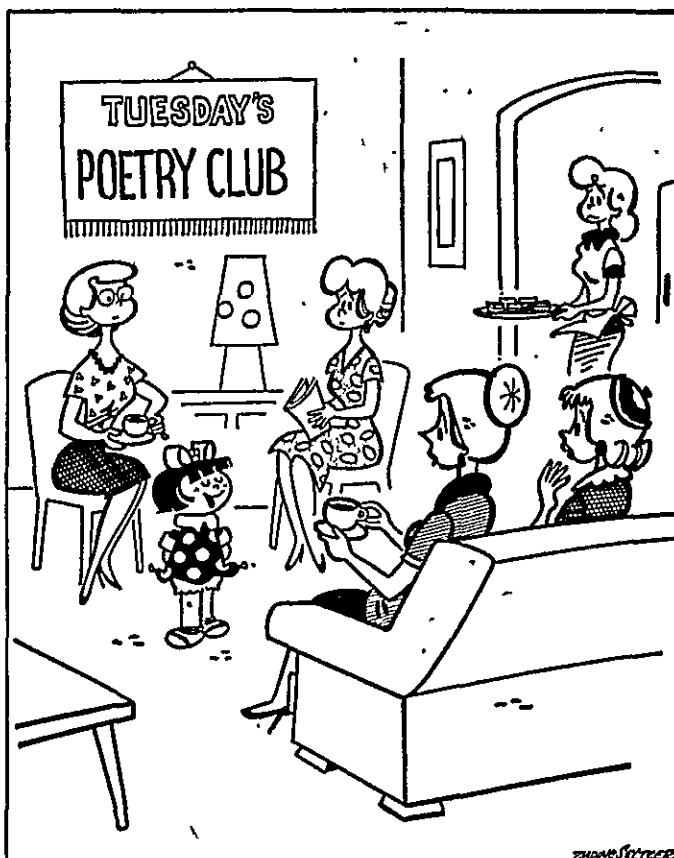

There is still much to be done if Michigan is to reach its goal of 100,000 units for elderly housing by 1974, the commission noted.

Its north for folks in autumn
To dodge the pollen scare,
And daily countless tests are made
That quite get in your hair.

In the way you want it to?
Does your stummick often falter
In the work it's meant to do?

Does a certain food infect you

The "Low Down"

From the Congressional Record
By Joe Crump

Would prevent future 'Tonkin' resolutions

Rep. Paul Findley (Ill.) "The question of what constitutes a national commitment is of great importance . . . and one which I feel deserves a thorough public airing so that the people of this country may understand better the governmental processes which can lead us to peace or to war."

"In August of 1964, the administration and the Congress decided that the form of such an endorsement should be that of a joint resolution, known as the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution. Passed in response to a reported attack by North Vietnam upon two American ships in international waters . . .

"The hearings on the resolution dealt almost exclusively with the facts of the attack and did not consider the war then raging in South Vietnam."

"TODAY THERE is great uneasiness among senators and representatives who voted for that resolution — an uneasiness that pervades the entire country. It is an uneasiness born of unanswered questions — how did we get there, why are we fighting there, what will be the ultimate cost, when will we be able to get out, what is the risk of China entering the war? . . .

"Despite the fact that we are spending over $20 billion per year on the great war effort, we are still uneasy about why we are fighting in Vietnam . . .

"Even our participation in the Korean war, though authorized by the United States, and never formally declared a war by Congress, was precipitated by an easily recognizable event; namely, the invasion on June 25, 1950, of South Korea by over 60,000 North Korean troops spearheaded by over 100 Russian-built tanks."

"The Vietnam war has no such easily definable origin . . .

"Some will say that the American commitment actually began when the Congress passed the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution on Aug. 10, 1964. But there are striking differences between the events which preceded that resolution and those of the three other wars in this century . . .

"AFTER THE INVASION of the North Koreans, the United Nations Security Council asked the United States and other members to enforce the U.N. order for a cessation of hostilities and a withdrawal of troops."

"What must be realized, and what has led to immeasurable confusion, is that the legal basis for one section of the resolution (Gulf of Tonkin) is not the same as the legal basis for the other section, and the President cannot use the legal basis for one section to justify action under the other section."

"Section 1 of the operative part of the resolution reads: 'The Congress approves and supports the determination of the President, as Commander in Chief, to take all necessary measures to repel any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression.'"

"Here, the legal basis cited was that of the Commander in Chief to repel the attack upon the two American naval vessels operating in international waters. As the President stated at his news conference . . . he did not need congressional authority for these purely defensive actions. It is always the right of American military personnel to respond when attacked. . . .

