

Coho-ho to you, too

Here's a (true!) fishing tale to top all fishing tales

Up Frankfort way they're known as "The Submarine Boys from St. Johns."

It all happened . . . and happened, and happened the weekend of Sept. 9 when Don Britten of 501 N. Clinton Avenue and Roy Ryan of 2719 W. Steel Road drove up to Frankfort to do their first fishing for the mighty coho salmon.

What they intended to be a day of fishing wound up to be three days of wild experience and only a few hours of actual fishing. No more wild a tale have fishermen told than Britten and Ryan when they were towed into St. Johns last Monday afternoon. Would you believe . . .

At 4:30 a.m., Saturday, Sept. 9, Britten and Ryan arrived at Frankfort pulling Ryan's 18-foot boat and ready for a day of fishing on Lake Michigan. The Big Lake was sporting 10-foot waves, and with small craft warnings in effect, the Frankfort dock area was congested with about 530 other boats and trailers.

RYAN'S BOAT WAS NOT classed as a small craft, so he and Britten decided to try their luck. They had to wait several hours for a marina to open so they could get gas for their empty reserve cans, then an hour in line at the unloading ramp before they could launch the boat. Once in the water one of the two 28-horsepower motors wouldn't work.

But they headed out the channel anyway. Lake Michigan was sending waves high over the eight-foot breakwater, so Britten and Ryan were forced to wait all morning and most of the afternoon in the quiet of the channel.

"We had just the one day to fish," Britten said. "It was either go out in those waves or come on home without any fish. We stuck around until about 4:30 in the afternoon before we got up enough nerve to go out."

"A lot of other boats our size were going out, but they were experienced. We talked to a few of them and learned how to ride the waves, and so out we went."

The three hours out on the lake were probably the quietest of the three days as far as experiences go. Britten hooked two coho—15 and 13 pounds and full of fight.

At 7:30 p.m. they returned to shore and more trouble. They began to load the boat.

"I WAS RUNNING the winch and felt something against my leg," Britten said. "It was the station wagon pushing me in."

The brakes had let go on the station wagon, and Ryan's car rolled down the ramp and into Betsy River's 20 feet of water. The boat popped off and floated away. It was retrieved. The car floated for awhile, Britten said, with the top visible, but the movement of the big car ferry boats at Frankfort slowly sucked the car and trailer farther away from shore and into deeper water.

A wrecker was called to pull the car out, and Ryan, diving to attach the tow chain, lost his shoes.

Any thoughts of a one-day fishing trip were now "washed out," Britten and Ryan accepted the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Peacock who owned the gas station that sent the wrecker. The Peacocks provided the two men with a change of clothes, socks and shoes, gave them supper and sleeping quarters Saturday night.

SUNDAY DAWNED BUSY at the station. Britten and Ryan volunteered their assistance, hoping this would give Peacock more of a chance to work on their car, but the pace was so hectic the work amounted to only five minutes or so each hour all day.

Britten helped out on wrecker calls, making 10 during the day to tow away cars and trailers that had been parked helter-skelter by fishermen anxious to get out on the water. They did get some fishing in Sunday afternoon, and Ryan

Ovid ordinance sets $412,000 sewers loan

OVID — The Ovid Village Council passed a lengthy ordinance Monday night providing for the borrowing of $412,000 from the Farmers Home Administration to aid in the construction of a sewerage system for the village.

Passage came at a special meeting of the council Monday night so that the ordinance could be published in full within seven days of its passage. The ordinance is printed elsewhere in this issue of the Clinton County News.

Ovid proposes to use the money plus $270,000 from a federal grant to build a lagoon-type sewage treatment facility, including sewer mains.

VILLAGE PRESIDENT Harvey Darling told the council last week the ordinance had been approved by the Farmers Home Administration. Darling earlier had signed papers at the FHA office in Ithaca earmarking the $412 as a direct government loan at 4 percent interest and $270,000 federal grant.

The ordinance passed Monday night pertains to the borrowing of funds and not to the federal grant.

The lagoon for Ovid's sewage treatment will be constructed primarily on land now owned by John Vaniman Jr., south and a little east of the village. The lagoon is in the process of purchasing the land now. Ovid officials have been assured of no odor beyond 500 feet of the lagoon as a result of strict state control over the sewage processing.

Postmaster shows ZIP film to Exchange

St. Johns Postmaster J. D. Robinson showed a movie film concerning the use of the postal ZIP code last Thursday at the bi-weekly noon meeting of the St. Johns Exchange Club. Program chairman was Leon Brewbaker. James Moore was a guest at the meeting.

DR STOLLER RECOVERING

Dr. P. F. Stoller, St. Johns physician, was reported getting along "real good" at Clinton Memorial Hospital Tuesday, where he was taken following a heart attack last week.

Full details of the sewer project haven't been released by the engineers for the project.

THE OVID COUNCIL passed another ordinance Monday night authorizing a $5 turn-on charge and a $15 deposit on new water services. The new ordinance is an amendment to the village's water ordinance.

At last week's village council meeting, new work rules were adopted, stipulating that village employees work a 44-hour week, except for police officers who work a 56-hour week. The work rules also provide for vacation schedules, paid holidays and sick leave.

Civil Defense Director Jerry Ross is being asked to work out arrangements with the Create Club for providing citizen band radio service in times of emergency. The club made the offer to the village.

Names of residents who do not comply with a latest notice from the village police concerning violations of the blight ordinance will be turned over to the village attorney for action. The council voted last week to give the offenders one last opportunity to comply without penalty.

Band gets plaudits for behavior

St. Johns bandmen who attended the six-day summer band camp at Michigan State University got more out of it than they might have thought.

The something more was a good reputation for their behavior on campus.

MSU professor of music W. H. Hodgson sent letters of appreciation for the display of citizenship to high school Principal B. Stanley Pocius and Supt. of Schools Earl Lancaster.

Professor Hodgson complimented the school for what he called "an unusually fine impression the marching band made" during the stay on the MSU campus.

"The assessment of the musical and marching skills you may wish to examine in another place," he said. "Here, however, I wish only to speak of the general behavior of the band and to thank you, the board of education, and the citizens of St. Johns for the fine influence you have had on these boys and girls as reflected in their behavior here."

"Believe me, it does you credit!" "And I think you should compliment the director, chaperones and the band itself."

WESTPHALIA — Morning school bus runs in the Westphalia school district resumed last Wednesday after a two-day lapse—the result of a public protest at the school board meeting Sept. 11.

The meeting wound up, however, with a campaign among the 300 persons attending the meeting to seek additional help from the state government in financing the operations of school districts.

Board President Walter Keilen told the crowd that the board had been advised following its move to cut the bus runs that it could not receive state aid if full transportation wasn't provided. Thus, he said, the cutting of the bus runs turned out to be false economy, and the morning runs would be resumed.

COST OF BUS operations last year was $44,412; state aid for transportation amounted to $23,526.

Keilen faced the crowd with some hard facts about the school district's financial condition: The board faces a $33,000 to $35,000 operational deficit this year because of the two rejections of millage proposals earlier this summer.

The school board twice sought voter approval for three extra mills for operating expenses to fill the gap left by the expiration of three mills this winter. Projections are that more than three mills will have to be asked for next year in order to make up the expected deficit and meet rising costs.

Cost of operating the P-W school system last year was $335,000, school officials said. Overall reimbursement in state aid will be cut back by 12 percent, according to information received by the school board.

MRS. ELSIE VANCE, one of the citizens in the audience, then stood up and—explaining that she and the others had been under the false impression that much of the 2.6 percent state income tax would be allocated to schools—began a campaign to "get in touch with our governor, our senators, and our representatives and give them the works."

While the school board adjourned to another room to work out the timetable for resuming the morning bus runs, the 300 persons in the audience wrote down the names and addresses (See P-W RESUMES, Page 2-A)

Power line worker electrocuted

A power line construction worker was electrocuted last Wednesday morning while on a pole at the site of the new Riley Neighborhood Elementary School at Pratt and Lowell roads.

Pronounced dead on arrival at Clinton Memorial Hospital was John E. Morden, 34, of Caro, an employee of the L.E. Myers Co. of Jackson. The Myers Co. was constructing power lines for Consumers Power Co. at the school site.

The mishap occurred about 10:55 a.m. last Wednesday. Mr. Morden and Karl Redinger were working on a pole 35 feet above the ground next to a primary high line carrying high voltage. Mr. Morden was holding a piece of wire which apparently touched the line and his face.

He fell limp in his safety belt. Fellow workers lowered him to the ground and applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation in an effort to revive him. This was continued until he arrived at the hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

Mr. Morden is survived by a wife and five children.

Layoffs probable here if auto strike persists

The two-week-old strike against the Ford Motor Co. could force layoffs at St. Johns' two major industries next month unless a settlement is reached by then.

The strike has already affected Federal - Mogul Corp.'s plant here, where overtime work has been reduced to a bare minimum. Sealed Power Corp. operations are normal yet and should be through the end of this month.

Ford Motor Co. is one of the biggest customers for both St.

Johns industries.

"We're continuing our operations to the end of the month," F-M Plant Manager Edward Idzkowski said Tuesday. "Ford has requested that we finish off all our September requirements even though we can't ship it. We'll have to put in inventory."

"WE'RE PLANNING to work our regular schedules through the end of September. At the beginning of October we'll reevaluate the existing situation and make whatever moves are necessary."

"If the strike continues into late October, as it appears, certainly we're going to have layoffs."

Lawrence Sexton, plant manager at Sealed Power, put the problem this way:

"We're going to work this month, and then from there I guess we'll have to play it by ear. If it's a short strike it isn't going to affect us too much; if it goes into next month we'll probably have to do something—recognize it and curtail our operations."

Bruce Fowler of Egan Ford Sales in St. Johns said he expects it would be two to three weeks after the strike ends before the new cars would be available.

"AND THE STRIKE'S affecting business in general, I'm sure," he said, "because car sales are down all over the area . . . This area is pretty heavily dependent on the auto plants in Lansing, and those people are not buying because they know they might be next."

U-M Band Day to feature St. Johns band

This Saturday, Sept. 23, the St. Johns Redwing Band will be featured in a post-game show at the University of Michigan Stadium. The band is one of the five from the state to be invited to perform at Band Day.

There will be 186 bands and some 16,000 bandsmen taking part in this extravaganza. Karl King, famous Composer, will be the guest conductor.

The St. Johns Band will be leaving Saturday morning at 5:30 a.m. and will return at 7 p.m.

RUDY YURCSO

GERALD BUNGE

AL NORTHOUSE

These three St. Johns firemen retired last week after combined service of 77 years. Gerald Bunge of 802 E. Cass joined the St. Johns Fire Department Feb. 3, 1937, and has about 30 1/2 years of fire fighting to his credit. Rudy Yurcsco of 907 N. Lansing has just under 30 years, having joined the department Nov. 3, 1937. Al Northouse of 608 W. Walker has 17 years of service dating from Aug. 1, 1950. The three firemen will be honored by their fellow smoke-eaters at a dinner Oct. 7.

Jaycees plan new tot lot

St. Johns Jaycees have voted to develop a tot-lot playground for youngsters in the north part of town, and indications are it could be in use early next summer.

The proposed playground will be located on the southeast corner of the Gibbs-Ottawa intersection—on the site of the old water plant and water tower. It will be designed primarily for children up to about 10 years of age.

The St. Johns City Commission has already given approval for the use of the land for a playground, and the Jaycees have proposed to buy the playground equipment and fencing and to install everything. Total cost could run as high as $3,000.

The proposed project was introduced to the Jaycee board of directors last month by John Furry, a long-time Jaycee member and now a city commissioner. The board gave its approval, and later the city commission gave its blessing to the project. Last week the Jaycee membership approved the project.

FURRY WAS NAMED chairman of a committee to work out details concerning the amount and type of playground equipment for the site. His original proposal suggested such items as swing sets, climbing bars, merry-go-round, spring rides, sliding board, a spring-action see-saw, several picnic tables and stoves and a number of park benches.

The selection of the equipment will be up to the committee consisting of Furry, Hugh Banninga, Mart Livingston, Gene Downing, Rod Brown, Art Walright, Mike O'Connor, Bill McCarthy and Roger Hammonree.

The general plan of the Jaycees so far is to fully develop the playground and then turn it over to the city. The old water plant site has been covered over with fill dirt and has already been planted to grass by the city. Furry said the Jaycees hoped to do some basic work at the site yet this year so that playground equipment could be installed next spring.

Total cost of the project will depend on the amount and type of equipment which the committee selects and the Jaycee membership approves. Several money-raising projects to help finance the building of the playground are now in the planning stages.

FURRY SAID THE playground will fill a big need for recreational space for youngsters on the north side of town. Present facilities include only Perrin-Palmer School and a few pieces of playground equipment on city property at the corner of Lewis and North Lansing streets. That equipment was bought by the city a number of years ago and installed by the Jaycees.

Clerk Ewing bids farewell

Road commission report

By DON EWING
Road Clerk

For nearly seven years now I have been reporting to you each week both on radio and in this paper. Many of those more than 300 weeks have been difficult to write, but this one is the most difficult one of all, it is my last one.

It has been a rich and rewarding seven years as well as being futile and frustrating.

Rewarding for the many good friends I have made who have helped me by excusing my mistakes and praising my few contributions to this county.

It has been frustrating because of the many times I have had the very unpleasant task of saying "no." Public service jobs would certainly be easy if you could always give the answer the people wanted to hear.

THESE YEARS HAVE been rich and rewarding because of the people I have worked with. The township supervisors have been kind and cooperative. I have not always agreed with them, nor have I been able to always get the job done they wanted me to do, but most of them have been staunch supporters and real good personal friends. I am proud to have been able to work with men such as Ernest Carter, Gerald Shepard, Derrell Shlabery, George Moore and John Satterington. I guess I should just have listed the whole group.

Then there has been my fine relationship with other county officers. These people work hard for their county and have helped me over many rough places. Velma Beaufore and Paul Wakefield have always been ready to help with the records. The sheriff and his deputies are always ready to assist as is the zoning office. One of the best things that has happened to this county in the past few years has been the much closer association and cooperation between the drain office and the road commission. Dale Chapman and Jerry Wilcox have been most kind and helpful. If I went on to mention all the people who have helped me I would list just about everyone in the courthouse.

I had a very fine association with Charles Frost and the civil defense people and was certainly proud to serve as instructor for the shelter management and radiological monitoring courses.

I AM AFRAID this is getting to be a long final report, and I haven't mentioned the people I most want to talk about—those who have worked with me at the county road commission.

When I came to the road office it had two of the best employees this county has ever had, and whatever my small successes have been they certainly would not be possible without these two.

I am talking about my two girl Fridays—Eunice Rice and Grace Shipley. The service to Clinton County by these two has extended over many years and has been the finest contribution any public servant could make. Now Eunice has retired, and Clinton County should certainly recognize and remember her long, devoted service.

Our workers have all been good to me, especially our foremen, Orville Jones, Jay Barrett, Clay Fisher, Don Doonter and Bruce Woodbury. They are sincere and dedicated men, and the county should be as I am—proud to have them.

SO THE PEOPLE of this county have been my rewards; the inability to solve all the problems has been my frustration.

Our budget, forces and quarters are all woefully inadequate. We desperately need new quarters, and we desperately need more money, especially for road construction to meet the needs of the ever-increasing population and traffic.

Clinton County has fine road commissioners, and an obviously able new road engineer, it has been a privilege to have worked for them and with them. I hope Paul, Bernard and Roy—and George of past years—and all of you will long remember my small help and quickly forget my many shortcomings.

People are going at such a fast pace today that their cost of living would go up even if prices came down.

of their elected officials in Lansing so that a letter-writing campaign could be started. The meeting broke up after the board announced bus runs were to be resumed Wednesday morning.

The school board, however, was not done with its business, and before they went home they authorized the resumption of student dances and adult education classes, both of which had been cut in an economy move. The adult education classes are self-supporting. Other extra curricular activities that had been cut were not reinstated.

Spectator buses to athletic events are also canceled, but the decision on whether or not to use buses for field trips was delayed until a later meeting.

Usual crowd - nobody - on hand at school budget public hearing

The public hearing on the St. Johns Public Schools budget drew its usual response—nobody from the public-at-large attended—last Wednesday night when the school board took final consideration on the over $1 1/2 million 1967-68 school budget.

The board made one change in the budget figure. They added $7,000 to take care of interest on money which they are sure they will be borrowing during the year to meet expenses. The interest amount had been overlooked in the preliminary approval.

The school officials feel certain interest costs won't be as high as $7,000, but because they aren't sure how much will have to be borrowed they weren't able to determine how much interest will have to be paid. The $7,000 figure was felt to be high enough to take care of whatever is needed, and the actual amount spent of interest may well be less.

THE FINAL budget figure now is $1,633,929, and the $7,000 additional expenditure would hike the anticipated deficit to $126,505.

In other business at the school board's regular meeting Sept. 13, trustees confirmed the contracts of 20 new teachers in the system. They had been hired prior to the signing of a master contract a week before school started.

The Band Boosters Club requested that the school board finance their portion of the cost of the new band uniforms this year. The boosters' portion is $5,000, which they would be paid back to the board with interest by June 30, 1968. The school board voted to go along with the request, and a formal agreement is being drawn up.

The school board set a fee of 50 cents per week per student for St. Joseph School elementary student who participates in the after-school music instruction program offered by the public schools for St. Joseph pupils.

HOME FOOTBALL game adult ticket prices were raised by the board. Adult tickets at the gate will now cost $1.25 instead of $1. The new rate went into effect last Friday night. The price of student tickets bought in advance and season tickets remain unchanged.

The price increase is for football season only. The school board reportedly will consider basketball admission prices at a later date.

Leon Luke as George Tracey pleads with Annette White portraying Rusty Mayerling in this rehearsal scene from the St. Johns First Nighters' comedy "Goodbye Charlie," scheduled for production Oct. 26 and 28. Sandra Riggs, who portrays Charlie Sorel, follows the action in her script book. The three-act play is about a playboy who meets an untimely end and is reincarnated as a woman, causing great consternation to both friends and enemies. Eugene Livingston will direct the play for the First Nighters. Wayne Hicks will be producer.

Binda of Binda Associates of Battle Creek met with the board to discuss the paving of driveways and parking lot for the new high school. The board approved an extra $1,275 to be spent for additional venting of the underground tunnels carrying heating and electrical lines and for waterproofing in various parts of the building.

The board approved a diploma for O. Jeffrey Baker of 208 S. Scott Road, who has completed graduation requirements.

Masons drop newsletter, plan for Oct. 1 dinner

Because of an apparent lack of interest in getting local news items, the monthly newsletter of the Masonic Temple Assn. will be discontinued—at least for the time being.

Association members voted unanimously to take that action after discussing the newsletter at length last Wednesday at their first fall meeting.

The fourth dedication barbecue since the new temple has been built will be held Oct. 1. Serving will begin promptly at noon. The menu of past years will be used again.

The Masonic Temple Assn.'s fund-raising program is still gaining a little headway. Names drawn during the vacationing months were Ken Yantz and Herbert Houghton for July, John Spousta and Mark Eaton for August, and Dean Pope and James Spousta for September. Four of the six requested their money be returned to the fund and again put up against the outstanding principal.

