School bonds sold

School building bonds totaling $5.4 million were sold by the St. Johns' Board of Education Monday night at an average interest rate of 4.30027 per cent. The successful bidder was the Detroit Bank of the Commonwealth, one of five groups to bid on the bonds.

Other bidders and their average bids were: First of Michigan 4.3492, Halsey-Stewart and Co. 4.3851, Continental Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago 4.39408, and Detroit Bank and Trust 4.48066.

COMMONWEALTH'S bid includes three interest changes. From 1967-79 interest will be 5 per cent; in 1980 it will be 4.4 per cent; from 1981-87 it will be 4.20 per cent; and from 1988-92 it will be 4.10 per cent.

Commonwealth's bid was accepted unanimously by the board on the recommendation of its bond consultant. The interest rate is up considerably over a year ago, but "of these times it's a good bid," Supt. of Schools Earl Lancaster said.

After a repayment schedule is worked out, the school board will invest the bond money until it is needed.

IN ANOTHER announcement, the board of education said it would receive sealed bids on the additions and alterations to the East Essex and Eureka Schools until 7 p.m. Nov. 9, at which time bids will be opened publicly and read. The bid opening will be at the high school office.

Plans and specifications are to be completed and may be obtained by contractors after Oct. 18 from St. Clair and Douglas Pardee, St. Johns architects who are designing the schools.

Meanwhile, plans for the other two new elementary neighborhood schools in the southeast and southwest parts of the district are on schedule, and the school board is anticipating asking for bids on those two projects by mid-December.

On the high school scene, teachers in the various departments are meeting weekly with high school architect Guido Binda and Associates to further develop plans for their departments.

Chest campaign kicks off Tuesday

A fast-moving Communities Chest drive will get under way in Clinton County next Tuesday, and organizers of the annual campaign promise to wrap it up within three weeks.

Final details were worked out at a meeting of the board of directors of the Clinton County Communities Chest Monday night. The group of volunteer workers hope to raise $26,500 this year for the benefit of nine agencies.

The business and professional solicitation and industry campaign will all start together next Tuesday morning with a 7 a.m. breakfast at the L & L Restaurant.

ROBERT SIRRINE and Milo Rowell have volunteered as chairmen for the professional and business phases of the Chest campaign, and Lawrence Sexton will be chairing the drive in the industrial plants of the community.

The men will give instructions to a number of campaign workers who will solicit donations from the business and professional people of the community and from the industrial plants.

The St. Johns residential campaign will start the following Monday, Oct. 24, with the out-county campaign beginning later in the week. All phases of the Communities Chest drive will be completed by Nov. 11, officials said.

COMMUNITIES Chest banners will be flying in all the communities of the county to promote the drive, and workers will wear little red feathers to identify themselves. They'll also have receipt cards to give in return for donations to the Communities Chest.

William Graef of St. Johns is president and chairman of the Communities Chest drive this year, with Robert Sirrines vice president, Helen Kohls secretary and Charles Huntington treasurer.

Board members include Charles Hengesbach of Westphalia, Arthur Newman of DeWitt, Mrs. Alvin Thelen of Olive Township, Maynard Casler of R-6, St. Johns, Stan Loznak of Elsie, Harold Green of Ovid, Leon Brewbaker, Dr. R. L. Wolters, Jake Wabeke and Ed Idzkowski of St. Johns.

AGENCIES SHARING in this year's Clinton County Communities Chest are the American Red Cross, Lansing Child Guidance, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, St. Vincent DePaul Society, 4-H Fair Fund, Michigan United Fund and the Michigan Children's Aid Society. The Michigan United Fund will be receiving $4,750 (if this year's drive is a successful one. RICHARD KERR

Richard Kerr, Clinton County equalization director since May 1, 1965, has left his post here to assume a position with the State Tax Commission. No formal resignation was presented, according to the equalization committee of the board of supervisors. The equalization department is now operating without a director until one can be hired.

3 Schools in rural area for sale

The St. Johns School Board voted last Wednesday night to sell three rural schools which have been closed for from two to 12 years.

Sealed bids will be opened by the board Nov. 9 for the building only of the Church School on Baldwin Road a half mile north of County Line Road in Gratiot County.

Auction bids will be taken the same night for the building and site of the Page School a half-mile north of Maple Rapids Road on Chandler Road in Duplain Township, and the Rhuebottom School at Krepps and Alward Road in Olive Township.

THE RHEUBOTTOM School has been closed for 12 years. It was the first rural district to annex to St. Johns, and the students from there have been brought into St. Johns since that time. This is the second year the Church and Page schools have been closed; when they annexed to St. Johns in the spring of 1965 the districts split up and students went to schools at Ashley, Fulton, Elsie and St. Johns.

In other action last Wednesday night, the school board passed a resolution agreeing to participate again this year in the Channel 10 educational television programs. Supt. Earl Lancaster and Board President Ray Parr reported on their meeting with the St. Johns City Commission the night before. They said another meeting between the two groups (concerning the swapping or buying of land near the park for school purposes) is scheduled for Oct. 18.

Sewer study finished

A $223,000 project for new sewers on the south side of town and elimination of present sewer problems elsewhere has been recommended by engineers to the St. Johns City Commission.

The recommendation includes 11,000 feet of 8-, 10- and 15-inch sewers on the south side, a new lift station, sewer repair along the Grand Trunk Railroad, and elimination of storm water from the sanitary sewers.

THE MAJOR problem, according to the firm of Williams and Works of Grand Rapids, is that of storm water in the sanitary system. Eliminating this should have priority, they said, and a solution would eliminate backup in sewers and basements and provide a future capacity for the existing wastewater treatment plant.

The commission took no action on the report but does have it under study. There was disagreement with some of the findings.

The problem of storm water in the sanitary sewers is a serious one, the engineers said in their preliminary study report. "Storm drains, catch basins and roof drains connected to the sanitary system are causing tremendous overloads in the sewer system itself, presenting a health hazard by basement flooding and serious flooding of the sewage treatment plant."

Williams and Works proposed that "an all-out effort be made immediately to locate these storm connections and disconnect them from the sanitary system. They listed four methods which could be used singly or in combination to discover the problems.

"If the city chooses not to eliminate the storm water from the sanitary system immediate additions should be made to the treatment plant to increase its capacity," the report said.

The present plant, however, "seems adequate for normal flows and loadings (without storm water) . . . all units are adequate for the present 6,000 population. Increased sludge handling facilities should be considered as the city grows."

NO. 2 ON THE engineers' recommended priority list is the repair and replacement of the sewer alongside the Grand Trunk Western Railroad. The 12-inch sewer, which runs along the track between Kibbee and Swegles, is now abandoned, and the County OKs pension plan

A pension plan for about 50 courthouse and county employees was approved by the county board of supervisors Monday by an 18-2 vote.

The pension plan will be written with the Michigan Municipal Employees Retirement System. It would provide full retirement benefits for employees and elected officials after 10 years or more of service.

Half of the money paid into the system would come from the county. Just how much this would be will be determined by an actuary appointed by the MERS.

THE BIG COST to the county, however, would be in the form of payments to the retirement system for the county employees' past service. The county would be required to pay 1% share, based on the length of time each employee has been working. The employees themselves would have to pay nothing of this backlog.

Two years ago supervisors seriously debated a pension plan and turned it down then by a 10-9 vote. The estimated cost to the county at that time was $13,932.

Those opposed in the 1964 vote indicated they felt the county had been generous in its pay schedule and they didn't believe taxpayers would approve of payment of pensions in excess of the social security levels already provided.

SUPERVISORS favoring the plan in 1964 argued that pensions are a part of the benefits offered by many employers these days and that to continue to attract and hold top-grade people the county should be competitive in this respect.

The County Road Commission and City of St. Johns have similar retirement plans.

All county employees would be required to become members of the retirement system, on the date the county enters the system. New employees hired later enter the retirement system only after continuous employment for six months; after he has completed the six months he is given service credit for the six-month period, and his membership in the retirement system starts from his actual date of employment.

VOTING AGAINST the retirement system Monday were Supervisors George Moore of Duplain and John M. Setterington of Essex. Supervisors Maurice Gove and Russell Howe were absent and did not participate in the vote.

The board of supervisors will vote at the next meeting on the new salary schedule for elected officials. The board will meet Oct. 17.

Truck rim hits on coming auto

The left front tire of a truck blew out on M-21 last Thursday morning, and part of the rim rolled up the highway and hit the front bumper of an oncoming car. No one was hurt.

The truck was driven by Ross D. Cortright, 22, of 3100 Round Lake Road, and the car was driven by Jose M. Riojas, 18, of 208 Lewis Street, St. Johns. Riojas said stones tossed up by the truck pulling off the road hit his windshield and broke it. The mishap occurred about 10:30 a.m. east of Shepardsville Road in Ovid Township.

Mike Mleko of R-2 Portland told the Clinton County sheriff's office last Thursday someone had taken a number of tools from a building that is located in the center of a section, and the only access to it is over a trail through a residential yard.

County approves permit for 13-room rural school

The St. Johns Public Schools won approval of the county board Monday for the construction of their 13-room elementary school in the southwest part of the district.

Last month the supervisors reversed a recommendation of the zoning commission and refused to allow the construction. Monday, however, the board approved the school 15-4 after first voting to reconsider.

Approval came in the form of a resolution which would permit the construction but at the same time allow Mr and Mrs Irvin Martin to continue raising livestock on a farm immediately west of the school site.

torney, Timothy M. Green, did not object to the school but, according to the resolution passed, were "apprehensive" that odors from the livestock operation may at some future date bring objections from students and parents.

School board President Ray Parr told the supervisors the school board was attempting to keep all the rural elementary students within six miles of their homes, as had been promised during reorganization of the district starting about two years ago.

He said Supt. Earl Lancaster both pointed out that with this in mind and the fact the school board was rurally oriented, that the new school would be a rural school attended by rural students and staffed by predominantly rural teachers, they didn't anticipate any legal problems, over odors from Martin's livestock operation.

THE SCHOOL SITE is at the corner of Pratt and Lowell roads in Riley Township. The resolution for approval of the school permit was presented by Willard Krebel, supervisor from Riley. He emphasized that this request of the school was not for rezoning but merely for a building permit. All of Riley Township is zoned agriculture, he said.

Twenty supervisors were present for the vote on the permit. Fifteen voted yes, with only Raymond Mayers of Bengal, Walter Nobis of Lebanon, Almond Cressman of Olive and Walter Thelen of Westphalia opposing it. St. Johns Supervisor Harold Reed abstained; he is an attorney and represents the St. Johns Public Schools.

Methodists begin visitation drive

The First Methodist Church of St. Johns has embarked on its annual Every Member Visitation program which will climax with Pledge Sunday Nov. 13. The purpose is to strengthen stewardship commitments, according to C. Lester Jenkins, general chairman of the program. Plans call for an information dinner Nov. 10 at Smith Hall where all adult and youth members of the church are urged to attend. On the following Sunday pledges of funds toward the church's budget will be received in church, and volunteers will call on members who are not in attendance.

Other members of the general committee are Bob Lublow, visitation chairman; Ken Moore and Lowell Rinker, development committee; and Carl Blair, chairman of the finance commission; and Rev Keith Bovee, pastor.

Getting the new D & C Store in St. Johns ready for opening next Thursday involves a lot of last-minute unpacking and straightening up, even though all the major work on the building is completed. Carolyn Merchand and Dorothy Henning were unpacking boxes Monday morning when Manager Ken Dickens stopped by to check on progress.

D & C in new store next Thursday

Remodeling completed, St. Johns' D & C Variety Store will be moving to its new location next week, manager Ken Dickens announced Monday.

Grand opening at the new store at 207 N. Clinton Avenue will be next Thursday, Oct. 20. The store will be closed next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for the final transfer of merchandise from the building at 125-127 N. Clinton Avenue where D & C has made its home since 1941.

THE NEW STORE contains 6,700 square feet of floor space, about 50 per cent more than the store at Clinton Avenue and Walker Street. The new structure is the result of extensive remodeling of the former Hicks Building during which the upper two floors were removed.

In addition to the 6,700 square feet of floor space, the new building has store office space in the right-hand rear corner. There is some storage space in a basement under the north side of the new D & C Store, but Manager Dickens said most merchandise will be put on the shelves as soon as it is delivered, resulting in little need for storage.

THE D & C STORE will have three checkout lanes on the north side of the building at the front. The brightly lighted store has vertical wall panels of various pastel colors above the shelves.

that also line the walls. "We'll expand some of our lines," Dickens said, "but in most cases we'll just have a lot more of everything we already have had."

D & C Stores have been in St. Johns since 1926, and the new building at 207 N. Clinton Avenue will be their third home. They started out in the building where the Golden Eight Ball is presently located and moved to the corner store at Clinton and Walker in about 1941.

