$540,000 water plant finally in operation

St. Johns' new $540,000 water treatment plant was kicked into operation Wednesday, but it will be the weekend or later before fully treated water will be put into the system.

Engineers and technicians for all the companies who have equipment in the plant were to converge on St. Johns Wednesday for the start-up of the treatment process.

Those technicians will try to work out some of the immediate "bugs" before treated water is introduced into the mains. There probably will be "bugs," too, because none of the equipment has been operated previously under true working conditions.

ST. JOHNS RESIDENTS could know the results of the plant's operation by next week. They'll know by the taste and softness.

The taste will be different, city officials pointed out. In its processing through the water plant, it will be chlorinated at three different application points. The chlorine is a disinfecting agent to control bacterial growth within the water system.

And the water will be soft. "We hope to have 4 1/2 grains of softness, compared to 28 to 30 now," said Glen Austin, water plant superintendent.

For all of its expense, the water flow system through the plant is relatively simple. Water from seven city wells feeds into a large, circular outdoor clarifier where lime to reduce the temporary hardness of the water and soda ash to reduce the permanent hardness are mixed with the water.

INSOLUBLE MATERIALS settle to the bottom and are scraped out and pumped away. The water-soda-lime combination flows into a "recarbonation unit" where carbon dioxide gas bubbles up through the water and neutralizes the excess lime.

The water then flows over the top of two rapid filter units inside the plant, and all solids are left on the top of the filter sand. Filter pumps transfer all the filtered and treated water into a 400,000-gallon outdoor storage tank. The water flows by gravity back to the plant where powerful pumps push it into the system.

The pressure from these pumps is stabilized by the 500,000 gallons of water in the elevated tank on South Oakland Street.

WHILE THE WATER flow pattern of the new treatment plant is simple, the technology of it isn't. Electrical wiring is tied into almost every piece of equipment and provides for control of the entire water system—pumps, filtration, and even the level of the elevated and ground tanks—from the water plant itself.

Completion of the plant—and putting it into full service—will be one of the last steps in the city's $1 million-plus water improvement program. A $750,000 bond issue was passed by voters in 1964, and last year the city commission authorized the sale of additional revenue bonds when costs of the program soared above that originally anticipated.

BUT YET another step exists before the water program is culminated. That's already started. It is the process of checking existing wells and removing of some well pumps which were necessary prior to the new plant but are not needed now.

"We are now reducing pressure so we do not need all the pumps," Ray Smit of Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May told the St. Johns city commission last Tuesday night.

The well checking will involve pump inspections; a brief pumping test of the older wells; metering wells so their capacity will be known; and checking valve installations.

Smit estimated the cost at about $4,000 per well and recommended that it be done first on the largest three of the five older wells.

ROBERT KEISEL

Saylor-Beall names new sales aid

Saylor-Beall Manufacturing Co. of St. Johns has announced the appointment of a new assistant sales manager, Robert Keisel. The new assignment for Keisel was effective Sept. 19.

Keisel, 36, comes from Salisbury, Md., where he was field service engineer with Symington-Wayne Corp. He fills a position here that has been vacant since May 1 when James Leon was promoted from assistant sales manager to sales manager of Saylor-Beall.

KEISEL JOINED Wayne Pumps, a division of Symington-Wayne Corp., nine years ago as a technical representative at Wayne Pumps in Fort Wayne, Ind. He then worked as project engineer on an hydraulic elevators program for use with the Nike missile system, still with Wayne Pumps.

He was then promoted to service manager, industrial products, at the Fort Wayne division before being stepped up to field service engineer in Salisbury, Md.

Keisel is a graduate of Mt. Carmel High School in Wyandotte, Mich. He attended the University of Michigan on an electrical engineering program and took further specialized courses at Indiana Institute of Technology at Fort Wayne.

Keisel is a Navy veteran. He was a member of the Fort Wayne Jaycees and is affiliated with the Methodist Church. He and his wife Janet will be living at 401 S. Emmons Street, St. Johns, after Oct. 15.

Chest drive opens Oct. 17

The Clinton County Communities Chest drive will get under way Oct. 17, with a goal of $26,500 being sought for the benefit of nine agencies.

William Graef of 402 E. Buchanan, district manager for the General Telephone Co. here, is chairman of the drive.

This year's goal is just under $3,000 less than that of the previous two years. Last year nearly $24,000 was distributed.

AGENCIES SHARING in this year's Communities Chest campaign, and the amounts that would be given to each agency if the goal is reached, are:

American Red Cross, $9,860
Lansing Child Guidance, $990
Boy Scouts, $3,600
Girl Scouts, $2,000
Salvation Army, $2,100
St. Vincent DePaul Society, $1,000

4-H Fair Fund, $1,000
Michigan United Fund, $4,750
Michigan Children's Aid Society, $500

Chairmen of the business and industry drive phases of the campaign, and the out-county chairmen, will be announced later.

Equipment stolen at Ovid-Elsie site

Thieves broke into a number of equipment trailers at the site of the new Ovid-Elsie High School sometime Sunday night and made off with a considerable amount of equipment.

Padlocks were pried off trailers belonging to the Comfort Engineering Co., Vander Weide Plumbing Co., Strain Electric Co. and Vetting Contractors. A list of missing items was being compiled for the sheriff's office Tuesday, but it appeared the loss would run into several thousand dollars.

Deadline nears for host family

Families interested in hosting a foreign exchange student on a six-month or two-month program this year have only a few days to make application.

The St. Johns Youth for Understanding chapter announced that students from Chile, Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay will be coming to the United States on a six-month program starting January 1967. Students from Mexico will be available from October through December of this year on a two-month program.

BECAUSE OF THE time element, applications as host families for students must be made with Mrs. George Osgood or Mrs. George McQueen within the next week or so. Both ladies have application blanks and can answer specific questions about being a host family.

The South American exchange students are all between 16 and 18 years of age and have had considerable English. The local committee will ask that any Mexican students assigned here on the two month program be in the age range of 10-14 because of the already crowded condition in the high school. The Mexican students' knowledge of the English language may not be as good as those of the older South Americans, but local help on language problems is available through Mrs. Osgood.

Qualifications for being a host family, according to the Youth for Understanding committee, include: 1) warmth of home and See DEADLINE, Page 2-A

FINED FOR NON-SUPPORT

Larry J. Owen, 22, of Eaton Rapids was assessed a fine of $300 Thursday by Circuit Court Judge Leo Corkin on a charge of non-support.

RECKLESSNESS COSTLY

Phillip T. Leinhardt, 22, of Lansing, charged with reckless driving, was fined $100 plus $19.30 costs and sentenced to 20 days in jail last Friday.

DRIVER TICKETED

Ambrose Schueller, 29, of Kinley Road, R-1 Fowler was ticketed for improper passing after his southbound car struck the rear of one driven by Neil E. White, 24, of Barryton about 2 a.m. Monday morning on US-27 at Gratiot County Line Road. No one was hurt.

Wild turkeys: joint project

Hunting wild turkeys may some day be a sport enjoyed in Clinton County. If that day ever comes — say, five years or so from now, folks of the Fowler area can be justifiably proud of the part they played in establishing the game sport.

It was certainly a community-wide project Sunday when 41 wild turkeys — 31 hens and 10 toms — were released around Fowler and Pewamo. An estimated 400 persons were on hand for all or parts of the "plantings" that lasted half the afternoon.

Many of the folks had paid for the turkeys.

Robert Benson, Conservation Department biologist from the Rose Lake conservation office, remarked that he had never seen so much enthusiasm.

QUITE FRANKLY, it caught the sponsoring Fowler Conservation Club by surprise, too. President George L. Weber of Fowler said he anticipated only a handful of persons to watch the release of the wild turkeys.

But the crowd began to form about noon in Fowler as the word about the big birds began to spread. A large group of moms, dads and youngsters jammed around the truckload of turkeys at each of six locations where the birds were released.

Conservation Officer Benson tagged each of the birds, and their tag numbers and location of release was noted for future reference. As the truck of birds proceeded from spot to spot, the caravan of cars following seemed to get longer.

FOURTEEN WILD turkeys — 10 hens and 4 toms — were released in groupings of seven in the Stoney Creek area southeast of Fowler. Eight more hens and two toms are now roaming in the Camp Corby's area north of Pewamo, and four toms and 13 hens are loose in two spots along the Maple River in the 4-H camp area.

President Weber of the Fowler Conservation Club said the release of the turkeys was made possible through the cooperation of businessmen, farmers, clubs

Name 2 semi-finalists for Merit scholarships

Two Rodney B. Wilson High School seniors have been selected as semi-finalists in the 1966-67 Merit Scholarship competition.

They are Kathleen Corkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Corkin of 402 S. Lansing Street, and David Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Wells of 601 W. McConnell Street.

The announcement of their selection as semi-finalists was made Wednesday by B. Stanley Poculis, principal at Rodney B. Wilson High School. Miss Corkin and Wells are among the highest-scoring students in Michigan on the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test, administered last spring in 17,500 schools nationwide. More than 14,000 semi-finalists were appointed across the country.

DAVID WELLS

KATHLEEN CORKIN

THE SEMIFINALISTS can advance to finalist status by receiving the endorsement of their schools, substantiating their qualifying test performance on a second examination, and submitting information about their achievements and interest. All Merit scholars for 1967 will then be selected from the finalist group.

Two other students, Theodore Lietzke and Dale Mayers, have been awarded letters of commendation honoring their high performance on the qualifying tests. They're among 36,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper 2 per cent of those who will graduate from high school next spring. The commended students rank just below the semi-finalists.

Semifinalists are representative of the country's most intellectually able young people, according to John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corp. "From them will come much of our future leadership," he said.

"THESE STUDENTS bring honor not only to themselves, but also to their families, their teachers, and their communities," Stalnaker said. "Their success is the result of their own efforts, including well directed energy, usually coupled with the effective direction and encouragement of parents, friends, and teachers."

To improve the opportunities of financial assistance for those needing aid, NMSC sends the names of semifinalists to all regionally accredited colleges and universities and to scholarship-granting agencies and other sources of financial aid. Studies show that about half of the semifinalists in former years have received financial aid from sources other than the Merit program.

In past programs at least 97 per cent of semifinalists have become finalists. Each finalist receives a certificate of merit in recognition of his distinguished performance in the program. Finalists are eligible for the scholarships sponsored by NMSC and some 340 corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, trusts, professional associations, other organizations, and individuals.

NAMES OF THE MERIT scholars chosen from among the 1966-67 finalists will be announced about May 3, 1967. The exact number of awards will depend upon the extent of sponsor support. In 1966, over 2,250 Merit scholarships were awarded, 1,700 of them by sponsors. High school grades, creative accomplishments, leadership qualities, extracurricular activities, and school citizenship of the students are evaluated, along with test scores, in selecting Merit scholars.

Each Merit scholarship is a four-year award covering the undergraduate years of college. Each stipend is individually determined after the winner's need is assessed. For the student already financially able to attend the college of his choice, the stipend may be as little as $400 for four years. Those with high need may receive the normal maximum of $6,000, or $1,500 per year. Winners choose their own colleges and courses of study.

MORE THAN 13,000 students won Merit scholarships in the first 11 years of the Merit program, which was founded in 1955 with grants from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corp. of New York. Over $48 million in financial assistance to Merit scholars and their colleges have been expended or committed through the program to date.

NEWS in Brief

Touring with the World Travel Series of films at Michigan State University begins this Saturday (Oct. 1) with a journey to "Incredible Iceland." The film will be shown at 8 p.m. in the University Auditorium. Other films in the series this fall are "Mexico" (Oct. 8), "Rivers of France" (Oct. 15), "Africa (Nov. 5), "My California" (Nov. 11 and 12), "Persian Powder" (Nov. 19), "Ceylon" (Nov. 26), and "France" (Dec. 10)...

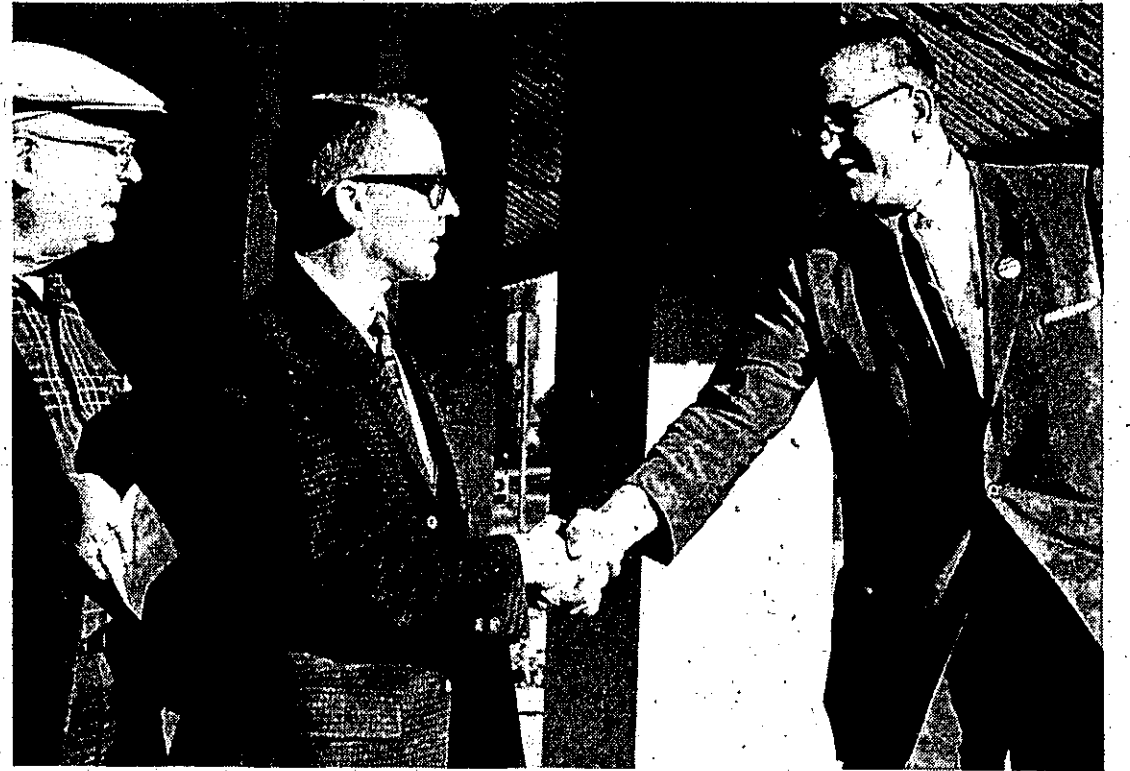

The Harvest Moon is a special highlight of September, and that special full moon occurs tonight (Thursday). The peculiarity of this full moon is the slight delay in its rising from night to night; in the autumn this lag is the shortest of the whole year, being as little as 20 minutes. For several successive evenings this nearly full moon will rise so nearly at the same hour one gets the impression of being subjected to a great deal of moonlight. This is in contrast to the spring when the daily retardation amounts to more than an hour...

BROWN CARRIES CAMPAIGN TO ST. JOHNS

State Sen. Garry Brown of Schoolcraft, seeking election to the U.S. House of Representatives from Michigan's Third District, carried his campaign to Clinton County last Friday. Part of the day involved shaking hands with workers at Sealed Air and Federal Mogul, and with businessmen and shoppers on downtown streets. Here Brown (right) meets Leon Brewbaker, while Al Allaby looks on at the left. Brown attended coffees at the homes of Mrs. John Hannah and Mrs. Fred Lewis during the morning and campaigned at Ovid and Elsie during the early afternoon.

YOUTH FOR Understanding is an international program providing an exchange of teenage students between countries in an effort to improve understanding between countries and wider education for the students. St. Johns has participated in the Youth for Understanding program for several years and is this year host to two foreign students, Mali Schreiber of Germany and Mikael Ask of Sweden, on a full-year program. Last year there was one full-year student and one on a six-month program. During the summer, five St. Johns girls went to Sweden, Mexico, Finland and Germany on the "other end" of the exchange cycle.

Radiological 'refresher' class held

A radiological monitoring refresher course was conducted last Thursday night at the Clinton County Road Commission garage, with nine students from previous classes taking part.

Speaker for the evening was Corp. Milton Jury of the state office of civil defense. He pointed out that much more radiological materials are being transported on the highways now than used to be, and US-27 is one of the primary routes.

WHILE MOST material handled in the mails and by other forms of transport are in substantial containers, there have been incidents where containers have broken and caused problems. He said such conditions make it important for someone with knowledge of radioactive materials to be handy.

Jury said more state and federal legislations governing the transport of radiological materials is needed.

James Whellon of the federal Department of Agriculture told of monthly meter reading and reporting system in which background data for radiation counts is collected. Part of his job is monitoring livestock for slaughter during a post-attack period.

DON EWING of Bath, instructor for the radiological monitoring courses earlier this year, conducted "refresher" exercises, and dosimeters were issued to those present. Students of the original course who attended were Richard Kerr, Fred Corson, Ray Drake, Dennis Root, Harry Witt, Robert Kemp, Alan Campbell, Wendell Blemaster and Donald Allen.

Civil Defense Director for Clinton County Charles Frost coordinated the meeting.

Additional radiological monitoring training classes will be held this winter starting Dec. 1, Frost said. Don Ewing will be the instructor, and the classes will be held at the County Road Commission garage.

Fifty-two per cent of all state general fund expenditures in Michigan are invested in education.

Non-airline pilots last year flew a record 2.6 billion miles in 16.7 million hours in 95-442 aircraft and achieved the lowest fatal accident rate in history, reports the Federal Aviation Agency.

2 PERSONS INJURED IN MERIDIAN ROAD CRASH

The driver and a passenger in this car refused treatment for cuts and bruises suffered Friday evening when this car missed a curve on Meridian Road south of Taft Road and hit a large rock on the front lawn of the Charles Bracey home. Driver of the car was Edward L. Neitzke, 21, of Lake Odessa; his passenger was Dale Atkinson, 31, of 500 Euclid Street, St. Johns.

2nd free clinic well attended

The second monthly immunization clinic in Clinton County proved to be even more popular than the first.

Officials of the Mid-Michigan District Health Department announced Friday that 322 people received 589 immunizations at the free clinic last Wednesday. In August 115 families and 304 persons got 458 immunizations.

There were 144 families involved in the second clinic, which was held in the Catholic Church basement. The bulk of the crowd was new people not at the first clinic, county nurses said. Dr. F. W. Smith, director of the Mid-Michigan District Health Department, gave 81 DPT immunizations, 67 DT, 80 oral polio, 120 measles, 72 small pox immunizations and 169 TB skin tests.

ALL THE IMMUNIZATIONS are free at the monthly clinics. Assisting the doctor at last Wednesday's clinic were Mrs. Pauline Hegle RN, Mrs. Kitty Wiles RN, and Irene Grusbeck, clerk, all of Gratiot County; Mary Jane Lilly RN, Ruth Simon RN and Pat Miller RN, all of Montcalm County; and Geneva Cornell RN, Betty Geller RN, Luella Canfield RN, and Mrs. Oral Rice and Mrs. St. Clair Pardee, Red Cross volunteers.

The next clinic in St. Johns will be Oct. 19 in the basement of St. Joseph Catholic Church.

Police have good leads in hunt for stabber-bandits

St. Johns police have "good leads" in the search for two deaf mutes who seriously stabbed Willis Mygrants of St. Johns Saturday morning in a holdup at the Clito gas station on South US-27.

Mygrants, 62, of 108 Spring Street, was reported improved but still in "serious" condition Tuesday morning at Ingham Medical Hospital in Lansing.

He was attendant at the Clito station across US-27 from Southgate Plaza and was stabbed repeatedly when he apparently tried to prevent the two men from emptying his cash register.

A BLOODY 6 1/2-inch butcher knife, bent into an L-shape, was found on the floor of the station.

A road block was thrown up immediately after police learned of the crime. The two men escaped in a blue-green Falcon and eluded police, who took off the road block after two futile hours. City police placed the holdup together like this:

Two men came into the station about 11:15 a.m. and appeared to be deaf and mute. They talked with their hands and wrote "oil change" on a newspaper (which was one of the clues left in the station). When Mygrants got the car up on the hoist, the men changed their minds.

THEY THEN ATTACKED Mygrants, stabbing him several times and kicking him. He suffered multiple stab wounds and fractures of the facial bones. About $85 was taken from the cash register.

The bandits were white males between 35 and 40 years old. They weighed about 140 pounds and were between 5-6 and 5-7 in height, wearing grey suits and white shirts.

Police Chief Everett Glazier said officer Russ Doty worked on the case all day Monday, and police have a number of "good" leads which may bring an arrest soon.

Surplus property warehouse relocated

Notice has been received here that the federal surplus property warehouse, formerly housed at the old Jackson prison, has been moved and is now located on North Logan Street in Lansing. It will open Oct. 3.

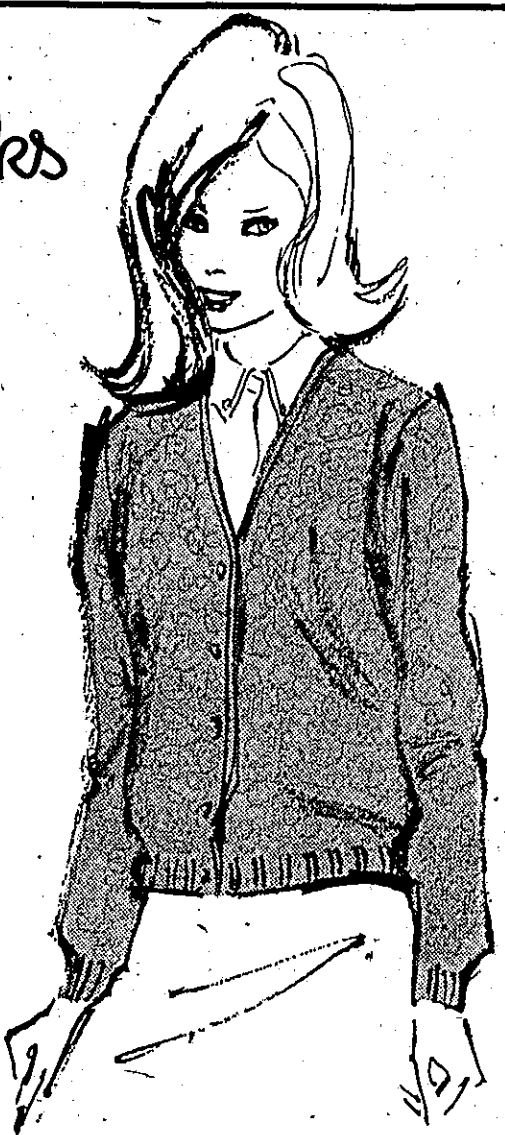

Political subdivisions and departments eligible for federal surplus property should contact Charles Frost, Clinton County civil defense director.

Fowler Conservation Club members let go two of seven wild turkeys released in one part of the Stony Creek area Sunday afternoon. Left to right are George Weber (president of the club), Lew Weber, Lester Miller, Claude Hufnagel, Lenny Thelen, John Harr and Leroy Schafer. Forty-one turkeys were released around Fowler Sunday.

Turkeys...

and other organizations and other individuals in the Fowler area. All chipped in more than $650 since about Labor Day to buy the 41 turkeys for release.

The hens cost $15 each and the toms $20 each, Weber said. All are 2- to 3-year-old birds. Normally, he said, the Conservation Department handles the release of turkeys, but on this occasion they permitted the Fowler Conservation Club to handle it.