The next meeting of the association will be Oct. 11.

Jaycees induct new member

Chuck Edmonds, manager at the Kroger Store in St. Johns, was inducted as the newest member of the St. Johns Jaycees last Tuesday night. His initiation brought the club's membership to 33 men.

Larry Wine, District 11 vice president, was a guest at the meeting. The Jaycees voted to sell Halloween candy again this year as a service project, a number of the members are planning to invite less-fortunate boys to a modified weekend camping trip into northern Michigan in mid-October. They would stay in cabins of one the members.

Jaycees from St. Johns are planning to attend the district fall board meeting of the Jaycees at Fowler Oct. 2.

Surkis cut back into his lane, skidded off the right side of the highway and hit a telephone pole on the southeast corner of Krepps and M-21.

7 get jail terms in last week

The weekend turned out to be busy at the Clinton County Jail. Seven persons were incarcerated for varying lengths of time last week.

Raymond P. Larson, 26, of Lansing, charged with assault, was fined $50 plus $25.50 costs by Justice of the Peace Gordon Willyoung and sentenced to five days in jail on Monday.

Willyoung sentenced John P. Harmon, 30, of St. Clair Shores to two days in jail and fined him $50 plus $4.30 costs for driving on a suspended license. Harmon was arrested Monday.

Danny L. Frederick, 22, of Lansing appeared before Circuit Judge Leo Corbin Monday on a charge of violation of financial responsibility and was ordered to pay a $25 fine, $25 costs and to spend five days in jail.

Last Wednesday, St. Johns Associate Municipal Judge Robert Wood sent two St. Johns youths to jail for three days on minor-in-possession charges. They were David C. Kus, 20, of 309 E. Higham and Roger L. Durbin, 19, of 310 S. Lansing. Both were also fined $15 plus $20.80 costs.

Claudio Castro, 17, of Lansing, arrested Monday on two charges, got jail time, too. He was sentenced to two days in jail and ordered to pay $15 fine and $20.80 costs for being in possession of beer, and a $19.30 fine for speeding.

Brent P. Stillwell of Lansing, arrested Monday in DeWitt Township for speeding, was fined $35 plus $15 costs by Justice Willyoung and sentenced to five days in jail.

2 slightly hurt in city crashes

Sunday and Monday were without traffic accidents in the City of St. Johns, but last week was a different story. City police investigated four of a relatively serious nature and several other minor auto mishaps.

Passengers in two cars suffered cuts about 9:20 p.m. last Wednesday in a collision at the intersection of South Scott Road and US-27. They were Mrs Mary Elting of Vestaburg, a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Alfred V. Elting, 49, and Anna Hart, 72, of Lansing, a passenger in a car driven by Frank W. Potter, 75, also of Lansing.

Elting told police the Potter car had stopped at the end of Scott Road and then pulled out into the right lane of northbound US-27 traffic and stopped again. He said he was unable to miss the Potter car. Potter said he did not think he was in the US-27 lanes of traffic.

NOBODY WAS INJURED in a two-car collision at Baldwin and Wight streets about 5:40 p.m. Friday. Involved were a westbound car driven on Baldwin by Sharlene Wilkie, 19, of 407 E. Cass Street, and a northbound car on Wight driven by Gerald G. Gilbert, 34, of 406 Wight.

Stephen Jorae, 19, of Taft Road, R-5, St. Johns, suffered bruises Friday afternoon when his motorcycle ran into the rear of a St. Johns school bus at South Ottawa and McConnell streets. The bus was driven by Marshall Hicks, 45, of Parks Road, R-2, St. Johns.

Jorae was going west on McConnell. He said he tried to stop but skidded on sand on the street. The sand was there covering a seal coat applied to many city streets.

Saturday morning Audrey J. Holden, 59, of Midland, reportedly tried to make a right turn from the left lane of traffic on US-27 and hit the side of a semi truck driven by Earl A. Thompson, 38, of Lansing. Nobody was hurt. The accident occurred at the M-21 intersection; both vehicles were headed south at the time.

Tours of Olds plant resumes

Oldsmobile will resume conducting guided tours of its main manufacturing plant on Monday, Sept. 25, according to Jack P. White, director of public relations. The tours have been discontinued during model change-over.

The twice-daily tours, beginning at 9:15 a.m. and 1 p.m., take in Oldsmobile's engine and engine parts plants, the pressed metals plant, and the division's two car assembly lines. Visitors making the tour ride aboard electrically-powered tour trains.

More than 30,000 persons toured Oldsmobile during the 1967 model run which ended in early August.

Zoning unit gives its OK to road, township swap

The Clinton County Zoning Commission has granted special use permits on two 80-acre parcels of land in DeWitt Township which the township and the Clinton County Road Commission propose to swap.

The township wants the road commission's 80-acres at the west end of Herbison Road at the Looking Glass River so it can build a proposed sewage treatment plant there. It's now a gravel pit.

The road commission reportedly is ready to swap for the township's 80 acres on the south side of Herbison Road at Prairie Creek some two miles east. The county can make use of that property for a gravel pit.

The township and the road commission have 90-day options on each other's property, which, they figure, should be time enough to determine whether a swap is legal.

Township officials feel the township property, bought in 1964 for $22,000, is now twice that much (it has one building valued at about $5,000), while the county property is worth perhaps $40,000. Engineers on the township's proposed sewer project figure the river site construction costs would be about $20,000 less than on the site at Prairie Creek.

The present gravel pit is used now only for taking out sand and bank-run gravel. Road Commission Clerk Don Ewing was quoted as saying the two pieces of property are about equal as far as the road commission's use for them is concerned.

Local dog helping blind girl

A black Labrador retriever dog raised by two families in St. Johns has gone into the service—the service of helping the blind.

The dog was donated earlier this year to Leader Dogs for the Blind at Rochester by the family of Dr. Franklin W. Smith of 205 W. State Street. They had the dog about six months after getting it from Jon Thrush of 810 Church Street. He raised the dog the first six months of its life.

Miss Sherry Lee Taylor recently "graduated" with "Blackie," according to Leader Dogs for the Blind, and is now enjoying travel independence as a result of the leader dog training program. The organization did not say where Miss Taylor lives other than in Michigan.

"You can be justifiably proud of Blackie," Executive Director Harold L. Pocklington told the Smiths, "for as you know not more than 30 per cent of all dogs accepted actually complete leader dog training."

Contact with the leader dog organization was assisted by the St. Johns Lions Club, which is active in programs involving sight.

Leader Dog Blackie, who was raised by two families in St. Johns, is now helping Miss Sherry Lee Taylor, a blind girl, lead a more useful life.

Ethel Huot, principal of Swegles Street School and Mrs. John Furry, president of the Jaycee Auxiliary, discuss the information sheets before they are passed out to the school children.

St. Johns - a safe city through Helping Hands

Helping Hands, a community service project sponsored by the Jaycee Auxiliary, is operational again. This week information sheets were sent home with St. Johns school children explaining the blue and white placards, which are appearing in many local windows and informing them of the correct way to use them.

Helping Hands or Block Parent Plan as it is known in some areas was started in St. Johns to provide local children with places of safety to go to when they are in danger.

THE EIGHT inch by nine inch cards of a hand in dark blue on a white background have been placed in homes where someone is home during the hours children are on their way to and from school. The final determination on where the cards were to be placed was based on the location of the home.

"Our goal is to two of the wordless signs on every block in the city," Mrs. Roderick Brown, chairman of the project, said.

SHE SAID anyone who has not been contacted by an Auxiliary member and would like to have a card placed in her home can volunteer by contacting either a minister, priest or school principal for a recommendation.

At the present time the Auxiliary members are getting the list of homes with cards up to date. They also plan to keep a "future file" so they will be able to place a new card in the event of a family moving, so the area will have their quota of cards at all times.

When the list of placard holders is brought up to date it will be placed on file with the St. Johns Police Department.

THIS SERVICE project has been endorsed by the Clinton County News, Chief of Police, Chamber of Commerce, City Commission and the Board of Education.

When the goal set by the Jaycee Auxiliary of 500 homes in St. Johns with the cards has been met, a child should be no farther than a half a block from a place of safety at any time.

THE RESPONSIBILITIES listed on the back of the card include: Call the police immediately in any case no matter how minor, involving a crime of an adult against a child; If you should call the police, be absolute sure to write down the name and rank of whom you talk to, the time and date; Helping Hand signs are not to be transferred to another person or another home, when and if you are not able to participate in the program, contact a Jaycee Auxiliary member and a replacement home will be arranged; Do not administer first aid; Do not give food and beverages; You are not expected to break up fights or give medication etc. — only to bring the situation to the proper authorities and parents; If you suspect the presence of a molester, call the police immediately; Children are not to use volunteers' homes merely as toilet facilities.

4-H leader assistance classes set

4-H leaders are about to start young girls — and maybe a few boys — off on their ever popular clothing-knitting study projects. Alert leaders are always seeking new ideas and the latest information to assist them in guiding the young club members in their selection and development of a project.

Such assistance will be offered to all 4-H clothing-knitting leaders the evening of Thursday, Sept. 28, in Smith Hall, City Park, St. Johns. The hours are 7:30 p.m. and 10 p.m. Identical meetings will be held Sept. 26 in the Casino, McCurdy Park, Corunna and Sept. 27 in the Community Room, Commercial National Bank, Ithaca, if any leader finds these dates more convenient.

LORRAINE SPRAGUE, Extension home economist serving Gratiot, Clinton and Shiawassee counties will discuss project selection and requirements. Understanding the types of garments that provide the most meaningful experiences to club members and planning for studies that help these club members to learn to think for themselves and solve some of their own problems is a prime responsibility of those persons undertaking leadership in a clothing-knitting club, says Miss Sprague.

Findings of evaluators and judges at Spring Achievement time and Fair time will be discussed. Their suggestions will be useful in advising girls in selecting patterns, fabrics and yarns and in selection of construction techniques for the coming year.

"Locating reliable educational resources and keeping them in an easily accessible place seems to be a common problem to most of us," said Miss Sprague. "To simplify this problem for leaders and to provide some information not always available at all times, a 4-H Clothing-Knitting Leaders Resource file has been completed and will be available for sale at these September meetings. These resource files will be thoroughly explained at the meetings so all 4-H Clothing-Knitting leaders are urged to attend," concludes Miss Sprague.

Fall is good time to begin new habits

By HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

New Year's Day is the traditional time for good resolutions. Off with the old, bad habits . . . on with the new.

For homemakers concerned with improving poor shopping habits, right after Labor Day may be a more appropriate time to review old practices and embark on a pattern of change if change seems appropriate. With family routines re-established after a summer of relaxation, there is time, once again, to plan and organize . . . time to concentrate on the serious business of being an informed food shopper.

of moderate food budget. They have drawn up a 14 point Informed Food Shoppers Creed . . . a list of good resolutions that can help anyone who needs it become a better food shopper. It goes like this:

1. I will learn more about foods so that I can fill my family's nutritional needs at a reasonable cost.

2. I will study the economical cooking tricks.

3. I WILL TAKE time to get acquainted with normal prices and with more than one store so that I recognize a bargain when I see one.

4. I will study the food ads for special buys and seasonal bargains before I go shopping.

5. I will have a complete shopping list but I will keep it flexible to allow for "finds".

6. I will not buy—not often anyway—on impulse.

7. I WILL LOOK for weight and contents—even if this forces me to go to bifeals before my time.

8. I will learn how many mouths I can feed from a given amount of the different foods in their different forms and try not to count on my fingers to figure cost per serving.

9. I will try to avoid wasted leftovers, and I will buy in quantity only when I have safe, adequate storage space.

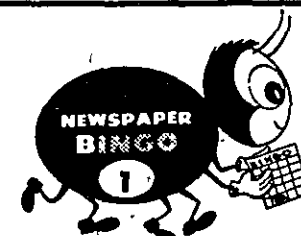

10. I WILL KEEP a doubtful eye on tricky sales gimmicks and avoid merchandisers who mislead me.

The miracle family of today lives on last month's salary instead of next month's.

IN DETROIT there are several groups of young—and not so young — homemakers who proudly wear a golden key that proclaims them to be official members of an Informed Food Shopper's circle. They meet to regularly with Mrs. Marjorie Gibbs, Michigan State University's consumer information agent in Detroit, for lessons on identification and selection of foods, for tours of Detroit's many food processing and distribution industries and they occasionally conduct at-home tests of new food ideas.

These Informed Food Shopper's take a very business-like approach to their responsibilities to provide nourishing and tasty meals within the limits

One Out of Fifty

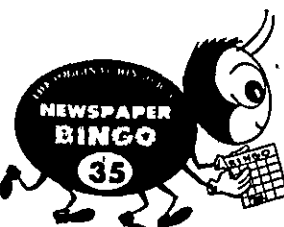

It is estimated that today more than 4,000,000 Americans suffer from diabetes. But, tragically, only about half of these cases have been diagnosed. In other words, of the one person out of fifty who suffers from diabetes, only one out of 100 is now being treated by a physician.

And, this is a tragedy. Because if undiagnosed or untreated, diabetes may lead to profound difficulties in later life. And with today's knowledge of the treatment of diabetes with exercise, medicine, and diet, many of these "hidden diabetics" can be readily controlled.

Many famous people have lived long, full and productive lives despite diabetes. Only a few include novelist Hugh Walpole, writer-historian H.G. Wells, Artist Paul Cezanne, Giacomo Puccini, composer of Madame Butterfly and Tosca, and one of New York's most famous mayors, Fiorello LaGuardia.

Diagnosis of diabetes, except in a few cases is fairly simple, and, in almost all cases, the tests can be conducted in your physician's office. There are a number of danger signals that indicate the possibility of diabetes ... sudden increase in thirst; excessive urination; sudden increase in hunger; sudden and rapid loss of weight; fatigue weakness, or drowsiness; slowly healing infections; itching; and disturbance in vision.

If you show any of the danger signals, you should be checked by a physician. In fact, it's a good idea to have a yearly medical checkup and to make sure that your doctor tests you for diabetes. If you are the "one" out of fifty, prompt diagnosis can aid you to lead a normally full and productive life.

hooked into a 14-pound coho.

By 9 p.m. Sunday, the car was dried out and ready for the trip home. . . . They thought. Just before they reached Cadillac on M-115, the car blew a transmission gasket seal and lost most of the transmission oil. Ryan, his shoes still on the bottom of the Betsy River, hitchhiked 13 miles in his stocking feet to an all-night gas station.

It was three hours before he got back. Then there was the fun of pouring the oil into the small transmission hole without a funnel. Later—much later, about 3:30 a.m.—after falling to baby their "submarine car" up a two-mile-long grade failed, they gave up and called home.

TWO CARS WERE SENT OUT to the rescue Monday—one for the boat and trailer and another for the submarine.

It was quite an experience—but not repulsive enough to keep them away. Both Britten and Ryan plan to do some more fishing up that way—when they can get away. Britten got off Tuesday again with Roy Spicer and his 20-foot boat. So far there haven't been any reports of such experiences happening again.

Band marches at Chesaning

The 120-member St. Johns High School Band traveled to Chesaning Saturday to take part in their annual marching festival.

The first event was a parade through downtown Chesaning; then came rehearsal for the massed band concert, individual rehearsals and a 3:30 p.m. show for conductor and clinician William Root, director of bands at Ferris State College.

A full house was on hand at 7:30 p.m. Saturday for the massed band show. Ovid-Elsie bandsmen also participated. Many parents and friends from both the Ovid-Elsie and St. Johns communities attended to watch the program.

The weather for the day-long program was hot, and before it was over some 80 students from the 12 bands participating received some type of medical assistance because of the heat. None from St. Johns required aid.

Ovid-Elsie upset 13-7

OVID-ELSIE — Portland spoiled the debut of Ovid-Elsie's new football stadium last Friday night by scoring the lead touchdown early in the third quarter and then hanging on for a 13-7 victory over the host Marauders.

It was a non-league game and the opener for both teams. Last year Ovid-Elsie beat Portland 20-13 in the first game of the year.

But this year's opener was a rough one for the Marauders. "That just wasn't our ball team," Coach Mark O'Donnell commented Saturday in reviewing the game. "We made a lot of mistakes, and we're going to have to make some adjustments. But we're going to feel better than that this year."

yards in 12 plays for a touchdown, with Doug getting the score on a fourth-down plunge from the 1-foot line. Mike Ward kicked the extra point.

PORTLAND GOT the winning touchdown after taking the second-half kickoff. The Wards and Mike Davidson provided the power as Portland rolled from their own 25 to a touchdown in seven plays. A 15-yard penalty against Ovid-Elsie helped, and the big play was a 22-yard pass play from Ken Goodwin to Mike Ward for the touchdown. The try for extra point failed.

THE MARAUDERS didn't really jell at all Friday night. They weren't able to mount any consistent offense until late in the second quarter even though they had scored a touchdown earlier. By the time the fourth period rolled around, the offense was sputtering again, and most of the play was near the middle of the field.

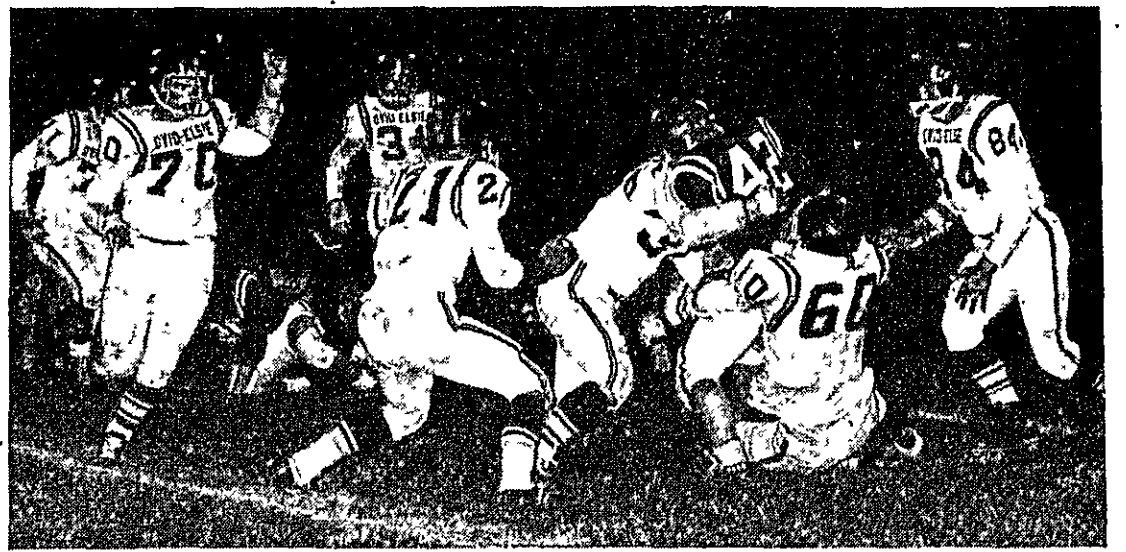

Ovid-Elsie was quick to take advantage of a break, though, to score their only touchdown. That came in the second period after a Portland punter fumbled a pass from center on a fourth-down play at the Portland 29. Ovid-Elsie took charge of the ball at the Raiders' 10, and halfback Jerry Gazda swept right end and got the touchdown on the first play. Fullback L. D. Jones plunged for the extra point.

