School cuts in Bath?

By SHIRLEY KARBER
News Staff Writer

Bath school board officials "overestimated" this year's elementary enrollments by 35 students. The problem at Bath has been an increase in state valuation, which in turn, increased the amount of state aid available per-student. Where the enrolled number of students is less than anticipated-state funds received are lower.

An increase in valuation has been a blessing to other school districts desiring to sell bonds for construction purposes, or in areas, such as Fowler, where enrollments increased.

The Bath situation is unique. Unless cuts are made in either payroll, programs, or possibly both, officials estimate a $25,000 deficit will exist at the end of the fiscal year.

A group of elementary teachers were present at Monday night's school board meeting and offered advice and suggestions to school officials.

Some cuts possible include; dismissal of two teachers, saving $10,000; dismissal of the teacher aides, saving $15,000; or close the elementary library and save $5,000.

The teachers appeared to favor the dismissal of the teacher aides, but officials felt a study of all means open, including the possibility of cuts to the athletic program, a more advisable course.

Roger Carlson, superintendent, said, "When we had large classes in the elementary we added teachers. I see no reason why they can't be dropped when the enrollment is down."

A teacher then suggested if they let the aides go, they could pay the teacher staying through the noon hour an extra $1.50, as compensation for the extra work. Another questioned, "If the teachers go with the dismissal of the aides this year, would there be any kind of guarantee the school would rehire them next year?" Teachers also voiced concern over students enrolled in the transition classes, and how the cut might affect them emotionally.

Board members then pointed out that even if they dropped the aides they were still $9,000 short of the needed amount.

Carlson said they had based this year's enrollment estimates on last year's figures, and the situation was impossible to foresee until school opened in September. Enrollments have dropped annually for the past three years at Bath but not to the extent of this year's figure.

Some voiced the opinion poor roads and unsatisfactory sewer facilities in the area might be some of the reasons for the decrease in enrollments, when other areas have constantly increased during the same period. The Bath school system has an enrollment of 1,388 students and employs approximately 60 teachers.

School officials made no definite commitments on the issue and agreed to a proposal by William Brook, president, that a special meeting be called for Wednesday evening, Sept. 17, at 9 p.m.

In other action the school board, —Ratified the teacher contract for the 1969-70 school year with the major change a salary base increase to $6,950 for teachers have a BA degree.

—Discussed priority projects for the money, approximately $20,000, left in the building and site fund for elementary use. The teachers present were asked their opinions by school officials and the group suggested more playground equipment and black-topping for the play areas. No action was taken pending definite cost estimates on the items.

The Clinton County Courthouse will be 100 years old in October. The Clinton County Board of Supervisors is planning an open house celebration for the occasion and all residents will be asked to participate in the centennial events. An old fashioned band concert on the courthouse lawn will be one of the many highlights of the occasion and special refreshments will be served. All county residents are invited to attend the Oct. 4 event.

DUMP FIRE BRINGS VOLUNTEERS

John Cannon, employee of K and H refuge service, called the St. Johns Fire Department to put out a fire at the city dump Friday afternoon. He thought that the blaze was started with hot ashes.

Open house set for Assn.

The new Federal Land Bank Association and Production Credit Association will host an open house for the public Friday, Sept. 18, from 8:30 to 4:30 p.m. The new building is located at 1104 S. US-27.

The ultra-modern structure measures 32 by 60 feet. The second floor, contains the main office and four others used by the Land Bank, which is managed by Floyd Parmelee. The first floor houses the Production Credit office and three others plus the utility and storage space for the building. Bernhard Miller serves as branch manager for the credit office.

Parmelee has been employed with the company 24 years. They were formerly located at 108 Brush Street for 36 years, in a building erected by Judge Kelly Searl. The Federal Land Bank Association purchased the building from Searl in 1951, and remained there until they moved to their present location. Parmelee says, "It's not so congested out here and we have more parking available for our customers, but the moving operation was a little inconvenient and it takes more running to avail yourself of services downtown." The new structure was built by Fedewa Builders Inc., of Fowler. Mrs. Jeanette Page and Mrs. Rita Westland are employed in the Land Bank office and Mrs. Marlon Smith works in the Production Credit office.

O-E names principal

Ovid-Elsie High School has a new assistant principal, He is Dean McKay, swim and wrestling coach who was at a school board meeting last week. The position had been vacant for one year.

The Federal Land Bank provides real estate mortgage loans to farmers, and the Production Credit Association loans funds for all capital needs for the home or farm. This might include livestock, machinery, a car etc. They also have AGRIFAX a bookkeeping system for farmer's which covers a complete record system for both income tax and farm management.

Parmelee and his wife Maxine live at 429 Meadowview Drive. They have two sons Phillip, who works in Lansing and Lance a 6th grader at Swegles Street School. His hobbies include photography and boating. Miller and his wife Marlon reside in DeWitt Township. He's been with the company eight years. They have seven children, Joe 17, William 16, Gerald 14, Carl 13, Marie 11, Randall 9 and Patrick 8.

Both offices are normally open from 8 'til 5, five days a week.

At routine board meeting

Bulletin, open house, hot lunches reviewed

By RON KARLE
Editor

In a routine meeting last week, the St. Johns Board of Education reviewed the advisability of continuing a periodic newsletter to members of the community, discussed the hot lunch program and the upcoming open house at the new high school.

By general agreement the board decided to continue the newsletter.

"I look forward to this," said Raymond Parr, board president. "This is the only direct communication we have with parents," added board member William Richards. "I think we should continue it."

"We're happy to do anything you like," said Supt. Earl Lancaster, who brought the newsletter up for review.

About six issues of the publication are planned for the current year with a total cost of between $800 and $900.

During discussion of the hot lunch program at the high school and the junior high school, Steve Bakita, administrative assistant, told the board that 1,468 students were fed at the two schools on the first day and that "we have had an increase in the number of students everyday. He said about 1,840 students attend the two schools.

"The same food and the same amount is served at both schools," he said in response to a board member. "If you heard that we ran out and some students didn't get fed, that's not true."

When a board member asked if there was a campus smoking problem, C. Gordon Vandemark, high school principal, replied, "Our kids have to stay in that lunchroom. We can't let them out because there are classes going on."

"I haven't seen more than two or three students trying to sneak out," he added.

Three lunch periods each day are scheduled at the following times: 11:04 a.m.-11:35 a.m., 11:35 a.m.-12:03 p.m., and 12:03 p.m.-12:30 p.m.

Board members also discussed an open house at the high school tentatively planned for November hinging on completion of the swimming pool and installation of seats for the auditorium.

"I think we'll just have to play the date by ear," said Lancaster.

The board approved the printing of a brochure to be distributed at the open house. Advertising in the brochure will pay for the cost.

The board also instructed Lancaster to obtain bids for marking the asphalt parking lot at the high school.

Included would be markings for 430 parking places in one color and the outline of a football field to allow the band to practice marching formations during wet weather.

Markings in another color are under consideration for driver training purposes.

In other action, the board approved contracts for two new teachers and approved the naming of five others as department heads or assistant department heads.

The contracts were approved for Roger Glumm, art instructor, at $7,000 and Mrs. Janet Huntington, first grade teacher at the Eureka School, at $7,140.

James Barger, art instructor, was named chairman of that department. He will receive a four per cent salary increase for the added duties.

Named assistant chairmen, with three per cent salary hikes, were Majorie Phillips, English; Ray Ebert, science; John Arehart, Social Studies and John Minsky, Math. All four teach at the junior high school and will coordinate programs there with the high school.

The board also approved school expense over the past month totaling $10,045.28.

Next meeting of the board will be Oct. 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the superintendent's office at the new high school.

Hint of 'squabble'

Tri-County airport plan nearly finalized

Cautioned against squabbling, a committee of supervisors from Clinton, Ingham and Eaton Counties last week continued mapping plans for Tri-County takeover of the state-owned Capital City Airport.

It is "altogether possible" that a final vote on the legislative package could be taken by the committee next week, said chairman Robert Montgomery of Clinton County.

If the steering committee approves the plan, it would then be presented to the three boards of supervisors. Approval by the supervisors and major local governments is considered a must if the proposal is to receive backing from the Legislature.

The plan calls for the creation of a Tri-County airport authority with the power to levy up to one mill for operations and improvements—over and above the 15-mill limitation—and to set up a nine-member governing unit.

The authority would consist of four members from Ingham, and two each from Clinton and Eaton with James D. Ramsey, director of the Michigan Aeronautics Commission, as chairman.

Under this plan Ingham would pay 72.1 per cent of the operating costs, Clinton 10.9 per cent and Eaton 17 per cent which would raise about $1,335,000 annually.

Ingham County representatives on the steering committee said last week they have heard criticism of the plan because the county would pay 72 per cent while having only four members on the authority.

Rep. Thomas Sharp, R-Howell, who is working with the steering committee on the legislative package, said he does not "understand the surge for control of the authority when it is going to benefit the whole area."

If the three counties are going to "squabble," he said the steering committee might just as well discontinue work on the proposal and continue with state ownership of the airport.

Providing adequate aviation facilities is "too important to quibble over," said Montgomery.

normal. The opening of the new Fowler Elementary School and ratification of teacher contracts are the two major problems.

The elementary school is now scheduled to open Oct. 1. Students have been attending classes in temporary quarters since school opened Sept. 3. A progress meeting has been set for Thursday and school board officials will make the final decision on the school opening at that time.

The closing of the parochial schools second and third grade classes and other enrollments have increased the amount of money the school district will receive in state aid this year to $40,000. Last year they received $26,000. An additional expense to the school however, will be seven new teachers.

The teacher contracts are still pending, Donald Smith, superintendent, told the school board at last Thursday night's meeting. "There is one clause in the contract which teachers have not seen yet. We feel teachers should see it and ratify it before the school board does." He further stated he foresaw no problems with the ratification.

In other action school board members:

- Approved contracts for three new teachers: William Moore, junior high; Yvonne Smith, counselor; and Richard Perry, 6, 7 and 8th grade math.

- Recommended the borrowing of $51,000 against State Aid.
- Discussed curb and gutter for 630 feet in front of the high school. Smith reported the

White attends banking school

Ink White of Clinton National Bank & Trust Co. in St. Johns, was among 404 bankers from 30 states and Puerto Rico who were graduated Aug. 29 from the Graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin in Madison.

The 23rd graduating class of the Wisconsin Graduate School of Banking sponsored by the Central States Conference, had representatives from 30 states.

With the 1969 graduating class, a total of nearly 6,500 students have graduated from the Wisconsin school since its first class of 41 men graduated in 1947. The 1969 graduation ceremony, held in the Wisconsin Union Theater on the Wisconsin campus, was attended by some 1,000 students, friends, and relatives of the graduates.

Willis W. Alexander, Jr., president of the American Bankers Association, gave the graduation address. The Graduate School of Banking is one of the many schools, short courses, and conferences sponsored annually at the University of Wisconsin as educational services for all citizens.

Those attending the 1969 Graduate School of Banking, joined bankers from all over the country in hearing more than 100 experts from all parts of the nation, who are recognized authorities in banking, economics, government, law and industrial, and agricultural and financial problems.

Clinton weather report

Get ready for chills

South-Central Michigan Weather Service
 By CHRIS GENTRY

Unusually warm weather returned once again last week, after a brief cooling off.

Temperatures dropped to below normal levels early last week, before recovering rapidly on Friday.

Clinton County experienced its first freezing temperatures of the season Wednesday, as the mercury dropped to 31.

The strong warming trend over the weekend showed a sharp contrast, with temperatures near 90 Monday.

Teacher negotiations at O-E

Superintendent, Robert Beauchamp, is hopeful negotiations between teachers and school board members at Ovid-Elsie can be worked out without outsiders having to be called in.

Talks between the two groups have resumed and officials report no problems are foreseen at the present time, and they have a good relationship.

"There's a good feeling between us, I think we'll do all right," says Beauchamp.

The two groups had agreed to wait until fall to negotiate the contract with the school to open on schedule and any agreements reached at a later date be retroactive. The decision to drop the meetings for the summer months was a mutual agreement.

"Since we began meeting after school started, we've been reviewing what we had done before and are picking out the areas on which we had earlier reached agreement," he says. "At this time I can't say there are any real problem areas where we are apart. We haven't come to that point where we haven't been able to talk back and forth."

Since time began men started life with good intentions, but many were handed transfers.

No measurable precipitation occurred over the area up until Monday, only scattered sprinkles, which fell Thursday.

The highest temperature recorded up until Monday was 84 Sunday, and the lowest was 31 Wednesday.

Here is the forecast for Clinton County, Wednesday through Sunday:

Cold weather will set in this week, showing signs of the approaching fall season. Temperatures will plunge to below normal Wednesday and continue through Friday.

Wednesday will be partly cloudy with a chance of showers with highs in the low 60's. Cloudy cold weather will continue Thursday, with highs in the upper 50's.

Friday will be mostly sunny and a little warmer, with highs near 70. Warmer weather will return for the weekend, Saturday will be sunny and warmer, with highs in the upper 70's.

The warmer weather will bring a chance of showers Sunday with highs in the low 80's.

Temperatures Wednesday through Sunday will average near the normal high of 70 and normal low of 45.

Precipitation will total a trace to one-half inch.

St. Johns is in one of the Midwest's strong Tornado belts. Two of the belts run through Michigan. The Indiana-Ohio belt runs into Hillsdale, Washtaw, Jackson, Lenawee, and Monroe Counties.

The other belt is the Iowa-Illinois belt, which runs from Grand Rapids, through St. Johns, Lansing, and Owosso, to Flint. Tornadoes have been known to occur every month of the year in these areas, including December and January. Any conditions that are capable of producing thunderstorms with heavy rains and/or hail and/or strong cloud-to-ground lightning are capable of producing Tornadoes. Tornadoes generally occur when surface temperatures are 50 degrees or above.

Remember, a TORNADO WATCH means tornadoes are likely to develop, a TORNADO WARNING means one has actually been sighted.

With 'parental involvement'

School sex education endorsed by Bishop

The Most Rev Alexander Zaleski, bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Lansing, has endorsed the concept of formal educational programs in family living and human sexuality but at the same time called for full parental involvement.

"It is a fact," Bishop Zaleski said, "that much concern and confusion exist regarding education in family living and human sexuality. Unprecedented interest in proper sex education is being expressed by teachers, physicians, legislators, social workers, clergy, and, of course, parents."

"Ideally, Christian family life provides a practical experience in interpersonal relationships, laying the foundation for a sound sexual development," the bishop said. "However, the ideal is not always met in practice. Many parents, because of feelings of inadequacy or through rejection of their responsibilities, do not fulfill their obligations in this regard."

"It also is true that our society is not as family centered as it once was and much of young people's lives is lived outside the home and its immediate influence. The unwillingness or inability of many parents to fulfill their responsibilities is one very important reason that has necessitated public programs in this area."

"More important," the bishop continued, "this situation points to a need for education for parents and parents-to-be."

Bishop Zaleski claimed that many parents, fully aware of their responsibility, feel that their right to educate their children in the norms of sexuality is being usurped.

"They fear," he said, "that educational programs in sexuality may misdirect their children, especially if teachers are ill prepared or emotionally immature. These are legitimate concerns and point up problems that must be faced and responsibilities which must be shared by parents, educators and religious leaders."

Bishop Zaleski says it is important that sex education not be reduced to the mere communication of information, and that "any educational program in human sexuality should involve the parents of students from its very beginning."

"Since feelings of inadequacy often accompany an awareness of responsibility among parents, it would be wise to begin any sex education program with parents and teachers. Any program of this nature should have prior approval of the parents who should also have the right to attend these classes or to withdraw their children if they see fit. It cannot be emphasized enough that the primary right and responsibility for education of children belongs to their parents."

Bishop Zaleski said the bishops of the country endorse sex education programs that are "integrated and comprehensive." Taking note of opposition to an integrated curriculum as stated in "Recommended Guidelines for Sex Education and Family Planning" issued by the Michigan State Department of Education, Bishop Zaleski commented that "in part, this opposition arises from a misunderstanding of what the State Guidelines mean by an integrated curriculum.

Bishop Zaleski observed that efforts being made in development of sex education programs and materials "are of varying quality."

"We must acknowledge what is good and strive to improve what is not good. The concern manifested by parents, educators and religious leaders is welcome and demands our gratitude. This kind of interest will promote responsible and competent leadership coupled with sound programs."

"To present too little or too much to students either too late or too early would be unfortunate. To do nothing is to abdicate our responsibility and could be disastrous."

In government

Milliken: jobs still discriminate

Gov. Milliken has told the heads of state departments that there is "still a marked lack of equal employment opportunity for Negroes in Michigan and in the nation today."

In letters to each of the state agency chiefs, the Governor said that a review of the incidence of Negro and Spanish-speaking employees in classified state service indicates more needs to be done.

"Are we asking of ourselves the same things that we demand of contractors doing business with us?" the Governor asked.

He said that a recent Civil Service and Civil Rights Commission survey indicates that while some departments have made strong efforts to hire minority group members, many of those positions are at the lower levels.

"We are still hiring more black women in menial jobs and are excluding black men from employment opportunities," he said.

There is still, on the average, a difference of $800 between the average salary levels of whites and blacks in the classified civil service."

The Governor said that this circumstance is often due to "an unconscious lack of knowledge and concern by our state employees concerned with making hiring decisions."

"For these and many other reasons, I have instructed the Civil Rights and Civil Service Departments to conduct on-site reviews with department directors to assist them in knowing themselves how well their respective units are illustrating the fact that equal employment opportunity does exist. This will mark the beginning of a continual process, at intermittent time periods, based on the degree to which problems are noted and solved."

Airport

adding that he did not think "anyone is going to get pushed around under the proposed representation formula."

Ramsey said he feels that three counties "should look at what we need in the area and forget about the county lines."

The creation of satellite airports in the Tri-County area would also come under the direction of the authority and with the owner's consent, any existing public use airport could come into the authority.

Montgomery, of Eagle, stressed that "satellite airport development is just as important as (Capitol City) Airport" not only to meet needs of the region but to alleviate congestion at the Lansing airport due to future growth of the area.

The authority can't just look at an airport, but must consider the whole system of airports," added Ramsey.

In addition to Montgomery, also representing Clinton County are Maurice Gove, of St. Johns and Roy Andrews, of DeWitt.

Andrews last week indicated interest in the satellite airport idea which he suggested could possibly attract new industries to the area.