THE BIRDS WERE purchased from a town in Pennsylvania, a state where wild turkeys are hunted state-wide each year. Claude Hufnagel and Leonard Thelen drove to Pennsylvania on a 1,031-mile round trip to bring the turkeys to their new Clinton County home.

Turkey hunting in Michigan was allowed last fall for the first time this century, and 82 were bagged during the Nov. 6-14 season in Allegan County.

Just how soon the population of wild turkeys in the Clinton County will allow them to be hunted is something for the Conservation Department to decide.

Seek substitute teachers here

Solving one problem has led to another for the St. Johns Public Schools.

Several former substitute teachers were recruited this year to fill full-time teaching positions, and now this has created a shortage of substitute teachers, particularly at the high school level.

B. Stanley Poculis, high school principal, has asked qualified persons who might be interested in substitute teaching to contact him.

But Weber believes it will be at least five years and possibly 10. "... And maybe never," he admits.

WHILE THE TURKEY population here grows, however, the sport of turkey hunting will probably be growing too. In 1965 the state Legislature passed a bill authorizing the Conservation Commission to establish seasons for the hunting of wild turkeys, including the setting of bag limits and other necessary regulations.

The Allegan, Lake - Newaygo and Oscoda - Ogemaw areas and Beaver Island were judged to have sufficient turkeys to have open seasons in the fall of 1965. But the commission decided on a conservative approach the first year and picked the Allegan area as a logical place to start.

The Allegan area turkeys had apparently reached a peak population of about 700 birds by 1959. Numbers, as nearly as could be determined, held steady at 600 to 700 turkeys each fall since then. Losses each winter cut the population almost in half, but these were replaced each year by the production of young birds.

THE SEASON LAST year was set for Nov. 6 through Nov. 14 in Allegan County only, with a limit of one turkey of any age and either sex. Hunting was limited to 400 persons who received 1965 turkey hunting permits.

The release of wild turkeys in Clinton County received the most enthusiastic public response of all, but it wasn't the first bird-releasing project of the Fowler Conservation Club.

More than 3,000 pheasants have been released in the Fowler area, and next year the club plans to release partridge; money donated even Sunday after all the turkeys were released will be used on the partridge project, Weber said.

PRESENT OFFICERS of the 130 - member Fowler Conservation Club are Weber as president; Albert Weber, vice president; Dudley McKean secretary and Curt George treasurer.

The Fowler Conservation Club was formed in March 1961 with an initial membership of five persons interested in improving the hunting and fishing in the area.

Fund-raising projects were started for a park area for the public. An annual picnic was decided on for Labor Day. In the spring of 1962 a pheasant-raising and releasing project was started, and the first year 700 birds were released.

HEDGEROWS and pines were set out on farmers' fence rows and non-tillable land as haven for game birds. More money was put into the park several miles south of Fowler, with outside toilets and playground equipment being added and prickly ash and briars being eliminated.

Picnic tables were made, and a clubhouse and dance hall were built for organization rental. Lights and wiring were put up in the entire park for evening festivities.

Projects planned for this year were bulldozing and scraping the north creek bank to make a beach; buying, raising and releasing wild turkeys; acquiring more playground equipment; improving the rest rooms; marking off and improving the ball diamond west of the creek; and improving the turkey shoot area.

MR AND MRS RAYMOND E. DOYLE, JR.

Jeannie Walling is recent bride

ST. JOHNS — Jeannie Marie Walling became the bride of Raymond E. Doyle Jr. of Perryburg, Ohio, Aug. 31 at St. Joseph's Catholic Church of St. Johns. Rev Edwin Schoettie officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Robert P. Walling of 107 N. Morton Street, St. Johns. Doyle is the son of Mr and Mrs Raymond E. Doyle Sr. of 1302 N. Krepps Road, St. Johns.

For the 5 p.m. wedding, the new Mrs Doyle selected a traditional floor length gown of sequined lace over taffeta with a scalloped neckline, long sleeves coming to a point at the wrists, a full flared skirt, and a lace edged detachable cape train. A crystal crown secured her shoulder length veil. She carried blue carnations and chrysanthemums.

HELEN LOUDENS Lager was the honor attendant and the bridesmaids were Rosemary Walling, cousin of the bride, of St. Johns, Mrs Janet Davis of Lansing and Prudy Walker of St. Johns. Mrs Stanley Fedewa, sister of the groom, acted as warder.

The attendants wore capri blue gowns of crepe fashioned with matching lace sleeve trim and dark blue velvet ribbon at the waist and on the sleeves. The headpieces were of blue tulle held in place with clusters of blue daisies and white chrysanthemums.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs Walling chose a three piece turquoise knit suit with bone accessories. Mrs Doyle Sr. wore a beige and brown shantung dress with matching accessories. Their corsages were of blue carnations and chrysanthemums.

NEIL WALLING, brother of the bride, of Toledo, Ohio, was the best man and groomsmen were LaVern Rasow of Lansing, Carl Kilpatrick of St. Johns and John Wolsheld, cousin of the groom, of Lansing. Seating the guests were Dave Walling, brother of the bride and Bill Dershem cousin of the groom.

A reception for the newlyweds was held at Bigham hall. Assisting were Mrs Bertram Crowell, Mrs Gale Walling, Mrs Julian Jury, Mrs Donald Stewart, Mrs Barbara Thelen, Mrs Joe Paksi, Mrs Gaylord Doyle, Mrs Stanley Fedewa, Mrs Ray Dershem, Mrs Maxine Fedewa, Mrs Maxine Walton, Mrs. Richard Pung, Mrs Kendall Mohrke, Mrs Joseph Barrett, Mrs Kay Harris, Jan Campbell and Shirley Pedigrew.

Honored guests were Mrs Neil Walling, bride's godmother; Mr and Mrs Chester Walton, groom's godparents and Mrs Roy Ambrook, grandmother of the bride.

Mr and Mrs Raymond Doyle Jr. are now at home at 1354 1/2 W. Delaware, Toledo, Ohio.

DENISE A. HAFNER

Denise A. Hafner graduated Sept. 21 at Lansing Community College as a LPN. She is now employed at Ingham Medical Hospital.

Miss Hafner is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Joseph Hafner of 612 S. Main, Fowler and is a 1965 graduate of Fowler High School.

Woman's Club marks 75 years

The St. Johns Woman's Club will observe its diamond anniversary Oct. 5, at the first meeting of the season, a luncheon, at Niles Hall of the First Methodist Church of St. Johns. There will be a rededication service.

It was Dec. 19, 1891, when the first meeting was held at the home of Mrs Mary Babcock. The purpose of the organization, which was at that time a literary society, was to promote literary and scientific pursuits and obtain a broader culture; intellectually, socially and morally.

The founders of the Ladies Literary Society, as it was then called were Mary Babcock, Mary Perrin, Carrie Travis, Melissa Woolcott, Ruth Hughes, Carrie Steele, Maria Bromley, Mrs B. D. Palmer, Mrs William Castle, Elizabeth Fedewa, Emma Weller, Jennie Watson, Carrie Goette, Caddie Shaver, Mattie Morris, Frances Grisson, Stella VanSickle, Celia Smith, Cora B. Smith, Mrs Captain Marvin, Emma Faxon and Minnie Coleman Waldron.

THE FIRST officers were Mrs

M. Babcock, president; Mrs H. M. Perrin, vice president and secretary - treasurer, Mrs F. A. Travis.

The club joined the State Federation in 1895 and in 1904 they met with the Elsie and Ovid clubs and formed a county federation.

The name was changed from the Ladies Literary Society to the St. Johns Woman's Club in 1910.

The St. Johns Woman's Club meets the first and third Wednesdays of each month from October through April.

The officers for this year are Mrs John Rumbaugh, president; Mrs Harold Millman, vice president; Mrs Roy Davis, recording secretary; Mrs Marion Walling, corresponding secretary; Mrs John Warstler, treasurer; Mrs George Brooks, parliamentarian and Mrs D. H. Parr, historian.

The directors are Mrs Gayle Vanconsant, Mrs Dorr Anderson, Mrs Joseph Spusta, Mrs Van Hoag, Mrs William Richards and Mrs Leo Pouch.

Lutheran Ladies send gift boxes

A potluck supper Sept. 19 at 6:30 preceded the first fall meetings of the St. Johns Lutheran Ladies Guild.

Mrs Reva Ernst opened the business portion of the Guild at 8 p.m. with devotions.

The rest of the meeting was then turned over to the new president, Mrs Lillian Tiedt.

It was decided to send gift boxes to the boys in the services each quarter and helping to pack the boxes this quarter are Mrs Francis Diehm, Mrs Marie Grubaugh, Mrs Bernice Halsey, Mrs Alma Boak, Mrs Donna Race, Mrs Lillian Tiedt, Mrs Alvina Stragar and Mrs Elsa Moeller.

The guild will serve a buffet supper Sunday evening, Dec. 4, from 5 until 7 p.m. Chairman will be Dorothy Flak and co-chairman, Caroline Evert. The guild will order and pay order more fruit, cakes for Thanksgiving and Christmas and to sell the 46 cookbooks still on hand.

The new book "In the Footsteps of Luther" was donated to the church library by Mrs Reva Ernst.

Mrs Dorothea Barnes was voted and welcomed in as a new member.

Many a train of thought runs into a head-on collision.

St. Joseph Altar Society met Sept. 15

The St. Joseph Altar Society held its first meeting Sept. 15. Immediately after the 6:30 Mass a potluck was served to the large group of ladies attending. President Marge Koenigskecht conducted the meeting and gave each lady a calendar of events outlining the activities of the year. Mrs Mike Medina won the door prize which was a lovely flower arrangement.

MRS. ROBERT R. POLLOCK

Clark-Pollock vows repeated Sept. 10

A Nuptial High Mass at St. Therese Church in Lansing at noon Saturday, Sept. 10, united Donna Kathleen Clark and Robert Russell Pollock in marriage. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald K. Clark of R-4, Lansing and Pollock is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Pollock of Rogers City.

Rev William Koenigsmecht officiated at the double ring ceremony, and during it the bridegroom read the Epistle. Duane Soback of Rogers City was cross bearer and Thomas Shaver of Lansing and William Thelen of DeWitt were the Mass servers. Arrangements of white gladiol and mums decorated the altar of the church.

THE BRIDE wore a sheath gown of French lace designed with a scalloped neckline, long sleeves and a sleeveless coat of satin which formed the train. Her veil of illusion net fell from a cabbage rose ornamented with pearls and she carried a cascade of white iceberg chrysanthemums and pale yellow Fuji chrysanthemums.

Barbara Clark of Lansing was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Michael Neirink of Flint, another sister of the bride; Mary Pollock of Rogers City, the groom's sister and Mrs. Michael Williams of Lansing. They wore floor-length gowns with bodices of moss brown velvet and skirts of gold bonded crepe. Matching velvet pillboxes, brown gloves, and cascade bouquets of rust iceberg chrysanthemums and Fuji chrysanthemums completed their ensembles.

Gary Pollock of Rogers City, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsman were Christopher Pollock of Rogers City, brother of the groom; Eugene Root of DeWitt and Dan Howitson of Detroit. Michael Neirink of Flint, David Patchkowski of Glen Arbor, and John R. Osborn of Sault Ste. Marie seated the guests.

HONORED GUESTS at the wedding were Mrs. Mary Spitzley, the 96-year-old grandmother of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pollock, grandparents of the groom.

A reception with buffet dinner for 250 guests was held at the St. Therese Assembly Hall immediately following the ceremony.

The former Miss Clark is a 1966 graduate of Mercy School of Nursing, and had been employed at Ingham Medical Hospital in Lansing. Pollock is a 1964 graduate of Ferris State College and is employed by the auditing department for the State of Michigan, assigned to the Traverse City area.

J. A. Pinos honored at Kimble reunion

Sunday, Sept. 11, members of the West Kimble reunion met at the Lowe Church for their reunion where a potluck dinner was held. It was at the dinner when Edward Pino of Denver walked in and surprised his father. A cake was presented to J. Arthur Pino and his wife by Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Pino.

Immediately following the dinner Roy Anderson, chairman, conducted a short business meeting. Following this Mrs. Roy Anderson conducted a program, "This Is Your Life," honoring J. Arthur Pino and his wife, Addie. Dr. Ralph Pino gave his brother's life history, noting that he grew up in the Lowe community and graduated from Ferris Institute. His wife Addie was also recognized as a very devoted person, an accomplished pianist, reader, poet and wonderful mother.

EDWARD PINO and Dorothy Sheap and Austin Pino paid tribute to their grandfather and brother. James Campbell recognized the life long friendship he had enjoyed so much with Arthur. Rebecca Sheap dedicated two solos to her grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson sang a hymn and were accompanied by Mrs. Roy Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Pino of Hillsdale, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Pino of Plymouth, Mrs. Bonnie Bulenborg of Detroit, Harriet Lamphere of Grand Ledge, Edward Pino of Denver, the Stanley Sheap family, Lilly Stead, Ruby McNeil and Bruce Bancroft and daughters of Lansing were the guests from away who helped the relatives and friends from St. Johns, the Lowe community and surrounding areas make this a memorable event.

Stanley Sheap of Lansing made a recording of the program.

The reunion will be held the second Sunday in September 1967.

MISS LORENA K. BEACHLER

St. Johns Child Study Club heard Rev Keith Bovee

St. Johns Child Study Club met Wednesday evening, Sept. 21, at the Episcopal Church for a potluck supper. Husbands were guests for the evening.

Guest speaker for the evening was Rev Keith Bovee, his topic, "Making Marriage Meaningful."

New officers for the year are president, Mrs. Hugh Banning; vice president, Mrs. Glendon Fitzpatrick; recording secretary, Mrs. Roland Ritter; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Benjamin Walker and treasurer, Mrs. Raymond Eick.

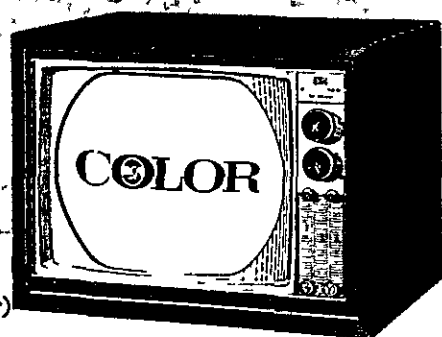

The October meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Ward.

You should exercise extra caution while driving during a light shower, safety specialists warn. Highways are slicker than during a heavy rain because road oil and grease "float" on the surface of the moisture. A downpour washes them away.

MRS. RICHARD J. KOCIBA

Pair said vows at St. Joseph's

ST. JOHNS — Now making their home at 109 N. Henry Street, Milford, Ind., are Dr and Mrs Richard Joseph Kociba, who were married at St. Joseph Catholic Church of St. Johns Sept. 10. Rev Jerry O'Be, cousin of the groom, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the former Miss Dorothy Ann Ondrusek and the daughter of Mr and Mrs William Ondrusek of R-6, St. Johns. Her husband is the son of Mr and Mrs Peter Kociba of Harbor Beach.

For the 10 a.m. wedding, the bride selected a chapel train gown of French lace fashioned with a scalloped bateau neckline and cathedral length sleeves. Tiers of lace in the back formed the train. The bouffant veil was secured with an Australian cut crystal double queen's crown. She carried red and white roses, white carnations and stephanotis.

MISS BETTY ONDRUSEK was her sister's maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Fredalice Tingay and Miss Jeanette Kociba, sister of the groom.

They wore floor length cotillion blue empire styled sheaths styled with floating panel backs. Their headresses were of matching clusters of tiny roses. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of red roses, chrysanthemums and carnations. The bridesmaids carried carnations and chrysanthemums.

The bride's mother wore a light blue sheath dress with matching accessories and the mother of the groom chose a royal blue sheath with black accessories. They both had pink and white rose corsages.

SERVING AS HIS brother's best man was Gary Kociba. Grooms-men were Ronald Kociba, brother of the groom and Richard Kral, cousin of the bride. Seating the guests were Robert Kral and Lloyd Wolschleger.

A reception was held at the VFW hall in St. Johns. Assisting were Miss Mary Jane Kral, Miss Marilyn Kral, Miss Rosemary Kral, Mrs John Kral and Mrs John T. Bukoski. The wedding cake was made by Mrs James Kral, aunt of the bride.

ABOUT 600 GUESTS attended from Indiana, Ohio, California, Harbor Beach, Detroit, Jackson, Ashley, Elsie, Owosso, Bannister, Flint, North Star, Gaylord, Ohio, Bad Axe and Port Huron.

The newlyweds honeymooned in northern Canada. The new Mrs Kociba is a graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School and Lansing Business University. Her husband is a graduate of Michigan State University and holds a doctor of veterinary medicine degree.

MRS. RODGER V. BITTNER

Barbara Parr weds Benton Harbor man

ST. JOHNS — Miss Barbara Jean Parr and Rodger Vincent Bittner of Benton Harbor were united in marriage Saturday, Sept. 17, at the First Baptist Church of St. Johns. Rev Roger Harrison officiated at the double ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Raymond G. Parr of 207 W. Cass Street, St. Johns. Mr and Mrs Benjamin Bittner of 1335 Miami Road, Benton Harbor, are the parents of the groom.

For the 7 p.m. candlelight ceremony, the new Mrs Bittner wore a sheath gown of satin with hand embroidered floral motifs and long sleeves. Her veil was a mantilla of lace and net and she carried a nosegay of white rosebuds and ivy.

MISS MARCIA PARR acted as maid of honor for her sister. The bridesmaids were Miss Susan Cosgrove, Miss Lesley Susan Cosgrove, Miss Lesley Singer, Mrs Douglas Wakefield and Mrs William Bittner, sister of the groom.

They were attired in olive green empire styled gowns of chiffon over lace styled with Belgian lace bodices. Their headpieces were circlets of yellow rosebuds and they carried white chrysanthemums and yellow roses. White kid gloves completed their ensembles.

LORI GOLDMAN was the flower girl. Jon Carlson was the best man. Also attending the groom were Thomas Rasmussen, Albert De-Prince, Steven Jones and James Parr, brother of the bride. Brian Romig carried the rings.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs Parr wore a lettuce green chiffon dress with dark green accessories. The mother of the groom was attired in a beige lace dress with pink accessories. Their corsages were of yellow rosebuds.

A reception for the newlyweds followed in the church basement and was hosted by Mr and Mrs Kenneth Snider. Assisting at the affair were Miss Mali Schriber, Mrs Carol Hale, Miss Mary Kuntz, Miss Barbara Waggoner, Miss Janice Berkhausen and Mrs Margaret Flegle. Miss Janet Findley registered the 300 guests. Special guests were Mrs D. H. Parr and Mrs Frank Estes, grandmothers of the bride and Mrs Mary Ramlow, grandmother of the groom.

THE NEW Mr and Mrs Bittner have been making their home at Pine Forrest Apartments, East Lansing, since their return from a Bermuda honeymoon.

The bride is a senior at the University of Michigan. Her husband, who is presently employed in Lansing by the Court of Appeals Judge Timothy C. Quinn as a legal assistant, is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

Tucker combination, stiff defense give Bath 19-7 win

The Fighting Bees of Bath High School pulled the first area upset of the football season Friday night by defeating a highly rated Laingsburg team 19-7 at Laingsburg.

The Bees didn't score until the second quarter but they had a comfortable 19-0 lead before the host Wolfpack finally punched over a touchdown in the fourth period.

Laingsburg's senior speedster halfback Dave Carroll was effectively bottled up by the Bath defense most of the evening, and it was the Bees' Tucker-Tucker offensive combination that gave the Wolfpack fits.

THAT TRIO CLICKED for Bath's first touchdown early in the second period. Starting out on the Bath 25, Mike Tucker, a quarterback, rolled out to pass and then ran for 12 yards. Randy Tucker, a fullback, picked up a yard on a running play and then scored on a 62-yard pass thrown by Mike. Barry White's extra point kick was blocked.

Randy broke up a Laingsburg threat on the Wolfpack's first series of plays in the second half. He intercepted a pass on the Bath 35 yard line and returned it 47 yards to the Laingsburg 18. Possibly as a reward for the effort, he got to carry on the next play and rambled 18 yards for the touchdown. A pass from Terry Barnard to Dan Tucker was broken up on the try for extra point.

THAT MADE THE score 12-0, but Bath wasted little time in adding to it. After getting the ball back on a Laingsburg punt, the Bees put together a 70-yard drive for their final touchdown. Randy Tucker caught a pass for 37 yards that carried to the Laingsburg 25 as one of the highlights of the drive.

He then bulled on to the 12 yard line, and Dan Tucker, a senior halfback, rolled out to pass and then ran for 12 yards. Randy Tucker, a fullback, picked up a yard on a running play and then scored on a 62-yard pass thrown by Mike. Barry White's extra point kick was blocked.

Randy broke up a Laingsburg threat on the Wolfpack's first series of plays in the second half. He intercepted a pass on the Bath 35 yard line and returned it 47 yards to the Laingsburg 18. Possibly as a reward for the effort, he got to carry on the next play and rambled 18 yards for the touchdown. A pass from Terry Barnard to Dan Tucker was broken up on the try for extra point.

Bradfield took an 18-yard pass to the 46 yard line and on a later fourth - down play Paul Graham took a lateral for a first down to the Bath 35. A Bath penalty, a pass from Carroll to Joe Braska and a pass to fullback Allen Chadwick at the 13 set up the touchdown.

Carroll scored it, hauling in a pass in the end zone from Stan VanVelsor. Paul Graham hit Bradfield with a pass for the extra point.

Laingsburg had threatened to score early in the game after recovering a Bath fumble. Ron Bradfield had a nice 13-yard run as Laingsburg picked up three first downs and moved to the Bees' 13-yard line before Bath stiffened and held.

AGAIN IN THE second quarter a potential Wolfpack touchdown was turned aside by the Bath defense. Laingsburg started from their own 30. A 14-yard pass play to Bob Ordway, two line runs by VanVelsor and a series of short gainers highlighted the drive that carried to the Bath 11. But Mike Tucker plied a pass to end the threat.

Bath's Elias David (11 in dark jersey), latches on to Laingsburg's Craig Bradfield after a short gainer by Bradfield Friday night. The Bath defense twice stopped potential Laingsburg scoring threats as Bath won 19-7. Other players are Bath's Dan Tucker (20), Warren Gordon (67), Jeff Geisenhaver (73), and Larry Wildt (72). Laingsburg players include Lee Veith (70), Nick DeVault (10) and Allen Chadwick (16).

Fowler outplays Potterville, but barely manages to squeeze 12-7 win

POTTERVILLE-Fowler dominated the statistics but almost didn't score Friday night as the Eagles eked out a 12-7 victory over a tough Potterville team at Potterville.

The Eagles scored two touchdowns in the last six minutes of the game as they opened league play in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference. Neal Thelen ran 11 yards for the first touchdown with six minutes left, and two minutes later quarterback George Goerge hit Mike Nobach with a 45-yard pass for the winning touchdown.

POTTERVILLE HAD led the scoring almost from the start. Mike Helme of Potterville scored a touchdown on a two-yard sneak on the Vikings' first series of plays in the first quarter. Doug Smalley booted the extra point. Potterville dominated the first quarter of play, but from then on it was Fowler. The Eagles had rushing yardage advantages of 34-13, 54-25 and 61-17 in the final three quarters, and in the last half they ran 33 plays to only 14 for Potterville.

