Bob Wood resigns as St Johns mayor

ST JOHNS -- Paul Maples has a new law partner and the City of St Johns will have a new mayor.

At the Monday night meeting of the St Johns City Commission, vice-mayor Roy Ebert read the last item—a letter of resignation from Robert Wood, mayor of St Johns for the past 6 years.

Maples and Wood have formed a law partnership in St Johns and Wood cited a possible conflict of interest as his reason for resigning.

Maples serves as city attorney. With the resignation of Wood, Roy Ebert will take over the mayor's duties starting at the next City Commission meeting.

Wood was elected to the City Commission 6 years ago and then was selected by the Commission to serve as mayor.

The voters of St Johns elect 5 commissioners and the Commission then elects 1 of their members as mayor.

It is too late for a candidate for the Commission to be listed on the November general election ballot and it is believed the Commission will appoint a new commissioner to fill out Wood's term.

Voting against the contract was Ebert while Commr John Hannah abstained from voting.

Robert Wood

Hannah and Ebert had voted in a previous meeting against the measure, a vote which ended in a 2-2 tie, with Wood and John Arehart voting for the contract.

In action taken by the Commission 4 days earlier in a special meeting, a 3-1 vote approved the Fraternal Order of Police contract for the St Johns Police Dept.

margin Wood and Arehart repeated their earlier votes in favor of the contract.

Ebert said he voted against the contract, not because of individuals involved, but because he felt it wasn't fair to the other employees of the city.

He said other employees receive about a 7% increase plus benefits and indicated he felt it wasn't fair for the members of the police dept to accept the same benefits as other city employees.

Cheryl Plowman, present at the meeting, told Ebert that the work of the police dept, a 24-hour operation, differs from other city departments citing the hours, responsibilities and dangers.

She conceded her interest was more than just an interested citizen because her husband is a member of the police dept.

Hannah abstained and had earlier explained his feelings against the contract. In a prepared letter, Hannah said he was not in favor of the contract because the city had always provided pay raises, benefits etc for the dept and he couldn't understand the need for the union contract.

Board votes to take bids again on county appraisal

ST JOHNS -- The County Board of Commissioners voted Tuesday to open bids again for a second time on a county-wide appraisal.

This time, the deadline for the completion data will be Oct 1, 1976, rather than the original Nov 1, 1975 deadline.

Of the 6 companies approached by the board, only 4 responded to the first bid. One company, United Appraisal wrote the board that the deadline was too short for the size of the project and that they would need 18-24 months to complete the appraisal. They gave the 2nd lowest bid.

The lowest bid came from James Laird, Inc, but they went bankrupt 2 days after they sent their reply. Two other companies bid, but their bids were much higher. The board felt that they should re-open bidding because they extended the deadline 11 months, and 4 companies did not bid, assuming that the time for the project was too short. Closing date on bidding is Nov 1.

ST JOHNS -- Mrs Carolyn Campbell, 207 E. Walker, St Johns, is $20 richer thanks to the less than powerful scoring attack of the Detroit Lions.

She tied with 2 other Clinton County News Football Contest participants by picking 10 out of 11 games correctly.

However, the Lions and Vikings was the tie-breaker and the "black and blue" entries in the NFL defended their way to a 7-6 game.

Mrs Campbell picked 38 points, but the other entries picked 42 and 43. Twenty picked 9 correct games.

Apprehended 16 in DeWitt Twp raid

DEWITT TWP -- Sixteen people were arrested including 5 juveniles Saturday morning when police from 4 units raided a south DeWitt Twp home. Marijuana was found along with marijuana-related paraphernalia. Three of the 16 were taken to jail and they are now out on $3500 bond.

The residence at 329 Hickory St in DeWitt Twp had been under surveillance for some time by Tri-County Metro Narcotics Unit.

After observing illegal activities Friday night, police from DeWitt Twp, assisted by the Metro Squad, the Clinton County Sheriffs Dept and the Lansing Post of the State Police raided the residence at 12:30 a.m. Sixteen people were arrested and taken to the DeWitt township hall. Robert Ernest Kemp Jr, 18, and Joseph R Van Dyke, 19, of 329 Hickory in Lansing were charged with maintaining a dwelling used for keeping marijuana.

The 3rd person taken to jail was Joel Pierce Raymer, 18, 251 Ralph St in Lansing, after police Deputy Mike Flint observed him trying to hide a bag of marijuana behind a paper sign in the restroom.

The 3, out on $3500 bond, demanding examination Trial is set for Nov 19. Charges against others in the case are pending.

Found at the site was a large amount of seeds, some partially smoked marijuana cigarettes, a small amount of leaves and marijuana smoking paraphernalia.

DeWitt Twp eliminates 1% collection fee

DEWITT TWP -- By a unanimous vote, the DeWitt township board voted not to collect the 1% tax collection fee in an effort to reduce taxes and to help alleviate the burden of the 10% factor placed on them by the state.

The Building Needs Committee has been studying the problems of the present township hall. Being too small for the township, it doesn't have adequate space for the police department, poor storage space, inadequate access to the supervisor's office and the treasurer's office is cramped.

The committee felt that the best possible solution was to obtain a modular unit for temporary offices. The committee is now getting bids on a modular unit and will prepare to draw up plans for the temporary offices.

Other Business

Street lights will be installed in the Country Meadows Estate and a fence will be installed behind Valley Farms Park. Bids are being taken for 2 new police cars.

Powell responds to debate proposal by challenger

IONIA -- Rep Stanley Powell (Rep-Ionia) has responded to an invitation to debate by his Democratic challenger for the 88th State House of Representatives, Donald Stanton, also of Ionia.

In a letter to Powell, Stanton stated in part, "our 88th District citizenry have several questions they would appreciate our comments thereon."

"I would like to appear on the same platform with you, debate the issues and answer questions of concern of the audiences in every town and hamlet throughout the entire 88th District."

"I'm sure," Stanton added, "that the news media announcements, along with each town's cooperation can arrange public place for our citizens to attend."

Powell agreed, although with some reservations.

In a letter to Stanton, he stated in part, "I have always accepted as many invitations as my schedule permits and I will continue to do so during this campaign. If a responsible party asks me to appear and proposes a joint presentation, be assured that I will make every effort to accommodate that party."

Powell also said that such meetings would depend on legislative duties and other campaign appearances scheduled in the district.

Powell indicated at the beginning of the letter that Stanton's invitation to debate was a political ploy and said, "It is a political fact of life that the challenger frequently strives to arrange joint meetings in the hope that the better known incumbent will draw a crowd of citizenry from which the challenger can derive exposure."

SEE OLDSMOBILE '75
Introducing Starfire—the little Olds you didn't expect. It's a sporty little four seater that's smaller than a compact, easy on gas, but a bonafide Supercoupe in looks, features and spirit on the road.
Delta 88—our full size family car—er, locked better—but it's more than just a pretty car. It's really built for the long miles. Models including a convertible with room and comfort for a growing family.
Meet Omega Salon—our luxurious compact for drivers who like the looks and comforts of imported touring cars. It's got the touches you like—but at an Olds price. Choice of three models.
Toronado—America's first contemporary personal luxury car with front wheel drive. It pulls you around turns and along straightaways with outstanding traction. Toronado and Toronado Brougham models.
Cutlass Supreme—now our little limousine is big on luxuries yet it offers improved operating economy. One of eleven mid sized Cutlass models—including wagons—that are right for the times.
98 Regency (below)—The most comfortable, most thoroughly luxurious Oldsmobile ever built. Magnificent loose cushion look interior and a distinctive new look in both six window sedan and coupe models.
IT'S A GOOD FEELING TO HAVE AN OLDS AROUND YOU.

We raised the gas mileage in every 1975 Olds model.
Every 75 Olds has a new Maximum Mileage System that helps make it a better car in several ways. Our best mileage in years. Smooth running engines. Fewer tune ups and less routine maintenance.
And—better exhaust emission control. The System represents the most advanced engineering and technology we can build into a 75 Olds. It includes a new catalytic converter (see below)—and a lot more.
There's a new high energy ignition for a hotter spark and improved throttle performance.
Also, Olds engineers adjusted shift points in transmissions. Installed low ratio economy axles. And made GM spec steel belted radial tires standard.
As you can see, we've done a lot to improve the gas mileage capability of every 1975 Oldsmobile.
New Catalytic Converter—designed for long life.
This pod full of platinum-palladium coated beads provides a new way to reduce most emissions—after combustion in the exhaust. It does a more effective job—and it eliminates some of the gas robbing combustion stage controls of the past. Best of all, it allowed Olds engineers to retune the engines to run smoother and give better MPG than last year.

EFFICIENT LONG-LASTING
WATER-REPELLENT
FIRE-RESISTANT ECONOMICAL

A NEW CONCEPT IN COMFORT FOR MASONRY

In winter, Zonolite-igsulated block walls are up to 13°F warmer on their interior surfaces reducing body-to-wall radiant heat loss by 10 to 28 per cent, and greatly increasing occupant comfort.

In summer, the effect is reversed, Zonolite MFI bars transmission of external heat through block. A smaller, less expensive air conditioner will keep the building comfortably cool.

Zonolite makes brick cavity wall structures far more comfortable, too. In winter it blocks convective heat loss from the warm, interior wythe to the chilled outside brick layer. Conversely there is far less exterior-to-interior heat transmission in summer.

Zonolite Masonry Fill Insulation gives you these important benefits:

- Up to 64 Per Cent Reduction in Heat Transmission in Heat Transmission in Block Walls
- Savings in Heating and Cooling Which More Than Pay The Cost of Insulating
- Comfortable Wall Temperatures
- 4-Hour Fire Rating When Installed in 2-Hour Block

LOW INSTALLATION COST

Zonolite MFI is the fastest, most economical way to insulate masonry walls. It fills rapidly, solidly, without heat leaks. Zonolite is lightweight, free-flowing, pours directly from the bag to insulate heights up to 20 feet in a single pour.

Fowler dumps Webberville 43-0

WEBBERVILLE -- Fowler trounced Webberville 43-0 Friday night, led by the rushing onslaught of Terry Thelen and a balanced Eagle offense and defense.

Thelen scored 3 times, picked up 169 yards in 17 carries, returned 3 punts for 99 yards, carried a kick-off return 27 yards, picked up another 15 on a pass reception for a total of 290 yards. He didn't play in the 4th quarter.

Currently, Thelen has a 9.9 yard-per-carry average.

He scored the 1st 3 Eagle touchdowns on a 1-yard run in the 1st quarter, 2-yard run in the 2d quarter and a 40-yard punt return in the 3d quarter.

John Mueller ran the extra point in the 1st period to put Fowler ahead 9-0. Mike Graff took over the ball for the 2-point conversion in the 2d quarter and Fowler led 16-0.

The point after attempt in the 3d period failed, giving Fowler a 22-0 lead.

But, they weren't through yet. Lee Feldpausch scored on a 7-yard run in the last quarter and Jerry Armbrustmacher kicked the extra point.

John Mueller scored another Eagle touchdown from the 2-yard-line and Ambrustmacher ran the 2-point conversion.

Rick Frank scored the final Fowler TD, plunging in from the 1-yard-line. The pass attempt for the 2-point conversion failed.

The Eagles churned up 340 yards rushing and added 15 in the air on 1 completion in 4 attempts.

Meanwhile, the Fowler defense held Webberville to 32 yards on the ground and a minus-3 in the 2d half. Webberville picked up 14 yards in the air.

Leading the Eagle defense was Glen Simon with 15 tackles, including 5 behind the line of scrimmage. Simon, a junior, was All-Conference as a sophomore.

Coach Steve Spicer praised the all-around defensive performance of the Eagles and again credited the offensive line with a "fine job."

The Eagles are now tied with Fulton and Pewamo-Westphalia for 1st place in the CMAC. All have 2-0 records.

It was expected that DeWitt would make that a 4-way tie, but the Panthers were upset by Portland St Pats Friday night.

Fowler is at home Friday against Olivet.

Olivet lost to Fulton 12-6, but Spicer said they were inside the 10-yard-line and didn't score.

Although they've yet to win a game, they can score, losing to Bellevue 32-25.

Pewamo-Westphalia dumps Potterville 29-0

One team will be trying to come back from an upset defeat and the other will be shooting to extend their record to 3-0 when Pewamo-Westphalia and DeWitt gridders tangle Friday night.

The game will be played at Pewamo-Westphalia.

