

Davey Joe Miller, 11, of Lansing is one of the young Indian braves likely to pow-wow in St. Johns this weekend with an anticipated 200 other members of the Grand River American Indian Society.

Indian tom-toms herald pow-wow here this weekend

Indian tom-toms and ceremonial chants will ring across the southwest side of St. Johns this weekend when an expected 200 members of the Grand River American Indian Society gather on the 4-H grounds for a two-day pow-wow.

This weekend's event is the society's first "mixed pow-wow," meaning that both white dancers and Indian dancers will participate on the program.

"We believe this to be the first mixed pow-wow in the state sponsored by an all-Indian organization," R. R. (Jack) Neyome, president of the society, said this week.

"If the response is good by the participants and viewing public, we make this an annual affair in St. Johns or other cities throughout the state."

The viewing public will have a lot to see at the pow-wow, according to Neyome. There'll be Indian costumes of many different dances and tribes, many different dances of the men, women and children and songs for the dances. Indian "fry bread" and Indian "corn soup" are a must at the pow-wow.

"DUE TO THE FACT that television and movies have given small children the wrong impression, the first question most always ask when they see an Indian is 'Are you a friendly Indian?' The best way to find out," Neyome said, "is to come and visit us in St. Johns."

Pow-wow time at the 4-H fair grounds is 2 and 8 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. only on Sunday. There'll be a parking fee, but there is no admission charge for the pow-wow. Indian crafts will be available, Neyome said.

The sponsoring Grand River American Indian Society is a relatively new but extremely active organization. It's an "urban Indian" club, as Neyome explained it, with most of its members being from urban areas of the state. Neyome himself lives in Jackson. They gather periodically for pow-wows, most of which have been held in rural areas; this is the first one ever to be held within the city limits of a town the size of St. Johns.

The society had its origin on a Saturday night, June 13, 1964. Fifteen Indians met to talk about how to organize an Indian club for Lansing. The following November a club name was chosen, election of officers was held and a constitution was developed.

The preamble of the society's constitution sets forth the purposes:

"We shall endeavor to steadfastly and earnestly promote the study of Indian history, Indian arts, Indian crafts, Indian costumes, Indian legends, Indian Clinton a 30-name loser in 1968?

Clinton County has a chance to be a 30-name loser in 1968!

Almost as rapidly as Denny McLain reached 30 victories in the game of baseball, motorists on Clinton County highways are approaching the 30 mark in the deadly highway game of traffic accidents.

Two more persons were added to the "roster" last week, bringing to 23 the number of people killed in auto accidents in the county this year. That can be compared to only eight at this time last year.

At the current death rate, Clinton folks can expect to read about the upcoming traffic deaths of nine or 10 more people, more than enough to put the count over 30. There's been an average of nearly three people killed in highway accidents in the county every month.

Clinton County law enforcement officials warn that some of the most hazardous times are coming up, too. Fall rains, sleet and winter snow will create hazards that don't exist in the summer. Their only hope is that motorists will slow down and take a little more care.

The deaths last week that raised the toll in the county to 23 involved a two-vehicle accident and a car-pedestrian mishap.

David King, 22, of 14800 Chandler Road, Bath, was killed in a two-car collision last Wednesday night at French Road and US-27. The car he was riding in was struck broadside by one driven by a rural St. Johns man who has since been charged with negligent homicide.

He is Franklin Rus, 22, of 1307 Marshall Road, Rus, driving west on French Road, allegedly passed another vehicle stopped at the US-27 intersection and drove out and into the side of the car Mr King was riding in. That car, northbound on US-27, was driven by Paul Beachler, 28, of 14927 Chandler Road, Bath.

Mr King was dead on arrival at Clinton Memorial Hospital. Beachler is still hospitalized, but nurses reported his condition as "good" Monday evening. Rus has been released from the hospital but is now being held in the Clinton County Jail under $5,000 bond set by Municipal Judge Harold Reed on a charge of negligent homicide.

The accident happened about 8:35 p.m. last Wednesday.

The 23rd traffic victim of the year was a Lansing man, 57-year-old Lester L. Larson of 941 Maryland Street. He reportedly walked into the path of a south-bound car driven by Wayne E. King, 19, of St. Johns, last Friday.

Propose 4 new deputies

The Clinton County Sheriff's Department may get a boost of four men in an effort to improve law enforcement in the county.

Sheriff Percy Patterson made the request Monday to the Clinton County Board of Supervisors, and after some study during the day, supervisors made a 21-1 show of hands informal vote to approve the request.

There was no formal action taken, however, and probably the next step will be to see how the request will fit into the 1969 budget. The board will adopt the budget at the next meeting.

Elden Smith, mayor of DeWitt and chairman of the county board's salary and clerk hire committee estimated it would cost about $30,000 in direct salaries and fringe benefits to hire four new men.

SHERIFF PATTERSON said in his request to the board that the present fleet of sheriff's cars would probably be sufficient for the enlarged force, once a rescheduling of the cars and officers can be made.

The sheriff said it was his plan to have two officers riding in at least some of the cars, especially at night. He said that in these violent times it is particularly dangerous for an officer to answer a trouble call alone in some remote section of the county.

With the extra officers and a rescheduling of car assignments, (Story continued on Page 3-A)

$2 million-plus budget for local schools OK'd

The St. Johns School Board has adopted a $2,144,560 operating budget for 1968-69 and will hold a public hearing on the budget Oct. 9 at 8 p.m.

The new budget is $410,995 higher than actual spending of $1,733,565 during the past fiscal year. Despite efforts, the budget foresees a deficit of about $21,050 in operating receipts. This compares to a deficit of $87,540.33 incurred as of July 30 this year.

The 1968-69 budget calls for total receipts of $2,123,555. This will include an estimated $842,760 in current property taxes, compared to $510,786.65 collected for the 1967-68 year.

In all, local sources of revenue will contribute $889,760, while there'll be an estimated $30,000 from county special education funds; $1,118,000 from state sources (mostly state school aid of slightly over $1 million), and $85,795 from federal sources.

THE BIGGEST SPENDING in crease in the budget is in the elementary instruction area, where spending in 1967-68 totaled $691,381.26 and where $903,462 is budgeted for 1968-69. This is a result of the school district's expansion into the new buildings in the rural areas and higher salaries for regular teachers. There are also two new principalships involved in elementary costs.

Secondary instruction will also cost more. A total of $519,- 030 is budgeted for the new year, compared to $408,471.71 spent in 1967-68. This increase involves some $78,000 in salary increases for teachers and increases for other salaries, supplies and miscellaneous expenses.

Most other areas of figuring show increases, reflecting the costs of the times and the demands for services, school officials point out. The only exception is in the area of federal (Story continued on Page 6-A)

2 County News staff changes announced

Announcement of two staff changes was made this week by Rollin A. Huard Jr., publisher of the Clinton County News. The changes involve the resignation of Al Haight as business manager and the appointment of Wayne Gossett to the position of advertising manager.

Haight, associated with the News for the past 22 years and business manager since 1965, has resigned to enter into the engraving business with Central Michigan Engravers. The firm is located on US-27 north of Lansing. Haight plans to maintain his residency in St. Johns.

Gossett comes to the News from Ottawa, Ill., where he has worked the past 4 1/2 years as advertising manager of the Daily Times. Prior to that he was a member of the advertising staff at the Kankakee (Ill.) Daily Journal, having gone there after seven years as ad manager of the Hoopston (Ill.) Daily Chronicle. During his tenure with the Chronicle, Gossett also served as ad director of "The Wings", a weekly publication for service personnel stationed at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill.

Both Gossett and his wife, Patricia, are natives of Hoopston. They have three children, John, 12; Susan, 10; and JoEllen, 8.

WAYNE GOSSETT

Gossett and his wife are bowling enthusiasts and he is a regular golfer. His memberships include the VFW and American Legion. Professionally he is a member of the Newspaper Advertising Executives Assn. and a former member of the Illinois Daily Markets Assn.

Gossett and his family are members of the Methodist faith. They will move to St. Johns when housing arrangements can be completed.

DeWITT — Two gun-wielding bandits held up the Woodruff State Bank in DeWitt shortly before 2 p.m. Monday and apparently made good their escape with between $5,000 and $10,000.

The bandits fired two shots, one at the vault door and one into the ceiling, to prove they meant business. None of the eight employees or two customers were hurt. All were forced to lie on the floor.

State police and the Clinton County Sheriff's Department immediately threw up road blocks, but the robbers were not caught or even seen. The car which they used in their get-away—driven by a third man—was later recovered on Krepps Road south of Round Lake. It had been stolen from Flint.

The robbery loss was insured, according to Ralph Woodruff, president of the Woodruff State Bank. He did not announce the total amount taken. State police said the money was all in bills of various denominations.

No alarm was sounded by bank employees, but state police were quickly notified after the bandits left when scared off by the approach of a third customer. He was Clare O. Bouten Sr., who was just driving up to the front of the bank.

"HERE COMES A CUSTOMER, let's get out of here," Woodruff quoted one of the bandits as yelling to the other. Their get-away car was angled parked at the curb in front of the bank, and Bouten saw them leave. He was able to provide law officers with their description and that of the car.

The two men who entered the bank were light complexioned with sandy hair and wore light grey or blue work uniforms. One sported a sawed-off shotgun and the other brandished a short-barreled handgun.

One of the men leaned over the counter, and rested his shotgun on it, pointing it toward the employees behind the counter and in the work area. The other confronted teller Mrs. Barbara Reed with the pistol.

"This is a holdup. We mean business," he announced.

Two other tellers, Genevieve Nabbefeld and Virginia Rose, were not right at their windows, but they froze in their tracks. Seated at desks behind the counter were Howard Woodruff, vice president and cashier, and Mary Tingay, assistant cashier.

Working in the bookkeeping department were Leona Tolson and Nelle Fisher. Howard Woodruff and the six women were all covered by the shotgun-wielding bandit.

BOTH MEN CAME AROUND behind the counter, and the one with the pistol reportedly fired a single shot at the bank vault as a warning. As they started to clean out two cash drawers, they ordered all the employees to lie on the floor.

About this time, the bandits apparently noted bank President Ralph Woodruff and two customers behind a closed door in a private office. After the pistol shot was fired, the shotgun-carrying man opened the office door and ordered Woodruff and customers Edward Tarrant and son John Tarrant to lie on the floor, too.

Then this same bandit apparently saw customer Bouten approaching and sounded the retreat. His shotgun blast at the ceiling kept everybody on the floor for a few seconds.

Woodruff said he was behind closed doors and didn't actually know anything was going on until the first shot was fired. He estimated it might have been one or two minutes after the robbers came in before they got their money together. He said the whole thing was over in less than five minutes.

State police were immediately called, and they sounded the alert immediately.

The car in which the three men escaped was a dirty, bright red 1966 Chevrolet.

Board to sell 11 rural schools

Ten rural one-room schools that aren't being used any more by the St. Johns Public School District will be sold Oct. 16 at a public auction. Another will be sold Oct. 9 after opening of sealed bids.

The auction will take place at 8:30 p.m. Oct. 16 in the high school auditorium. Schools and building sites to be sold in this manner include:

Union Home School on DeWitt Road a quarter-mile south of Maple Rapids Road in Greenbush Township.

SOUTH RILEY School on Chadwick Road a half-mile east of Francis Road in Riley Township. Simmons School on Chadwick Road a quarter-mile west of Airport Road in Riley Township. Chapman School on Centerline Road a half-mile west of Grove Road in Riley Township. Parker School at the corner of Krepps and Walker roads in Bingham Township. Only the building at the Bengal Center School will be sold, and that will be done through the acceptance of sealed bids, which may be turned in at the school offices in the high school building through Oct. 9 at 4 p.m.

The board of education will furnish a quit claim deed for the properties to be sold to the purchaser at the time of payment in cash.

The board announced the sale last Wednesday at their regular September meeting and also conducted several other items of business.

They passed a resolution to borrow, if necessary, against anticipated taxes that will come in this winter. They also confirmed teacher contracts, Guido Binda, Battle Creek architect who is doing the work on the high school, gave the board a status report and a prospective completion date of June 1 next year.

The board is still seeking to hire several teachers, including a strings and orchestra teacher, a high school girls' gym teacher and a speech therapist.

Rowell School at the corner of Hall and Chandler roads in Duplain Township. Jason School at the corner of Jason and Lowell roads in Riley. Merle Beach School at Jason and DeWitt roads in Riley Township. Cedar Lake School at the corner of Linton and St. Clair roads in Victor Township. Iemm School at the corner of Bond and Chadwick roads in Olive Township.

programs where the school expects to spend only $83,795 in 1968-69 compared to $113,036.56 in the last fiscal year.

Other expenditure areas figured in the budget, along with last year's actual spending, are: Special education, $60,840 budgeted; $44,094.48 spent last year. Administration, $82,843 budgeted; $77,294.08 spent in 1967-68. Health services, $10,660 budgeted; $5,421.95 spent last year. Transportation, $156,400 budgeted; $126,647.15 spent in 1967-68. Operation of plant, $166,000 budgeted; $130,882.88 spent last year. Maintenance, $70,800 budgeted; $59,410.50 spent last year. Fixed charges, $75,700 budgeted; $62,370.44 spent in 1967-68. Capital outlay (new furniture and equipment), $15,000 budgeted; $5,976.16 spent last year.

Supervisors put it on ballot

As expected, the Clinton County Board of Supervisors voted officially Monday and put the question of an 18-mill tax limitation on the November ballot.

The decision, however, was not unanimous. Four supervisors—Raymond Mayer of Bengal, Maurice Gove of Bingham, Bill Hufnagel of Dallas and Earl Barks of Olive—cast no votes, but the measure passed 17-4, with one supervisor not present for the vote.

Derrill Shinaberry, Greenbush supervisor, pointed out the board had no alternative except to put it on the ballot after receiving a petition to that effect from the county allocation board.

The 18-mill proposal is for a two-year period and would do away with the activities of the allocation board during that time. The 18-mills, if approved by voters, would be divided among the schools, townships and county, with schools getting 9.7 mills, the intermediate school district .3 mill, townships 1.5 mills and the county 6.5 mills.

Yager, Mid-Michigan District Health Department sanitarian for Clinton County.

Some board members renewed their general complaint of a month ago about Yager's work in approving septic field permits in areas where the supervisors felt they shouldn't be allowed. Lawrence McLaren of Grafton County, chairman of the Mid-Michigan District Health Board, was present at the meeting.

McLaren told the board some of the complaints the supervisors had about Yager's work on permits appeared to be justified, but he said that was only one phase of the sanitarian's job and he thought Yager was doing a good job in the other areas (food inspection and trailer inspection).

McLaren is also now acting director of the department while Dr. F.W. Smith is on a one-year educational leave. He asked the board if they thought apparent misunderstandings between the department and Yager over septic permit policy could be corrected. He said he thought it could.

UNDER THE PRESENT set-up, allocated tax is limited to 15 mills, and the allocation board meets every year to divide the 15 mills among the various units. It almost always results in haggling and hard feelings.

Shinaberry pointed out the 18-mill figure doesn't necessarily mean increase in taxes. "Theoretically, there would be that much less needed in extra voted taxes," he said.

The school districts of the county, for instance, would get 9.7 mills under the proposed plan, compared to 7.717 mills this year under the 15-mill plan. In order for them to meet a 20-mill educational program, for instance, they would need only 10.3 extra voted mills rather than 12.283 mills.

The 9.7 figure also automatically qualifies school districts of the county for minimum school aid. By the end of the two-year period proposed, Shinaberry said, it was hoped that a new method of school financing might be arranged to take the burden of property owners.

While there was disagreement among board members on the 18-mill proposal, there was also a difference of opinion on another matter. That concerned Robert VARIOUS BOARD members said they didn't think a 90-day period McLaren suggested would do any good. They said they'd been voicing their complaints for a year and a half.

Earl Barks, Olive supervisor who brought the problem into the open at the August meeting of the board, said "I can't see any way of getting back respect for the department except to get a new man."

Reginald Nelson, DeWitt Township supervisor, put a motion on the floor to replace Yager on or before Jan. 1, thus holding the threat of an $8,000 budget cut for the department approved last month for security.

The motion was finally tabled after other supervisors felt such veto power over the health department was unfair.

And McLaren told the Clinton board it had no power to fire Yager or anyone else in the Mid-Michigan Department. That responsibility, he said, was the Mid-Michigan District Health Board's, even though Clinton did have representation on it.

McLaren indicated he would thoroughly investigate the county's complaints and see if he could get the problem straightened out.

District court to get supervisors' room

About two years ago Clinton supervisors moved out of a crowded room above the jail into the new supervisors wing in the courthouse. Monday they voted to make their meeting room into a courtroom for the new district court, and they'll move somewhere else.

The district court will take the place of justices of the peace and municipal courts Jan. 1, and it falls on the county to provide a courtroom.

The supervisors will be 11 in number Jan. 1 instead of 22 as they are now, and the new board won't need so much room, the present board envisioned. So they decided to partition off the present supervisors room, make offices for the judge on the present south wall and have the courtroom proper running east and west in the center of the room.

The present committee room off the supervisors' room would become the jury room for the district court.

Just where the supervisors will put their new board hasn't been decided. There was talk of going back up above the jail again, but the more likely possibility will be in the basement of the east wing in the area designed for civil defense emergency operations.

Key division chairmen named for Communities Chest campaign

Appointment of five key campaign division chairmen was made this week by Ink White, chairman of the Clinton County Communities Chest campaign.

Accepting the appointments were Stephen A. Bakita, government and education division; Leon A. Brewbaker, professional; William H. Patton, commercial; Lawrence G. Sexton, major firms division; and Rolan W. Sleight, special gifts division.

Clinton County's quota for the annual fall drive, which is to begin in October, is $23,683. The quota is part of a $1,933,868 goal set for the United Community Chest campaign in the Greater Lansing area.

This marks the first year Clinton County has been included in the Greater Lansing area goal. In June the Clinton County Chest merged with the United Community Chest of Ingham County. The United Chest area now includes all of Ingham and Clinton counties and Grand Ledge.

AS RESULT OF THE merger, Clinton residents are now eligible to receive the services provided by the 57 member agencies of the United Community Chest.

Bakita is administrative assistant to the superintendent of St. Johns public schools and is president of Clinton County Communities Chest. He also headed up the government and education division last year.

A resident of St. Johns for three years, he is a member of St. Johns Jaycees and United Methodist Church.

Brewbaker is associated with A.T. Allaby Insurance Agency. He has been active on the Chest board, serving nine years, and was Chest president two years. He is vice president of St. Vincent DePaul Society, a Clinton County Chest agency, and on the executive board of the Chief

ROLAN W. SLEIGHT
Okemos Council of Boy Scouts, a member of United Community Chest.

BREWBAKER ALSO is a member of St. Johns Exchange Club, is on the St. Joseph Catholic Church board, and is past president of St. Johns Chamber of Commerce. He is a native of St. Johns.

Patton is branch manager of Capitol Saving and Loan Assn., and is vice president and a director of the Clinton County Chest. Prior to moving to St. Johns two years ago, he was active in the United Fund at New Castle, Ind., and campaign chairman two years.

Locally he is treasurer of the Exchange Club, a member of the Chamber of Commerce, and a member of First Baptist Church. Sexton holds the position of plant manager of the St. Johns division, Sealed Power Corp. He is one of the original members of the Clinton County Communities Chest, is past president of Rotary Club and is a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

A resident of the community for the past 20 years, Sexton is a member of the United Methodist Church.

Sleight is a retired district agent for the State Farm Mutual Insurance Companies. He is active in the St. Johns Lions Club, the First Congregational Church of St. Johns and is a long-time supporter of 4-H club activities.

He is a former resident of Victor Township, but has made his home in St. Johns for the past 20 years.

K of C Festival termed success

The first K of C Festival held this past weekend in St. Johns on the Bob Purfill Farm by the St. Johns Council No. 3261 was termed a complete success by general chairman Richard Droste and Co-chairman Ed Schmitt.

A large group of people turned out on a perfect day to enjoy the various booths and games that were provided for them. Over 500 chicken dinners were served on Sunday afternoon.

The winners of the drawing were as follows: First prize (1,000 pound steer) to Sandra Smarks of Lansing (Miss Smarks in turn donated the steer to the St. Vincent DePaul Society in Lansing); second prize (television) to K. Ingalls of DeWitt; and third prize (transistor radio), to

Clinton to merge with Ingham for mental health services

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors voted Monday to merge with the Ingham Mental Health Board for the formation of an eventual Tri-County Mental Health Board involving Clinton, Ingham and Eaton.

The board's action was unanimous after an explanation by Dick Lord, financial officer of the Ingham Mental Health Society, of the financial arrangements for operating the present mental health service.

The Ingham unit presently supplies mental health service to Clinton residents on a contractual basis with the county. But Lord's figures showed Clinton was paying only about 4.2 per cent of the local cost of the unit's overall services while 6 per cent of the caseload come from the county.

The merger would take effect Jan. 1, and Clinton County will be represented by two persons on the mental health board of directors. That would raise board membership from 12 to 14 persons, and when Eaton joins there would be 16 persons. As Ingham members' terms on the board expire during the next four years, they will not be replaced, so by 1973 board membership will be back to 12 persons. LORD SAID 84 per cent of the mental health cases presently handled by the Ingham Mental Health Board are from Ingham County while 10 per cent come from Eaton and 6 per cent from Clinton.

Total cost of operating the service during the fiscal year 1969-1970 is estimated at $1,190,377, Lord said. Seventy-five per cent will be paid by the state, with $297,592 coming from local sources, including $15,383 from Clinton County.

Anticipated income from Clinton County sources, however, is only $12,252, leaving a $3,131 deficit. Eaton County income-compare-to-expenses show a $6,916 deficit, while Ingham County would be $4,764 over their fair share.

The county board did not name its two members to the new mental health board, since there are still three meetings in which to do it before the merger would take effect.

3 injured in US-27 city crash

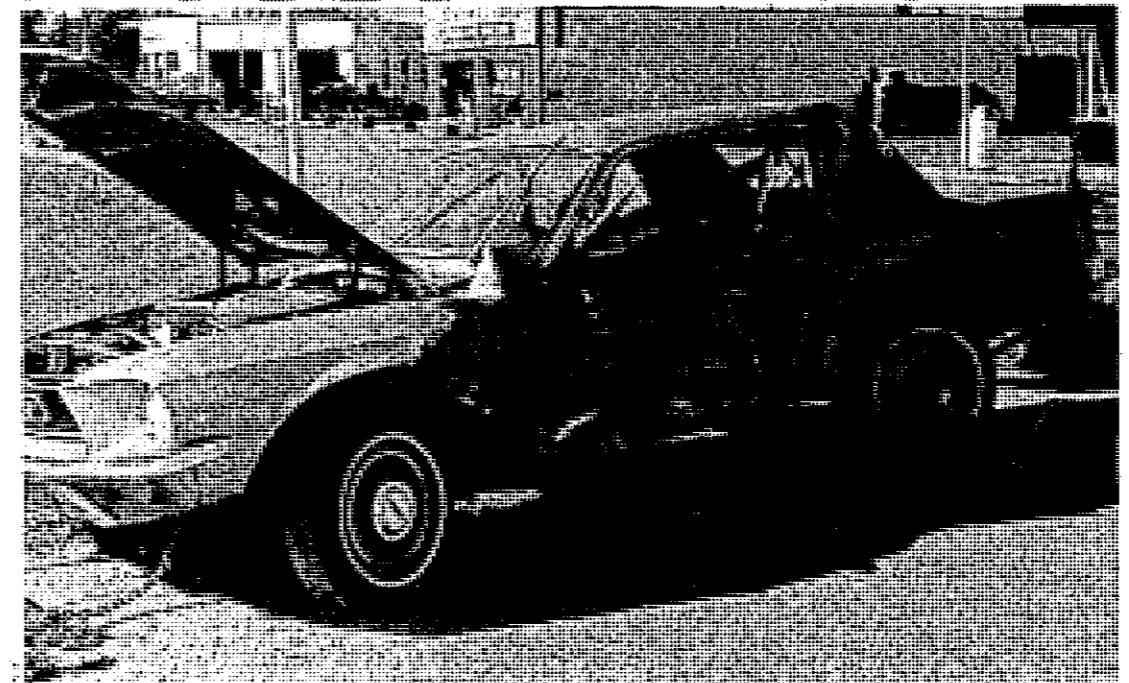

Three persons were hurt last Thursday afternoon in a three-car collision on US-27 south of Surgis Street in St. Johns. Two were hospitalized but have since been released.

According to St. Johns police, the cars were driven by Michael W. Burgess, 17, of 1296 W. Parks Road; Linda M. Shaw of 8160 E. Garfield Road, R-2, Ashley; and Harry J. Burgess, 19, of the same Parks Road address.

Kris Murray, 16, of 1000 S. Lansing Street, was treated and released at Clinton Memorial Hospital. She was a passenger in the Harry Burgess car; Harry was not injured. Miss Shaw was held overnight and then released from the hospital; Michael Burgess was discharged later.

Police reported the Shaw car apparently crossed the highway from the shopping center drive and was struck broadside by the Michael Burgess car, southbound in the passing lane of the divided highway. The impact spun the Shaw car around and it was struck by the Harry Burgess car.

Michigan has an average of 2,200 new active TB cases and approximately 300 deaths each year.

This car driven by Linda M. Shaw of rural Ashley was spun around when hit by two cars on US-27 in St. Johns last Thursday afternoon. She was hospitalized briefly.

New Mrs White is making home in Forest City, Iowa

ELSIE (c)—Katherine Jeanne Tefertiller of Des Moines, Ia., daughter of Mr and Mrs Rex A. Tefertiller of Elsie, Mich., and Richard G. Whiteis, son of Mr and Mrs R. C. Whiteis of Forest City, Ia., were married June 22 at Windsor Methodist Church in Des Moines.

The Rev. L. Robert Keck, United Methodist minister-at-large to the city of Des Moines, performed the double ring ceremony at 3 p.m.

L. M. Wren, vocalist, and Mrs John H. Yungclas, organist, both of Des Moines, provided musical selections for the wedding ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length semi-cage gown of silk organza and alencon lace with a cathedral train of English illusion edged in alencon lace. Her fingertip length veil, caught on a pearl and lace crown, was also of English illusion edged with lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of orange Sonata roses. Marilyn Jones of Indianapolis, Ia., was personal attendant to the bride.

Mrs Ron Thornton of Elsie, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Debbie Kellen, Joyce Malek, both of Des Moines, and Cathy Whiteis of Forest City, niece of the groom. They wore identical floor length empire, A-line orange crepe dresses with puff sleeves. The full back was accented with a large bow. Their headpieces were a capulet of orange daisies with long daisy streamers hanging from the back. Each carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisies.

STEVE HELVICK of Rochester, Minn., was best man. Paul Fauske of St. Paul, Minn., Clark White of Williamsburg, Ia., and Roger Severson of Des Moines were groomsmen. Ushers were Rex Tefertiller Jr. of Elsie, brother of the bride, Robert Whiteis of Forest City, brother of the groom, Randall Whytle of Brooklyn, Ia., and David Stoll of Iowa City, Ia.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece mint green shantung dress ensemble with a beaded collar and white accessories. Mrs Whiteis wore a two-piece beige embroidered voile dress ensemble with matching accessories. Each wore corsages of yellow cymbidium orchids.