But despite their dominance, Fowler couldn't score. Four potential touchdown drives were scrubbed because of penalties, which totaled 70 yards for the evening. The Eagles did get within field goal range in the second quarter, but Bruce Thelen's kick from the 33 yard line faded off line at the last second and missed.

FOWLER COACH H. Blaine Douglas credited his line men as making the difference in the game, with guard Bruce Thelen leading the blocking. Fullback Brendon Goerge also provided good downfield blocking.

Offensively, Fowler picked up 12 first downs to seven for Potterville. Fowler's Neal Thelen had 99 yards rushing in 16 carries, and Ron Brown ran for 75 yards on 18 carries. Quarterback Goerge threw three completed passes in four tries for 75 yards, and Nobach caught two for 75 yards.

VanSickle paces Fulton to victory

VESTABURG - Fulton's Randy Van Sickle was a one-man show practically Friday night as he paced his Pirates to a 26-7 non-league football victory over Vestaburg.

VanSickle passed 43 yards for a touchdown to Terry Proko, returned a punt 38 yards for a touchdown, ran seven yards for a touchdown, kicked an extra point and ran for an extra point on a bad pass from center.

Fulton's final touchdown came on a seven-yard run by Dick Zammeran.

Pirates steamroll over DeWitt 50-0

By LOWELL G. RINKER

Pewamo-Westphalia's Pirates blitzed DeWitt early and then wore down the Panthers in a 50-0 rout Friday night at Pewamo-Westphalia.

The Pirates scored in every quarter, but got half of their points in the final 12 minutes of play. Halfback Gary Bissell and quarterback Randy Pohl scored two touchdowns each, while Ken Weber, Ken May, Jim Bengel and Mike Briggs each had one.

Pewamo-Westphalia also used the unorthodox - for modern-day football - drop-kick by Larry Smith for one extra point, and Pat Geller split the uprights with a more conventional place-kick for the other point after.

THE PIRATES scored on their first series of plays. Weber hauled in a deflected pass from quarterback Ken May and went on for a touchdown on a play that covered 42 yards.

P-W was back in the scoring column moments later after recovering a DeWitt fumble on the DeWitt 40-yard line. The Pirates slammed their way to the one-yard line, from which quarterback May sneaked into the end zone. Smith then drop-kicked the extra point to make it 13-0.

Just before the quarter ended, P-W mounted another scoring drive from mid-field. Weber and Bissell had nifty runs of 12 and 8 yards to spark the drive, which culminated with a one-yard drive by Jim Bengel for the touchdown early in the second quarter.

THE PIRATES nearly scored again on a mental error by DeWitt, who didn't pick up Pat Geller's kickoff. P-W did and took over on the DeWitt 28. Dan Trillerweiler snatched a pass from Pohl that carried to the DeWitt 10, and then Bissell sliced to the one-yard line.

But on the touchdown try, the ball was fumbled, and DeWitt's Roy Cole recovered at the one. This set the stage for the spirited Panthers' only scoring threat of the evening.

QUARTERBACK Dave Parker sneaked out to the eight-yard line to get out of safety danger, then hit Mike Ashley with a pass to the DeWitt 23. A few minutes later Jim Richmond romped to the DeWitt 45. With fourth-down and eight yards to go facing them, Parker completed a pass on fake punt situation, and DeWitt was at the Pewamo-Westphalia 28. They got only a few yards farther, however, before the half ended.

A fumble recovered by DeWitt temporarily interrupted the Pirates' drive for their fourth touchdown in the third period. DeWitt moved past mid-field, but Randy Pohl intercepted a deflected Parker pass, and P-W was off to the races again.

Pohl passed to Trillerweiler for 14 yards and to Bengel for 8 and to Mike Pung for 22 yards as P-W marched for the touchdown. Bissell scored it on a two-yard plunge to make the score 25-0.

THE FOURTH QUARTER was disastrous for the DeWitt Panthers. The trouble started on the third series of plays when a bad pass from center sailed over the head of quarterback Parker with DeWitt lined up in a spread formation. P-W recovered on the DeWitt 13. The Pirates moved to the one, and Pohl sneaked in for the touchdown. That made the score 31-0.

A few plays later, Briggs intercepted a pass on the DeWitt 32 and lugged it to the 26. Pohl passed to Mike Pung to the 7, and after an exchange of penalties, Bissell scored on a four-yard run. Pat Geller's place-kick made the score 38-0.

The scoring was far from over. DeWitt, desperate with time running out, went for a fourth-down play but it was stopped and P-W took over on the DeWitt 14. Briggs carried on the last two of four plays, once to the three and then in for a touchdown, and it was 44-0.

THE PANTHERS, still fighting, moved out to their own 44, but a series of penalties and a fourth-down running loss gave the Pirates the ball again on the 29 yard line. Pohl rolled to the left looking for a pass receiver, but then decided to run and went all the way in for the final touchdown.

DeWitt, despite being overwhelmed on the field, played a spirited game and Coach Gerald Summerhays got some good performances by Parker, Richmond, Mike Fuller, Roger Kaminski and others. Several DeWitt players suffered injuries in the game.

DeWitt's Roger Kaminski (19) makes short yardage over a pileup of players in this action from Friday night's game at Pewamo-Westphalia. P-W defenders about to make the permanent stop are Ken Weber (27) and Todd Beachnau (34). On the ground is DeWitt's Don Carrigan (60). Pewamo-Westphalia won 50-0.

Fowler woman contest winner

The first woman football fan to win one of this year's Clinton County News football contests received a check this week for $20. She is Mrs. Helen E. Fedewa of R-2 Fowler.

Mrs. Fedewa won as a result of her tie-breaker score on the Lions - Atlanta game. She and Robert Gillson Jr. of R-3 St. Johns each missed only four selections on the regular list of games, but her tie-breaker score of 25 was closer than his 23 to the total number of points scored in the Lions' 28-10 victory.

Both persons - and all but one of all the contestants, missed the Lakeview - Carson City and Ashley - Morrice games, both of which ended in a tie. One person correctly forecast a tie in the latter game, but he missed seven other choices. Mrs. Fedewa also was wrong in her selection of Ionia over Lakewood and Iowa over Oregon State.

Redwings jell, shake Greenville

By STEVE HOPKO

The St. Johns Redwing defense rose to the occasion last Friday as the Wings defeated Greenville 28 to 6 at Greenville.

The highly touted Greenville offense, which rambled for long yardage in their opener against Lakeview, was held to short gains by the determined Redwing defense.

THE LONGEST plays of the evening for Greenville were two 16-yard runs by halfback Roman Barnwell and fullback Frank Gibson. Quarterback Ed Barnwell completed a 16-yard pass to Roman Barnwell for the longest pass play.

In addition to holding the Greenville offense in check, the Redwing defense scored two points on a safety and set up the second St. Johns TD when they recovered a Greenville fumble.

The St. Johns offense gained less yardage than a week ago when they played Mason, but they looked like a totally different unit as they kicked out and completed their blocking assignments and ran their pass patterns well.

QUARTERBACK Norm Love's passes were always on target and the running load was shared by nine backs as they racked up a total yardage just short of 300 yards.

Greenville won the toss and elected to receive to start the game. Two running plays gained one yard and on a third and nine, quarterback Barnwell attempted to pass but was thrown for a eight yard loss when Tim Spitzley and Ken Kurncz broke through.

Greenville punted and John

Salemi returned the punt 12 yards to the Greenville 38. Two plays later St. Johns had six points. The scoring play was a 28-yard pass from Love to Gary Boyce. The try for point failed after a penalty.

LATE IN THE FIRST period Greenville punted from their own 43-yard line. John Salemi took the punt on his own 20, started to his left and on a criss cross handed the ball to Boyce on the St. Johns 17.

Boyce was hit immediately by a Greenville tackler but shook loose, swung to his left, picked up his blocking and rambled 83 yards for his second TD with 44 seconds left in the first quarter. Boyce's kick for the extra point was blocked and St. Johns led 12-0.

After the Redwings had kicked off, Greenville ran three plays and punted. Four plays later Boyce hit left tackle for the last four yards and his third TD. This score came on a 39-yard drive with the big play being a pitch-out from Love to Mike Green who turned back into the center of the line and went 32 yards to the Greenville 8.

GREENVILLE HAD the opportunities to score late in the second period. They recovered a St. Johns fumble on the Redwing 40 yard line. With a third and 13 from the St. Johns 33, quarterback Barnwell's pass to end Dave Skinner was intercepted by Salemi on the St. Johns one, where he was tackled immediately.

With a minute and 20 seconds left in the first half, Greenville had a first down on the Redwing 12. The St. Johns defense held. The big play was when Craig Knight broke through and threw Barnwell for a 17-yard loss on an attempted pass.

IN THE THIRD quarter the two teams exchanged punts before St. Johns scored on an 80-yard drive in 11 plays. Salemi went the last nine yards on a draw play for the final touchdown. Boyce's kick for the extra point was good to make it 28-0.

At the start of the fourth quarter the Redwings had another drive under way. It went from the Greenville 47 to the four. Here St. Johns was penalized back to the nine for taking too much time. On the next play Salemi carried to the goal line where he was hit and fumbled. Greenville recovered and took possession with the ball only inches away from the goal.

ON THE FIRST play, Norm

Love, Terry Thurston and Terry Estes broke through to toss Barnwell for a safety, and two points for the Redwings. That made the score 28 to 0.

From here on in Coach Smiley used the reserves to finish out the game. Greenville's only score came with 1:32 left in the game after a 63-yard drive. Halfback Gerry VanSyckle went the last 10 yards for the score. Bill Peterson's kick for the extra point was short to make the final score 28-6.

The win over Greenville put St. Johns in a four-way tie for first place in the West Central B League with a 1-0 record. Also with similar records are Hastings, Lakewood and Grand Ledge.

St. Johns meets Hastings tomorrow in St. Johns, while Lakewood travels to Greenville and Grand Ledge goes to Alma.

ROWELL OUT FOR SEASON

Gale Rowell, Fowler High School's defensive end, was lost for the season when he suffered a knee injury Friday night in Fowler's 12-7 victory over Porterville.

John Salemi of St. Johns is about to be dropped after an eight yard gain by an unidentified Greenville player in the Redwings 28 - 6 win over Greenville. Other players moving in on the play are Ken Kurncz (75) and Mike Green (40) of St. Johns and Mike Peterson (64) of Greenville.

240 boys have applications for Punt, Pass & Kick Oct. 8

Two hundred forty boys from the St. Johns and Fowler areas have picked up application blanks to participate in the third annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition Oct. 8.

That was the word early this week from Bruce Fowler of Egan Ford Sales, local sponsor of the PP&K. Only 73 of the applications had been turned in as of Saturday, but this was a normal condition, and Fowler anticipates a record number of youngsters to participate.

OVER 100 BOYS were on hand for a Punt, Pass and Kick clinic last Tuesday evening at the St. Johns High School gymnasium. Competition Director Bill Swears was in charge, with the high school football staff of Head Coach Bill Smiley, Asst. Coach Frank Rosengren and JV Coach Doug Japenga giving instruction in punting, passing and kicking. A movie on last year's national finals PP&K competition was also shown to the boys and their dads who were present.

Many of the boys who were present haven't completed their registration for the local competition, but they're expected to do so. They have just over a week to do that, because the deadline for sign up is Oct. 7, the night before the competition.

HEADQUARTERS for registration is Egan Ford Sales at 200 W. Higham Street.

The local competition Oct. 8 will take place at 6:30 p.m. at the St. Johns City Park athletic field. It could be the first step to national honors for a local boy, because the performance he makes Oct. 8 will be compared with others in each Ford zone. There are 360 zones, so 2,160 boys - one for each age between 8 and 13 - will be selected for further competition in 37 Ford districts. Ford district sales offices will supervise district competitions where 228 champions and 228 runners-up will be determined.

All district champions will advance to area competitions which will be held in each of the 15 NFL game areas. All area champions (90) will qualify for division competition.

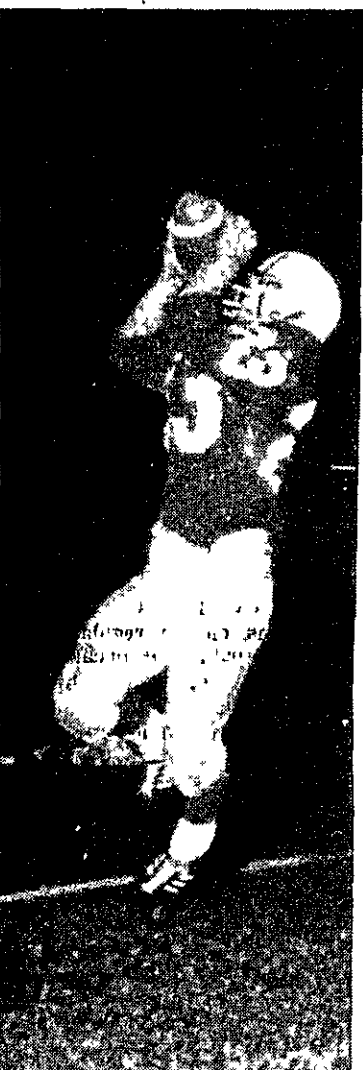

THE 48 EASTERN NFL area champions and their fathers will travel to Dallas, Tex., on Sunday, Dec. 11, to decide the six Eastern division finalists (one from each age group). The 42 Western NFL area champions will compete in Baltimore, Md., on Saturday, Dec. 10, to decide the six Western division finalists.

The 12 finalists will compete at the annual NFL Playoff Game at the Orange Bowl in Miami, Fla., Jan. 8 to determine the six national PP&K champions and the six runners-up.

Last year Robert Spencer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spencer of 103 St. Swegles Street was a zone winner.

THIS YEAR first, second and third-place winners in each age group will receive meticulously crafted medals of achievement.

Gary Boyce gathers in a pass from Norm Love for a 28 yard touchdown play. This was the second offense play of the game for the Redwings and gave St. Johns a 6-0 lead.

MRS CLARE FELDPAUSCH

Pair wed Aug. 20

WESTPHALIA — The former Miss Bernadette L. Platte of R-2, Portland and Clare Feldpausch of R-2, Fowler, were married at St. Mary's Catholic Church of Westphalia Aug. 20. Father Miller officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Platte of R-2, Portland and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Feldpausch of R-2, Fowler.

FOR THE 10 a.m. service, the bride selected a gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with a full skirt and long sleeves. Her veil was secured with a three tiered crown.

Mrs. Kathleen Thelen was her sister's matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Corinne Feldpausch, sister of the groom and Miss Mari Lou Platte, sister of the bride. They wore floor-length gowns of yellow and olive and had matching yellow crown headpieces. They carried green and bronze cascade arrangements of chrysanthemums.

The flower girl, Lisa J. Ewing, niece of the bride, was attired in a floor length gown of yellow nylon organza over green taffeta. She carried a basket of yellow and green chrysanthemums.

The brother of the groom, Dale Feldpausch, served as the best man. Groomsmen were Tom Platte and Neal Feldpausch. Frank Rademacker seated the guests.

MRS PLATTE SELECTED a two piece gold metallic dress with olive green shoes and hat. Mrs. Feldpausch chose a metallic beige ensemble. Their corsages were of white carnations and yellow orchids.

A 5 p.m. reception was held at St. Mary's hall of Westphalia. The newlyweds will make their home at R-2, Fowler.

They honeymooned in Florida.

Mrs. Frees has Brown Bees

The Brown Bee's Extension group met at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Frees Sept. 19.

The new officers took over at the meeting and extension yearbooks were completed for the coming year.

Nine members attended Area 9 meeting at Corunna and gave their reports. Recreation was under the direction of Mrs. Lloyd Hamer.

Mrs. Ray Magsig won the mystery prize. Next meeting to be Oct. 18 at the home of Mrs. Ray Thayer, hostess and Cassie Mack will be co-hostess.

MISS MARSHA D. HILLER

Dr. Eugene Friesen talked to the girls at the ceremony and encouraged them to continue helping others.

DAR begins new season

The first meeting of the year of River Wabwaysin Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution was held at the home of Mrs. George H. Brooks and daughter, Miss Maralys Brooks Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Harold Millman, regent, opened the meeting with the patriotic ritual and Mrs. Henrietta Prince, chairman of national defense, read an editorial on the election turnout in South Viet Nam as an example that should be heeded by Americans who stay away from the polls.

Mrs. Brooks, registrar, announced that most of the research for the papers of six new members is finished. Mrs. Manning Bross, chairman of Constitution Week, gave a comprehensive and interesting talk on the important anniversary of the writing of our Constitution and Bill of Rights. She reviewed many parts which may have been forgotten.

It was written by 55 delegates from 12 of the 13 states in 100 days. The convention was held in the city of Philadelphia and was presided over by George Washington. The legislature of Delaware was first to ratify it and the adoption by New Hampshire in June 1788 made the Constitution operative.

The leaders followed the unwritten Constitution of England to which they had been accustomed and constitutions of the states which had grown out of two centuries of colonial government.

Mrs. Coffman hosts Friendly Neighbors

The new officers took over their duties Wednesday evening, Sept. 21 when the Friendly Neighbors Extension Group met at the home of Mrs. John Coffman.

All 14 of the members were present when chairman, Mrs. Wayne Rossow called the meeting to order. Four members who attended the "Fall Kick Off" of area 9 held at Corunna Sept. 14 gave brief reports on the classes they attended.

Council members Mrs. Walter Marten reported that the Clinton County Extension women netted $383.62 for the pie booth at the 4-H Fair. She also announced the Association of Country Women of the World will hold a meeting at Michigan State University in Sept. 1968. This year's meeting will be held in Iceland.

THE PROGRAM for the coming year was planned and the year books were filled out for the next meeting to be held Oct. 19 at 8 p.m. The project lesson will be "Food in Your Home: Care, Safety and Preservation."

The next meeting of the Expectant Parents' classes will be held Thursday at 2:30 p.m. in the meeting room of the laundry building. The class will be on anatomy and conception and some exercises. It is not necessary to be pre-registered.

Pair here buy auto sales firm at Houghton Lake

Two well-known St. Johns automobile salesmen have joined forces to buy the Bob Baldwin Chevrolet dealership at Houghton Lake.

Jim Mueller and Red Devereaux, salesmen at Egan Ford Sales here for 17 and six years respectively, completed their purchase Monday and will take over the new business immediately. It will be known as Mueller-Devereaux Chevrolet, Inc.

BOTH MEN WILL move their families to Houghton Lake when housing can be arranged. Mueller now lives at 304 S. Mead Street, and the Devereaux family resides at 502 S. Swegles.

Mueller, a life-time resident of St. Johns, has been a salesman at Egan's for 17 years. He is a member of the Ford 500 Club, a salesmanship recognition club. Outside activities include membership in the Knights of Columbus. He is a member of the St. Joseph Catholic Church.

Mueller and his wife, the former Betty Bunce, have five children, Diane 15, Donna 13, Dave 10, Dean 9 and Darlene 8.

DEVEREAUX HAS been in the St. Johns area since 1937. He worked for Egan's on two different occasions totaling about six years; from 1955 to 1964

JIM MUELLER

RED DEVEREAUX

he owned his own business here, Red's Gulf Service. He is a member of the Exchange Club, American Legion, Clinton County Country Club and was on the board of directors of the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce. He also belonged to the Ford 500 Club. He is a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church.

Devereaux and his wife Olive have two sons, Randy 11 and

5 youths fined for having beer

Five youths, including one girl, were fined and sentenced to three days in jail during the last week for being in possession of beer.

On Friday, St. Johns Municipal Judge Alba Wert gave identical fines of $20 plus costs of $21.30 and three days in jail to: Robert D. Grow, 17, David J. Rohrbacher, 20, and Tom N. Traylor, 18, all of Lansing.

Saturday, Helen K. Miller, 17, and Thomas C. Haughton, 17, also both of Lansing, were also sentenced. Haughton received a $50 fine plus $23.30 costs and 15 days in jail.

Masons plan barbecue Sunday

The fourth annual dedication barbecue, sponsored by the Masonic Temple Assn., will be held this Sunday from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple on West State Street.

Barbecued chicken will be served. Proceeds will be used for upkeep of the temple building. The public is invited. The annual event is in charge of the temple board and their husbands and wives.

City urges no burning of leaves

It's the time of falling leaves, and the St. Johns City Commission took note of it last week with a request to homeowners that leaf burning be eliminated and that leaves be piled up for the city leaf picker.

Noting that burning leaves in the street causes damage to the curb and gutter, the commission favored discouraging the practice. City Manager Ken Greer said he annually gets about as many calls from persons wanting to burn leaves as he does from those protesting the burning.

In other business, the commission passed Ordinance 109 which defines "partition" as used in taverns to separate the bar area from food areas where minors may eat while accompanied by parents. Previous ordinances allowing the youngsters in were somewhat hazy on defining partitions, and Police Chief Everett Glazier said enforcement of the ordinance was difficult.

THE NEW ordinance is specific: The partition must be solid wood or masonry wall at least four feet high, with lattice work extending it to a total height of eight feet, or it can be a solid wall at least eight feet high.

Approved was a request from Mrs. Blanch Wager to transfer her bar (SDM) license, with dance permit, for the Club Bar at 310 N. Clinton Avenue, to Robert L. Leonard.

A request from the St. Johns Public Schools to allow the schools to operate the concession stand in city park during ball games this fall, also was approved.

THE COMMISSION adopted a resolution similar to one recently adopted by the Michigan Municipal League, urging Congress to pass legislation to provide that a portion of the income tax be returned to cities.

Youth bruised in 2-car crash

Douglas Morrill, 15, of Upton Road, R-1, Laingsburg was thrown out of the car and bruised in a two-car collision Monday morning on South Oakland Street at Sturgis in St. Johns.

He was treated at Clinton Memorial Hospital.

He was a passenger in a car driven by Stanley C. Morrill, 47, who was driving north on Oakland. A car driven by Rosalind Kanaski, 35, of 700 S. Clinton, struck the Morrill auto in the left side, turning it around and throwing the youth to the pavement.

Mrs. Kanaski said she stopped at the intersection, but the 8:30 a.m. sun prevented her from seeing the Morrill car. She was ticketed for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Moriarty open house Saturday

Moriarty Lumber of Michigan, Inc. will hold an open house this Saturday at the firm's new St. Johns yard at 3026 W. M-21 at the corner of DeWitt Road.

No specific program is planned at the yards, but tours and explanations of the company's operations will be given from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Free lunch will be available and complimentary gifts will be passed out. The public is welcome.

The Moriarty firm opened here in mid-July and is a distribution center for Moriarty pole building for all but a couple of counties in Michigan.

Smorgasbord set Nov. 6

It is smorgasbord time for the Ovid-Elsie School band department, according to directors Don Thayer and Mr. Susinko and the committees of band parents who met Monday evening at the American Legion Hall in Elsie.

They have scheduled it for Sunday, Nov. 6 with the following general committee in charge: Mrs. Alpha Grubbaugh, Mrs. Raymond Thornton of Elsie and Mrs. Bud Casler and Mrs. Vincent Csapos of Ovid. Other committees will be announced later.

The proceeds of the smorgasbord will be turned directly into the Ovid - Elsie Uniform Fund. This method of fund raising is not new to the Elsie area families as it has been an annual event since 1957 by the Band Boosters. Last year several members of the Ovid Band Parents Club joined in the planning and serving.