DICKENS HAS been with D & C since 1936, all the time in St. Johns, and completed his 30th anniversary Oct. 13 at 208 E. Park Street.

Seek new office for Extension

The Cooperative Extension Service may get new office space in St. Johns.

The board of supervisors authorized its buildings and grounds committee to obtain plans and cost for providing an outside entrance and partitioning the basement of the county welfare building on South Oakland Street for use by the Extension service.

There is room there for the Extension office, the board said. At the same time they instructed the committee to also be alert for other possible sites that would meet with the approval of the local Extension director, Agricultural Agent F. Earl Haas.

IN OTHER miscellaneous business handled by the supervisors Monday, a proposed trailer ordinance that would permit trailer subdivisions, set up new zones and set rules and regulations for trailer parks, was referred to the board's zoning committee. An industrial plats ordinance was referred back to the zoning commission for their action on several word changes made since their earlier approval.

The equalization committee's report was accepted and then tabled until the next meeting Oct. 17.

The board also approved the purchase of a tranquilizer gun for the dog wardens and ordered a committee study of the ability of present dog license fees to pay the costs of dog control in the county.

Girl treated following crash

Patricia Ann Borie, 16, of Essex Center Road, R-1 St. Johns was treated by a Maple Rapids physician for bruises suffered in an auto mishap last Wednesday evening on Hyde Road a half-mile east of Maple Avenue near Maple Rapids.

Three youths were fined and jailed last Thursday for being in possession of beer. They were Felix B. Mroz, 19, and Richard H. Forslund, 19, both of Ensign, and Robert A. Bezzl, 19, of Rapid River. St. Johns Municipal Judge Alba Wert fined each $15 plus $20.80 costs and sentenced them to three days in the county jail. The trio were arrested in Greenbush Township.

School, city appear near agreement on site land purchase

School board members and the city commission seemed to hit it off pretty well last Tuesday night and appear to be well on their way to making arrangements for the school to obtain land from the city to square up their high school building site.

The school and city have been dickering for about six acres of city-owned land south of the park athletic field which has been used in the past for snow dumping in the winter. The school wants it to square up its property; studies indicate the new high school might best be located partially on that six acres.

LAST TUESDAY night the commission tentatively agreed that $6,000 might be a sufficient price for that land and the city could then use the money to get land elsewhere for a snowdumping site.

Previous tries at a solution have involved the possibility of the school buying land west of the city park and then trading it to the city for the land the school wants.

With the city and school more or less agreeing to a $6,000 figure for the land south of the park, the commission referred the plan to the city planning commission for its recommendation.

IN OTHER BUSINESS last Tuesday, the city commission authorized an additional 1,100 feet of 10-inch water main on Scott Road south to the Wheel Inn. Mrs J. J. O'Leary requested.

thritis and rheumatism, kidney disease, mental illness, cancer, cerebral palsy, diabetes, and multiple sclerosis to name just a few.

PERHAPS THE organization closest to many hearts these days is the USO. As of Dec. 31, 1965, there were 317 men and women from this county in the armed forces. The USO maintains centers in this country and abroad wherever large or isolated concentrations of military personnel require their services.

The Michigan United Fund supported USO programs during 1965 at a cost of about $3,711 per year for each Michigan resident serving in the Armed Forces. Accordingly, the cost of maintaining USO services for military personnel from Clinton County during 1965 was approximately $1,176.07.

DONATIONS TO THE Clinton County Communities Chest will make possible the continuation and expansion of these MUF functions. In the same vane, the American Red Cross' service to servicemen and their families will be aided by donations.

In every Red Cross chapter area and military installation, volunteers provide the backbone for the American Red Cross services to the military. Two outstanding volunteers working with this service in Clinton County are Mrs Earl Slagh of Elsie and Mrs Lucy Wittenbach of Maple Rapids. As American Red Cross volunteers they are well known in the community and are contacted frequently by members of families who have problems relating to husbands or sons serving in the armed forces.

They help arrange for emergency leaves, visit families of inductees to explain the Red Cross services, and deal with problems which families find difficult to solve. When emergencies arise, they contact the Mid-Michigan chapter in Lansing and message service is handled from there.

IN ADDITION TO these activities, Mrs Slagh and Mrs Wittenbach handle one-family burn-out cases, helping the family to relocate and arranging for financial aid.

Through their work as Red Cross volunteers for service to military families, Mrs Slagh and Mrs Wittenbach form an important part of the national picture in this field. The total area for the Mid-Michigan Chapter of American Red Cross has 48 volunteers actively working on SMF. Through the American Red Cross and the work of these volunteers, 820 cases were handled in this area in the past year.

Forty-eight thousand, five hundred persons were killed in 1965 on the nation's highways. In addition, 4,100,000 others were injured in traffic accidents last year.

and 935 contacts with military families were made that did not develop into cases. The volunteers have also been working on a club for wives of military personnel. The new wives' club meets monthly and the Red Cross chapter provides a free nursery for the meetings.

THE AMERICAN Red Cross SMF provides counseling services for personal and family problems and gives aid in communications to servicemen by the families when emergencies arise. It also helps servicemen and dependents with applications for allotments and allowances, medical care, and veterans' and survivors' benefits.

The Red Cross informs families of services from other agencies and helps them obtain the services. Field directors on military installations may extend financial aid to servicemen and their families when emergencies arise. The Red Cross field directors also arrange Red Cross classes in first aid, water safety, and home nursing for military families on the base and nearby.

Fellowship installs new officers

Women's Fellowship of the Duplain Church of Christ met at the church Tuesday evening, Oct. 4, with Mrs. Harold Reynolds as hostess. Each member was presented with a blue note as she registered and was asked to write on the back the name of a woman whom she would like to see become a member of the fellowship during the year.

Installation of the new officers was led by Mrs. James Burnham and Mrs. Joe Bancroft as they emphasized the "Symphony of Women's Work" in the church.

Each officer was presented with a white nylon net apron with blue felt musical notes appliqued across the bottom. The officers were compared to the lead players in an orchestra with each doing their part to maintain harmony and melody for the beauty of the composition and in a like way the members contribute to the symphony by showing their willingness to work together.

Mrs. Raymond Buck presented the lesson of the evening on Priscilla, a servant of the church. The November meeting will be held with Mrs. Harry Harden Nov. 1, 1966.

Lowell Grubbs presented the message for the worship hour

Sunday morning at the Duplain Church of Christ and showed slides of Rock Lake Christian Assembly at the evening service in the absence of our regular minister, Ralph Woodard. He and Mrs. Woodard are vacationing in the Grand Marais area.

Mrs. Dale Schultheiss and Mrs. James Burnham attended the Christian Education Conference at Great Lakes Bible College Friday.

GUEST SPEAKER ANNOUNCED
Guest speaker for both morning worship service and the evening service at the Duplain Church of Christ Sunday, Oct. 16, will be Prof. Jack Wilson of Lansing. Prof. Wilson teaches speech at Michigan State University and also at Great Lakes Bible College, Lansing.

WIBC rep to visit here

MRS JULIA GUNTI

Mrs. Julia Gunti, field service representative for the Women's International Bowling Congress, will attend a meeting of the St. Johns Woman's Bowling Assn. on Nov. 16.

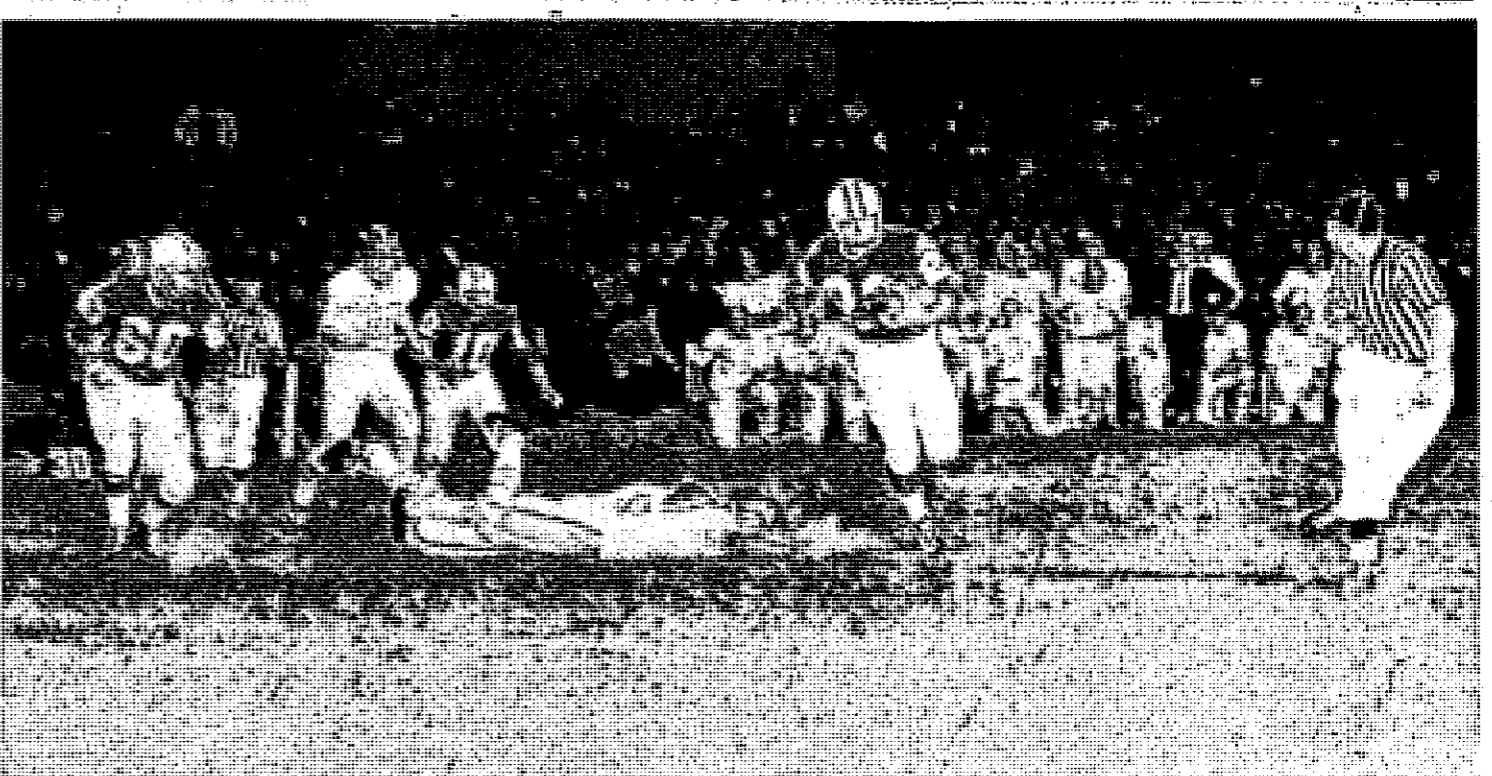

The local meeting will be held at Red Wing Lanes starting at 8:30 p.m. All members of the association are urged to attend.

FIELD SERVICE representatives of the WIBC travel extensively within the areas to which they are assigned, giving advice and assistance on rule interpretations and policies, and offering guidance at local levels.

Mrs. Gunti will discuss essential matters pertaining to the WIBC such as the many services offered to its members; the duties and responsibilities of city and league officers; the WIBC annual meeting; the senior program; and the AJBC program.

A question and answer program will follow, and if time permits, colored slides will be shown, depicting the services and functions of the WIBC.

The right foot should be rested lightly on the brake pedal when approaching "blind" corners or intersections.

An unidentified Grand Ledge player sprawls on the ground after missing a tackle on St. Johns' Gary Boyce (23) as Boyce breaks free for a 20-yard touchdown run with less than two minutes gone in the first period. Other Redwings identifiable are Jon Tatroe (60) and Norm Love (10). The Grand Ledge bench looks on hopelessly from the background.

Note to bowling secretaries

The Clinton County News is again this year publishing the results of weekly bowling activity in area bowling leagues in view of the high interest in that sport.

Deadlines must be imposed, however, to prevent a surge of reports on Tuesday, our final production day. League secretaries, MUST mail or deliver their weekly report to the office of the Clinton County News within two days of their bowling date; this is because our staff is not large enough to handle all the copy on Tuesdays.

Copy delivered beyond those deadlines will be used only if time permits the preparation of the material after other work is done, and if space permits.

Saturday is the most dangerous day to drive. Nearly 22 percent of all fatal traffic accidents occurred on that day in 1965.

Randy Humphrey (30) of St. Johns tries in vain to get around a Grand Ledge tackler during second half action. No. 10 for Grand Ledge is Steve Irish. Humphrey scored a touchdown and picked up good yardage all night for the Wings.

Unbeaten St. Johns, Fowler smash opponents

Redwings spoil Comets' festivities to tune of 34-7

By Steven Hopko

The St. Johns Redwing football team was invited to the Grand Ledge homecoming and ran off with top honors as they rolled up a 34-7 win over the Comets.