That tied the score. Portland had scored its first touchdown after taking a punt from the Marauders shortly after the opening kickoff. Doug Ward and Mike Ward did most of the ball carrying as Portland marched 59 to only 15 for Portland.

The Marauders did most of their statistical scoring in the middle two quarters. They threatened both times, getting to the 24 of Portland in the second quarter and as far as the 17 in the third quarter. The first drive ended with a field goal attempt by L. D. Jones (it was short), and the second was wiped out by an intercepted pass.

The longest run of the night was a 44-yard jaunt by O-E quarterback Dane Flegel from his own 16 to the Portland 40. Guard Don Wilson accounted for the highest number of defensive tackles despite not playing at all the second half.

Ovid-Elsie players swarm in to bring down Portland's Mike Ward (42) Friday night. Marauders include Robin Wooley (71), Lee Hibbard (70), L. D. Jones (31), Daryl Melvin (21), Don Wilson (60) and Jerry Guysky (84).

FOWLER

Fowler beats Fulton 13-0

MIDDLETON—Fowler won the football battle Friday night, but the Eagles came out of it with some damaging scars that may last the whole season.

Despite outscoring Fulton High 13-0 in the season's opener, the Eagles suffered the loss of quarterback George Goerge with a broken collar bone on the final play of the game.

Goerge was one of the few bright spots in Coach Blaine Douglas' pre-season outlook for the Eagles. He was one of only three lettermen back and was expected to be the main cog in the Fowler attack—a signal caller, on defense and in team leadership. The broken collar bone has put him out for the season.

DESPITE THE loss of Goerge, Douglas found some happy points about the game in addition to the score. One was the fourth-quarter running performance of Steve Nobis, but the most apparent was the team spirit.

"We should have been beaten," Douglas said, "but the kids wouldn't quit. We were outwitted, they were faster than us, and they controlled the ball more than us."

Both Fowler and Fulton displayed some fine football, but the game was marked with so many penalties against both teams that neither team appeared outstanding. Fulton was penalized 10 times for 91 1/2 yards and Fowler was called eight times for 65 yards and had a first-half touchdown called back.

THE FOWLER DEFENSE accounted for the first Fowler touchdown late in the third period. Stan Pohl got into the Fulton backfield to block a pass, and it fell into the arms of Allen Pohl who went 61 yards with it for a Fowler TD. Dave Moritz ran for the extra point.

The second TD was manufactured by the offense after the defense had held Fulton on downs at the Fowler 42 halfway through the final period. Rich Goerge picked up a first down to the 48, and after a penalty Gary Feldpausch ran 16 yards to the Fulton 36. Two plays later Steve Nobis rammed 14 yards to the 19, waited out one play and then ran the final 17 yards for Fowler's second touchdown. A kick for the extra point was partially blocked and was no good.

Fowler threatened twice in the first half. They reached the Fulton 25, but then the Pirates' John Hoard picked off a pass at the 6 yard line to end the threat. Fulton banged their way out to the 11, but Fowler recovered a fumble there. The Pirates defense toughened and allowed Fowler no farther than the 8—thanks to the penalty that nullified a touchdown. A fourth-down field goal attempt failed.

FULTON'S ACE halfback, Randy VanSickle, turned in some explosive running, picking up 105 yards in 17 carries. His longest run was for 46 yards to the Fowler 41 midway through the second period. Bill Priest, who played in the second half, also turned in some impressive runs.

But the Fulton offense would not jell enough to score, despite running 53 plays to Fowler's 34 during the course of the game. They got no closer to the Fowler goal line than the 37 yard line. Fulton gained Fowler 199 yards to 169 yards.

The big runners for Fowler were Gary Feldpausch who gained 76 yards in 11 carries and Steve Nobis who picked up 32 yards on four carries.

Cadillac presents elegance in action!

And the "inside story" for 1968 starts with the biggest, smoothest V-8 engine ever put into a production motor car.

Brilliant new styling • Dramatic new interiors • Totally new instrument panel • Concealed windshield wipers • Improved variable ratio power steering • New disc brakes available • Wide choice of eleven exciting new body styles.

Now, enter a new era of luxury car performance. Cadillac's new 472 V-8 has the greatest torque, or usable power, of any passenger car engine and the newest combination of engine components since Cadillac pioneered the V-8 fifty-three years ago. You will notice a brilliant improvement in passing performance that in no way compromises the reserve of strength for Cadillac's usual power conveniences.

You will also be impressed with its amazing quiet—so remarkable that only its responsiveness reminds you that a great new engine lies under the hood.

Cadillac for 1968 provides, in addition, its well-proved triple braking system with finned drums to deliver smooth, straight stopping power. Front disc brakes are available for those who prefer the further refinement of an advanced disc-and-drum combination, and this year they're standard on Eldorado. You may also choose a greatly improved air conditioning system that moves more air more quietly.

Whether your preference is for one of the more traditional models—or the classic beauty of the Eldorado—come in soon and discover new elegance and excitement in luxury motoring!

PARTNERS IN GROWTH...

During 1963 Michigan farmers harvested and delivered over one million tons of beets to the state's five sugar factories for processing. This crop produced nearly 280,000,000 pounds of pure sparkling sugar for sale exclusively in Michigan during the current marketing year.

In an average year, the beet sugar industry of Michigan will derive from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 from the sugarbeet crop. From this crop Michigan sugarbeet growers will receive approximately $15,000,000 in company and conditional payments.

These dollars which the sugarbeet growers and processors of this state receive for sugar produced in Michigan affect economic units all around their own horizons and far beyond Michigan's 17 county beet producing area. Remember, every time a sugar beet grows—so does Michigan.

Redwings start late, then roll over Mason 38-21

Bulldogs get first 2 TDs

The St. Johns Redwings came from behind twice last Friday evening as they opened their current season with a 38-21 victory over Mason.

Led by senior fullback Bob Cochrun, who scored three TD's, the "Wings" rolled up a total of 501 yards (429 rushing, 72 passing) in a close game, until the fourth quarter, when the "Wings" went in front to stay.

Cochrun was sidelined for the season last year when he broke his collar bone in the opening game against Mason. But this year he came back from his year of inactivity and rolled up 115 yards rushing on 12 carries for a 9.6 yards per carry average.

The score and the St. Johns

Mason had another opportunity in the first quarter. After getting only three yards on three plays following the kickoff, Mason punted. John Salemi, of the Redwings, called for a fair catch but fumbled the ball and Mason recovered on the St. Johns 33. On the first play, Webster moved the ball to the Redwing 11. On the next play, the Mason quarterback fumbled and Joe Kielen of the "Wings" recovered to remove the threat.

St. Johns took over on their own 10 and went 90 yards in thirteen plays to score. Cochrun going the final 27 yards. He shot up the middle, broke a tackle on the ten and went in alone. Love's kick for the extra point was wide and the score stood 14-12 Mason, with about five minutes left in the half.

The Wings made an effort to get another score before the half. Taking the ball on their own 28 with a minute and a half left, Cochrun made 13 thru center, Salemi picked up 21 over right tackle and Love hit Jon Berkhausen with passes of 11 and eight yards to the Mason 19 as the gun sounded.

Cary Hambleton took the second half kickoff and returned it 22 yards to the Redwing 42. Five plays later the "Wings" were on the scoreboard with a TD, Cochrun going the last 10 yards over the left side to score. Love's kick was good and St. Johns led for the first time in the ballgame 19-14.

Mason came right back as Webster and Mike Johnson combined to move the Bulldogs from their own 35 to a first down on the Redwing six. Here the "Wings" defense, which had begun to tell in the second quarter, made a great stand. Webster made three and Jerry Evans made one. On a roll-out, quarterback Johnson was thrown for a five yard loss by Mike Green. On fourth and six, Johnson attempted to pass, but again Green was in on him, and the pass fell incomplete.

St. Johns took over on their own seven and moved out to a first down on the Redwing 32. Love then fumbled and Doug Dilday of Mason recovered. Three plays gained nothing, but on fourth down, Johnson hit Mike Aldrich for a 31 yard scoring play. Webster hit the left side for the extra point and Mason again took the lead 21-19 with two minutes left in the quarter.

St. Johns opened the fourth quarter with a 58 yard drive in 10 plays to again take the lead, this time to stay. Mike Green went the final 10 yards up the middle. Love's kick again was wide.

St. Johns next opportunity came when Ed Molner recovered a Mason fumble on the Redwing 27 yard line. On the first play Mike Green broke up the middle and went 73 yards untouched. The extra point try was no good and the "Wings" led 31-21.

Mason took the kickoff and on fourth down punted to the Redwings 30. Terry Maier made seven, then Green broke up the middle again for 52 before being dropped on the Bulldog 11. Here Cochrun hit the center, broke a tackle at the eight, was hit by two more bulldogs at the three and carried them into the end zone with him to score. Love's kick was good to end the scoring.

In rolling up their 429 yards rushing the Redwings used seven backs. Mike Green led the team with 177 yards on 12 carries. Cochrun had 115, Salemi picked up 63, Markman 47, Maier 42 and Romig 2.

Love hit on six of nine passes for 72 yards. Salemi caught two for 17 yards, Markman took one for 24 and Berkhausen three for 31 yards.

Mason rolled up 258 yards rushing, but they picked up 164 yards in the first quarter, when they dominated play. In the final three quarters Mason's rushing yardage was 8, 45 and 57. St. Johns' rushing yardage by quarters was: 46, 97, 85 and 201. The Redwings meet Greenville only.

BOB COCHRUN Scores three TD's

JOE KIELEN Leads defense

this Friday. This will be the opener in the Redwings' defense of the West Central Conference championship. Greenville won their opener with Lakeview last Friday 13-6.

This will be Greenville's last appearance in the West Central League. Next year Greenville will enter the Tri-River Conference and Waverly of Lansing will move in to take their place.

The Redwings' defense of the West Central Championship looks a little rougher this year as most teams in the conference have a number of experienced lettermen returning.

In all, the eight teams in the conference have 115 lettermen, or an average of 14 per team. This, if experience counts, means they (West Central) should have many improved teams over last year.

Little League picnic set for Sept. 27

Little League baseball players and managers on St. Johns teams this summer are invited to attend the Little League picnic scheduled for next Wednesday evening, Sept. 27, at Smith Hall. The outing will start at 6:30 p.m. and is for those in the Little Leagues only.

Bath tops Dansville, serves notice on CMAC opponents

BATH—The Bath Bees served notice Friday night they are ready and able to try again in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference.

The Bees warmed up for the league wars Friday with a convincing 21-6 victory over a non-league opponent, Dansville, in their first game of the season.

Randy Tucker appears to be a big Bath threat again this year. He scored a pair of touchdowns on runs on 35 yards and one yard and added one extra point. Bath's other touchdown came on a 45-yard romp by Warren Baird. Bill Harris scored two extra points.

Dansville got its lone touchdown in the fourth quarter when Mickey Ream scored.

In other county football action Friday night, Laingsburg won, Pewamo-Westphalia ended up in a tie, and DeWitt was shut out again.

AT LAINGSBURG, the visiting Byron team ran up against a stout defense and was held to a minus five yards rushing during the evening while watching the Wolfpack offense score three times. Getting the touchdowns were Nick DeVault on a 14-yard run, Lee Veith on a two-yard run, and Gene Smith on a one-yard quarterback sneak. Veith got the one extra point on a run.

Reserve quarterback Mike Miller Connected with halfback Ken Webber on a 60-yard pass play for a touchdown to enable Pewamo-Westphalia to tie Carson City 6-6 at P-W. The big score came in the third quarter.

P-W threatened two other times and had a 80-yard punt return by Webber cancelled by a penalty. On two occasions the Pirates' got inside the Carson City 5 yard line but couldn't get the TD they were after.

THE DEWITT Panthers, who have lost 25 straight games since tying Maple Valley 20-20 in the 1964 opener, were shut out again for the eighth time in nine games yardage belies the fact that the Mason Bulldogs were leading going into the fourth quarter.

Friday night. Olivet was the foot out to give the Ashley Bears a 6-6 tie in a non-league game at Beal City.

The Bulldogs got off to a fast start as they took the opening kickoff and marched 75 yards to score in two and a half minutes. The 75 yards were covered in eight plays and Craig Webster of Mason was the workhorse as he carried seven of the eight plays for 50 yards. Webster dove the final yard to score and made the extra point on another dive over the right side.

St. Johns could not move the ball after the kickoff and was forced to punt. Mason took over on their own 36 and Webster made three yards thru right guard. On the next play it was Webster again as he hit left tackle, cut to the outside and went the final 61 yards to score Mason's second TD with less than six minutes gone in the ball game.

Jerry Evans smashed over the right side for the extra point as Mason took the lead 14-0.

The Redwings made the scoring column following the kickoff with a 70 yard drive in nine plays. John Markman going the final six yards to paydirt. Norm Love's kick for the extra point was wide.

St. Johns fullback Mike Green has "touch-down" written all over his smile, and half-back Terry Maier (23) gives the TD signal in the background during action in the Mason game Friday night.

PP&K sign-up continues

Registrations are starting slowly but steadily to come in for the annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition scheduled for Oct. 7 at the city park.

Registrations are usually light at this stage of the sign-up, according to PP&K Chairman Gene Downing. Expected to light a fire under the hopeful competitors is the free Punt, Pass & Kick clinic Sept. 30 at which the St. Johns High School football coaching staff will provide instruction.

The clinic is set for 3 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 30, at the high school athletic field.

Also an incentive are handsome gold, silver and bronze trophies for the first-, second- and third-place winners in each of five age divisions in PP&K.

PUNT, PASS and Kick is sponsored nationally by the Ford Motor Co. and the National Football League. In St. Johns, sponsors are Egan Ford Sales, Inc., and the St. Johns Jaycees. Downing is general chairman for PP&K this year, while Bob Frechen and Richard Wood are handling the details for the Jaycees.

PP&K pits contestants only against those their own age, and there is no body contact involved. Points are awarded for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly, with points subtracted for each foot it lands to the right or Registration is continuing through Oct. 6 at Egan Ford Sales at 200 W. Higham Street in St. Johns.

Football contest victor $20 richer

Players in the Clinton County News' football contest performed unusually well for the first week of the season, with the winner and runner-up missing only two selections out of the 16 games offered.

The winner turned out to be Gordon Hyler, 17, of 506 Church Street, St. Johns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hyler. He was wrong on only two games—he picked Ovid-Elsie to beat Portland (they didn't), and he picked Carson City to beat Pewamo-Westphalia (that ended in a tie game).

The first week's football contest would have ended in a tie, too, except for the tie-breaker score. Herb Danes of 13440 Chandler Road, Bath, also missed only two selections, but he listed 27 points for the tie-breaker. Hyler's 28 points was that much closer to the actual total score of the Mason-St. Johns game—49 points.

Hyler received a check for $20 as his winnings in the football contest. There's another weekend of football coming up this week, with another contest to match on Page 10-A and $20 waiting for the new winner.

World War I and II. If the veteran dies in a U.S. Veterans Hospital, cost of transportation from the hospital to the place of interment is also provided.

Clinton Area Church Notes

The Rev Keith Bovee, pastor of the First Methodist Church of St. Johns, and a delegation from the church led a worship service at the Clark Memorial Home in Grand Rapids Sunday afternoon. Clark Home, which has over 300 residents, is the official agency of the Michigan Conference of the Methodist Church which serves senior citizens...

The church school staff of the Ovid United Church consists of these teachers: Carol LaRue and Shirley Moore, kindergarten and nursery; Nancy Spalenka and Ena Baker, first grade; Linda Morgan, second grade; Marie Elliott, Opal Thomas, Mary Johnson and Jane Maron, third and fourth grades; Leta Parker and Beverly Mead, fifth grade; Leo and Sally Salters, sixth grade; Kathryn Huss and Beverly Bovan, seventh and eighth grade; Maylon Walte, adult Bible class; Donna Kusenda youth fellowship; and Gordon Spalenka, new day adult class...

Adult discussion groups have been formed at the Ovid United Church and the St. Johns Methodist Church, using the study, book "Man's Search for a Meaningful Faith." At Ovid the discussions take place each Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. following choir rehearsal at the Front Street church; in St. Johns they are held at 8 p.m. Sunday evenings in the church lounge...

25th anniversary Sunday for United Church at Ovid

OVID—The Ovid United Church formed in 1942 by the union of the Methodist and Congregational fellowships — will celebrate the 25th anniversary of that union this Sunday, Sept. 24.

An afternoon and evening program is planned at both church buildings, beginning with a 3:30 p.m. pot-luck dinner at the Main Street Church. Between then and 7 p.m. time is being set aside for visitation and fellowship with old friends.

The 7 p.m. service will be one of worship and rededication and will be held at the Front Street church. All former ministers of the church have indicated they will return for the anniversary observance and will have parts in both the dinner program and evening worship service.

THE MAIN ADDRESS Sunday evening will be given by the Rev William Blanding, the first pastor of the Ovid United Church from 1942 to 1947. He is now pastor of the First Methodist Church at Coldwater.

Other pastors of the United Church, and the dates of their service, have been:

Rev Thomas Pollard 1947-1951; Rev Robert Smith 1951-1958; Rev William Brown 1958-1960; Rev Harold Kirchenbaur 1960-1963; Rev Garth Smith 1963-1965; and Rev Gordon Spalenka, who has been pastor since 1965.

The United Church came about as a matter of practicality. Twenty-five years ago the First Congregational Church and the Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, faced with dwindling enrollments and the problem of leadership in a small town, combined resources to form the strong program the United Church has been able to present.

The Rev Mr Blanding was named by the Methodist Conference to bring about the union.

NO DENOMINATIONAL support has ever been sacrificed by the union of the two churches; all benevolence support has been equally divided. The local fellowships were combined for one organization, one service, one budget and one ministry. New members simply join the United Church and all are assured of good standing in either of the cooperating denominations. That was the arrangement at the time of the reorganization of the church 25 years ago, and by the vote of the United Church membership that's the way it will continue indefinitely.

The United Church utilizes two church buildings, one on Front Street and the other on North Main Street.