MY PLATFORM

At the convening of the next Legislative session, when I take my seat,

I will in all conscientiousness, to the best of my ability, abide by these rules.

First, unless sickness prevents, I will be in my seat, performing duties, Michigan taxpayers, pay me to perform.

Second, I will study that stack of bills released from various committees today, on "General Orders," tomorrow on "Third Reading," act according to my judgment, for the best interest of my constituents.

Third, on final passage, I will vote yes or no, with no long winded explanations afterward, costing taxpayers unnecessary printing expense.

Fourth, I will be noble, but not so noble, that I will not stoop to vote yes on bills, that are not of too much importance, realizing I must establish a following, someday, when a measure of vital importance is before the House, I should have that following, regardless of party.

Fifth, I will realize, that with one man, one vote the rule, and in practice, that I am working under handicaps, but must recognize urban problems, therefore, will do the best that can be done, all things considered, for the people of my district, and the State of Michigan.

Sixth, I will work from the standpoint that the welfare of the people, comprising our great State of Michigan, far overshadows in importance, that of any political party.

Your Vote Will be appreciated

STUMP AND HENGESBACH DRAIN AND BRANCH

Notice of Letting of Drain Contract and Review of Apportionments

Notice is hereby given, That J. Dale R. Chapman, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Clinton, State of Michigan, will, on the 14th day of October, 1966, at the Clinton County Drain Commissioners Office in the City of St. Johns, Michigan, in the forenoon of that day, receive sealed bids until 11:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, when bids will be opened and publicly announced for the construction of a "Stump and Hengesbach Drain, and Branch located and established in the Township of Westphalia in said County."

Said drain is divided into two Sections as follows, each section having the average depth and width as set forth: All stations are 100 feet apart.

Main Drain beginning at station number 0 at the lower end of said drain and extending to station number 131+6, a distance of 1017.6 rods and having an average depth of 3.0 feet, and a width of bottom of 4 feet, (estimated 20,000 cubic yards).

Branch Drain beginning at station number 0 at the lower end of said drain and extending to station number 23+2, a distance of 23.2 rods, and having an average depth of 2.3 feet and a width of bottom of 4 feet (estimated 850 cubic yards).

In the construction of said Drain the following quantities and character of the work to be required and contracts let for same:

1. 24 in. ft. of C.M. Multi-plate pipe arch—12'-2" span, 7'-9" rise No. 10 Gage.

2. 24 in. ft. of C.M. Multi-plate pipe arch—10'-3" span, 6'-9" rise No. 12 Gage.

3. 24 in. ft. of C.M. Multi-plate pipe arch—9'-2" span, 5'-9" rise No. 12 Gage.

4. 24 in. ft. of 38" C.M. Pipe—No. 12 Gage.

5. 36 in. ft. of 38" C.M. Pipe—No. 12 Gage.

6. 36 in. ft. of 38" C.M. Pipe—No. 12 Gage.

7. 10 ft. of 10" No. 16 Gage C.M. Pipe.

The construction of said Drain will include the construction of the following culverts and bridges having the location and the type and size stated. Also 180 sq yds of bag rip rap and 35 cu yds of concrete retaining wall.

Said job will be let in accordance with the diagram now on file with the other papers pertaining to said Drain, in the office of the County Drain Commissioner, of the County of Clinton to which reference may be had by all parties interested, and bids will be made and received accordingly.

Contracts will be made with the lowest responsible bidder giving adequate security for the performance of the work, in the sum then and there to be fixed by me, reserving to myself the right to reject any and all bids, and to adjourn such letting to such time and place as I shall publicly announce.

The date for the completion of such contract, and the time of payment therefor shall and will be announced at the time and place of letting. Any person desiring to bid on the above mentioned work will be required to deposit with the Drain Commissioner, a cash check or cash to the amount of Three Hundred Dollars as a guarantee that he will enter into contract and furnish the required bond as prescribed by law.

The checks of all unsuccessful bidders will be returned after contracts are awarded. The payment for the above mentioned work will be made as follows: Payment by drain order, 50% payable April 15, 1968 and 50% payable April 15, 1969 as soon as final inspection by Engineer is completed and his approval in writing is received by Drain Commissioner.

Notice is further hereby given, that on Friday the 28th day of October, 1966, at the office of the County Drain Commissioner, Courthouse in the City of St. Johns in the Township of Westphalia in the County of Clinton, Michigan, at such other time and place thereafter to which I, the County Drain Commissioner, after a public hearing, may determine, the apportionment for benefits and the lands comprised within the "Stump and Hengesbach Drain and Branch Drain Special Assessment District" will be subject to review for one day, from nine o'clock in the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon. At said review the computation of costs for said Drain will also be open for inspection by any parties interested.

The following is a description of the several tracts or parcels of land constituting the Special Assessment District of said drain, viz:

Hazle girl sells 2 of her prize-winning Holsteins

Dana Sue Hazle, 14, freshman at Rodney B. Wilson High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Hazle of R-5 St. Johns, has sold, at private sale, two of her outstanding registered Holsteins.

Michigan State University purchased Dana Sue's 4-year-old cow, Cor-Haz Explorer Dana S. The cow, bought by Dana Sue as a six-month-old calf from Corliss E. Schlicher of Lansingburg, has been shown by her for four of her five years in 4-H dairy work.

SHE WAS A JUNIOR champion at State 4-H Show in 1962 and 1963 and as a two-year-old in 1964 was reserve grand champion of the same show. Dana Sue did not show her cow as a three-year-old, preferring instead to show her two daughters, full sisters sired by Zeldenrust Royal Pontiac.

The younger daughter, Golden Knob D. S. Pontiac Holly, was named All-Michigan senior calf and high honorable mention junior all-American in 1965. The two daughters were also first place produce of dam at the 1965 State 4-H Show.

In August of 1965 Cor-Haz Explorer Dana S. was classified very good 86 by John H. Stewart, official Holstein inspector.

THIS YEAR DANA Sue exhibited her 4-year-old cow to first place at the State 4-H Show and her daughter, now a senior yearling, to first place and junior champion of the show. The pair were first place dam and daughter in the open show at the Michigan State Fair.

The cow has never been defeated in 4-H competition, the only Holstein as far as is known to top her class at the State 4-H Show four different times.

Dana Sue also sold "Dee's" bull calf Golden Knob D. S. Royal Freddy, sired by Zeldenrust Royal Pontiac, to S & H Farms of R-3 St. Johns. The bull placed well at Holstein shows in Michigan this past summer.

The profits received from Dana Sue's project animals are being put away for her college education. She has remaining at home for future 4-H projects two full sisters and a granddaughter of her original cow, as well as six other registered Holsteins.

Health Dept. director speaks to Exchangites

Dr. F. W. Smith, new medical director of the Mid-Michigan District Health Department, spoke at the St. Johns Exchange Club meeting last Thursday. He told of his duties and responsibilities and some of the plans for the department, which serves Clinton, Gratiot and Montcalm counties.

Also present at the meeting was the district representative from National Exchange, Max Struthers of the Lansing Exchange Club and former mayor of East Lansing, Steve Bakita, administrative assistant in the St. Johns School System, was another guest.

The general meeting business concerned last-minute plans for the toothbrush sale which Exchange Club members conducted Friday. President Milo Rowell reported over the weekend that more people than ever before donated to the Exchange Club charities and received toothbrushes in appreciation. Rowell expressed the thanks of the club to the residents of the area for their support.

News notes from
PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA
HIGH SCHOOL

A letter of commendation honoring his high performance on the 1966 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQST) has been awarded to Louis Thelen, son of Aloysius Thelen of Westphalia at Pewamo-Westphalia High School by Principal Chester Casari.

He is among 38,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper 1 percent of those who will graduate from high school in 1967. The commended students rank just below the 14,000 Semifinalists announced earlier this month by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC).

John M. Stalnaker, president of NMSC, said: "The outstanding record made by these students in a national competition deserves public recognition. Their significant academic attainment give promise of continued success in college."

The P-W chapter of Future Homemakers of America elected officers at their first meeting Sept. 14. Linda T. Thelen was elected president, Beth Vance vice president, Patricia Kramer secretary, Joan Kramer treasurer, Diane Manning reporter, Geraldyn Sue Thelen historian, Claudia Wieber parliamentarian, Laura Welland song leader, Sue Thelen game leader and Margaurite Droste points chairman.

The girls also created new fashions—in 10 minutes—after which there was a style show. The prize winning models were Karen Schueller first, Sandy Smith third, and Janice Thelen third.

Ninety-three members attended the meeting.

The Pewamo-Westphalia Chapter has received the Red Rose Chapter award, given for the first time this year to only 18 state chapters on the basis of the chapter's outstanding work in FHA organization. There are 375 FHA chapters throughout the state.

Pvt. Masarik was trained to operate and maintain aircraft armament and learned the proper techniques of ammunition loading.

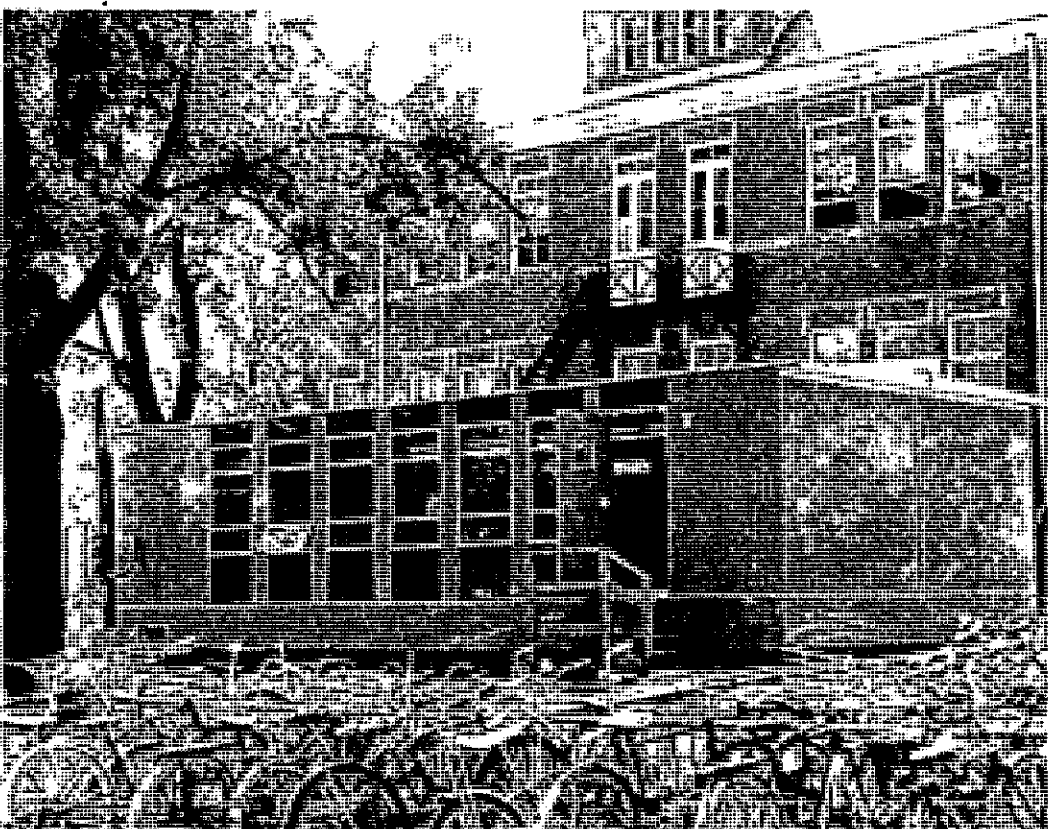

The records of 10,000 inmates of the Knox County (Tennessee) jail show that less than 2 percent had owned fishing or hunting licenses.

AT EAST WARD SCHOOL

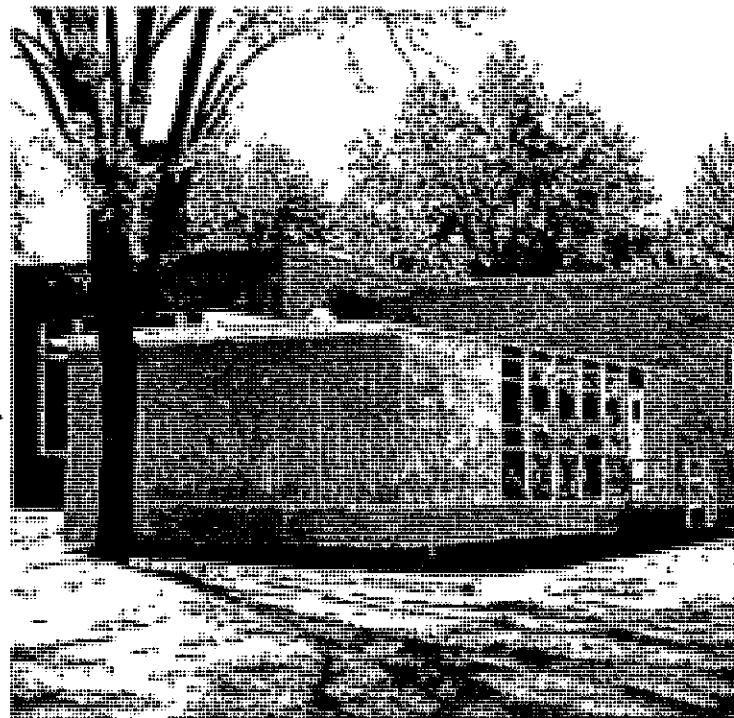

3 UNITS AT ST. JOHNS HIGH SCHOOL

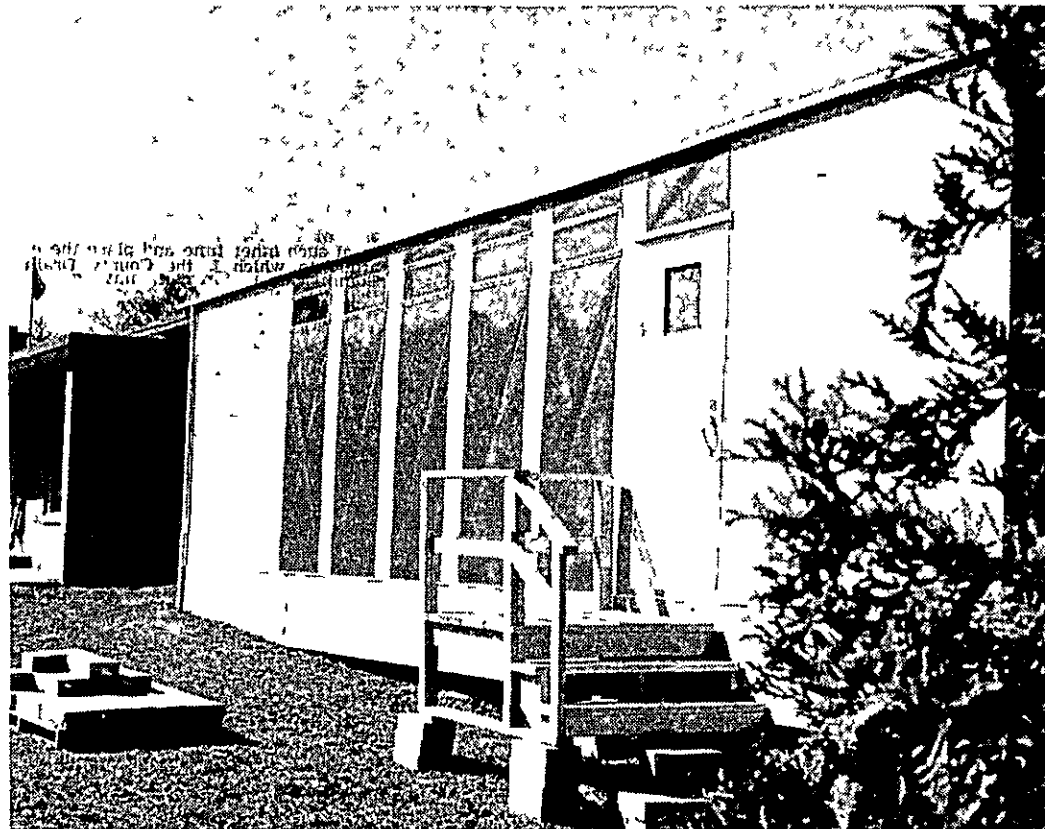

AT CENTRAL SCHOOL

It will be a while yet before the St. Johns Public Schools' new building program has any effect on the space situation in the district. Right now things are crowded in both the rural schools and the city schools. In the city, mobile classrooms are being used at all the schools, as pictured here. At the high school there are three mobile units, including two used last year. They are used for math and for commercial studies. At Central School, the unit is used for music; at Swegles Street School the mobile unit at the back of the building holds a combination fifth-sixth grade taught by Mrs. Harriet Schiffer (it wasn't in use yet when the picture was taken); at East Ward School Mrs. Jane Coy is teaching a fourth-grade class in the mobile unit; and Mrs. Elizabeth Nobis is teaching fifth grade in the unit at Perrin-Palmer School. The mobile classrooms are actually double trailers and are roomy, well-lighted and -heated. Except for the inconvenience of going outside to change classes, they have all the advantages of a normal school building. They are a sign of crowded times in St. Johns schools, but their days are numbered by the current building program.

Disease disappears

Only one case of undulant fever—the human form of brucellosis—was reported in Michigan in 1965. Health officials credit this small number partially to the great strides made by Michigan farmers, livestock health authorities and veterinarians in practically eliminating brucellosis in dairy and beef cattle.

Michigan State University authorities believe human brucellosis and bovine brucellosis may disappear in the United States in the next decade.

St. Johns slated for more conventions

The Tourist Committee of the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce is being kept busy these days, with four groups planning on holding meetings or conventions in St. Johns in the near future.

This Wednesday, Sept. 28, Chamber Manager Betty Jane Minsky will be on hand to help the Clinton County Board of Supervisors when they greet guests at Smith Hall. Guests will be coming here for a one-day district supervisors session. Mrs. Minsky will help serve coffee in the morning.

The Chamber is also coordinating plans with Rev. Roger Harrison of the First Baptist Church and with Rev. Clifford Ecker of Jackson, Mich. for a meeting of the Michigan Association of Regular Baptist Church members here Oct. 24, 25, and 26. About 180 overnight guests are expected to be here and the Chamber is helping with motel listings, dining guides, maps and etc.

AND, FOR THE weekend of Oct. 21, the Chamber is busy coordinating plans with the Michigan Holiday Ramblers who plan another trailer rally here. This past summer the Chamber coordinated a similar rally which saw 102 trailer families spending a weekend in the city.

The October rally is expected to draw between 25 to 40 families. Because it will be held during a weekend when a home football game will be held here, the Chamber has made arrangements to have the trailers located on county property near Smith Hall for Saturday evening, Oct. 22, for a rally party.

One of the big items on the Chamber's tourist list this year will again be "Meet The Expert" clinic to be conducted here in February. The Chamber worked with five national firms last year in a similar event which found 900 rural folks coming here for a one-day meeting at Smith Hall.

"SOME 2,000 PEOPLE are expected to be here this year and we do have a space problem. We are not certain where we are going to put them," Chamber Manager Mrs. Minsky said. "But, officials of the sponsoring firms were very happy with the fine job done last year that they decided to hold this year's program here if we can find them a suitable location. At this time we're considering several of the buildings in the area, but we think they are too small. The suggestion has been made that a tent could be used and this is being investigated."

Class of '41 holds reunion

"Memories of long ago" was the theme of silver anniversary of the Maple Rapids High School graduating class of 1941 which was held at the John Brown home last Sunday at 1 p.m.

After a co-operative chicken dinner on the patio, the group recalled many interesting and amusing events of their high school years, including the senior class trip to Mammoth Cave, Ky., and looked at pictures and a scrapbook of past school days. A letter from Mrs. Pauline Tait Swatman, a classmate who is now living in California and unable to attend, was read. Mrs. Clinton Wright of Lansing was thanked for acting as chairman. The class plans to hold another reunion in five years, and it will be held at the home of Mrs. William Gallagher of Maple Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hansen of Millford, Mr. and Mrs. Kenard Clark of Grand Ledge, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fricke and children of Middleton as well as the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. John Brown. Mrs. Brown, former English teacher at the local high school was advisor for the four high school years of the class.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ely and family of Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Conklin of Owosso, Mr. and Mrs. Oak Underwood of rural Maple Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Wright of Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hicks of Alma, Mr. and Mrs. William Gallagher of Maple Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hansen of Millford, Mr. and Mrs. Kenard Clark of Grand Ledge, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fricke and children of Middleton as well as the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. John Brown. Mrs. Brown, former English teacher at the local high school was advisor for the four high school years of the class.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Blemaster took Mrs. Selma Bailey and Mrs. Nellie Blemaster to Detroit and St. Clair Shores Sunday. Mrs. Nellie Blemaster will stay for a week at her son's, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blemaster of St. Clair Shores.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Setterington spent last week Tuesday until Saturday in Ontario, Canada, where they attended the funeral of a friend. Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Aldrich of Springfield, spent the day with his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cumberworth were Sunday afternoon

Mrs. Vera Ball of Lansing spent a few days with her son, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ball and family. Wilbur Bennett was taken by ambulance to Carson City Hospital after suffering a heart attack Friday. His condition is such that visitors are restricted to his family at present.

Mrs. Preston Corson was presented with a birthday cake, baked by her grandson, Doug, Monday evening when her daughter, June Benjamin and sons of Corunna, granddaughter, Marla Hiller and Mrs. Mildred Hiller of Greenbush and son Fred of St. Johns came as a surprise to help celebrate her birthday. Mr. and Mrs. David Hiller and son, Roger, were guests also.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Schmidt and Mrs. Edith Patton of Grand Ledge and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Snyder were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Schmidt and sons.

Mrs. Ivan Harlow and Vickie honored Miss Mary Lowe at a miscellaneous shower Friday evening. Guests included Mary's classmates and neighbors. Mary will become the bride of Joseph Gavenda Jr. Oct. 28.