The St. Johns victory kept the Redwings undefeated with a 4-0 record and put them in first place in the West Central league race with a 3-0 mark.

THE REDWING offense moved with the precision of a machine as they rolled up a 34-7 first half lead and then came back the second half and played a conservative, up the middle, ground game to preserve the win. The unheralded Redwing defense, led by Randy Humphrey, Terry Hart and Craig Knight shut off the Comet ground game with only 94 yards rushing. This is the third time in four games the Redwings' defense has allowed less than 100 yards to an opponent. Greenville has been the only team to surpass 100 yards, on the ground, in a game against the Redwings.

LAST FRIDAY the defense not only shut off the Comet offense, but their great rushing on every play caused the Comets to make mistakes. Comet quarterback Ben Cadwell completed 12 of 23 passes, but was continually rushed and twice saw his passes intercepted by the St. Johns defense. Twice more, as Cadwell dropped back to pass he was hit hard causing him to fumble with the alert Redwing defense there to recover.

Randy Humphrey made ten tackles from his defensive half-back position Friday, but Terry Hart, the defensive right end, was right behind with nine tackles. Craig Knight, the defensive left end, had six tackles and a fumble recovery that he ran 45 yards to paydirt for the Redwings fourth TD of the half.

THE ST. JOHNS offense again neared the four hundred yards gained as they rolled up 330 yards on the ground and added another 64 yards in the air as Norm Love completed seven of thirteen passes.

Gary Boyce led the Redwing attack as he rolled up 192 yards on 18 carries for a 10.6 yards per carry. Boyce also caught two passes for 21 yards and twice had sizeable gains called back on penalties.

RANDY HUMPHREY, who led the defense in tackles, had a fine

Gary Boyce, senior halfback who carried 18 times, last Friday, for 192 yards and scored two touchdowns. For the first four games of the season Boyce has carried 43 times for 501 yards or 11.6 yards per carry. He has also scored 8 TD's and kicked 12 extra points, and has caught 7 passes for 95 yards.

night offensively as he carried 8 times for 64 yards and caught four passes from Love for 33 yards. Mike Green, who only played the first half, carried five times for 24 yards and Norm Love carried six times for 33 yards.

The Redwings served notice early that they had come to play as they took the opening kickoff. Four plays and one minute and 45 seconds later Boyce hit left end on a reverse for the final 19 yards of the 52 yard drive. Boyce's kick for the extra-point was between the uprights and St. Johns led 7-0.

ON THE FIRST play after the kickoff, Don Shipman of Grand Ledge fumbled and Terry "Fuzzy" Thurston of St. Johns recovered on the Grand Ledge 26. On the first play, Randy Humphrey hit right end, on what looked like a perfectly executed play, and went 26 yards for the Redwings second score with less than three minutes of the ballgame gone. Boyce's kick for the extra point was good and St. Johns led 14-0.

ST. JOHNS TOOK possession of the ball shortly after the kickoff when John Salem intercepted a Cadwell pass on the Redwing 24 yard line. St. Johns tried for the first down instead of punting and gave up the ball on downs on their own 33 to give the Comets their first opportunity. They took advantage and four plays later Grand Ledge had a TD with Shipman going the last yard. Roger Milbrook kicked the extra point to make it 14-7.

St. Johns took the kickoff on their own 24 and went the 76 yards to paydirt in 13 plays. Mike Green went straight up the middle for the last ten and Boyce's kick for the extra point was good to make the score 21-7.

THE REDWING FOURTH touchdown came just a minute and 20 seconds later. With a second and ten on the St. Johns 44, Cadwell of Grand Ledge went back to pass. A great rush by the middle of the Redwing line and Cadwell was hit and fumbled. Craig Knight, the defensive left end, was rushing the passer when he fumbled. Knight picked up the ball on the second bounce and raced 45 yards to score and as Boyce's kick was good the tally stood at 28-7 with only 4 minutes gone in the second quarter.

St. Johns last TD came on an 84 yard drive in five plays. Twice in the drive, St. Johns was penalized five yards for a man in motion. The key play in this drive was on a fourth and eight situation on the St. Johns 20 with 45 seconds left in the half. Boyce went into punt formation, on the snap, the ball went to Love in the blocking position and he spun, lateraling to Boyce who went around left end for 28 yards to give the Redwings a first and ten on the St. Johns 48. On the next play Boyce hit the center, broke through, cut left and was off and running for this second TD of the evening and the last score of the game. His kick for the extra point was wide and the score stood 34-7 with 25 seconds left in the half.

IN THE SECOND half St. Johns dominated play as they stayed on the ground and used the clock as they ground out 138 yards and nine first downs. Their deepest penetration in the second half was to the Grand Ledge seven. Here on a fourth and one, the Comet defense threw Tom Rademacher for a one yard loss and the Comets took over on their own eight.

On the opening kickoff of the second half Grand Ledge drove to the St. Johns five where the Redwing defense stiffened and the Comets had to give up the ball on downs. This was the only effective drive of the Comets in the half.

THIS FRIDAY the Redwings host the Alma Bulldogs for their annual homecoming. The Alma team has yet to win this season.

In an uphill struggle it's doing our level best that counts.

Eagles bury DeWitt 58-0

FOWLER - The Eagles could hardly hold themselves in check Friday night as they rolled past winless DeWitt 58-0 in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference game at Fowler.

The victory gave Fowler a 4-0 overall record and a 3-0 mark in the league; they're tied for first place with the Bath Bees. DeWitt is 0-4 for the year and has yet to score a touchdown.

Fowler scored 14 points in the first quarter, 18 in the second, 19 in the third and 7 in the fourth. Coach Blain Douglas substituted as freely as he could, but only 20 boys were available because of a JV game with DeWitt the night before.

NEAL THELEN and Brendon Goerge scored three touchdowns each, Ron Brown had two and Mike Nobach one. Thelen ran the ball only three times in the first half and scored each time over distances of 30, 40 and 28 yards. He wound up with 111 yards rushing during the evening.

His 30-yard touchdown run was Fowler's first, and Ron Brown got the second on a two-yard plunge. Bruce Thelen kicked both points after. In the second quarter Neal punted off a 40-yard run for the third touchdown, and then quarterback George Goerge hit brother Brendon on a 49-yard touchdown pass play. Before the half Neal scored again from 28 yards out. The score at the half was 32-0.

BRENDON GOERGE scored early in the third period on a five-yard run and a few minutes later Mike Nobach intercepted the DeWitt pass and ran 20 yards for a touchdown. Ron Brown scooted nine yards for another TD in the third period, and John Wieber ran the point after. Brendon Goerge wrapped up the scoring in the fourth quarter with a 15-yard touchdown run, and Ron Brown ran the extra point.

The unbeaten Eagles rolled up 327 yards rushing and 64 passing for a total offense of 391 yards. Brown had 83 yards for the night, and Brendon Goerge had 133 yards. John Wieber led the defensive surge against DeWitt with 27 tackles, with DeWitt being held to only two yards rushing and 54 yards passing for the night.

Bruce Thelen kicked a field goal from the 33 yard line at one point in the game, but it was nullified by an offside penalty against Fowler. The Eagles were set back 135 yards by penalties, while DeWitt was penalized only 10.

2nd period spurt ties game 27-27

ST. LOUIS - Ovid-Elsie exploded for 27 points during the second quarter Friday night to score a tie game with St. Louis in a Mid-Michigan B football game. The final was 27-27.

The Marauders spotted St. Louis a 20-0 lead before getting under way. Mike Seybert started the Ovid-Elsie scoring with a 47-yard touchdown run, and L.D. Jones added the extra point. Jones then scored on a three-yard plunge, a six-yard run and a two-yard drive and ran for two more extra points to give the Marauders a 27-0 halftime lead.

Marty Castellon swept off on a 70-yard run later in the game and then kicked the extra point to tie the game. Castellon had scored St. Louis' first touchdown on a 17-yard run and kicked the extra point as the Sharks had their fun in the first quarter.

The other first-period scores were on an 11-yard run by Dick Vinton and a four-yard plunge by Lynn Raske. Castellon kicked the extra point after the second TD.

Area's best offenses have best defenses

The area's league-leading high school football teams are, for the most part, also the highest scoring and best defensive teams at mid-season.

That's particularly true in the West Central Conference and Central Michigan Athletic Conference where St. Johns and Fowler, respectively, are out in front.

The Redwings of St. Johns have compiled 122 points in their first four games, an average of 30.5 per game, while holding their opponents to a total of only 33, an average of 8.25 points per game.

COACH BILL Smiley's squad has been consistent in their scoring, 34 being their highest output and 27 their lowest. The defense has yielded no more than 13 points (Mason in the season opener) and as little as 6 (Greenville).

Greenville's loss to the Wings was their only one of the year so far, and they've scored 107 points - 101 in their three other games (an average of almost 34 per game).

St. Johns' homecoming opponent this week - Alma - is winless and has scored only 51 points while yielding 129 in their four games. They're tied with Ionla for seventh place.

IN THE CENTRAL Michigan Athletic Conference, Fowler is tied with Bath with 3-0 league records, but the Eagles have scored 102 points in their four season games - twice as many as Bath. Both teams have yielded only 20 points, but Fowler hasn't given up more than one touchdown a game. The two teams won't meet each other until Nov. 4.

Corunna is the league leader and leading scorer in the Mid-Michigan B League. Clinton County's only representative in the league, Ovid-Elsie, is currently in fifth place with no wins.

Final homecoming touches ready

By GAY BOND
St. Johns High School

Homecoming 1967 at R. B. Wilson High School is anxiously waiting for the final touches for this fall spectacular.

Red Wing spirit is ringing throughout the halls this week in anticipation for the big clash between Alma and St. Johns here this Friday night. To rouse this spirit each class is in charge of a day of this week.

THIS PAST WEEK the senior class voted for five charming girls from their class. Out of these girls the whole student body picked the one whom they wished to be queen.

Marlynn Motz was selected homecoming queen, and serving on her court are Judy Williams, Marcia Parr, Jane Taylor and Monica Hatta.

The queen, Marlynn Motz, is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Arthur Motz. During her four years of high school Marlynn has been very active. She has been class treasurer of her class every year and engrossed in band. These past two years she has been drum majorette. During her sophomore year she was her class representative for homecoming. Also she had a lead in the Junior Play from which she won a scholarship offered by the First Nighters to Olivet College for a drama course.

MONICA IS THE daughter of Mr and Mrs Michael Hatta. In high school Monica has served as a student council representative of her class for two years. She was the president of Latin Club in her sophomore year. Monica had a role in the junior play and the two past musicals. This summer Monica attended Northwood Institute in Midland for a music clinic.

Jane Taylor, daughter of Mr and Mrs A. Taylor, has been a cheerleader throughout high school. She was the freshman representative for Homecoming, and has served as secretary of the Latin Club.

Judy Williams, daughter of Mr and Mrs Robert Williams, has been class secretary all through high school. She was the junior representative for Homecoming. In her junior year she was selected for the National Honor Society, Girls State and the Alumni Scholarship.

MARCIA PARR is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Raymond Parr. She was selected by the Youth for Understanding as an exchange student for which she spent this summer in Finland. During her sophomore and freshman years she served as a student council representative for her class. Marcia also has been very active in band all through high school.

Thursday evening the junior class is planning the traditional bonfire and snake dance. All the students are urged to gather at the back of school at 7 o'clock. The snake dance will proceed from school to the park, led by the pep band and the cheerleaders. Here a pep rally will be held and the burning of an effigy of an Alma football player.

FRIDAY WILL be the whirlwind of the whole week. In the afternoon there will be a pep meeting held outside in weather permits.

At 7 o'clock the parade will begin forming at the railroad station to proceed to the park. The band will lead the parade followed by Miss St. Johns, Dorothy Everts, the cheerleaders, freshman representative, the sophomore and junior representative and their class floats based

Families Urged To Have Plan For Escape from Fire

Does your family have an escape plan they can use if a fire occurs in your home? If not, you should draw one up tonight, says the American Insurance Association.

Get together all members of the family, including children and the older members, and work out at least two escape routes that you can use to get out quickly.

You need to figure out two routes so that an alternate route can be used if fire cuts off the other.

After you have run off your plan, you should rehearse it. And, once you have worked out a plan, practice it, the Association said.

And never — under any circumstances — re-enter a burning building.

Call the fire department from your neighbor's phone!

suggested but no one was appointed. It was decided that the student council will meet on the first and third Fridays of each month. The next meeting is scheduled for Oct. 21.

ALSO DISCUSSED and appointed at the meeting were the concession stands to be held by various classes and organizations.

It was voted also to divide the cost of the queen's float among the four classes.

Several girls who volunteered to serve as Candy Strippers at Clinton Memorial Hospital were recently awarded their caps representing 25 hours of service.

