The whole county is in a swim about the start of football season for Clinton area teams.

The Clinton County News' annual and popular weekly football contest is off and running this week.

Ovid-Elsie nixes new millage

OVID—Ovid-Elsie Area School District voters rejected a proposed extra four mills in voting Monday.

The extra millage would have brought in slightly over $100,000, enough to balance the budget for the current school year.

Opposition to the extra millage was almost identical in both precincts of the district.

The school board was in session Monday night when the results of the election were reported.

Clinton National gets OK for twice-weekly branches

Five Clinton County rural communities have been approved by federal authorities as branch locations for twice-a-week banking service to be provided by the Clinton National Bank & Trust Co. of St. Johns.

Approval for Clinton National branches at Eureka, Maple Rapids, Hubbardston, Wacousta and Bath was received this week from the office of the comptroller of the currency.

CLINTON NATIONAL presently has five other offices in the county—the main office and auto bank in St. Johns, plus full-time banking offices at Eisele, Fowler and Valley Farms.

service branches, said Lusk. The buildings will be designed to accommodate a specially-equipped motorized unit which will bring banking equipment, funds and personnel to each branch on a regular twice-weekly schedule.

Clinton National has options for lease or purchase of sites in all of the communities, Lusk said.

THE ST. JOHNS bank is the first U.S. banking institution west of New York state to receive approval for this new type of rural community service.

Permanent structures will be erected in each of the five rural communities approved as county four towns in its area in December of last year.

Clinton National's decision to apply for establishment of branches in the five Clinton County communities was based on firsthand study of the New York state operations and an exhaustive survey of the local banking potential, said Lusk.

"AFTER THOROUGH consideration it appeared to us that none of the five communities which we propose to service can presently support the investment of money and manpower ordinarily required for a full-time branch," he said.

Board adopts unique plan for new St. Johns High

The design of the new St. Johns High School will be different than the normal approach, but the architect and the school board feel it will be more compact and much more functional.

The design, approved by the board Friday night, involves three circular "clusters" of classrooms, connected to one another, with the entire system connected to conventionally designed wings that include most of the "core" areas.

"WE CAN GET all of our facilities in this scheme with 2,000 square feet less than we could in a conventional rectangular scheme," Supt. of Schools Earl Lancaster said Monday.

The largest of the three circular "clusters" will contain "academic classrooms. The library will be in the center of the circle, with classrooms around the outside. A hallway encircles the library and separates it from the classrooms.

Another circular cluster, connected to the larger one by a corridor, is for science classrooms and laboratories. The third cluster will be devoted to commercial courses.

VOCATIONAL courses will be centered in one of the rectangular wings which will also house the gymnasium and locker rooms. Across from the gym and extending between the two rectangular wings will be the cafeteria-study hall. Housed in the other rectangular wing is the auditorium with 74 seats, the kitchen, the natatorium (swimming pool) and the music rooms.

The design scheme was one of two the school board has asked the architect, Guldo Binda and Associates of Battle Creek, to refine for their further study. Friday night Binda brought the two ideas before the board.

In accepting this particular plan, the board pointed out, as did the architect, that it is more functional than the other plan. "It is more compact than the other plan, it provides for better traffic patterns within the building and it can easily be added to when necessary in the future," Lancaster said.

THE SQUARE FOOTAGE of the proposed building is about 180,000, well under what the school board had figured might be necessary to include all that has been included.

The architects are now proceeding with working drawings of the building and hope to have it ready for bids by February.

The rural schools should be ready for bids by next month, Lancaster said. Pardee and Associates are architects for the rural schools.

Blinda and Associates are rushing work on a black and white print of the proposed high school building and hope to have it available for publication by next week.

YOUTH JAILED 3 DAYS

Danny S. Rogers, 18, of Lansing was fined $20 plus $19.90 costs and sentenced to three days in the county jail by Justice of the Peace T. B. Simpson of Bath last Wednesday. Rogers was arrested on a charge of minor in possession of beer.

CLINTON COUNTY already has more than 2,500 accounts in the five areas, Lusk pointed out. The proposed branches will provide extra convenience for these present patrons as well as new service for prospective customers in the communities, he said.

ON TUESDAYS and Fridays there would be banking at Wacousta from 10 a.m. to noon and at Bath from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m., according to the prelim-

Schools ask rehearing on building rejection

The St. Johns Public Schools will ask for a rehearing next month after the county board of supervisors last week refused permission for the school district to build a 13-room elementary school in Riley Township.

The supervisors reversed a recommendation of the zoning commission unanimously in favor of the permit. The supervisors' vote was 13-7 against.

The main concern was apparently over the location west of the school site at Lowell and Pratt roads of a cattle feeding business. The owner of the business and his attorney had appeared at the zoning commission meeting, calling attention to the fact there might be odors from the feeding operation in the future.

SCHOOL BOARD representatives expressed the opinion then there would be "no trouble," and the commission then approved the schools' application by a 4-0 vote.

The county supervisors' reversal went like this: voting against the approval of the schools' application were Supervisors Raymond Mayers of Bengal Township, Maurice Gove of Bingham, William Huhnagel of Dallas, Oliver Angell of DeWitt Township, Russell Howe of Eagle, Walter Nobis of Lebanon, Almond Cressman of Olive, Willard Krebel of Riley, Claude Underhill of Victor, Ernest Carter of Watertown, Walter Thelen of Westphalia and Bill Buck and Ray Price of the City of DeWitt.

In favor of the application were Gerald Shepard of Bath, George Moore of Duplain, John Setterington of Essex, Derrill Shlnabery of Greenbush, George Austin of Ovid, and Don Clark and Lorenz Tiedt of St. Johns.

School officials said the problem of odor—and the landowner's concern over possible restraint of operation sometime in the future because of the odor—had been resolved at the zoning commission meeting, "to the landowners' satisfaction." The school was not represented at the supervisors' meeting last week for that reason, they said; they anticipated no opposition.

County budget set at $861,170

The 1967 Clinton County operations budget was set at $861,170 by the board of supervisors last Tuesday.

That's an increase of $40,000 over the 1966 budget of $819,691 but the taxes to be collected will be on a millage of 5.33 mills per thousand dollars of state equalized valuation — the same as last year.

The millage, allocated to the county earlier this year by the Tax Allocation Board, will bring in $639,420, based on county valuation of $119,966,349.

ESTIMATED RECEIPTS next year from county services total $130,000; and a cash balance to start 1967 of $91,750 is anticipated.

The adopted budget was pared considerably from what the board had hoped for in a tentative budget of $1,007,150 adopted last April. That would have been possible with 6.5 mills of taxes, but the allocation board allowed the county only 5.33 mills.

Here are the amounts budgeted for the various departments and projects under the final adopted budget of $861,170.

3 crashes at US-27, M-21

The intersection of M-21 and US-27 was the scene of three auto accidents during the last week. None of them involved injuries, but tickets for traffic violations were issued in all three instances.

Two of the crashes occurred last Wednesday. At 3:50 p.m. cars driven by Bernice Ann Graham, 46, of Lansing, and James W. Ingersoll, 23, of Elwell collided. Mrs. Graham, southbound on US-27, reportedly made a left turn in front of the on-coming Ingersoll car, which struck a trailer being pulled by Mrs. Graham's car. Mrs. Graham was ticketed for failure to yield the right-of-way.

At 8:30 p.m. last Wednesday, Edward S. Tripp, 73, of Horton, reportedly ran a red light while driving south on US-27, and his auto and one going west on M-21 and driven by Carl T. Boak, 48, of 106 S. Lansing Street collided. Tripp was ticketed for disobeying a traffic signal.

Saturday noon cars driven by John J. Mathews, 38, of Columbus, Ohio, and Timothy E. Green, 19, of Mt. Pleasant collided. Mathews, according to the city police report on the accident, said a car had stopped to make a left turn and he turned out to his right to go around it and hit the Green car. Green, the report said, was ticketed for an improper turn.

Amend county zoning law

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors acted on a number of zoning ordinance amendments at their September meeting last Tuesday.

They passed an amendment to the Clinton County zoning ordinance in which Zone B residential lots in the county will have to be a minimum of 100 feet wide and buildings will contain not less than 15,000 square feet.

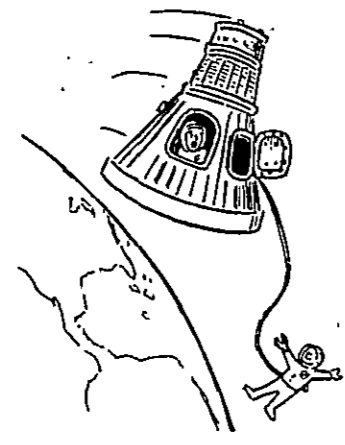

Another amendment to the ordinance set building permits at $5 up to and including $3,000 and $1 for each additional thousand. The previous $2 rate was for the first $1,000 and $1 per thousand beyond that figure.

A $25 fee was set for all appeals made before the zoning appeals board, as was a $35 fee to be collected by the zoning administration for rezoning. Previously no fees were required.

RETURNED TO the zoning committee was an amendment concerning placement of mobile homes for study for possible future action to regulate location control, mostly in parks.

Mrs. Lotta Parker of Ovid was reappointed to a five-year term on the county library board and Fred Culy of DeWitt resigned as a member of the executive board of the Tri-County Planning Commission. He is moving to Florida. Culy will be succeeded by Mrs. Jane Smith, R-4, Lansing, Watertown Township.

School enrollment rise only slight-103

St. Johns' school enrollment after the first few days of school this year totaled—surprisingly—only about 103 students more than were in the system last year at this time.

After Friday there were 3,443 students from grades kindergarten through 12 in the St. Johns Public Schools. This compared to 3,340 last year.

High school enrollment this year is 1,008, compared to 956 last year. Perrin-Palmer has 303 students enrolled, compared to 285 last year; there are also 303 at Swegles school, which had only 275 in 1965-66. Central School's enrollment has gone upward from 516 last year to 542 this year. East Ward showed a huge jump from 96 last year to 177 this year, but a fourth grade is being operated there for the first time this year.

RURAL SCHOOLS showed an actual decrease in students; last year there were 1,114 enrolled after the first few days, and this year there are 1,110.

Here's further breakdown on the rural schools in the system: Bengal Center 28, Brown 29, Cedar Lake 30, Chapman 23, County Farm 57, Cramer 24, East Essex 109, Eureka 107, French 26, Frink 22, Gardner 30, Greenwood 26, Harper 37, Kincaid 29, Krepps 47, Lamb 21, Lemm 30, Merle Beach 30, Merrilow 31, Olive Center 79, Parker 25, Plowman 29, Price 25, Richmond 28, Rowell 29, Sage 27, Sherwood 31, Simmons 26, South Riley 34 and Stoney Creek 21.

Enrollment up 54 at Fulton

MAPLE RAPIDS — Enrollment in the Fulton Schools shows an increase of 54 students over last year in grades kindergarten through 12.

Supt. Walno Phil said enrollment last Friday was 1,153 students. The greatest increase over last year was in the third grade, where there are now 111 students.

A grade-by-grade breakdown shows 107 in kindergarten, 93 in first grade, 96 in second, 111 in third, 86 in fourth, 92 in fifth, 78 in sixth, 83 in seventh, 79 in eighth, 83 in ninth, 80 in 10th, 73 in 11th, 71 in 12th, 10 in high school special education and 11 in elementary special education.

Two sessions of kindergarten are being run at Middleton and Maple Rapids this year.

Rehmann's mark 30th anniversary

Rehmann's Clothes at 206 N. Clinton Avenue in St. Johns is celebrating its 30th anniversary this week. The business is owned by A. L. Rehmann and sons John and Norbert.

The elder Rehmann learned tailoring in Austria from his father, Jacob, who was a merchant tailor and haberdasher. He came to this country in 1909 at the age of 15. He went to Chicago where he was employed part time as a merchant tailor, and he continued his education there.

He later went to Saginaw, where he was a partner in a small chain of men's clothing stores.

THE REHMANNS came to St. Johns in 1936 and opened their first store in the north portion of what is now the Clinton National Bank and Trust Co. building, offering a complete line of men's and boys' popular-priced, nationally known brand name merchandise.

Their business in the present bank building gradually outgrew their location, and in 1948 the Rehmanns built and moved into the present store where they have been able to handle a large and more-varied selection of merchandise.

A. L. Rehmann is still active in the business today and does the tailoring.

JOHN REHMANN has been continuously associated with the business since it was opened in 1936. He is the buyer and manager. Besides his years of experience in retailing clothing, he has had specialized training in practicalities, graduating from the American School of Practicalities, fitting shoes for all college has been associated with the firm. He is in charge of accounting and advertising and is assistant buyer.

George Weber, assistant manager of the store, has been associated with the business since 1947. He previously served in the armed forces and attended Ferris Institute.

Cy Waldron of Fowler, with many years experience in retailing, is now employed by Rehmann's as a salesman.

HARRY WILEY of St. Johns, a retired businessman, has charge of Rehmann's merchandise display and window trimming.