"A resolution should be placed before the Congress — one which will be debated and amended in order to forge a policy acceptable to the American people, one which will answer the grave fundamental questions now being asked. In my view this is the logical, proper, sensible way to remove the feeling of uneasiness so prevalent today."

"The Congress surely now comprehends fully this national uneasiness. . . ."

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT
Sentiment continues to build in Congress towards a closer look at any future resolutions, resolutions that might be interpreted as giving a blank-check to a President regarding military involvement.

Newlyweds honeymoon in Northern Michigan

Mr and Mrs Henry Nemetz Jr. are honeymooning in northern Michigan following their wedding Saturday, Sept. 2, at 2 p.m. at the Maple Rapids Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Clarence Bennett of Maple Rapids and the groom is the son of Mr and Mrs Henry Nemetz Sr. of rural Maple Rapids.

For her nuptials the bride wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and silk organza over tulle. A crown of pearls held her veil in place. She carried a bouquet of baby chrysanthemums, pink roses and white carnations. MRS. GENE DUTTON of Maple Rapids, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of blue silk and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums tinted pink and baby roses. Gene Dutton, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man.

SEATING THE GUESTS were William Nemetz of Maple Rapids and Chris Maybee of St. Johns.

Honored guest was Mrs Mary Kellogg of Eureka, grandmother of the groom.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor for about 150 guests.

On their return the newlyweds will be at home in their apartment in Maple Rapids.

Announcing DODGE fever one look,
and you've got it.

Supplement to the Clinton County News

Sept. 14, 1967

Here comes the shape you've been waiting for.

Now relax and enjoy it.

Congratulations...you've got

DODGE fever

'68 Charger. What a great shape to be in.

The shape. Low and long and slim as a stiletto. The clean lines of a Mach 2 jet on wheels. This is your car. And you know it.

Slip inside. Feel it. The deepness of the buckets. The fitness of the instruments. Round, and matt black with numbers. Fire up a 318 V8 and listen to its electronically balanced smoothness. Touch an aircraft-type switch on the panel and listen as concealed motors reveal the headlights. It's all here. The deep foam padding in the seats, side running lights, room in the back for valued guests, even a thoughtful pocket in the door for your glasses and maps.

This is the car you always hoped someone would build. And now somebody has. Charger.

Dodge Charger. And from the clean low sweep of the hood to the impudent upsweep on the rear deck, you wouldn't change a line of it if you could.

Charger. Just the way you want it. Priced so you can have it. Watch it. You've got Dodge Fever. And you'll never be the same again.

You've got DODGE fever

'68 Dodge Monaco. The luxury you long for at a price you can live with.

Can the man who wants more than two tons of luxury car with padded comfort throughout, plus the alert response of V8 power, find happiness on an ordinary budget?

You bet he can. Monaco is the answer. A lot more car than you thought you could afford. Almost twenty feet of gleaming luxury. Thick foam-padded seats. Deep-pile carpeting. A performance carefully looked after by the 383-cubic-inch V8 that is standard on all Monaco models.

With such other standard features as a Cornering Light on the Monaco 500 two-door hardtop and courtesy lights just about everywhere on all models. Even in the ash receivers. With such exotic options as an eight-track stereo-tape player and Automatic Temperature Control and a six-way power seat adjuster.

'68 Monaco. For the man with extraordinary taste—but an ordinary budget. Feel the Fever setting in? There's only one thing to do.

and everywhere in between.

No wonder you've got

DODGE fever

'68 Dodge Polara. Brand-new luxury now at popular prices.

Once the good looks of Polara have you firmly in their grip, what next? Then it's time to look around and see what else Polara has to offer. Comfort. Luxury. Performance. Big, foam-padded seats, either vinyl or cloth-and-vinyl. Deep, rich carpeting. An eager, deep-breathing 318-cubic-inch V8 engine that runs like a dream on regular gasoline. An optional three-speed automatic transmission to take the calisthenics out of city driving. Optional eight-track stereo-tape player and speed control unit, both great features for highway travel. Padded dash and visors plus over a dozen other standard safety features. And the satisfaction of owning all this automobile for a much lower price than seems reasonable to you. No wonder Dodge Fever is so easy to catch, when Polara is so easy to buy. Prove to yourself just how easy. See your nearby Dodge Dealer.

behind looks like this and quick as a wink

you've got
DODGE fever

'68 Dodge Coronet. Your kind of beauty at your kind of price.

Catching Dodge Fever is finding a great-looking car with everything you want that you thought you couldn't afford and finding out you can.