They were seniors Joan Smith, Judy Kramer, Gladis Hufnagel, Jane Schruben and Joyce Kramer. Having received their caps earlier were Marlene Fox, Cheryl Weber and Joanne Thelen.

(Editor's Note: Fowler's new teen writer, Joanne Thelen, is a senior at Fowler High, a member of the Girls Varsity Club and Young Christian Student organization. She has been a 4-H member for seven years. Her future plans include college attendance with a major in Journalism and secondary school teaching of that subject.)

Bees keep pace with 19-0 win at P-W; Fulton romps

PEWAMO - WESTPHALIA - The Bath Bees kept pace with the Fowler Eagles in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference football race by grinding out a 19-0 victory over Pewamo - Westphalia here Friday night.

Both Bath and Fowler are now 3-0 in the league. Bath plays a rugged Potterville team this Friday at Bath, while Fowler is pitted against Webberville at Webberville.

The passing combination of Mike Tucker to Bruce Miller clicked for two touchdowns against Pewamo - Westphalia. They covered 34 and 3 yards respectively. Mike Tucker's brother, Randy, scored Bath's first touchdown on a three-yard dive play, and then he ran the extra point.

A PIRATE FUMBLE and a short kick set up Bath touchdowns in the first half.

Down at Webberville Friday night, Craig Bradfield scored three touchdowns to pace the Laingsburg Wolfpack to a 25-19 win over the Spartans. But it was a four-yard run by Dave Carroll with 1:56 left in the game that gave the Wolfpack their victory.

Carroll's run climaxed a 60-yard drive by Laingsburg. Bradfield had scored earlier on runs of one, 18 and 24 yards. Roy McFarland of Webberville accounted for all three Spartan touchdowns, being on the receiving end of passes for 55, 9 and 12 yards.

IN THE TRI-CENTRAL League, Fulton won its second game of the year with a 39-6 romp over Edmore Montabella. Randy VanStekle was the scoring spark, tallying three touchdowns. He caught a 53-yard pass from Greg Daniels for the first score and then made runs of four and five yards for his other touchdowns.

Fulton's fourth touchdown was an oddity. Fulton's kickoff went short - accidentally - and Terry Proko picked it up and went 35 yards to the end zone. Fulton's final two touchdowns came on a three-yard run by Chris Barr and a 29-yard pass play from Daniels to Ed Settering-ton.

CARSON CITY LOST its second game of the year to Saranac, 19-6. Greg Lutz scored on a one-yard sneak for the only Carson City touchdown. Bob Davis scored two TDs and Gary Hubbard one for the winners.

Vestaburg High ended Ashley's unbeaten string at three games Friday night at Ashley by recording a 20-0 triumph. The two teams played equal statistically in all but the scoring and penalty columns. Vestaburg had only 35 yards in penalties, while Ashley was set back 85 yards.

The two teams meet again this Friday night in the second of a unique home-and-home series.

The US Navy still has 81 wooden-hulled ships in commission. They are part of the Navy's mine force.

CLARA TUBBS, village clerk, is accepting sealed bids for the 1957, half-ton pick-up truck owned by the village. The village is expecting delivery of the new truck which was purchased from Moore & Son of Ovid, for $2,196.85.

Kelth Canfield and Richard Beachler approached the council with bids for contracting for sanitary landfill pick-up service for all rubbish except garbage. Council decided the village couldn't afford the cost. Canfield said he would give landfill service to individuals who brought rubbish to his landfill site at 2153 W. Hibbard Road, at a small fee. The site is open only on Saturdays.

The Ovid Township dump is closed. It was in the Sleepy Hollow area. The village dump is still in operation and rubbish is picked up once a week by the village. As soon as the village dump site is filled, a new method will have to be found for disposal.

This reporter was a little disappointed in the lack of spectators for the parade and pep rally for our local high school. It may be due to the lack of information concerning our high school. Certainly the weather was beautiful. The band was playing and marching in good form, the majorettes were strutting as though there were hundreds watching and the Queen candidates waved and smiled and looked beautiful as only the young can. But where were the parents, grandparents, aunts and uncles and friends of these wonderful young folks? Are we the delinquents, OUR future and OUR school even if in another community. Lets show them we care enough to give them the attention they deserve and the applause they earn.

Congratulations to Rhonda Wilson who was chosen Homecoming Queen for Fulton High Schools. Also congratulations to the freshmen who won the prize for the best float "FULTONS FOLLY." Seek local entries for Lions Club's peace essay contest

Zip-a-lists distributed by PO

Youth of the St. Johns School District have been given a challenge by the local Lions Club to develop a plan for world peace—and the challenge could earn one of them a $25,000 educational - career assistance grant.

That's the top prize in a worldwide Peace Essay Contest being sponsored by Lions International. But the St. Johns Lions Club is also offering local awards of $25, $15 and $10 for the best essays.

The local club, along with others throughout the world, is sponsoring the essay contest on what they call the most important world subject today—peace. The contest offers $50,000 in total awards, including the $25,000 first prize, eight semi-final world regional awards of $1,000 each and travel expenses for the eight winners to Chicago in July 1967. At that time, the first-prize winner will be chosen from the eight.

MORE THAN 20,000 local, district and multiple district awards will be made.

"We are hopeful one of our young people will win this worldwide prestige award," President Dick Devereaux of the St. Johns Lions Club said in announcing the contest locally.

The contest is open to young people who will be 14 but less than 22 years of age as of January 15, 1967. "Our club's winner will advance to Lions District 11-C competition in his or her effort to qualify for the multiple district contest," Devereaux said.

The contest sponsored by more than 20,000 Lions clubs in more than 130 countries in the free world will be the largest peace essay contest in the world today.

"The purpose is to develop a formula for world peace because we feel peace is attainable," President Devereaux said. "We want to alert our youth to the need for world peace and focus attention on that important goal."

IN ANNOUNCING the contest internationally, President Edward M. Lindsey said Lions International, the world's largest service club organization, is well qualified to sponsor such a contest. He said the world-wide representation of Lions, the attention given to international relations and friendship between different nationalities and their participation in international humanitarian programs were their credentials for the patronage of the contest.

Contestants should submit their entry in essay form, not to exceed 5,000 words. Judging will fall into four categories:

75 per cent of the essay's points will be devoted to content, 10 per cent to organization, 10 per cent to style and 5 per cent to mechanics, Devereaux said. The mechanics segment will be used to appraise the grammatical construction of the essay.

"Three judges will be appointed to evaluate the entries submitted to our club," Devereaux said. "If our winner can advance through the judging stages up to the world finals he will receive an expense paid trip to Chicago to attend the Lions International 50th annual convention for the final judging of his or her essay, in addition to receiving the $1,000 award."

DEVEREAUX SAID he hoped young people would accept the challenge and enter his club's section of the contest. Closing date locally is Dec. 10.

"Students wishing to enter the contest should contact Devereaux, Albert LeFevre, Robert White or Dr. Albert Nelson. They have entry blanks and full details on the contest. All youths 14 years old but less than 22 years old as of Jan. 15, 1967, are eligible.

Devereaux said each applicant would be limited to one entry, with one winner's essay eligible to compete in the Lions District 11-C contest. Winner of the district contest will be entered in state or country contest. Each country or multiple district winner will be entered in one of the eight world divisions.

The motto of the nation's more than 2.2 million 4-H'ers is "to make the best better."

Letter carriers around St. Johns are delivering new ZIP-A-LIST cards to postal patrons this week in an effort to provide each home with ZIP code numbers used frequently.

The service is a product of ZIP Code Week in Michigan, proclaimed for all of this week by Gov. George Romney.

The ZIP-A-LIST cards will be left with patrons, who will be asked to write down the names of towns to which they frequently send, or expect to send, mail. The cards should be returned to the post office where personnel there will fill in the ZIP Code numbers of each town and return the card list to the postal patrons.

THE GOVERNOR, in his proclamation, called upon "all citizens to join in observance of this week by learning and using their ZIP codes, in both mailing and return addresses of all letters and packages."

"Population growth and economic expansions have triggered a mail explosion which increased our national volume at the phenomenal rate of almost 4 billion pieces this year," the governor noted.

The form of Pearl Buck's latest book, FOR SPACIOUS SKIES, breaks all precedent set by any of her former writing. A key to its format is found in its subtitle, "Journey in Dialogue."
The book is just that—a dialogue conducted in an automobile while traveling through the countryside, a dialogue between Miss Buck and Mr. Theodore F. Harris, president and executive director of the Pearl S. Buck Foundation. The latter is non-profit corporation dedicated to the education and general welfare of the displaced children of the world.

THE FORM IS NOT exactly like an interview, since it does not consist of questions and answers, but of observations and recollections by first one member and then the other of the duo. The conversations were actually tape-recorded, because both parties were too busy to write down what they wanted to become a matter of record.
FOR SPACIOUS SKIES deals with the most recent period of Miss Buck's life, which is considerably different from the period of many years in which she turned out an almost unbelievable number of fine works of fiction, most famous of which is her GOOD EARTH. Occasionally Miss Buck recalls some incident from her childhood spent in China. One interesting fact that is brought out is the story as to how she came to write five successful novels under the name of John Sedges.

FOR SPACIOUS SKIES is the kind of reading that you can pick up and put down at odd moments. It is also an inside glimpse of one of the 20th century's greatest literary figures.

THAT QUAIL, ROBERT is a book to be placed on the shelf next to Sterling North's RASCAL, Walt Morey's GENTLE BEN, and Joy Adamson's BORN FREE. Robert is a female quail possessed of an engaging personality, an insatiable curiosity, and a photogenic physiognomy. She is not only the subject of a delightful piece of literature, but she is the actual companion of her mistress, the author of this book, Margaret Stanger.

Together they live in a 200-year-old house on Cape Cod, and which one is really the mistress of the house is somewhat of a moot question. THAT QUAIL, ROBERT will give the reader many a chuckle, and will probably be a book that many people will decide to buy as a gift or just to own.

ALL IN THE FAMILY by Edwin O'Connor covers a period of about 25 years in a Kennedy-like family of Boston-Irish politicians. Critics are saying that this book is not quite the equal of Mr. O'Connor's THE LAST HURRAH, but it is nonetheless an interesting and absorbing book, with some whimsical passages and some outstanding characterizations.

All of these books are newcomers at Bement Public Library.

To market to get a "lean" porker

BY HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

The old children's nursery rhyme, "To market, to market, to buy a fat pig," has been modernized as today's homemaker goes to market to buy lean pork. Even the hogs today have become diet conscious and are growing more lean and less fat than they did a few years ago.

We no longer need the extra fat on pigs for shortening and for making soap. So pork producers are raising leaner style hogs to provide more lean and less fat—just the way today's diet conscious consumers want their pork.

During the fall, pork supplies start their seasonal increase. The porkers born last spring are starting their trek to the nation's dinner table. As pork supplies increase, retail prices will decrease.

WEIGHT - WATCHERS don't have to be left out because pork has a similar caloric value to other red meats—beef, veal and lamb. They can simply trim the outside fat off pork cuts and enjoy the good rich flavor along with the rest of the family.

Pork is one of the best sources of the B vitamin, thiamine, so essential to healthy nerves. Pork is also a high source of protein and iron.

When shopping for pork, quality is an important consideration, but pork alone, among the red meats, is not graded for the consumer. There are wholesale grades for pork but these are never made available to the consumer to assist her in determining quality. This is because hogs are usually marketed at a young age so most cuts are generally tender. There are several visual guides to pork quality. For example, the grain or texture of the meat should be smooth, fine and velvety with tiny streaks of fat marbled through-out the lean. It's the fat marbling that gives pork its characteristic rich flavor. The lean meat should have a delicate rose or grayish-pink color.

WHEN SHOPPING for pork, remember that a hog isn't all ham and loin roasts. The fresh pork shoulder is an excellent cut for roasting. You are probably familiar with the lower section of the shoulder, which is often smoked and retailed as the smoked picnic. The fresh shoulder butt is the top of the shoulder. One may buy a whole Boston butt, however, most stores usually remove a few pork steaks from this cut.

Most people prefer pork cooked until it's very well done—until there is no pink color left and the meat is a grayish white all the way through. Recently, the American Meat Institute completed a new study on pork cooking in which it determined that pork could be cooked to an internal temperature of just 160 degrees, 25 degrees less than was formerly recommended, and still be entirely safe for human consumption. Pork removed from the oven at 160 degrees internal temperature is still pink inside, moist and juicy. Whether it will ever become popular with generations brought up to enjoy very well done pork remains a question.

A lot of good pork is in store this fall for thrifty homemakers, and many agree—it's about time.

About the only people who listen to both sides of an argument are the neighbors.

Marching band's only girl at the drums

ST. JOHNS — The only girl in the percussion section of the Rodney B. Wilson High School Band is Julie Ward, a sophomore.