Robert Rehmann, Robert Fox and Robert LaBrie are part-time employees. Mrs. Marie Fox is employed in the bookkeeping department.

Regarding the future, John Rehmann commented that "It has always been our policy in the past, and it will be in the future, to retail first-quality nationally known brands of merchandise. We look forward to serving our many friends and customers in the future."

First Nighters pick 2 comedies

St. Johns First Nighters picked two comedies to present to the public during the upcoming theater season and have also decided to stage a "meller-drama" tent show next summer during one of the city's holiday celebrations.

The decisions were made at a work-fun meeting Monday night at which nearly 70 members and guests attended a turkey potluck dinner.

The plays were unanimous selections recommended by a committee of Sheila Brock, Eugene Livingston and Barbara Rann. They are "Never Too Late," a family situation comedy scheduled for Jan. 12-14, and "Goodby Charley," a farce comedy set for April 7-8.

Tryouts for the plays will be announced later.

Slides from three of the First Nighters' past performances were shown to the group, Barbara Rann and Wayne Hicks presented a skit, and music was provided by the "Swinging Bees."

Immunization clinic Sept. 21

The second monthly immunization clinics—free to residents of Clinton, Gratiot and Montcalm counties—will be held in St. Johns next Wednesday, Sept. 21.

The local site for the clinic has been moved, however, to the basement of St. Joseph Catholic Church, where more room is available than in the local office of the Mid-Michigan District Health Department. The clinic will be open from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

Last month, at the first clinic, some 304 persons got 458 immunizations, and the crowd formed a line to the street outside the county education building all afternoon. Immunization given include measles vaccine, DPT shots, TB skin tests, oral polio vaccines, polio shots, small pox vaccine and tetanus shots for adults.

Similar clinics will be held Monday in Gratiot County and Tuesday in Montcalm, the other counties comprising the Mid-Michigan District Health Department.

Capitol improvements plan gets city's "cold shoulder"

The St. Johns Planning Commission's proposal for a capital improvements program study was quickly shot down by the city commission last Tuesday night, almost before it was airborne.

Planning Commission Chairman Bill Graef started to present the "financial plan for reaching the city's master plan," but debate between commissioners on its worth all but ended the formal presentation.

THE PLANNING commission had recommended approval of a plan by Villiean-Leman and Associates in which that engineering firm would set up a capital improvements program for the city. The cost for the job would be $4,000.

Mayor Jack Smit and Commissioner Rex Sirrine argued against the proposal, claiming it would cost too much money to learn something which could be put together easier, quicker and at less expense by city personnel.

The program outline by Villiean-Leman included "detailed financial planning . . . for the six fiscal years 1966-67 through 1971-72. Public improvements (i.e. major expense items) needed beyond six years would be estimated in a generalized manner."

THE ENGINEERING firm said they would update financial data obtained from the city; determine, after consultation with the planning commission, public improvements and give them a priority rating; estimate the costs of public improvements decided on; prepare capital expenditure estimate forms for the various department heads within the city; develop a capital improvements schedule (as a part of this step, a financial analysis of the city's ability to pay for improvements and capital expenses would be made); and prepare a final report for the city commission.

Mayor Smit commented that the city would have "all it could do to just maintain this town" for the next 10 years. Commissioner Charles Coletta, a member of the planning commission, agreed but replied "I don't like to think we won't plan during the next 10 years for later."

THE CAPITAL improvements program is the third of three steps begun years ago when the city contracted with the Institute of Community Development at Michigan State University to work out an original concept of city planning.

The first two steps—a master plan for the city and a review of the charter and ordinances (basically zoning and subdivision)—have been substantially completed. The Institute of Community Development is no longer involved, however, because of the long period of time it took to complete the first two steps.

PLANNING Commission Chairman Graef pointed out in conclusion that the cost of the MSU program (of the Institute) was "ridiculously low" at $3,500, but "this city has gotten $70,000 good out of it." He intimated another investment in the work on step three—a capital improvements program—might have similar returns.

REV. ELMER SCHIEFER

Rev. Schiefer leaves St. Peter Lutheran

The Rev. Elmer Schiefer, former pastor of St. Peter Lutheran of Riley, was installed last Sunday evening at Zion Lutheran Church, Iva, near Hemlock, Michigan.

Rev. Schiefer had served at St. Peter since May of 1960. He is a graduate of Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, Mo. and had served congregations in Canada and Missouri before coming to St. Johns.

During his pastorate at St. Peter the congregation started a Sunday School program beginning with nursery children, age 3, to Bible Class for adults. At this time two worship services each Sunday were also begun with a resulting increase of attendance. A new steeple was placed on the church and the brickwork was repaired and tuckpointed.

THE NEIGHBORS on Church Road had a supper and farewell party for Pastor Schiefer and his family Sept. 1, at Richard Sehlke's. The family was presented with a gift.

Sunday evening, Sept. 4, congregation members and area pastors gathered at St. Peter Parish Hall for a potluck supper and farewell program. Gifts were presented from the congregation, the Ladies' Aid Society, the Waltham League and the PTA.

St. Peter is being served by Rev. John Weinbach, pastor at Good Shepherd, west of Lansing. Beginning in October, the congregation will have only one service each Sunday, at 8:30 a.m., followed by Sunday School.

NEW TEACHERS IN ST. JOHNS PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM

Here are the new teachers in the St. Johns Public School System, for both the city and rural schools. They posed last Tuesday noon on the steps in front of the high school before a luncheon as guests of the St. Johns Rotary Club. NMU names building - after St. Johns native

Northern Michigan University Saturday dedicated a building named in honor of a former St. Johns man who was a dean of students at NMU.

A ceremony dedicated the Don H. Bottum University Center, which also marked the opening of the second addition to the University Center since it was activated in 1960.

Bottum became the first dean of students at NMU in 1957. Previously he had served in key positions under four Northern presidents. Bottum came to the Marquette campus of NMU as a teacher in science and mathematics in the John D. Pierce School in 1923. He was principal of Pierce for 20 years and was named dean of men in 1941.

IN ADDITION to his responsibilities as dean of men, Bottum was director of the Lee Hall Union building and Carey residence hall for women when they were completed in 1948. He also served as director of off-campus housing, veterans housing and married student housing.

Bottum, who was born in St. Johns, received the bachelor of arts degree from Central Michigan University and took graduate work at Colorado State College in Greeley, Colo., and the University of Denver.

He began his teaching career at Lake City, where he was principal and superintendent for four years before coming to Northern.

THE UNIVERSITY Center named in his honor has served as the hub of student and conference activity on the NMU campus. The completion of the second wing this fall enables Northern to continue to meet the growing needs of the students and public it serves. The new addition will accommodate the expanding conference program and includes student recreation rooms, meeting-rooms and offices.

Tractor crash injures man

Two car-tractor crashes in Clinton County during the past week resulted in injuries to one of the tractor drivers.

Floyd Parks, 73, of R-1 Bannister was treated at Sparrow Hospital for bruises when his tractor was cut in two by a car on US-27 at Cutler Road in DeWitt Township Sunday afternoon.

Parks was traveling east on Cutler and had crossed the southbound lanes of US-27. He said he thought he had time to go all the way across the highway but pulled in front of an auto driven by Lyle W. Price, 60, of Lansing. Price swerved to the right but hit the tractor, breaking it into two separate parts.

Parks was ticketed for failure to yield the right-of-way.

LAST WEDNESDAY a car and tractor collided on DeWitt Road south of Marshall Road in Greenbush Township. The tractor, driven by Gerold Jorae of R-3, St. Johns, reportedly came out of a field onto DeWitt Road, and Jorae did not see a southbound car approaching. It was driven by Dixie L. Koslock, 24, also of R-3. The car hit the front end of the tractor.

The drivers' vision was obstructed by shrubs and bushes, the sheriff's department accident report said.

Trio bruised in 2-car crash

Three persons suffered bruises last Thursday afternoon in a two-car collision on US-27 and High Street in St. Johns. They were Earl F. Suchland Jr., 25, of Alma, Leo D. Lyon, 32, of Mt. Pleasant, and Harvey Hansen, 27, of St. Louis.

Suchland's car was traveling north on US-27 when it collided with a southbound car making a left turn onto High Street. It was driven by Cary Hetherington, 19, of Shepherd.

Hetherington said his view was blocked by a truck which was stopped to make a left turn.

City of DeWitt to seek federal aid

DeWITT - The City of DeWitt will seek federal aid to expand its water and sewage facilities.

The standard form 101, which is an initial application form, has been mailed to the Farmers Home Administration district office in Ithaca for processing.

The amount of aid the City of DeWitt will be asking for will be between $50,000 and $800,000, according to preliminary estimates from the council's discussion at their regular meeting last Tuesday evening.

MR PETRIE, OF the Petrie Engineering Firm who have been making the preliminary studies, has confirmed by letter that a representative of the FHA will meet with the DeWitt City Council at their next meeting Monday (Sept. 19) to answer any and all questions the council might have concerning the federal aid.

The new water and sewage facilities would be primarily to serve the new DeWitt High School. The new school is located outside the city limits, but the council was given the understanding they could service the school. The school now uses septic tanks, but there is reason to believe they will be inadequate to serve the schools needs.

IN OTHER action at the meeting, Charles R. Ferguson was appointed, by resolution of the council, to fill the slate of officers for councilmen for the coming election. The DeWitt city charter states there will be two candidates for each position, and with only five filling petitions the council is given the authority to appoint to fill the vacancy.

Those running for the three council seats are: Keith Blizard, Lloyd Berkimer, Leo Rummel, Jim DeCater, Gerald DeLine and Ferguson. In the race for mayor it will be Bob Ballard vs Eldon Smith. The present mayor, William Buck, is not a candidate for reelection.

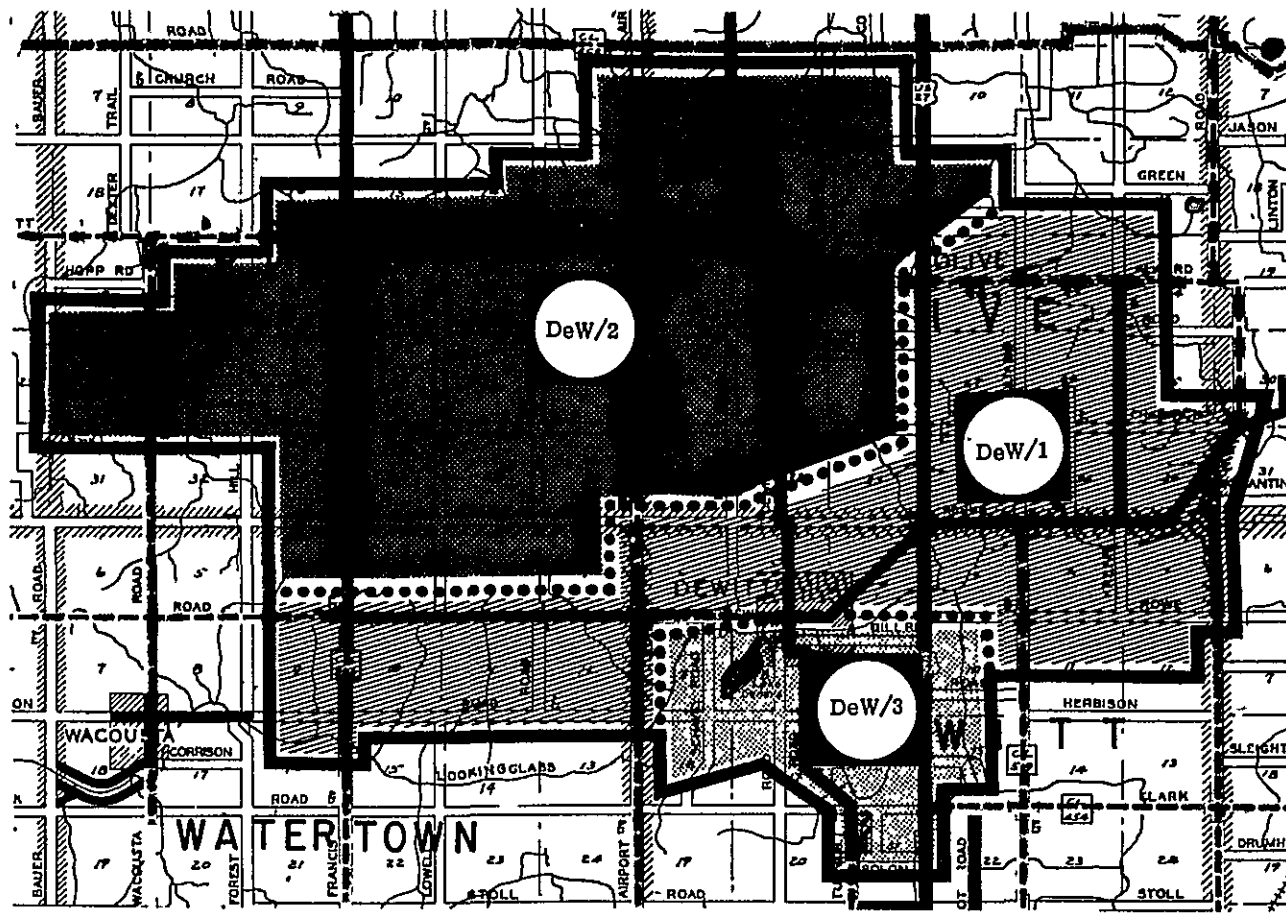

STREETS, SIDEWALKS AND dead elm trees where also on the agenda for the council. In their discussion the council decided that grading of the streets should have precedent over paving at the present time. Blacktopping will be done, but it was decided that too many of the streets were in need of grading first.