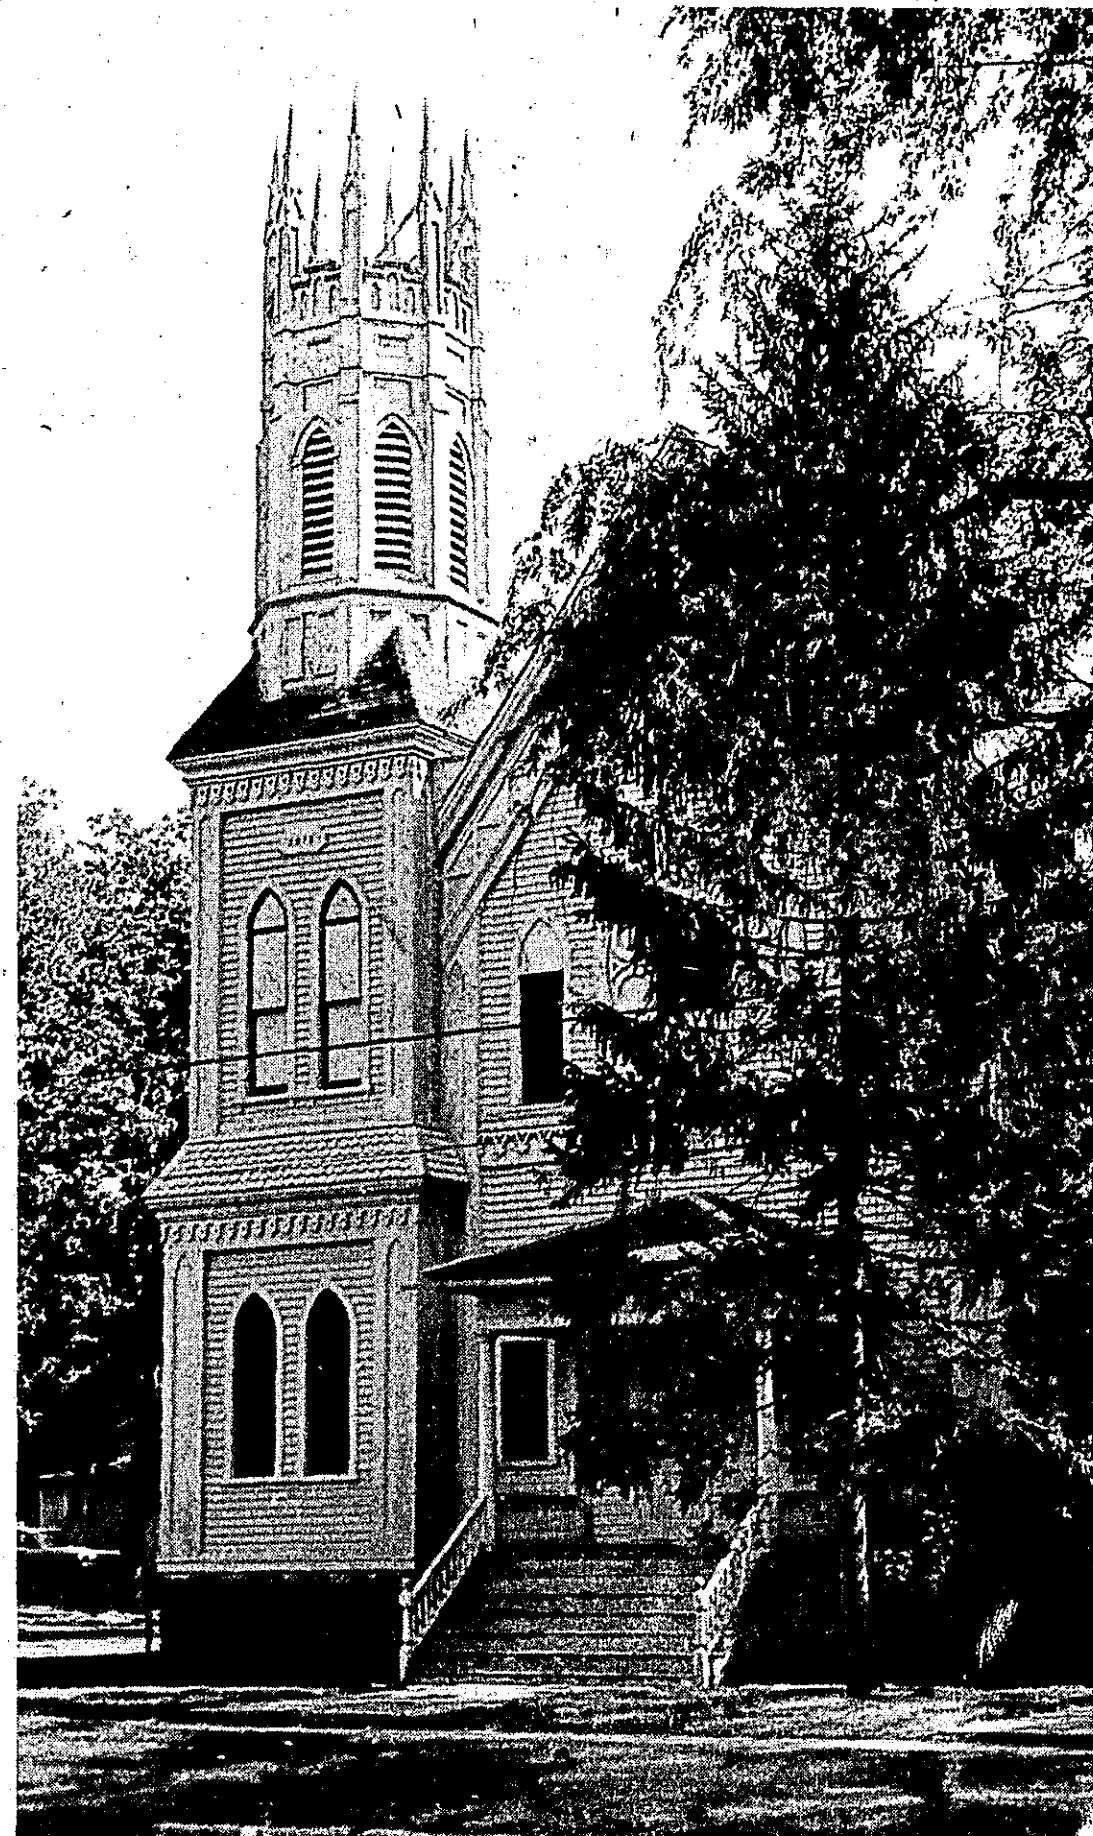

Committees in charge of arrangements for this Sunday's anniversary observance are:

Bingham EUB Church observing its centennial

The West Bingham EUB Church at the corner of West Taft and County Farm roads south of St. Johns will observe the 100th anniversary of its organization this Sunday. There will be a special program.

A pot-luck dinner at noon will follow the regular worship service at 9:30 and Sunday school at 10:30, and a special Centennial Day program will start at 1:30 p.m.

At that time Rev Eugene Friesen, the present pastor, will "re-organize" the early church, with five of the present members taking the place of the charter members. One of the first meetings of the Ladies Aid Society will also be re-enacted by ladies of the present society.

There will also be special musical numbers on the program.

The West Bingham EUB Church came into being in September 1867 when the Rev William Palmer of the Bengal Circuit organized the West Bingham United Brethren class with five members—D.C. Norris, George and Mary Yallup and Henry and Mary Larkins. The class leader was Henry Larkins.

The Peck Schoolhouse was used as their first place of worship. As the population of the community grew, church attendance increased, and in 1888 the present church building was started. At that time, too, the first Ladies Aid Society was organized to help out financially.

The public is invited to attend this Sunday's Centennial Day program.

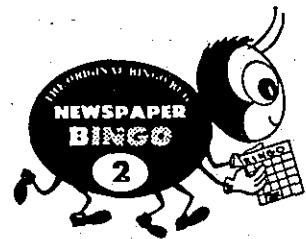

WEST BINGHAM EUB CHURCH

This is how the West Bingham EUB Church looks today at the corner of Taft and County Farm roads. The church, with a membership of 158 persons, is pastored by the Rev Eugene Friesen. Ralph Hallead is Sunday School Superintendent. Church trustees are Robert Peck, Russ Morrison, James Cornell, Ron Heibeck and Gladys Bullard.

Common sense, not public opinion, should be the guide for your daily conduct.

YOUNGSTERS TOLD ABOUT FOREIGN COUNTRY ITEMS

Sunday was Mission Sunday at St. Peter Riley Lutheran Church, and booths containing pictures and materials from many foreign lands were set up in the school hall for the public to see. The Rev Raymond Bergdolt (at back of table) talks about a table of oriental items with interested children Ramona Bergdolt, Mary Ann Sehlke, Nancy Caruss, Teresa Caruss, Bonnie Britten, Rita Horman and Mary Lou Bergdolt.

IN NATIVE DRESS ON MISSION SUNDAY

Adult members of St. Peter Riley Lutheran Church got into the spirit of Mission Sunday and several dressed in foreign costumes to add a touch of realism to the exhibits on display in the school hall last weekend. They included Mrs Wilma Ingalls (left) in a dress of Africa, Mrs Carleen Eaton in a costume of India, and Mrs Ellen Martens with an oriental outfit. With Mrs Ingalls is her daughter, Lisa.

MICHIGAN RETREAT DAY SPEAKERS, CHAIRMAN

St. Bernadette's Guild elects Mrs Malusek

St. Bernadette's Guild of St. Joseph Catholic Church has elected Mrs Barbara Malusek as president for the new year.

Other officers are: Mrs Patricia Lutig, vice president; Mrs Maureen Young, treasurer; and Mrs Jane McKeone, secretary.

The guild's first meeting of the year was held Sept. 13 at the home of Mrs Jeanne Irer, with Mrs Hilda Kellen as co-hostess. There was considerable discussion about activities for the year, and members decided to sell Halloween candy as their project.

Mrs Joann Smith and Mrs Mary Dick will represent the guild as models in the annual style show-card party scheduled for Oct. 3 in the school gymnasium. A committee will meet with Mrs Jane McKeone to make tissue paper roses for the table decorations at the style show.

The next meeting of the guild will be at the home of Mrs. Malusek Oct. 10 at 7:30 p.m. All St. Joseph Catholic Church ladies who live in the area and who have never attended a guild meeting are invited to the Oct. 10 meeting.

Rev Donaldson at Ovid Free Methodist

As part of a Sunday School enlargement campaign, the Ovid Free Methodist Church will be featuring special services September 20 through 23. These services will be held each evening at 7:30 p.m. under the ministry of Rev Don Donaldson.

Rev Donaldson is the associate director of the world traveling evangelistic team known as the Global Harvesters. He attended Asbury Theological Seminary and for many years has held evangelistic services in the United States and foreign countries.

Nursery help is needed during the morning worship services and assistants for church school teachers are needed at the First Methodist Church in St. Johns...

A family night potluck supper was served to 40 at the Bannister Methodist Church Tuesday evening. The supper was to honor Rev. Wayne Sparks and his family. Following the meal, a table laden with groceries of all types was presented to the Sparks. Rev. Sparks has been returned to the parish consisting of five churches, Ashley, Bannister, Rathbone, Beebe and North Star for the second year.

The subject of the lesson at the meeting of the Kozy Korner Hobby Club Thursday evening was flowers. The hostess, Mrs. Howard Halteman, took the members on a tour of her flower garden and identified the many varieties and gave tips on when and how to plant and transplant the variety of plants. Upon returning to the home of the hostess, the program books for the ensuing year were filled and plans made for future projects. A lunch was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be Oct. 12 with Martha Schulz as hostess. The project will be to make toys for a children's home to be presented at Christmas.

WELCOME

The community welcomes two new families to the area. Not really new, but former residents who are returning. Recently the Howard Mercer family purchased the former Roland Thornton home on E. Mrs. Farrier is the former Shirley Hamer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray A. Hamer of N. Watson Road. The community will miss the Watsons, but are glad they will still be as near as St. Johns, where they will be moving in the near future.

Russell Libbey, chairman, conducted the annual election of officers with the following results: Emerson Dunham, chairman; Charles Walker, first vice chairman; Elmer Thornton, second vice chairman; Mrs. Ray A. Hamer, secretary and Mrs. Lyle Fleagle, treasurer.

Following a short discussion, Emerson Dunham made a motion "to organize the group as a legal corporation" and to "lease the Colony School from the Ovid-Elsie School District" which was carried by a 12 to 2 vote. Libbey immediately appointed the newly-elected officers as a committee to complete the action of the vote. He also appointed Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker as chairmen for the social activities for the new year.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 21 at Community Hall at 8 p.m. Members are asked to bring a guest and wear comfortable walking shoes.

"Explore '67," a special program designed to let Michigan high school students take a look at career opportunities in agriculture and natural resources, has been set for Saturday, Sept. 30, at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

Students, parents, 4-H leaders and counselors are invited to attend the program which begins at 9:15 a.m. at the university auditorium. The program will also include a series of tours to points of interest on the campus. Visiting students and adults attending the career day program will also have an opportunity to purchase tickets to the Michigan State University and Southern California football game that afternoon beginning at 1:30 p.m. at special reduced youth day prices.

The 4-H youth program of the Cooperative Extension Service and staff of MSU's College of Agriculture and Natural Resources will provide guides and discussion leaders for the day.

Further information on the Career Day program can be secured from the Clinton County Extension office in St. Johns.

Sept. 30 is also 4-H - Youth Day at Spartan Stadium as over 300 4-H members will help the MSU Marching Band celebrate the National 4-H Club Week promotion with their half-time show. Clinton County will have six 4-H members assisting the band with the 4-H half-time show.

Lois Miller is the new president of the Fowler Busy Bees tension Office in St. Johns last week between Mrs. Elmer Thornton of E. Colony Road and Mrs. Edwin Heibek of R-5, St. Johns. Mrs. Heibek was a former teacher at the old Richards School, now closed-east of the Colony, when Mrs. Thornton was a pupil. Neither woman disclosed how long ago this was but to Mrs. Heibek, "it seems like just the day before yesterday."

Al Rademacher is convalescing at his home on N. Watson Road after being a patient at Clinton Memorial Hospital. He enjoys visitors and appreciates the thoughtfulness of friends, relatives and neighbors since his illness.

Mrs. C. L. Kaltrider of 1402 N. Chandler Road, returned home Sunday, Sept. 17, after being a patient at Clinton Memorial Hospital the past week.

a person can't just forget about his horse, as the animal needs daily care and exercise. Horse club members might consider taking the veterinary science project this winter along with their horse project. A new 4-H horse club will be organized in the Elsie area this fall.

Have you ever wondered why it's hot-or why it's cold? Why does it rain or why does it snow? Why does the wind blow? Will it be sunshine tomorrow or rain? The answers to these and many more questions can be found in a new 4-H project on weather, available now to Michigan youth.

The new weather project, provided in three units, is geared to all ages and will be of special interest to young people 9-14 years of age. The first unit, understanding weather, introduces the basic elements which create our weather. A number of experiments in this unit will delight the member and mystify his friends. The next step is the actual construction of a weather station and the instruments needed to observe weather conditions. And the third unit puts these instruments to work and shows the member how to actually forecast weather.

A complete packet of leader guide materials is provided which makes the project a completely self-contained kit for any leader even though they have no prior understanding of weather.

A leaders workshop for the Weather Project is being sponsored by the Michigan 4-H Foundation Nov. 3-4 at Camp Kett.

Anyone interested in the new weather project is urged to phone or write the county office of the Cooperative Extension Service for additional information.

Individual septic systems not the answer, health unit warns

"Sewage" may not be a word many people like to say, and not many individuals use sewage as a topic of conversation . . . unless they are having immediate septic tank or drain field problems.

But like it or not, sewage problems are with us, points out G. Robert Yager, sanitarian with the Mid-Michigan District Health Department. They can be past problems that still exist, problems that have just developed, or problems that are just now developing and which will make themselves known in the near future.

Most sewage problems involve the rural areas or fastgrowing suburban areas that have no public sewer systems. In the rapidly growing areas, the abundance of septic tanks and drain fields is what's causing the problem.

"SEPTIC TANKS and drain fields are not the ultimate final answer to sewage disposal," Yager said. "The function and life expectancy of a septic system is all too often misconceived or misunderstood. Therefore, again all too often, many systems are being abused or have been abused to the point of premature failure."

Septic systems are a very temporary means of sewage disposal, he said.

Commented Dr. F. W. Smith, director of the local health department: "The only positive approach and permanent answer to sewage disposal is a municipal sewage treatment plant of one type or another such as the facility DeWitt Township is proposing."

DeWitt is the largest township in population in Clinton County, and with their growing population has come a big share of sewage problems where individual septic systems exist.

"IT IS THE HOPE of every local official and agency, including the health department, that the sewage issue be approved by the people of the township so that the township can eliminate, or at least try to bring under control, some of this grief," Dr. Smith and Yager said.

"Sewage" isn't a dirty word. It just causes dirty problems and situations where septic tanks and drain fields are concerned, mainly because they are so very temporary. Pollution abatement and control is becoming increasingly more important, not only to the local health department, but to all official agencies, and especially to all private individuals.

"The installation of private sewage disposal systems in Clinton County is becoming an increasing concern of the health department, zoning commission, drain commission, township supervisors, and plat board, to name a few. In the future, sewage disposal permits will not be issued if the soil percolation rate falls below 2 inches per hour, except with the approval of all agencies concerned in special hardship cases."

It is also prohibited by the sanitary code of the Mid-Michigan District Health Department, and regulations from the County Drain Commission, for any sewage disposal system to be directly connected to county drains, open ditches, streams, or lakes.

980 attend Jehovah's Witnesses convention

Some 980 persons attended the Sunday public lecture, "Will God Intervene in Men's Affairs?" at the Jehovah's Witnesses convention at Smith Hall.

"City Park took on a new complexion as it was transformed into a large Kingdom Hall," commented Raymond Parker, presiding minister of the St. Johns congregation.

L. E. Reusch, district representative, said in his Bible lecture regarding the benefits of God's intervention at Armageddon, "It will mean the next 1,000 years of regeneration for the redeemed human family."

"With Satan and all evil-doers removed, direct blessings from God will flow unhindered to human subjects of the heavenly kingdom. Under the new order, now so very near at hand, all who will be alive will be developing to human perfection as a tangible evidence of God's intervention in men's affairs."

Hundreds of Jehovah's witnesses spent many hours over the weekend calling on homes and businesses of St. Johns, and as a result, Parker said, many St. Johns residents joined in attendance at the convention.

Seventeen persons were baptized. "They have joined Jehovah's Witnesses in their declaration of the established kingdom of God as man's only hope for world peace," Parker said.

By DOTTIE JENKINS
Exchange student to Denmark

Now that I'm at home and my summer in Denmark is over, I would like to tell you about the second half.

After returning from our camping trip, Merete, who is 18, left on a trip to England. It was an exchange between her school and a school in England.

She, along with 14 other Danish students, were hosted by 11 English kids and when she returned, these English kids came with them for a two-week stay in Denmark.

I was allowed to go on their various trips around the Copenhagen area.

ONE OF THE things we did together was go to a luncheon at the town hall of Gentofte. Gentofte is a municipality in

DOTTIE JENKINS

Local key opens Danish door

The presentation of the key to the City of St. Johns to the deputy lord mayor of Gentofte, Denmark, opened the door to some special treatment for Dottie Jenkins of St. Johns last month.

On her Youth for Understanding teenage exchange visit to Denmark, she presented the key to the City of St. Johns to Mrs. Gertrude Wandel, deputy lord mayor of the Copenhagen suburb of about 30,000 people. She and other students she was touring with—10 from England and 30 Danish youth—were shown the display case where the key would be displayed.

Then after a luncheon they visited the city's fire hall, which housed the equipment for reportedly the best fire department in the greater Copenhagen area. When Miss Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Jenkins of South Baker Street, mentioned that her dad was formerly a fireman at Hart before they came to St. Johns, she was given what amounted to an extensive personal tour of the station and even got to see a fire rescue demonstration.

which there are the three towns of Hellerup, Lyngby and Charlottenlund (the town I lived in).