In return for Capital City, the state would receive rent-free space in the terminal for aeronautic operations, but would pay for utilities and maintenance. The state would also retain property at the west end of the field, its hangar and other buildings, plus a parcel of land for future expansion.

The airport is the only major air facility still owned by the state.

If local governments are unanimous in backing the authority plan, Sharp said last week, Gov. Milliken has promised he will give the proposal "high priority" early in the next session of regular session of the Legislature.

Invitation extended from Trail Riders

The annual fall ride of the Michigan Trail Riders Association will start Monday morning Oct. 6 at the Elk Hill campsite located nine miles east of Vandorbilt and near the Pigeon River. Monday evening the riders will arrive at the Au Sable Lodge east of Otsego Lake. The four miles west on County Road 612 and two miles south of Fretton. The riders will remain there for the balance of the week, making circle rides on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. This type of ride will appeal to many riders as they will not have to move their rigs after they reach Goose Creek until they are ready to return home. Riders are urged to bring their cameras and colored film. The president of the Michigan Trail Riders Association is Rex Garn of the Rex Ranch near Traverse City, and the secretary is Mrs Sally Wilhelm, R-5; Box 312-A, Traverse City. Anyone in the area wishing to join the MTRA is welcome to attend the ride.

Kelley reviews law on reflectorized plates

By FRANK J. KELLEY
Attorney General

Editor's Note: This is a public service article explaining in general terms a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.

On July 17, 1969, Gov. Milliken signed a bill making Michigan the 35th state to require the use of reflectorized license plates in one form or another. The law became immediately effective and will apply to all license plates manufactured in 1970 and thereafter.

In 1959, the Legislature passed an act specifying that reflectorized plates would be required but failed to appropriate sufficient funds to pay for their manufacture. Then Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams ruled in 1960 that the Secretary of State was, therefore, not required to furnish such plates.

The 1959 law required that 35 cents be collected annually for each pair of plates. The 1969 legislation contains no such assessment, and the cost of producing the new plates will be financed from current revenues. The Department of Administration estimates that the additional cost will amount to 28 cents per pair for annual plates and 52 cents per pair for multi-year plates.

ATTY GEN KELLEY

There is another substantial difference from the 1959 situation—the 1969 act contained numerous detailed specifications regarding reflectorization. By contrast, the 1959 law leaves the duty of preparing specifications to the Department of Administration in consultation with three other departments, thus allowing for greater flexibility and facilitating adjustment of the specifications after the plates have been in use.

These state departments will determine whether the entire plate, or only the figures or background, will be reflectorized, and whether there must be reflectorization when the plates are viewed or struck by light from an angle, or when the plates are wet.

Competition in the materials field has improved to the extent that now several companies are capable of meeting the most exacting specifications.

Reflectorized license plates can be a significant safety factor. A representative of a manufacturer of reflectorization materials has stated that fully reflectorized plates are visible when lighted by a headlamp on high beams from 2,000 feet, or nearly one-half mile, and from 1,000 feet on low beams.

Laboratory tests tend to corroborate this finding. A study in North Carolina found that in the first year after reflectorized plates were required, nighttime rear end accidents decreased 13 per cent. Similar results were obtained from studies in Maine, Minnesota and Iowa.

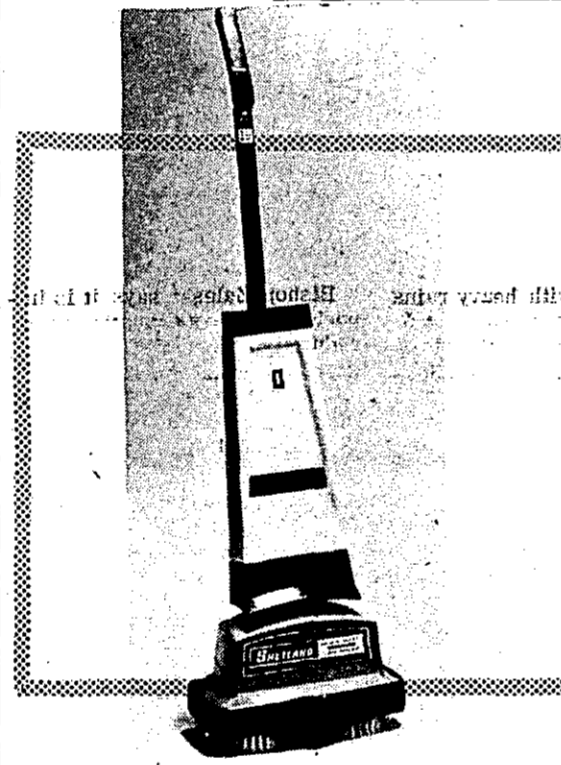

Reflectorized plates will be an effective aid to law enforcement. Fully reflectorized plates can be read from three to five times the distance from which ordinary plates can be read.

Michigan still has the option of using multi-year plates with stickers or tabs for intermediate years. Any such sticker or tab must be reflectorized in the same manner as the plates.

State Police arrest 30,349 motorists

Michigan State Police officers made 30,349 arrests in July, 27,824 for traffic offenses and 2,525 on criminal complaints, according to the department's monthly activity report.

In addition, 1,108 juvenile traffic offenders were arrested while other apprehensions included one wayward and 762 delinquent minors.

Troopers assisted 7,561 motorists, investigated 9,656 cars, issued 39,065 oral warnings to drivers, and made 15,657 property and 2,163 liquor inspections.

Department vehicles traveled 2,110,089 miles, of which 1,159,986 were on traffic patrol and 950,083 for investigating criminal and other complaints.

Breath tests in accordance with the implied consent law were given to 1,365 drivers in July by local, county and State law enforcement officers. Results showed 1,122 to be under the influence of intoxicants, another 182 received driving impairment ratings, while 61 had readings of less than .10 per cent. Another 356 drivers refused to take the test.

The identification section received 19,855 sets of fingerprints, of which 11,965 were criminal and 7,870 noncriminal. Five wanted persons were identified.

Of 1,880 applicants for permits to carry concealed weapons, 102 were identified with criminal records through their fingerprints.

The East Lansing crime laboratory conducted 1,805 examinations, including 1,215 on documents, 206 on firearms, 172 botanical, 111 microscopic and 102 miscellaneous. Laboratory assistance numbered 98 for the State Police, 91 for local police, 36 for sheriffs and 10 for other agencies.

Horse Club has activities

Members of the Double M Horse Club and their guests spent the past weekend on an outing at the Eureka Hunting Club, situated between Houghton and Higgins Lakes. In addition to two trail rides each day, they went swimming at Houghton Lake, played football, and pitched horseshoes. Sunday morning a corporate church service was held with Mr and Mrs Duane Bunce and Mr and Mrs Henry Howard in charge of the services.

Fulton fire pact pending

According to a report received by Maple Rapids village officials last week from Al Brunner, fire chief, negotiations between Fulton Township and the local fire department are still pending. Brunner said a joint meeting between the two groups on Sept. 2 were inconclusive. The Fulton fire contract with Maple Rapids expired July 1. Policy and costs have been the controversial issues at stake, with Fulton objecting to a $300 retainer fee and other items. The Maple Rapids Volunteer Department maintains they are unable to support a class A unit with modern equipment for less money. Residents in the Rainbow Lake area are some of the citizens most affected by fire contract negotiations.

In other action officials, —Tabled four bids on a new police car.

—Discussed the matter of mowing village property by an individual.

school had three accidents since he had been there and two of them had been at the entrance to the school. For the safety of the students, he recommended the board contact Mr. Spicer, village official that the board was in agreement with the project. Cost would be $3 per foot or approximately $1,400 for the curb and gutter. Construction would begin next year.

—A petition from a group of parents requesting bus pick-up of children in the southern part of the village was presented. Smith said there would be no problem here just a matter of coordination.

—Agreed to participate in the Clinton - Shiawassee Intermediate Instruction Materials Center at a cost of 75 cents per pupil.

—Approved certificate of payment to: Superior Electric $3,796.19; Brenner Mechanical Contractor, $16,836.84; Clark Construction Co., $65,127.60; and Architects, $2,299.73 from the building and site fund for 1968. C.A. STONE

Rev. Stone new pastor in St. Johns

Rev. C.A. Stone of Saskatchewan recently accepted a call to pastor the Church of God in St. Johns. Rev. Stone received his Bachelor of Theology degree from Berean Theological Seminary in Southern California, after which he served as Missionary Evangelist in Formosa before accepting a pastoral call to Western Canada in 1963.

Mr. Stone was married in British Columbia Canada in 1964 to a Canadian school teacher. They pastored in the mountainous Kootenay district of British Columbia before their call to the contrasting cold prairie country of Saskatchewan.

The Stones are looking forward to meeting their new parishioners and the residents of St. Johns.

The Church of God is located at 312 N. Whittemore, and Rev. Stone and his wife Bette will reside at 308 N. Whittemore.

Smith Hall rocks to Battle of Bands

By JANE MORRIS
News Staff Writer

Music lovers of all ages packed Smith Hall in St. Johns Saturday night to witness the volatile debut of Purchase Productions with Clinton County's first Battle of the Bands.

"We made out reasonably well" was William Purchase's modest comment. The audience's response was less restrained. "Wow" was the appraisal made by many.

Disc Jockey, Vahan Ryan of WVIC was on hand to MC, with his little greypoodle, KoKo.

Opening the concert was the hard rock sound of A.J.'s Bag, a local group that has been together for five months. They sponsored their own dances throughout the summer at Smith Hall.

Kim Perry, lead-guitarist just turned 14 Saturday.

"I have been playing guitar for a year now, and it's a lot of fun," he said. "We try to stick to music that the kids like, and we have done pretty well."

"I do not expect to win, but it will do a lot for getting our name known," he said.

Second on the roster were the Bent Scepters. Their name was taken from the flip-side of Money, a piece done by the Kingsmen. The members got together, back when they were in ninth grade at DeWitt High School. Says Rick Cole, "It's an interesting hobby."

We started out with one guitar, one amp and one drum. We add to our equipment when we make the money to do it. We have played all over. The biggest crowd we ever had was at Central Michigan University, but our best concerts are played for the Michigan State Fraternity Parties."

Rick Cole plans to become a dentist. The other three in the group have high ambitions too. Roger Karinski and Mike Molitor are majoring in chemistry and Brad Ward is an art major. They are all enrolled in Lansing Community College.

There was a pause in the concert. The Velvet Maroon had light trouble. "Vahan Ryan requested assistance from the audience, and soon, the concert was under way again."

Their sound was smooth. They even played a few slow numbers for the benefit of those who wished to dance cheek to cheek. The group has only been together for three months, and already they have won four battle of the band competitions at Crystal Lake, and were runners up in the quarter finals in the Lansing Battle of the Bands this summer. They have high hopes for the future, including composing original sounds and recording them.

The Peppermint Explosion was a peppermint explosion. Dressed in pink-plaid striped pants and ruffled shirts they captivated the audience with their sounds.

Specializing in the top 40 songs, they came in first at the Lansing Battle of the Bands this summer. With their victory, came a recording contract and a desire to begin writing their own stuff.

When their presentation was finished, the judges retreated to the back room to determine the winner, and Vahan Ryan took the Bent Scepters rated 175 points; cluding jingle bells.

The bands were rated according to their musical ability, presentation, showmanship, appearance, and originality. Judges were Ozzie Mott from WRBJ; Ryan, Al Stump, a friend of William Purchase; Robert Glen, who plays for the William Make Peace Thackery & Co., and Buddy Barnes of St. Johns.

Peppermint Explosion placed first with 244 points. Velvet Maroon was second with 234 points; Bent Scepters rated 175 points; and A.J.'s Bag came in a close fourth with 174 points.

Purchase Productions has just begun. Currently they are running a survey at St. Johns Junior High, and High Schools to determine what group they will sponsor next. On the list are The Frost, Plain Brown Rapper, Ones, and the Woolles.

Gals on the move

In April 1969, about 30 million women 16 years of age and over were in the labor force. This means that nearly two out of every five workers were women. Labor force projections through the 1980's indicate that women and youth will provide the largest source of new entrants into the labor force.

26 men to leave for induction

The following 26 men will leave for induction into the armed forces Thursday, Sept. 18, at 6:30 a.m. They will depart from the community room of the Central National Bank: Larry Joseph Feldpausch, Brian Christopher Zeeb, Kendall Dean Smith, Jerry Lynn Christmas, Gary Lynn Mankin, John Robert Joslyn, James Richard Lannen, John Alan King, David Allen Foster, David Arthur Jones, Blon James McVeigh, Theodore Lee Hawley, Gary Brian Snyder, Alan Glen Trommator, William Frand Houska, Jon Michael Cole, Frank Wesley Christmas, Charles Roy Lannen, Gary Leek Derke, Barry Wayne Laft, Donald Rasmussen, David Edward Alan Remer, Larry Wayne Austin, Warren Charles Baird, Raymond Sidney Kiger, and Bruce Leeroy Smeltzer.

Franchise agreements between Consumers Power Company and Elsie councilmen came under scrutiny at last month's village council meeting when a resident complained about the company placing an anchor, cable, and posts to support a pole in front of his property.

Councilmen received a report from Patrick Foran, trustee, in which he said the franchise was dated in 1953 and continues for 30 years. The agreement gave Consumers the privilege of locating equipment on village right-of-way property.

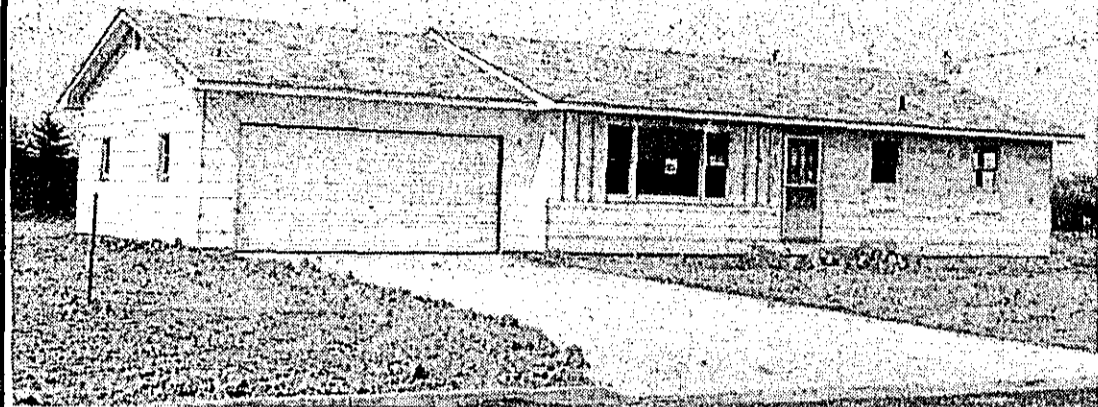

The resident had claimed the pole was unsightly and would impede the entrance to the lot if he wanted to construct a home on the property. When the resident questioned the rights of the company at last month's meeting officials decided to check the franchise agreement.

Foran also said that Consumers had agreed to move the installation to another location on the property where it wouldn't block future access to the property. A large number of trees growing on the new location will help conceal the installation. The property owner agreed with the new plans.

In other action the council, —Discussed making a picnic area on the north side of the ball diamonds in the village park. Some trees would have to be removed before the project could get underway and picnic and playground equipment could be installed. Councilmen are expected to take action after they obtain a report on the tree removal.

—Considered the placement of a "yield" sign on a road built through the park leading to the Mico Industries Plant.

By MRS. NEVA KEYS, Correspondent

Miss Nancy Cross, whose marriage to Barry Mead of Ovid will be an event on Oct. 4, has been honored at a series of four bridal showers held during the past two weeks. Mr and Mrs Albert Latz opened their home for the first miscellaneous shower for 30 school friends and others given by Beverly Mead, Becky Latz, Carolyn Lindauer, Debbie Davis and Mrs Rosemary Moore.

Games were played which featured bridal gowns fashioned from newspapers. The minigown modeled by Karla Mead was chosen by the bride as the most unique.

The game prizes were presented to the bride-elect except the door prize which was drawn by Sonja Van Hawn. Strawberry dessert, cookies and punch were served. Carolyn Lindauer and Fran Fowler assisted the bride in opening her gifts.

Louisa Whitehead, aunt of the prospective groom and Marian Ridsdale hosted the second miscellaneous shower at the former's home with 20 relatives as guests.

Bride bingo was played and a contest of drawing a picture of the bride's dress and tearing the bridal gown from newspapers.

The door prize was won by the groom's mother, Mrs Brenda Mead. Refreshments of cheese cake, punch, nuts, mints and coffee were served.

Miss Cross was presented a guest book by the hostesses,

Mrs Whitehead and Mrs Ridsdale, to be used at her showers to register guests and gifts. It was covered in pink, the bride's chosen color for her wedding.

The third shower was held at the home of the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs William Cross with her aunts, Mrs William Cross of Corunna and Mrs Gerald Cross of Ypsilanti as hostesses. There were 20 relatives present.

Several games were played featuring bride bingo. The door prize was won by Marla Jones. A special guest was Mrs Wheatley, great grandmother of the bride.

A cake decorated in the bride's colors of hot pink and romance blue, was served with ice cream and punch. Carolyn Lindauer and Beverly Mead assisted in opening the gifts. Terri and Jodi Jones and Jo Ellen Cross also assisted in the opening of gifts.

A pantry shower was held last week in the home of Mrs Dorothy Yerrick with Mrs Betty Everts assisting.

Bride bingo followed by bingo was enjoyed by all. The guests drew honeymoon slips for the door prize, which was won by Beverly Mead, sister of the groom, who announced that the wedding couple would be going to the "Boon Docks" on their honeymoon.

The bride was assisted by Carolyn Lindauer, Becky Latz and Dawn Unbehaun in opening coffee were served the 30

Edna Flegler makes life a little smoother

By JANE MORRIS
News Staff Writer

"It is most important that the secretary be a good listener, especially when someone calls up with a complaint," says Mrs. Edna Flegler. "If I am a good listener, business goes smoother when the caller reaches the party he wants to talk to."

Mrs. Flegler is a secretary in the St. Johns High School principal's office. She has served four principals.

For 22 years she has answered the phone, taken care of the files, knows where to send the Coke man, and seems to remember everyone's name, with the greatest of ease.

When asked about her accomplishments, she simply shrugs her shoulders.

Mrs. Flegler thinks students have changed. "Kids sure are different today, not worse, or better, but they can get away with more now; I suppose it's just a sign of the changing times," she says.

