Communities Chest drive 2 weeks away

Clinton County's big annual Communities Chest campaign is scheduled to kick off Oct. 16, and volunteer workers will be making a concentrated effort to wrap up the solicitation of contributions in a two-week period ending Oct. 31.

The drive this year will seek to raise $27,000 to be distributed among nine agencies which do extensive work in Clinton County. The goal is $500 higher than last year's aiming point and about $3,500 more than was actually received in donations last year.

But the Communities Chest board, headed by Mrs. Alvin (Marie) Thelen of 4351 W. Parks Road, is enthusiastic about the chances for reaching the goal. Drives for the past three or four years have fallen short.

The Chest board made one big change in the procedure this year which they are hopeful will be just as well, if not better, received by the people of the county. Communities Chest mailers, involving a letter requesting contributions, will be sent to all persons living in the rural areas of the county.

In past years, volunteer workers canvassed house-to-house, but in the rural areas this was particularly time consuming, often to the point that there wasn't time and manpower to visit all the rural homes. The Chest board is hopeful the direct mail approach will make contact with every family in the county.

House-to-house canvassing will continue to be carried out in the villages of the county and the cities of St. Johns and DeWitt, where this type of canvassing doesn't involve nearly the amount of time it does in rural areas.

Should the goal of $27,000 in contributions be reached this year, the money will be distributed in this manner to the following agencies:

Michigan United Fund $5,900; Michigan Children's Aid Society, $600; Red Cross $10,000; St. Vincent DePaul Society $1,000; Lansing Child Guidance $700; Salvation Army $2,200; Boy Scouts $3,700; Girl Scouts $2,100; and Chamber-4-H Fair $500.

Medical research 'big' in UF allocation

One of the agencies sharing in the Clinton County Communities Chest campaign this year is the Michigan United Fund. The UF will receive $5,900 if the Chest goal of $27,000 is reached.

The Michigan United Fund consists of 16 state agencies and 20 national agencies.

In the field of research, 24.83 per cent of the UF 1966 allocation covered work in improved treatments for an ultimate prevention of heart and circulatory disorders, arthritis and rheumatism, mental illness and retardation, kidney disease, cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, diabetes, epilepsy, cancer, polio, alcoholism, leukemia and loss of hearing.

Field and community services received 13.25 per cent, public and professional education 19.18 per cent, planning and coordinating services 11.98 per cent, and services to individuals and communities 30.76.

One of the national organizations included is the United Service Organization—better known as the USO. As of Dec. 31, 1966, approximately 523 men and women from Clinton County were in the armed forces of the United States.

"We all know that the USO has provided these people with recreational and morale-building services both here and abroad," county Communities Chest officials noted. "Michigan United Fund supported USO in 1966 at a cost of $2.74 for each resident of Michigan in the service of our country. Let us all remember these young people when we are contacted either by personal call or mailer, for our contribution this coming year."

Park zoo will stay, city decides

The St. Johns City Park Zoo may not rival those in the big cities, but the charm and popularity of the facility here—as expressed to city commissioners in recent weeks—has prompted the commission to drop any thought of getting rid of it.

The commission took the zoo matter under consideration when they heard that some residents in the immediate park area were complaining about odors from the zoo. Other city residents jumped to the defense of the zoo when they heard about the possibility of it being discontinued.

The commission didn't take any definite action last Tuesday night, but they did express some feeling about keeping it after all, and City Manager Ken Greer was authorized to work out some improvement projects that might be carried out with the help of local service clubs.

SUCH PROJECTS may be developed from administrative suggestions that Greer made to the commission. He had recommended that park personnel be authorized to improve upon the existing fencing, drainage and general cleanliness of the area. The commission hopes local groups will help out, too, because of the current tight budget which doesn't allow for any capital improvements at the park this year.

Greer maintains that a lot of the odor coming from the zoo area actually results from certain atmospheric and humidity conditions in conjunction with the small swampy area just north

Bath pilot dies in Vietnam

War touched Clinton County again this week with the announcement of the death in Vietnam of Warrant Officer Charles Wentzel, 21, a graduate of Bath High School.

Wentzel died last Thursday from injuries received Sept. 18 when a helicopter in which he was flying co-pilot lost its power and crashed near the town of An Khe, South Vietnam. He was a member of the 1st Cavalry Division Airmobile Unit.

He was fifth soldier from Clinton County to be killed in Vietnam in 1967.

A memorial service was held Monday at Bath High School, from which the warrant officer graduated in 1964. He joined the Army in August 1966 and graduated from warrant officer training at Ft. Rucker, Ala., Aug. 1. He had arrived in Vietnam Sept. 6, just two weeks before his death.

He was a member of Chapel Hill Church in East Lansing. Surviving are his wife, Nancy of 19609 Main Street, Bath; two daughters, Wendy Carol and Laurie; and his parents, Mr and Mrs Eugene G. Wentzel of Haslett.

Clinton welfare staff being cut

GEORGE W. SMITH

George W. Smith, associated with Investors Diversified Services, Inc., has been reelected commander of Edwin T. Stiles Post No. 153, American Legion, of St. Johns. Other officers are: Larry Karber, first vice commander; Don Warstler, second vice commander; John Hall, adjutant; Dale Robinson, finance officer; E.O. (Skip) Lundy, chaplain; and Arthur Hicks, historian.

Clinton County is losing its full-time children's welfare worker because of a lack of sufficient appropriations from the Legislature.

George Eberhard, supervisor director of the Department of Social Services for Clinton County, announced Monday that Fran DeCarolis, the children's worker here for the past year, will be transferred into Ingham County as a result of the forced cutback in the staff here. The transfer is effective Oct. 1.

Mrs. Toby Weismiller, who has been working strictly on ADC cases for the past year, will assume the role of children's worker but will also continue with some ADC cases. The other ADC cases will be taken care of by Mrs. Lois Moss.

Eberhard said letters are going out this week to county supervisors, county departments and schools notifying them of the staff cutback resulting from the Legislature's declining to go along with the welfare department's budget requests.

City buying radar equipment

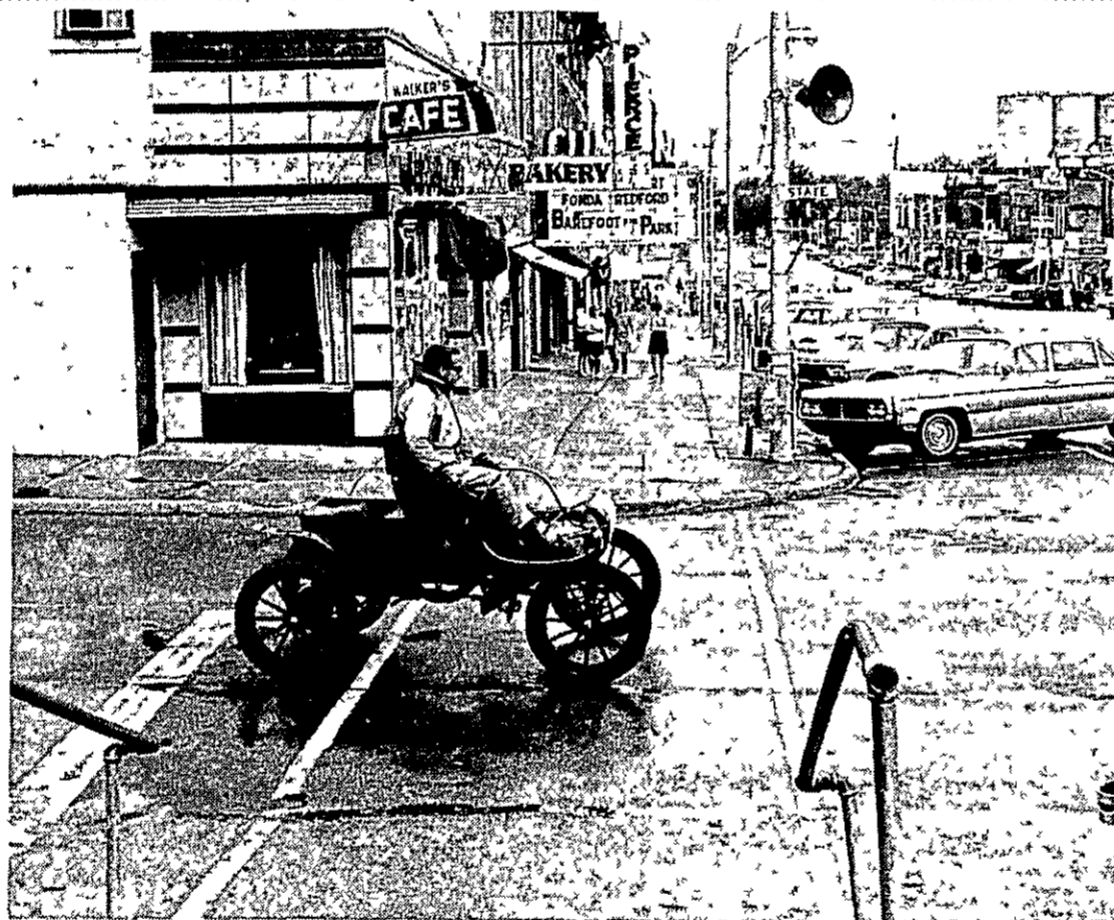

Smile! You're on radar! Motorists in St. Johns who have been edging up over the speed limit on occasions may do well to obey the law a little more closely now, because the City of St. Johns is purchasing a radar unit to check the speed of autos.

The city commission authorized the purchase of such a unit last week for $1,292. A recent demonstration check of 98 cars showed 84 were speeding.

ANOTHER SAFETY topic arose at last week's commission meeting. The city received a pedestrian safety award from the American Automobile Assn. commending the city for again having no pedestrian deaths during the last year. The award cites the fact that there have been, in fact, no pedestrian deaths here in five years.

In other business last Tuesday, the commission referred to the planning commission a proposed zoning ordinance amendment that would allow two-family homes in areas now zoned

A DRIVE INTO THE FUTURE

It was like two different worlds passing each other. Hundreds of ancient automobiles passed across Clinton County on M-21 last week, contrasting the old days of motoring with the modern days. This car is a 1903 Olds passing across Clinton Ave in front of the courthouse in St. Johns. Some 250 old cars were scheduled to take part in the Glidden Tour of antique cars through central and western Michigan last Thursday.

St. Johns fishermen dodge death storm

A wild experience on the edge of tragedy

Two St. Johns fishermen had a wild experience on the edge of tragedy last Saturday while coho salmon-fishing north of Frankfort.

They were nearly swamped by the storm that came up on Lake Michigan Saturday morning and drowned at least seven fishermen in the Frankfort area. A score or more of other fishermen were still missing Tuesday.

John Spousta of 510 N. Mead Street and Jake Wabeke of 418 Meadowview Drive had quit fishing about 11:30 a.m. Saturday when the rough water and approaching storm forced them off on the shoreline about two miles north of the Platte River north of Frankfort before deciding to give up for the day.

BUT THEIR CAR and boat trailer for Wabeke's 12-foot aluminum boat was upstream on the Platte, so Spousta and Wabeke headed down the shoreline toward the river staying within about 100 yards of shore.

"A lot of boats were beaching," Spousta said, "and we decided that if the waves got hard we were ready to beach, too. But they didn't until we got to the mouth of the Platte where there was a sand bar. One wave did hit us there and almost tipped us over, so we decided to beach right away."

Then came the first of two coincidences. The first person on shore to grab hold of their boat was a friend of Wabeke's from Saginaw, a man he had met last year on a Canadian fishing trip. The man and his wife had come up the shoreline from Frankfort but weren't about to go back down in the storm.

Wabeke and Spousta offered to drive them back to Frankfort, so they dragged the boats over a sandbar at the mouth of the river and boated upstream to the car.

IN FRANKFORT the other couple's camper was near the Coast Guard station, and they watched helicopters going out on rescue missions. At least two bodies were brought in while they were there.

"We went down to the beach," Spousta said, "and could see some of the boats that hadn't gotten in yet. There were 12 to 15-foot waves and they were hitting the breakwater and splashing up as high as the lighthouse."

"It was quite an ordeal. You could see boats out there, and sometimes you could see light under the boat when a wave would take them up and drop them about 10 feet right to the bottom."

"One of the boats that did come in the channel almost got smashed. If he hadn't had a good strong motor he would have been smashed against the lighthouse."

Wabeke and Spousta helped that boat beach, and the occupants turned out to be friends of other members of Spousta's annual deer hunting party. "They were pretty well shook up," Spousta said. "They thought they were all done. Later his wife got kidding about it and said her husband must have thought they had all done because 'he called me honey out there and (See EXPERIENCE, Page 2-A)

Bingo⁵!

Certainly not by plan, the Clinton County News Newspaper Bingo contest has taken on a pattern of winners every other week. Last week was the week for winners, and there were five of them to share the $100 prize available. The winning cards were picked up at four different locations. This week's prize is $50 and the contest cards are colored red. This could be the week the every-other-week pattern is broken. Contest rules are on Page 4-B.

Small tornado hits Boichot Road area

A freakish tornado caused a 100-yard-long path of damage on Boichot Road in DeWitt township late Thursday morning, but no injuries were reported. Residents in the area told state police they didn't see any funnel cloud, but the air was full of dust when the wind struck at 11:45 a.m.

Most seriously damaged was the home of Arnold Feher at 15455 Boichot Road, just north of the curve. In the road, one side on the Feher's garage was blown out and carried out into a back yard garden, and the back wall of the garage was moved four or five inches.

Mrs Feher was home at the time the tornado hit. "I had no idea there were tornadoes around," she said. "I didn't realize it was a tornado until it was gone, I think."

The tornado apparently dipped out of the sky right at the curve. Robert A. Young of 3380 Green Road, R-5, reported to St. Johns police last week that the commercial license plate on his pickup truck was either lost or stolen.

In Boichot Road, huge branches on a couple of trees in front of the Franklin Robles home at 15501 Boichot were blown down into the yard. At the home of Joseph Manina Jr. at 15473 Boichot Road a front bedroom window was shattered, spewing glass all over the room.

Tri-County gets pre-census grant

The Tri-County Regional Planning Commission has received a $2,851 grant to be used to make local preparations for the 1970 federal census in Clinton, Ingham and Eaton counties.

Herbert A. Maier, Tri-County assistant director, said the money will be used to update maps for the census and prepare a block-by-block address code for probably Lansing, East Lansing, the urbanized section of Meridian Township adjacent to East Lansing, and Lansing Township. The code will permit computer storage and fast recall of all the different types of data collected.

Tri-County workers have already completed tracing all of the three counties, in contrast to 1960 when only Lansing, East Lansing, and Meridian, Lansing, Delta, Delhi and DeWitt townships were divided into tracts. Maier said the tracing of the entire region should make the date collected in the census more valuable, since it can be pinned down for more specific areas rather than entire political units.

City Manager Ken Greer told the commission that engineers estimate the cost to reopen three blocks of Sanitary sewer along the Grand Trunk railroad tracks between Traver and Mead streets would be about $40,000.

GREER AND CITY Atty. Harold Reed were appointed to determine if motors in an outside building at the Eberhard Store on East State Street are a public nuisance. Joe Karber, who lives across White Street from the store, said the noise from the motors at night is excessive.

Mayor Charles Coletta and Police Chief Everett Glazier are to work out with school authorities possible solutions to traffic congestion and safety problems on McConnell Street behind the high school.

Winter heat solved, MR council hopes

MAPLE RAPIDS—The Maple Rapids Village Council got to thinking about the winter ahead last Wednesday night, then looked about the village hall and decided to make some changes in the heating system.

Leads will be run from the gas furnace in the fire hall into the village council room to supply heat there. The present overhead heating unit in the council room tends to be noisy at times and isn't all that efficient for the size room it has to heat, councilmen decided.

That overhead unit will be moved into the fire hall to provide heat there.