Your numerous expressions of thoughtfulness and acts of kindness were greatly appreciated.—Mrs. Joseph W. Thelen. 23-1p

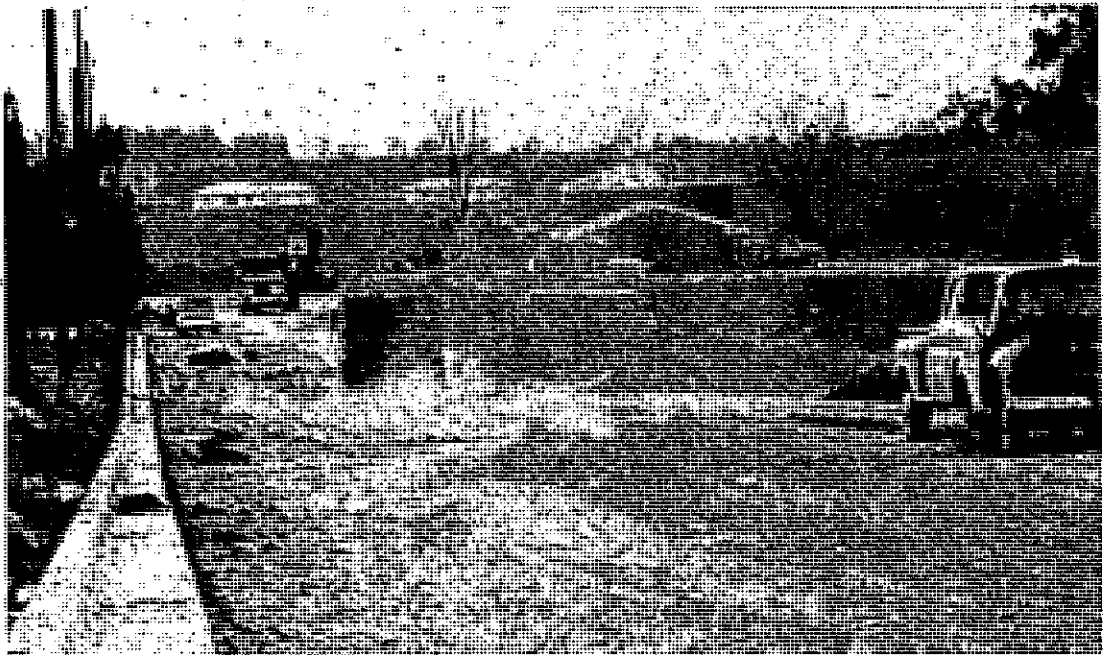

We would like to thank all our friends, neighbors and relatives for all the beautiful cards, gifts, masses and money given us on our Golden anniversary Sunday, Sept. 18. Also many thanks to Mrs. Nick Koenigsnecht and all the ladies of the Altar Society and guilds for the very wonderful dinner served us and to the many friends that made our anniversary such a happy and memorable day.—Mr. and Mrs. John Marek. 23-1p

Words cannot express our heartfelt thanks and sincere appreciation to our many relatives and friends for the beautiful flowers and acts of kindness shown us at the sudden death of our beloved mother, Dorothy Whitaker Carter. It will never be forgotten. We also thank Rev Lavern Merritt for his comforting message, the Osgood Funeral Home for their kind assistance and the pallbearers.—Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Weaver and Mr. and Mrs. David Irwin. 23-1p

The family of Mr. George M. Young, Sr. wish to thank the women of Grove Bible church and the Salvation Army church, Houghton Funeral Home, pallbearers, friends and neighbors for acts of kindness, Capt. Huhn and Pastor Bob Prange for their words of comfort. We wish to express an extra special thanks to Dr. Morovietz and the nurses of one east at the Owosso Memorial hospital at the time of the passing of our loved one. 23-1p

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to all who were so kind to us during our recent bereavement. Rev Keith Bovee for his services and comforting words, Osgood's Funeral Home for their services. Our thanks for the beautiful floral arrangements, cards and gifts, sister Rebekah who prepared the lovely dinner. We also wish to thank Dr. Stephenson, Beatrice Rivard, Gladys Hetzel and their staff for loving care and comforting words received while in the nursing home.—The family of Rosa Hoover. 23-1p

We extend our sincere thanks to all friends, neighbors and relatives for the beautiful flowers, cards, food sent in and other acts of kindness since the death of our father and grandfather. A special thanks to Mr. Houghton and Mr. Workman, also to Mr. Woodward for his kindness and comforting words and to the Women's Fellowship of the Duplain Church of Christ. These kind and thoughtful deeds, will

WHAT A DIFFERENCE A WEEK MAKES!

West Baldwin Street west of Morton Street in St. Johns has probably shown the biggest change of any of the streets involved in this summer's city street improvement project. Just a little over a week separated these two pictures. Contractors were to complete the curb and gutter on West Baldwin last week before moving on to the last 25 per cent of the summer job—curb and gutter on West McConnell and on 1 1/2 blocks of South Swegles Street. There is still graveling and backfilling to do, and city officials estimate it will be another three weeks or so before the street project is completed.

North Bengal

By Mrs Wm. Ernst

The Boak Community Club held their monthly card party at their building Saturday evening.

In honor of the birthdays of Floyd Foersch and John Foersch, which occurred Sept. 17 and Sept. 20, respectively, a group gathered at their home to celebrate the occasions. Cards and visiting were enjoyed and a lunch, including a birthday cake made by Mrs. Foersch, was served. Those attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moritz, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Moritz and Kathy, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Falk and Mr. and Mrs. William Ernst and Maxine.

Little Carl Jeffers of Milford is spending two weeks with his grandmother, Mrs. Edna Wata-maker. Carl has a new baby sister, Carol, at home.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Ernst and family of Battle Creek were Saturday dinner and supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Ernst and Maxine. Pvt. Robert Ernst of the Marines is spending a furlough with his parents. After his leave he will return to Camp Pendleton near San Diego, Calif. for additional schooling.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Witgen of Westphalia spent Sunday afternoon with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Thelen and family.

Mrs. Leo C. Fox attended a meeting of the Lutheran Friend Society held at Lansing Tuesday, Miss Ann Mohrka of South Bengal and Clare and David Moritz were in East Lansing Saturday afternoon where they attended Michigan State - Penn State football game.

Mrs. Edwin Rossow of Saginaw spent a few days last week with her sister, Mrs. Herman Rossow and with Rev. and Mrs. Herman Rossow Jr. and son.

Mrs. William Ernst called on Mrs. Arthur Martens and Mrs. Melvin Argersinger and children of St. Johns Wednesday forenoon. She also visited Mrs. Hattie Lettis of Rivard Nursing Home and Mrs. William Light of St. Johns recently one afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beck and children of Maple Rapids visited Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Foersch and Sandra and John Foersch a week ago Sunday.

Bannister

By MRS. ROBERT VALENTINE — Phone 862-4342

Junior MYF headed by John Glowney

The Junior Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Bannister Methodist Church met for their first fall meeting Sunday evening. Rev. Sparks attended and talked to the youth about their plans for future meetings. Election of officers was held. John Glowney was elected president, Matthew Peck, vice-president; Vicki Valentine, secretary and Marcy Moore, treasurer.

Devotions were given by John Glowney. Entertainment and refreshments followed. Adult counselors for the group are Mrs. Raymond Stewart and Mrs. Albert Ensign.

Rosemary Saxton returned home recently after undergoing major surgery at the Carson City Hospital. Rosemary is a senior at Ovid-Elsie and is president of the local MYF.

Callers this week Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leydorf were Steve Stefanek of Chicago. Floyd Cox of Thompson called Thursday and Mrs. Vera Martinka, Tuesday.

World-wide Communion Sunday was observed at the Methodist Church Sunday. Rev. Wayne Sparks served the Sacrament. The Junior Choir sang the anthem as Jeff Leydorf and Larry Pearce served as acolytes.

Rev Sparks holds WSCS pledge service

Rev. Wayne Sparks conducted pledge service for the Bannister Women's Society Christian Service Wednesday evening. At the business meeting, it was voted to pay the pledge for 1967 as soon as possible. It was also decided to have a shower for Linda Huntoon and Robert Skayrd who will be married in October. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Wayne Peck, Mrs. Archie Stratton, and Mrs. Fred Ferris. The October meeting will be conducted by the MYF and Sharon Stewart will show slides of her European trip.

Twenty-seven members and guests of the Chippewa Chippers 4-H Club enjoyed a moonlight hayride Saturday evening. Don Hinkley served as the tractor driver while Mrs. Don Hinkley and Mrs. Robert Valentine served as chaperones. Carol Martinka, president of the group, invited the group into her home for refreshments.

The Chippewa Chippers 4-H Club had a wiener roast and picnic supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Glowney Monday afternoon.

Callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Krueger this week were Laurence Krueger of Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cox of Thompson of the UP and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Megerle of Saginaw.

Bannister Methodist to sell parsonage

A quarterly conference was held at the Bannister Methodist Church Sunday afternoon with District Superintendent Emerald Price. A resolution to sell the parsonage was adopted. The resolution read "Be it resolved to sell the parsonage of the Bannister Methodist Church. The income of sale of the parsonage shall be used for the retirement of the present mortgage of $500.00 plus interest and remainder shall be placed in a building fund for purposes of property improvement of the Bannister Methodist Church. Be it further resolved that the trustees of their agents be requested to secure maximum amount from the sale of the parsonage as it relates to the value."

Twenty-one voting members were present and the resolution was adopted unanimously. A further recommendation was adopted to use first money received for a well for the church. The name of Neil Criner was submitted as financial secretary. He was elected to that office.

Mrs. Paula Schumacher and Mrs. Pearl Mead accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cox to Cleveland, Ohio, where Mrs. Cox underwent surgery at the Cleveland Clinic. Mr. and Mrs. Clare Stone of Sebring are staying with Mrs. Mead while the Cox's are in Cleveland. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cox of Thompson, U.P., are staying at the Cox's home during their absence.

Krepps District

By Mrs. Lucille Helbeck

Charles Swan of Mount Pleasant and Mr. and Mrs. Joey Miller and family were callers at the Ronald Cuthbert home during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Davis were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Davis and family. In the afternoon they called on Mrs. Eddie Ballinger of Flushing. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cramer attended the Cramer - Hartsuff wedding at the St. Johns Church in East Lansing, Saturday morning and the reception held in the K of C Hall at Lansing in the evening.

Little Kenneth Dwight Helbeck is spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Helbeck Sr., his grandparents, while his parents are on vacation.

A period of prosperity is that time when experts go around telling us that there will never be another depression.

Ride the Wide-Track winning streak!

From the same drawing board that gave you Grand Prix, GTO and Overhead Cam Six now come the newest Pontiacs since the invention of Wide-Track!

You're looking at the most beautiful Pontiacs ever to ride on Wide-Track. The incomparable GTO returns with a 335-hp 400 cubic inch engine under a magnificently refined new skin. Or you can order the 255-hp version or the fabulous new 360-hp Quadra-Power 400. And for the first time, you can order your GTO with our famous three-speed Turbo Hydra-Matic.

The Le Mans and Tempests come back better than ever. Bright new interiors. Bold new colors.

A 165-hp Overhead Cam Six is standard. Or you can specify a 215-hp version, a 250-hp regular gas V-8 or its 285-hp premium gas cousin. Or step into the neatest grand touring car this side of the Atlantic with our OHC 6 Sprint package.

Our big Pontiacs are new from the famous split grille to the slickest innovation of the year—disappearing windshield wipers! They're less subject to freezing. And only Pontiac has them.

Also new: a Grand Prix convertible! There are new 400 and 428 cubic inch V-8s. New safety features such as front seat belt retractors, a four-way traffic hazard flasher, folding front seat back latches and General Motors' new energy absorbing steering column. Of course, all Pontiacs come with the road-hugging security of Wide-Track.

Seated are Mrs. Florence Ewer, Harold Creamer holding Pamela and Mrs. Creamer holding Michael. Standing are the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ike.

Fourth generation baptized

ROCHESTER COLONY—Pamela Jean Creamer 3 and Michael Edward Creamer 1 1/2 were baptized at the Duplain Methodist Church in Rochester Colony Sunday morning, Sept. 25.

They are members of the fourth generation to be baptized at the church.

The first member of the family to be baptized at the church in the Colony was Pamela and Michael's great-grandmother, Mrs. Florence (Acre) Ewer of rural St. Johns. Mrs. Ewer was received into the church Aug. 21, 1910. Rev. Atkinson officiated.

MRS. EWER'S daughter, Mrs. Donald Ike (Ruth Ewer) of Holland, was christened April 8, 1934, with Rev. Brown officiating. Rev. Kaufman baptized Mrs. Harold Creamer (Ruthann Ike) of San Diego, Calif., April 28, 1946.

The Creamer children were baptized by Rev. Gordon Showers during the morning worship service Sunday.

After the service at the church a luncheon for about 40 was served at the Donald Temple home in the Colony.

AN OPEN HOUSE was held later in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Belford (Florence) Ewer of rural St. Johns. The afternoon festivities were in honor of the silver anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ike of Holland. Their anniversary was Sept. 6 but the celebration was postponed until Sunday so the Creamer family could attend.

Also celebrated at the afternoon open house was the third birthday of Pamela Jean Creamer, who was born on her grandparent's 22nd wedding anniversary.

GUESTS WERE present from Cadillac, Muskegon, Lansing, Hastings, Utica, Rochester, San Diego, Madison Heights, St. Johns, Holland, Stanton and Elsie.

The affair was co-hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Temple. Mrs. Temple and Mrs. Gordon Luther of St. Johns, sisters of the honored couple cut the cake.

Mrs. Mayers is TOPS queen

Mrs. Gladys Mayers was the queen of the week at the St. Johns Tops Club last week and Mrs. Neva Richard won the mystery prize.

This week there will be a graduation party for Mrs. Phyllis Acre, so there will not be a regular business meeting.

City Brevities

Mr. and Mrs. Max Lyon and family of DeKalb, Ill., called on Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Mungler of St. Johns Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Butler spent Saturday in Midland and attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Kathy Mead, to Thomas L. Rathburn of Ashville, Ohio, at First Baptist Church of Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Blunt: Newlyweds

MR. AND MRS. ASA F. BLUNT

Wed 60 years

Mr. and Mrs. Asa F. Blunt of 704 E. Cass Street, St. Johns, will be honored at an open house at the St. Johns VFW hall north of US-27 Sunday, Oct. 2, from 2 until 5 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Blunt will be celebrating 60 years of marriage.

MR. BLUNT AND the former Myrtle Sturges were married at the home of her parents, the David Sturges of Bengal township, Tuesday Oct. 2, 1906. Rev. James B. Pinkard officiated at the service.

The couple was attended by Will H. Sturges and Miss Magle Parks.

They lived in rural St. Johns where Mr. Blunt was a farmer until his retirement in 1956.

THE COUPLE HAS seven grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Host for the open house will be the daughters and sons-in-law of honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Dilts, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Stevens and Mrs. Florence Burk all of St. Johns.

It is requested that there be no gifts.

It's a fact—carelessness just adds to the cares of life.

Care needed to keep 'permanent press'

by Helen B. Meach
Extension Home Economist

Wait a minute - don't throw your iron away - those so called "permanent press" garments may not be so durable for you.

The "hot number" in the textile industry today is durable press—an iron-free, wrinkle-free garment treatment developed specifically for washable clothes. The promise of this permanent press is only as durable as you make it. Before the ironing can be forgotten, you must consider complete care of your garments.

Let's begin with the washing. Careful laundering is vital to the long life and "just new" look of your durable press articles. It is important to remember that the durable press "cure" and its subsequent care are compatible processes which work together to assure memory-retaining shape, flat seams and smooth appearance.

THE MANUFACTURER can control the high temperatures required to set the shape of the durable press garment but only you can give the proper care - a cool down in wash and dry temperature which is necessary if the garment is to keep its shape.

Durable press garments should be washed frequently to avoid stain-setting. If this ever happens, such stains should be pre-treated with a concentrated soap or detergent solution or by rubbing with thick suds. Sort clothes by color, fabric, construction, and degree of soil. Do whites separately, light colors together, and darks with darks. Turn pleated or creased garments inside out to reduce abrasion. Keep loads smaller than normal, because crowding can cause unnecessary wrinkles.

Check the directions on garment hangtags before using chlorine bleach. According to the Technical Director of the American Home Laundry Manufacturer's Association, "Wash water temperature must be selected on almost the same degree of soil basis considered for any other type of garment or material." Cycles should be set for from four to ten minutes, again depending on soil. Wash water should be cooled down gradually before any spinning action, and rinse water should be cold. Slow spinning action minimizes wrinkles, and adding a fabric softener helps to remove the "cling" from synthetics.

TUMBLE ACTION dryers, with automatic time and temperature controls, are a great help in giving good care to durable press fabrics. It is urgent to remove them just as soon as they dry because wrinkles develop if they are left in the dryer even for a short time.

Apparel categories giving wide acceptance to durable press include children's wear, rainwear, sleepwear, and lingerie, as well as the whole gamut of men's and women's sports wear. In addition, pillowcases and sheets are being finished with durable press - along with curtains, draperies, slipcovers, and bedspreads. Even more such work-saving home products are planned.

AS WITH ALL revolutionary developments, durable press has its own built-in problems. Some are already being overcome, but others are more difficult to solve. Discoloration, especially of whites, is being studied; odor from chemicals is another hurdle; shrinkage; alteration difficulties; and the tendency to retain oily stains are also problems which the textile industry must eliminate if durable press is to gain full consumer acceptance.

The continuing controversy over pre-curing vs. post-curing procedures has been enlarged to include newer techniques. Among these are the vapor phase process which uses a gas chamber and electronic radiation which imparts an oil-releasing quality to fabric. The wet "fix process" is also new, as are steam and pressure for setting contours.

MRS. FITTON AND MRS. BIRMINGHAM

Meet after 45 years

Mrs. Johanna Birmingham of Shepardsville Road, Shepardsville had a visitor Wednesday evening and Thursday she hadn't seen in over 45 years. Visiting Mrs. Birmingham was her sister, Mrs. Olga Fitton of Madison, Wis.

They were separated when they were quite young so the conversation did not consist of many statements beginning with, "Do you remember when?"

They spent the major portion of the time filling each other in on what they had been doing with themselves in the past 40 plus years.

MRS. BIRMINGHAM and Mrs. Fitton, natives of Wells county, North Dakota, have another sister, Mrs. Hulda Rees of Cambridge, Wisconsin.

Johanna (Mahnke) Birmingham left home and went to work shortly after her mother died. Mrs. Birmingham was about nine when her mother died.

When she was 14, she was sent to Colorado to cure what was suspected to be tuberculosis. She lived in Colorado for about five years. It was while she lived there that she met Mrs. John J. Smith and the late John Smith.

She later moved to Eureka, Ill. and at a later date to St. Johns with them.

WHILE MRS. Birmingham was moving eastward to Michigan, her sister, Mrs. Fitton, was moving westward to Montana.

During WWII Mrs. Fitton served with the Women's Army Corps (WAC) in the medical corps. After the war, she settled in Madison, Wis.

Mrs. Birmingham gets settled in St. Johns.

Both Mrs. Birmingham and Mrs. Fitton admitted that they would have never recognized the other had they met on the street.

No school Oct. 6, 7

The annual regional teacher conferences will take place in Lansing next Thursday and Friday, meaning St. Johns schools and others in Clinton, Ingham, Eaton, Livingston and Shiawassee will be closed for two days.

The conferences, sponsored by the Michigan Education Assn., will include dozens of special educational meetings at school buildings throughout the Lansing area.

SPEAKERS FOR the opening day session will be Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction, and Martha Zemke, state association president.

Education panel discussions will cover a massive array of subjects including mathematics, sciences, team teaching, music, social studies, physical education, art, problem children, politics and many others.

One program scheduled for the morning of Oct. 7 at the state capitol building will be a discussion of political campaigns by a number of local, state and national candidates for public office.

Teaching new farming and canning methods to small groups of farm boys and girls back around 1906 was the forerunner of the 4-H Club program supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Shepardsville

By Lucille Spencer

RECEPTION

Last Saturday evening, Sept. 24, the Shepardsville Church had a reception for their pastor and his new wife, Rev and Mrs John Huhtala. Mrs Karl Smith and Mr Dale Squiers were in charge of the program for the evening. Pictures of the wedding and reception were shown by Mr and Mrs Russell Ormsby of the Price

Church. All sang "Take My Life and Let It Be." This was followed by two musical selections by the Squiers' sisters. Several organ selections were given by Marcia Tait. Gifts from the church were presented to the pastor and his wife, Rev Huhtala was given a cloth that he could use for washing dishes. He replied that he knew how to use it.

CHURCH NEWS NOTES

The WSCS supply work of the Shepardsville group is due November 1. The askings are new toys with a value of $1 and new mittens. The mittens may be bought or hand knitted.

World-wide Communion Sunday is October 2. The world fellowship of Christians is stressed. Offering serves world-wide.

Several Shepardsville people attended the Sunday evening service at the Price Church. A study of the four gospels is the material that will be used. The meetings will continue until they are finished. The scripture used is from the Revised Standard Version of the Bible.

The telephone number at the Parish Parsonage is 834-6658. Do not forget the Price Church is having their annual chicken supper and fair Wednesday, Oct. 5. There will be a free-will offering.

Collister School still independent

The Collister (Bath 6 Fri) School District is still on its own after a proposed Shiawassee Intermediate School reorganization was turned down Sept. 15.

Under Plan I, which lumps all the votes in the county into one total, the reorganization plan was defeated 1,531 to 920.

It lost by a 9-1 margin in the Laingsburg School District and the Collister, Octagon and Walters primary districts that would have been merged under the plan. In all four districts, only 38 votes were cast in favor while 314 votes were cast against.

NOW THAT Plan I has been defeated, the reorganization will be voted on again under PLAN II, which provides that each proposed merger will be decided separately. No voting schedule has been announced.

In the meantime, the Collister district is still independent—the last remaining independent rural school district in Clinton County.

1967 Pontiac Widetracks Are Unveiled

Pontiac's volume-selling Catalina series is represented in the top photo above by the 1967 hardtop coupe with the Ventura option. The Catalina's distinctive styling, interior and exterior, many standard equipment safety items and a wide selection of options has made this Pontiac one of the industry's largest selling cars. The Pontiac Le Mans series is represented in the lower photo by the hardtop coupe. Separate styling features on the side, front and rear gives each Le Mans model a new and different look. The new models will be shown to the public for the first time September 29th.

News Notes from DeWitt High

By MARGE KOWATCH
DeWitt High School

(Editor's Note: This year's Clinton County News teen writer at DeWitt High School is Marge Kowatch, a senior who is carrying five classes, working in the school office and is serving as editor of the school paper. (She said she plans to go into some type of writing career after graduation and so looks forward to this experience as a teen writer. She has lived in DeWitt all her life but did not attend DeWitt High until her junior year.) School opened Sept. 7, and full classes began Sept. 8. Under Hobart Jenkins, our new superintendent, DeWitt has updated its curriculum and he is now working on accreditation from the University of Michigan. Thirteen new classes are being offered, including two new languages (French and Spanish), advanced English and arts and crafts. Eleven new teachers and a counselor also joined DeWitt this year. A new high school enrollment of 300 was set. Classes begin at 8 a.m. with a 10-minute homeroom each morning. We have split shift lunch of two 30-minute periods. During this time we listen to music from the PA system in the office.

THE FIRST DANCE of the year was held Sept. 9, at which time the 1966 year books were distributed. Incoming freshmen were given a chance to get acquainted at this time. The DeWitt Panthers were defeated by the Olivet Eagles on Friday Sept. 16.

Knitting leaders meet tonight

"Knitting needles for 4-H club members will soon start clicking away to fashion hats, mittens, scarfs, sweaters, jackets and even coats and dresses," says Lorraine Sprague, Extension home economist serving Clinton, Gratiot and Shiawassee counties.

A meeting to assist leaders has been arranged for Thursday, Oct. 6, at 7:30 p.m. in Smith Hall, St. Johns. Smith Hall is located on the fairgrounds section of the city park. This is an area meeting for leaders from all three counties, and Miss Sprague urges all leaders to attend.

MRS. VERONICA LAFORET of Lansing Knit Shop will assist at the meeting. She will discuss pattern and yarn selection and offer advice in a number of specific techniques of construction. There will also be an opportunity for questions.

Planning a total project so that club members consider their wardrobe needs will be discussed by Miss Sprague. She also asks leaders to bring with them any successfully knitted garments that were made by club members. "Sharing pattern sources and experiences encountered during the project can be very helpful to all leaders," says Miss Sprague.

150 waterfalls

Michigan has more than 150 waterfalls offering autumn appeal to camera fans and nature lovers, according to the Michigan Tourist Council. Many of the falls are accessible by short foot trails, while others are located along roads and highways.