P-W had little regard for the fact that Potterville was the defending CMAC champs and came home Friday night with a 29-0 shut-out.

Pat Thelen led the scoring, tussling 2 touchdown passes, scored a TD and a 2-point conversion.

Larry Thies scored twice with the 1st coming on a 41-yard pass from Thelen.

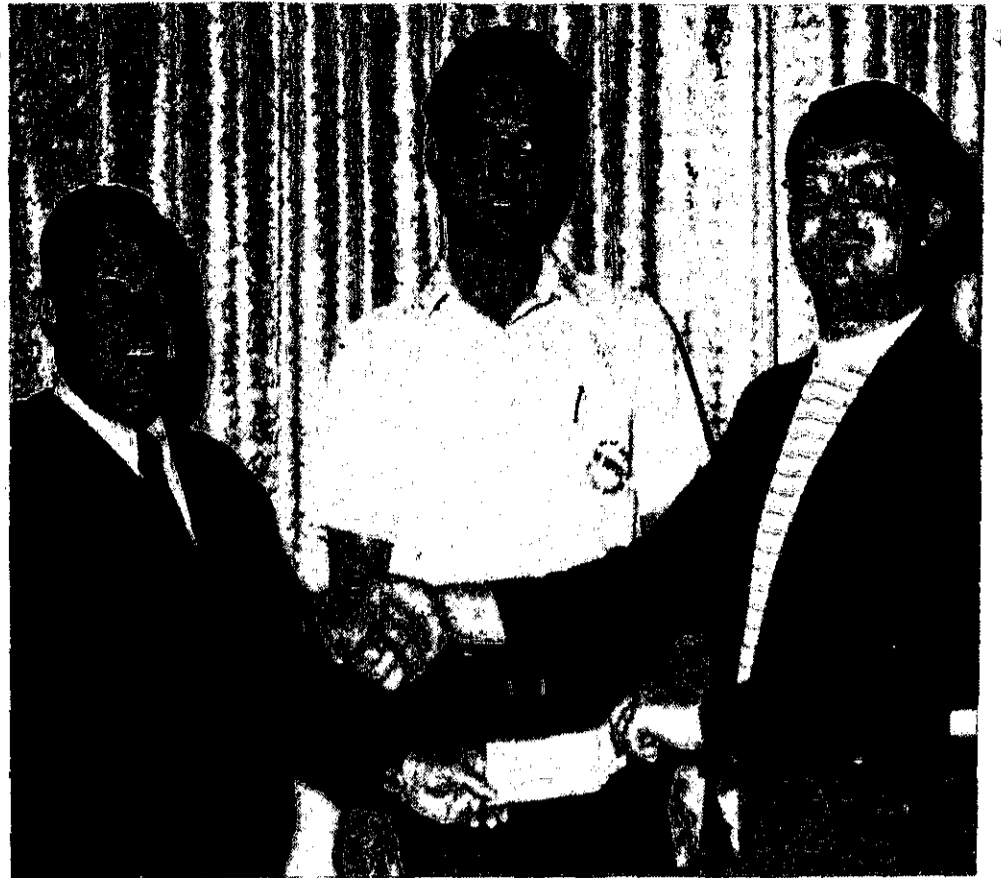

He scored again on a 4-yard plunge.

Lonnie Lucas hauled in 2 scoring tosses from Thelen.

Dan Lenneman kicked 3 extra point conversions.

The victory gives the Pirates a 3-0 record and a share of the league lead with Fowler and Fulton, also unbeaten this year.

DeWitt won their opener, also defeating Potterville. However, Portland St Pats allowed them only 1 touchdown Friday night and took a 12-6 upset victory.

Roy Ellsworth (left) principal of Fowler High School accepts a check from John Rademacher (right) of the Fowler Jaycees to help pay for sodding of the high school football field. Joining in the ceremony is Ken Hungerford, Fowler Jaycee president. The presentation took place during the most recent Fowler Jaycee meeting.

80-yard bomb stings Ovid-Elsie

Ovid-Elsie dominated the statistics, but Chesaning took the victory Friday with an 80-yard bomb with only 1.18 left in the game.

Leading 19-15, the Marauders were stung by a Joe Toma pass that went 80-yards for the touchdown and a 22-15 win.

In the statistic column, Ovid-Elsie had 360 yards to Chesaning's 225 and the Marauders picked up 22 first downs, 10 more than the 12 Chesaning first downs.

However, Ovid-Elsie also lost 4 fumbles, had 2 passes intercepted and received 125 yards in penalties.

The Marauders scored 1st in the game, taking the opening kick-off and marching on a scoring series of 80 yards. Perry Munson kicked the extra point to give the Marauders a 7-0 lead.

Chesaning also scored in the 1st quarter, but the extra point failed and the Marauders still held the lead, 7-6.

In the 2d quarter, O-E scored again, but Chesaning also put across a touchdown and field goal for 9 points.

The Marauders took the lead in the 3d quarter and held it until the last 1:18 when the Chesaning bomb took the game.

Besides Toma's pass, the nemesis for O-E was Bill Giesken. Giesken intercepted a pass and ran it back to the 10-yard-line to set up 1 touchdown, scored a touchdown and kicked the 29-yard field goal.

Jim Quine scored 2 touchdowns for the Marauders and Paul Case scored another. Case piled up 134 yards rushing in 18 carries.

Tim Bolton led the Marauder defense with 18 tackles, followed by Dennis Cross with 12.

Ovid-Elsie travels to Bullock Creek Friday night.

After 2 away games, Coruna and St Louis, the Marauders will be home again Oct 18 for the homecoming game with Ithaca.

The freshman Marauders downed Chesaning 32-0 and the junior varsity also won 22-0.

DeWitt scoring drive stalls, fall to Portland St Pats

PORTLAND --Portland St Patrick's Shamrocks surprised the DeWitt Panthers Friday night, upsetting DeWitt 12-6.

St Pats took first blood in the contest after receiving the opening kick-off.

They launched a 52 yard drive and went on the scoreboard when Bill Peake went over from the 1-yard-line.

In the 2d quarter, DeWitt's Jeff Chandler raced a punt return back for 75 yards to put the Panthers on the scoreboard.

However, the conversion attempt was no good and score remained tied 6-6.

Peake reported his 1st scoring effort late in the 2d quarter and St Pats went ahead 12-6.

DeWitt came back in the 2d half, but couldn't convert scoring threats into touchdowns and the game ended 12-6.

DeWitt travels to Pewamo-Westphalia Friday.

Pewamo-Westphalia is 2-0 for the season and tied with Fulton and Fowler for the CMAC lead.

They defeated Potterville 29-0 Friday, a team that DeWitt beat the week before.

Bees win 6-0

BATH -- The Bath Bees won their Ingham County League football opener Friday night in a close 6-0 battle with Fowlerville.

Dan Bass led the offense with 90 yards and the defense with 19 tackles.

Steve Hawks provided all the points the Bees needed when he hauled in a 6-yard touchdown pass from David Kloeckner.

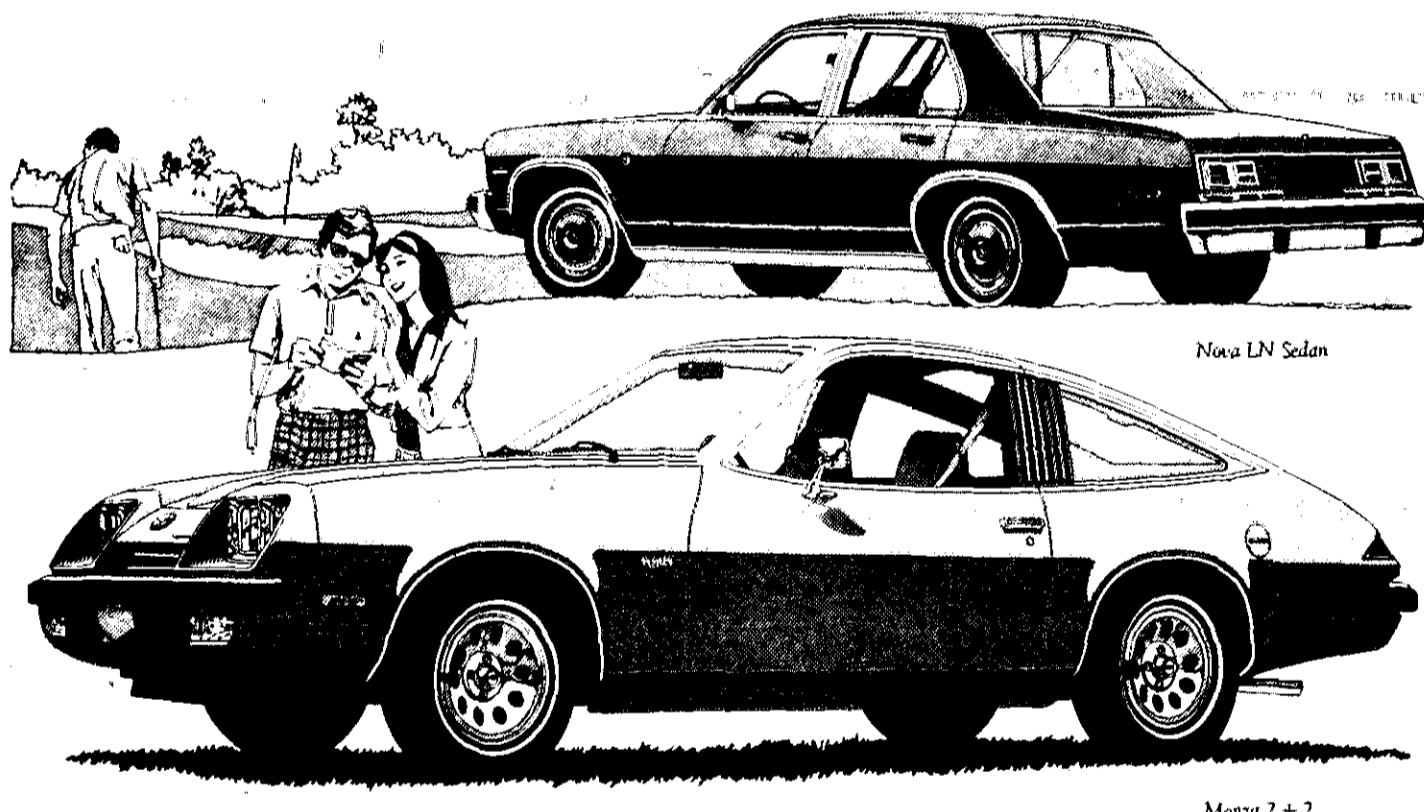

Kloeckner was filling in at quarterback for Montee Skorch who was injured in the season's 1st game against Byron.

The Bees dominated the game with 188 yards rushing and 72 in the air for 260 yards.

The Bees' defense held Fowlerville to only 68 yards.

CHEVROLET FOR 1975. CARS THAT MAKE SENSE FOR TODAY.

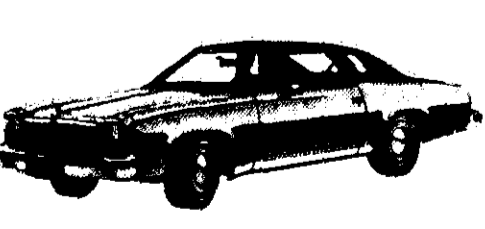

MONZA 2+2 The small car of tomorrow will probably be a little more powerful, handy and comfortable than ever. The 1975 Monza 2+2, shown above, offers this today. It has advanced like rectangular headlights set in a soft front end, fold-down rear seat, and a new 4.3-litre V8 engine available.

NOVA In the background above, our new Nova LN Sedan. A luxurious Nova with thick carpeting and wide-back reclining front seats. For 1975, all Novas have been emphatically refined along the lines of elegant European sedans. Nova's always been good. Now it's beautiful.

IMPALA America's favorite car continues to provide the room many families need plus plenty of quiet and comfort. Still the great American value.

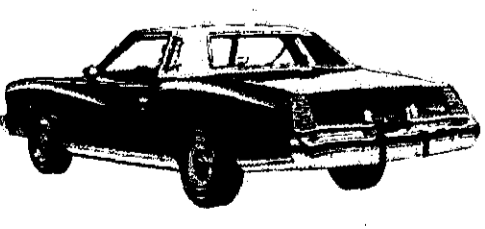

CHEVELLE Mid-size, easy to drive, room for six, mid-priced, strong reputation for value. America's most popular intermediate.