Special guests were Mr and Mrs Fred Hellmeyer of Centralia, Ill., maternal grandparents of the bride. The reception was held in the church parlors with Marcia Jetter registering the guests. Mrs Harry C. Gilbert of Milwaukee, Wis., sister of the groom, and Mrs Lee Dice of Des Moines served the cake. Mrs Steve Lipovac of Des Moines poured and Nancy Peterson of Des Moines served punch. Barbara Whiteis of Forest City, niece of the groom, and Janet Kropp of Des Moines opened gifts.

A buffet luncheon for relatives and out-of-town guests at the bride's home was hosted by her parents following the reception.

After a trip to Colorado, the couple is at home at the Forest Trailer Court in Forest City. The bride was formerly employed as a secretary by Hy-Line Poultry Farms in Des Moines. The groom graduated from Waldorf College and attended the University of Iowa, Iowa City. He is employed for the summer by Whiteis Auto Co. in Forest City.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr and Mrs R. C. Whiteis in Des Moines the evening of June 21.

Ready to Wear... No Ironing!

Shirts, socks, sheets, pillow slips, blouses, skirts - if they're made of durable press, you can forget about ironing them - that is if you have a new clothes dryer!

The clothes dryer provides an exact temperature that prevents oversteering or overdrying, and it has an automatic setting that's designed especially for these miracle fabrics. Your durable press garments dry with a professional "finishing touch" that completely eliminates the ironing board.

Why not see your automatic appliance dealer today? While you're there have him show you the automatic settings that do your ironing for you!

The safety pin is 4,000 years old

By JIM HICKMAN

This may amuse you, especially if you're a mother with a young baby! The safety pin that you use to fasten your little darling's diapers is, in all essential respects, virtually a duplicate of safety pins that the Greeks and Romans used when the world was young!

What does this have to do with a message about jewelry? Ah, you'll be surprised. Safety pins dug up by archaeologists were genuine masterpieces of the ancient jeweler's art. The Romans set some of their pins with beads of amber and bronze while the Greeks employed gold of the most exquisite craftsmanship.

Today many of the beautiful pins and clip-ons that the smartest women wear are direct descendants of the early safety pin—but, of course, today's are wrought of modern gold and silver and even platinum. Some, too, are encrusted with diamonds and pearls and other precious stones.

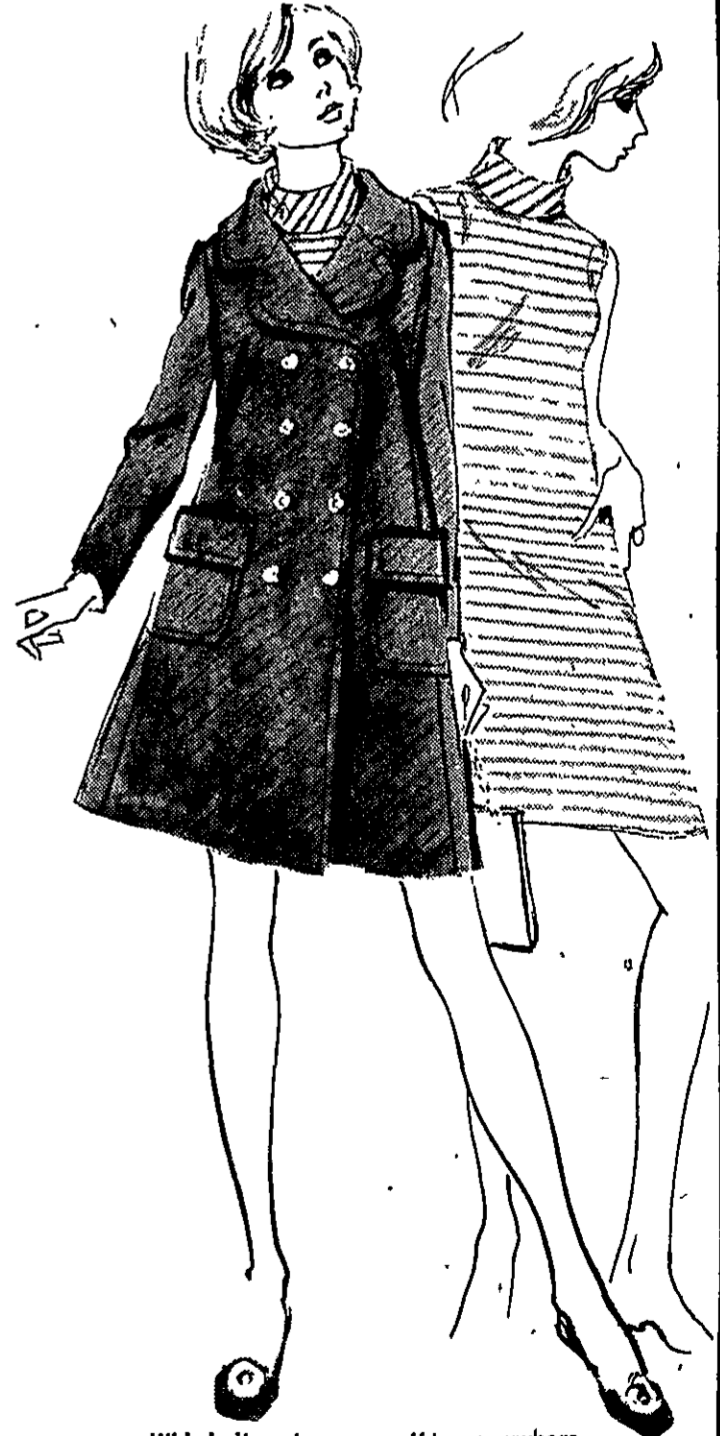

Our stock of jewelry—including pins of almost every description—is most extensive. Here you will find all the low cost costume jewelry that Milady finds so much pleasure in wearing, not to mention our large display of exquisite, blue white diamonds and other precious gems. Whenever you think of jewelry, think of us. Budget terms if you wish—and the friendliest service.

MR and MRS SIDNEY WEST

Elsie couple mark golden anniversary

Open house was held Sept. 8 from 2 to 5 p.m. for Mr and Mrs Sidney West of Elsie in observance of their golden wedding anniversary. The open house was hosted by their daughter, Mrs Jack Snyder of Elsie.

The former Miss Friede Gillman and Sidney West were married in Elsie Aug. 31, 1918, and have resided in Lansing and Elsie all their married life.

A dessert luncheon was served by Mrs Doris Hyde and Mrs Fran Fizzell from a table decorated with gold bells. The table was centered with a five-tier wedding cake made by Mrs Roy Fizzell of Elsie. The gift table was covered with a lace tablecloth made by Mrs West's mother, the late Mrs John Gillman, and was centered with a bouquet of gold gladioli.

The couple were assisted at the gift table by Mrs Charles Pouch and Mrs Jean Snyder. The guest book was attended by Mrs Charles Hyde of Jonesville.

Over 100 guests were present from Lake George, Lake Ann, Alma, Flint, Lansing, Bannister, St. Johns, Pompei, Owosso, Jonesville and Elsie.

The honored couple have one daughter, two grandsons and three great-grandchildren.

Book report contest winners at library named

Letters went out Friday to the winners in the book report contest connected with the Summer Reading Club which closed Aug. 24 at Bement Public Library. Children were required to read a total of 15 books and list them on the library records in order to receive a certificate. Of the 115 boys and girls who signed up for the club in June, 20 received certificates.

First prize for the best book report submitted by a sixth grader went to Janie Meyer, daughter of Mr and Mrs Frederick G. Meyer of 710 S. Oakland Street. Janie reported on Flora Warren Seymour's book, "Pocahontas". Honorable Mention for sixth graders was given to Toddy Haske, daughter of Mr and Mrs Donald Haske of 1100 Hampshire Drive. Janie attends St. Joseph's School and Toddy goes to Central School.

Among fifth graders, Jennifer Ott, also a pupil at St. Joseph's, was first prize winner. Jennifer, daughter of Mr and Mrs Donald Ott of 812 Church Street, reported on a book entitled "Pepper", by Barbara Leonard Reynolds.

Honorable mention among fifth graders went to Liane Whitford, another St. Joseph's pupil, daughter of Mr and Mrs Glenn C. Whitford of 2523 Wildcat Road. No first prize was awarded for fourth graders, but honorable mention went to David Lundy, an East Ward pupil and son of Mr and Mrs E. O. Lundy of 305 E. Walker Street.

Other children who also received certificates included: Cheryl Bancroft, Donna Birdsley, Linette Crosby, Maurine Gallagher, Carol Nurenberg, Kathy Piper, Diane Rewerts, Carolyn Rozen, Vickie Schneider, Kathryn Scharnweber, Jeanne Snider, Sally Wesner, Mary Vitous, Nancy Zuker, and Mary Zuker.

The prizes were checks for $2, the money for which came from the Alice Streeter Fund of Bement Public Library. Mrs Streeter many years ago gave Bement Public Library a bond for $1,000, asking that the interest on it be used in the Children's Department. Some books are bought this way also.

How's your calcium supply and intake?

By HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

The word is out from reliable research that fewer American families are eating good diets today than a decade ago!

How could this happen in America, the land of abundant food supply?

Three nutrients are most often low in U.S. family diets. Those nutrients are calcium and Vitamins A and C.

The body needs calcium daily for heart and muscle action, proper functioning of nerves and proper blood clotting. It is stored in bones, but if daily intake isn't maintained, it is removed from the bones.

Young children need more calcium than adults.

Worry, illness or injury can cause temporary losses of calcium. Why are diets frequently lacking this mineral?

Calcium has three natural storehouses: milk, bones and egg shells. But only milk is used as a food.

Nutritionists recommend that children drink three to four cups of milk a day. Teenagers should also have four, but adults need only two. The exception to the rule for adults is pregnant or nursing mothers. They need four or more cups of milk a day.

HOW ABOUT TESTING your daily menu on a calcium point

Rita Rae Platner weds St. Johns airman

ELSIE—Rita Rae Platner and Airman Robert W. Gillson Jr. spoke their wedding vows Saturday afternoon (Sept. 14) in the United Methodist Church at Elsie in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev Gordon Showers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Paul Platner, 109 E. Oak Street, Elsie and the groom is the son of Robert W. Gillson Sr. of R-3, St. Johns and the late Mrs Gillson.

The altar was enhanced by a pair of candelabra entwined with baby breath and arrangement of chrysanthemums and roses in yellow and white. The pews were marked with yellow roses surrounded by white satin ribbon bows.

The traditional wedding music was played by organist, Mrs Donivan Williams.

THE BRIDE CHOSE a gown of Peau de Ongle lace over bridal tulle. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped Sabrina neckline accented with iridescent sequins and seed pearls and long tapered sleeves. The full bouffant skirt had a panel of lace in front and tiered side panels embellished with sequins extending into a full tiered chapel train.

A petal headpiece of lace and pearls secured her English silk illusion bouffant veil. She carried a colonial bouquet centered with white roses encircled with yellow pom poms and a small cascade of white roses.

Mrs Edward Polack of Reed City was matron of honor, while Mrs Lou Suttin of Lansing and Mrs Duane Platner of Elsie, sister-in-law of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore floor-length gowns of silk chiffon over linen identically designed. The skimmer gowns in avocado featured satin wedding ring collars and satin wattleau trains. They wore petal hats with bouffant veils in similar colors and carried colonial bouquets in shades of yellow roses encir-led with white pom poms.

Randy Flowers of St. Johns was chosen by the groom for his best man and Duane Platner of Elsie, brother of the bride, and Jim Schultze of St. Johns were groomsmen.

Jack Wing, Owosso, and Cleon Platner, Elsie, brother of the bride ushered the 200 guests.

The bride's mother was attired in an apricot silk organza coat ensemble. She wore matching accessories and a corsage of roses harmonizing with her dress.

Mrs Jane Ochis and Mrs Mary B. Gillson, grandmother of the groom, both of St. Johns, were special guests and also wore rose corsages.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall immediately following the ceremony. Mr and Mrs Leslie Sturgis were host and hostess, while Miss Barbara Hess of Mt. Pleasant registered the guests. The refreshments table was centered with a five-tiered wedding cake decorated by Mrs Richard King. Mrs Larry Ott cut the bride's cake while Mr and Mrs Archie Moore served the coffee and punch. A color scheme of green and yellow was used in the decorations for the wedding and reception.

The new Mr and Mrs Gillson, after a northern Michigan honeymoon trip, will live at Wurtsmith AFB at Oscoda.

The bride wore a yellow A-line dress with a rose corsage for her going-away ensemble. The new Mrs Gillson is a graduate of Elsie High School and Lansing Business College and was employed as a secretary at Redmonds in Owosso.

The groom attended St. Johns High School and only recently returned from a tour of duty with

Evangelist appears at Ovid

OVID—A spiritual life crusade will be held in Ovid next Monday, Sept. 23, through Sept. 29, with services nightly at 7:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church of Ovid.

Conducting the crusade will be Rev Don C. Galehr, evangelist from Peoria, Ill., who has spent the past six years of his life leading evangelistic services throughout America. He is well-known for his dynamic presentations and has especially attracted the attention of youth wherever he has appeared.

The various crusade committees, which have been working on preparations for several months, are urging attendance of people of all faiths from throughout this area.

THINK ON THESE THINGS

A devotional message written each week by a pastor of a Clinton County church

By JUSTIN SHEPARD Minister

Duplain Church of Christ

A few days ago Robert Baker placed some material on my desk. I feel it important that more be aware of such important observations. This is not merely an alarmist talking, or someone speculating. Common logic, and an understanding of Bible prophecy could tell us the same. Please note: The average life of each of the world's great civilizations has been 200 years, and during that life it has progressed through the following sequences:

1. from bondage to spiritual faith;
2. from spiritual faith to courage;
3. from courage to liberty;
4. from liberty to abundance;
5. from abundance to selfishness;
6. from selfishness to complacency;
7. from complacency to apathy;
8. from apathy to dependency; and
9. from dependency back to bondage!

In 12 years, the United States of America will be 200 years old! Based on what has been happening in this country for a great number of years, it would appear that we are in the eighth period mentioned above. What does our country need? Perhaps here are a few good suggestions.

A LEADER LIKE MOSES, WHO refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter but was willing to go with God.

ARMY GENERALS LIKE JOSHUA, who knew God and could pray and shout things to pass rather than blow them to pieces with atomic energy.

A FOOD ADMINISTRATOR LIKE JOSEPH, who knew God and had the answer to famine.

PREACHERS LIKE PETER, who would not be afraid to look people in the eye and say, "Repent or perish" and denounce their personal as well as their national sins.

MOTHERS LIKE HANNAH, who would pray for a child that she might give him to God, rather than women who are delinquent mothers of delinquent children.

CHILDREN LIKE SAMUEL, who would talk to God in the night hours.

PHYSICIANS LIKE LUKE, who could care for physical needs and introduce their patients to Jesus Christ who is a specialist in spiritual trouble.

A GOD LIKE ISRAEL'S, instead of the "dollar god" the "entertainment god" and the "auto god."

A SAVIOUR LIKE JESUS, who could and would save from the uttermost to the uttermost.

By ROBERT ELDRIDGE
Road Clerk

Wednesday of this week is the day of the regular meeting of the board of road commissioners. The board meets regularly twice a month on the 3rd and 18th. If either of these dates fall on a weekend, then the meeting is held on the following Monday. Special meetings are held at the call of the chairman and are held at any time deemed necessary.

Anyone who wishes to bring a matter before the commission may do so on these meeting days. The only request the board has for such appearances is that, if at all possible, call ahead so that a time may be scheduled for your appearance that will be mutually convenient. If you have a matter that cannot be resolved by the management, the board is at all times ready and willing to hear individuals present their problems to them and frequently does just this.

My own big chore in getting ready for commission meetings is the preparation of bills that are to be presented for payment. The commission pays its bills twice monthly and they must all be reviewed and the vouchers signed by the members. It is my job to prepare these vouchers, making certain the bills are ones that should be paid and determining the proper allocation of the expenditure on the books of the commission. It generally takes the better part of two days work to accomplish this, for many and varied are the expenditures of a road commission.

Parts for the repair of our equipment constitute a big expense and each part paid for must be charged to the item of equipment it was used on. Verification of each load of material such as gravel, sand, asphalt and so forth must be made to see that it was actually received and just where it was used. If the material was used on a specific construction project, it is so charged -- if for the maintenance of a local or primary road, it is charged to that road and purpose and further segregation of accounts is made by keeping such road entries to the account of each township involved.

Items that cannot be specifically charged to any particular road are entered in so-called 'distributive' accounts at the end of the year. The cardinal principle involved in road commission record keeping is the fact that all expenditures must be immediately or eventually for the roads and only for the roads and the main purpose of our accounting is to show just how this is done.

PP&K clinic set for Sept. 30

A special football clinic to help area boys prepare for the annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition in St. Johns will be held Sept. 30, Director Roger Beebee announced this week.

Instructions in punting, passing and kicking, the elements of football which determine PP&K winners, will be offered during the clinic by the St. Johns High School football coaching staff, headed by Coach Jeff Smith.

The clinic is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Sept. 30 at the city park athletic field.

The local PP&K competition will be held on the same field Saturday evening, Oct. 12. Beebee said the clinic should go a long way toward putting all boys on an equal level for the competition.

"THE COACHES WILL explain the rules and show the boys the right way to get distance and accuracy in their punting, passing and kicking," he said.

Boys who aren't yet registered by that time are welcome to attend, too, Beebee pointed out, although he pointed out that an earlier registration deadline is being put into effect this year. It's Oct. 4, a week and a day ahead of the actual competition.

Registration is now taking place at Egan Ford Sales, 200 W. Higham. They're the dealer sponsors of the local competition, and the Ford Motor Co. promotes it nationally. The St. Johns Jaycees are co-sponsors of the local contest.

If the trend continues, there may be more than 400 boys registered here this year, according to Bruce Fowler of Egan's. Registrants numbered 140 in 1964, the first year of local competition, then climbed to 223 in 1965, 253 in 1966 and 329 last year.

The number of actual competitors was less in each case, but they too have showed a steady increase, from 121 in 1964 to 178 in 1965, to 228 in 1966 and to a record 282 last year.

ROGER BEEBEE

National registrations have increased every year, and over 4 million boys have participated over the seven-year span of the national contest. Officials expect over 1,100,000 registrations in 1968, compared to 916,806 in 1967.

PUNT, PASS AND Kick is open -- without charge -- to all boys 8 through 13 years of age. Each boy competes with those in his own age class in punting, passing and kicking a football. Points are given for each foot the ball goes on the fly, with points subtracted for distance away from a center line. There is no body contact involved.

Here in St. Johns 18 trophies will be awarded in the six age classes. The top finishers in each class will compete in zone, district, area and division contests that follow to produce 12 top finalists for the national PP&K competition during halftime of the NFL play-off game in Miami's Orange Bowl Jan. 5, 1969.

Assisting Beebee with plans for the Punt, Pass and Kick competition will be Dave Humenik, other Jaycees and officials of Egan's.

ACWW convention interesting, inspiring

By HELEN B. MEACH
extension Home Economist

Colorful costumes, unfamiliar foreign accents, friendly smiles—all are a part of the international gathering of over 2,000 homemakers convening at Michigan State University Campus through Sept. 14.

International understanding is in progress right at our doorstep as the Associated Country Women of the World meet for their 12th Triennial Conference.

The 2,200 voting delegates arrived in Lansing from 52 countries by plane, bus, train and a few by private car. They were greeted at each public port of arrival by homemaker members who had spent hours in preparing a warm welcome for these guests.

Members of the ACWW total more than 6 million. Member societies include the National Extension Homemakers Council, American Farm Bureau Federation, Woman's Committee, National Farm Homemakers Guild, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, Inc., New York State Federation of Home Bureaus, Missouri Women's Progressive Farmers' Association, Inc.

The conference is attended full time by official delegates, but on Sept. 5, designated as "USA Day," close to 2,000 additional homemakers attended this day's special events which were made available to them.

OFFICIAL BADGES and sashes were gleaming in a rainbow of colors; official registers named visitors from Asia; Africa; northern, western and southern Europe; the South Pacific; and many from Canada.

What a satisfaction to exchange greetings and then to learn about another's home, her country and her concerns.

This organization sets as one of its goals the furtherance of international understanding and to be a voice for a country women in international affairs.

Attending the conference as full time accredited visitors from this area are Mrs. Dora Everts, Mrs. Myra Spike, Mrs. Edna Cooley and Mrs. Mary Lou Starr. Mrs. Irah Martens, Mrs. Eleanor Thornton, Mrs. Audrey Hodge, Mrs. Laura Darling, Mrs. Mary Lou Hebel and Mrs. Edith Oberlin have hostess assignments.

Two chartered buses were scheduled to take Extension and Farm Bureau homemakers to the campus for USA Day from Gratiot County. Private cars were filled with Extension study group members attending from both Clinton and Shiawassee Counties.

Some 600 of the foreign visitors spent some time at farm homes during this Conference while others spent a day in Detroit. Many had never had any previous contact with a land grant college.

What an opportunity for "Learning to Live," which is really what this conference is all about.

PHYLLIS TRUMBULL

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Don VanNortwick of R-8, St. Johns, announce the engagement of their daughter, Phyllis Jean Trumbull, to David Hartman of 715 Clinton Street, Owosso. Hartman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Seely.

The bride-elect graduated from Rodney B. Wilson High School in 1967 and is now employed by Simplified Bookkeeping and Tax Service, Lansing.

The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Owosso High School with the class of 1964. He is presently employed at Meijers Auto Center, Lansing and has completed two years of service in the United States Army.

A Nov. 9 wedding is being planned.

CAROL ANN FELDPAUSCH

Graduates

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Feldpausch announce the graduation of their daughter, Carol Ann, from Lansing Community College Practical Nurse Program. Carol plans to start work on Sept. 30 at St. Lawrence Hospital. She was a graduate of Fowler High School in 1967.

The man who lacks faith in his ability accomplishes little.

Open Letter

from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

The desired funeral director should be called without delay, by the next of kin, immediately after death occurs.

He can begin to relieve the family of the many details and arrangements which crowd in upon them at this difficult time.

As the doctor's presence is helpful in time of illness, so too is the funeral director's presence reassuring and helpful in this hour of grief.

Respectfully,

Van W. Hoag

St. Johns girl first football contest winner

A young St. Johns girl who's been making a name for herself in swimming during recent summers made $20 for herself last week by winning the first Clinton County News Football Contest.

Cathy Stoddard, 14, of 410 W. Walker Street, missed only three of 21 selections in last week's contest to win the $20 prize outright. Everybody else missed four or more.

Cathy wrongly picked Mt. Pleasant over Alma, O'Rafferty over Waverly and St. Johns over Mason. Missing four selections each were Dennis Miller of R-2, Ovid and Owen Curtis of 206 W. Oak, Ovid.

The St. Johns Jaycees lost out in the second round of the Michigan Jaycees slow-pitch softball tournament at Battle Creek over the weekend.

St. Johns lost to a hard-hitting Farmington Jaycees team 25-3 Saturday afternoon after beating Royal Oak 8-4 in a defensively tight opening round contest.

DeWitt breaks 36-game winless streak

Panthers score safety in final seconds, win 8-6

By JIM SOULE
DeWitt High School

DeWITT—DeWitt Panthers won their season opener here by defeating the Olivet Eagles 8 to 6 Friday night. DeWitt's big play was a safety scored by Mike Ashley and Rick Cole who dropped Olivet halfback Rick Hendrick in the end zone for two points to give DeWitt the lead with one minute and 20 seconds showing on the clock.

The play came after DeWitt's tough defense pushed Olivet back from the 20 yard line to about the one.

DeWitt scored in the first quarter after the Panthers had moved from their end of the field to the Olivet 25. From there Mike Cole passed to Mike Ashley in the end zone for a touchdown. Olivet made their touchdown and tied the game in the fourth quarter when Hendrick raced 40 yards for six points.

The victory marked the end of a 36 game winless streak and the first win for all of the varsity Panthers and second-year coach Gary Roberts. Mike Ashley was the leading ground gainer for the Panthers with 46 yards. Ashley also stood out on defense with 11 tackles along with a good defensive job by Clayton Conkle.

Coach Roberts said, "It was a good team effort and they all did a great job."

Denny Theroux suffered a broken wrist and Mike Cole a badly sprained ankle. Both will be lost for the rest of the season.

Post office wins traffic safety prize

The St. Johns Post Office last week received a motor vehicle safety award for meritorious safety performance during fiscal year 1968. The award was presented by Donald L. Swanson, Chicago regional postal director.

Vehicle drivers in the St. Johns post office met the following criteria in achieving the award:

1. The accident, casualty, and cost rate per million miles driven did not exceed or was lower than the rate for the region as a whole.

2. The St. Johns Post Office maintained a no-accident rate for the 1968 fiscal year.

Postmaster J. D. Robinson announced the news to his employees with special emphasis on the fine contribution which is being made by his courteous drivers. "Courtesy is the key to good vehicle operations and to patron respect which we have earned as symbolized by this award."

"Our objective," he said "is to achieve and maintain the goals of the President's safety program—U.S. Mission Safety '70." "This goal is to reduce all accidents by 30 per cent by the end of fiscal year 1970." This year's objective on a nationwide basis is a reduction of accidents by at least 6 per cent.

Bath Bees swatted at Dansville

DANSVILLE—The Bath Bees, who'd like to repeat their 1967 football championship play during their last year in the CMAC, got off to a bad start Friday night, but it was against a non-league foe.

The Bees were snowed under 36-6 by Dansville as Micky Ream scored touchdowns on runs of six, 30 and 30 yards, Chuck Smith passed to Rod Clickner for 48 yards and a TD. Smith sneaked two yards for a TD and Chuck Carlen returned a pass interception 30 yards.

Bath final got on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter when Don Adams scored on a six-yard run.

Fowler Eagles nip Fulton in last 9 seconds

FOWLER—The Fowler Eagles came from behind with only nine seconds to play last Friday night and set their season off on a winning note by stopping Fulton's Pirates, 12-7.

What added a glint to the sparkling season opener was the Fowler squad's depth as three starters were sidelined during the contest and star quarterback Dave Moritz was out for most of three periods with an injury sustained in the initial quarter.

All scoring was confined to the second half with Fulton lighting the scoreboard first after Bill Priest electrified the crowd with a third-period run. Dick Zamarron tallied the point after touchdown.

The Eagles struck back early in the fourth period when sophomore Gene Messer, subbing for the injured Moritz, engineered a 55-yard drive that ended when Steve Feldpausch blasted four yards through the middle of the line to score. The PAT attempt was unsuccessful.

Then late in the fourth period, Moritz returned to the field and with his Eagle squad ground at their own 30 yard line, he took to the air. His final pass was made from the Pirates' four yard line and it landed in the waiting arms of Allen Pohl who made his catch count and put Fowler ahead 12-7. Again the conversion failed but the score had reached its final mark.

IN ADDITION to those two TDs, Moritz scampered into the end zone in the first period just before being hurt, but his score was nullified by a penalty, and Fowler fans were forced into the final seconds to enjoy the taste of victory.

Eagle Coach Blaine Douglas had praise for the entire squad, citing the abilities of the relievers who filled in for the injured starters. He particularly pointed out the defensive play of linemen Les Kohagen, Fred Epkey, Bill Armbrustmacher, Gary Feldpausch, and Tom Pigot and credited this quintet with keeping Fulton well contained through the game.