Most of the sidewalks which are in need of repair are from the areas where sewer lines have been installed. The council promised action on this phase as soon as a study could be made.

The dead elms trees within the city will be removed as soon as possible.

BREAK-IN REPORTED

Dr. P.F. Stoller reported to city police last Thursday that someone had kicked in a basement window of his office at 308 N. Mead. Nothing was taken from the building.

DeWITT RURAL POSTAL ROUTES REALIGNED

Postmaster Arthur Newman of DeWitt has been authorized to realign the two rural postal routes out of DeWitt into three routes. Route carriers will be Stanley Smith, R-1; Robert Richman, R-2; and Willard Reed, R-3. Reed will be a temporary carrier. The former routes had grown to an unwieldy size and had become two of the longest such postal routes in this area. Service under the new routings will generally result in earlier mail deliveries, Newman said. This map updates an earlier rural postal map of the county; subscribers who kept that map may wish to cut this map out and paste it over the previous DeWitt routes.

Urban renewal site design nearly ready

Final site designs for St. Johns' proposed downtown urban renewal program will be available for inspection about mid-October, Asst. Urban Renewal Director Terry Foster reported to the city commission last week.

This could come following a mid-planning conference in St. Johns the week of Oct. 10. At this time Region 4 of Housing and Urban Development Authority will have their planners here to review the city's project prior to presentation to the city commission.

Aiming toward substantial completion of a two-year study by that time, most phases of the program survey are being finished up now, Foster said.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The Board of Clinton County Road Commissioners held their regular meeting last week. The board approved a plat in Bath Township and discussed an industrial development in Watertown Township.

The Labor meeting scheduled for this day was postponed to Sept. 19.

Bids were opened for the Sept. and October requirements of gasoline. Mobile Oil Co. was the low bidder and was awarded the contract.

THE COMMISSION reviewed a request to close a small section of a dead-end road and tabled the matter until more information could be obtained.

Bids will be taken at the Sept. 19 meeting for a tractor-backhoe-loader combination and two tall-gate spreaders and an air compressor.

One commissioner and your road clerk attended the northern Michigan Road Conference at Tawas last week. Most of the conference was devoted to the money needs of counties, cities and state for construction and maintenance of roads. Panel discussions took up a variety of road problems.

THE DUST - CONTROL program was completed last week. A total of 1,114,000 gallons of calcium chloride solution was spread this year.

Gravel processing was finished at the Smith Pit last week and the crusher moved to the Murphy Pit in Eagle Township.

TODAY'S PAPER

FOSTER REVIEWED his trip to Chicago Aug. 28 where he and Region 4 officials reviewed standards arrived at through the St. Johns project on the rehabilitation phases. "These went beyond the required and were most concise, especially in the marketing area," Foster reported. "Unfortunately at least six months would be needed to complete this outline, and I requested an alternative plan for the St. Johns project." This has been granted.

UPON COMPLETION of a site map, Groseclose and Associates of Washington, D.C., will conduct a reuse appraisal for a contracted price of $2,000. Their report will deal with the presentation and marketability of properties within the downtown project area which will be acquired by the local public agency administering the urban renewal (if the commission gives the "go" sign in November).

Williams and Works will be doing the engineering estimates under contract for $2,000. They have met with Villikan-Leman and Associates who outlined their work program. It consists of cost estimating on paving, curbing and all physical aspects of the proposed site plan.

When you receive a prescription from your physician, you may notice that he writes strange words, abbreviations, letters or numbers similar to the above on the prescription blank. Perhaps you wonder why the doctor uses such a system rather than writing everything in English. Is this done to merely mystify the patient, or is it the most reliable way for your doctor, to communicate with your pharmacist as to your medical needs?

The system of writing prescriptions in Latin is an ancient one. Even today, it remains as the quickest and most reliable way for a physician to indicate to a pharmacist information about dosage and directions for a drug product.

The English language is filled with words that sound or look the same and yet have different meanings—words like "to," "too," or "two." Latin is different in that words or abbreviations have only one meaning. The Latin symbols above mean "Directions: Take two capsules three times a day before meals." You can see how much shorter the directions are in Latin and yet how exact they are when translated into English. This system is used to clarify—not mystify.

The fact that both your pharmacist and physician must understand this method of writing prescriptions is another indication of how closely they work together as a team. It is the pooling of their knowledge of the medical sciences with reliable methods of communicating this knowledge to one another that assures you of your most valuable asset—good health.

'Potential' is there as Wings open grid season Friday

This is another "potential" year for St. Johns football—the potential for an undefeated season like two years ago but the possibility of two or three defeats.

Head Coach Bill Smiley used that word "potential" freely Monday evening in discussing his squad's chances for the new football season which opens Friday evening.

Even after nearly three weeks of practice he's not too sure of them, because it's a young team this year and thus one without much game experience. "If we can get through the first few games without too many bumps, we'll be off and running," Smiley said.

THERE'S LIKELY to be five or six juniors and one or two sophomores in the starting line-up Friday night, and that means a rather "green" team from the standpoint of experience. But, the coach said, "We're potentially better than last year, and we finished in second place then. Game experience will tell."

The potential is in the Redwings' bigger size this year than last, a quicker backfield and a hard-hitting defense. Despite the improvement in size, Smiley said the Redwings will still have to give up size to a lot of other teams this year, including Mason in the opener at St. Johns this Friday.

"THEY'LL LOOK huge on the field," Smiley said of Mason. "They've got 10 starters back, too, and the Waverly coach, whose team scrimmaged and lost to Mason last week, says they're better than they were last year." But Smiley found bright spots of his own in a Friday night scrimmage against Bay City Central — probably the state's best high school football team. Bay City drubbed St. Johns rather handily, but Smiley wasn't too shook about it and was in fact happy with some of the performances.

Senior halfback Gary Boyce and sophomore fullback Mike Green had long touchdown runs of 60 and 50 yards respectively against Bay City, and Boyce broke loose for two other long runs. He also kicked an extra point and John Salemi, a junior halfback, scored a PAT on a pass.

The weaknesses and difficulties Smiley saw in the Bay City scrimmage can probably be repaired by this Friday, he said.

JUNIOR NORM LOVE is more than likely the starting quarterback this Friday, and Coach Smiley described him as a potentially good passer, and he plans on putting together a good passing game when Love gets some game experience under his belt.

The other end of the passing attack—the ends—are also young on experience. Juniors Duane Downing and Terry Hart have the inside track at the starting positions of offense.

The St. Johns line, bigger than last, should also be quicker. The probable starters include two seniors, Rick Liszewski at center and co-captain Terry Thurston at left guard. Junior Joe Kellen will probably start at right guard, but senior John Tatroe will also see a lot of action in that spot.

In the backfield, it looks like Love at quarterback, Salemi and co-captain Boyce at halfbacks and Green at fullback, Randy Humphrey, a senior halfback, will be used extensively again this year.

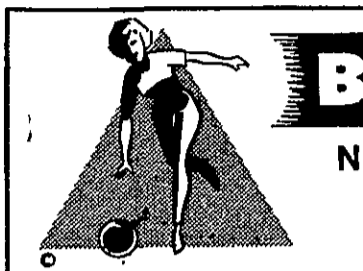

The defensive starters will likely be Love and Craig Knight at the ends, Diszewski and Silm at tackles, Kellen and senior Tim Spitzley at middle guard, Thurston and Hart at middle linebacker, Salemi and Dave Howe as defensive halfbacks and Boyce as safety man.

OTHER SQUAD members who should see considerable action this season include junior quarterback Cary Hambleton; junior end Jeff Nobis; juniors Tom Rademacher and John Markman at halfback; juniors Brent Law and Bob Cochran at fullback; senior Terry Estes and junior Dave Peck at center; juniors Bruce Moore, Dave Harper and Dennis Oakley at guards; juniors Mark Smit, Tom Kehr and Jim Smith at tackles; juniors Don Palmer and Pat Durner and sophomore Rick Moore at the ends.

Last year the Redwings finished in second place behind Hastings in the West Central Conference. Coach Smiley figures Hastings to be little different in their ability this season, and Grand Ledge should also be about as tough as they were last year.

Practice for the Redwings has been going as well as could be expected. The squad had problems, however, with heat and also with broken glass on the practice areas, but they have come through it all in good form and stood in good physical condition early this week.

"Nor to get the fellows mentally ready for this one Friday," Smiley said. "We have a 9-0 potential this year, but we could lose early. It will be a matter of determination. But we'll be doing more this year, we've got more threats and we'll be a good team to watch."

Two Clinton County teams are playing the "football shuffle" this year and by moving into new, higher - bracket leagues face some rough competition.

Ovid - Elsie, playing for the first time this year as a combined team, will compete in the Mid - Michigan B League with Chesaning, St. Louis, Ithaca, Corunna, Perry and Birch Run. Perry is also a newcomer to the league; they and the separate Ovid and Elsie teams moved up from the Central Michigan C league.

FWOILER VACATED the Central Michigan D league after last year and will compete in the Central Michigan C, along with Bath, DeWitt, Laingsburg, Pewamo-Westphalia and other former-D teams Potterville, St. Patrick's and Webberville.

The Central Michigan D League folded up after last year, and the two lone survivors, Ashley and Morrice, will compete this year with New Lothrop and Michigan School for the Deaf in the new Motor Valley League.

Despite Ovid-Elsie's newness as a team and in the Mid-Michigan B League, Coach Mark O'Donnell's boys are considered one of the teams to beat for the league title this season. St. Louis Coach Gene Gilbert rates the Marauders as contenders along with his team and Corunna.

OVID-ELSIE WILL open Friday at Portland, and O'Donnell expects a rough game with the Raiders, who are "loaded with seasoned veterans. If we can handle their offense we are about even on the ability to move the ball."

Not much can be said in comparison to last year's Ovid-Elsie team, because there was none. Probable starters for the Portland game, however, will likely be junior Don Wilson and senior Roger Wirick at the ends, juniors Robin Wooley and Lee Hibbard at tackles, seniors Stu Conklin and Bob Kusner at guards, senior Gale Thornton at center, senior Mike Seybert at quarterback, junior Dane Flegel at left halfback, junior L. D. Jones at fullback and senior M. H. O'Donnell at right half.

Defensively, it appears like juniors Tom Ackles and David Latz at ends, Thornton and Hibbard at tackles, Wooley at middle guard, O'Donnell, Jones and juniors Don Wilson and Jerry Gazda as linebackers, and Flegel and Seybert in the safety positions.

OTHER BOYS expected to see a lot of action during the year will be backs Robert Wilbur and Dennis Barrett, ends Ron Green and Don Young, guard Mike Lewis, tackles Cesarlo Garcia and Larry Kindel, center Bruce Burns and defensive specialists Larry Randolph and Gordon Taylor.

Fowler appears to be strong on paper—they've got 23 lettermen returning—but Head Coach H. Blaine Douglas isn't quite sure how things will shape up in the new Central Michigan C league.

"Those schools all have large enrollments," he pointed out. "This means we will be facing large-size teams with greater depth. . . . We have 23 lettermen returning, but some still are a year away from being good ball players. We were fortunate enough last year to have big leads in most of our games, so our second and third teams got into the ball games enough to earn letters."

FWOILER LAST YEAR compiled a 7-2 record and finished second behind Potterville in the Central D standings.

One of Douglas' biggest problems is the Fowler schedule. "We open with what I believe will be one of the best 'C' teams in the state—Fulton. They beat us 27-0 last year, and just about the same team is back this year."

"Our second game is against Potterville, which will probably be the strongest team from the old Central Michigan 'D' League. They were 8-0 last year and league champions for the second year in a row. Our third game pits us against Laingsburg with their 200-pounds-plus line and sprint champion Dave Carroll.

"As you can see we will need luck to be able to field a team for the fourth game, let alone win the first three."

ON THE BRIGHTER side of the picture, Fowler still has its leading scorer and ground gainer, halfback Ron Brown. He averaged 7.4 yards per carry, scored 12 touchdowns and passed for three others last year. The line will be anchored with 210-pound tackle Bruce Thelen. Thelen also plays defensive end. "With his speed, size and desire, he will definitely be an all-state candidate if I can keep him on the line and not have to switch him to fullback," Douglas said.

"To fill the gaping holes in the middle of our line I am thinking of trying halfback Gale Rowell and end Ken Weber at guard. Juniors Martin Miller and Stan Pohl will also make themselves felt pushing for a starting position on the line. Both ends spots are wide open.