At the luncheon I gave the key of St. Johns to the Deputy Lord Mayor of Gentofte. She took me downstairs and showed me a display case where other gifts given to the town were, and this is where our key will hang.

Another trip I made with the Anglo-Danish group was through Tuborg brewery. Tuborg is the most popular beer in Denmark, especially with the teen set. I was surprised to find that Tuborg Beer was exported to Detroit. We were given lunch here, too.

I FOUND THAT there are two things the Danes are particularly fond of. Those are eating and making speeches. The speech-making grew to be a big joke with the English because everywhere we went someone made a speech.

I saw a lot of Copenhagen at this time, and at night someone would have a party. A party in Denmark lasts until 3:30 or 4 in the morning, and there were usually 40 or 50 kids at each one.

There are all kinds of food there and almost anything you want to drink. I've never been to a party here in America that was as much fun as there.

AFTER THE ENGLISH left, my 16-year-old sister, a friend named Susanne, and I went on a six-day bicycle trip around an island called Bornholm.

Bornholm is a very small island seven hours by ferry from Copenhagen. It is only two hours from Sweden, so we met more Swedes there than we did Danes.

The first day we rode about 30 kilo-meters to a youth hostel. A youth hostel is something like a motel, only not quite as nice, and very much cheaper. It costs about 50 cents a night.

You have to be a member of Youth Hostels International to stay there, though. Some were nice but a couple we stayed in weren't so nice.

WE RETURNED ON A Sunday night and on the next Thursday, I was to leave for home in America.

School started in Denmark on the Monday before I came home, so I visited one day. School there is very different from what it is here. The student stays in the same room with the same kids all day. This is his class. The teachers move from room to room.

THE STUDENTS seemed much more eager to answer the teachers' questions, too. Also, there is a lot more homework to be done and no extra-curricular activities at all. The subject periods are 50 minutes long and they have six subjects.

In the gymnasium where I visited, there are three levels of education—like there are four levels in our high school. When you enroll in the school, you either take a science and math course or a language course.

MERETE, with whom I visited, was on the language course. She has English, German, Latin, French, Danish, culture and Roman history and culture. She has had at least three years of each of these languages.

The Danes place a lot of emphasis on education and how much a person has. The more you have, the more you are looked up to.

My last day in Denmark came faster than I wanted it to. It didn't seem as if I had been there two months already and was packing to go home.

MY PLANE left at 3 p.m. Danish time after many good-byes. Standing in the airport I didn't want to leave, but once on the plane I, as well as the other Americans, was happy to be going home to my family and friends.

We got into Detroit 7 p.m. D.S.T. Thursday, Aug. 17. My family was waiting for me to take me home.

This was my summer. It was just as wonderful as I had hoped it would be. I made so many new friends and I know I will not be content until I can return to Denmark and Copenhagen. My Danish sister is now in California staying with a family near Los Angeles and experiencing the same differences I found. But really there are very few differences between the two countries. The people there are just as fun-loving as people here and the one most important thing I learned is that people everywhere want peace.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Ovid residents to get Zip-A-Lists in October

OVID—Ovid residents will have an opportunity to easily put some ZIP into their mail early next month, Postmaster Donna B. Besko announced last week.

During the first week in October, the post office will deliver to every householder a kit of eight postal cards which can be mailed back to the post offices with addresses, needing ZIP codes. Each completed card will be sent to the post office which serves the "zipless" address, and the proper code will be added there and the form then returned to the sender.

No postage will be needed on these cards.

Each of the eight postal cards in a kit will contain a message encouraging the general use of ZIP Code. There will be a ninth card on instructions. All will be folded together like a closed accordion. There will be perforations between each form. In addition, another separate card will be delivered along with the kit which is a reminder of the local ZIP Code.

LAST YEAR hundreds of addresses were ZIP coded by the Ovid Post Office as part of a similar program using only one (or two) cards with spaces for as many as 13 addresses, Postmaster Besko said.

Nationally, about eight addresses per card were returned during the 1966 project.

The unit cost of entering the code onto each card will be less than the system used in 1966 because no look-up will be necessary. Every card in the final post office will need the same code, so an inexperienced clerk will be able to simply stamp it on the card and send the form on its return journey.

On an average day, between 175 and 250 million new pieces of mail enter the postal system. It is not expected that more than 10 million of the ZIP-A-LIST cards will be in the system at any one time during the peak periods of mailing. Since they will be handled essentially as ordinary postal cards, there will be no burden or dislocation of service.

"THE ULTIMATE result will be an improvement in service," Postmaster Gen. Lawrence F. O'Brien has said about the project. "ZIP code is the base upon which the modern postal service is being built. But, it won't work and the modernization and efficiencies ZIP Code will bring cannot go into effect, until there is more widespread usage of the five-number code."

"The ZIP-A-LIST project is the most dramatic aspect of our continuing campaign to make ZIP Codes readily available to the public." Last year, approximately 17 per cent of the nation's households returned 96 million addresses for coding. The postmaster general reported that many postmasters had informed the department that the ZIP-A-LIST project was an important aspect in making Christmas mailers aware of the importance of using the codes on their holiday mail and as an off-shoot, encouraged early mailing of their gifts and cards. This resulted in the most successful holiday season in recent postal history.

Extra kits will be available at the post office. Mr and Mrs James Breakey of Hillsdale were guests of Mrs Florence Phelps a few days last week.

Propose horse arena at Elsie

ELSIE—Rex Tefertiller has proposed a horse arena at the village ball park but the village council hasn't yet given the go-ahead pending more details from Tefertiller.

An assistant 4-H leader, Tefertiller said the horse arena should have wide acceptance because of the growing popularity of horsemanship. He proposed to the council a 200- by 300-foot fenced arena to be built between the baseball and football areas of the park.

This would be an ideal location, he said, because seating is already available, and there are rest rooms nearby. He suggested the possibility of local clubs and organizations helping with the financing and actual construction work. He'll report back to the council later with more details on building and financing.

Police Chief L.W. Burdick was instructed by the council to issue notices for the removal of all junk cars from unauthorized places. The council also approved the annual $400 donation to the library.

Dairymen cut costs by adding urea to silage

Michigan dairy farmers are finding they can reduce the cost of providing protein for their dairy cows by adding urea to corn silage as the silo is filled. Donald Hillman, Michigan State University dairy Extension specialist, says recent study of 12 dairy herds in Lapeer County revealed that farmers reduced their purchase of protein supplement by an average of $18 per cow during the year by adding urea to corn silage. The net saving amounted to $10 per cow, since farmers fed some additional grain. But Hillman says these savings could amount to as much as $20 per cow in some situations.

Urea is mixed with the silage at the rate of 10 pounds per ton as it is put in the silo. Most farmers simply spread the measured amount of urea over the top of wagonloads of silage and it mixes while passing through self-unloading wagons and the silage blower.

Farmers can estimate the amount of urea to add to a load of silage by measuring their wagon boxes and the height that wagons are normally filled. One hundred cubic feet in the wagon box is equivalent to one ton of silage, so farmers can add 10 pounds of urea for each 100 cubic feet of silage on the load. (Length x width x height equals cubic feet; divided by 100 equals tons of silage).

Care is necessary when using urea to avoid accidents that could cause the death of cattle. Such accidents are rare and usually happen through failure to recognize that cattle must be gradually accustomed to feeds containing urea. Only the recommended amount (10 pounds per ton) should be added to corn silage, Hillman warned.

Fall management of alfalfa

For more than 30 years, Michigan farmers have followed a recommended practice of not cutting alfalfa from Sept. 5 to Oct. 1. Recent Michigan State University research indicates new varieties and new cutting processes may alter this long-followed rule.

Three years of MSU experiments show occasional cutting of the more winterhardy and wilt-resistant varieties, if well fertilized with potassium, may not damage the plants seriously for a crop the following year.

MSU crops authorities suggest that the farmer may want to try this practice on only a portion of the field and then judge the results the following year. August moisture may bring sufficient growth for mid-September cutting of varieties like Vernal.

PRIZE WINNERS AT STATE FAIR

Potash a must for alfalfa

High levels of potash in the soil are a must for consistent success with alfalfa, says a University of Minnesota soils specialist.

Curtis Overdahl says university experiments show that alfalfa stands should receive high potash fertilization at seeding and topdressing later if high yields and economical production are goals. For long-term stands, topdress with potash every year, he adds, even when stands were well-fertilized at seeding.

Other minerals are essential, too, he adds, in statements reviewed by National Plant Food Institute. Lime rates are often too low or neglected entirely... and phosphate deficiencies reduce alfalfa yields as well.

Sulphur and boron deficiencies can cut alfalfa yields, where levels of these nutrients are low or not available.

Best advice for top alfalfa production, says Overdahl, is to have soil tested and follow soil test recommendations for fertilizer and lime use throughout the life of the stand.

Late silage harvest can be costly

Delay in harvest of corn silage can cost both dairymen and cattle feeders dollars in lost nutrition, crop left in the field and inefficient storage.

Research just completed at Michigan State University on 1966 harvest shows delay from mid-September to mid-October cost beef cattle feeders 10 to 20 per cent of the corn crop. Farmers should test moisture content before starting harvest, however.

Dry matter yield per acre was 10 per cent less in mid-October than in mid-September. Waiting until mid-November resulted in loss on another 11 per cent. Furthermore, each month's delay in harvest reduced 10 per cent the number of pounds of dry matter that could be stored per cubic foot of silo.

Farmers making silage should cut the corn fine for best nutrition of the livestock, research showed.

Both beef cattle and dairy extension specialists say September silage making time is one of the most critical periods of the year's farm operations.

They say that what is put in the silo is what livestock will be fed for the next 6 to 10 months and that no more nutrition can possibly come out than is put in.

It's wheat time in Clinton

Seed selection vital for good crop

Good quality seed of the right variety, high in germination test and treated against disease, is the key to a good wheat crop. George McQueen, agricultural agent in Clinton County, says extra bushels at harvest next summer can result from extra time and money spent at planting time.

Michigan grows soft winter wheat — except in parts of the Upper Peninsula. This wheat goes into pastry flour used in crackers, cookies, cakes and products such as breakfast foods.

About 85 per cent of Michigan's nearly 1,000,000 acres of wheat is soft white wheat. Genesee and Avon are the recommended white varieties. Both yield high and are suited to Michigan conditions. In over-state trials at six locations, Genesee averaged 54.6 bushels an acre and Avon 52.6 bushels.

MONON IS THE red wheat most highly recommended by Michigan State University test results. The over-state yield average has been 51.3 bushels.

Here are seed qualities the agricultural agent thinks farmers should get:

- 1) 90 per cent germination;
- 2) free from weed seeds, especially cockle, chess and wild onion;
- 3) free from other crop seeds like rye or barley; and
- 4) pure as to variety.

"Certified seed is the only seed which consistently meets these standards," the agent advises, adding that he can provide a list of sources. Seed should be treated with a fungicide to control seedling diseases and bunt (stinking) smut. This is essential in Michigan because of the weather conditions.

AN EXTENSION bulletin (518), "Controlling Seed — Borne Diseases," covers this subject and is available from the county Extension office.

Special care should be taken to prevent any of this treated seed, which must be colored, from getting into grain being sold. State and federal laws are strict and left-over seed should be destroyed.

Timing important to planting

Time of planting and a well prepared seed bed are highly important in getting the wheat crop off to a good start. Yields next summer will depend a great deal on how good a start the crop gets before cold weather sets in, George McQueen, county agricultural agent, suggests.

The Clinton County agent says when wheat follows a grain crop like oats the field should be plowed. If wheat is to follow beans, or silage corn the field can be disked or harrowed and grain planted. The field need not be left idle after cultivation, but wheat can be planted immediately.

The date of planting depends on the season and the "fly free date." This date has been established for each area and county in Michigan on the basis of the date after which the adult Hessian fly no longer lays eggs.

In Clinton County, the earliest date farmers should plant wheat is Sept. 17.

Farmers should plant as early as possible after this date. This will allow the crop to establish a good root system before cold weather sets in. This will lessen winter damage.

Michigan usually gets fall rains which will help germinate the seed and allow the plant to cover the ground before the winter freeze-up.

Hog raisers can produce greater demand

Why does Mrs. America consider "a big thick steak" the ultimate status symbol? Why do family cookouts feature hamburgers or a chicken sizzling on the rotisserie instead of port roast, sausage, or "ribs"?

Even though pork prices to the housewife are down, pork has become associated in the public mind with low-income diets. Pork is losing its popularity for a number of reasons, according to Wilbur Bruner and Dr. B.D. Van Stavern, specialists long associated with the Swine Evaluation Station of Perdue County, Eaton, Ohio.

A taped interview with these two specialists in pork breeding programs, as reported in the fall forecast issue of the Farm Quarterly, brings out many sales points of value for pork breeders who wish to see more and better pork products used by American families with a resulting profit to the industry.

Mrs. America says her family doesn't like pork, but on the other hand asserts they really go for ham and bacon. In order to put pork on a really competitive basis for the markets now claimed by beef, chicken, turkey and imported hams and bacon, these experts have many valuable suggestions, starting with proper breeding and grading. They forecast a necessity for new and imaginative merchandising methods to increase the number of pork products served both at home and on restaurant menus. They point out that some of the criticism of domestic pork products in relation to the quality of imported ham and bacon is justified, and suggest ways to improve this situation.

Included in these new ideas are environment and heredity as factors in sow productivity; incentives for breeding quality; and developing the pork producer's concerns for these responsibilities. The taped-interview report is supplemented with two pages of carcass yield photographs that provide a valuable reference for quality pork production.

Saranac is a new alfalfa variety that Michigan State University crop scientists recommend farmers try in some of their new seedings.

Corn-yield forecaster proves to be accurate

In the current (fall forecast) issue of Farm Quarterly the article "Corn Yield Forecaster" tells how Wendell Bowers of Danville, Ill., calculates corn yields within 5 per cent of actual harvested production with the special slide rule he developed. This forecast is made far ahead of harvest time.

This early answer to this year's production enables him to estimate storage space, drying capacity, and get in his order early for new corn seed of varieties that produced well for him.

Bowers started working on his corn yield calculator by husking an average ear of corn and counting the number of kernels. He multiplied the number of rows of kernels around the ear by the number of kernels per row along the length. This in turn was multiplied by the number of ears per acre, which gave him the number of kernels per acre. This sum was in turn divided by 90,000, the average number of kernels he knew to be in a bushel of corn. The result, of course, was in bushels of shelled corn per acre. It all sounded pretty complicated to Bowers.

SO HE SET TO WORK to devise a slide rule which with one setting could make all of the necessary multiplications and divisions. With his new slide rule he can now calculate corn yield in bushels per acre early in the season, even before hand shelling is possible.

Later when all the experimental plots at the University of Illinois farm were checked with the slide rule the difference was less than 2 per cent from the actual harvested yield.

Corn harvesting hazards plentiful

Farm accident hazards are numerous during corn silage and corn grain harvesting time. Being "in a hurry" brings about many lax moments that cause injuries, says George McQueen, Clinton County Extension agricultural agent.

He points to these hazards as those most likely to cause injury: Chopper or picker left running when farmer gets off the unit. When you get off, shut off the power.

No fire extinguisher on harvesting unit. A three- to five-pound pressurized, dry chemical extinguisher should be adequate to stop small fires.

Travel on highway with tractor-tor-drawn wagons. Make sure the new SMV emblem is clean and properly mounted.

Power take-off injuries with portable elevators. Check guards on PTO and around gears near elevator boot. "The key to greater success in preventing accidents is to be alert for hazards," reminds the agricultural authority.

Wheat responds to fertilizer at planting time

Wheat is a crop which responds well to fertilizer, says George McQueen, Clinton county agricultural agent.

But like any crop, it is hard to know how much fertilizer can be effectively used without soil testing. Soils differ in needs since past soil management may have been different.

The best wheat crops result from banding of fertilizer one inch to the side and one inch below the seed.

Most grain drills apply fertilizer in direct contact with the seed. But Michigan State University research shows not more than 100 pounds of plant nutrients should be put in contact with the seed in light soils or it can damage the germination. In heavier soils, as much as 150 pounds of plant nutrients may be planted with the seed.

SOIL TESTS MAY show the crop could use more fertilizer. If your planting system does not allow separate band placement of fertilizer, there are two other ways to do the job. One would be to plow or disk down part of the fertilizer need. Another would be to drill part of the fertilizer in ahead of planting.

Manganese should be used in the band of fertilizer on lake bed soils and dark colored level soils where pH is above 6.5.

Since wheat is a member of the grass family, nitrogen fertilizer gives the crop a great boost. Where no legumes were plowed down and no manure applied, wheat can effectively use 50 pounds of nitrogen an acre at planting time. If a legume has been plowed down and nitrogen applied on the field, nitrogen rates should be reduced.

No weed control chemicals should be used at planting time in the fall as it may injure the young wheat plant. But if weeds are a problem in the spring, chemicals can be applied then when the grower may want to apply additional nitrogen.

MSU TESTS SHOW that the highest wheat yields come by planting between 1 1/2 and two bushels (6 to 8 pecks) of good certified seed. There is no advantage to planting more than two bushels of seed an acre.

Best results come from planting at a depth of 1 to 1 1/2 inches on a fine textured soil. On sandy, lighter soils, wheat could be planted as deep as 2 inches.

Wheat should be seeded within two weeks after the "fly free date" which is Sept. 17 in this area, the county agent advises.

Wheat fits in crop rotation

Wheat should appear no oftener than every third year on the same ground if high yields are to be attained and disease problems avoided, according to George McQueen, county Extension agricultural agent in Clinton County.

Continuous cropping on the same field may result in 10 to 15 per cent or more reduction in yield for the second crop and a loss from 50 to 80 per cent by "take-all" disease in the third crop.

Since "take-all" is carried by several host plants, wheat should not follow winter barley, rye, bromegrass and a legume grass sod with a high proportion of grass. Quack grass is also a host plant and if the field has been heavily infested with quack, it is best to have a good control program ahead of wheat seeding.

WHEN LATE summer comes it is too late to control the quack grass before planting wheat in the fall, the agent explained. Control of quack grass should begin in the spring if wheat is to be seeded on the ground. But fall is an excellent time to start a quack grass control program for spring planted crops.

Wheat fits best after field beans, soybeans or corn for silage unless there was some land left idle through the summer, on which weeds were controlled, the agent explained.

High rates of nitrogen fertilizer will not even grow weeds if soil is not well limed. Michigan State University soils authorities say soil testing can determine acidity of the soil and how many tons of lime are needed an acre to correct the problem.

2 new soybean varieties on tap

Two new soybean varieties, Hark and Amsoy, will be available to Michigan farmers in 1968, Michigan State University researchers in crop science say farmers should remember that neither of the new varieties have resistance to Phytophthora root-rot.

If the farm has had this disease, the resistant varieties like Chippewa 64, or Harosoy 63 may be more valuable.

ASC PROGRAM

1968 Agricultural Conservation Program called 'positive' act

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman approved the 1968 Agricultural Conservation Program on June 17, emphasizing it as a positive approach to conservation.

The USDA appropriation bill authorized by Congress continues the 1968 ACP at the same funds level of $220 million for cost sharing assistance to farmers. It will enable farmers to do much more than they could otherwise afford to do to conserve the nation's agricultural resources for the benefit of both consumers and farmers of future generations.