The depth of the squad was heartening to Coach Douglas and he praised the "younger kids" for "coming through very well."

And it often happens that the man who contradicts himself turns out to be right.

Mason shut door, 14-7, despite Wings' efforts

Mike Green (40), St. Johns fullback, sneaked out along the sidelines and caught this pass from quarterback Tim Durner but was tackled immediately by Art Starr (21) of Mason. Mason won the Friday night game 14-7.

Michigan State has a history of unusual placekickers from soccer style to barefoot, and sophomore Gary Boyce of St. Johns is right in the tradition. Left-footed kickers are a rarity in football, so Gary, who probably will be the key Spartan placekicker for the 1968 season should have little trouble attracting attention on the gridiron.

Left-footed kickers are a rarity in football, so Gary, who probably will be the key Spartan placekicker for the 1968 season should have little trouble attracting attention on the gridiron. Head coach Duffy Daugherty has always placed a lot of importance on the kicking game, and this has kept Boyce busy during the first days of practice. Gary's only competition will come from Ed Rosenberg, another sophomore.

At 5-7, 170 pounds, Boyce is the smallest player on the team, but surprises people with the power of his kicks. When at St. Johns High School he booted a 45-yard field goal, which is only four yards short of the Michigan State record held by Hawaiian Dick Kenney.

In the Sept. 7 major stadium scrimmage he clicked on seven straight extra points and did the kickoffs.

LINEBACKER coach Dave Smith has been working with Boyce on his kicking and says of Gary: "He has great concentration and has the potential to develop into a topnotch placekicker."

Boyce demonstrated his ability as an all-around athlete by having a fine spring with the freshman baseball team, and was elected honorary captain at the end of the season. While playing in a summer league, Gary batted .344. A physical education major with a Spanish minor, Boyce would like to play pro baseball after graduation and eventually teach Spanish and coach.

He is the son of Mr and Mrs James R. Boyce of 705 N. Oakland, St. Johns.

Deaths from premature heart and circulatory diseases cost the nation about $1 billion a year in wages, with another $830.4 million lost from disabilities, it was determined by a recent study, according to the Michigan Heart Assn.

St. Johns had trouble finding the right combination on the Mason padlock Friday night and wound up losing a 14-7 decision to the Mason Bulldogs in the first football game of the season.

It wasn't a case of playing bad football. The Redwings maintained a clear-cut offensive edge in just about every department except scoring. They ran 64 plays in the last three quarters alone, compared to 35 plays by Mason.

It was two explosive runs by Mason backs that spelled the difference. Craig Webster, a senior halfback, scored Mason's first touchdown with a 41-yard romp around the left side of the St. Johns line at 6:43 in the second period. The extra point on a pass from Webster to end Steve Reeser tied the game at 7-7.

Then, two series of plays later, quarterback Mike Johnson rolled out to his left looking to pass from his own 40, decided to run, and with two key blocks and some clever footwork went all the way. Webster passed to Reeser again for the extra point, and that was the scoring for the ballgame.

ST. JOHNS KEPT the pressure on Mason throughout the game, and had their last threat still going with a minute to play. But as happened several times before, the Redwings lost the ball on downs after reaching the 10 yard line of Mason.

Defensive and offensive pressure on Mason resulted in the only St. Johns touchdown of the night in the first quarter. St. Johns had driven inside the 10 only to lose the ball on a fumble, but then they got it back on the 4 after recovering a Mason miscue. Two plays later quarterback Tim Durner flipped a pass into the end zone, and end Jon Berkhausen clutched it for a touchdown. Jeff Sillm kicked the extra point. That all happened with 3:06 left in the first quarter, and the 7-0 lead held up until Webster's 40-yard run some 8 1/2 playing minutes later.

Many St. Johns fans didn't see the Redwings' only touchdown. The game started at 7:30 instead of the usual 8 o'clock, and most fans - including four spectator buses of high school students - didn't arrive until about 7:45. Many of them didn't get into the field until after the Redwings had scored.

But they got to see several other Redwing threats. The first came after Mason's tying touchdown. St. Johns picked up two first downs in moving from their own 41 behind the running of Mike Green and Chuck Romig. But the drive stopped at the 20 when halfback Chuck Green was shoved out of bounds six inches short of a first down on a fourth-down play.

Three plays later Terry Maier intercepted a Mason pass, and St. Johns marched back 34 yards, keyed by passes from Durner to Dave Gaffney and Berkhausen. But St. Johns fumbled the ball away on the Mason 40, and that set the stage for Johnson's 60-yard run that spelled defeat for the Redwings.

Carson City falls to P-W

CARSON CITY - Coach Bill Marks hasn't had much comment on his Pewamo-Westphalia Pirates' prospects for the coming football season, but the Pirates handled the situation well Friday night in defeating Carson City-Crystal 13-6 in the first game of the year.

Trailing 6-0 in the third period, P-W's Mike Miller passed to Tom Barker for 23 yards and a touchdown, and Bill Freund kicked the extra point to put the Pirates ahead. Freund added a little insurance with a one-yard plunge in the fourth quarter.

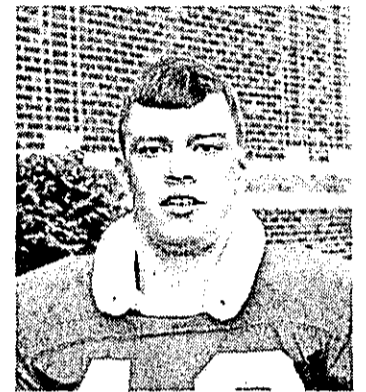

Carson City had been the first team to score. They got a first-period touchdown on a 21-yard pass from Sid Mosley to Tim Pelifer.

THE SECOND HALF was scoreless, although St. Johns kept knocking. They put together a march of 73 yards after recovering a Mason fumble on the St. Johns 23. Passes from Durner to Berkhausen and Sillm and runs by Chuck Green and Mike Green accounted for five first downs before steam ran out, and St. Johns lost the ball on downs at the Mason 5.

Another St. Johns drive got under way with about 4 1/2 minutes left in the game. It started at the St. Johns 45, got backtracked temporarily, then got some help from a Mason roughing-the-passer penalty at the Mason 40 on a fourth-down pass.

Mason broke up a Maier-to-Berkhausen pass in the end zone with 2 minutes to go, but then Maier picked up six yards and a first-down on a fourth-down play. That got the ball to the 16, but runs by Maier and Mike Green could crack the Mason line only to the 10, and a fourth-down pass fell incomplete.

ST. JOHNS 'BACK OF THE WEEK' Mike Green, St. Johns fullback wearing 1940, was Coach Jeff Smith's choice as back of the week. Mike carried the ball 18 times against Mason and picked up 84 yards, an average of 4.7 yards per carry. In addition he made nine unassisted tackles on defense and was credited with helping out on two others.

Laingsburg slips by Byron 12-9

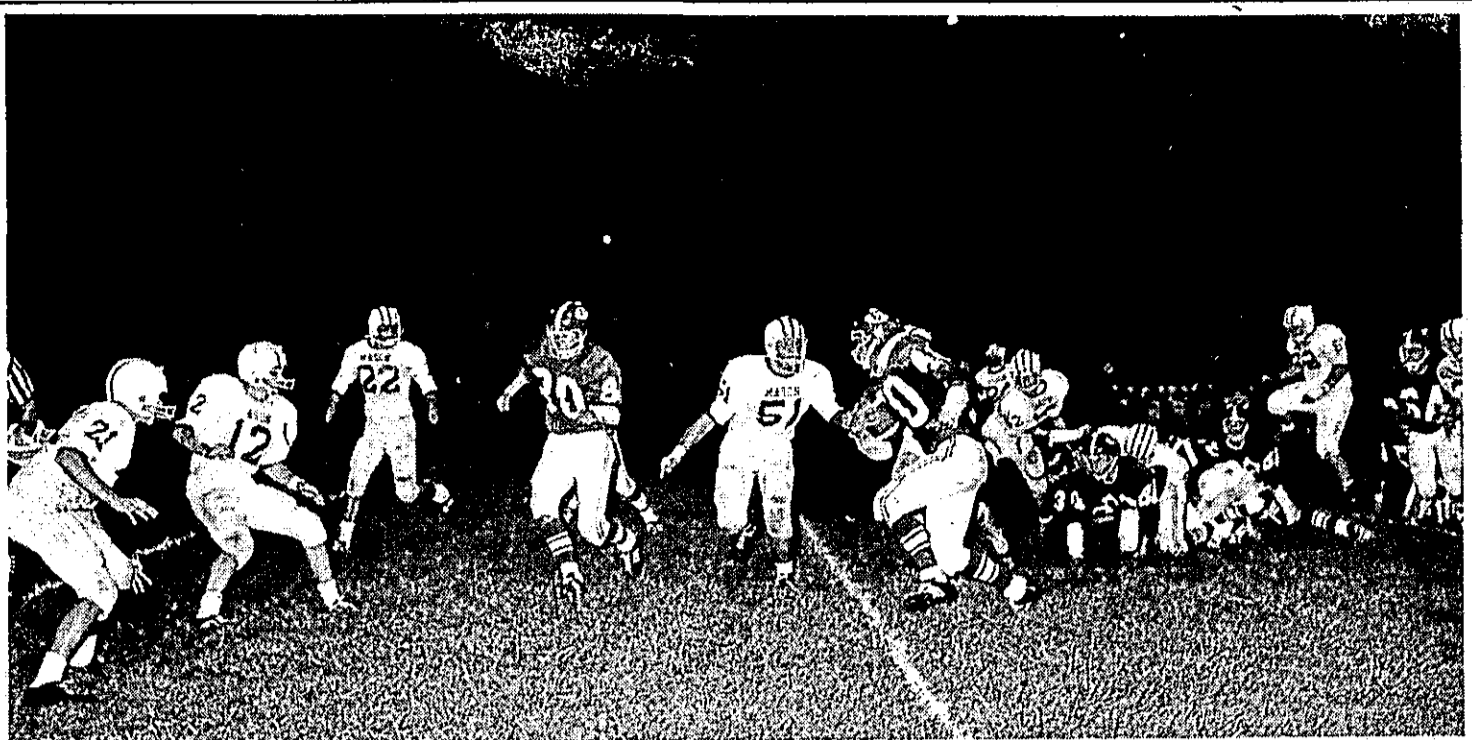

BYRON-Laingsburg survived a safety and a Byron touchdown in the second half to salvage a 12-9 victory in their opening football encounter Friday night. The padding for the victory was in the form of two first-half touchdowns. Gary Koenter got the first one with a six-yard run, and later in the second quarter Ray Curtis passed to Dick Divine for 23 yards and another TD that helped out on two others.

ASHLEY-Roger Evans intercepted a pass and ran it back 80 yards for an Ashley touchdown a minute before the first half ended Friday night, but that was about the only bright spot for the Bears. Ashley dropped a 26-6 decision to Beal City. Three of Beal City's touchdowns came on punt returns of 57, 65 and 77 yards by Jim Yunker.

Mike Green (40) of St. Johns wants to run, but he's not getting too much support from Mason players who surround him and a lone blocker, Gary Crawly (80), during the second quarter Friday night. Other St. Johns players identifiable are Jon Berkhausen (81) and Norm Moinet (64). Mason players include Art Starr (21), Mike Johnson (12), Craig Webster (22), Walt Bodell (51) and Chuck Maddix (52). St. Johns lost the game 14-7.

ST. JOHNS 'LINEMAN OF THE WEEK' End Jon Berkhausen, who wears No. 81 for the Redwings, was named the lineman of the week on the strength of his seven pass receptions during the Mason game. The catches accounted for 84 yards gained and one touchdown. Defensively he made three unassisted tackles and got credit for an assist with another.

Australian, Canadian visit area

The Associated Country Women of the World recently held their tri-annual conference at Michigan State University, and on family visit day Sept. 8 the William Kemp family of R-1, Laingsburg entertained two visitors.

Mr and Mrs Kemp and sons Billy, Phillip, Randy and Chris were hosts to Mrs Clara Hughes of Middle, Saskatchewan, Canada, and Mrs Eveline Hennessey of Brisbane, Queensland, Australia.

Mr and Mrs Hughes own 1 1/2 sections of land in the prairie section of Canada. Middle is the same size as Laingsburg. Their chief crop is wheat, some barley and oats. They don't grow winter wheat but a hard wheat like in Kansas. They also raise 40 white face cattle. While she attended the conference her husband and three married sons were combining the wheat. They receive a guaranteed price from the Canadian government.

They have six grandchildren, one of whom is an adopted Indian girl. Mrs Hughes traveled by plane from Saskatoon to Windsor, then by chartered bus to campus with the Saskatchewan Farmers Union Group.

Mrs Hennessey now resides in Brisbane with almost 1 million population. Australia's population is the same as Detroit's six million.

Mrs Hennessey and her late husband managed a 100,000-acre sheep station in the north central section of Queensland. They bought all their feed when prices were low and stored it in an airplane hangar because of the volume. Traveling from one place to another on the station was done in a small four-place plane. She has flown in every type of aircraft and loves it.

HER HUSBAND built five dams to help store up the water for the drought season. One was so large that it held enough water to get them through a five-year drought.

During the rainy season the mud is so deep they used four-wheel drive vehicles and traveled in pairs in order to pull each other out as they became mired. Mrs Hennessey has two married daughters, several grandchildren and had never been out of Queensland. Her group left Australia July 24 by ship. They had guided tours wherever the ship docked. They shopped in Hong Kong, Tokyo and Hawaii. On the way to Tokyo she got seasick when they were caught in the tail end of a typhoon which had hit Japan earlier. They landed at Vancouver, B. C.

The Kemps gave their guests a tour of Laingsburg and its schools. They were interested in the trailer units for the lower grades. Then they attended the services at the First Congregational Church of Laingsburg.

The dinner was the Kemps' traditional Thanksgiving Day dinner, showing their own customs. Mrs Hennessey had never eaten or seen cranberries or saffron buns.

After dinner came a trip to Jones Orchard near Laingsburg. Mrs Hennessey's husband had seen an apple tree but never an apple growing on one. Claude Jones explained the storage units and the controlled atmosphere conditions for the longer life of the apples. Mrs Hughes said that they could buy Michigan apples in her part of Canada but there were no commercial orchards there.

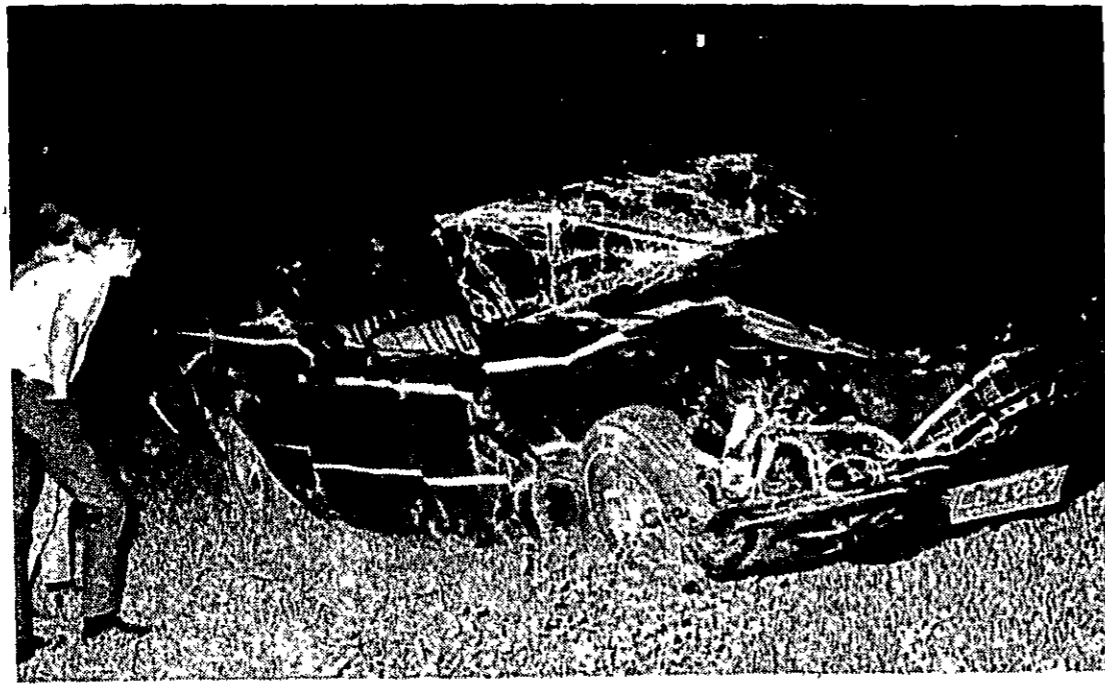

Shown next were the nut trees which are common in our area. They had never seen black walnuts or hickory nuts and enjoyed their flavor. Mrs Hughes said that canned pop was just becoming popular in their town. Then came a visit to the man-made Lake Victoria. They had heard of soy beans but never saw a field of them.

Supper was a casual affair, a cook-out.

Other guests for the cookout were Mr and Mrs M. C. Moore and son Robert, and Dennis Snyder, all of Laingsburg. Mrs Kemp's father, Lloyd Matthews of Lansing, was guest for the day.

"Dog Days"

"Dog days" as a term for the warmest period of summer goes back to the time when the ancients studied the stars. They observed that Sirius, known as the Dog Star, rose with the sun just before midsummer and thus associated it with the driest, hottest time of the year.

4-H Club Chatter

By JOHN AYLWORTH
Extension 4-H Youth Agent

"Learning to Serve—Join a 4-H Club" is the theme of the National 4-H Club Week Oct. 6-12 as over 3 million 4-H members throughout the country join in the celebration. 4-H is more than a 4-H clover and a project; 4-H is young people who learn to build for tomorrow.

Many people feel that 4-H is only for the rural boys and girls. This is not so today, as nearly 50 per cent of the members are from rural non-farm and cities. Many projects show 4-H has gone urbanized and provide interest to the non-farm member such as weather, plant science, automotive, vet science, electricity, cultural arts, handicraft, recreation, indoor gardening, passport and many others. Clothing and knitting are very popular with both the city and rural members.

4-H is for all youth between the ages of 10 and 18. A boy or girl who will be at least 10 years of age before Sept. 30, 1969, can join up for the fall program. There are no dues to join a 4-H club. The only cost is for the project you select to take and if your club votes to have dues. You might say a 4-H club is a little democracy as they elect their own officers, plan their own program of activities, and select what project they find interesting.

Adults serve as volunteer leaders in the local club in the capacity as organizational leader, project leader or activity leader. In Clinton County over 250 adult leaders serve 1,500 different boys and girls in over 60 different clubs. If you would like to serve as a 4-H club leader contact the Cooperative Extension Service Office at 1003 S. Oakland Street in St. Johns.

Join the bandwagon, as 4-H has a place for you. If you would like to enroll in a 4-H club, contact your nearest 4-H club leader or contact the Extension Service office. If you would like, why not get a group of boys and girls your own age and form your own club. One of your parents could serve as the leader. I'll be glad to talk to your group and explain what the 4-H club program is about. Don't miss out on the winter program as the deadline for enrollment is Nov. 1.

Our congratulations go out to Bill Mack of the We-Hah-Kay-Asia 4-H club near Ovid on his excellent showing at state show in the Arabian horse section. Bill won the reserve champion horsemanship, was in the top five in fitting and showing and in the top 10 in western pleasure. Announcing your next car:

It can surround you with a fuselage.
A sweeping new design where body and frame are one.

Three Hundred 2-Door Hardtop

The great new Chrysler.

Your next car can be a gently curving line of tempered glass and steel that sweeps quietly around you. A molded shell of stressed skin and thousands of miniature welds.

Your next car can have a cockpit. Instead of just a seat and a dashboard.

Your next car can provide a controlled environment where man creates his own climate and the perimeter of the cockpit blots away the murmur of road and wind.

Your next car can cater with soft seats fitted to the contours of your body, and memory systems that complement your driving habits.

Your next car is 15 choices, but only one shape.

★ IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my beloved husband, Leonard C. Bradley, who passed away one year ago, Sept. 19, 1967: I have lost my soul's companion, A life linked with my own. And day by day I miss him more, As I walk through life alone. My lips cannot tell how I miss him, My heart cannot tell what to say. God alone knows how I miss him, In a home that is lonesome today. —His wife, Helen. 21-1p

In memory of my daddy who passed away one year ago, Sept. 19, 1967: He bid no one a last farewell, He said goodbye to none. His loving heart had ceased to beat, Before I knew it, he was gone.

Every day I sadly miss him, Deeply I feel my loss, Lonely I am without him, Help me, God, to bear by cross. —Your daughter, Butch. 21-1p

In loving memory of my dear father, Leonard Bradley, who passed away 1 year ago today; Sept. 19, 1967: Oh, what would I give to clasp his hand, His dear, kind face to see, To hear his voice, to see his smile, That meant so much to me.

His spirit has fled, His suffering is o'er; At the fireside he will join us no more. There is not a day, dear father, That I do not think of you. Sadly missed by your daughter and son-in-law, Sharon and Jerry Reha. 21-1p

In memory of our beloved grandpa, Leonard Bradley, who passed away 1 year ago, Sept. 19, 1967: We cannot clasp your hand, grandpa dear, Your face we cannot see; But let this little token tell, That we still remember thee. Your three grandchildren; David, Chris, and Jodie Reha. 21-1p

By Lucille Spencer

Mr and Mrs R.A. Broccl and son, Michael, of Champaign, Illinois were recent callers of her grandfather, John Spencer and Mrs Spencer.

Morningstar Chapter 279, OES of Ovid, met in regular session on Tuesday evening, Sept. 10, with Worthy Matron, Mary Lott, presiding in the East. There were the usual reports, and the September letter from the Worthy Grand Matron and Patron.

The charter was draped for sister, Willy Lang. Mrs Lang, if I am not mistaken was one of the charter members of Morningstar Chapter and its oldest past matron. She was a wiry little person, also very independent. The brief memorial service was a special prayer offered by Christine Snyder, and a special reading by Mary Lott.

The next meeting will be on Tuesday, Oct. 1, due to the meeting of Grand Chapter on the regular meeting date. Chapter closed informally and refreshments were served in the dining room.

The general meeting of the Shepardsville WSCS will be on Thursday evening Sept. 19, at the church at 8 p.m. The Berean Circle will have charge of the program. Mrs Charles Hazel will tell of their trip to the British Honduras when they helped prepare the Methodist College at Belize for the new school year. The ladies of the community are all invited to hear of the kind of work that an ordinary layman can do, Mrs Hazel is a very interesting speaker.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship, the Methodist Men and the Women's Society of Christian Service are all working together to plan an all Church Bazaar to be held at the Shepardsville United Methodist Church on Sept. 26, 1968. There will be a Smorgasbord Supper, featuring ham and fried chicken with all the trimmings. There will be a candy booth, a mystery booth, and a bake sale and canned goods booth. This event's total proceeds will be used towards retiring the debt on our new Education Building. There will be a Free Will Offering Come One! Come All! Enjoy yourself at the church. Meet your friends and neighbors. Bring someone with you.

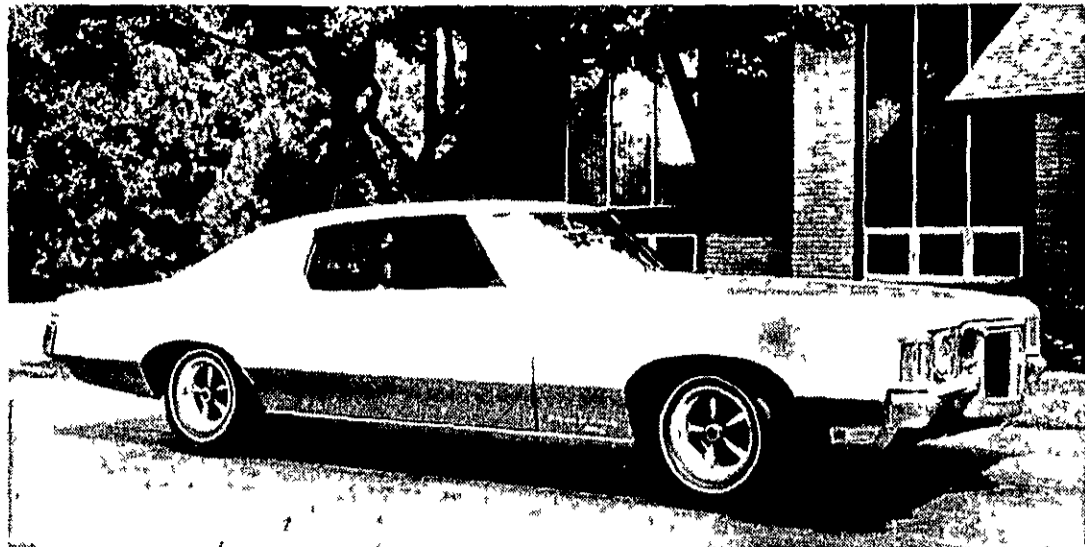

Mr and Mrs John Spencer were dinner guests of Mr and Mrs Guy Cox of Lansing. The occasion was for Mr Spencer's birthday which occurred on Tuesday, Sept. 17.

Removal of prejudices exchange student's goal

By MRS JAMES BURNHAM
Staff Correspondent

"I think that I shall be able to remove prejudices in the USA as well as in Germany and that I shall use this opportunity to extend my horizon in the right way..." are the closing words of the personal statement written with her application to Youth For Understanding by Susanne London of Hamburg, Germany, who is spending this year with the James Burnham family of North Scott Road, St. Johns.

Here Susanne has three brothers, Michael of Villa Park, Illinois, John, a sophomore at Michigan State University and Jeff in 3rd grade at Eureka and two sisters, Pat, a Department Secretary at Michigan State University, Lansing and Coni, a sophomore at St. Johns High School.

Since knowing Susanne was coming last May and through correspondence between the families, all of the Burnhams feel like she was part of their family even before she arrived in Detroit Aug. 23.

Susanne is attending St. Johns High School as a senior and is studying French, Math, English, American History and Government and plans to participate in concert band with her flute when the football season is over. Susanne writes:

I am a foreign exchange student from Germany. I came over to the United States on the "Youth For Understanding" program Aug. 23 and I shall stay for a whole year. It has always been my dream to visit America and I am very glad that I have this opportunity now. Hamburg, the city where I come from, has about 1.8 million inhabitants, so it is quite a change for me to live in the countryside now but I enjoy it very much. My family consists of my parents, my sister, Annette, 13, my brother Matthias, 12 and me. I am 17 years old.

I am interested in foreign languages and countries. I have been studying English for six years, Latin for four years, Russian for two years and French for several months at my school. I attend a Lutheran private school in Hamburg. Since I was eight years old my family traveled to Denmark almost every summer. In summer 1966 I had my first experience with young foreigners in Coventry, England. There I took part in a so called "Service and Study Program", which was a meeting of about 50 students from the USA and some European countries. Our program consisted of Bible study, discussions and social work in the congregation of the famous Coventry Cathedral. In 1967 I went to a similar meeting in Agape, Italy. There were about 100 young people there and in four seminars we discussed race problems, foreign policy of the USA, university reforms and problems of poverty. The participants of that program came from the USA and Europe (mainly Germany, Switzerland and Italy). To both experiences I went with a small youth group of my parish, an Evangelic Lutheran one.