Mrs. Flegler recently attended a clinic held at Ferris State College which centered on problems most frequently encountered by the educational secretary.

"Communication is the chief stumbling block," she says. The secretary stands between parent and teacher, between the administration and the gripes.

"The clinic suggested a few ways that I could make things run smoother, like being a good listener."

Forecast for the educational secretary is greater specialization and more computerization. Contemplating a time of computerized records, Mrs. Flegler says. "I am not sold on this new fangled automation. The people that have used it report that mistakes are hard to find and correct."

During the interview Mrs. Flegler had to excuse herself several times to grab the phone, or answer questions.

"This is a new school, and we haven't gotten settled yet. Supplies are misplaced and we have a lot of new buttons that we haven't figured out yet," she explained.

The phone rang. It was a call for a teacher in a far off corner of the building. Mrs. Flegler buzzed him through the intercom. A minute lapsed, then her voice could be heard throughout the building. "May I help you? . . . May I help you . . . May I help you . . ." Running down the hall came the teacher.

"There ought to be a button to push to let you know that I'm on my way," he panted.

When he picked up the phone, there was a busy beep coming over the phone.

Somewhere in the building, a switchboard operator was confused about which button to push, too.

Edna Flegler: 22 years as a good listener.

City Brevities

Mrs. Goldie Brooks and her daughter Marlyse have just returned from a weekend visit to the Interlochen Music Camp. Board meetings were held and musical entertainment was provided throughout the three day visit. Sunday evening they heard the winning students perform. Rhonda Woodbury received the musical scholarship from St. Johns. The annual event is sponsored by the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs.

Rev. George Somers will be the guest speaker during the morning worship services at Lowe Church, Sunday, Sept. 21. A former pastor of the parish, Rev. Somers is now back in Michigan after serving five years as a missionary in India. Church services are at 10:30 a.m. and all members of the community operative dinner will follow the service at 12:30.

Miss Dale Lee Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale C. Ruth of Airport Road, Lansing has returned to Central Michigan University. During the summer she attended the Higgins Conservatory of Music. Miss Ruth is on the Dean's list at college and is a member of the Beta Beta Beta Biology Honorary Fraternity.

The St. Johns Tops Club reports Esther Dorman was queen for the past three weeks. She will be representing the club at area recognition day at Mt.

Pleasant in October, Sept. 18. The club will hold a picnic at the City Park.

Under safety rules issued by the Secretary of Labor, employers having Federal supply contracts of $10,000 or more must protect workers from noise levels in excess of 90 decibels. This is the first Federal occupational noise exposure standard.

Friends of library meet Thursday

Friends of Bement Public Library will hold their annual meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Municipal Building in St. Johns.

Highlight of the evening's program will be a panel discussion on the "Future of the Public Library." Participating will be Miss Elizabeth Lindsey, from the consultant staff of the State Library of Michigan; Mrs. Hugh Bannings, secretary of the Board of Bement Public Library; Mr. William S. Ballenger, State Representative from the 87th District of Michigan and Mr. Marvin Mounce, Director of the Central Michigan Library System and the Ingham County Library in Mason. Mrs. Manning Bross, local librarian, will moderate the panel.

Three new members will be elected to the Board of the Friends organization, and refreshments will be served by a committee headed by Mrs. Brandon White and Mrs. Gordon Iacovoni. Mrs. Franklin W. Smitu, president of the Friends of the Library, will call on Mrs. Fraser MacKinnon, newly elected chairman of the Board of Bement Public Library, to bring greetings.

Mrs. Smith urges all members to be present, and cordially invites prospective members to attend. She also suggests that members come prepared to pay their dues for the ensuing year. Dues to the Friends group are $1 per family for the year.

The Friends of the Library are organized locally to further public interest in Bement Public Library and its activities. For the past two years, the Friends have sponsored the sale of used books during Sidewalk Days in St. Johns, and have given volunteer service with the Library's book cart to the patients of Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Cycle drivers licensed under new state law

Implementation of a law requiring special licensing of motorcycle drivers will go a long way toward increased traffic safety in Michigan.

"This new act," says Secretary of State James M. Hare, "not only will require motorcyclists to demonstrate their ability to handle such machines through a special examination, it will prohibit motorcycle dealers from renting or lending these vehicles to persons who are unqualified to operate them."

"My only regret is that the new law does not become effective until June 1, 1970. An earlier effective date would have been preferable because of the steady increase in the number of motorcycles being used in Michigan."

More than 125,000 cycles were registered in fiscal 1969.

The Michigan Department of State, which issues all motor vehicle operator licenses, is already preparing for the new law's provisions, Hare said. Department officials have begun work on a special examination for motorcycle drivers and on a method of providing for the endorsement on a regular automobile driver's license.

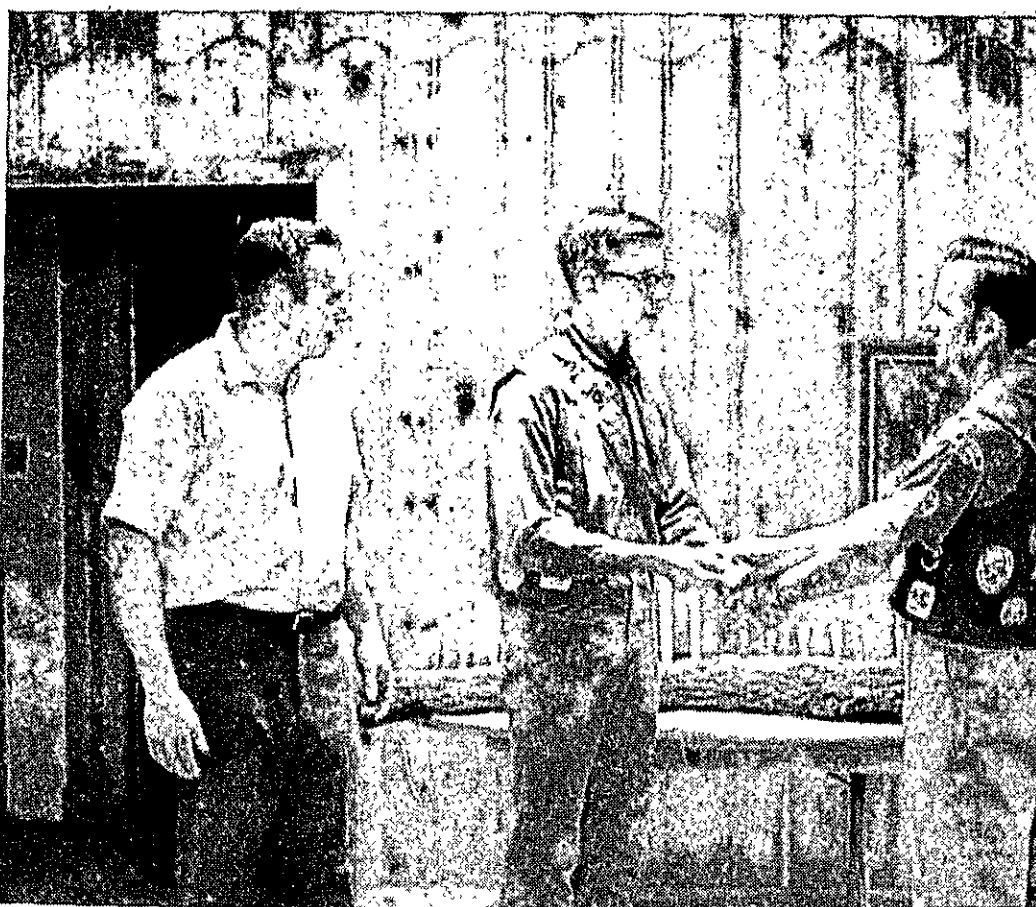

Under existing law, any holder of a valid automobile driver's license could operate a motorcycle, regardless of experience and ability.

"This situation has created a needless safety hazard," Hare said. "Any qualified automobile driver could buy and operate a motorcycle. Further, he could—if a motorcycle dealer was willing—rent or borrow a machine and take it out into traffic, possibly for the first time he had ever been on such a vehicle."

"The new law will place responsibility upon the dealer to determine whether or not a person holds the special motorcycle endorsement on his automobile driver's license. It also prohibits the individual owner or renter of a motorcycle from letting an unqualified person operate the machine."

Hare also praised the recent enactment of another law restoring the requirement that all motorcycle drivers and passengers wear safety helmets. This law becomes effective Sept. 1.

An earlier helmet law was overturned by the courts with a resulting increase in motorcycle accident deaths during the following year.

LIFE AWARD PRESENTED TO MARK DEBOER

Dahl DeBoer looks on as his son, Mark, is presented with the "Life" Award in Scouting. The award is being presented by Gerald Atkinson, Scoutmaster of Troop 81. This was the first time in 12 years the award has been achieved in his troop. Mark earned a total of ten badges. The candle light service was held in the Congregational Church Undercroft Aug. 27.

Social security for young, too

Half a million 18 to 22 year old students are learning that you don't have to be 65 before you can count on social security. In the upcoming school year, benefits to these young people will amount to more than the scholarships at all colleges and universities.

Mr. Roger W. Seamon, Lansing district manager for social security benefits with youngsters nearing age 18 should be mindful that monthly cash benefits for young adults may now continue until they reach age 22.

These payments can also continue during school vacation months if the student plans to return to full-time school attendance. These additional payments must be claimed because the Social Security Administration is not otherwise aware of student eligibility.

Previously, a child's benefits normally stopped when he reached age 16. This recent change in the Law provides the financial help necessary to further the education of many who might otherwise not have the opportunity.

The Lansing office staff needs certain information to determine if a student is eligible for continued benefits. The interviewer must know the name of the school attended, the student I.D. number if any, the number of credit hours being carried at a college, junior college or a university, or the number of hours a student may devote each week, if attending a vocational or high school.

To get the answer to questions you may have about student benefits (or any other), write, call, or come in to the social security office—or meet with the representative.

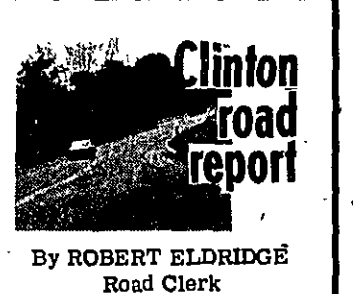

The Lansing office is located at Room 201 of the Federal Building, 216 Townsend Street. Hours are Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. until 4:45 p.m. and Monday evenings until 8:00 p.m. The telephone number is 372-1910.

At the last regular meeting of the County Road Commission, a letter from the Victor Township Board was read concerning the Hollister Road Bridge which was accidentally collapsed by an auto sometime ago. The letter stated that the Board has decided this Bridge shall be replaced with a concrete structure estimated to cost $53,000.00 and asked the commission to proceed with having plans drawn and construction begun as soon as is practicable. This will be done at once, of course, but it is not likely that any building of the bridge will start before good weather sets in next spring and completion is at least ten months away.

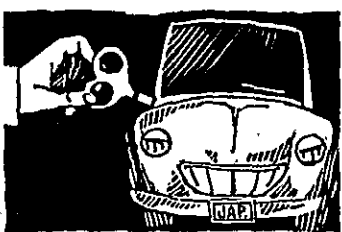

We have had many inquiries about this bridge as have also the township officials. Its loss makes for considerable inconvenience and much extra driving for residents of the area. This bridge is located on a local road and by law, the commission cannot pay over half the cost of such a structure, the balance must come from the township, although grants from the county, state or federal government could be used if available. The loss of such a bridge places a heavy burden on the finances of both the townships and of the road commission. There are many bridges carrying local roads over streams in the county and their eventual replacement presents a major problem in the future. The County Board of Supervisors has for some years now given the commission a substantial annual grant to assist in the replacement of bridges on primary roads. But the local road bridges are still an unsolved problem for the most part. The Hollister Road Bridge will cost in excess of $50,000 to replace, there are bridges in the county on local roads that could cost as much as a quarter of a million to put back. The problem does not face Clinton County alone, it is state and nationwide. Macomb County's bridge replacement dilemma was the subject of an article in a nationally circulated trade magazine this past year and most any well populated county could have been substituted and the article would have read the same. Funds for the replacement of these bridges will of necessity have to come from sources other than the townships and the road commissions for their budgets just cannot be stretched to cope with a problem of this magnitude. It happened in Macomb County and it could happen here that the loss of a bridge meant the loss of the road unless an adequate plan for the financing of these bridges can be evolved.

MRS GLENN SMITH

St. Therese Church scene for Smith-Pohl vows

White gladiolus with yellow and apricot mums were placed on the altar of St. Therese Catholic Church in Lansing for the wedding mass uniting Miss Marie Anna Pohl and Glenn Joseph Smith. The ceremony Saturday was performed at 10 a.m. by Rev. Joseph Droste.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Pohl of 5605 Cutler Road, DeWitt, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Smith of Pine Street in Westphalia.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and Mrs. Ludd, soloist, was accompanied by Mrs. Hill as she sang "Our Father, Lord I Am Not Worthy," and "Ave Maria."

The bride selected an A-line gown of organza with alternated rows of tufted and flowered lace, designed with a square neckline and bell sleeves. Her train flowed from a large bow, and her floor length veil of illusion was attached to a lace petal cap. She carried a bouquet of white gladiolus and yellow roses with ivy, surrounding her First Communion Prayer Book.

Mrs. John Schneider served as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. James Schill, Miss Sharon Smith, and Miss Rose Ann Pohl. Miss Amy Jo Smith was flower girl. All were identically dressed in apricot linen gowns with white lace tops. Their headpieces were floor length with apricot veils attached to rose shaped headpieces with dangling flowers. They each carried arm bouquets of yellow gladiolus and apricot roses with large green ribbons.

Mrs. Pohl wore a mint green dress with tan accessories and Mrs. Smith selected an avocado green dress with green and white accessories. They wore corsages of white and apricot roses.

David Irzer served as best man and groomsmen were Leo Pohl, Kenneth Millee, and Michael Trierweller. Daniel Hanes, of Westphalia served as ringbearer.

A wedding breakfast was served in St. Mary's Parish Hall in Westphalia after the ceremony and a dinner and reception for 650 guests was held at 5 p.m. Those assisting included Karen Irzer, Laura Davern, Shirley Barker, Nancy Thelen, Eva Schafer, Eyle Thelen and Marie Smit.

Special guests were Mrs. Ida Koenigsnecht and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hanes grandparents of the bride and groom.

After a honeymoon to Cape Cod and the New England states the couple will reside in Westphalia.

The bride is a graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School with the class of 1966 and the groom graduated from Pewamo-Westphalia High School the same year.

While travelling she was accompanied by Mary Dunham of Orlando, Fla. Miss Jolls is presently enrolled as a senior at Wayne State University where she is an art major.

Cape Cod trip follows wedding

White gladiolus and lavender chrysanthemums framed the altar of the First Baptist Church when Miss Kathleen Ann Schultz and Max Robert Tait repeated their wedding vows, Aug. 16. Officiating at the service was Rev. Joseph DiTiberio.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Schultz of R-1 St. Johns. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joy Tait of Maple Rapids.

The bride wore a gown of silk organza over taffeta. Soft pink ribbon outlined the empire waist, wide cuffs and stand-up collar. Securing her shoulder-length veil of illusion were daisies and seed pearls. The bride carried a cascade of Stephanotis, lilies and pink roses.

Maid of honor, Linda Horton, wore a lavender voile gown over a lavender undergown. It had a fitted empire bodice and A-line skirt with short puff sleeves. She carried a bouquet of deep lavender asters.

Bridesmaids, Janet Harvey, Mrs. Thomas Baxter and Mrs. Donald Hiemstra wore gowns fashioned like the Maid of Honor's with undergowns of white. They carried bouquets of deep lavender asters.

Flower girl, Lori Buehler wore a pastel pink gown and carried a basket of pink chrysanthemums.

Attending the groom were Kirk Brock as best man, and Maurice Tait, Keith Tait and Alden Helman, as groomsmen. Ushers included Danny Schultz and groomsmen, Maurice Tait, Keith Tait and Alden Helman.

Gary MacKersie, cousin of the bride was vocalist.

The mother of the bride chose a pink silk, sleeveless dress with beaded collar and matching coat. She was presented with a corsage of pink and white chrysanthemums. The mother of the groom selected a three piece aqua suit, and wore a corsage of yellow roses and white chrysanthemums.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tait received their wedding guests at a reception held at the YWCA, before leaving on their wedding trip to Cape Cod.

The bridegroom is presently serving in the United States Army, stationed in Fort Knox. The bride attends Central Michigan University.

Chapter 88 of the Blue Star Mothers will hold their regular meeting at the Congregational Church on Sept. 23 at 7:30 p.m. All members are asked to have their donations in by Oct. 1, for the "each boy shall have a Christmas tree in Vietnam" project.

Anyone wishing to attend the state meeting must make reservations with Mrs. Fruchtl as soon as possible. Various workshops with other Cancer Crusade workers throughout the state are also being planned. The meetings will provide workers with an exchange of ideas and an opportunity to become better acquainted with other groups.

Let's take dry cleaning!

by Dana Antes

Autumn, like every season, signals a change in fashions. Now that the leaves are turning and there's a hint of frost in the air, much wardrobe attention warmly turns to thoughts of sweaters... so much in fashion now for the young—and the young in heart.

Most sweater collections this year will contain one or more woven of the following: orlon, nylon, wool, wool-and-fur blends, mohair, and cherished cashmere. Each of these takes special cleaning and blocking methods. The yarn fibers of every sweater must be tested to determine the proper solvents that will give deep down cleaning, protect the delicate fibers, brighten colors and prevent pulling.

When the sweater is thoroughly clean, great pains must be taken to "block" it to exact measurements to insure its original effortless fit... and give you that meticulously groomed casual air. Clean sweaters look better... wear longer!

Service! Reliability! Value! These are the cornerstones of our business. You can bring us your most treasured cashmere sweaters, your finest garments, all your cleaning with the comfortable assurance that they are in reliable hands.

Jolly-Cartwright vows exchanged

Charlotte Mae Cartwright was given in marriage to John Anthony Jolly by her father in a double ring ceremony at St. Joseph's Catholic Church Aug. 9. The Rev. Haas officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cartwright of 1701 E. Townsend Rd., St. Johns.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Jolly of 109 E. Steel, St. Johns.

The bride wore a traditional floor-length gown with a fitted bodice and a full hooped skirt. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums with a white orchid in the center. Completing her costume was a shoulder-length veil.