Julie is the daughter of Mr and Mrs John Gretzinger of 302 N. Whittemore Street, St. Johns. She began playing the drums about four years ago while attending Bangor Central of Bay City.

JULIE PLAYS the tenor drum during the marching season and the snare drum in the concert season.

The tenor drum she explained differs from snare drum in size and sound and because few marches have music for the tenor drum, bass drum music is played.

When asked how she developed an interest in drums she said she always liked the sound of them in parades.

ALTHOUGH during the marching season, the band spends every noon practicing at the park and has special practices after school, Julie said she has to practice more during the concert season because there are more types of music played.

Julie is enrolled in English, geometry, Spanish I, physical education and band this year.

Her hobbies include reading, sewing and skiing.

Julie has two sisters, Sally and Tanya and a brother, John.

Understanding your HEALTH

By Albert E. Heustis, M.D. Director
Michigan Department of Public Health

Did you ever think of your health department in terms of being a "community physician?" Well, it is — in a manner of speaking. Just as your doctor is concerned about the health of individual patients, your health department is concerned with the health of the entire community.

In order to help assure the community's well-being, your health department conducts investigations of the water you drink, and the very air you breathe for health hazards. And acting, again, as a "community physician," it conducts health screening programs to discover unsuspected cases of such diseases as tuberculosis, diabetes, cancer, and many childhood afflictions. Folks who have signs of these and other diseases are then referred to a private physician for treatment.

IN GENERAL, it is the local health department that actually provides services directly to people, while we at the State Department of Health primarily serve by supplementing local facilities and resources, and providing coordination in various technical levels. And we also have special functions like our public health laboratories which provide many essential services and materials that are needed by local health departments.

We have, in Michigan, health departments serving single counties, city-county combinations, and multi-county districts. All of these local health systems offer a lifetime of health protection for everyone in the community. These services range from child health consultation and safeguarding food to assuring proper disposal of wastes and conducting health screening programs.

AS YOU MIGHT guess, the wide range of services offered cannot be completely financed on the local level. Although in Michigan we subscribe to the concept of local leadership, initiative, and responsibility, we realize that needed services come high. Fortunately, the community is aided by both state and federal funds to help finance its activities.

Each county with an approved health department receives a state grant of 20 cents per capita, or at least $8,500 to aid it in providing basic services. In addition, federal funds, called "formula grants" are also allocated to local departments. Special project funds are also appropriated by the legislature and Congress for special new programs.

OUR STATE, THROUGH local health departments, and the state department of health has some of the finest public health programs in the nation. This is not only a tribute to all of the individual health departments, but also to the coordination and cooperation between them. Their function is truly a combined effort, even though they are financed and administered by several different levels of government.

Catholic census questionnaire to ask opinions on 42 points

All Catholics in the St. Johns area will be invited to give their opinions on a number of broad social and church issues in connection with a pending house-to-house census, the Rev William G. Hankerd, census moderator at St. Joseph Parish, said this week.

The parish census, as part of the Diocese of Lansing census scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 23, is planned to contact every residence in the St. Johns area. In addition to the statistical, head-count type of census, parish workers will leave an opinion questionnaire for each adult Catholic in every dwelling, Father Hankerd said.

Future," the questionnaire asks 42 questions concerning parish life, the church and education, the church and the Second Vatican Council, the church and social problems, and the church and the individual.

Father Hankerd said every adult Catholic will be invited to answer the questions and to send the completed form, unsigned, to the Diocesan Census Office in an envelope that will be furnished.

Father Hankerd said that while every residence is scheduled to be visited by a parish census worker, information will be solicited only at those homes where Catholics reside.

In the 27-year history of the Lansing Catholic Diocese that we have attempted to conduct a religious census," Father Hankerd said. "We need to know, for orderly planning and development, how many Catholics live in this area, where they live, and what their opinions are on various issues."

He emphasized that while parish census workers will be visiting all homes, information will be sought only from Catholics. "We want all our Protestant friends to be aware of the census and that it seeks to establish statistical information concerning Catholics," Father Hankerd said.

Zimmerman will be working with Sentry Insurance's veteran salesmen, Gaylord Krebs, Burdette Phillips and Roger Vandewater in the Lansing area.

Prior to this appointment, Zimmerman concluded advanced training in Sentry's Grand Rapids office and in Sentry's home office in Stevens Point, Wisc., during which time he studied insurance analysis, contracts and sales methods in both commercial and personal lines.

Zimmerman is married and the father of two daughters—one aged 4 years and one 5 months. He is a member of the Moose Lodge. Zimmerman was an accountant-auditor prior to joining Sentry.

Defense board trains

The multitude of problems which overwhelm a community stricken by disaster were realistically pointed out during a training meeting recently, attended by the Clinton County USDA Defense Board.

The objective of the meeting, held this year at Big Rapids Sept. 30, was to maintain a state of readiness within each county in the event a disaster should occur. According to William Smith, chairman of the County Defense Board, the training sessions presented a typical situation which might result from a nuclear attack and the defense board members were responsible for solving all of the resulting problems.

THESE INCLUDED obtaining a sufficient food supply to meet the needs of the county population for the extended period of time, resumption of food production, radiological monitoring, rural fire control, and other problems relating to recovery from the disaster including full resumption of agriculture production, financial assistance for rebuilding and others.

Although the problem concerned a possible nuclear attack, it was emphasized during the training session that natural disasters occur, most without warning, over the entire nation every year. Charged with the responsibility of serving the rural and agriculture needs of each county, the county agriculture defense board must be able to react with equal efficiency regardless of the nature of the disaster.

IN ADDITION to Smith, other members of the board who attended were: Lloyd Campbell, Soil Conservation Service; Earl Haas, county Extension Service; and Charles Frost, civil defense director.

FFA sends 2 to convention

Paul Spiedel and Bob Randolph left Sunday morning along with two delegates from the Lansingburg FFA chapter. They flew to Kansas City from Lansing at 7 a.m.

The boys were selected because of their interest and participation in different FFA activities. While attending the convention Monday through Wednesday, and after it is over, they'll visit a research farm and a tractor factory. They'll return to Michigan late Friday afternoon.

It is very hard to slice anything so thin that it has only one side.

Read labels to prevent fire

Be a label reader and live! Every year, according to National Fire Protection Assn. figures, there are thousands of serious accidents and fires caused by failure to observe warnings printed on cans of flammable lacquers, finishes, paint removers, thinners, mastics, cleaners and similar materials.

Before you use materials of this kind, read the label carefully. If the product contains a flammable solvent, the label will carry a warning. Your own safety depends upon your heeding that warning.

Whenever you must work with materials of any kind labeled "flammable" or "combustible," follow these rules and be fire safe:

(1) Work in a well-ventilated area, preferable outside (2) Shut off all pilots, stoves and other flame-producing devices in the area (3) Don't smoke.

Motion by Commissioner Kentfield, supported by Commissioner Irerer, to accept the recommendations of the Ayres, Lewis, Norris & May Engineering Firm to proceed with the installation of meters, valves and other revisions for wells Number 1, 3, 6 at an approximate cost of $4,000 for each of the three wells. Motion by Commissioner Kentfield, supported by Commissioner Sirrine, the mayor and city clerk be authorized to sign the agreement dated Sept. 20, 1966, between the City of St. Johns and St. Johns Public Schools, permitting the use of various facilities located at the city park for the school athletic program. This agreement also includes two street crossing guards for the intersections of US-27 at Baldwin Street and Walker Street.

THE CITY Commission discussed the problem of leaf burning. The Department of Public Works will continue with the removal of leaves placed at the curb and to discourage burning of leaves by property owners.

Commissioner Sirrine offered the following resolution and moved the adoption which was supported by Commissioner Irerer:

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the cities within the United States are in dire need of additional financial assistance to meet their growing responsibilities and rising costs; and, WHEREAS, the federal government is the only agency capable of providing this badly needed help; and,

WHEREAS, the current methods of distributing federal funds result in the creation of a costly federal bureaucracy and cause needless delays and complications in getting the funds distributed to local units of government; and,

WHEREAS, a per capita or percentage distribution of a portion of the federal income tax to local units of government would alleviate these problems and provide a greater measure of local control over the use of such funds; and,

WHEREAS, such a distribution would be fair and equitable in that all cities needing assistance would get aid; now,

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, that the City of St. Johns, Mich., does hereby urge the Congress of the United States to adopt the necessary legislation to provide for an equitable return of a portion of the federal income tax to local units of government on an annual basis.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that each citizen be urged to support legislation supporting and calling for the adoption of such a tax sharing program and urging their local Chamber of Commerce to take similar action.

Voted and approved this 20th day of September, 1966.

THE CITY MANAGER presented a letter from Mr Harley Tracey with reference to the city sanitary land fill regulations. The city commission discussed the sanitary land fill, with reference to contractors, state regulations and control of dumping by the issuance of permits.

Motion by Commissioner Sirrine, supported by Commissioner Irerer, Mr Fred Lewis be appointed associate municipal judge. YEA: Smit, Sirrine, Kentfield, Irerer. NEA: None. ABSENT: Coletta. Appointment approved unanimously.

There being no further business to be brought before the city commission, the meeting was declared adjourned at 9:00 p.m.

September traffic deaths total 183

Michigan traffic deaths in September numbered 183, 10, or 6 per cent, fewer than 193 in the same month a year ago, according to state police provisional figures.

This was the fourth month this year to show a decrease compared with corresponding months in 1965. Other reductions were in January, July and August.

The September count brought the accumulated toll to 1,603 for the first nine months, 98, or 6 per cent, higher than 1,505 in the same period in 1965. Delayed death reports, however, will raise somewhat the September and nine-month provisional totals.

September's average was 166 in the five years 1961-65. High for the month was 204 in 1936 while the low was 68 in wartime 1944.

Gunsmiths invented both turret and profile lathes, now used throughout industry.

Float building turns into melee; 7 youths arrested

A high school float-building project turned into a wild melee last Wednesday night, with seven Lansing youths finally being arrested for charges from disorderly conduct to minor in possession of alcohol.

The youths were working on the floats at a farm at 15860 Wood Road, where the owner had given his permission. Carloads of youths, who at one time numbered about 100, descended on the farm.

The owner called DeWitt Township Police Chief Bruce Angell II and he summoned help from state police and the Clinton County sheriff's office.

Ricky D. Powers, 17, Max D. Taylor, 17, and Gregory Allen Bailey, 18, all of Lansing, pleaded guilty Thursday to disorderly charges and were fined $20 plus costs of $21.90 each by DeWitt Township Justice of the Peace Gordon Willoughby.