The major emphasis will be placed on implementing ACP in accordance with the objectives stated in the recent published resources in the action policies statement developed as part of the Agriculture/2000 study of future national needs.

EMPHASIS WILL BE given to the encouragement of operators of family-type farms to undertake comprehensive conservation efforts and the more efficient multi-purpose use of soil, water, woodland, or wildlife resources in providing improvements in man's total environment.

This will help provide an adequate supply of food, fiber, water, and wildlife for the future. Emphasis will also be given to two other points: 1) use of conservation assistance provided by ACP to encourage better land use and well-balanced efforts to deal with all conservation problems of the farms, and 2) responsibility of the general public to help farmers maintain the nation's agricultural land, water, woodland, or wildlife resources in a manner that assures availability for productive use and benefit of future generations.

This positive approach to conservation not only better serves the needs of our agricultural resources but also helps to more effectively meet the requirements of our growing population. The Michigan program is approved, 83 county ACP development groups representing these same people at the county level, will be developing their county programs for 1968.

take comprehensive conservation efforts and the more efficient multi-purpose use of soil, water, woodland, or wildlife resources in providing improvements in man's total environment.

This will help provide an adequate supply of food, fiber, water, and wildlife for the future. Emphasis will also be given to two other points: 1) use of conservation assistance provided by ACP to encourage better land use and well-balanced efforts to deal with all conservation problems of the farms, and 2) responsibility of the general public to help farmers maintain the nation's agricultural land, water, woodland, or wildlife resources in a manner that assures availability for productive use and benefit of future generations.

This positive approach to conservation not only better serves the needs of our agricultural resources but also helps to more effectively meet the requirements of our growing population. The Michigan program is approved, 83 county ACP development groups representing these same people at the county level, will be developing their county programs for 1968.

DeWITT TOWNSHIP SEWAGE DISPOSAL ORDINANCE

ORDINANCE NO. 49

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE ACQUISITION AND CONSTRUCTION OF A SEWAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM FOR THE TOWNSHIP OF DeWITT; TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF REVENUE BONDS TO PAY PART OF THE COST THEREOF UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF ACT 94, PUBLIC ACTS OF MICHIGAN, 1933, AS AMENDED; PROVIDING FOR THE FIXING, COLLECTION, AND SEGREGATION AND DISPOSITION OF THE REVENUES OF THE SYSTEM AND PAYMENT OF SAID BONDS OUT OF THEREV- ENUES THEREOF; AND CRE- ATING A STATUTORY LIEN ON SAID REVENUES.

THE TOWNSHIP OF DeWITT ORDAINS:

Section 1. Necessity. It is hereby determined to be necessary for the public health, safety and welfare of the Township of DeWitt to acquire and construct in accordance with detailed maps, plans and specifications therefor prepared by Mick and Rowland, Engineers, of Angola, Indiana, a sewage disposal system for the Township, consisting of a treatment facility and interceptor and lateral sewers, together with necessary appurtenances, and attachments thereto.

Section 2. Cost; Useful Life Financing. The cost of said improvement has been estimated by said engineers to be Two Million Five Hundred Twenty Thousand Two Hundred Eighty-two ($2,580,222.00) Dollars, including the payment of incidental expenses as specified in Section 3 of this Ordinance, which estimate of cost is hereby approved and confirmed, and the period of usefulness of said public improvement is estimated to be not less than forty (40) years. The said public improvement will be financed in part by the revenue bonds issued pursuant to this Ordinance and the balance of the cost will be provided from the proceeds of sale of special assessment bonds of the Township and from a federal grant.

Section 3. Costs paid from Revenue Bonds; Definitions. To pay part of the cost of acquiring and constructing said improvement, including the payment of legal, financial and other expenses incident thereto and incident to the issuance and sale of the bonds and including payment of twelve months interest on the bonds and expenses of the first six months of operation and maintenance of the System, it is hereby determined that the Township of DeWitt shall borrow the sum of One Million Six Hundred Fifty Thousand ($1,650,000.00) Dollars and that revenue bonds be issued therefor pursuant to the provisions of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, which bonds are referred to in this Ordinance as "the bonds."

Whenever the words "the System" are referred to in this Ordinance, they shall be understood to mean the complete sewage disposal system of the Township of DeWitt, including all pumps, pump houses, treatment facilities, sewers, lift stations, and all other facilities used or useful in the collection, treatment and disposal of domestic, commercial or industrial wastes, including all appurtenances thereto and including all extensions and improvements thereto, which may be hereafter acquired.

Whenever the words "public improvement" are used in this Ordinance, they shall be understood to mean the improvement authorized to be acquired and constructed under the provisions of this Ordinance.

Whenever the words "revenues" and "net revenues" are used in this Ordinance, they shall be understood to have the meanings as defined in Section 3, Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended.

Section 4. Bond Data. Said bonds shall be designated SEWAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM REVENUE BONDS, and shall be not general obligations of the Township of DeWitt but revenue bonds payable out of the net revenues of the System after provision has been made for the payment of expenses of administration, operation and maintenance, and shall consist of three hundred thirty (330) bonds of the denomination of $5,000.00 each, dated as of October 1, 1967, numbered in order of maturity from 1 upwards, and maturing as follows:

$25,000.00 October 1, 1970;
$30,000.00 October 1st of each year from 1971 to 1980, both inclusive;
$40,000.00 October 1st of each year from 1981 to 1984, both inclusive;

$45,000.00 October 1st of each year from 1985 to 1989, both inclusive;
$55,000.00 October 1st of each year from 1990 to 1999, both inclusive;
$65,000.00 October 1st of each year from 2000 to 2005, both inclusive.

Said bonds shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding five per cent (5%) per annum, payable on April 1, 1968, and semi-annually thereafter on October 1st and April 1st of each year, both principal and interest to be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at a bank or trust company to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds which qualifies as paying agent under Michigan or federal statutes.

Bonds maturing in the years 1978 to 2005, both inclusive, will be subject to redemption prior to maturity, at the option of the Township, in inverse numerical order, on any interest payment date on or after October 1, 1977, at par and accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption, plus a premium for each bond so redeemed as follows:

4% of par if called for redemption on or after October 1, 1982;

3% of par if called for redemption on or after October 1, 1982, but prior to October 1, 1987;

2% of par if called for redemption on or after October 1, 1987, but prior to October 1, 1992;

1% of par if called for redemption on or after October 1, 1992, but prior to October 1, 1997;

1/2 of 1% of par if called for redemption on or after October 1, 1997, but prior to October 1, 2001.

No premium will be paid on bonds called for redemption on or after October 1, 2001.

Thirty days notice of the call of any bonds for redemption shall be given by publication in a paper circulated in the State of Michigan which carries, as part of its regular service, notices of sale of municipal bonds, and in case of registered bonds, thirty days notice shall be given by mail to the registered address. Bonds so called for redemption shall not bear interest after the date fixed for redemption provided funds are on hand with the paying agent to redeem said bonds.

Said bonds may be registered as to principal only in the manner and with the effect set forth on the face thereof, as hereinafter provided.

Said bonds shall be signed by the Supervisor and countersigned by the Township Clerk and shall have the corporate seal of the Township impressed thereon, and shall have interest coupons attached bearing the facsimile signatures of the Supervisor and Township Clerk. After execution, the bonds shall be held by the Township Treasurer for delivery to the purchaser.

Section 5. Security for Bonds. Said bonds and the attached coupons shall not be a general obligation or indebtedness of the Township of DeWitt, but shall be payable solely from the net revenues derived from the operation of the System; and to secure such payment there is hereby created a statutory first lien upon the whole of the net revenues of said System, to continue until the payment in full of the principal and interest on said bonds.

Section 6. Bondholders' Rights. The holder or holders of said bonds or coupons representing in the aggregate not less than twenty per cent (20%) of the entire issue then outstanding may, either at law or in equity, by suit, action, mandamus or other proceedings, protect and enforce the statutory first lien upon the revenues of said System, and may, by suit, action, mandamus or other proceedings, enforce and compel performance of all duties of the officers of the Township of DeWitt, including the fixing of sufficient rates, the collection of revenues, the proper segregation of the revenues of the System, and the proper application thereof. Provided, However, that the statutory lien upon said revenues shall not be construed as to compel the sale of the System.

If there be any default in the payment of the principal or interest upon any of said bonds, any court having jurisdiction in any proper action may appoint a receiver to administer and operate said System on behalf of the Township and under the direction of said court, and by and with the approval of said court to perform all of the duties of the officials of said Township, more particularly set forth herein in and in Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended.

The holder or holders of any such bond or bonds, or any coupons therefrom, shall have all other rights and remedies given by said Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, for the collection and enforcement of said bonds and the security therefor.

Section 7. Management of System. The construction, alteration, repair and management of the System shall be under the supervision and control of the Township Board, the Township Board may employ such person or persons in capacity or capacities as it deems advisable to carry on the efficient management and operation of the System. The Township Board may make such rules, orders and regulations as it deems advisable and necessary to assure the efficient management and operation of the System.

Section 8. Rates; Billing; Enforcement. The rates to be charged for service furnished by the System shall be as follows:

SPECIAL RATES

For miscellaneous services for which a special rate shall be established, such rates shall be fixed by the Township Board.

ENFORCEMENT

The charges for sewer services which are under the provisions of Section 21, Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, made a lien on all premises served thereby, unless notice is given that a tenant is responsible, are hereby recognized to constitute such lien, and whenever any such charge against any piece of property shall be delinquent for six (6) months, the Township official or officials in charge of the collection thereof shall certify annually, on September 1 of each year, to the tax-assessing officer of the Township, the fact of such delinquency, whereupon such charge shall be by him entered upon the next tax roll as a charge against such premises and shall be collected and the lien thereof enforced in the same manner as general Township taxes against such premises are collected and the lien thereof enforced. Provided, However, where notice is given that a tenant is responsible for such charges and service as provided by said Section 21, no further service shall be rendered such premises until a cash deposit equal to not less than two quarters charges shall have been made as security for payment of such charges and service.

Section 9. No Free Service. No free service shall be furnished by said System to any person, firm or corporation, public or private, or to any public agency or instrumentality.

Section 10. Rate Sufficiency; Revision; Covenant to Maintain. The rates hereby fixed are estimated to be sufficient to provide for the payment of the expenses of administration and operation and such expenses for maintenance of the said System as are necessary to preserve the same in good repair and working order; to provide for the payment of the interest upon the principal of all the bonds as and when the same become due and payable and the creation of the reserve therefor required by this Ordinance; and to provide for such other expenditures and funds for said System as this Ordinance may require. Such rates shall be fixed and revised from time to time as may be necessary to produce these amounts, and it is hereby covenanted and agreed at all times to fix and maintain such rates for services furnished by the System as shall be sufficient to provide for the foregoing.

Section 11. Fiscal Year. The System shall be operated on the basis of an operating year commencing on January 1 and ending on December 31 next following.

Section 12. Accounts. The revenues of the System shall be set aside as collected and deposited in a separate depository account in Michigan, a bank duly qualified to do business in Michigan, in an account to be designated SEWAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM RECEIVING FUND (hereinafter, for brevity, referred to as the "Receiving Fund"), and said revenues so deposited are pledged for the purpose of the following funds and shall be transferred from the Receiving Fund periodically, in the manner and at the times hereinafter specified.

(A) OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE FUND.

Out of the revenues in the Receiving Fund there shall be first set aside, commencing with the first quarter of operation of the System, and quarterly thereafter, into a separate depository account, designated OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE FUND, a sum sufficient to provide for the payment of the next quarter's expenses of administration and operation of the System and such expenses for the maintenance thereof as may be necessary to preserve the same in good repair and working order, as well as any sums necessary to pay current bills.

The Township Board, prior to the commencement of each operating year, shall adopt a budget covering the foregoing expenses for each year, and such total expenses shall not exceed the total amount specified in said budget, except by a vote of four-fifths (4/5) of the members of the Township Board.

(B) BOND AND INTEREST REDEMPTION FUND.

There shall next be established and maintained a separate depository account, designated as the BOND AND INTEREST REDEMPTION FUND, the moneys on deposit therein from time to time to be used solely for the purpose of paying the principal of and interest upon the bonds hereby authorized. The moneys in the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account hereinafter established) shall be kept on deposit with the bank or trust company where the principal and interest of the bonds herein authorized are currently payable.

Out of the revenues remaining in the Receiving Fund, after provision has been made for expenses of operation and maintenance of the System, there shall next be set aside, quarterly, in the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund, a sum proportional to the principal of and interest upon all outstanding bonds payable from the revenues of the System as and when the same become due and payable. Commencing October 1, 1968, the amount so set aside for interest during each quarter of each operating year shall not be less than one-half (1/2) of the total amount of interest maturing on the following interest payment date. The amount so set aside for principal during each quarter, commencing October 1, 1969, shall be not less than one-quarter (1/4) of the amount of principal maturing on October 1 of the following year. If there shall be any deficiency in the amount previously required to be set aside, then the amount of such deficiency shall be added to the current requirements.

There is hereby established in the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund a separate account, to be known as the BOND RESERVE ACCOUNT, into which account there shall be set aside quarterly, after provision has been made for the Operation and Maintenance Fund and current requirements of the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund, the sum of Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars during the fiscal year commencing January 1, 1970, Fifteen Thousand ($15,000.00) Dollars during the fiscal year commencing January 1, 1971, and Twenty-five Thousand ($25,000.00) Dollars during the fiscal years commencing January 1, 1972, 1973 and 1974, until said Bond Reserve Account shall total One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars. The money in said Bond Reserve Account shall be used solely for the payment of the principal and interest on said bonds as to which there would otherwise be default, if at any time it shall be necessary to use moneys in the Bond Reserve Account for such payment, then the moneys so used shall be replaced from the net revenues first received thereafter which are not required by this Ordinance to be used for operation and maintenance or for current principal and interest requirements. Provided, However, that such Bond Reserve Account shall not be regarded as moneys otherwise appropriated or pledged for the purpose of determining the sufficiency of funds available for such redemption of callable bonds.

No further payments need be made into the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund after enough of the bonds have been retired so that the amount then held in said fund (including the Bond Reserve Account) is equal to the entire amount of principal and interest which will be payable at the time of maturity of all the bonds then remaining outstanding.

(C) REPLACEMENT FUND.

There shall next be established and maintained a separate depository account, designated REPLACEMENT FUND, which shall be used solely for the purpose of making major repairs and replacements to the System if needed. There shall be set aside into said fund quarterly, after provision has been made for the Operation and Maintenance Fund and the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account), the sum of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars during each of the fiscal years commencing January 1, 1974, inclusive, until said Replacement Fund shall total Twenty-five Thousand ($25,000.00) Dollars. If at any time it shall be necessary to use moneys in said fund for such purpose, the moneys so used shall be replaced from the net revenues in the Receiving Fund which are not required by this Ordinance to be used for the Operation and Maintenance Fund or the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account).

(D) IMPROVEMENT FUND.

There shall next be established and maintained an Improvement Fund for the purpose of making improvements, extensions and enlargements to the System. There shall be deposited into said fund each quarter, after providing for all of the foregoing requirements, such sum as the Township Board shall determine.

(E) SURPLUS MONEYS.

Moneys remaining in the Receiving Fund at the end of any operating year, after full satisfaction of the requirements of the foregoing funds, may be transferred to the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund and used for the purpose of calling bonds for redemption, in the manner herein specified, or transferred to the Improvement Fund at the option of the Township Board. Provided, However, that if there shall be any deficit in the Operation and Maintenance Fund, Bond and Interest Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account), or the Replacement Fund, on account of default in setting aside therein the amounts hereinafter required, then transfers shall be made from the moneys remaining in the Receiving Fund at the end of any operating year to such funds, in the priority and order named, to the extent of such deficits.

Section 13. Transfer of Funds. In the event the moneys in the Receiving Fund are insufficient to provide for the current requirements of the Operation and Maintenance Fund, or the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund, or other funds of the System shall be transferred, first, to the Operation and Maintenance Fund, and second, to the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund, to the extent of any deficit therein.

Section 14. Investments. Moneys in any fund or account established by the provisions of this Ordinance, including moneys derived from the proceeds of sale of the bonds, may be invested in obligations of the United States of America, in the manner and subject to the limitations provided in Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended. In the event such investments are made, the securities represented the same shall be kept on deposit with the bank or trust company having on deposit the fund or funds from which such purchase was made. Income received from such investments shall be credited to the fund from which said investments were made.

Section 15. Applicable Law. Said bonds shall be sold and the proceeds applied in accordance with the provisions of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended.

Section 16. Bond Proceeds. The proceeds of the sale of the bonds herein authorized to be issued shall be deposited in _____, Michigan, a bank insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. From the proceeds of sale of the bonds there shall be immediately transferred to the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund the accrued interest and premium, if any, received on sale and delivery of the bonds, as well as such amount as will be necessary to pay interest for the period for which interest is capitalized, and to the Operation and Maintenance Fund the amount of such capitalized expenses. The balance of such proceeds shall be applied solely in payment of the cost of the public improvement hereinbefore described and any engineering, legal and other expenses incident thereto and to the financing thereof. Payments for construction, either on account or otherwise, shall not be made unless the registered engineer in charge of such work shall file with the Township Board a signed statement to the effect that the work has been completed in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor; that it was done pursuant to and in accordance with the contract therefor, and that such work is entirely satisfactory.

Any unexpended balance of the proceeds of sale remaining after completion of the public improvement herein authorized shall be paid into the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund and shall be used for the redemption of callable bonds, or, prior to the call date only, purchasing bonds on the open market at not more than the fair market value thereof and at a price in any event not exceeding the first call price.

Section 17. Covenants. The Township of DeWitt covenants and agrees with the successive holders of the bonds and coupons that so long as any of the bonds remain outstanding and unpaid as to either principal or interest—

(a) The Township of DeWitt will maintain the System in good repair and working order and will operate the same efficiently and will faithfully and punctually perform all duties with reference to the System required by the Constitution and laws of the State of Michigan, including the making and collecting of sufficient rates for services rendered by the System and the segregation and application of the revenues of the System, in the manner provided in this Ordinance.

(b) The Township Board will cause to be maintained and kept proper books of record and account, separate from all other records and accounts of the Township, in which shall be made full and correct entries of all transactions relating to the System. Not later than sixty (60) days after the close of each operating year the Township Board will cause to be prepared, on forms furnished by the Municipal Finance Commission, if such forms are available, a statement, in reasonable detail, sworn to by its Chief Accounting Officer, showing the cash income and disbursements of the System during each operating year, the assets and liabilities of the System at the beginning and close of the fiscal year, and such other information as is necessary to enable any taxpayer of the Township, user of the service furnished, or any holder or owner of the bonds, or anyone acting in their interest, to be fully informed as to all matters pertaining to the financial operation of the System during each year. A certified copy of such statement shall be filed within seventy-five (75) days after the close of each operating year with the Municipal Finance Commission and a copy sent to the manager of the account purchasing the bonds. Such statement and books of record and account shall at all reasonable times be open to inspection by any taxpayer of the Township, user of the service, or holder or owners of any bonds, or anyone acting in their behalf. The Township Board will also cause an annual audit of such books of record and account for the preceding operating year to be made each year by a recognized independent certified public accountant, and will mail a copy of such audit to the manager of the syndicate or account purchasing the bonds. Such audit shall be completed and made available not later than three (3) months after the close of each operating year and may, at the option of the Township, be furnished to the Municipal Finance Commission in lieu of the aforementioned report.