Self-made obstacles keep men from striking their stride.

Voters to decide on 18-year-olds

Michigan voters will have an opportunity on Nov. 8 to state their preference on a proposed amendment that would lower the voting age from 21 to 18 years of age.

The amendment reads as follows: "ARTICLE 2—Sec. 1. Every citizen of the United States who has attained the age of 18 years, who has resided in this state 6 months, and who meets the requirements of local residence provided by law, shall be an elector and qualified to vote in any election except as otherwise provided in this constitution. The legislature shall define residence for voting purposes."

Time may be money, but it is not negotiable at the bank.

Mayor

DONALD H. CLARK,
City Clerk

School additions ready for bids by mid-October

Final specifications for the additions to East Essex and Eureka schools may be ready to go out for bids by the middle of October.

That was the word architect Doug Pardee of St. Johns gave the St. Johns School Board last Thursday at a special meeting during which the board made a final review of the specifications for the two buildings.

The board also authorized immediate purchase of four new buses instead of waiting until next year. The buses — three 60-passenger and one 66-passenger vehicles — will replace the oldest buses in the system.

Among the latest 4-H programs giving awards based on accomplishment are horse, home management, photography, dog care and community beautification.

Auxiliary to help with operation telephone home

The September meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Edwin T. Stiles Unit 153, was held Tuesday evening, Sept. 20, in the Legion Hall. Presiding was the new president, Neida McWilliams, who announced the chairmen of the various committees for the 1966-67 Auxiliary year.

Reports of the Department Convention were given by delegates Marjorie Pardee and Cereida Hicks.

INCLUDED IN THE items of business was the decision to contribute to the "Operation Telephone Home at Christmas," which provides free calls home for many service men during the holiday season. This program is sponsored by Miss Josephine McDonnell of Owosso.

Special guests were Judy Williams and Cathy Bashore, who attended Girls State in Ann Arbor last June. Both girls gave reports of the program and various activities at the Girls State session.

The program for the evening was in charge of Evangeline Caudy and Catherine Parker, who introduced a vocal group of five boys from Rodney B. Wilson High School. Accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Parker, the boys entertained the group by singing several numbers.

Hostesses for the evening were Marjorie Pardee, Rose Wolf and Argentina Mazzolini.

Incentive for autumn travel

Uncrowded accommodations and, in many instances, reduced rates add incentive to autumn vacations and weekend travel in Michigan, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Museums and art centers in metropolitan areas are open year-round, while many of Michigan's zoos and parks are still of interest to vacationers.

Plan homecoming promotion

The St. Johns retail merchants' fall sales promotion this year will be entitled "Homecoming Days" and will be built around the St. Johns High School Homecoming Oct. 14.

Downtown stores will offer specials similar to those offered during "Moonlight Madness" promotion in previous years. The sale will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 13, 14 and 15. The St. Johns homecoming is Oct. 14, with the football team playing Alma that evening.

By a 10-3 vote of retail members at a special meeting last Wednesday, the group agreed to open stores the evening of Thursday, Oct. 13. That's the night students will hold their homecoming pep rally, and arrangements are being made for a snake dance through the downtown area.

REPRESENTING the students and the school at last Wednesday's retail meeting were Chuck Stockwell and Jon Tatro and teacher Frank Rosengren. Students report enthusiasm is high for the promotion and help from the merchants, and a number of floats are being planned for a Friday evening parade through downtown St. Johns.

A man expects a lot from his car. Good looks that are a constant source of pride. Performance that won't let him down. A quiet, authoritative ride. Integrity of workmanship. Unique features that add to the joy of driving. A car that pampers and protects the ones he loves. It takes a lot of car to satisfy a man. Mercury does it... 28 different ways!

Introducing the all-new '67 Mercury... the Man's Car!

Completely new! Mercury Marquis! A man's kind of luxury!

A man expects a lot from his car. This entirely new top-of-the-line Marquis gives it to him. Prime examples:

Unique Twin-Comfort Lounge Seats in front (plenty of legroom for him without disturbing her!). Marauder 410 V-8. New Super-Hush Ride. Power disc brakes up front, standard. And speed control, optional. And many more better-idea features.

Ford Motor Company Lifeguard Design Safety Features!

On every 1967 Mercury you get as standard: Dual hydraulic brake system with warning light. Deluxe front and rear seat belts with reminder light. Impact-absorbing steering wheel with deep-padded hub. Padded instrument panel. Padded sun visors. Padded windshield pillars. Double-yoke safety door latches. Remote control outside rear view mirror. Non-glare (Day/Night) inside mirror with flexible backing. Breakaway or double-pivot inside mirror arms. Windshield washers. Two-speed or variable-speed windshield wipers. Thick laminate safety plate glass windshield. Turn indicators with lane-changing signal feature. Positive door lock buttons. Backup lights. Self-adjusting brakes. 4-way emergency flasher.

Excitingly new! Mercury Cyclone! A man's kind of action!

The Cyclone shown, with GT Performance Group, is the Man's Car for the men who like their action big!

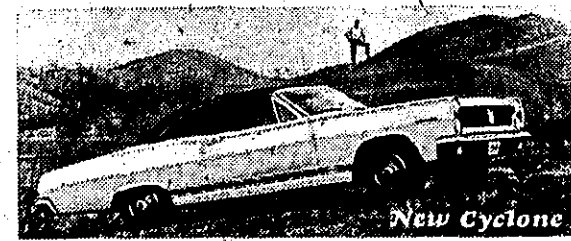

every performance feature a man looks for. Including a 4-barrel Marauder 390 GT V-8; dual exhausts; heavy-duty handling gear: shocks, springs, stabilizer bar; power disc brakes up front—the works! Cyclone!

Totally new! Mercury Brougham! A man's kind of elegance!

A lot of better ideas for a man. That's Mercury Brougham. From its man-about-town styling to its Continental-type upholstery.

Even its power says "Man's Car," with a Marauder 410 V-8. Choose, at no extra cost, either Select-Shift Merc-O-Matic or 4-speed manual. Choose the 4-door hardtop or the sedan (right) that offers a new slant on Breezeaway Ventilation. Power front disc brakes, too. A lot of car: Brougham!

City asks cooperation on leaves

The problem of burning of leaves — a sure sign of autumn — was reviewed by the city commission of St. Johns in a meeting last Tuesday evening. The discussion pointed out several items:

1) The burning of leaves on any public right-of-way is not an allowable use, and persons doing it are liable in court for their actions.

2) The city of St. Johns has a vacuum leaf picker which travels throughout the city on all paved streets picking up leaves that are raked out to the curb.

3) The city also provides rubbish pickup which will take care of any leaves that are put into proper containers.

4) THE BURNING of leaves in street gutters is harmful to the curb, the pavement and to public health.

"All citizens of St. Johns are urged to cooperate with the city's street crews," the commission asked. "This can be done by raking their leaves out to the curb, where they will be picked up by the leaf vacuum or by placing them in proper containers for rubbish pickup."

"Air pollution, fires, property and personal injuries are all hazards of burning leaves which can be prevented with cooperation."

July sales tax collection noted

A total of $152,604.17 in sales taxes was collected by the Michigan Department of Revenue in Clinton County during July. The money represents sales made by the county's businesses during June.

Food sales was again the big tax producer, accounting for $50,498. Automotive sales brought in $40,255 in sales tax, building material $27,737, general merchandise $4,755, apparel $3,031, furniture $5,131, miscellaneous retail $7,082, and non-retail $14,111. Total use tax collected in the county by the department in July amounted to $5,375.90.

Welsh Pony Society accepts Gaffneys as new members

DeWITT — Mr and Mrs John L. Gaffney of Rolling Oaks Farm, 824 Locher Road, DeWitt, have been accepted as members of the Welsh Pony Society of America, Inc., a national organization which maintains the registry and is devoted to the promotion of the popular breed of pony.

Mr and Mrs Gaffney acquired their first registered Welsh pony in 1965 and now own a total of four, including the registered Welsh stallion, Woodside Silverlight.

Welsh ponies are a distinctive breed, ranging from 44 to 56 inches in height. Originating in the hills of Wales, they were first imported to America in the 1880's, and the registry was established in 1907. The ponies are now found in all 50 states. Considered an ideal pony for the growing child or small adult, they are also shown as driving ponies and are used increasingly for harness racing.

The Gaffneys are also members of the Pony of the Americas, Inc.

ON TARGET

with the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce

By BETTY MINSKY
Secretary-Manager

Keeping America Beautiful — and thereby our own community — is one project that Chambers of Commerce become involved in yearly. And, as such, we are the recipients of a mountainous pile of literature on all phases of Keeping America Beautiful.

This week a communication from the United States Department of Agriculture was especially worthwhile, especially so to us here in this agricultural area. Titled, "For a Beautiful America — Guard Against Plant Pests," there was some information in it that many of you readers may be interested in.

So — we quote: "Plant exchange and gifts between different communities can be an important part of a beautification program. However, good planning and follow through are necessary for success. 'Even if exchange plants are healthy and pest free, they cannot be expected to flourish if they are not adapted to the climatic conditions or if they do not receive adequate care.'"

THE BULLETIN then stated that information on adaptability of plants to your community, in this case, to St. Johns, and how to grow them, can be obtained from your state agricultural university or county agricultural agent, in this case, the Extension office in the courthouse.

"Long distance plant exchanges are even more risky than across-the-back-fence swapping of seeds or cuttings. Unless adequate precautions are taken, apparently healthy plants can carry hitchhiking pests and diseases that could cause great destruction to local plant life," the bulletin continued, as it urged residents to strictly comply with state and federal plant quarantine regulations designed to keep harmful pests from spreading into unfested areas.

And, at a time when we here in St. Johns are experiencing the loss of many beautiful elms, another section of the bulletin is especially informative. It said, "Foreign pests are a continuing pest," and explained that many of our destructive pests have come from foreign countries.

"IN FACT, ALIEN pests frequently cause greater havoc here than they did in their native land, where their natural enemies held them in check."

"Ornamental plants and trees intended to beautify our country have been the unintended means of bringing a number of destructive plant pests and diseases to our shores. These unfortunate accidents occurred either before our plant quarantine system was established or were due to lack of knowledge of plant pests and their behavior in other parts of the world."

"For example, early settlers brought barberry bushes with them from Europe to beautify their new world homes. In common with scientists of their time, the colonists did not know that some of the barberries and mahonias they brought with them were alternate hosts of the fungus causing black stem rust of wheat and other grains. Following the arrival of the barberry plants and rust infested straw, this costly disease became established in this country."

ANOTHER EXAMPLE of what can happen by alien plants being introduced concerned the flowering cherry tree.

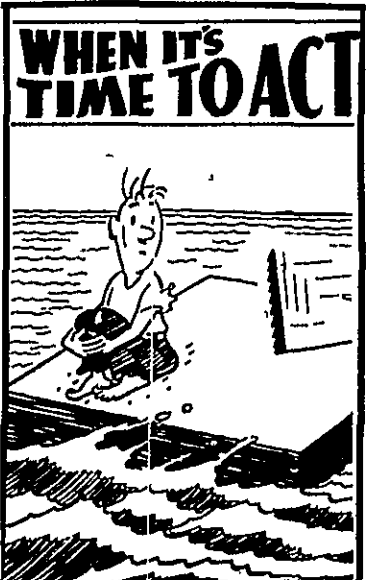

"The famous gift of flowering cherry trees for Washington, D. C., 50 years ago, also involved a pest problem. Because of the numerous fungi, viruses, and other pests affecting cherry trees in the Orient, the gift trees were propagated under special conditions. But, despite these precautions, the original cherry trees were believed to have brought in the oriental fruit moth which is still causing havoc in our orchards. These gift trees, or subsequent shipments, also brought in a virus that attacks Bing and Lambert cherries, making the fruit commercially unsalable."

THE BULLETIN includes information on foreign and native plant pests, which entomologists estimate there are about 10,000 kinds which do damage to our crops.

Those interested in plant quarantines and how they work as well as suggestions on trading of plants will find a load of information in the booklet which can be obtained free by writing for booklet PA-725 to: Information Division, Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Hyattsville, Md., 20782.

Autumn picnic.

The enjoyment of Michigan's countryside in autumn can be increased by combining picnicking with color tours, according to the Michigan Tourist Council. State-maintained picnic facilities are scattered along Michigan's roads and highways, offering more than 3,600 picnic tables.

Sealed bids for the purchase of general obligation bonds to be issued by The St. Johns Public Schools, Clinton and Gratiot Counties, Michigan, of the par value of Five Million Four Hundred Thousand Dollars ($5,400,000.00) will be received by the undersigned at the Rodney B. Wilson High School, 101 W. Cass Street, St. Johns, Michigan, in said School District, until 8:00 o'clock P.M., Eastern Standard Time, on the 10th day of October, 1966, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

Said bonds will be dated September 1, 1966, will be coupon bonds in the denomination of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) each, will be numbered consecutively in direct order of maturity from one (1) to one thousand eighty (1,080), both inclusive, will bear interest from their date at a rate or rates not exceeding five per cent (5%) per annum, expressed in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1%, or both, the difference between the highest and lowest rates bid shall not exceed 2%. Said interest will be payable on the first day of May, 1967, and semi-annually thereafter on the first day of November and May in each year. The interest rate on any one bond shall be at one rate only and represented by one interest coupon for each coupon period, and all bonds maturing in the same year must carry the same interest rate. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such bonds shall be paid by the purchaser at time of delivery.

Said bonds will mature serially as follows:

$30,000.00 on May 1 of the year 1967;
$80,000.00 on May 1 of the year 1968;
$100,000.00 on May 1 of the year 1969;
$110,000.00 on May 1 of the year 1970;
$125,000.00 on May 1 of the year 1971;
$130,000.00 on May 1 of the year 1972;
$140,000.00 on May 1 of the year 1973;
$150,000.00 on May 1 of the year 1974;
$160,000.00 on May 1 of the year 1975;
$175,000.00 on May 1 of the year 1976;
$200,000.00 on May 1 of each of the years 1977 and 1978;
$225,000.00 on May 1 of each of the years 1979 and 1980;
$250,000.00 on May 1 of each of the years 1981, 1982 and 1983;
$275,000.00 on May 1 of each of the years 1984, 1985, 1986 and 1987; and $300,000.00 on May 1 of each of the years 1988 to 1992, both inclusive.

Both principal and interest will be payable at a bank or trust company to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, which paying agent qualifies as such under the Statutes of the State of Michigan or of the Federal Government.

Bonds of this issue maturing in the years 1967 to 1981, inclusive, are not subject to prior redemption.

The right is reserved of redeeming bonds maturing in the years 1982 to 1992, inclusive, at the option of the district, on any interest payment date on or after May 1, 1981, at par and accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption, plus a premium as follows:

2 1/2% on each bond called for redemption prior to May 1, 1983;
2% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1983, but prior to May 1, 1985;
1 1/2% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1985, but prior to May 1, 1987;
1% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1987, but prior to May 1, 1989;
1/2 of 1% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1989, but prior to May 1, 1991.
No premium on bonds called for redemption on or after May 1, 1991.

Notice of redemption shall be given to the holders of bonds to be redeemed by publication of such notice not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the State of Michigan, which carries, as part of its regular service, notices of sale of municipal bonds, and in case of registered bonds thirty (30) days notice shall be given by mail to the registered holder at the registered address. No further interest payable on bonds called for redemption shall accrue after the date fixed for redemption, whether presented for redemption or not, provided the School District has money available for such redemption with the paying agent.

The bonds are to be issued for the purpose of erecting, furnishing and equipping an addition to the East-Exes Elementary Schoolhouse and an addition to the Eureka Elementary Schoolhouse; erecting, furnishing and equipping two new elementary school buildings; erecting, furnishing and equipping a new high school building; remodeling the high school farm shop for junior high school cafeteria; constructing and equipping playgrounds; acquiring additional land for site purposes; and developing and improving sites.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from November 1, 1966, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the School District.

Each bidder shall state in his bid the interest cost to the School District, computed in the manner above specified. No proposal for the purchase of less than all the bonds or at a price less than 100% of their par value will be considered.

The bonds of this issue may be registrable as to principal only on books kept by the paying agent.

The bonds are to be issued pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 12, Part II, Act 269, Public Acts of Michigan, 1955, and the School District is authorized and required by law to levy upon all taxable property therein such ad valorem taxes as may be necessary to pay these bonds and the interest thereon, without limitation as to rate or amount.

A certified or cashier's check in an amount of $108,000.00, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the School District, must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail. Payment for said bonds shall be made in Federal Reserve Funds.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified approving opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, Attorneys, 2500 Detroit Bank & Trust Building, Detroit, Michigan, a copy of which opinion will be printed on the reverse side of each bond, and the original of which will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds at the delivery thereof. The School District shall furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at Detroit, Michigan, Chicago, Illinois or New York, New York.

Inquiries with respect to the details of the issue should be addressed to First of Michigan Corporation, Buhl Building, Detroit, Michigan, Financial Consultant for the School District.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds."

MICHIGAN TRAVEL EVENTS

Community events in tune with the colorful autumn season highlight the October calendar of family vacation-travel activities in Michigan, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Michigan will be alive with color throughout the month as its more than 10 million acres of forestland prepares for the coming of winter.

Feature events include the White Cloud Fall Festival, Sept. 30-Oct. 2; U. S. Power Squadron Color Tour, Oct. 1-2, Indian River; Michigan Corn Picking Contest, Oct. 4-5; Adrian; Belaire Autumn Color Festival, Oct. 7-9; Marquette County Harvest Festival, Oct. 13-15, Marquette, and the Newberry Fall Harvest Festival, Oct. 19-22.

Others include the Archer's Whitetail Roundup, Oct. 1-2, Grayling; Wilderness Trail Jam-boree, Oct. 1-2, Kalkaska; early bear season, Oct. 1-Nov. 5; Red Flannel Day, Oct. 15, Cedar Springs; and the Howard City Turkey Shoot, Oct. 16.

Free copies of the Michigan Calendar of Events, listing activities through December, can be obtained by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing, 48926. 4-H and 4-H type rural organizations now flourish in more than 75 counties around the world. Each is doing its part to help boys and girls "learn by doing." Why not make it a point during 4-H Week to say thanks to the 4-H youth of America for what they are doing today to build a better tomorrow?

Autumn is excellent fishing time in state

Although the regular Michigan trout season closed Sept. 11, autumn provides excellent bass, walleye and pike fishing on non-trout waters, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Lake trout may be taken from non-trout streams and inland lakes at any time; rainbows and browns may be taken from certain designated waters until late fall.

The Michigan Tourist Council of Lansing has available a free copy of rules for fishing in Michigan.

Beef farmers work 3,500 hrs annually

If you think the dairymen spend more hours at labor in his farm operation than any other type farmer, you are wrong. It is the beef cattle feeders in Michigan that spend the greatest number of hours working each year.

An analysis of 1,300 Telford's in the electronic farm accounting record program at Michigan State University showed the operator of large commercial cattle feeding farms averaged 3,507 hours of labor a year.

The dairymen came close behind with southern Michigan dairy farm operators getting in a total of 3,373 hours a year and those in northern Michigan 3,274 hours.

HIRED EMPLOYEES, however, were employed only 1,756 hours on southern Michigan farms and 1,490 hours on northern Michigan dairy farms.

The cattle feeders worked more than 300 hours a month in seven of the 12 months and in the month of May they averaged 12 hours a day for 36 days—a total of 360 hours.

A 40-hour work week totals about 180 hours a month or about one-half the hours the cattle feeders worked in the month of May, 1965.

Analysis of the hourly work week made by Dr. Leonard Kyle, Extension agricultural economist, showed the potato farmer averaged 2,577 hours labor a year, hog farmers 2,508 and tree fruit farmers, 3,326 hours.

CASH CROP FARMERS with 2,084 hours and cash grain farmers with 1,862 hours had the fewest hours labor of all farmers and concentrated work in spring, summer and fall.

Work on beef feeding, dairy and hog farms was steady with operators putting in higher number of hours in the summer months but substantial labor the year around.

Cash crop and cash grain farmers put in most of their hours from April through November.

THE TOTAL PERCENTAGE of labor contributed by the operator to the farm enterprise was highest by the cash crop farmer (69 per cent) and lowest by the tree fruit farmer (16 per cent).

On the other hand, cash grain farmers hired the least non-family labor—only 11 per cent. The fruit farmers hire the most with 81 per cent since all of their hand labor comes at harvest time when a large crew is needed.

Fall color show begins soon

There will be few changes, if any, in Michigan's autumn schedule.

Give or take a few days, the first fall color tinges the heavily forested upper peninsula in mid-September, then bursts forth in an array of color near the beginning of October, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

As the season progresses, the color show begins its southern journey, sweeping across the Straits of Mackinac and angling lower Michigan.

THE AUTUMN spectacular continues for about six weeks with the last blush of color fading from the southernmost forests about the first of November.

The color is breath-taking as birch, aspen, maple, oak and others of the many Michigan soft and hardwoods revert to their fall colors according to their own particular timetable and the colors of their species.

Interspersed with the never-changing greens of spruce, pine and cedars, nature is unrestrained in this role of showman, mixing gaudy orange and yellow with scarlet, amber and gold and the many shades between.

TAKE AWAY the color, and the season is still inviting with comfortably warm days, cool nights and generally uncrowded conditions making for more enjoyable travel. Vacationers can also take advantage of lower rates for accommodations offered at many establishments.

To assist vacationers, many communities throughout the state have posted tours which take motorists through areas which are considered best for viewing the changing foliage.

In the Upper Peninsula, tours take viewers through ghost towns, to abandoned mines and historic sites. Nearby are many of the peninsula's more than 150 waterfalls, and photographers find great delight in capturing these scenic wonders against the backdrop of autumn.

TRAVELERS MAY stop and visit mines, ride chair lifts to scenic heights or take boat cruises which offer unique vantage points from which to view the fall colors.

Color tours through Michigan's Lower Peninsula offer such added bonuses as scenic-shore drives along lakes Michigan and Huron, industrial tours and visits to zoos, museums and places of historic interest.

Many persons prefer to travel Michigan's woods and countryside at random, discovering for themselves the best areas in which to view the dramatic change from summer to fall.

But for those who would rather have assistance and follow planned tours, the Michigan Tourist Council offers the Michigan Autumn Color Tour Guide containing 24 color tour maps in areas throughout both peninsulas.

Copies of the map and other autumn vacation planning information are available without charge by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing, 48926.

New design for post office money orders

New postal money orders designed to cut in half their processing time through the banking channels will be placed on sale throughout the nation on Oct. 8, Postmaster Gen. Lawrence F. O'Brien has announced.

The new money orders were developed in cooperation with the banking industry. They will be gray-tinted and slightly larger, making them compatible with checks used throughout the banking system.

THE BANK routing number which identifies the Post Office Department's account is printed on the money orders in magnetic ink, enabling the banks' check sorting machines to process them at high speeds.

With the new issuance, money orders can now be processed entirely by machines from the time of purchase through commercial banks to Federal Reserve Banks and the Post Office Department's Money Order Division.

This marks the first major change in the money order form since 1963 when the Post Office Department placed special punchtype money order issuing machines in every U.S. post office both at home and abroad. These machines are now being adapted to accommodate the new money orders.

THE CHANGE is a further effort by the Post Office Department to utilize modern methods to process the large volume of postal money orders issued annually. During fiscal year 1966, nearly 214 million money orders were issued in the United States and over 700,000 were issued for payment abroad.