The council also put out a call to village residents, clubs and other organizations who might like to up-date and keep up-to-date the list of names on the veterans monument in Memorial Park. Presently only the names of Maple Rapids area men who served in World Wars I and II are listed, but the council felt it would be appropriate to add a list of those who have served since then.

The council last Wednesday also approved repair work to a broken sidewalk in the 100-block of North Maple Street, decided to clean out the leaf- and trash-clogged ditch on Garfield Street, and talked over the possibility of putting in a new acoustical ceiling in the council room.

Experience

SPOUSTA AND Wabeke didn't see any of the many boats that were capsized by the storm. Most of those apparently overturned between the Platte River and Frankfort, south of where the St. Johns pair had gotten off the lake.

"But it was quite an experience," Spousta said, "one that I'll never forget. It should teach a lot of them a lesson, especially with a small boat, not to get out too far."

Spousta's and Wabeke's adventure began about dawn Saturday. They had taken Wabeke's camper trailer on Friday night and camped at Benzle State Park near Glen Arbor. They went out in the big lake with Wabeke's 12-foot aluminum boat powered by a three-horsepower motor.

"There were thousands of fishermen there," Spousta said. The water wasn't rough, and there was an off-shore breeze up to about 9 a.m. or so, and then it started to get choppy. They were about 500 yards offshore.

After another hour or so of fishing, the wind began to change direction and the sky began to get dark in the southwest, and waves began to build up. "Then we went in for lunch and gas," Spousta said.

AFTER LUNCH THEY headed back for the Platte River, staying within 100 yards of shore. "There was nothing disastrous as far as we could see," Spousta said, although the waves on the shore were constantly filling a lot of boats that were beached.

Spousta said fishermen out on the lake had 1 1/2 to two hours to get off "if they were smart. But some of them just wouldn't give up, and those are probably the ones who had the trouble. "Some of the boats were out about five miles, and they probably thought they would have time to get in with their bigger boats. But the storm was more than anyone had anticipated.

"Some people had transistor radios and could hear the weather reports earlier," he said, "but we hadn't known it was going to get bad. We could see it coming and were close enough to shore that we could get off."

The weekend that was a disaster for many was fortunately only an adventure for Spousta and Wabeke. They got in only about four hours of fishing Saturday morning before the storm and continuing rough water Sunday forced them to break camp and come home.

"The coho were there," Spousta said. "They were jumping all around us, but we didn't happen to put our bait in the right spot, I guess."

THAT EVENING as many as 350 boys in the six age groups may be vying for the handsome trophies and a chance to compete in zone, district, area and national PP&K championships.

The winners locally will receive trophies—a gold one for first place, silver for second and bronze for third—in each age category. All participating boys will get free refreshments, courtesy of Egan Ford Sales, which will be served by the Jayettes. The Jayettes' will also make available refreshments to the audience Oct. 7.

Gene Downing PP&K director, said the ground rules of the PP&K competition Oct. 7 will also be discussed so that the boys will be familiar with the rules. Punt Pass & Kick involves no body contact between the boys. Boys are judged, in competition with others their own age, on the distance they can punt, pass or kick the ball and on accuracy. A point is awarded for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly, and a point is subtracted for each foot the ball

This will be the first time the clinic has been held on the football field, and Downing believes the atmosphere of the athletic field will boost the enthusiasm of the boys to participate in PP&K.

Bob Frechen and Richard Wood, co-chairmen of the PP&K project for the co-sponsoring St. Johns Jayees, are lining up workers to help in the judging and supervision of the young kickers, punters and passers

Boys taking the trip were Randy Craig, Mark Allen, Jeff Tyler, Lewis MacDonald, Dave Stewart, Daniel Winsor, Rodney Brock, Chris Cook, Martin Stewart, Fred Rexas, Mark Easlick, David Croad, Gary Floate, Brad Bleaster and Rocky Craig.

Men accompanying the boys included Doug Cook, Jack Croad, Gordon Easlick, Edd Carr, Don Allen, Dale Schultz, Don Wiseman and Norm Partee.

Band performs at Ann Arbor

The St. Johns Redwing Marching Band appeared Saturday at Band Day at the University of Michigan, both in the mass band and at a post-game show.

Sixteen thousand bandmen performed several marches of the world-renowned composer Karl L. King at half-time. Dr King could not be present at Band Day due to illness, so Dr Revell and George Cavendar conducted the bands. Tapes of the half-time performances by the 168 bands will be sent to Dr King.

After the game the five invited bands—including St. Johns—put on their shows. One band was from Canada, one from Illinois and three from Michigan. The Redwing Band was well received by the spectators, visiting bands and Dr Revell. Terry Foster, local radio announcer, announced the St. Johns show.

Movies were taken by Raymond Parr and Richard Kramer of the band's performance and the mass band show. A public showing of the films will be announced.

Park zoo . . .

and west of the zoo.

The drinking water run-off from the animal pens contributes to the swampy condition, he said, along with the natural run-off of rainwater in the area and the unfinished storm drain located on the south side of Park street.

"REMOVING OR relocating this zoo would not eliminate the odors from this swamp," Greer told the commission. "Concrete floors in some of the pens would make the clean-up considerably easier and of course would encourage that it be done more often, but the odors present wouldn't be completely eliminated even with this change."

Greer asked the commission's approval to have the park crew concentrate during the winter months on the removal of the dead trees in the swamp area in an attempt to open it up so that sunlight can assist in drying up the swamp. He said they would also attempt to confine the run-off water into a small, clean stream following the natural contours of the land.

"The determining factor as to what should be done and how much should be spent on this particular problem would of necessity need to be in consideration as to how serious the odor problem actually is," Greer said.

"There are, of course, certain odors in connection with all animals and fowls, but on the occasions that this has been investigated the odors have not been very objectionable and very little of this type of odor is detectable on the north side of Park Street."

OTHER FACTORS which the city commission considered in evaluating the zoo involved the condition of the zoo area, pens, fences and cages relative to their aesthetic values, the maltreatment of birds and animals by some park visitors and the cost to the community for the zoo operation and maintenance.

The condition of the fences, and pens is at the lowest point here at the end of the summer season, Greer said. "Many improvements should be planned," he said, "including a better type of fencing for its aesthetic value along with a double fencing system to control the irresponsible acts of certain people."

Greer pointed out in his recommendations that there is and always will be a certain amount of cruelty and maltreatment of the birds and animals by the general public. A double fencing system and added police patrols would help to minimize it, but the problem would always be there, Greer said.

The total zoo operation as it is presently operated costs St. Johns about $2,000 each year, Greer said.

"Complete abolishment of the zoo, however, wouldn't save this sum of money, as it is only an arbitrary assignment of park labor along with the cost of feed, materials and equipment," Greer said. "Eliminating the zoo would do away with the necessity of the cost of the feed, but it would not eliminate our park equipment, and it would not eliminate our park labor, portions of which are included in the $2,000."

Enrollment campaign slated for October at Assembly of God

"I'll Tell the World" is the rallying theme for the Sunday School members of the St. Johns Assembly of God church for the month of October as they participate in the annual fall Enrollment Campaign.

Relatives, friends, neighbors and everyday associates will be invited to visit the Sunday School and church during the campaign, Rev. Mr. Joseph F. Eger, Jr., pastor of the church, said. The local Assembly of God is one of thousands of churches throughout the nation taking part in the enlargement effort.

AS AN ASSISTANT to the pastor, Claude Barrett, Sunday school superintendent, is organizing the Sunday school staff of more than 10 teachers and workers to carry out the weekly emphasis of the campaign. Special activities and presentations are being prepared for each Sunday of October.

The campaign is designed to involve every member of the Sunday school from the youngest to the oldest. This is the fourth year St. Johns Assembly of God has participated in an enlargement campaign. Currently the church has a Sunday school enrollment of 75.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

Because of increasing travel, death frequently occurs away from home.

In such event, we can arrange for the prompt return of the deceased through our professional contact with funeral directors throughout the U.S.

If burial is desired at a distant point, we can likewise complete all the arrangements.

Respectfully,

Van W. Hoag

Either we're charging too little, or everyone else is charging too much.

Rambler American. The only U.S. car that could stop you from buying an import.

At a price very close to the leading import, the American seats six people instead of four.

It gives you nearly twice as much room in the trunk and more than twice as much engine under the hood.

Like the imports, the American doesn't change its style every year, gets about 20 miles on a gallon of regular gas.

Unlike some imports, it never gives you the feeling that you're driving a toy.

Rebel. America's most underrated car.

The Rebel 550 Hardtop is the lowest priced intermediate sized hardtop in America.

It looks sporty, drives sporty and still gives you all the things that most people buy a car for.

The Rebel—Hardtop, Wagon, Sedan or Convertible, V8 or 6—is everything we think a car should be.

Before you pay more for an intermediate, make sure you get as much.

Ambassador. The car with air conditioning as standard equipment.

Air conditioning has been around for a long time, but so far only a few companies—the people who make

Rolls Royce for one—have had the good sense to include it in their cars at no extra cost.

We're another.

We just don't understand why someone should be asked to pay a lot of money for a luxury car and then be asked to pay over $300 more for the luxury of air conditioning.

Introducing the Javelin.

Although we've always had the reputation for making sensibly priced, well-built cars, we've never had the reputation for making hot, sporty cars.

We'll soon have the reputation for making hot, sporty cars.

The front and rear bumpers on the Javelin are massive. Unlike thin blade bumpers, these give the car a rich, racy look.

The side windows on the Javelin are solid sheets of curved glass, without vents to break up its fast lines.

The Javelin SST comes with wheel discs, special exterior trim, reclining bucket seats and a woodgrain steering wheel, all standard.

And all for a lower price than the other sporty hardtops.

Adventist teacher attends 3-day workshop

Miss Helen Crouse of St. Johns was among 400 Seventh-day Adventist elementary teachers who attended a three-day institute at Andrews University at Berrien Springs, Sept. 13 to 15.

The teachers came from a four-state area known as the Lake Union Territory (Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, and Wisconsin) in which the church operates 129 parochial schools with an enrollment of 6,201.

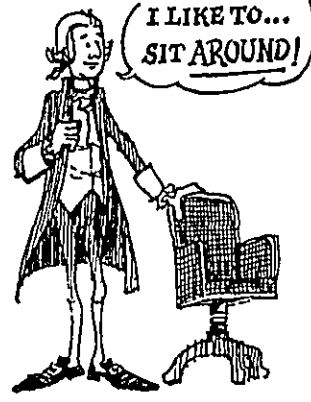

Adventists operate the second largest parochial school system in the United States.

For the students it meant a three-day bonus vacation. But the teachers put in longer hours at the institute and workshops than they did during a normal day of teaching.

Commenting on the institute, Miss Crouse said, "Especially helpful were the workshops which emphasized methods for the attainment of our three-fold goal of education—the highest development of the physical, mental, and spiritual capabilities of each child so that he may not only be of service to his fellowmen but may also receive the reward of eternal life."

ROAST PIG AT 4-H CLUB OUTING

About 100 members, leaders and guests of the Prairie 4-H Club had a luau Sunday afternoon at the Warren Eldridge woods on West Colony Road. Attention bowlers!

The Clinton County News will publish the results of weekly bowling competition for any league rolled at any bowling lanes in Clinton County. Please include the date on which the bowling scores were made, as well as the name of the current league-leading team.

Because of the number of bowling leagues reporting and the time involved in composition of the material and type, bowling results must be received by the newspaper within three days of the competition in order for it to appear in the next issue of the paper. No results can be accepted after 9 a.m. Tuesdays—the News' deadline for all contributed copy.

Bingham services mark centennial

A number of former residents returned "home" last Sunday to help the members and friends of the Bingham EUB Church participate in the centennial observance of the organization of the first Class.

The morning worship services set the tone for the centennial ceremonies. The title of the sermon, given by the Rev. Eugene Friesen, was "Inspired by a Memory." Describing the Old Testament drama in which the children of Israel crossed the Jordan river into the "promised land," he recalled Joshua's instructions to the 12 tribal representatives to take a large stone from the river bed of the divided Jordan river and establish a memorial witnessing to God's mighty acts among them. This monument of stones would symbolize the important historical events as well as inspire future adventures in the land of promise.

Dr. Friesen suggested that this ancient drama has relevance for the present space age. "It would be a tragic example of ingratitude not to remember our debt to the past. The faith and courage of our fathers under the most trying circumstances is inspiring indeed. It would, however, be equally tragic to be so bound to the past that we are blinded to the present and future challenges. We best do honor to our heritage when we are inspired to present courageous action. This implies the courage to change."

FOLLOWING A potluck dinner, the colorful afternoon activities, under the direction of Glen Davis, began with a song by the Helbeck family and Chris Cornell. The singers wore the garb of the Michigan frontier. Lawrence Yallup, Warren Coffman, and Glen Davis each gave historical description of the lives of the families they were representing. Lawrence and Doris Yallup, Warren and Ione Coffman, and Glen Davis represented George and Mary Yallup, Henry and Mary Larkins, and D.C. Norris respectively. These families were among the early pioneers of this part of the country and were the original five members organized into the class. After the colorful descriptions of these personalities, the organization of the class along with the election of a lay leader was re-enacted. Henry Larkins was the original lay leader. The ceremony was read from a United Brethren church discipline dated 1877.

The WSWs, under the direction of Mrs. Hazel Pearson, re-enacted the first meeting of the women's group. Dressed in the apparel of 100 years ago, the women conducted a business meeting consisting of a roll call from the original roll, reading of the first minutes and one of the early treasurer's reports. The pageant was ended by a devotional ceremony including a song from the hymn books used during these early meetings.

Following the introduction of a number of guests, the ceremonies ended with Mrs. Janet Courtright's rendition of "Bless This House."

Morrison, St.Pats handcuff P-W 33-6

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA—The running of Terry Morrison and some pass catching by Steve Wilcox all but handcuffed the Pewamo-Westphalia Pirates last Friday night as they fell victim to a 33-6 blitz by the Portland St. Patrick Shamrocks.

Morrison scored all five St. Patrick touchdowns. It was P-W's first loss of the year after a 6-6 tie in their opener a week before. St. Patrick's won its second game. It was the first conference game for both teams.

Coach William Marks' Pirates were frustrated all night by a stout Shamrock defense, but they finally broke the ice with 5:18 left in the game. Ken Weber set up the P-W touchdown by returning a St. Patrick's punt 57 yards to the St. Patrick 33. A pass interference penalty against the Shamrocks on the next play carried the ball to the 18, quarterback Ken May rolled around right end for six yards, and then May hit end Todd Beachnau with a pass in the end zone for the TD. Larry Fedewa's kick for the extra point failed.

OTHER THAN THAT brief period of joy, P-W fans didn't have much to cheer about. St. Patrick outplayed the host Pirates practically all night. The Shamrocks threatened to score the first time they got the ball, but the Pirates recovered a fumble on their 2-yard line to thwart that attempt. Then the scoring started.

Quarterback Art Baker hit Wilcox with a fourth-down-and-three pass that covered 31 yards to the P-W 9, and then Morrison carried three times, finally scoring from the 1-yard line at 2:37 of the first quarter.

Pewamo-Westphalia was forced to punt despite a couple of good runs by Phil Schaefer, and St. Patrick's began moving again from their own 31. The highlight was a 28-yard pass from Baker to end Don Ham that carried to the P-W 12. Morrison then carried seven straight times, finally slipping off the left side for a TD from the 3-yard line.

St. Pat's got going again, but this time P-W halfback Ken Weber put the kibosh to the drive by intercepting an Art Baker pass on his own 30 and racing 40 yards to the Shamrock 30 before being ridden down. Two passes and a statue of liberty play failed to gain ground before the half ended.

