Redwing Athletic Assn. attempts to mend school, city park rift

Activities of the recently formed Redwing Athletic Assn. have precipitated a series of discussions between that group, city officials and members of the St. Johns school board, and outlooks early this week indicated that misunderstandings surrounding the current athletic field should dissipate.

Formation of the Redwing Athletic Assn. was conceived for the purpose of seeking ways to build up the facilities at the football field located in the City Park.

Initial suggestions included the possibilities of baseball diamonds and practice fields as well as shower rooms and improvements on restroom facilities and increased seating capacity.

The group was knitted together after an apparent split by city and school authorities suggested discontinued use of the present athletic field.

According to both city and school authorities, however, there was never any degree of intent to terminate the current year-to-year leasing arrangement on the field.

There was a breakdown in agreeable points necessary for a long-term arrangement and this action brought about the formation of the new association.

Since its formation, the group has met with members of the park board and school board on different dates and the discussions have alleviated much misunderstanding.

Officers of the group are: John Hopko, president; Carl Nobis, vice-president and Willis Hettler, Jr., secretary-treasurer.

While the group is interested in fostering a long-term lease arrangement they are concerned with immediate improvements at the field and have indicated belief that much of the desired changes could be accomplished with volunteer help and contributions from private citizens.

At present the football field is leased to the school for $2,400 per year. Limited use of the parking lot and practice fields are included in the agreement and maintenance is administered by the school.

Another desire of the Redwing group is to insure that expenditure of the rental money would be directed toward improvements and maintenance of the area.

School Supt. Earl Lancaster told the Redwing Assn. during a meeting last week that 1,800 students in the physical education program use the facility daily for approximately eight weeks each spring and fall but general uses of the park by city and schools have never been in conflict.

During the meeting Hopko indicated that support for a capital improvement program at the athletic field area had come from local citizens and he encouraged a reopening of leasing talks between the school and city, a proposal presented by Ross Downing.

Monday morning Mayor Robert Wood indicated that a meeting had been scheduled for that evening between city and school officials.

Because of conflicting schedules the meeting could not be held.

DON'T INTERRUPT . . . I'M BUSY

Steven Clise, seven-month-old son of Mr and Mrs Stewart Clise of Bath, enjoyed visiting the Bath Elementary School last week with his mother. He found playing with rubber toys very educational besides a lot of fun and was really fascinated with the camera and funny "click" sound it made.

The Newcomers group of Welcome Wagon became St. Johns' newest social organization last week when installation of officers was held in the community room of Central National Bank. Receiving the gavel from Mayor Robert Wood, while Chamber of Commerce president, Brandon White looks on, is Mrs. James Leon, president of Newcomers. From left: Mrs. Richard Armstrong, treasurer; Mrs. Rollin Huard first vice president; Mrs. Chester Laskey, historian; Mrs. Leon; White; Wood; Mrs. Wayne Gossett, second vice president; Mrs. Thomas Suppa, secretary and Mrs. Donald Powers, Welcome Wagon hostess.

Welcome, newcomers . . . come on, join the group

Misery loves company, they say, and while moving from one community to another doesn't always reach the miserable point, it is consoling to meet and talk with others burdened by the "transfer blues."

As convenient as modern moving methods are there are still physical and psychological obstacles to overcome and for the housewife one of the biggest barriers in becoming acquainted before going stir crazy.

Unlike her husband, she does not always have the opportunity to get out and around during her work day and consequently making new friends can be somewhat slower than hubby's pace, but a group of newcomers to the St. Johns area have joined together to expedite this getting acquainted process and already have installed officers for the coming year.

And wouldn't you know it? They're called "Newcomers" and are part of the International "Welcome Wagon" program which has been in operation for over 42 years.

"We have a membership of about 25 right now," explained Mrs. James Leon, president of the group. "There are 60 in town who are eligible," she said indicating that present members look for their number to increase.

Throughout the summer months the group held weekly informal coffee sessions at the park to supplement their regular meeting conducted the first Wednesday of each month in the community room of Central National Bank. With the turning of the weather, the coffee sessions are being held at Redwing Lanes.

"Our newness has given us common ground for friendship," Mrs. Leon pointed out, "and we

Tom Fedewa wins $20

Tom Fedewa, R-2 Fowler and Mrs. Marilyn Boettger each missed on only four games in last week's Clinton County News Football Contest. Fedewa was closest to the tie breaker score guessing 35 points. (The breaker was 37 points). Mrs. Boettger guessed 42 points.

are finding our way by helping each other," Mrs. Pauline Powers, our Welcome Wagon hostess, has given us introductions to the business places and now that we're getting along well we're looking forward to helping other newcomers."

The primary purpose of the newly formed groups is to acquaint newcomers with one another, but in addition to this there are other purposes as well.

"We must accomplish at least one community project each year," the president stated and went on to point out that the new group in St. Johns has already completed one.

"We helped to make ditty bags for the Red Cross for the servicemen overseas," Mrs. Leon said and hinted that other projects would be considered as the Newcomers become more closely organized.

The feeling of Newcomers members suggests that they have much to contribute to the community both in efforts and ideas. Most of the group have spent time in different parts of the country and the exchange of experiences provides information and new approaches to community activities and projects.

But membership is not limited to newcomers from distant points. Indeed anyone moving into the area from some other Clinton County address are eligible for membership and are encouraged to attend either the Wednesday morning informal coffee sessions or the monthly gathering.

The name of the game is getting acquainted and as part of attaining that goal Newcomers is already considering social events for husband and wife. No definite plans are yet underway but social events for couples will be part of the coming year's program.

The parent organization of Newcomers, Welcome Wagon, is supported by participating merchants of the area and directed by hostess Mrs. Powers. Sponsoring Welcome Wagon in St. Johns are E.F. Boron Co.; Capitol Savings and Loan; Central National Bank; Redwing Bowling Lanes; Harold R. Green, State Farm Insurance; Glaspie Drugs; Beckers Furniture; Lewis Plumbing and Heating; Walker's Cafe and WRBJ.

Commission issues park statement

Late last week, the city commission, in efforts to present a synopsis of events surrounding the current discussion, released the following statement.

The city commission has been troubled by the recent reports in the news media concerning the lease of city park property to the St. Johns school system. The city commission is concerned for the reason that all the facts have not been brought to the attention of the public.

The negotiation for a long term lease have arisen because of the necessity of repairing a city sewer on Railroad Street to relieve the pressure on the already burdened sewers on the South side of the city. Until the new school was constructed it was known that the sewers were inadequate but it was not imperative to do something immediately. With the opening of the new school the sewers on the south side of the city had to accommodate another 750 to 1,000 students, which created an emergency situation with sewer disposal.

From information in the city files and conversations with former city commissioners and employees it appears that this sewer problem was known both to the city of St. Johns and the school in 1966 long before the construction of the new school was begun. Before the construction of the new school there was apparently an agreement between the city and the school that the school would share one half of the construction cost of the sewer on Railroad Street. However, it further appears that nothing was ever reduced to writing on this agreement.

Late last winter negotiations were begun again between the city and the school. At that time the city stated it could only contribute one half, or $25,000, toward the sewer because of its financial problems. The school board stated it could furnish no funds because of their own financial difficulties.

There were several other meetings between committees from the school board and the city commission. One solution was advanced by the school board whereby the school would prepay its water bill in the amount of $25,000. However, it was learned that in order to do this the city would have to obtain authorization from each of its bond holders and amend the bonding ordinances at the cost of several thousand dollars.

After the recent school millage election the school was again approached concerning their contribution to the construction of the Railroad Street sewer. The solution was advanced by a committee from the city commission that the school would prepay the rent on the football field in the amount of $25,000 and in return would receive a lease for 20 years with an option to renew the lease for another 10 years at $1.00 a year. The school presently rents the football field for $2,400 a year. The school also has the right to use the other facilities in the park such as the practice field, parking lot, etc. in conjunction with the city residents. Presently the school has a one year lease which expires on June 1, 1970 which lease is automatically renewable each year.

As a result of these negotiations a lease was prepared for the football field only, with the understanding that the school could also use the other areas during the school year as has been done in the past. This lease was not accepted by the school and it was stated that they also wanted the practice field to the east of the football field and the parking lot included in the 30 year lease. This information was taken back to the city commission and it was decided that the only part of the park that could be leased to the school for 30 years was the football field itself. The reason that his decision was reached was that if all these areas requested by the school were leased it would mean that over one half on the cleared area of the city park would be taken from under the control of the city for 30 years.

Since the park is in effect owned by all the citizens of St. Johns it was not felt that the city commission could lease away the right to use such a large portion of the park for 30 years to a group which includes many persons from outside the City. There is also a serious legal question if the city can lease

Bath Board considers new budget

By SHIRLEY KARBEN
News Staff Writer

Bath Township officials will take under consideration a proposed budget of $114,550 at a special meeting set for Oct. 27. By law the township can assess a total of five mills.

One-half mill is already in effect and another 2 1/2 mills has been designated for a road improvement program. The new budget if approved would require an additional one mill to finalize the total four mill budget.

A break-down of estimated expenditures includes: $79,215 for the Genral Fund; $20,850 for the police department; $9,285 for the fire department; and $5,200 for the cemetery.

The 2 1/2 mills allocated for the building program had received tentative approval some time ago by township officials, contingent on Bath officials reaching an agreement with Clinton County Road Commission. Total cost of the four areas scheduled for road repairs was given at $24,500. The Road Commission would absorb $3,000 of the cost and the township the $21,500 balance. The contract was presented at Monday night's meeting by Duane Smith, supervisor, for final approval.

Areas designated for improvements include: Sleight Road, from Watson Road east; Center Road east one quarter mile; Angle Road for two-fifths of a mile; and Cutler Road where the old "Mud Creek" bridge will be replaced by a culvert and the raise graded.

At one time the possibility of awaiting the I-96 Route had been considered, but Road Commission officials stated a more comprehensive plan for the Township should be worked out this fall with the exception of asphalt surfacing which will be done in the spring.

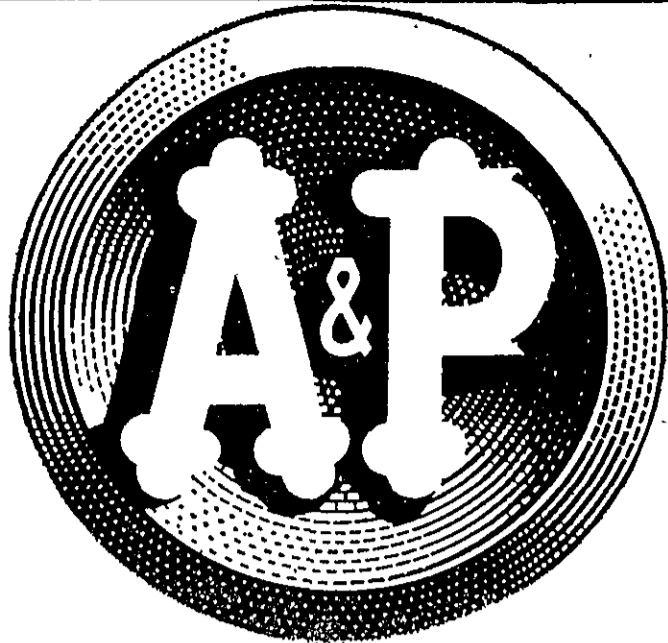

Lee Reasoner, clerk, offered the motion for approval of the contract which was then passed, by a unanimous vote of Township officials.

In other action the board, —Reviewed final contract negotiations on the proposed Kreager Development, where a 300 unit mobile - home site is planned in conjunction with apartment dwellings. Under the sewer contract for the area the Township would take over ownership of the lagoon type system under a municipal program with Kreager posting a $20,000 performance bond to insure reimbursement to the township of all costs and maintenance of said sewer system when 100 of the mobile sites were ready for occupancy.

Smith Hall meeting

Farm Bureau to mark golden anniversary

Members and guests of the Clinton County Farm Bureau will meet at Smith Hall Tuesday, Oct. 14 for the annual business session.

This year's meeting holds a special interest since it is the golden anniversary of the Farm Bureau in Clinton County.

A special observance of the 50-year mark will be a part of the program which will include a skit "This Is Farm Bureau," presented by staff members of the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Also on the program will be recognition of charter members, past county presidents, Women's Committee chairmen, and a talk by the Young Farmers Committee on the Farm Bureau of the future.

Chief items of business to come before the delegates will be election of directors for Greenbush-DuPlain District, Dallas-Westphalia, Bath-DeWitt and Director at Large.

Present directors from these districts respectively are Andy Cobb, Dan Thelen, Ken Gelsen-haver and Neil Harte. All are eligible for re-election.

Of equal importance is consideration of resolutions which each year are submitted by the Community Groups and various committees of the Farm Bureau.

Members will consider these resolutions and the results will be forwarded to Michigan Farm Bureau for possible consideration by the state resolutions committee for use at the state annual in November.

Members will be asked to approve the list of 12 delegates to represent Clinton County at State Annual which will be the 50th such meeting for the parent organization.

Preceding the business meeting a dinner will be served by the ladies of the Pilgrim United Methodist churches.

Tickets are available at the county Farm Bureau office or from directors and Community Group secretaries.

Cancer unit re-elects Wohlers

Dr. R. L. Wohlers DDS of St. Johns has been re-elected president of the Clinton County Unit of The American Cancer Society. He has served in this capacity continuously since joining the organization nearly eight years ago.

Others elected to serve during the coming year include: Mrs. Raymond Thornlon, vice-president; William M. Steigerwald DO, chairman; Mrs. Albert Fruchtl, volunteer director; Mrs. Basil Delbert, secretary; Mrs. Lester Lake, treasurer; Mrs. Harold Patrick, awards chairman; Mrs. Louella Canfield, education chairman; Mrs. Betty Minsky, publicity chairman; Mrs. Fred Black, service chairman; Mrs. Robert Nourse, special events chairman; and William M. Steigerwald DO and Mrs. Robert Nourse to the State Board.

A LITTLE RIDE, MAYBE?

The weather wasn't quite right so the group merely watched as Fr. William Hankerd pointed out the features of a Sno-Jet snowmobile which will be given away as grand prize of the St. Joseph School Carnival, Saturday Oct. 18. Listening to the quick briefing are, left, Mrs. Elmer Feldpausch, secretary of Home-School Council; Sister Margo, principal, Mrs. Rollin Huard, chairman of the carnival and Dean Henning, president of Home-School Council.

Bath officials enforce trailer ordinance

Whether or not Bath Township officials intend to stand firm on resolutions made for the welfare and orderly development of the area or back down on their regulations came to a test at Monday night's Township board meeting when a local resident requested permission to place a trailer.

Approval of the local planning commission had already been received regarding the placement and a doctor's statement accompanied the application stating the applicant - property owner suffered from asthma and other conditions that made living in a "basement home" undesirable to her good health.