"OUR BACKFIELD has starters John Weber and Ron Brown back. Both of these boys will be pushed for a starting berth. A healthy Neal Thelen (league sprint champion) and outstanding J V halfback Steve Nobis will be fighting to start. Both have size and speed to be good ones. We will also be using the pass-catching ability of senior end Mike Nobach."

The quarterback position is a question mark, Douglas said. Because of injuries last year, four quarterbacks were used. "All four did a good job, but all of them had shortcomings which we will have to work on."

At Bath High School, Coach Ron Skorich will have six seniors, six juniors and one sophomore on his roster. The seniors are Captain Mike Tucker at quarterback, halfbacks Barry Walte and Dan Tucker, and tackles Jeff Gelsenhaver, Jack Everingham and Larry Wildt.

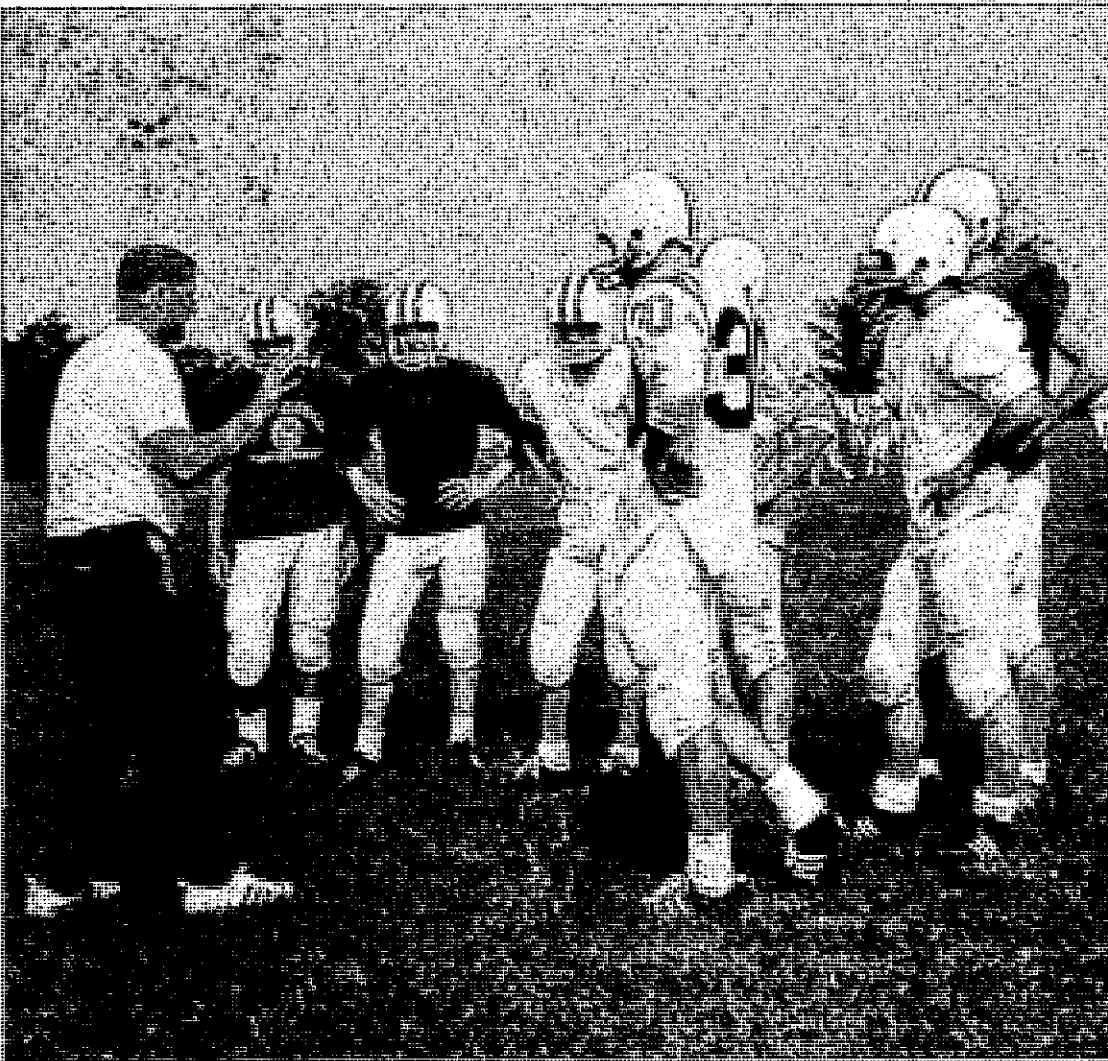

JUNIORS INCLUDE halfbacks Elias David, Warren Baird, fullback Randy Tucker, end Bill Harris, guard Terry Barnard and center Merlin Truman. The sophomore is guard Tom Feguer.

The "Fighting Bees" had a season record of 1-6 last year. Skorich will be starting his second year as head football coach. Ashley will have 10 lettermen returning this year as they embark in the new Motor Valley League. Among the lettermen are all - conference (Central Michigan D) tackle Tom Felton and end Dale Yelsik.

PP & K clinic set for Tuesday

The art of punting, passing and kicking a football will be explained in detail by experts to youngsters who plan to enter this fall's Ford Punt, Pass and Kick competition in St. Johns.

The St. Johns High School football coaching staff will conduct a clinic next Tuesday evening, Sept. 20, at 7 p.m. in the high school gym. Head football Coach Bill Smiley will be in charge. PP&K competition Director Bill Swears made arrangements for the clinic.

All boys now registered for PP&K—as well as those who plan to register—are urged to attend the clinic for instruction on how to punt, pass and kick to the best of the youngster's ability.

"THIS CLINIC will give every boy a chance to see just how they will be graded at the Punt, Pass and Kick competition on Oct. 8," Swears said. "The rules will be explained and demonstrations will show exactly what PP&K calls for. In addition, boys will receive expert coaching in punting, passing and place-kicking."

"I'm sure every boy who attends the clinic will benefit. I also hope a lot of boys who haven't registered will come out. They're sure to see how easy PP&K is, and they can register before the deadline on Oct. 7."

Swears pointed out that the demonstrations of football skills would augment suggestions in the illustrated booklet free to each boy who registers at Egan Ford Sales for PP&K. The tips were written by Gary Collins, ace punter of the Cleveland Browns; Rudy Bukich, star quarterback of the Chicago Bears; and Fred Cox, top NFL place-kicker of the Minnesota Vikings.

REGISTRATION began Sept. 1 at Egan's. So far it's been slow, but that's normal, according to Bruce Fowler of the Ford dealership in St. Johns. After school gets started, Fowler expects registrations to pickup, possibly to the point of a record 300 entries by the time the competition date rolls around.

Fowler will represent Egan Ford Sales at the clinic next Tuesday night, and the co-sponsoring St. Johns Jaycees will be represented by Gene Downing, that organizations' PP&K chairman.

Top prizes for the local competition winners will be distinctive medal of achievement awards on blue, plush velvet ribbons. Second place winners will receive red medals and third-place winners will receive medals with a white motif. There will be 18 medal awards in all—three for each age group from 8 through 13.

Elsie

By MRS. NEVA KEYS, Correspondent

R. Holtons' home from South

ELSIE—Mr and Mrs Richard Holton and three children have returned from a two weeks camping trip through the Smokies and south Central states. One week was spent camping near the Cherokee Reservation along a fast moving mountain stream. With Indian families all about, the Holton children learned first hand the Indians' way of life. They saw babies strapped to their mothers' backs, their homes and tents and conditions under which they live.

The Holtons were fortunate to be there on the first day of school for the young Indian children and observed about 50 of them dressed in red and white performing calisthenics. The young football squad was in training.

There were many tours through the park with its Clingman's Dome, Cades Cove, Chimney Rocks and the beautiful mountain scenery.

THE LARGEST rain in 20 years had swollen the streams with rough and high waters. Although danger from falling rocks was ever present, they encountered none. They did report seeing 39 bear on their travels.

Mr Holton and sons visited Frontier Land near Cherokee, N. C. reached by an air lift ride over the hills and town. They saw buildings and streets just as they were in frontier days and viewed the authentic Indian dances. The family also toured many of the antique shops in the area.

One of the highlights of the trip was a visit to an abandoned ruby mine near Franklin, N. C. where the public, for a small fee could search for the gems. The Holtons found two small rubies and several sapphires after hours of digging and sifting. They called this a most rewarding and unusual experience for the entire family.

A side trip to Oak Ridge and a tour of the Atomic Energy Museum, a tour of a nearby copper mine and a leisure trip along the Skyline Drive concluded the trip. The Holtons have many pictures and movies of the trip to share with their friends.

WJUD seeks FM station OK

Ditmer Broadcasting of St. Johns has applied for a construction permit for a new Class A FM broadcast station for St. Johns. The proposed new station would operate on the frequency of 92.1.

Robert Ditmer, the station's president, said the studios and transmitter would be located at the site of the present AM station — WJUD — at 1383 W. Parks Road. The new programming features would include early morning and nighttime radio service to the area. Ditmer said the new station would be programmed separately from the present WJUD operation.

No target date for operation has been announced due to the pending action by the Federal Communications Commission.

Isolated buildings are in more danger of lightning damage than city houses because multiple points tend to disperse the destructive force. The same "safety in numbers" principle makes dense forests acceptable shelter.

Parrs have German foster daughter

Mali Schreiber, an exchange student from Rotenburg, Germany, will be attending Rodney B. Wilson High School and making her home here with the Raymond G. Parrs of 207 W. Cass Street.

Miss Schreiber left her home, which is located about 100 miles north of Frankfurt, Aug. 16. After a 10 day boat trip she landed in Montreal. From there she went by bus to Northville, near Detroit.

Aug. 27, the Parrs met the German girl, who will live in their home for the next year. They were not, however, complete strangers as they had been corresponding since Easter.

ALTHOUGH MALI will receive no credit for her school here when she returns home she said living here for a year will be a great opportunity for her. She is classified as a senior here and will graduate with the class next June. Mali began studying English in school when she was 10. In addition to English and German, she also speaks French. She is taking Spanish here and also has studied Latin.

In Germany she took 13 subjects every year. The classes do not meet every day.

MISS SCHREIBER plays the flute, violin and French horn. Since she has been here she has started to play the organ.

Mali has one brother Karl who is 16. Her father Ernst is an assistant railway station manager.

WHEN SHE WAS asked about her name not sounding German, she smiled and said even her German friends ask her about her name.

"My father even asks my mother," she said.

In addition to their foster daughter, Mali, the Parrs have three children Barbara 21, who will be married Saturday; Marcia 17, who was in Finland this summer with the Youth for Understanding program and Jim almost 15.

Bridge tourney starts Oct. 2

The sixth annual St. Johns Community Bridge Tournament, sponsored by the Jaycees, will begin the first two weeks in October, according to tournament chairman Roger Feeman.

The tournament is open to all man-and-wife teams. Twelve matches are planned, with two weeks allotted for each round. First rounds will be played the first two weeks of October, with the final round scheduled for April 7. The tournament fee is $1 per match.

Prizes will be awarded to the top contestants at the end of the tournament. Winners will be determined by the numbers of games won and lost; ties will be settled by total number of points.

REGISTRATION for the bridge tournament should be made by Sept. 24 by calling Feeman at 207 S. Prospect. Feeman was instrumental in starting the annual tournaments in 1961. Last year 24 couples participated in the bridge tournament, although there have been as many as 44 in previous years.

Separate from the tournament will be three sessions of duplicate bridge scheduled for Nov. 5, Jan. 7 and March 4, Feeman said. Anyone can play in this case at a fee of 50 cents per person.

The hours between 4 and 6 p.m. are the time of day when accidents are most likely to occur in the home, especially to pre-school children.

September is better breakfast month

By HELEN MEACH Extension Home Economist

Of course you know what happens in September. School starts and once more quiet fills every corner of your suddenly large home. All sorts of things come about in this month: new friends and classmates, books, new shoes and clothes, perhaps a new school. This is a good month to instill new food habits — hence — Better Breakfast Month.

Do you skip breakfast? Nationwide surveys show that only one-half the adults and one-fifth of the school children have an adequate breakfast.

Breakfast is an important meal, for your body needs refueling after the night hours of no food.

FROM A PATCHWORK of traditional breakfasts across the country, nutritionists have come up with a well-defined breakfast pattern. It includes fruit, cereal, milk, bread and spread. Add an egg or meat and you're adding food to grow on for the active ones.

Do you skip breakfast because there is not enough time? The basic breakfast is simple, easy to prepare and adapts well to the ready-to-eat foods available today in increasing numbers. Some foods can be prepared the night before. It helps to have the table set and supplies ready so you can whip breakfast together in a jiffy.

A MORNING coffee break does not substitute for breakfast. Even though a soft drink may ease your hunger temporarily, this is no substitute for the nutrients lost by skipping breakfast.

Do you skip breakfast because you fear those extra calories? Although average servings of the basic breakfast contribute only 600 calories to your day's diet, simple changes can reduce the calories to fit your age, sex and activity pattern. You may substitute non-fat milk for whole milk, take advantage of low calorie cereals on the market or simply cut down on size of servings.