ST. PATRICK'S AND Pewamo-Westphalia exchanged the ball twice at the start of the second half before the Shamrocks got a break. Mike Simon of St. Patrick's intercepted a pass from the P-W spread formation on the P-W 43. Three plays later Baker hit Mike Simon with a pass for 25 yards to the 14, and then Morrison slipped through the left side of the line and went untouched into the end zone. Roger Cook placekicked the extra point, making the score 19-0.

Both squads exchanged punts and then St. Patrick's hit paydirt again. Morrison got the TD from the 4-yard line, and Cook kicked the extra point. It was 26-0 with 10:05 left in the game.

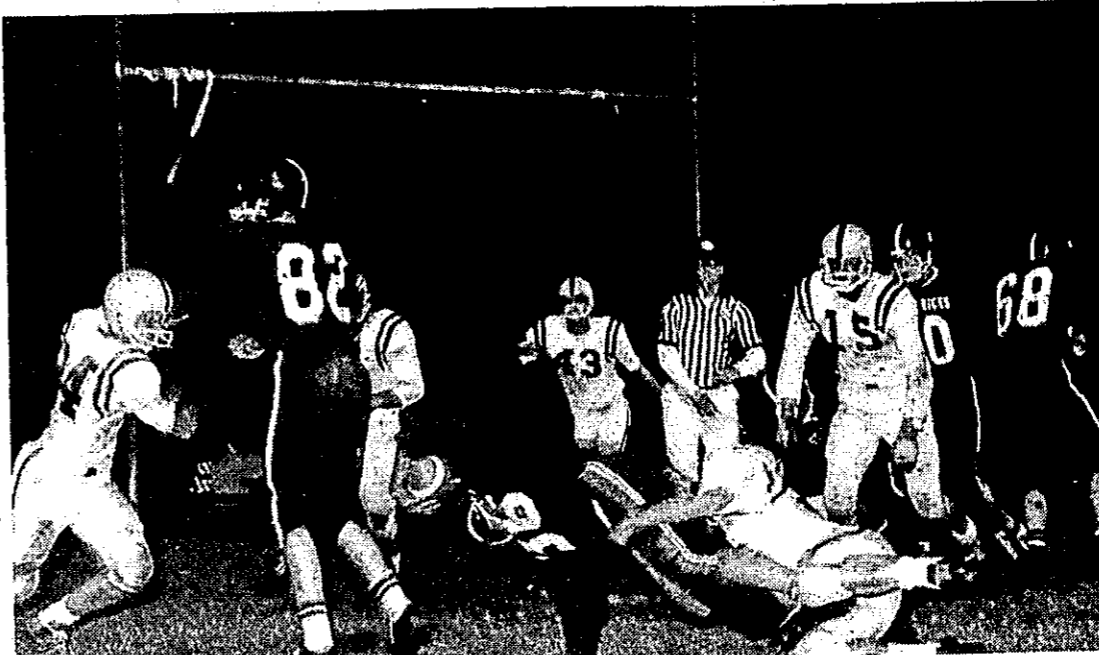

P-W WAS FORCED to punt

again, and then St. Patrick's punted to P-W, and Ken Weber's long return set the stage for P-W's only score.

But St. Pat's didn't take long to recover. They took a P-W on-side kick at the midfield stripe, and on the first play from scrimmage Morrison exploded off the right side and ran 50 yards for the TD, the second score of the game, within 31 seconds. Cook added the extra point and it was 33-6.

St. Pat's dominance in the game is revealed by statistics on the field, as well as on the scoreboard. The Shamrocks rushed for 259 yards compared to 78 for P-W; they gained 102 yards passing while P-W got 89 yards passing; they got nine first downs compared to five for P-W.

Pat Geller, P-W center, was injured just prior to the Pirates' touchdown and had to be hospitalized briefly. Coach William Marks said Geller may possibly be back in the lineup this Friday as P-W takes on Bath.

St. Patrick's Terry Morrison (36 in dark) had a good night running against Pewamo-Westphalia Friday night, but this play was an exception. He attempted a sweep around his left end but got hauled down fast by P-W's Jim Bengel. Other players for P-W are Todd Beachnau (34), Phil Schaefer (43) and Larry Fedewa (15). No. 82 for St. Pat's is Don Ham and No. 68 is Bill Hoffman.

Marauders even record, smash Bullock Creek 59-0

OVID-ELSIE—Coach Mark O'Donnell made some changes last week in his offensive and defensive alignments, and Friday night his Ovid-Elsie football Marauders carried them out to near-perfection.

The result was an astounding 49-0 victory over Mid-Michigan B Conference foe Bullock Creek, and it brought a lot of smiles to O-E fans who watched their team lose to Portland the week before.

Ovid-Elsie scored in every period, piling on 21 points in the first quarter and adding 19 in the second, 12 in the third and 7 in the fourth. Dane Flegel, who was switched to a halfback position, scored three touchdowns, fullback L.D. Jones scored three and kicked three extra points, halfback Jerry Gazda caught two TD passes from quarterback Rich Easlick, and Easlick himself scored one TD.

THE MARAUDERS' offense clicked and clicked and clicked, and the defense played a game of stone wall. Ovid-Elsie had a total offensive yardage of 504 yards, including 356 on the ground and 158 in the air. They picked up 21 first downs to only two for Bullock Creek, and the O-E defense held the visitors to just 21 yards in offense gains.

"We were ready this time," Coach O'Donnell said. That they were. Flegel, who played quarterback the first game, was transferred to halfback for Bullock Creek, and he scored two first-quarter touchdowns on runs of 14 and 8 yards. Fullback L.D. Jones ran six yards for another score in the first period, and he kicked all three extra points.

Easlick connected with Gazda for 57 yards and a touchdown early in the second quarter, and then Flegel got his third TD on a 12-yard run. Jones scored again from the 8-yard line before the half ended, and fullback Lyn Binger ran for the extra point. It was 40-0 at halftime.

THE ONSLAUGHT continued in the third period. Gazda hauled in another pass from Easlick for 30 yards and a touchdown, and later Jones broke through on a 35-yard touchdown run.

Laingsburg raps Harriers drop first 2, meets Fowler 25-6

FOWLER—Laingsburg set itself up as a top contender in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference football race Friday night by handing defending champion Fowler a 25-6 thrashing at Fowler.

Fowler Coach H. Blaine Douglas looked over the final statistics and then had this assessment: "Their line dominated us and they have good backs. If they (Laingsburg) play like that the rest of the year they've got a good chance. They're no shot in the dark; they're good, strong ball club."

AND LAINGSBURG showed it. Coach John Connelly's Wolfpack scored 7 points in the opening quarter, 12 in the second and 6 in the third and seemed to be in complete control throughout the game. They picked up 170 yards rushing and completed six of 10 pass attempts for 66 yards. They punted only three times during the game, and each punt kept Fowler in hot water. The Eagles could pick up only 32 yards rushing all night, but Dave Moritz, filling in for the Easlick got the final Ovid-Elsie touchdown in the fourth quarter on a keeper play for four yards out. Quarterback Lester Reed ran for the extra point to round out the scoring.

The Ovid-Elsie defense came in for some praise from their coach. "We came up with some variations that really helped us," O'Donnell said, "and we got a good job from our defense." He singled out Don Wilson, Robin Wooley, Larry Randolph, Dennis Barrett and Tony Bocek.

The Marauders face a "loaded" Chesaning squad this Friday evening at Chesaning, and O'Donnell sees Chesaning as the team to beat for the Mid-Michigan title. "But we've got the right attitude now, and it should live on our practices this week."

Laingsburg raps Harriers drop first 2, meets

The St. Johns Redwing cross country team was defeated by a more experienced Mt. Pleasant squad 15-48 at the Clinton County Country Club last Tuesday Sept. 15.

The Ollers took first plus the next five places. Ric Wiltse of Mt. Pleasant won medalist honors with a fine time of 11:18 for the two-mile run. Tom Horn, Buch Bucham and Brad Wade followed closely in order.

Senior Captain Armando Rositas of St. Johns captured seventh place with a good run of 11:39. Other place winners were sophomore Kirk Simpson 11:40 for eight, Victor Holcomb 13th, Lee Shavey 14th, and Mike Burgess 15th place.

IN A TRIANGULAR meet Friday, Sept. 22, at Waverly St. Johns finished in third place with Sexton finishing first with 26 while host Waverly had 49. Individual honors went to Waverly's Gene Stray who topped first place with a time of 10:03.

Armando Rositas again led the attack for St. Johns by finishing third. Kirk Simpson was seventh, Mike Burgess 13th, Sid Lounds 15th and John Ballard 17th.

St. Johns Coach Linden Lade commented that the St. Johns boys did a fine job considering that Rositas was the only returning letterman. He predicts better showings in the future.

Hunters can get aerial photos

Since hunting season is drawing near, Frank Light, chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, reminds all hunters that it is possible to get an aerial photograph of the area in which they plan to hunt.

These aerial photographs cover an area of about nine square miles, and cost depends upon the size of the enlargement that the hunter desires. In past years, hunters who have used these aerial photographs have been very pleased with them. They are much better than maps because they actually show the types of trees and terrain in the area. They also show the small trails, streams, and lakes which are very helpful, especially in a northern, unfamiliar area.

Anyone wishing to order an aerial photograph should contact their local county ASCS office or the Michigan ASCS State Office in East Lansing.

Greenville falls to Redwing blitz

St. Johns opens title defense 37-7

The St. Johns Redwings opened the defense of their West Central League championship by downing the Greenville Yellow Jackets last Friday 37-7.

Led by senior quarterback Norm Love's passing, the Wings came from behind to win going away. Love completed eight of 10 passes, good for 84 yards and three touchdowns. In two games now, Love has completed 14 of 19 passes for a completion average of .736.

Greenville started the scoring early in the ball game. St. Johns had an excellent opportunity early, but could not get moving.

Following the opening kickoff to Greenville, Redwing tackle Rick Moore intercepted a Greenville pass on the Greenville 35. Four plays gained only eight yards and St. Johns gave the ball up on downs on the Greenville 27.

GREENVILLE PUT together a sustained drive of 73 yards in nine plays and a 15-yard roughing-the-passer penalty to score. Full-back Frank Gibson went the last two yards for the TD. Al Coby kicked the extra point and Greenville led 7-0.

After an exchange of the ball, St. Johns took over on their own 45 and marched the remaining 55 yards to pay dirt in nine plays and with the help of a face mask penalty. Norm Love hit Don Palmer on the third play of the second quarter with a six yard pass to give the Wings their first score. Love's kick was wide and Greenville maintained a slim 7-6 lead.

Greenville could not move the ball and was forced to punt. The Redwings took over on their own 36 and moved in to score again on eight plays. John Salemi went the last 16 yards on a reverse to the left side. The extra point try was wide and St. Johns led 12-7, a lead they did not relinquish the rest of the evening.

Bath edges past Webberville 14-7

WEBBERVILLE — The Bath Bees opened their CMAC title shot Friday night with a 14-7 victory over a stubborn Webberville team. It was Bath's second victory of the year and their first in the conference.

The Bees scored their two touchdowns in the second and third periods and then hung on while Webberville scored once in the fourth and threatened again in the last two minutes.

Elias David got the first Bath TD on a one-yard plunge in the second period, and Randy Tucker scored the extra point on a run. Bill Harris found five yards of daylight, enough to score the second touchdown in the third quarter, and Warren Baird added the extra point on a run.

Bath threatened Webberville several other times, but penalties killed those chances at the goal.

Roy McFarland scored Webberville's only touchdown with a three-yard plunge in the fourth period, and Dan Force converted. Webberville threatened again, moving to the Bath 20 yard line with 1:30 left in the game, but Bath held for four downs and took control of the ball.

The Bees picked up a total of 287 yards rushing and added 83 yards in the passing game.

Greenville slips by Jr. Wings

The St. Johns JVs felt their first defeat in two games this year at the hands of Greenville last Thursday, Sept. 21. The final score was 6-0.

In the final seconds of the first half Greenville's Steve VanBuren scored a touchdown on a short run. The extra point attempt was no good.

The Junior Wings were upset in the third quarter after Ron Waggoner, a sophomore, ran for a touchdown but was called back because of a clipping penalty.

Those who overwork are apt to leave part of the task undone.

Johns seven, Barnwell rolled to the right and was hit by Jon Berkhausen for a three yard loss and St. Johns took over on their own 11 with only 29 seconds left in the half.

To start the second half, John Markman returned the kickoff 20 yards to the St. Johns 38. Nine plays later, Love hit Berkhausen in the end zone with a pass covering five yards to score. The extra point try was wide, but St. Johns led 18-7.

St. Johns again scored quickly following a fumble by Greenville that was recovered by St. Johns on the Greenville 30. Chuck Romig went the last 21 yards on the third play to score. Romig kicked the extra point and the Wings lead was extended to 25-7. Following the kickoff, Greenville moved to the St. Johns 40. On fourth and four, they gambled and failed to make the first down and St. Johns took over.

ON THE SIXTH play, Love hit Berkhausen again with a pass good for 17 yards and another TD. Romig's kick was wide and the Wings led 31-7, with 27 seconds left in the third quarter. St. Johns' final tally came midway in the fourth period on a six yard run by John Markman. Doug Thurston's kick for the extra point hit the cross bar and the Wings led 37-7.

THE REDWING SECOND unit played most of the final period. In all, 10 St. Johns backs were used in rolling up the 339 yards rushing. Cochrun led the Redwing backs with 141 yards on 18 carries. Following Cochrun was Romig with 47 yards, Markman with 52, and Salemi with 43.

Five receivers were in on the action as Love and Jim Durner combined to complete nine passes. Berkhausen caught three for 28 yards and two TD's. Don Palmer had two for 26 yards and one TD, Jeff Nobis caught two for 20 yards and Salemi had one for 10 yards. Durner's only completion was a seven-yarder to his brother, Pat Durner.

The Redwings will journey to Hastings tomorrow (Friday) to take on the Saxons. Hastings rolled to a 21-0 win over Alma last week. In its first game of the season, Hastings lost to Albion 33-20.

Ticket prices up

St. Johns football fans traveling to Hastings this Friday night are warned to be prepared for a jolt at the ticket window.

An Aug. 29 millage vote in the Hastings school district failed to pass, and the school is operating now on an austerity budget. One of the adjustments made was to increase the gate admission price for football games from $1 to $1.75 for adults.

Students who don't buy their tickets at the pre-sale at school here will also be required to pay $1.75 at the gate in Hastings.

DeWitt's two TDs came quick in the fourth quarter. The first one capped a fast drive of 99 yards, and the second came less than four minutes later. The key play in the second drive was a 50-yard pass play from freshman quarterback Cole to Wood that carried inside the Potterville 5.

Potterville got five touchdowns during the evening, two by Vic Amey on runs of 24 and one yard. Greg Rickle had a four-yard run for a TD, and quarterback Mike Heinze passed to end Mike Tavernitni for another on a play that covered 47 yards. Heinze scored another TD himself.

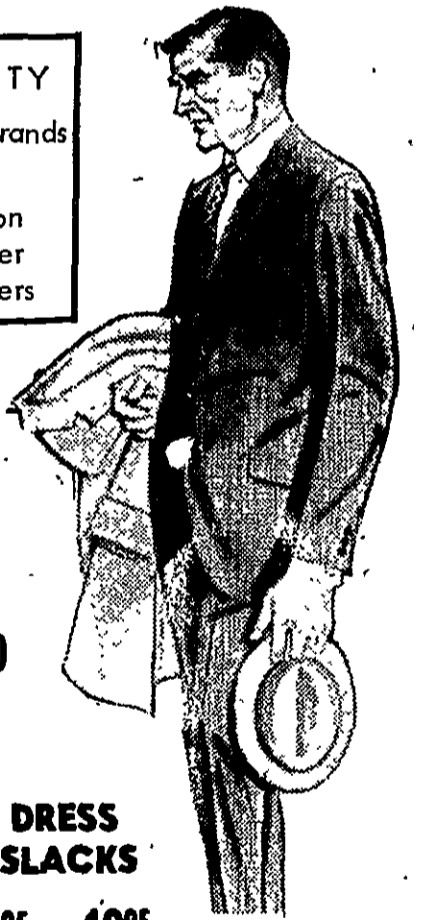

Mike Ashley scored the first touchdown on a five-yard run and then added the extra point with a run. A few minutes later, the Panthers were knocking at the Viking door again, and Mike Cole plunged across the goal line from the 1 yard line. Brian Wood ran the extra point.