In the original application she had stated if approval was granted the family would move from the basement home where large cracks in the walls and the poured foundation created a damp atmosphere to a new 12 by 63 mobile home and the site graded and filled in. When questioned by Lee Reasoner if the basement was unfit to live in she stated, in her opinion it was, and at the present time her daughter and her family, including a two week old baby were also living in the dwelling.

Duane Smith, supervisor, then asked, "Is there any basis to the rumor circulating that after you move into the trailer the dwelling will still be occupied?" At this point the resident confirmed there was no where they could go, and her husband who suffered from a heart condition was unable to do much work after spending a full day in the factory. She said, "I can't set a time limit. I have no idea how long it will take me to sell my furniture or get the pump moved into the trailer from the basement."

Richard Bragdon, trustee, then suggested the family move to a trailer park or build a new home on the property. She then stated the walls and roofing were unsafe and construction would have to be complete, and they "again" had no place to go.

Bath to build new fire station

The expected arrival of a new fire truck at Bath Township early next year has created a problem. The present fire station is too small to accommodate the new community asset. At first officials considered remodeling, which became an undesirable solution when high estimates were received.

They then considered the possibility of a new building at a more convenient location. The present station is in a congested section, and officials decided to "relocate" near the township hall. This decision was easier to make than the financial arrangements and construction bid problems that followed.

Estimates were received for a building 30 by 58 with four stalls, rest room facilities and a meeting room. Low bid was $18,116, and included an 185,000 BTU gas furnace, eight inches of sand fill, six inch concrete floor, 12 inch block walls and other items.

When officials compared these cost figures with another estimate on a 28 by 48 structure which ran $9,091 they noted the excessive cost increase, and began a detailed discussion of the situation. Heavier materials used in the stabilized roof and the thickness of cement floors accounted for a large per cent of the increased costs. A compromise was then suggested by Lee Reasoner, clerk, who made the motion the board ask the Police-Fire Board to accept a 30 by 58 structure with posts used as supports and include a furnace, five foot apron, and the utilities stubbed in. They were to receive bids on same, and further discuss the project at a special meeting of the Township Board, called for Oct. 27.

The new truck storage problem and the fact construction bids are lower this time of year, have engendered a need for "speed" among officials.

The contract will have a 45-day completion date stipulated. Approval of financing would also be facilitated if officials can keep the loan figure below $10,000. If more than $10,000 is needed the Township must obtain the approval of the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission which the board felt could cause further delays to the building.

The negotiations were ceased because the city commission felt that the school was asking an impossibility in asking that the city lease anything other than the football field.

The city commission has been willing in the past to discuss this matter with the School and is still willing to discuss the matter but it should be understood that inasmuch as we are elected by the citizens of St. Johns we have a sworn duty to protect and preserve the property given to us by the citizens of St. Johns.

Memories are made here -- St. Johns Homecoming 1969

What's it like being homecoming queen 1969?

"There's just no words, no words--what can I say?" said newly crowned Vicki Johnston, Friday night after she accepted the crown and robe from last year's queen Sheri Liszewski, at half time.

Until then, this year's choice was a secret.

It might have been anyone of the five candidates, Dianne Fedewa, Sheri Kuntz, Karen Lundy, Juliann McCausey, or Vicki Johnston.

In years before, the identity of the queen was announced a week before the homecoming game.

This year, the homecoming committee decided to incorporate some changes in the homecoming traditions, not only in honor of the new St. Johns High School, but to relate the festivities to returning alumni.

It was decided that the identity of the queen should be kept secret until homecoming night, not only to keep the students and candidates in suspense, but so that the spectators could witness the drama of passing the crown from last year's queen on to this year's queen.

Despite the new school and the suspense of the queen selection, homecoming at St. Johns was familiar in many ways.

Although there was no freshman float the football team added its usual drama, and the band was as sharp as ever.

And as usual, the homecoming dance was still the highlight of the homecoming festivities for many.

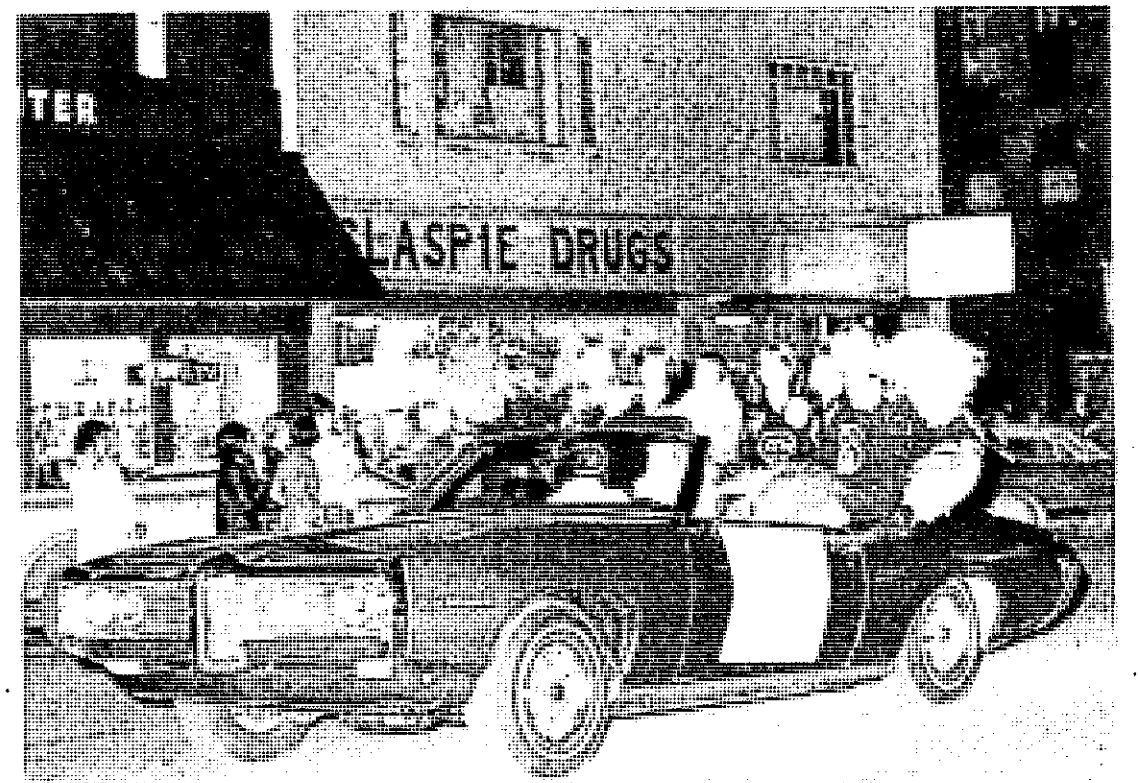

Shirley Eisler rode on the sophomore float, constructed around the theme "Carousal."

Rachelle Stachel represented the juniors on their float, built on the theme, "Love is all Around."

The senior float, "The impossible Dream" was named the best and made it all possible with two little elves, Dan and Dave Johnston spreading their magic all around.

When the queen arrived at the dance after picture taking, all clustered around her and the band, Brand X, swung into some sentimental music like "Summertime."

After the queen assumed her throne, the dancing began. And already, Homecoming 1969 was becoming a memory.

Elsie couple wed at St. Cyril's Church

St. Cyril's Catholic Church in Bannister was the setting for the double ring wedding service which united Miss Barbara Ann Horak and Terrance J. Seybert.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Thomas Horak of 9801 Island Road, Elsie and the groom is the son of Mr and Mrs Earl Seybert of 113 Cedar Street, Elsie.

Arrangements of white daisies and mums with yellow gladiolus were placed on the altar for the wedding mass. Rev Edward Konieczka officiated at the service and David Stasa provided the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a Victorian gown of silk organza with a Venise lace bodice. Her train was attached at the empire waist, and she wore a veil designed by her mother.

Miss Cathy Kosperek served as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Marry Fizzell, Anne Vloek, Celeste Buck, Barbara Doubravo and Margaret Horak.

Mary Pat Horak served as flowergirl. They all wore identical gowns in antique gold trimmed in cocoa brown and carried cascade arrangements of white mums, yellow daisies and roses.

The bride's mother chose a light blue ensemble and the groom's mother wore a beige and green outfit.

Michael Seybert served as best man and Phillip Fizzell, Clifford Seybert, Jim Horak, Phillip Seybert and Chris Seybert were groomsmen, Paul Horak served as ringbearer.

A dinner-dance reception for 400 guests was held immediately after the service in the Slovak Hall in Bannister. Mrs Orlo Mead and Mrs Al Miller were in charge of the dining room.

Mrs Frank Slovacek and Mr and Mrs Earl Seybert Sr., grandparents of the bride and groom were special guests.

After a wedding trip through Michigan and Canada the newlyweds will reside at 706 1/2 East Lawn Drive, Mount Pleasant. The groom is a senior at Central Michigan University this year.

Chapter elects new officers

Volunteers receive Red Cross awards

The local unit of Red Cross Volunteers met Sept. 17, at the home of Mrs Lawrence Merignac. There were 13 members present. Special guests were Mrs Lillian Kumata, personnel director for the Mid-Michigan Chapter, and Mrs Hazel Christensen, volunteer chairman of Lansing.

Service awards were presented by the co-chairman of the Clinton County unit to the following volunteers: a 10-year pin to Mrs Donald (Laura) Jorae with 1,538 total hours; nine-year service numerals to Mrs Forrest (Doris) Swatman with 1,432 hours; Mrs Levi (Ruby) Blakeslee with 1,530 hours; and Mrs Lysle (Dorothy) Steves with 1,323 hours.

A five-year pin was presented to Mrs John Warstler; a four-year pin to Mrs Lloyd Ford; and a three-year numeral to Mrs Esther Martens and Mrs William Chalmers.

Two-year numerals were awarded to Mrs Edwin Helbeck and Mrs Herschel Woodhams, and one-year numerals to Mrs Estelle Langdon, Mrs Allen Anthes and Mrs Hazel Keyes.

Doris Prowant, unit chairman, gave a report of the community projects in which the Red Cross Volunteers have been involved the past six months. These include: six immunization clinics; eight canteens for servicemen leaving Clinton County; the Bloodmobile on June 25; and the "Ditty Bag" Christmas gifts for American servicemen in S. Vietnam. These combined projects were in addition to the three-hour, weekly shift each member contributes to Clinton Memorial Hospital. A general discussion was held to appoint a new chairman and co-chairman for the hospital unit. Anyone who is interested in a leadership position whether or not they are now a member of the Red Cross may call Mrs Edward Prowant or Mrs Lawrence Merignac for information.

The capping service for volunteers who have joined the Red Cross since May will be held at MSU Sunday, Nov. 2 at 3 p.m. All volunteers must have completed their class at the center before they are eligible to participate.

The meeting closed with coffee and sweet rolls served by the hostess.

Newlyweds will live in Nashville

A double ring service uniting Shirley Ann Headley and Mark James Motz was held Sept. 6, at 3 p.m. at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Pewamo. Officiating at the double ring service was Monsignor Thomas J. Bolger.

White gladious and yellow chrysanthemums adorned the altar, and the church choir accompanied by Mrs Ernest Schafer on the organ, sang for the nuptial mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Arthur Headley of Manchester, Tenn. She attended Oakland Community College and Central Michigan University.

The groom is the son of Mr Leo Motz and the late Mrs Motz of Fowler. He graduated magna cum laude from CMU in June.

Mother of the bride selected a pink brocade dress for the occasion. She was presented with a white orchid corsage.

Acting as best man was Thomas Wilson. Groomsman included Edward Parsey and Gary Mellor. Ushering the 150 guests to their seats were David Thompson, Kenneth Reichard, Robert Wilson and William Thelen.

After receiving their guests at a reception held at the Fowler Conservation Club, the new Mr and Mrs Mark James Motz left for a brief wedding trip to Saugatuck.

The couple will make their first home in Nashville, Tenn., where the groom is a graduate student at Vanderbilt University.

QUEEN CANDIDATES AT P-W HIGH SCHOOL

Nancy Bengel, Rosanne Stump, Andrea Thelen, Mary Davarn and Sandy Wieber were queen candidates at Pewamo-Westphalia High School. The girls are members of the senior class, and clasped hands in a circle of friendship before Friday night's homecoming game.

P-W homecoming looks to be one of the best

By GAIL COTTER, Pewamo-Westphalia High School Correspondent

Homecoming for the Pewamo-Westphalia students looks to be one of the best ever. The date has been set for Friday, Oct. 10. Already plans have been made for themes and floats, and class representatives and queen candidates have been chosen.

The five candidates for Homecoming Queen 1969-70 are Nancy Bengel, daughter of Mr and Mrs Julius Bengel; Mary Davarn, daughter of Mr and Mrs Jack Davarn; Rosanne Stump, daughter of Mrs Susann McCorkel; Andrea Thelen, daughter of Mr and Mrs Herman Thelen; and Sandy Wieber, daughter of Mr and Mrs Claud Wieber.

These girls were selected by the senior class and the queen will be chosen by the student body. During the half-time of the football game, the new queen will be announced for the first time to everyone. After this announcement, last year's queen, Janice O'Brien, will do the honors and crown the new royalty.

This year there will be two prizes awarded in the float competition, first and second place. As were the rules last year, flowers and other decorations can be made earlier, but the floats themselves can not be decorated until the afternoon of Homecoming. Twenty students from each of the four classes will do this. Also during the half-time festivities, the names of the best two floats will be announced after the judges have tallied their votes.

One of the most important events of Homecoming is the

DeWitt agent is Berkimer

Lloyd Berkimer, outstanding DeWitt civic leader and Standard Oil agent for the past 10 years, is continuing as agent there.

It was incorrectly stated in a recent news release from Standard's Chicago office that another DeWitt resident, Edward Tudor, was becoming agent there.

The confusion occurred after Tudor had been graduated from an agent orientation course conducted in early September at the Standard Farm and Home Center in Plymouth, Ind. Tudor will be assigned to another oil company bulk plant in the near future.

Berkimer has been one of Standard Oil's most active agents. He is a former member of the DeWitt city council and a member of the volunteer fire

Correction

In last week's issue of the News it was erroneously reported under the Clinton County Road Commission picture that the eight men received the special award for length of service. It should have read the award was received for not having an accident in 10 years. The men honored were: Joe Barrett, Raymond Martens, Dean Moon, Edwin Nobis, Glen Schlarf, Lewis Smith, Joe Witgen, and Lloyd Myers.

O-E elects new officers

Junior and Senior class members chose their representatives Friday, Sept. 19. Class officers, who will serve this year are: Junior class president, Elaine Chapko; vice-president, Ann Marks; secretary, Wendy Munson; treasurer, Mary Ellen Sincropl; and historian, LeRoy Thomas.

Representing the senior class are: Greg Finch, president; Denise Jorae, vice-president; Teri Wilber, secretary; Sally Miller, treasurer; and Monica Gazda, historian.