A GOOD BREAKFAST will discourage that mid-morning slump and high calorie snack time. It's an established fact that people, including fast growing little people, who eat a good breakfast are more alert and get more done that those who skip or skimp their morning meal.

Have a happy breakfast time at your house for it is an important meal!

Hospital needs more volunteers

There's a need for more volunteer workers at Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Training classes to acquaint interested women with the service will be held as soon as 10 or more applications are received. Women who can spare a few hours each week are urged to consider work as a hospital volunteer.

Further information and applications can be obtained by calling the local Red Cross office at 303 S. Oakland or Mrs. Cecil Boak at 1203 S. Lowell Road.

Studying the past is a good way to prepare for the future.

Fall-Winter calendar published

Color tours, hunting activities and autumn-flavored community events listed in the Michigan Tourist Council's September-December Calendar of Events hint that summer is nearing an end and brisk fall days are ahead.

MICHIGAN'S big game hunting seasons begin with the early bear season, continuing through Sept. 15 in the Upper Peninsula, and conclude with the firearm deer season Nov. 12-27 in the Upper Peninsula and Nov. 19-Dec 4 in the Lower Peninsula.

The Archer's Whitetail Round-up will be held at Grayling, Oct. 1-2; Harvest of Harmony, Escanaba, Oct. 15, and the first ski show of the year, the Winter Vacation Show, Grand Rapids, Oct. 28-30.

'Disbanded' club holds 40th consecutive reunion

The 40th annual reunion (without a break) of the NYBS Club was held at the L & L Restaurant on Friday. There were 19 members and eight guests present at the luncheon.

This club, which was composed of young members of the Rebekah Lodge, was started as a social club about 1905. Six of the early members are still members and four of them, Mrs. Ivah Bond Grof of Chippewa Lake, Mrs. Susie Tucker Wilbur of Elsie, Mrs. Alice Homes Sammons of Port Huron and Miss Winifred Cross of Flint were present. Mrs. Theora Tinkham Wood of Jackson and Mrs. Julia Stocker Van Burger of Fort Pierce, Fla., were unable to be present.

THE CLUB MET every week or every two weeks and put on parties, dances and a play. It continued for several years until many of the members left to get married or work in other cities.

In 1927 Miss Winifred Cross and Miss Carmen Tranchell conceived the idea of a reunion. The invitations met with enthusiastic response and 28 members came from different parts of the state. During the 40 years they have continued to come from different parts of the state and country. This year far-away members present were Mrs. Bernice Hodge Smith from Mesa, Ariz., and Mrs. Elva Ridenour Brown from Sarasota, Fla. Other out-of-town guests were Mrs. Jennie Wyckoff McNutt of Port Huron, Mrs. Nettie Taylor Buck of Lansing and Mrs. Mamie Edwards Gulick of Holly.

M. J. Neveaux, Superintendent

To Whom It May Concern:

In the past four years as Superintendent I have come in contact occasionally with Mr. Hanus in his untiring efforts in the field of education.

This past spring, for an example, when the schools in the area and across the state were facing serious problems in their cafeterias due to the drop in government surplus foods sent to the schools and the reduction in reimbursement for milk, I called Mr. Hanus and asked if there was anything he could do to help. The concern and response was immediate.

His efforts were vigorous and lasting for he contacted many people involved in this area in the Government looking for explanations and answers.

I'm sure his determination cannot help but improve the situation for the schools next year in their Hot Lunch Program.

Sincerely yours,
M. J. Neveaux

Mom, daughter bruised in crash

Two persons were treated at Clinton Memorial Hospital for bruises suffered in a two-car accident Friday afternoon at Oakland and McConnell streets in St. Johns.

They were Diana M. Miller, 21, of 405 Church Street, and Beth Miller, age 2 1/2. According to city police, Mrs. Miller's car hit the side of a car driven by Jack R. McCurry, 18, of 106 N. Mead, who was driving north on Oakland. Mrs. Miller was ticketed for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Snitgen general store closes after 99 years

Alfred Snitgen 78 and his younger brother Hilary 66 have decided to call it quits. They're closing out the Snitgen Brothers general store, which has been in the family for 99 years. It is reputed to be the oldest retail business in Clinton County.

Westphalia folks inquire why they don't stick it out another year and make it an even century, but ill health has prompted their decision to quit business in the two-story brick landmark at the corner of Main Street and Grange Road.

"I've been in their place 65 years and it's getting so I'm hardly able to walk," said Alfred, explaining he has a chronic leg ailment. "Hilary has also been ailing for years with his back trouble and has to quit."

In addition to tending the store Hilary and Alfred have been active in community affairs. Hilary served as justice of the peace for 24 years and as a trustee on the Westphalia Township Board for 32 years. Alfred will be unopposed on the November ballot for re-election as township clerk, an office he has held for the past 26 years.

After the "going out of business sale" which is now going on to dispose of all the stock, the Snitgen Brothers will take it easy in Westphalia.

Parking limit on Brush, new stop streets on north side OK'd

The flow of auto traffic in several parts of town occupied the attention of the St. Johns city commission last Tuesday night as that group took care of an extraordinary amount of "routine" business at their semi-monthly meeting.

One of the traffic flow orders approved by the commission was to establish a permanent 15-minute limit on parking on both sides of Brush Street between State and Walker streets. This made permanent a temporary order signed by Police Chief Everett Glazier after the commission decided several weeks earlier to set a limit for the benefit of most office patrons.

WITH THE OPENING up of Oakland Street onto US-27 at the north edge of town, the commission also approved permanent installation of stop signs in that vicinity. Traffic will be required to stop on Oakland at US-27, on Oakland both ways at Gibbs, on Mead Street both ways at Gibbs, and Swegles from the south at Gibbs.

Here's other miscellaneous action taken by the commission last Tuesday:

*The commission allowed a bill for $27 from Herbert Houghten for sidewalk which Houghten built in the right-of-way intersection on Lambert Drive. Commissioners said they felt the part of the sidewalk was part of the intersection and thus the city's responsibility.

*MAYOR JACK Smit and City Clerk Don Clark were authorized to sign, on behalf of the city, a lease arrangement with the St. Johns Public Schools for the school's use of the football field and practice areas to the east and south of the field.

*A proposed amendment to Ordinance 197 was read. The amendment defines a partition, which Ordinance 197 rules must be placed between the bar and eating area of any local tavern which desires to serve food to persons under 21 years of age.

*The low bid of Telford and Doolan of Lansing for a tailgate salt spreader for use by the Department of Public Works this winter was accepted. The bid was $996, mounted. The only other bidder was Miller Equipment Co. with a bid of $1,122.10 mounted.

*MORIARTY Buildings, Inc. was low bidder on a new pole building for the Department of Public Works. Their bid was $4,031 for reportedly better specifications than the city had requested. The other bidder was Thornton Building and Supply of Williamston for $4,686.

The building has been badly needed by the DPW for storage of its operating equipment. This building was bid last year but had not been considered in the budget. This year's budget made provisions for a building of this type.

*The commission approved the final plat for Prince Estates No. 2 subdivision after hearing that a final city examination of the work done showed it to be satisfactory.

*RON JOSLIN of 807 S. Lansing Street appeared before the commission and asked how soon South Lansing Street south of Sturgis Street would be paved. City Manager Ken Greer said the street has been in no condition to be blacktopped; he said he figured by next July and the next city paving project it should be ready.

Joslin also complained about speeding on Sickles Street by cars coming out of the city park area.

*Ross Downing of 610 W. Baldwin Street appeared to thank the commission for their cooperation in working out a disputed water bill. He suggested that meter readings be included on water bills and that this could be done at a small, if any, charge for redesigning the card. The commission said new bills, with the meter readings on them, will be designed when the current supply of material is used up.

2 Stilbestrol implants give better beef gains

A second implant of the growth hormone Stilbestrol is well worth the investment for beef cattle producers, according to Michigan State University animal husbandry researchers Hugh Henderson and H. William Newland.

In a recent study conducted at MSU's Beef Cattle Research Center, Henderson and Newland tested the value of re-implanting with 36 milligrams of Stilbestrol 113 days after an initial implant of 24 milligrams of the compound.

THEY FOUND the re-implanted cattle gained 2.7 pounds daily for the 55 days after the second implant. The cattle that did not get the second implant gained only 2.48 pounds daily.

Newland and Henderson concluded, therefore, that the effective life of the first implant is about 110 to 130 days and that the second implant is "well worthwhile" for the beef cattle feeder.

According to UNICEF, children in the underdeveloped countries are getting short-changed in mental development because of insufficient protein. Their responses are not the same as those of healthy children and they may never be... Malnutrition is the world's principal public health problem because it prevents not only bodily growth but deprives the child of his maximum genetic potential.

Urea on silage will cut costs

Ten pounds of urea per ton of corn silage will cut farmers' protein costs considerably, Clinton County Extension Agent F. Earl Haas remarked this week. "That amount of urea plus 70 pounds of corn in the silage will provide more protein and the same TDN as 70 pounds of soybean meal at less than one-half the cost."

Apply the urea by spreading on top of self-unloading wagons, he said. The wagon, blower and distribution will mix it well enough. More information is provided in a bulletin "Urea Corn Silage" available from the Extension office.

The rise in home construction costs and personal property values in recent years has caused more than half of all insured homes in the United States to be underinsured.

Save Liquid In Manure— It Can Mean $10 Per Cow

Dairy barn cleaning problems are as old as the dairy industry itself, but they cease to be problems if you can turn them into a $10 profit per cow. Proper mechanized barn cleaning can do just that.

Save That Nitrogen
About 40% of the nitrogen content of manure is in the liquid. If you save this liquid, it means that much less commercial nitrogen to buy for fertilizer. Jamesway, Fort Atkinson, Wis., which has experimented with and produced mechanized barn cleaners for over 17 years, estimates that saved liquid (mixed with solid) is worth $10 per cow per year or $500 worth of additional nitrogen from a herd of 50 head.

A recent study showed that fifty head of cattle can produce some 750 tons of manure a year. As fertilizer it means 7,500 lbs. of actual nitrogen, 3,750 lbs. of phosphate and 7,500 lbs. of potash. Simply saving the liquid gives you the extra fertilizer value.

Forking or hand scraping can't save the valuable liquid, nor can a slow moving, faulty barn cleaner as it works along the gutter, up the elevator and into the spreader. The liquid seeks openings and drains away. There are two ways of preventing this costly seepage. (1) Move manure fast. (2) Keep it mixed.

Move It Fast
Moving manure fast means a constant chain drive moving manure up to 28 feet per minute. This prevents most seepage as it moves and less drainage as it is elevated into the spreader. Galvanized elevator chutes guard against corrosion.

Keep It Mixed
Keeping liquid and solid manure mixed is a more positive way of getting highest quality fertilizer. A shuttle-stroke action cleaner is best for this. Paddles hinged to a steel bar in the corner of the gutter move back and forth in eight foot strokes. On the back stroke they fold back against the bar to bypass manure that they will move toward the elevator on the next forward stroke. This back and forth movement provides the mixing action that retains the valuable liquid. The elevator drive, operating independently, travels the manure at a speed of 95 feet per minute up the grade, which assures a complete mixture going into the spreader.

Fertilize right in seeding wheat

Most grain drills apply the fertilizer directly in contact with the seed. For this reason George McQueen, Clinton County Extension agricultural agent, suggests that farmers use care at wheat seeding time to prevent injury caused by applying too much fertilizer, especially when the soil is dry.

The best location to put fertilizer for small grain is one inch to the side and one inch below the seed. But the agent says wheat growers should not use more than a total of 100 pounds of plant nutrients in sandy soil and 140 pounds in fine textured soil at the time of planting. If additional amounts are needed, they could be applied at a separate operation.

SOME FARMERS have found it successful to plow down additional fertilizer before seeding and place a limited amount of the fertilizer with the grain.

Top dressing with nitrogen in the spring is beneficial to wheat in most situations, the agent explained.

 the reason why more farmers feed PURINA CHOWS

Raising quality of market hogs

The quality of market hogs is determined primarily by the improvement made by a relatively small number of purebred swine breeders, according to Ed Miller, Michigan State University Extension swine specialist. In other words, the current crop of commercial market hogs is no better than the last two or three boars that the individual swine breeders used, Miller explained.

Over a 10-year period Michigan Swine Evaluation Station has analyzed and qualified boars for breeding purposes. Real progress was made in the daily rate of gain — from 1.58 to 1.76 pounds — and in pounds of feed per pound of gain, today only 2.97 pounds. But even greater gains were made in the increase in size of the loin eye, less back fat and higher per cent of lean cuts. This progress is needed to help consumers want pork on their tables, Miller points out.

The evaluation program sponsored by the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service, has provided a valuable means through which superior strains of breeding stock can be located and multiplied.

29c goes to pay farm debt

The day when the farmer handled a few hundred dollars in actual cash during the year and bartered his products for most of his needs is gone.