This summer, shortly before I left, we arranged an international ecumenical work camp in our congregation. We spent most of our days with social works and discussions on the problems of the Third World. At all those meetings, my wish, to participate in a greater program, increased. So in the last Sept. I applied for becoming an exchange student and I am so happy that I was chosen. Besides languages and traveling I'm interested in literature, drawing, theatre and music. I play the concert flute and the piano and I am going to attend the concert band, at St. Johns High School in November. When I get back in Germany, I'll have to go to school another one and one-half years as our High School lasts 13 years. Afterwards I'll probably, study languages at a University.

It is almost 4 weeks now since I entered the US and this is surely not enough time to get a comprehensive impression, but it was enough for me to discover a lot of differences. Our school system, for example, is much different. We have three kinds of school, a "Volk-School" lasting only nine years, a "Mittel-School" lasting ten years and a "High School" or "Gymnasium" lasting thirteen years. Only those who have attended the high school are allowed to study at a university. We cannot choose our subjects. We are in one class nearly all the time and we are together with the same students, we have the same subjects, which are thirteen altogether: Religion, Geography, History, German, English, French, Biology, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, sports, art and music. Besides we can take part in some extra-curricular activities, as I do in Russian and Latin. The school day here seems pretty long for me because we go to school only from 7:50 a.m. to 1:20 p.m. and on Saturdays to 11:15. The classes last only 45 minutes and we have a break after each class for at least ten minutes. We get assignments too, but as we don't have each subject each day, we don't have to do everything for the next day. In Germany we don't have clothes regulations at most schools. Girls wear slacks at school.

German food is much different too. We have a warm meal for lunch. In the morning and in the evening we eat bread with jam or meat and drink coffee, tea or milk, but even our bread is different. In the afternoon we use to have some cake and coffee. We are allowed to drink beer and to smoke when we are 16, but we cannot get a driver's license until we are 18. Our football games are not as rough as American football. Football is quite another game in Europe and the players don't have to wear helmets. The ball is round and you can see it most of the time because the players are not allowed to touch it with their hands. We don't have any cheerleaders either.

In Germany people walk much more. It seems to me that everyone here has a car. So you see a lot more people in the street. Our TV program has commercials too, but they are grouped together for about ten minutes several times and they never interrupt a show. That's why I prefer watching German TV. It has been very interesting for me to realize all these differences and I'm sure I'll discover a lot more during the time I live here. I am very glad to be here and already I've met many kind and helpful people, especially my American family, and I'm looking forward to this coming year. I feel I'll enjoy it very much!

Banns of marriage were published for the first time for Edgar Thelen and Mary Ann Smith both of Fowler.

Mrs Lula Boak spent from Tuesday to Saturday at the home of her daughter Mr and Mrs Vernon Benjamin while they vacationed in Northern Michigan.

Mrs Hillary Hafner, Mrs Ivan Fink and son Michael visited Mr and Mrs Thomas Cusick of Ionia last Tuesday.

Mr and Mrs Alfred Halfmann and Mr and Mrs Harold Armbrustmacher vacationed last week by visiting St. Anne's Shrine in Quebec.

The Lebanon Ladies Aide will meet at the home of Mrs Angela Sillman, Wednesday Sept. 25.

BONDS TO BE SOLD

The Fowler Board of Education met at the High School last Thursday evening. After the usual routine business, it was announced that Sept. 10th, the board had received the final approval from Municipal Finance on the bonds for the new elementary school. The bonds will be sold Oct. 3rd. It is hoped that bids can be opened on or about Oct. 28th. The award will be announced within a week of the opening.

The Fowler Busy Bees had their September meeting last Thursday evening. Officers for the coming year are: Ann Arens, president; LuAnn Harr, vice-president; Maureen McKean, secretary; Randy Simmon, treasurer; Judy Fedewa, club reporter. The former president, Lois Miller showed slides of her Paul VanElls, son of Mr and Mrs Richard VanElls entered Harper Hospital in Detroit last Thursday. He underwent surgery last Friday and is expected to be home before the end of this week.

Mr and Mrs Roman Geller are parents of a baby boy born Sept. 14.

The Knoop reunion was held at the Fowler Conservation Park Sunday.

HOW DOES IT FEEL?

... To be 89 the same day your granddaughter turns 18 on Friday the 13th.

Roxanne Bradley says "It's great, exciting, and a wonderful kind of feeling." Especially so when you have a granddaughter as active and informative as Harry Bradley.

With no time for a vacation this year, he's painted his house and landscaped the yard. Harry does all his own housework and cooks his own meals. He's lived in St. Johns for 61 years and in his present home at 800 N. Clinton Avenue for 45 years.

Active all his life, he's been a real estate agent and notary public for 68 years; a member of the Masonic Blue Lodge for 55 years; in Knights Templar No. 24 for 45 years; city treasurer three years; judge three years; city commissioner and mayor six years; secretary of the Chamber of Commerce three years; and he's enjoyed every minute of it.

Harry's voted in every election since William McKinley and once managed the Clinton County campaign for Theodore Roosevelt. His formula for good health "Never smoke or drink alcohol and eat one cooked onion every day; it keeps the doctor away." He's a father of six children, including two sets of twin boys. Harry now has 14 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

Roxanne's comment on all this "I wish he'd quit telling people I'm older than he is."

The Confraternity of Christian Mothers are having a Smorgasbord Dinner Oct. 12 from 5 to 7 p.m.

The Cub Scouts are in need of a Cub Master; two Den Mothers; two Den Mothers Assistants; and one Webelos Leader (man). If interested please call Mrs Stanley Platte.

A Cana Conference will be held Sunday afternoon, Sept. 29 from 12:30 to 5 p.m. at Holy Trinity Hall. The theme of the Conference is "Parent Child Relationship."

Red Cross still needs items for gift bags

The Mid-Michigan chapter of the American Red Cross will be filling Christmas gift bags for United States servicemen in Vietnam. They need small gift items. Mrs Edward Prowant, president of the local Red Cross Volunteers, said the Mid-Michigan chapter has a quota of 1,600 filled bags.

The bags themselves are being made, some by local organizations, according to Red Cross specifications, of dark red or green denim.

Last week's paper gave the wrong address for Mrs Prowant. Items to be donated could be left at her home at 3330 N. US-27 or at the Clinton County News office.

City Brevities

The St. Johns Morning Musicales will hold its opening coffee on Thursday, Sept. 26 at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs Robert Dittner at 1008 Hampshire Drive. Mr and Mrs R. J. Butler have sold their home at 207 S. Mead Street, and their new address is 372 E. Shore Drive, Eight Point Lake, Lake Michigan.

Mr and Mrs Burton Wilson of Palm Springs, Calif., were guests three days last week of Miss Birdaline Smith. Mrs Wilson was the former Mildred Davis and lived in St. Johns years ago. Wednesday they all visited Mrs Wilson's cousin and wife, Mr and Mrs Don Rahl in Lansing.

Brenda Fox of 413 N. Elm Street spent Sept. 11 and 12 on the Central Michigan University campus for pre-registration and orientation. She'll be a freshman there when classes start later this month...

F-M workers reject union

Federal - Mogul employees again this year turned down a bid for union representation.

In a two-day election last Wednesday and Thursday, F-M workers voted 255-214 against representation by the United Auto Workers. The vote, however, has not been certified and probably won't be official until later this week.

Bloodmobile at Ovid today

The annual visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile has been scheduled for the Ovid and Elsie area today (Thursday) according to Mrs Adra Wittenberg of Ovid and Mrs Earl Slagh of Elsie, co-chairmen.

People from this area have always been generous when asked to give, especially the people from the Michigan Milk Producers Assn., and the Federal-Mogul Corp. who can give again.

The bloodmobile will be set up from noon to 6 p.m. at the Veterans' Hall in Ovid.

News About Clinton County Service Personnel

Fireman Apprentice CHESTER F. BORTON JR., USN, 18, son of Mr and Mrs Chester F. Borton Sr. of 215 E. Oak, Ovid, is serving aboard the fleet oiler USS Caliente which has returned to her homeport of Long Beach, Calif., following a seven and one-half month deployment to the Western Pacific. During the cruise the ship steamed enough miles to circumnavigate the earth twice while refueling ships of four nations in both hemispheres.

Middlebury Church now celebrating 95th year

Special services will be held this Sunday, Sept. 22, at the Middlebury United Methodist Church as the congregation invites former members and friends of the church to the homecoming and rededication of the church on its 95th birthday.

The morning service is at 11:30 when District Supt. Rev Hugh White will bring the message and dedicate the memorials. A cooperative dinner will follow with potatoes, meat, rolls and coffee furnished. Those attending the dinner should bring their own table service and a passing dish. Guests and members with guests will be served first.

Following the dinner the afternoon program will begin at 3 p.m. Rev Clyde Moore will be the speaker and there will be special music. All interested persons are cordially invited to attend.

Middlebury Little Methodist Church, a typical, little white rural church surrounded by its stately trees is located south and east of Ovid on Hibbard Road. The celebration will be for the 95th anniversary of the building itself and the 130th anniversary of the first religious services in the community.

The church was started in 1872 as the farmers with oxen and horses drew the lumber from Potter's Mill, a distance of 20 miles. It was dedicated June 29, 1873; total cost of construction was $2,564.27

On July 18, 1883, the church bell was ordered. The bell was completely mounted as a swing bell with 40 feet of rope. The price was $225. Today the same bell would cost $1,880. It weighed 900 pounds, was 34 inches in diameter and was composed of all virgin copper and tin. Due to the weight of the bell the wagon had to be re-enforced with heavy timbers and raising it to the belfry was a dangerous task, but with scaffolding, ropes and the help of many men the bell was put in place and its beautiful tones could be heard for miles around. In 1925 lightning struck and destroyed the church steeple, and it was never replaced.

Through the years many improvements have been made to the church, including digging out the basement for a kitchen and dining room which doubles as class rooms in 1948, and building an annex for the addition of modern rest rooms in 1963. Early this year, major remodeling was started on the sanctuary, which included extending the platform, dry wall, painting, refinishing the woodwork, a new window, new lights, new carpeting, new pews and a new piano, all of which was made possible through generous gifts and memorials. Many of the members have given of their time, and talents as well to help get the job done. In process now is the installation of two new furnaces and remodeling of the basement.

Pewamo

By MRS. IRENE FOX, Correspondent—Phone 824-2021

Clare Schneider Jr. son of Mr and Mrs Clare Schneider Sr. left Tuesday for Viet Nam for his next assignment. Clare had been home for a thirty day furlough. On Sunday, Sept. 8 a pot luck supper was served at the home of his sister and brother-in-law, Mr and Mrs Fredrick Wood. Those present were, Mr and Mrs Clare Schneider Sr., his parents. His grandparents Mrs Eva Wohlscheld and Mr and Mrs Louise Schneider; Mr and Mrs Donald Schneider of Westphalia, Mr and Mrs Vern McQueen of Fowler, Mr and Mrs Larry Keffer of Carson, Mr and Mrs Michael Schneider, Mr and Mrs Robert Ringle of Lansing, Mr and Mrs Bob Cole of Fowler, Mr and Mrs Mark Klein of Westphalia, Mr and Mrs Tom Bohlen of Carson and their families, David Schneider, Donna Schneider and friend Leon Nurenburg, Dotty Schneider, and friend of Clare, Mr and Mrs Clem Schneider and Mr and Mrs Roy Cook of Fowler.

Mr and Mrs Henry J. Schafer and family were present at a birthday dinner honoring Mrs Schafer's mother, Mrs Joseph Howarth at Saranac.

The Tri-County crown was won by—Pewamo for the third year in a row. They defeated Belding in the third game of the best two out of three, 2 to 1, scoring two runs in the bottom of the ninth inning before one of the largest crowds to see a Tri-County baseball game in the history of the league.

It was estimated over 400 persons attended. A scoreless pitching duel between Pewamo Bill Werner and Belding's Cug Hawley was broken in at the top of the eighth inning, when Norm Hill blasted a home run for Belding. In the bottom of the ninth Pewamo's leadoff batter struck out, Hawley walked the next four hitters forcing in the tying run. After pitching one ball to the next batter Dave Mahar replaced Hawley. With the count one and one, Mike Miller of Pewamo laid down a perfect squeeze bunt to send over the winning run for Pewamo. Pewamo in its winning effort could only touch Hawley for two hits. Bill Werner the winning pitcher gave up five hits.

The high caliber of ball in this championship game was indicative of the brand of baseball played in Tri-County league, one reason perhaps why major league scouts attended at least one game in the league every weekend.

Rev Father Phillip Cook of Dowagiac spent Wednesday with his sister, Marie Cook.

Cornelia Schrauben, daughter Mary Ellen and son Carl were recent Sunday guests of her sister and brother-in-law Mr and Mrs Carlton Brooks at Sault Ste. Marie.

Mrs Henry J. Schafer spent Thursday afternoon with her sister-in-law and brother Mr and Mrs Charles Horworth of rural Ionia.

Mr and Mrs Jerry Kramer of Portland and formerly of Pewamo are parents of a new son born Wednesday, Sept. 11. Weighing 8 pounds the new arrival has 4 sisters Joanne, Cathy, Jeane and Karon and three brothers Doug, Fred, and Kenneth.

Mr and Mrs Clyde Shoemaker are visiting Mr and Mrs Phillip Schlska at Republic.

Marie Simon daughter of Mr and Mrs Norbert Simon left Sunday after a two week's vacation at home. She will be at Ferris College at Big Rapids.

Ronald Simon son of Mr and Mrs Norbert Simon was among the lucky ones at the Labor Day cash give-away at the Fowler Conservation Club — Ronald received a check for $250.00 Mr and Mrs Corey Vance were recent visitors of their sister and husband Mr and Mrs Roy Stout of Muir.

Sister Marie Dianne of Grand Rapids spent Friday night and Saturday with her mother Hilda Schafer and relatives.

Mr and Mrs Joseph J. Fox received word by letter from Herman Wieber at Saginaw hospital stating he is slowly improving and is now able to be up and walk. He will still be there for some time.

The Pewamo-Westphalia played their first football game of the season Friday night, playing at Carson City and winning over the Eagles 13 to 6.

Mrs Ford Burns of Carson and her mother Mrs Katherine Geller attended the funeral of Mrs Geller's sister-in-law Mrs Elizabeth M. Lenneman, 72 at Portland Tuesday morning at St. Patrick's church.

Mr and Mrs Jerry Fox and family were supper guest of Mrs Anna Schmitt of Westphalia Sunday.

Mr and Mrs Cliff Gee of Hamilton and their mother, Mrs Ethel Gee were dinner guests of Mr and Mrs Mark Wieber and family at Fowler Sunday.

Linda Kramer will be going to Ferris State College at Big Rapids this fall.

Joan and Jane Kramer are enjoying a week or ten days in Hawaii.

Sister Michael Jean of Marywood Grand Rapids recently enjoyed a visit with her parents and family Mr and Mrs Clem Kramer.

Edward Droste who is making his home with his son and family Mr and Mrs Charles Droste of Riverside Drive at Ionia has sold his home on East Lincoln in Pewamo.

A Cana Conference is scheduled for the afternoon of Sept. 29—at Holy Trinity School Hall in Fowler at 12:30 p.m. The theme "Parent Child Relationship." Everyone is invited.

Many from Pewamo attended the funeral services Tuesday for Mrs Elizabeth M. Lenneman, 72 who passed away at her home at 314 Church St., Portland, Friday evening. She is survived by her husband, Edward M. Lenneman, four sons Gerald and Ronald of Portland, Edward J. of Westphalia and Eugene of Lansing; four daughters, Mrs William Fox and Mrs Betty Honsowitz both of Portland, Mrs Esther Nurenberg of Pewamo and Mrs Joanne McCloud of Lansing, 35 grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren; and one sister Mrs Anna Belen of Westphalia. Funeral services were at 10 a.m. Tuesday at St. Patrick's church in Portland. Bearers were Daniel and Gary Lenneman Joseph Honsowitz, Kenneth Nurenberg, and James Fox. Interment in Portland Cemetery. The body reposed at the Neller Funeral Home in Portland.

By Mrs Neva Keys

Newlyweds Mr and Mrs Dallas A. Woodworth are enroute to the Hemisfair, San Antonio, Tex., following their wedding Saturday afternoon at the Elsie First Baptist Church.

The Rev Norris Beck performed the double ring ceremony before an altar made attractive with baskets of blue carnations and white gladioli.

The bride is the former Susan Jean Crell, daughter of Mr and Mrs Charles Crell of Elsie while the groom's parents are Mr and Mrs Otto Woodworth of Corunna.

The bride wore a floor length gown of ice-blue satin fashioned with an A line skirt. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations, white pompons, touches of Spengeri fern with cascades of fern. She wore an heirloom bracelet from her paternal grandmother.

Joan Crell of Lansing was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a floor length sheath of green crepe and carried blue and green carnations. Both gowns were made by their mother.

The groom chose his brother, Larry Woodworth of Owosso for best man. Dennis and Douglas Woodworth of Corunna, sons of the groom, and Charles and David Grieve of Elsie, cousins of the bride were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a pink and silver shift with matching coat and a corsage of pink and white carnations tied with pink and silver ribbons. The groom's mother wore a blue dress with blue and white carnations tied with blue and silver ribbons.

Mrs George Serviss played the traditional wedding music.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held on the lawn at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr and Mrs Lyle Lipp, Sr. on West Main Street, Elsie, who served as host and hostess.

The three tiered wedding cake, made by Mrs Glen Parks, was decorated with white and yellow roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom. It was cut by the bride's aunt, Mrs Earl Lipp of Lansing, and served by Rosemary and Cathy Lipp of Walled Lake.

There were 75 guests from Detroit, Westland, Walled Lake, Flint, Corunna, Owosso, Lansing, Plymouth, Freeland and Elsie.

After their return from the Hemisfair, the new Mr and Mrs Woodworth will be at home Sept. 27 at 3234 Holiday Drive, Lansing.

The bride is a graduate of Elsie High School and employed in Lansing in Civil Service while the groom is a graduate of Ovid High School and is employed at the Chevrolet in Flint.

For her going away ensemble, the bride wore a green and cream A line shift of jersey.

Mr and Mrs Oliver Darling of Elsie recently enjoyed a three day award trip to Boyne Highlands near Harbor Springs.

The trip was sponsored by Morley Brothers. There were opportunities for various entertainment and a preview of new merchandise, with several new lines to be added at the local stores, Darling's, Inc. this fall.

The first meeting for the new year of the Green School Extension Homemakers was held Thursday afternoon Sept. 12 in the home of Mrs J.O. Schumacher.

Newly elected officers were in charge and chairman Mrs George Ellis opened the meeting with a reading "If."

Routine business was transacted and the report showed that the treasurer's book had been audited. A thank-you note was read from a member, Mrs Carl Morley, thanking the club for the help during her recent bereavement.

Mrs Zella Brewmaker, substituting for Mrs Raymond Thornton, gave a detailed report of the last County Council meeting. Important dates were given out for future meetings.

Mrs Manley Engbreton read a report on the ACWW meeting in Lansing. Publicity, Mrs Frances Pearl, Mrs Carl Lindauer served as co-hostess.

Airman Bruce W. Moore, son of Mr and Mrs Thomas E. Moore, R-1, Bannister has completed basic training at Lackland AFB. He is now assigned to Geodetic Survey Squadron at Malmstrom AFB at Great Falls, Mont.

His wife, the former Linda Bennett of Elsie is a medical technologist at Columbus Hospital in Great Falls.

Good news is official—cancer drive hits 152%

Cancer Society volunteers got the official good news last week on the overwhelming success of the 1967-68 cancer drive—a total of $14,425.93 was contributed, representing 151.99 per cent of the county goal.

The reports and awards for the workers were made last Tuesday, Sept. 10, at the annual meeting of the Clinton County unit of the American Cancer Society. Mrs Dale Crawford was chairman of the awards this year. Those honored were:

Mrs Arthur LaBar of St. Johns for 15 years; Mrs Annabel Peck of Duplain, 10 years; Mrs Robert Hazen of Eagle, Mrs Helen Beck of Duplain, Mrs Helen Fabus, Mrs Florence Peabody, Mrs Mildred Whitaker, Miss Gracia Sexton, and Mrs Richard Curtis, all of Victor, for five years.

Special events charm pendants went to Mrs Kenneth Hicks of Bengal, Mrs Raymond Thornton of Duplain, Mrs Robert Norse of Basil Deibert, secretary, Mrs Watertown, Mrs Donna Patrick of Watertown, and Mrs Robert Hazen of Eagle.

Small sword pins for outstanding work went to Mrs Louella Canfield, education chairman; Mrs Betty Minsky, publicity; Mrs Basil Deibert, secretary; Mrs John Nessman, Bath chairman; Mrs Glenn Whitford, Bingham chairman; Mrs Frederick Foster, DeWitt chairman; Mrs Ralph Watts, Lebanon chairman; Mrs Harold Mead, Ovid chairman; Mrs Eugene Havens, Greenbush Township; Mrs Walter L. Baxter, Maple Rapids; Mrs Lona Slim, Riley; Mrs Levi Blakeslee, Bengal; Mrs Carl Bowles, Ovid; Mrs Celestine Simon, Westphalia; Mrs Dale Finch, Mrs John Paradise, Mrs Richard Butler, Mrs Lester Lake, Mrs Justin Marzke, Mrs Franklin Smith, and Mrs Gordon Iacovoni, all from St. Johns.

THE FIGURES ON the financial report were given by Rev William Hankerd, crusade chairman. A breakdown of the $14,425 total amount shows these receipts: firms donated $10, house to house $10,880, special gifts $232.56, independent business $804.75, professional $225, county employees (court house) $67, federal services $1.40, clubs and organizations $783.48, special events $452.48, and memorials $968.75.

Receipts from out-county shows Bath Township, Mrs John Nessman chairman, $187.60; Park Lake, Mrs Marge McQueen, $162.02; Bengal, Mrs Levi Blakeslee, $193.86; Bingham Township, Mrs Glenn Whitford, $405.40; Dallas, Mrs Edmund Simmon, $225; Fowler, Mrs Robert Pettit and Mrs Rodney Finkbeiner, $424.80; Mrs Clarence Bauerle, $482.46; DeWitt Township; Mrs Robert Reese, $845.58, DeWitt city; Mrs Carl Pierson and Mrs Frederick Foster, $804.94; Duplain, Mrs Raymond Thurston, $506.11; Elsie, Women's Literary club of Elsie, Mrs Myron Tethal, chairman, $590.96; Eagle, Mrs Robert Hazen, $1,241.88; Essex, Mrs Carl Shinaberry, $246.60; Ovid, Mrs Mitchell Das, $556.17; South Riley, Mrs Valentine Stoy, $122.10, North Riley, Mrs Lona Slim, $178.00; Victor, Miss Gracia Sexton, $361.80; Watertown, Mrs Dewey Berryhill and Mrs Fred Black, $1,204.06; Westphalia, Mrs Celestine Simon and Mrs Robert Hongesbach $676.50. The total amount $11,195.26.

From the St. Johns area $3,230.57 was received. Volunteers collected these amounts: Mrs Harlan Derstern, $504.28; Mrs Franklin W. Smith, $218.05; Mrs Arthur LaBar, $160.20; Miss Carmen Tranchell, $229.50; Mrs William Dohoney, $87; Mrs Dale French, $151.30; Mrs Don Britten, $374.07; Mrs John Paradise, $133.50; Mrs Richard Butler, $510.27; Mrs Gordon Iacovoni, $81; Mrs Velma Beaufore, courthouse, $77; Mrs Lester Lake, business, $105; Mrs Justin Marzke, business, $128; Mrs Anton Peterson, business, $118; Mrs Alfred Barnes, business, $145; Dr F. W. Smith, professional, $200.

Special events receipts totaled $560.23; including $464.75 from the Hazel Williams Memorial Fund; Eagle ham dinner served by volunteers $305.50; Eagle and Watertown garage sale $107.79; and Alice Hicks children's carnival in Bengal, $25.

MRS LUELLE Canfield, R.N.,

reported there are 60 volunteers active in public education. They have distributed 20,000 pieces of literature, and 100 posters were placed. Seven programs were given for clubs and organizations, with 200 persons in attendance.

Four films were shown in elementary schools to 373 pupils, and one lay speaker spoke to 160 persons at two meetings.

Films and film strips are available for the asking. On the annual service report, six patients received nursing care by the county nurses. One group made dressings, 25 volunteers are active in the service program 9,265 dressings were distributed, 44 patients were served by the society's loan closets, one patient received aid for radiation treatment, eight patients had aid for drugs, six were provided transportation, one patient received rehabilitation service, and 38 people made inquiries.

The annual meeting of the Michigan Division will be held Oct. 16-17, at the Jack Tar Hotel in Lansing. Two members from the Clinton County area will be on the program.

New Lutheran pastor's installation Sunday

Installation of the Rev Robert D. Koepfen at St. John's Lutheran Church will take place this Sunday afternoon, Sept. 22, at 3 o'clock.

The Rev William A. Poehler of St. Paul, Miss., will deliver the sermon. The Rev William C. Huener of Lansing, the Rev Herman E. Rossow of Fowler and other pastors of the Capitol Zone will participate in the ceremony. A welcoming reception and dinner in the church basement will follow.

A native of Michigan, Pastor Koepfen was born at Hemlock, where he attended St. Peter Lutheran School. He attended high school at Michigan Lutheran Seminary at Saginaw, graduating from that school in 1957. He then enrolled at Concordia Teachers College at River Forest, Ill., and received his bachelor's degree there in 1961.

From 1961 until 1963 Pastor Koepfen was principal at Immanuel Lutheran School at Murphysboro, Ill. He then served two years as instructor in English at Lutheran High School East in Detroit.

He enrolled in Concordia Seminary at Springfield, Ill., completing his preparation for the ministry there in 1968, followed by a period as vicar at St. John's Lutheran Church at Stuttgart, Ark., with Pastor E. A. Brockmann. He was ordained Sept. 15 at St. Peter Lutheran Church at Hemlock with the Rev Edward Pankow officiating.

Mrs Koepfen is the former Theodora Poehler. The Loepfens have two children, John 6 and Justine 4. They are now residing at 704 S. Mead Street, St. Johns.

Camporee Oct. 11-13 at Camp Mapleton

The fall camporee of Boy Scouts in the Chippewa District will be held Oct. 11, 12 and 13 at Camp Mapleton southwest of

REV ROBERT KOEPFEN

Elsie. Competition events will be held Saturday afternoon, Oct. 12, and awards will be presented on Sunday morning.

ASC PROGRAM

You can protect your soil with winter cover.

W. M. SMITH County ASC Manager

It has been recently estimated that 1 million acre feet of soil is lost each year in the United States by wind and water erosion. This is important to all the people, not just those engaged in agriculture as this soil is deposited as sediment in our ditches, streams, rivers and lakes.

Every person's future is linked directly with soil and water, the use, management and conservation of the nation's agricultural resources. Ample food, good water, sufficient clothing, and adequate housing are important to all of us.

Winter cover crops of rye, oats, barley and other small grains protect the soil and stop wind and water erosion.

The United States Department of Agriculture under the agricultural conservation program, better known as ACP, shares the cost with farmers for carrying out soil, water, woodland, wildlife and beautification practices on farmland.

FARMERS IN Michigan sowed 332,400 acres of winter cover crops under this program last year; in our county 3,123 acres were planted. This winter cover crop acreage sown by farmers in Michigan plays a very important part in the amount of erosion that takes place during the winter months.