The sophomore and freshman classes voted for their representatives Sept. 23. Sophomore class president is Chris Wortman; vice-president, Ron Mead; secretary, Sherry Doubrava; treasurer, Agnes Walasek, and Gail Woodworth as historian.

The Young American Showcase entertained junior high and high school students in an assembly, last Friday. A sample of the audience's response: "It was real good" was LuAnn Bancroft's comment. Vicky Palus exclaimed "I liked them!" and Ed Waters said "They were all right."

The Junior class is busy selling magazines. They have set their goal at 3,000, and so far, they report that they are doing fine. The top seller is Jack Keys, who has sold over $200 worth of magazines. Elaine Chapko, the class president, said, "The money is going toward a prom and possibly a banquet. This is the class's main money-making project for this year, and we are off to a good start."

Fowler teachers sign new pact

Agreement has been reached for a one-year teachers' contract in Fowler.

The new pact included provisions for an agency shop and binding arbitration, says Walter Stewart, president, Fowler Teachers Association.

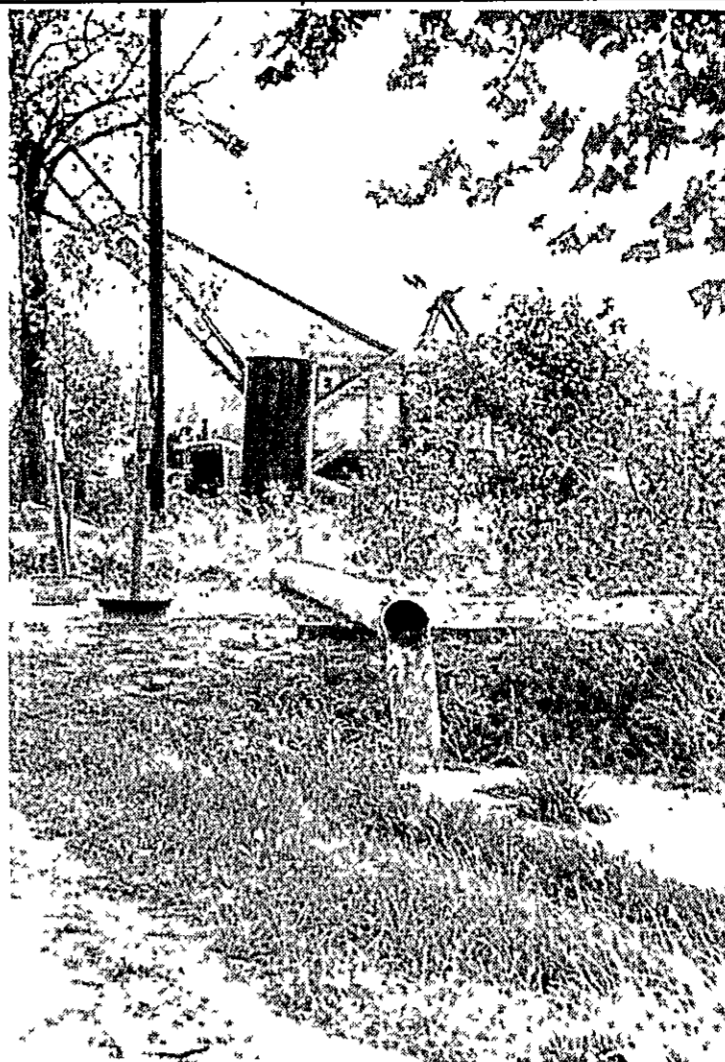

The 10-step salary schedule calls for first year teachers with a bachelor's degree to receive $7,000, up from $6,400. At the top of the scale teachers will be paid $10,100, up from $8,791.

Teachers with a master's degree will receive $7,500, compared to $6,910 under the old contract. The top in this category is $10,600, up from $9,417.

Stewart said tentative agreement had been reached with the Fowler School Board before the opening of school but a finalized settlement was delayed because of technicalities concerning the application of the binding arbitration clause to teachers with tenure. It took an additional two weeks to settle that matter.

State mediator Ed Connor met with both groups in the later stages of negotiations to assist settlement.

LIFT STATION AT OVID

Progress on the Ovid sewer system has been slowed because of a high water table. Contractors above are running pumps continuously in an effort to drain areas under construction on M-21, west of Ovid. Tunnelling under the highway and building the lift station is part of the final phase of the project, but construction workers were unable to give a completion date. Originally the sewer was set for completion by Sept. 1.

O-E teachers without contract

Robert Beauchamp, superintendent of the Ovid-Elsie Schools, reports teacher and school officials are still negotiating contracts for the 1969-70 school year.

The groups mutually agreed not to meet during the summer months but negotiations have been held frequently since the opening of school in September.

One hundred four teachers in the system will be affected by the contract and Lyle Howard serves as teacher representative for the union and Beauchamp and other members of the staff represent school officials.

All benefits will be retroactive upon settlement. A mediator has not been called.

Vernon Lyon

Vernon E. Lyon, 45, of 221 N. Park Street, Ovid, died

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

When the bereaved family first meets the funeral director, probably at the funeral home, they may question whether he truly feels their sorrow. His businesslike actions at times may appear cold, yet his profession, like that of the doctor, requires that he be reserved for the good of those he serves.

The grief of a family that has just lost a loved one is very poignant, and a funeral director is affected by it, as is any other sensitive human being.

Respectfully,
Van W. Hoag

Hoag Funeral Home
ST. JOHNS, MICHIGAN

Saturday at 9:30 p.m. at Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit. Funeral services were held today, Oct. 8, at 11 a.m.

Rosary was said Tuesday evening at the Houghton Chapel in Ovid, and funeral services were conducted by Rev Robert McKeon at St. Joseph Catholic Church, St. Johns, today, Oct. 8, beginning at 11 a.m. Burial followed at Mount Rest Cemetery.

Lyon was born in St. Johns Feb. 11, 1924, to Vernon and Evelyn Lyon. He attended Ovid schools, graduating from Ovid High School. He has spent most of his life in the Ovid area. March 7, 1944 he married Gwen Carroll in St. Johns.

Lyon was a member of the Holy Family Catholic Church, Ovid, and V.F.W. in Ovid. He worked in creameries for 23 years. He was first employed by the Detroit Creamery, then Sealtest, and recently he was maintenance engineer for MMPA in Ovid.

Lyon is survived by his wife, Gwen; three daughters, Beverly, Verna and Rita, all at home; son Michael, at home; mother, Mrs Evelyn Lyon of St. Johns; two sisters, Mrs Peter Larton of Ferndale, and Mrs Lawrence Walter of Shepardsville; and one brother, Theodore Lyon, of North Carolina.

Episcopal Church builds addition

St. Johns Episcopal Church, located at the corner of Mead and Walker Streets is in the process of constructing a new church school addition. "If things go smoothly, the floor should be laid by December and it should be ready to move into by Easter," says Rev Hugh Banninga.

The building program which had been talked about for years finally materialized when the initial money was willed to the parish through an estate. Plans began to formalize and a parish committee was selected to procure an architect. G.E. Associates Inc. was selected after the committee toured several buildings designed by the firm including an addition at the Church of the Nazarene in St. Johns.

The proposed addition will have six classrooms, and an office for the rector's use. A wooden construction with brick veneer, will be accessible through the basement door of the church. The architect estimates the cost at $52,000.

In previous years, a frame-house next-door to the church was used as a church-school, but it was deemed a fire hazard, and heating was inadequate.

The new addition will be made available for community activities.

Court house centennial is a success

By SHIRLEY KARBER
News Staff Writer
The Clinton County Court House Centennial last weekend, found hundreds of visitors in all age categories taking tours through the various offices, and enjoying the festive atmosphere created by live entertainment on the front lawn, and the strains of organ music provided by Herbert DePeal inside the century-old structure.

One of the highlights of the celebration was the presentation of trophies to art contest winners, by chairman Walter Russell. DeWitt High School walked off with both, when Miss Donna Diamond, art instructor at Mason, judged Jeffrey Kriston, first place winner with a water color, and Mark Wood, second, with an oil painting. Both winners are students at DeWitt High School. Show ribbons were awarded to Karen Wineland and Jack Frost of St. Johns and Martin Stuart of Maple Rapids.

The pictures will be on display at the front entrance to the court house until Friday. After that students who received show ribbons may pick up their entries during office hours. The two winning entries will be framed for permanent display at the court house.

Other items of interest adding to the festive atmosphere of the day were ladies and gentlemen dressed in fashions from 1869. They were seen throughout the building explaining old records and pictures in the various offices.

Supervisors hosted light refreshments in the Civil Defense section of the building, which were served by women of the Ovid area, dressed in Centennial apparel.

"The Fowler Four" and "The Four Octaves" provided barber shop tunes which were supplemented by a modern rock group called "The Reason Why."

The Clinton County Senior Citizens Rhythmic Band entertained during the afternoon and the ladies guild of the St. Johns Lutheran Church was in charge of the ice cream social.

The St. Johns High School Band closed the program with a concert in the evening.

The playing of the United Methodist Church chimes by Sandra Lublow at the opening and closing hours of the Centennial was heard and enjoyed by citizens throughout the area.

Art Wainwright of radio station WRBJ introduced the honored guests for the evening, they included John Henning, 91, supervisor of Watertown township from 1929 to 1949; Herb Fizzell, 83, supervisor of DeWitt for 19 years; and John Setterington, 87, who is still active in Essex Township government. Harry Bradley of St. Johns who has served in several phases of local government in the past was unable to attend.

Special programs were distributed to visitors commemorating the event which will be long remembered by Clinton County residents.

Pictures and stories concerning the Centennial celebration will be placed in a time capsule at the court house by Clinton County supervisors.

visitors Robert Montgomery, Maurice Gove, Andrew Cobb, and Gerald Langford. They were assisted by Supervisors Duane Chamberlain, Roy Andrews, William Hufnagel, Claude Underhill, Rex Serrine, and Walter Nobis. Betty Minsky, of the State Journal, Donna Wilbur of the Ovid-Elsie Banner and Shirley Karber of the Clinton County News were in charge of arrangements.

New chef at Daley's

A former Lansing area chef of local renown has been hired by a St. Johns restaurant and plans for expanded catering and banquet services are being made.

Toby Castner, a St. Johns native, has joined the staff of Daley's Restaurant after working at two well known Lansing dining places and resort spots in the Traverse City. While in Lansing Castner was chef of Pear and Partridge for two years and later joined the Grand Manor at the time of their opening.

Castner began in restaurant work while a student at Rodney B. Wilson High School. He was employed at Walker's Restaurant in St. Johns then later served as a cook during a stint in the U.S. Navy.

His special preparations of baked Alaska, beef Stroganoff, partridge, trout and duck have been enjoyed by numerous area diners and these recipes will become part of the Daley's menu.

According to Elwood Daley, the addition of Castner to the staff will provide an extended catering and private banquet program as the new chef will assume complete charge of food preparation and ordering. He will take charge of special group planning as well as the normal dinner hour menu.

Castner began his work Oct. 1.

He and his wife, Shirley, reside at 205 N. Oakland, St. Johns.

Medical facility plans incomplete

Chamber of Commerce officials this week announced that final decisions for the location of a 100-bed medical care facility in St. Johns have not been made.

Chamber president, Brandon White and vice president, Jim Leon recently met with an official of Provincial House, Inc. and were advised that other locations as well as St. Johns are being considered.

Provincial House completed the purchase in July of land along Scott Road near the intersection of Walker Street.

The land was acquired from Saylor-Beall Mfg. Co. and is approximately three and one-half acres in size.

According to White and Leon, Provincial House had changed earlier plans for the St. Johns facility to consider possible erection of a unit at Alma or Owosso.

White and Leon met with the Provincial House representative to extend an offer of assistance in the compilation of information on which to base the final decision.

White indicated late last week that no further word has been received from Provincial House since their meeting two weeks ago.

This not-too-small car is big enough for you and your friends. And your luggage.

Yet, this same not-too-large car is small enough for a budget. Even a frugal one.

You have three standard engine choices. Four. Six. Or V8. Depends on how thrifty you want to be.

Nova comes one of two ways: Coupe or Sedan. From there, your Chevrolet dealer can help you put together any kind of Nova you want.

But plan on more friends. And fewer fuel stops. Putting you first, keeps us first.

1st league loss for Bees

Bath rolls, sputters, then finally falls to Perry, 40-26

In a wild affair at Perry Friday night, Bath snapped up an early 14-point lead but couldn't hold on and finally lost their first Ingham County League game, 40-26.

Five of the game's 10 touchdowns were scored in the first period with Bath's quarterback Paul Stoll running for one and throwing for another before Perry stormed back for three quick scores to lead 20-12 at the end of the first quarter.

The Bees picked up another pair in the second period to regain the lead at the half after holding Perry scoreless in the second quarter.

But Perry hit for six points in the third and picked up two scores in the final period to put it out of reach.

When asked what happened to his surprising Bath team which had shutout league opposition in its previous two games, Head Coach Ron Skorich said simply, "We got beat."

"I thought I had the boys up but I guess they (Perry) wanted to win more than we did," he added. "Their off-tackle running was hard to stop."

Mike Ivan, Perry head coach, apparently was impressed by the Bees.

"They're a powerful team," said Ivan. "They fought hard and never gave up." But he added, "My boys did real well. They were exceptionally good."

Bath's first touchdown was set up when Perry fumbled on its own 35-yard line on the second play of the game. After Stoll hit end David

RON SKORICH
"We got beat."

Ankney with a 35-yard pass, the Bees moved the ball to the one and Stoll took it over on a quarterback sneak with less than five minutes gone in the period.

Bath then tried an onside kick which they recovered on their own 45. The Bees moved to the Perry six and Stoll fired a touchdown pass to Tom Cooley to give Bath a 12-0 lead midway through the first quarter.

The Bees came right back with another onside kick which they recovered but were unable to move the ball. Bath punted and Perry fumbled with Cleo Friend recovering for Bath on the Perry 45.

Then Perry's Jerry Stuart intercepted a Stoll pass and rambled 65 yards to put Perry on the scoreboard with 4:37 left in the period.

Perry regained possession less than two minutes later and Stuart, a 6 foot-3 junior quarterback, hit Darrell Wallace for a touchdown on a 6-yard pass play and a two-point conversion gave Perry a 14-12 lead.

A Bath fumble on its own 35 set up the third Perry TD, and with three seconds left in the period, Chuck Szedlak slammed over from the two giving Perry a 20-12 edge.

In the second quarter Perry was forced to punt from its own 12 yard line and it was blocked by Friend and Bath recovered. But Bath was unable to move the ball, however, and it reverted to Perry which was hammered by the Bath defense.

On fourth and 20, Perry punted again and Don Adams carried down to the Perry 18. Then with 4:33 left in the half, Stoll hit Ankney with a seven-yard pass and Ankney flipped it to Mark Dunkel who rambled the remaining seven yards for a touchdown.

Rick Smith then intercepted a Perry pass and ran it back to the 28. With little more than two minutes left in the half, Don Koenig carried for a touchdown from the 12-yard line and Don Adams ran for the conversion to give the Bees a 26-20 halftime lead.