An analysis of the TelFarm accounting records of 110 southern Michigan farmers showed the average dairyman handled $43,711 in cash in 1965. Dr. Ralph Hepp, Extension agricultural economist at Michigan State University, says 29 cents out of every dollar went for servicing the debt — 25 cents going for principal.

ALTHOUGH 66 PER CENT of the dairyman's income came from borrowed funds on short term or long range indebtedness.

Hepp says the average investment was $109,948. Family labor accounted for 75 per cent of the total of 6,074 hours labor used on the farm.

Net worth of these farmers increased $2,753 during the year. Of the 110 farms, more than one quarter (28) had a loss in net worth. Fifteen increased net worth by $2,000 or less, 19 increased net worth from $2,000-$3,000, and more than 40 per cent increased net worth $4,000 or more with the average being $6,640.

"INCREASING net worth is especially important to younger farmers who are attempting to accumulate assets," Hepp said. Higher management income level was associated with larger dairies in net worth. It was also associated with more profitable farms, Hepp concluded.

An estimated 8,300 public and non-public school buses are in use in Michigan this year.

SHOWS GRAND CHAMPION JUNIOR HOLSTEIN

Junior holstein breeders 'outstanding' at state fair

Clinton County Junior Holstein breeders did another outstanding job in showing their animals at the recent Michigan State Fair.

Bryon Green of Elsie with his aged cow Dora Meadowlane placed fifth in open competition, fifth in the Michigan Class and first in the junior show. He was named senior and grand champion of the junior show.

Dana Sue Hazle of St. Johns showed her four-year-old cow, Cor-Haz Explorer Dana S, to fourth place in the open class, fourth in the Michigan class and first in the junior show. This animal was reserve grand champion of the junior show.

DANA SUE ALSO exhibited her senior yearling, Golden-Knob D.S. Pontiac Holly, to second in the open class, first in the Michigan Class and first in the junior show. "Holly" was named junior champion of the junior show. Dana Sue combined her four-year-old cow and her senior yearling to come up with first place dam and daughter in open competition.

Charles Green of Elsie had a second place open class, first Michigan animal and first in junior show with his senior calf, Green Meadow Pontiac Rockette.

Green Meadow Pontiac Rockette, owned by Charles Green, and Golden-Knob D.S. Pontiac Holly, owned by Dana Hazle, teamed up with another Green Meadow animal and one owned by Gerald Smith of Williamston to place first in the junior get-of-stire class in open competition.

KATHY HAZLE OF St. Johns showed three animals in open competition. Her junior calf Golden-Knob K. L. Harbor Star, placed 21st in the open class and was fifth in the junior show.

Her senior calf Golden-Knob K. L. Explorer Betsay was 14th in open competition and third in the junior show; and her junior yearling Golden Knob K. L. Lucifer Van Jas was 13th in open class and sixth in junior show, and a two-year-old cow that placed 17th in open competition and third in junior show. Dana Sue placed fourth in showmanship in the mixed age competition.

Charles Green of Elsie placed 11th in the showmanship contest and was the only other junior age contestant in the final 11.

The State Holstein Assn. presented eight pewter pitchers to the first-place juniors in each of the eight classes, and five returned to Clinton County.

Dana Sue Hazle also exhibited a bull calf which placed seventh in open competition, a junior calf that placed 22nd in open class and sixth in junior show, and a two-year-old cow that placed 17th in open competition and third in junior show. Dana Sue placed fourth in showmanship in the mixed age competition.

Charles Green of Elsie placed 11th in the showmanship contest and was the only other junior age contestant in the final 11.

The State Holstein Assn. presented eight pewter pitchers to the first-place juniors in each of the eight classes, and five returned to Clinton County.

ASC PROGRAM

Wool referendum ballots due back Sept. 23

W. M. SMITH
 County ASC Manager

Ballots for voting in the referendum on the lamb and wool promotion and market-development program were mailed to producers in Clinton County Sept. 7.

The referendum will determine whether or not deductions will continue to be made from producer payments earned under the national wool program. Funds collected are used by the American Sheep Producers Council to carry out a program of advertising, promotion, and related activities under an agreement with the secretary of agriculture.

THE PROPOSED agreement will become effective if it is approved by at least two-thirds of the total number of producers voting or by producers having at least two-thirds of the total volume of production represented by votes in the referendum.

Such an agreement has been in effect since the 1955 marketing year, as approved by producers voting in referendums. If approved in the September referendum, a new agreement will authorize continuation of the deductions from payments on marketings through 1969.

If a new agreement is not approved by producers, no deductions will be withheld from payments on 1966 marketings, and American Sheep Producers Council programs will be continued only as long as the present reserve fund permits or until some other agreement may be approved by producers.

APPROVAL OF the new agreement would authorize payment deductions of up to 1 1/2 cents a pound on shorn wool and 7 1/2 cents a hundredweight on unshorn lambs. These deductions compare with 1 cent and 5 cents in the past. The higher deductions were recommended by American Sheep Producers Council member organizations as a means of financing a moderately expanded promotion program for both wool and lamb.

Producers eligible to vote in the referendum are all those who have owned sheep or lambs 6 months of age or older for at least 30 consecutive days since last Jan. 1. Votes may be cast by individuals, corporations, or partnerships. Cooperative associations may qualify to vote for all of their eligible members, who would not then otherwise vote in the referendum.

PRODUCERS MAY vote in the referendum as soon as the ballots are received; voting will end Sept. 23. Preliminary referendum results will be announced early in October.

I urge any producer who believes he is eligible to vote and who has not received a ballot to get in touch with his ASCS county office. Remember, the ballots must be received by the ASCS office not later than Friday, Sept. 23.

We are mailing out revised 1967 wheat allotment notices. We plan to have them all mailed by Sept. 23.

NEARLY ALL FEED grain and wheat certificate payments have been made. We are computing payments now for the producers who exceeded their permitted acreage and will get a reduction in their payment. Measurement service is available to wheat producers who wish to have their 1967 wheat acreage measured. The cost is $5 per farm plus 10 cents per acre measured.

Be sure and report any sale or purchase of land; the acreage of cropland is very important as it may affect your wheat allotment and feed grain base.

'66 CAP program provides outdoor areas for recreation

The 1966 CAP program provides outdoor areas with public hunting, fishing, hiking and trapping. Frank Light, chairman of the ASCS Committee, announces that Michigan has 155,000 acres diverted from crop production from 5 to 10 years. The owners of this land may earn an additional federal payment if they offer the public access to land in accordance with the plan as established with the Michigan State Conservation Department. These plans will indicate the kind of use and the number of people the land will accommodate.

TO DATE, over 1,000 requests have been filed by land owners for a supplemental payment that provides open space areas for the public. These requests are being forwarded to their local wildlife and fisheries representatives for review and rating. It is anticipated that lands will be available for public hunting prior to 1966 hunting season.

Light further advises that anyone interested in the location and type of project available should contact the ASCS Office in the county or counties they are interested in gaining access to open space.

The land will also be identified by a sign advising that land is open to the public and the kind of use.

PEOPLE INTERESTED in these open space areas may also contact the local owner where these signs are displayed for complete details.

Federal insurance plan 'improved'

An improved all-risk insurance protection plan is now available to wheat growers in Clinton County. Production guarantees for the county have been increased 24 per cent according to Harold Willis, district director of Federal Crop Insurance for this area.

Willis stated that the premium rate, however, remains about the same as last year. The increased protection is a result of the corporation's policy of keeping up with the times by recognizing increased production costs and increased yields during the past few years.

Federal Crop Insurance is an agency of the United States Department of Agriculture, and protection is offered against all causes of loss from weather, insects, and diseases. The policy operates on the basis of a bushel guarantee determined by the past yield records for the county. The farmer can choose from three price-per-bushel figures the amount of indemnity he will be paid for each bushel when a loss occurs. Sept. 30 is the closing date for accepting applications for protection on the 1967 wheat crop. For additional information, farmers may contact the Federal Crop Insurance district office at 4613 N. Grand River Avenue, Lansing.

$50 million payments expected in CAP

Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service county offices are processing final 1966 wheat and feed grain payments. Payments in excess of $42 million have been made to date to farmers participating in the 1966 programs.

Payments are earned by farmers diverting acreage from wheat and feed grains under government production adjustment programs. A report from the Michigan ASCS state office reveals that when all payments are made, they will exceed $50 million. Frank Light, chairman of the Michigan State ASC Committee, said 60,000 farmers would receive payments this year. He added that 45 per cent of all farmers with wheat and feed grain production history participated in this year's program.

PRELIMINARY reports reveal these producers kept close to one million acres out of wheat and feed grains in 1966. This is about one-half of the acreage normally planted on these farms and represents about one-third of the total wheat allotment and feed grain base established in Michigan.

Through 1965, payments have amounted to approximately $150 million since the feed grain program was enacted in 1961 and the wheat program in 1962. With the completion of 1966 payments the total will be about $200 million. These payments have tended to maintain farm income and have resulted in decreasing the cost of government programs through the elimination of burdensome surpluses.

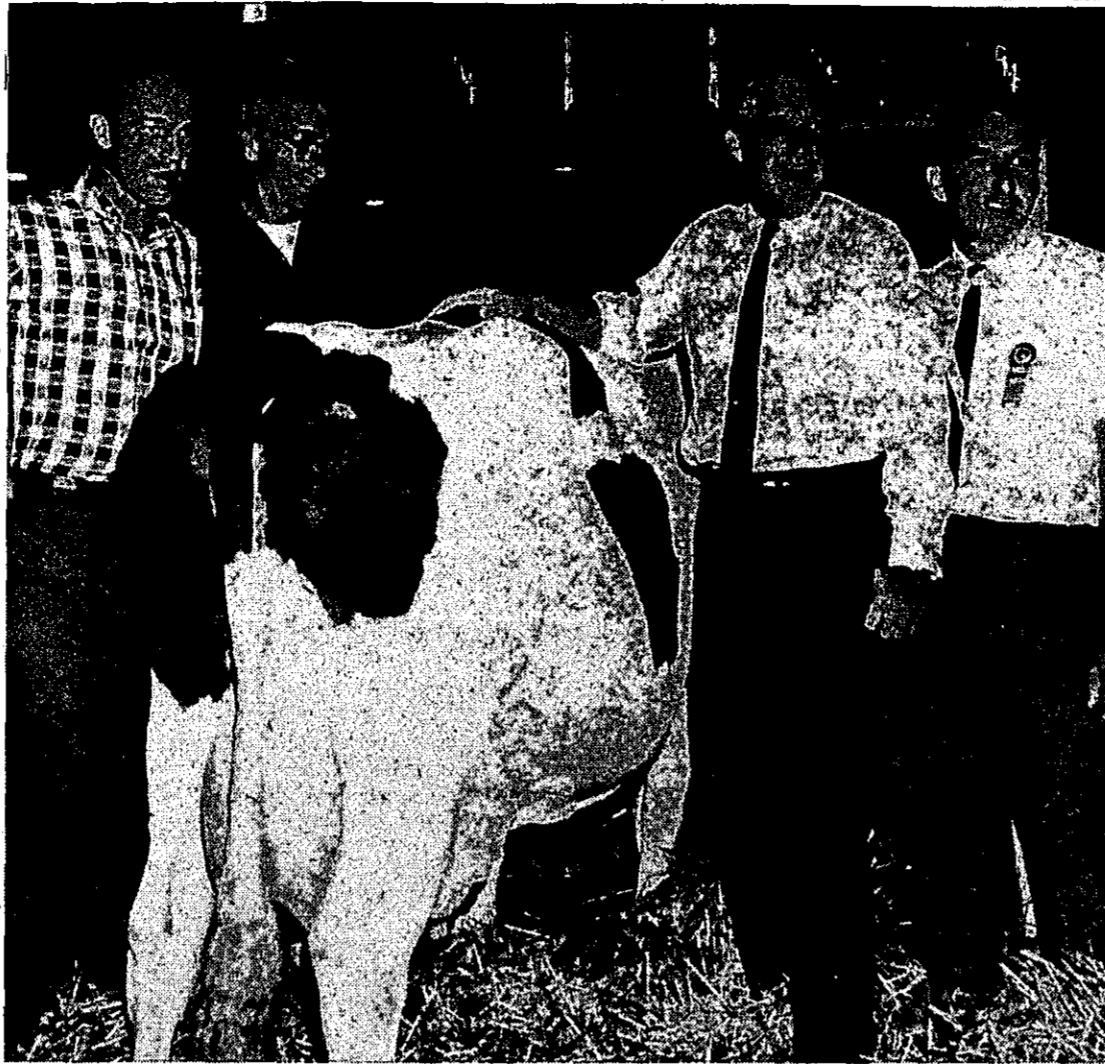

LEGISLATION NOW in effect provides for similar programs through 1969. Flexibility in the law gives the secretary of agriculture authority to adjust program requirements based on available supplies of wheat and feed grains. He has already made allowances for the current wheat supply by increasing 1967 wheat allotments. Announcement of 1967 feed grain bases is expected shortly.

Scout encampment set this weekend

Boy Scouts from the Chippewa District of the Chief Okemos Council — the district includes Clinton County and Portland and Danby townships in Ionia — will hold their 1966 fall encampment this weekend at Camp Mapleton.