Attending the bride were Patricia Geller, Betty Jolly, Ellen Jolly, Karen Cartwright, and Wanda Hill. The flower girl was Lisa Polling.

They were dressed in empire-line gowns of blue, yellow, and pink. The flower girl carried a basket of white baby chrysanthemums.

The mother of the bride chose a pink dress and carried white accessories. The mother of the groom selected an apricot dress and carried matching accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Molzarski, grandparents of the bride, and Mrs. Anthony Stambersky, grandmother of the groom.

A reception was held at 6:30 in the American Legion Hall at Elsie. Helping with the reception were Mrs. George Buckland, who served the wedding cake, Mrs. Richard Rozelle, Mrs. John Rozelle, and Mrs. Arnie Schiever.

The new Mr. and Mrs. John Jolly went to Harrison, and when they return, they will live at 202 S. Lansing Street.

The bride attended Rodney B. Wilson High School, and the groom is a 1969 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School.

The Ashley Lions Club will hold their chicken barbecue Sunday, Sept. 21, at the Ashley Community School. They will serve the dinner from noon until 3 p.m.

The Normanna Lutheran Church at Dunn Center, N. D., was the setting for the wedding service uniting Maureen Gay Knudsvig and Eric Thomas Van Camp, on Aug. 9. Pastor Donald Burton performed the double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. before an altar decorated with red, yellow and white pom poms and carnations.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Norman Knudsvig of Dunn Center, N. D., and the groom is the son of Mr and Mrs Earl Van Camp of 1148 Cree Drive, Colorado Springs, Colo. Miss Marilyn Guenther served as organist and accompanied Paul Sticka who sang the "Lord's Prayer" and "Song of Ruth."

Given in marriage by her parents the bride chose a gown fashioned by herself. It featured an empire waist, short sleeves and round neckline accented with

Tags important for kids' clothes

You are buying those "back-to-school" outfits now for "first-time" kindergartners to "almost-the-end" high school seniors. Maybe you are even helping the college-bound members of your family add to their important wardrobes. No matter what the garment is, nor for whom it is intended, hang tags and labels are extremely important.

Caring for fabrics is a little like caring for the family. Each individual has his own likes and dislikes, his own color preferences and even his particular skill in being able to give care to his own clothing. While family members can be trained to a degree, fabrics do best when humored. So the first thing to consider in buying clothes of any kind is the type of care it will require.

Careful planning of family wardrobes can simplify laundry problems. If you make it a point to buy easy-to-care-for garments with simple washing instructions, less sorting and checking for special handling will be necessary. Take time to read tags and labels when buying and then refer to them for care. Make your job as "wardrobe mistress" as easy and simple as possible.

Hang tags and labels are your best source of information for such care. How you keep such tags and labels is up to you. A card file, envelopes, or small ordinary boxes work equally well. Jotting the date and place purchased along with a brief garment description on each tag quickly identifies the garment. The file card, envelope or box can be identified for family members.

LOSE 10 LBS. IN 10 DAYS ON NEW GRAPEFRUIT DIET

This is the revolutionary new grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Literally thousands upon thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants, and offices throughout the U.S. and Canada. Word of its success has spread like wildfire, because this is the one diet that really seems to work for most overweight people. A well known Toronto columnist recently praised it to the skies. He reported looking 20 pounds quickly and easily, once after he despaired of ever getting down to his wartime weight of 145 pounds. All this without cutting out the occasional beer. If it is followed exactly, the average overweight person should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. There will be no weight loss the first four days. But you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter you will lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you set down to your proper weight. Best of all, there should be no hunger pangs. Now revised and enlarged, this new diet lets you stuff yourself with foods that were formerly "forbidden." Such as big steaks trimmed with fat, fried chicken, rich gravies, mayonnaise, lobster swimming in butter, bacon, fats, sausages and scrambled eggs. You can eat until you are full, until you cannot possibly eat any more. And still you should lose 10 pounds in the first 10 days, plus 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter until your weight is down to normal. The secret behind this new "quick weight loss" is not generally known. Fat, it has been theorized, does not form fat. Perhaps fat floats fat. And the grapefruit juice in this new diet might act as a catalyst for the fat to start the fat burning process. You stuff yourself on the permitted food list in the diet plan, and still lose weight. No dieting, no exercise. When the fat and bloat are gone you will cease to lose weight and your weight will remain controlled. A copy of this new and startlingly successful diet plan can be obtained by sending $2.00 to:

GULF CO., P.O. Box 514, Lincoln, Nebraska 68501

Unconditional money back guarantee. If after trying the diet plan you have not lost 7 pounds in the first 7 days, and another 4 pounds in the next 7 days, and 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter, simply return the diet plan and your $2.00 will be refunded promptly and without argument.

Tear out this message as a reminder. Decide now to regain the trim attractive figure of your youth, while still enjoying hearty breakfasts, lunches and dinners. Order now before others snap up the limited supply.

Smorgasbord
planned at Shepardsville

There will be a public smorgasbord supper at the Shepardsville United Methodist Church on Sept. 25. Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m. and there will be a handicraft booth and bake sale. The youth will have some candy to sell, and the Men's Club will have a garden booth.

Contributions will be accepted for any of these booths. The proceeds from the project will go towards retiring the Building Fund.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

There will be a service of Baptism on Sunday, Sept. 28. If you wish to have your baby baptized then, please contact either Clare Alderman or Rev. Karl Ziegler.

The Church School is in need of a teacher for the junior class. These children are in the 4th, 5th and 6th grades in school.

The Men's Club will meet on Monday evening, Sept. 15, for their first meeting of the year. They will have a potluck supper and discuss plans for the new year.

The Council of Ministries met on Sept. 8 at the church. Several recommendations were made as to the future needs of the church. These will be called to the attention of the administrative board and further action will be taken at that time.

Dale Squiers and Reinhardt Billing attended the Men's retreat at Lake Louis over the

AMX for 1970 Has Power Blister Hood

American Motors' sporty two-place AMX for 1970 is slightly longer than its 1969 counterpart and features increased power and performance. A 360 cubic inch four-barrel V-8, rated at 290 horsepower, and four-on-the-floor transmission are standard. For 1970, the AMX has a longer hood with a new stamped-in power blister. With a new optional performance package, the dual power blister openings become part of a new functional ram-air induction system. The longer hood and a slight reduction in height, achieved through new 78-Aspect Ratio fiberglass belted tires, give the AMX a lower silhouette.

weekend of Sept. 6. Mrs. Karl Smith and Mrs. John Spencer attended the WSCS Workshop on Sept. 9 at the Price Church. There were about 60 ladies present at the meeting. Several offices of the Central District were also in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Baker and family of Rogers City spent the weekend of Sept. 6 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baker. On Sunday they all attended the Ballinger reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baker attended the funeral of Mrs. Stuart Baker on Sept. 5 at Troy.

Mr. and Mrs. John Spencer were hosts at a family picnic at Friendship Park on Sept. 7. Those present were Mr. and Mrs.

Guy Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barker and children and Mrs. Hilma Stelljes, all of Lansing, Mrs. Faye Perkins and Rev. Eugene Spencer of Williamston, Mr. Leo Spencer and Mrs. Francis Flynn of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. John Craig of East Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Don Craig and daughters, of Middlebury, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hegwood and children of Inkster and Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Green and son of Ovid.

Morningstar Chapter No. 279 of Ovid met in regular session on Tuesday evening Sept. 9, with Worthy Matron, Elizabeth Gilbert Presiding in the East.

Beside the routine business, correspondence was read from the worthy grand matron and the worthy grand secretary. There were two announcements: the next regular meeting will be on Tuesday, Oct. 7, due to Grand Chapter. This is the annual meeting and election of officers; the past matrons and patrons will have a meeting and potluck supper on Sept. 30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Teall on North Ovid Road.

Term deceives

An "aging floorman" is not necessarily who or what the term may suggest at first glance. The Labor Department's Dictionary of Occupational Titles defines him as the fellow who controls continuous-process equipment to age alkali cellulose for use in cellophane manufacture.

ST. JOHNS CITY POLICE REPORT

Sept. 2: Clark Curtis, 68, of 232 First Street, Elsie, pulled onto US-27 at the intersection of Townsend Road, and collided with a car driven by Hugh E. Banninga, 35, of 406 E. Walker Street which was travelling south on US-27. No injuries were reported and no tickets issued.

Sept. 3: Gary M. French, 18, of N-US-27, St. Johns, collided with a car driven by Susan Dianne, 18, of 809 E. Baldwin Street. The Dianne car was backing away from the curb and was struck in the rear by the French car which was going south on Linden Street. No tickets were issued. French received visible injuries and Susan Dianne complained of pains.

Sept. 3: Connie Kline, of 13191 Watson Road, Bath, stated that she made a right turn from N. Clinton Ave., on to Railroad Street and Susan Ann Shaw, 17, of R-3, DeWitt Road, St. Johns, backed in to her car. Susan Shaw stated she did not see the Kline car. Susan Shaw was ticketed for improper starting from a parked position. There were no injuries reported in the accident.

Sept. 4: Thomas Hundley, 16 months and Amy Hundley 4 1/2 were involved in an accident while Mrs Hundley was on the porch talking. Her son pulled the shifting levers out of the "park" position and the car rolled down the hill striking a telephone pole at the intersection of Walker and Ottawa Streets. No tickets were issued. Thomas was reported uninjured while e Amy suffered visible bruises.

COMPLAINTS

Aug. 30: A picture window was broken at the home of Douglas Japina, at 404 E. Park Street. The incident occurred at approximately 11:30 p.m.

Aug. 31: Sometime after midnight the 30th of August the following items were stolen from the premises at 719 Garfield: six sheets, two pillow cases, and a lounge chair.

Sept. 2: Ron Huard of Clinton County News reported that sometime during the Labor Day weekend a newsstand was stolen from in front of Walker's Cafe, and the newsstand at Krogers was forced open. Huard stated a reward would be offered by the Clinton County News to anyone offering information leading to an arrest.

Detroit skyline is backdrop for Chevrolet's Newest Caprice Coupe

Chevrolet's top-of-the-line, the Caprice Coupe for 1970, is dressed up with a new front styling of grille, hood and fenders. Recessed vertical taillights and color-accented wheel covers are only two of the many refinements found in the Caprice this year. The new Chevrolet line of passenger cars will be in the dealers' showrooms on September 18.

In a report last week regarding an accident involving autos driven by Roland Merignac and Robert Blake, it was erroneously stated the Merignac was ticketed for improper backing. No summonses were issued by St. Johns police as a result of the incident. The County News regrets the error.

Pewamo

By Mrs Irene Fox

Mrs Bud Fandel, Mrs Wayne Pline, Mrs Pauline Williams, and Mrs Marion Pline spent Thursday with Mr and Mrs Robert Spitzley.

Sept. 11 Mrs Dora Smith celebrated her 87th birthday. She had several visitors and received many gifts and cards wishing her well.

The Blue Star Mother's meeting will take place at the Pewamo Elementary school at 8 p.m. Sept. 24. Mrs Katherine Geller will be hostess and Mrs Regina Kramer and Mrs Veronica Cotter will be co-hostesses.

Mr and Mrs Harold Schmeller of Portland were Sunday guests of Mr and Mrs Joseph Heckman and family.

Mr and Mrs Richard O'Neil are the new owners of the Klosser Bakery at Ionia. The many friends of Mr and Mrs O'Neil wish them success in their new business.

Mrs Clara Caston was hostess to her pedro club at her home Tuesday afternoon.

Richard C. Williams son of Mr and Mrs Roman Williams of Pewamo is home from Fort Eustis Va., for a two week's furlough. Richard will be stationed at Ft. Eustis for the next year and a half. His wife Bertha Williams will accompany him and they will live at the base.

Andrew Walaskay of Grand Rapids was a recent visitor of Pvt. Williams and Frank and Arnold Hattis.

Mrs Bertha Martin accompanied Mr and Mrs Tony Halfman and Mr and Mrs Albert Witgen of Westphalia to spend Sunday afternoon with Mr and Mrs Harry Thelen.

Louis Spitzley of R-1 Pewamo was discharged from Ionia County Memorial Hospital on Sept. 10.

Mrs Bertha Doane is slowly improving at her home.

Mr and Mrs Walter Schneider of Lansing were visitors of Mrs Irene Fox Sept. 14.

Mrs Bertha Martin spent Wednesday afternoon with Mr and Mrs Herman Simon of Fowler.

Mrs Ethel Wood of Lansing was a visitor of Mrs Myrtle Wood of Pewamo.

Recent guests of Mrs Oliva Fox at Ionia were Mr and Mrs Walter Schneider of Lansing, Mr and Mrs Clyde Silvernall and Mrs Josephine Hibrandt. They were dinner and afternoon guests.

Mrs Marcella Larson was discharged from Ionia County Memorial Hospital following a stay for back injuries.

Mr and Mrs Bill Fedewa and infant son Michael of Utica were Sunday afternoon visitors of Mrs Anna Cook. Michael is Mrs Cook's great grandchild. Mrs Fedewa is the former Agnes Smith.

Mrs Ethel Gee spent Sept. 14 with Mr and Mrs Mark Wieber and family.

Recent visitors of their parents Mr and Mrs Myron Schafer were their daughter and husband Mr and Mrs Matt Spitzley and family of Lansing.

★ CARDS OF THANKS

On Sept. 1, we suffered the loss of our son and brother, Donald Joe. Words cannot express our deepest appreciation for the innumerable acts of kindness which were showered on us by our wonderful neighbors, relatives and friends. We extend our sincere thanks to them, to Monsignor Bolger, Rev Fr Albert Smith, Aloysius Miller, Julian Fuizer, of DeWitt Retreat House, Dr Graham, Mrs Ernest Schafer and the choir members, Sisters of Holy Trinity School, Sisters of St. Joseph, and to all who in any way contributed their help, food and expressions of sympathy in masses, prayers, cards, letters and flowers. We wish to thank all those who shared our anguish during the long wait for the ambulance on the night of the accident, and Randy and Colleen Schafer, and Mr and Mrs Albert Smith and Karen for the help at the hospital later. We express special thanks to the Pewamo - Westphalia High School; the Teacher's Club, the Junior Student Council, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes, and the Junior and Senior Varsity and coaches for the many beautiful bouquets of flowers. - Walt and Bernita Fedewa and sons, John and Gerard. 20-1p

We wish to express our sincere thanks to everyone who aided us during the recent loss of our beloved husband and father. We wish to thank Frs. Schmidt and Miller, Dr Jordan, Osgoods, George Chapel, K of C relatives, friends and neighbors. Your kindness will always be remembered. -The family of Roman Weber. 20-1p

We wish to thank the ladies of the Pilgrim United Methodist Church and all friends who furnished food and helped serve the meal after the funeral of our loved one. We also wish to thank the Rev Eugene Friesen and the Osgood Funeral Home for their kind services. The many kind expressions of sympathy will never be forgotten. -The family of Kenneth C. Hammond. 20-1p

We wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation for the many acts of kindness shown during our recent bereavement. A special thanks to the entire staff of Rivard's Nursing Home, Clinton Memorial Hospital and Osgood's Funeral Home, Rev Harold Homer, Dr James Gross and S. R. Russell. -The family of Genevieve VanBrunt. 20-1p

Two winter barley types recommended

Hudson and Harrison are winter barley varieties recommended for southern counties in Michigan where winter survival is not a serious problem, reports George McQueen, Clinton County extension agent.

Michigan State University tests show Harrison gives a 10 per cent higher yield than Hudson, but has an eight per cent lower winter survival rate, says McQueen. Test weight per bushel is the same for both varieties. Both are feed-type barleys and stand fairly well for combining.

Lakeland is a new variety developed by the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station. In tests at East Lansing over the last five years it has yielded 82 bushels an acre, 12 bushels more than Hudson.

This variety has not performed well in the southern tier of counties but has done better than others in the central Michigan area.

Michigan certified seed is available for Harrison and Lakeland barleys. Hudson certified, however, is not available.

Sheffield named by Farm Bureau

Gregory J. Sheffield has been appointed Manager of Marketing Services of Farm Bureau Services, Inc. The appointment was announced by W.N. Guthrie, Services' Executive Vice President. In this position Greg Sheffield has the responsibility for marketing research, public relations, advertising and company communications.

He was formerly Vice President of Sander Allen Advertising, Inc., a Chicago-based advertising agency, and account executive on the Velsicol Chemical Company account.

Prior to this time, he had various advertising and marketing positions with Agric Chemical Company, Geigy Agricultural Chemicals, Allied Chemical Corporation and Union Carbide. A graduate of the University of Florida, Greg Sheffield has a Bachelor's degree and a Master's degree in agriculture.

Building plans are available

Farmers contemplating building a new milk house or combined facilities for farrowing and raising swine may want to look over new Michigan State University designed plans at the Clinton County Extension Office, St. Johns.

F. Earl Haas, the County Extension Director says the new plans for the farm milk house with a toilet and utility room also include plans for a waste disposal system.

Two sets of plans are available for swine producers. One is for a farrowing house with slatted floors designed for a farmer who wants to raise about 1,000 pigs annually.

Plans were designed by Michigan State University agricultural engineers.

Farmers can examine the plans at the county Cooperative Extension Service Office. Then, if they want to use the plans for construction of a facility, they may order them at a cost of $1 each through the Extension Office.

DISHWASHER WINNER

Work around the kitchen will be lightened for Mrs. Frank Winter of DeWitt after her name was drawn as a winner during grand opening festivities at Kurt's Appliance Center in St. Johns. Brian Downing, who drew the winners' names, is shown presenting Mrs. Winter certificates for a General Electric dishwasher which was her prize. Other prize winners were Paul Vitek, a television set; Mike Paradise, a tumbler set and Loree Wolcott, an ice bucket.

This is better breakfast month

By HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

September is better breakfast month for all members of all families.

Many older persons today might well have a better appetite and more vigor if they were aware of a sound and easily prepared basic breakfast.

Breakfast eating habits began to change during the early decades of the twentieth century. Developments in science, machinery and transportation combined to bring about a greater production of processed foods. Notable among these new peacetime foods was the great variety of ready-to-eat and hot breakfast cereals.

As a more sedentary way of life became the custom, the lighter, less caloric yet equally nutritious breakfast was developed. Medical and nutrition authorities formulated a basic breakfast pattern which makes an excellent contribution of almost every essential nutrient.

A basic breakfast of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and spread with sometimes an egg or breakfast meat added will provide one-fourth of the daily calorie and protein needs for most people.