But Perry tied it in the third quarter when Mike Peterman carried over from two yards out.

Then Peterman put Perry on top for good in the final period when he scampered 16 yards to score with 4 1/2 minutes left in the game. A two-point conversion on a pass gave Perry a 34-26 lead.

Stuart then picked off his second Bath pass of the night and moved to the Bees 21. With little more than two minutes left Stuart plunged over from the one.

Then with moments remaining, Stuart intercepted his third pass of the night to ice the game.

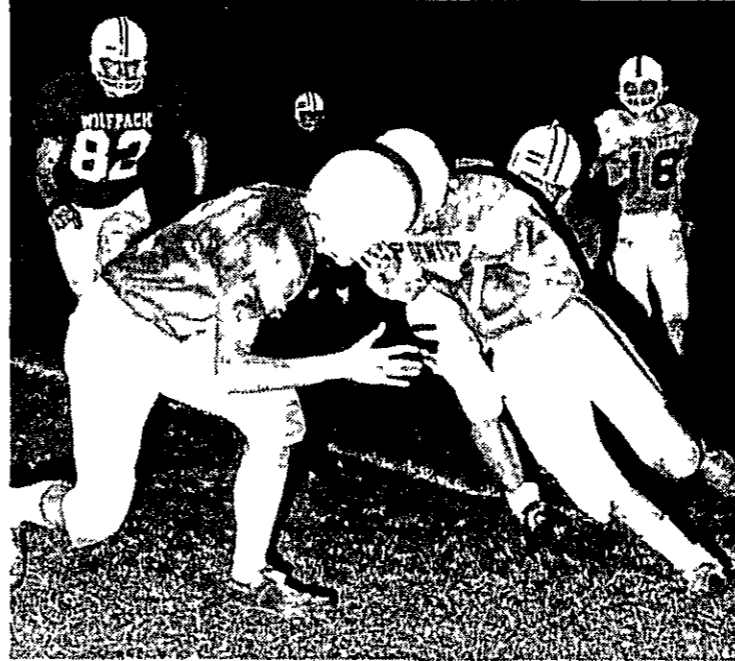

Bath was held to a net minus five yard rushing to 195 for Perry.

Perry picked up another 129 yards in the air, completing five of 12 attempts for total yardage of 324 while Bath completed nine of 23 passes for 87 yards in the air.

Bath was penalized 40 yards to Perry's 65 but the Bees had only four first downs to 11 for Perry.

The Bees are now 2-2 on the season and 1-2 in the conference. This week the Bee Bath travels to Dansville for an afternoon conference game beginning at 4 p.m.

DeWitt's Jim Ashley is surrounded by Laingsburg players as they close in for the tackle during action last Friday. In foreground about to grab the ball carrier is Wolfpack quarterback Ron Goetschy. Others in photo are Randy Wrobel (82) and Mike Botke (18).

Marty Lankford extends a stiff arm in attempts to ward off tackle by Laingsburg half-back Bruce Caswell.

DeWitt mauls Laingsburg, 47-0; runs season record to 4-0

The DeWitt Panthers rumbled over a less experienced Laingsburg Wolfpack Friday night by an overwhelming score of 47-0, running their current campaign to four straight victories and consecutive shutouts to five.

The Panthers, playing on their home field, scored seven touchdowns, a pair of two-point conversions and a 36-yard field goal to account for the romp which was only one-point shy of their total output for the previous three games this year.

Marty Lankford, a mainstay in the DeWitt lineup, scored three times for the Panthers on runs of six nine yards and a 65-yard pass interception.

Jim Ashley added to other TDs from four and 33 yards out. He also accounted for the pair of conversions.

Brian Wood slammed into the end zone from one yard out to capture scoring honors and quarterback Joe LaMacchia connected with Dennis Theroux who scampered to pay dirt completing a 27-yard pass play.

The balance of the scoring was taken care of by Don Brown, DeWitt's able kicking specialist,

O-E gives coach 100th win, 28-6

After three tries this season, the Ovid-Elsie Marauders presented Head Coach Mark O'Donnell his 100th career victory.

"I didn't think it was even going to happen," said a happy and wet O'Donnell in the Marauder dressing room following Friday's game.

His charges had just dumped Bullock Creek 28-6 and then dumped O'Donnell in the pool to mark the occasion.

O-E grabbed a 14-0 lead in the first half on a pair of one-yard quarterback sneaks by Dave Long. Long also added a two-point conversion on a pass to Cal Woodward.

The Marauders picked up 14 more in the second half on a three-yard run by Ron Lover and a six-yard pass from Greg McKay to Paul Burns.

Long and Woodward teamed up again to add another two-point conversion on a pass.

Bullock Creek's lone touchdown came on a 35-yard romp by Greg Woodcock.

O-E is now 1-3 overall and 1-1 in Mid-Michigan B Conference play.

This week the Marauders entertain another conference foe, Corunna; a team which shut them out last year, 20-0.

Fulton tripped by Maple Valley

Trailing Fulton 16-12 with only 11 seconds left in the game, Larry Winegar flipped a 28-yard pass to Randy Hummel to give Maple Valley an 18-16 edge in a non-conference game Friday night.

A two-point conversion made the final score 20-16.

It was the second touchdown of the night for the Winegar-Mummel combination.

After Gene Heaton put the Wildcats on the scoreboard with a one-yard run, Winegar hit Hummel for Maple Valley's second on a 25-yard pass play.

Gary Betz ran 68 yards for the first Fulton score and then fired a 43-yard screen pass for his club's second touchdown.

Fulton is 1-3 on the season and 0-2 in Tri-Central Conference play.

The victory evened Maple Valley's record to 2-2 for the year.

This week is homecoming at Fulton with the Pirates hosting Montabella in a conference battle.

Montabella picked up its first victory of the season by topping Central Montcalm Friday, 20-12.

UNITED STATES BREWERS ASSOCIATION, INC.

Registration ends Friday

PP & K competition begins Saturday

Time is running out for St. Johns area boys to register in the Punt, Pass and Kick Competition.

This competition, now in its ninth year, is open to boys 8 through 13 and is absolutely free. They will be competing for 18 handsome all-metal trophies to be awarded during the local competitions which are sponsored by Egan Ford Sales and St. Johns Jaycees.

Contestants will be competing against boys in their own age group in three football skills—punting, passing and kicking.

Gold trophies will be awarded to the first place winners of each age group, silver to the second place winners, and bronze to the third place winners. There is no body contact and participating does not affect a boy's amateur standing.

Registration closes Friday, Oct. 10, so all boys 8 through 13 are urged to go with their mom, dad or legal guardian to registration headquarters at

Egan Ford Sales, 200 W. Higham, St. Johns.

Everything is free and each boy gets a copy of the PP&K Tips Book which contains stories and tips by Don Meredith and Mike Clark of the Dallas Cowboys and Billy Lothridge of the Atlanta Falcons, and an introduction by Head Coach Don Shula of the Baltimore Colts.

The local competition is scheduled to be held at the St. Johns High School Athletic Field in the City Park on Saturday, Oct. 11, at 6 p.m. Local first place winners then go on to Zone and then, possibly, District, Area, Division and National contests where they compete for more trophies.

Also, all District winners go with their parents to Area competitions held in NFL team stadiums.

The 12 National finalists compete during half-time in the annual NFL Play-Off Game in the Orange Bowl in Miami, Fla.

They and their parents also take an exclusive tour of Cape Kennedy, the history-making site of the Apollo moon shots, and the Air Space Museum.

Punt, Pass and Kick is a nation wide program that is sponsored nationally by Ford Dealers and the National Football League.

St. Johns lad in Lions' den

Robert Ashbaugh of St. Johns will perform with the Ferris State College marching band Sunday at the halftime of the Detroit Lions - Green Bay Packers game. Ashbaugh plays the tuba.

The band's appearance for the nationwide televised game marks the second year in a row the group has been invited to perform during halftime festivities at Tiger Stadium.

Michigan State football coach Duffy Daugherty started his 16th season in 1969 as Spartan head man with his team victory record ten shy of 100.

This is cross country on an autumn afternoon.

Over Waverly

Flegel paces St. Johns to cross country win

By RON KARLE
Editor

There were no cheerleaders or marching bands or bright lights or hundreds of screaming fans.

Just a quiet gathering of athletes and their coaches and less than a handful of spectators on a subdued autumn afternoon at the country club golf course.

The starter's gun cracked and its echo rumbled across the countryside and about two dozen runners were off on a two-mile run up and down hills, weaving around distant clusters of trees and over a creek and back again.

Some of the runners—those that manage to finish and not all of them do—nearly collapse, gasping for breath after crossing the finish line.

That's the way it was last Thursday when Lansing Waverly came to St. Johns for a Cross country meet.

And when it was over the Redwings had won 25-30 with Rick Flegel placing first and Fred Root placing third, coming in 11 seconds later.

In cross country the team with the lowest score wins, with the first man receiving one point, the second man, two, etc.

Flegel ran the course in 10:37 to better his second-place challenger from Waverly by nine seconds. Root covered the ground in 10:48.

Other Redwings among the first 10 finishers were Bill French, fourth, 10:57; Pete Motz, eighth, 11:23, and Gary Moon, ninth, 11:24.

"Flegel is a first year man but he looks tough," said coach Linden Lade. "He set a course record last week against Ovid-Elsie."

In a dual meet last week with Ovid-Elsie and Okemos, St. Johns beat O-E 18-37 and downed Okemos 18-36.

Flegel's time against Ovid-Elsie was 9:44.

"You have to add 20 seconds to your time on this course," said Lade.

At another dual meet last week, St. Johns placed third among six schools with Owosso and Chasaning coming in first and second.

The Redwings travel to Hastings for a meet Thursday and a week from Saturday the team will compete in the Alma Invitational.

Rademacher hauls in a pair as Red Wings dump Waverly

By RON KARLE
Editor

Recovering from a setback the week before, St. Johns put it all together for the home folks Friday night against Waverly, 24-6, and pulled a couple of surprises out of their homecoming bag to do it.

One was senior end Dan Rademacher who snagged a pair of touchdown passes for the first TDs of his life.

Another was Scott Bennett who turned what looked like a routine point after kick into some pretty fakery when he took the hike, pitched to the supposed kicker Jeff Silm who in turn flipped a two-pointer to Bennett who carried it in.

Then there was Charlie Green who was in fine form, making a pair of interceptions to set two touchdowns in addition to rushing for 96 yards in a dozen carries. Silm wasn't having a bad night either, rushing for 78 yards in 21 carries. He also booted a field goal with two seconds left in the game, plus an extra point in addition to teaming with Bennett for the two-pointer.

Quarterback Tim Durner was busy, too, flipping the two touchdown passes to Rademacher and completing seven of 21 passes for 65 yards.

"It was the first touchdown I've ever made in my life," said a happy Rademacher in the Redwing dressing room.

After a scoreless first quarter, St. Johns had moved to the Waverly 18 with less than two minutes left in the half when Durner hit Rademacher on the five. Rademacher shook off a desperate Waverly tackler and went all the way to give the Redwings a 6-0 lead at halftime.

Three minutes earlier, St. Johns threatened, following Green's first interception, but was contained at the Waverly two. Waverly was unable to move the ball and punted almost straight up and St. Johns took over on the visitor 36 before moving in for the touchdown. Waverly made some touchdown-like noises in the first period, moving to the St. Johns five before fumbling. Green saved the day, however, recovering for the Redwings on their own three.

"Because it was such a long, haltime, I think they cooled down some," said Rademacher, who apparently hadn't.

In the third quarter with the Warriors on their own 40, halfback Rich Stoddard intercepted a Waverly pass at mid-field and ran it back 14 yards to set up another St. Johns touchdown drive. The Redwings moved 40 yards in 10 plays with fullback Ron Waggoner capping the drive on a one-yard plunge for six-points with little more than a minute left in the period.

It was following this score that

Bennett and Silm teamed for a little razzle-dazzle and two points.

Bennett who was holding the ball for place kicker Silm explained:

"I ran the option to the left, so I pitched to Silm. He spotted me open in the end zone and threw to me."

"We actually practiced that play all last week," said Head Coach Jeff Smith.

When Bennett was asked how Silm knows when he's going to pull something like that, he replied, "He doesn't—he has to play it by ear."

In the final period Waverly recovered a St. Johns fumble on the Redwing 17-yard line and moved to the nine on the first play.

This apparently upset the Redwing defensive unit—especially Roger Davis, Steve Mead and Dick Rademacher who gang tackled Waverly quarterback Steve Walker for a loss on the next play. Walker then took to the air but Green was there for his second interception of the night and St. Johns had the ball on its own 20.

The Redwings then moved 80 yards in six plays capping the drive on a 31-yard touchdown.

In naming senior tackle Russ Hicks Lineman of the Week, Head Coach Jeff Smith noted "his great improvement in just one week in offensive blocking." In addition to his "fine pass blocking" Smith noted that "his man never got away from him during the entire Waverly game and we ran his hole on numerous occasions."

Head Coach Jeff Smith termed Terry Martin "a real pleasant surprise" when he named this senior guard Honorary Captain of the Week. "He's really improved at defensive left guard," said Smith. "In the last two games I'll bet they haven't made more than 10 yards over his hole and in both games the opposition quit running at him."

Head Coach Jeff Smith named senior defensive halfback Scott Bennett as Back of the Week because "he did a nice job in the defensive backfield" against Waverly. In addition to leading the team in tackles with 10, Bennett also initiated a razzle-dazzle two-point conversion, play in which he took the snap from center, pitched to kicker Jeff Silm who passed to Bennett for the two points.

Victory over Waverly highlights homecoming

pass to Rademacher for his second score of the night. Highlighting that drive was a 21-yard run by Green. Silm kicked the extra point and St. Johns led 21-0 with little more than six minutes remaining in the game.

But less than three minutes later Waverly put six on the score board on a 36-yard pass play to end Hal White. "I don't know what happened on that touch down," said Green. "They just got by us." The Warriors came back with an onside kick but Larry Wakefield recovered and St. Johns took over on the Waverly 46.

Silm hit Green on a 12-yard pass and a couple of plays later junior halfback Larry Hayes carried to the nine.

Then with two seconds remaining in the game and perhaps still smarting from last week's one-point loss to Ionia, the Redwings called time out to allow Silm to kick a 29-yard field goal.

"I'll tell you," said Smith, "Waverly can beat Ionia. I really think they can."

This feeling was generally held by many in the Redwing dressing room.

"Waverly looks better than Ionia," said a mud-caked Brian Ballinger who was in on 10 tackles.

"They're tough up the middle and ground ends on the option play," added Durner.

But the Redwings dominated the game on paper, picking up 19 first downs to Waverly's nine.

St. Johns rushed for 221 yards and completed eight of 24 passes to add another 97 yards for a total of 318 while the Warriors rushed for only 48 yards and completed eight of 19 passes to add another 144 for a total of 192.