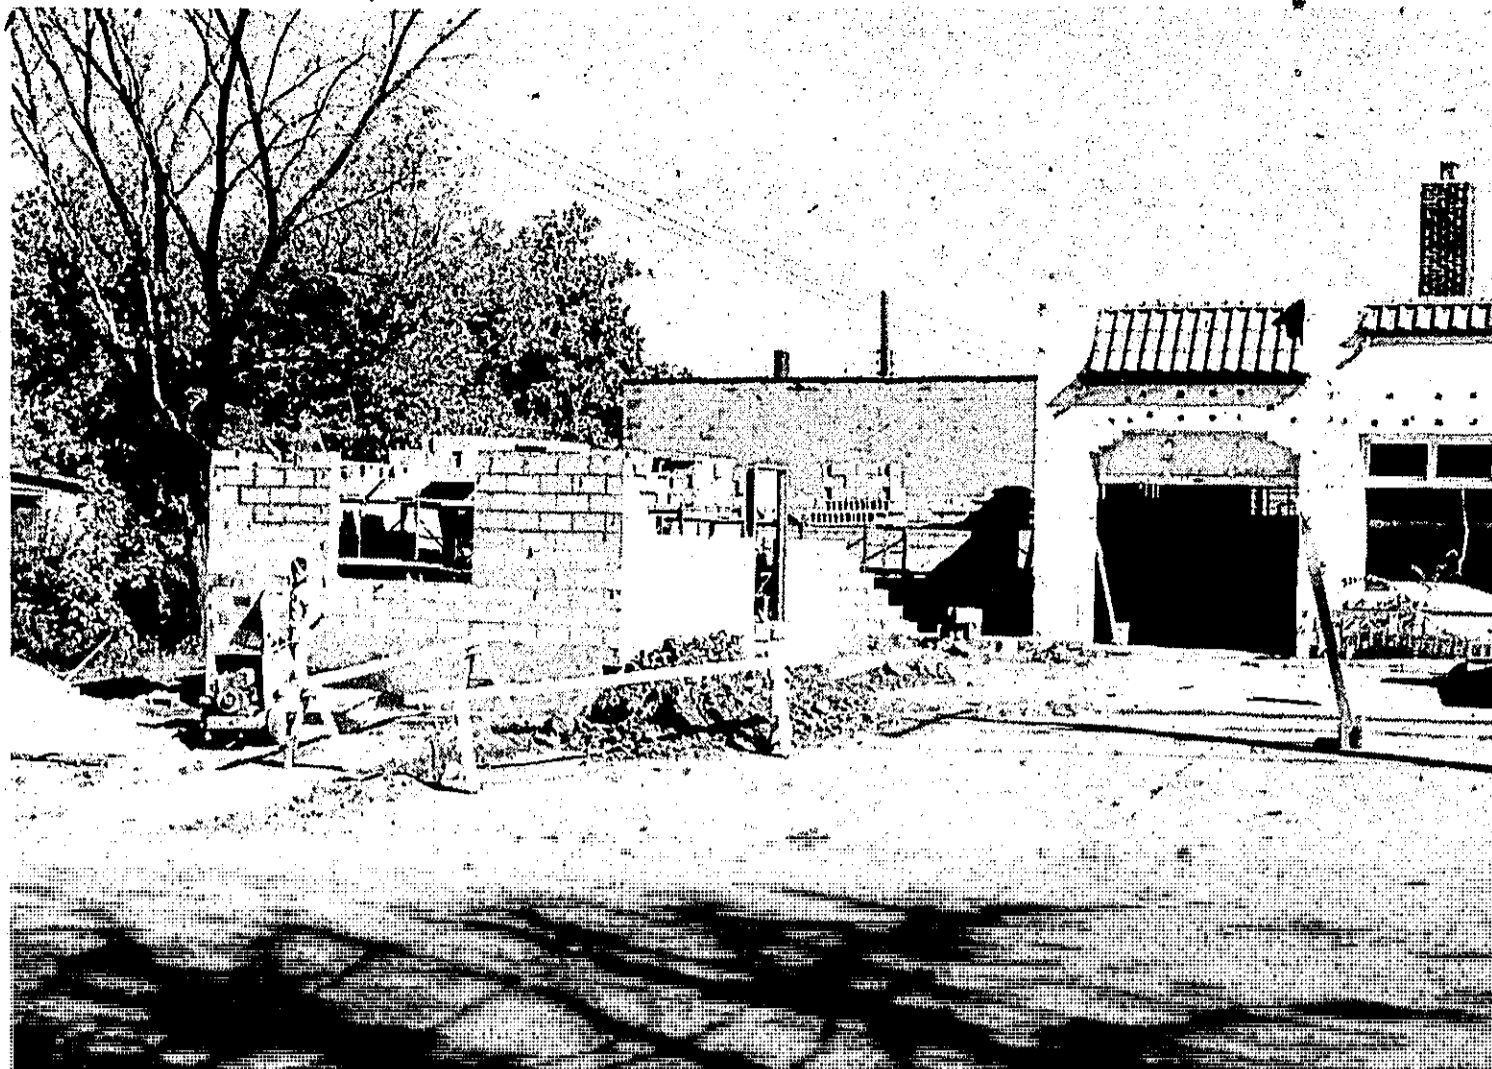

Terry L. Dole, 17, Thomas L. Graham, 17, Ted Szemer, 17 and Steven W. Siegrist, 17, all of Lansing, pleaded guilty to charges of being minors in possession. They were ordered to pay $25 fines, $22.40 court costs and to spend three days in the county jail.

Siegrist later appealed his case to circuit court.

Immunization clinic Oct. 19

The October immunization clinic sponsored in Clinton County by the Mid-Michigan District Health Department will be held next Wednesday afternoon in the basement of the St. Joseph Catholic Church in St. Johns.

The immunizations are free. Last month 144 families were involved in receiving a total of 589 immunizations. The district health department staff will conduct the clinic, which starts at 1:30.

Rademacher Construction Co. workmen were laying blocks last week for the new building that will house St. Johns Dry Cleaners at the corner of Walker and Brush Streets. The old Sinclair service station building at right will be retained and remodeled and used as a part of the cleaning business operation.

St. Johns Dry Cleaners building new shop here

St. Johns Dry Cleaners will move to a new building, now under construction at Walker and Brush streets, owner Don Warstler announced last week.

Warstler has purchased the old Sinclair service station lot on the northeast corner of Walker and Brush and hopes to move his drycleaners there sometime in December. The old service station building will be retained and remodeled and a new 50- by 17-foot building is being added on the north side.

St. Johns Dry Cleaners is now located at 108 E. Walker Street. Warstler said he has only 704 square feet of space there, and the new site will offer 1,367 square feet. There's an additional 324 square feet of office space which will be available for expansion in the more distant future, if it is necessary.

The new shop will be on a lot 100 by 64 feet in size. The drive-in window and depository will be on the east side of the building next to Richards' Dairy. There'll be parking space available for customers on the street-side corner and for a few cars on the north side of the new building.

THE BUILDING itself will be finished in stone. The offices will be 17 by 10 and 14 by 11 feet in size.

Warstler said he has bought equipment from a drycleaning shop at Holt and will put most of it in the new building, so he anticipates no disruption in service when the move takes place.

Warstler has been in business here since 1960 when he took over the dry cleaners from his father-in-law, William Elliott.

Electrically safe home is a fire-safe home

Are you a good user, or an abuser, of the electrical service in your home? Almost one out of every six dwelling fires is caused by misused or defective electrical wiring and equipment, according to National Fire Protection Assn. studies.

Check your answers to these questions, to see whether there are uncorrected electrical hazards in your home:

1. Is the right size fuse (15 amps for lighting circuits) in each socket in the fuse box? Do you use a new fuse—never substitutes—after each blow?
2. Do you use extension cords within safe limits of their capacities? Safe limit for the most commonly used extension cord is 500 watts. If you must use an extension cord to feed one or more appliances drawing more power than this, make sure you use a heavy duty type.
3. Are extension and appliance cords replaced immediately whenever insulation shows signs of fraying or cracking? Do you see that cords are never run under rugs or hooked over nails?
4. Are appliances checked periodically to be sure they are in good operating condition, and taken out of service for repair or replacement at the first sign of trouble?
5. Is your TV antenna installed where it cannot fall across power lines, and is it equipped with a properly grounded lightning arrestor?

If there are any "no" answers on your list, take corrective measures immediately.

This is the age of specialists—especially nerve specialists.

Observing 2 factors can make your home fire-safe

Few things can cost you your home and one or more of your family more quickly and tragically than fire.

Resolve to make your home a fire safe home. A home safe from fire depends upon two important factors: good family habits about fire and its hazards, and good construction.

Good family habits include such things as care with matches and smoking, good housekeeping to get rid of rubbish, proper use of electrical fuses, appliances, and extension cords, and a constant general awareness of the ways fires start and how to avoid them.

GOOD CONSTRUCTION for a fire safe home, according to the National Fire Protection Association, includes:

Built-in fire stops. These are barriers of wood or masonry between studs, joists, rafters or stringers that serve to prevent the spread of smoke and fire.

Solid doors for every room. An ordinary solid wooden door can keep smoke and fire out of a room for as long as 30 minutes.

Good escape routes. Best exits lead directly outside, not through other rooms. Windows should be large enough and low enough to climb through, and operate easily enough for the youngest member of the family.

INTERIOR FINISH of materials with low flame-spread characteristics. Wallboards made of gypsum, cement, asbestos and similar materials are noncombustible and resist flame spread. Fire-resistant roofing material, such as asphalt shingles, slate, asbestos or metal. Wood shingles never should be used as roof covering. Proper wiring. Qualified electricians follow the provisions of the National Electrical Code when installing wiring, which means a fire safe installation. A good heating plant properly installed and located, regularly inspected and cleaned. A furnace should never be located under stairs or near an entrance where fire originating in the heater might block escape.

alone with her thoughts

Are they good company — her thoughts, that is? For this is a time of her life when much can depend on the outcome of these moments when she is alone with her thoughts. Decisions will be made — irrevocable decisions. Steps will be taken that cannot be retraced. The happiness of those who love her hangs in the balance . . . as she tries to discover where her own happiness lies. But her thoughts are projections of the lessons she has learned, the experiences she has had. And high among these are the truths she learned in her church life, and the rich experiences she has known with Christian friends who grew up in religious homes. Alone with her thoughts . . . this girl is in good company!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Soybeans and corn are of 'fine quality'

The 1966-crop corn and soybeans now being harvested are reported to be of exceptionally fine quality. The harvest season in the heavy corn and soybean areas, according to Frank Light, chairman of the Michigan ASC State Committee, is expected to bring the largest production of soybeans in recent years.

In the case of corn in the heavy corn areas, production is expected to be average or above. In the northern part of the state it is expected to be unusually poor because of the drought during the earlier part of the summer.

FEED GRAIN crops in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula and the Upper Peninsula were severely damaged. Light reports, during the June-July drought, George Parker, program specialist at the Michigan State ASCS office, states that price support loans are available on both 1966-crop corn and soybeans in all counties in Michigan. He added that there were no special eligibility requirements on soybeans, but that farmers to be eligible for price support loans on 1966-crop corn, must have signed up under the 1966 Feed Grain Program last spring.

He pointed out that financing through price support loans is an unusually good bargain at this time, because the interest rate is only 3 to 3 1/2 per cent per year. Light added that financing through price support loans permits producers to retain title to their crops and market them at the best possible time during the marketing year.

PARKER ADDED that usually the market price declines during harvest and improves later in the marketing season. He stated that county loan rates for 1966-crop soybeans in Michigan ranged from $2.44 to $2.53 per bushel depending on the county. The national average price support rate for soybeans is $2.50 per bushel. In the case of corn he noted that the county loan rates in Michigan vary from $1 to $1.04 per bushel. The national average loan rate is $1 per bushel. Producers who complied with the feed grain program received 30 cents per bushel direct payment making the total guaranteed support price to such producers of at least $1.30 per bushel national average.

If all the vitamin tablets supplied by UNICEF were strung together in a single line, they would cover a distance of 13,098 miles — five times the distance from New York to San Francisco, or twice the distance from Mexico to Moscow.

Black walnut trees - a growing legacy

Black walnut trees are the most valuable timber species you can grow. This is our most valuable native furniture wood. It has always brought a high price and those who grow black walnut for the future should find it a continuing valuable crop, says Elton Twork, the Conservation Department forester for this area.

While growing high value wood, black walnut trees will produce many pounds of edible nuts before the timber is harvested. The nuts are one of the best sources of winter food for squirrels.

Black walnut trees are fairly fast growers when planted on suitable sites. The trees can be grown from seed or seedlings. Deep, rich, porous soil is best. Plant walnuts in mixture with other hardwoods in openings in woodlots, woodlot edges, in fence corners, or other places where land is not cultivated and they will be in direct sunlight for at least half of the day.

SEED IS EASILY available in autumn from yard and roadside trees. The nuts should be collected as soon as they have matured and dropped to the ground. Plant the nut two inches deep. Squirrels will get some, so plant more than you expect to grow.

If the seed nuts are to be held until spring, before planting, the hulls should be removed and the clean nuts stored where they will be kept moist and subject to cool temperatures. Place alternate layers of sand and walnuts in a well-drained dug pit, or in a sand box out-of-doors.

The stored nuts should be planted as soon as the ground thaws in spring. Nuts should be planted immediately after removing from storage. Dry nuts will not sprout.

SEED NUTS WHICH have been stored in the ground all winter are available in the spring from the Conservation Department's Southern Michigan Nursery.

If you want to feed the squirrels and get some walnut planted, just dump a bushel or two of mature nuts along the edge of openings in the woodlot. Fox squirrels will plant some of them in the ground, but not necessarily in the proper place.

Seedlings one to three feet tall are most suitable for transplanting. Transplanting should be done

Hold fire drill in your home

Schools hold fire drills, while theatres and other public places have clearly marked, planned exit arrangements.

But in our homes, where most fatal fires occur, too many families are completely unprepared for fire emergencies.

Protect your family by making life-saving plans for escape now. Then hold family fire drills regularly.

Here are pointers to help you plan: Carefully figure out at least two routes to the outside from every room in the house, especially bedrooms. Allow for fire blocking stairway or hall.

Remember that closed bedroom doors will hold back flame and smoke, allow extra time for escape. For upper floor escape, use any available porch and garage roofs, ladders, or trees as ways, down to safety. Be sure exit windows work easily, and especially that they are low and large enough to get through.

in April before buds burst. All plantings should be in spots where direct sunlight will reach the plant for at least half of each day.

IF YOU ALREADY have black walnut trees growing, you can usually improve their value for timber by pruning. Start pruning with a saw, preferably before the trees have reaches four inches in diameter. Remove the lower limbs, up to one-third of the height of the live crown. Make cuts flush with the trunk.

Where other trees are overtopping the walnut, cut those trees whose crown is within six feet of the crown of the desired walnut.

Says animal fats are being unjustly accused

Animal fats (saturated fat) have been unjustly accused by some as a factor contributing to coronary heart disease, the National Live Stock and Meat Board of Chicago contends.