Fulton bombs Vestaburg

VESTABURG — Fulton High School bombed Vestaburg with 33 points in the first three periods and then played the reserves the fourth quarter to chalk up a 33-6 non-conference victory Friday night.

It was Fulton's first victory after a defeat in their opener.

Fulton racked up 356 yards rushing and 38 by passing as the Pirates dominated the game. Halfback Randy VanSickle scored three touchdowns, Bill Priest got one on a pass play and lineman Larry Motz also scored with an intercepted pass.

VanSickle picked up a total of 162 yards rushing during the evening on 15 carries. Priest, another halfback, ran 14 times and got 150 yards. Tackle Motz was a standout on defense, and back John Hoard and center Jeff Gray were other standouts as Fulton held Vestaburg to one first down and only two yards total offense in the first half.

VAN SICKLE GOT Fulton's first two touchdowns in the opening quarter on sweeps of four yards and 51 yards. In the second quarter Motz intercepted a pass deflected by Hoard and ran 40 yards with it for a touchdown. Hoard added the extra point, and the score at halftime was 19-0.

In the third quarter, Fulton added two more touchdowns. Priest got the first one by hauling in a pass from Keith Leslie on a play that covered 38 yards. VanSickle scored the other on a one-yard plunge. Hoard kicked both extra points.

Vestaburg got their only touchdown in the fourth quarter against Fulton reserves. Roger Chase got the points on a 50-yard run.

Fulton punted only one time, and Bill Smalley's kick went 50 yards and was downed on the Vestaburg one-foot line.

Ashley falls, 26-13, to Morrice squad

ASHLEY — Roger Evans scored on runs of 61 and three yards here, but his Ashley football team dropped a 26-13 decision to Morrice here Friday night.

J. Ewer re-elected to head Spile Dam Club

The 28th annual meeting of the Spile Dam Club was held Sunday at Friendship Park, following a 1 p.m. potluck dinner for members and their families.

President James Ewer of Hastings conducted the business meeting for the 11 members present. Royal Risley read the secretary's and treasurer's reports and these were approved. An election for president resulted in the re-election of Ewer for a two year term. There was a discussion on the possibility of two artificial ponds being dug on the club property, for the encouragement of wildlife growth. No action was taken on this at this time.

Two new members were taken into the club. The new members are Lloyd Bushre of Wheeler and Gary Clark of Mason.

MEMBERS voted to donate $10 to the Friendship Park Board, in appreciation for the use of the park facilities for the annual meetings. Being an almost centrally located area for the members, this makes an ideal meeting place.

The Spile Dam Club, located on the East Branch of the Two Heart

River north of Newberry, in the Upper Peninsula, was organized several years ago, with Everett Potter of this community, now deceased, being the originator of the idea. He and nine others formed the club and purchased 160 acres of land. In 1938, the first cabin was built on the property and two others soon followed. In 1947, the Club was reorganized, and at that time an additional 280 acres of land was acquired. Two more cabins were built and a house-trailer was moved in. Soon another 40 acres of land was purchased, making a total of 480 acres altogether, for hunting, fishing and vacationing.

OVER THE YEARS, as various members have passed away, their membership was either transferred to the widow, or sold; old

Approach to Cub Scouting revised on local, national scale

Some changes have been made in the approach to Cub Scouting, District Scout Executive Larry Malec of the Chippewa District announced last week.

The Boy Scouts of America, he said, hope to increase their natural appeal for boys through major improvements that go into effect this month. Volunteer leaders will also receive more help through the new program.

The revisions are a result of a five-year study and are being instituted on a national scale.

IN SPEAKING TO the district committee, Malec said, "The study findings brought out very clearly the vitality and soundness of the Cub Scout program. There is evidence of genuine enthusiasm for the program on the part of boys, leaders, and parents."

The Cub Scout program was formally launched in 1930 and the last major changes were made in 1952. There are now over 2 million Cub Scouts in the United States and over 500 in Clinton County.

Cub Scout Pack Leaders will receive training in the improved program on Thursday, Oct. 12, at St. Johns High School at 7:30 p.m.

One of the key research projects in the study was carried out in 1964 by the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research.

RESEARCHERS FANNED out across the country to interview cross section of families with boys of Cub Scout age to determine the interests, problems and activities of boys from 8 to 10 years old.

Highlights of the improvements include a new experience for Cub Scouts in their 10th year (the Webelos Scout program), and a new leadership position of den leader coach in Cub Scout packs.

Revision of achievements and electives in the advancement program so that 8-year-old Wolf and 9-year-old Bear advancement patterns are no longer so similar has been put into effect.

Assistant den mothers will now receive recognition through registration, and a provision for boys to enter Cub Scouting any time after they are 8 years old or in the 3rd grade has been made.

The Webelos Scout program was described by Malec as "a most dramatic and significant improvement."

The 10-year-old's advancement program is based on 15 hobby and vocational subjects called "activity badge areas." The requirements for the Webelos award remain basically the same.

THE WEBELOS den leader will be a man, and meetings will be held in the early evenings or on Saturday mornings.

There will be a broader outdoor program than for the younger Cub Scouts, but this will not include the rugged activities reserved for Boy Scouts.

The district committee's next meeting will be Oct. 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the Clinton National Bank community room in St. Johns. All institutional representatives and interested adults are urged to attend.

NOTICE

Due to new State Regulations I must discontinue my slaughter house and meat processing operation on October 1, 1967. I would like to thank all of you for your patronage during the past years. In order to continue to process your own farm animals for your freezer, I have made arrangements to continue to cut and wrap your meat. This will be done at Town & Country Food Center, Westphalia.

LEO WACKER
Wacker Slaughter House

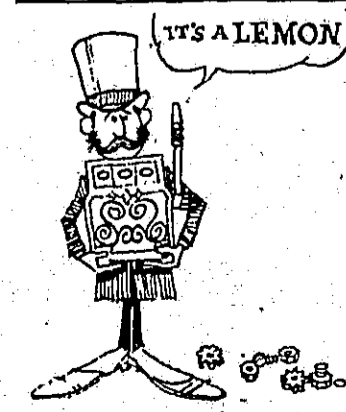

We are glad to have Leo with us and have worked out the following arrangements so you can continue to have your own animals slaughtered for your freezer needs. We are setting up a separate meat department and installing a new walk-in freezer beef processing here at Town & Country.

Slaughtering appointments can be made at Town & Country. You can deliver your cattle or hogs to Schneider Slaughter House in Fowler and pick up your meat cut, wrapped and frozen by Leo here at Town & Country. All you have to do is deliver your beef to the slaughter house and we will take care of it from there.

Another alternative is to have Joe Hansas pick up your animals and he will take them to Allen Packing Co. for slaughtering. Allen Packing Co. will deliver the beef to us here at Town & Country. You may pick up your freezer meat here after Leo has cut it.

We hope one of these arrangements will work for you. If it doesn't, let us know. We hope we can be of service to you. If you have any suggestions on how we might serve you better, please let us know.

GETTING A LOOK AT 'TREMENDOUS BIT OF AMERICANA'

St. Johns residents, and particularly those living along M-21, were treated to an almost day-long parade of antique automobiles last Thursday as the famous Glidden Tour of old cars passed through town. Many of their drivers—all bundled up in the open cars against chill, damp weather—stopped in St. Johns for gasoline, coffee, dinner, or just a short rest. The stops gave local folks an opportunity to get a close look at the cars which helped get America going on wheels. Many out-of-town motorists stopped to study the old cars, too. One observer called the long parade a "tremendous bit of Americana." The cars were strung out along a route from Grand Rapids to Flint last Thursday morning and afternoon.

Cross-state waterway through Clinton proposed

An ambitious, self-financing plan for a 900-mile trans-Michigan waterway—perhaps crossing through southern Clinton County—has been suggested by a Lansing engineer.

John R. Snell, president of John R. Snell Engineers, Inc., proposes the waterway to criss-cross the Lower Peninsula to create an "inexhaustible supply of fresh water and bonanza in waterfront properties for public recreation and private development."

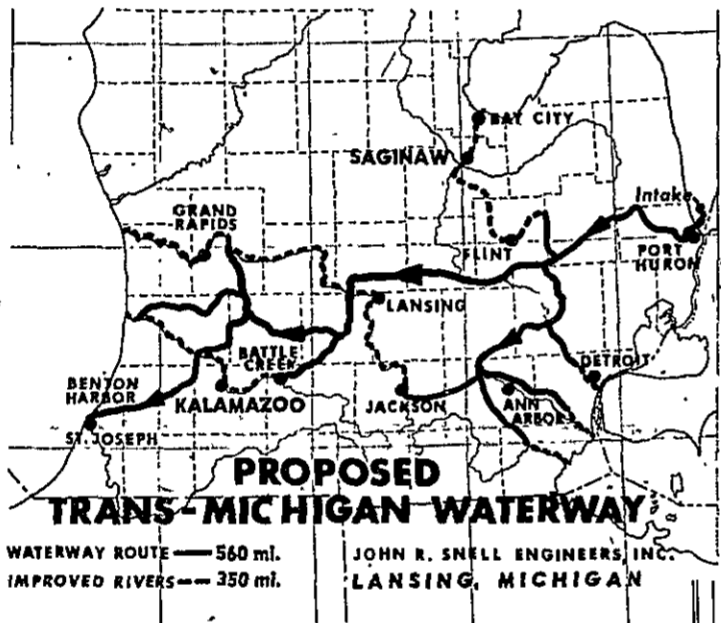

"Dozens of communities already are 'wrestling' with serious water supply shortages to meet the expanding needs of a larger population and growing industry," Snell pointed out. "Many other areas are confronted with polluted lakes and rivers which are creating public health dangers and throttling recreational development."

SNELL'S PLAN, he claims, would create another 1,800 miles of recreational shoreline in Michigan, as well as alleviate the water supply and pollution problems and develop low-cost hydro-electric power.

Snell's plan envisions an interconnected series of lakes and wide channels including dams, water-pumping stations, lifts for boats, and power plants. Phase One of the project would pump water from Lake Huron from a point near Port Huron through existing streams and channels to the Looking Glass River in Clinton County. From there it would cross above the Grand River and connect into the widened and improved Thornapple River and Battle Creek River. Eventually, the waterway would link with the Rabbit, Paw Paw, and Grand Rivers flowing into Lake Michigan at three points. Total mileage of the initial phase would be about 560 miles.

Snell's plan also suggests widening, deepening, and pollution cleanup of an additional 350 miles of existing lakes and streams which would be interconnected.

IN TOTAL, THE INLAND waterway would provide approximately 800 miles of connected passages for boats and more than 1,500 miles of shoreline suitable for residential subdivisions, public recreational parks, or commercial development.

JOHN R. SNELL

Based on preliminary engineering studies, Snell estimates total cost of the complete project at about $490 million, but he notes that nearly all of this capital expenditure can be recovered within a 10-year period by wholesaling the improved waterfront property for private development. Over a longer period, sale of water to municipalities, industry, and for agricultural irrigation could turn the plan into a profit-making venture. Power costs for pumping would be offset by re-selling created power at dams during peak demand periods and for standby use.

As a result of the initial engineering studies, Snell suggests creation of an appropriate state authority or agency to conduct further investigations, possibly using available federal planning funds. If a study should indicate engineering and economic feasibility of the waterway plan, further legislation would be required to establish a state authority with power to condemn lands, plan, construct, finance, and operate the facility.

Subsidiary benefits of the waterway plan would be flood control and creation of a tourist attraction, he said.

Ingham studying Clinton's call for joint airport formation

Ingham County is studying a proposal by the Clinton County Board of Supervisors for the formation of a tri-county airport authority to operate Capital City Airport.

The Ingham County board's tri-county planning committee took the proposal under consideration last Monday, Sept. 18, after a Clinton County resolution to that effect was read to the Ingham board.

Clinton supervisors passed the resolution in August, calling for "meetings to be called by said joint political subdivisions pursuant to studying the advisability of creating such an authority."

The Clinton resolution came at the suggestion of Supervisors Ernest Carter of Watertown and Reginald Nelson of DeWitt Township who were alarmed at the possibility of the City of Lansing taking over the airport.

and operated as a non-profit organization. It has reportedly been so non-profitable in recent years that state officials are looking twice at the appropriations made for its operation.

A state proposal would turn over to the City of Lansing the 1,135 acres of the airport plus 238 acres of easement and 33 acres already leased from the city. Options, easements, right-of-ways, runways, taxi-ways, ramps, roads and equipment owned by the Michigan Aeronautics Commission (a branch of the Michigan Department of Commerce) would likewise be turned over to the city.

Aeronautics commission officials expect the airport will be operating in the black in two or three years, and operations could break even in cost and revenue this year.

Hail new book on cancer

Clinton County Cancer Society officers are hailing as an important weapon in saving lives a newly revised book about cancer termed "the best possible guide an individual can have in protecting himself from dying of cancer."

Mrs Audrey Fruchtl, chairman of volunteers for the Clinton County chapter of the American Cancer Society, said the book, "The Truth About Cancer" by Dr Charles S. Cameron, has received the endorsement of the American Cancer Society and has now been termed the "definitive work" in the diagnosis and treatment of this disease from the layman's point of view.

that it can help save lives through alerting people to the need for prompt detection of cancer."

The book, published as a paperback by Collier Books of New York, was first written 12 years ago when its author was medical and scientific director of the American Cancer Society. He is now president of Hahnemann Medical College of Philadelphia. The new paperback publication has been completely revised to incorporate new information about research, diagnosis and treatment of cancer, including the most recent developments in cigarette smoking as a cause of lung cancer.

It presents many life-saving facts often overlooked by the public; that cancer is the only major disease in which the individual alone influences the outcome to so great a degree; that of all the leading causes of death, cancer is the most curable; that ignorance of cancer is more deadly than cancer itself.

MRS FRUCHTL SAID, "We feel the public should be informed about the availability of 'The Truth About Cancer' because it has already been shown

CLINTON COUNTY NEWS PAGE for Women AND MEN, TOO

Orange, the in color for wardrobe, food

HELEN B. MEACH Extension Home Economist is particularly high in Vitamin A content.

Even though we may not be able to identify the food nutrients in carrots, we do know that we should include a deep yellow vegetable in our daily menu if possible. And carrots fill the bill.

You name it and it's coming up orange. Take O.J., the "today juice". Frozen concentrated orange juice is so convenient that it has become a symbol of the busy American way of life. Whether you drink the orange juice for its vitamin content, or use it to give flavor to other foods this is the time to go heavy on the abundant supplies of this frozen juice.

ORANGE GLAZE biscuits are good with crispy fried chicken. Brown sugar is dissolved in undiluted orange juice and then spooned over the hot biscuits. They're popped back into the oven for about four minutes until glazed. Orange honey muffins are made by spreading English muffins with a butter, orange juice (undiluted) and honey spread.

THE CONVENIENCE of a topless, washed, packaged product has decreased the cost of carrots to the consumer rather than adding to it. Carrots hold up much better with tops removed and the crating, icing and shipping costs are less.

Canned carrots come sliced or diced and the popular frozen packages come with various types of sauces or glazes. When a sauce is included in the frozen pack the cost per serving is about doubled.

WHETHER YOU PULL them from your garden or buy them, carrots can be considered an economical, colorful, flavorful, nutritious addition to your menu any time of year.

You really should "think orange" all year round for good eating.