Fifteen minutes is all the time it takes to prepare an adequate breakfast. This is a small amount of time to devote to your welfare and to your family's better eating habits.

For variety try this interesting cereal topper: Add two tablespoons butter and two tablespoons brown sugar to one cup of thick applesauce. Heat and serve over your family's favorite cereal.

Service call 80 men

News About Clinton County Service Personnel

Chief Sonar Technician DALE P. HENRY, USN, son of Mr and Mrs Donald Henry of 607 E. Higham Street and husband of the former Jacqueline Cornell of 705 E. Higham is serving aboard the USS Leary homeported at Norfolk, Va.

The Leary has recently completed its second deployment with the US Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

The ship was honored for its rescue mission on the deployment. Although the ship is a destroyer, it was called on to render assistance twice to fishing trawlers in the South China Sea.

In both cases the engines of the trawlers had broken beyond immediate repair forcing the Leary to tow each ship more than 100 miles.

MERLE K. WHITFORD and his family recently spent 10 days with his mother and other relatives in St. Johns. He has now returned to his base camp at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Area soldiers now undergoing basic combat training at Ft. Knox, Ky., are: Pvt. PETER G. FELDPAUSCH, son of Mrs Agnes Feldpausch of R-2, Fowler; Pvt. ROGER W. FELDPAUSCH, son of Mr and Mrs Carl Feldpausch of Bauer Road, Fowler; and Pvt. JAMES J. GAVENDA, son of Mr and Mrs Joe L. Gavenda of 511 W. Main St., Maple Rapids.

The correct address for A1c EUGENE LIETZKE is: AF 376-48 - 1253, Box 308, 555 CES PACAF APO San Francisco, Calif. 96326.

MICHAEL LEROY WILSON, husband of Lois M. Wilson of 901 N. Lansing Street, has joined the United States Marine Corps, for two years.

Wilson joined the 120 day delay program on Sept. 4. This program enables a young man to join and use any portion of the 120 days to leave that he chooses. He will have ample time to complete high school or take care of personal affairs before reporting for active duty. The delay in going on active duty will be credited towards his total military obligation. Once on active duty, the delay period is credited for the purposes of pay and promotion.

Silson has selected Oct. 29 as his date of departure for recruit training at San Diego, Calif. There he will undergo eight weeks of intense training which includes drill, physical fitness, judo, hand to hand combat and many other military subjects. Two of these weeks will be spent on the rifle range. Upon completion of this he will be transferred to Camp Pendleton, Calif., for four weeks of advanced training. He will get a 20 day leave before he reports to his new duty station.

Wilson attended Rodney B. Wilson High School. Residents desiring more information on the program may contact Staff Sergeant Jack P. Ross at 300 N. Grand Ave., Lansing.

U.S. Air Force Major JAMES C. PUNG, son of Mrs Olive A. Pung, 206 S. Lansing St., is on duty at Nakhon Phanom Royal Thai AFB, Thailand.

Major Pung, a navigator in a unit of the Pacific Air Forces, previously served with the 1st Composite Wing at Andrews AFB, Md.

He was commissioned in 1955 through the aviation cadet program.

A graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School, the major attended Michigan State University and received his degree in business from the University of Nebraska at Omaha.

His wife, Rose, is the daughter of Mrs Virginia Keatoff of 3808 Ninth St., Baltimore.

Nicholas E. Kramer of Ovid arrived home Friday for a 30-day leave before he returns to Viet Nam, where he will be stationed until April.

His new address is: Nicholas E. Kramer, 373-50-8318, Co. B, 720TH M.P. Bn., 18 M.P. Bde, 89th M.P. group, APO San Francisco, Calif. 96491.

It's time to check storage

Now is the time to review storage needs for 1969-crop corn, says Nick Smith, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

He reminds producers that if they plan to use the Price Support Loan Program in their marketing operations, it will be necessary to obtain either approved warehouse space or provide acceptable farm storage for their corn crop. Even though harvest season is over a month away, it is not too early, he added, to be making plans for any needed storage.

Smith notes that the county loan rates for Michigan range from $1.08 to $1.12 per bushel, about the same as they were last year. While the national production of corn is still expected to be in excess of four billion bushels, Michigan crop is estimated to be down approximately eight million bushels from last year.

The market prices, he notes, tend to dip during the harvest season, and producers who have storage or can obtain storage might be interested in storing their 1969-crop corn for marketing later in the season.

Producers who stored their corn last fall, and some of these placed their 1968-crop corn last year under price support loan, he said, netted more by selling in the late spring and summer than if they had marketed it last fall.

Smith emphasizes that farmers should put as much planning and attention into marketing as they do into planning and caring for the crop during the growing season. But, he says, there is a general tendency to let the marketing ride along on a catch-as-catch-can basis which often results in losses, because marketing plans are inadequate.

JOBS flying high

During its first 15 months of operation, JOBS (Job Opportunities in the Business Sector) program sponsors in the aircraft - aerospace manufacturing industry contracted with the Labor Department to hire, train and retain more than 5,275 disadvantaged jobless persons. # Redwings stomp Mason

Durner, Green, Silm explode in 33-28 victory

BY RON KARLE

Erik Allen Smith slept through it all.

But someday when he's much older than five days his father, Coach Jeff Smith, will tell him

Redwing cheerleader Sue Koenighsknecht momentarily mesmerized by the action about some guys named Silm, Green, Durner, Ballinger, Waggoner and Rademacher.

Because these guys and their red-shirted friends gave Eric Allen his first birthday present—a 33-28 victory over Mason Friday night.

The victory was especially sweet because last year Mason denied the Redwings a perfect season.

But this time around, halfback Jeff Silm cracked over for a pair of touchdowns, Charlie Green added two more, and in between, quarterback Tim Durner picked up another.

"All we read about is that Mason was the only team to beat us—now they won't be able to print that," said Durner after the game in the bedlam of the Redwing locker room.

"When they said we were the underdogs, there was no doubt in our minds that we would win," said Silm who rushed for 49 yards and picked up another 32 in pass receptions.

"We've got to work on defense," said Green who was on the receiving end of pass plays which netted 154 yards. He also rushed for 52 yards.

"It was quickness on the line that won the game," added tackle Brian Ballinger.

Over-all, St. Johns picked up 263 yards in the air plus 161 on the ground for a total of 424 compared to 129 rushing and 96 passing for Mason for a total of 225.

St. Johns opened the game with an onside kick which Mason recovered on its own 41. But six plays later the Redwings took over on their own 43. St. Johns methodically moved the ball into Mason territory in a series highlighted by a 19-yard pass play to Green. Then, 10 plays after they got the ball, Silm smashed over from the five to give the Redwings a 6-0 lead. Durner ran for two more and though the Bulldogs would threaten, they never caught up.

Mason lost the ball on downs and St. Johns took over on its own 16, and marched into the second period by rolling up eight consecutive first downs before Green took a Durner pitchout and slammed over from the one to make it 14-0. A run for two points failed with five minutes left in the half Mason took over the ball for the first time in the quarter and 10 plays later halfback Steve Lockwood went in from the three for Mason's first touchdown to make it 14-6. A jarring tackle by Dick Rademacher saw to it that Mason's run for two more was unsuccessful.

St. Johns Head Football Coach Jeff Smith invites all interested persons to attend Redwing booster club sessions every Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. The informal gathering views films of the previous week's game and hears comments from coaches on upcoming games.

Duffy's winning edge

Michigan State football teams own a winning edge over 19 of 27 different foes met during the regime of Head Coach Duffy Daugherty.

left in the half, St. Johns took the ball on its own 40 where Durner fired a pass to Silm for 38 yards. Green grabbed another Durner pass for 22 yards and the ball was on the Mason 11. Then with 47 seconds remaining Durner scampered around right end for six yards and six points to make it 20-6 at the half.

In the third quarter, with St. Johns on the Mason 13, Silm took a touchdown pass from Green, the kick was good and the Redwings led 27-6 with little more than four minutes to go in the period.

But it took Mason only five plays to get that one back as fullback Randy Caltrider carried 25 yards around his own left end to make it 27-12.

St. Johns took the ball on its own 32 after the kickoff but Mason's Charles Cornelisse hauled in a stray pass and rambled back to the Redwing 11. Three plays later, Mike Johnson hit Robert Leonard in the end zone and the run for two more was good as the St. Johns lead was narrowed to 27-20 with 3:48 left in the third quarter.

In the next series of downs Johnson snared another Redwing pass for Mason but two plays later guard Larry Wakefield pounced on a Bulldog fumble. Then with less than five minutes remaining in the game, Green took a 24-yard scoring pass from Durner for the Redwings' final tally to make it 33-20.

Mason came back to score with little more than a minute left when Caltrider grabbed a 12-yard touchdown pass, and Lockwood picked up two more for Mason on a reverse to make it 33-28.

"We've met as tough a ballclub as we'll meet all year," said Mason Head Coach Bruce DePue, at mid-field after the game. "Jeff's got a dandy," he added. "Our biggest problem was that we couldn't jell defensively in the first half."

"It went just like I thought it would," said Smith. "We'll play defense all next week. They're a hell of a team. They had 17 of 22 lettermen returning."

Someone in the coaches office, exclaimed: "Eight more to go!" Smith turned sharply at the comment and said firmly, "No, there's one to go—Lakewood."

Against Mason, Durner, a senior quarterback, scored a touchdown on a six-yard run while picking up 263 yards in the air, completing 14 passes in 22 attempts. He rushed for 22 yards.

Green, a 5-foot-10, 153 halfback, scored two touchdowns against Mason on a one-yard plunge and a 24-yard pass play. Green, a senior, picked up 154 yards in pass receptions and rushed for 52 more.

Head Coach Jeff Smith acclaimed Roger Davis for "his pulling on sweeps and shorttraps up the middle" against Mason. Davis, a 6-foot-2, 185-pound guard, is in his senior year.

Greg Finch personally made 21 tackles for Ovid-Elsie Friday night.

And Cal Woodward turned potential disaster into a touchdown.

But it wasn't enough as the Marauders fell to Portland, 14-6. The touchdown came on a six-yard run by Don Mulder, who fumbled at the goal line. But Woodward was there to pounce on the ball in the end zone for six points.

Portland's Larry Lawless, who picked up 156 yards for the night, scampered 76 yards for one touchdown and Glen Rels added six more points on a three-yard plunge.

Dave Vanderhoff ran for a two-point conversion to wrap the non-conference victory for Portland which stepped O-E last year, 13-0.

Portland nips O-E, 14-6

The Ovid-Elsie junior varsity stopped Portland Friday night 32-20 with quarterback led by Ron Mead hitting end Bill Foran for two scoring passes and fullback Glen Bensinger who scored another touchdown and rushed for 165 yards.

Charles Miller and Rod Loynes scored the other two touchdowns on short runs in the final period for the come from behind victory. The O-E junior varsity hosts Saginaw St. Stephen Thursday.

MSU, Huskies, meet Saturday

University of Washington may be a new treat for Spartan football fans, but offensively the Huskies are old familiar friends of the Michigan State team.

The Spartan defense, which saw its own offense converted to a Texas-style veer option over the spring, will face a similar offense on the other side of the trench when the Huskies meet the Spartans Saturday for the first time.

"We're very high on our own offense," says Spartan assistant Gordie Serr, "so naturally we're concerned with what Washington can do with theirs."

The Huskies, always tough in the stop department in recent years, have had their share of woes when it came to mounting an offense. This fall, Washington coach Jim Owens promises, will be different.

Quarterbacking the Washington "Y" attack is Gene Willis, whom veteran Husky observers already are calling the finest Seattle signal caller since Bill Douglas led Washington into the 1964 Rose Bowl. The rest of the "Y" is represented by lettered strength with speedy shifty Harvey Blanks the best of the lot. Blanks rushed for 509 yards in 99 attempts as a sophomore last fall and can call on :09.6 speed in the hundred yard dash.

Up front the Huskies are huskier than Owens has seen during his 12 years at the Puget Sound school. A pair of sophomore guards—6-5, 265-pound Rick Keely and 6-6, 255-pound Tom Nelson—best represent the Purple Mob's new-found growing pains.

Defensively, the Husky line is set with at least two of its numbers up for All-America honors. Clyde Werner, a 6-3, 230-pound terror at middle line-backer, is a top prospect, but the defensive backfield could be a source of embarrassment. All-America Al Worley, who set an NCAA record with 14 interceptions, is gone, and two junior college transfers man two of the four vacancies.

"Their team," says the Spartans' Serr, "is very similar to ours: They had a young team last year which has given them a number of outstanding juniors and seniors. It's a good opener for both of us, and we'll both know more about our teams after the 20th."

Fulton stuns Fowler, 12-6

Fulton and Fowler were each penalized 80 yards Friday night—but two of the Fowler infractions were followed by touchdowns resulting in a Pirate victory in the final seconds of the game.

Fans were already leaving the stands in the final moments of the fourth quarter when Fulton went into punt formation on fourth down with the game tied at 6-6.

Then Fowler was penalized for roughing the kicker and Fulton retained possession of the ball.

And with three seconds left in the game, Gary Betz hit Rick Childers with a 30-yard scoring pass for a 12-6 victory.

DeWitt romps over Bath, 18-0

Captain Jim Ashley banged over for three touchdowns to lead his DeWitt Panthers to an 18-0 non-conference victory over Bath Friday night.

The Panther effort was fortified by a strong defense which allowed Bath only a single first down all night.

Ashley scored his first touchdown early in the first quarter on a five-yard plunge.

Mike Botke intercepted a pass in the second quarter to set up DeWitt's second tally, a 17-yard run by Ashley. The Panther senior climaxed the evening with a 30-yard end sweep late in the third quarter for the final score as he led the Panthers to 309 yards in total offense.

DeWitt, which stopped Bath last year, 6-2, hosts Portland St. Patrick Friday. Last season the Portland club nipped the Panthers, 13-10.

Bath begins competition in a new conference, The Ingham County League, Friday in a game against Fowlerville. The two clubs did not meet last year.

P-W, Carson end in scoreless tie

The Pewamo-Westphalia Pirates, champions of the Central Michigan Athletic Conference, have met their match.

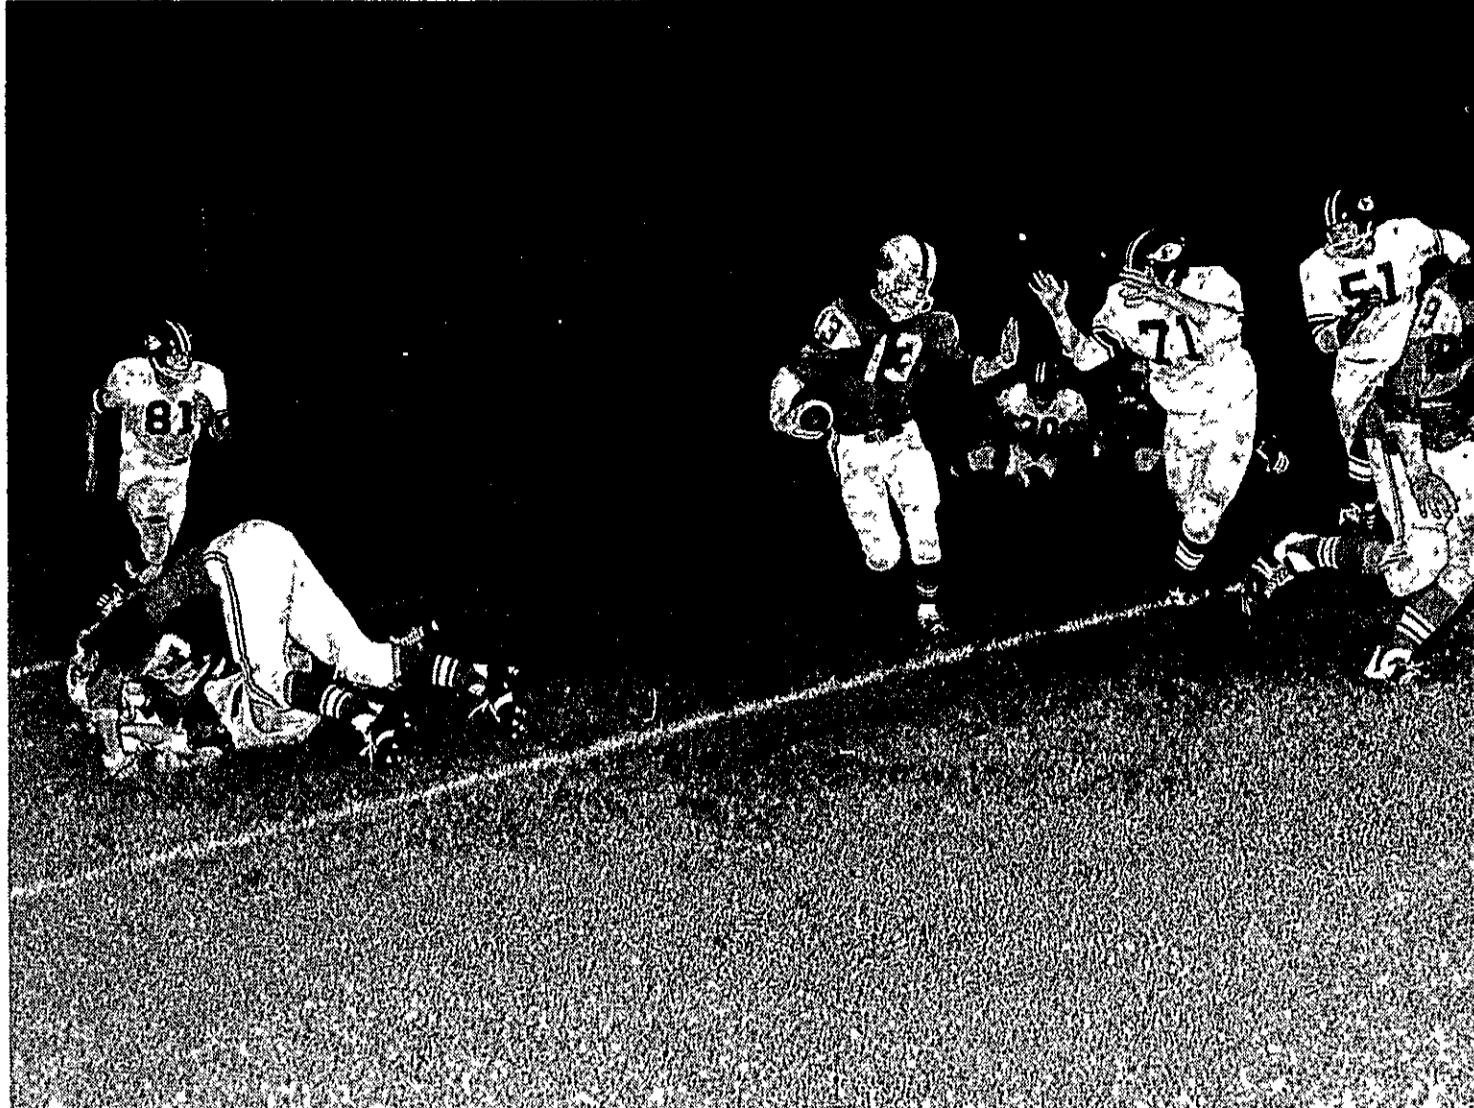

Fortunately it was in a non-conference game against Carson City Friday night which ended in a scoreless deadlock.