Parents are especially invited to the Sunday potluck dinner starting at 12:30. They're also welcome to attend Saturday evening's 7:30 campfire.

A full two days of scouting activity is planned beginning between 5 and 8 p.m. Friday.

Sudex ration not as potent

Beef cattle producers feeding Sudex silage will find it necessary to feed extra concentrates to get the same gains as cattle fed corn silage.

Recent studies conducted at Michigan State University's Beef Cattle Research Center showed that cattle fed Sudex (a sorghum-sudangrass hybrid) had to be fed an additional one-half pound of concentrate daily for every 100 pounds of body weight to get the same gains as cattle fed straight corn silage.

That's because, the study showed that Sudex does not have as much energy value on a dry matter basis and cattle tend to gain slightly less than their counterparts fed corn silage.

IN THE STUDY, Hugh Henderson and H. William Newland, MSU animal husbandry researchers, compared 120 head of steer calves to find out just how much shelled corn was needed to supplement both the corn silage and the Sudex to get the cattle to grade choice at 1,000 pounds.

The results indicated that cattle given a full feed of Sudex plus 1 per cent of their body weight daily in concentrates gained 18 per cent slower than cattle getting a full feed of corn silage plus the same amount of concentrates.

When the cattle were given a concentrate level of 1-1/2 per cent of their body weight, the Sudex-fed group gained 10 per cent slower than those fed corn silage and the same level of concentrate.

HENDERSON AND Newland further noted that the energy value (digestibility) of Sudex was about 7 per cent less than corn silage when measured on a dry matter basis.

The MSU researchers concluded that Sudex fed cattle should receive an additional one-half pound of concentrate daily per 100 pounds of body weight in order to get about the same gains as cattle fed corn silage.

The 'customer' often is prankster, C-C warns

The Chamber of Commerce has warned its members that in recent days orders have been placed via telephone with businessmen for items which, when delivered, are often a complete surprise to the customer.

In an "alert letter," the Chamber advised businessmen to be careful of telephone ordering, making certain they are not the victim of prankster.

Fly-free wheat date Sept. 17

Seeding wheat early is a good practice, but farmers are advised to wait until after the "fly free date" before planting in September. George McQueen, Extension agricultural agent, says the day in Clinton County is Sept. 17. This date is set by entomologists on the basis of years of observation of the fall brood of Hessian fly in the area.

The county Extension agent believes this is a year farmers should consider planting certified seed. With the price prospects higher, good germination should result in better yields at harvest time next summer. He believes most farmers will more than get their extra cost back with additional yields, to say nothing of the better quality grain at harvest time.

Measurement service valuable

A large number of Michigan farmers have requested their local county ASCS office to pre-measure certain acreages on their farms, reported Frank Light, Chairman, Michigan ASC State Committee.

Pre-measurement and other measurement services are offered to farm operators at a very small cost. Farm operators may use the measurement services to determine the exact amount of permitted acreage prior to planting time. This measured acreage could then be staked and the farmer should know exactly where to start or stop planting.

SINCE ALL counties in the southern peninsula of Michigan will have compliance by certification for the 1967 crop year, these measurement services will be especially valuable to the farmers in order to stay within their program acreage requirements and also receive maximum government payments.

In these certification counties, the producer will report his crop acreages to the ASCS county office rather than the county office measuring all the acreage on the participating farms.

THE COUNTY OFFICE will be making a 25 per cent spot-check of these farms to make sure that the acreages reported by the farmer are correct. If the farmer does not have the acreages he reported, he is subject to a large reduction in program payments.

We recommend that farmers contact their local ASCS county office for further information on measurement services, stated Light.

Bridge opening now scheduled for Oct. 1

The Island Road Bridge over the Maple River at Elsie will take about a month longer than originally planned, with an opening now set for Oct. 1 and completion by Nov. 1. The contractor, through the road commission, has submitted a formal request to the Bureau of Public Roads and the State Department of Highways for an extension of the completion dates.

Double rafter supports and knee bracing keep a building sag-proof and sway-proof, keep eave lines straight and true. 6 x 6 Piller Beams are four-square, set deep and solid for plenty of anchored strength in the ground.

A strong, weather-tight roof starts with a strong, rigid roof truss. A Hydro-Nail roof truss. Much different, much better than ordinary ring or plate type trusses. Equalizes roof loads. Eliminates shear stresses (often a potential cause of roof failure). Reduces probability of roof leaks. Extends building life.

Doors are for opening nice and easy. For closing snug and tight, Moriarty doors work this way. Framing members are extra large, extra strong. Door girts are closely spaced (20" to 24" centers). Pressure treated rub boards. Heavy-duty tracks and hardware.

'Look before you leap'

It has been brought to our attention that in the past few weeks some employees of the Federal-Mogul plant in St. Johns have held meetings and are signing cards stating they would like a union to represent them at the St. Johns plant.

The few plant employees we have talked to do not enable us to say what the reasons for wanting a union are, but we assume from our conversations that wages are not a major factor.

St. Johns and Clinton County have been very fortunate over the past 16 years that Federal-Mogul has taken upon themselves to almost triple the size of their original plant and bring their total employment up to the mark where it stands today.

It is our opinion that the expansion in our area was based on the fact that here

One bad apple in a barrel can spoil them all

What is the individual employee's part in safety? How important is his observance of safe practices and every safety rule?

We can say in answer to the first question that the roster of employees is composed of individuals, so it follows that each person's part is vital to a safety program and its results.

The program can be compared to a barrel of apples. If every apple packed in the barrel is absolutely sound, there is an excellent chance that the apples will be in good shape, fit to eat for a long time. Let one wormy or bruised apple be packed and, in a short time, a large portion of the contents will be spoiled.

The answer to the second question is simple. What you, what I, what the other fellow does is important to us, not just today or tomorrow, but indefinitely. Carelessness in securing a nut, failure to apply a key, to properly lubricate, to make a sound weld, in other words failure to do a job right, can have an effect weeks or months later causing injury to someone.

How often do we not read about accidents on highways in which the blame is placed on a driver who went to sleep? The same can be said about many other accidents. Somebody slept.

Continued education issue needs support

Every community in this nation has a special stake in its youth.

Our future depends on the wisdom and knowledge of today's young men and women. The complex problems of the modern world demand trained minds and creative thinking.

The only way to prepare our young people for the tasks that confront them is to see to it they get a good education.

An estimated 900,000 young people will not return to or will drop out of school this year unless we do something about it.

President Johnson is asking the Nation's support to keep our youth in school so that they will be equipped for the future. He said "We are determined that the economic and social conditions which threaten the futures of our young people shall be overcome."

Perhaps the best way to ensure this goal is to see that all of our youth stay in school and get all the education they can. For it is the drop-out who has the hardest time finding employment. And it is the drop-out who becomes trapped in a routine low-paying job.

And these are the people who will continue the chain of poverty.

We can ill afford to suffer the terrible loss of our human resources by failing to see to it that our youth are educated.

The important national issue of continued education deserves support.

Federal-Mogul had a realistic group of employees with an ideal working climate. Thus when plant expansion was considered St. Johns was the beneficial recipient.

We are in no position to judge the right or wrong of what the employees feel on the issues. But we are realistic enough to understand that a decision which management might regard as adverse could work a hardship on employees and Clinton County as a whole.

Federal-Mogul is under no special compulsion to expand further in our area or even to stay in St. Johns if demands made upon them are such that some other area would be more suitable.

Thus the matters which the employees deem to be worthy of considering should be discussed not only among themselves but, in cases where they are not fully understanding on an issue, with someone who knows (not someone who THINKS they know).

The decision which the employees of Federal-Mogul must make here is a major one and not one that can be taken lightly. All the facts, both large and small, should be taken into consideration.

The old adage "look before you leap" is quite fitting for F-M employees.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

F-M employee writes to co-workers

AS YOU ALL ARE aware, we at Federal Mogul have been caught up in a turmoil of agitation and unrest due to our dissatisfaction with the policies and working conditions at the St. Johns plant.

We have a seven man committee who have done as well as possible up to date, only to have verbal abuse heaped upon them day after day! Let's show as much backing and interest in our own committee as we would like had we been elected!

Some unhappiness is due to the pension plan as such; also there are others of us who are not satisfied with the "sick and accident policy" as well as more minor items, such as shop rather than department seniority and the desire of second and third shift employees for a swing shift.

THERE ARE ABOUT 98 per cent of us who do not really understand the pension plan we have now, but we don't think it is good enough because "John Doe" says we are being "short-changed."

Let's be adult enough to find out for ourselves just what the benefits really are on the pension plan before we make up our minds!

Another point of argument for having a union affiliation is the assurance of not being fired from the job. The fact that there have only been eight people fired from Federal Mogul in the past 16 years under non-union management is a record that speaks for itself!

TOO, WE HAVE some employees who resent an hourly rated or group leader giving job assignments. Come now, you are not that narrow minded to think the union could do away with that set up! Management could promote all leaders to foremen. The problem is really conflicting personalities and not hourly rated supervision working along with salaried persons.

We have our company paid life insurance as well as Blue Cross, the I.P.P. plan and pension, paid holidays and vacations, personal leave time due to illness or a death in one's family.

Do not let yourself fall into the foolish way of thinking just because we at St. Johns are one of the biggest plants in the Federal Mogul chain we are all set until old age overtakes us!

THE COMPANY IS in the highly

Letters to the editor must be signed with name and address and should be as brief as possible. Names will be withheld on request. competitive automotive parts business to make money; and if the union forces their demands for us to the extent some of us would like, it is not unheard of for a plant, such as our's, to close out completely. Microtech of California and the Shoemaker Avenue plant in Detroit are examples of unions hindering rather than helping the employee.

Even though it may never come to such a drastic ending, many of us would be hard put to go out on a strike for our own problems or in sympathy with other plants; for some employees it is a major obstacle financially to use their allotted vacations, and we are paid for them.

TAKE A GOOD LOOK at your own working conditions, benefits, debts and yes, your bank account! Pay no attention to whether I can stand to gamble on joining a union, but put it down in black and white and see if YOU, in all sincerity, want to gamble on what you have.

Some have done a pretty good job of immature thinking when they read a financial report on company earnings and figure the company is making money at their expense. If Federal Mogul was not making money we wouldn't be here to complain!

USING MYSELF AS an example of an average employee, I have almost 14 years seniority and have lost no time that was not of my own choice. I am paid $2.88 per hour with the option to earn more if I happen to have a piece work job and want to put forth the effort; if I am so inclined I spend time talking to my co-workers or make repeated trips to the lounge with no reprimand from management. Some days I do not earn the wages and benefits we already have, and if you will be honest with yourselves, you are all in the same category.

May I urge all of you to really think for yourself and not lay your own financial future on the line until you are better informed?

Back Thru the Years

Interesting Items from the Files of the Clinton County News

10 YEARS AGO

From the Files of Sept. 20, 1956 Supervisor Douglas E. Candler of Watertown township this week announced his resignation from the post for "personal reasons." Candler was the only Democrat member of the county board of supervisors, but he was highly regarded by his Republican colleagues.

The St. Johns Ministerial Association met Tuesday morning in the First Methodist Church with Rev. Emeral E. Price, presiding. Rev. G. C. Rice was secretary.

Clinton county's Road Commission employees, organized earlier this year by the union, voted Monday to ask for state mediation of complaints leveled at the Road Commission by state union representatives.

25 YEARS AGO

From the Files of Sept. 18, 1941 Clinton county Pomona grange was entertained by Horton and Stockman granges at the Stockman hall in Bath township on Wednesday, Sept. 17.

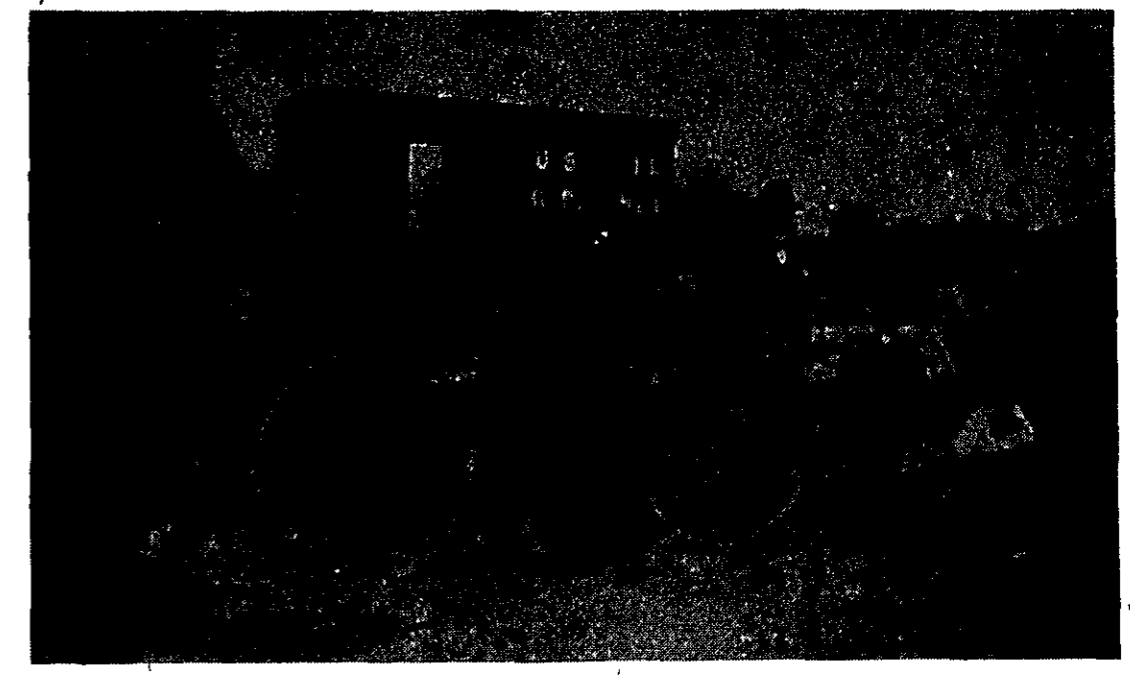

Fire of an unknown origin broke out Monday morning in a clothes closet adjoining a downstairs bedroom at the Harold L. Shafley farm home in Bengal township. The blaze was discovered by Mrs. Shafley shortly before 10 o'clock.