This accusation comes with little regard to "fat's" outstanding value to human health and nutrition, they said. Local livestockmen through their Live Stock Improvement Ass'n., of Michigan and through their research organization, the National Live Stock and Meat Board, are currently engaged in research projects to determine fat's actual role in the diet and its relationship to heart disease, if any.

THE MEAT Board's research program is being directed by an advisory committee made up of leading researchers across the country. The committee contains noteworthy personalities such as Dr. Philip L. White, secretary of the Council of Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Assn. The Wolverine Stock Yards Co. of St. Johns serves a key function in assisting livestockmen in financing this program.

ASC PROGRAM

ACP participants asked to report performances

W. M. SMITH
County ASC Manager

I want to remind producers who are participating in the Agricultural Conservation Program to complete practices and report performance as soon as possible.

When performance is reported we know how much of the fund allocated have been used. Unused funds can be used to help some producer who is waiting to get cost-share assistance. This year the county committee was limited in the funds they could use for drainage practices. These funds are depleted and we have some producer's wanting to tile if funds become available. A producer who has been given approval for a drainage practice and knows he will not do it this year should contact us and cancel his practice so funds can be used to help someone who can do the drainage this fall.

FUNDS ARE available for liming materials and cover crops.

We had 76 lamb and wool producers who cast ballots in the 1966 referendum. Fifty-six producers were in favor of the promotion deduction; they had a total of 4,760 head of sheep. Twenty producers were not in favor of the deduction and they had a total of 1,654 head of sheep.

The seventy-six producers voting is less than 50 per cent of the estimated eligible producers in the county. We estimated there were 195 lamb and wool producers in the county. As yet we have not received the total votes cast for the state or nation.

FEED GRAIN and wheat certificate payments have been made to nearly all eligible producers. In our haste to get payments made we made a few errors, they have been corrected and producers notified. We want to thank producers for their patience in waiting for payments. It is just impossible to get the payments all out at the same time.

The payments earned by wheat producers in 1966 were $62,603 for diversion and $439,622 for wheat certificates. The payments earned for feed grain price support was $372,695.03 and feed grain diversion $832,025.35.

THE TOTAL 1966 wheat and feed grain payment was $1,707,146. You can see this was a lot of work to compute and make these payments.

If anyone has any questions regarding their payment please contact our office.

The purpose of winter cover crops are to establish a vegetative cover on soil for winter protection from erosion. It also retards water run-off in the spring; this helps build up the water level which is needed due to the increased amount of water used each year.

The requirements are: A good stand and good growth must be obtained in sufficient time to protect the acres from late fall and winter rain and must be maintained on the land to April 1, 1967. Pasturing consistent with good management may be permitted, but none of the growth may be harvested for hay, silage, or seed. Volunteer stands will not qualify for cost-sharing.

THERE ARE TWO eligible seedings that can be used yet this fall to establish a winter cover and earn cost-share payment; they are winter barley and rye.

One and one-half bushels of winter barley or rye must be seeded per acre. Winter barley must be seeded by Oct. 15 and rye by Nov. 1.

This year there is a payment for seed bed preparation: disking and seeding, $1.50 per acre; disking only and seeding with an airplane, $1.50 per acre.

ACREAGE THAT should be covered is bean and corn ground.

Anyone interested in cost-share assistance must make a request before the practice is started. You may phone in a request if you are unable to come to our ASCS office which is located at 100 S. Ottawa Street, St. Johns.

We have received a number of calls wanting to know the date that diverted acreage used for the 1966 feed grain or wheat program can be pastured. The date is Oct. 1. Grazing the diverted acres is all that is permitted; no green chop or harvesting of any hay.

DIVERTED ACRES can be planted to wheat, rye, or barley which will be for harvest in 1967.

Diverted acreage under the Cropland Adjustment or Conservation Reserve Program cannot be pastured.

If you have any questions regarding these programs or any other program administered by our office, please contact us.

FACTS, (not "chin-music") POUR IN...

...about Purina's "Built-in Roughage" Cattle Program

Wherever cattle are fed, cattlemen sing the praises of Purina's "Built-in Roughage"™ self-feeding program with new Special Steer Fatena.

They didn't take to this new idea overnight. Cattlemen, like all good business men, buy on FACTS. And that's exactly why "Built-in Roughage" feeding keeps on winning friends among cattle feeders... they keep getting FACTS from cattle fed in Purina Demonstrations.

They note the gains and efficiency of "Built-in Roughage"-fed cattle. They see how this program works with self-feeders, which offers big savings in labor and equipment.

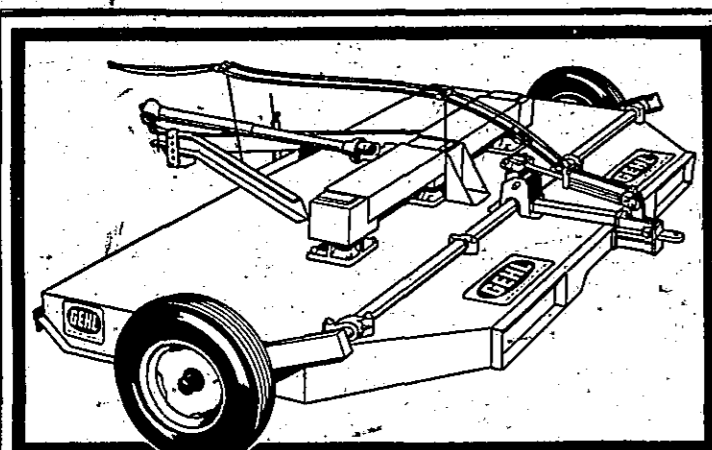

Purina Special Steer Fatenas are the original "Built-in Roughage" supplement. They hold the secret to this giant step forward in cattle feeding. We have one that's "Built-to-Fit" your cattle and feed supplies.

Fire Prevention Week Goal

Fire prevention time has come around again, as this week we observe Fire Prevention Week. In thousands of towns and cities across the nation there will be addresses on fire prevention in schools, service clubs, and other organizations. In many communities, teachers are taking their students to visit the local fire department station house to see the fire apparatus at close range, and the firemen who man the equipment. Amazingly some people will ask why we observe Fire Prevention Week every year. The answer is simple. Three out of every four fires are the result of carelessness. By using ordinary care, we can prevent fire from happening. And if we do that, Fire Prevention Week will have been worthwhile.

Adequate size spreads overhead of fruit farm

Adequate size is highly important in today's farming according to analysis of 1965 Tel-Farm records of 26 fruit and vegetable growers in 10 different counties. Dr. M. P. Kelsey, Michigan State University extension agricultural economist, found the labor squeeze, cost of equipment, adjustment to more mechanization, and weather caused wide variations in income. Eleven growers with an average investment of $112,000 had an average value of farm production of $42,631. But the average cost of operation was $43,083. Hired labor alone accounted for $14,560.

ON THE BASIS of analysis Kelsey believes the standard for satisfactory income on a tree fruit farm might be 100 acres of bearing fruit or a value of farm production of at least $40,000. With bearing fruit acreage expanding, commercial fruit production in Michigan is being concentrated in relatively small numbers of farms with larger acreages. Kelsey said the Michigan fruit tree survey recently made showed 30 per cent of the apples, one-third of all the sweet cherries and approximately one-third of the peaches, pears and plums were under the bearing age. Kelsey found that eight tree farm operations with assets valued over $100,000 showed a labor income per hour or operators labor at $1.55. On the other hand three tree fruit farms with average assets of $70,000 showed a labor per hour income for operators of minus 17 cents. "This shows an adequate size farm operation is necessary to spread overhead costs of large efficient machinery and to take full advantage of management ability and economics of the marketing," Kelsey commented.

TREE FRUIT production farms with storage and packaging facilities also fared better than those growing and selling direct from the field. These three farms are large tree fruit operations with an investment averaging $428,373. But the operator earns an average of $4.01 an hour and although farm costs were high—$194,684, the production per $100 cost was $103.15. But the small fruit and vegetable farms, well managed and with a diversity of crops, can also make money, Tel-Farm records show.

Dairy herds fall 50% in 9-year period

When the fellow on the farm foregoes the milk pail to take a lunch pail into the factory, milk production declines and so does the number of cattle and herds. How many cattle nobody knows exactly, but the state has less than half as many herds as nine years ago.

B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture who is also a dairy herd owner, says there were 21,773 dairy herds in the state in July, 1957. In October of 1966 there were 10,882.

"Going out of the dairy business is a national trend. Many other forms of employment are more profitable and less confining. Unless this trend is stopped, this country will not have enough milk to meet our needs," Ball said.

THE AVERAGE number of animals in the dairy herds that remain is showing an increase, but this does not offset the marked reduction in dairy herds and total dairy cattle in the state. This is apparent at points where milk is received from farms for bottling purposes or manufactured dairy products.

Figures of the Michigan Department of Agriculture disclose a surprising decline in herds in the state. County herd number reductions are equally dramatic.

Huron County, one of the top milk producers, has declined from 2,025 herds to 871 herds in the 1957-66 period. Neighboring Sanilac, the state's largest dairy county, has gone from 2,367 herds to 1,362.

Allegan County has dropped from 1,393 to 650 herds. Other reductions include: Montcalm 1,417 to 743; Eaton 1,218 to 470; Lapeer 1,201 to 566; and Saginaw 1,360 to 487.

The major milk producing county in the Upper Peninsula is Menominee. Here also the trend has been felt with the number of dairy herds dropping from 1,406 to 509 in the nine-year period.

The Clinton County News: we work for you

This is National Newspaper Week and we here at the Clinton County News are joining the thousands of other newspapers across the nation in blowing our own horn a little.

Many people think of the Clinton County News as a little country weekly. But, when you compare us to the other weeklies throughout the state, we rank second among the audited circulation weeklies. This does not include the suburban weeklies in Wayne and Oakland counties.

To put your Clinton County News on the streets and in the mail every week takes the combined efforts of a staff of 20 people, both full and part time. This does not include the 38 correspondents throughout the county who every week do a wonderful job in keeping our readers informed of what is going on in their areas.

Every week, 52 weeks a year, our payroll from our employees goes into the businesses and services available in our area. This payroll is in excess of $100,000 per year.

To put the Clinton County News into your home every week takes many hours of work. For instance, last week your Clinton County News contained 34 pages of informative and interesting news, plus the many items available in our many retail establishments to make your living more enjoyable.

To put these 34 pages of information together took over 700 manhours of labor. This included the reporting, writing, ad selling, ad layout, composition of both ads and stories, the taking and developing of pictures and the clerical work of the girls in the front office.

All these tasks were essential in putting your Clinton County News in your mailbox.

This work is being done by your friends and neighbors who are employed here, and who work to the best of their ability to make your paper the fine product that it is.

Here at the Clinton County News we try to be just what our name implies, a county newspaper. We try to bring to you, each and every week, a complete coverage of all the important news throughout the county.

Our news coverage goes beyond the headline stories and covers the many aspects of the Clinton County area that is ignored by other papers and mediums.

We at the News are proud of the product we publish every week. We are proud of the service we offer to our community and county.

We know that basically our business is service. We hope that our service to you has been satisfactory and that as we both grow our service will improve as will your understanding.

A good question about state buying and donating

Should the State of Michigan be buying park lands from local governments at the same time it is "donating" parklands to the federal government?

This question, while not exactly phrased, came through mighty plain when a land purchase was being discussed during the Conservation Commission's September meeting.

Commissioner Matt Laitala of Hancock asked a number of leading questions before the commission finally agreed to purchase the present 105-acre Norton Township Park for $175,000. Plans call for annexing it to P. J. Hoffmaster State Park in Muskegon County. Norton Township, it was pointed out, wants to build a new park elsewhere.

At the same meeting, Rep. Russell Hellman of Dollar Bay asked the commission for tentative backing of House Concurrent Resolution No. 335, which calls for a 5,000-acre gift of state lands to the federal government. This is land to be included inside the boundaries of the proposed Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore. The commission gave its unofficial blessing, should the Legislature eventually come up with a specific law on it.

The proposed Sleeping Bear National Lakeshore in Leelanau and Benzie counties is presently snagged up on something similar. Members of the Federal House Interior Committee are asking Michigan to donate the 8,373 acres of D. H. Day and Benzie State Parks as a part of the Sleeping Bear federal project.

This runs headlong into a bill passed by Michigan's Legislature and signed by the governor, which specifies that these lands should be sold to the federal government and the resulting funds used to offset school tax losses in the counties involved.

Indeed, this very point may kill the entire Sleeping Bear National Lakeshore project unless differences can be worked out—and soon.

Whether he intended to do so or not, Commissioner Laitala stirred up some mighty serious thinking, where state vs. federal privileges are concerned.

WITH AUTUMN COLORS coming on us' fast, now is a good time to hit the road for a weekend of color touring. There's a lot of it up north now, and the color will be here in a week or so in all its brilliance. Enjoy it!