St. Johns fumbled twice and lost the ball both times while Waverly fumbled once and lost it.

The Warriors were forced to punt five times averaging for a 28-yard average and St. Johns punted three times averaging 34 yards.

Waverly was set back 50 yards in penalties to 32 for St. Johns.

Looking ahead to Friday's conference battle at Hastings, Smith noted that "they've got a fine senior quarterback and two breakaway runners and they like to throw to them and run the ball."

Although Alma trimmed Hastings 15-0 last week, Smith pointed out that Hastings was without five starters that night, including four offensive linemen.

Three were injured and two were sick, but Smith says he expects all five to be in the lineup against St. Johns.

School Board officials and teachers in the Pewamo-Westphalia Schools are still negotiating contracts for the 1969-70 year.

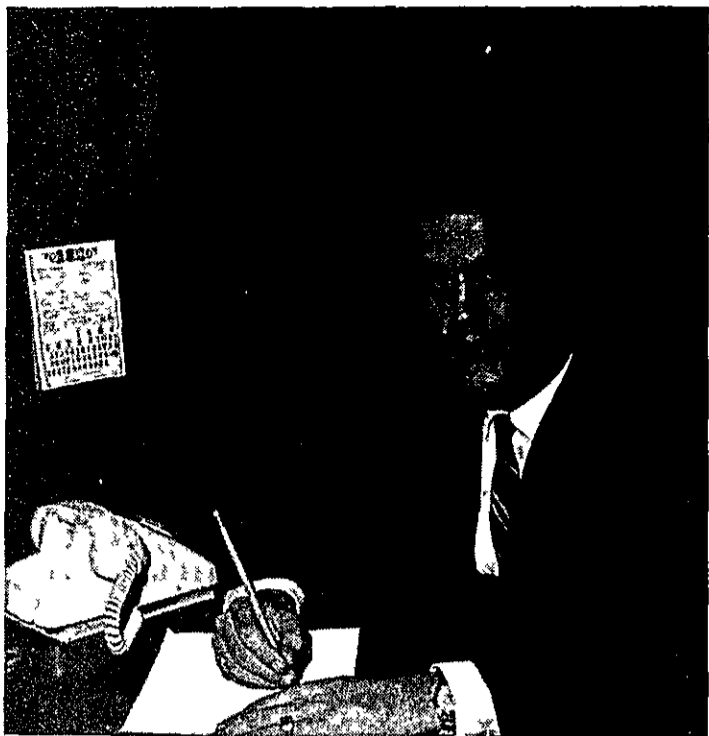

According to a report received this week from Supt. William Stenke, the two groups have met with a mediator, and a fact finder will be called in from Grand Rapids Oct. 27, although negotiations are still in progress.

Approximately nine items are still being discussed including salary and an agency shop clause. Any agreement reached will be retroactive for the 30 teachers involved.

The groups used a mediator last year, but a fact finder was not required.

Men who insist on running risks and autos at the same time are bound to come to grief.

Ballenger re-opens St. Johns office

State Rep. William S. Ballenger is ready to meet Clinton County residents at his St. Johns office every Friday.

State Rep. William S. Ballenger, R-Ovid, announced that he is re-opening his St. Johns District office on a regular basis beginning Friday, Oct. 10.

Ballenger will be at the office (102 N. Clinton) every Friday from 4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

He said he suspended office hours over the summer because of the Legislature's summer recess and because of a sharp decrease in the number of visitors late last spring after passage of the state school aid bill.

Ballenger's 87th district includes all of adjoining Shiawassee County and six townships in this Southeast section of Clinton, including Bath, DeWitt, Victor, Ovid, Bingham and St. Johns.

Broken down, 70 per cent of the district is in Shiawassee and 30 per cent is in Clinton. But two-thirds of the population of Clinton lives in Ballenger's district.

Ballenger says some of his Clinton County constituents may "feel like the forgotten corner of the district" and that's "one reason why I established an office in St. Johns."

"I pay for this office out of my own pocket," he said, "but I feel it's important to do this."

Clinton County residents who wish to contact Ballenger when he is not in his St. Johns office, may reach him at his home in Ovid (834-5607) or write him in care of the State Capitol, Lansing 48901. His telephone number in Lansing is 373-0841.

"I want to thank all those in the St. Johns area who have shown an interest in my St. Johns office so far this year," said Ballenger. "If you have any questions about the governor's Educational Reform Commission's recommendations or any other problems, please don't hesitate to get in touch with me on Fridays in St. Johns."

Volunteer fire departments: an idea older than the nation itself

By RON KARLE
Editor

This week, being Fire Prevention week, The News sought out Chief Clare Maier for an interview about the doings of the St. Johns Volunteer Fire Department.

And while on the subject of volunteer fire departments, a little background came to light.

Volunteer fire departments are responsible for the majority of this country's fire protection and it turns out that the idea of men joining together for mutual fire protection is older than the nation itself.

In 1736 Benjamin Franklin, of all people, founded the first volunteer fire department in Philadelphia and today volunteer fire fighters protecting big city suburbs and rural hamlets number well over a million men, compared to about 200,000 full time firemen located mostly in major cities.

Of the more than 24,000 fire departments around the country, more than 22,000 are volunteers.

Maier, who has been chief "for six or seven years now," says the St. Johns department has openings for three or four men.

"We like to get people who are living and working in town," says Maier.

"New men are put on auxiliary for five or six months* for training he says.

They are schooled in first-aid techniques in addition to fire fighting practices, including how to run the trucks, run the ladders up, carry hoses up ladders, hooking up trucks and many other duties unknown to most laymen.

In addition to St. Johns, the department answers fire calls in Ovid, Victor, Olive, Hiley, Essex and Bengal Township.

The area covered by the department figures to more than 165 square miles.

Maier says the department goes out about six miles south of St. Johns, nine miles north, six miles west and five miles east.

On a city run, the men are paid $5 for the first hour and $4 for each additional hour. On a country run the first six men at the station are paid the city rate, while every other man who shows is paid a flat $2 for standby. The six men take two rigs on a country run.

Right now there are 19 men in the department to man three rigs and a jeep used to fight grass fires.

The main rig is a 1964 com-

County. Members should be 14 years of age, and must be a National Junior member of the Holstein Association and must complete an application by the deadline of Oct. 30. Any member who wishes to apply should contact the Extension Office for an application. Last years county winners Bryon Green of Elsie and Dana Sue Hazle of St. Johns went on to become the State winners as Michigan Outstanding 4-H Holstein Boy and Girl.

Kathy Hazle of St. John won special recognition at the Mc-Donald V.I.P. Day at Flint on Sept. 30 when her Dairy Science
Exhibit was judged the best.
Kathy received a high intensity lamp for this honor. Throughout the day the 4-H Dairy Science members toured the Planetarium, Flint Junior College, attend a live TV program on Channel 12 as well as touring the Mc-Donald Dairy facilities. Kathy was accompanied by Bill Brook of East Lansing who is on the McDonald board of directors.

Last week Charlie Johnson and Mrs. Thayne Miner of St.
Johns attended the 4-H horse leaders conference at Camp Kott.
They will share their experiences at the next county horse leaders meeting. Mr. Johnson leads with the Double M Club and Mrs. Miner leads with the
WE-Hah-Kay-Asta club.

Oct. 20, is the date set for the General leaders meeting for both winter and summer 4-H clubs.
Certificates, premium money,
4-H Calendars, and trip awards will be passed out to the leaders.
Also Kathy Nichols will show some of her slides on her experience in Japan this summer and the National 4-H Center Expansion Fund will be discussed with the leaders.

The Happy Hustlers 4-H club members held their organizational club meeting and elected the following Officers: President
Beth Henning; Vice President
Patty Fox; Secretary Diane Henning; Treasurer Debbie Wieber and Recreation Leaders Ann Kurncz and Denise Makara. The members voted to donate $15 to the National 4-H Center Expansion Drive. The National 4-H Center is located at Washington D. C. The members enrolled for their winter projects.

A LITTLE V. I. P.

Kathy Hazel of St. Johns was a VIP last week when she visited the McDonald Dairy Co. in Flint. Kathy, shown with McDonald president Leo J. Veale on her right and Bill Brook of Bath, attended the Company's VIP Day program which included a trip to the Longway Planetarium, and a tour of a television studio in addition to the dairy where she and other 4-H'ers learned more about milk products, processing and careers in the industry.

Scholarships for vet students

A former 4-H boy and a former 4-H girl, currently students at a college of veterinary medicine in the U.S., will be awarded $800 scholarships this fall.

Named for the canine television star, the Lassie — 4-H Veterinary Medicine College Scholarships are offered for the second year by The Wrather Corporation, Los Angeles, Calif., and Campbell Soup Company, Camden, N.J.

Announced by the National 4-H Service Committee, the awards also include expense-paid trips to National 4-H Congress in Chicago for the two winners.

The scholarships will be presented at the opening of the national 4-H event, Nov. 30.

Designed to encourage youth to specialize in the field of veterinary medicine, the scholarship program is supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service. Applications are available from deans of the 18 colleges of veterinary medicine in the United States and at all State 4-H offices.

In 1968, two veterinary college juniors were the recipients of the scholarships jointly given by Lassie's owner and producer of the television series, The Wrather Corporation, and the series' sponsor, Campbell Soup Company. Kenneth E. Reynolds, 22, Arapahoe, Colo., a student at Colorado State University's College of Veterinary Medicine and Biomedical Science, claimed one of the grants. Patricia M.

Schultz, 22, Faribault, Minn.,
College of Veterinary Medicine
student at the University of Minnesota earned the other scholarship.

A national judging committee will select the final winners in mid-November. Selection will be based upon information given in the application form, financial need and the scholarly record of the applicant.

St. Johns man life member in Hereford Assn.

Dennis R. Morrison of 3328 W.
Parks Road, St. Johns, has recently become a life member of the American Polled Hereford Association, according to an announcement from the beef breed association's national headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.
Some 5,000 cattlemen have joined the American Polled Hereford Association in the past year, more than reported by any other association.

There are more than 35,000 owners and breeders of Polled Herefords in the U.S. The naturally hornless Polled Herefords are the only major breed of livestock to originate in the United States, starting with 11 head in 1901.

Michigan observes National 4-H week

Corn-raising to computers marks the evolution of 4-H youth programs in Michigan as depicted during this year's National 4-H Week, Oct. 5-11.

"Membership in Michigan 4-H Youth Programs has grown from 5,920 in 1916 to over 100,000 participants this past year," says Dr. Gordon Beckstrand, director of the state youth program.

The idea of 4-H started with a corn-raising club in Cacoopin, Ill., in 1899. In 1913, the 4-H idea was first introduced to Michigan under the direction of Michigan State University, then known as Michigan Agricultural College.

Although some 4-H members still raise corn, many others study electronics, collect insects, learn engine repair, train dogs, learn child care and how to sculpture.

"Next year, some Michigan
4-H members may be building their own computers," notes Beckstrand. He explains that extension specialists working with Michigan 4-H Youth Programs have developed a computer that a group of youths can build with about $50 worth of materials.

"But the 4-H projects are really vehicles that aid the personal development of the young person," he says. "Working on 4-H projects aids decision-making, promotes cooperation among young persons and helps them learn to establish standards and values."

Beckstrand predicts the 4-H youth programs will continue to change to keep pace with space-age demands. "Besides the well-known 4-H clubs," he says, "our programs involve schools, churches and other youth agencies in an attempt to reach and serve Michigan's young people."

The 4-H program is designed for young people between 9 and 18 years of age, and new programs are being developed for those younger than 9 years of age.
These boys and girls conduct meetings, elect their own officers and work together. Young people plan and evaluate their own projects and activities under the guidance of 15,000 volunteer adult leaders in Michigan.

Learning experiences and leadership training play an important part in 4-H youth programs, says Beckstrand. He emphasized the impact of the programs by noting that more than 27 million Americans are 4-H alumni.

President Nixon recently commended the nation's three and a quarter million 4-H members.
He said: "Your theme, 'Opportunity for All,' is timely and important as you strive to extend the benefits of your 'learn by doing' educational program to increasingly more youth everywhere."

National 4-H week climaxes the 4-H Expansion Drive by Michigan 4-H members. This expansion drive seeks to increase participation in 4-H by youth and adult volunteer leaders, to show that 4-H is an all-youth program for both rural and urban youth, and to expand county and national 4-H youth facilities and program opportunities through fund-raising.

Michigan 4-H Youth Programs is a three-way partnership between Michigan's Cooperative Extension Service and county and federal governments.

More information about 4-H, or National 4-H Week, is available from any county extension office.

4-H'ers look at science

A new aid which challenges youth to learn more about plants, soils and their environment, is now being used in the national 4-H Field Crops Science program across the nation.

Titled, Exploring the World of Plants and Soils, the educational manual for 4-H members has been issued as the first unit in a series on the science of plants and soils. A guide for volunteer leaders assisting youth also is provided.

Prepared by representatives of the Cooperative Extension Service, National 4-H Service Committee and Amchem Products, Inc., the publications are designed to interest urban and suburban youth as well as rural.
Specifically, the new educational tools help youth experience the excitement of experimentation and work with plants and soils.
The young people gain insight into the interdependence of plants, soils, their environment and modern cultural practices.

The emphasis is on science in the national 4-H Field Crops Science program, according to Extension Service specialists.
They point out that rural youth are encouraged to apply their knowledge of plant and soil science to field crops they grow on the home farm. Urban and suburban youth duplicate the practical learning experiences by using common flower and vegetable plants grown in boxes, terrariums and similar devices.

Adding other incentives in the field crops science program is Amchem Products, Inc., Ambler, Pa. The company for the third straight year, offers a maximum of four medals of honor to county winners, an expense-paid trip to National 4-H Congress, Nov. 30-Dec. 4, for each state winner and six national $800 educational scholarships.

Nearly 100,000 4-H members annually participate in the national 4-H Field Crops Science program.

Farm census by mail

The 1969 census of agriculture will be conducted entirely by mail with no census takers involved, says Nick Smith, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

According to Smith, the Bureau of the Census has announced that in January, 1970, every operator of a farm or ranch will receive a census form by mail and will be asked to fill it out and mail it back.

Smith says the decision to use the mail method is the latest in a series of plans to gain efficiency and economy by using the mails to the greatest possible extent in conducting all censuses.
He emphasizes that the completed questionnaire for each farm, ranch or other agricultural operation will be completely confidential. He urged all farmers to cooperate in the census.

The information obtained, without names or clues to identifity, will be grouped in statistical totals and published by counties and states as well as for the entire Nation.

Smith added that in addition to the number and acreage of farms, the agricultural census will ask farmers for an estimate of values of land and buildings, amount of time farm operators worked at off-farm jobs, and number of autos, trucks, tractors, combines and corn pickers.

EXTENSION Walnut time

By GEORGE McQUEEN

The black walnuts are ready. Ready to collect for eating and for planting. Many people enjoy the fine flavor every winter but what about planting some?