CAMARO Our sensibly sporty compact. It looks like a million and drives like it looks.

WAGONS Big ones, small ones, in-between ones. Practical wagons that make sense for America. And you.

MONTE CARLO Its special ability: making you feel good. About the way it looks and drives. About your own taste and judgment.

CHEVROLET'S NEW EFFICIENCY SYSTEM FOR 1975 It's the key part of a program aimed at helping our new cars run leaner (more economically), run cleaner—and save you money every mile.

The Efficiency System is standard on all 1975 Chevrolets with V8 or 6-cylinder engines. It's a series of significant engineering improvements working together for the very first time.

Components include High Energy Ignition, catalytic converter, Early Fuel Evaporation and steel-belted radial ply tires. In sum, the System is designed to heighten the pleasure and lower the cost of driving a 1975 Chevrolet—to bring you a better running car in many ways, along with improved fuel economy, more miles between recommended maintenance and an engine that stays cleaner internally because of no-lead fuel.

Your Chevrolet dealer will gladly give you the details and answer your questions. See him and the sensible 1975 Chevrolets starting September 27.

Redwings touchdowns called back, but St Johns wins 4-0

By John Phipps
County News Sports Writer

For the second straight week, St Johns High has been in a football game whose score is misleading. This time the Redwings are on the long end of the score — if you can call 4 points long.

St Johns, a 20-0 loser 2 weeks ago in the opener, was closer to Mt Pleasant than the big score indicated.

Friday the Redwings shoved Charlotte around the field most of the night and put the ball into the end zone on their first 3 possessions, only to come away with a 4-0 victory in their league debut.

Two of the 5 goal line penetrations came as St Johns nailed highly touted Oriole quarterback Bill McConnell for safeties in the 2nd quarter. The others included 2 touchdowns wiped out by the referee's whistle and another killed by a fumble.

Charlotte threatened once in the 1st period and twice in the final stanza. But time ran out for the Orioles on the St Johns 1-yard line.

Along the way, the Redwings proved to themselves they could play football — despite 103 yards of penalties and the near-disaster of the last seconds.

The Wings held a 2-1 advantage in 1st downs (20-11), rushing yardage (244-126) and completed passes (6-3). They dominated much of the game without being able to break it open. During the 2nd period, Charlotte ran just 1 offensive play before the 1:00 mark.

Several changes made after the Mt Pleasant game paid off for Coach Gonzales and his Wings.

The key was the whole defensive line, because they kept constant pressure on Charlotte," praised Gonzales.

"The Wings shut down McConnell decisively in the 1st half and suffered the sting of his prolific passing and nimble scrambling only in the waning moments.

St Johns sacked McConnell 3 times in the 1st half while holding him to 19 yards rushing and zero yards passing. The quick McConnell found himself without a pass completion in only 3 attempts and was the victim of Jeff Thornton's halftime show.

The St Johns co-captain intercepted a McConnell pass at the Charlotte 35-yardline as time ran out at the half. The theft occurred one play after Mike Simon nailed McConnell for a 13-yard loss.

By that time, McConnell had gotten so he recognized Simon. The 6-0, 180-pound Redwing tackle sat the bench last week, but got the starting call on defense against Charlotte and made the most of it. He gave St Johns the only score it needed when he hit McConnell in the end zone at 8:45 of the 2nd quarter.

Ryan Pertler and Jeff Hazle tackled Charlotte's Bryan Olson in the end zone 3 minutes later after a St Johns fumble of the goal line.

Pertler, known as "Bubba" despite his diminutive appearance, tied with Hazle for 7 tackles on defense from his monster position, while Nick Koenigsnecht led with 9 tackles.

Koenigsnecht and Pertler also saw offensive duty while switching off with starter Kalem Latimer and Keith Haske at swingback.

Gonzales moved Latimer to swingback to utilize his speed from the wide position — but the Wings didn't need it against Charlotte.

Kevin Knight, heir to Latimer's tailback spot of 2 weeks ago, wound up with 126 yards in 25 carries as the Orioles showed soft spots in the power running positions. Upback Harold Wellman added 75 yards in 9 carries and Latimer finished with 58 yards less than his total of 58 against Mt Pleasant. He did not carry the ball.

"Kevin could run better than he did against Mt Pleasant and we knew it," said Gonzales.

"From swingback he had too much sideways running to do. He's strong and we wanted to use the power. Kalem is fast and the swingback position is good for his speed — but we were moving the ball without it against Charlotte."

Others drawing praise from coaches included Dan Whitmore, moved to noseguard for the game, and Ron Presocki, 212-pound tackle who impressed as a non-starter.

"Charlotte is a good team, but if we had scored the 1st 2 times, who knows what the score would have been?" said Gonzales.

St Johns punched the opening kickoff steadily downfield with big key gains by Knight, Koenigsnecht and Wellman and a 19-yard pass for 1st down to Ken Randolph. Moving quickly, the Redwings got to the 1-yardline, where Knight crashed the middle to score. But a holding penalty set the Wings back on the 16 and 2 runs and an incomplete pass gave the ball to Charlotte on the 14 yardline.

McConnell shocked the Wings with an 11-yard scramble and a 13-yard gain on a handoff to hard-running Jeff Kerekes. Hitting off-tackle and around end, McConnell directed the visitors as far as the St Johns 23 yardline, where a 4th down pass failed on coverage by Knight and Thornton.

Four plays later, quarterback Brian Pertler received tremendous backfield blocking and settled a pass into the arms of left end Mark Green from the St Johns 45. Green beat defender Mike Kyre to the end zone, but officials declared him out of bounds at the Charlotte 32. Brian Pertler gained 5, and Knight 22 in the next 3 carries, but Charlotte dumped Pertler for a 10-yard loss to help kill the threat.

The Orioles took over on downs at their own 5 yardline, setting up the 1st safety. After free-kicking, the visitors gave way to St Johns again on a 44-yard thrust. But St Johns was disappointed its 3rd time into the end zone. Pertler carried the final 5 yards up the middle, but the ball got to the end zone before he did.

Charlotte's Bryan Olson recovered the fumble, attempted to run away with it, but got nailed by Ryan Pertler and Hazle for the 2nd safety.

The Redwings started from the Charlotte 89 after the next free kick and penetrated to the 6 yardline. But once again the Orioles dumped Pertler for a loss as he rolled out and a 15-yard holding penalty effectively killed the drive.

St Johns knocked several times in the 2nd half, getting to the 8, the 10, and the 16 without going ahead to score.

Charlotte began adjusting defensively in the 4th period and managed to mount an offensive threat. One drive went for the Oriole 23 to the St Johns 6, where McConnell fumbled. Whitmore claimed it for the Wings.

Charlotte forced a punt and drove from the St Johns 47 with 46 seconds left in the game. McConnell hit end Ray Smith for 17 yards to the St Johns 30, then suffered 2 incomplections.

With 4 seconds left, McConnell connected with Olson on the goal line, but Tim Kraus and Mike Beaufore leveled him on the 1 yardline, where time ran out before another play could begin.

St Johns takes a 1-1 record, 1-0 in the WCAC, on its 1st road trip Friday at Holt for a non-conference tilt.

The St Johns Redwings try to push it through, but never got 6 points on the scoreboard; 2 safeties, however, gave the Redwings a 4-0 victory.

Brothers receive Eagle Scout Awards

By Neva Keys
Elsie Correspondent

Daniel R. Sturgis and Douglas L. Sturgis, sons of Richard and Joanne Sturgis of 228 W. Oak St. Elsie received their Eagle Scout Awards at a Court of Honor held recently at the American Legion Hall.

There were 100 friends and relatives present for a potluck supper served at long tables decorated with green and yellow streamers and vases of summer flowers.

Each place was marked by souvenir program folders in yellow and green Invocacion was given by the Rev David Litchfield and welcoming remarks were made by Charles Crell, past commander of the American Legion in Elsie, the sponsoring institution of the local Boy Scout troop for many years.

Crell stated that the importance of youth today has never been more important to our nation than it is at this time. They are the leaders of tomorrow and we, as adults should take a strong and positive attitude in the area of youth activities. Each of us should ask "Are we doing enough?"

He said that this was the first time in 32 years that an Eagle Court of Honor was held. At that time Richard E. Robinson and William Tompkins attained the rank of Eagle Scout. Today, Robinson is Court Judge in Eaton County and Tompkins is a sergeant in the Michigan State Police stationed at Paw Paw. There are several other Scouts in the local troop who are very close to receiving the same honor.

The local Boy Scout program was chartered some 45 years ago with Bert Mills as Scoutmaster. Following is a list of the names that appeared on the original charter: Wendall Brewbaker, Andrew Cobb, Durward Conklin, W. Durfee, LaMott Fields, Edwin Fields, Merle Gills, John and William Knight, Gordon McCullough, Elhan Mills, Paul Platner, Leonard Tillotson, Stephen Vaysable, H.E. Wright, Clayton and Walter Woodward, Alton Wight, Bill Smith and Harlan Keys.

Crell declared the Eagle Court of Honor in session. The entrance of the Boy Scout Troop in a parade of colors was followed by the pledge of allegiance. The two candidates and their parents were escorted to the rostrum.

Three candles representing character, citizenship and fitness were lit against the background of a large Boy Scout emblem, the American and Boy Scout flags.

Crell explained the meaning of the Eagle Badge and what it represents: accomplishments in Scouting skills in teamwork and living the Scout Oath and Law, about one percent of all boys in Scouting achieve the Eagle Scout award; service to fellowman by saving life in emergencies; and understanding of community and nation and willingness to help others, a job started and finished, hard work, three years to achieve the award, strength of character; and symbol of what a boy has done and what he will do in the future as a man.

Donald Gilbert listed the background activities of candidate Dan Sturgis, who is a senior at Ovid-Elsie High School this fall. He has studied architectural drawing, wood technology, English, U.S. History and meals. He attended Boys State at Michigan State University in June, a year with 4-H work, member of Art Club and Astrology Club at O-E High and had part-time work at Elsie Door and Specialty Co in Elsie. Dan was active in Scouting (including Cub Scouting) for 9 years.

Gale Betz enumerated the activities of Doug Sturgis, who will be 16 in Sept. and also active in many sports as well as scouting. He played in the Pony League summer sport and baseball, basketball and football in high school. He spent 7 years in Scouting, (including Cub Scouting).

Both brothers are on the honor roll at O-E High School, members of the United Methodist Church Choir and U.M. Youth Fellowship, played Little League, members of the Order of the Arrow and now working on their God and Country Award.

Dale Maier of St. Johns gave the Eagle Scout charge to the Sturgis brothers and admonished them to build America on the solid foundation of clean living, honest work, unselfish citizenship and reverence for God.

The two brothers rededicated themselves to the principles of Scouting and resolved to uphold forever its principles with the same ambition and perseverance that brought them to this Court of Honor, by repeating the Scout Oath.

Mrs Sturgis pinned the Eagle Scout badges on her sons and they in turn pinned their mother with the special Mother's badge. Mr Sturgis, who is Scoutmaster of the local troop presented his sons with their Eagle Scout certificates.

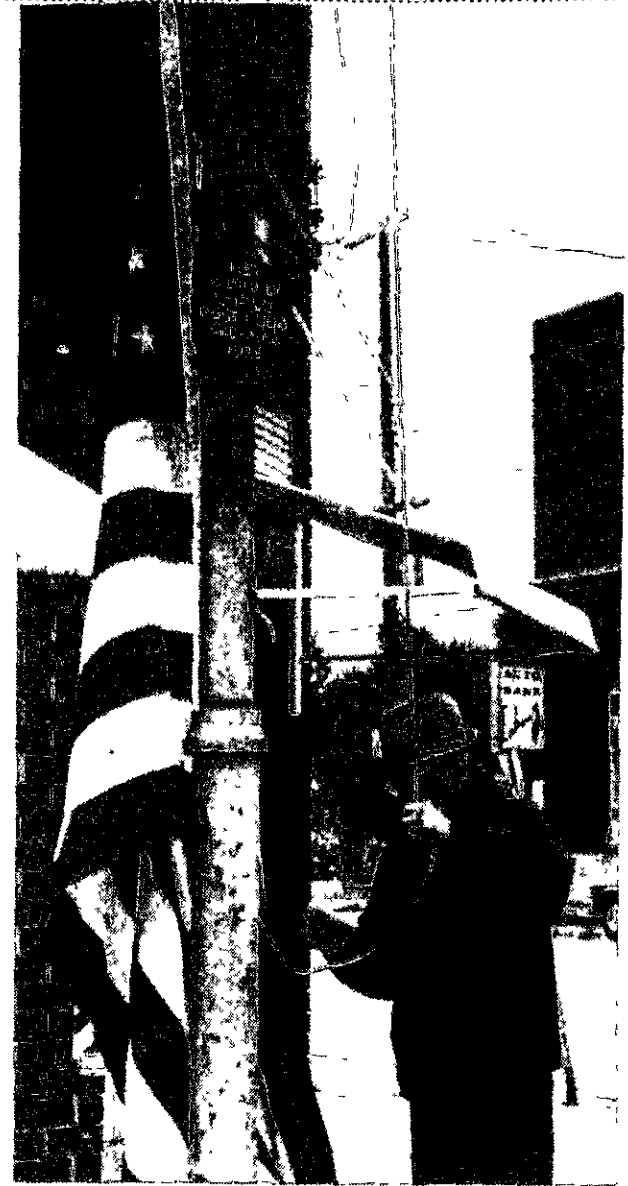

The certificates were framed, also signed on May 11, 1974, by Richard M. Nixon, President of the United States and offering congratulations. Another letter from the National Headquarters of Boy Scouts of America was sent to each of the boys and signed by Robert Keneker, president, and Alden Barber, Chief Scout Executive, extending congratulations.