(c) The Township will maintain and carry, for the benefit of the holders of the bonds, insurance on all physical properties of the System, of the kinds and in the amounts normally carried by public utility companies and municipalities engaged in the operation of similar systems. All moneys received for losses under any such insurance policies shall be applied solely to the replacement and restoration of the property damaged or destroyed, and to the extent not so used shall be used for the purpose of calling bonds.

(d) The Township will not sell, lease or dispose of the System, or any substantial part thereof, or all of the bonds have been paid in full, both as to principal and interest. The Township will cause the operation of the System to be carried on as economically as possible, will cause to be made to the System all repairs and replacements necessary to keep the same in good repair and working order, and will not do or suffer to be done any act which would affect the System in such a way as to impair or affect unfavorably the security of the bonds. The Township will not grant any franchise that will result in the operation of a competing system.

Section 18. Additional Bonds. The right is reserved, in accordance with the provisions of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, to issue additional bonds payable from the revenues of the System which shall be of equal standing with the bonds herein authorized, but only for the following purposes:

(a) To complete the public improvement in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor, and such bonds shall not be authorized unless the consulting engineers, or the successor engineers in charge of construction, shall execute a certificate evidencing the fact that additional funds are needed to complete the public improvement in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor. If such certificate shall be so executed and filed with the Township Clerk, it shall be the duty of the Township Board to provide for and issue additional revenue bonds in the amount stated in said certificate to be necessary to complete the public improvement in accordance with the plans and specifications.

(b) For subsequent extensions and improvements to the System; Provided that no such additional bonds shall be issued unless the net revenues for the last preceding completed operating year of the System, when supplemented by the net revenues estimated to accrue from an increase in rates imposed at or prior to the time of authorization of the additional bonds and/or when supplemented by the net revenues estimated to accrue from the said extensions and improvements to be paid for in whole or in part from the proceeds of sale of additional bonds shall be equal to at least one hundred thirty-five per cent (135%) of the largest annual principal and interest requirements thereafter maturing on the bonds herein authorized, on any then previously issued bonds of equal standing with the bonds herein authorized, and on such additional bonds then being issued. For the purpose of determining net revenues under the above requirements, if the Township shall raise the rates at or prior to the time of authorizing such additional bonds, then the net revenues of the System for the last preceding operating year shall be augmented to an amount reflecting the effect of such increase had the Township's sewer billings during such year been at the increased rates. In addition, the said net revenues for the last preceding operating year shall be increased by an amount to reflect the increase in net revenues estimated to accrue from the said extensions and improvements. Prior to the issuance of any additional bonds pursuant to this paragraph, there shall be filed with the Township Clerk a statement showing the net revenues for the last preceding completed operating year, the net additional or augmented revenues reflecting the application of the increased rates and from the additions and extensions to be acquired and constructed, if any, and the annual principal and interest requirements on all outstanding bonds payable from revenues of the System and the bonds proposed to be issued. Said statement shall be executed by a registered engineer appointed by the Township. Permission of the Municipal Finance Commission (or such other State body having jurisdiction over the issuance of municipal bonds) to issue such additional bonds shall constitute a conclusive presumption of the existence of conditions permitting the issuance thereof.

Except as herein authorized, no additional bonds having equal standing with the bonds of this issue, shall be authorized or issued.

An open letter . . .

DEWITT TOWNSHIP SEWER DISTRICT

In 1963 the Michigan Department of Public Health recommended the construction of a Sewage System and in November of 1963 the cost of the Collector System designed and estimated by the Engineering Firm of Mick and Rowland was estimated at a cost of $746,000.00 and the Treatment Plant for the above system was estimated at $237,000.00 added to this was non-construction cost of $77,000.00 for a total project cost of $1,060,000.00. By March of 1964 the total project cost had risen to $1,183,000.00.

On February 1, 1965 a petition for referendum was filed calling for an election held April 12, 1965. The above election was defeated by the voters by a majority of 66%. During this period a Federal Grant was applied for representing 33% of the Treatment facilities cost and because of DeWitt Township's financial status we were not considered and consequently did not receive the Grant.

On July 28, 1966 the Water Resources Commission of the Michigan Conservation Department issued a Final Order of Determination against the Township of DeWitt, Clinton County, Michigan. Said Order of Determination outlined as follows:

1. On or before March 1, 1967, submit completed construction plans and specifications for said facilities to the Director of the Michigan Department of Public Health and obtain his approval thereof as required by law.

2. On or before March 1, 1968, complete financial arrangements for payment of construction of said facilities and submit evidence of same to the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

3. On or before August 1, 1968, commence construction of said facilities in accordance with plans and specifications approved by the Director of the Michigan Department of Public Health.

4. On or before August 1, 1969, complete construction and place in operation said facilities and thereafter operate same in such a manner so as to prevent unlawful pollution of drains tributary to the Lookingglass and Grand Rivers.

5. Failure to meet timely any requirement of the proposed Final Order of Determination shall constitute a default of the entire Order.

Our Financial Consultant again applied for a Federal Grant and we were informed that there were none available for our qualifications.

On January 6, 1967 we received a letter from the Water Resources Commission informing us of the failure of a Federal Grant Recipient to comply with the Commission requirements thereby making funds available to applicants who did not previously qualify. We reapplied for a Federal Grant with the understanding that the same would be conditioned upon construction commenced on or before June 30, 1967. The Engineer's estimated cost of the total project was at this time $1,738,000.00. We were also informed by the Michigan Department of Public Health that primary sewage treatment would no longer be acceptable for DeWitt Township and our Engineers were ordered to prepare up-to-date plans to include Secondary treatment. During the design of the second stage of treatment there was new equipment introduced and adopted by the Michigan Department of Public Health which delayed our completion and approval of plans by the March 1, 1967 date specified in part one of the Final Order of Determination. A new change in Secondary treatment was made after approval of plans three days prior to our June 20th bid date which necessitated retrieving the treatment plant portion from the contractors for further revision.

14 duly adopted by the Township Board of the Township of DeWitt at a Regular Meeting held on Sept. 16, 1967, at which all Members were present.

I further certify that Member Hardike moved adoption of said Ordinance and that Member Kowatch supported said motion. I further certify that the following Members voted for adoption of said Ordinance: Nelson, Purves, Hardike, Kowatch, Powell, Zeeb, Kyes and that none voted against adoption of said Ordinance.

I further certify that said Ordinance has been recorded in the Ordinance Book of the Township and that such recording has been authenticated by the signatures of the Supervisor and Township Clerk.

On July 10, 1967 DeWitt Township received approval of amended plans for the Collector's system and treatment plant. The total project cost then was estimated at $2,359,000.00. On the same date we received notice from the Water Resources Commission that our total Federal Grant offer was $275,080.00 which we accepted.

On July 22, 1967 we were notified by the City of DeWitt that the outfall line from the treatment plant location on Herblison Road to the Lookingglass River, in the City of DeWitt, would not be permitted. Engineers were asked to further amend the plans to conform and DeWitt Township upon the recommendations of the Water Resources Commission and Michigan Department of Public Health, negotiated for the exchange of property now owned by the Clinton County Road Commission at the West end of Herblison Road at the Lookingglass River. This choice was made so as to qualify the relocation of the outfall line with added revenue from the customers along Herblison Road including the DeWitt Senior High School. Since 1962 it has been the desire of both the Michigan Department of Public Health and the Water Resources Commission that one treatment facility would serve the entire greater DeWitt area, which includes the City of DeWitt, DeWitt Township, the eastern portion of Watertown Township, and the southern portion of Olive Township. This new site for the treatment facility will in the near future, serve this end. On July 22, 1967 we received a letter from the Water Resources Commission stating that the above treatment facilities for DeWitt Township will provide secondary treatment meeting their recommendation, and in the meantime if there should be any expansion of existing systems to serve additional population that such existing facilities will have to meet this higher degree of treatment, and they further recommend that such treatment shall still be at a single location.

On August 11, 1967 after both bids for the Collector's system of $1,480,260.00 and the treatment plant of $687,140.00 plus non-construction cost were accepted, the total project cost now is $2,580,000.00.

We have been granted an extension of time for construction to begin with respect to the Federal Grant conditioned upon our monthly reports satisfactory to the Water Resources Commission. Upon the adoption of both the Revenue Bond Ordinance and Special Assessment Ordinances there is granted by law the right to petition a referendum calling for an election and if such an election is held the people still may reject said ordinances thereby halting progress to date. Such action will terminate the Federal Grant offer and will of necessity cause us to violate Item No. 2 of the Final Order of Determination thereby causing the Water Resources Commission to take court action against DeWitt Township. Said Court Action could take as long as two years to reach a final court order at which time we would be obligated to sell Court Order General Obligation Bonds, which would not be subject to a referendum or vote of the people. At such time we would anticipate a minimum of additional cost representing approximately 30% above the current estimate due to the average increase in cost plus any additional treatment designs. Also we would be constructing without the Federal Grant which we do have and at that time not qualify for the Federal Grant which we now have and at that time would not qualify for. This year and next, US-27 is being widened the length of the proposed Sewer District and prior to the widening completion construction of sewers along the pavement will be less expensive due to driveway and street surface repairs shared jointly with

It could therefore, be concluded that, the failure of the people of DeWitt Township to act with prudence at this time can only result in a higher cost for our Sewage System at a later date, and the restriction of Residential, Commercial and Industrial development, which could lower the rates during the interim.

That makes sense

Congressman Wyatt of Oregon has made a statement which makes sense. He is quoted as saying: "Is it about time for politicians in the country to be honest with Negroes and tell them we aren't talking about equal cars, equal houses, equal incomes. We are talking about equal opportunity, which is really all anybody in this country can ask. . . . there is a substantial number of people in the Negro areas who are employable if they are trained. I strongly favor the tax credit approach, giving a tax credit to businesses for vocational training."

It is becoming quite evident that the policy of throwing huge sums of money aimlessly at the problem will not solve it. Rebuilding cities and changing the cultural environment and level of education and training of millions of our citizens overnight is beyond the financial and administrative capacity of our national government. It is time to try a different approach.

Anarchy vs responsibility

Much of the disorderly conduct and destruction of property that is carried on today in the name of freedom and independence of the individual is a sheer insult to the high principles of human liberty.

Alexis De Tocqueville observed in 1835, as he commented on the unique qualities of the American experiment:

"The revolution of the United States was the result of a mature and reflecting preference for freedom, and not of a vague or ill-defined craving for independence. It contracted no alliance with the turbulent passions of anarchy; but its course was marked, on the contrary, by a love of order and law. It was never assumed in the United States that the citizen of a free country has a right to do whatever he pleases. On the contrary, more social obligations were there imposed upon him than anywhere else."

DeTocqueville's words are peculiarly apt at the present time.

Beyond computerization of America's planners

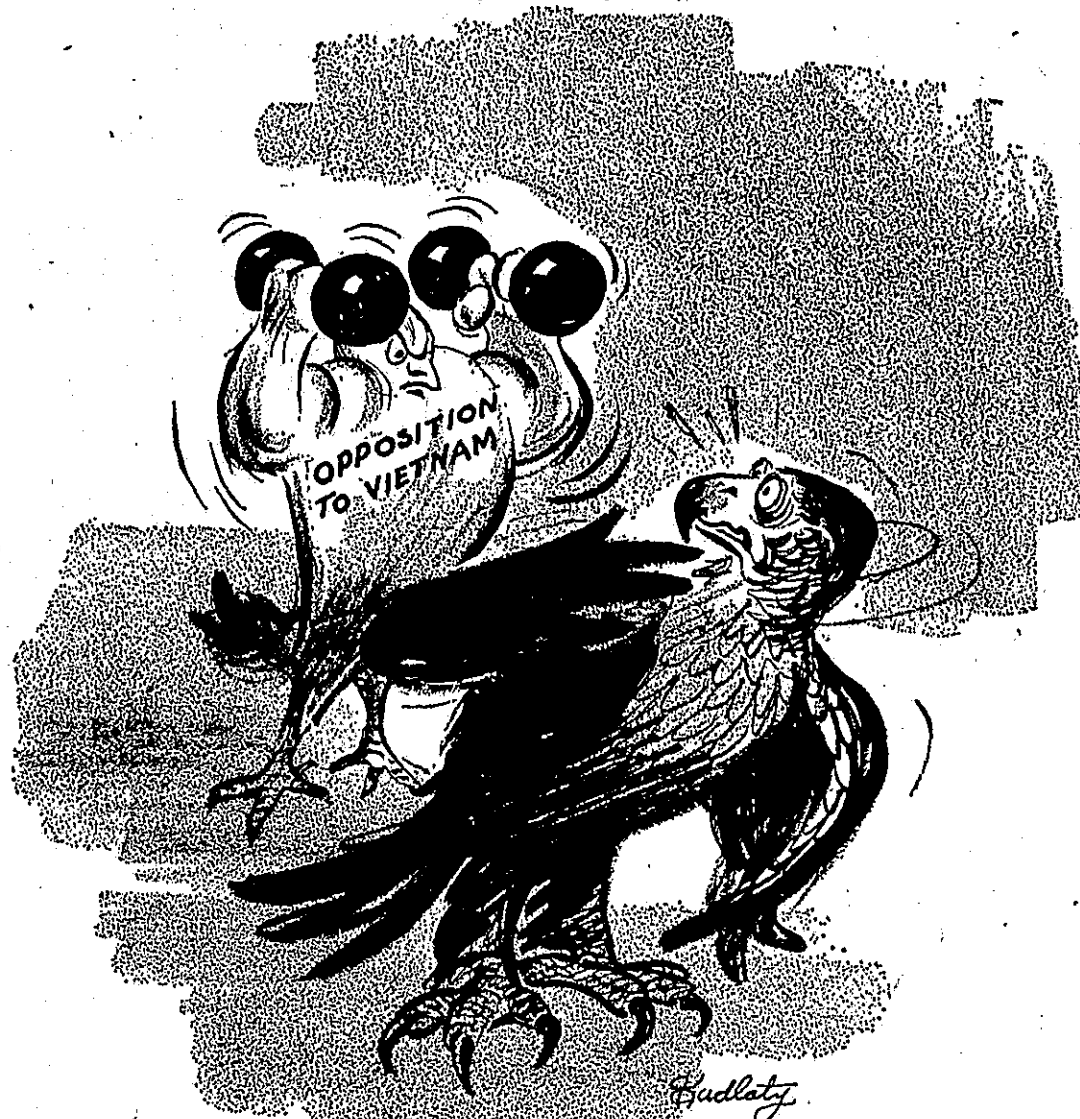

This is an age when great stress is laid on efficiency. Look at the ads in the papers, and you will find employment situations that require technicians, programmers and disciplines of sophisticated minds that are required for the age of automation and computerization. Scientists, economists, and politicians are building careers in working out and applying new theories of managing the economy, the money or practically anything you care to name. There is a basic distrust of natural forces. And yet, paradoxically, everywhere you turn in nature, you find a finely balanced mechanism at work with an efficiency that man can never hope to equal.

Speaking of automation and computerization—is there anything that can equal the automatic ebb and flow of supply and demand in a free market? Millions of businessmen, farmers, manufacturers, financiers and industrialists of all kinds make decisions each day in accordance with the needs and demands of the marketplace. No machine can make these decisions and no planner can ever hope to program them in a computer.

The American retail distribution system is an excellent example of how our wants are satisfied in the free market. Retail merchants in every line, regardless of whether they represent chain or independent outlets, respond with a sensitivity to changing markets and consumer desires that leaves the planner with his slide rule at the starting post.

In the inflationary era of today, the free market and our mass-distribution system automatically assure consumers of the fairest prices possible commensurate with the natural laws of supply and demand. No man-made automated economic system can do as much.

Toughening Up

BY W.E. DOBSON

Why are we waging a war far away,
When our needs here at home are so great?
Is our wealth so sufficient as never to want?
Are we rocking our own Ship of State?

Is the world court of nations we struggled to gain
So weak and unfriendly in tone
That instead of joint action to which we are pledged
We need to do battle alone?

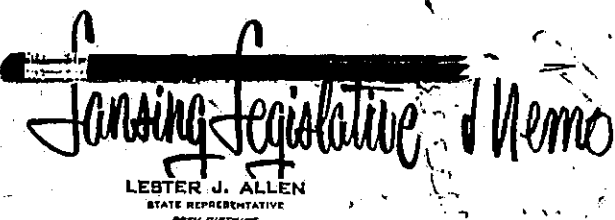

Have the ones whose position we seek to protect
Any program or leadership plan?
Do we seek but to aid and to counsel them still?
How long is our "guidance" to span?

In a war of religions already far spent,
Have we answers to give them today?
Does the one-ness of purpose our own people lack Serve well as a model today?

Does a new Monroe Doctrine take in all the world?
Must we assume all the world's debt?
Is the brand of democracy we would export
Sufficient for world guidance yet?

These questions I'm honestly asking myself—
Other people are of asking too.
Is it logical answers we give them today?
Do our words and our actions ring true?

The House of Representatives

Are you thinking about sending your children to college? No student should find it impossible to attend college because of limited funds, but not all students will be able to obtain outright scholarships, or the exact kind and amount of aid they might prefer.

In recent years, extensive state and federal aid programs have come into being so that there is far more financial aid available to college students than has ever been the case previously. On the other hand, with college costs rising rapidly, and ever larger numbers of students attending college, the demand for financial assistance is greater than ever before.

There are four basic types of financial aids available to college students: scholarships, loans, special grants and part-time employment.

SCHOLARSHIPS ARE the most popular type of aid but they also are the most difficult to obtain. Students generally must demonstrate superior academic ability, and most scholarship programs also require that the student demonstrate some degree of financial need.

Loans have become a popular source of financial aid only with the past 40 years. As our society has increasingly come to accept the concept of buying on credit, parents and students have become less reluctant to borrow in order to meet the costs of a college education. Most people today recognize that a college education is a sound investment, and borrowing to meet college expenses is well worth the advantage of increased earning capacity which results from college training. In addition to loan funds provided by colleges and universities themselves, large amounts of state and federal loan funds are now available to college students.

A third source of financial aid is in the form of grants based upon some type of special talent or other qualification. Typical grants include those provided for unusual ability in the areas of music, art or athletics. The federal government now provides a large number of educational opportunity grants for students with limited resources. Outstanding academic ability is not ordinarily a requirement of most grant programs.

Part-time student employment is one of the oldest forms of student financial aid, and today most colleges and universities have extensive programs designed to provide students an opportunity to hold part-time jobs while attending school. Most students can earn from $300 to $600 during an academic year by working no more than 15 hours per week. Students in need of financial aid should not overlook this readily available source of assistance.

Park termed 'asset' to city

Editor:

I would like to express to you and your staff our sincere appreciation for your very good news coverage of our Christian Convention here in St. Johns this past weekend (Sept. 9 and 10).

Many of the delegates mentioned that persons they met in their door-to-door ministry were aware of the convention, and no doubt this was due to the good news coverage in your newspaper.