Black walnut grows best on deep, rich porous soils and will do well most anywhere in Clinton County. Areas of land along lanes or isolated areas not farmed or difficult to farm are good places to plant.

Rough or hilly areas not easily used in modern agriculture are excellent choices as are ditch banks and well drained bottom lands. Rather large openings in existing woods are good sites.

Nuts for planting must be collected in the fall from tall, straight, thrifty trees. Crack a few to be sure they are good. Remove the hulls and plant yet this fall. However, fall planted nuts are attractive to thieves such as squirrels, chipmunks and mice.

You can be more sure of seedlings by storing the nuts over winter and planting in spring.

Nuts may be stored over winter by alternating two thicknesses of nuts covered with an inch of sand or sawdust. Several layers of each may be used but be sure they are fully exposed to winter conditions and not in standing water. Any unsound nuts may be separated in spring by putting them in water. The bad ones float.

Plant anytime after the ground thaws in spring.

Why the interest in black walnut trees? The current price on veneer logs of black walnut may reach a dollar a board foot and a good stand of walnut may add 300 board feet per acre each year.

Prices of veneer stock has more than kept pace with other prices during the past 40 years and are expected to at least continue that way.

Proper care and pruning the first few years would determine log quality. A 16-foot log free of defects command top price. Such a log may be produced under reasonably good conditions in about 30 years from time of planting.

Additional information may be obtained from a number of bulletins available in your extension office at 1003 South Oakland in St. Johns.

State NFO convenes Saturday

The National Farmers Organization will have their State Convention Saturday, Oct. 11, at the Ovid-Elsie High School.

The business meeting will start about 1 or 1:30 p.m. Erhard Pfingsten, national vice-president, will be the evening speaker at 8 p.m.

A lunch is planned for noon and a dinner for the evening.

The National Farmers Organization is organized under the Capper - Volstead Act and can only bargain for a farmers production.

Its aim is cost of production plus a reasonable profit.

AGRICULTURE in Action .....

by M.L. Woell
MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

"Thank you—come again" reads the sign in large black letters on the front door of the corner grocery store.

Most customers give it less than a passing glance as they exit, because they're still trying to recover from the shock of their grocery bill.

It's true that prices of food are up over past years. There's nothing earthshaking about that statement, but it is also true that the cost of living has increased.

And the cost of living affects the farmer's cost of farming, the processor's cost of processing, and the grocer's cost of grocerying.

Why the rise in costs? Each increase in the salary of the "breadwinner" in your family is reflected in higher prices people in industries must pay to stay in business, and to care for their families too.

Spokesmen for the grocery trade point out that labor costs are up more than 100 per cent in 20 years.

Costs of containers and packaging material are up 40 per cent in the same period. Overhead costs such as rent are up 96 per cent.

Who is to blame? Press reports indicate that the farmer is not being blamed by many consumers for increases in the weekly grocery bill.

There have been a few isolated flareups on meat prices, but most housewives rightly blame inflation as the chief villain behind higher market basket costs.

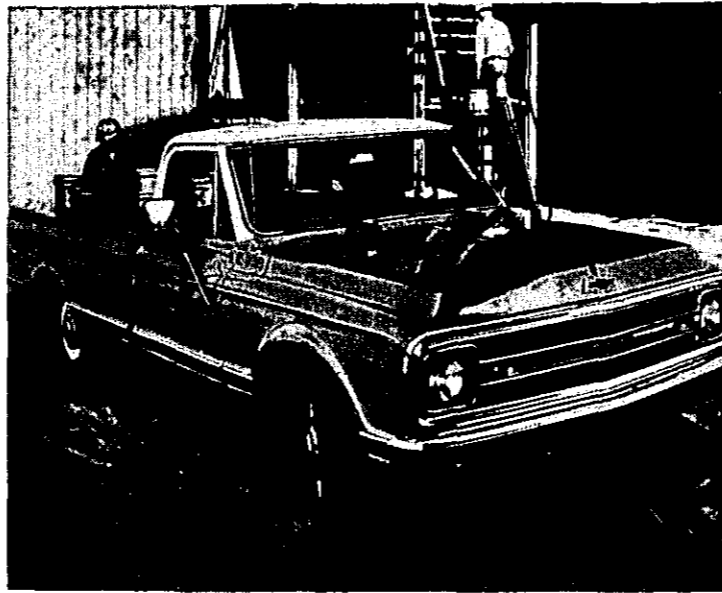

The farmer, for example, is getting only two cents more of the food dollar in 1969 than he did in 1968. The farmer's share of the food dollar now is 41 cents, while middlemen are getting 59 cents.

Even at 41 cents, farmers are still behind a decade ago when they received 50 cents of the food dollar.

Consumers should note that only 17 per cent of their income after taxes is being paid for food as compared with 25 per cent during the mid-1940's. Often the housewives grocery bill unknowingly becomes inflated with the purchase of non-food items. Why not check during the next visit to your local supermarket?

The 4-H members are reminded of the 4-H Roller Skating evening at the Ranch Roller Rink, Oct. 16 from 7-10 p.m. in St. Johns. Proceeds for the evening will go toward 4-H trip award expenses. 4-H members will have the opportunity to Roller skate on the three Thursday evening of each month from October to April. The cost is $1 per person.

Program and Entry forms are now available at the Extension Office for the Detroit Junior Livestock and Horse Show. This will be the 40th Annual Junior Market Livestock Show and the 1st Junior Horse Show which will be held Nov. 7-9 at the Michigan State Fairgrounds at Detroit.

1970 CHEVROLET HALF-TON PICKUP

A 1.6-inch wider rear tread and 15-inch bias-ply, glass-belted tires as standard equipment are included among many refinements and improvements in the 1970 Chevrolet half-ton pickup. Side marker lights and reflectors replace reflectors only and all engines are equipped with a new type of exhaust emission control. New options include a 400 cu. in. 310 hp. V8, AM-FM radio, air-inflatable rear shock absorbers on models with coil springs, sliding rear window, and tilt steering wheel on models equipped with automatic or four-speed manual transmission.

4-H to award citizenship

Two outstanding 4-H members—a top ranking young woman and a top-ranking young man—will receive scholarships for good citizenship at the 48th National 4-H Congress in Chicago late this fall.

The 1969 national citizenship winners will receive their $600 scholarships in memory of Thomas E. Wilson, long-time president of the National 4-H Service Committee, Inc. The awards also provide for expense-paid trips to the Congress for the two national winners.

The purpose of this awards program conducted by the Co-operative Extension Service, is to encourage good citizenship activities among 4-H members. These activities increase interest, understanding and knowledge of the responsibilities of a good citizen. They emphasize the concern of "good citizens" for the welfare of others through acts of community service as well as participation in community, county and state groups.

Stars closer to MSU

The stars and planets will soon be closer to Michigan State University, thanks to a new observatory under construction on the campus. It is scheduled for completion this winter.

Detroit livestock show to have youth mixer

A Youth Mixer and other attractions have been added to the program of the Detroit Junior Livestock and Horse Show to be held Nov. 7-9 at the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

Convenience and enjoyment for the young people as well as education mark the program arranged for this 40th annual event which is expected to attract a record number of entries before the Oct. 17 deadline.

First of all, officials scheduled the show for the Friday, Saturday, Sunday weekend so participants could avoid missing more than one day of school and the program was expanded to include daily horse shows with 42 performance and 18 in-hand classes plus open fitting and showmanship classes.

The Youth Mixer, with music and dancing, is set for 10 p.m. Friday night in the Coliseum following the evening horse show and selection of grand champion steers, lambs and hogs.

The annual awards dinner will be held in the Coliseum at 5 p.m. Saturday avoiding the necessity of leaving the grounds.

Sunday morning church services have been arranged in the Community Arts Auditorium at the State Fairgrounds for the convenience of worshippers.

Youths, ages 10 through 18, may enter animals in the show.

Couples of the Detroit Junior Livestock and Horse Show premium list and entry forms may be obtained by contacting Robert McLachlan, Michigan State Fairgrounds, Detroit 48203.

The show is sponsored by the Detroit Junior Livestock Society, Michigan State Fair Authority, Michigan State University Co-operative Extension Service, Michigan Department of Agriculture and the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce.

Here is the River — to some an obstacle on their trek westward — to others an opportunity to be blessed.
Today it brings shiploads of needed supplies to the towns along its banks, carries their products to warehouses and factory.
Tomorrow it can escape those banks, leaving death and destruction in its wake. For the River must be ruled by man!
Yesterday it brought pure water from mountain streams to thirsty lips. Then somebody made it his gutter.
Like all our mixed blessings the River can help or hurt. It is just one of those gifts of God whose value will always depend on our good sense and initiative, our respect for God's intent and our concern for the needs of others.
Call it a by-product if you please — but one of the results of faithful religious worship and service is that so many mixed blessings become real blessings!

4-H works for safer roads

There is a ray of hope for a reduction in the number of motor - vehicle accidents in hundreds of communities across the country. And hope is turning to reality in areas where young drivers and pre-drivers are participating in the 4-H Automotive program.

Conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, with the help of local police departments, firemen and community leaders, the program aims to develop the right attitudes toward safe driving. And the popularity of the 4-H Automotive program is shown by the increasing number of teens who enroll and complete the course of study. Nearly 70,000 participated last year.

E.C. Hale, chief of police, Lexington, Ky., claims the 4-H Automotive program approach works. In three years, teen motor - vehicle accidents in his city decreased from 1,034 to 987.

Fatalities dropped from nine to two and injuries from 206 to 156. Chief Hale also says that he is encouraged by the increasing interest and responsibilities taken by young people in the conduct of the program. "It has proven to be an excellent tool in preventing losses of juvenile life in the community," he reports.

Nationally, the 4-H Automotive program is supported for the 10th year by The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company which provides incentives, recognition and other program aids. The company also provides a number of grants to state Extension Services for program promotion and expansion.

At National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 30-Dec. 4, Firestone will award eight $600 national scholarships and host state winners in the 4-H Automotive program. And at numerous local recognition events, county medals of honor will be awarded this fall.

Although encouraged by the favorable response of young people, Firestone and Extension officials see need for increased effort. They note that during 1968, the National Safety Council reported 26 million licensed drivers, one of every four, were involved in motor-vehicle accidents. Deaths totaled 55,200 and some 2,000,000 persons were disabled.

Youth of 4-H age, under 20, represented 10.2 per cent of all drivers and accounted for 15 per cent of the fatal accidents and nearly 17 per cent of all accidents. They were surpassed only by the 20-24 year-olds.

Information about how teens and their parents may participate in the 4-H Automotive program is available from the County Extension office.

SHE'S A DANDY--THE TRUCK, THAT IS

Interior of Chevrolet's new Titan 90 aluminum tilt cab heavy-duty diesel tractor resembles pilot's compartment of modern jetliner. Wrap-around instrument panel puts all gauges and controls within easy reach of hand and eye; permitting monitoring with minimum eye movement. Large tinted glass windows, heavy insulation, deluxe bucket seat, fresh air heating and ventilation, and adjustable steering column that adjusts to several positions make for driver comfort. Also available are such items as radio and air conditioning.

Firm develops new corn hybrids

Northrup, King & Co. announces the development of floury-2 type corn hybrids. These hybrids complement the Super Protein opaque-2 type hybrids Northrup King has been supplying in quantity to large swine producers the last two years.

This winter about 35 million pounds of Northrup King's opaque-2 hybrids will be fed to swine. Both of these hybrids differ from other normal type corn hybrids by having a superior balance of amino acids—the building blocks of protein.

The amino-acid balance found in these types makes the protein nearly equal to that found in soybean meal. Consequently, this protein is more readily available for growth and muscle development.

Corn of this type versus corn of the normal protein type makes swine grow at least three to 3.5 times as fast.

Floury-2 type grain is superior to opaque-2 type grain in methionine content and has a superior ratio of isoleucine to leucine. These features make floury-2 types of protein even more favorable for feed than the opaque-2 types.

The floury type hybrids will be distributed to major hog farmers on an experimental basis for 1970 plantings. Northrup King is working intensively on incorporating the floury-2 and opaque-2 amino-acid characteristics into a single hybrid.

Until this combination of genes becomes available, swine feeders might profit most from feeding a mixture of opaque-2 and floury-2 hybrids, as the blend of the two could possibly provide even a better amino-acid protein balance than either one alone.

Farmers currently feeding high lysine varieties should be reducing feed costs per pig by 90 cents when feeding from 40 pounds weight to market 210 pounds weight.

This figure does not include any cost that would be involved in using or borrowing funds for the purchase of soybean meal, and assumes the farmer is raising his own high lysine corn.

In calculating costs, one must compare the relative yields of the lysine varieties with those of normal varieties being grown on the same farm.

Savings bonds for 4-H judges

Participants in the 1969 National 4-H Livestock Judging Contest have been given added incentives—$1,500 in U. S. Savings Bonds.

Provided for the first time by Elanco Products Company, a Division of Eli Lilly and Company, Indianapolis, the bonds range in maturity value from $500 each downward to $100. The awards will recognize the five young judges scoring highest in the contest to be held Nov. 28, in connection with the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago.

The judging contest is conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, Robert L. McGuire, extension animal husbandary specialist, North Carolina State University is in charge.

Last year, about 125 4-H members from 31 states participated in the judging contest. Each placed several classes of beef, swine and sheep and justified his placings with oral reasons. The 1969 contest is expected to draw a similar number of participants.

Livestock judging activities improve the decision-making and communication abilities of young people, say the contest sponsors. They also point out that youths gain increased appreciation of quality livestock and become more knowledgeable of consumer demands.

Each of the young livestock judges will have survived numerous elimination contests before judging in the national event.

The National 4-H Service Committee arranged for the awards sponsored by Elanco Products Company.

St. Johns has six at meeting

Six representatives from the St. Johns area were among 1,200 persons from 23 states and three countries who recently met in Marion, Ohio, for an international sales meeting of Na-Churs Plant Food companies.

Attending were Mr and Mrs Harold Bracey, Mr and Mrs Max Miller, Gerald Thelen and Eugene Thelen.

Na-Churs is the first company to market nationally a complete liquid fertilizer, and today is the largest company devoted exclusively to liquid fertilizer. Its product is used by more than a million growers. Na-Churs plants are in Marion, Ohio; Richfield Springs, New York; Winter Garden, Florida; and London, Ontario, Canada. Eight Na-Churs users have been featured in front cover photographs by widely-circulated farm magazines.

Crop service representatives in this country, Canada and South America completed plans at the sales conference for expanded marketing of Na-Churs for application in the row and deep placement at planting time, and for foliage spray applications during the growing season, President Allan Farrow said.

Paul Harvey, TV and radio news analyst, was the featured speaker at the sales conference.

"What if I don't?" was the sermon topic Sunday at the Church of Christ worship hour. Special numbers in song were presented by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Ernest Schroeder. Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. George Decker of Anchorage, Alaska, showed slides of their work there as missionaries. The Deckers have spent 16 years in Alaska and were on leave visiting their brother and family Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Johnson.