Hair, fashion styles feature of card party

Mrs Carol Keyes of the Carol Ann Shop will present the latest in fall fashions modeled by Altar Society members. Other members will model high fashion hair styles created by local beauticians.

Airport...

A three-man Lansing City Council Committee is already studying the state's proposal to Lansing.

CLINTON SUPERVISORS, in pressing for the study of an airport authority, hope to head off a strictly-Lansing operation of the airport. They fear that if that were the case, the city would annex the airport property; this Carter and Nelson termed a threat to their two townships.

"I did not become supervisor of Watertown Township to preside over the liquidation of Watertown Township," Carter said in rephrasing a famous quotation from the late Winston Churchill.

Carter suggested the formation of an airport authority consisting of equal representation from Clinton, Ingham and Eaton counties and the City of Lansing. The Clinton resolution now under study by the Ingham County board encompasses that thought.

THE FALL THEME will be carried out in the decorating. Mrs Pat Halfman is the decoration chairman. Continuing with the fall theme, is the St. Sylvia gull making tallies and St. Bernadette gull making table decorations. The St. Cecilia and St. Mary gulls will see that all things are set in place for the evening and when the evening is over the St. Rita and St. Patricia gulls will see that everything is taken down and cleared away.

A smorgasbord dessert table featuring homemade desserts of all kinds is being planned by chairman, Mrs Bonna Rae Henning.

The doorprizes, 23 in all, have been gathered together by Mrs Rita Doyle. The grand prize is a silver coffee service.

Tickets for the event may be purchased from Mrs Fred Meyer, ticket chairman, at the Carol Ann Shop or at the door.

Knitting clinic Oct. 5

Knitted garments have taken their rightful place in today's fashion world. Lucky is the gal who can wear with pride, a garment she has knitted for herself. Even the most skillful craftsman, however, from time to time appreciates the opportunity to discuss various techniques with others, and to share experiences which allow both to benefit.

An opportunity to both the skilled home knitter and the less skilled to meet informally and exchange ideas is being offered in a Knitting Clinic sponsored by the Family Living Education department of the Cooperative Extension Service. The clinic is to be held Oct. 5 in Smith Hall, City Park, St. Johns. The daytime hours are from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and the evening hours from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

A similar clinic will be held Oct. 3 in the Community Room of the Commercial National Bank in Ithaca during the same hours for persons finding that date and location more convenient, says Lorraine Sprague, Extension Home Economist.

THROUGHOUT THE DAY and evening resource persons will be available to answer questions, give demonstrations and help to the best of their ability. Exhibits of garments, supplies and patterns will be set up by these resource persons including representatives from local and nearby yarn shops. There will be no formal presentation at any time to allow guests to come and go as they wish.

If plans materialize, there will be a demonstration of a knitting machine at the Clinic in St. Johns, says Miss Sprague.

ANYONE INTERESTED in knitting is invited to participate in the Clinic. Miss Sprague especially encourages 4-H Knitting leaders to take advantage of the opportunity as there will be ideas for different types of garments for club members as well as suggestions for different types of construction techniques.

It is also suggested that guests bring to the Clinic, and whenever possible, the garments about which they may have questions.

11th Big Week Starts Today!
11th Game Ends Monday, Oct. 2
 Red Winning Cards Must be turned into this Newspaper by Monday 5:00 p.m.

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS:

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS: Each week (adults only, please) pick up your FREE Bingo cards from any of the sponsoring merchants listed below. Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. However, you may make as many visits as you wish each day of the week. THE MORE CARDS YOU PLAY THE BETTER ARE YOUR CHANCES OF WINNING.

HOW TO PLAY: To play, check the ads in each week's issue of the CLINTON COUNTY NEWS. The ads of the merchants listed below will contain one or more "Newspaper Bingo" numbers—in the "Bingo Bug" symbol (shown above). Occasionally numbers, in the "Bingo Bug" symbol, may be found elsewhere in the newspaper. IF YOU CAN MATCH (JUST CIRCLE OR "X" THE MATCHING NUMBERS) ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ANY ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS - YOU HAVE A "BINGO" - AND YOU ARE A WINNER!!

AT LEAST $50 WEEKLY!! Winners will share a weekly prize of $50 issued in "Bingo Bucks", that spend like cash at any of the sponsoring merchants. If there is only one winner, he or she wins all of the $50. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $50 in equal amounts. If there are no winners any week, the $50 weekly prize money will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE CLINTON COUNTY NEWS: Each game is complete in each week's issue. A new game will start each Thursday and be completed the following Monday. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published each week in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper and these new numbers only must be used. A new color of Bingo cards will be available at the participating stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced on this page.

IF YOU ARE A WINNER: If you have a winning Bingo card, ON WHICH ALL 24 NUMBERS HAVE BEEN MATCHED WITH THE NUMBERS APPEARING EACH WEEK IN THE CLINTON COUNTY NEWS, write your name, address, phone number, and the name of the store where you got your winning card on the back of your card and mail to The CLINTON COUNTY NEWS. The envelope containing your card must be received by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week; or bring your winning card to the office by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week.

NO OBLIGATION OR PURCHASE NECESSARY: There is no obligation or purchase necessary. A copy of the paper is available for playing the game at the office of this newspaper - also at the public libraries. You may play as many cards as you wish—they are free. Get additional cards—one at a time—each day of the week—from the friendly merchants listed below (adults only, please).

DIFFERENT COLORED CARDS EACH WEEK: The color of the cards changes each week. To be a winner, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week. Mutilated or altered cards will not be honored. ALL 24 NUMBERS ON A CARD MUST BE MATCHED TO WIN.

This Is How A Winning Card Looks

CHANCE DETERMINES NUMBERS: Bingo numbers for each week's game are drawn at random from a revolving Bingo number dispensing cage at the office of this newspaper. Some duplication of Bingo numbers may appear in the merchants' ads. This duplication does not affect the game or the total numbers drawn. All numbers for each week's game will be someplace in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper. Employees of this newspaper and their families are not eligible to win any of the prizes.

OES reports $400 in chair lift fund

Maguerite Berry, worthy matron of Maple Rapids Chapter No. 76, OES, extended greetings and a welcome to officers and members as chapter resumed its meetings Sept. 18.

Grace Upton, chairman of the sunshine committee, reported on a visit with Clare Leftry at the Masonic Home and other activities of her committee.

The secretary, Eleanor Fogle-son, reported over $400 in the chair lift fund. Grand Chapter, the Centennial session, will be held Oct. 10-12. The proposed legislation, to be voted on at this session, was read and dis- cussed. Auditing Committee, Marie Roberts, Shirley Craig and Maurice Paine and refreshment committee Nellie Van Sickle, Esther Van Sickle, Athol Gamble, Emma Mundell, Nina Waldron, Retha Winans, James Lowe and James Craig were appointed. After the meeting adjourned, refreshments were served in the dining room, decorated by Winnifred Walker and her com- mittee.

The Maple Rapids Chapter of Blue Star Mothers met at the home of Nellie Wilson Wednes- day evening. The various com- mittees gave their reports and they were sent to the various State Chairmen. The hospital chairman sent the money for the use of the Veterans Facility Hospital in Grand Rapids. The ladies also made eight lap robes to be used by wheel chair patients. The first meeting of October will be with Mrs Dor- thy Martin and the second at the Wilbur Bancroft home.

Fifteen Boy Scouts, their leaders and four-parents took a weekend hike and canoe trip on the Rifle River. The boys covered a total of 62 miles, each carrying their own pack for camping and cook-outs. They put in at West Branch and were met at Selkirk. They had not in- tended to go that many miles but did not take into account the twisting and turning of the river, which more than doubled the miles they had planned on cano- eeing.

Mr and Mrs Preston Corson, Fred Corson of St. Johns, Mrs Kathleen Benjamin and three sons of Corunna and Jack Ger- hold of Saginaw were guests of Mr and Mrs Bert Hiller of Green- bush township Wednesday eve- ning, honoring Mrs Corson's birthday.

Wendall White is a patient at Cleveland General Hospital where he had heart surgery last Tuesday. Mrs White is staying there with him for the first few days following the operation, at least. Word was received here that he came through the opera- tion very well.

Don't forget the turkey dinner at the Congregational Church Oct. 5 served family style.

Miss Evelyn Connors and Reva Borrowes spent the weekend at their home near Remus.

Scott Douglas, is the name of the new grandson of Mr and Mrs Fay Blackledge. He was born Sept. 21 at Carson City Hospital to their daughter and her hus- band, Mr and Mrs Douglas Greer of rural St. Johns. He weighed 6 pounds 5 ounces. Scott has a sister, Toni 5.

Mrs Wilbur Bancroft attended the Rotary Lunch at St. Johns Tuesday. All postmasters of the county had been invited to attend as Postal Service Week was being observed. Post master, J.D. Robinson showed a film "A Straight Line" as part of the zip code promotion.

Road Commission Weekly Report
By ROBERT ELDRIDGE
Road Clerk

As they say in show business, I've got a hard man to follow. Don Ewing, the man I'm succeeding in this job of clerk for the Clinton County Road Commission and in writing this column, is, by com- parison, a professional, and my efforts will seem amateurish. But bear with me, please. There will be mistakes made, but I'll do my very best to measure up to the high standard set by my predecessor.

These past two weeks have been busy ones here at the com- mission. Last Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the American Road Builders Assoc. held their convention in Detroit. This is a national association of people interested in and working for the building of good roads, and this was the first time Michigan has ever been host to their con- vention. Mr Nobis, Mr Haske, Mr Ewing and myself attended the sessions.

The commission held its regu- lar meeting on Friday, Sept. 15, instead of the scheduled Mon- day date so as not to conflict with the above-mentioned con- vention. At this meeting it was decided to purchase two Ford tandem trucks from Egan Motor Sales as per the low bid, they submitted recently. These are to replace two heavy conventional trucks. Truck bodies for these units are to be purchased from Truck & Trailer Sales Co. of Lansing and under-bodies from Shults Equipment Co. of Ithaca, both having submitted low bids for this equipment.

Lunday Motor Sales was low bidder on furnishing a three- quarter-ton pick-up and was awarded the order to do so. The commission also decided at this meeting to advertise for bids on a new automobile for the engineer's use.

A brief high wind in the south end of the county caused a flurry of activity last Thursday after- noon. There were several calls reporting large limbs and fallen trees blocking roads. Thanks to our two-way radio system, these calls were relayed to crews working in the area and the roads were cleared in short order.

Mrs Lois Jones of rural Eagle called on Mrs Carl Ball Friday. Mrs Vera Ball visited her niece and friends in Ithaca Thursday afternoon.

Mr and Mrs Rocky Martin returned Sunday from a week's fishing trip in Canada. Mrs Mar- tin reported the weather was just perfect and fishing too good.

Mrs Mildred Matthews, who has been spending the past two months visiting relatives and friends here returned to her home in Edinburg, Texas.

Dr Dee N. Allen, Maple Rap- ids Optometrist, was among the 110 who attended the annual Fall Educational meeting of Dis- trict 4, Michigan Optometric As- sociation, held in Saginaw at the Ramada Inn, Sept. 20. Mrs Allen accompanied him.

A pledge service was held Wed- nesday evening as 18 members of the Bannister Woman's Society of Christian Service met for their regular monthly meeting. Rev Wayne Sparks conducted the ser- vice assisted by Mrs Ray Peck, Mrs Floyd Walters, Mrs Ivan Hofferbert and Mrs Thomas Bradley. As part of the service, each member came forward and placed her pledge card in the offering plate. During the ser- vice, the electrical power went off, and candles were used mak- ing the service even more im- pressive.

At the business meeting, con- ducted by president Mrs Richard Moore, it was voted to send $10 to the Billy Graham Crusade.

Hostesses Helen Peck and Jean Moore served a dessert lunch by candlelight.

Panel mem- bers were Rev Gordon Showers, Minister at the Elsie Methodist Church, Mrs Thomas Moore, Ray Canfield, Phyllis Stewart and Larry Pearce. Guests for the evening were several parents and the Elsie MYF. Recreation fol- lowed the discussion and refresh- ments were served.

"no gifts" but Mrs Emmons received a shower of birthday cards and greetings.

Special guests from out-of-town were Miss Lena Marshall, Bruce Marshall, sister and brother of Mrs Emmons, and George Marshall, all of Clio; Mr and Mrs Spencer Hall and daughter, Tina, of Fernald; and Mr and Mrs Charles Franke and son, Brian, of Adrian.

Prior to the open house, Mr and Mrs John Hall entertained several relatives for dinner in their home and Mr and Mrs Raymond Thornton were hosts to others at the Village Inn for dinner.

In Remembrance of me

For almost two thousand years the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper has been celebrated by Christians everywhere. Though variously interpreted by the churches, though administered with different ritual, it has always remained our unifying bond... the Communion of the Church with her Lord.

On World Wide Communion Sunday Christian congregations all over the globe will assemble to celebrate this Communion. Each will follow its own accustomed usage, exercising the right of religious freedom that the free peoples of the world treasure so highly. And as millions receive the Sacrament they will be conscious of the joyous faith that unites them with one another and with Christ.

This is a century of crisis in which those who treasure their spiritual heritage must stand together... must face with courage the alarming growth and ruthless power of an atheism dedicated to the overthrow of both freedom and religion.

Join your fellow Christians at The Lord's Table!

ASC PROGRAM

No acreage restrictions on 1968-crop sugar beets

The United States Department of Agriculture has announced that proportionate shares (farm acreage allotments) will not be established for 1968-crop sugarbeets.

The secretary of agriculture is required by the Sugar Act to establish proportionate shares in the domestic sugar producing area if he determined that in the absence of such shares production of sugar would be greater than the quantity needed to enable such area to meet its quota and provide a normal carryover inventory of sugar for the calendar year during which the larger part of sugar normally would be marketed. Most sugar from 1968 crop sugarbeets will be marketed in 1969.

PROPORTIONATE shares were established for both 1965 and 1966 sugarbeet crops. The 1966 national acreage allocation was established at 1,435,000 acres—60,000 greater than for 1965—with intentions of increasing production. Despite the increase, 1968-crop plantings totaled only 1,230,000 acres, about 70,000 acres less than 1965. Indications are that the effective inventory on Jan. 1, 1967, was about 2,378,000 tons. This would represent a reduction of more than 160,000 tons from the inventory a year earlier.

To afford the area an opportunity of increasing production, proportionate shares were not established for the 1967-crop. Recent information received from sugarbeet companies indicates 1967-crop plantings of about 1,210,000 acres. Such acreage coupled with a sugar yield equivalent to that (2,326 tons per acre) for 1966 would mean sugar production of about 2,615,000 tons—a quantity well below this year's marketing quota.

Department spokesmen said increased plantings are needed in 1968 to build sugar stock up to an appropriate level. Congress in 1965 indicated that inventories in the range of 82 to 90 percent of the following year's quota are appropriate.

THIS ACTION was recommended to the Department at a public hearing in San Francisco on July 18. Spokesmen for about 97 per cent counties' beet growers and for all sugar-beet processors recommended that proportionate shares not be established for 1968.

A letter was mailed this past week to a number of prospective sugar beet producers in the county. The sugar beet industry through the Michigan Sugar Co. of Saginaw has indicated they will expand in this area. They have purchased land on the railroad at Oia for the purpose of establishing a modern high speed receiving station. The company would assume the responsibility and pay the freight to get the beets to a factory for processing.

A postcard was enclosed with this letter, and I urge those receiving the letter to complete the requested information on the card and mail it back as soon as possible.