The Eagle Court of Honor closed with benediction by the Rev David Litchfield and the new Eagle Scouts and their parents were escorted by the troop members to their positions in the receiving line for congratulations.

A large table nearby featured a display of various emblems, badges, pins, pictures, scrapbooks, including two albums of the troop collection, which attracted much attention.

Special guests were the boys' grandparents, Mr and Mrs Leon Williams of Allen Road, Elsie and several aunts and uncles.

The local Boy Scout Troop is now known as #576 since the reorganization into districts. The Elsie Troop belongs to the Chippewa District #5 and is also a member of the Chief Okemos Council.

Cecil Madden raises flag in Ovid.

Ovid has own "flag man"

by Jan L. Bederstadt
County News Writer

OVID — Patriotism is alive and well in Ovid, with Cecil Madden, 73, of 134 W. Front St. in Ovid raising the village flag every morning at 8:30. Madden has been doing it for over 2 years.

The flag he raises is the one just given to the village last week by the Ovid VFW, Post 8964 at their town council meeting to replace the old flag. The old flag was given to the village also by the VFW last year. The flag is 6 feet by 10 feet.

Cecil has been a resident of Ovid since 1922. He operated a garage in the town and served on the Fire department for 29 years, 20 of that as Fire Chief.

After he sold his garage, he worked for 12 years as caretaker of Gumae Memorial Park in the northern part of the town.

He gave that up this year because, as he puts it, "Couldn't take it anymore." He now works in the mornings 6 days a week as a Handy Man around the town hall, putting up the flag at 8:30 in the mornings and taking it down at 6:30.

He enjoys his work. He has a "great sense of loyalty for the village" according to Village treasurer Veda Stedman. But as Madden put it, "Glad to be doing something. Want to do something for the benefit of the people, if I can."

Previews of progress encourages science and engineering careers

Emission control

St. Johns High School students [from left] Dave Smith, Dale Stephenson, and Jim Rasmussen examine a cut-away catalytic converter, the new 1975 emission control device. The flame illustrates how exhaust gases are made to change in the converter [Hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide pollutants change into carbon dioxide and water vapor] to harmless substances. This was one of 9 science-in-action demonstrations seen by the students as General Motors traveling science show "Previews of Progress" visited St. Johns on Sept. 18.

Moon Rover

"The world we live in today is merely a stepping stone to tomorrow, with countless challenging questions left for scientists and engineers to answer."

That message of opportunity was presented to local students when General Motors national assembly program, Previews of Progress, appeared at St. Johns High School and Rodney B. Wilson Junior High Wednesday, Sept. 18.

The non-commercial show seeks to encourage more student interest in science, engineering, and related vocational careers. It was presented live and in non-technical language by General Motors lecturers.

A highlight of the 45 minute program was a unique laser projector demonstration. A laser beam was used to translate the sounds we hear into visual patterns of light which danced on a screen before the audience.

The GM representatives also explained how the energy of the sun can be converted into electricity by running a model of the Surveyor Lunar Roving Vehicle on solar cells. A 300-watt lamp, simulating the sun's rays, powered the Moon Rover across an undulating table top surface.

Students also saw two fast-paced demonstrations which illustrate recent developments toward solving water and air pollution problems. First, the lecturers showed progress being made to clean up water used in an industrial process. They combined two common manufacturing pollutants to produce clean water and to eliminate the pollutants in one mutually beneficial operation.

Then students viewed a cutaway model of a catalytic converter, a device used to reduce automobile related exhaust pollutants. Based on extensive research and engineering, GM believes the catalytic converter is the best choice of alternatives at this time for meeting 1975 federal requirements because it reduces emissions of pollutants while also permitting improvements in fuel economy and driveability of automobiles.

A unique way to move heavy loads with little physical effort was illustrated by an "air bearing" platform. A small vacuum cleaner type motor provided a thin film of air under three large circular pads supporting the platform. This air cushion reduced friction between floor and the pads, enabling finger-tip movement of the platform carrying about 200 pounds.

The novel experiments involving "made-made" molecules showed modern chemistry's contribution to progress. Synthetic rubber was manufactured in a bottle in just sixty seconds and a polyurethane foam plastic cake "baked" itself in only two minutes.

The importance of seat belt protection for vehicle occupants was dramatized by a model impact sled, a device automotive safety engineers have been using to test the structural integrity of car bodies and components.

The National Safety Council estimates that more than 14,000 lives could have been saved in traffic mishaps last year by the use of belt restraints.

Other demonstrations in the Previews show covered the use of gyroscopes in modern navigation systems for space vehicles, aircraft and sub-marines and an explanation of how a gas turbine engine operates.

The Previews team that appeared here is one of five two-man units now touring the country. Previews of Progress lecturers visit some 2,000 different schools annually with audiences ranging in size from groups of 100 to crowds of 6,000 or more. About one million students and adults will see Previews this year.

Weekend of travel pleasure

The Lake Huron and Saginaw Bay shorelines of Michigan's picturesque Thumb offer tourist attractions ranging from lighthouses to a ghost town, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Although a drive around the 154-mile Thumb coast from Port Huron to Bay City can be made in a day, a weekend should be spent if planning to stop and explore," said Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

Persons wishing to spend more than a day in the Thumb will find motel accommodations adequate in the many small towns, but advance reservations may be advisable. Ratke said the camper will find the Thumb a paradise, with several state and privately owned parks offering plenty of space on the waterfront.

JUST NORTH of Port Huron's Blue Water Bridge is Michigan's first lighthouse, Fort Gratiot, built in 1825. The brick tower is 86 feet high and displays a flashing green light visible for 17 miles.

Turning north on US 25, the motorist will pass through attractive suburbs of Port Huron before reaching Lexington, a town of fewer than 1,000 population. If you're hungry, you might try the Windjammer Restaurant, located on a sandy beach. It offers a sweeping view of Lake Huron from its lounge, main dining room and patio tables.

Eleven miles north is Port Sanilac, an even smaller community. There's another lighthouse here. Built in 1886, the eight-sided structure is sandwiched between private homes on a quiet side street.

On the southern outskirts of the town is the Sanilac County Museum which occupies a three-story Victorian home built in 1872. The mansion is filled with artifacts from the last half of the 19th century, including paintings and prints, navigational instruments, military equipment, native rock and ore exhibits, antique guns and inventions. The museum is open 1 to 5 pm weekends through October.

NEXT STOP is Harbor Beach, a city of more than 2,000 and onetime home and birthplace of Frank Murphy. The home, now a museum, is filled with mementos and memorabilia of Murphy's service as Detroit mayor, Michigan governor (1937-38), US attorney general and US Supreme Court Justice after summer months, the home is open by appointment.

There also is a lighthouse at Harbor Beach, but visitors can get within only a few hundred yards of it. The lighthouse is located on the end of a breakwater. Built in 1958, it is one of the few lighthouses in Michigan still manned.

Near Huron City is another lighthouse, Port Hope, situated in a Huron County park with several campsites in the area. Built in 1875, it also is manned. Visitors can walk to the base of the light and watch the waves of Lake Huron break on the beach below.

Huron City is a ghost town where the history of Michigan's 1860-80 lumbering era is preserved. Once a major logging community, Huron City was developed in the 1850s by Langdon Hubbard, who owned 28,000 acres of surrounding prime timber land. Forest fires plus heavy logging ended the area's lumbering business and town of Huron City.

ABOUT 25 YEARS ago, Hubbard's descendants began restoring Huron City and seven buildings have been completed. All except two, a museum and a carriage shed, were built at or near Huron City before 1884.

Although the restorations are open only during the summer, when guided tours are available, motorists can drive along the roads beside the structures or walk along the sidewalks to view them from the outside at other times.

Grindstone City, near the tip of the Thumb, is almost deserted. Until about 1930, Grindstone City was a major producer of grindstones and sharpening stones. But the city faded when carborundum took the place of grindstones. Many grindstones, some six feet in diameter, can still be seen along the shore. Former quarries also are visible.

At Pointe Aux Barques is another lighthouse, built in 1847 and rebuilt in 1908.

PORT AUSTIN Reef lighthouse is situated about two miles off the tip of the Thumb, where Lake Huron and Saginaw Bay converge. Port Crescent State Park is located five miles southwest of Port Austin on M 25 and is an excellent stopping spot for camping.

Sleeper State Park, seven miles northeast of Caseville on Saginaw Bay, was named after Albert E. Sleeper, World War I governor. Sleeper, elected in 1916 and 1918, lived in Bad Axe, the Huron County seat. The large brick mansion, where he lived until his death in 1934, is now a funeral parlor.

Caseville is one of several resort communities along Saginaw Bay. The entire Saginaw Bay area was once the scene of a flourishing lumbering industry, with schooners by the scores passing near the shores. The bay got its name from the Sauk Indians who once lived in the area.

Watch. Wherever you see our wide-awake owl, something wide-awake is happening. For you, it might mean a new service. Or, an existing service made even easier. For our employees, it might mean anything having to do with money. For the community, it might mean our involvement in a civic activity. This is what our bright-eyed wide-awake bird stands for. So watch the bird..... He'll be watching out for you.

The wide-awake bank  makes it all so easy.

Social Security on road to bankruptcy

After more than a decade of adherence to the original concept of Social Security as a source of modest benefits to supplement other retirement income, the system was expanded in 1950 to cover more people and authorize benefits not directly linked to retirement.

The first increase in the maximum tax to the worker -- from $30 annually to $45 -- was initiated in that year to offset the increased demands on the still skimpy Social Security reserve fund.

But despite the flood of increased benefits in succeeding years, the continually expanded list of eligible beneficiaries, and the steady escalation of the maximum tax, observers didn't become really nervous until the middle 1960s when the system's assets dropped to a figure equal to annual payments.

Today, with Social Security on virtually a pay-as-you-go basis, the nervousness is bordering on panic among fiscal experts.

According to figures of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, one of every seven Americans collects some sort of Social Security benefit -- disability, student, Medicare as well as retirement pensions.

The same source reports that only three workers pay taxes for each beneficiary. The figure soon will be reduced to two.

Of the 30 million people cashing Social Security checks, slightly more than half are retired, effectively debunking the lingering myth that Social Security is a sort of old-age insurance.

In fact, the Social Security system is nothing more in 1974 than a plan in which younger workers pay benefits to the elderly, the disabled, survivors and dependents.

And its very existence is threatened by scheduled increases in benefits tied to inflation and a shrinking birthrate that will compound the burden on the workers who pay the bill.

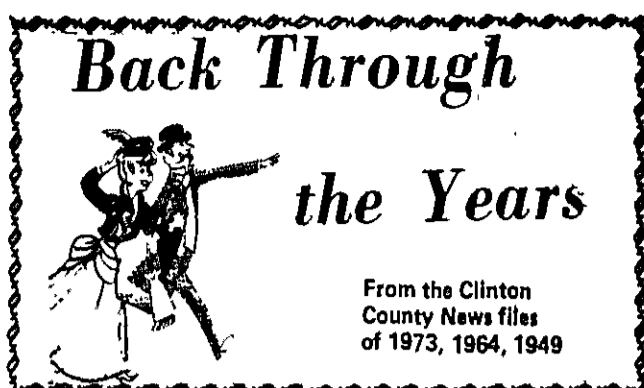

Proposals in Congress to finance a national health payment plan through Social Security further complicate the gloomy outlook.