The Pirates, who stopped Carson City last year, 13-6, did get close to glory at one point in the game when they moved to the visitor's three-yard line. But P-W was penalized 15 yards because a player did not have his mouthpiece in place.

Carson City, meanwhile, was unable to penetrate any deeper than the Pirate 36.

P-W opens defense of their title Friday when they host Laingsburg. The pirates, who were 7-1 overall in 1968, defeated Laingsburg 19-13 last season.

Fulton quarterback Keith Leslie is about to have lots of company.

"We made a lot of mistakes, but we came through when we had to," said Fulton Head coach Rod Miller.

"The line hit hard all night and it was a fine defensive ballgame," he added. "First Gray then Betz did an excellent job—all the boys did a fine job."

The Eagles opened the scoring in the third period when halfback Steve Feldpausch dashed 15 yards for the single Fowler touchdown. Feldpausch, a junior, picked up 137 yards rushing in 15 carries.

Because of an injury suffered in an auto accident the day before the game, Fowler was without the services of starting fullback Bill Armbrustucher.

"They started playing him (Feldpausch) and forgot about everybody else," said Fowler Head Coach Blaine Douglas.

"But I'm not making excuses," he added. "We gave it away—that's all there's to it."

The first Fulton touchdown also came in the fourth quarter on a three-yard plunge by Bob Gray—again following a penalty, this one for pass interference.

"It was on fourth down and we would have had the ball," said Douglas. "We had just thrown them for a loss. That Gray—he just barreled over three of my kids."

Douglas named middle line-back Tommy Piggott as outstanding defenseman. Piggott, team captain, was in on 19 tackles. Douglas also praised the defensive work of Ken Schmidt and Stan Weber.

"We played good enough to win," said the Fowler coach. "We outgained them and outpassed them—but we didn't outscore them."

Fowler rolled up a total of 242 yards, 180 rushing and 62 passing, while Fulton gained 170 yards, 124 rushing and 46 passing.

Fowler completed six of 12 passes with no interceptions while Fulton completed seven of nine with one interception.

Saranac, winners over Fulton 32-7 last year, will be hosted by the Pirates Friday night.

Webberville, 19-0 winners over the Eagles last year, travel to Fulton for a rematch Friday night.

Platte River Hatchery turned over to state

The most efficient and fool-proof fish factory ever built in Michigan, the Platte River Anadromous Fish Hatchery near Honor, officially becomes state property this month, reports the Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

The hatchery, to go through a "shakedown" for the first year, will be the DNR's new "receiving ward" for some 14 million trout and salmon eggs to be collected this fall.

Some of the fish hatched there will be transferred to other DNR hatcheries for rearing or gifts to other states.

Thus, the new hatchery will be operated below full capacity until next fall, partly for budgetary reasons. Another reason is to give its crew of workers an opportunity to test the hatchery's complex system of water-quality controls, automatic fish-feeders, nursery and rearing raceways, and other streamlined devices.

If pushed to top capacity, the new plant could produce 7.5 million fry fish for planting each year with a crew of eight men. Its production potential matches that of the DNR's entire existing system of five hatcheries, manned by 50 workers. Brad Durling, head of the DNR's hatchery program, notes:

"We have in this new plant the most sophisticated system of safeguards available to provide quality-controlled conditions which are so crucial during the early rearing of fish."

For example, he points out, the hatchery features a spring water inlet unit from Brundage Pond which sensitively filters and regulates the temperature of this supply to create the "very best" hatching conditions for fish eggs.

Along this same line, the hatchery has 120 stacks of special fiberglass incubators through which this carefully-controlled water upwells to perfectly aerate eggs and "float off" their shells when young fish hatch. At full capacity, the incubators are designed to hatch from 12 to 19 million eggs, depending upon the species of fish involved.

They are housed within a specially red-lighted room which, as opposed to white lighting, will give the embryos of fish maximum protection during this critical stage of development.

The hatchery's indoor fry-rearing raceways are custom-equipped for what Durling terms "intensive nursery culture." They feature 12 batteries of automatic fish-feeders which exactly and reliably supply young fry with timed meals to get the baby fish "off to a proper start."

From there, the fish are automatically transferred at the right time to rearing raceways where they are also machine-fed. Getting such an intricate system properly regulated and synchronized is no small concern to Durling and he assures that a double-check by computers shows that the design of the hatchery's entire network of water flows is "A-OK."

Besides the labor-saving features programmed for actual fish-rearing operations, the hatchery's "support" facilities, such as its loading dock, are tailor-made to cut manpower needs.

The hatchery is also equipped with a fail-safe system, including an automatic monitor and alarm warning, which will spontaneously alert workers to possible mechanical failures in time to prevent fish losses.

The DNR will assign workers from its Harrietta hatchery and existing Platte River rearing station to staff the new plant with the minimum number of men needed to put it into operation this fall. Walter Houghton, in charge of the DNR's Harrietta hatchery, will head the new Platte River staff. He will continue to also supervise operations at the Harrietta station pressed by Debbie Phillips and Yvonne Pattison.

Mrs. Dorothy Moon announced cradle roll and asked parents and children to stand in recognition.

"The Lord's Prayer" was given in pantomime form by the junior department of the Sunday School led by Mrs. Pat Pattison.

Verses of the Bible in alphabet form was given by the 5th and 6th grade class led by their teacher Mrs. Gladys Hankey.

The sermon topic was "Go Therefore and Teach". The youth chair was conducted by Dennis Phillips.

Mrs. Ella Mae Beck gave a reading "The Last Sheep".

The closing recitation was given by Debbie Phillips and Yvonne Pattison.

Ushers were Edwin Harger and Earnest Wing.

until a successor is named there.

Durling assures that fish-rearing activities at Harrietta will be continued even though some of its crew will be shifted to the Platte River site.

The public will get its first chance for a "look-see" of the Platte River hatchery during an open house set for Oct. 18. The new installation is located about six miles east of Honor on US-31.

Durling explains that the main hatchery building plus its pipeline from Brundage Pond and temporary staff quarters represent only the first phase of a three-stage program planned for developing a complete fish-rearing complex on the Platte River.

The next stage, Phase II, calls for a $2.2 million outlay to build 30 outdoor recirculating raceways and a river pumping station. No final cost estimate on Phase III will be ready until early next year.

At this point, the timetable for the last two phases of work hinges on how much money is available to the DNR—and when—from Michigan's recreation bonding program and federal cost-sharing allotments.

Salmon records sought

Records were made to be broken, the old saying goes, and Michigan fishermen who share that kind of positive thinking are urged to have their trophy catches of salmon officially weighed and reported to the Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

Until this week, the DNR's list for record-sized chinook salmon caught in this state was blank. Now, it numbers four whoppers, each over 20 pounds, and state fisheries men say the fun has just begun.

Chances, too, for breaking Michigan's hook-and-line record for coho salmon are considered good by the DNR. To do that, some angler will have to land a coho bigger than the state champion 21-pounder taken off Manistee in September, 1967, by Sterling Deehr of Manistee.

At the top of the DNR's list for chinook salmon is a 27-pound, 6-ounce fish caught off Manistee recently by Joe Kimmerly of Niles. Fishermen catching salmon which appear to be upwards of 20 pounds should take their trophies for weighing and witnessing to local retail stores which have accurate scales. They are asked to do this before dressing out their fish.

Besides helping the DNR in its record-keeping, Michigan anglers are urged to stake their claim to fishing fame by entering their catches of lunger trout as well as salmon in national big fish contests.

LIONS CLUB "REFLECTS" HARD WORK

The great coffin war

'It was getting cheaper to die than to live'

Once in a certain mining town in Nevada, a man died. It was an isolated town, and its people had to procure their supplies from a long distance. The man died because, among other reasons, he could not postpone it.

The brother of the dead man ordered a handsome coffin for the occasion. He ordered it from an undertaker by the name of Hotchkiss. The mother-in-law of the deceased, not knowing of this, ordered a coffin too—a cheap one. She ordered it of Sudberry, another undertaker.

Hotchkiss came, measured the corpse, and withdrew. Shortly afterward, Sudberry appeared. He took the measure of the remains, too, the attendants supposing that he was in some way connected with the undertaker.

In the afternoon Hotchkiss came with his coffin. It fitted like a glove. Just as he was giving the finishing touches, and making the corpse feel comfortable, Sudberry arrived with his coffin. They looked at each other. Hotchkiss smiled. Sudberry didn't. The latter said that the former had got ahead of him; but that was not all. Hotchkiss' coffin was not only a very handsome one but he arranged things so that it looked like the corpse was proud of being dead. Its appearance cheered grief-stricken friends and relatives. They were elated. Sudberry's coffin was cheap and coarse—and it was empty.

They had words. Sudberry blurted out:

"You've taken a mean, speaking advantage of me."

Coffin was ordered of me in a regular way," returned Hotchkiss.

"I'd like to furnish a coffin to bury you in," continued Sudberry.

"I'd rather live forever than be buried in one of your old cheap coffins."

"I'll cut the price of coffins until you'll have to pack your blankets out of town."

"Cut away."

He did cut prices so low that he got all of Hotchkiss' business. Then Hotchkiss cut below Sudberry's prices. It was getting cheaper to die than to live. Several availed themselves of the reduced rates. Old Gudgey, who, as a matter of economy, ate only one meal a day, took the occasion to get off and avoid the expense of even one meal a day.

Sudberry cut again. Hotchkiss met it. Then the former began to pay $1 for the privilege of undertaking a corpse. His business livened up. Teddy O'Flynn, who had a partner in a bootblack stand that he could not get along with, availed himself of this opportunity to dispose of the partnership and take a partner. His partner died very immaturally. The increase of the death rate of the town was very noticeable. A good many people seized the occasion to get rid of their enemies and turn an honest dollar.

Hotchkiss, too, began to offer a reward of $1 a corpse, and a drink of whiskey thrown in. The next morning, Rattlesnake Bill, a desperate character of the town, stopped before Hotchkiss' shop, with four dead Chinamen in a wagon. He wanted four dollars and the drinks. The undertaker objected to taking the Chinamen. Bill told him he could take them or be dumped dead in with them, and go over to Sudberry's. Hotchkiss took the four Chinamen. Bill took the four drinks. Hotchkiss had cut prices about as far as he could. He had a large family dependent upon him. Sudberry had no family—no family at the time. He had previously buried several members of his family, as it came right in his line, and he did it at first cost. The former approached the latter to see if he could not agree to keep up the old prices. Sudberry would not entertain any such proposition. Said he would sell. Hotchkiss bought. Then, he retrieved his losses, he put his coffins to exorbitant prices. He swore if any one else set up in the undertaking business, weeks would elapse before his coffins arrived. There was a great falling off of the mortality that had prevailed. None but the wealthy could afford to die, that is, to die decently.

There was a great deal of dissatisfaction. People expostulated with Hotchkiss. They said it was perfectly legitimate to make a corner in any other article of trade, but to make it in coffins was sacrilegious, and ought not to be endured. He answered by showing that he had as much right to put up the price of his wares as a baker or butcher had to put up prices in his business; that he did not cause the death of people; and was under no obligation to bury them. Said though that he would bury all he killed. He further explained that there was no overwhelming necessity of a man to have a coffin, or even to be buried, as to that matter; that no man would make any complaint if not buried. Such arguments did not satisfy the people. None of them were needing coffins either.

Old man Eli Stone, was taken sick before the undertakers had compromised matters, and was not keeping abreast with the coffin war. He was known to be the most contrary man in Nevada. He was old and falling rapidly. The doctors told him to make whatever preparations he desired, as the end was not far off. A lawyer, being called in was willing the old man's will. The dying man's words were scarcely audible, and he would have to cease speaking at short intervals to get his fleeting breath. He could hear good. At the writing of the will progressed, the crowd of some of his friends in an adjoining room, talking about the monopoly in coffins—the unheard-of charges. He told the lawyer to stop right where he had got, said he was not going to die. He didn't.

The feeling of hostility toward Hotchkiss increased, there were muttering for a day or two. Finally a mob gathered in front of his establishment. The men composing the mob did not appear to be suffering for a coffin either. They were healthy looking, and some of them would weigh 200 pounds. One Dutchman—he was very bad—would have weighed four hundred pounds. No one ever thought of him being buried in a coffin. Hogshead. The men hardly knew how to proceed, their knowledge of mobbing coffin shops being quite limited. It was at first proposed to burn the building and contents.

This was objected to, as it would leave the town without coffins and, consequently, without inducements to the citizens to die. Then one infuriated little man shouted:

"We can use his coffins."

"I don't want to use one," said another.

"Burned if I do," explained a third.

"Me, nuffin," chimed in a man dressed in buckskin.

And "me nuffin" seemed to be the general feeling.

At last Hotchkiss, speaking through an auger-hole, agreed to compromise. He was to reduce prices for poor people, and where a whole family died, to allow them excursion rates.

Old Eli Stone got well. It was thought he would put up an opposition undertaker's shop to punish Hotchkiss for his meanness. No. He presented Hotchkiss a two hundred dollar gold watch, inscribed "Yours gratefully."

Farm Bureau post to Sayre

Elton Smith, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, has announced the appointment of James L. Sayre as a Director-At-Large on the Michigan Farm Bureau

Board of Directors. Sayre of rural Belleville, will fill the unexpired term of Nicholas Smith who was appointed chairman of Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Committee.

Friday is swine day at MSU

A special report by an internationally known swine nutritionist and a sale of performance tested boars will highlight Michigan Swine Day, Friday, at Michigan State University.

G. A. Lodge, chief, nutrition section, Animal Research Institute, Ottawa, Canada, will report on "Brood Sow Nutrition" in the afternoon of the program. Educated in England and Scotland, Dr Lodge has carried out intensive studies on swine nutrition and husbandry.

The Swine Day program begins at 9:30 a.m. at MSU's Swine Farm. Later in the morning, the tour moves to the Livestock Pavilion for a display of modern hog equipment.

The early afternoon will be devoted to a report on the Michigan Pork Producers' Association, discussion of agricultural research at MSU, Dr Lodge's comments on nutrition, and a report on waste disposal management by a Purdue University agricultural engineer.

The Michigan Certified and Performance Tested Boar Sale begins at 4 p.m. in the Livestock Pavilion. For sale will be boars that are littermates to swine on test at MSU's Swine Evaluation Station. The sale is sponsored by the Michigan Swine Breeders Association.

Sayre operates a 250 acre fruit and vegetable farm and retail farm market on the western edge of Wayne County. Much of what he grows with the aid of his wife Joan and their 5 young sons, ages 6 thru 13, is sold through the family market and wholesale markets of Detroit.

Leadership responsibility is nothing new to Sayre. While a 15 year member of Farm Bureau, he has served as manager of the membership program in his county and, from 1960 to 1961, he was president of the Wayne County Farm Bureau Board of Directors. In addition he has served as a member of a select committee appointed to study the state Farm Bureau organization, programs, and operation.

Sayre is a graduate of Kellogg Young Farmer program. This three year program, operated by Michigan State University, has introduced progressive young farmers to a wide exposure in economics, mechanics of farm organizations, and agricultural leadership development. This exposure includes wide travel in the state, nation and the world. For instance Sayre concentrated first hand on agricultural challenges in Pakistan during his studies.

Smith said in making the announcement, "We're proud to have Jim on our Board of Directors. He's young, progressive, and well respected in all Farm Bureau circles."

Now as a member of the board of the state's largest farm organization, Sayre joins 15 other members in the responsibility of carrying through the policies of all Farm Bureau members.

WATERWAY FIGHTS EROSION

This recently constructed grass waterway on Ray Warner's farm in Bengal Township will conduct large quantities of surface water from his sloping fields without eroding and causing sedimentation in the open ditch, which acts as the outlet for the waterway. The 2,100 foot long and 21 foot wide, waterway is designed to be crossed by farm machinery. It has been seeded in tall fescue grass and heavily fertilized for a good grass stand. The best time to construct waterways is in July and August.

Holstein production credits

Lifetime milk and butterfat production levels for Registered Holstein cows in this area have been announced by Holstein-Friesian Association of America. The individual animals have been credited with career food production totals exceeding 100,000 lbs. (46,500 quarts) of milk. The official testing program is sponsored by the Association and supervised by the state and local testing organizations.

Because of the high cost for herd replacements, cows that stay in the herd longer and achieve high lifetime production have proven to be more profitable. The Holstein Association has over 32,000 cows on file that have attained the 50-ton production milestone.

Local Holstein breeders and their long-time producers reported by the organization include:

Broadrae Star Sylv-O-Gram A 5191745 (VG), 127,915 lbs. of milk and 4,457 lbs. of butterfat in 3,082 days; Green Meadow Princess Lucy 4172040 (VG), 122,464 lbs. of milk and 4,850 lbs. of butterfat in 4,272 days; Maggie Achilles Carnation 5167209 (GP), 116,653 lbs. of milk and 3,965 lbs. of butterfat in 3,448 days; Fricks

Diamond Ida 4968159 (VG), 111,575 lbs. of milk and 4,531 lbs. of butterfat in 2,716 days; Innescroft Jan Ideal 5635323 (GP), 108,070 lbs. of milk and 4,083 lbs. of butterfat in 2,594 days; Polly Robmarr Tensen 5344299 (VG), 107,940 lbs. of milk and 4,321 lbs. of butterfat in 3,052 days; Elmen Recovery Cris 2D 4958305 (GP), 102,140 lbs. of milk and 3,314 lbs. of butterfat in 2,655 days; Flying A Fobes Germania Bea 4367035 (GP), 101,780 lbs. of milk and 3,292 lbs. of butterfat in 3,692 days. All are owned by Duane & Velmar Green, Green Meadow Farms, Elsie.