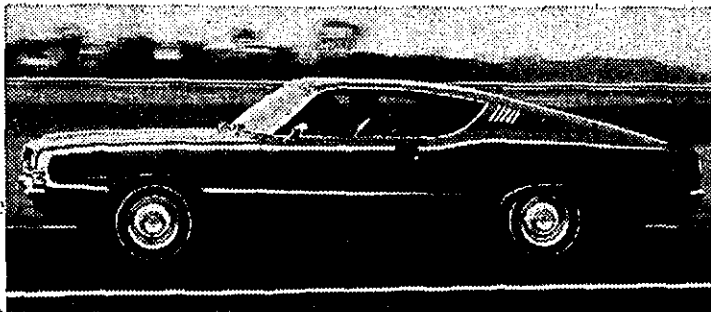

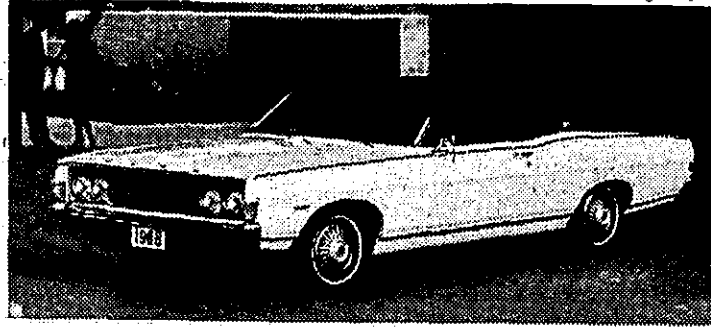

The Technical Action Panel of the United States Department of Agriculture are working with a group of people to try and increase the economic opportunities for agriculture in our area.

Anyone having any questions or suggestions about producing sugar beets in our county can contact Earl Haas, county Extension agricultural agent; Lloyd Campbell, work unit conservationist, Soil Conservation Service; or William Smith, ASCS Office Manager.

Only one in a million catches up with that promising future. Michigan taxed 91,445,509 packages of cigarettes in April, an increase of 1,978,026 packages over April 1966.

Strikingly new for 1968 is Torino by Ford. At the top of the Fairlane series, the Torino is available in six models including the formal hardtop (above) and the GT fastback. Four inches longer than previous Fairlane models, the Torino brings a new standard of luxury to the intermediate class. All 1968 Fairlane models have completely new sheet metal featuring an integrated grille-dual headlamp assembly and a distinctive raised center panel. A new 302-cubic-inch engine is standard in the Torino GT and optional in all other series.

Soybean farmers asked to help in cereal beetle threat

State and federal agriculture officials warned Michigan farmers today to destroy any volunteer corn found in soybean fields or face the possibility that their crop may become contaminated and require fumigation.

Corn is host plant of cereal leaf beetles, one of the world's most destructive pests of small grains, according to Dean Lovitt, chief of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Plant Industry Division. Soybeans are not a host, but when they follow corn in crop rotations, volunteer corn will usually be found in the fields. Cereal leaf beetles are attracted to these corn plants and become mixed with soybeans at harvest time.

SOYBEANS are not presently regulated under the Michigan cereal leaf beetle quarantine. But Lovitt points out that soybean crops that become infested can be brought under quarantine regulations to prevent spread

Steers enthused, heifers passive toward each other

Steer calves like being fed in the same lots with heifer calves—but the heifers could care less. A Michigan State University animal husbandry researcher came to this conclusion after comparing the rates at which the steers and heifers converted feed into beef when the animals were fed together vs being fed separately.

Professor Hugh E. Henderson explained that cattlemen have historically assumed that steers and heifers would do better if they were fed separate from each other.

"Many cattlemen have fed them together because of lack of separate facilities, he said, "but most of us in the beef industry had sort of looked down our noses at them."

"But, to our surprise our experiments showed that steers did a little better when fed with heifers than they did when fed alone. The difference was only slight—gains of 2.51 pounds per day as compared to 2.45—but the main thing is that the steers didn't do any worse when fed with heifers."

"As far as the heifer calves were concerned, the presence of the steers apparently didn't make much difference. They gained 2.15 pounds a day when fed alone and 2.13 when they were fed with steers."

"The steer heifer combination included four steers and four heifers," said Henderson, "and the results may have been different if larger numbers had been used."

of the cereal leaf beetle. All such quarantined articles must be treated and certified before being moved from infested areas.

To avoid the possibility of loss of soybean markets and costly fumigation, Lovitt suggests that soybean farmers remove volunteer corn in their fields. For cornfields to be planted with soybeans next year, more careful corn harvest and chemical controls are suggested.

A native of Europe, the cereal leaf beetle was first discovered in this country in 1962 in Berrien County, Michigan. The pest is now known to occur in most of Michigan, the northern two-thirds of Indiana, and in all of Ohio. Experts from the USDA's Plant Pest Control Division estimate that the beetles could destroy 10 to 30 per cent of wheat, barley, and oat crops if allowed to spread throughout the Midwest.

Mrs Woodhams on test group

Mrs Richard Woodhams, of R-6 St. Johns, has been named a member of the family test group of Farm Journal magazine, according to Miss Gertrude Dieken, women's editor.

Mrs Woodhams and her family are one of 500 member-families of the group. The families are selected for their special skills and interests in some phase of farming, homemaking or community work. They are located all across the country.

Family test group members help the editors of the national farm magazine by acting as a sounding board for editorial ideas and by reflecting local opinions, problems and customs. This service supplements travel and farm visits by the 38 editors of Farm Journal and helps to make the magazine more useful and timely for its three million readers.

These families also test products, both on the farm and in the home.

Farm labor movement study wins award

"How you gonna keep 'em down on the farm," was a popular song in the 1920's. That pretty well summed up the flow of farm labor for the era. But a recent study by Michigan State University agricultural economists shows that today's problem has a new twist—keeping them from wanting to come back once they've left the farm.

Economists Brian Perkins and Dale Hathaway were cited for their work with today's farm labor mobility by the American Farm Economics Assn. Their study was named "Outstanding Published Research Report" of 1966 at the association's recent meeting. Dr Perkins, with MSU at the time of the study, is now assistant professor of agricultural economics at the University of Guelph, Ontario, Canada. Dr Hathaway is a professor of agricultural economics at MSU.

RURAL AREA depopulation and low farm labor wages have been increasing concerns in recent years, with labor movement at the heart of the problem. "Yet relatively little has been known about the rate of this movement, or about its causes," the economists explained.

Because of a new source of information, Perkins and Hathaway were able to get some answers. The U.S. Social Security Administration made a sample of their records available to MSU for the study. The records, covering individuals from 1955-59, let the economists look at the back and forth flow between farm and nonfarm jobs, and financial success. Previously-used census records only gave a picture of net changes.

Rate of movement off farms was high, averaging 14.2 per cent a year for the period studied. This alone might be sufficient to increase demand and wages for farm workers. But net reduction in farm employment averaged only 3.5 per cent because of large back-movement into farming.

GETTING MORE people to leave the farm is not the whole answer. "Policies are needed which will enable more of those who leave to be retrained in the nonfarm economy," the economists conclude.

Copies of the complete report, "Movement of Labor Between Farm and Nonfarm Jobs" is available from the Bulletin Room, 10 Agriculture Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing. Ask for Research Bulletin 13.

Fertilizer fails in acid soil

Michigan State University extension crop scientists say nitrogen fertilizers without the use of lime can result in a soil that will not even grow weeds.

All nitrogen fertilizers used in Michigan tend to acidify the soil, but ammonium sulfate lowers the pH fastest. Soil tests must be made frequently to determine soil acidity and how much lime is needed. Such tests will also indicate the amount of fertilizer needed for different crops to be grown.

Silence is always the best policy, but too many people allow their policy to lapse.

The fellow who is blind to his faults is generally deaf to his own conscience.

Fall-winter action can save money

Next spring a good grower's time will be worth $50 or more per hour, far removed from the 2-row-6 weeks-to-plant-and-fertilize days. Will he net it or waste it on more chores than he can handle?

Spring delays can eat time: not enough vehicles to deliver sudden fertilizer demands, not enough of the analyses he needs, not enough labor for peak days, not enough days to take all steps. Let the weather make the field too soggy for him to get the spreader on and another year-round fertilizer planner is born. Fall-winter fertilization not only spreads out the manufacturer's transportation load, but also gives more time for quality curing.

Early planning pays extra bushels—sometimes 10 to 20 bushels more per acre over his whole acreage. Each day a Corn Belt farmer delays planting after the first week in May often costs him one to two bushels per acre. No wonder the good grower will fertilize next year's crop this fall to be ready for a fast start.

A good farmer doesn't wait until this year's crops are harvested, stored, or sold before preparing for next year's crop. He schedules a good dealer to follow his corn, soybean or small grain harvest with immediate fertilizer applications—sometimes timing himself to have harvester, spreader, and plowdown action going at same time. It can be done.

Fall weather is more predictable than spring; the soils usually dry and firm. Even if it's a little wet, the farmer has time to wait for decent weather. For example, Illinois harvests 84 per cent of its soybeans by Oct. 20, 79 per cent of its corn by Nov. 10, leaving many days to fertilize and plowdown before snow gets deep. The spring rush does not give such time.

Urge both pop-up, broadcast fertilizing

A combination of fall fertilization and pop-up fertilizer in the spring can provide dual benefits to corn farmers, indicates a report based on University of Minnesota research.

A broadcast application of fertilizer in the fall on corn land plus pop-up fertilization with the seed at planting not only saves time and labor during spring, but it avoids soil compaction during planting and gets corn seedlings off to a quick start. The end result is higher, more profitable corn yields, indicates the report, quoted by National Plant Food Institute. Research results show that the combination of fertilization practices can boost corn yields significantly. In the Minnesota tests, yields were boosted by 16 bushels per acre more than with pop-up fertilization alone.

Dawn Patrol scheduled at Grand Ledge

Members of the Grand Ledge Aviation Council are sponsoring a "fly in" at Abram's Municipal Airport on Sunday, Oct. 1. This event will attract pilots from throughout the State of Michigan.

There will be a breakfast of ham and eggs served from 8 to 11 a.m. There will be new and antique airplanes on display. Entertainment will include airplane and helicopter rides. There will also be radio controlled model airplane demonstrations.

Many prizes will be given away with the drawing starting promptly at 11 a.m. The public is invited to attend the breakfast and tour the airport facilities.

4-H Club Chatter

By JOHN AYLSWORTH
Extension 4-H Youth Agent

"A World of Opportunity - Join 4-H" is the theme of the National 4-H Club Week Sept. 30 to Oct. 7. Over 2 1/4 million American boys and girls are enrolled in 4-H club projects this year throughout the country. Nationally this is the week that we pay special salute to the boys and girls who are participating in this program.

4-H is more than champion steers, sewing lessons, cooking schools and ribbons. It offers a wide variety of projects and activities which emphasize "learning by doing" and rewards the boy and girl for personal growth and achievement.

These young people select projects based upon their interest and need from over 100 different areas. These projects range from the traditional livestock, garden, poultry, food and clothing to new projects such as horses, dogs, career exploration, automotive, photography, baby sitting, entomology, weather, conservation and others. There is a project available to fit most needs and interests of the youth.

MANY PEOPLE feel the "image of 4-H" is a boy or girl with a steer or for only the rural youth. This is not true, as 4-H is open for all youth interested in the program no matter where they live—in town, city or rural homes. Boys and girls may join 4-H between the ages of 10 and 18 years.

How does a person join a 4-H club? The boys and girls interested in 4-H should contact one of the local leaders or contact the county Extension office for more details about the program and where the nearest 4-H club is located.

I have available in the office a brochure called "You and the Clinton County 4-H Program" that would be very good to pass out to youth groups explaining about the 4-H club program and activities. If you would like some of these brochures, please let me know.

BOYS AND GIRLS like 4-H for the many activities and projects it offers groups and clubs. Clubs may select such worthwhile activities and projects as community beautification, safety, health, recreation, leadership and conservation. Volunteer adult leaders help guide and advise members of the community and neighborhood 4-H clubs.

Now is a good time for boys and girls to join 4-H as many of the clubs are now organizing or new clubs starting for the winter program. To find out how to join 4-H in your own area contact me at the county Extension office, 1003 S. Oakland Street in St. Johns.

On Sunday, Oct. 1, many of the churches in the area have agreed to enclose a leaflet in their church bulletin regarding what the 4-H club program is and what opportunities are available to youth in 4-H. If you would like your church to have these leaflets on Sunday, please let me know and I'll see the leaflets are made available to your church.

Tickets to see the Michigan State University and Southern California Football game on Saturday, Sept. 30 are at a premium, as the game is a sell-out. Clinton County will be represented in the MSU Marching Band Show performance promoting the beginning of National 4-H Club Week. Russ Hicks, Louise Green, Barbara Smith, Jim McQueen and Teri McQueen will be part of the 300 4-H members carrying banners and flags in the 4-H half-time formations.

Sixteen Clinton County Youth will be attending the "Explore 67" career day program at Michigan State University on Saturday, September 30 in the morning. They will learn more about careers in the field of agriculture, food, fibers and natural resources. The program begins at 9:15 a.m. at the University Auditorium.

The Trail Blazers 4-H club members voted to donate $100 to the future 4-H horse barn building fund to be built at the county fair grounds. The members signed up Saturday for the new 4-H club year.

The Double M 4-H Horse Club members have scheduled a banquet for their club on Saturday, Nov. 11, at Smith Hall. The members will hold a hayride on Saturday, Oct. 14. Bernadette Jorae gave a report on tack and equipment. At their next meeting, Oct. 9 the members will have a test on the parts of the horse, saddle and bridle. A little review might be a good thing before the next meeting, kids. The club plans on purchasing a large tent for their outings from the club treasury.

Their overnight trail ride and campout on September 9th was very successful with good participation by members and parents.

The Victor 4-H club members held a soap drive last Saturday in the Lansingburg area. I haven't received the results of their drive as of the writing of this column. The club will meet in October to receive their fair premiums and certificates.

Farm machinery can be matched to individual farm

One of a farmer's most important decisions is made when he purchases machinery. His problem—deciding what type of equipment to buy, how much, and what size—might seem to hinge on how much of an investment he can afford to make, plus his own experience and that of farmers in similar operations.

With the help of a planned computer program the problem of machinery selection is now being attacked on a systematic basis. Even the one remaining obstacle—the uncertainty of weather—has been overcome in Iowa by an analysis of Iowa State's 28 years of daily records of field conditions. These records show the number of good working days that can be expected during any given week.

Researchers, as reported in the Fall Forecast issue of the Farm Quarterly, are attempting to do, scientifically and accurately, what the farmer has always done by guesswork.

COMPUTERS HAVE been able to analyze the various combinations of size and type of equipment for a given size and type of farm. There is a great reservoir of such experience waiting to be applied to agriculture, and the effects on farm income could be as great as those of hybrid corn or chemical fertilizer. A detailed plan of equipment operation can immediately show a man the most profitable path to take.

June sales tax counts $180,902

Clinton County sales tax collections for June totaled $180,902.22. The largest portion of the taxes was taken from the food market at $58,900.

Tax collections made from other major business categories were: automotive $47,972, building material $34,502, non-retail $16,843, miscellaneous retail $6,798, furniture $6,568, general merchandise $6,466, and apparel $3,147.

Total use taxes collected amounted to $9,487.

SCS officials salute 4-H during their 'week'

"4-H Clubs around the world are doing outstanding work in conservation," according to Verne M. Bathurst, state conservationist at East Lansing.

"We of the Soil Conservation Service are proud to join thousands of others in saluting 4-H Clubs during National 4-H Week, Sept. 30 to October 7.

"The conservation of our nation's natural resources and their development depends upon today's youth. 4-H groups are developing a greater understanding of our natural wealth through their conservation projects.

"CONSERVATION IS only one of more than 100 educational learn-by-doing projects which 4-H'ers, ages 9 to 19, may choose.

"This year more than 2 1/4 million 4-H'ers will be completing their year's work and starting new work during National 4-H Week. With its theme, 'Join 4-H: A World of Opportunity,' activities during the week will focus on local state, national, and international achievements of the head, heart, hands and health program."