We would like to encourage everyone to plant some kind of winter cover on ground that is to be left open over winter. Vegetative cover also serves a dual purpose by making excellent food for wildlife available this fall and next spring when it is needed.

Farmers desiring cost-sharing for planting winter cover crops under the ACP Program should file a request in writing at our office and get a practice sheet which states the approved seeding and dates that they must be seeded.

Maple Rapids to honor 1st Eagle Scout

MAPLE RAPIDS—The first Eagle Scout in the history of Troop 510 will be honored next Wednesday night at a court of honor in the Maple Rapids Methodist Church.

Chris Cook, son of Mr and Mrs Doug Cook, will receive the Eagle award in ceremonies during the Boy Scout troop's periodic court of honor.

Rev Rudy Wittenbach of Centerville, former Maple Rapids pastor who was instrumental in revitalizing the Scout troop three years ago, will be the guest speaker.

Soil samples must be representative of area

Any soil sample for fertilizer and lime recommendations must represent accurately the entire area from which it is taken. Accurate samples may be taken by sampling each soil type in each field. Tests and recommendations vary considerably for each soil type as well as from one field to another. For instance, at the recent field day on the Maurice Gove farm, the Conover loam soil type needed two tons of lime per acre for most efficient crop production. But if sampled with either one or both of the other two soil types in the field no lime would be applied. On the other hand if lime were spread on the entire field based only on that one test, then nutritional upset could occur with reduced crop yields on the other soil types. SIMILARLY unnecessary expense with possible unbalance of nutrients and lower yields could happen with phosphorus and potassium tests from a poor soil sample.

Unusual areas should be left or sampled separately.

Detailed soil maps showing each soil type on each farm are available for Eagle, Watertown, DeWitt, Bath, Victor, Olive, Riley, Bingham, Ovid and Duplain townships. In addition many individual farms are mapped in the remaining townships through the Clinton County Soil Conservation District.

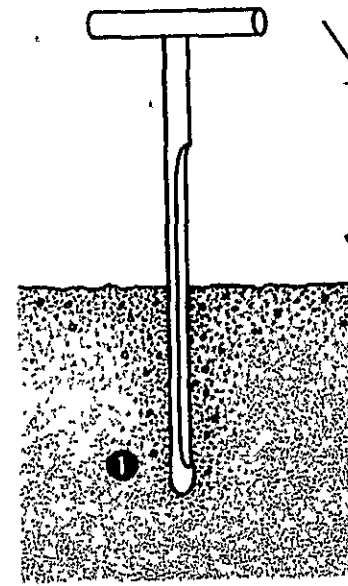

By combining your soil map and a map showing each field on your farm the first step in accurate soil sampling is complete.

By far, the best sampling tool is a probe designed for the job. They are efficient in both time and effort and are available from your fertilizer dealer, or the Extension office can provide sources.

Each probe of the soil should be taken from the surface to the depth of plowing. Not only is this the area most used by plant roots but it is the portion of the soil normally containing variations from added fertilizer and nutrient movement by water.

THIS WAS SHOWN by samples taken from zones of 0-4 inches, 4-8 inches, 8-12 inches and 12-16 inches from the soil surface. After heavy rains tests from the 4-8 inch level were much higher than the 0-4 inch level but during very dry weather the surface 0-4 inches would show higher tests. After normal rainfall differences tend to even out.

A sufficient number of probes in each sample is an absolute must. Tests on the Gove farm showed any one spot may show a need for many tons of lime or no lime. It may show almost no phosphorus or very high phosphorus or very low potassium to toxic levels. A sample of five or six combined probes was some better but great variation still was found. Only when the number of probes in each sample was around 20 did several samples from the same area produce equal tests.

The 20 probes should be well distributed over the area to be tested so no portion dominates any other.

The ingredients, then, for an accurate soil sample are 1) a detailed soil map of your farm 2) a soil probe 3) sample to plowing depth with twenty probes to each sample and 4) provide enough information on each sample that the best recommendations can be made. This includes soil type, crop to be grown, desired yield, and previous crop grown.

For most farmers, samples taken every 3-5 years from each area are sufficient but for more intensive cropping tests should be more frequent.

A detailed technique for taking accurate soil samples is in Extension Bulletin E 498 available at the Extension office.

McQueen writes on . . .
Sampling initial step to efficiency

By GEORGE McQUEEN
Extension Agricultural Agent

Soil sampling is just one step to efficient crop production, but it's a very initial step. The need is even greater now that fertilizer prices are much reduced. Cheap nutrients and bulk spreaders may result in very heavy application rates—of the wrong kind.

Over the past several years, total soil tests in Clinton County have numbered about 2,000 per

Stem rust loss lowest in years

Stem rust disease that is the past has cost Michigan grain growers as much as $10 million a year is practically nonexistent in the state today, thanks to a cooperative program of the state and federal departments of agriculture.

It took a half century to control stem rust of grains by eradicating barberry. The disease depends upon barberry for part of its life cycle. A recent survey showed Michigan to have hardly a trace of stem rust, the lightest in the history of the program that began in 1918.

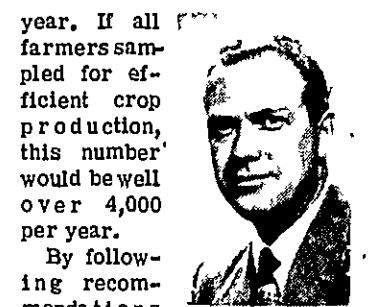

M. E. Turner, USDA Plant Pest Control coordinator in the state, told Director B. Dale Ball of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Through barberry eradication and other reasons, Michigan has averaged 37 bushels of winter wheat per acre for the past five years. This is one of the highest per-acre yields in the nation. There were 918,000 acres harvested this year.

Turner said that one year's dollar savings to grain producers in stem rust losses exceeds the total cost of the barberry eradication program for the past 50 years.

THE ECONOMIC importance of Michigan's winter wheat crop over shadows other grains, but stem rust also attacks oats, barley and rye. In years past the damage to these grains from stem rust has amounted to as much as 5 per cent of the state's crop.

Barberry eradication crews work throughout the state destroying barberry. Stem rust is caused by a fungus plant that lives alternately on the barberry bush, the small grains and many wild grasses. The rust is spread between the host plants by wind-blown seedlike spores. During the summer season, the fungus attacks the grain plants, taking its nourishment from the stems on which it lives. Destruction of barberry halts the spread.

year. If all farmers sampled for efficient crop production, this number would be well over 4,000 per year. By following recommendations of the increased soil tests, fertilizer use in our county would double. This would more nearly approach the yearly losses of plant nutrients from all sources. Lime applications would increase four fold for the next five years, then drop back to just over present use.

Soil sampling and testing are becoming more convenient and more precise, too. Some ways of getting samples may be:

1) BY THE FARMER himself. This way he knows best which areas in his field are not doing well and where special conditions exist. Also, much of the county has recent detailed soil survey maps to serve as a guide in sampling each soil type in each field.

2) By getting fertilizer dealers to do part of all of the sampling and testing. This procedure varies with fertilizer dealers and how busy they may be. Check with your dealer.

3) By hiring the soil sampling and testing done. Rates are usually based on the acres sampled and may vary with the type of tests conducted. Most fertilizer dealers, our office, your county soil conservation district directors or the soil conservation service can provide more information.

Many soil tests are presently available. The most common are lime, phosphorus and potassium needed. Special tests may be for nitrogen, calcium, magnesium, manganese, zinc, copper, and carbon. Also, tests are available for boron, iron, aluminum, sulfur, sodium, chlorine, molybdenum, iodine, flourine, lead, arsenic, cobalt, selenium, and most other elements. Prices for each test varies considerably and most have very limited practical value for crop production in Clinton County.

UNLESS VERY heavy fertilizer rates are to be used for high yields of specialized crops, the common tests are conducted in our county soil testing laboratory are adequate. Such precise tests can measure elements present in very small amounts such as a few pounds per acre. If the sample is not good, such results would be very misleading. Only with an accurate sample representing the area of interest can the tests have any meaning.

Are you taking enough soil tests? Are they from good soil samples?

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE

Fowler Public School District
CLINTON COUNTY, MICHIGAN

School Building and Site Bonds

Sealed bids for the purchase of general obligation bonds to be issued by Fowler Public School District, Clinton County, Michigan, of the par value of Seven Hundred Thousand Dollars ($700,000), will be received by the undersigned at the Fowler High School, Fowler, Michigan, in said School District until 8:00 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Daylight Savings Time, on the

at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

Said bonds will be dated September 1, 1968, will be coupon bonds in the denomination of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) each, will be numbered consecutively in direct order of maturity from one (1) to one hundred forty (140), both inclusive, will bear interest from their date at a rate or rates not exceeding five and one-half per cent (5-1/2%) per annum, expressed in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1%, or any combination thereof, the difference between the highest and lowest rates bid shall not exceed 2%. Said interest will be payable on the first day of November, 1968, and semi-annually thereafter on the first day of May and November in each year. The interest rate on any one bond shall be at one rate only and represented by one interest coupon for each coupon period, and all bonds maturing in the same year must carry the same interest rate. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such bonds shall be paid by the purchaser at time of delivery.

Said bonds will mature serially as follows:

- $5,000 on May 1 of each of the years 1969 and 1970;
- $10,000 on May 1 of each of the years 1971 and 1972;
- $15,000 on May 1 of each of the years 1973 to 1979, both inclusive;
- $20,000 on May 1 of each of the years 1980 to 1984, both inclusive;
- $25,000 on May 1 of each of the years 1985 to 1988, both inclusive;
- $30,000 on May 1 of each of the years 1989, 1990 and 1991;
- $35,000 on May 1 of each of the years 1992, 1993 and 1994;
- $40,000 on May 1 of each of the years 1995 and 1996; and
- $45,000 on May 1 of each of the years 1997 and 1998.

Both principal and interest will be payable at a bank or trust company to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, which paying agent qualifies as such under the Statutes of the State of Michigan or of the Federal Government, subject to the approval of the School District.

Bonds of this issue maturing in the years 1969 to 1980, inclusive, are not subject to prior redemption.

The right is reserved of redeeming bonds maturing in the years 1981 to 1998 inclusive, at the option of the district, in inverse numerical order, on any interest payment date on or after May 1, 1980 at par and accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption, plus a premium as follows:

- 3% on each bond called for redemption prior to May 1, 1983;
- 2-1/2% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1983, but prior to May 1, 1986;
- 2% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1986, but prior to May 1, 1989;
- 1-1/2% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1989, but prior to May 1, 1992;
- 1% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1992, but prior to May 1, 1995;
- 1/2 of 1% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1995, but prior to May 1, 1997.

No premium on bonds called for redemption on or after May 1, 1997.

Notice of redemption shall be given to the holders of bonds to be redeemed by publication of such notice not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the State of Michigan which carries, as part of its regular service, notices of sale of municipal bonds. No further interest payable on bonds called for redemption shall accrue after the date fixed for redemption, whether presented for redemption or not, provided the School District has money available for such redemption with the paying agent.

The bonds are to be issued for the purpose of erecting, furnishing and equipping a new elementary school building; acquiring additional land for site purposes; and developing and improving sites.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from November 1, 1968, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the School District. Each bidder shall state in his bid the interest cost to the School District, computed in the manner above specified. No proposal for the purchase of less than all the bonds or at a price less than 100% of their par value will be considered.

The bonds are to be issued pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 12, Part II, Act 269, Public Acts of Michigan, 1955, and the School District is authorized and required by law to levy upon all taxable property therein such ad valorem taxes as may be necessary to pay these bonds and the interest thereon, without limitation as to rate or amount.

A certified or cashier's check in an amount of $14,000.00, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the School District, must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid is accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail. Payment for said bonds shall be made in Federal Reserve Funds.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified approving opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, Attorneys, 2500 Detroit Bank and Trust Building, Detroit, Michigan, a copy of which opinion will be printed on the reverse side of each bond, and the original of which will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds at the delivery thereof. The School District shall furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at a place to be designated by the purchaser.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds".

APPROVED, SEPT. 10, 1968
STATE OF MICHIGAN
MUNICIPAL FINANCE COMMISSION

ELLEN SPICER

No trace of gypsy moth found this year

Michigan has chalked up another victory in its continuing war against the destructive insects and plant pests which threaten our field crops, forests, food supplies and home grounds.

B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, reports that a summer trapping program has turned up no sign of the gypsy moth, which is a major destroyer of hardwood forests.

Last year a small infestation was located and treated in the Duck Lake area of Calhoun County. This summer 1,200 traps were set in 196 square miles around the area to determine whether the 1967 treatment had eradicated the gypsy moth.

NOBODY IS CLAIMING a permanent victory, since the struggle to protect Michigan's vegetation and crops never ends. Once before, in 1962, gypsy moth was eradicated in the state at a cost of $946,247 in combined state-federal funds. This battle had continued for eight years, since the moth was first discovered here in 1954.

Meanwhile, the fight continues against such predators as the cereal leaf beetle, the most destructive pest known to small grains; the cherry fruit fly, with its voracious appetite for one of Michigan's major fruit crops; and the Japanese beetle, which feeds on more than 250 kinds of vegetation and is presently threatening southwestern Michigan. A serious and growing infestation of Japanese beetle in Berrien County is of major concern to farmers, homeowners and nurserymen of that area.

This silent war against these insect destroyers is waged by the Plant Industry division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, with a full-time field staff of 40 men and about 250 seasonal inspectors. The division has primary responsibility for enforcement of laws and regulations designed to prevent the introduction and spread of plant pests.

Cooperating in the fight are men of the Plant Pest Control, Plant Quarantine, and Forest Service divisions of the United States Department of Agriculture.

THESE DAIRYMEN are working for you!

Throughout Michigan, Sire Evaluation Committeemen working with MABC members are putting together factual information on the milking daughters of young sires.

In on-the-farm visits, MABC committeemen record no nonsense information on conformation, management traits and milking qualities. All information is tabulated into easy to understand form.

THE RESULTS:

A factual dairyman supplied picture of the type of job MABC sires are doing to improve your herd.

This data, coupled with AI herdmate production proofs, presents a well rounded picture of the job MABC sires can do for you.

This is MABC . . . Dairyman working with dairymen—to bring all dairymen the very best in sires.

'717's' rugged cutterhead keeps you chopping fine—always!

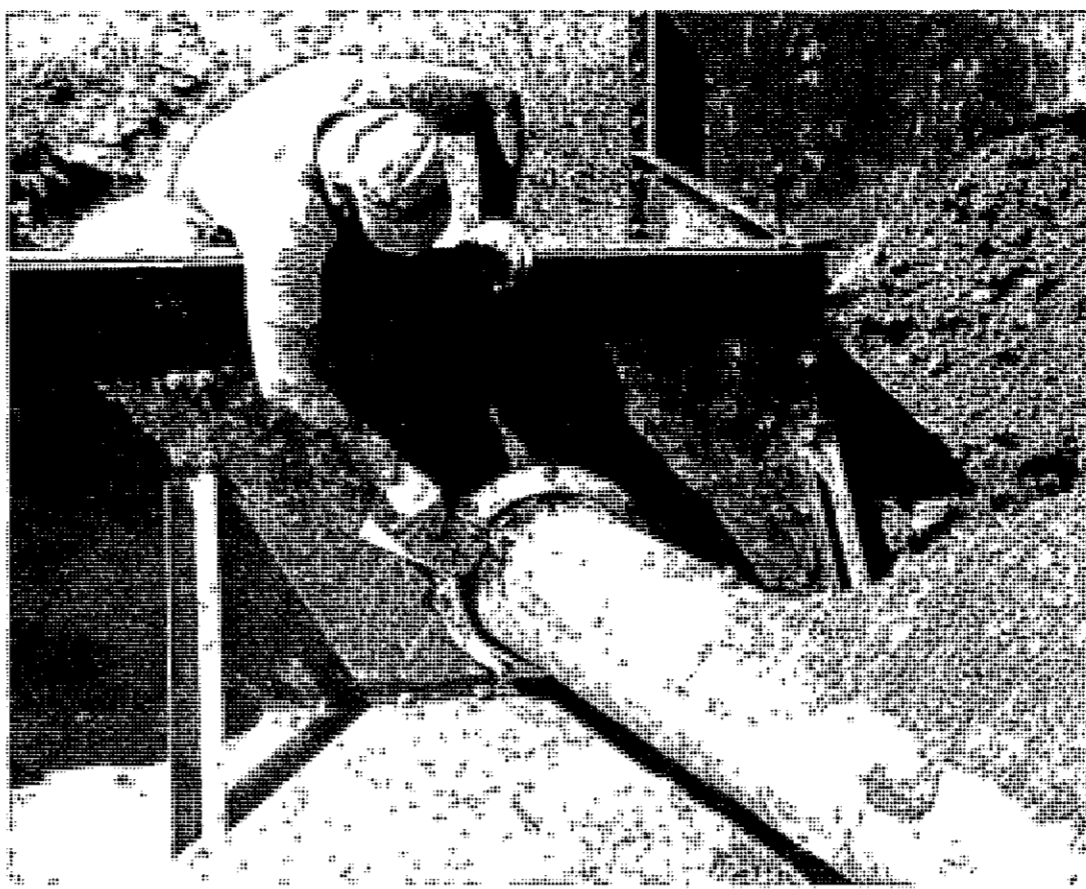

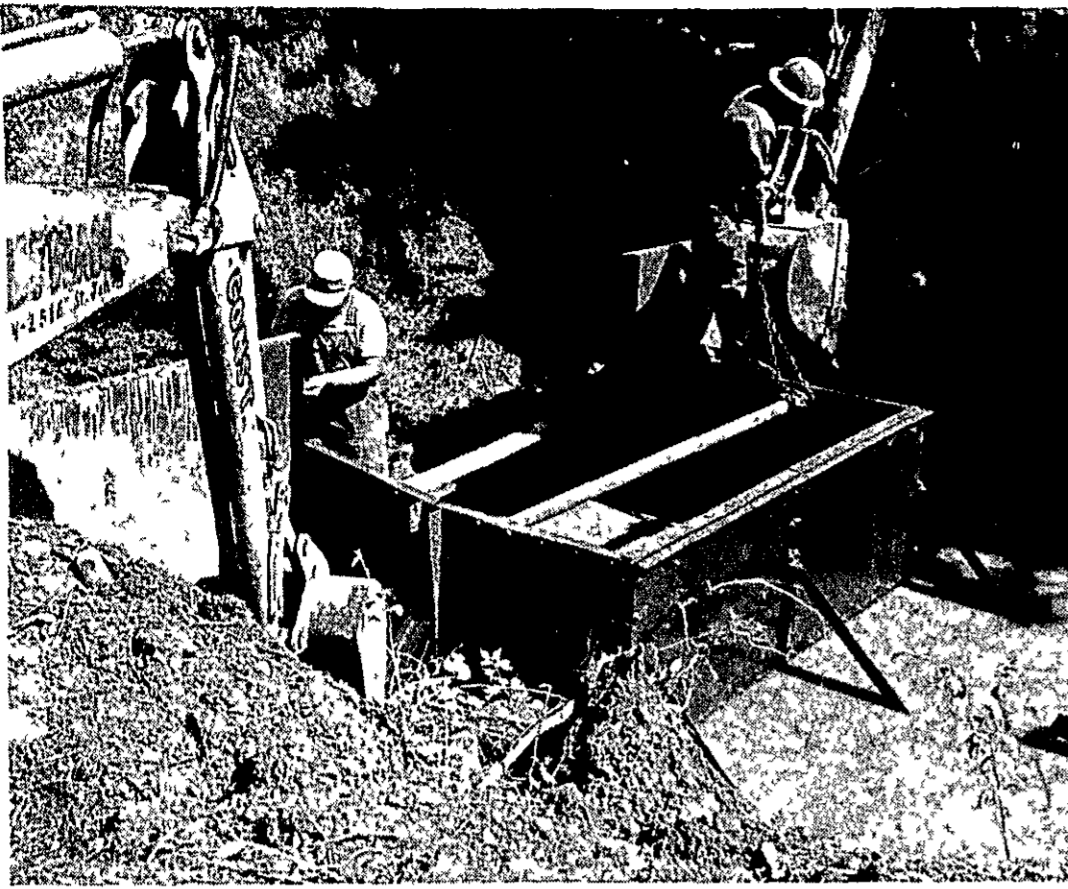

The cutterhead on New Holland's Model 717 forage harvester is built to take tough going. The knives are backed along their full length by a thick steel plate—to protect the cutterhead from damage and provide extra support for maximum cylinder stability in toughest cutting. Built-in sharpener lets you put a razor edge back on blades in minutes. With the "717's" sharp knives, you always get a clean, fine cut—the kind that packs tight, keeps better, and is more palatable.

Good for unstable conditions

Steel erosion structures installed

By HARRY H. HARDEN
Conservation Engineering Technician

New steel erosion control structure has been recently installed on the Raymond Thornton farm in Duplain Township. Specially designed by A. O. Smith Harvester Co., the new type of structure lends itself to unstable conditions, such as quicksand or water sand like Thornton has on his farm.

In photo at left, Thornton assists contractor Walter Kautman Jr. after two backhoes were used to set the structure in place. At right, Thornton seals a tile outlet entering the back side of the structure. A special watertight sealer is used for all joints on the structure.

To date, Clinton County Soil Conservation District cooperators have installed about 132 erosion control structures on their farms.

The Agriculture and Stabilization Conservation Committee may allow up to 80 per cent of the cost on such structures. The Soil Conservation Service will furnish technical assistance to land owners on request through the soil conservation district.

Both the ASCS and the SCD offices are located at 100 S. Ottawa Street, St. Johns.

Cows earn new 'E' recognition

ELSIÉ - Duane and Velmar Green of Elsie have been notified by Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America that registered Holstein cows in their herd have received an "E" designation for body type conformation.

On the basis of her previous classifications of "excellent," Marbro Emily Matchless 5278284 has been awarded 3E designation; on the basis of their previous classification of "excellent," Sleepy Hollow Royal Lida 5389885 and Sylvia Rocket Freida 5536290 have been awarded 2E designations.

This new phase of the Holstein Association's long-time breed improvement program provides additional recognition for "excellent" cows that are reclassified "excellent" beyond the age of maturity. A cow may be designated 2, 3, or 4E according to her history of previous "excellent" classifications within

Boost beef profits with corn silage

Beef cattlemen can get greater profits from each acre of corn by feeding steers and heifers "only corn silage" rations instead of rations supplemented with shelled corn, according to F. Earl Haas, Clinton County Extension agricultural agent.

Haas said recent research by Drs. Hugh Henderson and Barrie Purser, Michigan State University animal husbandry specialists, showed that heifers and steers fed an all-corn silage ration produced more beef per acre (2,016 pounds vs. 1,282 pounds). These animals also returned more profits ($516.09 vs. $335.06 per acre) than cattle fed a full feed of the same corn silage plus one pound of shelled corn daily for each 100 pounds of body weight.

"Cattle fed full corn silage with no added grain gained about 15 per cent slower and required nine per cent longer to reach the identical slaughter grade of high good," the scientists reported. "But the feed cost per 100 pounds of gain was 17 per cent lower for the cattle fed on the all-silage rations."

Haas noted that the carcass grade and degree of marbling were identical for the two groups of cattle fed the different rations. Each group had a modest level of marbling and graded high good. These trials, conducted with 96 heifers and 124 steers, represented the sixth and seventh MSU experiments making comparisons with all-silage vs. all-silage-plus-shelled-corn rations, said Drs. Henderson and Purser, and the results are in complete agreement with the five previous trials.

Feeder cattle sale dates set

Dates for the annual October Michigan Cooperative Feeder Cattle Sales have been set, according to Terry Greathouse, Michigan State University Extension beef cattle specialist.

Beef cattle feeders in the corn production area of Michigan look to these sales to buy some of the cattle for their feedlots. Greathouse says that many feeders find they have less problems with these Michigan-reared cattle because they go on full feed quicker than cattle shipped from distant points.

Gaylord again will have two sales, the first for yearling cattle and the second for young calves. The complete list of sales includes:

- Thursday, Oct. 3, Gaylord (yearlings).
- Monday, Oct. 7, Bruce Crossing.
- Tuesday, Oct. 8, Rapid River.
- Thursday, Oct. 10, Gaylord (calves).
- Friday, Oct. 11, Baldwin.
- Thursday, Oct. 17, West Branch.

Detailed information regarding the sales can be obtained from Greathouse at the Animal Husbandry Department, Michigan State University, East Lansing, or from county Cooperative Extension Service offices.

Open attics invite wasps

Wasps become invaders in the fall of the year.

You sometimes see large numbers of the long-legged Polistes wasps flying up and down the wall on the sunny side of a house in the autumn. These are mated females looking for a place to spend the winter, says Dr. E. C. Martin, Michigan State University insect specialist.

If they find a hole to the attic or between the walls, they may crawl inside in large numbers and hibernate, Martin warns. At times during the winter and early spring some of them may find their way into living areas of the house.

To control this type of wasp, Martin recommends the following: 1) Knock down the open-faced (and empty) nests found under the eaves or elsewhere around the house, 2) wasps flying up and down the wall of the house should be sprayed with a special aerosol spray for bees and wasps, and 3) spray those found in the attic during the winter.

Wheat is good dairy feed

Sagging wheat prices can mean bargain feed for dairy cows, reports a Michigan State University dairy specialist.

Wheat is equal to corn in total digestible nutrient content (about 84 per cent TDN), and it contains about 10 per cent protein compared to eight to nine per cent protein in corn, explains Dr. Donald Hillman, it therefore becomes a bargain feed when the price per 100 pounds is lower than or equal to the price of corn.

Wheat has been fed in varying proportions and as the only grain to dairy cattle with satisfactory results. When using it, some judgment should be exercised to prevent "off-feed" from over-feeding as is true with other heavy grain rations, cautions Hillman.

Coarse grinding, rolling or pelting is preferred to avoid "gumming" in mangers which may occur when finely-ground (floury) wheat becomes moistened with saliva. Mixing wheat with ground ear corn or oats largely eliminates this problem, says Hillman.

Whole milk credentials documented

Scientific data in support of milk's contribution to nutrition have been gathered over many years. There is documented evidence regarding the role of milk in the diet. What response a product that resembles milk, however closely, might have in the human body just cannot be predicted with assurance.

Milk contains important amounts of nutrients for which recommended dietary allowances have been established and of many nutrients known to be essential but for which no allowances have been established. Further, there appear to be important interrelationships between the nutrients in milk, both solids and fats.

It is devoutly to be wished that manufacturers of filled and imitation milk products will sell their products on their merits and not continue to trade on the nutritional acceptance of whole milk. —National Dairy Council.

The team—lime and fertilizer

What is the most desirable pH level of the soil for most crops? Where do you get the most return for your fertilizer dollar? Let's take some of the plant nutrients and evaluate them in order.

Nitrogen availability is highest at the pH range of 6.0 to 8.0. Outside of this range some of it is unavailable. Phosphorus is most readily available at a pH of 6.5 to 7.0. When the pH is below 6.5, some of it is locked up in the soil by iron and aluminum, but in a high pH range, some of it is "fixed" by calcium in a less available form. As liming a "sour" or "acid" soil ties up the iron and aluminum both, the applied phosphorus and that native in the soil are more available to plants.