BACKING THE COMMUNITIES CHEST drive that starts Oct. 17 is the best way we know of donating to a lot of worthwhile charities and organizations. Nine of them, including several strictly local, will benefit, so give generously this year.

A WATER LINE OR SEWER trench from house to street in the 500 block of East State Street has gone unattended for over a year now, and the combination of hump and holes it makes in the sidewalk is a potential danger to persons walking by, especially at night. Besides the hump and holes, the clay-like soil is slippery when wet or muddy.

OVID'S HOOK AND LADDER FIRE TRUCK

That wagon with the ladders and lads on was the hook and ladder truck of the Ovid Fire Department back in 1917 or 1918. George Black of Greenville, a former St. Johns resident, said he took the picture of a group of St. Johns men who rode over to Ovid one Sunday afternoon and just posed on the truck. It is hard to tell even on the original print, but it appears that is snow, not mud in the foreground, and the presence of the sled with runners on next to the wagon would bear this out.

from the HOPPER

By STEVE HOPKO

When I was a small boy in school I was taught by my parents and teachers of our American heritage, our flag and national anthem—what they meant and what they stood for.

I can remember as a boy seeing the American flag go by in a parade or to hear our national anthem and I would have a sunny feeling inside. I still have that feeling today whenever our flag is raised or when I hear our national anthem. Back then it was a funny feeling; today I know it is pride, because I am proud of what our flag and national anthem stand for, and the thousands of men in our history who have given their lives unquestionably to preserve this meaning.

LATELY AS I'VE attended football games and other activities where the proceedings start with our flag being raised and our anthem played, my attention has been drawn to the lack of respect shown by the people in attendance, both young and old. Not all the people, but enough to be noticeable.

Recently at a football game in a neighboring community and then a week later at our own field I noticed that as the band played the national anthem and our flag was raised, quite a few grade-school-age children continued to play and run around instead of standing and facing the flag. Then at other games I noticed teenagers and adults. They all stood, but in doing so they acted as if they were doing it only because everyone else was; some just stood there like they didn't know why, and I believe they didn't.

THE ABOVE is from my column of about a year ago.

The other day a member of the Rodney B. Wilson faculty asked that I write on the behavior of children at football games during the playing of our national anthem and the raising of the flag.

HE HAD NOTICED, as I have,

that this behavior is still prevalent at our local football games.

Of course the question that arises in ones mind is, why such disrespect for our flag and anthem? The only reason that I can see is that these children have not been taught what

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

Two weekends back the Rinkers decided on the spur of the moment to take a Sunday trip to Hoxlyville, west of Cadillac, where my wife's relatives have a wooded farm. I've always enjoyed getting out in the woods and fields there, and Sunday was no exception. It was about a week too early for brilliant autumn colors, but there was enough of it to lighten my enjoyment. I spent nearly two hours alone with the dog on one hike, but what really topped the day off beautifully was a shorter walk with my daughter.

SHE WAS IN unusually amiable spirits that day and did not give me the usual static about carrying her back once we got out to our farthest point. Perhaps it is a natural part of the growing up cycle that she puts away those ideas at about the time she gets so big Dad can't carry her back even if he wanted to.

We had a ball, the two of us. We stayed in the meadow most of the time; it is shaped something like a soap bubble-blowing stick, with woods all around and in the center of the circle. From the end of the stick to the "top" of the circle is perhaps half a mile, maybe less. Our destination was a sand hill just beyond the "top." The hill was covered with sand and with small stones and was termed by the older folks, for the benefit of the younger folks, as an Indian mound where one might find arrowheads and other artifacts.

ACTUALLY, THIS was all above Kathy's head, and what she was after was the sand to play in. So she was rather enthusiastic about the hike.

There were two major high points of the hike. The first was when we inadvertently walked through a partially plowed section of the meadow liberally sprinkled with sand bur plants. Kathy was the first to notice them when one poked through her socks. She stopped in her tracks and looked worried. When I bent down and began to gingerly pull them off her socks and slacks I kept one eye on her. By the way I was handling them I could see she didn't know whether they were animal or vegetable.

"Are they alive?" she asked. I assured her they were not and tried to coax her into picking a couple off my pants leg, but she would have nothing to do with them. And she didn't want to go on any farther. "Carry me," she said.

I DECLINED, and suggested that we race to the end of the plowed area only about 20 feet away. This usually has worked around home when I wanker to go someplace, but here she was still afraid the sand burrs were going to get her. I finally said we could hold hands and run; she brightened up and we ran.

"Heyyyyy, those things didn't get on us," she exclaimed in happy wonderment when we got to the end of the plowed field. Then on we walked toward the sand hill which she could now see.

Reaching the edge of the meadow, it was necessary to force our way through three or four rows of pine trees. She refused to do this on prior trips to the farm, but this time she tried it with a little enthusiasm and soon emerged on the other side with considerable enthusiasm.

ON THE SANDHILL itself her eyes fairly danced with enthusiasm. There were stones of every size, color, shape and marking imaginable, and she hardly knew where to start picking them up. But she did, and on a bare stretch of sand on the side of a knoll she began lining them up in rows of about seven.

"Heyyyyy, these two match!" she would exclaim when she found one marked similar to another. This never ceased to amaze her throughout our stay on the hill. Soon she had about five rows of stones and she wanted to count them for me.

OK, I said, expecting to have to help her over 11, 12 and 13 which she always skips for some reason. But that Sunday she was flawless. She counted 34 stones accurately and without any assistance. Remarkable, I thought, and then realized maybe it wasn't so remarkable. I keep forgetting she's five years old already and going to school.

THE COUNTING DONE, she proceeded to pick out the prettiest stones. "One for you," she said, "one for Mommy and one for me." I suggested one also for Aunt Elsie and Uncle Harold back at the house and, hurrying to make up for her forgetfulness, she picked out two more stones from her 34.

The wind began to feel chill as I sat there watching her, so I suggested maybe we should head back. "Here, Dad, put these in your pockets," she said, starting to gather up all 34 stones.

"What are you going to do with them?" I asked. "I'm going to take them home," she replied matter-of-factly. "What for?" I persisted. "I'm going to sell them to my friends," she answered.

I DISCOURAGED that right away but agreed she could take the stones home. So we set off down the hill, through the trees and across the meadow toward the house. We skirted the patch of ground where "those things" were and shortly Kathy delivered her "buprize" presents to Mommy, Aunt Elsie and Uncle Harold.

Interesting Items from the Files of the Clinton County News

10 YEARS AGO From the Files of Oct. 18, 1956

Scott McGovney of DeWitt, an airman second class, in the Michigan Air National Guard, was named Michigan's Airman of the Year at Battle Creek Saturday.

Rural school districts in Ingham county are joining Clinton and Eaton county districts by organizing to prevent their rural schools from being gobbled up through annexation and merger.

F. M. Thrun, attorney for the Grand Ledge school district, filed a motion in Eaton county circuit court Monday at Charlotte asking for dismissal of the case in which a group of Clinton and Eaton "unannexed" rural districts are asking that they be permitted to send students to Grand Ledge.

25 YEARS AGO From the Files of Oct. 16, 1941

Drilling is underway on another test for oil in Clinton county. The "rig" has been set up on the Linus Simon farm in Dallas township, about halfway between Fowler and Westphalia.

Shot by the hundreds of pounds was poured into and at thousands of pheasants by the army of scattergun fans who invaded Clinton county on the opening day of the bird season Wednesday, Oct. 15, but not all of the lead was carried away by the ring-necks. At least two hunters were peppered, while several others were injured in auto mishaps.

Clarence W. Soransen will be the second speaker of the "Institute of International Understanding" Wednesday evening. He will speak on South American countries and their relation to the United States.

50 YEARS AGO From the Files of Oct. 19, 1916

A large crowd of St. Johns women gathered Wednesday evening at the high school building to hear the health program given by the Woman's Club. The first number of the program was a vocal solo by Mrs. Eugene Hart with Mrs. T. S. Mann, accompanist. The talk on "The Menace of Patent Medicines," by Mrs. Lucy Palmer was very carefully thought out and contained some fine points.

Tyler Hill of Bengal says beans are turning out a very light crop in this neighborhood. Mr. Plowman, a brother-in-law of Mr. Hill, thrashed 39 bushels where he planted 38 bushels of seed.

The football game played Saturday between the high school and the Lansing reserves was a fine, exciting game, and came out in a tie with seven points for each team.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Federal highway funds being used to force laws

Influence of Washington upon state affairs is now being handled a little differently than in previous decades.

The use of the dollar as "bait" by the federal government was effective in past years in getting high speed roads built, new welfare programs initiated and many other segments of law enacted.

These were the result largely of the federal government saying, "The money is here if you want to add to it and use it in these specific ways."

"INCENTIVE" WOULD probably best describe this approach, but another word is needed for the lack taken in recent years.

The 1966 Legislature adopted billboard and junkyard control measures this year because federal authorities said highway funds would be partially withheld if such laws were not on the books within a specified time.

Now the same threat is made for the withholding of highway monies if the state does not improve its traffic safety programs.

Since the federal highway "contribution" to Michigan is some $122 million annually and 10 per cent of this would be threatened by failure to act, legislative concern will once again be sharply focused on safety proposals.

VALUE OF SOME additional traffic safety measures can hardly be questioned, especially in view of the continually rising death and accident toll in Michigan.

What must be asked, however, is where will the federal dictates in this manner be halted. Ideally, state legislators would turn down the promised funds if legislation which was not in the best interests of Michigan was the contingency.

Realistically, as in the case of the $12.2 million highway funds, it raises an ethical question for the federal government to use considerable sums of project money in a "do this or lose that" proposition.

FOUR - YEAR - TERMS for Michigan's governor and members of the State Senate will start with those officials elected Nov. 8.

If House of Representatives members had their way, they too would be starting longer terms in January.

The by-play involved at the end of the regular legislative session over this question brought out some of the age-old animosity, or at least rivalry between the two houses.

A CONSTITUTIONAL amendment would be required to give House members four - year terms. A proposal to put the question before voters in November got through the House in the last days of the session but failed to get much serious consideration in the Senate.

Actually it was pretty much ignored. This was intentional by the Senate committee to which it was assigned. Needless to say the committee was hounded by a number of House members for several days and was considerably less than popular when it failed to consider the matter in time to bring the proposal to the floor.

Some Republicans in the House opposed the idea, saying it was brought forth too late. Candidates had already filed for office and presumably a four-year term would have drawn more contestants, they said, among other reasons.

PROFONENTS OF THE change were very disappointed it was not even voted on in the Senate, although many capitol observers noted from the start that it was a futile attempt at self-perpetuation.

Four-year terms for senators while maintaining two-year elections for the House of Representatives brought back memories of the days when the Senate was designated the "upper house" and the House was called the "lower chamber."

Noted one wag, "Approval of this idea in the Senate would be like the generals agreeing to permit enlisted men in the officers' mess."

A UNIQUE IDEA for continued promotion of Michigan will be held over for the third straight year in the 1967 observance of Michigan Week.

This is the theme, "Michigan: Dynamic in World Progress." Until 1965, a new theme was selected each year for the annual week-long observance.

Then came the real push to get the bragging about Michigan attention outside the state and beyond the seven days of the official program.

Since the 1965 theme still has many possibilities for international impact, many community organizations and individuals urged it be used again for the 14th annual Michigan Week to be held next May 21-27.

The "Low Down" From the Congressional Record

Retired farmers get green thumb program

Rep. Carlton R. Sickles (Md.)... When Congress last year enacted the medicare program, it was the most dramatic and sweeping step ever taken by our government in behalf of the elderly. But as helpful as it is, a program like medicare does not meet the most pressing need of the elderly—a way to spend time constructively and meaningfully.

If someone, especially their parents, had at any time instilled in them that the many freedoms and rights that we as Americans enjoy today were attained under this flag and anthem, that possibly these children would have more respect for the same symbols.

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

The U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity gave $786,000 to Green Thumb Inc., a subsidiary of the National Farmers Union. The state governments and local groups involved in the pilot projects added another $683,000 making a first year total of $1,469,000.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

Pumpkin pie — flavor a notch above squash

HAYDN PEARSON

The countryman appreciates that one should rarely be dogmatic, but there are occasions when he is willing to stand up and be counted. In the controversy concerning the relative merits of squash versus pumpkin pie, he is on the pumpkin side.

Old varieties have imaginative names: Golden Custard, Black Sugar, Red China, Yum Yum, Big Cheese, Michigan Mammoth, Illinois Beauty, Nantucket Pie, Dunkhard and Cocozelle. In the olden days a common practice was one pumpkin seed in each third hill of field corn.

fruits and vegetables is a question for debate around the stove in the general store. But there is no question where a pumpkin is concerned. A squash pie is excellent. But men who don't consider a meal properly concluded without a wedge of pie, know that pumpkin has a certain intangible flavor that places it a notch above its cousin.