The high school class of the Church of Christ Bible School, lunched with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hayes, and at 4 p.m. presented a service at the Ovid Convalescent Manor.

Michigan apples are here again

By HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

Apples are Michigan's King Fall fruit crop. So now is the time for all sharp home-makers to make use of this beautiful, delicious fruit.

There isn't a better way to win praise or to bring the whole family home for a meal than to promise an apple pie for dessert. Choose your favorite apple - fragrant Winesap, a tart Northern Spy - each variety has its own appeal. The versatile apple can lend flavor to your main course, a salad, bread or dessert. It can add to plain or fancy fixings!

An apple eaten raw makes a pleasant low calorie snack or dessert. A medium size apple contains only 70 calories. Like other fruits, apples contain some vitamins and minerals. Canned juice may be fortified with vitamin C.

There are many good all-purpose apples, plus others which meet needs for the preparation of special dishes.

Apples that "cook up soft" are usually better for apple sauce and dessert toppings. Those which hold their shape are best for baking whole. Tart apples are best for cooking, sweeter apples for eating raw.

Only perfect apples should be prepared for later use. Use apples with blemishes, skin breaks, or decayed spots as soon as possible.

In case you have access to an apple tree and wish to make use of it, we have available, upon request a USDA bulletin called "Apples in Appealing Ways." Write or call your County Extension Home Economist for your free copy.

Let younger children 'help' more now

School has started. In some families this leaves a younger child left at home and perhaps quite alone - alone from the standpoint of children and especially so if there are no nearby neighbor playmates. Have you, as a parent, given any thought to how such a child feels? As adults we know how overpowering a sense of loneliness can be. Children can have this same feeling unless we help them adjust to being somewhat alone for the hours older brothers and sisters are at school.

"Keep him busy" is perhaps one of the best rules to combat loneliness at any age. Preschoolers can be directed into any number of play activities that help him forget that older youngsters are at school. Usually it takes only a few days for a child to adjust to new or different situations. So a wise Mother will take time to help him in such an adjustment.

Let young Tommy or Sally know you are around, but that you'll not be able to do all the things big brother and sister did. Youngsters can be entertained and at the same time

Warmwater Fish Regulations

(State-wide)
The Natural Resources Commission, under Act 230, P.A. 1925, as amended, rescinds the order of September 5, 1968, and orders that for a period of five years beginning October fifteen, 1969, it shall be unlawful to catch or attempt to take in any manner the following named species except during the open seasons prescribed and within the maximum daily limits designated:

State-wide open seasons on all waters not otherwise closed to fishing shall be from May thirtieth through December thirtieth, 1969, as follows:

1. Largeemouth bass (including muskellunge), and ten for white bass.
The above regulations apply except that walleyes, muskellunge, and northern pike may be taken in that upper portion of Lake Huron known as Whitley Bay, Pike Bay, Island Harbor, Les Cheneaux Channels, Potawatomi Bay, and certain waters on the south side of Drummond Island from May first through March thirty-first of each year; that bass may not be taken on Lake St. Clair, St. Clair and Detroit rivers before the last Saturday in June of each year; and that muskellunge in Lake St. Clair, St. Clair and Detroit rivers may be taken only from the first Saturday in June through December fifteenth of each year.

Approved September nineteenth, 1969.

More . . .

A note of apology is extended the St. Johns city commission and the St. Johns school board. Our comments of last week implied that the proposal for a long term lease on the athletic field was advanced by the school board. This was in error. The proposal came from a committee formed of city commission members as an alternate plan from others which had been considered over a period of negotiations.

Be that as it may our point of issue was not with actions by either body nor the long term lease proposal. Our concern was, and still is, with community response and the importance of a well informed citizenry. There is no substitute for effective communication by those holding official positions.

We continue to support this belief regardless of the author or action taken on any proposal.

and still more

Amid the concern over the future use of the athletic field there must be some basis for settlement.

It appears that school officials are reluctant to invest in improvements at the facility without substantiated assurance of receiving full benefit from their investments. The city commission, on the other hand, exhibits reluctance to enter into any extended lease situation but suggests no difficulty in continuing a year to year agreement for an indefinite period of time.

On the surface the situation seems to be a stalemate but at the core the apple holds the seeds of cohesion—tax dollars.

The desires of both the city and school lean toward a mutual goal, that of providing a good athletic facility. The existing complex of swimming pool, city park, football field and tennis courts, along with Smith Hall and fair buildings, provides a natural base on which to build. While we agree there is need for legal outlines of each party's rights, there seems to be an overwhelming benefit for the entire city and school district to improve what is already existing and located so favorably.

Unless plans for an entirely new athletic complex are begun, we see little chance for the present facility to be used for purposes other than those presently pursued which, apparently, are highly satisfactory to taxpayers who take advantage of the area.

If the seeds of the apple are considered, the annual leasing money presently exchanged could go far toward development of an athletic-recreational complex of which rural and city residents could be equally proud. It seems a shame to be on such a hang-up after the opening of a beautiful new school and the potential for a complementing facility which would enhance it and the city as well.

Another view

Senator Edward Kennedy's attorneys claimed that "a gathering crescendo of publicity" was endangering his constitutional rights and therefore the inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne should be postponed. The implication was that the press and not Sen. Kennedy was responsible for the predicament in which he has found himself. It was the Senator not the press who failed for 10 hours to report to police the death of a girl passenger in his car. The Senator who has thrived in the limelight of publicity for 10 years would now like to turn it off because it doesn't suit his purposes.

WHITE CITY, Kans., REGISTER: "We were happy to hear Nell Armstrong in his last message from the ship pay tribute to those who, in the beginning ten years ago, made possible the climax. Sometimes the charter member, the groundwork, or the mother organization, is forgotten in the excitement of the success. If you paid your taxes, you had a hand in it too."

Interesting Items from the Files of the Clinton County News

10 YEARS AGO Oct. 8, 1959

The 1959 Clinton County Communities Chest drive to raise $35,800 for a wide range of health and welfare programs is under way.

Lyle Canum took time out to enter the Republican News football contest. It took some figuring, because he is so busy, but he is richer by $20 because he did.

St. Johns city commission Tuesday planned to take action at its next meeting on the downtown redevelopment program after first checking with residents.

25 YEARS AGO Oct. 5, 1944

Lt. Sidney Keys of the Civil Air Patrol Flight in Elsie, announces that Ward Blunt, former Army Air Force flying instructor for the past two years, now of Greenville, has been obtained to give flying lessons. Sixteen Elsie citizens have already taken their lessons and are enthusiastic about the future of aviation.

The Clinton County AAA office just completed mailing out checks for $44,320.48 to 1,889 Clinton County dairymen. This amount represents the payments for July and August subsidy for dairy feed assistance. There are still quite a number of dairymen who have not sent in their applications.

The rural students in Clinton County have been doing a worthwhile patriotic work in recent weeks in gathering 2,000 sacks of milk weed pods. They have bolstered the school fund in their district by collecting 20 cents for each sack. Kapok is contained in the milkweed pods, which go into making life vests for sailors.

50 YEARS AGO Oct. 9, 1919

Henry Barnes, alias Harry Burt of Lansing, aged 22 or 23 years, single, pled guilty to burglarizing the office of Dr. George H. Mann, St. Johns, early Sunday morning, and stealing a quantity of drugs.

Clinton County has been taking an increasing interest in breeding Holsteins and has a healthy Holstein breeders association. Members of the association as well as farmers will generally be interested in the result of sales held at Grand Rapids within the last few days.

The Rev. Father Thomas R. Cary, new pastor of St. Joseph's church, St. Johns, arrived last Tuesday and assumed the duties of his parish, preaching his first sermon here, Sunday.

C. C. Pope, who came here from Mt. Pleasant eighteen months ago as county agricultural agent and farm bureau booster, has resigned his position and will return to his farm near Mt. Pleasant. Mr. Pope was a successful farmer and did not intend to remain here for more than a year when he came.

Beds

'Got to thinkin' 't'her mornin' After thoughts of sleep had fled,-- Just how many connotations Hook up with the short word "bed."

'Tis a word of but three letters, But once you start to look around, There are divers shades of meaning That those letters can surround.

There are single beds and double, King size 'n three-quarter breed, Made of various woods and metals, Different "specks" for every need.

There are beds built fer reclinin' High or low or short 'n wide, Some with cranks attached while others Seem to have the "cranks" inside.

There are beds with springs n' mattress, Others, bed-ticks stuffed with straw. Feather beds fer fussy sleepers, All kinds come within the law.

There are flower beds of roses, Tulip, iris and pansy bed, Some are fit to grow strawberries. Or some other fruits instead.

There are beds of pain and suffering, Beds of luxury and ease; Beds adopted to all climates, Graduated by degrees.

Some beds boast of four stout posters, Some with foot-boards, some without, Some have creases in the middle, Some have centers hollowed out.

Some beds squeak like mice was in 'em, When positions you would change, Some have slats that drop from under When you seem to have the range.

There are beds to suit all notions, Wherso'er you chance to be, But my home "stall" in the bedroom, Carries its appeal to me.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

COMMENTS FROM OTHER PAPERS

MARENGO, Ill., REPUBLICAN-NEWS: "I can tell you what's wrong with the country, if you want to know. And it won't take me more than a few lines to do it. Practically everybody wants a job that pays a great deal more than the average man or woman is worth, and it has got to be a job that has somebody else around to do the work, and that somebody has got to take the blame when things are fouled up because the first somebody didn't do what he was hired to get done."

MICHIGAN MIRROR

When the legislature lifted the ceiling on interest rates before the regular session adjourned in July observers were unsure what the effect would be on the rates themselves. The ceiling had remained at 7 per cent for years and the prospect of suddenly removing it completely scared some who feared a skyrocketing of rates. It appears now that fears of outlandish rates were unfounded, however, as the rate has climbed to between 8 and 8 1/2 per cent and stopped. Money is still tight, to be sure, but the supply has loosened somewhat in the home loan field.

In some instances, such as loans granted to corporations, there never was a ceiling established, this being under a theory that corporations are smart enough in money matters to fend for themselves. Charitable corporations also have been able all the time to waive the ceiling on loans of amounts larger than $250,000. Small loan companies have been permitted by law to lend up to $1,000 with a maximum interest rate of 30 per cent per annum on the first $300 and 15 per cent on the rest of the loan. However, if such a company loaned more than $1,000, the entire loan had to be charged at 7 per cent.

Other exemptions come for persons such as pawnbrokers, who are permitted to charge 3 per cent per month computed on a monthly basis, though they may not compound loans or discount them. Automobile dealers may charge from 6 per cent to 12 per cent per year on a loan, depending on the age of the vehicle sold. Such loans, however, actually are at a true annual interest rate almost twice the amount specified. A car financed at a rate of $6 per $100 per year and paid off in installment payments actually involves an interest rate of nearly 12 per cent. Credit unions also are permitted to charge a maximum of 1 per cent per month on the unpaid balance.

INTERSTATE GROWS The Interstate highway system, scheduled to be more than 25,000 miles of total highway when it is completed, is growing rapidly across the country and Michigan is one of the leaders. The latest figures show 915 miles of Interstate highways are open to traffic in Michigan, giving it one of the biggest amounts of mileage in the country.

'IF IT FITZ . . .'

Classroom evil

By JIM FITZGERALD

My mother used to send me off to school with warnings to be careful crossing streets and to study hard or I'd grow up to be a street cleaner.

As my kids returned to school recently, I warned them to beware of sex education, boys with long hair, and girls in short skirts.

A parent can't be too careful these days.

Every sensible person knows sex is dirty, except between husband and wife if not too often. Certainly our school kids shouldn't be learning where they came from. They're liable to grow hair on their palms, or something.

Besides, my son watches TV so he already knows why shapely girls in bikinis climb all over a guy. It's because the guy drives a new Dodge.

Some kids try to give us adults a hard time on this long-hair and short-skirt business. They say Jesus Christ and George Washington had long hair. And mini-skirts are where it's at, the same as Mother's phony chest, and what's so deadly about skin above the knees, anyway?

One nervy young man even had the guts to claim it's unconstitutional for a school to deny him an education unless he gets a haircut. "As long as I pass inspection at home," he said, "no stuffy teacher has the right to tell me how to dress or wear my hair. As long as I'm clean, I'm not hurting anyone."

That's not how it works, of course. A teacher in a nearby school explained the long-hair danger this way: "Shaggy hair is a distraction to all students. The youngsters can't learn with long-haired boys in the classroom, and I can't teach."

"You mean you all keep looking at the long hair, the same as you'd keep looking at a little lamb if it followed Mary to school?" I asked.

"Exactly," said the teacher who is bald and cross-eyed and has a nervous tic which causes him to pull on both his ears every 2 minutes. "We simply can't have any distractions."

Any sensible adult would certainly go along with that. Except I do know one teacher who said a strange thing. He said:

"Teachers are not barbers or policemen of fashion experts. We are in the classroom to teach, and the kids are there to learn. The amount of hair in a classroom has absolutely no relationship to how much can be learned in that classroom. Remember how Albert Einstein wore his hair? I'm fed up with all this nonsense. If the adults would quit making such an unholy fuss about how the kids look, there'd be no problem and, dammit, you newspaper reporters might have time to notice that most kids look a lot more decent than their elders. Did you ever go in a supermarket and eye the fat old dames in curlers and bursting slacks? Or the pot-bellied, skinny-legged old men in crew cuts and shorts?"

Of course, this teacher is obviously a commie, or at least a pervert. I figured that out before he opened his mouth. He has a beard.

My mother didn't raise any street cleaners.

TAKING FIVE

A bit pushy

By RON HUARD

Holy mackerel, they're doing it already.

I thought it was just a bad dream, but last Saturday morning as I shook the sleep plugs from my ears I heard an excited television voice encouraging me to "make this the best Christmas yet. Tell Santa you want an easy to assemble hydrogen bomb kit and be the first in your block to rule the world."

Obviously the toy wasn't a bomb kit, but whatever it was the appeal was just about the same. The kids haven't even warmed the seats of their school desks and they're wondering where the Christmas tree will be placed.

It wouldn't surprise me if one of these years a gang of goblins strike our house on Hallowe'en singing Adeste Fidelis, which, I suppose, would be an improvement on some previous vocalizations.

It hasn't been too many years ago that the thought of Christmas never presented itself until the left overs from Thanksgiving were being munched between two slices of bread. At the rate it's going the holiday season could conceivably extend from July Fourth through the Orange Bowl game.

Opposition to the creeping promotional period for Christmas is wasted as the holiday takes on more and more economic importance, but in some respects it's like the kid who wants to know "how much longer before we get there," three miles into a cross-country vacation.

But I guess this is much the way things go nowadays. We lay out grand plans and great expectations then when the results come into being, not quite what we expected them to be, we come all unglued. Perhaps if we'd play it a little cooler in the first place there'd be less of us to scrape up off the floor. The sad part is that young people are subjected to these adult oriented motivations.