Asphalt—2 feet under sand soil— boosts crop yields

The road to better crop yields on sand soil might well be "paved" with a thin layer of asphalt two feet under the soil surface.

The technique for putting down the layer—less than 1/8 inch thick—has been developed by a pair of Michigan State University agricultural scientists. They point out that the asphalt acts as an "artificial hardpan," doubling the water holding ability of sand soils and greatly increasing yields.

CLARENCE M. Hansen, MSU agricultural engineer, and A. Earl Erickson, MSU soil scientist, said recent field trials showed yield increases of cucumbers and cabbage were so great that the cost of putting down the asphalt was repaid in just one season. Dry bean and potato yields also increased greatly.

In research trials conducted by MSU and American Oil Co., the cost for putting down the asphalt was about $225 per acre. But the scientists added that this cost can be reduced with improvements in machinery. Furthermore, the layer should last at least 15 years before it has to be replaced.

The asphalt layer works best in humid and semi-humid areas where limited rainfall can be extended or conserved. In Michigan, this could mean putting about 10 million marginal acres into good agricultural production. The asphalt layer should also work in areas such as the Coastal Plains of the United States where sand soil is deep and dry and rainfall is limited.

SO FAR THE ASPHALT layer has proved effective on cucumbers, potatoes, beans and cabbage and, commented the scientists, should also work on several crops — including melons, strawberries, tomatoes, etc.

The asphalt layer might also be used under ponds or irrigation ditches to prevent excessive water seepage. Hansen pointed out that about 20 horsepower is needed per foot of sweep of the asphalt under two feet of sand soil. He added that when the process is expanded commercially, the job will probably be performed by a custom operator skilled in the asphalt and the equipment needed to place it under the soil.

Former DeWitt man wins degree

William G. Schaar Jr., formerly of DeWitt and now dean of students at Muskegon Community College, has been awarded a doctor of philosophy degree at Michigan State University.

He formerly taught at DeWitt High School, where he graduated in 1950. He was with the Air Force during the Korean conflict. He is married to the former Charlene Shafley of DeWitt, and the couple have two sons and reside at 3439 Butler Drive, Muskegon.

Schaar is the son of Mr and Mrs William Schaar of 1620 Park Avenue, Lansing, who are former DeWitt residents.

TOUR WAYNE RESEARCH CENTER

Several area feed dealers and their dairy farmer customers were among 325 agricultural leaders who were recent guests of Allied Mills, Inc. on Dairy Day during a tour of the Wayne Research Center in Libertyville, Ill. The group learned of new profit opportunities in milk production. They included, left to right: Dr. W. J. Byer, manager of the dairy department, Wayne Research Center, Libertyville; Anthony Goerge, Fowler; Harold W. Ruhf, Wayne sales representative of Lansing; Paul Graff, Jr.; Fowler; Carl A. Nobis, farmer of St. Johns; Martin P. Thelen, farmer of Fowler; William L. Hufnagel, Fowler; T. W. Graham, general sales manager, and J. E. Streetman, vice president of marketing, Allied Mills, Chicago.

4-H, at new signup time, offers widest appeal ever

The 4-H program has been marked by change since its inception more than 60 years ago. County Extension Agent for 4-H Alvin F. Root notes. Greater variety of educational projects, more emphasis on the improvement of the boy and girl and a program with appeal for young people everywhere, are some of the changes the agent pointed out.

A more recent but no less important change, Root says, is the demand for 4-H towns and cities across the country. Still an important educational force in rural America, more than 77 per cent of its members reside in rural areas; nearly a half million 4-H member now live in towns and cities of 2,500 or more. A decade ago, 86.5 per cent lived on farms and in rural areas and 13.5 per cent in urban areas.

TO MEET THE changing needs of youth, 4-H has increased its educational projects and opportunities. Among the new offerings are: automotive care and safety, home management, personal development, conservation, horse, dog care and obedience and community beautification. These are being supplemented with intensified activities of career exploration, science, health, nutrition, recreation, public speaking and safety. For the young person with suitable facilities, the proven standard projects are highly recommended.

Agent Root invites all young people 9-19 years of age living in Clinton County to learn of the opportunities offered by 4-H. They are invited to call his office in the courthouse at St. Johns. Now is a particularly good time to inquire about 4-H with new groups forming and established clubs being reorganized, he points out.

ADULT VOLUNTEER leaders interested in working with youth are needed, the agent advises. Men and women willing to assist boys and girls develop to the fullest their citizenship and leadership abilities, are encouraged to contact County Extension Agent Root.

Most people consider it good fortune to spot a four-leaf clover. But those who find a four-leaf clover with an "H" on each leaf are even more fortunate, says Root.

The well-known symbol of 4-H has served one out of every five adults in the United States. These 23 million alumni and some 2.2 million 4-H boys and girls currently enrolled provide strong evidence to back the agent's statement. Here in Clinton County, 1,300 have discovered the lucky 4-H clover.

WITH THESE young people, 4-H is a way of life. For boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 19, 4-H offers opportunities to develop wholesome character and leadership. They learn to work together and share responsibility. 4-Hers explore career opportunities while gaining knowledge and skills that will be useful throughout life. But perhaps most important of all, 4-H members know stronger together, learning to be responsible citizens and competent leaders.

Through a unique organizational structure, 4-H is cooperatively sponsored by the Extension Service at three levels of the government. It is carried on at the county level by professional Extension agents and a corps of volunteer leaders and advisers. Statewide, the 4-H program draws upon the state land grant university for educational resources and direction. Nationally, the U.S. Department of Agriculture administers the program as the youth phase of the Extension Service. Professional workers at all levels work with a half million volunteer adult and junior leaders in constantly adjusting the 4-H program to serve the interests and needs of youth.

THE 4-H PROJECT, a highly successful educational method, is made more interesting with complementing activities. These offer variety to all boys and girls, whether they live in the country, suburbs, or the city. Some of the most popular areas are: family living, personal development, home management, conservation, engineering, horse and community beautification. Boys and girls value their 4-H training as they participate in school, church and community groups and activities. Their lives are enriched by having found that lucky four-leaf clover with the four "H's." "Call your county Extension agent at St. Johns," Root said. "He has a head, heart, hands and health clover reserved for you."

Did you know that the two and a quarter million 4-H members in America are about equally divided between town and country, farm and city? And did you know you can choose from plenty of projects, regardless of your interests? And did you know that this is National 4-H Week, the time to get in the know about 4-H?

Tractor skills pay off for 4-H club youth

A special group of about 50 teen-age boys, and perhaps a girl or two, will visit Chicago the last week in November as delegates to the 45th National 4-H Club Congress. Among them will be the 1966 state 4-H Tractor project award winners, sponsored in this state and 39 others by American Oil Foundation.

The next big honor for the group will be selection of the 12 national scholarship recipients. The dozen will be chosen from among all state winners. National judging will be based on individual 4-H Club record books covering all their years in 4-H, including the years in the tractor program.

SELECTIONS WILL be made early in November, and winners announced during the 4-H Congress. The scholarships are for $500 each.

The 4-Hers, supervised by 4-H'ers 'beef' it up to win national honors

"I think I've been fortunate to live in a small country town in sight of school and church, and yet have a barn and cattle of my own."

That's the view of one young man who has spent about half of his 18 years as a 4-H member. And he has been an exceptionally busy 4-H'er, having devoted the last seven years to junior leadership. That means he has helped younger and less experienced members, held 4-H office and aided in club and community events.

HIS SPECIALTY is raising beef cattle.

He is one of several hundred thousand rural boys and girls working with livestock projects. The beef project is the most popular, judging by the consistently high enrollment. In fact, last year a record high enrollment of 160,000 members was reported by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Successful 4-H beef program members will be honored this fall in their home state and in Chicago during the National 4-H Club Congress.

Sponsor of the national 4-H Beef Program, E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, Inc., provides the congress trips for 50 state award winners, $500 scholarships for six national winners, and medals for county champions.

EVIDENCE OF beef club members' successes, and some failures, has been prominent in county and state fairs, and in district and national shows as well.

Among the most valuable exercises in responsibility, restraint and determination, they say, has been learning how to raise beef cattle, judge and show animals; keep cost records; give demonstrations and make speeches.

"I learned (from the county Extension agent) about correct practices, sound buying fundamentals and balanced feeding," said a 1965 4-H scholarship recipient. "This in turn influenced my father who didn't know too much about livestock either."

A lot of parents gratefully acknowledge the "influence" of 4-H.

Experiments compare haylage, hay in feeding

"Whether to feed alfalfa hay or alfalfa haylage to finishing cattle pretty much boils to a comparison of harvesting and storage costs," contend a pair of Michigan State University animal husbandry researchers.

H. W. (Bill) Newland and Hugh Henderson recently conducted an experiment that showed a slight advantage in daily gains and feed intake for heifers fed hay as compared haylage. But the haylage group came out slightly ahead in feed efficiency and cost of gains.

"We made detailed carcass evaluations in each group," said Newland and Henderson, "and the results showed no significant difference between the hay vs haylage fed group."

"We can only conclude that from the standpoint of nutrition, hay and haylage of equal quality and maturity are quite comparable for finishing cattle. "But the saving of total nutrients harvested, however, is in favor of haylage."

Whether you live on the farm or in the city you can learn by doing through 4-H. Now during National 4-H Week you should find out what 4-H has to offer you. It's worth your time.

4H CLUB NEWS

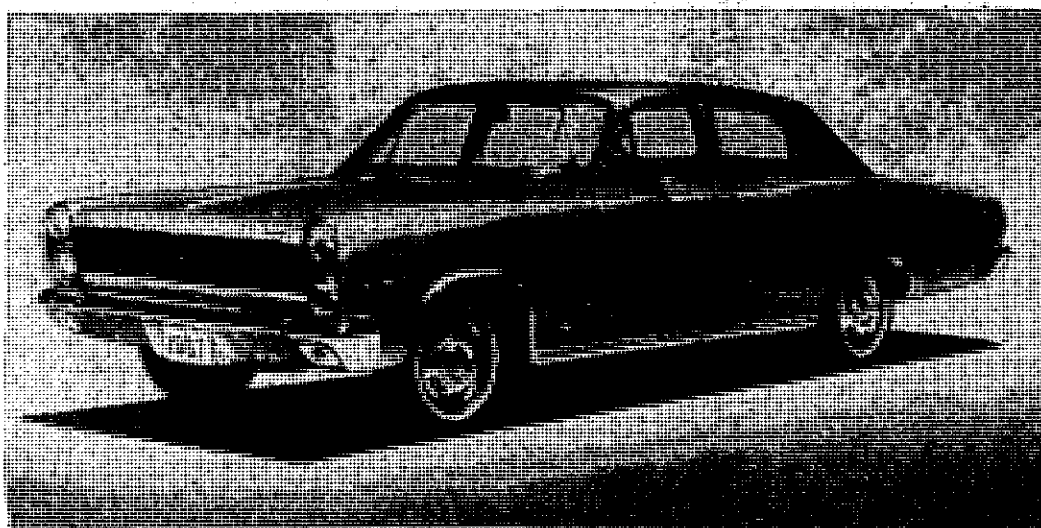

By ALVIN ROOT, Extension 4-H Agent in Clinton County

This is national 4-H Club Week, and 4-H Clubs are urged to plan some special activities for the week and also during the year. Here are some ideas. Set up a plan for publicity about your club projects and activities. Remember to always give the how, what, where and when, about each activity reported.

We don't have to limit ourselves to newspaper stories about our club. We can set up a window display downtown. What about a good deed day when all of the club members turn out to help a needy family or to clean up the roadsides? Or how about a recognition program, honoring those individuals who have contributed or helped our 4-H program in some way? Our fall community club achievement programs provide a good way to let others know about 4-H. Do a good job at getting new fathers and mothers and boys and girls to meet with us.

EACH CLUB COULD appoint a membership committee to make plans for membership drives. Why not try a radio program? With some rehearsal and good planning, this can be a valuable experience. Make use of movies during the year that tell the 4-H story and invite new members and parents. Why not put on a special program for the local PTA? They may like to know more about 4-H.

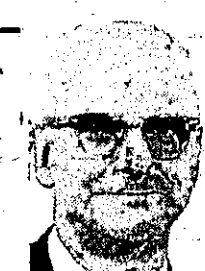

Talking about membership, did you know that the 4-H club idea has spread to 76 countries? We now have about 2 1/2 million club members in the United States, half of whom are age 13 and above. Three-fourths of these live in rural America. The breakdown by place of residence is rural farm 44.4 per cent, rural non-farm 33.2 per cent, towns and cities 16.4 per cent and metropolitan areas 6.0 per cent. The total 4-H Club educational projects and activities amounted to 6,490,000.

Mercury-influenced styling touches and further expansion of its luxury options earn increased status for the Mercury intermediate-size cars for 1967. Above is the sportiest of the Mercury intermediates—the Mercury Cyclone GT, which features a fiberglass hood with twin simulated air scoops and a 390-cubic-inch V-8 engine. Below is the Mercury Caliente four-door sedan. The Mercury intermediate-size cars, which again come in three distinct sizes, will be introduced in Lincoln-Mercury dealerships on Friday, Sept. 30.

ASC PROGRAM

Interest rates on CCC commodity loans explained

W. M. SMITH
County ASC Manager

There seems to be some misunderstanding about interest rates for all commodity loans made by Commodity Credit Corp. including dry edible beans.

The interest rate on price-support loans is 30 cents per $100 per month. This interest rate is approximately 3 to 3 1/2 per cent per year. The interest is only charged on units of $100, and there is no interest charged for the month in which the repayment is made. For example: A producer with a loan of $980 would pay interest on $800, the $80 is disregarded for interest purposes.

LOANS ARE AVAILABLE for beans, and there is no cross compliance with any other crop. Every producer is eligible for a loan. Both farm and warehouse loans are available. Beans must be stored in an approved warehouse for Commodity Credit Corp. loans. Beans stored on the farm must be in good storage and be in good condition.

Anyone interested in a bean loan should contact our office for the loan rate and details covering warehouse loans. If you plan on storing your beans in a warehouse and think you will want a loan, be sure to ask if the warehouse is approved for Commodity Credit Corp. storage.

ON AUG. 31 WE received our county price support loan and purchase rates for 1966 crop corn. It is $1.01 per bushel.

The 1966 total support price represents a 30 cent per bushel support payment, and $1.01 per bushel through non recourse warehouse and farm storage loans and through purchases. However, the price support payments are limited to a producer's projected production up to 50 per cent of his feed grain base, if planted.

FOR 1966 CROP CORN, the county price support basic loan rates are for corn grading, except for moisture, No. 3 or No. 4 on the factors of test weight only. Premiums and discounts for other grades and qualities are unchanged from those in effect in 1965.

The price support program for corn will be carried out through farm and warehouse storage loans, purchases, and price support payments. Loans and purchases will be on an actual eligible production. Unless demand is made sooner, corn loans will mature on July 31, 1967.

PRODUCERS WISHING a farm stored loan do not have to wait after the commodity is put in storage to request a loan, there used to be a 30 day waiting period; this has been discontinued.

If you have any question regarding the loan program, please contact our office.

There's more to 4-H than meets the eye. Get the full story during National 4-H Week, Sept. 24 through Oct. 1. Any member or your county Extension agent will be glad to fill you in.

2 here elected to honors college at MSU

Two St. Johns residents have recently won admission to the honors college at Michigan State University. They are Lorraine Louise Anderson of 809 W. Higham Street and David Leo Poculis of 209 N. Ottawa Street.

Over 325 students have been accepted in the college which provides special academic programs for superior undergraduate students. All students who have a 3.5 (A-minus) all-university grade point average in their freshman year are eligible for admission.

As a member of honors college, a student may waive all non-major course requirements. Working closely with a faculty advisor, a student develops a program of study suited to his own interests and abilities.

THE STUDY PROGRAM will include honors courses specially designed for seminars and independent study. The honors college student may take advanced graduate work whenever ready. Each student of the college is in the academic upper 5 per cent of the student body.

Stiffer fines for teen drinkers

For about two years now young people under the age of 21 who have been convicted in Clinton County of being in possession of beer or other such intoxicants have been subjected to an almost automatic three-day jail term.

The three days in jail were felt to be a possible deterrent to the growing problem of teenage drinking. The jail term was devised as a cooperative effort by the police, sheriff's office, prosecuting attorney, city attorney, judges and justices of the peace.

It seems only logical that the lifetime black mark of a jail sentence on their record would scare most teenagers into abiding by the law. But the records at the Clinton County Jail are too heavy with names of teenagers arrested on minor in possession charges to say that logic was always being used.

From September 1964 through August 1966 a total of 292 convictions had been made on charges of minor in possession.

The jail sentence was a "surprise" to many of the youths, but it didn't phase others who appeared two or three times.

Those 292 convictions meant at least three days each, or a total of two years, one month and 16 days of total time in which youngsters were in jail. Many of the more serious minor-in-possession convictions — and repeated convictions — resulted in more than three days in jail.

It appears the three-day jail sentence and the small fine of $25 plus court costs aren't enough to curb the teenage drinking problem. The law enforcement and judicial branches of the county might give some consideration to dropping the jail term and assessing a greater fine — big fines. It's a shame the jail term must be the black mark it is if it isn't going to do the job.

Money seems to talk, and maybe youngsters will listen if the "voice" is loud enough!

Hold Christmas lights 'til Christmas season

Civic organizations of St. Johns have purchased an additional $1,500 worth of Christmas lighting for this Yule season, and they say it will add greatly to the festive appearance downtown.

We hope, however, that everyone can restrain themselves and wait until AFTER Thanksgiving to put the new (and old) lights up. We're sure everyone would enjoy them more.

Any earlier than that and the Christmas spirit has a tendency to become tired and lack-luster before Dec. 25 even comes around. It will come soon enough.

INGHAM COUNTY is setting up a program of Youth Court Advisors on an experimental basis, whereby high school students involved in traffic offenses will go before a board of teen advisors who will recommend sentences for convicted violators. This sort of thing has worked well in other areas of the country. We don't think the number of cases of juvenile traffic offenses in our county warrant consideration of such a plan here, but the Ingham County experiment will be interesting to watch.

Take away the wheels of bicycle lawbreakers

A news item in the Greenville Daily News some time back pointed out a method the police chief there uses to keep control of the bicycle riding situation.

Two boys, riding double on a bicycle, ran a red light and were nearly hit by a car. As punishment, police impounded the bike for two weeks, which is a police policy when they find bicycle riders disobeying the law.

This should be an effective control to use here, too, where many bicyclists ride like they rule the road. Making it doubly effective would be a stipulation that a parent must accompany the youngster when he gets his bicycle out of police impoundment.

THE NEW CONCRETE curbs between US-27 and the business places along North US-27 in St. Johns are attractive looking and apparently, according to State Department of Highways, more efficient in keeping water moving and traffic "between the ditches." The new curbs give the highway a "boulevard" look, in a manner of speaking, and enhance the appearance of the city to those passing through.

Woodland pond sanctuary from a fretful world

HAYDN PEARSON

There are sanctuaries waiting for a man who seeks them in a fretful world. A sunlit meadow, open hillside, wind-swept mountain shoulder or peaceful woodland offer healing to him who wishes to escape for a time from the clanging cacophony of man's activities.

One of the quiet spots that give a man a chance to escape from the elbow-rubbing friction of competition, is a small woodland pond where blue water is surrounded by trees. Evergreens line the shores, with gray birches among them like threads of white lace. At the shore edges a necklace of stones, with colored gravel showing tints of amber and brown, yellow and gray, white and copper in the shallow water among the larger stones.

HERE, DEEP in a woodland, one can absorb the peace of Nature. Sit quietly a few minutes and the wildlife will begin to stir. Young crows try raucous, quavering notes; an overbird calls "Teacher-Teacher-Teacher." A rabbit may hop from a brush pile and a turtle drop with a dull thud from a log into the water.

The sounds one hears accentuate the peace of the scene. On a calm day one can see white clouds and golden sun reflected in the mirror-like surface. When a fish jumps and small ripples spread across the surface and break against the shore, the movement of the ripples paints moving pictures of the sun and clouds. A quiet woodland pond is not a spectacular part of Nature, but it has its rewards for him who needs to get away from man's confused activities. In the peace and stillness of the woodland sanctuary, the striving stress and goals of daily activities fall into proper perspective.

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

There probably isn't a line of work in which there aren't "bad days" when everything goes wrong . . . when you would have been better off staying in bed than getting up.

I've had my share of those here at the CCN, but whenever I have a bad day I think back to the days when a buddy of mine and I were running the Farmington Bugle in Farmington, Ill. My buddy, Howard Fields, bought the paper and he acted as publisher and I played editor. Our experiences there were one jumble of bad days, though we both look back on it now as a most rewarding experience.

"RAMBLIN' RINK took cognizance of the problems at the Bugle in his column on Aug. 30, 1962.

Etaoin and Shrdlu looked satisfied. They had completed another week of doing things that all good type like do, and each had just taken a hot bath in his favorite ink.

They relaxed in silence for several minutes on the rooftop garden of a type case overlooking the backshop of the Bugle.

"Kind of an interesting year," Etaoin observed.

"Shrdlu yawned before answering.

"YES," HE SAID, "it kind of gives me that warm-all-over feeling when I think of all we've accomplished in the last year." He chuckled. "Kind of keeps those young whippersnappers hopping, doesn't it?"

"Gives them something to do," Etaoin was getting that reminiscent look about him.

Shrdlu's eyes brightened up. "I'll bet you're thinking about the time you sneaked back to the press and unlocked those pages so they'd slide out the end of the press and spill on the floor."

"DID A GOOD job at it, too, didn't I," Etaoin said with a wink. "It cost them a whole day's work to clean it up, and they were a day late getting the paper out."

Shrdlu was a little miffed at the attitude Etaoin took.

"That may have been the most spectacular, but I certainly didn't my share, and don't try to deny it. It was no simple thing to eat those holes in the roof last winter so the snow could drip onto that pile of newsprint. That set them back a peg or two.

"AND I DID a pretty good job of knocking those intertypes out of commission the same week. That's something you weren't able to do."

"Awright, awright, don't get so hot under the collar," Etaoin replied. "All I said was it was a good job."

Peace returned to the penthouse garden as the young type lice recalled the jobs they had done together. They chuckled, and then they laughed until tears came to their wee eyes.

"We sure had them in the dark the night we bent that piece on the press," Etaoin remembered. "They were an hour figuring out what was wrong there. And we dropped that piece of wood furniture into the press shock absorber at just the right time that one day, remember?"

"YA, THEY HAVEN'T run the press so slow since, except when Rinker had to feed it," Shrdlu answered. "Too bad they got Denny to fix it. I had thought that job was good for a couple of weeks."

"We'll just have to try again," Etaoin commented.

"I don't know," Shrdlu cautioned. "They seem to be clamping down, sort of getting the bugs out, if you'll pardon the expression."

"Well, they've got a long way to go before they get us. You know that. We can still drive 'em crazy. All we gotta do is stay a step ahead of them."

"THAT SHOULDN'T be too hard in this place," Shrdlu said. The shop grew dark as the two type lice sat silently looking out over their domain.

Paying the Price

By W. E. DOBSON

I'm not a sociologist,
Nor versed in their technique—
N. sometimes I get out of turn
When I rise up to speak;
But I recall a passage
Taken from another day,
That sez fer every needed thing,
There's two ways you kin pay.