The Clinton County Soil Conservation District has co-sponsored a 4-H Conservation Day in June for the past several years. The district arranged for S.C.S. technical assistance to explain and show conservation practices to the 4-H members that day.

A popular stop has been the dam and artificial lake at the Sleepy Hollow Conservation Club on Hyde Road, and Roscoe Rathbun's contour strip cropping. The trees at the St. Johns city park that have been labeled by the conservation forester has been a worthwhile educational tool for 4-H club members in forestry and conservation projects. Robert Moore, chairman of the district directors, made the wooden name markers for these trees.

Michigan State University crop scientists have developed a "quickie" high lysine hybrid corn that will be tested in animal feeding this fall and winter. High lysine corn can be fed without protein supplement in a swine raising program, saving growers about $2 a head in feeding costs.

Negroes accounted for about 18.9 million, or approximately one-tenth of the nation's population as of the last census.

MANY 4-H CLUB MEMBERS, trees have been very popular with 4-H members. "4-H clubs provide many of the stepping stones to 'good citizenship' for today's youth," said Bathurst.

Who will live?... Who must die?

A working man from East Lansing, a young lady from the Eaton Rapids area and one from Mason are currently being treated on the all-too-few artificial kidney machines available in central Michigan. Undoubtedly there are others in this area in need of such life saving treatment. Will it be too late?

About 253 hospitals in the USA have artificial kidney facilities. The demand far exceeds the availability. Someone always must decide who will be treated and who has to go without—WHO WILL LIVE AND WHO WILL DIE.

The first artificial kidney was developed 20 years ago in Holland. Two main types of machines are used in the United States: The Kalf, or coil type, and the Kill, or parallel plate type. In the early 1960s the surgical techniques were developed to implant a permanent cannula and shunt in patient's arm which can be used repeatedly as an access to the artificial circulatory system.

By this improved method it has been possible to maintain life in patients with chronic renal failure and also to rehabilitate many to the point where they can carry on their daily activities in a near normal fashion. There is a major drawback in this method of treatment. The patient must be treated twice weekly for periods of 10 to 12 hours in order to be able to continue to function in a reasonably normal way. Because of the professional time involved and the highly specialized equipment needed, this is very expensive. At present, dialysis in a dialysis center costs about $10,000 per year per patient.

Time is a prime factor in the development of this program. Time for research; time to raise funds; time to train personnel; and time for hospitals to develop the facilities necessary for the establishment of a dialysis center.

Clinton County is a part of the Central Michigan Chapter, Michigan Kidney Foundation. It would pay to call the county health office to learn more about the program of this organization.

The days of autumn are close at hand

It always seems that summer has barely started when someone smells "fall in the air." Many people hate to see the leaves begin to turn. But, if they will look around them when fall is in "full bloom," they will find that they are in the midst of one of the most pleasant seasons of the year. While there is a tang in the air, there is also a new freshness. Crisp mornings and falling leaves tell us winter is coming. We will look to such things as winterizing and tidying up the premises. It is time to think about snow tires for the car and make sure a supply of antifreeze is standing handy.

Those who live in the southland may not need to take all these precautions, but the coming of fall for them means that shortly the winter vacation season starts. All in all, the passing of the seasons adds zest to life.

Autumn began this year on Sept. 23, so those who have been smelling fall in the air will be vindicated on that day. Autumn marks the beginning of the challenging and busy days of the fall season.

Free press means much to Americans

Newspaper Week! October 8 to 14. Probably the most impressive way for the public to learn what newspapers mean, in their daily lives would be to have no papers printed during Newspaper Week—but that is not practical.

The hometown paper is the living record of what happens in the thousands of communities across the land—marriages, births, deaths, social activity, politics, school news, legal notices, advertised products to inform customers, world news, everything that enables the U.S. citizen to be familiar with the latest devices and products by which he enjoys the highest living and information standards in the world.

But over and above these material blessings, a free press, which is the background of free speech, is the average man's guarantee of personal liberty, religious freedom and protection against political and judicial persecution. Dictators are afraid of a free press, hence they have a controlled press. The people read only what their rulers wish them to read. Try imagining if you can, what it would be like to live in a country where an editor dared not print a letter criticizing the political party in power, and where an editor feared to express an adverse opinion. Think of what a free press really means to you—life, freedom from political oppression, liberty and the pursuit of happiness under our Constitution.

SNOW SCENE ON WEST STATE STREET—190?

This picturesque snow scene (something to look forward to!) was taken of the John Hicks residence on West State Street back in the early 1900s. It appears on a post card which carries a postmark of 1908, so it probably was taken several winters prior to that. The exact location is the southeast corner of State and Ottawa and the house still stands—owned by Dr F.W. Smith who extensively remodeled the outside this past summer. Steve VanVleet of 1754 W. Price Road owns the picture postcard from which this picture was reproduced.

Waterfront conservation, cleanup helps Owosso

BY ELMER E. WHITE
Michigan Press Assn.

Debris. Pollution. Stagnation. Stench. These steps rapidly turn beautiful inland lakes and rivers into smelly, unsightly eyesores. Communities once proud of their attractive waterfronts now see all sorts of rubbish crowd out green and wooded shoreline. Sparkling blue water becomes sluggish and brown.

But forward-looking communities can deal with such conditions. Public-spirited citizens can restore and maintain original beauty through community cooperation. The city of Owosso, using local volunteer labor, has completed now its second annual cleanup of 3 1/2 miles of Shiawassee River shoreline.

AN EDITORIAL in the Owosso Argus-Press on May 7, 1965, pointed out that the city's "Cleanup Week" might include improving the appearance of the Shiawassee River.

Nothing was done that year, but in July of 1966 the Shiawassee River Assn. proposed a community-wide river cleanup. The city proclaimed July 30-31 Owosso "River Days" and under the leadership of local attorney James S. Minor, citizens rolled up their sleeves. Businesses and the Argus-Press promoted the project throughout the month, and more than 500 persons turned out to restore charm and cleanliness to the river and shoreline.

The city supplied a bulldozer to deepen the river and level riverbed "humps." City and privately-owned trucks were used to haul away junk and debris. Refreshments and food were furnished to workers by residents living along the river. Teenage workers outnumbered adults. Crews cleared more than a mile of riverbank as the first step toward building a riverside walkway from the east city limits to downtown.

PARTICIPATION was strong again this year. Following last year's turnout there was speculation that citizens would lose interest in future cleanups. However, about 150 people showed up Aug. 12-13 to continue the improvement program.

"We had fewer people this year, but we didn't need as many," Minor commented. "We got twice as much junk from the river last year, and it appears that Owosso residents have learned not to use the river as a dumping ground."

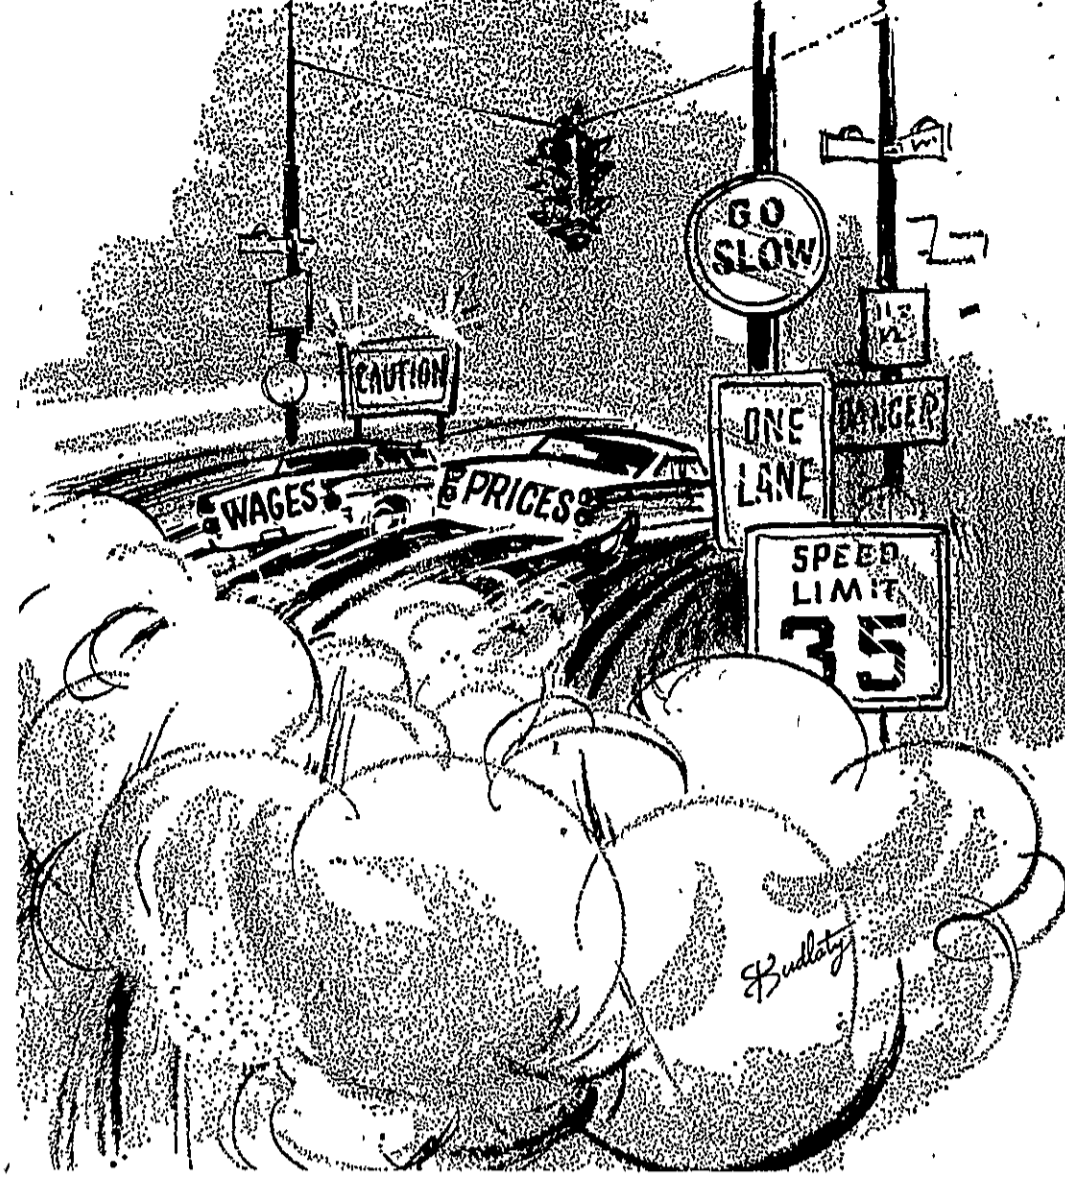

The city has increased enforcement of anti-litter laws. Police and residents have become highly sensitive to offenders throwing trash into the water.

Benefit of waterfront improvements are numerous. Restoration of natural beauty, water conservation, increased property values and expansion of community effort brings a feeling of community accomplishment and pride.

The idea has already caught on in other parts of Shiawassee County. It may start a trend.

Since last Wednesday, I've been hearing a great deal on the ability of two of my staff in the fine art playing Euchre. It seems that Rod and Sandi (Rod Brown and Sandi Rathbun) and their spouses had a get-together last Wednesday and after a meal ended the evening with a few games of Euchre.

From the story told, Rod and Sandi were partners and seemingly trounced their opposition, thoroughly. (Actually it was three out of four) But, it was the way in which they won that seems to add the kicker.

On all the games they (the winners) were down and would win by making a great come-from-behind effort. They let their opponents get to seven or eight and then would make their effort. (It sounds like it was a handicap tourney). When asked about that other game (the one they lost) the answer was, "We had to let them win one game".

WHEN ASKED IF they would take on all challengers, they decided that they had better huddle on this before answering. So, as of this time, there is no challenge out to anyone.

From my notebook of odds and ends that seem to be of interest and are kept for future use, I came across a couple of suggestions for hunters or campers.

Then pour out the water and pour in a mixture of 1/3 cup dry oatmeal, a pinch of salt, sugar and powdered milk or cream as desired. Then fill thermos with more hot water and cap tightly. The joys of ignorance

By W.E. DOBSON

I thank thee Lord for favors mine,
Permitting me to grow.
And also for so many things
That I shall never know.

Though I am not a super-man,
Good health is still my claim;
I've never known the greater grief
That leaves folks ball and maim.

No super mind do I possess,
But for my daily chofe
My intellect shall somehow serve;
Should I expect yet more?

No royal castle do I own—
Are castles trouble free?
Of them I shall be ignorant;
My home's enough for me!

No letters spell out my degrees;
I own no cap and gown.
But lacking them, I still refuse
To let it get me down.

Worldwide acclaim is not for me.
But I enjoy some friends
Who take me as I am and know
Where my ambition ends.

I know so little of the world.
That I've seen face to face,
But I can manage still to know
The joys of Common place.

So many forms of revelry
Are not for folks like me,
But I rejoice again to think
From some of them I'm free.

Let me but cling to simple joys,
Be thankful as I go,
Both for my many blessings
And griefs not mine to know!

Favors computers to speed spending

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (N.Y.) ... I introduce for appropriate reference a joint resolution authorizing the Advisory Relations Commission on Inter-governmental Relations to study the feasibility of a computer system to help State and local governments to participate more effectively in federally assisted programs ...

Since 1955, federal aid to state and local governments has quadrupled, rising from $3.1 billion in 1955 to an estimated $14.6 billion in 1967. In the past 5 years alone, twice as much federal aid has been made available as in all the previous years, going back to 1789 ...

As more and more federal programs are developed, state and local governments have a more and more difficult time sorting them out and deciding which ones would help the most ...

THESE FEDERAL programs are not predicated on some master plan or grand design drawn up in Washington. Rather, they depend upon the initiative and resources of state and local officials, who must draw them up and keep them going ...

What these administrators most need is information. Without information to help them make their decisions, many communities miss out completely on programs of Federal assistance for which they are eligible ...

More than 40 different federal programs provide aid for Five federal agencies are involved in community planning—the Office of Economic Opportunity, the Economic Development Administration, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Department of Agriculture, and the Appalachian Regional Commission ...

There are 21 federal departments and agencies dealing with state and local governments with some 150 major bureaus and offices in Washington and over 400 regional and subregional offices in the field ...

Federal agencies have begun to compile catalogs and handbooks on aid programs ...

The Office of Economic Opportunity required 414 pages just to give the briefest description of each program ...

The catalog of Programs and Services of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare alone runs to 374 pages ...

There has been such proliferation of catalogs to cope with the proliferation of federal programs that the Advisory Commission for Inter-governmental Relations has recently published an index of them—a catalog of catalogs; in effect ...

What I have in mind is a computer-based information system, using satellite centers, which would provide each state, local government, county, or other governmental unit with detailed information both on programs available to it and the appropriateness of each to the particularized problems of each governmental unit ...

Path to true peace lies ahead

By A. Russell Wodell

In today's world the title of this essay is like a small voice crying in the wilderness of global uneasiness and mistrust. It becomes even more plaintive when, on closer inspection, we find that it is not a statement, but a question.

"Is peace attainable?" With United States troops occupying Vietnam, with an ever-widening schism between the Communists of Russia and China, with disturbing rumbles from France and Germany, with political unrest in every nation, with the entire world trembling on the brink of nuclear Ragnarok—the answer would seem to be a resounding NO.

Yet is it? Has man passed the point of no return? Has the final judgment already been made, and all our present efforts left as the prelude to Armageddon? Let us examine the question more closely.

It is perhaps a commentary on man that when one wishes to speak of peace one must inevitably speak of war. The simplest definition of peace seems to be "the absence of war"—a definition by exclusion.

War according to Clausewitz

Let us define war. War involves two or more hostile states in armed conflict, with one or more seeking a goal which is actively opposed by the others.