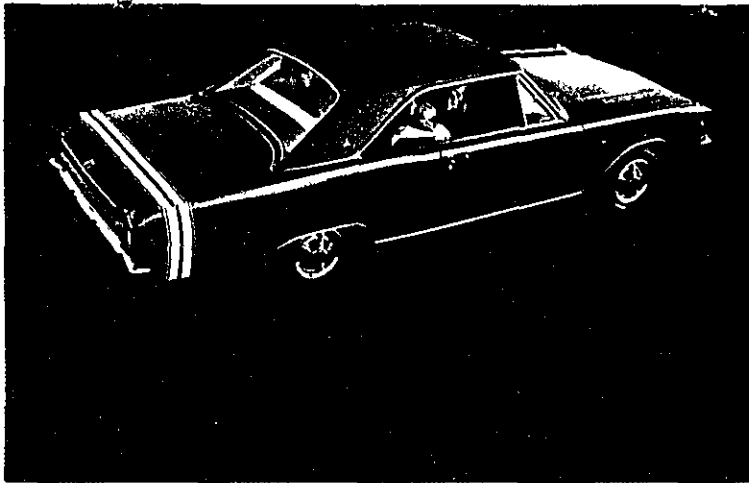

Dodge Coronet 500.

That beautiful, brawny, barrel-chested hunk of car with the great new shape. A new instrument panel with aircraft-type switches, a frisky

V8 that runs on regular, padded dash, carpets, and backup lights that are cleverly hidden inside the taillights. New safety items for your security. Options from stereo tape to air conditioning. And a price that will let you slip in a few extra ones without feeling a twinge in the budget. Bench seats and vinyl buckets and cloth-and-vinyl buckets and even a crazy bucket-with-folding-armrest-that-can-seat-three arrangement. For Coronet fanciers, Dodge Fever comes in seventeen colors and seven great engines and fourteen models—all at very comfortable prices. And that's the easiest part to take of all.

Dodge Fever. Aren't you glad you've got it?

One look, and you've got the closer you get, the harder you'll fall.

DODGE fever

'68 Dodge Dart. Best-looking reason in the world to save money.

Wouldn't you know it? Just about the time you convince yourself that you're going to have to plunk down a bundle to get the kind of size, styling and luxury you want . . . along comes Dart '68. And you begin to get the Fever. You'll find the new Dart is bigger than any compact you're used to. A spirited performer to be sure. With a snappy 170-cubic-inch Six at the low end and a 383 4-barrel V8 at the high. (And there's a choice of four engines in between.) But for all its muscle, Dart is a real softy inside. Padded instrument panel. Padded sun visors. Padded seatback. Padded steering wheel hub. Carpeting all around, of course. And a lot of new safety items for your security. Dart's low compact price gives you plenty of room to exercise your options. Things like a vinyl top. Rallye Suspension. Tach for V8 engines. Air conditioning. And even a rear window defogger. Dodge Dart—America's best-selling compact. Proof that you don't have to be rich to cure Dodge Fever. See it now.

NEW DODGE ADVENTURER

A GREAT NEW IDEA FOR PEOPLE WHO WORK HARD BUT PLAY EVEN HARDER.

Adventurer—the Dodge pickup that keeps right on going when the lights go out for ordinary pickups. Because it makes such a great companion, night as well as day. It's handsome, comfortable, and easy-riding, with brisker performance than you ever expected in a pickup. And its deluxe edition comes with bucket seats, full carpeting, and a 383-cubic-inch V8. But with all this, the wheelbase is still 128 inches and the pickup box still eight feet long. That's Adventurer, the pickup that leads a double life. One of the 32 Dodge pickups that give you more truck per buck.

DODGE A108 VAN

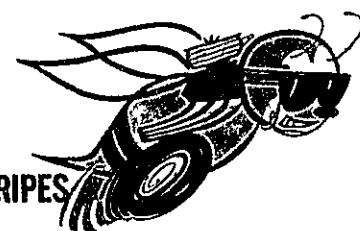

IF YOU WANT MORE OUT OF A TRUCK, MAKE SURE YOU GET MORE TRUCK TO BEGIN WITH.

Here's the compact van for people who carry long, bulky loads. Ten feet of cargo space. Nearly 14 feet with the passenger seat removed. The cargo doors are the widest in the field. And transmissions, springs and axles are built with traditional Dodge dependability. Engines include the standard 170-cubic-inch Slant Six and two options: a 225-cubic-inch Slant Six and a 318-cubic-inch V8. If you don't need ten feet of cargo space, but want all these Dodge features, there is also the A100 compact van with a 90" wheelbase and over eight feet of cargo space.