Wheat allotment down

Chairman Nicolas Smith of the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee says that Michigan's share of the 45.5 million acre 1970 national wheat allotment is 950,232 acres, down about 12 per cent from 1969.

The National average parice support level will be $1.25 per bushel.

A diversion program at the maximum payment rate of county loan rates.

The National allotment, 45.5 million acres, is designed to reduce stocks and reverse the three-year upward trend in carry-over levels.

Wheat marketing certificates will be paid on 48 per cent of the projected production on the allotted acres of participating producers. For 1969, certificates at a record $1.52 per bushel are now being paid on 43 per cent of projected production and adding about $14 million to the farm value of Michigan wheat.

The option under which producers can substitute the planting of wheat for feed grains or feed grains for wheat in any combination will be available.

Smith adds that due to the lateness in announcing the national allotments all counties will be requested to give top priority to computing individual farm allotments and getting notices to farmers.

Farm storage loans available

The best place to store and dry crops is on-the-farm. All crop reports indicate that there will be a great need for additional storage space this fall.

Nick Smith, chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, says that local county ASCS offices can make loans to farmers for the purchase of on-the-farm storage and drying equipment.

Farmers with available farm storage space and drying equipment will be able to condition and store their crops at harvest time and not be dependent upon others for this service. Price support loans will be available for commodities that are stored on-the-farm in approved storage.

Smith said that farmers with on-the-farm storage will have marketing control of their crop, will be able to sell to any one at any time, and take advantage of price increases that occur during the marketing year. If the market price of a crop remains below the loan rate during the year, the commodity can be extended and storage payments will be made to the farmer at the rate of 12 cents to 13 cents per bushel per year for each bushel of grain for which the loan is extended.

Storage payments and the saving of handling charges will pay for additional on-the-farm storage in a very short time.

Smith emphasizes that producers needing additional storage space and wanting to borrow money from CCC should contact their local county ASCS office immediately to determine their eligibility.

115 attend OES meeting in Elsie

A reception was held in the Elsie Masonic Temple honoring Mrs. Anna Dunay, Grand Representative of Oregon in Michigan of the Grand Chapter of Michigan OES Sept. 6. There were 115 in attendance from Pontiac, Detroit, Flint, Jackson, Fenton, Swartz Creek, Ithaca, Alma, Milford, Chesaning, Wacousta, St. Johns and Ovid.

The Worthy Matron Rose Marie Sills welcomed the guests. The chapter was honored by a visit of the past grand worthy matron of Michigan, Blythe Parks of Flint and the present grand officers, Cecile Hayes, Frances Strand and Marguerite Souek.

Also presented were: past grand appointive officers: Floy Miller, Louise Travis, and present grand committee members: Dorothy Moden, Pauline Marple, and John Snider, membership committee.

Among the grand representatives honoring Mrs. Anna Dunay were: Mildred Dinlayson, representative of Scotland; Mildred Pelti, representative of Ontario, Canada; Phyllis Martz, representative of Virginia; Dorothy Reis, representative of Wisconsin; Jeann Haxer, representative of Pennsylvania; Bertha Martz, representative of New Mexico; and Katie Linn, representative of Puerto Rico.

Worthy matrons were from Wacousta, Ovid, St. Johns, Ithaca, Alma and Ashley and the worthy patron from Chesaning.

Other introductions were officers from the Clinton County Association, Gratiot-Isabella Ass'n, and Saginaw-Bay Ass'n. Worshipful Master Robert Peters of Elsie 238 F&AM, honored Queen Debbie Morgan of Job's Daughters Bethel, Ovid, and members of the Grand Bethel, Elizabeth Baker, and Sue Besko were introduced.

Worthy matron Rose Marie Sills introduced David Showers as the ESTARL student sponsored by Elsie Chapter. He commented on his activities for the summer and how he had traveled to 26 states. He was one of the Kings Players Inc., which is a student group from Asbury College, Ky. His speech was "Tell it to us as it is" and "Understanding Ourselves as Well as We Should Try to Understand Others." He thanked the Chapter and the grand officers present for presenting him the scholarship.

Sister Anna Dunay was escorted to the East and presented a gift from the members of Elsie Chapter. Red roses from her family were presented by her daughter, Patricia. She also presented Elsie Chapter with a large punch bowl from her father, Alex Dunay and herself.

Mrs. Dunay gave a few remarks of appreciation and also the highlights of attending the Grand Session held in June in Portland, Ore.

Patricia Kridner sang the selection "Climb Every Mountain" accompanied by Mrs. Jeanne Temple.

Mrs. Sills announced that the Elsie Chapter will have Initiation, Sept. 26 at 8 p.m.

Refreshments were served in the dining room by Mr. and Mrs. Archie Moore, Mrs. Gathel Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kridner.

The class of 1963 of Elsie High School held a reunion and potluck dinner Aug. 17 at the Elsie Village Park. There were 19 members in attendance with their families.

After dinner, the man played softball and women reminisced about school days. Later, each class member explained or summarized what he had accomplished in the past six years. Richard Fabus, president of the class presided.

Linda Moore and Marcella Peck were thanked for their help in organizing the reunion. Rodney Ginther was appointed the new class treasurer. Janice McCullough, Dolores Minarik and Rodney Ginther were asked to organize the next class reunion which will be held in the summer of 1975.

Mrs. Neva Keys and Mrs. Margaret Edwards of St. Johns spent several days with their sister Mrs. Dorothy Kasper in Detroit last week.

They spent one day touring Ontario from the Detroit-Windsor tunnel along the Lake Erie shoreline from Ambersburg to Erie Beach, returning through Chatham and along Lake St. Clair and over the Ambassador Bridge.

The following day was spent in Mt. Clemens and the Anchor Bay area where they crossed from Algonac to Harsens Island by car ferry and watched the large freighters passing through the St. Clair River channel.

They returned to the city by Lakeshore Drive through Grosse Pointe Park and were guests of Mrs. Kasper at Joe Muer's.

V. A. Hospital visited by Chapter 88

Blue Star Mothers, Chapter 88 was represented by Mrs. Fred Tolles and Mrs. Farin Eldred at Ft. Custer V.A. Hospital in Battle Creek. Robert Barricklow, director of Volunteers at the hospital spoke about organizing a Council of chapters to help at the hospital. Through such a program, the individual chapters would know where and how their donations are used.

Kroger plant toured

The Clinton County Agricultural Council and their guests toured the Kroger Dairy Processing Plant Food Warehouse facilities at Livonia, last week.

The Kroger Dairy Plant processes nearly 100,000 gallon of milk each day in whole milk, cottage cheese, and ice cream products.

The milk is all Michigan milk purchased from the Michigan Milk Producers Association. The Kroger Dairy plant at Livonia provides the milk and milk products for all Kroger stores in Michigan, the northern half of Ohio, 13 stores in Pennsylvania and a few stores in Indiana.

The Food Warehouse facilities include 17 1/2 acres of land under cover. Nearly 2 1/2 million pounds of groceries leave the warehouse each day plus 1 1/2 million pounds of produce for the Kroger stores in Michigan and some in Ohio. The warehouse has docking space for 115 semi-trailers at one time as well as an enclosed railroad siding.

The Clinton County Agricultural Council is composed of men professionally employed in agriculture and men working in agribusinesses.

Cadillac presents the Spirit of the Seventies!

The elegantly spirited 1970 Cadillac

The brilliant new 1970 Cadillac is styled to reflect the quality of life in the spirited seventies. Its striking new beauty suggests the tempo of people on the move. Richly tailored appointments welcome you to a new era of Cadillac taste and elegance. Sparkling performance invites you to experience an entirely new dimension of motoring pleasure. In all eleven Cadillac models, you'll discover new ideas attuned to the spirited seventies. You may choose a new radio that will seek out your favorite AM, FM or stereo-only station. The aerial is neatly concealed in the windshield. This year, Cadillac engineers have again made sure that the Cadillac ride continues to be the most enjoyable in motoring history.

The newly spirited 8.2 litre Eldorado

The Spirit of the Seventies is nowhere more evident than in the handsome 1970 Eldorado. Behind its smartly recessed grille is a new 8.2 litre V-8 engine (500 cubic inches), the largest V-8 ever offered in a production passenger car. Created exclusively for the front-wheel-drive Eldorado, this new power plant harbors an ample reserve to operate the power assists one usually associates with a luxury car, while yielding a new kind of performance that will set the pace for personal cars for years to come. The instant you feel the new 8.2 litre V-8 in action, you'll know that the Fleetwood Eldorado is the world's finest personal car. The moment you drive it, you'll know that Cadillac has left the sixties far behind!

See the spirited new 1970 Cadillacs at your authorized dealers—they herald a decade of motoring excitement!

Take the Police Department to bed with you for about $1 a month.

That's all it costs to put an extension phone by your bedside—and have the Police and Fire Departments at your fingertips. There's no better way to get a good night's sleep.

P-W calls on labor mediator

Douglas Hillman of the Michigan Labor Mediation Board, has tentatively set Sept. 22 as the time he can meet with officials at the Pewamo-Westphalia school and teacher boards. The negotiating teams will meet in hopes of reaching an agreement over teacher contracts.

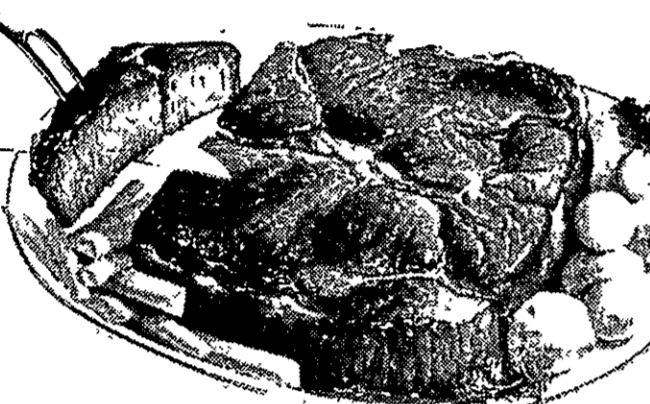

The group has reported "no progress" in earlier meetings with the union, state mediator, William Steinko, superintendent, said there are three major items in which the groups disagree—salary, agency shop, and terminal leave.

Teachers are working with the understanding that any agreement reached at a later date will be retroactive.

With Steinko on the school boards' negotiation team are Steve Abel and Roy Thelen.

On the teachers' four member team are Dennis Pihlmore, Estelle Geller, Marie Blauwinkle, and Thomas Spencer.

WATERTOWN CHARTER TOWNSHIP MINUTES

The September meeting of Watertown Charter Township was called to order on Sept. 8, 1969 by the supervisor with all board members present except Paul Schaefer, who came in later. Also present Commissioner Montgomery. Minutes of the August meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was read and placed on file. Bills were read and orders drawn for the same. Robert Montgomery reported on the airport, stating that they had had two meetings, both successful. All members of the commission seem to be in favor of the Tri-County Airport arrangement, with the hope that it will be introduced to the legislature by the first of the year. Leon Garlock reported that the county township meeting will be held Oct. 16, at the United Methodist Church in St. Johns, with a dinner. The matter of a fire ordinance for Watertown Township was brought up for discussion, and it was agreed that our township attorney draft up such an ordinance for board approval. The board directed the supervisor to advertise the sale of the old furnace just removed from the township office. The proposed budget for the

Controversial topic

By ELMER E. WHITE

Not too long ago, the topic of education was a somewhat dull one to throw into a conversation. Most persons accepted it as a necessity for their children; viewed school teachers as being a little bit smarter than themselves and rather milk-toast type individuals. Schools taught the "three r's," and their operation was totally a local thing. But in just a few years, the entire field changed so that it would appear strange to someone suddenly thrust into today's educational picture from the one existing 10 or 15 years ago. Teachers have proven they can be decidedly nonmilk-toast types who will go on strike if they think it's necessary. The state Department of Education has taken an ever increasing role in developing educational programs. And the Legislature is getting more and more into the picture.

This fall, the Legislature will take its most concentrated look yet into education. Lawmakers will convene Oct. 6 and for one week will deal with business left from the session which adjourned in July.

But from Oct. 13 on, the only subject up for discussion will be education. And a great deal of the discussion of education will deal with the financing of it. Property owners have grown more and more dissatisfied in recent years over the property tax loads they carry. The state, in an effort to alleviate this load, has entered more and more into the financing of education.

For the current fiscal year, the state is pumping $800 million back to local school districts to help them pay their bills. And the districts say that still isn't enough.

When the session begins, the lawmakers will receive a set of recommendations from Gov. William G. Milliken. The recommendations are being drawn up now by the Governor, who is working with his staff and with a Commission on Educational Reform which he appointed to examine Michigan's total education picture.

The commission recently finished a series of three public hearings in which it took testimony from more than 120 persons. It has been digesting this information and attempting to distill it into a program which the Governor can agree with. Two issues seemed to pop up the most in the three hearings: property tax relief and state aid to parochial schools.

Tax relief proposals ranged from mild reform of the property tax to outright abolition. Whatever he decides, the Governor will have to include recommendations in this area in his message to the Legislature. Most observers now are betting on an increase in the state income tax to provide the added income needed.

Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee Harry DeMaso, however, is conducting a study into tax loopholes which exist and says he could raise the money needed merely by closing loopholes. The lawmakers are sure to give quite a bit of attention to a proposal which could increase revenues

Troop 522 enjoyed Wacousta

Girl Scout Troop 522 went to Wacousta for a weekend outing Sept. 5. They stayed in a lodge that is located on the banks of the Looking Glass River, which is maintained by the Lansing Exchange Club for the use of the Michigan Capitol Girl Scout Council. The 16 girls fished, hiked, sang, and prepared their own meals while enjoying the beautiful natural surroundings. Adults accompanying the scouts were; co-leader, Beverly Hinton; and mothers, Edith Bishop and Sally Lorenc.

while leaving existing tax rates as they are.

Parochial generated a great deal of heat during the recently completed session and is sure to create more this fall and winter.

Parochial schools have been hit hard by rising costs and are, in some areas, in danger of being forced to close.

Parochial school backers see state aid to private schools as the "Promised Land" which can save their schools. They say it actually is cheaper for the state to help parochial schools because if the schools close, the state will have to foot all of the cost of educating the students.

Opponents view with alarm any thought of providing state aid to parochial schools. The most frequent argument is that it constitutes a violation of the principle of separation of church and state.

It is not a dull topic anymore. There is also much concern about where the parochial road could lead us. Since "religious" groups are difficult to define, it is possible that many sects, racial or even crackpot groups could spring up to demand funds under any aid law which might be passed.

Then there are those who oppose parochial because of their conviction that the state should accept the direct responsibility to educate all its children.

Parochial backers lost their attempt to begin state aid to parochial schools last spring in the Legislature, but they have promised to renew it.

That in itself should insure more heated debate in the Legislature.

Education support

There are thousands of corporations in the United States which comprise a business community which some campus extremists refer to as "the establishment." Yet, business is the financial backbone of education.

Companies of every size and in every line of endeavor contribute hundreds of millions of dollars a year to universities and colleges. The press release from a single company tells the story. In this case the donor is an independent foundation sponsored by a large food manufacturing concern. In 1969, 24 independent colleges and universities will be the chief beneficiaries of $686,000 in grants-in-aid-of-education made by the foundation. Included in these grants is $135,000 that will help support a number of newly-established and experimental minority group programs at 12 colleges and universities. In addition, $25,000 will be awarded to the United Negro College Fund to support its activities at 36 colleges and universities in the U.S.

This extensive support of education sponsored by a single company reveals the kind of generosity with no strings attached that is the source of intellectual freedom.

Autumn

Early risers don't need the calendar to tell them that autumn is here. The official date of its arrival is September 23. But long before then cool, crisp mornings, the smoke-scented air and the hint of color on foliage and trees have heralded the coming event.

The "days" of autumn known as Indian Summer have been well named. There is something about the smell of fall that is easily identifiable with quiet woodland paths that for uncounted centuries knew nothing but the tread of wildlife and the moccasined Indian.

This is the vision of America that so many of us would like to preserve as nearly as possible. Perhaps the trend toward increased interest in forest trails and wilderness areas will bring about deeper concern over the litter problem.

There is little which destroys the natural beauty of any season quicker than traces of man's refuse.

Con racket

(Davison Index)

Door-to-door swindling may not be something new, but there always seems to be a fresh angle to add interest to the con-man's game.

The latest is an approach whereby the thief will pose as a representative of the local electric power company in order to "inspect the wiring" or "adjust the electric meter" in a person's home. Invariably, the crook finds something that needs repairs, and demands payment for the repairs on the spot. The amount is usually small, $15 to $20, and the thief accepts it gratefully and leaves, never to be seen again.

The particularly vicious aspect of this latest con racket is that its practitioners prey almost exclusively on elderly persons and the poor. The thieves apparently count on these people to offer less resistance.

Officials of electric power companies across the country warn never to allow anyone who is unfamiliar in your home without first being convinced of his identity through company identification and his electric company vehicle. These officials emphasize that no electric company representative will ask for cash payments on the spot. Anyone who does is likely to be a fraud. You can always verify the identity of an electric company representative by phoning the company immediately.

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio, NEWS: "Is proper respect of one man for the other the ingredient that is lacking in today's society, and which leads to so many tragic, apparently useless, valueless confrontations? It's a great thing when people jump up and down about 'the way things are' and get concerned enough to have meetings, demonstrations, etc. to try to change the things they think are wrong. But things get done only when people on the opposing sides of a controversy tone down enough to discover ways to work with one another."

LA PLATA, Md., TIMES-CRESCENT: "When taxes go up every producer of goods must necessarily raise the price of those goods in order to meet the increased tax bill. And as soon as the price of consumer goods is raised every labor union in the country demands and gets higher wages and the increase is tacked on to the price of goods... business needs... to get some of the tax burden off its back. Then and then only will the price of goods produced return to more normal levels."

ST. PAULS, N. C., REVIEW: (Former) President Johnson left office with a recommendation that big pay increases be approved for congressmen, cabinet members and other government officials. At the same time, he suggested that labor should help fight inflation by not asking for big wage increases... and that industry should exercise restraint in raising prices in the interest of helping to stabilize the economy. In other words, everybody should join in the fight against inflation except a favored few in government who should be exempt."