Potassium, sulphur, calcium and magnesium are also most readily available in a near neutral—pH 7.0—soil. Liming to very high levels decreases the availability of some micro-nutrients. For example manganese availability is lowered after pH 6.5 and may cause a deficiency in some crops such as soybeans. However, if a soil test shows you need lime, put it on and also add the needed manganese by liquid spray or the addition of manganese sulfate to your fertilizer.

The availability of boron, copper and zinc also decreases beyond the neutral point while molybdenum deficiencies may show up in acid soils. For most crops the plant food nutrients are most readily available at a pH level of 6.5 to 7.0. This is the range where one gets the most out of his fertilizer dollar. If there is any doubt in the farmer's mind about plant nutrient or pH levels of his soils, the cheapest thing to do is to have the soil tested. It will increase yields and profits by getting the most out of every dollar spent for fertilizer.

NEW! RC800 RECUTTER... versatility and speed!

New RC800 mounts on 55-inch Gehl Hi-Throw blower for high capacity recutting of haylage, high-moisture corn, low-moisture corn silage, corn stover silage and other grains and roughages. Recutter features a 22-inch wide, 24-inch diameter nine-knife cylinder. Knives are set at 60 degree angles for high capacity cutting over various size screens. Cylinder travels 1000 RPM inside 210 degree wrap of screen, exposing nearly 1000 square inches of screen area. Standard, built-in knife sharpener. Adjustable knives and cutter bar allow setting cutting mechanism up to the screen. Unit may be powered by 540 or 1000 RPM tractors.

THE LAND AND THE PEOPLE

Jim has a college degree in agriculture—Helen, a diploma from junior college. And they're back on the land.
Less than five miles from the farm where they'll start their married life is a church. They'll be part of it.
For they know the greatness of the nation in which they were born; a greatness rooted in the land and the people.
It's the same land their forefathers tilled.
It's got to be the same kind of people.
That's why there's a church less than five miles away . . . and why they'll be part of it.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Your prize Coho deserves TLC!

By HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

That prize Coho salmon caught in Michigan lakes and streams deserves tender, loving care. Coho like all salmon has a rich, tasty, flesh which lends itself to a number of cooking methods. The trick—handle carefully to bring out the distinctive flavor.

Fresh fish are very perishable. They should be placed on ice immediately after being caught, and kept iced until cooked. If fish cannot be iced, remove entrails and rub body cavity with a generous portion of salt. When prepared in this manner they should be dressed and cooked as soon as possible.

Less mature Coho, those caught a few months prior to spawning, more than likely will have better keeping qualities than those caught close to spawning time. However, this year's summer and fall caught fish were very fat, and it is recommended that much of this fat be removed before cooking to reduce excess cooking odors.

Select only very fresh fish for freezing. The Coho is classed as a fatty fish. This fat content may prove to be a problem in freezing, because fat often becomes rancid when freezer stored. Testing is under way to determine how long the fish may be kept frozen and still retain good flavor and eating quality.

At this time recommendations are that the fish be used within three months. The more quickly it is used, the more satisfied you will probably be with your prize catch.

ONE OF THE BEST methods of preserving quality of large frozen fish is to give them an ice glaze. Dressed fish may be placed in the freezer to reach freezing temperature on the outside surface then dipped or sprayed with water to form a protective glaze. This will need to be done two or three times to get a good glaze—then fish may be wrapped to avoid chipping of ice glaze. Further information may be found in "Freezing Meat and Fish in the Home," Home and Garden Bulletin No. 93, U.S. Department of Agriculture. This is available on request from the home economist in your county Extension office.

These two recipes will take care of your two pound "jacks" or your 20-pound giant.

BROILED SALMON ENCORE
2 pounds salmon steaks
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 teaspoon rosemary leaves
2 tablespoons white vinegar
3 tablespoons salad oil

Sprinkle both sides of steaks with salt and pepper. Add rosemary and vinegar to the salad oil; shake well, and let stand at room temperature for an hour or longer; strain. Dip fish in oil mixture, and place on a preheated greased broiler pan about 2 inches from the heat. Broil 5 to 8 minutes or until slightly brown. Baste with oil, and turn carefully. Brush other side with oil, and cook 5 to 8 minutes more or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serve immediately. Serves 6.

fish flakes easily from the bone when tested with a fork. If fish seems dry while baking, baste occasionally with drippings or melted fat. Remove string or skewers, and serve immediately on a hot platter, plain or with a sauce. Serves 6.

BREAD STUFFING
3 tablespoons onion, chopped
3/4 cup celery, chopped
6 tablespoons butter or other fat, melted
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 teaspoon thyme, sage, or savory seasoning
1 quart day-old bread crumbs
Cook onion and celery in fat for about 10 minutes, or until tender. Add the cooked vegetables and seasoning to bread crumbs, and mix thoroughly. If dressing seems very dry, add two tablespoons water, milk or fish stock to moisten.

BAKED STUFFED SALMON
3- or 4-pound salmon dressed
1-1/2 teaspoons salt
Bread stuffing
3 slices bacon
Wash and dry salmon. Sprinkle inside and out with salt. Stuff fish loosely, and sew opening with needle and string, or close with skewers. Place fish in a well-greased baking pan. Arrange bacon slices on fish and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for 40 to 60 minutes, or until

Eureka

Mrs Gordon Waggoner

201 students at Eureka School

The Eureka Elementary School of the St. Johns School System started last week Wednesday, Sept. 4 with a total enrollment of 201 students. A breakdown by grades shows: 30 in kindergarten, Mrs Vera (John) Bryant teacher, and the principal; 25 in first, Mrs Sharon Lowry, teacher; 30 in second, Mrs Clea (Milo) Summer teacher; 28 in third, Mrs Fidelis (Bruce) Cameron teacher; 24 in fourth, Mrs Betty Thompson teacher; 35 in fifth and sixth, Mr Stonewall Cross teacher; and 29 in seventh and eighth with Mr Fisher and Mr John Arehart as the teachers. Art in grades 2-6 is taught by Mrs Barbara (Carl) Blair. Music in grades 1-8 by Miss Janet Longenecker, and physical education in grades 2-8 will be taught by Miss Seavey and Mr Gary Swinehart.

Mrs Sharyl (Henry) Howard, Mrs Donna (Clifford) Snyder, Mrs Eunice (Maurice) Blank, and Mrs Fern (Gordon) Waggoner are working as aides and are responsible for noon hour supervision. Chester Walton is the school custodian and the bus drivers are Mrs Lucille Grieve and Mrs Pauline (James) Graham.

Deadline for students insurance is Wednesday, Sept. 18 and milk money (25¢) is due each Thursday.

MOTHERS CLUB TO MEET
The Mother's Club of the Eureka Elementary School will meet at the school next Monday evening, Sept. 16, at 7:30.

Mr and Mrs Paul Runiak of Detroit spent some time Saturday with their parents, Mr and Mrs Frank Ruess.

OPEN HOUSE FOR JEAN

Mr and Mrs Robert Lewis honored their daughter, Jean, upon her graduation from Butterworth Hospital School of Nursing at an open house on Sunday, Sept. 8. Approximately 100 guests from the surrounding areas of Corunna, St. Johns, St. Louis, Ithaca, Ovid, Bridgeville and Eureka were in attendance throughout the afternoon.

Those attending Jean Lewis' graduation from nurses' training from the Butterworth Hospital School of Nursing in Grand Rapids Friday evening, Aug. 30, were her parents, Mr and Mrs Robert Lewis, Rhonda and Bob, her grandparents, Mr and Mrs Lloyd Lewis and Mr and Mrs Jess Howard, Mr and Mrs Henry Howard, Debbie and Craig, Mrs Clifford Casler, Eric and Mark, Mr and Mrs Robert Kristin, and Doug Thompson and Mrs Doris Thompson.

Mr and Mrs Rolland Hankey and Randy of Litchfield spent the weekend here with his mother, Mrs Gladys Hankey.

About 35 friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr and Mrs Elston Miller the evening of Aug. 29 to bid them farewell and extend best wishes to them in their new home in St. Johns. The evening was spent visiting and everyone enjoyed the many piano selections played by Elston, with several joining in singing. Light refreshments were served and a purse of money was given the Millers.

Dr and Mrs Hartley Holmquist of Detroit called on her mother, Mrs Ethel Randolph, Sunday.

Mr and Mrs Frank Ruess were Sunday evening callers of their granddaughter, Mrs Larry Darling, of near Carland.

Mr and Mrs Dale Randolph attended the wedding of Stewart Conklin of Elsie in Ovid Saturday evening.

Mr and Mrs Roger Shutes, Scott and Tracy of St. Johns called on Mr and Mrs Gordon Waggoner and girls last Tuesday evening.

If you can't stay in out of the rain...

By LORRAINE SPRAGUE
Extension Home Economist

Michigan fall rains require that the business man, business woman and back to school crowd have some protection from the weather. Today rainwear for everyone is both practical and fashionable. Many of the garments serve as an in-between all weather coat for spring and fall wear.

Though rain coats have been popular items in water-repellent finishes for many years, some people are still confused when it comes to the terms "waterproof" and "water repellent."

A water-proof garment actually prevents water from penetrating. Such garments are usually made from all-vinyls or vinyl-coated cottons or cotton blend fabrics. Though they are waterproof, they also can be quite uncomfortable in hot or humid weather since there is little or no chance for body heat and perspiration to escape. Very slight relief from this discomfort can be gained with vents located under the arms and collar but this usually is not the most satisfactory arrangement. Fabrics of this type are referred to as "non-breathers."

Water repellent garments are much more comfortable and are usually the choice of all persons except those who must be out in heavy downpours for a long time. Water repellent garments shed water in light rains or drizzles but will become soaked in continued heavy rains. The length of time the repellency feature holds varies considerably with the treatment, the care given the garment, and the frequency of cleaning. However the repellent finish can be replaced by most dry-cleaners.

Water repellent finishes are of two main types. A fluorochlorochemical finish also makes the fabric resistant to oily or water based stains. A silicone finish resists only water-borne stains. Both finishes may be applied to cotton or cotton-polyester blend fabrics.

The manufacturer's directions for washing or dry cleaning rainwear should be carefully observed. Improper care can destroy special finishes. It is also wise to launder or clean them before deep soil results, since embedded soil can be extremely difficult to remove. Hang tags on the better garments will be a guide to care and an expectation for them. Washable coats of polyester and cotton blends may cost more than all-cotton coats, but because of their wash and wear properties, you'll likely spend less in taking care of them.

Mrs Freda Kasser of Duluth, Minn., and Mrs Ruth Reed of Greenville were Friday afternoon callers at the home of Mrs Ward Lewis. Sunday afternoon, Mr and Mrs Galen Smith of Lake Odessa and Mr and Mrs Bill Hullberg of Lansing were also guests of Mrs Ward Lewis.

The Methodist Men will meet Sunday morning, Sept. 15 for breakfast at 8:00a.m. There will be election of officers. All men are invited. The Methodist Men call attention to the radio program from WCEN being sponsored by the District Methodist Men on Sundays at 12:30 p.m. They recommend them as excellent presentations and worthy of listening time.

The Methodist Choirs will resume Thursday, Sept. 11 at the church following the summer recess. The Chancel Choir will be directed by Mrs Gordon Showers, who urges participation of all those who sang last year and invites others to join.

The Carol Choir beginning with Grade 1 will be under the direction of Sherry Latham and Mrs William Furstenau while the Crusader Choir of boys and girls in grades 5 and up, will be under the direction of Mrs Gene Stouffer and Mrs Merle Baese.

Mrs Florence Baese has returned to her home from the Owosso Memorial Hospital where she underwent treatment for shingles.

Boy cooks, 6 teachers new this year at Bath

By MARILYN SIDEL
Bath High School

BATH—A few new teachers can be seen around the halls and in the classrooms at Bath High. The new teachers are: Mr Sandy Shaw, Miss Rita Pence, Mrs Nancy LeBeau, Mrs Janet Jensen, Allen Bulgrin, and Mrs Lou Hicks.

Returning teachers are Miss Marie LaRoche, Mrs Elaine Tschetter, Mrs Nancy Wood, Mrs Jane Means, Mrs Vicki Miles, Mrs Doris Wilkins, William Vondrosek, Harland Cook, Ken Koolman, Harry Hochstetler, Gary Mavis, Melvin Comeau, Robert Bullerdick, Hal Beatty, Ron Skorich, and Richard Will. A new class added to the curriculum at Bath High is the Chef's Club. This class is strictly for boys and is taught by Mrs Elaine Tschetter, who also teaches home economics.

The members of the club are: David Ankney, Ken Bolinger, Bruce Beagle, Chuck Miller, Mark Dunkel, Don Nichols, John Decker, David Murray, Ken Carpenter, Jerry Christmas, Randy Duffy, Harold Phillip, and Terry Christmas.

THEY WILL STUDY the importance of vitamins and how to plan a well-balanced menu, among other things. Among the things they will learn to prepare are cakes, stews, and casseroles.

The senior class officers are: Shirley Derke, president; Bill

Goff, vice president; Bobbie Herrguth, secretary; and Kathy Smith, treasurer. The student council representatives are: Beverly Beebe, Ken Bolinger, Carol Dunavant, and Mike Walker.

Junior, sophomore and freshmen officers haven't yet been elected.

The twirling majorettes of Bath High School have had a rather busy summer. They have twirled in the Ionia Fair parade, the Dimondale Fair parade, and the DeWitt Ox Roast parade with the High-Steppers, a group organized by Mrs Sharon Miller, who also coaches the Bath Majorettes. Mrs Jane Means is the sponsor for the twirlers.

The majorettes will have new uniforms this year, but as of yet they haven't ordered them. They will twirl at all of the home football games and one away game.

The majorettes are Dawn Eastlick, Linda Green, Diane Palmatter, and Carol Dunavant. Substitutes are Angela Hagy, Bev Millohan, and Paula Hosford. Carol Dunavant and Diane Palmatter are the lead majorettes.

3 'outsiders' asked to leave DeWitt schools

DEWITT—Three students who attend DeWitt High School but who live outside the school district will be asked to leave the school, officials announced last week.

The move was made to comply with a board ruling earlier this year that the district would not accept outside or tuition students because of the crowded conditions.

The board decided last week to withhold $1,800 from an $8,000 bill from the Bruno Slwek Co. of Lansing until the company completes repairs on the gymnasium floor of the new junior high school.

The board has requested a study of costs of enlarging the high school septic tank as a possible alternative to extending a public sewer to the high school building.

A good and useful rule is not to fight unless you are cornered—and it's up to you not to get cornered.

TROOPER SMITH AND TONKA

Trooper, dog at PTA meet

The Central School PTA annual potluck supper will be held at 6:30 p.m. tonight (Thursday) at Smith Hall. Guest speaker will be trooper Bruce D. Smith of the Michigan State Police, with his tracking dog "Tonka."

Trooper Smith, who is assigned to the East Lansing post, is one of 17 handlers of German shepherd tracking dogs, a specialist activity begun by the State Police in 1960.

Trooper Smith, a native of Royal Oak, graduated from high school at Perry and later attended Michigan State University where he studied police administration.

Enrollment up 80 at DeWitt

DEWITT—Local public schools have an enrollment of 1,462 students, an increase of 80 over last year.

The elementary schools have 727 and there are 334 in Fuerstenu Junior High and 401 in the high school. The largest gain is in the elementary grades, which went from 690 to 727.

There are 68 teachers in the system, 27 of them new this year. Three new mobile classrooms bring the total to five.

A bond issue passed this year provides for additions to the David Scott School and the high school and a new middle school on Schavey Road. Bonds will be sold at the end of September, and construction is slated to start in November.

O-E enrollment up 37 to 2,396

OVID-ELSIE—The Ovid-Elsie school system's enrollment climbed by 37 students this year, with 2,396 attending classes after the first week.

Of this number 660 are attending high school, 398 junior high in both Ovid and Elsie, 88 in fourth grade at Bannister, 51 in special education classes at various levels, and the balance in elementary grades in both Ovid and Elsie.

DeWitt High students greet 9 new teachers

By DAVE HORVATH
DeWitt High School

"What class do you have first hour?" "Where is Room 113?" "What class does she teach?"

These were just a few of the questions asked by students as DeWitt High School opened its doors to the 1968-69 school year. After weeks of preparation for the student invasion, followed by a student council Tea for all teachers on Sept. 3, school officially opened Sept. 4 for a short morning session. Students followed their schedules in an abbreviated form Wednesday, seeing friends and meeting new teachers.

Students saw the arrival of nine new teachers as they attended their first classes of the year. Joining the faculty were: Mary Sherry and Thomas Mauro, English Department; Peggy Tracy, Language Department; Ray Unger, Industrial Arts; Norine Masacek, Music Department; Kathleen Curtis, girl's physical education; Karen Hehr, Art Department; and Donald Melvin, guidance. The students were then introduced to the new principal of DeWitt High, Don S. Mueller.

Citizens unit at P-W reactivated

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA—A citizens committee of 35 members which met about a year ago will be asked to meet again with the school board and administrators Sept. 23.

Supt. William Steinke said the group is basically a study committee that over a year ago met and discussed the school's financial situation, building program and curriculum. The committee will be asked to update their study and make further recommendations.

Steinke said while board members have nothing in mind both the districts' elementary schools and the high school are becoming crowded, and the board wants the committee to help them look ahead.

Fowler classes elect officers

By ANN THELEN
Fowler High School

FOWLER—The Fowler High School Student Council is already busy at work planning events for the coming year. The members are Allen Pohl, president; Don Koenigsnecht, vice president; Don Thelen, secretary; and Janice Luttig, treasurer.

Every class held a class meeting Friday, Sept. 6, to elect the officers for the 1968-69 year. For the senior class Sam Simon will serve as president; George Thelen, vice president; Mary Anne Schrauben, secretary; Marie George, treasurer; and Linda Simon and Gary Feldpausch as student council representatives.

Sophomores' president is Cliff Thelen; Mary Epkey is vice president; LuAnn Benjamin, secretary; Jill Graft, treasurer; and John Matthews and Cindy Snyder student council representatives.

School board backs student

OVID-ELSIE—Members of the science club who have been trying to convert an area farmer's silo into an observatory to house the school's telescope, will get help from school board members Donald Craig and Dick DePond. They'll represent the board on the project.

Club members have received pledges of labor from area residents who will help with the moving, concrete, and other work. Others have made financial contributions.

The school board last week approved teacher contracts for the current year for Barbara Flore, Malja Viksne, Barbara Lansing, Donald Thompkins and Dorothy Peaples.

They approved the installation of a gas conversion unit in the furnace of the Bannister School, attended by fourth graders in that area.

THE VARSITY cheerleaders have been helping the varsity club sell P-W cushions and in return the varsity club is buying the cheerleaders' school jackets to wear during football season. The cheerleaders are Nancy Bengel, Dorothea Beachnau, Gail Cotter, Mary Davarn, Colleen Schafer and captain Rosanne Stump.

Mr Utter of Jostin's Jewelers delivered class rings to the juniors this past week.

The first pep club meeting of the year was held and officers were elected. President is Connie Thels, vice president Beth George, treasurer Anita Kramer and reporter Teresa Pung.

Now principal at Watervliet

Sister Georgianna, daughter of Mr and Mrs Alfred J. Simon of St. Johns, has just been appointed principal of St. Joseph School at Watervliet.

She formerly taught at Hastings, Three Rivers, Detroit, and Grayling. Sister was a recipient of a National Science Foundation grant for teachers of mathematics from the University of Detroit. Two of her publications have been in the "Catholic School Journal."

Currently summers are spent studying for her master's degree in counseling and guidance.

"Let's talk dry cleaning"

by Dana Antes

The bells are ringing—school bells, that is. The long summer vacation lies behind and once again it's the time of year when all of us who drive should start taking a little extra care when driving near a school zone.

For the average Mom getting ready for school days is a hectic period. It means getting slacks and skirts, sweaters and blouses, jackets and coats all ready for wearing. We can take a lot of strain out of these preparations. Just send us that junior wardrobe now and we'll have it back to you, clean and fresh and smart looking, in time for school day wear.

As every parent knows, children aren't exactly easy on clothes. Scuffles and squabbles, games and accidents take their toll. Spilled ink and paints and many other hazards put spots before your eyes. Lost buttons and little tears in the fabric and grass stains from an impromptu football game—all these are part of the normal pattern.

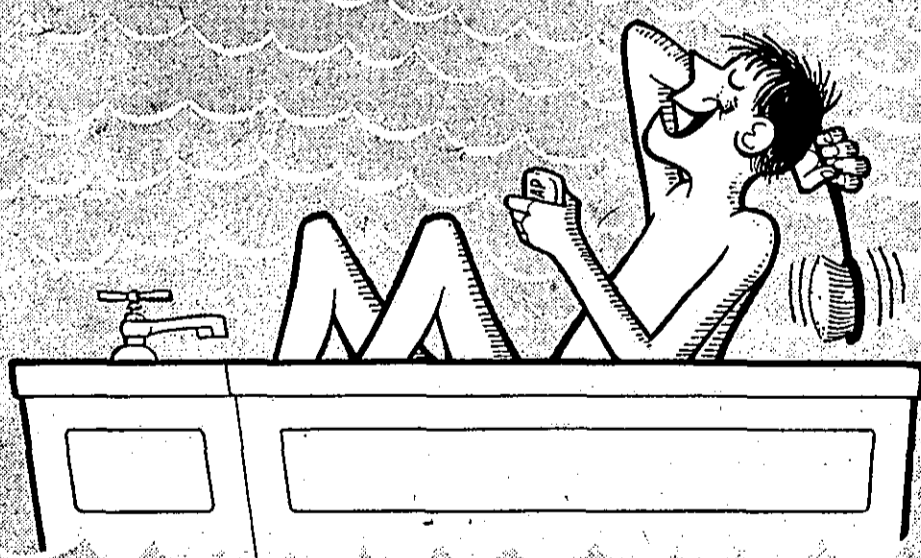

Well, that's where we come in. Repairing and cleaning, removing spots and stains, restoring crispness and freshness to school-age wardrobes is part of our business.

GINGER SIMPSON

LANA JEAN UPTON

Two young women from St. Johns and Fowler have completed 10 weeks of basic training at Recruit Training Command (Women) at the United States Naval Training Center at Bainbridge, Md. They were graduated during a military review Aug. 23.

Ginger Lee Simpson, daughter of Mr and Mrs Curtis Simpson of 1009 Church Street, St. Johns, will report soon for general duty administration at the U.S. Naval Station at Washington, D.C.

Lana Jean Upton, daughter of Mr and Mrs Charles W. Upton of 5674 Wacosta Road, Fowler, will go to the U.S. Naval Air Station at Norfolk, Va., for general duty administration.

Both girls have been spending 14-day leaves with their family. They both enlisted June 13 at the U.S. Navy Recruiting Station in Owosso and were sworn in at Detroit. They'll be serving for three years.

Seaman Apprentice Simpson and Airman Apprentice Upton received instruction in naval orientation, naval history, citizenship, and current events, naval ships, aircraft and armament, Navy jobs and training, self improvement, first aid, physical training and military bearing and drill during their indoctrination period.

Miss Simpson was active in 4-H work in St. Johns.

PAUL E. MATTHEWSON, 21, son of Mr and Mrs Darrel Matthewson of Roscommon, completed a field radio/mechanic course July 26 at the Army Armor School, Ft. Knox, Ky. His wife, Polly, lives on R-1, Fowler.

Spec.4 THEODORE K. HALITSKY of the Army Aviation Helicopter Division, after spending a 30-day leave with his parents, Mr and Mrs Nick Halitsky of 422 Meadowlark Dr., and other relatives and friends, recently reported in at Fort Dix, N. J., where he was assigned to overseas duty.

Spec. 4 Halitsky entered the Army in September 1967 and was stationed at Ft. Stewart, Ga., as company clerk before his leave.

Airman JEFFREY L. DEAN, son of Mr and Mrs Nathaniel C. Dean of R-1, Fowler, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Texas. He is now assigned as a transportation specialist with a unit of the Tactical Air Command at Eglin AFB, Fla.

Airman Dean is a 1968 graduate of Fulton High School at Middleton.

License plates—many functions, interesting history

What advertises Michigan, honors its universities, tells where a motorist is from, causes people to stand in line in some times bitter cold weather, can relieve traffic tension, employs convicts, and is a huge money-maker for the state? Give up? All these functions are in a couple of six by 12-inch galvanized steel rectangles called license plates.

Primary function of license plates is to register and "brand" every motor vehicle in the state... cars, trucks, trailers, motorcycles, farm vehicles. There has even been a Jiriksha or two.

The man in charge of handling this enormous operation—ordering, selling, promoting, operating branch offices, collecting fees,—is Secretary of State James M. Hare. To handle sales in an expeditious manner so that no motorist has to travel too far, some 250 local offices in every county of Michigan sell plates. In addition, there are cooperating Automobile Club of Michigan offices offering places to club members.

IN MANY SMALLER communities, Hare's branches move in for periods of time to provide localized community service.

This is the year of the big change in license plate sales.

"And when motorists step up to pay for their plates this year (actually the fee is a weight tax with revenue used for roads), vehicle owners are going to realize that they are paying quite a good deal more," said Secretary of State James M. Hare. "The Legislature... as a method of gaining needed additional revenue... raised weight tax effective this year from 35 cents a hundredweight to 55 cents per hundred pounds of the weight of a car."

There is also a new formula of gross vehicle weight for larger commercial vehicles. And even the dates are different. Commercial plates go on sale Oct. 1, 30 days earlier than usual. But passenger plates go on sale 15 days later than usual, Nov. 15.

Actually the weight tax change is merely going back to pre-war levels. The first U.S. coin to bear the Lincoln cent was the Lincoln penny that appeared in 1909, on the 100th anniversary of the great emancipator's birth. On the 150th anniversary, the impression of the Lincoln Memorial was added to the reverse, giving our "copper" the design it still has.

depression days when it was 55 cents a hundredweight. It was rolled back in 1934, when hard times were the order of the day.

The increase in weight tax, according to Hare, will raise revenue from passenger car plates from $42 million to $66 million.

Vehicle licensing is not new. Michigan began registering back in 1906 and issued its first official plates in 1910.

New York began auto licensing shortly after the turn of the century. At the time, there were fewer than 20,000 cars in the country. Now at peak traffic periods, it seems there are that many in the lane ahead of you.

MANY MOTORISTS play license plate games to relieve the traffic "tension." Some see how many different states they can spot.

One Detroit motorist, tired of steaming in traffic, invented his own "prefix" game. This traffic-trapped driver tried to fit the prefixes of cars near him to his driver—like "BG—Beautiful Girl" or "RC—Rusty Car."

more resistant to the state's harsh winters and road salts and chemicals.

Back in 1910 through 1914, porcelain was used over cast iron. Later, cold rolled steel was used. Most states use steel, some with additives. Others have turned to aluminum. Illinois' experiment with a soy bean derivative during World War II didn't work too well. Motorists liked the plates. But so did cows... they ate them.

More than 2,500 tons of 28-gauge galvanized steel coil is used in making Michigan's plates. Some 180 inmates at Southern Michigan Prison near Jackson make them. Plates, made at the prison since 1918, constitute one of the largest industries there.

Plate-making is a nine month operation. To relieve the monotony, inmates occasionally inject a little humor with the plates. One surprised motorist pulled out his plates last year and saw the word "HELP" emblazoned on them.