The only assurance that today's worker enjoys that his own pension is safe is reported by an authority quoted in U.S. News and World Report: "No Congress now or in the future would dare to abolish Social Security or even reduce current benefits... it would mean revolution."

But it is apparent that changes must be made. Whatever form reform takes, it will be painful, involving either heavier taxes or a lid on benefits or both.

The current cycle of benefit increases and spiraling taxes can lead eventually to nothing but catastrophe.

In session

REP DOUGLAS TREZISE
87th District

When the House of Representatives censured one of its members last week, it took an action rare in Michigan history.

I refer to the case of Representative John Smeekens of the 41st District who was charged with mis-use of state funds and violating the laws concerning conflict of interest. It was a unique experience and one for which most legislators had little taste.

The charges against Rep Smeekens are pretty well known. He was accused of violating the law by appearing before the Air Pollution Control Commission as an attorney and legislator while in the employ of the company which was being investigated by that Commission. He was also accused of accepting expense money from the state for making a trip which was not made.

The legal question at stake is laid out in the Michigan Constitution which reads, "No member of the Legislature nor state officer shall be interested directly or indirectly in any contract with the state or any political subdivision thereof which shall cause a substantial conflict of interest." It further provides that the Legislature implement that section by law which was done in 1968.

The Constitution also provides that the House shall be the judge of the qualifications of its members so well all had a part in deciding the final disposition of the case.

In handling the Smeekens charge, the House created a special investigating committee to take testimony and recommend action to the members concerning the charges.

In a general way we found ourselves in a position similar to what went on in Washington when the committee of the US House of Representatives investigated the impeachment charges against President Nixon and the next step would have been considered by the entire body.

There is a further parallel with the Washington situation. While President Nixon resigned before final consideration of the impeachment charges, the voters of the 41st District failed to nominate Rep Smeekens for another term and his service in the Legislature will end in December of this year.

In performing its function, the special committee did a thorough job. It became a very technical legal problem. Did the relationship between the Hillsdale Foundry and the Air Pollution Control Commission constitute a "contract" as cited in the Constitution? Was his action as an attorney before the Commission improper under the law? Was the alleged misuse of state funds deliberate?

After a great deal of consideration and about 8 pounds of testimony, the committee recommended that Rep Smeekens be censured for his conduct. It was their conclusion that the evidence was insufficient and the laws so vague that expulsion could not be supported. The entire body later affirmed the committee action by adopting a resolution of censure.

The immediate effect of that action is insignificant. Because of the August election results, the question is pretty much moot as far as its effect on Rep Smeekens.

But, I hope that the next Legislature will place a high priority on new laws concerning conflict of interest and legislative ethics. The same situation should not arise again without having better statutes on which to base a decision.

"If It Fitz . . . That wasn't a burp, Mr. Ford

Editor, Lapeer County Press

"By Jim Fitzgerald

Would you believe that President Ford, the great pardoner, reminds me of little Michele and an old William Holden movie?

Michele is my 5-year-old granddaughter. We visited her the other day and she insisted upon showing us that she now knows how to ride a 2-wheel bike.

There are no sidewalks around Michele's home, so she had to stage her demonstration in the street, usually forbidden territory. Several adults watched nervously, at first, but Michele soon proved she had indeed graduated out of the training-wheel class.

SHE WENT back and forth, back and forth, a little wobbly but increasingly steady as she grinned greatly and her grandmother once again loudly asked the world if this little girl was not indeed the most marvelous child you ever saw.

But slowly it began to dawn on the adults that a large gap was growing between a forth and a back. Michele had extended the last forth over a slight rise in the road. She was out of sight for a minute but we all knew she would soon reappear. But she didn't.

And didn't. Michele's mother, who is not nearly as star-struck as Grandmother, finally went chugging down the road with elbows flying and steam hissing from her ears. You could almost hear the cymbals crash.

IT SEEMED like an hour before mother and daughter returned, with daughter sobbing a bit and mother frowning mightily, perhaps pondering the unalterable fact that she has 2 more children younger than Michele.

The capture had been made as Michele was about to sit down to lunch at a chum's home on the other side of town. Her parents had forbidden her to ride her bike so far but well it seemed like a good idea at the time. She had to show Grandpa and Grandpa how she could ride her bike, didn't she?

AND I THOUGHT about "Stalag 17," the fine World War II movie in which William Holden and buddies continually tried to escape from a German prisoner-of-war camp.

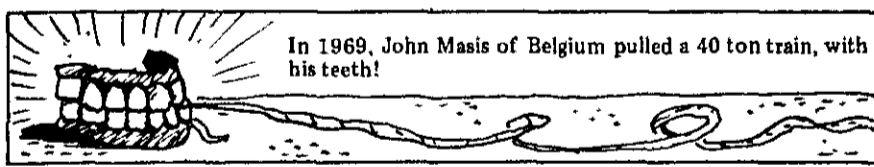

One ingenious plot involved a few prisoners painting the traditional white line down the middle of the road leading out of camp. The German guards watched calmly as they slowly painted their way through the front gate and down the street, innocent and industrious workmen. The prisoners had painted well over the horizon before the guards finally realized they intended to paint their way to New York.

It was a scheme worthy of the most marvelous child you ever saw. Classy.

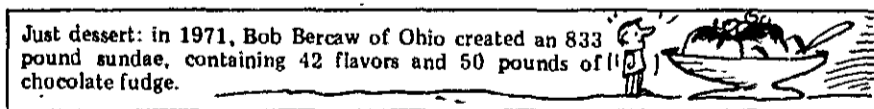

That's where President Ford fell short. No class.

FORD THOUGHT he had firmly established his innocence and good intentions in the eyes of his admiring countrymen. He thought he could pardon Nixon, a suspected felon, as if his alleged crime were burping at dinner, and we would all cheer at his good manners. Ford was wrong. He was overcome by the euphoria of the honeymoon and he didn't smell the toast burning. He took our love and abused it; he didn't realize we'd care, tra la la.

President Ford didn't paint slowly enough. He didn't go back and forth long enough. He could learn a lot from Michele.

In 1969, John Masis of Belgium pulled a 40 ton train, with his teeth!

Just dessert: in 1971, Bob Beraw of Ohio created an 833 pound sundae, containing 42 flavors and 50 pounds of chocolate fudge.

QUOTES GONE ASTRAY

A bird in the hand is worth 2 in the bush, but there's something weird about a guy who'll walk around all day with a bird in his hand.

An apple a day keeps the doctor away--and thanks to those people who believed that, they won't make house calls.

Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today--there may be a law against or a tax on it.

Early to bed and early to rise and you may get a parking place before the other guys.

A penny saved is a penny earned and 3 more saved might pay the taxes for it.

Honesty is the best policy--and maybe that's why we don't always think our politicians policies are the best.

Fools rush in where angels fear to tread and when's the last time you heard of an angel wiping out a fender trying to cross US-27 at the M-21 intersection.

Better late than never--but, try telling that to a boss when you're an hour past the "nose-to-the-grindstone" time.

Two wrongs don't make a right, but they sometimes put up a heck of an argument.

If at first you don't succeed, wait around for a federal program to be invented to take care of you.

A fool and his money are soon parted and that makes you wonder what politicians think of the US taxpayer mentality.

Look for the silver lining--that's probably why the roast beef was so expensive.

If you can't say something good about somebody, don't say anything at all--then how come it's so loud in Washington DC.

Voter questionnaire reveals approval of death penalty, inflation concern

WASHINGTON DC -- Congressman Elford A. Cederberg's annual questionnaire, distributed in June, produced an overwhelming vote for restoration of the death penalty, revealed a definite dislike for publicly financed political campaigns, and disclosed a large split in the 10th Congressional District on how to handle the problem of inflation, according to results released by Michigan's Federal lawmaker.

With 70.6% of the voters responding favoring the restoration of the death penalty nationally for such crimes as premeditated murder, war-time treason, and skyjacking and kidnapping, it was no surprise that crime was the category most frequently checked as an area in which government should be more active.

A majority (51.2%) of the people dislike the idea of publicly financed political campaigns as they expressed their support for continued privately financed campaigns with stricter spending limits and reporting requirements.

Perhaps the most interesting fact divulged by Cederberg's voter poll was the strong faction (37%) in favor of having Congress enforcing firm wage and price controls across the board.

However, an equal segment of voters (37%) favored limiting federal spending. A total of 35.3% stated that balancing the federal budget should be a major Congressional goal.

"I was somewhat surprised to see the large number of people favoring wage and price controls," Cederberg said, "especially in light of the rather disastrous experiment with them in 1972. Basically, I would say that people want something done now to bring inflation under control."

"I can certainly appreciate the urgency which the voters of the 10th District have attached to the solution of this problem. However, I feel that wage and price controls treat the symptoms but not the basic problem. It is a short-term answer which only adds fuel to the fire later when the controls are removed."

"The limiting of Federal spending through fiscally responsible budgets will, in the long term, provide genuine progress to a solution of this chronic problem. Within this method of attack, a balanced budget for the next couple of years could certainly be a useful tool," Cederberg stated.

Generally, the polled voters felt that the most important issues facing this country were 1) food prices and inflation - 74.5%, 2) honesty in government - 62.8% and 3) crime - 47.4%.

MARIMBA'S ORIGIN

Music experts say that the Marimba is neither of American Indian nor of Spanish origin. Because it resembles the native African limba in tone and name the accepted theory is that a Negro slave from Africa made the first one using gourds as sounding boxes.

MSU plays reflect Bi-Centennial period

EAST LANSING -- Gearing up for the US Bicentennial, the Michigan State University theatre department will present plays dealing with American history, patriotism and democracy, during the 1974-75 season.

Opening the season Oct 15-20 will be the MSU Performing Arts Company's presentation of Eugene O'Neill's "Touch of the Poet," the story of a disgraced British army officer who comes to America in the early 1830s. Shakespeare's "Henry V," including a vigorous Battle of Agincourt scene, will be presented later in the season with the audience seated on bleachers for a bird's-eye view of the action.

War will again be the subject in the 5th century B.C. Greek classic "Lysistrata" by Aristophanes. This play, dealing hilariously with women's withholding of favors from their husbands until they stop their constant warring, will be presented Nov 5-9 in the MSU Arena Theatre.

Also scheduled during the fall quarter are productions of "Purlie," Nov 19-24, selected as a showcase for the theatre department's black talent, and a children's Christmas program Dec 12-15.

Included in the children's program will be a nativity pageant, carol singing and dramatization of "The Night Before Christmas."

Of the season's selections, theatre department chairman Frank C. Rutledge said he was particularly pleased to have gotten the rights to present "Touch of the Poet." "This selection was influenced by the current O'Neill revival," he explained.

"It's a good statement about Jacksonian democracy because the protagonist, the disgraced British officer, realizes his dreams of glory are poppycock in America and he announces he'll vote for man-of-the-people Andrew Jackson."

Rutledge, who will direct three shows, and theatre professor Peter Landry, who will direct two, have announced other productions for the year as "The Devils," the musicals, "Paint Your Wagon" and "Stop the World I Want to Get Off" and "The Hiners of Eldritch," a collage of acting and dramatic reading dealing with the motivations behind a murder.

Production innovations will include transforming the Arena Theatre (which has new, permanent seats) into a circus tent for "Stop the World" and disregarding completely the Fairchild Theatre seats in favor of stage bleachers for "Henry V."

"The Battle of Agincourt scene is like a sporting event, and the bleachers will enhance that feeling," Rutledge explained. "The whole play is vigorous, patriotic and a little cynical -- a good vehicle for our new performers."

Rutledge said that over the next three years the theatre department would concentrate on "really making a name for ourselves in anticipation of moving into the new Performing Arts Center" and getting ready for Bicentennial activities.

Last summer the department presented a play about Christopher Columbus and plans to present a play set in the American colonies next summer. For 1976 Rutledge hopes to go on tour with several plays dealing with America's wars or famous Americans such as Abraham Lincoln and Oliver Wendell Holmes.

All Performing Arts Company and theatre department productions are presented either in Fairchild Theatre or the Arena Theatre on the MSU campus. Season tickets to 1974-75 Performing Arts Company productions will be available after Sept 26 in the Fairchild Theatre Box Office. Individual tickets to PAC and Arena shows will be available the Monday preceding a show and during the week of a show.