Now in this little formula,
The "needed" is the test—
And if you miss the magic word
You can forget the rest;
You pay for what you order,
And you see the order filled—
But there's items oft neglected
For which you're duly billed.

Suppose you're in a city,
That falls to take to heart
The welfare of the citizens
In which it plays a part;
The problems common to young and old,
Wherever they may stay,
All cry out fer solutions
That we pay for day by day.

Economy is a relative term,
Based on degree of need,
Too oft perhaps we stumble
On the formula's we read;
So while we cuss the budgets
That tax us black and blue,
Tis well fer us to figger
On those other payments, too!

Fall blew into our area last Friday on a chilly wind. The day was bright and very nice, but the chilly wind was there to remind us that now that fall is here, winter can't be far behind.

People who have been nursing gardens all summer, waiting for this time of year when vegetables and flowers were coming into their fulfillment, listen for the weather forecast. For if a cold front is moving in it means that these items will have to be covered to save them from the frost.

night are deceiving in the month of September. The day will dawn bright and sunny. It will be warm throughout most of the day. A breeze blows all day, but at noon seems to freshen from a northerly direction. By mid to late afternoon the wind will fade to nothing. The sun will still be hanging in a placid sky, and a new feeling can be felt in the air. As the afternoon melts into early evening, the cold will begin to settle, which by morning will have left a frost across the countryside.

BUT THESE DAYS, are also the most colorful days of the year. For it is the time when the outdoors is painted with a multitude of color ranging from the golden to the reds, mixed in with the greens and browns to give an area a blaze of color.

The transition to color starts slowly at first with a tree here and there showing a few red or golden leaves. Or, one can spot a single tree in amongst many which rushes ahead of the rest and turns, seemingly overnight, to the beautiful colors of fall. And, as day after day, other trees follow and it seems that one day our trees are green with foliage and the next they are a blaze of autumn colors.

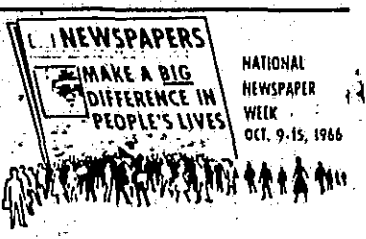

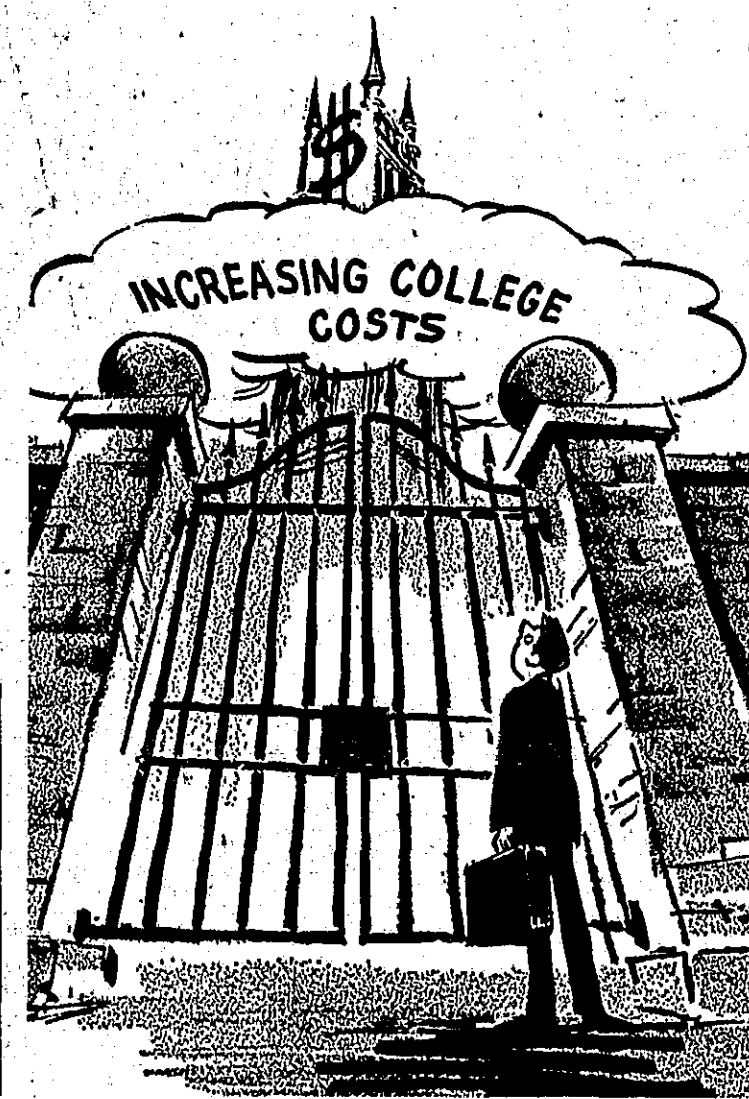

THIS BECOMES the time of year when the family can load into the car on a morning with a picnic lunch, and take off, driving through the countryside to spend a day or two just viewing the colors of autumn. Its an enjoyable thrill for all, from grandpa and grandma to the little children.

As you drive over hill and vale and the ever changing multitude of colors change from mile to mile, they still seem to merge into a continuous canvas of beauty.

FALL IS THE ENDING of another chapter. It is the ending of summer. And as we reflect upon the past few months it seems as if they went, we know not where. It seems only a few days ago that we heralded summer in and now with fall here we wonder where it went.

This is Mother nature. Seemingly we cannot keep up with her, or is it that we enjoy the beginning and then take the rest for granted. Thus it seems that it has passed before we can really enjoy it.

THUS WILL BE fall. We will notice the first few frosty nights. The color as it matures before us. But, as the color leaves and the frost becomes a nightly visitor, we will long have forgotten when it had come. But if we miss it, or part of it, we can always look to the next year. It will not be the same, but it will be filled with all the glory of color that fall can offer.

Privacy threatened by national data center

Rep. C. E. Gallagher (N. J.) ... "The House Government Operations Committee, the Special Subcommittee on Invasion of Privacy ... has just conducted a series of hearings on the proposed establishment of a National Data Center by the federal government."

"The potential of this technology and its value to our modern society are certainly impressive."

"But the hearings have indicated as well an urgent need for a corollary study to determine the direction which our nation will permit technology to take and the great responsibility we face to protect the public interest and rights of the individual ..."

"ALTHOUGH THE proposal to establish a national statistical data center, if adopted, promises greater efficiency in many government operations, the possibility that such a center might become a depository for extensive personal information on every citizen raises questions fraught with serious implications."

"Should the government establish a centralized statistical data center with its interchangeable counterpart a personal dossier bank, there would be a tremendous store of data already available to feed it. That list includes tax returns, census responses, social security data, military records, security files, fingerprints, FBI and VA mortgage guarantees, credit records, health data, and research involving individuals. If state and local governments tied into the proposal, such data as school records, police files, driving violations, and property holdings would also be on file."

"THE BUREAU of the Budget contends that no one has proposed such a personal dossier bank. That is quite true, but it is also a fact that detailed information on millions of individuals and corporations would be poured into the national data center."

"At present, the confidentiality of some of this information is protected by the law. Centralization, however, would create the need for a new set of safeguards to protect the privacy of the material file."

"The risk involved now in entrusting the liberties of the American people to the men of power in the future, the names of whom we do not even know and whose benevolence we cannot presume to guarantee is too great for us to take ..."

"Man can forgive and forget the trespasses of his fellow man, but computers do not forget and they are incapable of forgiving. Rash actions one may have taken in one's youth and which one regrets in his maturity would be recorded for posterity on the computer's tape ..."

REP. FRANK HORTON (N. Y.) ... "As Vance Packard brought to our attention during the hearings, when the social security number was originated, it was a confidential reference. Now it is requested and given on practically every form an individual completes in his lifetime ..."

"One of the greatest safeguards now protecting information possessed by various agencies is its fragmented nature ... A central data bank removes completely this safeguard and threatens to make available entire dossiers, rather than simply a social security number ..."

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT
Comedians joke about the fact that citizens are confronted with ZIP numbers, social security numbers, driver license numbers, lengthy telephone numbers, etc. They also extend the joke to the end that we will be addressing each other by the numbers instead of by the name. The humor could end at the proposed National Data Center. —J.C.

2 hurt slightly in 2-car crash

Two persons were treated at Clinton Memorial Hospital for minor injuries received in a two-car collision in St. Johns late Tuesday afternoon.

They were Miss Marie P. Schaffer, 19, of 7311 W. Parks Road, St. Johns, and Francis M. Simon, 21, of Tallman Road, R-2 Fowler.

City Police said Miss Schaffer had slowed for a left turn when Simon's rammed her's from the rear. Simon was ticketed for failure to have his car under control.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter gives Demo views on issues

THIS LETTER IS written to give at least some of the Democratic side of what has happened to the political picture in Michigan and also nationwide. Governor Romney has pointed out Michigan's dramatic rise in personal income the last four years over any previous period. Yes, I agree, we have national prosperity under a Democratic administration in Washington and when we have national prosperity they buy automobiles made in Michigan, and Michigan has a booming prosperity.

I do not think that had Romney been governor in the late 50s he would have fared any better than Governor Williams did under a Republican administration in Washington.

AS FOR THE 70 PER CENT increase in state aid to education, the present governor did not do one thing to change the tax structure which brought in more money to spend.

I would also like to point out the current legislators together with the governor brought about collective bargaining for the school teachers. They neglected to pass legislation to pay for the increased costs of operating our schools.

The Democratic controlled Legislature had a most fruitful year in 1965 and passed more good legislation than it had for 30 years. One of the pieces of legislation passed was the uniform meat inspection law which is already catching up with the crooks in the food industry. The honest meat processor has nothing to worry about; it's just the crooks.

THE POPULAR TOPIC in conversation is damming the federal government. One of the reasons the federal government becomes more involved in local government is the failure of our government and our state Legislature to provide more money to meet the needs of our local government.

I believe that our future needs in government can best be met by supporting our candidates for the Democratic ticket from top to bottom.

Bement Public Library

The lazy, hazy days of Indian Summer are conducive to dreams of the time when the noble redskins roamed the forests of Michigan, and as treaties with the various tribes expire, and our national and state governments are faced with the 20th-century problems of the American Indian, one wonders just how much we owe him and how much has been done to retire the debt.

All over the United States the Indian has been honored, from time to time, by the erection of statues and monuments, and a recent publication by Marion E. Gridley deals with this particular subject. Miss Gridley is the author of several other books on various aspects of American Indian culture, and has had her writings published in the periodical, "AmerIndian."

AMERICA'S INDIAN STATUES is a book of 104 pages, containing pictures and descriptions of all Indian monuments in the United States, Canada, and even pictures in France.

There are four such statues in Michigan; and all are shown and described in this book. Two in the Upper Peninsula include 52-foot rendering of Hiawatha, which towers 140 feet over the downtown section of Ironwood. It was erected in June 1964, out of colored fibre glass.

In 1960, a life-size marble statue was dedicated near L'Anse, on the site of the old mission established by Bishop Frederick Baraga, the first Bishop of Marquette. The statue depicts Bishop Baraga with a man and child of the Chippewa tribe, with whom the Bishop worked for forty years.

IN 1955, THE PONTIAC Motor Company presented to the City of Pontiac an 8-foot statue of Chief Pontiac, the great leader of the Ottawas, who planned and led the uprising against the English at Detroit in 1763. This handsome gift stands in the lobby of the Pontiac City Hall.

Most dramatic of all of Michigan's Indian statues is the one standing in the Fountain Court of Cobo Hall's Convention Arena in Detroit. The family of Alvin Macaulay, automotive pioneer, gave this statue to the City of Detroit in his memory. Entitled "The Spirit of Transportation," it is said to be the last major work of the sculptor, Carl Milles, and was commissioned specifically for its site and use. The monument portrays, in bronze, the life-size figure of an Indian brave on top of a tall black granite pillar, from which the streams of the fountain emerge. Resting across his shoulders is a canoe, the American Indian's chief contribution to the world of transportation. (Incidentally, the Indian gave us two more forms of transportation for this climate: the snowshoe and the toboggan.)

AN INTERESTING trip could be planned, using this book as a guide. At $2.50 it would make an inexpensive and entertaining gift for the right person.

Bement Public Library has recently acquired a new copy of THE BOOK OF INDIAN CRAFTS AND INDIAN LORE. This book by Julian H. Salomon, has been around since 1928, and this library's copy was getting pretty dog-eared. It is the finest thing ever published on this subject, and Harper and Row deserve credit for having improved the format in this latest edition.

DeWitt crash injures three

DeWITT — Three persons were slightly injured in a two-car crash here about 6 p.m. last Wednesday at Scott and Main streets.

Injured were two passengers in the Pitchford car, Carol Pitchford, 14, and Joan Ribar, 14, both of 911 Pine Street and one passenger in the Kaminski car, David Kaminski, 4. They were treated at St. Lawrence Hospital. Mrs. Kaminski was ticketed for failure to yield the right-of-way.

DeWitt police said cars driven by Mrs. Lois Pitchford, 911 Pine Street, and Joy Kaminski, 207 Scott Street, collided.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Views vary on Michigan's conflict of interest law

BY ELMER E. WHITE
Michigan Press Assn.

Views vary on what the effect of Michigan's new conflict of interest law will be.

Demanding by Gov. George Romney in conjunction with the legislative and executive pay raises enacted this year, the law is intended to avoid possible charges of influence peddling by persons in authority.

People who praise the new ethics law say it will get and keep state employees and officers at all levels out of positions where their official knowledge could possibly be construed as beneficial inside information.

CRITICS OF THE law contend that its language is so vague it cannot be effectively enforced to eliminate the practices intended to be stopped.

Even the few specific sections lack teeth for enforcement, the critics say. For example, one section prohibits legislators who are lawyers from representing clients before state government boards or commissions, but discipline for infractions rests with the legislative house in which the violator is a member.

Another section prohibits any government employee from having "a direct or indirect interest, financial or otherwise, in a contract with the state or any of its political subdivisions." Violation of this ban calls for "appropriate disciplinary or civil action," but the appropriate action is not specified in any way.

EVEN AMONG THE critics the views vary. While some say the vagueness makes the law ineffective, others contend its provisions are too detailed.

Certain language makes the law apply virtually to everyone who is paid a salary or expenses from tax funds of any Michigan governmental unit, not just the state itself.

Thus, this group says, a business executive in a community might be prevented from serving on a school advisory committee if his firm had any dealings with the school system. This could occur if committee members were paid expenses for serving.

All sections of the new law are being studied carefully by the attorney general's office at this time.

One saving grace, the critics say, is that the law does not take effect until next spring. Conceivably before that time amendments could be passed to correct any unclear or unnecessary language or any obvious omissions.

CITIZENS WHO LAMENT the increasing growth of government at all levels rarely find anything to cheer in the state Civil Service Commission's annual personnel report, and this year is no exception.

Many used to find encouragement in the idea that if the government was in the hands of the Republicans, the trend toward bigger and bigger government would end. This idea no longer holds true.

This year's commission report indicates some 4,000 state employees have been added to the payroll since 1962, when a GOP chief executive took over.

SOME STATE REPUBLICANS will try to blame the increase in the public payroll on Democrats, who have controlled the legislative purse-strings the past two years. This accounts only for two of Gov. George Romney's four years in office.

Another argument will be that the Democratic-controlled federal government keeps getting bigger and the state must do its best to get back as many of its tax dollars as possible.

Most politicians legitimately emphasize that the public is constantly increasing its individual and collective demands on the government and they must be responsive to these demands.

SHOCKING NEWS that water accidents in the first nine months of this year killed as many people in Michigan as during all of 1965 has provoked a call for increased concern about water safety.

For most people, water sports activity ends in September when summer vacation comes to a close.

Fatalities in Michigan water mishaps through Sept. 15 totaled 285, as compared with 235 during all of 1965. At the mid-September mark last year, however, the water death toll stood at 210.

WATER ACTIVITY does not end in Michigan at any time of the year; the recorded statistics show. Last year, for example, the final three months of the year accounted for 25 deaths.

Some boat enthusiasts stick with their sport almost until the first snowfall. In the heaviest part of the winter, ice-covered ponds, streams and lakes post a great temptation and danger for cold weather fans.

As in the case of highway safety, the time for concern and diligence over water safety is 12 months of the year.

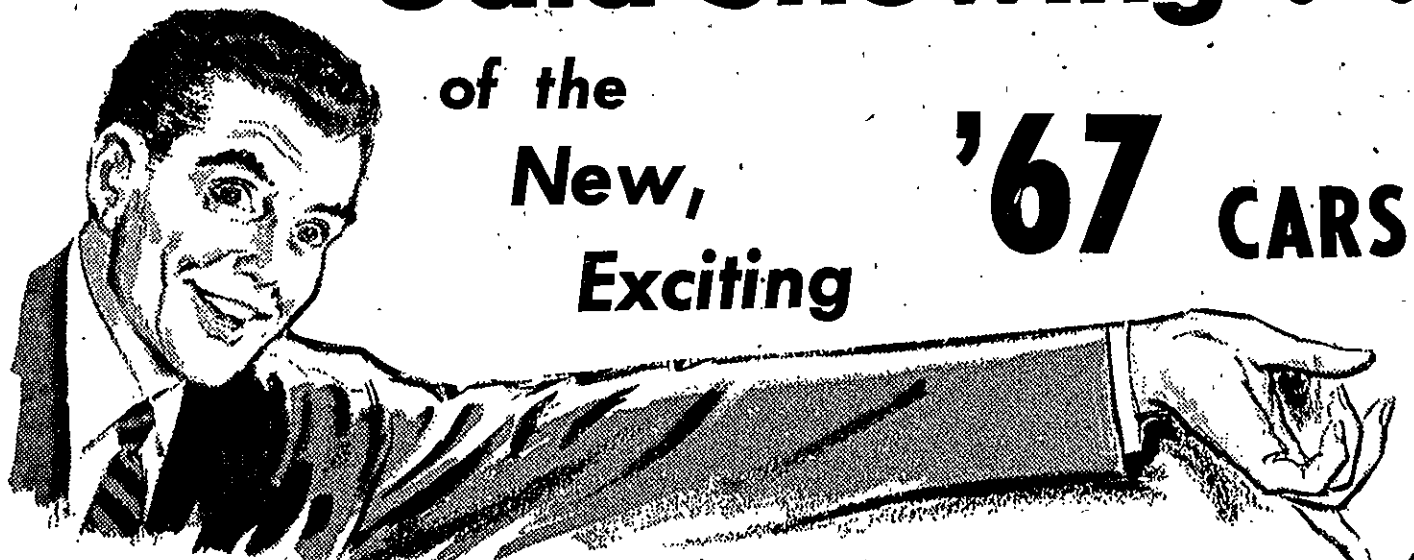

Autumn bonus for campers

Michigan's many state parks and campgrounds offer vacationers a bonus 30 days of camping time during the fall and winter months, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

The summer time limit of 15 days at state park campsites extends to 45 days after Labor Day.

The Michigan Tourist Council of Lansing has a free directory of Michigan's more than 17,500 public campsites.

With an Impala Sport Coupe you can get all the comforts of home, maybe even more.

Everything new that could happen...happened!

New styling that speaks beautifully for itself. More things to add than ever before: A new stereo tape system. Comforton automatic heating and air conditioning. Front disc brakes. A better Cruise-Master control system. Plus all the power you could want in a car: up to 427 cu. in. available in Chevrolet's exclusive Turbo-Jet V8. And, standard with every new Chevrolet, a new road feel thanks to improved Full Coil suspension. You really should see the new Chevrolets. Very soon.

And all this for your added safety: GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column, dual master cylinder brake system with warning light, energy-absorbing instrument panel, four-way hazard warning flasher, plus many others.

Everything new's happening now...at your Chevrolet dealer's

Chryslers for '67 feature new series

Chrysler cars for 1967, new in body design and with new roof styling for two-door hardtops, go on sale today (Thursday), September 29.

There is a new series in the line — the Newport Custom two-door and four-door sedan — to broaden Chrysler's coverage of the medium price market.

The other four series — Newport, 300, New Yorker and Town & Country wagons — are retained, with even stronger separate styling identity than in the 1966 line.

ROBERT ANDERSON, general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Division, described the 1967 Chrysler models as new in sculpture and evolutionary in concept. A 50-50 divided front seat is one of the appealing new interior options. With optional fingertip power controls, it can be made to serve as a traditional luxury bench seat, or each side may be adjusted for the individual needs of driver and front seat passenger.

New standard features for 1967 include an impact absorbing steering column, a dual braking system with a warning light, new windshield wipers with non-reflection metal parts, glass rear windows for convertibles and a flow-through ventilation system for hardtop models.

Power front wheel disc brakes with 15-inch wheels become standard in Town & Country wagons. They are optional in other models.

ALL 1967 Chrysler cars have significant engine improvements. The standard 383-cubic inch V-8 has carburetor and camshaft

Smith named officer of district NFO

Elmer Smith, president of the Clinton County NFO, was elected vice president of the Third District NFO at a meeting in Charlotte last Thursday evening. Forty-two delegates were present at the meeting.

Eldene Jones of Eaton County was elected district president, while Ralph Peterson of Calhoun was named secretary and Jerry Joyce of Calhoun treasurer. Named trustee for a three-year term was Ceylon Garlinger of Barry County and for a one-year term Ken Kline of Kalamazoo County.

Committee delegates for the state convention are Ken Kline and John Wyeth on arrangements committee, with Elmo Giffels of Clinton County as alternate; Lyall Decker and Lawrence Love on election and tally committee, with Keith Farley as alternate; and Miles Smith and Leon Phelps on credentials committee, with Gordon Pelletier as alternate.

modifications to provide better fuel economy. The standard 440-cubic inch engine, which becomes standard in the 300 series, as well as in New Yorkers, has a new induction system which improves its efficiency.

Medi-Label can save your life in emergency

Do you have your Medi-Label now?

What is it? A small, gummed sticker about the size of three trading stamps put together. It sticks to the new plastic Michigan driver's license and contains a brief medical history of the driver.

Things like blood type, allergy sensitivity, tetanus immunization and other information which would be helpful to a physician called in during an emergency situation are indicated on the Medi-Label by the family physician.

The Medi-Label, developed by the Michigan State Medical Society, is designed for the new plastic driver's license. There is no space on the old license for it.

Medi-Labels are free. They can be obtained only from a physician.

Mrs Oliver Beck hostess for WCTU

Mrs Oliver Beck of Eureka was hostess last Monday evening for the Women's Christian Temperance Union meeting at her home in Eureka. Members enjoyed a cooperative dinner served at 6:30, after which the business meeting was conducted by President Mrs Gordon Salisbury. Devotions were conducted by Mrs Agnes Wells, with the opening prayer by Mrs Emma Pratt. The theme was "Effectual Working With God." Following singing by the group, a devotional prayer was offered by Mrs Wells.

The remainder of the evening was spent making out the programs for the ensuing year.

View history, autumn color

Visiting Michigan points of historic interest and other sightseeing attractions can be combined with fall color tours to make autumn weekend jaunts more rewarding, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Historic sites and other interesting places to visit are included in the 1966 edition of the Michigan Autumn Color Tour Guide, available without charge from the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing, 48926. The guide contains 24 suggested color tours throughout the state.