Another time, an inmate wag inserted a message in Chinese fortune cookie style. It read: "Help, I'm being held prisoner in a license plate factory."

STILL ANOTHER fact reader: "Hold Me." And prisoners have displayed fits of humor by putting in letters and numbers upside down and backwards.

Since the prisoners turn out nearly 5 million sets of plates annually—more than 3.6-million passenger car plates—you aren't likely to encounter any budding Bob Hopes.

License plates are obviously big business... bigger than ever this year. They cost $2 a set back in 1910. Now, national income runs to more than $2 billion annually.

In Michigan, the figure is $81 million annually. But it will jump to over $100 million after the 1969 sale.

The revenue is used to build and maintain roads and highways. Michigan residents can be justly proud of their state's net work of highways and one of the most extensive freeway systems in the country. License plate revenue helps in the construction of the interstate system running from Monroe to Sault Ste. Marie and from Muskegon to Detroit.

Plates also help advertise Michigan when our motorists travel to other states. The present slogan, "Great Lake State" was suggested by Michigan's tourist industry.

SLOGANS ARE WIDELY used. Some states, including Michigan, have used more than one.

Michigan first used "Water Wonderland." Then it switched to "Water-Winter Wonderland" when winter sports enthusiasts felt the addition would help promote the state's budding winter sports activities.

New Mexico long has proclaimed itself the "Land of Enchantment." Wisconsin is "American's Dairyland." Kansas is "Midway USA." Louisiana is "Sportsmen's Paradise." Alabama is the "Heart of Dixie." Minnesota uses "10,000 Lakes" and Illinois plates bear the legend, "Land of Lincoln."

Some states use symbols. Wyoming uses a cowboy on a bucking bronco. The Canadian province of Ontario has a small crown. Quebec has a fleur de lis.

And some states bear the name of the county in which the plates were purchased. Michigan doesn't do it quite that way. But if you know the letter prefix code, you can tell where the car is from. AA to FZ are issued in Wayne County, GA to HZ in Oakland, JA to JZ in Kent, KA to KZ in Genesee, and LA to LN in Ingham. These are Michigan's most populous counties.

Plates beginning with "U" are issued in the Upper Peninsula. Michigan's two-letter, four-number system, which begins with AA.0001 will be used "until we run out of combinations when we will go to a three-letter, three-number system," says Hare.

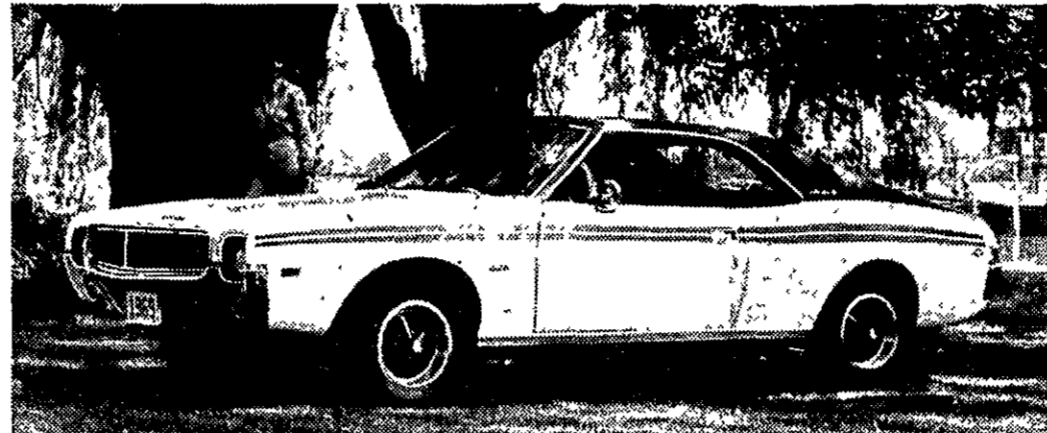

THE REGISTRATION system started with a lightweight metal disc which was affixed to the dashboard. It was a little larger than a silver dollar. Some motorists attached numbers on a piece of stout leather and mounted them outside their cars.

They beat the state to the outside plate-type system. The first plates in 1910 had black numbers on a white background. This year, plates will be white on a cardinal background, honoring the state's newest college, Saginaw Valley College.

Although they raise a hundred million dollars, license plates themselves cost very little... a few cents each. As a wartime economy measure, Michigan went to tabs. During the 1940s, a single plate was issued, and the state used the one-plate system into the mid-1950s, when the Legislature went to the two-plate system for three years. Then came several years of tabling.

"I'm not a personal advocate of tabs," admits Hare. "And most of the state's motorists seem to favor full-sized plates. Still, we have open minds on the system. To this end, our people are constantly exploring ways of doing the job better and more efficiently."

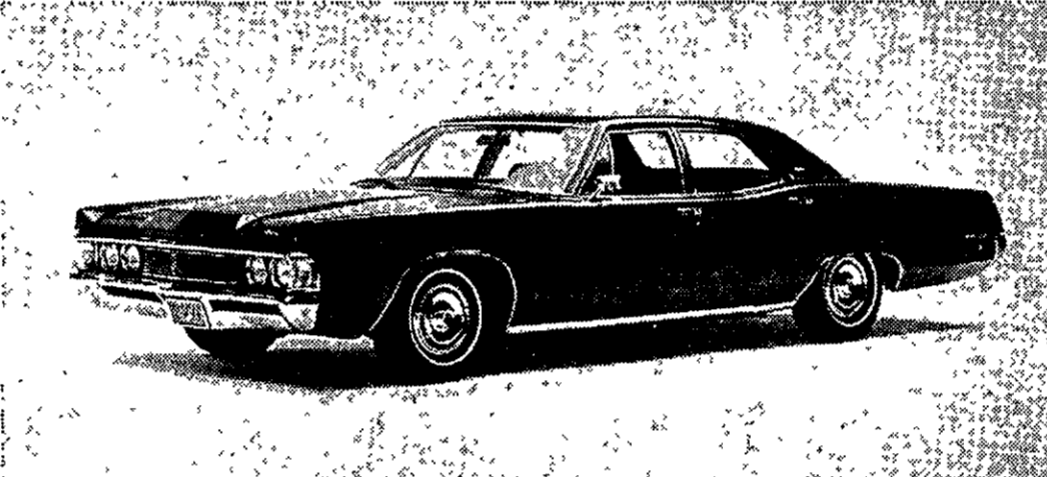

Hare said tabs are now much improved over the metal types used in the past. They could be made of plasticized paper with a gummed backing, would take a matter of seconds to put on, and not result in cut fingers and frayed tempers in cold, winter weather.

Manual Three-on-Floor Is New for Javelin

American Motors has announced its sporty Javelin for 1969, featuring a new floor-mounted three-speed manual transmission with the standard 232 cubic inch six-cylinder engine or the optional 290 cubic inch two-barrel V-8. New styling highlights for the Javelin include a new grille featuring a bull's-eye motif, new trim treatment for the instrument panel in the standard Javelin, and extensive use of wood-grain applique in the Javelin SST model shown here. A new two-color "rally" stripe and new "Mag" styled wheels are separate options for 1969. New "Go" packages include black hood scoops, ROOMIER, LONGER and completely new, the Mercury Monterey for 1969 offers a full range of nine models in the Monterey and Monterey Custom series. They are 221.3 inches long, an increase of almost two inches. Roadability is improved, with wheelbase increased to 124 inches and tread wider in front by one inch and in the rear by two inches. Interiors reach a new level of luxury, convenience and comfort. The new body features cleaner lines, smoother contours and the long-hood short-deck design characteristic of the Continental. Pictured above is the Mercury Monterey Custom four-door sedan.

Soil resource problems on urban fringes receiving SCD attention

"Resource problems of the fringes of urban settlements are receiving the attention of conservation district leaders all over the nation," says Orville Beachler, soil conservation technician of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, assisting the Clinton County Soil Conservation District.

The enormous population increases have thrust commercial and residential developments far into the countryside. The result has been serious consequences for land, water and other natural resources.

This leapfrogging land use pattern is only one aspect of the problem pointed out. Accelerated erosion and stream pollution result from careless building practices. Areas barred for construction cannot control runoff. Uncontrolled surface water increases flood dangers, destroys wildlife habitat and jeopardizes recreation potential.

The soil conservation district is a vehicle which may be used to cope with suburban problems. A Soil Survey being made by the Soil Conservation Service, in cooperation with Michigan State University Experiment Station, Tri-

Farm to feedlot stress examined

What has been described as the beef cattle industry's most costly problem — stress caused by shipping and weaning — is being explored by Michigan State University animal scientists.

Drs. Terry Greathouse, Hugh Henderson and graduate researcher J. R. Males estimated that the problem costs the U.S. beef-cattle industry more than $25 million annually.

In their three-year study, the researchers found that the route that calves took from farm to feedlot turned out to be the real stress culprit. Some of the calves went through a feeder sale while others went direct to feedlots.

Calves shipped direct suffered 9.6 per cent shrinkage. But those County Regional Planning Commission and county boards of supervisors, are completed and available to people who need this information. This inventory con-shipped indirectly lost 11.1 per cent — 4.6 per cent to the feeder sale and another 6.5 per cent from sale to feedlot. And the indirect shipment calves needed treatment by a veterinarian more than those shipped direct.

Calves weaned four weeks before shipment, rather than just before, did not show enough advantage to cover added labor and feed costs.

Some of the calves were vaccinated three weeks before shipment, while others got their shots when they arrived at the feedlot. The MSU scientists found no difference in performance, shrinkage or sickness between the two groups.

THE INFORMATION and data resulting from the soil surveys is being used to identify areas with limitations for roads, school sites, residential subdivisions, water supply, solid waste removal, liquid waste disposal. Likewise, potentially good sites for wildlife areas, parks, water impoundments, trails, etc., are identified with sound technical information.

"Soil erosion affects everyone, but many town dwellers give it little thought because it appears to them to be a problem of farmers," Beachler said. "Whether you live on the farm or in the city, soil conservation works in your favor. It helps reduce taxes; your food, clothing, electricity and water bills; transportation fees; and it promotes better recreation opportunities and better environment for you and your children and their children.

"This is why your Clinton County Soil Conservation District is so interested in soil conservation in both urban and rural areas. The district office at 100 S. Ottawa, St. Johns, in cooperation with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, is ready and willing to help all in proper use of the soil for a better tomorrow."

Oct. 1 deadline set at DeWitt

DEWITT—The city council has set Oct. 1 as the deadline for all city residents to comply with the new trash ordinance, which stipulates all trash must be burned in approved barrels 15 feet from buildings and five feet from property lines.

The services of the Scott Bagby Corp. to develop a long-range plan for the City of DeWitt have been retained. It will cost the city $7,000.

DeWitt will purchase a new tractor for $890.

Crowners visit son, announcer in Kentucky

Mr and Mrs Melvin Crowner of Howe Road, DeWitt, recently visited their son, Jack Crowner, farm program director of WAVE, Inc., who has the well-modulated voice it takes to call the animals to the show ring and announce the judges decisions on the winners. Crowner recently spent 10 days at the Kentucky State Fair broadcasting a 12-hour day, because the fair announcing chores came after he had already done his regular stint of broadcasting starting at 5 a.m.

Winding up his cattle ring job, Crowner said he was a little tired but added, "I love it, I wouldn't miss it for the world."

Crowner also will do the Indiana State Fair for his radio and television station. He studied broadcasting at Michigan State University.

He came to WAVE, Inc. in 1957 after graduating and marrying a Valley Station girl, Miss Sue Terry, whom he met on the way to New Zealand when they were members of an International Farm Youth Exchange Program team.

The Crowners have three children and now live in Pleasure Ridge Park, Ky.

DeWitt to improve parking lot at township hall

DEWITT — DeWitt Township members voted last week to spend about $3,000 for compacted gravel at the Number Two Township Hall parking lot. Members said they hoped to have the parking lot ready for use of voters in the November election.

Forty-three acres owned by Edmund Thelen on the north side of State Road west of Turner near the airport has been rezoned from agricultural to industrial.

Purchase of a siren and public address system for the township's fire department unit was authorized. Members of the DeWitt Township Firemen's Assn. and their wives were commended for their service to the area. The association purchased $203 worth of equipment for the department.

Board members authorized the taking of bids on a new truck to be used for work in the cemetery.

Sept. 16 at 8 p.m. has been set for a general information meeting on charter townships.

Blue Star Moms hear report on canteen work

Edna Eldred reported at the Sept. 10 meeting of the Blue Star Mothers Chapter 88 on the canteen set up for Clinton County boys who leave for the service.

The next group leaves Sept. 23. The chapter furnishes small kits with different articles and also takes turns furnishing cookies. Dorothy Steves, the secretary, reported sending out 50 letters to servicemen's families inviting them to visit the chapter and get an idea of how extensive the organization's work is.

Two mothers, Leona Ray and Edna Lewis are reported ill in General Hospital and St. Lawrence.

Twelve members plan on attending the district meeting in Greenville Sept. 24. Registration is at 9:30 a.m. Anyone wishing to go please contact President Mrs. Jessie Finch.

Mabel Meier won the mystery package. The next meeting will be Sept. 24, at 8 p.m. On the committee are Ann Snaier, Viana Bond, Dorothy Welsh and Anna Pierson.

MISS KATHY MARTEN

Graduates

Miss Kathy Elvareta Marten, daughter of Mrs Joyce Marten of 409 S. Clinton Avenue, graduated Sept. 8 as a radiological technologist after completing two years of training as an x-ray technician at St. Lawrence Hospital in Lansing.

Miss Marten is a 1966 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School.

None hurt in 2 crashes near each other

St. Johns police investigated two property damage traffic accidents within one block last Tuesday and Wednesday. No one was injured.

Cars driven by Bernard A. Fox, 38, of Faragher Road, R-6, St. Johns, and Janet M. Lowe, 27, of 145 Snyder Drive, Ovid, collided at Spring and State (M-21) streets about 9:50 a.m. last Tuesday. Mrs Lowe was making a right turn onto Spring and skidded on loose gravel on the intersection, and her car hit Fox's.

Just east of there, two cars came together about 5 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 11. Berton E. Clark, 87, of 101 N. Oakland Street was ticketed for failure to yield the right-of-way after he backed out of his driveway onto the highway and struck a west-bound car driven by Blanche I. Lee of 302 E. McConnell Street.

Constitution observance set for next week

Sept. 17 marks the 181st anniversary of the signing of the Constitution of the United States of America. President Johnson has urged the people of the United States to observe Sept. 17 through 23 with appropriate ceremonies and activities. Governor Romney and St. Johns Mayor Charles Coletta have also issued proclamations to all of Michigan to observe this week.

The DAR asks members to observe Constitution Week in some appropriate fashion and to stimulate interest among the general public of the importance of this document which has brought our county to its present level of culture and prosperity.

"Let us make this 1968 celebration such that it will focus attention on the fact that our cherished freedoms are due to and guaranteed by the Constitution as originally written, stitution as originally written," the DAR said.

Altar Society plans card, style show

The St. Joseph Altar Society held their first general meeting Sept. 9, at which time new officers for 1968-69 were elected.

They are: Mrs Agnes French, president; Mrs Dorothy Rosekrans, vice president; Mrs Harriet Motz, corresponding secretary; Mrs Pat Purtil, recording secretary; Mrs Daria Pung, treasurer; also Mrs Virginia Eisler, Mrs Virgene Henning, Mrs Yvonne Asher, Mrs Arlene Rademacher, and Mrs Marge Koenigskecht.

A report from Mrs Barbara Malusek informed members that plans for the Oct. 3 card party and style show were progressing very nicely. It will begin at 8 p.m.

A mass was celebrated at 6:30 by Fr William Hankerd, followed by a potluck supper and white elephant sale. St. Natalie's Guild had charge of the dining room.

CONFIRMING RESOLUTION

I, Commissioner Serrine, hereby move that:

WHEREAS: A special assessment roll has been on file for public examination, and said assessments cover the installation of sidewalk, and

WHEREAS: The city commission has held a public hearing, and

WHEREAS: A special benefit to the properties exists, which are in an area described as the property on the south side of West Sickles Street, from Lansing Street to the west line of the High School east drive (approximately 550 feet).

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED THAT,

This special assessment roll is hereby confirmed as presented and each front foot as shown thereon is hereby determined to be $ and assessed at $2.61052 per lineal foot. There may be three installments in accordance with city ordinances, if the property owners affected desire, and the rate of interest on these installments shall be 6 per cent per annum. This special assessment shall become due upon passage of this Resolution and any deferred installments due hereafter shall be shown as a part of the annual city tax roll.

The above motion supported by Irerer. Yea: Irerer, Serrine, Coletta. Nay: none. Motion carried.

MOTION BY Commissioner Irerer, supported by Commissioner Serrine, to adopt the following resolutions:

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS: This commission this day passed confirming resolution No. 3-68 concerning a special assessment for sidewalk on the south side of West Sickles Street from Lansing Street to the west line of the high school east drive, and

WHEREAS: The city has this day received a check in the amount of $338.57 as a contribution towards partial payment in the combined amount of $257.57 on the Special Assessment levied on Roll No. 1024-00 and 1024-04 and in the amount of $81.00 on Roll No. 1027-01.

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED THAT,

The owners of said property be credited with payments in the following manner:

Roll No. 1024-00, $174.32.
Roll No. 1024-04, $83.25
Roll No. 1027-01, $81.00

If the property owners affected elect to pay in installments in accordance with city ordinance, as in said confirming resolution provided, then the above credited payments shall first be applied to reduce the amount assessed, and the balance shall be divided into said three installments and the interest on said installments shall be of 6 per cent per annum.

Time nonsense

Apparently this summer's experience with daylight-saving time has done nothing to convince Michigan farmers that it's a good idea.

They keep referring to "double daylight" time, because the federal act placed most of Michigan two full hours ahead of "sun" time.

It appears most farmers have tolerated daylight saving time as a somewhat silly nuisance and something to be done away with as soon as possible.

Fed up with the whole idea, farmers are urging all-out support for a "no" vote.

Stamp days

The ringing of school bells this fall not only signals the opening of classrooms throughout the country but heralds the 28th year of the Treasury's school savings program.

This activity, which operates in many of our schools, encourages young people to buy U.S. savings stamps on a given day each week.

This spring the President announced rate changes for savings bonds and freedom shares, making them more attractive investments.

But there's a lot more to the program than merely realizing a good return on their investment.

Who reads ads?

Who is the reader of newspaper advertising? This is not a hypothetical question.

He is likely to be more intelligent and more literate, than people who respond to other advertising.

He is likely to have more money to spend than other people.

He is over 80 per cent of the women about to go grocery shopping.

He is nearly every man considering the purchase of automobiles, trucks or tractors.

If she is older, she gives advice on foods, electrical appliances, sewing and parties.

If she is a teen-ager, she sets the pace in selecting skirts, slacks, and sneakers.

The newspaper reader is someone looking for a house to rent, or someone trying to rent a house.

He is a lawyer looking for a typist, or a typist looking for a job.

He is a tycoon looking for a Cadillac, or a salesman looking for a tycoon.

He is a boy looking for a puppy, or someone with a litter of mongrels needing homes.

He is a builder looking for a loan, or a banker looking for an investment.

He or she is the whole local community with unsatisfied wants and needs.

Can't They Get Together?

The "Low Down" From the Congressional Record By Joe Crump

Rep. Richard L. Ottinger (N. Y.) "...There is really nothing good to be said about the welfare system in the United States today..."

"8. Many of the aged and handicapped can be trained for useful and productive roles in society. We have barely scratched the surface of their potential."

"9. (It is) estimated that one-third of the 110,000 employed in administering welfare could be eliminated by computerizing the payments, for a saving of about $54,000,000."

RAMBLIN' WITH RINK

A moving story

By LOWELL G. RINKER

Among the many things I enjoy doing is moving, as long as it is not a big, complicated or drawn-out moving job.

I promised my wife and myself three years ago when we moved to our present home that I wasn't going to move again.

But as years go by, you tend to forget the unpleasantness of such a move and recall it as an adventure.

MY DESIGN, WITH Ron's approval, was to make two office areas out of the four we've had since I came here in 1964.

Now that vacation time is past, the children back in school and civic organizations are back to holding regular meetings, it's time for the civil defense director to plug for CD educational programs.

Civil defense & you

By CHARLES FROST Clinton County Civil Defense Director

Informational programs and training classes such as medical self-help and CD adult education are sponsored, generally, by civic organizations.

However, we know that not everyone belongs to an organization. While it would be impossible to present a program to each individual, I certainly would encourage anyone who will hold a meeting, or a series of meetings, at their home for the benefit of neighbors and friends who are interested, and I will do my best to accommodate them.

IT'S NEARLY IMPOSSIBLE to recruit from people who should have specialized training, even when their job or position does require it, and the knowledge they gain becomes their own, and could mean their own survival.

Recruit from people who should have specialized training, even when their job or position does require it, and the knowledge they gain becomes their own, and could mean their own survival.

I tackled the job last Saturday (that would have been the 7th), and as fate would have it no one was able to be around to lend a hand.

Unscrewing telephone connecting boxes and sliding the desks around wasn't really much trouble. One set of partitions between my former "slot" and the one to the west could be moved as a unit, and after much maneuvering I got it turned around and in position.

The next project, then, was to unfasten a portion of the other partition and fasten it to the end of the partition I had just moved.

I proceeded to tear them down part way but then could go no farther. I called for help. George Morehouse, who has done this sort of thing on the job in Lansing, came into town to give me a hand.

STILL NO LUCK, SO we wound up leaving everything until we could get some authoritative advice.

Paul Pride:

Paul Pride says: "I saw a homeowner the other day who was out on the corner straightening up a tilted street sign. I didn't know the guy, but it was nice to see people taking pride in how their neighborhood looks. It is little things like tilted posts that keep a neighborhood from looking sharp."

Mr and Mrs President or Program Chairman, has your organization or club had a civil defense program? Have you invited the local civil defense director to one of your meetings?

In short, to me an informational program is serving up a sample of knowledge to the people of the County. I like to do it; I meet some of the finest people this way!

Q—Was that your wife I saw you with last night? A—Yes and no. It was Pat but it was not her wig. She traded wigs for awhile with a kooky friend. The borrowed wig is streaked gray and the bangs were trimmed with a jackknife.

Will there be any more questions?

By JIM FITZGERALD

The last two weeks I've made notes on my shirtrial of the questions most often asked me. It is now time to change the shirt but first, folks, here's the tale off the tall:

Q—Would you rather write funny columns or serious columns? A—I'd rather not write any at all. This usually surprises people.

Fans over 40 can remember, dimly, the glory days of 1934, 1935, 1940 and 1945. For the past 23 years we have been faithful enough, or dumb enough, to keep hoping the tiger might turn vicious again. We've put up with a lot of pussycats and, if Detroit purrs in second this September, we oldsters are stupid enough to come back for more next year.

Q—Do you think the Tigers will win the pennant? A—They'd better. I have been an aching, rooting, bleeding Tiger fan since I can remember.

Q—You talk very seriously about the Tigers. Don't you know baseball is just a little boys' game sometimes played by grown men in knickerbockers? There is war and poverty and disease in this world. Don't you feel silly rooting for a baseball team?

A—Shut up. Q—Does your wife ever get angry at you for some of the things you write about her? A—Yes.

merely slipped down and locked in place over bolts in the partition posts. To take them apart you merely pushed up on the panels.

I shouldn't say merely. I had tried to do that very thing the Saturday before but had lacked the muscle. With Ron's help and some boards and books, we raised the panels up and then drove the posts back down with a hammer, and the units came apart.

So, the partitions are relatively the right place, but the rest of the room is still a mess. Desks aren't spotted yet in their final positions, because the telephone cables aren't relocated.

Sometime this week, however, maybe we can do this, can get the phones fixed up in the right spots and get the office back to some semblance of normalcy. I hate working in semi-finished conditions, and it is enough to kill—again... for awhile—the excitement of moving.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

ME MADE, Kans., -GLOBE PRESS: "There should be formed an association to protect the rights of the individual, a sort of conservation association, to prevent the erosion of individual rights from the constitution and also by the rules and regulations of bureaus. Latest of the rights of the individual to be attacked is the right to own and use a gun. Slowly the rights of the individual are being washed down the drain. Peoples of the old countries have had their rights taken many years ago, and many of them never had any rights to start with. That is the reason the United States of America was founded!"

RONCEVERTE, W. VA., NEWS: "California's Governor Ronald Reagan is sometimes a controversial figure. However, on the matter of the crime explosion, he said a mouthful the other day at a fund-raising dinner in Indianapolis. "In our humanitarian society, we have rightfully safeguarded the rights of the accused, but we have carried this to an excessive concern for the guilty," Reagan said. "Permissiveness from cradle to crime is our philosophy. What were once considered privileges are now recognized as rights, and first and foremost is the right to adjust any personal grievance by the neatest means at hand, be it rock, club or fire-bomb."

How to draw attention to special propositions on voting machines is a problem which plagues Bernard Apol, state director of elections.

Five state proposals will be on the November ballot, and local propositions in many communities will increase the number. Apol is concerned that many voters will not be aware of the referendums "hidden" in the maze of office seekers. It is a well-founded fear.

An in-depth study of the 1961 spring election conducted by Apol showed a significant difference in behavior of voters using paper ballots than those using machines. Almost 18 per cent of those casting ballots by machine did not vote on the new constitution proposal. For those voting by paper ballot, the number was only 2.6 per cent. Although many factors could have affected the machine-voter drop-off, Apol believes that many voters simply did not notice the proposal on the voting machines.

"WHEN SOMEONE votes by paper ballot," Apol says, "he looks at each ballot individually. Whether or not he chooses to vote on each proposal is immaterial. At least we are pretty well assured he has seen the questions." When using a machine, Apol points out, the voter may not be aware of the propositions placed near the top of the ballot, close to the instructions.

The August primary election showed the same trend in voter drop-off, although some improvement has been made since 1963.

Rep. Russell Strange (R-Mt. Pleasant), chairman of the House Elections Committee, says, "This has been a matter of growing concern during the 12 years I have served on the elections committee. I have been involved in five legislative re-counts and have noted the voter drop-off on propositions, particularly in Presidential elections.

Both Strange and Apol feel a study is needed, following the November election, to determine the best way to deal with the problem. Strange notes that many legislators share his concern. Rep. Louis Schmidt (R-Livonia) has requested a joint study be conducted by the House Elections Committee and Apol's office.

Various methods to draw attention to proposals on voting machines have been tried, says Apol, but no one solution seems best.

A multi-color face of red, white and blue seems to be most effective. Not only does the method have patriotic implications, the "vote the red, white and blue" slogan helps voters remember to complete their ballots before pulling the machine release lever. Under this system all propositions are printed on a red background, partisan offices are printed on a white background and non-partisan offices on a blue background.

STRANGE BELIEVES the method will probably be made mandatory. He notes that local voting precincts are now permitted to use the strips but many do not. "Depending on the results of our study, there is a good chance the 'red, white and blue' designation for propositions, partisan and non-partisan questions will be adopted as a standard."

A numbering system was also used on an experimental basis but many of the county clerks ran into complaints, says Apol. The system used oversize numbers to designate steps for the voter to follow when casting his ballot. Arrows pointed to questions which corresponded to the numbers. Some candidates complained that the numbers pointed to their opponents' names, and many complained that the arrows pointed to "yes" or "no" on proposals, thus influencing voter decisions.