Sen William Ballenger reports on transportation bill

For the next few weeks, voters all over Michigan will be hearing about the proposed $1.1 billion transportation bond issue that will be on the ballot Nov 5, according to State Sen William S. Ballenger.

Backers of the proposal, said Ballenger, headed by Governor William G. Milliken and the State Department of Highways and Transportation, will take every opportunity available to them to convince voters to vote in favor of the proposal, which is called "Proposal D" on the November ballot.

If approved, the $1.1 billion in state money would be matched with anticipated federal and local funds to produce an estimated $6.25 billion for transportation projects over the next 15 years in Michigan.

Backers report that the biggest share of the state money--$340 million--will finance mass transportation projects in the seven southeastern Michigan counties encompassing the Detroit area.

Of the remaining money, $362 million will be allotted to improvements of inter-city rail and bus systems in various parts of the state, $100 million will go for development and improvement of airports around the state, $50 million for lake port work, $25 million for bicycle paths, and $20 million for "people mover" type transit systems.

Backers have included many eye-catching projects in the overall plan, with almost every part of the state scheduled to get something, reports Ballenger. They report the program will finance re-establishment of rail transportation from Grand Rapids to Detroit and from Grand Rapids to Chicago by way of Kalamazoo.

Most Michigan residents undoubtedly will agree that transportation systems must keep pace with growing needs.

Probably the biggest problem Michigan voters will have to solve is to determine whether the cost of the program can be paid out of current general fund money or whether new taxes will be required--and, if so, how much. Then they will have to determine whether they want the services urgently enough to want to pay whatever new taxes are necessary to provide them.

Backers of the proposal say the state's general fund will be able to retire the $1.1 billion in bonds without new or increased taxes. They contend that payments now being made on other bond issues will be ending as payments on this bond issue start to come due.

Some state financial experts, however, contend that the state's general fund is not in good shape and that there is no way that $1.1 billion in bonds can be retired without substantial tax increases or new taxes. One top administration official strongly opposed a proposed pay increase for state civil service workers because it would upset the state's finances.

One state government financial expert has predicted a substantial budget deficit in the next fiscal year unless taxes are increased.

Michigan voters will have to determine for themselves whether to approve the $1.1 billion transportation bond issue in November.

Dutch student in Clinton County

DEWITT -- A Dutch olympic swimmer, Bernard Lutikhuisen has been residing in the DeWitt-Lansing area for the past 7 weeks. Bernard, 28 is from Delft, Holland on a work-study program. He currently is employed for Snell Engineering in Lansing.

Lutikhuisen chose to come to America on a work study program from the Technical University in Delft so he could see the country as well as practice his English.

At the university, he is majoring in Coastal Engineering in small harbors. The university requires all engineers to go on a work-study program, and Bernard came to the US. He has been in the Lansing area for 6 weeks, and in a week, he plans to travel and see the US.

He would like to travel to California and if he runs out of money, he'll get a job somewhere else. He must be back in Holland by December.

Quite tall and thin, he represented the Netherlands swim team in the 1972 Olympics in Munich. So far, he likes America, but finds everything so much bigger. The lifestyles are different. He resides part of the time with Mr and Mrs Harold Lupatix of DeWitt.

FARM BUREAU NEWS

The President's Column by Fran Motz

Wednesday, Oct 19, our county Member to Member committee members Chairman Bob Kissane and his wife Marilyn, Mike and Beverly Borton, Marilyn Knight, our county secretary, my wife, Harriet, and myself attended a citrus bust at the Feast and Folly restaurant in Lansing. This was hosted by the Florida Farm Bureau and the idea behind it was to get information out to county Farm Bureau and also feed-back from us on how to improve citrus quality and sales.

Citrus fruit will be offered here by the carton during the winter at wholesale prices. They have oranges, tangelos, grapefruit, peaches and pecans, also hi-density orange juice by the 24 can case.

This fruit is exceptionally good as anyone who purchased some last March can attest. The county Farm Bureau would like to have a load ordered early so that we could take delivery by December 15 to 20. These would be in time for Christmas season. We will have order blanks mailed out with annual meeting notices and will take orders at the annual meeting, also. The committee decided that they would have to have payment with the order as this will save a lot of confusion when they are picked up. We feel that this area could use a full load which is 900 cartons, so we are shooting for that many orders.

Tour Hawaii with Michigan FB members

Beginning with the traditional lei greeting, Michigan Farm Bureau members will thrill to the interesting and educational tours, go on shopping sprees, dine on exotic meals, and fill their minds and hearts with memories to last for many years.

The tour will take place Feb 18 through 26, 1975 when Farm Bureau members will slip away from the winter snow, ice and cold winds to a tropical paradise where the warm sun, colorful flowers and summer breezes greet all visitors.

Berries arrive

Over 150 tons of cherries, strawberries and blueberries were delivered to the Farm Bureau office recently to fill orders placed on a member to member sales held by Michigan Agricultural Cooperative Marketing Association. Pictured are county secretary Marilyn Knight and Mrs Fran Motz checking orders as they arrived from the Traverse City area. Ron Motz, insurance agent and employees of MACMA are assisting.

County Farm Bureau Board assists in future need study

Mrs Vivian Lott, member of the State Farm Bureau Study Committee who lives in Ingham County met with the County Farm Bureau Board at the regular monthly meeting in September to present a questionnaire designed to help the Study Committee survey the future needs of the organization.

The questionnaire involved the various areas of program within the Farm Bureau and each board members completed the entire form.

The Study Committee was formed by State Farm Bureau president Elton Smith at the direction of the delegate body following the State Annual meeting last December.

In order that the organization grow and continue to meet the needs of the member and of agriculture in Michigan a study of this type is invaluable in planning on both the state and county levels.

In other business considered by the board was approval of the proposed budget for operation of the county Farm Bureau until the new board is seated following county annual meeting. Reports were heard from Farm Bureau Women, the Young Farmers, the Policy Development Committee and the Soybean Commodity Division.

Plans were completed for the county annual Oct 8 and the organization dinner Oct 15. This dinner will welcome new board members and honor those retiring.

A new county Farm Bureau president will be elected at that time.

District director Bill Spike will be invited to that meeting.

Several applications for associate membership in the organization were discussed. The appointment of Mrs Bill Kissane as information committee chairman was made.

Update of the Associate member list in the county is underway by the board and selection of the 1975 Membership Committee will be completed by Oct. 1.

The board welcomed new regional representative, Harold Scharp, who is replacing Winston Ingalls.

Ingalls who recently resigned, will re-enter MSU where he will seek his Ph.D in dairy science and waste management.

A special recognition of Ingalls' service to the county was made at the close of the meeting. All directors were present with the exception of Ronald Miller who was hospitalized at that time.

Farmer Pete's wife

by Mrs Ray Peck

Oh, what a beautiful morning!

It's just about as perfect as any day can be. I feel so happy and alive this morning in spite of feeling a little low lately. Maybe that's why I appreciate such a fine day for it's smooth sailing that we take for granted but the other makes us work and pray a little harder.

I went out to feed the cats and puppy and sang about the beautiful morning with gusto. In fact, with so much gusto that they just crept up to their dish. Yeah, I know I'm not a good singer but it was a little loud, too. It made me laugh, so there was a combination hard to beat for the start of a new day.

Happy me! Do I sound like Pollyanna? Well, I hope so. It's about time that some of us quit this constant griping about everything. And then THAT makes me a griper to be griping about that.

At our September Farm Bureau Women's Committee meeting, which is the first Tuesday of the month, we were talking about how the world gripes, complains, finds fault, etc. We were to go home and try to get by a day at a time by not complaining.

How did you manage? I gained on it but have a ways to go yet.

Farm Bureau Annual meeting set for Oct 8

With the mailing this week of the Annual Meeting notices the 1500 members of Clinton County Farm Bureau were officially informed of the yearly policy development session of their organization.

The meeting is Oct 8 at Smith Hall beginning at 7:30 pm with a family style ham dinner served by the ladies of St Johns Lutheran Church.

Chairing the meeting will be Fran Motz, County Farm Bureau president who will be leaving the board this year after serving 2 three-year terms as a director at large. Other directors leaving are Lewis Lonier, Eagle Watertown district and Duane Platte, Dallas-Westphalia.

In the Ovid-Victor district Ron Miller has served 1 three-year term and is eligible for reelection, as is the case in Bengal Riley where Eugene Thelen has been on the board 3 years, and may serve one more 3-year term if reelected.

Community Groups in an eligible district are given the opportunity to nominate directors and the remainder of the slate is filled by the nominating committee.

Resolution from Community Groups and other County Farm Bureau Committees will be of prime importance on the evening's agenda. Annual reports and the selection of delegates to State Annual meeting are other items to be brought before the members.

In the spotlight will be the candidates for this year's county Farm Bureau Queen

The winner will be crowned during the meeting. Mike Borton, chairman of the County Young Farmer committee and Doug Brook of Bath Twp will have charge of the Queen presentation.

Three students from Bath High School who attended the Citizenship Seminar will be introduced. There will be entertainment, drawings for door prizes and a contest for the best table decorations.

Farm Bureau members are urged to attend this important county meeting. Tickets for the meal are on sale at the county office, from Community Groups and from members of the Board of Directors. They should be purchased by Oct 4 to assure a reservation.

Soybean Division members set policy

Members of the Clinton County Farm Bureau Soybean Commodity Division met at the office Sept 9 to discuss policy issues. Six resolutions resulted from the meeting as follows:

I. Strategic Reserves - "We oppose government held or controlled grain reserves. We favor farmer-held and controlled grain reserves. We ask that a study be made of the possibilities of a Grain Reserve held through the Farmer's Cooperative System. We believe the best system for production of adequate food reserves is to provide producers a reasonable profit incentive."

II. Export Controls - "We need to continue to export agricultural production if our country is to be able to buy imported oil and other goods. We support the free international movement of agricultural production."

III. St. Lawrence Seaway - "We reaffirm the 1974 MFB policy concerning the St. Lawrence Seaway."

IV. Transportation - "We urge the County Farm Bureaus whose members are served by the Grand Trunk Railroad line to cooperate in presenting testimony on the US Department of Transportation Railroad Reorganization Plan to be released October 29, 1974."

V. Land Use - "We must be concerned with the land use issue. Agricultural land is needed and should be preserved when practicable. We support county or multi-county land use planning rather than state or national land use planning."

VI. Farmland Tax Relief - "We call upon our local township supervisors to be trained in the new Farmland Tax Relief Law. Local officials should take those actions necessary to make the new law's benefits available to local farmers."

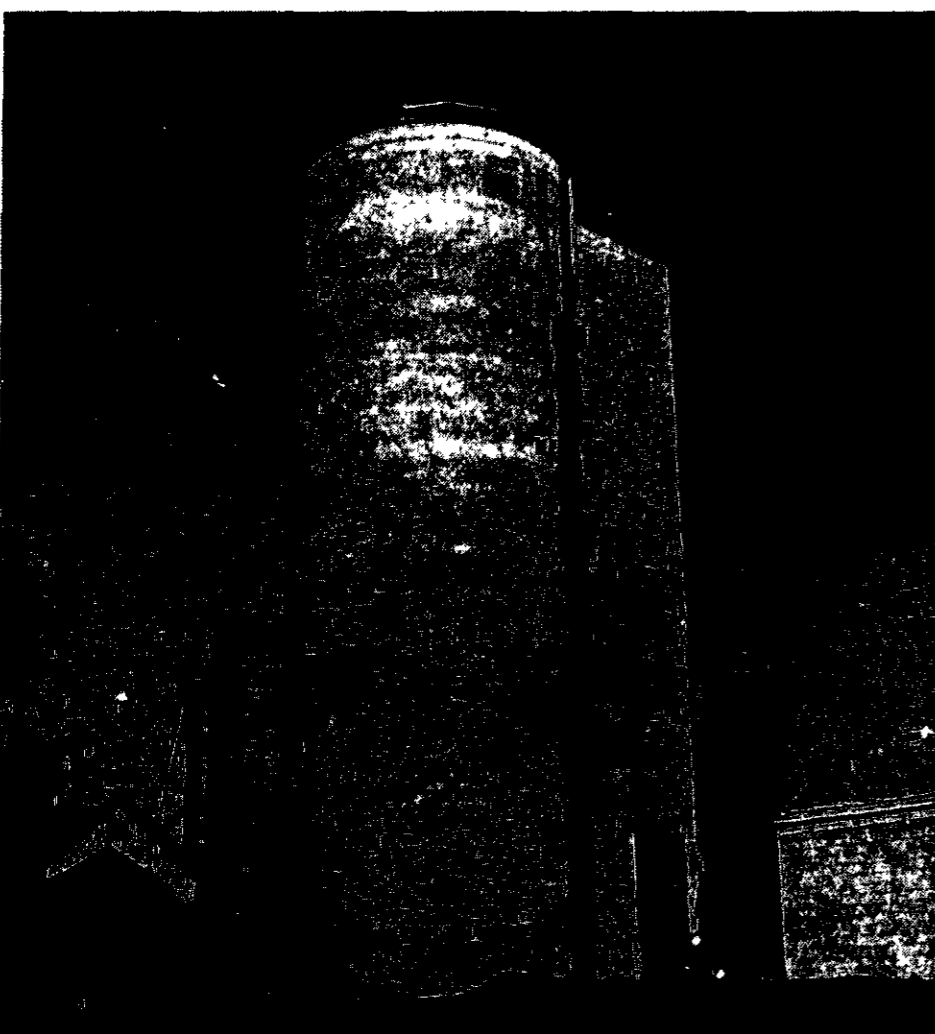

VII. County Roads - "Many Clinton county roads need improvements. We urge county and township officials to place the improvement and widening of county roads on a priority basis in 1975. We urge Farm Bureau members to attend township meetings and bring this matter to the attention of township officials."