Once again September's with us As the summer fades to fall, Nature yields again her bounty, Baseballs give way to football; On this glad and gay occasion, We are listening at the gong Till the boys break out in bedlam With the "Happy Birthday" song,

Like a team that's trained and ready For another twelve-month race, We await the starting signal, And someone to set the pace; But we're puzzled at the outset Judge, just what did we do wrong? To deserve this awful sentence Of a doleful birthday song?

Children's children all about us, Our activities engage, Serving often to remind us We forget to act our age; One more happy year is ended When they bellow—loud and strong, With a total lack of cadence, On that happy birthday song.

'Tis a day for reminiscing, Day to look our laurels o'er, Balance out our plus and minus, Seek to tally up the score; There is room for joy and gladness As we mingle with the throng, Happy once more to endure it— That discordant birthday song.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Disturbed over Ovid council meet

Where Is Our Democracy.

I am a citizen of Ovid and for the first time in my ten years of living in and around Ovid I decided to go to a council meeting.

In a way I'm sorry I had never gone to a meeting before this as I learned quite a lesson on Monday night. I have decided it would not be worth my while to ever attend another meeting again.

I learned (my husband knew this) that our council is run by six men and when they are being asked or told something they do not want to hear all they have to do is pound their little gavel and say "Meeting Adjourned" and you do not have the power to ask them to sit back down and hear you out.

From what I have been told about Communism throughout my life I would have sworn I was sitting in Russia.

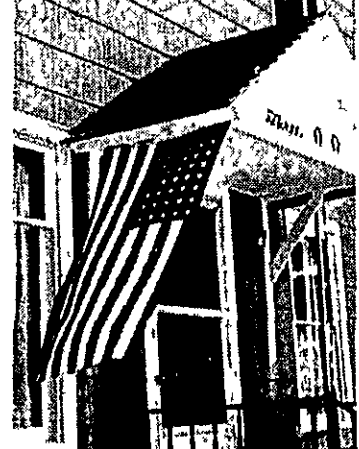

I think that the political situation has gotten into a sad state of affairs when six councilmen can sit in front of their constituents and with the audacity to refuse to answer questions asked by the very people who pay the bills, The Taxpayers.

As many of you know our former Police Chief Ed Robinson was fired recently.

"this doesn't cut any ice with me." And pronounced the meeting adjourned. Anyone would have to be very naive to have any faith in their form of government when the politicians on such a small level make a mockery of what our forefathers were so dedicated.

Is it any wonder that there is revolt all over our country. All we need now is the S.S. Troops to make it complete.

'IF IT FITZ . . .

Tonight's guests

By JIM FITZGERALD

While pondering upon TV's 3-cornered battle of the double-entendre and the free plug, I decided to touse the Johnny Carson method to save my marriage.

My wife says I don't talk to the family enough. I always have my head stuck in the newspaper. Except after 11:30 p.m. when I ignore her in favor of the TV talk shows—either Carson or Joey Bishop or Merv Griffin (which one depends on who the guests are and how short their skirts are).

The old girl is right, I said to myself, there isn't much conversation around this place. The last time I talked to my daughter she turned out to be the little girl from next door who told me my daughter had been away at camp for 3 months. You're a bad father, I thought, and I determined to improve myself, a la TV.

I moved a desk into the living room and slid the couch at a right angle to it. I rejected the idea of having a second banana, such as Ed McMahon or Arthur Treacher. No one laughs louder at my jokes than I do, so who needs help?

At 11:30 I turned off the TV, sat behind the desk, and introduced myself to me wife. "Wake up the kids and send them in one at a time," I told her. "And when they are done, you can come in yourself. I will talk with each of you for 20 minutes. The family that talks together, stays together, and the wife doesn't write to Ann Landers so much."

Eleven-year-old Eddie was the first guest.

"It certainly is good to see you again," I told him. "Tell me about what you've been doing lately. How are things at school? Has your mother been treating you alright? What do you want to be when you grow up? What do you think of the war in Vietnam? Speak up, son, your father is interested in you."

"Well," said Eddie, "Jimmie Daniels and me got this used toy sale going in front of his house. We're selling everything we don't want to little kids who don't know the stuff is busted. We're open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day and we're also selling cotton candy and lemonade left over from last month's sale. I hope you'll tell your friends to stop by and see us, and bring their money."

The next guest was Chrissie, 13. The first thing she did was get in a fight with Eddie over who got to sit on the end of the couch nearest the desk. She won and Eddie left, moving his lips but no sound could be heard. "You're looking beautiful, Chrissie," I told her. "But I wish you would pull down your skirt and button your shirt and take the kitten out of your hair-do. Someone might come in."

"Dahling," she said, "call me Chris. It's more me, don't you think?"

"Ok, Chris," I said. "Now tell me, how is everything going in school? What do you like to study most? What college do you want to go to? Your daddy is interested."

"School is yech," she said, throwing one leg over the couch arm and onto my desk. "but it's where the boys are. Of course, I must find a boy who appreciates me for my mind and soul, not my beauty. Being beautiful is such a bore. What I really want is a boy who wants to do algebra with me."

"Thank you, Chris," I said. "Now I know you have to run, and on your way out, please tell your mother I'm sorry, but we're out of time. Tell her you just can't argue with that old clock on the wall. Tell her time sure flies when you're having fun. Tell her maybe she can come back tomorrow night."

"Why don't you tell her yourself?" Chris asked.

"Because I never talk to her," I said.

TAKING FIVE

That's life

By RON HUARD

Scratches on the mental notepad . . .

"This just isn't my day" is an expression we frequently voice but seldom analyze. We have a strong propensity for pinning the faults of others with the blame for our dissatisfactions while so many times our "bad days" are brought on by our inner unrest and apprehensions. . . . There is great admiration for those attaining recognition as an expert, but constant reminders of ability are witless mouthings of the shallow of mind.

Seeking accuracy should be foremost in all endeavors, but to be overcome by fear of committing errors neutralizes whatever creative forces are present. The most humanized innovator of all was the man who thought of putting erasers on pencils and the person most apt to excel is the one unafraid to use them.

The festive air of football game can be dampened somewhat by the revelation that the entryways to stadium seating are known as vomitories.

We hold the pursuit of truth in high regard yet so many of life's social contacts reflect an evasion of that goal. From high levels of law to insignificant personal exchanges it seems that acknowledging only that which is favorable or convenient is the most common approach. Expediency and sincerity can be repelling forces and it is sometimes awkward justifying use of the former.

It is occasionally difficult to accept changing art forms for they too accurately represent the tone of the times.

The enthusiasm of young people can be infectious to adults who have long memories. There is great reflective amusement in observing the excited activities of teens preparing for an important event, which the opening of school just happens to be.

The only thing wrong with buttermilk is the lumps. And that's life.

There's hope

By RON KARLE, Editor

I must tell you about my friend Clifford. He measures his age in months, about 14. He's the only friend I've ever held on my lap and made silly faces at. Which to me is something.

I met Clifford through his parents, Richard and Cathi Newton. Richard is a doctoral candidate at Michigan State which sounds unsettling until you drink some beer with him. His mother, Clifford's that is, makes the finest grits north of Toledo. Only trouble is, she never serves up a batch until 5 a. m. But everyone knows grits go good after a night of drinking beer until 5 a.m.

Anyway, I got to thinking the other day about how well me and Clifford get on and this was all the more amazing when I think of some past experiences with people who measure their age in months.

One particular visit was to a friend I best manned for and it was the first time they had seen the little red sports car. They oohed and ahhed over it, all of which seemed proper. Then the baby hiccupped and I was standing alone in the driveway.

I went inside and asked what was wrong. "Sarah Jane hiccupped," they chorused in nervous unison.

She was already dialing for the doctor.

"No, wait," he said. "See if she does it three times before we call."

She did it again and they looked knowingly at each other.

Then Sarah Jane made a sound quite unlike any I've ever heard before. It was sort of a combination cough-sneeze with just the faintest "hic" but no "cup." And a giggle.

By now her mother was dialing furiously.

"That doesn't count, does it?" I asked frantically. I was visibly shaken.

"He's right," asserted my friend the husband. "The last one doesn't count."

The next fellow was an old college roommate and I knew the visit with his family would be different.

His wife was as charming and beautiful as ever. And so was 16-month-old Robert.

"Isn't he a great kid?" I was asked.

It didn't seem like my place to disagree even though I had only known The Kid for three minutes. You can't really tell about a new guy right off when he hangs back clinging to his mother's skirt like that.

It turned out that The Kid was something else. He even liked beer. Mine especially.

This brought down the house. And the potato chips. And the ashtray. And eventually the beer.

Sometime later there was a visit to the home of an old newspaper buddy. He's the man's man type, a gruff lady's man, but most important—he is his own man.

This time, he was something else, too. The Kid's man, though you couldn't really tell at first.

I did think it strange that he chuckled behind that wry grin of his when the kid burped all over its bib. That grin used to be reserved for special occasions. It's the one he won his wife's heart with.

After he fixed the kid's formula and popped a couple of brews, things settled down as the kid was put to bed in the next room.

Then I coughed. The sound poked his big toe through the hole in his sock.

Answering the unasked question, he muttered, "Thought it was the kid. You develop a sixth sense or something."

Then he settled back and there was that wry grin of his—the one reserved for special occasions.

STRICTLY FRESH

It's time to stop counting birthdays when the crack of dawn becomes the creak of down.

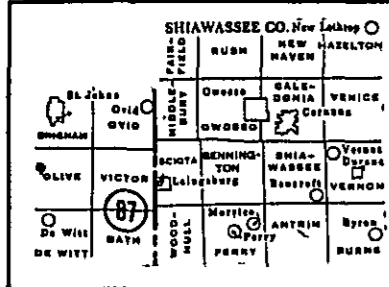

From the size of our star salesman, one can only surmise that he's on an expense account.

Before you say that cats are dumb, consider: Have YOU figured a way to get three squares a day and a place to sleep just by purring?

We know a fortune teller who likes her steaks broiled "medium."

Those who make statements with tongue in cheek should remember there's still room for a foot in the mouth, too.

By WILLIAM S. BALLENGER
State Representative

As everyone knows by now, the annual State School Aid bill finally completed its tortuous trip through the Legislature and was signed into law by Governor William G. Milliken on June 20 with immediate effect.

Unfortunately, passage of the bill was delayed an unconscionably long time. It became law nearly two months later in the year than it did in 1968, for instance — and this threatens teacher contract negotiations throughout Michigan. Many of the teacher contract disputes and strikes you've been reading about are probably attributable at least in part to the inexcusable delay in passing the State School Aid measure.

Why the delay? Well, one of the reasons was that the majority party leadership of the House tried to coerce the membership into passing some of its pet projects by stalling on the State School Aid bill. This irresponsible action moved House Republican leaders to ask the Senate to shatter precedent and originate the State School Aid measure, which historically has always begun in the House.

Legislative hijinks aside, what's in the State School Aid bill for the 87th House District?

First of all, total spending for State School Aid, including earmarked funds which the Legislature does not control, comes to about $835 million for the 1969-70 school year. This is an increase, of about $82 million — or 11 per cent — for K-12 public education over last year. Fully 49 per cent of our general fund expenditures during 1969-70 will go to support all the various types of educational programs in Michigan, including our colleges and universities, community colleges, and the State Department of Education. Altogether, higher education will receive about $330 million during the 1969-70 school year — a hike of $50 million, or roughly 17 per cent, over last year.

On the K-12 level, I'm pleased to note that Special Education received the largest single increase — about 37 per cent. Transportation, a large expense in Clinton and Shiawassee Counties, was increased from $22 to $28 million. Aid to Intermediate School Districts was hiked about 27 per cent.

A large amount of controversy and misunderstanding has centered on the basic state aid formula. Basic state aid is disbursed via a formula which gives less to wealthy districts, more to poorer ones. Consequently, as the property value per student increases, basic state aid decreases. Some school districts in our area have had large recent increases in state equalized valuation (SEV) due to studies by the State Tax Commission.

Districts having large valuation increases receive proportionately the smallest gains but, needless to say, they also receive increased local school revenue from the same, higher valuation.

What's most important in my opinion, however, is that it be understood by everyone in the 87th House District that the Legislature has certainly not been stingy in financing Michigan education. Even though, hopefully, there will be new and long-overdue legislation passed this fall to improve our methods of financing Michigan's schools, it's equally important to note that during the last six years, state school aid has increased 110 per cent — while during the same period school enrollments increased only 17 per cent.

Here's a list of the increase in state aid per student for 1969-70 over last year for the various school districts in the 87th House District. The following statistics are estimates because school enrollment can't be precisely determined until the "membership count" on the fourth Friday of September. Nevertheless, the figures below should be fairly accurate:

- Bath, $42 per student increase;
- Byron, $32 per student increase;
- Chesaning, $44 per student increase;
- Corunna, $10 per student increase;
- DeWitt, $7 per student increase;
- Durand, $34 per student increase;
- Laingsburg, $33 per student increase;
- Morrice, $38 per student increase;
- New Lothrop, $36 per student increase;
- Ovid-Elsie, $32 per student increase;
- Perry, $29 per student increase;
- Owosso, $21 per student increase;
- St. Johns, $31 per student increase.

In other words, in no case is a school district getting less than a 2 per cent increase per student this year in state aid (DeWitt), and the rest of the districts range up to as high as 14.5 per cent (Chesaning). The hike in state aid can't be termed as simply "expected" due to the rising cost of living, either, because most of the boosts are twice as much as the rate of inflation.

Mrs Jay Austin, Mrs Russell Stanton and Mrs George Putnam were hostesses for the Aug. 26 meeting of the WSCS of the Middlebury United Methodist Church. Twenty four members were present.

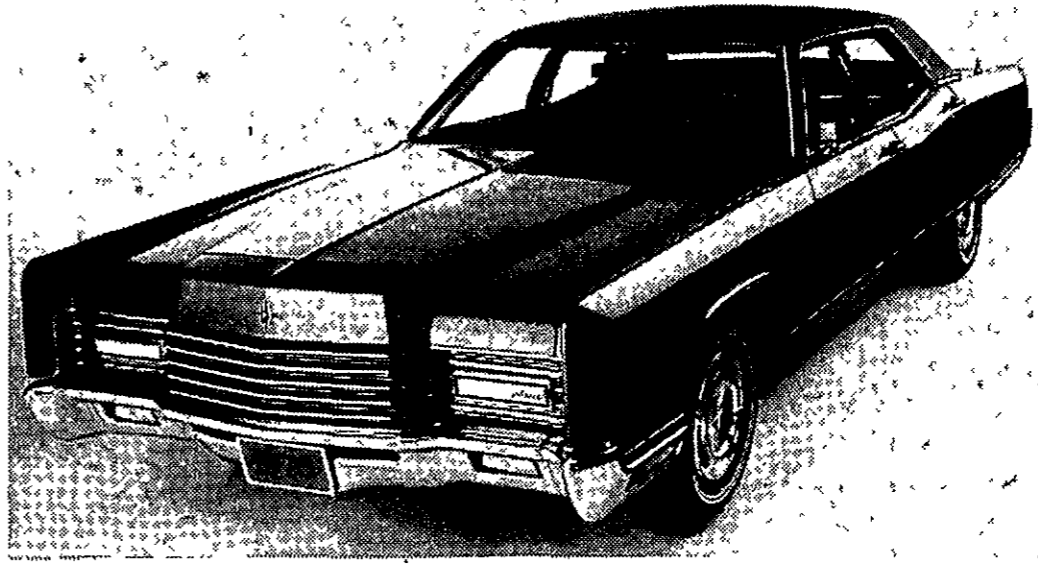

Mrs Robert Mulder, president, presided and Mrs Donald Craig gave the devotions in the form of poems and closed with "Meditations of the Lord's Prayer". Routine reports were accepted.

A tentative date for serving a Smorgasbord in October was discussed and tabled until the September meeting.

An invitation for friends and relatives to attend a miscellaneous shower for Kathleen Baumgras was extended by the hostesses, Mrs Jay Austin, Mrs Charles Warren, Mrs James Warren, Mrs Earl Tubbs and Mrs Eugene Mulder. The affair will be held on Monday evening, Sept. 15.

Mrs Donald Warren presented the program entitled "Ancient Signs in Today's World" and explained the meaning of the familiar symbols and told that many symbols which have had meaning in the 2,000 years of Christendom no longer have any meaning to modern man as works of art. There are other symbols which are still pertinent to life today and could be revitalized and made meaningful.

Lincoln Continental for 1970 has been completely redesigned for the first time in nearly a decade. While outside dimensions are almost identical to previous models, wheelbase has been increased one inch to 127 inches resulting in substantially greater interior roominess. The prestige motorcar bears a strong kinship to its predecessors with a striking grille theme and understated elegance. It has wider front and rear treads, new body on frame construction, optional sure track brake system, four new glamour palms, new interior trim schemes, concealed headlamps and windshield wipers and a full complement of new comfort and convenience features. Model lineup consists of a two-door hardtop and a four-door sedan (above).

grace was given by Mrs Blanche Potter and refreshments were served at tables decorated with vases of fall flowers.

Mrs Joseph Jordan and Mrs Donald Warren will host the Sept. 23 meeting, Mrs James Warren will offer the devotions and Mrs Charles Warren will present the program.

Mr and Mrs Kaye Potter and family spent several days recently vacationing at their cottage at Crystal Lake.

Miss Susan VanDyne has returned home from a nine week tour of Europe.

Beginning Sunday, Sept. 7 services at the Middlebury Church will be one half hour earlier; Sunday school at 10 a.m. and church at 11 a.m.

This is the way it's going to be. Pontiac's 70's

Surprised that Pontiac's setting the style for the umpteenth straight year? Of course not.

But you may be a bit dazzled to find out that Pontiac finally outdid Pontiac.

Take Bonneville. From the strong, new bumper grille to the standard 455 under the hood, it's a rouser.

Inside: instant limousine. So luxurious some of the traditional big boys are already screaming.

One of the nicest things we could have done for Grand Prix's luxury was to leave it alone. We did. But we popped in a 455 V-8 for you to order. (It's an old Pontiac proverb that luxury should have power.)

Enter LeMans Sport. A brand-new series in the Pontiac stable. Wait'll competition sees it pull the new, 400-cubes-under-the-hood trick. We'll show you that one if you check the right box on the order form.

By now, you've spotted our '70 GTO. But maybe you haven't heard it. A sound so tough we've thrown modesty to the wind and dubbed GTO "The Humbler."

This is Pontiac '70. And we figure this is the way driving's going to be. So why wait?

It's at your Pontiac dealer's now