Printed instructions and verbal reminders have been used in some communities, and a facsimile of the face of the voting machine must be posted outside of voting booths.

"Mechanical innovations may be in the offing. Apol has written to manufacturers of voting machines asking that they investigate installation of special lights or lock-releases to assure complete scrutiny of the ballot. Since approximately 87 per cent of all voters in Michigan use machines to cast their ballots, it is important that an effective solution be found.

"GOLDCOT," A NEW variety of apricot, was developed by horticulturists from Michigan State University's South Haven experimental station, and is expected to stimulate the first successful apricot production east of the Rocky Mountains.

It has an early maturity date and can be harvested over a 10-day period. Fruit buds resist injury from low temperatures but harmful effects of freeze-thaw weather in early spring may restrict production to the northwestern part of the Lower Peninsula.

Research in development of a hardy apricot began in 1888, and 239 varieties have been unsuccessfully tested since 1937. Goldcot is excellent for fresh use, home processing and baby food. It is not considered prime for commercial canning because the skins are dark and probably unpleasant to the eye of many consumers.

Mrs Aphra Pixley

(omitted last week)

The Ovid Duplain Ladies Library Club met Friday, Sept. 6 for the first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs John Spencer for a potluck luncheon. Twenty four members and two guests answered to roll call.

Mrs George Parmenter, president, called the meeting to order. The Collect and Pledge of Allegiance was followed by a short business meeting. Mrs Florence Phelps, presented two books for the club to place in the Ovid Library in memory of Mrs John Schwark and Mrs Chandler Gleason. They were "Louis Pasteur," by Laura Wood and "Land and People of Israel," by Gall Hoffman.

Guest speaker for the day was Mr Richard Price of the Michigan Conservation Dept. The film "The Seasons and Their Effects to Wild Birds and Animals," followed by a question and answer period was of great interest to all and thoroughly enjoyed. Mrs Glen Parks gave a brief report on Conservation Today. Mrs Ralph Baker gave the closing prayer.

Mr and Mrs Dale Bancroft and Greg have returned after spending ten days at Rose Lake. Mr and Mrs Walter Bancroft of St. Johns joined them for a few days of Coho fishing near Arcadia.

Mrs Harold Beardslee returned home Thursday after spending about three weeks with her son George and family at Costa Mesa, Calif.

Mr and Mrs C. L. Squier attended the 50th wedding anniversary open house of Mr and Mrs Floyd Squier in Lansing on Sunday.

Mr and Mrs Frank Rivest of Elsie and Mr and Mrs Hubert Hilton were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs Ethel Shinabery. Mr and Mrs Sam Anderson and family have returned to their home in Tucson, Ariz., after visiting relatives here the past two weeks.

Mr and Mrs Clare Crawford attended a four day convention of the Michigan Petroleum Association at Traverse City last week.

Mr and Mrs George Sillaway of Ovid Convalescent Manor, Mr and Mrs Earl Comstock of Lansing, Claude Sillaway of Okemos, Mrs Clara Gust and Beverly of Cedar Springs, and Mr and Mrs George Austin celebrated the 85th birthday of Mrs Sillaway at the J. P. Farms restaurant on Sunday.

Mr and Mrs Robert VanSlee were in Detroit Friday at the showing of the new Dodge cars at Cobo Hall. Mr and Mrs Jerry Kilar have left to make their home in Saginaw. She is resuming her studies at Central Michigan University and Jerry is teaching at Delta Jr. College.

Mrs Daisy Louth of Harrison is spending an indefinite time with Mr and Mrs Douglas Angell. Mrs Janet Sparks has returned to Lexington, Ky., after spending two weeks with her son and family, Mr and Mrs Ray Jones.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT SO RESOLVED, the city manager and city clerk acting jointly are authorized to invest tax revenue of the City of St. Johns, including revenues, in general and specially designated funds, in time certificates of Clinton National Bank and Trust Co. of St. Johns and Central National Bank of St. Johns, with due allowances and consideration for meeting the present and anticipated needs for funds in said general and specially designated funds. The city accountant-treasurer shall inform the city commission by the first regular meeting of the city commission each month of the general fund and special funds balances as of the last day of the preceding month, including amounts then invested in time certificates and the due dates thereof. The city accountant-treasurer may so inform the commission as part of his "voucher and check register" report.

A look into the past...

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR CONCAVE IN 1931

This picture was taken at the Knights Templar Conclave in St. Johns in the fall of 1931. At this time Edward W. Fehling was commander, and A. G. Jones captain general. Over 400 members attended this conclave. Those still living from this area include Lee A. DeWitt of St. Johns, Herbert Fizzell of North Lansing, and Harry Bradley of St. Johns, the oldest living member of the St. Johns commandery. Fred Lewis, recorder since 1940, says he has no records prior to 1940. Harry Bradley a business man for 61 years in this area, says none of the business owners shown in this picture remain.

Year: Irerer, Serrine, Coletta, Rand, Oatley, Nay: none. Motion carried. This resolution passed at the regular meeting of the City Commission meeting held Aug. 29, 1968.

The city clerk informed the city commission of the recommendations made by the city planning commission as follows:

That the planning commission recommend to deny the request of Federal - Mogul Employees Credit Union to rezone an area 1/2 block wide on the North of Lincoln Street from Spring to Mead Street, from single family residential to office zoning.

At this time the clerk presented the city commission with two petitions circulated by the Federal - Mogul Employees Credit Union presented by Mr Robert D. Allen. It stated:

"We, the undersigned property owners have no objection to the Credit Union using the property located at 211 E. Lincoln Street, St. Johns, Michigan for an office. We understand that this property will remain zoned R-1."

General discussion from the floor regarding the petition and its effect on the community followed. Persons participating in this discussion were Mr Kenneth Pyle, Mr Robert D. Allen, Mr William Morris, Mr William Graef.

Motion by Commissioner Rand, supported by Commissioner Irerer, to deny the request of the petitioners, to allow by special use permit office uses in the single family residential districts of the City of St. Johns. Year: Irerer, Serrine, Coletta, Rand, Oatley, Nay: none. Motion carried.

Motion by Commissioner Rand, supported by Commissioner Serrine, to receive the request from Rolla M. Clinton County Plat Board RULES AND PROCEDURE FOR REVIEW OF PLATS

Effective January 1, 1968

Preliminary and final approval of all plats shall be considered at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Clinton County Plat Board which shall be held on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month and at such special meetings or hours as may be called upon one week's notice; at 1:30 p.m. in the County Building in St. Johns, Michigan. All such meetings shall be official meetings of the Clinton County Plat Board and all proceedings shall be a matter of public record.

A proprietor plating property shall comply with the provisions of Michigan Public Act No. 288 of 1967 as adopted and subsequently amended, and shall furnish compliance with any municipal or county ordinances, rules or regulations affecting subdividing, planning and zoning, building, health, roads and highways, sanitation and drainage.

1. PRELIMINARY PLATS: In accordance with Sec. 119 of Act No. 288 of 1967, the proprietor shall submit two copies of the preliminary plat to the County Plat Board and to the public utilities serving the area for informational purposes. The Plat Board will consider the plat name, streets and roads, sewers and drains, location, etc., and if any discrepancies are evident the proprietor and governing body will be notified.

2. FINAL PLAT APPROVAL: The final approval of the plat by the County Plat Board, prior to submission to the State Treasurer, will be the signatures on the certificate stating that the plat has been reviewed and is approved by the County Plat Board as being in compliance with the provisions of Act No. 288, P.A. 1967 and the applicable rules and regulations of the Plat Board. Certificates of final approval shall be in the following sequence:

1. Surveyor
2. Proprietor
3. County Treasurer
4. Drain Commissioner
5. Road Commission
6. Municipality
7. County Plat Board

The final plat must be accompanied by the following when presented for approval:

- A. The filing and recording fee of $20.00.
- B. A letter of approval and a completed check sheet from the plat engineer of the municipality. (Cannot be the same engineer or surveyor who made the plat.)
- C. A copy of the Completed Traverse Closure.
- D. Proof of ownership: (The municipality shall furnish proof to the Plat Board that all parties of interest have signed the plat. This can be determined by an abstract of title certified to the date of the proprietors certificate with an attorney's opinion based on said abstract as to the ownership and marketability of the land. An alternative can be a policy of title insurance currently in force covering all land in the boundaries of the plat.)
- E. Copy of letter of approval by the County Health Unit, if municipal water and sewage systems are not available.
- F. Tax Certificate from the County Treasurer must be on the final plat.

REVIEW AND SUBSEQUENT APPROVAL OR REJECTION OF A PLAT SHALL BE WITHIN FIFTEEN DAYS AFTER RECEIPT OF SAME BY THE COUNTY PLAT BOARD.

Ovid OK's sewer contracts

OVID—Construction on Ovid's new sewage system will probably start this month following awarding of contracts last week on two portions of the job.

Reed and Noyce, Lansing contractors, submitted the low bid of $159,174 on the sewer portion of the project, and Hough Brothers of Sunfield got the lagoon contract on a low bid of $73,470. There were six bidders.

The sewage project by the village of Ovid will be financed in part by a Farm Home Administration grant of $270,000 and a federal government loan of $412,000.

The lagoon will be built south-east of the village.

At their meeting last week, councilmen expressed discontent with Consumers Power Co. service and decided to complain to the State Public Service Commission. Councilmen charged the company failed to replace burned out lights on village streets even though notified seven times within three weeks.

AT THE SAME meeting they tabled for further study a Consumers Power Co. request to locate a mobile trailer in Ovid twice a month to collect accounts and display merchandise.

The council agreed to pay 50 per cent of the cost of a speaker and records to be used by the Ovid Business Assn. in the business district during the holiday season. The village's contribution will be in lieu of new Christmas decorations on the streets this year.

Ovid - Elsie school officials told the council last week the tennis courts at the junior high school will be resurfaced to provide a better recreational facility for youth of the community.

WATERTOWN CHARTER TOWNSHIP MINUTES

The September meeting was called to order by Supervisor Openlander with Clerk McDonough, Treasurer Kraft and Trustees Noble and Garlock present.

Minutes of the August meeting were read and approved.

Mrs Shirley Walter and Mr William McComb from the Looking Glass Valley Park Board came in to discuss the park budget for the coming year.

The Board granted approval for transfer of interest in cemetery lots to Leon Garlock, Mrs Beulah Strickfaden and Miss Helen Partlow.

Mr Openlander filled the Board in on highway maintenance and construction.

The treasurer's report was read and placed on file.

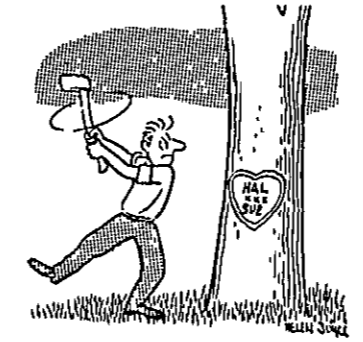

The bills were read and approved.

Motion made and seconded that $3,400 be transferred from Contingent to Highway account for the payment of bills.

The tentative 1969 budget was discussed. The public budget hearing meeting will be held on October 28.

Meeting adjourned.

MILDRED McDONOUGH, Clerk

Owner seeks to free 'landlocked' subdivision

MAPLE RAPIDS—Max Pitts and the Maple Rapids Village Council hoped to have some legal light shed on Pitts' request of a couple of weeks ago concerning the possible development of a 17-lot subdivision on the east side of town.

Village Atty. Robert Wood of St. Johns was asked to attend the council's Wednesday night (Sept. 18) meeting to discuss the situation.

Pitts wants to develop his property, but he can't until he gets a road into it. Several streets are shown on early plat maps, but they (the streets) have been vacated over the years and residences established on the new areas.

Peck, Elm, Third and Chestnut streets, in fact, were vacated as recently as August 1965. They're in the Hutchinson addition platted in 1882; 10 of Pitts' lots are in that addition.

Pitts was asked to possibly obtain easements or run the road through the lot where his trailer home is located, and he could move it onto one of the lots he wants to develop. The road, including right-of-way, must be 66 feet wide, councilmen told Pitts.

Pitts' proposed development is in the northeastern part of town and borders the Maple River on the north.

North Victor

By Mrs Elzie Exelby

(omitted last week)

There was a very good attendance at the Victor Missionary Society held at the James Huyck home on Thursday afternoon. Mrs Gail Trierber had charge of the program and chose the women of the Bible as her topic. Mrs Lorraine Huyck will print and make the program books for the coming year.

Dr. and Mrs W. B. Fullinger of Ovid were callers at the Exelby home recently. Mr and Mrs Wilbur Brandt of St. Johns were Sunday dinner guests there.

Mrs Agnes Marolt of Freeland is spending an indefinite time with her granddaughter and husband Mr and Mrs Thayne Miner.

The Staples family returned home Monday evening from a weeks vacation in Northern Michigan.

Mrs Floyd Upton is still confined to Clinton Memorial Hospital. Her condition is some improved.

The September meeting of the Victor Missionary Society will be held at the Alva Whitney home at Round Lake on Thursday afternoon Sept. 19. Mrs Eda White will have charge of the program and she will give a history of the club.

Plans are underway for an addition to be built on the Grove Bible Church in the near future.

Over-confidence is a firm belief that eventually the impossible is going to happen.

Dear Friends:

On Sunday, September 22, 1968 we wish to invite you to see the complete facilities of Carson City Hospital.

Conducted tours will be held between the hours of 1:00 P.M. and 6:00 P.M. Doctors and Employees of the staff will act as guides.

The conducted tour of the 70 bed acute hospital will include all areas which have been constructed over the past several years, and the new Pediatric Unit which has been occupied since April. Not included in the tour are those areas in the hospital necessarily restricted to hospital personnel.

The Extended Care Facility which occupies the entire South line of the hospital block, and will offer 44 beds will be unoccupied until after the Open House and will be totally available for inspection during the tour. This unit is especially designed to avoid the institutional look -- the rooms are colorful, carpeted, equipped with television, telephone and piped oxygen. Throughout the unit appropriately decorated accessories are placed to complete a traditional motif for all patient rooms and corridors. The Recreation Room and the Dining Room are both designed with floor to ceiling outer walls of glass to create a free and relaxed atmosphere. The full basement houses a completely equipped Physical Therapy Department, as well as, Medical Records, Staff Lounge and a non-denominational Chapel.

The Pediatric Unit and Extended Care each have new passenger elevators.

The remodeling of the kitchen dietary and dining room areas has more than doubled the food service area.

We are proud of the complete care facilities we offer to the area, and we invite you to visit us during the Open House.

Sincerely,

Carson City Hospital

SEPTEMBER 1968

This year,
DODGE

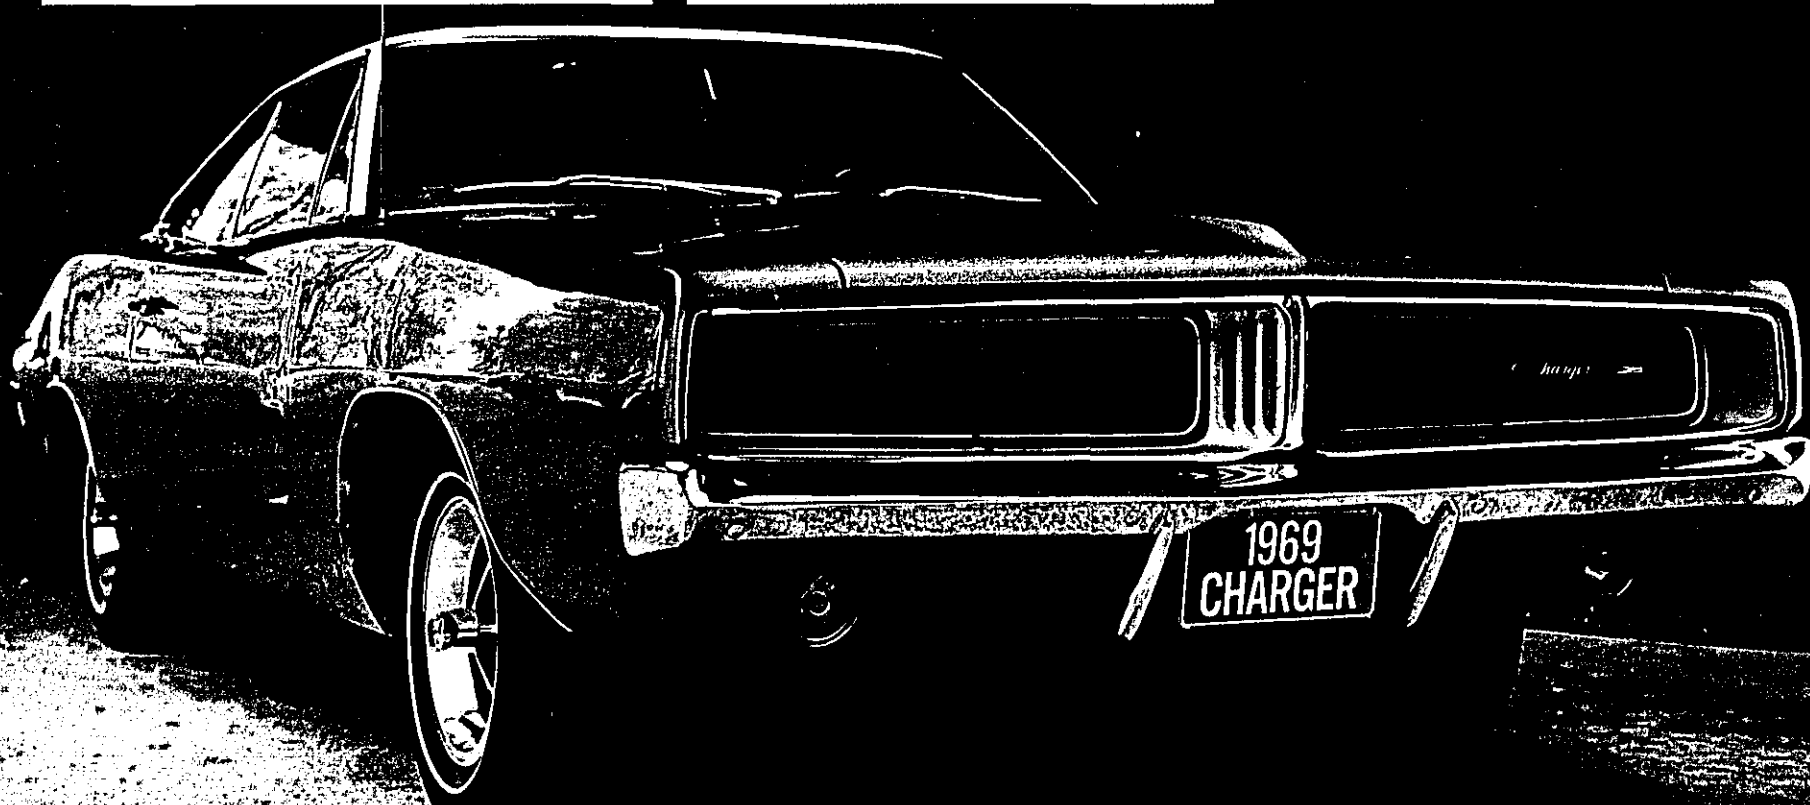

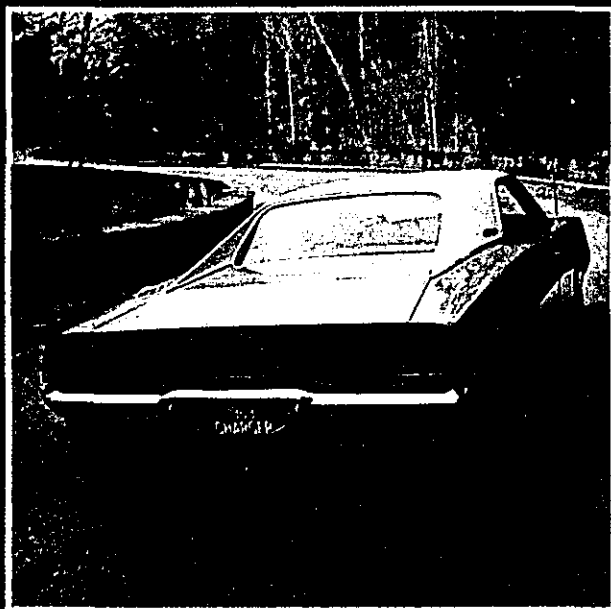

is turning up the

fever

1969 Dodge Charger. How do you improve on the Success Car of the Year? Just look.

A 343% sales increase last year, and we're not through yet. Still five-passengers big, new Charger is a little more trim, more shapely. Plus the new Charger SE, with

Why try?

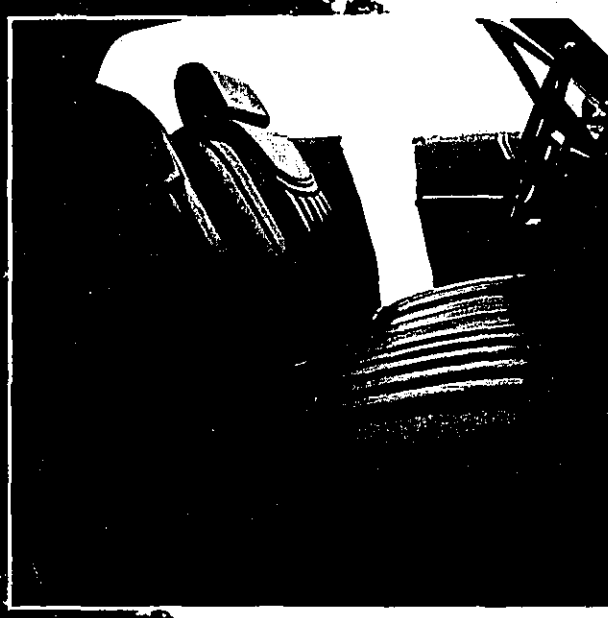

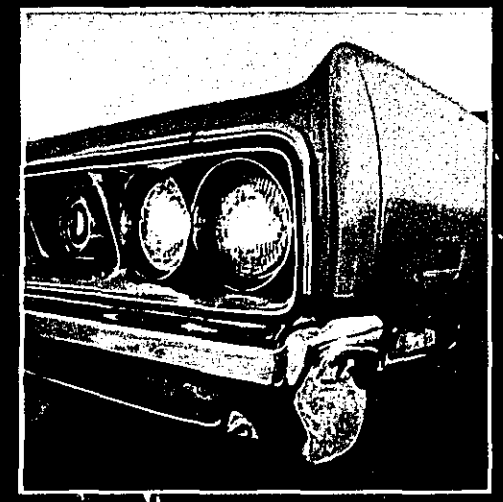

1969 Dodge Polara. Totally new, it is. Expensive, it isn't.

If you're looking for a big, luxurious new car that sports a low price, look no farther. 1969 Dodge Polara. With such standard items as foam-padded seats, carpeting, and a 230-hp V8. Not to mention an all-new instrument panel and concealed windshield wipers. Why wait, big car lovers? This is your year. 1969 Dodge Polara.

You can't avoid it.

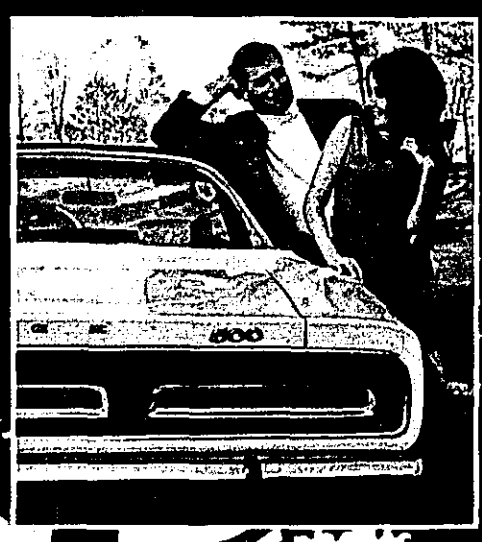

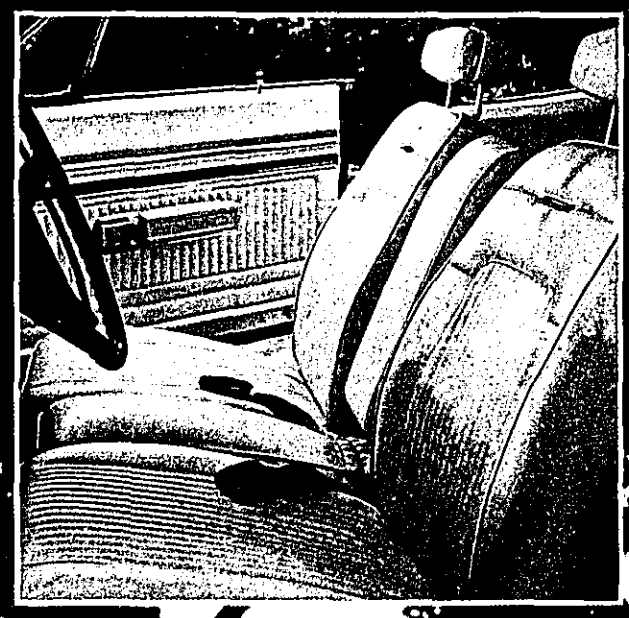

DODGE fever has you covered.

1969 Dodge Monaco. If you like luxury, you couldn't be in better shape.

The finest Dodge ever made is also the newest. From grille to wraparound taillights. From cornering lights to an optional, intense-beam turnpike Super-Lite. From richly tailored interiors to an all-new aircraft-type instrument panel. And ahead of it all—a big 383-cu.-in. V8. 1969 Monaco. The new shape of luxury.

1969 Dodge Coronet. It's very big for its price.

all the way to the Coronet 500 above, with sporty luxuries like bucket seats and rich vinyl trim. Your budget never looked better. Pick the Coronet of your choice today.

DODGE fever comes in every size but small.

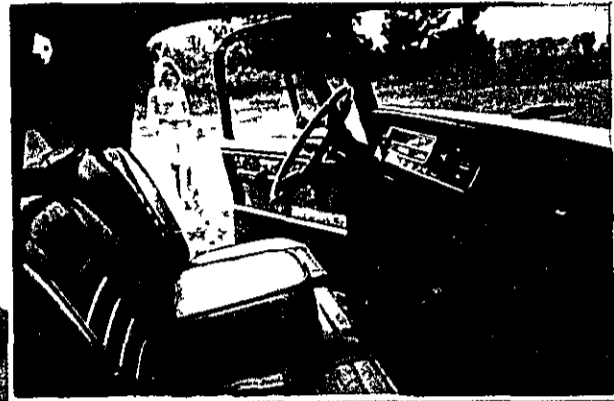

Announcing Dart Swinger. For the swinger at heart...a new Dart.

Best thing that ever happened to a compact budget: Dart Swinger. Enough two-door hardtop to take you anywhere. All-vinyl seats. Room for six. And as much performance as you want (from economical Sixes to the Swinger 340 model shown above—newest member of the Dodge Scat Pack). When you decide to swing, let us know.

THE SPORTTRUCKS ARE HERE.

Meet the new Dodge Adventurer, the Sporttruck that leads a double life.

By day, hard-working pickup. By night, ready to take you where the fun is. With sporty new interior styling. New road-smoothing "Cushioned-Beam" Suspension. And options such as bucket seats, fully integrated car-type air conditioning, and a powerful 383-cu.-in. V8. Dodge Adventurer. It costs no more than pickups that are just trucks.