These will be submitted to the county members at the Annual Meeting Oct 8 with a recommendation from the Soybean Committee that they be passed.

Chairman of the Soybean Division, Don Tulles presided over the meeting. Following the Policy discussion Dan Hall, secretary of the Michigan Soybean Producers, and manager of the Market Development Division, Michigan Farm Bureau, showed the film "A New Header for Soybean Harvesting."

Managing for profit workshop Oct 16-17

ST. JOHNS -- Business managers in the Clinton County area will explore principles of organization, modern management philosophy, leadership concepts and planning techniques during a Managing for Profit Workshop Oct 16-17 in the Community Room of Central National Bank.

The 2-day workshop, sponsored by Michigan State University's Cooperative Extension Service Marketing Program, includes lectures, case studies and group discussions aimed to develop participants, management skills.

"Today's younger work force cannot be managed successfully using methods of the past," explained Jim Pelham, County Extension Director. "Businessmen in the mid-Michigan area must equip themselves to handle changing management problems."

Jim's Column

What's Extension all about?

Jim Pelham

Clinton County Extension Director

The Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University is now 60 years old. In the beginning, each county was staffed with an agricultural agent and a secretary.

Then came a 4-H club agent, who first worked with corn and potato clubs and soon branched into all other areas of teaching farming to boys and girls.

There is little resemblance between the Extension programs of Wayne, Emmett and Clinton Counties, for example. The Wayne County service, which includes Detroit, does little with large farms, but does a surprising amount of work with commercial gardeners, answers a fantastic number of home and lawn calls and has carried out an effective program in expanded nutrition which has proved highly effective in relieving the plight of the urban poor.

Representative and judge address

Pomona Grange

Clinton County Pomona Grange met with Stockman-Horton Grange Saturday, Sept 14. At the business meeting it was announced there will be 6 winners in the sewing contest with Marie Thelen winning first place.

Powell of Ionia who discussed some of the bills before the legislature such as reduction of taxes on property, food and gasoline. He said there were 5053 bills presented this year. He said he missed 4 roll calls in 1974.

Emmett County includes the plush summer resort centers of Harbor Springs and Petoskey and Extension works a great deal in the areas of resource development and county planning in the midst of a recreation area land boom.

FASHION "INS" AND "OUTS"
Plaid is in say the fashion experts. And 4-H'ers in the National 4-H Dress Revue program add their support, as they made and modeled ensembles in hundreds of revues this summer.

Jeans and tank tops are "out" say the youths as dresses, pantsuits, sport coats and slacks are replacing them as fashion musts. Plaids will accent styles this fall as good looking, stylish clothes and returning to youthful wardrobes. These 4-H fashion stylists find that making their own outfits can be fun, relaxing and practical, too. They find their wardrobes can be expanded with a greater variety, generally on a smaller budget.

The 4-H dress revue program emphasizes more than sewing and modeling. Participants are encouraged to assist younger 4-H'ers with their sewing and modeling and to share their knowledge in planning and conducting local revues. Several 1973 National winners in the program include Lynn O'Reilly of California, who worked in a special pilot project assisting low income youth in creating their own outfits. She felt the experience was the most meaningful endeavor she had ever performed.

Another National winner was Janet Walther of Indiana who created a dress revue workshop for 4-H'ers in her county. She taught 4-H'ers correct modeling procedures, selection of accessories and personal grooming. The workshop helped stimulate interest and participation throughout the area.

Anyone interested in taking a 4-H clothing project and enrolling in a 4-H club should contact the County Extension Office in St. Johns -- 224-3288

Farmers, sportsmen share interest on September 28

LANSING -- Michigan farmers share an interest with sportsmen in the observance of National Hunting and Fishing Day Sept 28, since much of the game harvested in Michigan comes from farm land, said B. Dale Ball, Director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

productive of wildlife," he added. About 20 million acres of Michigan is owned and operated by farmers and private timberland owners. All of this produces wildlife, but farmers go above and beyond their jobs of food and fiber production to manage three quarters of a million acres especially for fish and game, said Ball.

The mixed bag of food and leftovers that results from farming stimulates production of pheasants, rabbits, deer, ducks, geese, squirrels, turkeys, quail and other Michigan game, said Director Ball.

With the help of their soil conservation districts, they build wildlife ponds, leave unplowed field corners, manage hay fields for pheasant production, leave weeds, grasses, and grain for winter food and cover, plant wildlife food, leave den trees for raccoons and squirrels, and adopt other practices of benefit to fish and game.

Good soil and water management, practiced with the assistance of soil and water conservation districts, improves wildlife food and cover on Michigan farms and helps assure Michigan hunters of a continuing harvest.

Tree farms, whether they're the back woodlot of a dairy farm or a solidly stocked northern forest, provide plentiful cover and lush new wildlife food following periodic harvests, Ball noted. "The intensively harvested forest is generally the forest that's most

Autumn leaves... so much for the cold weather theory

By WILLIAM LASHER
Extension Agriculture Agent

Shorter days -- not colder weather -- cause leaves to change color and drop from the trees each fall. The beautiful autumn leaf colors are caused by pigments, the chemical substances found in most living things.

production of new chlorophyll in the leaves diminishes while the breakdown of old chlorophyll continues. Soon all the chlorophyll is gone and the other pigments emerge as the characteristic fall colors.

Perhaps the reason is simply that most environmental factors, such as temperature, rainfall and food supply, vary from year to year. Changes in the hours of daylight, on the other hand, are the result of the regular movement of the earth around the sun, and don't vary from year to year.

"Why don't you join with us to quit bellyaching about things all the time. Of course, there are legitimate things that need airing but a lot, a mighty lot of our complaints are petty and gossipy. This has gone off on a different angle since sitting down to type. What ails this typewriter?" It's saying things and going on without my consent.

This year our garden served a double purpose. It was something Pete could work in with a crutch and cast and see results. It wasn't too far to walk so he went out several times a day. He worked away like a beaver setting a goal to reach by nightfall. It has been a blessing in disguise!!!

But the garden is booming in spite of Pete's quotes. Rows too crooked, plants too close together, plants too far apart, etc. As it was, it was about the best garden we've had in a long time. (Since the girls were home doing it.)

Drivers exceeding 55 mph are getting acquainted with State Police

LANSING - Michigan State Police enforcement of the present 55-mile-an-hour traffic speed limit resulted in 72,655 arrests in the April-July period this year, according to department figures reviewed by Col. George L. Halverson, director.

"That period represents the first 4 full months for which figures are available since we began enforcement of the lower limit in mid-March," Halverson said.

Of the 72,655 total, 37,756, or over half, of the arrests were made on interstate routes. "By comparison," Halverson said, "our arrests in the April-July period last year when the overall posted maximum was 70 mph numbered 51,322, and of this total 17,672 were on expressways."

In comparing the figures for the 4-month periods this year and last, total State Police speeding arrests this year increased by 41%, while the freeway speeding arrests have more than doubled with a 114% increase.

During the same 4 months, traffic fatalities showed a 17% reduction this year compared with the period in 1973.

In the first seven months this year, State Police speeding arrests totaled 99,428, with 45,101, or 45.4%, occurring on interstate routes. In that period last year, arrests totaled 85,801, with 29,504 or 34.4% coming on interstates. Traffic accident fatalities on interstate routes numbered 95 in the first 7 months this year, compared with 139 in that period last year. The 95 deaths this year represented 9.9% of the traffic accident toll in Michigan in the first 7 months. The 139 deaths charged to expressway traffic accidents in the first 7 months of 1973 represented 10.9% of the period's total.

Although the current 55 mph speed limit law became effective March 2 in Michigan, the State Police, then directed by Col. John R. Plants, announced at that time they would give motorists several weeks to adjust to the new lower limit before trooper enforcement began.

During that grace period, troopers had been instructed, however, to stop any motorists exceeding the new limit and to call their attention as necessary to the lower maximum. The State Police enforcement grace period was predicted on completion of placement of new speed limit signs throughout the state by the Highway's Department. Because of the sign placement project, the State Police scheduled March 16 at the target date for starting enforcement of the 55 mph speed limit law.

The New 1975 Oldsmobiles Are Here!

SEE THEM NOW AT

BEE'S Chevy-Olds, Inc.

"We've got a feeling you're going to like all our 1975 Oldsmobiles, including our sporty new Starfire."

It's a good feeling to have an Olds around you.

"There's a lot of new small coupes on the market. What makes Starfire special?"

"Starfire is a 4-seater Supercoupe with Oldsmobile for a last name."

Starfire is smaller than compact in size—but it's so big on looks, features and performance (and economy), it's really a brand new kind of car: a Supercoupe.

It was born for the sport of driving. Plush bucket seats. Console. Gauges and tach. New V6 engine, 4-speed full-synch gearbox. Torque-arm rear suspension. Power front disc brakes. GM-specification steel-belted radial tires.

Which helps explain why it's a good feeling to have this Olds around you.

"We drive down to the ocean a lot. So we were thinking about stepping down to an import to save gas."

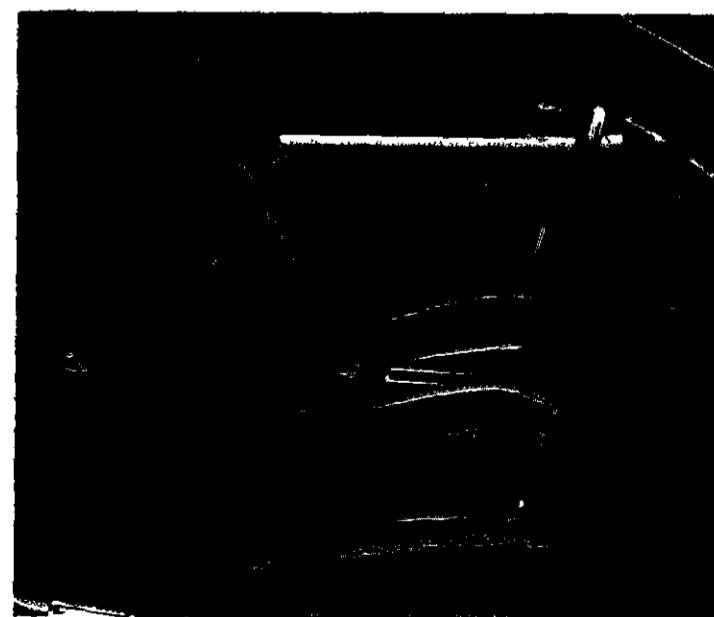

"Omega Salon is a roomy compact that's easy on gas—yet it's equipped to give you the kind of comforts you'd get in a little touring car."

First, Olds improved the basic, low-price Omegas for '75. The results were so impressive, they went on to create a new compact-size touring car: Omega Salon.

With high-back reclining lounge chairs in front, a new steering geometry and a steel-belted grip on the road, it has the kind of look and feel you'd expect in an imported touring car. But not the price. Salon also has those basic Omega improvements for gas economy. It's a lot of little Olds—and then some.