Christmas isn't the only thing we start pushing on a seemingly early basis. It's gotten to the point where every kid in school is so conditioned to the premise that a college education is essential to a successful life that the student whose abilities lie in other directions never quite has the guts to disappoint good old mom and pop. Once the goal is established and not quite attained, the beauty of satisfaction in an alternate field is greatly tarnished when all the while it should have had first place honors.

I suppose these things can be looked upon in rationalization as "real life experiences" but it's not too difficult to sympathize with some of the ideas advanced by young people today.

In many instances we adults have brought about a good degree of the unrest in the younger camps by our desire to assure them of the best.

We may wake up some morning with a bigger problem . . . the deflating realization that they don't need a Christmas H-bomb kit to rule the world. Just a little sincerity and common sense.

Maturity

MATURITY By JIM LEON

As we inwardly search in our journey in life, And as we obtain more knowledge of our inner-strife, Sooner or later, we must embark To remove our inner selves from the dark.

First, look in and you will see Dimly, an inner light of he. Then search and seek of knowledge, and as you do You arrive at a better understanding of you.

Retrace your steps back to the base From here, reset your values of the race The path of darkness becomes less obscure As we are slowly reborn mature.

Peace of mind and becoming free Is the mental harvest of he But only if we can clearly see That first, all the darkness was in me.

Understand thyself, then take part. Know first that love is art. Always with your being pain your part. Love is the receipt for your giving art.

Only then can man expend To his full potential end. Our life sea we then can chart, But from the beginning we must start.

All mankind on love does feed But each must mature and plant the seed.

Contribute your deeds of love In all your life's part Here man's inner conflict, ends, And only then does life start.

Then all the courage That we shall ever need, Is the simple courage Of the mustard seed.

Banks have always made me uneasy.

That's probably because most of my banking has been done in Detroit where every seventh person who enters has one chance in 12 of really being a stickup man.

Even my former institution in Lansing was a little like this which finally caused me to transfer the personal fortune over to Clinton National where they still greet people by name instead of magnetic numbers.

The decision to transfer was reinforced when last month's rent check bounced. Fortunately Gene Irwin, my landlord, is some sort of saint when I show certain human frailties and we worked out the misunderstanding over a six pack.

Which was remarkable, I thought, because even though it was my check that had bounced it was his beer we drank.

The problem was that someone wrote a check to me and it bounced so my former institution recovered nicely by dipping into my account—without informing me—which resulted in some serious conversation between me and Irwin.

I got to thinking what a chain reaction had begun and would continue if Irwin were cutting it close when my check bounced and so on down the line.

So I was pouring all this out to Brandon White at the bank the other day and he explained there were circumstances in this computer age which resulted in such experiences and that bankers weren't all that bad.

Well, Irwin and the rest of my creditors will be happy to know that the people over at Clinton National not only smile, call you by name and sympathize, but have actually gone and done something about keeping such unhappy experiences to a minimum.

Of course the system may be against you if you've had too many such experiences before you see them over there, but if you're reasonably straight they've got a plan to fix you up so you don't have to go over and get a little smashed with your landlord because the rent check bounced.

Under this plan, which does not necessarily include the use of liquor, you can go over and get a little smashed with your landlord just because its fun. Anyway, all of this got me to recalling my banking days in Detroit where they have some pretty strange ideas.

It's true that banks down there put on the proper image—sincerity, friendliness and occasionally even a smile. All this while something called a scan-a-viewer takes continuous motion pictures of you. This is a holdover from the Depression and the "bank holidays" which smacks of the old-time ways borne of caution in past dealings with the Dillingers and the James boys.

One day, some time ago I went to a branch of my institution in Detroit to make a simple withdrawal. The tellerette eyed my withdrawal slip pleasantly enough, but with firmness and a near condescending glance.

The problem was that my account had been opened in branch No. 1 and this was branch No. 40—something-or-other and matching signatures in the passbook and the withdrawal slip didn't seem to make any difference.

Finally, after a series of telephone calls, checking the number on my drivers' license and disclosure of my unlisted zip code, it was determined that I was, indeed, who I claimed to be.

It was suggested that all this was meant for the customer's protection and in no way was meant as a reflection on people who refuse to shave on their day off.

The thought occurred, what must the poor guy trying to hustle a bank go through even though he would be clean-shaven since, of course, it wouldn't be his day off.

It's assumed the guy would, out of necessity, display a little class and respect for the image of the institution.

He would probably wait in line like anybody else, not wishing to attract undue attention. Like most of us, he would deliberate and choose his line carefully.

It would seem that the longer line would mean a longer wait but somehow the people with the most complicated business are always in the short lines.

The shorter line is too much to resist, however, and it is chosen while waiting, the longer line has gone through two and a half times.

And then Young Dillinger's turn. "Uh, ma'am," he begins fumbling for the stickup note. "I'm sorry sir, this window is closed. Would you step to the next window, please?"

"But you don't understand, this is a . . ."

Her smile is pleasant, but firm as the little window slams shut.

Now everybody in the bank is in the long line. Which means the slow people, too.

This time, after waiting in a line which began somewhere over the horizon, the stickup note is forcefully pushed across the counter.

"I'm sorry sir, this is the wrong form," he is told by a competent voice from behind the window.

"Well, it's for your own protection."

View from the 87th

By WILLIAM S. BALLENGER State Representative

A great deal of concern has been expressed, particularly in outstate and rural areas of Michigan, over the fact that an alarming number of private ambulance firms are going out of business.

Charges have been widely made that this serious and troubling situation is a result of requirements that were imposed in a licensing bill enacted by the Michigan Legislature during the 1968 session.

Although I was not a member of the Legislature at the time the licensing bill became law, I have studied the statute and feel I must say that such charges have puzzled me. I can state categorically that the licensing requirements established by the state were minimal, and I can also state most emphatically that no law passed by the Michigan Legislature has in any way restricted ambulance service in this state!

The first, Public Act 163, permits townships and counties to contract with persons, firms, organizations and corporations in order to provide ambulance and inhalator service.

The second, Public Act 258, licenses and regulates ambulances, drivers, attendants and attendant-drivers. It sets a fee of $25 for privately-owned ambulances and $10 for those owned by non-profit corporations, but exempts local units of government from payment of these fees. Drivers pay a fee of $1 for a license, and both attendants and attendant-drivers pay $5. Applicants for attendant or attendant-driver licenses must have completed a course of training equivalent to the advanced Red Cross first-aid course. Ambulances must have rear door openings, must contain sufficient apparatus for administering oxygen to patients, and must carry minimum first-aid equipment as prescribed by standards currently being promulgated by the Michigan Department of Health. The estimated cost of such equipment in most areas is $200-$250, hardly enough to drive a service out of business.

It should be obvious that these are minimum requirements, as are the standards being established by the State Health Department. I'm sure that no citizen who reads this, if seriously injured in an automobile accident or suffering a stroke or heart attack, would wish to be transported to a hospital by a vehicle that did not contain these bare necessities of equipment or by an attendant who lacked a basic understanding of first-aid principles.

Clearly enough, state regulations can hardly be cited as a legitimate reason for any ambulance firm to discontinue service. The fact is that practically all such firms in Michigan, including those now going out of business, had either decided to dissolve and were using a mild state law as a handy excuse, or else, if they decided to continue, were already substantially conforming to the recently-enacted state laws and found the licensing expense itself relatively insignificant.

What, then, has caused the problem? Why are so many ambulance services, many of them owned by funeral homes, ceasing their operations?

The answer lies almost entirely with federal laws and regulations—with recent requirements that are being imposed by Washington, D. C., not the State of Michigan.

According to the feds, ambulance service is now considered interstate business. (Apparently the only legal logic for this determination lies in the fact that ambulances, in servicing accidents, may transport patients from outside the state in which the accident occurs.) As interstate business, ambulance service is regulated under the federal Fair Labor Standards Act. This statute requires a minimum wage of $1.60 an hour, with time-and-a-half for overtime.

Even if attendants and drivers could be hired in sufficient numbers, at the minimum wage, to avoid any need for the payment of overtime, the federal regulations would mean a cost of at least $76.80 in salaries alone to keep a driver and an attendant in readiness throughout a 24-hour day. Under actual conditions, the cost would be considerably greater.

As a result, funeral homes and private ambulance firms operating in low-accident areas have found it impossible to continue operations without some degree of subsidy. The fees that may reasonably be charged to patients or accident victims are no longer sufficient to meet the costs of maintaining crews and vehicles.

The intent and effect of Public Act 163 to 1968 was to enable local governments to contract with private ambulance companies to provide service on a financially-assisted basis. This permits many areas to have ambulances and crews available at all hours, even though the number of runs made cannot meet the costs involved.

Since conditions and needs vary widely throughout the state, and since I believe that local governments are best qualified to solve local problems, I hope very much that current difficulties will be resolved at the local level, and that there will be no need for the State of Michigan to impose any form of regulatory legislation beyond the minimum requirements cited earlier in this report.

Meanwhile, citizens in the Chesaning, Durand, Perry, Morrice, Shafterburg, Laingsburg, Ovid and St. Johns areas deserve hearty congratulations for proving that the old American spirit of pioneering self-help and community enterprise is still alive by the great job they've done recruiting local volunteers to man their new services.

The only "cures" more numerous than those for a common cold are those for a hangover. Both are equally effective.

Shepardsville By Lucille Spencer

The Council of Ministries will meet on Monday evening Oct. 13 at 7:45 p.m. at the Shepardsville United Methodist Church.

There were 25 present at the Annual Church Charge Conference of the Price and Shepardsville Churches held on Sept. 30 at the Shepardsville Church. It was presided over by the District Superintendent, Rev. Wiltse, who opened the meeting by reading a few verses of scripture from the 13th chapter of John, followed by a short prayer. The election of officers were those who were nominated last spring. They will begin their duties in January, the beginning of the church year.

A contact person for Grand Rapids Community House was recently appointed from each church. Mrs. Elzle Exelby of Price and Mrs. John Spencer of Shepardsville, will be chairman of the commission on Missions in their respective churches and the community House will be a mission project.

Miss Carol Ormsby of Price asked for a lay speaker's license and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Squiers of Shepardsville for a local preacher's license. These people were unanimously recommended by those present.

Rev. Karl Ziegler gave a report of his work in both churches.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Squiers and family spent the weekend at Niagara Falls. It was sort of a second honeymoon only this time the family went alone.

The Shepardsville WSCS Planning Committee express their thanks to those who helped make the Smorgasbord and fair the success that it was. A substantial amount was raised to help retire the building fund.

Three infants were baptized on Sept. 28 at the Shepardsville United Methodist Church. They were Jeffrey Lynn Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerald Davis; Julie Renae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kloski; and Heather Lee-Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hibbard.

Rev. Karl Ziegler sang "Hey There, Christian Church" during the worship hour. He was accompanied by Mrs. W. G. Tennant.

NEW SCHOOL OPENS AT FOWLER

The Fowler elementary school opened this week and students were mighty pleased with the interior, including 5 year old Danny Fox. Wash basins are lowered and children appreciate not having the water run down the arm from a high reach. The new school houses grades K through 6 and is a facility Fowler residents can be justly proud of.

Lee Ann and Dane Flegle of East Lansing spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Flegle.

The Afternoon Circle of the Shepardsville United Methodist Church WSCS will meet on Oct. 9 with Mrs. George Olson. Mrs. Pearl Miller will have the program and Mrs. Grace Baker the Devotions. Mr. and Mrs. John Spencer spent Oct. 1 with Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Crane of Woodbury, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cox of Lansing.

Mrs. Charles Walker had a meeting of the officers of the Clinton County Federation of Woman's Clubs on Sept. 30. Club presidents or their representatives were also in attendance.

Weed control in soybeans

A combination of Amiben and Lorox will do an excellent job of controlling broadleaved weeds and annual grasses in soybeans, reports Dr. William Meggitt, Michigan State University extension weed specialist.

"The combination will work better than Amiben alone during seasons when rainfall isn't at least a quarter of an inch at one time within a few days after planting."

Meggitt says Lorox alone shouldn't be used on sandy or sandy loam soils with less than two per cent organic matter. That's because higher rates of the herbicide or high levels of rainfall will cause bean injury.

"The key to good weed control, he says, is a 'plant 40, spray 40' plan. In other words, the farmer should waste little time between planting soybeans and applying herbicides."

"If you wait until you plant all your acreage before spraying, you might be delayed by wet weather and the weeds will get a head start," explains Meggitt.

"The sooner herbicides are applied after planting, the more likely they will move into the soil and do an effective job."

He says a new herbicide, Lasso, looks very good for control of annual grasses. And a combination of Lasso and Lorox could be the best bet for all-around weed control, when Lasso is cleared for use. Detailed recommendations on soybean weed control are listed in the bulletin, "Weed Control in Field Crops," which can be obtained from county Cooperative Extension Service offices or from the Bulletin Office, Agriculture Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing, 48823.

Elsie

By Mrs. Neva Keys

The United Methodist Church will hold an auction sale Saturday, Oct. 4 on the lot north of the church.

Lyle Dunham, Leonard Tillotson, Myron Tethal and George Davis are committeemen to contact for details or to have articles picked up. The sale will start at 10 a.m. and lunch will be available.

All proceeds will go to the church improvement fund.

Work has been started on the sanctuary interior to get the wall paneling and lighting improvements completed in time for the installation of the carpeting and new pews in November.

The sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Dale C. Levey Jr., will honor their parents at a 25th wedding anniversary celebration Oct. 12. The affair will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Duplain Church of Christ Fellowship Hall.

All friends and relatives of the couple are cordially invited to attend. It is requested that there be no gifts.

Autumn offers good gardening

Gardening enthusiasm gets a boost with cool and pleasant fall evenings, and that's fortunate because this is a busy season for outside living areas. Autumn activity can include planting, some pruning, transplanting, planning, potting, preparing for winter protection, and a host of other rewarding projects.

Some suggestions offered by the American Association of Nurserymen may assist home gardeners in scheduling their recreation time.

Fall is an important planting season, for example, for a number of things from bulbs to evergreens. Plants should have time to put down roots before the weather turns too cold. It's a favorable time to begin new lawns or renovate old ones. Bulbs go into the ground now. Create a rose bed this season. New perennials can be planted pretty soon.

It's the time of year to make some changes, if you wish. Chrysanthemums that you have been growing in a row in the vegetable or cutting garden can be moved into the perennial border for autumn display. The old perennial flower beds can be rejuvenated.

If you will be planting tulip bulbs, the nurserymen have an interesting suggestion. If moles, field mice or chipmunks are a nuisance, try planting the bulbs inside wire cages.

All the houseplants that were kept outside during the summer are due to be moved into the house this time of year. Repot those that have outgrown their pots and give all an application of fertilizer.

And fall is clean-up time. Nothing should be left in flower beds, shrub borders or vegetable gardens which might harbor insects, disease or rodents.