We all enjoyed our visit to your city and the buildings we used at city park proved very adequate. A park such as that is a real asset to a city the size of St. Johns.

Sincerely yours,

Park features impress family

Editor:

The people of St. Johns don't know how fortunate they are to have such a beautiful park and nice zoo. I live in Mt. Morris, which is a small town near Flint. Flint has no zoo at all and nothing in comparison to your park.

We drive to your town to see animals and have picnics. The people of St. Johns should be very proud of their good fortune and do all to take care of what they have.

With the will of God and the cooperation of your community you could have a larger and even nicer zoo than you already have. I wish with all my heart that we had your opportunity.

I have a crippled boy 5 years old who loves to go to your park and a 2-year-old daughter who loves your animals. I hope the people of St. Johns will do all they can to enlarge their zoo and help care for their animals.

Sincerely yours,

from the HOPPER

By STEVEN HOPKO

During the next month, if I could give up working, get out of getting homestead ready for winter, make the days 30 hours long, the weeks 10 days long and get by without any sleep, I think I would have a ball as far as sports are concerned.

These next few weeks are that time of the year when anyone with a little sporting blood (or who just likes sports) can have his fill. That is, if one can wrestle the TV away from the kids, talk his wife out of doing all those little chores around the house and can borrow the car from the older kids.

CONSIDER THESE facts: Baseball is still with us, especially with those Tigers still hanging in on the pennant race.

The professional and college football season has either begun or will be getting underway. The local Redwings and other county high schools have started their seasons.

ADD TO THIS the fact that bowling has been underway for a couple of weeks and if this weather hangs on, it's one of the greatest times of the year to play golf.

Plus, the partridge season has opened and the "coho" salmon extravaganza seems to be in full swing in the northern part of the state.

If you consider color trips, river trips or boating in these categories, and at this time of year these items are at their best, then we lengthen our list.

IT ALL BREAKS down to the fact that whether you are a deer or a watcher, there are many exciting things to do over the next few weeks in the field of sports.

Of course, whether you will have the time or the inclination and whether you can con the boss (the wife) out of that list of things to do, before cold weather sets in, the sports picture for one and all is at its height.

THE HOPPER falls into both categories, the deer and the watcher. I am a great football fan, especially at the high school level. I love college ball and the pros, but for all round excitement and thrills you can't beat the high school teams. I am also a hunter (I seldom hit anything, but I enjoy trying) and fisherman (this you have to take with a grain of salt) and enjoy the outdoors.

The hopper family enjoys color trips and river trips, so here I seldom get any static when suggesting events like this. But, hogging the TV set on Sunday afternoons and Saturdays can become an issue. It seems as though they would move all cartoon shows to mornings during the football season.

BUT OVERALL, I think the hopper will get his share without the longer day or week. I will, in all probability, see many of the football games, take the family on a color and river trip, sneak in a weekend of "Pat" hunting and enjoy the sports extravaganza to its hilt.

It's that time of year, sports fans . . . so enjoy it. It only happens once in a while.

Did you notice that fellow the other day? . . . the one with the satisfied smile on his face, the brisk step to his walk and the sparkling and alert eyes? It wasn't I, but it reminded me of the way I feel sometimes (and I'm sure you do, too) when you have a combination of any or all of the following:

- * A full tank of gas in your car, which has just been tuned up, greased and the oil changed.
- * A new, skip-less refill in your ball point pen.
- * A good place of change in your wallet.
- * Your desk cleared off and all your work done.
- * Fresh batteries in your portable radio.
- * A fresh roll of film to replace those superb color pictures that just came back.

The combinations have appeared to me about as often as I win prizes on big TV shows, and when I do get a combination going, that's the time it starts to rain.

Another thing that puts a spring in my step is getting an early start to work on one of these brisk, clear mornings that inhabited our area the last couple of weeks. It kind of hurts me to say that that's fall in the air, but I'm sure that's the case.

It's a beautiful time of year and perhaps the most invigorating time. This Saturday marks the official start of autumn. That's the time the sun passes over the equator and See RAMBLIN' page 17-B

IN THE WESTPHALIA AREA 67 YEARS AGO

This picture, taken about 1900, shows a farmhouse and farm buildings which were located one mile east and 1 1/4 miles north of Westphalia on Hinman Road. Seated in front of the house are the then-residents of the place, Charles Smith and his wife Anna. Standing between her parents is Katie Smith May, now a resident of Portland. In the buggy are John Weber (the one with the moustache) and Tony Schmitt. Today, this same site is an open field and is part of the Henry Weber farm.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Abortion battle looms despite quiet introduction

BY ELMER E. WHITE
Michigan Press Assn.

Efforts to legalize abortion under some circumstances have begun slowly in Michigan and without much excitement. A bill was introduced by Sen. John E. McCauley, D-Wyandotte, in the last session to permit termination of pregnancy when deemed necessary for the physical or mental health of the mother; in cases of rape or incest; or where there is apparent danger of serious defect, either physically or mentally, in the child. It is still under legislative consideration.

There was virtually no reaction to the bill in the last legislative session. Sen. Robert L. Richardson, R-Saginaw, expressed surprise at this time. Since there was little interest, there was no formal committee consideration.

PUBLIC HEARINGS, scheduled last month, produced some reserved reactions which nonetheless showed strong conviction. In general, it can be said that the Catholic, Lutheran and Jewish religious groups oppose any form of legality for abortion, while most Protestant churches favor this particular bill. The Michigan Council of Churches supports the idea.

Latest to endorse abortion is the State Bar of Michigan. The attorney organization feels that present laws have only encouraged such operations by unqualified people and to a point where they are a major cause of maternal deaths.

The issue boils down to the difference between pragmatic and dogmatic philosophies. The practical people talk more about the rights of the mother; how unfair and unwise it is to force her to bear an unwanted or deformed child.

The opposing view is that the fertilized fetus is a living human being and no one has the right under any circumstances to destroy it. Advocates of this position, while they may lament facts regarding the large number of illegal abortions and the suffering of those who are born deformed, argue strongly that no one has the right to perform this operation.

More attention to this issue is likely, Colorado adopted a similar law this year. When time teaches what it can about the results there, Michigan will be in a better position to judge what should be done here. In the meantime, it seems certain that legislators will hear more about this controversial topic from constituents on both sides of the question.

MICHIGAN IS LOSING farm families at the rate of about nine a day. In the past 27 years, Michigan has also lost almost 5 million acres of productive farm land.

But despite this loss in farm families and the decrease in tillable acreage, Michigan's food production has generally increased, reports B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

The trend toward fewer but larger farms, with more production per acre, is a national one, Ball points out. He attributes the phenomenon to greater mechanization, more efficient operation, specialization, and better farming methods.

*FARMING HAS NEVER been more dynamic," said Thomas K. Cowden, dean of MSU's College of Agriculture. He attributes the drop in farm families to increased productivity per farm man-hour, noting that fewer people are needed to fill requirements of farm production.

This, coupled with expansion of farm operations and a corresponding need for more acreage, has reduced the number of individual farm owners.

John Doneth, MSU agricultural economist finds that for every nine losses of a "census" farm, the state gains three "commercial" farms. "Commercial" farms are those with gross annual income of $20,000 or more while "census" farms can be rural tracts of land with little, if any, farming operations.

"By 1980, we expect 55 to 60 per cent of all farms to be commercial in contrast to less than five per cent five years ago and only about 10 per cent today," Doneth explains.

FARMING IS BIG business, with big investments in land, in livestock and machinery. At the same time, today's farmer is faced with narrow margins of profit on each bushel of grain, ton of fruit or hundredweight of milk and livestock. He must, like retailers and industries, expand to survive.

Modern farming has attracted corporation interest. Large farms, especially in western states, may be controlled by boards of directors and involve thousands of acres. Capital outlay for modern farm machinery has forced many independent farmers to consolidate use of machinery, much of the way businesses rent time on complicated computer systems. The future seems obvious. Farms will continue to grow in size, become fewer in number. This should influence the planning of educational institutions and government agricultural services. More resources will be concentrated on agricultural research and development, with less emphasis on the marginal farmer or the man who works in the city and farms as a sideline.

France, U.S. agree on monetary system

Sen. Jacob K. Javits (N.Y.) "... After four years of some of the most complex and politically charged negotiations, agreement has been reached on Aug. 26 on a historic step forward in the international monetary system. . .

"While the plan agreed upon is not so far-reaching as some would like—including myself—the principle of deliberate reserve creation by an international body has been established, and this is of overwhelming importance to the future progress of the world economy.

"There are several other reasons why this agreement is of tremendous importance.

"FIRST OF ALL the agreement signifies that an apparently irreconcilable conflict between France and the United States was successfully resolved to the mutual satisfaction of both.

"Second, the successful conclusion of these negotiations, coming right after the successful Kennedy round of trade negotiations, is dramatic proof that the industrialized nations of the non-Communist world are determined to proceed with and strengthen their cooperation in the economic and monetary sphere.

"Third, the new international monetary machinery agreed upon has been placed within the International Monetary Fund (IMF), thereby bringing that institution closer to being an effective international bank.

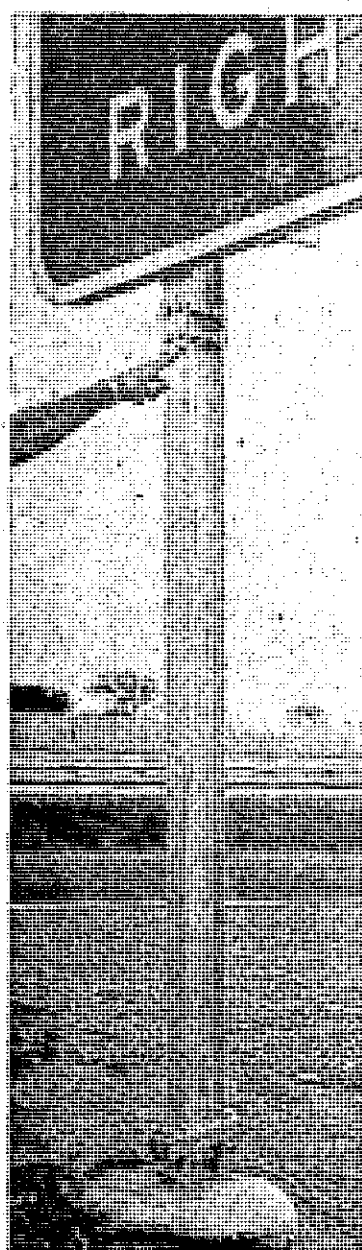

"Finally, approval of this standby plan should discourage further speculation in gold by those who were betting that either the dollar or the pound sterling would be devalued. . .

"I TAKE THIS opportunity to congratulate Secretary of the Treasury Henry Fowler, who led the American negotiators during the most difficult phase of the negotiations, for a historic accomplishment.

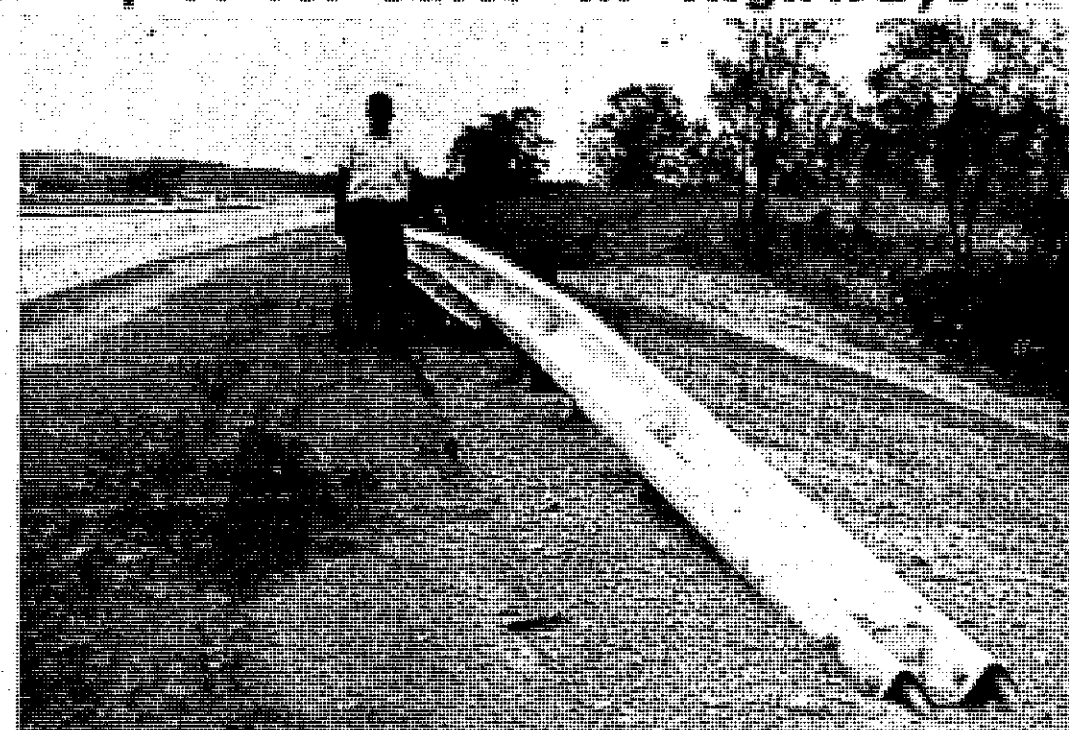

"Under the plan each member of the IMF will be issued special drawing rights in relation to its fixed participation in the IMF. The United States share of the IMF's present $21 billion pool of gold and hard currencies is 24.5 per cent. So, if $1 billion in special drawing rights were created, the United States could draw $245 million. A debtor nation then could use this new asset to pay its debts instead of using its gold or dollar reserves. . .

"Initially the plan will operate for five years. It must be approved by next month's annual meeting of the IMF's board of governors and subsequently must be ratified by Congress and the other bodies concerned. . .

Misteguy flood prevention dedication set

A ceremony to dedicate the $4 million improvements to the Misteguy Creek Watershed in Genesee, Saginaw and Shiawassee counties is planned for Sunday, Oct. 1. Known as the Misteguy Creek Drain, the often-controversial project is now reality, giving flood protection to 22,617 acres of floodplain land. It took years of local hearings, planning, legislative and construction efforts.

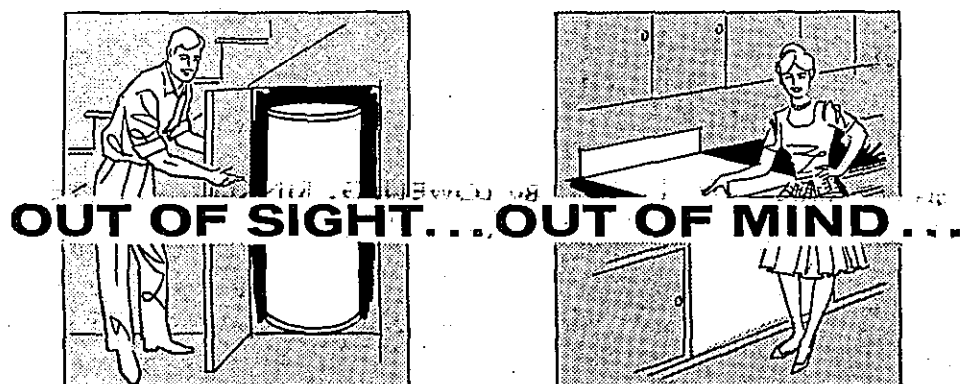

The Misteguy, a tributary of the Shiawassee River, has been a troublemaker for generations. Runoff from its 103,961 acre watershed has muddled homes, flooded croplands, washed out roads and bridges and caused untold damage in soil erosion over the years.

The October 1 ceremony will be held at the Gary Road earthfill dam about seven miles south of Saginaw. This is one of three such dams built on the watershed in addition to 36 miles of channel improvement. The public is invited to the dedication, to be followed by a tour of the Misteguy Drain.

About $779,000,000 is given away annually by 15,000 U.S. philanthropic foundations.

Bement Library

Book Shelf

By Hila Bross

That the world of libraries and books is not and cannot be confined by walls, is being proved by a new program in which Bement Public Library is participating.

It is a service for shut-ins, with provision for a visiting librarian to call on house-bound patrons approximately every three weeks.

The program is being conducted by the member libraries of the Central Michigan Library System, as well as the Lansing Public Library. As a part of the C.M.L.S., Bement Public Library and its patrons stand to benefit from the plan.

The visiting librarian is Mrs. John Henry Dudley who is, incidentally, a former resident of St. Johns. Mrs. Dudley is a professional librarian and a graduate of the University of Michigan Library School.

MRS. DUDLEY is working with Mrs. Luella Canfield, Clinton County nurse, and with the various church offices, as well as the Senior Citizens. If any reader of this column knows of any shut-in who would be interested in having this service, please leave the name at the Bement Library desk, or call it in. The Library's new telephone number is 224-4702.

Other library services for the physically disadvantaged person include services to the blind from the State Library in Lansing. Through this service it is possible to get books in Braille, books in large print, and talking books. Also, available are overhead projectors which make it possible for a person to read from a prone position.

Initial contact for these services may be made through Bement Public Library; but thereafter the arrangements are made directly between the State Library and the patron.

BEMENT PUBLIC Library already has on its own shelves a number of books in large print which may be borrowed under the usual local arrangements.

The titles included are: MUTINY ON THE BOUNTY, by Northcott and Hall, THE INCREDIBLE JOURNEY by Sheila Burnford, MAMA'S BANK ACCOUNT by Kathryn Forbes, THE YEARLING by Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings, THE RED PONY and TRAVELS WITH CHARLIE by John Steinbeck, THE SCARLET LETTER by Nathaniel Hawthorne, TREASURE ISLAND by Robert Lewis Stevenson, GOODY-BYE, MR. CHIPS by James Hilton, ETHAN FROME by Edith Wharton, AUDUBON by Constance Rourke, PROFILES IN COURAGE by John F. Kennedy, and Shakespeare's JULIUS CAESAR.

Summer is not officially over, but for most intents and purposes it is, and therefore Bement Public Library has returned to its regular Saturday hours, after closing at 2 o'clock during June, July, and August. On week days the library opens at noon and closes at 5 o'clock. On Tuesdays and Fridays it opens again at 7 p.m. and remains open till 9 p.m. On Saturdays it opens at 10 a.m. and closes at 5 o'clock.

If more people drove right we'd have more left.

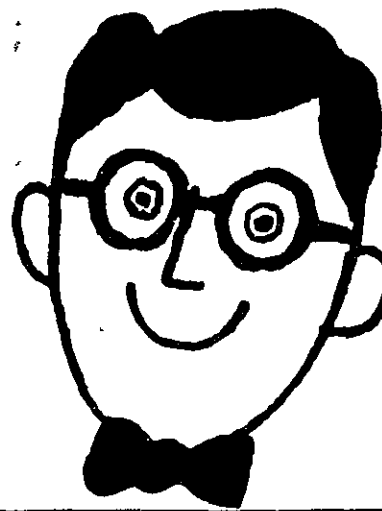

AS I WAS SAYING...

The first woman to serve in Congress—Jeanette Rankin (R-Mont.)—was the only member of Congress to vote against the declarations of war in both 1917 and 1941.