High-back buckets, front, fold-down seat in back.

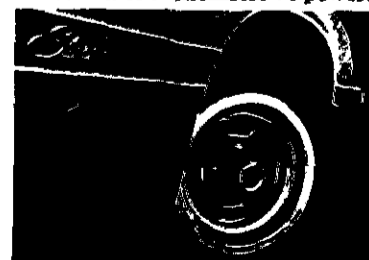

We hatched the back to carry a load.

A sleek, action look—coming and going.

"I don't make a lot of money—so I can't spend a lot. But I still want a car I can be proud of."

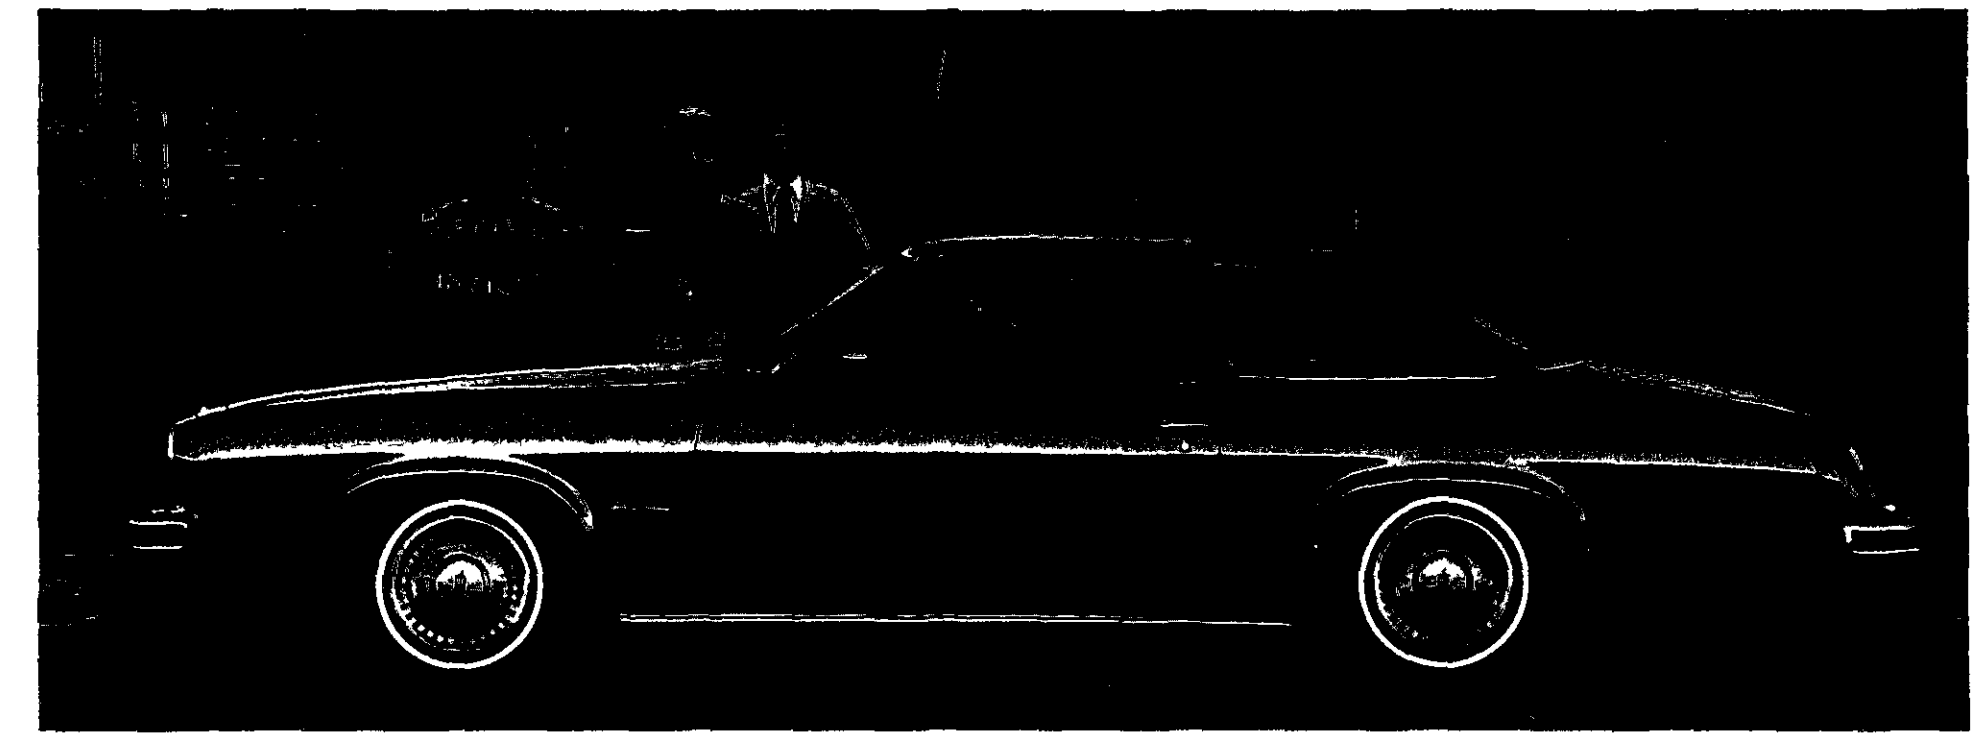

"When you step up to a Cutlass—for less than the price of some other mid-sized cars—you'll be proud and pleased. And you'll like the gas mileage, too."

"A woman in this business needs a car that makes a good impression on people. But I don't want to spend a fortune to do it."

"Take a good look at Cutlass Supreme—our 'little limousine.' It's a very luxurious car for its size and price. Delivers good mileage, too."

When Car and Driver readers voted Cutlass America's "Best Domestic Family Sedan" in '73 and again in '74, you know it's a car to be proud of in a lot of ways.

Now it's also more economical, in a lot of ways. High-energy ignition. Economy axle. Catalytic converter emissions control. GM-specs steel-belted radial tires.

All standard. A thrifty Six is standard, too—and a new "baby" V8 is available. The nice thing is, Cutlass is still an Olds in looks . . . and ride . . . and value.

What's made our "little limousine" so popular is all that luxury in a trim, easy-handling car. Now it offers smaller engines and better gas mileage, too.

Supreme makes available some things even big limousines don't. Like contoured bucket seats that swivel you in and out, with reversible seat cushions and backs—durable vinyl on one side, rich fabric on the other. And Tempmatic air conditioning. All to make your Supreme even more of a little limousine.

Good-looking, deep-foam seats—for comfort that keeps its good looks.

"My Mom lives way out in the country, so we need a car that'll take a lot of driving, but not a lot of gas."

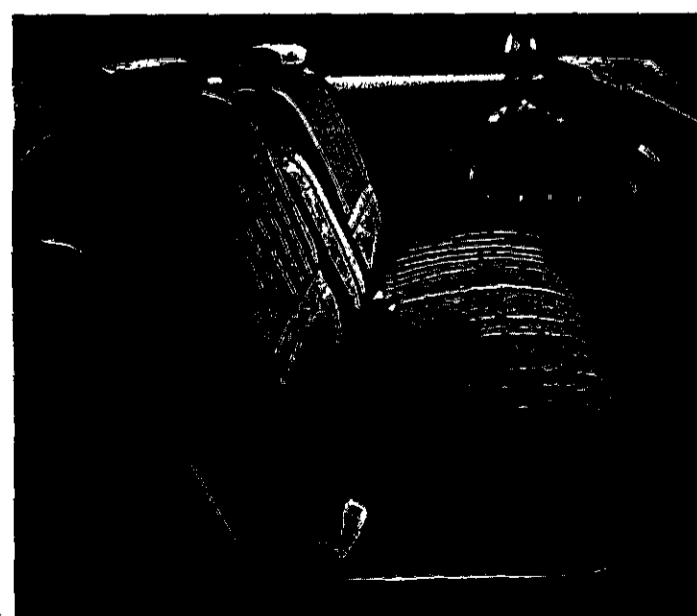

"The family sized Delta 88 Royale is built to take a lot of miles and give good gas mileage. And it'll take you in style and comfort, too."

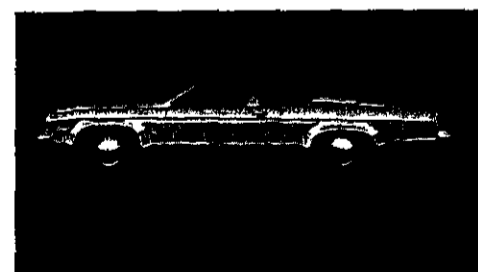

Delta 88's been known to be a tough car, built for the distance. Now it's built to get more efficient performance and more distance from every gallon of gas.

With less required maintenance, at that. But there's more. Olds has re-tuned the ride. Changed the emissions system. Restyled the roofline of 4-door models, and added those little windows you see. So if this year's Delta 88 seems to take you farther and more luxuriously on a gallon of gas, it's not just illusion.

Luxury, comfort, center armrest—all standard in this Royale.

Yes, there's still an Olds convertible.

Available: economy gauge.

Electronic message center monitors up to 9 functions.

Delta 88 and Royale standard features include: Rocket 350 V8 • High-energy ignition • New catalytic converter emission control system • Economy axle • New extended-interval recommended maintenance schedule • Turbo Hydra-matic transmission • Variable-ratio power steering • Power front disc brakes • Steel-belted radial tires • 124-inch wheelbase • Electronic message center • Swingaway grille • Full-wheel discs • Deep-foam seats

"I think they've done a great styling job on the 98's —but what'd they do about gas?"

"With Oldsmobile's 98 Regency and Toronado you don't have to lower your standard of driving to raise your miles per gallon."

"I've been a Toronado man since '67, but these days you have to consider gas economy, too."

98 Regency—famous for its uncommon touches—now has some new ones: New rectangular headlamps, new side visibility and rear styling, a new smaller V8 engine available. Plus more miles per gallon than last year.

Toronado—America's first contemporary front-wheel drive luxury car—makes news for '75 with substantially improved gas mileage, a new Toronado Brougham model, and a sophisticated new "invisible" anti-theft alarm system you can order.

Handsome velour seats with a "loose cushion" effect.

"The kind of kids I drive around can break just about anything. So I need a wagon that's tougher than they are."

"There's a wagon full of reasons to buy an Oldsmobile. Being tough is just one of them."

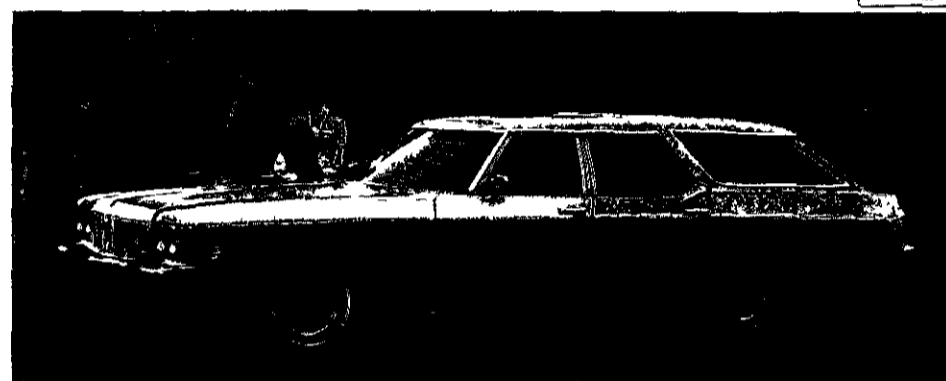

"We spent a year finding just the right house. Now we need a luxury wagon that's tough enough to help on moving day."

Oldsmobile reserves the right to make changes at any time, without notice, in prices, colors, materials, equipment, specifications and models, and also to discontinue models.

Vista-Cruiser: With Rocket 350 V8, automatic transmission, power steering and brakes, GM-spec. steel-belted radial tires, and basic Olds durability standard on a 116-inch wheelbase, you've got a tough wagon. Cutlass Supreme wagons, too.

Custom-Cruiser: Think of it as an Olds 98 with loads of cargo space. 127-inch wheelbase, luxurious interiors, deep-foam seats and deep-pile carpeting—and now, more miles per gallon than last year. Available without side paneling, also.

It's a good feeling to have an Olds around you.

The new Oldsmobiles are here. And we have a beautiful selection in every beautiful series right now. So look through this brochure. Then come on out . . . while we still have the Olds model you're most interested in.