This is a general definition; wars are also divided into two major classifications: Absolute and limited.

The object of absolute war is the unconditional surrender or extermination of the enemy; limited war seeks reparation for injury, recognition of claims; or a territorial advantage. (As Karl von Clausewitz pointed out, there is a tendency for all limited wars to become absolute if the opposing states are equally powerful and tenacious.)

These classifications are then subdivided into international, imperial, and civil wars.

The classes of war need not concern us here; in seeking peace we are primarily concerned with the causes of war. The hows of war can be found in any history text; for why we must turn to the psychiatrist.

It is nations who make war

The causes of war have been a source of endless speculation. The Fascists glorified war; for the purposes of this essay (and, indeed, for the survival of the race) we must agree that war is a prime evil. Since the basic goals of modern civilization are life and liberty, and since war is a basic threat to these ideals, war is therefore totally undesirable.

Having agreed on this, it is a natural conclusion that the qualities which make war possible lie in the baser side of human nature. We must then proceed to discover precisely what these qualities are.

Yet most psychologists agree that there is no war-prone characteristic inherent in man.

We must conclude that war is a sociological phenomenon. It is not as individuals that men wage war; it is as nations.

Leaders do not declare war as men; they do this as the figureheads of nations. It is not individuals who adapt moral codes to war! It is the populace of a state.

A medal for Einstein?

We have seen a mass murderer led to the gas chamber; we have seen a parade held in honor of a war hero, whose only feat was to kill more men than any other soldier. (Had the Texas slayer climbed a Vietnam hillcock rather than a university bell tower, he would have been saluted by his country. Was Einstein given a medal after Hiroshima?)

Yet, you may say, a nation is composed of men. It is men who fight the battles. Must they not accept the guilt?

The only answer is yes. Each individual must be responsible for his own actions—even when his integrity leads him away from his nation's doctrines. For a closer understanding of this point, we must turn to mob psychology.

When the crowd bays

"Crowds in the sociological sense tend to form when integrated groups are breaking down. People have a feeling that their established and accustomed groups are no longer functioning satisfactorily; hence they experiment with new and unexpected types of collective behavior.

A specific stimulus is necessary to start a crowd—such as collective fear, an antisocial event which creates a strong grievance, or a strong plea for a new social order. People then interact and generate a great deal of collective excitement which results in some form of crowd behavior.

The behavior may either have a specific purpose—such as lynching a person or destroying some hated organization—or it may be purely expressive, as in a religious revival meeting or a football rally ...

The obvious implication is that the populace of a state can, under conditions of war, be considered a crowd. Once states are at war, the leaders of a state must ensure that the populace supports its actions and that the sympathies of the populace are with the state's cause.

Propaganda is used to provide the "stimulus," producing a collective fear for the state and the desire to fight for the state.

Hitler was an expert

Propaganda in its worst form ignites the inner conflicts in man, channeling latent aggressive tendencies toward the enemy. This results in mob hysteria directed violently against the enemy—the kind of reaction Hitler used so effectively.

The ultimate result is a direct focusing of hatred upon the enemy, as in the "Two Minutes' Hate" of Orwell's 1984, and the conviction that "We are better than They"—mental poisoning of the worst kind. (Also, under these conditions, the hysteria may be directed against any who oppose the state's actions and so become, in the eyes of the crowd, part of the enemy.)

This use of propaganda is the kind of "my country, right or wrong" thinking which characterized both World Wars and partially dominates the political scene today.

It is my belief that this kind of nationalism is the primary cause of war.

Nationalism is prevalent in all aspects of our society.

There are no boundaries

It is illustrated in technical posters and advertisements, blared from radio, television and motion pictures, screamed from headlines and shouted heartily in contemporary fiction.

Religious instruction is forbidden in school, but the national anthem must be played before gatherings, the flag must fly above the buildings. Criticism of your country is becoming the blackest heresy.

Yet what is a nation but a chance group of human beings inhabiting a particular piece of geography?

When men stand at attention to "O Canada" or "La Marseillaise" or "I yung chun chin hing ch'u," they are in reality saluting a convenient fiction of which they themselves are the integral part.

A state exists only in the minds of the people who compose it.

King Arthur makes this discovery in Lerner and Lowe's Broadway musical "Camelot" when he says:

"... tonight, in my way home, while I was thinking, I suddenly realized that when you're in the sky looking down at the earth, there are no boundaries. No borders. Yet that's what somebody always attacks about. And you win by pushing them back across something that doesn't exist."

Viewed from this position, the concept of a "nation" becomes ridiculous.

In our age of technology when distances have shrunk away, when geographical barriers have been destroyed, when cultures are blending and changing at a costly-accelerated pace, the notion of small pockets of civilization divided by arbitrary, imaginary lines is ludicrous.

And the idea that men should devote themselves blindly to, and even die for, this concept of a "nation" is criminal.

Let's recall the empires

Note that I am not condemning the ideas, goals and ideals of states; it is only when these concepts become irretrievably confused with the state itself that I protest.

Yet the purpose of war has always been to gain an advantage for the state, to redress wrongs done to the state, to extend and glorify the dominion of the state.

Historically, the nation has been a necessary evil. Man is by nature gregarious and must evolve a social order, through family to clan to tribe to fiefdom to kingdom to nation and thence to empire.

The natural tendency seems to be toward the establishment of many states or nations separated by physical boundaries.

Occasionally, a single state more powerful than its fellows, or led by a superlatively able leader, will successfully invade all the lands accessible to it and establish an empire. Under such a total rule there is peace, but only for a short time.

Three such empires have appeared, establishing successively the Pax Romana (Roman Empire—2nd Century), the Pax Ecclesiae (Catholic Church—13th Century) and the Pax Britannica (British Empire—19th Century).

The haves, the have nots

Each maintained peace for a time, but in each case the regulating authority weakened and balance was overturned in less than a century. The resulting disintegration returned the "empire" to its former condition of individual states warring among themselves.

This condition is an inevitable result of the existence of nations. Due to their geographical location some nations will have advantages over others through the abundance and distribution of natural resources.

Other nations lacking these resources, will try to obtain them through trade—or war.

If we trace the path of war through history—in particular through the 135 international, 65 imperial and 78 civil wars from 1480 to the end of World War II—we find that the primary purpose of wars is economic in origin.

Even in Crusades or monstrous ghettos, there is always a definite advantage to be gained—for the nation—whether this is the avowed purpose of the belligerent or not.

Vendettas echo through time

Drastic cultural or religious differences due to great distances and limited contact between nations have led to bloody vendettas which echo their hate through the centuries, and always there is an underlying note of economics.

The nation is the villain of history.

If war is indeed a product of the economic disparity due to the existence of nations, then what hope is there for peace?

There is none, unless men realize that their loyalty lies to themselves and to the race, not to their social inventions.

How, you may well ask, can this be achieved? Many attempts to secure peace have been made in the past. Let us examine them and see why they have failed.

What price religion?

All civilizations have strived for peace, particularly those rising out of, or involved in, major wars. Today our search is even more desperate because for the first time man holds the power to destroy himself utterly. Yet thus far all our efforts have merely imitated these ancient quests.

The only notable exception is the establishment and maintenance of peace leagues such as the League to Enforce Peace, the League of Nations and United Nations. We will deal with these in their turn.

One of the most prevalent aspects of peace movements is religion.

People through the ages have advocated a return to religion as the only road to peace.

Certainly religion of any kind usually denounces war as an absolute evil; yet conflict in religious convictions has added fuel to many outbreaks of violence.

One world-wide religion would eliminate much of the friction between groups—but which religion? Buddhism, Christianity, Mohammedanism, Shintoism, Judaism, Hinduism—all have their myriad followers, each a variety of sects, each its own heretics, dissenters, blasphemers and atheists.

... and pacifism?

A man's right to worship his own god in his own way, or to acknowledge no god at all must remain a cherished ideal; peace through the enforcement of a world religion might be obtained, but only through the choking of one of peace's most sacred attributes. This is not the answer. Religious convictions, although conducive to peace, cannot prove a direct means to this end.

An offshoot of the religious attempt, but no less important, is pacifism, strongly stressed by the Christian and Hindu sects.

Mahatma Gandhi and his fight for India's independence immediately spring into mind—yet the fact that he fell to an assassin's bullet brings another consideration.

We cannot deny the presence of certain aggressive tendencies in any society, which are usually manifested in individuals who can invoke a "stimulus" for a "crowd." The existence of a pacifist world, prevented by its own nature from resisting the actions of such individuals, would inevitably encourage the aggressor.

... and education?

Gandhi argued that extreme pacifism must ultimately frustrate this aggression; but the existence of a dictator, however frustrated, denies our concept of peace as embodied in our ideals of Life and Liberty.

Pacifism must be regretfully rejected.

Education has been proposed as a vehicle for peace and is being used for this purpose today—as witnessed this essay contest, restricted to the student-age level. The folly of war is repeatedly demonstrated in the scholastic environment. Yet the historic evidence against war has always been there, and to date has shown little influence on the world scene.

Although it proves a valuable aid, education itself cannot cure a diseased world. Economic control is often proposed; both on a national and a world-wide level.

If wars are primarily economic in nature, it can be "Peace Is Attainable" is the theme of an essay that brought a top prize of $25,000 to A. Russell Wodell, a student at Cranbrook, in the Lions International essay contest. His essay was selected from more than a million entries from around the world, including several from this area of Michigan. Judges included former President Dwight Eisenhower, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, former president of the U.N. General Assembly Gen. Carlos Romulo, Prince Bernhard of The Netherlands, University of Tokyo physicist Hideki Yukawa, and former President of Costa Rica Jose Figueres. The winning essay is reprinted here in full.

argued, planned control of the economy must be an effective regulator of peace.

Perhaps; but the planned economy of a single state leads it either ahead or behind its neighbors, creating an increased stimulus for aggression.

A planned world economy is a different matter, but cannot be attained in our present nation-centered condition. Let us reserve judgment on economic planning for a moment.

We can turn to the UN

Political action combined with military adjustments is the most obvious vehicle of peace, and to my mind the only path open to us today.

But for political action to be effective on a world level, there must be a concerted group action which must itself be made peacefully.

This group action must then proceed to establish a balance of power which will itself limit or (hopefully) prevent aggression.

For this purpose there must be drastic reduction in the armaments of nations. These changes can be brought about only through an international organization; today, we can turn only to the United Nations.

(Article 1 of the United Nations Charter sets forth the purposes of the UN and) here we seem to have, by the logic of the arguments presented, a ready-made solution to the problem of world peace.

Yet such is not the case; the United Nations does not have the necessary power.

Although the UN is intended as a governing world body for the preservation of peace, its very structure prevents it from taking direct action when its principles are violated.

The nation defeats us

The major powers in the world today can, through their positions in the Security Council, veto any such decision.

Here again the nation defeats our cause.

The only solution is to grant the UN powers as a world government. Attempts at this have been made before; they must be carried through if there is to be peace.

What I propose is this: The creation of a special police force which shall be responsible for the maintenance of peace throughout the world.

This police force shall be set up by the United Nations, which must for this purpose include representatives from all nations.

All nations shall then be totally disarmed; no atomic weapons shall continue to exist in any hands.

You argue the right for individuals to bear arms—but would you introduce hand grenades as kindergarten toys?

World gov't! What of it?

Here a danger presents itself.

Sufficient measures must be taken to ensure that the police force itself cannot seize power and become a totalitarian body.

The world police must be controlled by the United Nations which shall, through elected representatives from all nations, work for the good of the entire world as opposed to the good of the individual states.

If there is to be a federated world government such as I propose, economic planning must necessarily be one of its functions. The great economic disparity in the world today must be corrected, or economic overbalance will lead to rebellion against the government, thus defeating its purpose.

With this point we must consider the exact nature of this proposed government.

We seem to have reached the Communist ideal—the world state with "the good for all" as the primary goal.

Yet the basic tenets of Communism are abhorrent to me, and I believe that the rising tides of these beliefs in the political scene today is a terrible threat to the identity of man.

To reach their goals Communists sacrifice individually to the will of the masses—and this is suicide of the soul.

Although I have shown the nation to be a major opposing force to world peace, I do not intend the world government to destroy all nations and reduce humanity to an amorphous mass.

Sauce for the goose is ...

And do not think I have merely adapted the Communist doctrine to nations rather than to men. Our democratic societies have laws forbidding individuals to murder individuals, and police to enforce these laws. And the same must be true of nations!

"Power corrupts, and absolute power corrupts absolutely." Lord Acton's maxim is not less true today than in his time, and our federation must be prevented from becoming a totalitarian state through its control of weapons.

For this purpose the national representatives must be elected to the world government; and this condition presupposes the existence of an intelligent voting public.

For the federation to be successful, or even to exist, the individuals who are to be governed must be raised to a level of education where they can appreciate the problems involved. Nor may the school system become a propaganda machine for the government.

The individual must realize for himself his own importance, and realize that loyalty to a nation, a state, or a government must always be secondary to his responsibilities to himself and to other men.

There is no easy road

Let there be no mistake, this federation of man cannot be easily attained. Nor is it a universal panacea. There is no easy road to peace. Only through evolution of his social, moral and intellectual values can man achieve true peace with himself.

I foresee great difficulties if my plan is accepted; yet I can see no other route which will lead us away from the brink of disaster.

Perhaps there is no valid plan; perhaps peace is not attainable. And perhaps this is of no significance.

In the final analysis, man may prove to be no more than a skin disease on the crust of a piece of rock circling an insignificant star; all our plans may be no more than the schemes of individual bacteria.

Yet human integrity demands that we reject this thought.

We must pray that soon world leaders may be inspired with the divine spark to say, with godlike wisdom, "Let there be peace."

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, it is hereby deemed that the combined requirement by all existing departments for record keeping and record production has reached a point that a separate department of the county government can best handle the amount of such work, and that such separate department centralizing this operation can be the most economical means of purchasing and operating the various and intricate machinery so required;

AND WHEREAS, the County Clerk would be a proper person for the handling said new department to be called "Records Department" and to handle the purchasing, maintaining and operating of the equipment necessary, and the supervision, hiring and firing of the personnel necessary for said new department to function.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that a new department for the County of Clinton, State of Michigan, is hereby created, which department shall be called "Records Department", and which shall function for the convenience of all Clinton County Departments, and for the centralization of all records reproductions by all said departments.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that Clinton County Clerk, is hereby authorized and directed, until and unless further order of this Board of Supervisors shall be passed to the contrary, to so act as head of said new department, supervising the personnel of said new department, including their hiring and firing, and including the purchase, maintaining, and operating of necessary equipment for such reproduction work, and to have the fullest discretion of the work that shall be handled and processed through said new department, its location and its hours of operation, subject only to appropriate approval of the various Board of Supervisors Committees in any specific area of powers herein delegated to the said County Clerk.

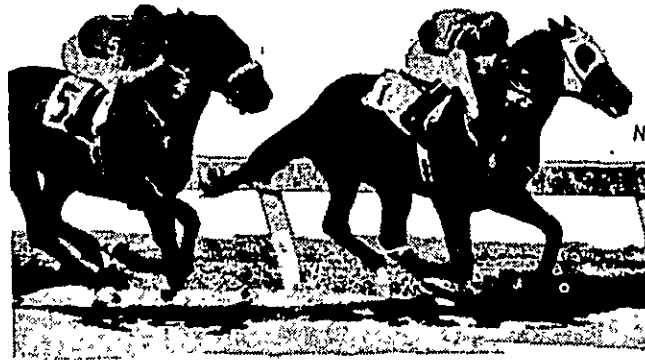

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the purchase of any and all equipment by said new department, despite first requiring Equipment Committee approval, shall be and is hereby approved, ratified and affirmed provided that such contracts are duly executed on behalf of the County of Clinton by the County Clerk and the Chairman of the Equipment Committee.