With tickets selling fast a capacity crowd is expected for the first football game of the St. Johns high school football season Friday night of the week, Sept. 19, at Frank Buck field. The Redwings will encounter the crack St. Mary's school team from Lansing.

50 YEARS AGO

From the Files of Sept. 21, 1916 School opened Monday morning with the largest attendance in the history of the high school, and a very satisfactory showing in the grades. There are 221 students in the high school, 30 more than last year. Of these, 112 are tuition students.

A Look Into The Past . .

"RURAL ROUTE 1" 80 YEARS AGO

This is how the mail went through 80 years ago. Mr. Brass is the mail carrier in front of the wagon, delivering on "R.F.D. No. 1," the first route into the northwest of St. Johns. This picture was taken on the Ralph Blemaster farm at Grove and Maple Rapids roads; the barn in the left background still stands. Also in the picture back of the wagon are Norman Cowles, Ralph Blemaster, Norman Blemaster and the dog, Bruno. Mrs. Ralph Blemaster contributed the picture for this series.

J. E. Crosby, living on the LeBaron farm just southeast of this city, has 16 acres of peppermint growing on muck soil on his farm one mile south and two miles east of the fair grounds. His son, Chester Crosby, says that a crop of peppermint pays much better than the average farm crop, and in his case, pays remarkably well because the marsh land where it grows, is practically useless for anything else.

Rodey Wilson, full-back for the eighth grade football team, while practicing on the practice grounds on Oakland street Tuesday afternoon, fell breaking his collar bone.

from the HOPPER

By STEVE HOPKO

Last spring the local high school children, who have to go past the courthouse on their way home or downtown, wore quite a path diagonally across the front courthouse lawn.

This past summer, this whole area was worked up and reseeded. Signs were put up at the entrances of the former paths asking to "please keep off the lawn."

I TRAVEL near this route myself, morning, noon and evenings as I commute between home and the office.

So far I have not seen one high schooler cut across on the old path. They all walk about ten feet past the sign and then cut across.

SCHOOL HAS been in progress for less than a week and already there is the beginning of a new path across the lawn.

It seems that these students' pride in how their courthouse lawn looks isn't worth the 15 to 20 extra steps that it would take to stay on the sidewalks.

The local chamber of commerce sent out an alert bulletin to all of its members last week. This bulletin was concerning the number of complaints being received from both residents and businessmen as to the practice of an individual calling a merchant and having them deliver merchandise to an address. But, when the merchandise is delivered it is found out that the items were not ordered by the recipient.

This type of practical joke is the sick type. It has no humorous aspect for either the merchant or the resident who receives the merchandise.

IF THIS TYPE OF joke, if one calls it a joke, is neither funny to the person receiving the goods and it is expensive to the merchant who delivered the order.

If this type of practice was kept up, the only thing I can see that would come of it would be the merchants refusing to deliver phone orders.

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

Look out world, here she comes!

With excitement and nervousness splitting her face in a grin, our little girl - not so little anymore - started school last Wednesday. She's only in kindergarten, but it's a big deal for her . . . and for Mom and Dad.

It hardly seems possible she's reached this point in life already. I can remember with the clarity of yesterday the nurse bringing her out of the delivery room and getting my first look at her before they even had a chance to get her cleaned up. That was five years, three months and 50 minutes ago to the minute, and it's gone by so fast it hardly seems like a day.

SHE WAS BUBBLING over when she bounced out of bed this morning. We wondered how she would react this morning, because her exuberance over the past year about going to school suddenly vanished and changed to apprehension the last few days. I suppose this is normal as kids get nervous and a little scared when something as new and big as kindergarten gets so close.

But this morning we could hardly get her to eat breakfast, because she was afraid she was going to be late to school. She wanted to get dressed first and eat later, but as wise parents of a sloppy eater, we changed that. When she was ready 15 minutes before time to leave we could hardly keep her in the house.

As she watched other kids go by on their way to school, she was like a little puppy straining at the leash. As we would talk about the kids who were going to be in her class, she'd Jump up at the sound of a familiar name and suggest she could go catch up with them.

SHE HAS ONLY two blocks to go to school, and she's very excited about being able to go up there by herself. It took considerable talking before she would agree to let her mother accompany her the first morning. "But only the first morning," she warned us.

Being able to walk to school by herself is another big step in her life, and we're trying to instill in her the fact it is also the first big responsibility - the responsibility to go straight to school and come straight home.

She's only five years old and still a child, so I anticipate she won't always do just that. Five years old . . .

LITTLE DOES she realize her days of complete care-free fun are over and that with the start of school will come more and more responsibility - responsibility for school work, for work around the house and for work in 4-H or Scouts or whatever other groups she will someday belong to.

Her days of childhood, though (Thank God), are far from over, and by the time the more important responsibilities face her I hope she'll have the education and the maturity and the wisdom to meet them head-on. With God's help we'll see that she's ready.

Right now she's still a child who is naive, trusting, noisy, unheeding, always playful, never sleepy, sloppy, never hungry except between meals, sneaky, thirsty at night, afraid to try new things except when nobody's watching, nervous, stinky at times, playful, full of ideas for dad, quick to reject what she doesn't like, fast to approve what suits her fancy, loves new clothes - all attributes of a normal little girl, I guess.

Except she's not so little anymore.

Now that she's going to school she's a big girl, big in more ways than one. She's got the world on a string; she's going to learn all there is to learn and do all there is to do. She said so herself.

So, look out world, here she comes. And take good care of her.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Cheers ring out as new MSU medical classes start

BY ELMER E. WHITE Michigan Press Assn.

Many cheered when Michigan State University's Institute of Biology and Medicine started classes this fall, the first academic step toward a full-scale medical school on the East Lansing campus. The long effort to come into existence was over.

Among those cheering were educators at MSU who had worked for years to get the two-year medical school program out of the planning stage. Many outsiders as well lauded the new program because of its potential for helping alleviate the doctor shortage in Michigan and throughout the nation.

One who called to hear "I'm sorry but Dr Jones is not taking any new patients," can appreciate what the MSU Institute can mean.

STARTING WITH 26 students this fall, MSU officials hope to get state approval to expand the program to a full four-year medical degree curriculum.

University officials have built into the curriculum a relatively new concept in medical education. They hope to encourage a maximum of independent study and original research at the earliest levels of the future doctor's study.

Instead of the usual procedure of lecture rooms and laboratories for 30-40 hours each week, the MSU medical students will have only about 25 hours in required class time. Other hours may be filled with student-selected courses, individual study, research projects, part-time jobs or other activities the student feels are worth while.

INSTITUTE PLANNERS see their curriculum as a six-year program, including the first four years of undergraduate work as an integral part of the first two years of the traditional medical school. Thus, the students in the program this year are considered to be in the fourth year of college, leading to the bachelor's degree, although most of the 26 already hold a degree. Next year, normally the first in medical school, MUS's students will start limited patient contact in clinical work, which is not usually started until a student has completed at least one full year in medicine.

BEFORE THE 1961-62 Constitutional Convention, many politicians described the state's basic document in the same terms used to criticize the present tax structure: "patch-work" and "horse-and-buggy." Critics maintained a similarly dim view of the new construction, but it has so far withstood several attempts at amendment. This fall it appeared that voters would be asked to start a massive move to change the Constitution which has only been in effect for two years.

VOTERS WILL BE asked about one change, in the required age for balloting rights. Several other questions which were considered by the legislature must wait for future elections. Lawmakers gave serious debate to proposals to change Constitutional provisions regarding highway department administration, judicial vacancies, terms for state representatives, charitable bingo playing and several other matters.

Only a proposal to permit persons from 18 years up to vote in Michigan gained the necessary two-thirds vote in the two houses to get it on the November ballot.

PROPOSERS AND opponents of the 18-year-old vote idea were basically pleased that this issue would go to the public alone, although many were disappointed that their other pet ideas would not get a hearing this year. It is easier to get an idea across to the voting public if there is only one matter to discuss. With two, three or even more constitutional proposals on the ballot, voters could easily be confused when they get inside the polling place. Constitutional amendments are worded about as simply as possible on the ballot but with a number of them to be considered a poorly informed voter could easily be confused about the questions before him.

2 CMU classes start Sept. 21 at St. Johns

Two off-campus courses, one in English and the other in psychology, will be offered this fall at St. Johns High School through Central Michigan University's Field Services. Registration for the courses will be at the high school Wednesday, Sept. 21, at 7 p.m. and classes will begin following registration that evening.

Dr. John K. Osborn of CMU's psychology department will be teaching Education Psychology 541 (adolescent psychology). The 3-hour course is open to graduate students only.

Scheduled to teach English 205 (college grammar) is Lawrence Leth. This 3-hour course may be used toward an English major or minor or as a free elective. The prerequisite is English 101 and 102 and is not open to students with credit in English 255.

The "Low Down" From the Congressional Record

By Joe Crump

Predicts wage, price and dividend freeze satisfy the foreign dollar credits. Rep. Joe D. Waggoner (La.) "If ever a nation had a golden chance to look into a crystal ball and see the fate which lies ahead, we in the United States have that opportunity now. By the simple expedient of taking a searching look at the situation in Great Britain today, we can see the United States a few years from now."

"Examine for a minute the parallels: 'Great Britain and the United States have both consistently over-spent their budgets since World War II. Red ink has flowed like wine in both countries. 'GREAT BRITAIN and the United States have borrowed and borrowed until neither our currency nor theirs is worth half of its former value. The pound, devaluated scarcely a dozen years ago, is under heavy pressure again. 'Great Britain is wallowing in the ineptness of medicare, which they, at least call by its correct name, socialized medicine. Our venture is just now beginning. 'Our gold reserve is at an all-time low with not half enough in the vaults of Fort Knox to

'T HAS ALWAYS been my belief that if you want to know something about the road ahead you should ask the man coming back. 'We have loaded social-welfare program after program onto the backs of the people in the past decade. No scheme is as lunatic as to fall on deaf ears here in the bureaucracy even to a guaranteed wage. Of course there is inflation. There will continue to be inflation until the administration lessens its demands and the Congress stops giving in to every socialist scheme that occurs to any and every half-baked bureaucrat. 'It may not be too late for the United States to learn a lesson from what is happening over there. 'If we do not, then the economic wizards who do not believe in fiscal responsibility had better begin preparing some good stories to tell the people when wages, prices, dividends and incentive are frozen here in this country. The people will want to know why, and the answers had better be good.

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT Economists brought in to advise the administration predicted that a cut in taxes would boost consumer spending and increase tax revenue. Taxes were cut, and tax revenue was increased, supposedly, to balance the budget. Instead of balancing the budget, new spending programs were introduced. For example: Senator D. D. Brewster (Md.) has introduced a bill, S. 3744, that would provide $10,000,000 as the federal share of a program to eliminate jellyfish in Chesapeake Bay. They scare away the tourists. The economists advising the administration should be sent "back to the old drawing board."

The edge of autumn— winter's scouts are about

HAYDN PEARSON

There is a different feeling in the air now that the ninth month's mellowness broods over fields and meadows. Dawns are moist and foggy and one can sense Nature's patience as the sun lifts into the sky and the fog lifts from valleys and swales. September does not hurry; it is a lingering remembrance of summer. It also has the taste of oncoming autumn.

Not yet the blazing bonfires on the hills; not yet the harsh searing of black frosts. Now for a heart-lifting interlude royal colors paint the land. There is the purple of asters and the rich hue of thistles. Iron-weed hold bright pennants on stiff stems. Golden-rod paints pictures along dusty roadsides and brightens corners of upland fields. Along pasture lanes sumacs display maroon candles. Around the edges of swamps, chocolate brown cattail heads blend with sun-cured reeds and grasses. In shadowed woodlands the checkerberries are red jewels beneath waxy leaves.
